

LIQUOR CASE DISPOSED OF

Defendants Absence Necessitate Continuance of Some Cases—Disposal of Liquor Case

The criminal docket was set for trial in the district court this week but the docket was light and only one case has been tried.

Several cases appeared on the docket in which no arrest had yet been made on these were necessarily continued. One case was continued by reason of the fact that the defendant had escaped from custody.

Another was continued because the State's principal witness had also been indicted since this case was filed, and the State was granted a continuance pending the outcome of the indictment against this witness.

Both the State and the defendant announced ready in the case of the State of Texas vs. W. T. Winton, charged by indictment with the unlawful manufacture of intoxicating liquor.

The State was represented by district attorney A. W. Gibson of Lamesa and county attorney L. C. Heath. The defendant was represented by Lockhart and Garrard of Lubbock and Judge Dillard Estes of Commerce.

The trial resulted in a verdict of not guilty. The defendant Winton resides in the New Home community.

The testimony revealed that last December J. A. Brashear of this city went to the residence of Winton to collect a note which the latter had given for goods purchased at the firm of Knight and Brashear.

After repeated rappings on the door he was invited to come in. The door was opened and a negro appeared at the door on the inside.

On the cook stove in the kitchen, Mr. Brashear saw a five gallon oil can to which a copper coil was attached, the coil extending into and through a candy bucket sitting on the floor, and the end of the coil in a glass jar sitting near by.

No other person was in the house at the time. Soon Messrs. Izzard and Carruth came up, and Mr. Brashear called their attention to what he had found and they all made a cursory inspection of the alleged still.

Mr. Brashear then went to a telephone and communicated with Sheriff Sam Sanford while Messrs. Izzard and Carruth remained at the residence to keep watch.

The sheriff instructed Mr. Brashear to get what help he needed and to bring the men and the still and whiskey in.

After returning to the Winton residence Mr. Brashear and his companions, Izzard and Carruth, had a conversation with Winton, who in the meantime had come about the matter.

They testified that he first denied all knowledge of connection with the still, but finally admitted his guilt, stating that they first tried to make the whiskey in a tent but on account of the highwind moved the outfit into the house.

The evidence further showed that Mrs. Winton was away from home that day, having gone to spend the day with her parents. Both she and the defendant positively denied any knowledge of the still or the whiskey-making in their home.

On the trial of the case. None of the testimony except the admissions of the defendant to Carruth and Izzard showed the defendant to be present at any time when the whiskey was being made.

The liquor made was analyzed by the science teacher in the Lubbock High School and was found to contain an alcoholic content of twenty-five per cent.

Defense took the position that the State had failed to prove the guilt of the defendant, he not being seen in the house or about the still while the whiskey was being made.

The jury agreed with them and found the defendant not guilty.

M. L. Thomas of Grassland, one of the proprietors of the Grassland and Wednesday morning and reported draw gins, was in the News office that cotton is now opening rapidly and is beginning to come in to the gins at a lively rate.

He says that many pickers are needed, however, & that it has been difficult for the farmers to get pickers. He thinks that his gins will gin about the same number of bales that they ginned last year.

Plans For Sewer System Discussed

M. G. O'Neal and R. H. Garner, representing the Municipal Engineering Company of Dallas, are in the city this week in the interest of building a system of sewers. They were guests of the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon Wednesday and Mr. O'Neal made a statement as to the plans of the company in the event that enough subscribers are procured to justify the building of the same.

Wyatts Are Victims Of Car Thieves Here

When Fountain Wyatt and family emerged from the tent of Cooper Brother's show last Thursday night at the close of the performance, they discovered that their Ford coupe was missing. It had been taken by thieves from the street while the owners were enjoying the show.

Officers were notified immediately and they have been working on the case but thus far no clue as to the identity of the thieves or as to the whereabouts of the car has been discovered.

Thieves seem to have a special liking for Wyatt cars, for on Tuesday night of the preceding week Notley Wyatt's Ford roadster was stolen from the street while he attended Harley Sadler's show.

This car was recovered on the following Thursday, however. It was found by the side of the public highway near Slaton, with no gasoline in the tank.

The gasoline having been exhausted, the culprits were evidently afraid to try to procure any at that time of night and abandoned the car where it had stopped. The identity of the thief or thieves has not been detected.

LYNN COUNTY FAIR A SUCCESS

One of the best fairs in the history of Lynn county was held at Tahoka Friday and Saturday of last week. Many of the communities came full force and brought their produce for the displays.

Much of the produce was the best that has ever been on display in Lynn county and the farmers are to be congratulated on the condition of their crops.

From the many community and individual displays, articles were selected that will be put on display to represent, not only the community, but the county in the fair at Lubbock and the State Fair at Dallas.

We are glad that Lynn county is so well represented at these various fairs.

One of the features of the Fair was the display of the various community clubs of both girls and women who are working under the supervision of Miss Halsey.

We think that the real value of the clubs was shown in the great interest taken in this part of the work.

Editor's Note: Through an oversight on the part of us do not know whom, no news articles for the Pointer concerning the coming of the Lynn county fair ever reached this office.

We asked for these articles and were more than anxious to do our little part in advertising the fair. It is now too late to lament the fact that we did not get anything and there is nothing to do but to assure all concerned that is was through no lack of interest that the Pointer carried no news matter on the fair.

The Wilson Pointer.

Cupid Gets Lazy

Little Dan Cupid evidently is not working much at the job. At least his darts are not hitting the mark very often these days. Only three marriage licenses have been issued in this county since September 19, according to the records in the office of the county clerk, which are as follows:

Roy Richardson and Miss Elmina Goddin, September 19. A. L. Blankenship and Miss Beatrice Peterson, September 20. C. E. Fullerton and Miss Merle Haynie, September 24.

CITY COUNCIL AGAINST RAISE

Tahoka's City Council Opposes The Proposed Raise In The Telephone Rates

At a meeting of the City Council held on Wednesday night of last week a resolution was introduced and passed by unanimous vote protesting against the announced raise in telephone rates to be charged by the Tahoka Telephone Company.

