Fall Sports Spirit Rally to kick-off Football Season

A Spirit Rally on Thursday, August 29th at 7:00 p.m. on Burleson Field will kick off Booster Club Activities for the 1991-1992 school year.

Everyone in the community is invited to the fellowship introducing the Motley County football teams, their coaches and managers, the cross-country track team and coach, the pep clubs and cheerleaders and their sponsors of both Jr. High and High School. It is also picture night, so everyone is urged to bring a camera.

The event is sponsored by the Motley County Booster Club. In an effort to recognize all students in Motley County I.S.D. the Boosters held 3 major Spirit Rallies during the last school term. Because of the success of the "United We Stand" theme, the boosters plan to carry on with this same theme throughout this 1991-1992 school term. The boosters, with the combined support of the entire community and the Motley County I.S.D.

Administration, planned their activities so students from Kindergarten to 12th grade became a part in one or more of the past three Spirit Rallies.

"United We Stand" became a reality as this theme was adopted by our athletes at their All-Sports Banquet this past spring. In carrying on with tradition, the boosters, will include all students K through 12 of Motley County I.S.D. in the conclusion of this year's first Spirit Rally.

The Booster Club, an organization of parents and fans striving to show special support of our athletic program, under the U.I.L. guidelines and regulations, is embarking upon another all-year effort to emphasize parental and community involvement to help bolster the self-esteem of our students.

Dick Van Hoose, Motley County I.S.D. Principal will be the Master of Ceremonies and a special welcome and introduction of our new Superintendent, George Blanch, and other new personnel of Motley County I.S.D. will begin tonight's program.

Last year's Fall Spirit Rally had an estimated crowd of 350 people. This year, we are planning for even a "bigger and better" fellowship. Refreshments of homemade Ice Cream from the "Victory Bucket" and brownies will be served. Any help with the refreshments will be greatly appreciated by the boosters.

The Booster Club will have a membership sign-up table at the rally for those interested in joining the organization. Dues are $1.00 per year.

Plans are already in progress for the Winter Sports Rally, (Basketball season), as boosters are now selling ads. These personal signature ads may be purchased for $15.00 and to secure a place in the Panhandle Plains Basketball Magazine. Featuring our own Lady Matadors and Matadors. Purchasing this ad you will receive a magazine and show once again your support to our athletes.

We invite you to join with us tonight for an evening of fun and fellowship with our young people always and forever the Pride of Motley County.

FAMILY VIOLENCE

In recent research studies, family violence - child and spousal abuse - and neglect have been identified as the number one issue facing families in the 1990s. Much of the research on spousal abuse focuses on wife abuse for a variety of reasons.

Although many couples report mutual violence, most studies regard husband-to-wife violence as a more prevalent and serious problem. Many wives who become violent seem to do so in self-defense. Women tend to use less dangerous or injurious forms of violence, nor are they as apt to repeat their violence over time. Men tend to regard their wives' violence as mildly annoying or amusing. Husbands also have greater resources which allow them to leave an abusive situation.

Marital violence is one facet of the larger area of family violence, which includes child maltreatment, elder abuse and sibling abuse.

Family violence is thought to be a learned social behavior. When a child observes that aggressive acts are appropriate ways to handle conflict and that fighting is modeled by his parents, he uses force rather than words to settle disagreements.

Marital conflict is a result of one or more of the following: the intimate nature of the relationship, basic differences between partners, an attempt to make a partner change, competition between partners, petty irritations and different role expectations. Violence is a learned behavior that is reinforced by societal acceptance. Victims of violence may feel they are unable to escape due to psychological or economic dependencies.

Since conflict is inevitable in marital or parent-child relationships, family members have to learn to deal with their differences without hurting someone they love.

WHEN PARENTS ARE SELF-DISCIPLINED

Discipline may be thought of as a way in which parents attempt to control the behavior of children. It is difficult for anyone to control the behavior of another for a prolonged period of time. Attempting to do so is conducive to conflict.

Discipline may be best defined in terms of parental behavior that assists children: self-direction in children.

