HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

By Lydia Lane

HOLLYWOOD — The first time I saw Geraldine Brooks she was playing Joan Crawford's teen-age daughter in "Possessed." But since then she has made ten pictures, the most recent being "Volcano" which was shot in Italy.
Miss Brooks enjoys working in foreign countries because she considers it broadening and likes Rome especially since she speaks Italian.
"Did you pick up any beauty secrets in Italy?" I asked Gerry one afternoon last week as we chatted at tea time.
"Yes I did," she said in her impressively soft voice. "I learned to rub a paste of salt and warm water over my face after removing make-up. This helps to clean out the pores and leaves the skin feeling so soft. One of the Italian actresses told me about this."
"They also mix olive oil with salt when their skin is dry," Geraldine added.
I asked her what was the biggest thing she had to overcome. Without a moment's hesitation she said, "Impatience. I love to work and when I'm in a lull I feel I'm not progressing and I get very restless."
"You love acting, don't you?"
"Ever since I can remember I wanted to be an actress. My family let me take dancing lessons when I was two. And I can remember when theatrical celebrities would come to our house I loved nothing better than to listen to them talk shop."
Miss Brooks' father has costumed many famous Broadway plays and her mother is a theatrical designer, so Gerry feels the theatre is in her blood.

"Any more beauty secrets for me?" I asked.
"It seems to me that lots of young people are careless about their hands. You have to wash your hands so many times a day and you have to do something to keep them from drying out and looking neglected."
"What do you suggest?" I asked.
"I like to soak my hands in cream. I have an old pair of doe skin gloves and after I have my hands all soaked up I put these on, settle down with an interesting book or play and it is always a surprise to me how little cream is left when I take the gloves off."
"That is a very good suggestion because you can have a beauty treatment without spending any time on it," I suggested.
"And," Gerry concluded, "I find that by keeping my hands soft my total picture of beauty is strengthened."

Far East Dispute Is Due To Erupt

By JOHN M. HIGH TOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States seems to be heading into a new period of trouble and controversy over critical Far Eastern issues.

Some authorities think that is one reason the Communists have shown such interest in renewing talks about peace in Korea—that they hope to create a situation in which they can exploit differences of view within the U. S. and between the U. S. and its Allies.

The situation was pointed up by a dispute over published reports on decisions made or under study concerning the future of Korea and Formosa in event a Korean truce is arranged.

The White House denied yesterday that the Eisenhower administration has given any "consideration" to a United Nations trusteeship for Formosa. It also said no policy had been formed on getting at the narrow point of the peninsula about 80 miles north of the present battle line.

But there was no denial that problems of grave import, in significance reaching beyond Formosa and Korea, are being posed by the Red peace offensive as applied to the Far East.

On the contrary, authoritative officials recognize that, if and when the U. S. joins in a conference to make a permanent Korean peace and perhaps a broader Far Eastern settlement, it will face troubles with friend and foe alike.

Some consideration already is being given to the major issues they include:

1. If there is peace in Korea, what attitude should the U. S. take toward the two sets of Chinese rulers—the Communists on the mainland and Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa? The possibility of eventually coming to terms with the Reds has not been excluded from the thinking of some key officials—especially Peiping indicates a Titoist tendency to break away from Soviet control. There has been some talk about the possibility of treating Formosa as independent. But Chiang has committed himself to re-conquer the mainland and he has had powerful support in the U. S.

2. If the Chinese Reds prove loyal to Moscow but seek to develop friendship with such countries as China and India, should the U. S. give Chiang all-out backing at virtually any cost? The British, Indians and various other friendly governments recognize the Chinese Communists, not the Nationalists. In the past they have appeared far more ready than the U. S. to do business with the Reds, particularly India.

3. How far should peace in Korea be used to support demands for peace in Indochina, which the Eisenhower administration has treated as part of the same Far Eastern pattern?

4. In Korea itself what kind of terms should be insisted upon for a peace settlement—as opposed to a military truce? The official United Nations policy is to seek unification of all Korea. It seems likely that initially the U. S. would go into negotiations maintaining that policy. But if the Reds will have none of it, some responsible persons believe this country could and should consider a more limited territory for the anti-Communist government of South Korea.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's foreign minister today labeled "preposterous" reports that Washington is considering a Korean settlement based on (1) a boundary line across the narrow waist of the peninsula and (2) a U. N. trusteeship for Formosa.

"Too preposterous to deserve serious comment," said Foreign Minister George Yeh. "If the U. N. should recognize the fruits of Communist aggression in Korea and elsewhere it would be doing something in glaring violation of its charter."

Commentators Blame Dulles For Korean, Formosa Stories

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS) commentators named Secretary of State Dulles last night as the point of origin of a number of recent newspaper stories on Far Eastern policy.

A story on Korea and Formosa published by the New York Times was cited by the White House yesterday, leading Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) to call for an investigation as to where it originated.

On separate CBS broadcasts last night, commentators Eric Sevareid and Bill Costello said the stories had their origin in a background session which Dulles held with a number of correspondents.

Each said he was not present at the session.

"There must be by now many hundreds of persons in Washington who know the source of the stories," Sevareid said. "It was the secretary of state, himself...."

"Mr. Dulles discussed the whole problem of post-armistice Korea and Formosa," he specifically authorized that State Department thinking on these matters could be printed, conditioned only by the familiar restriction against naming the source."

Dulles could not be reached for comment on Sevareid's broadcast. The New York Times said in a Washington dispatch yesterday that the Eisenhower administration is willing to accept a boundary at the wrist of the Korean Peninsula, some 80 miles north of the present battle line. The same dispatch said the administration was considering the possibility of a United Nations trusteeship for Formosa with a Formosan republic as its ultimate goal.

Some hours after this was published, White House Press Secretary James C. Harter issued a statement saying the administration (1) has never reached any conclusion that a permanent division of Korea is desirable or consistent with decisions of the U. N. and (2) has given no consideration to a U. N. trusteeship for Formosa.

Arthur Krock, the Washington correspondent of the Times, commented that his paper was "only one of several reputable newspapers and press associations that published the story."

"It is another instance of the administration getting its wires crossed and blaming the consequences on the press," Krock said. Knowland, Republican policy leader in the Senate, told his colleagues it seemed inconceivable to him that any decision had been reached on a permanent division of Korea. Calling for an inquiry as to the point of origin of what he termed inspired stories, Knowland said:

"It is extremely important that this kind of loophole be stopped now because this nation cannot have two secretaries of state. It must speak with one voice through President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles."

Later, after discussing the situation with Eisenhower at the White House, Knowland declined to tell newsmen what the president had to say. He added, however, that Dulles had assured him "the story in the New York Times did not represent his (Dulles') point of view relative to policy in Korea and Formosa."

The various stories about a post-armistice division of Korea touched off demonstrations in South Korea, whose president, Syngman Rhee, has vowed he will settle for nothing short of unification of the peninsula.

At Pusan, thousands jammed into a public square, carrying such signs as: "We are dead opposed to any armistice without our national unification."

Border Air Patrol Is Due To Be Eliminated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has decided to wipe out the 11-plane air patrol now being used to guard the nation's borders against illegal immigrants.

The decision became known with the release of recent Justice Department testimony before the Senate Appropriations Committee on a department money bill.

Several senators expressed concern and an Immigration Service official testified he was "astounded" by the action.

This official, Willard Kelly, an assistant immigration commissioner, told the committee that "to wipe out our entire air patrol which is so vital to many of our border patrol operations is simply incomprehensible."

Sen. Smith (R-Me.) said he was worried about it "because of our long wooded border between Maine and Canada."

Immigration Service officials said the action "was specified by representatives of the Bureau of the Budget" as an economy move. The Budget Bureau is an arm of the White House.

Kelly testified the Border Patrol is faced every year "with appalling numbers of aliens illegally in the United States." A. R. Mackey, the immigration commissioner, said "it amounts to an invasion."

They told the committee that total aliens expelled from this country amounted to 686,713 in the 1951 fiscal year and went up to 723,956 last year.

Kelly said more than 90 per cent of these would be Mexican wetbacks.

Commenting on the wetbacks, Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) said: "We might just as well face this thing realistically. The agricultural people, the farmers along this side of the border, in California, in Arizona, New Mexico, in Texas, in other states, I don't know about Louisiana, want this help. They want this farm labor. They just cannot get along without it. They do not know what they would do if they did not have it."

Other officers elected were Dr. P. W. Malone, first vice president; Jimmy Beale, second vice president; Mrs. R. W. Thompson, secretary-treasurer.

New directors installed included Mrs. Ira Thurman, Mrs. Ann Galt Houser, Mrs. Bill Griese and Herbert Keaton.

Plans were completed for the presentation of Dr. Silvio Scianni and his eight-piece symphonic ensemble from North Texas State College, Monday at 8 p. m. at the City Auditorium.

Larry Evans, a local boy, will be a soloist with the group. Beale announced that anyone who did not have a season's ticket could attend the Monday program by purchasing a next season's ticket through a member of the Big Spring Federation of Women's Clubs.

Further information may be obtained by calling Beale at 1144 or Dr. Malone at 1146.

Other members attending were Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Mrs. Shelby Read, Mrs. Vic Alexander, Mrs. Arch Carson and Mrs. W. U. O'Neal.

Pair Of Glasses Are Found At Cemetery
A pair of glasses lost at the city cemetery last week can be recovered at City Hall.

Stolen were two dresses, a bathrobe and other garments, police said. The items were taken between 4 and 5:45 p. m., according to George Babbi who reported the loss.

JC Basketball Team Guests At Kiwanis Lunch

Members of the Howard County Junior college basketball team, the coach, and the president of the college, were guests at the Kiwanis Club's luncheon meeting at the Settles Thursday.

Carl Strom, program chairman, reviewed a few high points of the team's 1952-53 season before presenting Coach Harold Davis.

The HCC coach introduced each player on the squad, and explained in detail the part each player contributed to the team's highly successful season which was recently concluded.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of the college, said the college administration was overjoyed over the record compiled by the team. "Our pride is not limited to games won," Dr. Hunt emphasized.

Davis and his team received plaudits of coaches from rival teams in tournaments for their sportsmanship, the college president reminded.

Dr. Hunt had particular praise for Davis.

"He not only developed a winning team, but also had a remarkably good influence on the players and the entire student body at the college. He contributed something beyond the mere coaching of a team."

R. L. Hale, president of the club, and H. W. Smith, gave brief reports of a trip to Abilene last Monday night when a local delegation attended a banquet honoring Walter J. L. Ray, president of Kiwanis International.

Police Kept Busy With Unique Calls
Police didn't have many calls Thursday, but all wasn't peace and quiet.

Officers were summoned to one address where dogs were reported killing off all the neighborhood cats. Another report said some kids were throwing rocks at passing automobiles.

Then police were called to a weekend service station where a man was said to be "beat up." They found a couple of hobos had been in a fight, but both were gone when officers arrived.

Parents of the rock-throwing youngsters were informed of their activities. But police weren't able to do anything about the dogs' rat-killing spree.

Regime To Continue Action Against Alleged Oil Cartel

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican administration has set its course in the projected anti-trust action against an alleged international oil cartel, involving major American companies, which it inherited from the Democratic regime.

It holds down to this: 1. A civil, rather than a criminal, proceeding, rigidly safeguarded to prevent public disclosure of national security secrets.

2. A hoped-for quick settlement, possibly through a consent decree agreeable to both sides, under which the oil companies would discontinue some practices the government considers objectionable under the anti-trust laws.

The proposed civil anti-trust action was announced last yesterday by Atty. Gen. Brownell. He refused to say he would drop a criminal anti-trust investigation, begun by the Truman administration and now in the hands of a federal grand jury here.

