LOCATING LABORERS

Farmers are beginning to need cotton pickers and within the next week or two cotton picking in Motley County will be in full swing. In order to assist in the location of laborers the U. S. Department of Labor has placed a branch office in Fort Worth which endeavors to keep in touch with available laborers and pace them where they are needed. This office works in cooperation with the County Agents and Chambers of Commerce. It is their duty to locate the available hands and not to deliver them to the places wanted.

Farmers wanting cotton pickers should get in touch with the County Agent T. P. Metcalf, or Homer Sheats, President of the Chamber of Commerce and list their wants with them and arrange to either go after pickers when located or to have them transported out either on the train or by bus or truck. In practically all cases transportation will have to be advanced as they can not pay their way out. Many times transportation can be arranged for with bus lines and fares paid upon delivery of pickers.

When asking for laborers the following information must be furnished: Number wanted; price to be paid, with or without board; kind of house and conveniences furnished; kind wanted, white, Mexican or Negro; families or single men; approximate yield of cotton per acre.

MOTLEY COUNTY FAIR

"It's the best fair we have ever had", was the expression heard on every side during the two days of the Motley County Fair held in Matador last Friday and Saturday. The exhibits were more numerous in most of the departments and the quality was fully up to standard, if not better and the attendance was greater than any previous fair. Every one present seemed to take a greater interest and come with a greater enthusiasm and those who did come are more fully convinced than ever that Motley County is the best place in which to live.

There was only one regret heard expressed throughout the two days of the fair and that was that some of the communities were missing in both of the community exhibits and in the general departments. The feeling of most of the people is that this is a county fair and that for it to be the full success possible that all the people and all the communities should participate and it is hoped that next year every community in the county will have a community exhibit and that every individual in the county will be represented by at least one exhibit of some kind.

The main feature of the fair was the community booths which were located in the Masonic Building. Four communities were represented with booths decorated in truly artistic ways and the quality of products shown were of the best. That they were of higher quality of exhibits was shown by the highest scores made in any previous fairs. The ranks of the booths and general community activity, scores are given in the general premium list elsewhere. The fair officers are hoping that next year there will be at least eight or ten communities participate in the community contest. Those who have been participating will assure any one that they are well repaid in both pleasure and profit for the effort they have put into the working up of these booths, and the more that enter to reduce loss by fire to a minimum.

The methods used to prevent fires are left to the local authorities of each city and town. No particular method is recommended in Matador, but it may be suggested that each citizen take in upon himself to see to it that all weeds in and upon his premises be cut, piled up and burned with any and all other inflammable material; that all chimneys and flues be examined and found to be in good working order before any winter fires are kindled. Many other methods will suggest themselves to the individual, depending upon the circumstances of each case.

Such a move as this will not only reduce the loss by fire but will greatly improve the appearance of your premises as to neatness.

B. M. Sudduth,
Mayor of the city of Matador.

IN MEMORIAM

Matador, Texas Sept 29, 1925
In as much as the always Ruler of the Universe has seen fit in His Infinite wisdom to remove from this earthly life to the highlands of holy service, our beloved brother Jim Marquis. This translation has made a vacant place in the home of our brother and also in our beloved order. He it therefore resolved that Matador lodge No. 496, of the Independent order of Odd Fellows, extend to the wife and children of the deceased brother, his other loved ones and friends, our deepest sympathies in this trying hour and commend them to our Christ who alone is able to comfort them. And be it further resolved that in the going of this our brother the members of this lodge do sadly feel the loss of so noble a character and look to God to fill the place again that was so faithfully filled by this our brother.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES

While returning from a picnic at Silver Falls Saturday night four young people went over a high embankment into Duck Creek about 3 miles north of Spur. Shortly after this car went into the river, another car bounded over the bank lighting near where the first car had stopped.

The first car was occupied by J. D. Wren, driver, of Munday; W. G. Britton, of Aspermont; and Misses Odessa Deavers and Billie Rone of Jayton. The two young ladies and Mr. Wren were seriously injured and their condition has been considered rather serious. Mr. Britton was not injured so severely.

These young people passed through Spur Saturday evening on their way to Silver Falls and knew the bridge over Duck Creek was gone. However, they either forgot about this, or else missed the detour, and before they realized it they were too close to the bank to stop before they went into the river.

