

New In Big Spring

HOBBY FAMILY—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Bynum, left, 506 E. 13th, is filled with evidences of their hobbies and those of young Don, 8. Here Don points out some French and German stamps in his collection. Mr. Bynum, who once was a "ham" radio operator, builds model trains and miniatures of early day automobiles, one of which is visible on the bookshelf at right. Don also collects rocks and other articles which he refers to as his "museum." At the moment the entire family is enthusiastic over learning to play the electric organ recently purchased and visible at left. The Bynums are from Abilene and he is a travelling salesman for Cosden.

FROM NEW MEXICO—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barrett and son, Paul Edward, 10 months, pictured below, are newcomers from Tucumcari, N. M., now living at 1309 Scurry. A native of Ft. Sumner, N. M., Mr. Barrett is chief clerk with the Corps of Engineers at Webb. Mrs. Barrett, whose home is in Omaha, Neb., crochets dolls and costumes. She is shown with her "Red Riding Hood," but also makes bride and bridegroom dolls and others from fairy tales.

CAPTAIN'S FAMILY—Former residents of Wisconsin are Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Schaefer and sons, above. Before entering service Dr. Schaefer was superintendent and medical director of Maple Crest Sanatorium in Manitowoc, Wisc., where he also engaged in the private practice of medicine and surgery. James, 16, goes in for art, while Buddy, 5, collects popular records. Mrs. Schaefer collects miniature vases, and the doctor is a fishing enthusiast. He is assistant flight surgeon at Webb AFB and the family lives at 1402 Marijo.

FLOWER LOVER—Small wonder that Capt. and Mrs. R. W. Wallace, right, 2710 S. Monticello, usually have some sort of blooms in their home even in the dead of winter. For Mrs. Wallace, the former Lucia Calle, is from Colombia, South America, and an abundance of flowers, growing wild or cultivated, is the thing she misses most. The Wallaces were married in August 1951 while he was stationed in the Canal Zone but also worked on a geodetic survey in Colombia and Venezuela. He is now a pilot instructor at Webb. Here she is shown arranging some glads from the florist's because "I just have to have something blooming in the house."

Lee Shreve Complimented At Bridal Shower Saturday

Lee Shreve, bride-elect of Edward Loveless, 1606 Scurry, was complimented Saturday evening with a shower in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rube McNew. Hostesses were Mrs. Zollie Mae Rawlins, Mrs. Elmer Giles and Mrs. Lowell Knoop. Mrs. McNew, the honoree and Mrs. Knoop greeted guests. Mrs. Giles presided at the register and Mrs. Rawlins at the refreshment table. The table was laid with a linen cutwork cloth and centered with bouquets of red carnations surrounding a double-heart shaped cake. Miss Shreve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Shreve of Sand Springs, was attired in a black tulle ballroom-length formal with stand-up collar of lace set with rhinestones. Her wedding will take place some time in February. Guests including the following other members of the honoree's sorority, the Mu Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi: Mrs. E. C. Bell, Mrs. Dick Clifton, Mrs. Jewel Reinhardt, Mrs. Margaret Roberts, Mrs. Frances Doll and Mrs. Ralph Stark.

Other guests were the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Shreve, Jean Shreve, Mrs. Norma Bush, Mrs. Jack Griffin, Mrs. Ray Reed and Mrs. Garrett Patton.

Serving hamburger patties for an evening snack? Make the patties of uniform size by rolling out the meat on waxed paper and cutting with a large round cookie cutter. Use a wide spatula or pancake turner to lift the patties onto the skillet you are going to cook them in. Be sure, of course, to heat the skillet before adding the hamburgers.

CLASSICS

Designer Presents Two From Spring Collection

From the new spring collection of one of America's most famous designers, comes this classic dress. A sleek bodice, slit open at the neckline, with short dolman sleeves, the double row of stitching as trim; a full skirt and fabric choices without limit! Miss McCordell's original was made of plaid sheer wool crepe. This pattern is cut to the designer's own measurements (not U. S. Government Standard Pattern Measurements) Study these body measurements and order the size pattern that conforms to your own body measurements. Size 12, bust 35, waist 26, hip (7" below normal waistline) 36 1/2; Size 14, bust 36, waist 27 1/2, hip 37 1/2; Size 16, bust 37, waist 28 1/2, hip 38 1/2; Size 18, bust 38 1/2, waist 30, hip 40 1/2; Size 20, bust 40, waist 32, hip 42. Size 12 requires 5 1/2 yds. of 39-inch fabric.

Another spring collection favorite by Clair McCordell is this double-duty affair... strapless and snug-fitting princess lines, released in a full back pleat in the skirt. The little bolero has a rounded collar and bracelet length sleeves. It's good in flannel, tweed, faille, silk or linen. Pattern No. 1082 is available in STANDARD PATTERN SIZES (cut to U. S. Government Standard Pattern Measurements) 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 12 requires 4 7/8 yards of 39-inch fabric. To order Pattern No. 1082 or No. 1130, address SPADEA SYNDICATE, INC., P. O. Box 535, Dept. No. 164, General Post Office, New York 1, N. Y. State size. Send $1 for each. One week delivery. For air-mail handling, enclose 25 cents. Pamphlets No. 7 and No. 8 available at 15 cents each.

Arthur Bettertons To Live In Midland Following Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Betterton will make their home in Midland after a honeymoon in New York and a trip through the southern states.

The bride is the former Eleanor Elizabeth Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Williams of Palatine Bridge, N. Y. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Betterton of Midland, formerly of Big Spring.

The wedding was solemnized Jan. 24 in St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Canajoharie, N. Y. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Albert Schilke.

The St. Mark's choir sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love" and the organist played the traditional wedding marches. The couple exchanged vows before an altar decorated with baskets and urns of mixed flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown fashioned with bodice of Chantilly lace, with a sweetheart neckline, and a net skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a headpiece of Chantilly lace embroidered with sequins. She carried an arm bouquet of white pompon chrysanthemums encircling a centering corsage of red roses.

Mrs. George Williams, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, and the bride's brother, George Williams, served as best man. Ushers were James MacIntyre and Peter Vrooman, brothers-in-law of the bride.

A reception was held at the American Legion hall following the wedding.

For travelling the bride chose a wool gabardine suit with which she wore black and red accessories and a red rose corsage.

Mrs. Betterton is a graduate of Canajoharie Central School and was employed by the Beechnut Packing Co. Her husband attended Big Spring High School and was recently discharged from the Army after serving 19 months in Japan and in Korea with the 40th Division.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Darlene Sneed

Apparently the students at HCJC took the meaning of "dead week" literally, because the past week has certainly been a dead one as far as activities were concerned.

All tests were finished Tuesday and registration was Wednesday and Thursday. Classes began again for the spring semester Friday. Many new students and transfers were enrolled. Most of the students enrolled are attending the night classes.

Some of the new students are Cecil Gilstrap, Diana Farquhar, James Brooks, Charles Modisette, Woodie Caffey, Joe Thames, Johnny Allison, Eugene Anderson, Billy Suggs, Wilma Ritchie, Ruth Rowland, Elvon DeVaney, Irene Dempsey, Jerald Farmer, Bill Plew, James Pierce, Robert Cobb, Alton Woolley, Charlene Kee, Zula Mae Reeves, Quintie Floyd, Elbert Comstock, Eva Smith, Gerald Sanders, Minnie Stormes, Lavernon Balch, Stella Hines, Mary Frances Hamilton, Rubby Dorris, Madeen Blair, Judy Lawson, O. O. Craig, Rosalynde Craig and Mildred Houston.

We would like to extend a hearty welcome to all of you new students, and we hope you like HCJC.

There was a very big turn out at the HCJC-Odesa game Tuesday night in Odesa. Some of the local people and students who went over to back the Hawks were Glenn Barnes and Wanda Kinney, Larry Shortes and Jo Kinsey, Billy Wayne King and Lou Ann Nall, Jackie Jennings and Bobbie Adams, Beverly Jones and Billy Mac Shepard, Marshall Burrus and Darlene Sneed, Benn Hitt, Carl Preston, Cecil Niblett, Bobby Read, Marie Petty, C. L. Girdner.

Wayne Glenn, Dewey Byers, Calvert Shortes, Johnny Berry, Floyd Martin, Tommy Porter, J. A. McAtee, Bobby Gross, Nan McGahey, Lynn Mitchell, Jonell West, Donald Wren, Sam and Curt Thurman, Kelly Lawrence, Larry Hamilton and Elizabeth Cope, Mrs. B. J. Petty, Mr. and Mrs. B. M.

Keese, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Baker, Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan, Mrs. Harold Davis, Jim Nummy, Truett Vines, and Roy Baird.

If you haven't seen Mrs. Davis about your individual try-out time for the three-act play, see her this week. The play, "Blithe Spirit," has seven characters, two boys and five girls. There will be plenty of positions for stage help, so everyone come out for try-outs whether you have acting ability or not.