Apparently, Brownell's refusal involves a bit of legal protocol. He is under a directive from Federal Judge James Kirkland of the District of Columbia to say by April 28 what the government wants done about the grand jury. Legal authorities said it would be at least a discourtesy for Brownell to announce publicly beforehand what he is required to tell the judge officially on April 28.

Men have worshipped birds and beasts and every inanimate object. They worship success and fame and popularity and pleasure. The supreme end alone is worthy of utter devotion. We should be mature not as ignorant children of barbarians. They worshipped the sun toward the east." — Ezekiel 8:16.

Speculation On Governor's Race Interesting But Is Premature

Washington, according to Texas correspondents seated there, is doing much speculating on the Texas gubernatorial race next year. At least, the Texas members of Congress are speculating on it.

Rep. Lloyd Bentzen of the 15th (Rio Grande Valley) District is pictured as hot stuff in all this speculation. Now serving his fifth year in Congress the handsome war veteran shrugs off such talk with the remark that he is representing the 15th District and trying to justify the confidence of the people who elected him to that office for a third term.

He is pictured as a warm personal friend of Governor Shivers—both married into extensive Rio Grande Valley wealth and Senator Lyndon Johnson, though unlike the latter he refused to support Adlai Stevenson for President.

We can't recall offhand that any member of Congress in recent decades was ever successful in a Texas gubernatorial race. Indeed, we're under the impression old Sam Houston is about the only one who ever cut the mustard. Service in Congress is not, by and large, conducive to success at the polls in a race for state office.

Others prominently mentioned as gubernatorial timber are Bascom M. Giles, land commissioner; John Ben Shepperd, attorney general; Ben Ramsey, lieutenant governor; Judge Ralph Yarbrough, who has run twice before; Ely Thornton of Galveston and ex-Congressman Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater, showed under for the Senate last year by Price Daniel.

No man could say now, a full year before nominations will be in order, what conditions will be in Texas in the spring of 1954. There are some, not necessarily merely Democrats who are incurable optimists, who say that a groundswell of disillusionment is already under way with respect to the Republican national administration, and that in 1954 the Democrats will regain control of both houses of Congress.

If that should happen, young Mr. Bentzen's chance of being elected governor wouldn't be particularly bright. By the same token, Judge Yarbrough and Beckworth might move up considerably. In any case, it's another year yet. A lot can happen.

we've nothing to worry about anyhow. Defense Secretary Wilson recently was reported to favor spending less on munitions plants and more on output with what we had. This seemed to cut the ground under the Office of Defense Mobilization, which favors building a broad "base" for swift mobilization, including standby plants and equipment—a few acres in the hole, so to speak, when Russia calls for a showdown, a showdown that probably will come when we are at our weakest.

This incipient controversy has now, we are assured, been ironed out. The ironing out, or wringing out, was done by President Eisenhower, who mildly reminded all and sundry that he intends to make the final decisions on both mobilization policy and military spending.

The ODM still insists that adequate arms plants, ready to produce at the drop of a hat, are a "must" for national security. Since half a dozen atomic bombs might wipe out as many of our most vital defense production centers in the twinkling of an eye, ODM's attitude makes sense.

Labor Leaders Make Wrong Bet As Workers Lose Out On Wages

Back in January, labor leaders should have trusted statistics and left politics alone. But they didn't. Consequence: Today railroad workers are one cent an hour in the bucket. Their pay is 3 cents an hour lower because union leaders prevailed on President Eisenhower to continue for another six months an outmoded cost-of-living index. The revised index would have lowered pay only 2 cents per hour under their cost-of-living wage agreement.

For three years the Bureau of Labor Statistics had warned that it would switch to a modernized cost-of-living index starting January, 1953. The old index was based on the way people lived—their consumption habits—in 1934-36. It gave an unusually high weight to food—about 40 per cent. It had served its day.

To improve the index, the Bureau sent trained investigators throughout the country to learn what workingmen's families were buying: the kind of clothing—the kind of food—the kind of transportation—the kind of amusement.

When the investigators found that out, the Bureau made an entirely new index—to represent postwar living habits. Then users of the index were notified. The Bureau even suggested an arithmetical formula to employers and labor unions for shifting wage contracts from the old to the new index. Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers and the CIO, didn't like that. He accused the Bureau of peddling in collective bargaining.

Despite seven different notices, labor leaders were unprepared for the new index. Or they were afraid of it. They knew that the cost of living was going down—in any index. Food prices, notably beef, had been declining. But since the weight of food had been cut in the new index to 30 per cent, it would deal kinder with workers than the old index.

Yet, statistics made little difference to George Meaney, president of the American Federation of Labor, and the leaders of the Railroad Brotherhoods. They felt a shift in indexes would be inexpedient. They were wedded to the old index. Ever since Korea, it had produced rising wage rates.

To workers, labor leaders must have seemed like economic magicians. Wages went up automatically. Without strikes! Without collective bargaining! What could be sweeter? So if the leaders switched indexes and immediately the new index produced a wage cut, workers might wonder if their leaders had been tricked!

It wouldn't be easy to explain—the labor leaders thought—that the old index would have gone down more. They decided to ride with the old index, regardless. And here's what happened:

Month	OLD	NEW
November	191.8	191.1
December	191.0	190.7
January	190.3	190.4
February	188.8	189.8

General Motors and Ford workers have taken a one-cent cut. That would have come, regardless of which index was used. The settlement was based on the January index. The next adjustment in pay is scheduled to take place in June and will be fixed on this month's (the April) index. Then Reuther is faced with another cut. But if he shifts from the old to the new index, he will be able to "cut the cut."

Reuther never wanted the old index continued. He argued that the end of the old index justified reopening his wage contract with General Motors Corp. The company said no, that the union was entitled to an adjustment of the wage formula to the new index but got to a new deal.

At the recent UAW convention in Atlantic City, union delegates grumbled because the cost of living—and wages—were due to drop. So long as prices were going up escalation was fine, but now... No, thank you!

So union leaders are now faced with an entirely different worry. It's whether to use an index at all, whether it may not now be expedient to shift from fluctuating agreements to fixed wages. The price trend will dictate the decision.

Teamwork Can Sometimes Do A Better Job When Free Leaders Get Married

NEW YORK (U.S.A.)—A free leader is anyone who has developed the ability of living well on his ready wits rather than his ready cash. A male and a female free leader usually avoid each other, separately, by the jealousy that divides professional people.

But occasionally necessity compels them to press on the same sucker and forces a truce. And, human nature being what it is, every once in a while the truce ripens into love, just as it might between two hawks or a boy shark and a girl shark.

Surprisingly, sometimes married free leaders do better together than either did singly. Teamwork does it.

In New York a well-dressed couple can eat and drink well for free almost every night in the year by crashing big hotel and restaurant cocktail and dinner parties where nobody can possibly know everybody. Tickets? Who needs tickets?

Jerks who don't know what else to do with their dough. The free leading team cultivates people who have passes or big expense accounts—people who have country places and are bored with each other and like to invite other people out so they won't have to spend the week end throwing dinner plates at each other.

The lonely old rich man, the wealthy widow who would like to see life but doesn't know how—they find the married free leaders ready to give them a guided tour to the best places. And, of course, it's actually a pleasure to help such a charming young couple out of a tough financial spot—the first half dozen times.

By the time they learn the full truth about the gay young couple, those two merry rascals are off on the spur of a new sucker. For the tricks of the trade, require them to turn over their friends as they turn the pages of the calendar.

Somehow Mr. Free Leader's wallet always gets stuck in his pocket when the check comes at a supper club, and the other guy says, "This one is on my company."

Does a well-to-do woman friend need some new dresses? Mrs. Free Leader knows just the place to get them.

Free leaders avoid children, but now and then they get an unexpected one. As the doctor frets over his unpaid bill, the proud parents look down fondly at their darling as he prattles in his gift crib, and Mr. Free Leader murmurs softly:

"Dear, isn't it wonderful we can bring up our baby in a free world?"

What About Cancer?

Early Spotting Can Lead To Early Cure Of Cancer

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles prepared by medical experts for The Associated Press in cooperation with the American Cancer Society as an educational service during April, cancer control month. Today's writer is an outstanding surgeon.

By HAYES MARTIN, M.D. If a mouth cancer is no larger than a man's thumb the chances for permanent cure are twice as good, in the average of all cases, as they are when the growth has exceeded these dimensions.

That's the sum of new statistics based on experience at the Memorial Cancer Center in New York City. Although it has long been known both by the profession and the public that early cure for treatment have the best chance against the ravages of cancer, this has been a vague general statement of limited value because it did not answer the question: "What is early?"

Based on the "thumb" test, the following striking comparisons can be made between the chances of permanent cure of those who have gone to the doctor, who, in turn, has determined the nature of the growth and begun treatment before the lesion has exceeded approximately 4.5ths of an inch in diameter, and the mixed group of early and late recipients of medical care:

For the lips: 86 per cent of early cures as against 70 per cent of the mixed group; for the tongue: 55 per cent as against 28 per cent; for the mouth: 50 per cent as against 25 per cent; for the throat: 60 per cent as against 29 per cent; for the nasal cavity: 57 per cent as against 31 per cent; for the sinuses: 38 per cent as against 26 per cent; for the tonsils: 40 per cent as against 18 per cent.

The responsibility, then, rests first with the patient to visit the physician as soon as possible after the first symptom is noticed. Any sore in the mouth that does not heal in approximately 10 days; and any lump or area of thickening which develops within the mouth, are signs which call for prompt examination by a doctor.

Actually, in many instances such findings indicate only some simple condition which can be easily treated and the fear that cancer may be present is often entirely relieved by competent medical examination. It is the responsibility of the doctor to make the diagnosis and begin treatment as soon as possible.

In the case of a good patient combined with an alert doctor, the chances for permanent cure are excellent. On the other hand, if the doctor fails to institute treatment in the early stages, the chances for cure diminish.

If the patient is slow in presenting himself for medical care, the doctor, no matter how skillful he may be, of necessity is greatly handicapped.

Tomorrow: Cancer of the cervical.

'A Good Time Was Had By All' Always True At School Picnic

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

A bunch of local men fell to talking the other day, all of them obviously suffering from light attacks of spring fever, and the conversation suddenly got around to the old-fashioned school picnic, an affair that used to be mighty important among smaller schools some years ago. I don't know whether it was practical in the city schools, but those out in the country and scattered around the small towns and villages staged such events annually. Needless to say, the pupils cooperated enthusiastically, and the teachers themselves always seemed to approve the practice.

The school picnic was one of those things you could refer to with absolute truthfulness by using the trite old expression, "a good time was had by all." In the village school I attended for a number of years, the annual picnic was held as regularly as arithmetic, although, of course, it wasn't on the official school calendar. It was just understood that there would be a picnic sometime between April 1 and the end of the term.

Usually, the picnic was an all-day event, with the teachers and pupils going to the site immediately after assembling early in the morning at the school ground in something faintly resembling order.

The pupils got a bang out of it for two reasons. They got out of the classroom for a day, which is reason enough for any school boy or girl. Then, any youngster just naturally likes an outing in the springtime (most oldsters do, too) or any other season of the year. At our school, a small group got a double outing. A few days before the date set for the picnic, a student committee would be sent out to comb the countryside and select a site for the big event. There were no improved parks, etc., to claim any consideration. The committee simply looked over a few pastures in the area and determined which offered the best facilities for that particular year. Almost without fail the site selected was beside a body of water or a running stream.

As for food, everyone brought whatever he desired or happened to have on hand. There was always enough, and the quality was never questioned. In a manner of speaking the school picnic was a complete capitulation to spring fever, but there were few who surrendered reluctantly.

Many Complicated Far Eastern Problems Remain After A Truce

WASHINGTON — A long, hard look at the Russian peace overtures has chilled the optimism that flowered so luxuriantly in the first warm breath out of Moscow. Doubts have arisen over whether anything more than a temporary truce can possibly come out of the Korean negotiations.