* Controlling your behavior develops self-direction in children.
* Accepting responsibility for the consequences of your behavior teaches children responsibility.
* Becoming sensitive to and respecting the needs and feelings of others teaches a child to care about others.

Discipline is a necessary part of the role of all family members. If children don't learn self-discipline from those who care, they are likely to learn it later from mothers at a much higher cost. When parents are self-disciplined and in charge of families, children learn self-discipline, responsibility and self-reliance.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:

For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? But if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

OUR GOD

There is a very ancient book that gives us the correct view of our God. It's the Bible. It is ancient; but it's timely. This book has been respected by most through the ages; and is still respected by many today.

The Bible views God as the supreme being. Creator of Heaven and earth, and "all that in them is." He is the living God, with ears to hear and hands to help. He is holy, almighty, all wise, all powerful and always present everywhere. He is our creator and the sustainer of our lives. Read Acts 17: 23-29

God is the "Judge of all", but also the Savior of them who will come to Him through Jesus Christ. (Titus 3: 4-6).

We take our stand on the grand old Book. Every sermon and every Bible lesson is a Bible message. We believe that "All scripture is inspired by God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." (II Timothy 3:16-17)

Welcome to the Matador Church of Christ. We promise you one thing: you will be offered nothing but the word of God, "the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make you wise unto salvation."

MATADOR CHURCH OF CHRIST Michael G. Crowley, Sr.

Cheerleaders Go To Camp

The Motley County Varsity Cheerleaders, including Seniors Tonya Hoyle, Heather Hobbs and Aimee Pipkin; Juniors Christy Potts and Sophomores, Mindy Dodson and Keri Shorter and Senior Mascot, Cathey Perryman, attended Cheerleading Camp at Sam Houston University in Huntsville on August 6-11. The University was a pretty campus but hot and the girls did a lot of walking up a hill where the coliseum was found where most of the main events took place.

The Cheerleaders learned new cheers, chants, pom pom routines, stunts and goal setting strategies. They competed each night against different squads where they were evaluated on sharpness of motions, voice, togetherness, creativity and overall performance.

The Motley County Cheerleaders

received 5 superior ribbons, which are all blue ribbons and considered the best you can receive. The last day, a special ribbon was given to the MCHS cheerleaders for successfully incorporating a stunt and jump into a cheer and for creating a unique cheer themselves and performing it successfully. The squad was also awarded a spirit stick which means they showed spirit combined with a good attitude.

Cathey Perryman, mascot, did exceptionally well also. She received the most spirited mascot of the whole camp, of which only one was awarded. This means she showed spirit, a great attitude, support for her squad as well as performing superior all week.

Although the Cheerleaders and Cathey had a great time, it was also very nice to get back home.

Leigh Ann Pipkin received the "Best Jr. High Cheerleader" award at WTS Cheerleading Camp.

Amy's Anecdotes

by Amy Woolsey

How come people don't appreciate what others do? When someone does something for the good of the town or even just to help a person, someone always has to gripe. No one is ever satisfied. Why? Why can't people be satisfied with what they get or with what other people do? Maybe it's because they didn't do it themselves or something. I just wish people wouldn't be so rude. Be more appreciative of things. We're not here for long, plus, it would make everyone alot happier and people will grow to like you more rather than to hate.

THE TRUTH ABOUT DIPPING AND CHEWING TOBACCO

More than 87 percent of oral cancer cases are directly linked to smokeless tobacco and cigarette use.

Smokeless tobacco is available in two forms: chewing tobacco and snuff. Chewing tobacco is a mixture of tobacco and molasses. Tobacco is "chewed" by sucking on a golf-ball size wad or a piece between the cheek and teeth. Snuff is powdered or crushed tobacco. It is "dipped" by placing a pinch between the lower lip and gums.

There are five common myths about dipping and chewing tobacco.

* "Athletes use it. It must be safe." Smokeless tobacco causes a variety of mouth problems including leukoplakia, which, in turn, could lead to cancer.

* "It's safer than smoking." Snuff contains 10 times the amount of nitrosamines, the same cancer-causing substance found in cigarettes.