Lasso Club planning committees for the Valentine formal met this week. Decoration plans for the formal were made Wednesday afternoon. Those on this committee are Lynn Mitchell, Vesta Harrison and Cecil Niblett. The formal is to be held Feb. 13 in the HCJC library. Tickets are on sale for 50 cents couple or stag, so get your dates early.

Shirley Riddle, a student, has been absent all this past week with the mumps.

Visitors this past week have been Harold Rosson, Bill Damron, Donald Wren, Jackie Jennings, Billy Wayne King, Johnny Berry, Giz Gilstrap, Nancy Miller, Mack and Beth Frazier, Doris Nesbitt of Hobbs, A. W. Dillon, Mrs. Marshall L. Brown, Ronald A. Budoy of Fresno, Calif., Marshall Burrus, and Mrs. Winston Sherwood of Austin.

Two volumes of the biography about Charles Dickens entitled "Charles Dickens: His Tragedy and Triumph" by Edgar Johnson were added to the library this week.

Two books recently purchased with the Elaine Phillips Book Fund are "The Zanerian Manual of Engineering" and "The Engineer's Illustrated Thesaurus." This book has over 8,000 detailed designs and drawings.

Bruce Frazier gave a talk to the sixth grade class of Park Hill School on rocks and minerals Friday afternoon.

VEVAGENE APPLE

Vevagene Apple To Be Honored At Tea Today

Vevagene Apple, who holds the highest Rainbow Girls office in the state, will be honored this afternoon from 3 to 5 at a tea in the Shrine Club.

Hostesses will be members of the Big Spring chapter of the Eastern Star. A Valentine motif will be carried out in the decorations.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Apple, 419 Westover Rd., Vevagene was installed last summer at Grand Assembly in Fort Worth for a one year term. She has held state office for the past four years, having also served as grand representative, grand drill leader and grand worthy associate advisor.

Vevagene also had a part in the Supreme Assembly last summer in Kansas City, Mo.

She is a senior at North Texas State College at Denton, majoring in elementary education, and will receive her degree in June.

Amor, the guests expected for the tea will be Rainbow Girls from Midland, Odessa, Monahans, San Angelo and a number of other cities. In addition to members of the Rainbow Girls, DeMolay and Eastern Star, invitations have been issued to 100 other special out-of-town guests.

IN CHURCH

Marion Janice Kelley Wed To John Wilson Bullock

COLORADO CITY — Marion Janice Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Kelley of 1924 Locust St. became the bride of John Wilson Bullock, 203 E. 13th St. Friday night in the First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bullock are parents of the bridegroom. The Rev. Jack Strickland read the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Curtis Baker, organist, and Curtis Baker and Phil Briggs, soloists, gave the program of nuptial music.

The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and green plaque ferns.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of white faille accented with rhinestones and seed pearls, and a white cap with shoulder length illusion veil. She carried a featherer white carnation corsage on a white Bible.

Barbara Kelley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of teal faille accented with rhinestones and seed pearls and white accessories. She carried a nosegay of white flowers.

Serving as best man was Curtis Smith, and ushers were Carl Smith and dBill Cook, all of Hardin-Simmons.

The reception was held at the First Baptist Church. The young couple was assisted in receiving by their parents and Barbara Kelley.

Members of the house party were Wynona Shepherd, Mary Sue Dilard, Darlene Bobo, Mary Ellen Hammond, cousin of the bridegroom, Mrs. Lawrence Ruddick, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Swenson Boyd.

Out-of-town guests included Gloria Flowers of Hardin-Simmons and Myrna Loy Kelley of Coleman. The newlyweds will live in Abilene where they both are students at Hardin-Simmons.

Mystery Mewing Is On The Gas Meter

LONDON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Two weeks ago a thin, plaintive mewing broke out in the home of Fred Langrish. Langrish searched from cellar to garret. He tore a hole in a ceiling, pulled down the wall of a room, ripped up the floorboards of the kitchen but found nothing. Finally Langrish called in an inspector of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The expert listened, smiled and laid the feline ghost with this diagnosis: "Squeaky gas meter."

Look What's Cooking At Cafeterias

Menus for next week in the local school cafeterias have been announced by Mrs. Nancy Annen as follows:

MONDAY: Cheeseburger loaf, green beans, garden salad and spice cake.

TUESDAY: Chicken pie, English peas, tossed salad and fruit salad.

WEDNESDAY: Fish, French fries, cabbage and green pepper salad and lemon pudding.

THURSDAY: Stuffed pepper, whipped potatoes, spinach and apple sauce cake.

FRIDAY: Pinto cheese sandwiches, tomato soup, head lettuce salad and fried peach pie.

"Step" shelves in kitchen cabinets are wonderfully handy for storing cups, saucers and other dishes. They may be bought or easily made in a home workshop.

HI--TALK

By Margie McDougle

Well seniors, when the time comes to order our caps and gowns we know our last year in high school is just about over. That time has arrived. Mr. Ezell will be here Monday and Tuesday to take measurements for our caps and gowns and orders for invitations. Everyone intending to graduate be sure to put in your order.

Monday night at the YMCA the Tri-H-Y girls decided to order white sweaters with blue emblems. Janice was appointed to order the sweaters.

Saturday, March 7, the West Texas Forum of Student Councils will meet here. A West Texas theme will be carried out with miniature cowboy hats for name tags and a ranch style meal will be served in the cafeteria. Also a variety show will be presented.

A date for Ranch Week has not yet been decided on, but it will be some time in February. This year Ranch Week will be a very eventful time as the Student Council has some interesting things planned. We will have a Hoyle Nix assembly and dance and a ranch style meal will be served in the cafeteria. There will be a contest for Ranch Queen and Ranch Foreman. The last day there will be a beard and hair growing contest, also a hog-calling contest and toe sack race. Permits will be sold to the girls to wear lipstick.

We extend a hearty welcome to eight new students who have entered BSHS this week. They are: Juniors, Wanda Lynelle Peterson from Garden City, John David Salles from Corsicana, and Bobby Harmonson from Breckenridge; sophomores, Louis Lanell Spivey from Waurika, Okla., Herma Joan Eggleston from Lamesa, Doris Marie Bartee from Dallas and Manual Dean Wilson.

The library has begun a collection of records for the school. One group is put out by the Encyclopaedia Britannica Films and it presents historical America in song. There are six albums presenting Songs of the Colonies, Songs of the Revolution, Songs of the North and South, Songs of Expanding America. Another group is put out by The National Council of Teachers of English. These records may be checked out by the teachers to be used in their various departments.

As a culmination activity on the unit of "Child Development," third year girls are going to construct a layette which will in turn be given to a needy family of Big Spring.

The band presented a fine concert Thursday night. Everyone there seemed to enjoy it very much.

The Shorthand Club and the El Rodeo staff are hard at work raising money for their annual trip to the Ice Capades at Ft. Worth. They will sponsor many things this year in order to raise the money.

The Senior Class held several meetings this week to discuss raising money for the Senior trip. Members ordered class pins and decided on money raising projects.

Our students Majors Club has received the unique honor of being the first and only club on a high school level to become affiliated with the National Association of Health, Physical Educational and Recreation. In the past, only college and university students have been included in this organization.

It seems that our friendly undertaker, Charles Corns, has been visiting here with his grandmother. He received his mortician's license recently. We want to wish him good luck at his new business.

There have been many college students home for mid-term. Some were Sandra Swartz, Barbara Smith, Buddy McDaniels, Fritz Smith, Prince Ricker, Eugene Carpenter, Eddie Murphy, Ronald Farquhar, Hollis Harper, Betty Wright, Sally Baber, Russell Green, Jan Masters, Luther McDaniel, Bobby Wheeler, Diana Farquhar and many more.

After the basketball game Friday night there was a dance in the cafeteria. There was a 25-cent admission charged and all proceeds went to the March of Dimes.

Valentine Party Planned Thursday By Officers Wives

Officers Wives Club of Webb AFB will have a dessert Thursday at 1 p.m. instead of the regular monthly meeting.

The affair will be a Valentine party in the Officers Field Ration Open Mess.

Hostesses will be Mrs. R. E. Ratley, chairman, Mrs. Dean Skinner, Mrs. R. W. Rogers, Mrs. Grant Mann, Mrs. D. Marsh and Mrs. L. W. Lottelberg.

Reservations must be made by Tuesday with Mrs. B. J. Clark, Tel. 3196-W.

RALPH MELVILLE

Glass Blower To Perform At BSHS

Ralph Melville, a master glass artist, will be presented Tuesday morning at 11:15 in the High School auditorium in an assembly program sponsored by the Student Council.

Melville, by the skillful manipulation of his hands, the pressure of the lips and throat creates birds, animals and vases from a simple tube of glass, and beards, fish and animals from small rods of glass.

The glass artist has created patterns for Corning Glass Works and 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. In his lecture he not only traces the history of glass from the beginning but describes its many and important uses in industry today. He will show samples of wig material and glass cloth he uses in creating for the film studios the miniatures they use for process shots, fashioning wigs and dresses of glass.