There is, of course, the tremendous gain in and of itself in the exchange of prisoners. The belief still holds that not alone the sick and wounded, but sooner or later all prisoners will be exchanged. Even here, however, the wording of the Chinese Communist communication to the United Nations suggests that booby traps may be awaiting the U. N. negotiators.

The dubious language in the proposal out of Peking is similar to that in the resolution put forward last year by Krishna Menon, a member of the Indian delegation. Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson fought that resolution until finally under the combined pressure of virtually every other nation participating in Korea he reluctantly went along.

The chief pressure had come from Britain's Foreign Secretary, Anthony Eden. But Eden had the support of all of Western Europe and in the background was the insistence of the Arab-Asian bloc. These same pressures will operate as the current effort to settle the Korean War moves out of the preliminary phase.

One of the big hurdles after the question of the exchange of prisoners is out of the way with concern the boundary line between South and North Korea. The Eisenhower administration is determined not to accept the present battle line—approximately the 38th parallel—as the demarcation between the two Koreas.

Instead, the administration is planning as of now to insist on a line fixed at the narrow waist of the Korean peninsula which is about 80 miles north of the battle line. It is in all probability resisted by the Communists. One may doubt whether they would agree to bargain for any territory in the peace negotiations. Acheson on several occasions stated publicly that the 38th parallel would be an acceptable settlement line.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has a domestic as well as a foreign political problem to cope with in directing the talks. South Korean President Syngman Rhee has friends in Congress who are nearly as strong for him as they are for Chiang Kai-shek. They would certainly raise a loud outcry in Rhee's behalf if anything like the 38th parallel were proposed as the boundary.

Despite its greater size, Alaska is far behind Texas in wealth, population and many other respects. Only one state, Nevada, has a smaller population than Alaska.

Eighty-six years have passed since the United States agreed to buy Alaska from Russia. The price was $7,200,000, and the agreement was signed by William Seward, American secretary of State. Many persons spoke of the new territory as "Seward's Icebox" or "Seward's Polyp."

Seward died seven years later, and failed to see much of what Alaska could prove in regard to the wisdom of his deed. Alaska has proved to be valuable in several ways. It produces minerals of various kinds, and is important in the salmon industry. Other products include the furs of such animals as minks, muskrats, and otters.

Recently it was estimated that Alaska's products, since the time of purchase, have had a value of more than three billion dollars! That is more than 400 times the amount paid to Russia. The minerals of Alaska include gold, silver, copper, tin and platinum. Both hard and soft coal are mined in the territory, and it has supplies of marble, gypsum and limestone. At the present time, canned salmon forms the most valuable single item in Alaska's yearly exports.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

Death came on this day in 1950 to Mary Alice Page of Galveston. In her 90-year span of life she had achieved at least one distinction—she was the first woman telephone switchboard operator in Texas.

Miss Page, known as "Miss Mappie," died at a sanatorium at Kemah. She lived through the Galveston hurricane of 1900, and also watched the fire which burned a mile-long corridor through Galveston in 1885.

Texas telephone officials believe she was the second woman telephone company operator in the world.

The telephone companies of Texas did not begin using women operators until 1884. Boys were first used, but customers began to complain of their rude remarks and their erratic operations.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is not sure, but it believes that the first PBX board (private branch exchange switchboard) in the United States was that installed in the Capitol Hotel, now the Rice, in 1882.

The first common battery switchboard was installed in Dallas in 1899. Then that city had 1,300 subscribers.

The first automatic telephone exchange in Texas was built at Cleburne in 1903 by the Cleburne Automatic Telephone Company.

McCarthy Wildcat Will Drill Deeper After Oil Recovery

Although a pumping recovery of 12 barrels of oil per day was made on McCarthy No. 1 Vaughn-Magnolia, operator is now rigging up cable tools to deepen.

The McCarthy wildcat is just seven miles west and slightly north of Big Spring.

In Mitchell County, tanks and flow lines are now being built to accommodate the oil flow from Wood No. 1 Dixon, a wildcat. A Martin County wildcat, Brown and Wheeler No. 1 Morrison, was also staked today.

Borden

Superior No. 9-580 Jones, C NE SE, 580-97-H&TC survey, is now 8,202 feet in shale and chert. A core was taken from 8,185 to 8,202 and recovery was 11 feet of chert with fractured stain and odor. Six feet of chert was highly fractured with good stain and odor, drillstem test is underway.

Vickers No. 1 Orson, C NE NE,

11-33-5n-T&P survey, hit 8,578 feet in lime and shale. Top of reef is 8,545 feet and elevation is 2,664 feet. A drillstem test will be taken after drilling goes deeper.

Helmerich and Payne No. 1 Durward, 330 from north and west of lines, 10-32-5n-T&P survey, reached 3,048 feet in anhydrite and gyp.

Dawson

Vega No. 1 Fowler, C SW SW, 111-M-EL&RR survey, got down to a total depth of 6,019 feet in lime and shale. Operator is now waiting on repairs.

Stapinol No. 2 Classen, 330 from south and 990 from east of lines, northeast quarter, 95-M-EL&RR survey, hit 4,605 feet.

Sun No. 1 Dean, C SW SW, 22-1-Pottevant, is reported at 10,160 feet.

Glascock

Sinclair No. 1 Cox, C SE SE, 32-33-4n-T&P survey, is preparing to drill ahead at 9,500 feet.

Howard

McCarthy No. 1 Vaughn-Magnolia, 2970 from south and 330 from east of lines, 12-34-1n-T&P survey, has a recovery of 12 barrels of oil per day on a pumping test from 3,196 to 3,231 feet. Zone was acidized with 1,000 gallons prior to pump installation. Operator is now rigging up cable tools to deepen.

Martin

Brown and Wheeler No. 1 H. P. Morrison, 960 from north and 1,380 from east of lines, section 28, block 36, top 1-south, T&P survey, is a new rotary wildcat location set for 4,500 feet. The venture will test the San Andres. Location is the extreme southeast part of the county about 1 1/2 miles southwest of Stanton. It is 2 1/2 miles northeast of Sulphur No. 1 Snyder, which was a small producer in the Spraberry.

Phillips No. 1-C Schar, 1,320 from south and 700 from west of lease lines, section 324, LaSalle CSL, reached 12,758 feet.

Gulf No. 4-B Glass, C SW NW, 20-28-1n-T&P survey, bored to 9,471 feet in lime and shale.

Mitchell

Wood No. 1 Dixon, C SW SW, 2-12-H&TC survey, is shut in now to build tanks and lay flow lines to take oil potential. After perforations from 6,234 to 6,254 feet were fractured with 4,000 gallons, well flowed 12 hours through a 14-64 inch choke for 18 barrels of oil. Then it flowed 12 hours through a 15-64 inch choke for 22 barrels of oil. Another 12-hour flow through a 15-64 inch choke brought 22 barrels of oil and the final 12 hours through the 15-64 inch choke flowed 10 barrels. Gravity is estimated at 44 degrees. No gas-oil ratio was reported but operator says it measures enough to continue flow.

Top of Strawn is 6,230 feet, and elevation is 2,986 feet.

Sun No. 2 McCabe, C NW SW, 22-1A-H&TC survey, is performing 5 1/2-inch casing at 5,900 to 5,910 feet and is running tubing. Operator will fracture with 2,000 gallons and test.

Sun No. 4-A Anderson, C NE NE, 230-1A-H&TC survey, got down to 4,122 feet in sand.

Magnolia No. 1 Walker, C SW NW, 22-1A-H&TC survey, has a total depth of 6,100 feet where it swabbed dry in five hours. Operator hydrauliced with 2,200 gallons and it flowed load oil. Well is still flowing load oil.

Humble No. 1 Cooper, C SE NW, 25-19-LaVaca survey, reached 6,665 feet in shale.

Humble No. 1 Trulock, C NW NW, 6-28-1n-T&P survey, is still trying to straighten hole at 1,022 feet.

Soho No. 1 Yarbrough, C NW SE, 67-25-T&P survey, is reported at 5,450 feet in shale.

Thompson Worried Over Oil Import Rise

AUSTIN (AP)—Railroad Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson expressed increasing pessimism today over the adverse effect of foreign oil imports on domestic production.

He directed attention to a 337,000-barrel increase in average daily imports the week ending April 4.

The commission has again requested importing companies to report how much foreign oil they have scheduled to bring in for the months of March through August.

The reports were sought to aid the commission in determining the Texas oil allowance for May following the April 17 proration hearing.

"It looks like imports are supplanting American domestic oil contrary to and despite all the long-announced and much-hailed policy of the National Petroleum Council," Thompson said.

Seasonal demand probably will call for "much higher" domestic production in the third quarter of this year and "still higher" output in the fourth quarter of 1953 and first quarter of 1954, he added.

"However, no one can be too optimistic with oil imports increasing at such a rapid rate," Thompson said.

"Let us hope that business statesmanship will finally be shown by the heads of the importing companies by reducing their oil imports."

"Otherwise, the domestic oil states' economy will suffer, and our national security will be imperiled through the crippling of domestic oil production."

Imports of crude oil and products the week ending April 4 soared to 1,256,700 barrels daily.

While imports rose 337,800 barrels, domestic oil production was reduced 140,800 barrels daily. Texas as accounted for 114,600 barrels of that reduction as its sharply curtailed April allowance went into effect.

"Crude oil stocks are still much higher than the purchasing companies indicated to be needed when we made our survey two months ago at the statewide hearing," Thompson said.

"It must be always kept in mind that the second quarter—that is, April, May, and June—is the lowest period of oil demand. Heating oil demand drops off and gasoline demand starts up when school turns out and vacation travel starts."

"The production rate should be much higher in the third quarter of the year, and still higher in the fourth quarter of 1953 and the first quarter of 1954."

Next Friday's statewide oil hearing will be held at San Angelo.

Norris Acquitted In Robbery Case

FORT WORTH (AP)—Gene Paul Norris, 31, waited today to see whether a revoked parole would send him back to prison even though he was found innocent of robbing two exiled Cubans of $248,000.

Norris was acquitted yesterday of the robbery charge by a jury that deliberated three hours.

Norris stood up and said: "Gentlemen of the jury, I thank you from the depths of my heart. It was a just verdict and I thank you." Then he shook hands with his attorney.

Norris was charged as one of two men who robbed Manuel Madariaga and Candido de La Torre at the Western Hills Hotel Oct. 3. The Cubans testified they came to this country to buy arms for a revolution.

Sam Cresap, 41, and Floyd Hill also are charged in the robbery. Hill escaped county jail Feb. 18 and hasn't been caught.

Norris Acquitted In Robbery Case

FORT WORTH (AP)—Gene Paul Norris, 31, waited today to see whether a revoked parole would send him back to prison even though he was found innocent of robbing two exiled Cubans of $248,000.

Norris was acquitted yesterday of the robbery charge by a jury that deliberated three hours.

Norris stood up and said: "Gentlemen of the jury, I thank you from the depths of my heart. It was a just verdict and I thank you." Then he shook hands with his attorney.

Norris was charged as one of two men who robbed Manuel Madariaga and Candido de La Torre at the Western Hills Hotel Oct. 3. The Cubans testified they came to this country to buy arms for a revolution.

Sam Cresap, 41, and Floyd Hill also are charged in the robbery. Hill escaped county jail Feb. 18 and hasn't been caught.

San Antonio Oil Men Are Fined $20,000

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Gravis and Mitchell, San Antonio oil producing partnership charged with running 218,000 barrels of oil in violation of the Comstock hot oil act, has been fined $20,000.

Federal Judge Skelly Wright imposed the fine yesterday, $200 on each count of a 100-count criminal bill. The partnership and three individuals entered pleas of no defense.