The second car was occupied by H. Hahal and Frank Robinson, two traveling men from Lubbock, who were strangers to the road. Some one who saw the first car go over, tried to hail the second car. But the driver thought possibly it was a highwayman and just stepped on the gas a little stronger. However, they saw the embankment before they reached it but could not stop the car, and left it. They received some bruises when they lighted to the ground but were not badly hurt. The second car had no one in it when it went over.

Occupants of the first car were brought to the Nichols Sanitarium where they were given medical aid.

Sunday morning a number of people went out to the river and assisted in getting the cars out. Both cars were Chryslers and when they were up-righted the engines were started and the cars pulled out without any assistance from other cars.

NARIAN-ALBIETZ OPENS HERE TO PACKED AUDIENCE

Storms of applause from a crowded tent indicated that the Narian-Albietz players in their opening night here last night, had won the favor of Vernon show goers. Music, comedy, tense moments, were all well brought out by the members of the company in "Other People's Business". Many members of the audience freely expressed the belief that it was the best show of its kind that has ever performed in Vernon. Practically everybody was enthusiastic over it. It is one of the cleanest forms of amusement presented to a Vernon audience recently, it is generally agreed.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

I. B. M. Sudduth, as Mayor of the City of Matador, Texas, declare October 4th to 10th, 1925 inclusive, as "Fire Prevention Week" for the city of Matador.

Statistics show that millions of dollars each year in personal property is destroyed through fire that should have ordinarily been prevented. For that reason, all cities and towns within the United States acting in concert have agreed to set aside October 4th to 10th inclusive during which time special efforts will be made to reduce loss by fire to a minimum.

The methods used to prevent fires are left to the local authorities of each city and town. No particular method is recommended in Matador, but it may be suggested that each citizen take in upon himself to see to it that all weeds in and upon his premises be cut, piled up and burned with any and all other inflammable material; that all chimneys and flues be examined and found to be in good working order before any winter fires are kindled. Many other methods will suggest themselves to the individual, depending upon the circumstances of each case.

Such a move as this will not only reduce the loss by fire but will greatly improve the appearance of your premises as to neatness.

Mayor of the city of Matador.

JUICIN' FIVE COWS IS NO PICNIC

But it IS a form of Paradise compared to a worried mind, and five cows on any farm will be almost a sure preventive against worry as to "eats"-for they will not only provide lots of wholesome food but the surplus may be exchanged for other foods.

A cream check a week will cut a wide streak.

THE AMERICAN CREED

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. "I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its constitution; to obey its laws; to protect its flag;
and to defend it against all enemies."

Years ago the "full dinner pail"
was a popular slogan in this country, but in the present "bone dry days" it seems as though the
"full gas tank" is more popular.

The nice sunny days we have been having this week is pleasing to the many cotton farmers in this vicinity, and they are taking advantage of it by putting in full time picking their cotton.

Another good run of advertising is forcing us to put out eight pages this week. We like this fine but it makes us hit the ball most of the time. But Mrs. Mitchell is making us a pretty good hand
and we are managing to get by all right.

The Motley County Fair which was held in Matador was considered by all who attended the best that has ever been held in this county. We cannot say as to the previous fairs but they would have to be "humdingers" to excel
the fair of this year.

Although Matador has been mighty fortunate the past few months in escaping fire hazards,
let us do our best during fire prevention week to eliminate all the weeds and trash that might be the result of disastrous fires during the coming winter.

A few more weddings and Matador is going to have to import some young people. We don't think that there has been a week past since we have been here that there has not been a wedding in Matador or vicinity, and the young folks are getting mighty thin.

There is some talk of organizing a poultry association in Motley County. This certainly would be a benefit in a number of ways to our town and county. The purpose of the association will be to encourage the raising of pure poultry. An association of this kind will no doubt be the result of developing Motley County into a much larger poultry section.

Business is business, but the best kind of business is to mind
your own business, and the reason why those people succeed so well who mind their own business is because there is so little competition. It is true that every community has a few who are always meddling in other people's business but we are proud to say that Matador is free from this class of people to a certain extent.

Today is the date for the various railroad propositions to be built in this section of West Texas to be decided by the Interstate Commerce Commission. No doubt some of them will be rejected, but we are in hopes that they will see fit to grant the Q. A. & P. and the proposed T. P. & G. roads their permit. We consider that Matador will be benefited more by these two roads than all of the rest put together.

CHEVROLET NEWS LETTER

A unique address to more than 20,000 members of the Chevrolet selling organization scattered throughout the United States was achieved recently by R. H. Grant, general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

Mr. Grant announced the opening of the Chevrolet fall selling campaign by means of duplicate phonograph records which reproduced his voice in the show room
of every Chevrolet dealer.