Prizes were won by Mrs. P. D. Harkins, high; Mrs. A. J. Conrad, second high; and Mrs. J. W. Holmes, travelling.

Fourteen members attended.

Members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church met in the recreation room Wednesday evening for a family night supper and social period.

The Rev. W. W. Kitterman brought them an idea of the program for the year's work.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Crouch, Mary Alice Mitchell and Jim McCorquada were guests and about 30 members attended.

The Missionary Society of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church met with Mrs. W. L. Lemmons Monday afternoon for a study on foreign missions.

Mrs. W. W. Kitterman gave the devotional and Mrs. Targe Lindsay spoke on "African Safari."

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Crouch, Mrs. Alice Mitchell and Jim McCorquada were the following committees for the year: Mrs. Lemmons, stewardship chairman; Mrs. J. B. Calverley, missions and Sunday School; Mrs. Lindsay and Mrs. Clyde Reynolds, mission study; Mrs. Ray Hightower, Lora Modlin and Mrs. A. J. Cunningham, Christian service; Mrs. Cecil Wilkerson, Mrs. J. H. Cox and Mrs. Steve Calverley, program committee.

Refreshments were served to 15 members and a guest, Mrs. Hugh Crouch.

Barbara Lu Currie, student at Texas Tech, is here spending the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Currie, after participating in rush week activities at the college.

Graduate Nurses To Meet In Kermit

Dist. 21 of the Texas Graduate Nurses Association will have its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night in Kermit.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 in the nurses home at Winkler County Hospital.

Myrtle Eller, president of the local unit, urges all graduate registered nurses to attend this important meeting.

Deviled eggs on shredded greens make a delicious and nutritious luncheon salad. Vary the filling for the eggs by mixing the yolks with deviled ham, finely minced tuna fish, or finely chopped green pepper or parsley.

Big Spring Chapter OES To Celebrate 65th Birthday

Big Spring Eastern Star members will celebrate their 65th birthday as an organization at a special program Tuesday evening.

The Big Spring chapter, according to Mrs. Frances Fisher, publicity chairman, is considered one of the outstanding in the state, having produced more past grand matrons and grand patrons than any other chapter in the state.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Veda Carter of Garden City, will be presented at the regular meeting at 7:30 p. m. in Masonic Hall.

Big Spring Chapter No. 67 was organized Feb. 10, 1888. Mrs. A. F. Kinnan, wife of an early-day superintendent of the Big Spring public schools, was the first worthy matron. The late W. H. Vaughn was the first worthy patron. Mrs. Lela Hyman of Marfa is the only living charter member.

The late Mrs. Laura Hart, a resident here for many years, was a past grand matron of the state and of the world. The only past member of the local chapter is Mrs. Agnes V. Young, 804 Main. Judge S. A. Peix of Graham, who is still a member, is a past grand patron.

Mackie Lee Brooks To Run For State Office In FHA

COAHOMA, (Sp1)—Mackie Lee Brooks, active in Future Homemakers of America work for the past three years, has been chosen to run as a state FHA officer. The voting will take place at the Area II FHA meeting to be held in Midland March 7. Sue Hill will be the Coahoma chapter's voting delegate at the meeting.

Mackie Lee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Brooks. The FHA girls are planning to make curtains for the homemaking lab as the club project. The following committees have been appointed for this project: finance, Betty Jean Davis, Ann Hodnett, Iris Mae Lilly, Vonna Springfield, Sue Buchanan and Johnny Bob Turner; purchasing, Martha White, Mackie Lee Brooks, Sandra Reid, Jaynette Graham and Donna Houston.

Election of officers was held by the Mary Jane Club at a meeting in the home of Mrs. H. J. Robertson.

They are Mrs. Rex Shive, president; Mrs. Bill Milliken, vice president; Mrs. Troy Roberts, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Don McKinney, program chairman; and Mrs. Robertson, reporter.

Others attending were Mrs. Marion Hays, Mrs. Bob Cathey and a visitor, Mrs. J. S. Welborn.

A Dutch treat dinner in celebration of the club's third anniversary will be held Feb. 11 at the Wagon Wheel in Big Spring. Husbands will be guests.

Several grades already have moved into the north wing of the new school building. They are 3A, 4A, 4B and the third grade. It will probably be two or three more weeks before the first and second grades can move into the south wing.

Added since Christmas is a new teacher, Mrs. Doris McKinney, who is teaching 5A. She is a graduate of Sul Ross State College and majored in elementary education.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Robertson and sons, Lennie and Billy, visited relatives in Wichita Falls this week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Harding have moved here from Snyder to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Carroll and son, Larry Kirk, of Godley will spend the week end here visiting their aunt, Mrs. A. L. Armstrong.

AEC Experiments To Secure Uranium

WASHINGTON (Sp)—The Atomic Energy Commission is starting an experiment in Tennessee looking toward developing long-range sources of uranium.

AEC announced last night it is contracting with the U. S. Bureau of Mines to start a small mine near Sligo, Tenn., to develop methods of mining uranium-bearing shale, but the commission said shale deposits under Southeastern states contain minute amounts of the atomic key metal.

Priests Are Jailed

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 30 (Sp)—Half the Soviet Ukraine's 3,470 Roman Catholic priests have been jailed and the others have gone into hiding or have been forced to sever their ties with the Vatican, a white book put out today by the Ukrainian clergy in Rome said.

Brad Smith Sells Interest In Paper

WESLACO, Jan. 30 (Sp)—Sale of his interest in the Weslaco News and his retirement as editor and publisher was announced today by Brad H. Smith, veteran South Texas newspaperman.

The News has become one of the state's outstanding weeklies since Smith became publisher in June, 1945. Last year, Smith's column was judged the best in his paper's class in the nation during the annual contests of the National Editorial Assn.

Patrick H. O'Bryan, former editor of the El Campo News, succeeds Smith as editor and manager of the Weslaco News. Smith said his future plans will be disclosed in about a month. O'Bryan was associated with several Louisiana daily newspapers before becoming editor of the semi-weekly El Campo News a year and a half ago.

DAN CUPID SETS THE DATE . . . February 14 . . . it's a date to remember, St. Valentine's Day, the one day in all the year to think of someone especially dear . . . and to say so. Say it with a card from HESTER'S. What a grand, heart-tantalizing collection they've assembled . . . Valentines for a wife or husband . . . Valentines for your best friend or your mother, for every body dear to your heart . . . and the little man with wings has even put his personal okay on the cut-out Valentines for children that Junior will delight in exchanging with the little girl next door . . . with anywhere from 12 to 20 to a package, he can make them himself and they're priced 25c to 75c . . . regular Valentines from 5c to a dollar. Choose now while they're at their best.

A DREAM ROOM IN REALITY . . . is yours . . . when you furnish your bedroom with outstanding pieces from HEAD-DEAL FURNITURE, INC. Their Los Angeles Period suits are wide-awake to individual tastes in the choice of styles and woods, and the fact that they're open stock and moderately priced bring them into the realm of reality for you. The bookcase headboard beds and double and triple dresser chests are beautifully executed in Seaform ash, Hazienut ash and Flamedwood with the exclusive "Diamondized" finish that's impervious to dust, stain-proof and liquid repellent to give you a permanent protective surface—hand-rubbed to a beautiful lustre. Trim and tailored, these distinctive groups combine the simple charm of restful beauty with the practical needs of modern living.

GENTLEMEN PREFER . . . a suit that lends itself to every occasion and rewards its wearer with versatility and good looks. Just such a suit has arrived in the new spring shipment at ELMO WASSON'S. Styled by Capos in 100% light weight wool, the single breasted coat with patch pockets can double so well as a smart sport coat with odd slacks. The new spring tones are woven into a small and distinctive shepherd check in several different shades, and the excellent tailoring and flawless styling of the fine fabric does a quiet job of presenting your man at his best . . . with a look of ease that springs from comfort. Priced at $69.50, here's another suit typical of the Capos talent for making winning impressions every time it's worn.

THERE'S NO PEOPLE . . . like show people . . . and there's no music like show music to lift you right out of the dumps and start you walkin' on the sunny side of the street. At THE RECORD SHOP you'll find complete albums on 45's, LP's and standards of the top tunes recorded right from the sound track of your favorite shows. You'll love the music from Danny Kaye's new show, "Hans Christian Anderson" and what could be peppier and lift your spirits more than the rousing marches from "Stars and Stripes Forever." Of course Bing and Bob come in for their share of the comedy in their tunes from "The Road to Bali", and your library just wouldn't be complete without the wonderful music from "Guys and Dolls". You're in for a treat time and time again with hit songs from hit shows.