Sentence will be passed May 13 on William Pickett of Baton Rouge, James Cox and Mervin Bourque, both of St. Gabriel, La.

The government contended that 218,000 barrels of oil produced in the St. Gabriel field near Baton Rouge from 1946 to March, 1952, were credited to deficient wells in the field.

JUST WAITING FOR THE WIFE TO COOL OFF

The man sitting in a parked car at a residential address last night probably was longing for his pipe and slippers.

Police received a report he appeared to be either sick or drunk.

No, the man said when they investigated. He'd had a fuss with his wife and was waiting for her to cool off so he could go home.

Rudolph Martinez Draws Life Term

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Rudolph Martinez, 43, faced life imprisonment today after conviction of murder with malice in the shooting of his daughter.

A jury took three hours and 55 minutes yesterday to agree in the case. The former Wichita Falls dry-cleaning plant employee was charged with the slaying of his daughter, Dora, 18, on a rural road near here last June.

Light Showers Fall In Central Texas

By The Associated Press

Light showers fell in Central Texas early Friday and more were promised by the Weather Bureau Saturday in the south central areas.

Otherwise, forecasts said, the state would remain dry and only partly cloudy.

A racing cool front reached the Gulf Coast and left slightly cooler temperatures over much of the state. But they could still be called "mild."

Dawn temperatures ranged from Dabhart's icy 22 degrees to 72 at Alice and Brownsville. West Texas readings were generally in the 50s and 60s while other temperatures were in the 60s and 70s.

solution to the question of repatriation.

Peiping quoted Nam as saying "the Korean and Chinese side does not acknowledge that there are prisoners of war who are allegedly unwilling to be repatriated. Therefore, the question of the so-called forced repatriation, or repatriation by force, does not exist at all, and we always have opposed this assertion."

Previously the Communists had demanded the forced repatriation of all prisoners, and the Allies had insisted that no prisoner should be forced to go home against his will.

The Communist proposal was similar to the India plan approved overwhelmingly by 54 of 60 nations in the U. N. Dec. 3 but rejected by the Reds.

However, while Chou's proposal seemed to move toward the principle of voluntary repatriation, it did not go as far as the India plan.

Chou suggested that the reluctant POWs in custody of a neutral state could be told by their own people what their decision to refuse repatriation meant. He did not say what would happen after that. He stressed, however, that the Reds were not abandoning their position on final repatriation.

Under the India plan, the prisoners would be given a chance to listen to both sides but would not have to go home against their will.

Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. Far East commander, asked the Reds Sunday for full details of the Chou plan. This was one of two conditions he set for resuming full armistice negotiations. The other was agreement—now reached—on exchanging disabled prisoners.

The Allies had expressed disappointment on the small number of prisoners to be returned by the Reds. But they did not let this disappointment block an agreement.

In all, the Reds say they hold about 13,000 Allied prisoners, including 3,198 Americans, about 1,000 other non-Koreans, mostly British, and about 9,000 South Koreans.

Restrictions On Wheat May Be Noted In Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government crop report ready for issuance today may give growers an indication whether federal restrictions are likely on the production and marketing of wheat in 1954.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said that, because of big reserve supplies, he may find it necessary to impose controls on next year's crop to prevent the accumulation of excessive surpluses.

His decision will depend on how this year's wheat crop turns out. It does not have to be even as large as average to bring on controls.

Due from the federal crop reporting board at 2 p.m. (CST) was a forecast on the size of the winter wheat crop. A figure close to or above the 611-million bushel below-average forecast of last December would make production controls next year likely.

This possibility assumes the spring wheat portion of the crop will be close to the 310 million bushels the crop board said was in prospect on the basis of a recent planting survey. The next spring wheat forecast will be made June 10.

Farm laws give Benson until July 1 to decide whether he will propose rigid marketing quotas and until July 15 on the less restrictive acreage allotments. Quotas have not been applied to wheat since 1943 and in that year they were suspended before the season was over. Acreage allotments were applied in 1951, but were later suspended.

Pirates Humiliate Champs At Pittsburgh, 10 To 5

By BEN PHILEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates were enjoying a hearty laugh today after meeting and conquering the vaunted New York Yankees.

They not only conquered the world champions, they humiliated them in what one New York writer was moved to describe as a battle between the worst and best major league teams without being able to tell which was which.

The score at Forbes Field was 10-5 with eight fat Pittsburgh runs coming off the high priced slants of Vic Raschi, one of the prides of the Yankees.

Ralph Kiner, Cal Abrams and Danny O'Connell slashed home runs off Raschi before the fast balling right hander look cover after seven innings. In all, the Pirates got 13 hits off Raschi and two more off relief man Tom Gorman.

A tremendous home run over the roof of the double deck right field stands by Mickey Mantle was the only solace for the Yankees.

The Athletics plited their best against their intercity rivals' best at Portsmouth, Va., yesterday and came out on the short end as Robin Roberts pitched a five hit shutout for the Phillies and won, 4-0. Bobby Shantz gave up only two hits and struck out seven in the five innings he worked for the Athletics, but he gave up the first of the Phils runs and was charged with the loss.

The new Milwaukee Braves got in only two innings against their former city rivals, the Boston Red Sox, and were trailing, 3-0, when a heavy drizzle put an end to the proceedings at Milwaukee.

Cincinnati, which announced yesterday that it intended to be called the Redlegs instead of the Reds this season, belted five home runs off Ned Garver and defeated Detroit, 13-3, at Columbus, Ohio.

At Kingsport, Tenn., the New York Giants picked on the offerings of Bobby Feller for seven runs in the first six innings and outlasted the Cleveland Indians, 7-6.

Against Southern Association opposition the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Memphis Chickies, 12-5, and the Chicago White Sox blanked Atlanta, 7-0.

In a night game the Brooklyn Dodgers committed four errors as they lost their second straight to the Senators at Washington, 6-4.

The St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox called off their game in Kansas City because of wet grounds and cold weather.

Grimes Returned To Roswell Nine

Buddy Grimes, former outfielder for the Big Spring Broncs, has been returned to the Roswell Rockets by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Grimes was purchased conditionally following the 1952 season.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

There's a report making the rounds that Billy Maxwell may take a professional golfing job in Houston, after he leaves the service.

Billy's good enough to make the nation-wide tour with the pros and come out ahead.

Hack Miller, the field boss of the Big Spring Broncs, says he may carry as many as seven pitchers, which means there'll be no spare infielders or outfielders and only one extra backstop.

Most of the hurlers on the local club can play the outfield, though, and Hack himself can fill in at first base, behind the plate or in the outfield, as well as take his regular turn on the mound.

Fred Parker, a regular on the Odessa mound staff last year, is now tooling for the Artesia Drillers.

Weldon Bigony, the one-time Big Spring High School and Baylor University football back, will return to his job as a pilot for the Chinese Air Lines in a couple of weeks.

He's been taking it easy on his father's farm near here for the past couple of months. He has been living in Tokyo but will move to Formosa upon his return to the Far East.

The real long shot in the Kentucky Derby's Winter book is a gee-gee by the name of Far Echo. You can risk a buck on him and be returned $1,000 should he lead the pack in the Run For The Roses next month.

Lafayette Norwood, the Negro speedster who gave the HCJC Jayhaws so much trouble in the recent National Juco Basketball Tournament, has been compared favorably to the Harlem Globe Trotters' famed Marques Haynes. He reportedly has been offered a job by Abe Saperstein's touring pros.

Incidentally, the Weber, Utah, JC team—which is coached by the NJCAA proxy, Reed Swenson—may play here again next season. Swenson is thinking of booking another Southwestern tour.

He would enter his club in the Howard College Tournament in January if it's possible to include it on Weber's schedule.

Why is it a basketball player can foul out in one game after another and nothing is ever said about it; yet a sligma surrounds the footballer ushered to the sidelines for the same reason?

The Los Angeles Rams were football top draw last year with a paid turnout of $25,000, yet only ranked fourth in earnings among the pro clubs.

Reason: The Coast eleven offers its followers the lowest ticket scale in the National Football League.

One of the best independent baseball teams ever fielded in these parts was the Loraine outfit of about two decades ago, managed by Bee Walker, now of Our Town.

Steers' Seek Initial Win In Midland Game Today

Charley Rose was set to go moundward for the Big Spring High School Steers in their District 2 baseball game with the Midland Bulldogs in Midland this afternoon.

Both teams lost their opening conference games. Big Spring was routed by San Angelo, 16-0, while Midland was humbled by Odessa, 12-2.

Loser of today's game may be relegated to the loop cellar.

Roy Baird, local coach, has been experimenting with his lineup and the locals may take the field with Bobby Hayworth in left field and Jinggy Hollis at third base. Jimmy Fierro could play third, however, and either Bobby Phillips or Hollis at second.

Raymond Gisttap will do the catching for Big Spring, with Ted Sedff at first, Tommy McAdams at short and Ronnie Wooten and Wayne Medlin in the other two outfield positions.

Plainview Rips Broncs, 14-8

A power-packed Plainview team bowled over the Big Spring Broncs, 14-8, in a lengthy exhibition tilt played here Thursday night.

Big Spring's attack misfired several times and never got rolling until the seventh inning. By then, it was much too late. The Ponies from the WT-NW League had built up a ten-run advantage by that time.

Don Stokes paced the Plainview offensive with five blistering hits, banged all fields.

Jake McClain again paced the Broncs with the mace with three safeties.

Oscar Reguerra started on the mound and did reasonably well until the sixth, when the visitors ganged up on him for seven runs.

The two teams play again tonight in Ballinger, where the Ponies are conducting spring workouts.

Ex-Neighbors Vie In SWC Skirmish

FORT WORTH (AP)—Two promising soph hurlers, former neighbors, will match pitches this week end when Texas A&M and Texas Christian University play a Southwest Conference baseball game.

The young hurlers are Tommy Hill of the Horned Frogs and the Hargrove of the Aggies. They grew up a block apart in Burleson, near here, and used to round up teams for a game every Saturday.

Oklahoma Wins 91-B Track, Field Meet

Frizzell Top Point Getter

Stanton's crack mile relay team caught Coahoma at the wire to win that event but Fred Salling's Bulldogs won team honors in the annual District 91-B track and field meet here Thursday afternoon.

Coahoma scored 43 1/2 points to 41 1/2 for Stanton, the closest finish in the history of the meet. Garden City was third with 27 5/8 points and had the meet's high point man, Bobby Frizzell, who scored 12 points. Forsan was fourth with 25 1/2, Knott fifth with 4 and Sterling City sixth with 3.

Coahoma led Stanton by 2 1/2 points going into the mile relay and appeared to have that race won but the Martin County Bulldogs benefitted by a great stretch run on the part of Eldon Hopkins to nip the Bulldogs.

Coahoma also won the junior meet held in conjunction with the senior show, scoring 49 1/2 points. Stanton was second with 22 1/2, followed by Garden City with 16 1/2. Forsan and Sterling City tied for fourth place, each with 10 1/2 points.

Ralph Wilkerson, Coahoma, was high point man in the junior division with 13 points.

Tangle At Second

Brooklyn Dodgers' Pee Wee Reese and New York Yankees' Billy Martin collide at second base when Reese stole second in the third inning of an exhibition game at St. Petersburg, Fla. Catcher Yogi Berra's throw got away from Martin. Reese was shaken up but continued play. The Yanks won 4-2. (AP Wirephoto).

Loop Openers Draw 22,658

The Texas League opening will be completed tonight when San Antonio and Beaumont clash at Beaumont. The six other clubs, having gotten in their first ticks, are interested onlookers only.

Negro stars stood out in opening games Thursday night, furnishing the punch that won two of the three contests.

Buzz Clarkson, Dallas Negro third baseman, lashed a three-run homer that put his team back in the ball game and enabled it to go on to a 5-4 victory over Fort Worth. Al Stringer drove in the winning run in the ninth with a single.