Under Mr. Grant's direction the phonographic address plan worked out smoothly to complete success.

In each of the thousands of Chevrolet salesrooms was gathered at exactly the same hour an interesting group of salesmen.
Their ranks were augmented by numerous members of the Chevrolet organization not directly interested in selling, who attended because of curiosity over the novelty of the meeting.

At a previously established
"zero hour" the thousands of records were started simultaneously and Mr. Grant's voice was heard in every state in the Union.

The present selling campaign
the most ambitious in Chevrolet history, is of such importance that I wished to attend personally every meeting of every sales group," said Mr. Grant. "This being impossible, I chose the best substitute—the phonograph.

"Thus every salesman received a personal message by which he was informed of all the campaign details. Through this campaign and because of the gratifying sales volume of recent months, I expect that Chevrolet will do a record fall business."

...THE "MATADOR LAND

...THE REORGANIZATION FROM

...THE PROPERTY OF
...THAT COMPANY
...JANUARY 1901
...of the Matador Land
...Cattle Company:
...I am heartily glad to greet
...one and all, this evening.
...as annual festivities are al...ways of freedom from
...good fellowship and happy
...ion. But this particular oc-
...is fraught with special
...of pleasing interest to me.
...of thought are

...of years filled with joys
...sorrows, battles and victories,
...and failures, chase each
...in rapid succession across
...field of consciousness. You,
...friends, have all traveled far
...along the journey of life
...and observed that nothing is ...constant, and that change is
...where prevalent. The winds
...blow across our
...change continual.
...the ceaseless rivers that roll
...the ocean are continually
...ing out new channels and
...ing at the banks that con-
...them. Old Ocean himself
...and unceasing in his

...are full of changes: First
...cooling infants in the arms

...careless joys and short-lived
...; next we are grown-up

...only changes take place in
...physical beings, in our places

...are also changes in our oc-

...relations that we sustain to ...other. This brings me direct
...the thoughts that are upper-
...in my mind, and possibly in
...too, at this time.
...you are doubtless aware that
...stant changes in the manage-
...of this splendid property
...pending, changes that will
...change the currents of
...of our lives into different

channels, and in a greater or less measure, for better or for worse, affect the community that has for so long been the scene of our labors. Before the revolving wheel of time shall have made another circuit and ushered in another holiday season, our present business and social relations will have been forever severed. I feel that this is a fitting occasion to review the past, to contemplate the present, and to cast the horoscope into the shadow and uncertain future for a prognosis of coming events. I cannot deny myself a free and soulful talk with you at this time—you whose skill, energy, endurance and courage have contributed so largely to the building up of this, the most successful and possibly the most famous ranch in all the imperial domain of Texas. I also want to take advantage of this, our last annual reunion, to express to you my appreciation of your unwavering fidelity to myself, your courtesy and kindness to my wife and child and your faithfulness and devotion to the interests of your employers.

The age in which we live, gentlemen, is pre-eminently an age of specialities. The day of glittering generalities is a thing of the past; there is no room for the Jack-of-all-trades in our modern business economy. He who would succeed in any undertaking, profession or enterprise, must do so by careful preparation and unceasing devotion to that calling in its minutest detail. All modern mechanical wonders existed in the minds of their inventors as purely conceptions before they assumed tangible shape. The railway engine, the electric light, the ocean steamer and the cotton gin were at first but intangible ideas in the minds of their respective inventors, till they were clothed with material form to bless and benefit mankind. This is no less true of the splendid property, known nearly all over the civilized world as the Matador Land and Cattle Company. It was at first but a figment of the fancy, to be brought into existence, developed and perfected into its present mammoth proportions through years of patient toil on your part and mine, backed up by the liberal endowment given it by foreign capital. Twenty-two years ago, just as the country was beginning to recover from the effects of the civil war, we started out, with the Matador a mental picture, photographed upon our mind, to find a place and the means to clothe it with garb of materialization. The Pacific Slope, the Sierra Nevada Mountains, and the Great Northwest were all carefully searched for these essentials. At last a proposition was made to a capitalist by the name of A. P. Haws for the building up of such a property. The proposition was favorably received and the prospects looked encouraging for a while, but resulted in disappointment. Negotiations were then entered into with Chicago capitalists that for a time promised good results, but these, too, resulted in disappointment. We then turned to acquaintances of our boyhood days, who had grown wealthy, and had large means at their disposal, but their inordinate demand for a guarantee of sixty per cent. per annum on their money invested in the enterprise courted disappointment and invited disaster from the start, and rendered worse than hazardous any enterprise established upon such costly capital. Then it was that, with pride wounded by a lack of confidence on the part of those of whom we had a right to expect the most, we turned our eyes to foreign lands in search of the necessary capital, at a low rate of interest, to establish this enterprise upon a firm basis, and through the financing ability of Col. A. M. Britton, secured the necessary means, located the maturing grounds for our product, and successfully inaugurated the enterprise that has grown into the splendid and world-famed property, known as the Matador Land and Cattle Company.