LOOK AHEAD, GALS . . . 'tis almost Spring, and arriving ahead of the first robins are the bright little spring coats at ZACK'S Of Margo's . . . flashing their gay new-season colors and styles, and fashioned for fit and flattery right down to your feminine fingertips. In ever lovin' navy, bright red, crisp white or the softer muted tones, they're styled by such outstanding names in the fashion field as Princess, Nardis of Dallas and Lilli Ann. You'll find them in full, three-quarter, or shortie lengths in soft wools, nubby weaves or boucle linens to top that new spring suit or dress in the smartest style . . . your coat solution for a simple and striking silhouette for Spring.

THE HOME OF GREATER VALUES

About Ready

The Rev. Jimmy Parks, in right foreground, watches workmen busy on the Baptist Temple Church. Although the plant is not complete, it is far enough advanced that the congregation will hold its first service there today. The consecration service is scheduled for Feb. 15.

New Cafeteria Set At Coahoma

COAHOMA, Jan. 31—Opening of the new cafeteria at the school is expected here soon. Equipment is being added, including an electric cold water fountain. Service will be in the traditional cafeteria manner to afford greater selection. School officials say that more students and adults can be accommodated.

Supt. H. L. Miller has announced that the Coahoma schools will observe Texas Public School Week March 2-6. Parents will be given special invitations to visit schools, inspect the work and particularly the new buildings.

Scout Honor Court Put Off For Week

The Boy Scout Court of Honor scheduled for Tuesday night has been postponed one week, it was announced Saturday by Wesley Deats Jr., advancement chairman. The court will be held Tuesday, Feb. 10, at the High School auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Deats requests all troops to be present. He asks that parents of Scouts also attend. Reason for the change is to allow the court to fall during Boy Scout Week, he said.

All Deeds On Hand

Sheriff Jess Slaughter now has all deeds to land sold in the Sheriff's Sale on Jan. 5 ready for the buyers. He said that people who purchased land in the sale can pick up their deeds any time. There were 51 pieces of land sold, most of them going to the Big Spring Independent School District.

Scouts To Return

Boy Scouts from Troop 15 were scheduled to return to their homes today after a two-night camping trip at Moss Creek. Scoutmaster Harold Bishop was in charge of the outing. The Troop is sponsored by the Eagles Lodge.

Another Group Of Vocational Nurse Trainees To Start

A second section of trainees for Vocational Nurses will begin their year's course Monday at the Medical Arts Hospital. Dr. Neil W. Sanders said that the initial class had proven so successful that it was decided to offer another section. At least 12 students are expected to be in this group.

On Feb. 7, there will be a camping exercise in the reception room of the hospital at 7 p.m. for those who started their training last September. By this September, they will have completed their 240 lecture hours, plus their related training on the job. Those starting now will finish their course a year hence.

Homecoming Is Set For Texas Quads

GALVESTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Badgett quads—Jeanette, Joyce, Jeraldine and Joan—who celebrate their 14th birthday tomorrow, finally have been able to visit their birthplace.

Today they had their "homecoming" at St. Mary's Infirmary where they were born Feb. 1, 1939. Hospital rules which bar small children as visitors had kept them from returning to St. Mary's until now.

The girls saw the incubators in which they were placed after their birth, an event which made headlines throughout the nation 14 years ago.

The four attractive girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis W. Badgett, vetoed a birthday party for tomorrow. They have their eyes and hearts set on a big birthday party—and a dance—when they reach 16.

However, their birthday will not go unobserved. Tomorrow they will have their pictures taken by the same newsreel cameraman who has missed only two of their birthdays in maintaining a photographic record of their growth. And later in the month they will face the camera again for a feature story in a magazine published by the milk company that has supplied the girls with milk since they were babies.

The Badgett quads are one of the two known sets of quads in Texas. There are 22 sets in other states. The other Texas quads are the Perricone brothers of Beaumont who recently returned from service in Korea.

Despite the attention that surrounded their birth, the Badgett quads have lived quiet and normal lives. For the first time they are now in the same classroom in the eighth grade at Stephen F. Austin Junior High School. During grammar school, their teachers placed them in separate rooms.

The girls are not identical quads and they like to dress differently and wear their hair differently. Joyce, who is more reserved than her sisters, is the smallest of the four, and Joan is the tallest.

The Badgetts have two older daughters, both of whom are married. The family lives in a home which the city of Galveston presented to the quads when they were three years old.

So far the quads have had no formal dates but the Badgett telephone is being kept busy by teenage boy friends of the four girls. Their father is aware that his daughters are becoming young ladies.

"They are beginning to primp," he said, "and they must use a pound of lipstick a week."

Big Spring Daily Herald

Section III

Big Spring, Texas, Sunday, February 1, 1953

Section III

"We'll peel off when the tip tanks are empty. Rendezvous over Snyder at 20,000 feet. Don't be late." This is the gist of the instructions that 1st Lt. H. C. Weaver, in picture at top left, is giving to "Fat Cat Flight." Twenty minutes later the five cadets were taxiing their T-33 jets to the takeoff point. Left to right around the briefing table are Aviation Cadets Weaver, Stephens, Jensen, Lt. Weaver, A-C Taylor and A-C D. A. Staser.

In the middle picture at top, Lt. Weaver points out a railroad bridge which might serve as a land mark for A-C Jensen. Low-level flying was on the day's agenda for Jensen. Keeping one's bearings from 250 feet altitude in a 500-mile-per-hour jet is difficult; familiar landmarks help. "Watch out for those antelope," said Lt. Weaver as an afterthought. That brought smiles from both men.

A-C Stephens enters his T-33 jet trainer, in second picture down from the top, for last ride as a cadet. Stephens needed only 20 minutes more of low-level flight to complete the program. After this flight, he had a few days of rest before receiving his wings and lieutenant bars on Feb. 2. Said Stephens, "It's a nice feeling to see the end of the road."

"Clear for taxi" sign goes up, in the third picture down from the top, from Stephens to Mechanic A-3c M. L. Day. At this point Stephens has just finished his 10 minute pre-flight inspection of plane and has thoroughly checked instruments. Only then does he give "Okay" signal. Note that jet pilots don oxygen masks before taking off. This is because of rapid climbing rate of the jet plane. Six or seven minutes from takeoff, Stephens can be at 20,000 feet. On cross country hops altitudes range as high as 40,000 feet.

Morning flying period over, cadets check in parachutes, head for post briefing rooms, in the bottom photo, where they re-hash the mission. Mistakes are brought to the entire class' attention so all can benefit. Here Major Ivan L. McGuire demonstrates how the peeling off should have been done to keep proper distance between ships. "Remember, count 1-1000, 1-2000, 1-3000 — then pitch out." After de-briefing, cadets will finish day with academics (aerodynamics, weather, navigation) drill, and calisthenics.

An Aviation Cadet's day at Webb AFB starts early, ends late.

While most Big Spring residents sleep, Webb cadets are marching toward their flight sections with brief cases, helmets and oxygen masks. They arise at 5:30 a.m., eat breakfast at 6, and by 6:30 are seated in flight line briefing rooms. In the summer months cadets report to flight line by 6.

For the hour or so he'll spend flying the T-33 jet or the T-28 propeller driven trainer, an additional eight hours will be used in covering academics, physical training, drill periods, and officer leadership courses.

It's all in a day's work. The flying periods form only one of the many important links in the 13-month program, eventually leading to wings and commissions. But flying is the actual goal for one and all. The cadets live it, eat it, sleep it.

The accompanying picture spread was taken of Flight "Y" in Section II. Major Nolan I. Jones is the section commander. The men in the pictures are members of Class 53-A.

A Bible Thought For Today—

Those who are easily discouraged are not men at all. Humanity desperately needs men of conviction and courage. Such men can indeed perform miracles. "Men ought always to pray and not to faint." — Luke 18:1.

Some Degree Of Equity Needs To Be Maintained Toward New Areas

The matter of policies seems to be a point for consideration these days, thus we raise a question of one affecting the addition of new territories. Until it became apparent that the city might become overwhelmed financially, developers were pledged re-embursement over a five-year period on money invested in furnishing the municipal utilities of water, sewer. On this fixed scale, which was not pinned to any particular rate of resource, it would be possible to create burdens beyond the ability of the city to bear. So it was the policy was more or less abandoned and a time limit put on commitments already made. Into this vacuum, it was natural another policy would develop—that of calling upon the developer to finance all the utilities without re-embursement.

not be penalty attached beyond the measure of problems created. On the other hand, the city is confronted with some expenses and situations not reasonably expected to bear. How to do justice to both sides is prime point of consideration. The developer might continue to be made responsible for the financing, but with a prospect he would be re-imbursed partially or in whole out of a portion of proceeds above the cost of services of water and sewer. As for paving—and we believe in making pavement as requirement for approval—some formula might be established to make repayment of the city's share out of that part of taxes created by the development but over and above the estimated percentage required for protective and welfare services. The pay-out admittedly would not be quick, most likely certainly not within a five-year span, but prospect of ultimate recovery would be better than none. In a measure, something in this direction would bear a semblance of consistency with what has gone in the past and would maintain some degree of equity for purchasers.