* "No one ever died from it." Of an estimated 25,000 new cases of oral cancer discovered every year, more than 9,000 cases die.

* "A little bit now and then won't hurt me. Besides, I can stop at any time." Smokeless tobacco contains high levels of nicotine and the habit is hard to kick.

* "There's no evidence it's dangerous." Research has shown it takes only a few months of regular use to develop mouth problems like leukoplakia which can turn into cancer over time. The Surgeon General, the International Agency for Research on Cancer, the World Health Organization and the National Institutes of Health have all concluded that there is a direct causal relationship between smokeless tobacco and oral cancer.

"Everyone knows how dangerous cigarette smoking is, but what they don't realize is that dipping and chewing tobacco is just as dangerous," said Doris Scales, R.N. of Methodist Hospital's Hodges Cancer Center.

For more information on the dangers of smokeless tobacco use, contact your physician or the Hodges Cancer Center at (806) 793-4214.

Social Security Tips

by Mary Jane Shanes

WORKING DISABLED CAN EARN MORE NOW

Disabled Social Security beneficiaries who receive disability benefits.

Changes in Social Security regulations that became effective in 1990 raised the monthly earnings amount which counts in a "trial work period" from $75 to $200. A trial work period is a 9-month period during which is disabled person can test returning to work without a loss of benefits.

For self-employed people, the work hours that count for a trial work period increased from 15 to 40 hours per month.

At the end of a trial work period, work activity is evaluated and a determination is made of the person's ability to continue working. If a person's earnings level is considered "substantial gainful activity," disability benefits will be continued 3 more months and then stopped. The 1990 wage levels which are considered substantial gainful activity have increased from $300 to $500 a month. (The monthly earnings limit for the blind is $780 in 1990.)

"This change means a significant expansion of the opportunities available to disabled people who wish to return to work," Social Security Commissioner Gwendolyn S. King stated.

People who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) because of disability should contact Social Security for more information about work because the rules are different.

Keep Football Fans Cheering With Change-of-Pace Dips

Football season is a great time to take a dip... to the living room, family room or wherever armchair athletes gather to watch the game. Armed with chips and vegetable dippers, they can dip, dunk and munch as they please without missing a bit of the action.

This fall, fuel football fans with two fast and far-from-ho-hum dips created by PACE® picante sauce home economists. Great served hot or at room temperature, both dips take their garden-fresh flavor and spicy jalapeno "heat" from versatile PACE® picante sauce, in the cook's choice of mild, medium or hot.

Black Bean-Bacon Dip is a crowd-pleasing blend of beans, bacon, garlic, cream cheese and picante sauce that's especially good with vegetable dippers such as carrots and bell peppers. Crabby Con Queso is a richly flavored mix of cheese, veggies, picante sauce and imitation crab meat that tastes great with tortilla chips.

Expecting a crowd? No problem! Both recipes are easily doubled.

Black Bean-Bacon Dip

6 slices bacon, diced
1 medium onion, chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 can (16 ounces) black beans, drained
2/3 cup PACE® picante sauce
1-1/2 ounces cream cheese, cubed
1-1/2 teaspoons cumin
Chopped cilantro

Cook bacon in skillet until crisp; remove and reserve. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Add onion and garlic; cook until tender. Transfer to food processor; add beans and process until smooth. Return to skillet; add remaining ingredients. Cook until cheese melts; stir in bacon. Sprinkle with cilantro to serve. Makes 1-3/4 cups.

Crabby Con Queso

3/4 cup chopped onion
3/4 cup chopped green pepper

1 garlic clove, minced
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
1/2 cup PACE® picante sauce
1/2 pound process cheese spread, cubed
1/4 pound imitation crab meat, finely shredded
1/2 cup chopped tomato

