Roaring Springs Volunteers Hosts Third Annual July 4th Celebration

by Lee Peacock

The Roaring Springs Community Volunteers wish to thank all who participated in the third annual 4th of July Celebration at the Frank Mitchell Park.

Approximately 75 to 100 people enjoyed the homemade ice cream, cake and cookies, donated by the volunteers.

Visiting and fellowship with home town people and visitors from out of town was an enjoyable experience for all.

At dark everyone retired to the Volunteers' property to watch the fireworks display. We have been able to increase this by donations we have received.

Our next event will be the Arts & Crafts Show to be held the first day of Old Settlers, August 25, at the park by the depot. If you would like to reserve a spot, call Venita Sedgwick at 806-348-7268.

State Comptroller Delivers Monthly Sales Tax Rebates

(AUSTIN) - "The upswing in the Texas economy continues to outpace national trends," State Comptroller John Sharp said today, as he delivered a total of $115.4 million in June sales tax rebates to 899 cities and 111 counties, a 5.5 percent increase over payments of one year ago.

"In addition, new construction and growth of the service sector in all major metro areas has statewide employment at an all-time high, Sharp said.

Texas cities received monthly sales tax rebates of $104 million, 5.9 percent above the $98.1 million last June, and county rebates of $11.4 million were 1.8 percent above the $11.2 million of June 1993. Another $158.4 million in quarterly sales tax payments went to the state's eight transit authorities, 6.1 percent above the $149.2 million this time last year.

This month's city and county sales tax rebates include taxes collected on April sales and reported to the Comptroller in May by businesses filing monthly tax returns. The transit payments include sales taxes collected January through April and reported to the Comptroller March through May.

Motley County Commissioners Meet For Regular Session

The Commissioners Court was opened Monday July 11 with Commissioner Franklin Jameson giving the invocation. The minutes and bills were read and approved along with the reports. The JP's reports, being Precinct 1, Place 1, $3077.80, and Place 2, $300.00, collected for the County.

Other items on the agenda were as follows:

* Court reviewed minutes of Library Board meeting June 14, 1994. The court elected to approve the minutes and strongly recommend the Library Board follow through with the eight points concerning the Library and Librarian.

* The Court decided to wait and see how the sale of the GTE lines to CapRock Telephone Co., will effect the County after Jan. 1995 before joining Hi-Plains NTS Communications.

* Kathleen Wason, Chief Tax Appraiser, requested the Court to consider dropping the office space rent to the County. This was only added to the Appraisal Budget and paid to the Appraisal Office by the County and other taxing entities. Court approved.

* Judge Laverna Price had talked to the Austin Office concerning changing the County Trappers salary to a 9 month work schedule. Austin informed the Judge that during the three months off (June, July, and August) the county will not receive the airplane services or trapper services. The only way the ranchers could have the services would be to hire them by the hour, themselves. The Court discussed waiting until they set the budget.

* Judge Price and Court set dates to work on preparing the budget July 22 and 25.

Meeting adjourned.

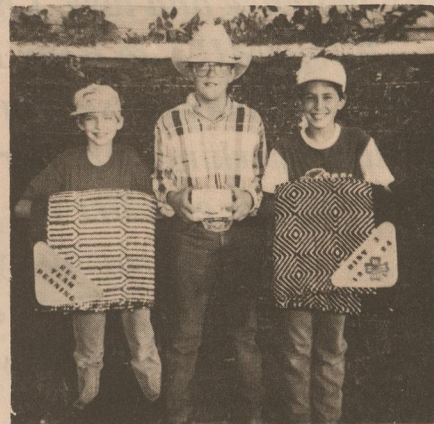

PRECINCT 3 CONSTRUCTION — New culverts have been set in Dugout Creek, four miles east of Whiteflat. The culverts were dug out of an unused road near Paducah and brought by truck to the new location. The bridge formerly in the location had been out since March 1993.