These Days—George Sokolsky People Involved In Waterfront Probe Protecting One Another

I am not a reporter of crime and usually the subject bores me except on such a radio show as "Dragnet," which I hear when I am permitted to stay home. So I approach the problem of the New York City waterfront as a reader rather than a columnist. Some questions arise which, it seems to me, need answering. They have not been answered in the news yet. For instance, as I read the testimony of the crime investigation in New York, it looked as though the evidence were reaching the conclusion that one Thomas Luchese, better known as Three-finger Brown, was being shown to have closer relations with the Mayor, the Federal Prosecutor's office, certain federal judges and other officials than his occupation and status would warrant. In fact, as I read the news, it was indicated that when a narcotics tip-off took place, the squealer got killed and yet the information could not have leaked except officially. So what was done about it? Nothing! I see no examination of that highly significant bit of evidence that a squealer provided information to an official who relayed it to another official and the squealer got killed. Certainly that should have been investigated to get at the facts. The Luchese investigation was dropped suddenly and just when it was getting good. One story about Tom is that Luchese has always been bipartisan, showing a most indiscriminating and tolerant attitude, particularly toward the judges. It was shown that this Luchese mixed in the best Republican and Democratic society. But why was the investigation dropped? Further, I would like it explained how it is that while the waterfront has been a cesspool of crime, corruption, labor union racketeering, theft, pilfering, for so many years that shippers are fleeing this port, so little has been done by the ordinary agencies of law enforcement over the years. For instance, Thomas E. Dewey is supposed to be a gang-buster. How come that as district attorney and governor of the state, he has never busted these waterfront gangs? The material that has been coming out in the evidence shows that this waterfront has been a criminal sanctuary. Who made it a sanctuary? What have the police done? The district attorney's office? The state industrial commissioner's office? These are the people who need to be investigated to find out why they have permitted such horrible conditions to come into existence. There is some evidence that racketeering has moved back into the garment industry, where it originated under the gentle management of Sidney Hillman and the torpedoes, Lepke and Gurrah. It was assumed that the investigation was going to move into that type of racketeering which has had its accompaniment of murder. But that investigation withered on the vine. It would seem that we are close to a majority campaign and that an endorsement by the Liberal Party is a valuable gift for any politician. It is hard to believe that about some politicians, but if they fall to bring out the facts and they do get the Liberal Party endorsement, we shall know that they have been conniving even if we can never prove it. The testimony has already established that the murderers, thieves, racketeers and other criminals who operate on the waterfront could not have even got started without the agreement and consent of public officials and businessmen. The testimony of the shippers and other businessmen before the state crime commission was disagreeable reading because it showed that several of the leading ones were politicos and fools, with a penchant for making money but with the morals of a mangy alley cat. However, I note that few politicians have been called and I suspect that it may be merciful, because from the leads in this evidence, some very big heads in this great city would prefer to be six feet underground rather than to have to admit not only complicity but hypocrisy. Just as a reader, not as an expert in crime, I cannot fail to reach the conclusion that there must be a kind of trade unionism among officials based on the slogan: "If you won't expose me, I won't expose you." Besides, what's really at stake? The lives of some bums, a little graft which is less than the ECA spends on teaching the Swiss how to yodel, and maybe the future of New York.

Uncle Ray's Corner

Sunday Talk: About Scorpions

In a letter about dangerous spiders and scorpions, Rowena Little writes: "Have you ever heard about the vinegaroon? I lived in Salome, Ariz., a couple of summers ago, and there were plenty of vinegaroons, also scorpions and sidewinders." Every part of the world where people like to live has pests of one kind or another. Mosquitoes, rats, mice, rattlers, coon and so on inhabit various sections. If we lived at the North or South Pole, we might escape from all pests, but the weather in such places is too chilly for comfort. The vinegaroon is the special kind of scorpion known as a "whip scorpion." It can cause painful injury. The name came from the Spanish language, and the first part of it grew from "vinegar," the Spanish word for "vinegar." A smell, as of vinegar, comes from this whip scorpion when it is angry or afraid.

Mexico and some southwestern parts of the United States seem to be the only native homes of vinegaroons, but other kinds of scorpions (often called "true" scorpions) live in many parts of the earth, especially the warmer parts. They get along best in forests of the tropics, but range through plains and deserts of the temperate zones. Instead of biting, a true scorpion stings its victims, which usually are insects, mice or lizards. The snakes called "sidewinders" are rattlers which live on deserts from southern Utah to California. When a snake of this kind moves, it loops its body somewhat, and goes in a "sidewise direction." The direction differs from that toward which the head is pointed. Certain desert snakes of Africa and Asia also have the same strange side-looping movement. For NATURE section of your scrapbook.

"Ah, Just Like The Good Old Days"

Spotlighting A Week Of News

Sometimes It Pays To Use Discretion Before 'Bombarding' The Military Men

By FRED GREENE What looked for a while like a rousing dispute between the Army and some zealous congressmen was quietly settled late Friday afternoon. The trouble all started last week end when about 150 men of the U. S. 7th Division serving in Korea unleashed a raid on Spud Hill on the Western front. The attackers were thrown back by powerful Chinese Communist gunfire and a heavy toll was exacted. This "Operation Smack" as it was known, had as its purposes the destruction of enemy installations which threatened our forces and the capture of prisoners for enemy identification. Congressional do-gooders entered the scene after hearing about our heavy losses and figuring that because top brass were present, the attack was put on for their benefit. The uproar insisted the raid was a "show," complete with a program of sorts since an operational timetable was provided for watching generals and correspondents. After the story made the headlines for a couple of days and a few screaming congressional critics got their names in the papers, a bulleting came through that congressional military critics agreed it was not a show, but rather an operation "which was necessary for tactical reasons." Apparently the Army had to reveal its secret reports in order to convince the legislators the attack was justified. The entire incident could have been avoided or at least kept out of the wild publicity stage if the legislators had used a bit more discretion. First, they ought to have checked more fully on their facts and if at all in doubt, should have consulted the Department of Defense. The Army would have given them, I am sure, the identical secret reports they read after the hue and cry was raised and the ensuing publicity would never have materialized. The result of it now is some shaking of confidence in U. S. military leadership. Another point, and perhaps very vital, is that the war is being fought tactically by military men, not politicians. If more lawmakers would understand this, more trusting co-operation might be had between the military and the Congress. Furthermore, if a military leader has to take such wild criticism everytime he prepares a daring maneuver, he will not make such a maneuver for fear or criticism if he fails. And, such a maneuver, might mean the saving of American lives. If President Eisenhower appears nervous right now, it's excusable. Anybody would feel shaky if he had to appear before Congress, as was justified.

the chief executive must do on Monday. The occasion is Ike's state of the union message. He'll deliver it personally to a joint session. At this time, observers are hopeful the President will be more specific on his plans for foreign and domestic policies. Late Friday some hint was given as to Far Eastern policy changes. Government sources revealed that an order is being considered which would release the Seventh U. S. Fleet from Formosan guard duty in order to free Chinese Nationalists for raids on the Red mainland. If so, the effect of this order could be to ease pressure on United Nations troops in Korea. The reasoning is that the Chinese Communists would have to pull back some Korean units to help guard the long China coast. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen left for Europe this week. Seven Western European capitals are on their list. Both men are in the process of bolstering the European defense setup, primarily as it pertains to the recently-created European Defense Community (EDC). Thus far, this group has lagged in its organizational efforts. Basically, however, the tour is to familiarize both men with problems of the various nations. President Eisenhower had a problem over three of his defense aides this week when the Senate led by Roger M. Eyles as deputy secretary of defense, Harold E. Talbot for Air secretary and Robert T. B. Stevens as Army secretary. All three had business connections as did their boss, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson. However, Wilson's squabble ended and he was confirmed after agreeing to sell his General Motors stock. The other three members also professed a willingness to dispose of stock holdings in firms which handle defense contracts. The proposed secretary of Navy, Robert Anderson, was widely praised, but his confirmation got lost in the hubbub. A general tangle over nominations and confirmations was noticeable and outbursts were heard over confirmation of nominees without the usual FBI security checks. The problem is rapidly straightening itself out, however.