In this connection we wish to call your attention to the various efforts that have been made in our State and Nation to prejudice the minds of our people against foreigners and foreign capital. We would also impress upon your minds the fact that, but for this cheap foreign money, Northwest Texas would still be a desert, the refuge of bandits and outlaws. It is this cheap foreign money that has enabled you, gentlemen, to subdue the country, make the desert blossom as the rose, drive out the thief and the bandit, and prepare the way for the splendid civilization that is now taking possession of this fertile and beautiful country over which you, gentlemen, have already established the supremacy of the law and the dominance of right and justice. And while we would admonish you to devotion of your country above all things else, and to let your lives be in strict conformity with the highest and purest patriotism, we would also counsel justice to those foreign capitalists who have so liberally placed their money at our disposal to accomplish these results. We would earnestly entreat you to be faithful to them in the future as in the past, both in word and in deed, defend them when their good name is traduced and their intentions misrepresented by malignant ignorance, and protect their property from abuse and destruction by the vicious and the dishonest. In this vast and fertile country we have the natural resources for wealth and widespread prosperity, but we have not the capital to develop and render available these riches. We must combine our knowledge, skill and resources with the cheapest money that we can find, and whether that be home or foreign capital, it is but right and justice that each should have his equitable share of the proceeds of this combination of resources; we would admonish you to broad and liberal views in regard to the investment of outside money in ranching, or in railway or other public enterprises in this country, that will tend to the development of the natural resources of the country. Be true to yourselves, but also be broad and liberal in your views, and just to those who furnish you the means to enable you to achieve results otherwise unattainable.

At the outset I remark that we must concentrate, if we would succeed; that we must familiarize ourselves with the details of our business; that we must grow up into it, as it were, and if you will pardon for a moment the introduction of personalities into these remarks, we will state that our first experience in the stock business was riding a goat in our father's lane. We never repeated the experiment, we never want to. I didn't hurt the goat, but somehow the ground just flew up and hit our pistol pocket so hard that we have ever since been firm in the conviction that there was an earthquake on that particular day. This particular calf became the object of our constant care and solicitude. It was a companion; we studied its wants and its habits and became intimate with its every instinct as it grew into mature oxhood. This was but the beginning. From this time on our life was constantly associated with cattle, both in driving and tending herds and in the handling of oxen. Whatever measure of success has attained our management of the Matador Ranch, must to a very great extent be attributed to our intimate knowledge of cattle, their wants and habits, acquired by careful observation and study in early life. The lesson we wish to inculcate by this recital is that, whether you continue in the cattle business, or engage in some other occupation, you must familiarize yourselves with the details of your business, if you would succeed. We trust we may not be considered egotistic if we assume that what it has taken us forty years to learn cannot be grasped by others as an inspiration, and you, gentlemen, must not hope to embark in the cattle business or other avocation and grasp by inspiration the knowledge of that business that will guarantee success. It must be acquired by patient toil, investigation and experiment. But just here we would observe that these are the very instrumentalities that make the good citizen, the useful man and the wise counselor.

Perfection of management and execution must not be expected of imperfect beings. We of the Matador Ranch have made mistakes, probably many and serious mistakes, but when we look around us at the hopes that have been wrecked and the fortunes that have been squandered by others in fruitless efforts to succeed at the same line of business, we can but congratulate ourselves that we are associated with an enterprise that has weathered the storms, paid regular and legitimate dividends, and landed safely in the harbor of financial security while thousands have shipwrecked on the same sea.