A copy of this resolution has been furnished the News for publication and is as follows:

Be it remembered on this 23rd day of September 1925, there was begun and holden a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Tahoka, Texas.

Present and presiding J. R. Singleton, Mayor, A. J. Edwards, I. S. Doak, G. M. Stewart, H. B. Howell, W. G. Tarrance, Aldermen, and Chas. N. Tunnell, City Secretary, when the following proceedings were had to-wit:

SEWER SURVEY IS BEING MADE

Survey Is Being Made For Proposed Sewer System By Municipal Engineers

The City Council has arranged with the Municipal Engineering Company of Dallas to make surveys, plans and estimates for a System of Sanitary Sewers.

This plant will be built if the citizenship of Tahoka evidence a desire for it. After the plans have been completed and estimates of cost have been made the entire matter will be laid before the people of Tahoka for their decision.

A System of Sanitary Sewers is just as important in the upbuilding of a city as are water works or paving. When people congregate together in considerable numbers and household refuse becomes a trying problem, the lack of sewers make it necessary to maintain hundreds of breeding places for flies and mosquitoes. People do not fully realize that many summer complaints and a good deal of other sickness is directly traceable to the presence of house flies, and an even more serious matter is the fact that all of the people in Tahoka secure their drinking water from shallow wells, very few that are more than one hundred feet in depth.

All of the soil above the water strata is open, porous soil. The water that is underneath the ground comes from nowhere else than the rains that fall on the surface of the ground. Every bit of filth in the back yard and in the streets of the town is washed down into the soil, and if steps are not taken at an early date to carry away the dangerous refuse of the homes, and so treat it and dispose of it that its power for evil will be destroyed, the town thus situated will be subject to epidemics of typhoid fever and other complaints that are dangerous to health.

There is no way to over come this except a complete System of Sanitary Sewers. The septic tanks that have been built in Tahoka, and in nearly every other town, are far more dangerous than the surface toilets because they concentrate all the filth of a vicinity and while it is true they use what is known as a septic tank it is nothing more than to hide the offensiveness, liquify the filth and pour it out in a hole in the ground called a cesspool. Anyone having such an arrangement can very quickly verify this statement by examining the cesspool and finding that it never overflows. The ground takes up everything that is given it. This dangerous matter can not do anything but go down until it mixes with the water strata and the poisoning of that strata is a crime that is committed through ignorance and lack of information as to what is going on.

Many towns much smaller than Tahoka, towns with less opportunities for growth and advancement have already provided themselves with sewers. Such towns as Lamesa, Post, Midland, Merkel and Spur all have sewers. Brownfield is building sewers. Tahoka must have a system of sewers if it is to become the town that its inhabitants want it to be.—Contributed.

PRESBYTERIAN SERVICES

The pastor, Rev. W. K. Johnston of Lubbock is preaching this week at Levelland, but will close out Friday night and be there for our First Sunday services. This is to get the word out to all of our friends and members that we may have the very best attendance there next Sunday. El Paso Presbytery convenes at Toyah next Tuesday the 6th and will go from Tahoka to the Presbytery on the following Monday. Subject for Sunday morning is "The Forgotten Message of Eden." Good song service and a fine fellowship. At night: "What It Means To Be a Christian Today." Let us have a fine attendance. Ladies Auxiliary will meet with the pastor on Monday. The fall season upon us and everybody so busy. But let us make good time on Sunday. Be in both of our Sunday services and we will be glad to have you make your church home with us.—W. K. Johnston, Pastor.

Tahoka People To Enter Tech College

The following students from Lynn county, all of whom are either graduates of the Tahoka High School or have been students therein, entered the Texas Technological College when it opened its doors for the first session Wednesday morning: W. T. Bovell, Maurice Small, Fred Smith, Robert Noble, Jack Link, Ruth Link, Mary Link, Floy Anglin, and Franklin Eldridge. W. T. Bovell was a student in the A. & M. College at College Station the past year, Maurice Small attended the Kerville Institute, Robert Noble Simmons College, Franklin Eldridge Clarendon College and possibly some of the others have been in school elsewhere since graduating in the Tahoka High School. There are probably others from Tahoka and Lynn county who also entered the Tech Wednesday but their names have not been reported to us.

Why Not Pay The School Tax Now

Owing to the fact that taxes are not due until October 1 and that most people do not pay the same until during the month of January, the school board is compelled every year to borrow money for the first several months of the term with which to pay teachers and meet other expenses of the school. This usually amounts to several thousand dollars and the district must pay interest on the money borrowed. The present school board was compelled to borrow $3,000.00 a few days ago with which to pay teachers' salaries and other obligations. Unless the tax payers in the school district begin paying their school taxes now and keep it up at a pretty lively rate, the school board will be compelled to borrow other money at the close of each month. Last year the board at one time, we are informed, owed the bank as high as $9,000.00. Unless more taxes are paid in the fall than heretofore, the present board may be compelled to borrow as much. Interest on this sum amounts to several hundred dollars, which the district must lose by reason of the fact that tax payers delay as long as possible the payment of their taxes. Besides, the board of trustees, who serve without pay, must personally indorse this paper and lend their credit for the benefit of the school district. Why not pay your school tax now and thus provide funds for the running expenses of the school and thereby save several hundred dollars for the school children of the district?

CHILD SERIOUSLY HURT

Tuesday afternoon of last week little six year old Lavar Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moore, who live two miles south of Wilson, were playing in the stock lot with his brothers and sisters. A mule kicked him in the face and when the other children saw him he was already down and unconscious. None of the children know how the accident happened.

Dr. Howe was called as soon as possible and the child placed in his care. Six of the little fellow's teeth were knocked out and his face badly bruised and battered. It seemed for a while that the boy would not survive the blow.

At the present Lavar is doing very well and it is thought that there will be no after effects unless his new teeth might come in crooked, but all things almost are possible in the world of dentistry today that we are sure that the father and mother need not be worried on that score as the little fellow is fortunate to have escaped so easily.—Wilson Pointer.