Bible Words to Live by

The text that I prefer is found in the first epistle of St. John, the second chapter, at the 16th verse: "For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever." On a hill called Roundtop overlooking the Connecticut River, at East Northfield, Massachusetts, the final words in this text are the inscription on the tomb of Dwight Moody, that powerful religious force who was not only an evangelist of international repute, but the founder of the Northfield Schools. The verse first struck me when I saw this tomb. Ever since, with the development of events in history in this century, it has seemed to me a warning against the this-worldly point of view which has characterized our modern materialistic epoch. Have we not estimated success and the good life in terms of what we call "the American standard of living?" By advertising and every other means the lust of the eyes and the pride of life have become undisciplined and unbridled as in the loosest of past centuries. And yet our world has been up against, as never before, the sense of the impermanence and precariousness of its whole present organization. This text drives us to consider the things that abide forever. More important is that a person abides forever, who, like Abraham Lincoln or General Lee, or John Wesley, or thousands of others in humbler ways seeks to do the will of God. In the midst of modern uncertainty and frustration it is well for people to know that in all their choices there is an eternal significance in choosing the will of God. Jesus' life, death and resurrection is the supreme instance of this faith, and indeed the source of it. Dr. Arthur Lee Kinsolving, St. James Episcopal Church, New York City

Sulphur Plant Set For Brazoria County HOUSTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—A mobile sulphur plant to cost $450,000 to be built near Damon in Brazoria County has been announced by officials of Standard Sulphur Co. President Gilbert B. Ebarb Sr., Rosenberg, head of the new firm, said yesterday he expects the plant to be in operation this summer. Capacity, he said, would be from 150 to 200 tons daily. Brazoria operations will be at Damon Island, four miles from the Long Point Dome of the Jackson Lake Sulphur Co. and three miles from Freport Sulphur Co.'s Nash dome. The plant will be constructed on skids.

Around The Rim—The Herald Staff

Sentences Ought To Be Short; They Ought To Make Sense, Too

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note. Well! When you think you're getting good, you find out you ain't so good. Take writing, for instance. Man named Fleisch made one of those studies of newspaper writing. Said most sentences were too long, too involved. Said they got confusing to the reader. To make it good, keep it short, said a good sentence shouldn't run over 20 words. Newspaper people, being partly human, took to this. Just like you do, to self-improvement courses. Got to counting their sentences. Tried to shorten 'em. Did make 'em short. Like this. Maybe too short. Then the Fleisch-burns began to subside, and sentences got longer. But we had a check-up the other day, and began to count sentences again. I discovered a little piece I had created, wherein the first sentence was just 44 words long. It was involved. It was confusing. I couldn't understand it myself when I read it over, so if you missed the point the first time, don't worry. I'm going to keep sentences shorter from now on. See? In case you do any research into short sentences, and want to look up Fleisch: His first name is Rudolph, as in red-nosed reindeer. Last name not to be confused with flesh, as in burlesque. Or with flash, as in lightning; or with fish, as in herring; or with flush, as in poker. Or with—man, as in yeast. I found a great warmth of feeling for that Pennsylvania banker who got hauled up for filching the bank's funds. Thing about him was that he stole the bank's money, put it in his own desk drawer, and used it to loan out to people. If they couldn't qualify for a loan from the bank, they certainly could rate one from his desk drawer. This is modern Robin Hoodery at its best. What this world needs is more bankers with more money in their desk drawers, and fewer noses in their hearts. After all, this fellow was just doing what the national administrations have been doing for the past 20 years. Take it from the rich, give it to the poor. Us poor folks like it. Have you heard the Glug story? I heard to pass it along, even though I have it on the radio. Fellow went up to join the Navy was asked if he had a special talent. He replied that he was a Glug-maker. This puzzled the Navy recruiter, but like all Navy men, he didn't want to show his ignorance; so he entered "Glug-maker" in the appropriate place in the fellow's file record. Time went along, as the fellow went through Boot Camp and assorted training until he got on a big battleship. One day the Captain of the ship was going through personnel records and encountered this "Glug-maker" entry. He had the fellow brought before him. An interesting case, the Captain figured. He asked the fellow if he were happy in the Navy. The fellow said yeah, only he would like to get back to making Glugs. The Captain certainly wasn't going to show his ignorance, either, by asking questions. Instead, he told the fellow to make some Glugs, if it would help any. The fellow said it would, but he would have to have some tools and some help. The Captain agreed to this, and the fellow got his machinist mates, retired to a shop in the ship, locked all the doors, and began to work. They labored at length, using a lot of materials, and most of the ship's machinery. Everybody was curious beyond reason. Finally the day came when the Glug was finished. The Captain ordered everybody up on deck, had the fellow and his mates bring up the creation. They hauled a big box up on the deck, but as all the sailors gathered 'round, the group didn't open the box, but pushed it over to the rail and dumped her in the sea. And as it went down, it went "Glug, Glug, Glug." Well, Glug-bye. — BOB WHIPKEY

Washington Calling—Marquis Childs

Staff Work In Washington Said To Be Of A Pretty Poor Variety

WASHINGTON—While no headline personalities are involved, the boggle over the new President's powers to reorganize the government is in some respects more revealing than the controversy over the Defense Department nominations. It illustrates once again how long is that longest mile between the Capitol and the White House. To be properly understood the incident must be seen from three different viewpoints. First is the viewpoint of Joseph M. Dodge, the Detroit banker whom President Eisenhower brought to Washington to be director of the Bureau of the Budget. This is in accord with Eisenhower's campaign pledge to bring in the best brains in order to make government as efficient and economical as possible. Dodge has a well-deserved reputation as an administrator and organizer. Absorbed in the task of sorting out government functions and planning steps to tighten the machine, he goes to Capitol Hill and appears before the House committee on government operations. That committee is considering a bill on the President's powers to reorganize. The present law, which expires Mar. 31, says that any plan to make over a government department must be rejected by a majority of all the members of either Senate or House; that is, not just a majority of those present, which would mean that in the Senate as few as 25 senators could block a reorganization plan. Dodge is asked for his opinion. He says that he would like to see the present law continued, giving the Eisenhower administration no more and no less power in this respect than the Truman administration had. The Republican majority on the committee, when Dodge's testimony had been heard, promptly rejected his advice and approved an amendment calling for a simple majority of those present. Now look at it from the viewpoint of the Democrats. The Democrats on the committee vote to give Dodge the powers he wants. The shrewd minority leader, Representative John McCormack of Massachusetts, promptly comes to President Eisenhower's defense and says that his own party in Congress is letting him down. This is the political angle and an effective one. The third viewpoint is that of the veteran Republicans in control of the House. Publicly they say that since the President will send up only the most desirable and perfected plans for reorganization, there is no argument. Privately they say something quite different. Their story is that the White House—or somebody in the White House—approved the idea of a simple majority. But no one told Budget Director Dodge, so he went out on a limb which the committee promptly sawed off. They talk about the separation of powers under the American system as defined in the Constitution. It is questionable, as they see it, whether under the Constitution the size of a majority can be defined in this connection. But, more important, these relaxed gentlemen, who have been coming back to Washington for term after term after term and who know so well how the levers of government are pulled, talk privately about the staff work seen thus far in the new administration. They hold a low opinion of this staff work. You feel they were watching a new boy in the school who has promised to come in and win all the prizes and already has fallen down and stubbed his toe. There is a tolerant amusement in the contemplation of the spectacle. They talk, too, about the impossible

Worm Is Business And In A Big Way

HAMILTON, Canada (AP)—The lowly earthworm is beginning to turn—into big business. Nick Christopher, graduate of McMaster University, has hired two students to care for his current batch of six million wrigglers. And the McMaster students, basketball players Ernie Darragh and Lorne Wrigglesworth, are making enough money at it to help pay their way through college. Nick will sell the worms to fishermen in a patented earthworm container. An insurance salesman, he started in the worm business in a small way with only about 10,000 wrigglers. He recently purchased a greenhouse, installed an oil furnace and a sprinkling system to keep his products fat and healthy.

THE ONLY FFA STEER THERE

Jimmy Smith, who lives southwest of Garden City several miles is a member of the Garden City FFA Chapter who just simply exudes confidence and talent and ability. Without making any effort to "be different" he just naturally turns up with something unusual.

Last year at the annual Glasscock County Livestock Show at Garden City he turned up with a Beefmaster steer bred on a Glasscock County ranch. This steer was bought in the sale by the R&R Theatres of Big Spring and the Big Spring Herald. This year, it just so happens, Jimmy has a Horford, but this Whiteface is also the only FFA steer in the county. He is being fed out drylot and the man who puts him in a locker will have some real beef.

This steer will be exhibited at the Garden City show (with which there's always the big barbecue) this coming Friday, Feb. 6. Arlin Ratliff is the breeder. One of the biggest crowds to ever attend a Glasscock County event is expected to be at the show (and barbecue) Friday.

Jimmy Smith is also feeding out some lambs. The show will be judged by L. M. Hargrave of Texas Tech, who will be assisted by E. L. Tiner of Big Spring.

The barbecue committee is composed of Blacky Pryor, Ted Laughlin, Clyde Berry, Cecil Wilkerson and B. A. Harris.

The Howard County Farm Bureau, through Harvey Fryar, an accountant, auditor and tax expert with almost 20 years of experience, has furnished income tax service to approximately 300 farmers and ranchers this year, maybe just a few more.

Last year the Bureau supplied this service for 470 members. While the Bureau cannot, of course, make definite figures on returns available there are some general comments that can be made that reflect farm business conditions as a result of the drought.