THE FUTURE

The prudent man is rarely content with the present, but desires, as far as possible, to peer ahead and see what the future promises. We have already remarked that everything is characterized by change. How often have we seen this truth verified by personal observation in this country. First the Indian and the buffalo; then the cowboy and the herd, and finally the settler and civilization. The cowboy—how shall I pay a proper tribute to his courage, his fortitude and his kindness? He has defied the torrid heats of summer and the frigid blasts of winter without shelter and at times almost without food and clothing. He has braved the fury of savage beasts and still more savage men. He has turned his back upon the comforts of home and the love of kindred to sweep across the trackless desert in the face of dangers unseen, to pave the way for advancing civilization. He has endured every hardship, scorned every danger and surmounted every obstacle that rude and untamed nature could throw in his pathway. Civilization owes him a debt of gratitude greater than is conceivable and one that will never be either fully realized or repaid.

In this connection I will speak but briefly of the little government that you, gentlemen, have built up in the four counties included in the Matador. You came into this country when it was infested with bandits and outlaws. You had every temptation to lead lives of recklessness and debauchery; but to your credit be it said that you chose the better part, proved better than your surroundings, dislodged and drove out the robber and the renegade, ousted violence and rapine, seated justice upon her throne, and established a community, the virtue, peace and happiness of which was predicated upon the honor of the individual and the gentleman, and the few instances in which it has been violated is a lasting tribute to cowboy government.

But, gentlemen, in doing all this, you have brought about a condition of affairs that is revolutionizing the country. The homeless sons of the East have heard of your fertile lands and sunny skies, they have heard of the expulsion of the Indian, the thief and the robber, and they are coming by hundreds and by thousands to convert your vast pastures and ranges into homes and farms, and the question is, What are you going to do about it? Our advice in the premises is to reap the benefits of a condition of affairs that is your own courage and fortitude has brought about, secure a body of this rich land that is attracting the attention of the world and that is so rapidly enhancing in value, and next invade the home of one of these good settlers for whom you have prepared the way, capture his daughter for a companion and trot in double harness down the rest of the pathway of life—in other words, settle down and be happy. The best of the domain is being rapidly absorbed, and unless you act promptly in the matter, the opportunity will be gone. You are on the ground, and are familiar with the country, and can make a living if any one can. If benefits are to accrue from the settling of the country, you are certainly entitled to reap them, and now is your opportunity and it won't last long. Understand me, I am not advising you to leave the employ of the Company; but remaining so employed will not prevent your taking a section of land. I hope you will remain in the employ of the Company and be faithful and true to them in the future as in the past, and use your earnings to improve your land that is to be your future home. And when there is no longer employment for you on the ranch, settle down amid the scenes of your early hardships and show to the world what a useful, thrifty and honorable citizen a cowboy can be.

I have before remarked that this is our last annual reunion as co-workers for the Matador. We have had many difficulties to overcome and many rough roads to travel. Heat and cold, hunger and privation have each and often assailed the citadel of our manhood. Under these ordeals it is but natural that little asperities should be aroused and hot and hasty words be spoken, but I am proud to know that through it all the milk of human kindness has run, and the wounds inflicted in the moments of passion have been more than healed in days and hours of magnanimity and manly repartee, and mutual forgiveness and forgetfulness.

It is with mingled feelings of pride and sadness that I sever my business relations with this Company.—pride, pardonable pride—I trust, that it has flourished and prospered during my connection with its business management and that in a measure my ideal of a cattle ranch has been realized; sadness that I must sever my connection with an institution in which I have so greatly prided, and in the interest of which a number of the best years of my life have been spent, and upon which all the thought of my years of greatest mental activity has been expended.

The currents of our lives, yours and mine, have run side by side through many years, many hardships and privations, many victories and defeats. 'Tis with sadness I see these long established associations severed, associations rendered sacred by many severe tests of both manhood and friendship. And my good wife, who has been my comfort and support in all these years of toil, exposure and privation—she who has been your friend and comfort in many a gloomy hour, when far from the tender sympathies and ministrations of your own loved ones,—has a warm place in her heart for each and every one of you, and heartily joins me in admonishing you to continue steadfastly in the paths of truth, honor and duty, ever aspiring to higher and nobler manhood, and it is needless for me to add that she also joins me in wishing you all the prosperity and happiness that this world can bestow upon a set of deserving boys.

Firestone

Double the Mileage at Half the Cost

Only a few years ago a 32 x 4 cord tire listed over $50.00. Today, you can buy the highest quality 32 x 4 tire—a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord—for about $26.00.

Last spring crude rubber cost tire makers around 40 cents a pound. Today, it is over 90 cents a pound.

It was not so long ago that 7,500 miles represented the average life of a cord tire, while today, 15,000 miles—and more—is only the usual performance for a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord.

Due to large, concentrated production, specialized machinery and simplified factory methods, together with economical distribution, Firestone is able to keep tire prices low—no matter where the price of crude rubber goes.