Saute onion, green pepper and garlic in oil until tender. Add picante sauce and cheese; cook and stir until cheese melts. Stir in crab and tomato. Makes 2 cups.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I have a few comments about the celebration of the Motley and Dickens County Old Settlers Reunion that we were to celebrate this past weekend. As a citizen of Motley County for most of my life, I am amazed at the insult to all of us, that we have to have Security guards to police us. It is an insult that we are so unruly that such measures have to be taken. From the looks of things by just driving by you would have believed that Willie Nelson's concert was to be staged or we were going to Billy Bobs. But in either case I don't believe you would have seen as many guards or DPS officials there. We saw a little boy, 6 or 7, stopped at the gate on a bicycle. Sure the traffic was a little heavy, 3 cars stopped for fees or inspection. A little further down the street, right at the dip, a guard standing in the street waving us on, nobody behind us, nobody in front of us. We were not in a hurry. Nobody is when you go to visit.

Sure times change, but I don't believe the people that grew up in Dickens and Motley County change that much.

As a kid, that carnival, dancing and visiting was the best of the Summer.

As a parent, with a young son, we were on Vacation from South America, and my mother borrowed a horse for my son to ride in the parade and to keep during the weekend. What a thrill!

I have no idea what the cost of those guards were but they were not an asset.

Couple Exchanges Vows In Plainview Ceremony

Teresa Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Mullins and Raul Riojas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manual Riojas, all of Plainview, were united in marriage on Friday, August 23, 1991. Dr. Floyd Bradley, area Mission Director performed the ceremony in the home of the groom's parents. The bride's daughter, Kisha, was the ringbearer for the double ring ceremony.

Refreshments of punch, a two tiered

One sitting in a chair, under a shade tree, on a dirt road before you get to the gate, was probably drawing more money for those three days than most of our senior citizens do in a month.

Old Settlers of Dickens and Motley County, your kids and grandkids, have all been insulted. I think it is an outrage. It is my understanding that for each child with grandma and grandpa, you paid $3 at the gate. If Mom and Dad were paying the tab they paid also. I want my grandchildren to know about Old Settlers but I can't afford those prices plus rides and eats. You pay to get in the fenced area, to the dance, to the rodeo, to the carnival, and where does it proceed go? The roof on the tabernacle needs repairing, tree limbs could fall with good wind-storm, the entrance and exit gates need to be unlocked. What if you had to get people out - there is only one exit.

There are three gates, but two are locked.

I can't believe that our two county law officers and D.P.S. can't handle any disturbance that takes place down there. I can't believe that they feel so incompetent that they recommended the Security Guards to come in. Take that damn fence down and let the people have a good time. That is like a range war, instead of cattle, it's people.

Country Peddler Show To Be Held September 13-14-15

The traditional look of a timeless era is attracting visitors to the Country Peddler Show, returning to the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center in Lubbock, September 13, 14, & 15, 1991.

While the decorator and fashion pendulum swings back and forth between new and old, the timeless look of the Original Folk Art and Decorator Show is always in style.

"While we showcase traditional themes, the shows are never the same," says show manager Robbin Ely-Ramsey. "Our exhibitors are always in contact with designers, artists, and visitors from across the county. They are often the first to put new twists on proven themes."

Some of these "new" twists show up as memories of the past become heirlooms of the future.

"Old" quilts are sewn into vests, jackets, etc. and antique buttons become pins, brooches, and earrings. Hand-me-down charms bracelets inspire designs in silver that charm a new generation.

Classic stylings take new shape in wood, metal, jewelry and pottery accessories that can instantly bring the country into any home.

This versatility makes the upcoming Country Peddler Shows the perfect opportunity for Christmas Shopping.

"We have a suprising number of visitors who come to every show just to do their gift buying," says Ely-Ramsey. "It's certain you'll find something that's one-of-a-kind and that reflects the special personality of everyone on your list."

Primitive prints, ironwork, wood carvings, quilts, unique furnishings, wood toys, dolls, Santa figures, are a few of the gift items to be discovered at the Country Peddler Show.

Fashion items include dresses, skirts, jackets, vests, coats, bags, belts, hats and collars. Jewelry turns up in wood, stone, gold, silver, and pewter.

"At the Country Peddler Show, you can be assured that everything is true to the folk art tradition," says Ely-Ramsey. "Every item at a Country Peddler Show not only adds design and warmth to a home, but it helps fill it with intimacy and affection."