A very small percentage of the farmers and ranchers have had to pay any tax this season. A large percentage have W-3 Forms to attach to their returns showing that they have had to leave their farms this past year and find employment elsewhere.

As a general thing farm income (from agriculture and not oil lease money on the farms) was so small in Howard County in 1952 that as to most families it has not been taxable.

Residents of Lamesa will soon be reading a pamphlet, "Down The River" which is being made available for distribution throughout the community by the Board of Supervisors of the Dawson Soil Conservation District through the cooperation of several implement dealers.

This is a conservation study that explains soil conservation and point out why the city dweller has such a tremendous stake in saving the soil from wind and water erosion, just as much interest, in fact, as if they were all full-time farmers.

Ela Morris, whose farm is located two miles south and a half east of Pumpkin Center in Dawson County recently had a whole lot of activity on the place. He decided he wanted to build some terraces and the terrace contractors got there about the same time as the SCS engineers. While the SCS men were running the lines the builder was right behind them.

Morris plans to plant cotton and sorghum on his terraced land, and is going to plant an area behind his house with Blue Panic and other adaptable grasses. A few days ago Dixie Kilgore, who lives nine miles south of Lamesa on the Big Spring road, had a terracing rig running on his place. He also plans to build terraces on the R. D. Simpson farm, two miles south of Sparsberg.

Contractors have finished terrace construction on the Wood and Jenkins place near Key.

Down in Mason County, "The Heart of The Hereford Country," the boys are reported to be singing "Don't Let The Blacks Get In Your Eyes." For the first time in the history of the Mason County Show an Aberdeen-Angus steer won the grand championship, and it so happens that this Angus, bred on the M. E. Grote Ranch in that county, was the only Angus steer in the entire show. He was also the first steer ever fed out by his owner-exhibitor, 11-year-old Larry Lehmer, who will champion in the show at Amarillo. Breeders who have seen him say he is one of the truly outstanding sons of Lord Lamplighter 7th, and the Mousels have described his mother as one of the very best cows in their famous herd.

Another stock tank, this one of 12,000 cubic yards, has just been completed on the Wilson Brothers Ranch in the southern part of Berden County. The layout work was done by Lefty Bethell and Blackie Morris, SCS engineers in Big Spring.

The tank has been so designed and located that a small existing tank can be used as a de-silting tank for the water going to the new tank. A 1,500-foot diversion has been built to increase the contributing watershed area.

Last week a 5,000 cubic yard pit-type stock tank was staked on the T. A. Bade Ranch, eight miles northwest of Vincent, and construction is expected to get underway within the next few days.

Thirteen new conservation plans covering a total of 1,768 acres of Howard County farm land have been approved by the Martin-Howard SCD supervisors, on the recommendations of Marion Everhart, SCS work unit conservationist, and Grady Lane, SCS farm planning technician, who assisted in writing them.

Land owners included in these plans are H. R. Caffey; J. W. Braughton; R. L. Stallings (two have the steer at the Houston Fat Stock Show next month. Leonard Proctor, whose ranch headquarters are about 40 miles southeast of Midland, has signed a conservation agreement with the supervisors of the Martin-Howard SCD, and SCS technicians have made soils and topographic maps of the lakeland area near the headquarters in preparation for laying out a contour border irrigation system.

Three operators on the lands of F. F. Elkin and Kenneth and Elkin, northeast of Midland, are bedding on the contour. Lines have been run on 160 acres of W. O. Floyd; on 50 acres of E. A. Livingston, and on 100 acres of D. H. Livingston.

H. B. Dunagan, who farms two miles south of Midland, plans to seed 60 acres of cropland to Blue Panic grass this spring. A high stubble has been left on approximately 100 acres of sorghum fields on the Terry Elkin farm, east of Midland, to prevent wind erosion. Elkin says he plans to chisel the land deep, and then leave the stubble on the surface until spring.

T. R. Wilson and Conrad Holzgraf, who have adjoining farms six miles south of Midland, have made preliminary plans for seeding retired cropland to native and introduced grasses this spring.

J. Homer Beal of Luther was on the Fort Worth market Monday with 42 head of cattle. Thirty-eight cows averaged 750 pounds and brought $11.50, with two bulls at $16.00, one at $15.00 and the other at $18.00, according to the Texas Livestock Marketing Association who handled the shipment.

Cecil Walker, Big Spring druggist and Hereford breeder, and A. E. Groves, herdman on the Walker Hereford Farm, are going to the Sand Hills show and sale at Odessa, Feb. 10-14 with three long yearling bulls sired by WHF's Onward Mixer Domino, a grandson of the old WHR Proud Mixer 21st; and a heifer sired by his Husky Domino bull. One of the bulls he is taking to Odessa is a full brother to the bull he sold at San Angelo, Jan. 10, to a North Carolina breeder. Rexie Cauble has a good Lamplighter bull of his own breeding entered in the Odessa show and sale, and is taking to the show, for exhibition only, his 7 Lord Lamplighter 7th, the Anxiety 4th bull he bought at the Anxiety Association sale at Amarillo last December. This bull, bred and consigned to the High Plains event by George Mousel of Cambridge, Nebraska, was reserve grand

Engineer Positions Open At AF Bases

Leon M. Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission, said yesterday there are a number of jobs open for engineers and experienced construction inspectors at such military posts as Fort Bliss and Biggs AFB, El Paso; plans; Harry Lester; Mrs. Eva Smith; L. M. Anderson; Dewey Martin (two plans); S. W. McElroy; Olen Fryar; D. A. Douglas; and A. T. Branough.

Last week contour guide lines were run on the Marie Bryson farm in the Luther Community, which is operated by D. F. Bigony, a man regarded as one of the outstanding conservation farmers in the entire area. This farm covers 270 acres.

Terrace systems have been completed on Paul Bishop's farm eight miles northeast of Big Spring, and on L. J. Davidson's farm, two miles east of Fairview.

O. F. Kennedy, who farms the J. W. Elrod place, eight miles north of Fairview, is starting the construction of four more miles of terraces to complete his terrace system. Although the lines were run last year, Kennedy marked them so they could be located this year.

Holloman AFB, Alamogordo, N. M.; White Sands Proving Grounds, Las Cruces, N. M.; Webb AFB, Big Spring; Reese AFB, Lubbock; Clovis AFB, Clovis, N. M.; Sandia Base, Albuquerque, and Kirtland AFB, also Albuquerque.

Need exists, Kinney said, for construction, civil, mechanical, paving and electrical engineers, with salaries ranging from $3,410 to $5,810, and for qualified inspectors in several fields.

Information on these jobs may be obtained at the TEC office at 213 West 3rd St., or from the Project Engineer, Building No. 8, Webb AFB, Big Spring.

264 Persons Seeks Jobs

At the end of the just-closed fiscal month there were 264 active applications seeking jobs on file at the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission, according to Leon M. Kinney, manager.

During the month, he said, there were 1,744 office visits recorded, and 147 new applications for jobs were made. One hundred and 28 non-agricultural workers were referred to jobs and of these 98 were placed in employment. During the same month seven agricultural agricultural workers were referred to farmers or ranchers needing help and five of these were hired.

Fifty-six initial claims for unemployment compensation were filed during the month and there were 129 continued weekly claims, Kinney said.

The office manager explains that when an unemployed person desires to claim unemployment compensation he files an initial claim and then at the end of each seven-day period he remains unemployed he must file a continued claim.

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST Network Programs On New Schedules

The Adventures of Michael Shayne, mystery-action series featuring fast-moving criminal investigations, moves from Thursday at 8:30 p.m., to Friday at 7 p.m., starting Feb. 6. The program is one of KBST's features from ABC.

Michael Shayne leads off in this important new time period with a spine-tingling drama in which murder stalks a widow and her child in a lonesome Florida house. Our famous private-eye answers her call for help. He locks himself into the house with the woman and her child to await the arrival of the police... while two gunmen prowled around the grounds and through the darkened rooms with intent to kill.

How the super sleuth manages to outwit the marauders and trap them before the police arrive makes for suspense that mounts to a nerve-shattering climax.

TIME CAPSULE

Time Capsule, the only program specifically designed to be re-broadcast in 100 years, will move to a new time on February 5—Thursdays, from 8:30 to 9 p.m., over the ABC Radio Network. The novel radio portrait of facets of the world of today is currently heard over KBST via the network on Sunday.

Guests on the first Thursday night broadcast will include the following: Raymond C. Schindler, head of New York's Schindler Bureau of Investigation for more than 40 years, who will recount adventures on some of his outstanding cases and will compare real-life detectives with fictional "private eyes"; Dr. George Kimball, director of the American Geographical Society, who will describe existing possibilities for exploration of still-uncharted regions of the world; chess champion Mary Bain, who will describe five recent weeks as a chess-player behind the Iron Curtain; Oleg Cassini, dress designer who has met some of the world's most beautiful women who will talk of his collection of cigar store Indians, and Sid Colin, London radio-TV writer, who will expound on the desirability of

Nurse's Treatment

Jane Greer, playing a nurse, consoles convalescing Peter Lawford in this scene from MGM's new comedy, "You For Me." The movie will show at the State Theatre today and Monday. Also starred with the two is Gig Young. Lawford plays a millionaire, and Young has the part of a doctor. Rolling the three up in the same hospital results in a love triangle, which takes quite a few incidents to unravel.