And, because of special Firestone processes, chief among which is Gum-Dipping, motorists are today getting thousands of extra miles by using Gum-Dipped Cords.

Gum-Dipping is an exclusive method used by Firestone. It is an extra process, carried out in special Gum-Dipping plants, after which the cords are put through the usual calendaring machines. Gum-Dipping insulates and impregnates every fiber of every cord with rubber, and practically eliminates internal friction and heat, and builds strength and endurance into the tire.

In the day-in and day-out service of taxicabs, buses and trucks—on the cars of hundreds of thousands of motorists everywhere—Gum-Dipped Cords are giving unheard-of mileage, dependability and satisfaction.

Get ready for the coming months of slippery pavements and bad roads. Assure yourself of greater safety, comfort and economy by equipping now with Firestone Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons.

Our Air Defense Their Herculean Task

The officers of President Coolidge's air board, now in session at Washington, as they took up their herculean task of finding an efficient air defense for the U. S. left to right, they are: Vice-Chairman, Judge A. F. Morrow; Chairman, Dwight D. Morrow; and Chairman, Dwight D. Morrow.

H. H. Campbell was born in Sumnerfield, N. C. in 1840. He came to Texas with his parents in 1854 and settled in Grimes Co. In 1858 he moved to Ellis Co and enlisted from there in the Civil war in 1861. Served 4 years and was discharged in 1865. In the service he was flag bearer and was wounded in the battle of Honey Springs, Ark but carried the flag out. In 1878 he conceived the idea of a big cattle ranch in Texas and in 1879 he organized the company, with a capital stock of $50,000. He located the ranch in Motley and adjoining counties. In 1883 they sold to the Scotch Syndicate, Matador Land and Cattle Co for one million and a half dollars. In 1891 he resigned as manager of the ranch and was elected first county judge on the Organization of Motley County in February that year. He located a homestead gradually acquired the Campbell ranch south of Matador. He died in 1911.

NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, OCT 4-10

Seldom does the editorial page "scoop" the news columns. This is an exception. A tremendous disaster occurred today. Property valued at an $1,466,744.44 was wiped out and 41 persons lost their lives by fire. The destruction proceeded continuously thru the 24 hours; every hour $61,115.60—every minute $1,018.59—every second $16.97 was wiped out.

This is another way of stating what the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the highest authority on the subject, tells us—namely that our national annual fire-loss is $535,372,782.

What this means may be comprehended from a few comparisons. Our annual production of gold and silver is $103,119,741—less than one-fifth of our annual fire loss. As a people, we produced wealth of $1,900,287,000 in our 1922 corn crop; but we wasted more than 28 per cent, of that amount by fire. Our 1922 cotton crop amounted to $1,192,461,000; our fire loss was 44 per cent, of that sum. In 1923 we paid our Government internal revenues, excluding income and inheritance taxes totaling $309,015,050. We Wasted by fire the same year more than half again as much as Uncle Sam collected in these revenues.

What is the cause of this loss? Fire department chiefs, insurance actuaries and other experts tell us that 75 per cent. of our fires are partly or wholly preventable, the results of one form or another of carelessness. Carelessness is certainly to be denounced. But it is a delusion to think that the time ever will come when it will not be necessary to forestall the results of carelessness.

The fundamental cause of combustion is combustibility. And the way to forestall the results of carelessness is to build fire-safe. We must either admit that we "build to burn," or accept the challenge of the new slogan "Build Fire-safe."

It is possible for the average home to accept this challenge. The development of modern building material makes it possible to even the most modest homes to be built fire-safe. For instance, fireproof gypsum wallboard may be used in place of highly inflammable pulp, paper or fibre wallboards. A fireproof sheathing of non-metallic mineral may be used as a sheathing or stucco backing to protect the wood studding of the frame. A fireproof gypsum lath may be substituted for tinder like wood lath.

These are only examples of the protection offered the home-builder by the modern materials manufacturer. Gypsum is only one of several non-metallic materials that may be used to encase and protect the wooden parts of a building. Portland cement, asbestos, slate, terra cotta, lime and other mineral compositions also make it possible to build fire-safe economically.

This is the lesson of National Fire Prevention Week. The National Conference on Home Building, which met recently in Chicago, went on record as "according preference to fire-resistant methods and materials in the construction of American homes and dwellings." What the experts advise the public can adopt. "Build Fire-Safe" only means a reduction of our $535,372,782 annual fire loss; it means fundamental and economical insurance to the life and property of every home builder.