New Baptist Church At Wilson Is Planned

J. E. Richardson of Wilson called at the News office on business Monday and while here stated that plans were being made for the building of a new Baptist Church at Wilson in the near future. A building committee and Pastor Graves Darby visited and inspected the new basement recently constructed by the Baptists here, and it is stated that the Wilson Baptists expect to build their church on the same plan, though smaller.

COTTON IS NOW COMING TO GIN

O'Donnell Leads County of 868 Bales With 463 Bales—Tahoka Has Ginned 261

The cotton picking season opened up in earnest this week. Up to Wednesday night 868 bales had been ginned in the county, most of which had been ginned within the past week.

In most communities, picking is just beginning, however. O'Donnell leads off with more cotton ginned than all the rest of the county combined. This is due not only to the vast cotton acreage surrounding that town but also to the fact that cotton is just a bit earlier on the south line than on the north line of the county.

While O'Donnell had ginned 463 bales, for instance, Wilson had ginned only 20. In Tahoka five of the six gins are running, The West Texas Gin No. 2 is not yet quite complete. It will be ready for business, it is thought, at an early date. While 247 bales had been ginned by the five gins here, the yard receipts here amounted to 261 bales, according to R. C. Wood, public weigher.

The report by towns and communities is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Town Name, Bales Ginned. Includes Tahoka (463), O'Donnell (261), Wilson (20), Draw (71), Grassland (48), Lynn (9), New Home (10), Newmoore (00), TOTAL (868).

Four of the gins in Tahoka thus far are running very close together, as will be noted from the report below: Edwards and Lockhart 60, Holloway 59, Allen 55, Fuller 53, West Texas No. 1 20.

By reference to the report gathered by the News last year and published in our issue of October 2, 1924, it will become obvious that the crop this year is considerably later than last year, for up to October 1st last year 3,182 bales had been ginned in the county, as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Town Name, Bales Ginned. Includes O'Donnell (1200), Tahoka (718), Wilson (422), Grassland (398), New Home (295), Draw (154).

P. T. A. EXPRESS THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Eli Lam, who gave us our concession right for the fair.

We would also like for the patrons of the school to know that Harley Sadler, whom we all know of but who is a stranger to most of us, has generously given us $10.00 to be used by the Parent-Teacher Association for the welfare of our children.

The P. T. A. will meet Tuesday, October 6, at 4 o'clock, at the school Auditorium. Matters of vital interest to the health and well-being of the students will be discussed. You are urged to come.

—Mrs. Paul Miller, President.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown Bishop left for Wilson on their way to the Lubbock and Littlefield. Mr. Bishop expected to attend a meeting of the directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held in Lubbock Wednesday morning and advised the News that he also expected to make a special effort through this body to procure cotton pickers for the farmers of Lynn County.

From Lubbock he and Mrs. Bishop planned to go to Littlefield to attend a big chicken barbecue to be held in that city today (Thursday). All the directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce were to attend in a body. Of course, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop also expected to be present at the Tech opening Wednesday afternoon and to visit the South Plains Fair at Lubbock before returning home.

Lockhart In Car Collision Monday

As Judge G. E. Lockhart was coming to Tahoka from Lubbock Monday morning his big car struck and damaged a Ford driven by a farmer living a few miles this side of Lubbock. The farmer was coming along a country road that intersected at right angles with the highway. He drove his Ford up on the highway when it suddenly stopped. Judge Lockhart was so near that he could not stop and was compelled to either strike the Ford or go into the ditch himself. He chose to strike the Ford. Considerable damage was done to the Ford and some slight damage was done to the Judge's car. Neither driver was hurt.

DO THE MOSQUITOES DESTROY BOLL WORMS?

J. K. Nowlin says that the boll worms have almost disappeared from his cotton field and he believes that the mosquitoes have put them out of business. A neighbor advanced the theory to him a few weeks ago and he placed little credence in it, he stated, but he watched the operations of the worms and of the mosquitoes and arrived at the conclusion that his neighbor was right. He says that the boll worms were making terrible havoc with his crop. Then the mosquitoes came in swarms and could be found by the millions buzzing around under and among the foliage of the cotton. Pretty soon the worms disappeared and he noticed their dead carcasses, some of them with their head inside of the boll and the body suspended on the outside. He thinks that death was brought about by the attacks of the mosquitoes. We have never studied wormology & insectology enough to know whether mosquitoes feed on worms or not, but if they do Mr. Nowlin's theory seems reasonable. Who can enlighten us?

New Home Making Important Growth

New Home is beginning to develop and promises to soon become a thriving little inland village. Business lots have been put on the market and the school grounds are being converted into business lots and will be sold together with the school building at public auction next week. This is being done in order to make arrangements for the erection of a modern brick school building.

Two new residences are under construction, one of which is a six room erected by J. H. Izard. The other is a nine room brick veneer residence being constructed by S. L. Smith. Both buildings will be completed soon.

TAX-EXEMPT BONDS

How tax-free bonds increase the burden of the tax payer is set forth in a striking way by Julius H. Barnes, former Federal Grain Administrator. He puts it thus: "A man worth over $50,000,000 died last year. It developed that he had paid no Federal income taxes since 1916, and legally so. Instead he bought tax-exempt bonds of his state and city, yielding 4 1/2 per cent. But for this he would have contributed over $850,000 toward the expense of his Federal Government.

"Federal expenses were not one dollar less because he did not have to pay."

"Who did pay the $850,000?"

J. P. Ratliff and W. P. Mayes, two prominent citizens of Roscoe, were here on business Monday and called around to see the editor, whom they have known for many years. They report good crops in the Roscoe vicinity.

FOR WORKING PEOPLE

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose or two of Herbine. GAS CUTS COST OF AUTOS

Absolute control of heat through the use of gas, in melting metals employed in the manufacture of automobiles, has brought about large economies in production. Thousands of spare parts, formerly rough cast and then machined to size, are now turned out by automatic dies with a degree of accuracy impossible under the old process. This averts the waste due to rejection of imperfect casting and saves the expense of machining to size.

COAL WILL BE CURIO IN NEXT GENERATION

School children of the next generation who want to get a close up view of a lump of coal will have to choose between the museum and the local gas or light plant.