LOW SELF-WORTH CAUSES SOME PEOPLE TO GO ON SPENDING BINGES....

Many people who go on spending binges may suffer from hidden pain of low self-worth.

Experts on credit, cash and co-dependency observe that spending binges can be caused by trust in "thing" that people can hold on to, which they believe will never let them down. They have developed mistrust in people. People have a choice, but inanimate objects and possessions do not have a choice and stay with them until they choose to give them away.

What does money mean to you? Think back to your childhood and recall habits concerning money with which you grew up. Did you experience hoarding, collecting, saving, making gifts, buying gifts? What did possession represent in your family? Write them down and compare them to your attitudes and behaviors regarding money today. You may discover sources of both satisfactions and dissatisfactions you are experiencing with money today.

If you're just recovering from last year's Christmas spending and starting on this year's gift buying, ask yourself why you buy gifts you cannot afford. Studies of compulsive spenders observe that spending more for gifts than you can afford may be for one or more of the following reasons:

- So the person will like you more.
- To feel accepted.
- Buying what you like rather than taking time to shop for what you can afford.
- Feeling it is expected.
- Not wanting to look cheap.
- You don't shop often, so you over spend when you do shop.
- Guilt - feeling the need to treat everyone the same or to keep up a pattern of spending set in more affluent times.

When you understand why you spend as you do, you can begin to seek the results you want by other means. Send a personal message with an affordable gift that may take more time to find, but gives both the sender and the receiver a feeling that the gift affirms your relationship as one that does not have to be bought.

Educational programs of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age, or national origin.

Hats Off To The Matador Volunteer Fire Department

by Shelby West

The air was pungent with the putrid smell of burning flesh. Great grayish, black clouds of billowing smoke lay only inches from the ground, ascending higher than the thunder heads lay. There was no difference from where the smoke stopped and the clouds began. From a ravine you could hear the terrified, bellowing cries of the mother cows in search of their calves. Some had already been cremated by the searing, scorching heat of the prairie fire.

Perhaps it would rain, before the main ranch house became engulfed in the untamed fire. Already this unrelenting fire had destroyed many valuable acres of prairie grassland. It had left a trail of destruction over a ten mile wide strip and had travelled over fifteen miles. All the outbuildings of the ranch lay in charred ruins.

The wild game that shared this land had been scattered to the four corners of the ranch.

No one could yet estimate the amount of dollars that had been linked up, by the unquenchable wildfire.

The rancher and his wife slowly hung their heads, sobs of great despair could be heard coming from deep inside the wife. The soot, blackened face of the rancher was streaked by what seemed to be a tear. Everything they had worked for, their very dreams for their children's education. What they had worked for, for the last twenty years, had been destroyed by one lightning bolt not more than two hours ago. Gone was their living, their home, their future, and their faith. All gone in just a few hours.

This scene just described may, or may not, have happened sometime, somewhere, or to someone. In reality it probably has happened several times in the past. Housefires, grassfires, forest fires, have been with us throughout history. Man has battled nature and also arsenists. Fire is a dreadful calamity, when left unchecked.

Fire can happen anywhere, anytime, or to anyone.

In 1993, the Matador Volunteer Fire Department responded to a record eighty-six calls.

Can we talk about dedication? Twenty-three men, two women, and eight trucks, are proud to say, "I belong to the Matador Fire Department." Of course trucks don't talk, but if they did that's what they would say.

In my lifetime I have observed that there is always a motive behind every action that people do.

If money is not the motive, there has to be another. The volunteers of the fire department are not paid for their services. What compels these 23 men and 2 women to perform their duties is such a professional way!

Just last week they received a call, and went to the Triangle Ranch at Paducah. They were there for almost twenty-five hours.

What is this unseen motive, that drives these volunteers to dangerous situations. Some of these firefighters are second and possibly third generation volunteers.

Dedication, according to the American College Dictionary means, "to give up wholly to another person or an end."