FOOT AND MOUTH BREAK IN CHARGE OF
FEDERAL FORCES

As a result of a telegraphic report from Governor Ferguson to Secretary Jardine, orders went out Thursday to Dr. Marion of the Bureau of Animal Industry to take full charge of the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Texas. Before the outbreak he had been in charge of the campaign against this outbreak he temporarily suspended the regulations granted to dairy and hay contractors against the disease after hearing the district judges who were in charge of the enforcement of the regulations.

The injunction obstacles and eradication forces have been quickly getting the outbreak under control. It is now in the vicinity of Dickinson County, which is the only one in which the injunctions were granted.

The outlook is for quick control of the outbreak, it is expected that the embargoes placed on Texas by various States of the English Government will be modified to apply only to a few quarantined areas in Texas. Several of them have been modified. Referring to the outbreak in Texas after the outbreak occurred last fall sought to light some interesting possibilities. Dr. John K. Fox, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, who spent some time in Texas at the beginning of the outbreak, has found that cattle on animals suffering from foot-and-mouth disease carry away infected blood. He believes it is possible that the infection may be carried through the eggs into the seed ticks and, after some months, transmitted to other cattle. One thing certain female ticks have been found with blood in their bodies carrying the virulence of foot-and-mouth disease. This is a complication which has not arisen previously in this country as there has never been an outbreak of the disease in the tick area.

By Arthur Brisbane
CLERGY GOOD FIGHTERS.
 WANT A BISON?
 NO MARRIAGE—NO CAREER.
 A LANDING ROOF.

What does the world need? Thousands of preachers, standing on the shore of time and peering into eternity with the strong authority that their vocation gives them try to answer the question.

Here are a few answers made in the pulpits last Sunday:

The Reverend Henry Howard: The Bible is now on the shelf, not enough family prayers. Not enough religion in schools—time proves it.

Reverend C. Everett Wagner, Methodist Episcopal: Too much preaching of Hell fire. Too much parading of wickedness instead of talking about goodness. Too much tempting listeners by describing in detail the things that the wicked do.

Rev. Dr. Sookman: Too much shifting about from place to place. Too much roaming. The people becoming nomadic can't settle down.

Rev. Dr. S. E. Young, says voters neglect their duty. They could make this Republic anything if they would take the trouble to do it. Perhaps that is solemn truth.

Rev. John Roach Straton, who would willingly help lynch our modernists if his conscience would let him, says we need more revivals. That's proved by the fact that there were ten thousand murders and only a few hangings and electrocutions in this country last year. He saw two holdups in Chicago in one short visit.

Rev. Paul C. Warren: We need modern prophets to interpret the old truths in the pew and in the pulpit. More purity of heart and strength of conviction will bring the millennium.

But the Rev. Charles Francis Potter, prominent Unitarian, says we need a brand new religion, and he proves his sincerity by resigning from his job. It is very enlightening to read twenty or thirty sermons a week.

If you would like a pet bison, you can get one from the Government. Two many of the big animals are in Yellowstone Park, so 300 of them are offered free to citizens that will pay the cost of shipping and expressing.

The Government has proved that the "flying bison" can be brought back to life. Perhaps the Government will do as much for the dying and vanishing forests, much more important than the picturesque bison.

Miss Fay Laphier, young California girl, who "easily and naturally" won the beauty crown of "Miss America" says, "Marriage won't interfere with my career." Of course not. The real business of human beings on this earth is to make it a little better while they are here, and hand on what ability they have to future generations, that they also may want.

Good qualities, as heredity prizes, are handed on by women. And the woman whose programme does not include marriage can't possibly have a complete career, no matter what the feminists may say. In a chain, the link that breaks is not the successful link.

It has been suggested here occasionally, during the past ten years, that architects should have their minds on landing roofs for flying machines. Now Chicago, about to build a $15,000,000 post office, will ask Congress to approve a building, two city blocks long with a landing roof for the flying mail. That would cut an hour off the mail flight from Chicago to New York.

Not far in the future will come the new city, one building devoted to one single business, with a landing roof for buyers and sellers, and employes flying to work in the morning and flying back at night.