Charles Harmon, first Negro ever to play for Tulsa, singled in two runs in the third inning and that was the margin as the Oilers whipped Oklahoma City, 2-0. Ed Varhelyi limited Oklahoma City to two hits.

At Houston, Shreveport's defending league champions eased to a 3-2 victory on the steady pitching of Hugh Sooter. The Sport right-hander was nicked for nine hits but tightened up when the going got rough.

The first three games drew 22,658, a couple of thousand more than had been predicted. Dallas had 9,598 to take a 1000 lead in the race for the opening day attendance trophy. Houston attracted 8,560. Tulsa drew 4,500, which was almost 1,000 under last year's opener. But Dallas and Houston combined were more than 4,000 ahead of 1952.

There are five more games to play before the first round of openers is completed. After tonight's San Antonio-Beaumont contest, expected to draw around 9,000, the clubs play the same stands tomorrow night. Sunday Dallas goes to Oklahoma City, Tulsa at Fort Worth, Houston to San Antonio and Beaumont to Shreveport that will complete the opening round.

LONGHORNS RUN IN DISTRICT MEET

The Big Spring High School track and field team leave for Odessa and the district meet Saturday, prepared to make their best effort of the year.

Any boy who scores a point in district competition earns a track letter, so the boys will go all out. Only those who finish as high as second place in any event will get to make the trip to the regional. Relay teams, of course, must finish first in order to make the trip to the regional.

Those who will make the trip, and the events in which they will compete, are:

100-Yard Dash — J. C. Armistead, Louis Stipp and Billy Martin.

200-Yard Dash — Brick Johnson, Stipp and Jerry Hughes.

440-Yard Run — Johnson, Don Swinney and Jerry Hayes.

880-Yard Run — Kirk Faulkner, Melvin Brown and Wiley Wise.

1 Mile Run — Birdwell, McEneath and Liberty.

High Hurdles — Brown, Jimmy Porter and Ernie Kennedy.

Low Hurdles — Same boys.

Discus — Carlisle Robison, Buddy Cosby.

Shot Put — Jimmy Ellison, Jimmy Slate and Billy Earley.

Broad Jump — Martin, Swinney and Hughes.

Pole Vault — None.

Odessa is slightly favored to win team honors but strong competition can be expected from Midland, which is fielding one of its best teams in recent years.

Beau Meets Sandy In Sub Battle

NEW YORK (U-P) — In case you haven't heard or have been away on a long trip, don't be surprised when Rocky Sandy and Jimmy Beau pop up on your television screen tonight instead of Rocky Marciano and Jersey Joe Walcott.

Tonight was the original date for the heavyweight title return bout in Chicago Stadium. But an injury to Rocky's nose forced a postponement until May 15.

Sandy, a skiffy, 22-year-old New York middleweight, meets Beau, of New Canaan, Conn., in the main ten-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena. Sandy is 9-to-5 choice to beat his heavier and more experienced rival.

The bout will start at 9 p. m., CST, and will be telecast (NBC) and broadcast (ABC) over the same networks that would have carried the big heavyweight fight.

TCU Cagers Open Drills Monday

FORT WORTH (U-P) — The Texas Christian basketball squad will open spring training Monday minus only two veterans from last season's Southwest Conference championships.

Missing will be Dick Allen at forward and Johnny Swain at guard.

In addition to 16 lettermen there will be two squadmen and eight members of the freshman team.

Cayuses, Carswell Tangle Saturday

Hack Miller and his Big Spring Broncs set up shop for a single game here this week end, before leaving for a trip to the West.

The Cayuses host the powerful Carswell Air Base team of Fort Worth in an 8 p. m. game Saturday at Steer Park. Carswell has been playing Southwest Conference and Big League teams in exhibition and more than holding its own.

On Sunday, the Steeds go to New Mexico. They play Roswell Sunday afternoon and Carlsbad on Monday and Tuesday nights. They are also booked to appear in Midland prior to returning here on Thursday.

Miller is still experimenting with his lineup. His mound staff is chusing him some worry but he reasons the hurlers will come around in time. Every other team is plagued with similar woes, he points out.

Gross Entered In Kansas Meet

LAWRENCE, Kan. (U-P) — No Kansas Relays' discus-thrower ever has threatened the record of 171 feet 6 1/2 inches Indiana's Archie Harris erected here 12 years ago. But the 28th games likely will produce a jeopordizer in the towering form of Texas A&M's Darrow Hooper.

The sneaky Cadet will come into Memorial Stadium April 18 aiming at the first relays' discus-shot put triple crown in history. Beyond that he poses a genuine threat to Harris' standard.

Last May, Hooper broke the Southwest Conference mark of his Aggie predecessor, George Kaderza, with a scale of 170-9. He already has launched throws of 165-1 and 168-9 this year in winning the dual Border Olympics at Laredo and an A&M-Texas dual last Saturday in Corpus Christi.

There will be four other creditable platter-men from the Southwest here to scrap for the place and show spots. This roster includes Nick Spillios, Houston; Jim Samuelson, Texas; Ray Burrus, West Texas State, and Bobby Groves, Texas A&M, sophomore from Big Spring.

Samuelson reached 148-0 to trail Hooper's 158-4 cast at the Texas Relays. Burrus hit 146-4; Spillios 146-1 1/2 and Groves, 143-7 1/2, in the same meet. Spillios managed 149-3 to place second at the Border Olympics and hit 15-8 last spring for a Missouri Valley record. Groves reached 148-0 for third at Laredo last month.

PLATOON PLAN TO BE USED

AUSTIN (U-P) — Texas high schools may use the liberal platoon system substitution rules in football games this fall, the interscholastic League said today.

The league said administrators of Texas schools playing 11-man football in the League competition voted overwhelmingly to reject the restricted substitution rules set up by the NCAA to govern collegiate football this fall.

Ballots were sent to the administrators and faculty members known today by James Raddy, chairman of the league's State Executive Committee.

Yanks, Dodgers Are Favorites

NEW YORK (U-P) — If the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers meet in the World Series again this fall don't be surprised to give in fair waiting. An Associated Press poll of the Baseball Writers' Association shows the experts are stringing along with last year's major league winners.

The Dodgers got the biggest vote as 105 of the 142 participating writers selected them to fly the National League championship colors for the third time in five years.

Harbert Boasts A Stroke Lead In Augusta Play

AUGUSTA, Ga. (U-P) — Chick Harbert, who has 35 years of golf behind him at the age of 38, hopes he can win the 11th Masters Tournament and at long last break into the inner circle of golf champions.

In 14 years as a professional, the World War II Air Force veteran has been in the almost-but-not-quite category when it came to the big ones.

The brawny Detroit pro, an all-around athlete in high school and college, shot an early four-under-par 68 in yesterday's opening round and sweated it out all day as favorites such as Sam Snead, Ben Hogan and Lloyd Mangrum tried to overtake him.

He held a one-stroke lead at the start of today's second round. Tied for second with 69 were Ed (Porky) Oliver and tall Al Besse-link, who like Harbert are long off the tee and always dangerous contenders.

Hogan needed only to par the last two holes to tie Harbert for the lead, but the 1951 Masters champion missed short putts on both and had to settle for a 70. Hogan and Milton Marusic were tied for fourth.

Snead shot a 70, too, but his playing partner, Byron Nelson, made a mistake in keeping score and gave him a par four on the 18th instead of the three he actually scored with a fine chip shot that hit the cup.

Snead signed the card without noticing the error. There was a lot of excited discussion when the mistake was caught, and the officials ruled Snead had to take a 71 if he wanted to continue his pursuit of his second consecutive Masters' victory.

Tied with Snead for sixth were Ted Kroll, Bob Hamilton and Tommy Bolt.

Marusic, another ex-serviceman who has never been able to hit the bigtime in golf, carded a brilliant four-under-32 on the front nine but trouble with his drives sent him soaring to a 38 on the back side.

"I was just playing over my head going out," said the slender Herkimer, N. Y., pro. "Starting out I was really sticking my drives in there and first thing you know I'm three under with birdies on the first three holes. Then a little later I sank a 20-footer for another."

A record opening day crowd of 5,000 was on hand.

The 6,900-yard Augusta National Golf Club course was swept by a bit of wind but not enough to play havoc with the scores. The bright sun was blistering hot. Par is 36-72.

Only three strokes separated the low-nine players, and another stroke back at par were amateurs Dick Chapman and Frank Strazaban and Pro Skip Alexander.

Korean War would be over by December, 1950.

MacArthur said he knew of no report by MacArthur to this effect, but said he got that impression while attending the Wake Island conference between MacArthur and then President Truman in October, 1950.

And he said this was the general thinking at the time both in Washington and the Far East. MacArthur later was removed by Truman from his Far Eastern command in a clash over the conduct of the war.

After the Chinese entered the war in November, 1950, MacArthur told interviewers his winter offensive was launched Oct. 20 in the hope it would "prove decisive action." When the Chinese came in, he said, Korea became "a new war with a new opponent and a new army."

Lovett told the subcommittee two days ago the responsibility for ammunition shortages would have to be assigned to the Army as a whole.

But Stymington, former secretary of the Air Force, who took part in the hearing at the invitation of fellow senators, said he was astonished Lovett had "dumped" responsibility primarily on the Army to the exclusion of the Defense Department.

Loss Of 2 Billfolds Reported To Police

Loss of two billfolds containing undisclosed amounts of money was reported to police today.

Morris Patterson reported losing his wallet near the First National Bank Thursday afternoon. L. I. Stewart said his billfold was lost in the east part of the business district, also Thursday.

Reveal Baby's Birth

A seven-pound, five-ounce son was born at 3 a. m. today to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon G. Cordson, West-Porte, Colo.

The youngster is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McClenny, Big Spring. His mother is the former Louise McClenny.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cordson of La-La-Purte, Colo.

Couple Is Arrested

A married couple was arrested by sheriff's officials Thursday evening on charges of theft. They allegedly took a glass bottle, an ice tray and light bulbs from a local tourist court. Goods which were stolen are valued at $4.

Pike Funeral Is Set Today

Last rites were to be said at 4 p. m. today at the Eberley-River Chapel for Frank Pike, 37, former Big Spring resident.

Pilot Who Downed MIG From Slower F-80 Due DFC Cluster

A pilot who achieved the feat of downing a MIG while flying an F-80 will receive a third cluster to the Distinguished Flying Cross here Saturday.

He is Capt. Thomas D. Alexander. The presentation will be one of four DFCs Col. Ernest F. Wackwitz Jr., base commander, will make at wing review ceremonies at Webb AFB Saturday. The four receiving awards are Korean combat returnees.

Capt. Alexander completed 102 missions as an F-80 Shooting Star pilot. He spent eight months building up time for the 100 missions required for rotation to the States. His plane was supposed to be a match for the MIG, which is rated at 100 mph faster, but he came out on the long end of the score.

Said Capt. Alexander "A pair of MIGs hopped up from 25,000 feet. We were flying at about 15,000 feet when they started their attack from four miles out. He opened up with his cannon well out of range, probably 4,200 feet from me. I let him get within 1,500 feet and then gave him all I had. "It really surprised the MIG pilot. He must have thought I was going away from him instead of closing in. The distance made it hard to ascertain. The surprise of the MIG was evident because the pilot pulled the nose up slightly and the ship wavered. It was at this point that my .50 caliber burst started hitting his belly. Five-second hits showed up in the gun camera film because you could see the explosions.

"He started smoking and broke away 800 feet from me. His wing man swooped by seconds later and I fired a burst at him, but I had started turning and my angle made hitting him an impossibility. No one saw the first one crash, so all I can get is a probable," Capt. Alexander said.