That is the belief and prediction of Alexander Forward, Secretary-manager of the American Gas Association, as expressed in a recent address before the Eastern States Gas Co.

INTENSE PAIN
Lady, Also Nervous and Weak, Relieved by Cardui.
"I was ill and had to stay in bed under treatment for about two weeks without any improvement in my condition, which was serious," says Mrs. J. T. Abercrombie, R. F. D. 7, Brookville, Ind.

"After taking one bottle of Cardui, I felt like getting up. My nerves seemed steadier and I didn't feel so weak. I kept up taking Cardui and was soon feeling like my old self."
"I am such a believer in Cardui until when I get nervous and weak I take it. I took it before my children were born. It strengthened me and helped my nerves."
"I took a cold and... my back felt so weak and I had such pulling pains. I took Cardui and didn't have any more trouble."
"I fell and broke my arm. The fall shook me up and made me very nervous. I told them Cardui would help that, and it did."

JUST ANOTHER JOKER

You need pay no attention, dear reader, to the date line appearing at the top of some of the pages of this paper, indicating that its name is the Meadow Review and it is being issued on September 25. This paper is not the Meadow Review and it is not being issued on September 25. That is just another one of the funny jokers that can sometimes find their way into a newspaper. The Meadow Review is being printed in this of-plant and ice factory, subject to the approval of the voters on October 17, was here Tuesday, and he stated to the News man that he would furnish some data and information for publication next week relative to the business and the plans for the future in the event the sale is made.

Habeas Corpus Hearing Today

The habeas corpus hearing of J. R. Hill, charged with the murder of Sam J. Parker in Yoakum county last week, is set for hearing before Judge Gordon B. McGuire here this (Thursday) afternoon. Upon an examining trial held last week, Hill was remanded to custody without bail. The hearing this afternoon will be given to determine whether or not the defendant is entitled to bail, in the opinion of the district judge, and if so, to fix the amount of the bond. The State will be represented by District Attorney A. W. Gibson. The defendant will be represented by Lockhart and Garrard.

Tax Injunction Suit On Trial

A civil suit of more than ordinary interest went to trial in the district court Tuesday afternoon. The Garza Land and Cattle Company is seeking to injoin the Redwine Independent School District from the collection of taxes assessed on the lands of the company on the grounds that same are excessive. The Company owns several sections of grazing land in the district, which it claims are being assessed at the same value at which agricultural lands are assessed. The trustees of the school district claim that the valuations are fair and just. The plaintiff company is represented by Bean and Klett of Lubbock while the school district is represented by Lockhart and Garrard.

JUDGE CAIN MARRIES COCHRAN COUNTY COUPLE

Lee S. Secrest and Miss Helen De Vitt, two young people of Morton, Cochran county, were united in marriage by Judge C. H. Cain in his office in the court house late Wednesday evening. NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of the News, will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

Tahoka is enjoying a substantial growth. Her continued growth, however, is dependent upon her acquisition of a sufficient water supply. She must have abundant water before her future is assured. Let us vote the bonds on October 17 and thus provide the funds with which to secure a limitless water supply.

There is a cry throughout Lynn County for cotton pickers. On account of the drought and the short crops in Central Texas, numerous pickers were expected here before the end of September but they have not shown up yet. Cotton is now opening rapidly and it is hoped that many pickers from the east will be here before long. White families are preferred.

According to present indications, the Tahoka Independent School District will be compelled to provide additional school room facilities within the next year. The present building is already crowded to its capacity, and the auditorium is now being used as a study hall. The population of the city and the district is constantly growing and by another year it will be utterly impossible, in all probability to find room for all the children who will be knocking for admittance into the school room. The people of Tahoka should be getting this matter into their thinking and planning.

Tahoka has a proposition from a gentleman to buy their light and power utilities service, and the gentleman emphasized the fact that his was an "independent" company and had no connections with any of the other corporations. We wonder if that will make any material difference in the service rendered or any part that he or they might take in advancing the interests of Tahoka? Sometimes the so-called "souless" corporations have about as much of the milk of human kindness as lots of "individuals" that we know.—Terry County Herald.

Whether this proposed purchaser of Tahoka's electric light and power plant is acting in behalf of a small 'independent' company or big 'souless' corporation we do not know. If the plant is to be sold, we would prefer that it fall into the hands of the big "souless" corporation that has the means and the purpose to constantly improve it and efficiently operate it than into the hands of an individual or two who has little capital and little experience in the operation of such utilities. It may be, however, that the people of Tahoka will decide to keep the plant and let the city operate it as heretofore. We hear no discussion of the proposition. Everybody seems to be "layin' low and sayin' nothin'". Guess they have their migh' made up.

FOREIGNERS AND CRIME

In the light of an investigation conducted by the New York Times, it appears that the oft repeated assertion that our foreign born population supplies the majority of our criminals is wrong.

Figures given show that so far as murders are concerned the greatest occur in cities with the smallest number per 100,000 of population.

Memphis with a foreign born population of only 3.5 per cent, has a murder rate of 65, the largest in the country. Jacksonville with 3 per cent of foreign born, has a murder rate of 61.7. Nashville, 2 per cent foreign born, murder rate 38.7.

On the other hand New York City with 36 per cent of foreign born, has a murder rate of only 5.2 per 100,000. Lowell, Mass., 34 per cent of foreign born, murder rate 1.7.

Of course the above figures do not indicate the actual number of murders committed by foreign born, as compared with the native born but they show that large foreign born population does not necessarily mean a high murder rate, but quite the reverse.

It appears that we must look for a different explanation of the prevalence of crime in the United States.—Lubbock Avalanche.

The baleful effect of the so-called "search and seizure" law enacted by the last legislature in "hampering the State in the prosecution of violations of the law" was demonstrated this week in the trial of a case in the district court in this county. The case is still with the jury as this is being written, and we do not know what their verdict will be, but as a newspaper interested in the enforcement of the law and in the welfare of the country, we do wish to raise our voice again in favor of the repeal of the law enacted by the last legislature.