We have established the motive, "dedication". Remarkable! In this day and age, someone is actually willing to do something for someone else without compensation. Can you believe it?

At present there are 3 fire trucks used for fighting housefires, buildings, and other things in their line; five trucks for grass fires, (four pumper and a tanker).

With Don Warren, Fire Marshall, and Rodney Williams, Fire Chief, and a budget that is probably not quite enough, the members of the Fire Department manage to keep everything in running order.

All work is done by these same men who fight fires. From brakes to motors, to working on the pumps. They even built the building that houses the trucks.

Training is received through many different training schools. Lubbock, Floydada, Canyon and Reese AirForce Base. Training is an ongoing part of a firefighter. Many hours are spent learning to be the best. Fire practice, maintenance, and tedious hours are all part of training.

Although fighting fires is the first priority, the volunteers also serve as Civil Defense. Working hand in hand with the Ambulance Service, the crew of the fire department also are called to the scene of car accidents. Also if both ambulances are on a run, the fire department has a standby. Hopefully they will never have to use it.

By now you are probably wondering where the finances to operate come from. Donations are the main source of income. The goal of the fire chief, Rodney Williams, is to obtain eight more respirators at a cost of $150 per unit. These respirators are greatly needed. If you can help, please do so.

Glenda Williams and Kathy Gillespie serve as dispatchers, for the fire department. This is a 24 hour a day job.

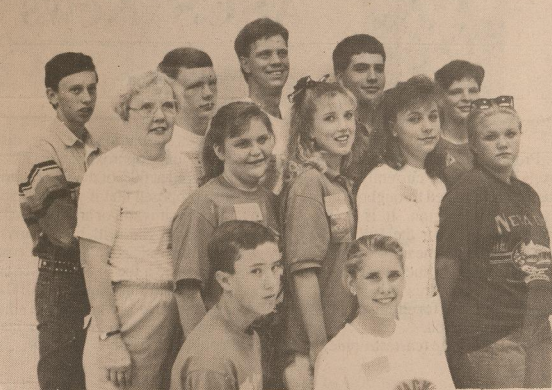

With a limited budget, and men who have full time jobs, the response to a call is top priority, when a call comes in, you may see these men coming from all areas of town and some off tractors in the field.

Efficient, according to Webster's dictionary is "performing or functioning effectively with the least waste of time, effort, or resources."

The Matador Volunteer Fire Department can be summed up in two words, "dedicated" and "efficient".

Our hats are off to you men and women who answer the calls. Thanks for caring.

FCIC REFORM

Proposed legislation to reform federal crop insurance is currently being discussed and debated throughout the country and Washington. It is hoped that implementation for the 1995 crop year will be available, meaning that the President needs to sign such a package by the end of August. This bill currently includes provisions for eliminating "ad hoc" disaster legislation.

Basic coverage (catastrophic) would cover losses similar to prior years disaster legislation - approximately 50% of yield covered at 60% of the market price. It is also proposed that if you participate in farm programs and/or are approved for FmHA loans, you will be required to purchase the basic coverage. The cost is proposed to be a fee of $50.00 per crop per county up to a maximum of $100.00. An option to "bug up" and obtain additional coverage through private insurance could be available.

Farmers Home Administration Available To Help Socially Disadvantaged

The Farmers Home Administration is available to help members of socially disadvantaged groups, including minorities, buy land for farming or operate farms in Dickens or Motley Counties, Larry Clements, FmHA county Supervisor, said today.

Under this program enacted by Congress, socially disadvantaged populations groups are Hispanics, Native Americans, African Americans, Asians and Pacific Islanders.

FmHA tries to find members of those groups who are interested in farming and can qualify for an FmHA farm ownership loan. The agency can sell or lease to those who are eligible a farm held in its inventory or make a loan for purchase of land on the open market, Clements said.