The captain participated mainly in interdiction combat, which is bombing troop positions, rail lines, and supply dumps. He is credited with having destroyed two locomotives and 80 trucks on the highways. "We couldn't count them unless they burned," added Capt. Alexander.

There's no doubt the F-80s are making it rough for Communist troops in Korea. When fully loaded the fighters carry more weight in bombs than did the B-17 in World War II. When the tip tanks are left off, two extra 1,000-pound bombs can be carried. This added to the regular two 1,000-pounders gives the aircraft an effect of a flying arsenal — four 1,000-pound bombs and six .50 caliber machineguns. That's enough to make any Communist duck his head.

The captain's plane was hit by ground fire on three different occasions. "One time they blew up the leading edge on my wing," said Alexander, "but there was one incident that really was a close call. An explosive shell hit in the cockpit and shrapnel ripped up through the seat and lodged in my parachute, that's about as close as I care to have them come," he said smiling.

Capt. Alexander is making the Air Force's career. He received his wings at Victoria, Texas, in 1945. The fighter pilot holds the DFC and two clusters, three Air Medals, Japanese Occupation Ribbon, and the Korean Theater Ribbon.

The captain is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Monford W. Alexander of Napoleon, Ind. He has been stationed at Webb for one year since returning from Korea.

Defense Takes Over In Hernandez Trial

Defense witnesses took over this morning in the trial of Eloy Hernandez on charges of murder. The state, which had nine witnesses, presented all its evidence by 9:30 a. m.

Actual testimony has been underway to the trial since about 3 p. m. Thursday. Hernandez is charged with the slaying of Valentino Parras, who died as a result of a stab wound.

Six state's witnesses took the stand Thursday. Two of the witnesses were in the northside pool hall, where the stabbing allegedly took place.

Charlie Ferrer, 19-year-old Latin American, stated that he was in the pool hall and saw Valentino Parras hit Hernandez. He said that Hernandez then got up and ran out the door, with Parras after him.

Pierro said he later went outside and saw Parras under a truck and that he seemed to be moving. Ferrer said he saw blood around Parras, but that he (Pierro) went to the show.

Rudy Ochoa, airman from Webb, testified he saw a PA of people around the body of Hernandez in the street, and that an ambulance picked Parras up.

Della Garcia testified that she was riding a cab which Parras got in near the pool hall. She said he had a knife in his hand. He got out of the cab after riding about three blocks, she said.

Albert Brown, city policeman, stated that he took the defendant into custody and found a small knife on him. A knife which he identified as belonging to Hernandez was presented in evidence. Brown also stated that Hernandez's brother brought the defendant to the officers and said, "My brother stuck a man."

Pictures taken by C. C. Aaron, city detective, were admitted in evidence. They showed blood on the sidewalk about the Casa Grande pool hall and inside the establishment.

Coy Nalley testified that Parras had a wound in his chest next to the sternum. He said he picked up Parras, who was still living, near the Casa Grande. He said Parras was in the street. He died before arrival at hospital.

Hernandez's brother testified that the defendant said he had stuck a man with a knife on the evening of Parras' death. Sheriff Jess Rlaughter testified that the pool hall was closed that night and stayed closed. David Parras, brother of the dead man, said Valentino Parras was weak and sickly.

This morning Joe Lopez was the first witness for the defense. He said that he saw a fight and that Parras hit Hernandez and then kicked him between the legs. He said Hernandez got up and ran for the door and that Parras ran after him and kicked him again.

Andres Gamboa, who was running the pool hall the night of the incident, testified that Parras cursed Hernandez. He said he was with Hernandez when the latter was arrested, and that police took a knife from Hernandez.

Two depositions taken from boys now at Gatesville State School for boys were admitted as evidence. Both boys were in the pool hall when the scuffle occurred. Both testified that Parras and Hernandez were in a crap game at the time. They said that Hernandez made his "point" and that Parras didn't see it.

They said that Parras kicked Hernandez and chased the defendant out the door. Neither saw a knife.

Midwest Storms Kill Two On Way To East, South

By The Associated Press
Early spring wind and rain storms spread into the East and South today after sweeping across Illinois and Indiana Thursday night, killing two persons and injuring 30.

The storms lessened in severity as they moved into Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Western New York, Pennsylvania and the Central Appalachians.

Small tornadoes skipped across East Central Illinois and Indiana to the Ohio border. The twisters flattened houses and trees in several small communities and rural areas in both states.

The area near Albany, Ind., 12 miles northeast of Muncie, appeared the hardest hit. Mrs. Stella Green, 47, and her son, Arnold, 10, were killed when their small frame home was demolished. Three others in the family were injured. A dozen other persons in Albany were injured.

Eight persons were hurt in the tornado which struck north of Danville, Ill., while two others were injured as tornadic winds hit Lincoln, Ill.

The strong winds and tornadoes were accompanied by heavy rain and by hail in some places. The twisters were part of a fast-moving storm which developed in the Central Plains states and extended over the Great Lakes region, Ohio Valley and Upper Mississippi Valley.

Strong winds continued today throughout the Great Lakes region and the Upper Mississippi Valley with considerably colder air sweeping in from the West and North across the mid-continent. Rain fell in much of Michigan and Wisconsin while snow was reported in Minnesota and the Dakotas. Storm warnings had been posted on all the Great Lakes.

Showers hit the South Atlantic States and Lower Mississippi Valley.

In the West, light showers fell along the Pacific Coast. Snow fell in the Rockies.

Court Fight Looms Over Foundation

By The Associated Press
A court fight over some $538,000 from the Buchanan Foundation of Texarkana loomed larger Friday.

The money has been earmarked by the foundation's trustees for a University of Arkansas medical center in Little Rock, Ark., and the Southwestern Medical School branch of the University of Texas at Dallas.

The schools were named as defendants Thursday in an amended suit filed by Texas Attorney Gen. John Ben Shepperd.

The amended suit seeks an interpretation of intent in establishing a trust for charitable purposes by William Buchanan of Texarkana.

Shepperd filed the amended petition in 102nd District Court, Bowie County. It asks the court to enjoin foundation trustees from fulfilling commitments of $500,000 to the Arkansas school and $38,000 to the University of Texas.

Shepperd contends that since the trust was created 23 years ago, the only things spent in Bowie and adjoining counties totaled but $25,728. The petition said Buchanan intended the trust fund to be used primarily in the Texarkana-Bowie County area.

The universities showed signs of fight to make sure they got the money the foundation trustees had earmarked for them.

West Scientists May Lower Age Of Earth

by MICHAEL NEWMARCH
LONDON (AP)—Cosmic ray calculations by Dr. Fred Singer, scientific liaison officer at the U. S. Embassy here, may lead Western scientists to reduce their estimate of earth's age—just when the Soviet Union has raised it.

Most Western scientists long have reckoned our world has been circling the sun for some three billion years. That's wrong, Moscow radio announced recently. It said a Soviet scientist identified only as Vinogradov, has just proved the earth is at least five billion years old. The radio did not say how Vinogradov managed to do this.

Singer, who comes from Phoenix, Ariz., is a cosmic ray expert who claims no special knowledge about the time this planet has been in circulation.

But British scientists following up Singer's cosmic ray studies believe he has produced data that will help date the earth's oldest rocks. This "promises to throw new light on the question of the age of the earth," British physicist Dr. E. P. George said in the publication Science News.

Many British scientists think a revision will be necessary, but they will not be proved right—or wrong—for some time. It will take several years to complete all the experimental measurements based on Singer's method.

The standard way of dating the earth's age is to measure the amount of helium found in the earliest known rocks, once a mass of hot, radioactive atoms. Helium is the end product of radioactive decay.

But the earth obtains helium from another source. This planet is continuously bombarded by cosmic rays, mysterious radiation from outer space. Much of this radiation consists of, or turns into, helium.

Previously, there has been no way of distinguishing the helium which is decayed uranium from the helium that has been added over the ages by cosmic radiation.

Now Singer has worked out a way of doing just that, his calculations are based on tracing a specific isotope of helium found only in cosmic rays.

Unlike some British scientists, Singer does not think his method will lead to any significant change in dating the age of the earth.

"Not enough radiation reaches buried rocks to make any real difference," he said. "My method is really significant when applied to meteorites, not the earth's crust."

No Big Changes In Bracero Pact As Talks Over

MEXICO CITY (AP)—U. S. and Mexican negotiations on the bracero (farm labor) treaty ended yesterday. No major changes resulted.

The Foreign Ministry said the discussions that began March 23 were amicable and satisfactory, although neither side won any of their major demands.

The treaty was not subject to change, as it has until Dec. 31 to run. The current sessions were called mainly to clarify several controversial points.

Major issues were wages, insurance and contract renewals affecting the 250,000 or so Mexican laborers who will work legally in the U. S. this year.

Mexico wanted these things:
1. Revision upward of the "prevailing wage" paid Mexicans, if wages, for any reason, increase in the area where they are working.
2. All Mexican workers be covered by insurance from the time they enter the U. S. until they leave. They are covered now only while working.

3. Any shift of workers from one job to another be confirmed in writing by a Mexican consul.

The U. S. among other things wanted Mexican recruiting stations closer to the border in order to speed up the program.

In all, Mexico requested that 13 points of the agreement be clarified. The U. S. wanted to discuss seven points.

Discussions will be continued on several issues by the U. S. embassy and the Mexican Foreign Office. Other points will be studied in detail by specialists.

Settlement Of Bus Strike Being Sought

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Federal mediation conciliators meet with representatives of the Union Bus Lines and their striking drivers and mechanics today in an effort to settle a walkout that began last Jan. 1.

The meeting was called for 2 p. m.

The strike has idled about 70 employees of the line, which operates between San Antonio and Rio Grande Valley points.

J. W. Connolly, international vice president of the Motor Coach Employers Union (AFU), said last night that the union asked a pay boost of one cent a mile for drivers. The company countered with an offer of a gradual pay raise which would amount to half a cent per mile at the end of the year, he said.

Youths Prevented In Try To Cash Check

COLORADO CITY — Two Colorado City youngsters' dream of glory came to an abrupt end Monday afternoon, when an alert bank official turned down a request for cash on a $1,908.91 check, and called police.

The two—a nine-year-old boy and his 11-year-old sister had allegedly raked a letter from under a Postoffice window Sunday. It was addressed to Farris Lipps, Box 1071. They had then opened the letter, removed the check, remailed the letter and then Monday afternoon, the boy had knocked on the back door of the bank and asked for cash on the check.

Kenn Eastin, cashier of the City National Bank, said that officials were naturally curious when a youngster of school age attempted to cash a check in that amount—especially since the check was not made to him.

Lipps, treasurer of the Mitchell County Polio fund, says the check was a transfer of funds from the March of Dimes drive to the local polio fund. He says he received the letter Monday morning and called the matter, who stopped payment on the check. The check was mailed Saturday, according to Lipps.

Colorado City police say that action is not contemplated by their office.

"I think the matter will be left to postal authorities," said Chief of Police Sam Hulme, who added that Postmaster Sims Palmer had notified postal inspectors of the offense. Hulme noted that several boxes of ammunition had been recovered from the home of the two children when they were questioned. "It was taken from the bottom floor of the jail and belongs to the National Guard, Hulme said.

According to police the youngsters said they did it for "dad" who— they say—is dodging police in Oklahoma. The mother is unemployed. Local civic groups are attempting to place the children in a boy's ranch and a girl's home.

700 STILL PENDING PAYMENT

Most 'Hot Checks' Are Paid Off After Passing In County

Hot checks totaling approximately $60,000 will be passed in Howard County during 1953.

And as the average hot check is around $12 somewhere near 5,000 of the worthless instruments will be circulated.

At the present time there are about 700 such checks on file in the County Attorney's office which are pending further developments. Charges will be filed against some people who passed checks which are in the "pending" file.

But many of the checks will be paid off and forgotten.