Man Rebuffed

Advances made by Dale Robertson toward Anne Francis are being resisted in the above scene from "Lydia Bailey." The Technicolor production will be shown at the Ritz Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. The movie concerns the Haiti revolt during the early 19th Century. Robertson and Miss Francis play Americans who are caught in the middle of the native uprising against Napoleon.

'Lydia Bailey' Is Story Of Early Day Haiti Revolution

"Lydia Bailey," Twentieth Century-Fox's Technicolor drama concerning Haiti during the early nineteenth century, opens Wednesday at the Ritz theatre for a two-day stand.

Dale Robertson and Anne Francis have the lead roles. William Marshall, powerfully built Negro stage actor, also has a top part as "King Dick."

Korean War Is Scene Of Terrace Film

A romance between a hard-bitten Army colonel and an American girl working for the United Nations in Korea will be screened at the Terrace tonight.

Robert Mitchum plays the colonel, Ann Blyth is the UN worker, and the picture is "One Minute to Zero."

Background for the romance is the war in Korea—both on the ground and in the air. William Talman plays a jet pilot in the presentation.

Defense of a ridge is the military problem involved and actual methods used in such operations are shown.

Mitchum and Talman are shown in Korea just before the war breaks out. They are American instructors for Korean troops.

When the North Koreans attack, Talman flies out, Mitchum and his sergeant, Charles McGraw, hike south trying to reach American troops.

Mitchum reaches the troops, meets Miss Blyth (also a refugee), and takes command of a forward unit. Mitchum and Miss Blyth fall in love, but they are parted by Mitchum's cold blooded tactics in stopping North Korean advances.

Finally Miss Blyth sees that Mitchum is only doing his duty and the two are reconciled.

Naval Heroism Is Featured In Movie

Heroism of the United States Navy—complete with air, sea and land battles—will be featured in "Flat Top," which shows at the Ritz Theatre Friday and Saturday.

Sterling Hayden and Richard Carlson are top actors in the Monogram production. Supporting cast includes Phyllis Coates, John Bromfield and Keith Larsen.

Hayden plays a stern air group commander aboard an aircraft carrier, and Carlson has the part of a squadron commander.

The two men do not see eye to eye because Hayden decks a young flier for deliberate disobedience of the signaled orders of the flight officer, Carlson tries to have the order rescinded.

Dramatic tension is built up between the two officers which carries all the way through the movie. But most of the tension is from armed action.

Aerial dog fights between super planes, enemy ships being bombed and sunk, submarine attacks, and planes in battle formations are all pictured.

Business Partners

Julia Adams and Tyrone Power are gambling partners in "The Mississippi Gambler," which shows today through Tuesday at the Ritz. But with the two it is strictly business, as Piper Laurie is the woman in Power's life. The movie concerns a gambler who is adept at cards, dueling and love-making. He is honest in all three, causing quite a bit of action with the people associated with him.

'MISSISSIPPI GAMBLER'

Tyrone Power Stars In Adventure Movie

Adventure, romance and intrigue are wound together in the movie, "The Mississippi Gambler," which will show at the Ritz Theatre today through Tuesday.

Starring the technicolor Universal-International production are Tyrone Power, Piper Laurie and Julia Adams.

The story concerns an adventurer who is adept at cards, dueling and love-making. Power is the adventurer and Miss Laurie and Miss Adams are the two women in his life.

Action opens when Power sets out to build himself a fortune through honest gambling. He begins his gambling on a Mississippi River boat journeying to New Orleans.

Power gets into a game with a rich young man on the boat. Power makes an enemy of the man and the man's sister—Miss Laurie.

Not letting the incident worry him, Power joins forces with John McIntire to start a New Orleans gambling house. Power becomes a well-known and respected figure.

However, he runs into Miss Laurie again and falls in love with her. About the same time Power befriends Miss Adams, whose brother kills himself after losing heavily in a card game.

Miss Laurie's brother challenges Power to a duel over Miss Adams but fails to show up at the time of the duel. Because of the disgrace, Miss Laurie marries her childhood sweetheart, a banker.

The banker "borrows" money from the bank and disappears. The theft causes a run on the bank and Power loses his money—ruining plans for the gambling house.

Both Miss Laurie and Power are left without anything or anyone and they decide to join forces. When her husband is declared officially missing by the courts, the two are married.

LT. AND MRS. J. K. AYNESWORTH
..... From Lawmaking To Military Service

Driver's Law Sponsor Is Now On Webb Staff

A former Texas legislator has recently become part of the Judge Advocate's staff at Webb Air Force Base.

The one-time member of the Texas House of Representatives is Lt. J. K. Aynesworth, who represented the Waco district in the 51st, 52nd, and 53rd legislatures.

Lt. Aynesworth was called to active duty Sept. 25 to attend Staff and Command School at Maxwell Air Force Base. Upon completing the course, he was transferred to Webb AFB on Dec. 17. His last term of office only expired on the 13th of January.

The officer is well-known in Texas as the author of the Driver's Responsibility Law which requires financial responsibility or insurance to cover all drivers of automobiles in the state.

Lt. Aynesworth and his wife, Mrs. Aynesworth, also a Texas, is a native of Austin where she attended the University of Texas.

The couple met when she was his secretary while he served in the House. They were married in 1949. Holder of an LLB degree from Baylor, Lt. Aynesworth was enrolled in that university when the last war began. He then spent four years in the service, returning after the war to get his degree in 1949. His first term in the legislature was served while he was still a student at Baylor.

Always a loyal Texan, the lieutenant, who arrived in Big Spring during a dust storm, was heard to say: "This part of Texas may be moving around a little bit, but by golly it's still Texas!"

Dividend Voted By Credit Union Of VA

The Big Spring VA Federal Credit Union has voted a five per cent dividend and chosen officers for another year.

The dividend amounts to $2,541.15 on shares aggregating $50,523.68. Assets of the union total $53,153.19. In addition to amount held by shareholders, the organization has $1,746.19 undivided profits and $526.05 reserved for bad loans.

Named president of the union for 1953 was Luther Bean. Carlton L. Carr was elected vice president; Ben Reed, treasurer; Fay Ford, secretary, and Robert McKenzie is the other director.

Members of the credit committee are Tolford Durham, Rebecca Rogers and Blanch Jacobs. On the supervisory committee are Kathryn Thigpen, Ruth Jameson and Tom Ferguson.

Report of the treasurer at the second annual membership meeting showed assets of the credit union have more than tripled in the past year. Current loans, to

VA Area Medical Director To Visit

Dr. Charles H. Beasley, St. Louis, area medical director for the Veterans Administration, will pay a visit to the local VA Hospital Feb. 6-7.

He will be here for a general inspection pertaining to overall operation and administration of the hospital. Dr. Beasley was a guest here in 1950 when the veterans hospital was dedicated.

Another VA official, M. S. Walker, Washington, supply supervisor representing the VA Central Office, is in Big Spring for a 30-day period to be sent with the supply service at the hospital. He is assisting local personnel with storage, operation and procurement programs.

Increase In Postal Receipts Reported

AUSTIN, Jan. 31 (AP)—Arlington, Gatesville, Crystal City and Pasadena ranked highest in the 14 per cent gain in Texas postal receipts for 1952. The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported today.

Dallas, 14th in the nation in receipts, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio and Austin made up two thirds of the $65,600,000.

Terrell, Mission, Luling and Alpine showed the only setbacks among the 112 Texas cities reporting.

Reporting biggest December gains were Crystal City, Mercedes and Del Rio. Lampasas, Beaumont and Childress slipped back.

Landing Is Reported

SAIGON, Indochina, Jan. 3 (AP)—The French today announced their most powerful amphibious landing of the Indochina war against Communist-led rebels and said they had captured the South Annam (Central Viet Nam) port of Quinhon as a base for further attacks.

Loss Of Markets, Surplus May Hurt Producers Of Weath

OMAHA, Jan. 31 (AP)—Wheat faces serious trouble as the result of a growing surplus and loss of markets abroad, Roy F. Hendrickson, Washington, D. C., told the National Association of Wheat Producers today.

The executive secretary of the National Federation of Grain Co-operators said the solution lies in a bi-partisan approach, multiple pricing system and establishment of a national wheat policy and program.

The problem, he said, is "a matter of urgent importance not only to American producers, processors and consumers but to the American economy generally."

He declared in a talk to the convention of wheat farmers from 11 states, "I know of no one who wants to return to acreage allotments or marketing quotas—except as the very last step and that chiefly is a confession of failure," he added.