In this case, a business man of Tahoka went to the house of a private citizen on business. While there he discovered a still in operation in the house. Two other men came about that time and he called their attention to the still and all took a look. This business man went to a phone and notified the sheriff. The sheriff instructed him to get all the help necessary and to bring the still and all parties involved into town. Acting upon this authority, the business man and his companions took charge of the still and of the men and brought them into town. On the trial, the defendant's attorneys objected to the introduction of practically all testimony offered by the State on the grounds that it was obtained without a search warrant first having been issued as required by law. Whether or not the "search and seizure" law will be held by the court of Criminal Appeals to apply in a case of this kind remains to be seen. The district judge held, we think properly, that it does not apply in a case of this kind, but the Court of Criminal Appeals may decide otherwise. At any rate, this law has afforded the defendant in this case another defense and an additional chance, if convicted, to have this case reversed in the higher court and finally dismissed. The criminal law in the legislature and the liquor interests in this county won a decided victory in this state last spring when they induced the legislature to pass this law.

CHANGING OUR COURTS

Certain Texans, disgusted with the weak and watery justice dished out by some Texas juries, are advocating doing away with the jury system entirely and substituting therefor a jury commission of three elected officials, whose duty it would be to hear testimony and render verdicts.

The answer to that is that the very life of constitutional government depends upon trial by jury, wherein every man is guaranteed a fair trial at the hands of a jury of his peers. It is true that there is something to be said in favor of the jury commission. It would be composed of men well versed in the law, men who make it a profession to separate the guff from the truth, and to reach an opinion without sentiment. But the system would have many objectionable features. It would give three men too much power, for one thing, and it would deny the accused a trial by a jury picked from among his fellow citizens.

The jury system is not to be blamed wholly for the state which American justice has fallen into. The blame lies largely on the complicated and outworn machinery by which the courts operate. Shrewd lawyers, interested only in their client's welfare, resort to practices which are far from commendable. The courts themselves are tangled in red tape. To be effective, justice must be both swift and sure, and under our present mode of operation neither is attainable.

Quick trial, striped to the bare essentials of justice, is what this country needs.

Not long ago a district attorney in the east spoke a great truth. He said that the defense lawyer has to convince only one of the twelve men composing the jury, while the district attorney must convince the entire twelve. Given a hung jury, the defense lawyer can manage for delay after delay, until the case is forgotten by the public.

But it is not fair to lay all of the blame on the lawyers. They are looking out after his client's interests, and most of the methods they employ are entirely legitimate. The machinery of the courts is itself at fault.

Abolishment of trial by non-professional jury is impossible and must be eliminated from the proposed remedies. The cure must be sought in a number of other means, chief of which is a revision of the rules and practices of the trial court and the limitation of the powers of appeal courts.

If that is impossible, then a return of the old-fashioned hard-boiled juror is the only remedy.—Lubbock Daily Journal.

On August 17, the people are to decide whether the city shall sell its light and power plant and ice factory or retain the same. On this day they will also decide whether or not the bonds of $60,000 which will improve and extend the water system of the city. As we have been informed, practically all members of the City Council, with the exception of the mayor, are in favor of selling the electric light and power plant and ice factory. The News is not at this time expressing any opinion as to whether or not this property is to be sold. If it should be sold we hope that it will pass into the hands of a company with sufficient capital to greatly improve the light and power plant and to give the people of the City the very best service. If it should remain in the hands of the City we hope that the City will find it possible to improve the service. We have no criticism of the service being given except in the matter of power. Those of our citizenship who use the power furnished by the City find the service unsatisfactory, due to the lack of adequate equipment, we are told. If the citizens decide that the City shall retain the electric light and power plant, we hope that the City will immediately set about the task of so equipping the plant that a sufficiently strong and an even current may be supplied at all times. If the City should make this improvement, then we can see no good reason for selling the property. Unless the city can give assurance that this will be done then we are in favor of selling it to some Company that will do it. We understand that the electric light and power plant has been a paying proposition and that it brings quite a neat sum of money each month into the city treasury. The ice factory too is yielding a satisfactory income we are told. This being true, we believe that the people buying power should get service, and either the City should give it or should be willing to sell to a company that will give it. Our columns are open to the members of the City Council, the mayor, or any citizen of Tahoka for a discussion of the proposition.

WHAT IS A KINKAJOU?

D. E. Bond, of Houston, was in Midland last week end, visiting his friend M. C. Williams, section foreman at Germania.

Messrs. Bond and Williams worked together a number of years ago, on railroad construction. Mr. Bond is now employed by the Southern Pacific, and his work recently took him into Central America.

While down there he obtained a rare animal, called the Kinkajou. There are only two of these animals in the United States at present, according to Mr. Bond.

The little animal has soft wool like a sheep, although it is brownish color. The head resembles that of a teddy bear, its feet are like those of a coon, tail like a monkey's, and the body resembles that of a coon.

The animal climbs with its own tail wrapping the end of it around a person's finger.

It is tame and very gentle by nature. Quite a crowd of Midland people saw the little animal perform on the streets last Saturday, and were very much entertained.—Midland Reporter.

What we want to know is how the Reporter editor got that way. And if this animal climbs by wrapping its tail around a person's finger, we want to know whether it can climb when no person is present to lend it a finger, or must it be content under such circumstances to remain on terra firma? Does it bleat like a sheep, grunt like a bear, chatter like a monkey, or squall like a coon? When it performed on the streets of Midland Saturday afternoon, what kind of a program did it render? Did it perform its performing strictly to acrobatic stunts? or did it also put on some musical numbers? These are burning questions that we would like for the Midland editor to give us light on.

A VERDICT RECEIVED WITH ASTONISHMENT

It is stated that when the death penalty was announced as the verdict of a Dallas County jury in a hijacking case there were manifestations of astonishment in the court room. It may be supposed that this is true, and that without any reflection upon the action of the jury. Within this county recently we had a defendant guilty of manslaughter of a watchman on duty in the night time, and he received a suspended sentence, although admitted to be responsible for the bullets which took the life of the deceased. An associate in that case was found guilty as an accomplice, although he did no shooting, and received not a suspended sentence, but a term of years in the penitentiary. Now comes a jury and assesses the death sentence on a young man charged with robbery with firearms in connection with the wounding of the victim robbed.