Show hours are 4-9p.m. Friday evening, 9a.m. to 6p.m. on Saturday, and 11a.m. to 4p.m. on Sunday.

Admission to the Country Peddler Show is $4 for adults, $2 for senior citizens 65 years or older. Children 12 and under are admitted free.

For more information contact Robbin Ely-Ramsey at box 706, Port Aransas, Texas 78373 (512) 749-5449.

Creative Christmas To Be Held In Plainview

Creative Christmas, a day-long series of workshops and demonstrations focusing on the holiday season, will be held Saturday, Sept. 21, at the Ollie Liner Center in Plainview.

This year's event will introduce several changes in the format that has been used successfully for the past three years. The day has been moved from Monday to Saturday so those who work or attend school will be able to participate and the Marketplace has been extended to include individual craftsmen as well as local merchants.

This year, the Plainview Symphony will be the beneficiary of the Marketplace booth rental. Other Plainview charities benefiting from Creative Christmas in the past have been We Care Child Center, Kidsville and the Faith in Sharing House (FISH).

Admission will be free of charge with a suggested donation of a can of food for the FISH food bank. The food drive will be directed by members of the Hale County 4-H project, Kids Fight Kid Hunger, chaired by Nicole Logan.

Last year more than 23 cases of food and $200 were donated to FISH by Creative Christmas.

"We're always looking for ways to improve Creative Christmas," said Colleen Chadwick, Hale County Extension agent for home economics who is co-chairman of the project with Plainview Herald Lifestyles Editor Nicki Logan.

"Changing the day will be more convenient for working women and older school students who want to take some of the classes," said Ms. Chadwick.

Amy Adrain and Rhonda James, Extension Homemakers co-chairmen, have arranged a variety of hands-on workshops designed to teach participants how to save money while creating innovative gifts for Christmas. Also scheduled are programs on holiday decorating and gift wrapping taught by local merchants.

Another new offering will be "Gifts from your Kitchen" taught by Christie Pare, Southwestern Public Service home economists. This program will take the place of traditional "Festival Foods" demonstration given in the past.

Mrs. Pare will demonstrate how to make attractive and tasty food gifts and how to package them for gift giving. Included in the program will be recipes and instructions.

Hands-on Workshops will include how to make a bow skirt, taught by Mary Williams, Hale Center 4-H clothing project member; rag bunnies, taught by Cynthia Pinnell; quilting, taught by Nancy Richburg and a painting workshop by Carla Cannon, local artist and owner of Three Amish Friends.

Beth Painter will show how to make a colorful Santa sweatshirt and Mary Lynn Lewis will teach a duplicate stitch sweater project. Also scheduled are workshops on holiday angels and paper jewelry.

The Extension Homemakers clubs will offer a luncheon menu as well as snacks and refreshments throughout the day. Child care will be available by making reservations in advance through the Extension office.

The Marketplace again will highlight the best merchandise offered by local businesses as well as original items made by area craftsmen. Many of the fashions shown in the style show will be for sale in the Marketplace.

Spaces are limited and will be accepted on the first come, first serve basis. Proceeds from the rent will be donated to the Plainview Symphony and will be a tax free donation.

Information can be obtained by calling Mrs. Logan, 296-1362, or Jeff Noble, 296-1300.

There's a lovely little story about a lock which had no key. It kept going from one person to another, saying, "I'm looking for someone to unlock me."

That story is a parable. You're like that lock.

You were made to be led by the Lord, and you'll never be all that you ought to be until you are. He has given you talents, and only He can release the abilities that dwell within you.

When you let the Lord come in to your heart, He goes to work in your life. He'll turn your fear into faith, your pessimism into power, your remorse into radiance.

Let Him unlock you, won't you?

My "Wheel of Fortune" Experience

by Margaret Stanley

During the first week of August, I had one of the most exciting times of my life. However, as we left Lubbock by plane I had no idea what was before me.