So far this year there have been 45 people charged with passing worthless checks. And charges are filed only as a last resort, when every other means to obtain payment fails.

Not many of the individuals charged have escaped the arm of the law, either. Sheriff Jess Slaughter and his crew have been responsible for 365 arrests since Jan. 1. Thirteen people have been charged with forgery since the beginning of the year, and eight of those charged have been arrested. The $50,000 estimate for 1953 hot check losses in the county was made by the local Retail Merchants' Association. District Attorney Elton Gilliland stated that the figure was "just about what it will be."

Actually there is no way to tell just how many hot checks will be in circulation this year. It is believed that only one out of a hundred passed comes to the attention of the authorities.

County Attorney Hartman Hooser believes that between 80 and 95 per cent of the "hot checks" turned over to him are paid off before prosecution becomes necessary.

The County Attorney's office is the first place a merchant "stuck" with a hot check heads for. There he usually talks to Mrs. Marylene Weir, Hooser's secretary.

According to Hooser and Gilliland, there isn't too much that Mrs. Weir doesn't know about "hot checking." She is the one who sets machinery in motion for arrest of the passer or for payment of check.

Since it costs the county quite a bit to hold jury trials in cases of hot checks, Mrs. Weir always tries to get the check paid off. Besides, most merchants do not wish to prosecute — all they want is their money.

Letters are written to all those people who pass hot checks telling them that payment is expected. If payment does not come, then charges do. Most pay off when they realize a trial is in the offing.

However, Mrs. Weir now has a file containing 972 hot checks. Of these about 700 are pending payment. The rest are paid off checks.

Those checks which are paid off are kept on file so that a handwriting specimen will be on hand. It helps sheriff's officials when they have to make an arrest.

A hot check is one which is passed by an individual not having sufficient funds in the bank to cover it, according to Gilliland. It must be passed with intent to defraud.

MRS. MARYLENE WEIR
... Keeps "Hot Check" Record

that is for obtaining money, goods, service or labor.

"The gist of a hot check offense is an intent to defraud on the part of the giver," Gilliland said.

1st add Most Hot Checks—336 a The district attorney pointed out that a "hold check" is not a hot check. The reason for this is that the person giving the check does not make any claim to having money in the bank to cover the check.

A "hold check" is a promissory note, he said. The only way a merchant can prosecute a "hold check" is to complain of theft by false pretenses.

Once a merchant has filed charges against a person for giving a hot check it is against the law for him to even suggest that charges be dropped.

If a person passes a hot check under $5, charges are filed in Justice Court. Top fine is $200. Hot checks for more than $50 result in felony charges. The offender in the latter case can get from two to 10 years in prison plus a $10,000 fine.

Hot checks issued between $5 and $50 result in County Court charges. Maximum penalty is two years in jail and/or $1,000 fine.

All cases of forgery are filed in Justice Court for grand jury action. Penalty after being found guilty is from two to seven years in the penitentiary.

There are usually 100 hot check cases to every forgery, according to law enforcement officials.

About 75 forgery cases are filed in Howard County each year. However, Gilliland states that most forged checks are for fairly large amounts.

Sheriff Slaughter said merchants should watch checks on which the signature can't be read. He said merchants should not take checks when they do not know the person giving them either.

Deputy Dale Lane came up with a method of cutting down hot checks which he says has worked in other places. He believes each merchant should get an ink pad and require people cashing checks to give their thumb or index finger print on the back of the check.

"Nine times out of ten a man will not give a check under such circumstances if it is not good," he said. If the check is bad, the print can be used to find the passer.

Authorities have also noted that "changed" checks are quite often "hot." These are the checks where the bank name printed on the check has been marked off and another inserted.

Gilliland and Hooser warned that if a hot check is made on an out-of-state bank, there is nothing to do. Bank records from out of Texas cannot be brought into court, and the check cannot be proven "hot" without records. Therefore a merchant taking such a check usually loses his money.

Checks already endorsed should not be taken unless the parties are known, officials said. It was also pointed out that a good many printed checks made out with check writing machines are forgeries these days.

Strike 'Specialists' Said Being Sent To E. Reich From Italy

BONN, Germany (U—West Germany's weak Communist party is said to be importing "foreign specialists" in strikes and sabotage— from Italy especially—in a new effort to eclipse industrial production.

The German Industrial Institute reported today that these were the latest tactics of the party, which previously drew its "expert" saboteurs and agents from Russian-occupied East Germany.

The East zone imports have had little success so the new experts are being smuggled in from countries which have large, effective Communist parties, the report said.

Paul's Conversion at Damascus

JESUS APPEARED TO HIM, ASKING, "WHY PERSECUTEST THOU ME?"

Scripture—Acts 7:58—8:3; 9:1-50; 22:1-21; Colossians 1:24; Philippians 3:1-8.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.

NEXT WEEK—April 13-19—In National Sunday School Week, sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., the members of which "believe that the Sunday school is a great influence for good and that the training and inspiration which it gives to our boys and girls makes them better people and helps prepare for the responsibilities they will face as adults."

Today's lesson should give our young people something to think over because it tells of a fine, well-educated man who was obsessed by one idea—to destroy as quickly as possible some "upstarts" who were stirring people up with a new religion that threatened to supersede the old Jewish religion in which he had been carefully trained.

Converted to the new faith, however, he had the courage to espouse the cause with all the youthful enthusiasm he had shown before in fighting it, breaking with his old associates and fearlessly facing hatred, persecution and martyrdom.

We first see Paul watching impatiently—if not with pleasure—the stoning of that splendid martyr, St. Stephen, whose face, at his trial, was "as it had been the face of an angel." He did not join in the stoning, but "Saul was constantly to obey, but being told of what had befallen Saul on his journey, and how the Lord had chosen him "to bear My name before the Gentiles and kings, and the children of Israel," he gladly went to find him.

He went into the house, and putting his hands on Saul, said, "Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way, has sent me to thee, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost."

Immediately Saul was baptized. Saul stayed with the disciples for some days, and he preached the gospel in the synagogues, to the amazement of all who heard him.

The persecution that he hoped to inflict on the disciples now faced him. Certain Jews plotted to kill him, but the disciples took care of him. One night they let him down the wall of the house in a basket and he escaped and went to Jerusalem.

There Saul went to the disciples, expecting to join with them, but they distrusted his conversion. Barnabas took him to the Apostles, however, and told how Saul had been preaching boldly in Damascus in the name of Jesus, and then they accepted him as one of them.

"And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus and dissenting unto his death," and the maddened rabble laid down their clothes at his feet.

Then Saul, "breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priests." He asked them for letters to the synagogues at Damascus, so that he might search out any Christians in that city—men or women—and bring them bound to Jerusalem.

On his journey to Damascus, coming near the city, "suddenly there shined around about him a light from heaven." Saul fell to the earth and he heard a voice saying, "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou Me?"

"Who art Thou, Lord?" Saul asked, trembling and astonished.

"What wilt Thou have me do?"

And the answer was: "Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do." When Saul rose, he was blind, but his companions led him to the city where he was three days without sight, and neither ate nor drank.

In Damascus lived a disciple of Jesus named Ananias, and he saw Saul in a vision. He was told to go into the Street called Straight, and ask in a certain house for "one called Saul of Tarsus, for, behold, he prayeth."

Ananias had heard of this man who had made himself a terror to Christians, so he was a little doubtful.

puted against the Grecians, but they went about to slay him." When the apostles knew that they brought him to Caesarea and sent him to Tarsus, his native city.

Much later Saul, whom we now call Paul, faced death again at the hands of the Jews of Asia, who began beating him, but the chief captain of the Romans, with his soldiers rescued Paul and took him, bound, to the castle. As he was about to be led into the prison he asked the captain if he might speak to the people, telling the captain who he was, and the captain consented.

Then Paul spoke to the crowd which had been trying to kill him, talking in Hebrew. He told them where he was born and how, in Jerusalem, he had obtained his education from Gamaliel, a member of the Sanhedrin, and how he had been active in persecuting Christians, even standing by, consenting to the death of Stephen.

He told them of the vision he had when going to Damascus, and how he had been converted and ever since had been zealous in preaching and teaching the gospel of Christ, who had told him to preach to the Gentiles.

The courage to change our minds, no matter what others may think of us; and to speak out without fear the things we know to be true and right, are two of the lessons we may well learn from Paul's story.

How does LIFE get so TANGLED?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship, strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For the sake of his children's sake, (2) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Riding THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

J. R. Loag, dairyman from Midland County and one of the leaders in the fight against the Federal Milk Marketing Order effective in a 26-county West Texas area, was in Big Spring yesterday with a petition signed by 43 producers in this five-county zone indicating their opposition to the order.

The zone is composed of the counties of Howard, Ector, Midland, Dawson and Mitchell. The purpose of the petition is to ask a new hearing before the U. S. Department of Agriculture in which the cancellation of the order will be sought. The order is administered by the USDA's dairy division.

Loag says that one of the most unfair features of the order is that dairymen in this area are being required to pay for a milk surplus being produced in the Comanche area, since the order is also effective there. The March price of milk in this 26-county area was $6.84 per hundredweight for four percent butterfat, but the surplus milk being diverted to the cheese factories goes there at $3.50 per hundredweight. The price actually received by the West Texas dairymen is called a "blend" price, meaning that they lose the difference between the $6.84 and the $3.50 on all milk going into the manufacture of cheese.

The Comanche area has been regarded as a surplus area with this explanation. Some time back when there wasn't as much milk being produced as was being consumed in West Texas, the plants tried to get farmers out this way to go into the dairy business. Our farmers wouldn't interested. The plants had to have more milk, and so they persuaded farmers in the Comanche area to buy herds and go in for dairy farming which they did. Later farmers out this way decided that maybe it was a pretty good deal and that maybe they had overlooked a good bet, and so they bought some cows and went into the business, too.

As those who now oppose the order, explain the situation, there were soon too many dairymen and too many cows.

Loag says there are about 10 dairymen in the five-county zone who have not signed the petition asking a new hearing. It is being made clear, however, that the signing of the petition is not a vote against the order. The matter of voting will have to come later.

Deputy Sheriff Jim McCoy reports he has been studying history, and other things, and now he knows why Indian fighting was so bitter in the Big Spring area in the early days.

The only settlement in this section back there before the railroad came, he says, was around the Big Spring, and that Texas Rangers and Negro soldiers frequently camped there, as did the Indians when the Rangers or soldiers hadn't arrived first.

Jim explains that the fighting was bitter when the Rangers, soldiers and early cowmen fought the Indians to take this country away from them.

"Then," Jim continues, "after they'd taken the country, and found out what they had, the fighting really got rugged when the white men tried to make the Indians take it back. The Indians say how lucky they'd been and they fought hard to keep that luck."

Jim says we won the first fight and lost the second one. His grandfather was at the Big Spring fighting with the Rangers, and this grandfather told Jim that while the Indians didn't fight too hard to keep the land themselves, they should fight like hell to make the white folks keep it.

Which recalls the story that the wife of an airman at the Webb Air Force Base recently told a friend her husband might be transferred overseas.

"Will you go with him?" the friend asked.

"No, indeed," replied the lady from the East. "Big Spring is as far out of the United States as I ever expect to go again."

A conservation tour sponsored jointly by the Supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District and the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce has been scheduled for the afternoon of Tuesday, April 14.

It will start from the Edgar Phillips farm one mile east and one-half mile south of the Knott Postoffice at 1 p. m., and will end at the Bence O. Brown place in the Vincent Community about 5 p. m.

Those wishing to make the tour should be at the Phillips place at 1 p. m.

Cold drinks (soft ones) are being provided by the Chamber of Commerce and a public address system will be available to discuss the various conservation projects visited. The tour will include several farms. Morris Patterson, chairman of the board of supervisors of the SCD will be master of ceremonies and specialists of the SCS will be present to furnish the answers for technical questions.