It is clear that if the same jury had had all three cases the penalties would have shown more equality, assuming that the judgments as to the guilt had remained unchanged. Indeed, these three cases afford a striking illustration of the difficulty encountered when juries are forced to assess penalties. The fitting of the punishment to the crime is essentially a judicial action, and it ought to be in the hands of the presiding Judge. He sits from case to case and he alone is able to give even-handed justice, one case considered in the light of another, so that the public is able, through him, to maintain a settled, orderly and just public policy toward the punishment of crime.

All this does not mean that the death penalty is necessarily too severe a punishment for any crime of robbery with firearms. The highwayman who arm himself before holding up his prey does so with the possibility in contemplation that he may have to kill somebody. He deliberately puts himself in a situation where murder may be his alternative to capture, if not his own death. By so doing he is held by the law to entertain a constructive intent such as will support the charge of murder in case he actually does kill some one in pursuance of his felonious enterprise.

Human attendants. The notion that room life is sacred needs, however, a more steady, a more uniform and a more comprehensive support than it can get from the independent action of first one jury and then another. To get that sort of support we shall have to amend our Constitution and require the judge to name the penalty after receiving the verdict of guilty from the jury.—Dallas News.

Methodist Society Has Very Interesting Meet

The study class of the Methodist Missionary Society met at the parsonage Monday afternoon with nineteen members present. It is especially interesting to know that each one on the program was present and did credit to the subject assigned.

If you, who should belong to this class, are skeptical as to whether this book is educational or interesting, come out and visit us and be your own judge.

Every grown person can appreciate the lines:

"Backward, turn backward, O Time in thy flight,
And make me a child again just for tonight."

If you had been at this meeting we are confident you would have forgotten just how old you are and thought that you were a child again for the two hours of the meeting. Each pupil was given a task to perform and ran over each other in their eagerness to finish it and thus win a smile from the teacher. Mrs. Elbridge uses such pleasing methods to bring out points that they have a strong tendency to stamp themselves indelibly on one's mind.

At the close of the lesson the pupils drew duplicate numbers as a means of securing a partner for their next tasks (which did not pertain to the lesson). Passing plates, cups, spoons, napkins, sandwiches, sugar, and hot tea were these duties. After the sandwiches and tea had been enjoyed, the couple who had been idle while the others worked had their work to do. Can you imagine what it was that they had to do?

The next lesson will be Chapter II, "Today's Latin America," with special assignments to Mesdames Sanders, Wyatt, Slaton, Childers, and A. I. Thomas.

Next Monday will be the business meeting of the society. Everyone is urged to be present.

SLATON CITIZENS TO HELP ON LYNN COUNTY ROADS

At a meeting held last Friday night at the Insurance office of Pember and Staggs, plans were inaugurated to aid Lynn County Commissioners Court in building some roads south and west of Slaton so that farmers can get to town with their cotton. Lynn county will bear half of the expenses and Slaton citizens will bear the other half of the expense. The work will cost around a thousand or twelve hundred dollars.

The roads in question and the work to be done is leading to Slaton from the south and southwest, the nature of the work is building grades across several lakes which have been made impassable by reason of the extensive rains. The people living in those sections can not get to Slaton with their cotton unless these roads are fixed.

At Friday night's meeting Commissioner H.D. Talley went into the matter with a representative gathering of business men and told them of the importance of having these roads fixed. The meeting voted unanimously to back Mr. Talley in the work, and appointed a committee to solicit funds to defray half of the expense. Three hundred and seventy-five dollars were raised at this meeting, and the committee appointed went ahead and we understand that since then the amount has been raised to seven hundred or more dollars. The work of building roads through these lakes will start at once and same will be made passable. The work will be under the supervision of Mr. Talley and the Commissioner from Lynn county.

This is a fine piece of construction work and will add to the trade of Slaton. The losses would have been heavy had these roads been allowed to remain like they are and no efforts made to provide ways for the people living in those sections to get to Slaton.—Slaton Times.

PLAYING POLITICS WITH COAL

The Portland Oregonian, in commenting on the present coal strike says:

"Anthracite and bituminous coal are sold in distinct markets, but the United Mine Workers, whose members mine both fuels, have ordered a strike in the anthracite field and hold in reserve the threat of a strike in the bituminous field for the purpose of forcing federal intervention between miners and operators in both fields.

"One incident of the miners' strikes might induce the President to intervene with vigor. That the riots and even murders that have accompanied others. When he was governor of Massachusetts he refused to intervene with the Boston police strike until the city confessed its impotence and called for state aid. He then used the entire force of the state and quickly crushed the strike. That precedent does not augur well for any men to attempt a repetition of the massacre that has made Williamson county, Illinois a by-word for mob rule. He has authority to repel insurrection without awaiting a request from a state for aid he will use it if a state proves unwilling or unequal to the task. He would not interfere with the right to strike, but he would make it well understood that this does not include the right to riot and murder."

ARE THE OLD-TIME DANCES AND SONGS COMING BACK

Henry Ford, the world's premier manufacturer, started something when he telephoned Benjamin B. Lovett, the well-known dancing master, in Worcester, Massachusetts. He later took up his residence in Dearborn, to bring back to Ford and his friends the old-time square dances.

A special floor has been placed in the studio of K-F-P-G, Hollywood, (One of the best equipped studios on the Pacific Coast). White details as to how the selections are danced will be given over the microphone, the dances themselves will be put on, on this floor, by the shiks and flappers of two generations ago, but who are not the sedate grand fathers and grand mothers of the shiks and flappers of today.

Ben Sears is ably assisted in this radio innovation by Mr. J. E. Haynes who is very proud of the fact that when a youngster and the old dances were in high favor, he often met his father going to work when he came home in the morning. Mrs. Haynes and Mrs. Sears take just as much interest in dancing these old dances in the studio as they did in their old "flapper days."