The great "congested traffic problem" may be solved from the roof before it is solved in the streets. However, don't let that discourage you about good real estate.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

The Stomach's Rest Hours

Nature's laws—which are really God's laws, are inflexible in either reward for obedience or penalty for disregard. Digestion is a wonderful process which acts independently of our will. In man, this most important chemical laboratory operates only in daytime, as is true in lower animals. Digestion ceases with the oncoming of night. Digestion "goes to bed early" in order that other important work may be carried on during sleeping hours. This is true of all animal creation. To try to awaken digestion in the night is a dangerous violation of both natural and divine law. The penalty is sure. Man cannot maintain his strength without protein. These are animal and vegetable, and are taken as food. Until acted upon by man's digestive fluids, they are unfit to enter his circulation, and if absorbed undigested, are active poisons. And, most things swallowed are absorbed, whether digested or not. Fancy all the juices of a heavy six-o'clock dinner being thrust into the blood stream without proper digestion in the stomach! No wonder the victim is stupid, and without appetite next morning. No wonder the "no-breakfast" plan! The merciless, invisible foe in this chapter is THE FASHIONABLE SIX O'CLOCK DINNER! This defiance of natural law is building blood-pressure all over our land, hardening arteries, and producing all manner of liver and kidney diseases. Apoplexy—cerebral hemorrhage—the death certificate reads, "Killing more men at fifty to sixty-five than cancer!" Traced back to the six o'clock dinner in the vast majority of instances! Those who persist in this defiance of the laws of health are certainly reaping consequences. This sort of crime is never unpunished.

Next Week—Limit the intake

Cantrell, a former Matador resident, who has for the past two years been living in the Northfield vicinity has again returned to Matador and will assist the Marquis boys in the handling of the dray business. He called at the News office the first thing after getting located and had us place his name on our list for a year of the dope.

COMMUNITY FAIRS

Five Community fairs were held prior to and as an introductory to the County fair. These fairs were held at Follie, Fairview Roaring Springs, Whiteflat and Dardon Canyon.

The fair at Follie was held on Saturday the 19th and was a great success and was of much interest especially to those who took part in exhibiting the products. This is the first attempt at holding a community fair in that neighborhood and the two communities of Follie and Montgomery combined their products in the one show. Mrs. J. W. Baird, Staff Correspondent for the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News was present and highly complimented the exhibitors on the things shown. Mrs. J. F. Montgomery carried off most of the prizes in the womens division having 38 different canned products on exhibit. In the mens section Paschal Sanderfer, a club boy, won first prize on milo.

The people of the Follie and Montgomery communities say they are going to have an even better and larger fair next year and come to the county fair with a community exhibit.

The Fairview people held their fair on Monday and had one of the best exhibits in the county. This is their second attempt at a community fair, as they held a fair in 1923 and also exhibited at the county fair, but did not participate in the fair last year at all. All exhibits, both mens and womens were exceedingly good and shows what the community can do when they have the will and this is one time when the Fairview bunch came in real "well". One of the most interesting events of the day was when Jack Luckett and Pat Jinkins got into an argument as to which one should carry home the prize plate of tomatoes and the Community Club was richer by ten dollars. The Fairview people are anxious to let Mr. Luckett have more tomatoes.

Roaring Springs fair was held in their new school gymnasium and was a very fitting introduction of this excellent new building to the public. Not-with-standing an almost constant rain all day Roaring Springs section turned out as they always do and put over what was said by many to be the best fair they have held in that section. In the community contest the Flag Springs exhibit was awarded first place with Dardon Canyon a close second. The entire agricultural exhibit was exceptionally good and this was an exception.

The Whiteflat fair was practically ruined by a continuous down pour all morning and most of the afternoon, however a few of the more determined ones of the community came out any way and the Whiteflat community fair was held, as it always is, and though the number participating was small, yet the spirit of those present was not dampened by the wetness of the weather. When Whiteflat starts after anything the people of that community are not going to let a little rain beat them out of it.

On Thursday the Dardon Canyon people got together at the school house and held their first community fair. Not a large number was present but the stuff exhibited was up to the best in the remainder of the county and it was a mighty good start for the future fairs of Dardon Canyon. It showed what could be done and with the start they have made and the fine showing of products made at the County fair, the people of that section have every incentive to go ahead and put over an even better fair and community exhibit next year.

Motley County has reason to be proud of these community fairs that were held in the county this year and it is to be hoped that every one of these communities will participate in next years fair and that other communities will enter

We understand that during the fair at Matador a start toward a permanent fair organization was made and that during the winter meetings will be held in every community in the county with the idea of increasing the interest and explaining what may be obtained by all cooperating in putting over his fair program and every community is going to be asked to have a committeeman on the fair board and the county fair made as near as possible what the people of the county want.