We had a 1 1/2 hour layover in El Paso which, because of delays, turned out to be 2 hours. As we left El Paso, the pilot announced an unscheduled stop in Phoenix to refuel. Before we reached Phoenix, the ride became very rough because we were in a thunderstorm. After an hour delay, we finally reached Los Angeles, California. James and I rented a car and drove to our hotel in Hollywood, after adding an extra 30 minutes because we got lost. The desk clerk welcomed me as a Wheel of Fortune contestant and wished me luck. I asked her if she had any advice and she told me not to party all night and get a good night's rest.

Finally, my day of television stardom had arrived. We got up early so we would have plenty of time to find the studio. Little did I know what was yet to happen. We were on the 7th floor of a 23 story hotel. Of the 5 elevators in the hotel, only one was working. By the time it had come down 16 floors it was always full. After waiting 20 minutes, we finally took the elevator going up and then came back down to the lobby. When we got to the car, James could not get it started. Would I ever get to the TV studio? James finally found out the trick to starting this Japanese-made car and we were finally on our way.

We arrived at the CBS Studios at 9:45 a.m. At this time, I had to tell James goodbye and enter the unknown world. All the contestants were given a security pass and taken to our first stop - the orientation room. They had donuts and coffee for us. The leftover donuts were taken to Vanna White's dressing room.

We were given all the rules. We were instructed to stay together as a group with our hostess, (even our bathroom trips were together). If we saw a famous person we were not to speak to them. The only people we could talk to was our hostess, the other contestants, and the Wheel of Fortune production crew. After the list of rules was reviewed, the representative from the prize company met with us. Wheel of Fortune has no connection with the prizes. This is handled by an independent company. Wheel of Fortune does pay the cash that you win. She explained what the prizes were and that we would be billed for the tax. We will receive our prizes 120 days after the tax is paid. However, the stereo I won arrived by UPS last week, so I don't know about paying the tax on it. The money that you win will be sent sooner because you pay income tax on that at the end of the year. California takes 5% of the money before it is sent out of state. All of this briefing took about 1 1/2 hours. We then signed all of the releases and eligibility forms. Our driver's licenses and social security cards were checked.

We were then taken to make-up where we were "fine-tuned" for the show. This consisted mostly of blush color on our cheeks, powder, and lipstick.

At noon we were treated to lunch in the CBS Commissary. We were told to put extra food in our purses in case we got hungry later on during the day. Wheel of Fortune paid for nothing except lunch and snacks. We were responsible for getting to Los Angeles, our hotel and all other expenses.

At 1:00 p.m. we finally saw the studio for the first time. What a sight it was with all the lights, cameras and the "WHEEL". This was the first time I actually thought that I was going to be on TV. We had about 30 minutes of practice spinning the wheel and getting used to the microphones. As we were practicing, our families were brought in along with the rest of the studio audience. We were then seated in a special section of the studio and our families were told not to have any eye contact or talk to our family or anyone else in the audience. If we did, we would be disqualified from playing the game. After 3 shows were taped, a new audience was brought in for the last 2 shows. Our families were allowed to stay for 5 show tapings.

Now it was time to choose which ones of us would play in the first game. We drew from a bucket with 2 marked ping pong balls and 11 unmarked ones to see who would play against the returning champion. I finally got to play in the 5th show they taped that day. After being at the studio since 10 a.m. I finally got on the show they started taping at 6 p.m. I had to sit through 5 hours of taping before it was my turn. I do think this helped me not to be so nervous.

When it was our turn to play, we were taken backstage to draw for places, (I got the 2nd position). We were sent back to make-up and then our microphones were put in. We went out to the wheel to get the height adjustment. The platform where the contestants stand adjusts to different heights. Each section (red, blue, and yellow adjust separately). After this we were taken out to meet the audience before we started taping. The announcer made all of us feel very comfortable. He interviewed us individually. His first question to me was "Where is Matador, Texas?"