Between dances, vocalists of reputation render the old time songs, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," and Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground," and it is quite evident that K-F-P-G has set a pace that will be followed by many broadcasting stations.

Magnolia Wins Prize For The Second Time

Having reported our success in winning first prize in Lynn county on the community exhibits, we wish to state our success in our neighboring county at Post City the past week.

As Magnolia community is one of the original C. W. Post settlement surveys, we get to take our show to Post City just as if we were in Garza county.

So we all loaded our flivvers with farm and garden products and went down to compete with our neighbor communities on the east. We won there too and are very grateful to the Garza County Fair Association for the privilege of entering with them.

Our battle over there was a hard fought one, for we had such prominent and progressive communities as Close City, Garlynn and Graham Chapel to compete with, but with our almost 100 per cent co-operation of the Magnolia citizenry we won a complete victory over other contestants but our right hand is extended to the leaders of these mentioned communities for their fairness and sportsman like competition. It isn't easy to mean "Maybe." We were awarded $100.00.—A citizen.

YOAKUM FARMER DENIED BAIL AND PLACED IN JAIL

LUBBOCK, Sept. 24.—J. I. Hill, Yoakum county farm owner and proprietor of a hotel at Brownfield, was brought to Lubbock late today and placed in the county jail, charged with the murder of Sam J. Parker, a tenant on his farm. Parker died at a local hospital this morning, following the shooting yesterday.

Hill has been refused bond by the county judge of Yoakum county and was brought to Lubbock by sheriff John Kellar who declined to discuss reasons for removing Hill to Lubbock. Parker's body was forwarded to Plains for burial.

Dies At Lubbock Hospital
LUBBOCK, Sept. 24.—Sam J. Parker, Yoakum county farmer, who was shot at his home northeast of Plains early Wednesday afternoon, died at the West Texas Hospital here, where he was brought for an operation, about 9 o'clock Thursday morning. The body was prepared for burial by the Rix company and will be taken over land to Plains tonight. Funeral services will be held there tomorrow in the Plains cemetery, according to present arrangements.

J. R. Hill, hotel man of Brownfield, and land owner of Terry and Yoakum counties is being held in the Yoakum county jail in connection with the shooting, and will probably now be called upon to face a charge of murder. The shooting followed an argument, according to Mrs. Parker, wife of deceased, which arose over a drink of liquor. Parker was shot one time in the abdomen. An operation performed at the hospital last night immediately following the arrival of the injured man here after a long drive over muddy roads, gave hope for his recovery. He began to sink, however, later in the night, from which he failed to rally.

Parker was able to make a statement about the shooting to Deputy Sheriff Vernice Ford and County Attorney Owen McWhorter of Lubbock upon his arrival at the hospital here. The officer will not make his statement public.

Mrs. Parker, who has charge of the postoffice at Plains, was notified of the shooting by Hill, who telephoned from Tahoka, according to statements made by her at the hospital last night where her husband was operated on.

"I just want to inform you that I have shot your husband, Sam Parker," Hill told Mrs. Parker over the telephone. She also stated that Hill had also telephoned a physician at Brownfield to go to his farm and take care of Parker who was alone.

Mrs. Parker stated that the quarrel was precipitated by Hill when he asked her husband to take a drink of whiskey, which Parker refused.

Hill is sixty five years of age and is well known through the south plains country. He has four children, all of whom are grown.

Details of the shooting were told by Mrs. Parker, who said that her husband told her about the quarrel that led up to the shooting.

Parker, according to his wife, was cutting wood at the farm house when Hill offered a bottle of corn whiskey and asked him to take a drink. Upon Parker's refusal, Hill became angry and a quarrel started which resulted in a fight between the two men.

Later: The defendant has sued out a writ of habeas corpus in the above case, which will be heard one day this week, according to district attorney, A. W. Gibson, who is here this week engaged in the trial of criminal cases in the district court.

SHE KNEW THE ANSWER

The fresh young traveling salesman put on his most seductive smile as the pretty waitress glided up to his table in the hotel dining room to get his order, and remarked:

"Nice day, little one."

"Yes, it is," she replied. "And so was yesterday, and my name is Ella and I know that I am a pretty girl and have lovely blue eyes, and I've been here quite a while, and I don't think that I am too nice a girl to be working here. My wages are satisfactory and I don't think there's a show or dance in town tonight, and if there was I wouldn't go with you. I'm from the country and I am a respectable girl, and my brother is the cook in this hotel and weighs three hundred pounds; last week he pretty nearly ruined a $25-a-week traveling man who tried to make a date with me; now, what'll you have—roast beef, roast pork, Irish stew, hamburger or fried liver?"—Everybody's.

CULLING ATTRACTS CROWD

The chicken culling demonstration held at Ben Moore's farm northwest of town last week by Mr. Reasner, representing A. & M. College, and Miss Halsey, county demonstration agent, was well attended, people coming from as far as 25 miles away.

Mrs. Moore's flock of Rhode Island Reds were used and only seven were found to be imperfect. Miss Halsey gave an interesting talk on poultry raising and advised the farmers to raise more chickens and better ones.—O'Donnell Index.

O'DONNELL BAPTISTS RAISE $20,000 TO COMPLETE CHURCH

The members of the First Baptist church are now launching a campaign to raise $20,000 to complete the brick building, the first unit of which was constructed last year.

The rapid growth of the church membership demands more room and it is planned to start work on the building at an early date.—O'Donnell Index.

Early Sunday School Work

While the world's convention was in session in Glasgow recently Scotchmen came forward with the claim that the honor of starting the Sunday school movement should not go to Robert Raikes but to Christian workers who carried on the same sort of work in one of the cities of Scotland before Raikes gathered his classes in Gloucester in 1780. Now we are told of a Baptist deacon, William Fox, who actually began to teach the Bible to his pupils in the school organized at Clapton, England, in 1673, says the Detroit News. Raikes continued his attention to spelling, reading and arithmetic.

The first Bible school is said to have been organized by Rev. Morgan John Rhys at Cilfwrn, near Swansea, Wales, in 1648, and a student under Rhys, Rev. Morgan Jones, driven out by the act of uniformity, is said to have come to Elmhurst, L. I., and begun a Bible school in 1682, or 93 years before Raikes.