FmHA can also provide other loan assistance, including operating loans, and advice, if needed, to help the borrower get started.

People who think they may be eligible, whether they already are in farming or would like to become farmers, are urged to contact the Farmers Home Administration County office in their area, Larry Clements said.

Single Family Housing Loans Available

Rural Housing Loans for very-low and low income applicants are available through County Offices of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), Spur, FmHA County Supervisor, said today.

Home ownership loans may be used to buy, build, improve, repair, rural homes, and to provide adequate water and waste disposal systems. Homes may be built on individual tracts or in subdivisions. Funds may be used to modernize homes - add improvements such as bathrooms, central heating, modern kitchens and other improvements. Borrowers may buy an existing house and lot or buy a site on which to build a home. Loans may be made for up to 100 percent of the appraised value of the site and the new home. Interest rates for this type of loan are presently 775 percent with 33 year terms. Monthly payments are subsidized with the amount of the payment dependent on the borrowers annual income. Homes will be modest in size, design, and cost but adequate to meet the family's needs. New homes average about 1,050 square feet of living area.

In addition, Farmers Home Administration guarantees home ownership loans made to applicants of low or moderate income. Guarantees offer opportunities to families who are unable to afford a commercial loan without a Guarantee. These loans may be made for up to 100 percent of the value of the property and are made for terms of 30 years. The interest rate is based on the Federal National Mortgage Association rate with a maximum loan amount in most counties of $67,500.00.

The Farmers Home Administration assists rural America by guaranteeing private sector loans and by providing temporary, supervised direct loans to farm and housing borrowers who have a reasonable chance for success, and whose current needs cannot be met at reasonable rates and terms by commercial sources. The Agency is committed to excellence in providing its services.

"Application for assistance may be obtained at the Farmers Home Administration office located at 314 Willard Ave., FmHA County Supervisor said. The FmHA office in Spur is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

TIPS ON TRIPS

Booking Adventure Into Your Family Vacation

(NAPS)—When you're planning your family vacation this summer, don't forget to pack books into the adventure. Books offer a storehouse of knowledge—and a whole lot of fun—for kids and parents in the traveling mode.

"I think more parents are viewing travel as an extension of a child's learning experience," says Linda Riggle, manager of Stop, Look & Learn, a children's bookstore in Houston, Texas.

A pre-vacation trip to your favorite locally owned bookstore can get you rolling in the right direction with travel-oriented books and materials for children and adults. For instance, Frommer Family Guides (Prentice Hall) provide parents with interesting ideas on travel to several major cities. The Kidding Around series (John Muir Publications) gives a child's eye view of sightseeing in America's most popular tourist towns.

Vacation "edu-tainment" can be as accessible as your glove compartment. A map becomes a math book when children calculate distances between cities. Travel magazines offer opportunities to expand vocabularies and reading skills while offering photographic glimpses into the culture and geography of your travel destination. You can even encourage your children to become reporters and creative writers as they document their experiences in travel journals.

If you're taking to the road, let the kids play tour guide as they read aloud about the sights along the way. Not only do they learn about the land, so do you. Bookstores also feature audio books that can provide an exciting way for everyone to "be read to."

A visit to an independent bookstore can net more than just books for the trip. Often more in tune with area needs, many community-based bookstores sponsor educational programs and summer activities that are like mini-vacations.

A San Jose, Calif. children's bookstore named Hicklebee's offers writing classes and teen book groups all summer long. Houston-area children tapped into travel survival tips at a half day program hosted by Stop, Look & Learn. Other local bookstores sponsor community book fairs and participate in summer arts festivals.

"Many parents are concerned with the maintenance of their child's education during the summer," says Mindy Fenska of Adventures For Kids, a Ventura, Calif., bookseller that custom designs travel bags filled with books, craft activities and games. "When kids are reading, they're learning."

Ask your local, independent bookseller for insightful ideas on how to "book" a vacation packed with education and fun for the whole family.