We were taken backstage again and met the host of the show, Bob Goen. He visited with us and wished all of us good luck. Then it was time to start taping. The whole staff was so nice to us and made everyone feel so comfortable that our nerves had calmed down and we could concentrate on the game. During the taping, they have a board so you can see how much you have won in that round and how much you have won in previous rounds. After each round, they changed the puzzle, changed the dollar amounts, and took us off stage. While we were backstage, they powdered our faces, gave us a drink of water, congratulated the one who was ahead, and encouraged the others. The host would come over and visit with us. At no time did we ever get to visit with Vanna White. She stayed on the other side of the studio. Between each round, Vanna went behind the puzzle board and knitted on afghans.

After we finished taping our show, we were again taken backstage to sign a tax statement, check our list of prizes, and pick up our belongings.

This show aired on Friday, August 23. We taped a total of 5 shows that day. I was only on one show because I was not the champion. I won $1099.00 worth of stereo equipment and $1550.00 in cash as a result of solving two puzzles. I probably would have done better but I hit a "Bankrupt" and a "Lose a Turn". I am not disappointed because I did win some prizes and money and it was so much fun.

I tried out in August of 1990 and finally was called in June of 1991 to be there on August 3. It's amazing how things happen. As we were leaving the studio after the taping, people wanted to take our pictures, asked for our autographs, and called up by name. I guess that's as close to being famous as I'll ever get.

I would again like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for their words of support, phone calls, gifts, the party, and helpful hints as I took out on this adventure. I will probably never experience anything like this again, but I'll never forget my day on "WHEEL OF FORTUNE".

1991 Property Tax Rates in MOTLEY COUNTY

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for MOTLEY COUNTY. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

OVERHEARD

Years ago, when folks got into a disagreement that was just heated enough to cause them to scream at each other, but not actually come to blows, one or the other would usually end the argument by bellowing, "Sue me!". People don't throw that expression around anymore. Somebody might take them up on it!

We welcome Martha Jo Cooper Shacklett to the Whiteflat community. She moved recently to the farm home on the Cooper land, southwest of Whiteflat to be near her mother, Mrs. Vesta Cooper who is ill.

So bye for now."

Senior Citizens Report

by Nora Belle Dunning

The Matador Senior Citizens met on Tuesday, August 13, 1991 for their regular luncheon and game day with 25 people attending. Bobbie and Debbie wrote out our commodity cards and gave to those attending, as we have to have new cards this time.

Ruth Baker called the meeting to order. Ruby Thompson gave the treasurers report. A short verse, given by Kate Henderson, was read by Nora Belle Dunning. Happy Birthday was sang to Lucille Pritchett. When this comes out in our Motley County Newspaper we will already have been to our Jamboree at the Civic Center in Lubbock, which we always have a wonderful time of games, fun and exercises and a good meal.

Rev. Roy Eason read the Lord's Prayer and gave our food blessing. We all ate too much, as usual, but enjoyed being together. Barbara and Carla, we missed you two.

Lucille and J.W. will represent our center as Senior Citizens of the Year. We hope they enjoy it, as they will be presented a Plaque and get their picture taken. We left home about 7:30 and got home by 4 p.m. No one brought home a cake but

J.W. and I brought home a water squirter and I brought home 2 pair of eye glasses, about an inch long, and we all received a 1920 men's hat. We had 10 people going. We hope more can join us next year.

See you for lunch on Tuesday, August 28th.

Roaring Springs Sr. Citizens Report

by Eugenia Bethard

The Senior Citizens of Roaring Springs met on August 1 for their regular monthly meeting with 16 present. The meeting was called to order by President, Myron Bethard. After the reading of the minutes, Cecil Swim was elected by the group as "Senior Citizen of the Year" and he plans to attend the Senior Citizen day in Lubbock.

After the business meeting our get-together song was sung followed by Happy Birthday to Lucy Mae Davis. Rev. Brown, of the Assembly of God Church, blessed the food and we enjoyed our usual fine luncheon.

Bring the full tithes into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house; and thereby put me to the test, says the Lord of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven for you and pour down for you an overflowing blessing, I will rebuke the devourer for you, so that it will not destroy the fruits of your soil; and your vine in the field shall not fail to bear, says the Lord of hosts. Malachi 3:10,11

The program was a well received, short devotional on Psalms given by Rev. Brown.