Central Cooling

The new system of central cooling, which has been perfected by experiments in the School of Tropical Medicine, Calcutta, may prove a key which will open up the great potential treasure-house of the tropics. By this system a special "cool room" can be kept at a temperature from 20 to 30 degrees below the outside heat. This is done by a forced supply of air, which is passed over the pipes of a refrigerating plant before it reaches the room, while the relatively hot air already in it is drawn out. The room is specially insulated by cork. Experiments over a period of two years prove the efficiency of the "cool room," and also that one can pass without any injurious effect on health.

The Famous T-Bar Ranch Lands

This ranch consisted originally of 126 sections, or more than 80,000 acres. Twenty sections of this land lying north of the Tahoka-Brownfield highway and west of the Tahoka-Lubbock highway and adjoining the townsite of Tahoka has been placed on the market. A part of this land has been sold and converted into farms and as fine cotton as can be found on the south plains may be found today on these lands. We are selling these lands out in quarter and half sections. This is your chance to get a home. Lynn county produced more than 38,000 bales of cotton last year. It is conservatively estimated that it will produce 50,000 bales this year. Fine land, fine water, fine people; complete crop failures almost unknown.

THE DIVORCE BILL
"For every seven marriages in the United States there is one divorce. This is a shocking state of things." Theodore W. Martin of the International divorce commission was speaking before the W. O. T. U. of Itchmond.

"If the young bride and bridegroom would live up to their original resolves," Mr. Martin went on, "divorce would disappear."
"The young bride and bridegroom marry with the resolve to share one another's joys and sorrows, ambitions and troubles, hopes and fears, but too often all they share, alas, is one another's hair brushes and towels and squabbles."

Memorial to Forester

At McVeytown in Pennsylvania there stands a six-ton boulder to which is attached a bronze tablet bearing in bas relief the figure of a man in hunting costume standing on the rocky brink of a deep chasm.

This stands as a memorial to Dr. Joseph Trimble Rothrock and was recently dedicated to his achievements as a forester and a patriot and a public servant. It is a fitting memorial in its simplicity, as simply beautiful as the trees that he loved and the forests that he sought throughout his life to conserve and recreate.—Nature Magazine.

Tahoka Photographer Late Duke Of Tauria

The citizenship of Tahoka that appreciates art can truly rely upon the home town photographer for works that rank in the first class among the art of photography, Portrait Painting and Show Card Writing. When N. N. Gregg Jr. purchased the studio of J. I. Wingfield and entered the business life of Tahoka as proprietor of Gregg's Art Studio, this little town captured an artisan that has always, until very recently, lived in the large cities where he has been known as one that championed true art in all his activities and backed that enthusiasm by his ability and active care to produce the maximum quality in that art.

Nicholas Gregg, Jr., educated in the best schools of Russia and able to speak five languages, is the only son of the late Duke Nicholas Gregg of Tauria, Russia, containing the area around the Crimean sea. The elder Gregg died in 1904 leaving his title and property to Nicholas Jr., whose mother was appointed his administrator until he reached his majority.

When the Bolshevik revolution broke out in 1917, Nicholas Jr. and two cousins were able to flee from the native land, though none knows of the whereabouts of the others today. Through the scheming of Bolshevik friends that Nicholas Jr. had made as a result of his democratic nature, loathing the utter mockery of titles, to the disgust of his mother who wanted him to be a model gentleman, he escaped from Russia and landed in London where he joined the Royal National Guard of His Majesty, King George V, and after being wounded and gassed he was discharged while doing service in the Dardanelles.

After living in Egypt for a time, and then sailing in merchant ships going nearly all over the world, Nicholas finally realized, in 1922, his long felt ambition to live in the United States when he gained American citizenship and lived in Boston where he studied photography. He later moved to New York and engaged in the Real Estate business, while acting as a reporter on a New York Russian paper.

Not content with life in the large cities, spurred by a necessity to get in a better climate more suited to his lungs that had suffered from gas while in the English army, Nicholas left the city and started west in search of examples of a truer, far heralded democracy. Then followed days of employment as a cowboy in New Mexico, where the language, which is the same as we speak here, and the customs observed were different to those of his acquaintances in New York and England.

When cow boy life had lost its kick to the young adventurer, Nicholas again entered his old line of art work and engaged his labors in the service of the Waffle Studio of Lamesa until he purchased the Tahoka Studio and set himself up in the pursuit of photography in this city. In the three weeks that Nicholas has been a citizen of Tahoka the effect of his keen appreciation of art and his ability to produce first class photography has made many friends for the Gregg Art Studio and the young proprietor states that he has already received many reorders from satisfied customers.

The entire studio has been remodelled and improved. Gregg's Art Studio is now prepared to give its customers service that can not be equaled in West Texas at prices that are low for the quality of work produced. The owner is a citizen and does his work right here in our city where he is always glad to meet and make friends. Patronizers of the studio find Nicholas a likable gentleman who is anxious to be understood by a democratic people and willing to explain anything connected with his business.

JINX PENNY DIES

Another prominent citizen of West Texas, well known in Tahoka, succumbed to the Reaper of Death last Wednesday when R. E. Penny of Roaring Spring passed away. The remains were buried last Thursday afternoon in Lubbock. Mr. Penny was an uncle of Mrs. I. S. Doak of this city and had other relatives here. He lived at Lubbock many years and had many friends and acquaintances throughout the south plains. Death resulted from a stroke of paralysis, which he recently suffered. Two brothers, a sister, and his father died likewise of paralysis within the last two or three years, according to I. S. Doak.

City Secretary Chas. N. Tunnell was among those from Tahoka who attended the Fair at Post last Friday and Saturday. Charles reports that those Garza county people certainly did have some fine exhibits and a dandy good fair.

Miss Ruth Nevels has returned to Belton, where she will again attend Baylor College this year.

SOUTHWARD ITEMS

Cotton pickers! Cotton pickers! is all the cry in this community now. Several farmers report 7 or 8 bales open in the field now with very little help to gather it.