Local Lender Honored

Representatives of Rolling Plains Production Credit Association (PCA) recently received a Farm Credit Achievement Award from the Farm Credit Bank of Texas for outstanding performance in 1993. Standing (l-r) are PCG Director Dean Turner, Matador; First Vice President Michael Sloan and President John Rike. Seated (l-r) are board members Lance Morris, Crosbyton; Vice Chairman Dan Henard Jr., Wellington; Chairman Garon Tidwell, Munday; and Keith Corzine, Stamford. Rolling Plains PCA is headquartered in Stamford and has field offices in Abilene, Childress, Matador, Munday and Spur. The association serves 19 counties in the Rolling Plains region.

AUSTIN -- A local agricultural lending cooperative was one of 11 cited for outstanding performance by the Farm Credit Bank of Texas (FCBT).

Receiving Farm Credit Achievement Awards were Agricultural Production Credit Association (PCA) based in Tyler, Texas; Amarillo PCA; Coastal Plains PCA, in Robstown, Texas; Heart of Texas PCA in Waco; Lubbock PCA; PCA of Southern New Mexico in Las Cruces, N.M.; Rolling Plains PCA, in Stamford; Stephenville PCA; Wichita Falls PCA; PCA of South Texas in Harlingen; and Plainview PCA.

Presented during the bank's annual meeting for PCAs in Austin on April 29, the award recognizes the PCA for maintaining financially strong organizations and high quality loan portfolios, and is the bank's highest possible rating.

"These PCAs have upheld a solid reputation for having top quality directors and staff, which is evidenced by their healthy financial condition and overall performance in 1993," said Arnold Henson, the bank's chief executive officer.

To receive the award, an association must exceed a rigid set of financial performance standards for credit quality, capital, earnings and liquidity.

With $3.6 billion in loans outstanding to more than 52,000 farmers and ranchers in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and Texas, the Farm Credit Bank of Texas and its affiliated associations comprise the largest agricultural lending network in the five-state region.

Don Neumann, TFB Member Benefits and Services Director (left) was in College Station at the recent 4-H Roundup to present the 1994 Texas Farm Bureau 4-H Scholarships to Jill Hosch of Tullia (Swisher County) and Clayt Bridge of Afton (Dickens County). Each youth received $4,000 to further their educations.

Granddaughter Named To National United States Achievement Academy

Brandy Henson

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Brandy M. Henson, great-granddaughter of Vella Edwards, former Whitflat resident, has been a United States National Award winner in Science.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Brandy attends Ranger Independent School and was nominated for this award by Mrs. McCarron a counselor at the school.

Brandy will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States Achievement Academy award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the Academy.

Brandy is the daughter of Michelle Henson and Kenneth Henson. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Edwards of Ranger.

A Beautiful Thing

In John's record of the anointing of Jesus at Bethany (12: 1-8), there is a remarkable contrast of characters. Present at the dinner is Martha, the tireless servant. She was most certainly a skillful cook and a gracious hostess, and she used those gifts to serve her Lord.

Lazarus was there that day. Only a few days before, Jesus had raised him from the dead. He reclined at the table with Jesus, enjoying the sweet fellowship and providing witness to His Master's love and power.

Mary was also there. She anointed Jesus with a precious, costly perfume. The fragrance of her loving sacrifice filled the entire house and will be remembered for all time.

Then there was Judas. While Martha served and Lazarus rejoiced and Mary sacrificed, Judas complained. He said he wouldn't have done it that way. He said it was a waste of money and effort. He complained loudly enough that some of the others joined in.

But Jesus honors those who honor Him. "Leave her alone," He said. "She's done something beautiful for Me. She did what she could, and her story will be told forever" (Mark 14: 6-9).

Keep reading the story. Complainer is only a few hours from Betrayer.

Tireless servant, thankful witness, generous giver, or bitter complainer. How will you be remembered?