The supervisors say they are particularly interested in getting Big Spring businessmen to make the trip.

Jimmy Greene, Chamber of Commerce manager, said: "We want the businessmen to join the trip. We want them to get a first-hand acquaintance with some of the problems of the farmers and ranchers. The business people will have a much clearer understanding of the overall picture if they will come out and see the things the supervisors have to show them, and after they've heard these things explained by the SCS technicians. It will be helpful to everybody if the business people, women included, will come out and get this clearer understanding of the agricultural situation."

The Old Wolf from Wild Horse Creek says he has read in the papers where the Russians think they will have to do additional embalming jobs on the body if they want to preserve Old Joe Stalin for the years to come.

Says the Old Wolf: "I believe if they'll sprinkle the carcass with one cup of some of this Big Spring coffee we've been drinking the job will be done permanently and forever."

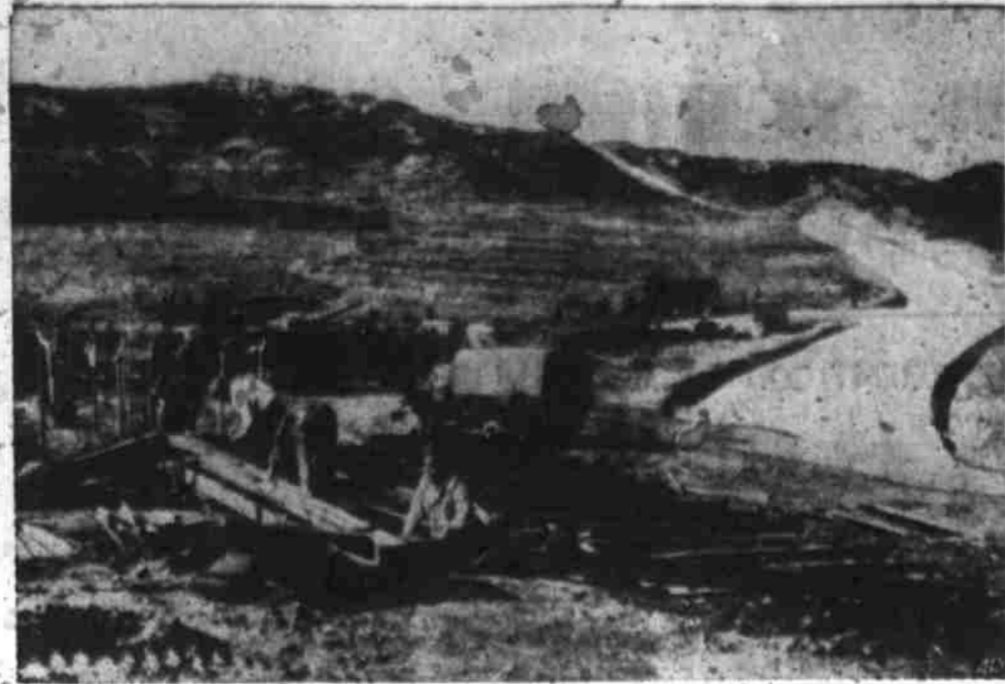

Indications are that the dairymen in this area are going to get 44 cents less per hundredweight for four percent milk this month than they got in March.

Drugs of 44 cents have been announced for Fort Worth and Dallas and under the Federal Marketing Order the price here is 55 cents above the prevailing Dallas price. A drop there means a drop in the same amount here.

The creameries buying the milk claim that the unusually warm winter has produced a greater than usual spring surplus, and that consequently there isn't any West Texas market for all the milk produced here, as Grade A Pasteurized.

This is a drop of approximately 77 cents per hundredweight on the Dallas and Fort Worth markets since last November, but Fort Worth consumers haven't received a drop in retail prices since Feb. 17.

Recent Moscow Visitors Saw Things Others Did Not View

Editor's Note: A group of U. S. newspaper and radio executives has spent seven days in Moscow. Now the editors have left the Iron Curtain behind, and one of them, Miss Rebecca Gross, has written a report of her experiences. This is the first of a series of articles by Miss Gross, who is co-publisher of the Lock Haven (Pa.) Express.

By REBECCA F. GROSS
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN (AP)—Riding away from Moscow on the Great-Litovsk Express after seven days in the capital of Russia, I had some of the feelings of the famous blind men who undertook to examine and describe an elephant.

A huge city, in a vast country, filled with ancient historical shrines and the modern structures of a fast-growing metropolis, cannot be studied intimately in the space of a week. I had a glimpse of Moscow and the life of its people. The only reason such a brief and superficial visit has any significance is that very few Americans have had the opportunity to see as much of Moscow as we did. It is significant, too, that our group received visas from the Russian government to make a visit at this time.

In many ways, our Moscow visit was like an American family's sightseeing trip to New York or Philadelphia, or a tourist's stay in Paris or London. We saw the historic shrines and major attractions which would be viewed by any average tourist—the tomb of Lenin and Stalin, the 500-year-old Kremlin, the 16th century Cathedral of St. Basil on Red Square, the new and old buildings of the state University of Moscow, the Tretyakov Art Gallery, the Bolshoi Theatre, and the new administration and apartment structures which the people of Moscow proudly describe as "multi-storied buildings."

But in addition to this sightseeing schedule, we also saw some places practically no Americans have been able to visit before—the Red October Candy Factory, the Kuskov Bakery, the Stalin Automobile and Truck Works and the printing house of Pravda. And, in addition to that, at four social affairs connected with our visit we met Russian officials occupying high level positions in the government, whose work pertains to American relations and official information services.

People we met told us, rather enviously, that we had seen more during our week in Moscow than members of the U. S. Embassy staff had been able to see in a year. No Americans, we were told, had been inside the candy factory or the automobile plant. At both places, we were taken through as much of the manufacturing area as we had time to see; at both places we were told we could see more if we could stay longer.

Drive Now Underway On Rheumatic Fever

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A nation-wide preventive campaign against rheumatic fever was launched today.

It's the first large-scale effort to put into general use the recently marketed evidence that recurrent rheumatic fever can be prevented by daily use of penicillin or sulfa drug.

The plan is to have some four million Americans—most of them school children—receive a dose of one of the drugs every day for a period of years.

The various state and local Heart Associations pledged themselves to the effort at the annual meeting of the American Heart Association (AHA).

The project—to be undertaken by the state and local associations throughout the country—is designed to aid the three percent of the population who have had at least one "bout" of rheumatic fever.

That's the malady which is responsible for most of the heart disease in children and a large share of heart trouble in young adults. It causes more deaths in the first two decades of life than all other communicable diseases taken together.

Local heart associations won't furnish free penicillin or sulfa drug, or give actual treatment. But they will take the initiative in communities towards encouraging doctors to use the method—and also towards educating the public on the scientific findings.

out, the way some people explain them.

We're told we're producing a surplus of milk in West Texas and yet the Grub Line strays across occasional big refrigerated tank trucks bringing even more milk into the area from such distant points as Wisconsin and Missouri.

It's strange times we're living in, these atomic days, when two and two no longer equal four.

Red Pamphlets Are Being Circulated

FORT WORTH (AP)—Postmarked in Fort Worth, 24-page Communist propaganda pamphlets were making the rounds here yesterday.

A religious publication and several welfare agencies received the booklets.

Earlier this month, about 30 booklets were mailed to Texas Christian University club presidents.

The propaganda calls for the "little people" and Negroes of the South to unite against "Wall Street capitalists." It is signed by the Southern Regional Committee, Communist Party of the U. S. A., New York City.

Lady Is Wrong, War Is Not Quite Over

SEOUL (AP)—Sweet and low the woman's voice crooned over a Communist loudspeaker last night to U. S. Marines in the Panmunjom sector.

Then came the song, "I Dream of You."

Finally the gal signed off with this kicker: "The war is over. To Hell with Eisenhower."

Van Fleet Writing War-Ending Formulas

NEW YORK (AP)—A formula for ending the Korean War is being prepared for publication by Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former Eighth Army commander.

It will be included in two articles for publication in Life Magazine. The publication date tentatively has been set for May, the magazine announced yesterday.

AP Reports '52 As A Year Of Top Triumphs

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank J. Starzel, general manager of the Associated Press, said today that 1952 was a year of "outstanding triumphs" for the AP.

In his annual report to the news cooperative's newspaper and radio membership, Starzel said the year was "notable for climactic accomplishment" of long term projects. The report was mailed to members in advance of the annual meeting here April 20.

Starzel said the year's accomplishments included:

- Development of new techniques in national election coverage;
- Mechanization by means of radioteletype, of international communications, which enables the AP to deliver and receive quickly news and pictures to and from distant parts of the world;

- Conversion to teletypesetter operation of all state single circuits and some trunk circuits. For many years, news was transmitted on printers in capital letters. On teletypesetter, the news is printed just as typewritten copy appears with capitals and small letters.

- Also, teletypesetter tape may be converted automatically into type on newspaper plants.

The 1952 presidential campaign coverage included polls of delegates to the national conventions to determine delegate preferences and included also state-by-state political surveys. The latter, based on composite estimates by newspaper and radio editors and political reporters, attempted to show political trends.

The surveys called the turn in 11 of 13 primary contests. The final AP survey, taken three weeks before the November election, showed states with a total of 327 electoral votes favoring Dwight D. Eisenhower over Adlai Stevenson. Eisenhower received 447.

Starzel noted that the AP survey was wrong in eight states.

A postcard poll of AP members was taken to determine their attitude toward continuing the surveys.

The returns, tabulated and checked this week by a special committee of Associated Press managing editors, showed 348 members favoring similar surveys.

Slow Driving On Part Of Ambulances Asked In Non-Emergencies

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Do ambulances go too fast?

Some doctors think so, and have brought the subject before the Duval County Medical Society.

"Only 42 per cent of all ambulance patients transported might possibly be called emergencies," Dr. L. L. Parks said in the report of a survey. And, he added:

"It is believed that if the ambulances were required to observe normal speed limits and not be permitted to break red lights or use sirens, the number of lives lost by observing normal traffic regulations probably would not be more than the number of people injured and killed at the present time by speeding ambulances."

Re-Elected President

HOUSTON (AP) — W. L. Walker was re-elected president of the Houston Cotton Exchange yesterday.

AUSTIN (AP) — A committee hearing on a bill to fix a minimum price for gas at the well in the Panhandle was recessed yesterday until Tuesday.

Two more opponents were heard and three are yet to testify.

George Dupree of Lubbock, representing the West Texas Gas Co., told the Senate even a one cent raise would cost the company's 82,000 consumers about $150,000 a year.

"Any increase must be passed on to the consumer," he said. Rex Baker, representing Humble Oil, a gas producer, said he opposed the bill on principle.

"Enactment will open the field to go all the way in price fixing in this state," he said. He admitted some price "evils" but argued demand would correct them.

The bill is by Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo. It would permit the Railroad Commission to fix a minimum price for gas taken at the wellhead in the Panhandle.

Hazlewood said the field is being drained twice as fast on the Texas side as on the Oklahoma side because of the low price in Texas.

Industrial Espionage Ring Reported Broken

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German police reported today they had smashed an industrial espionage ring working for the Eastern Communists in West German industrial plants.

Unofficial reports said 20 persons had been arrested.

Federal police here said the spy ring was financed by unnamed Eastern powers.

"It was believed the suspects also were involved in illegal shipments of strategic materials to Eastern sources."

The police action was taken under the act for protection of the constitution and followed widespread search raids.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) lashed out today at "demagogues who are using education in general, and teachers in particular, as tools" to gain support for federal control of oil-rich offshore submerged lands.

"I shall bitterly oppose those demagogues," Potter said in the sixth day of Senate debate. The legislation would establish state ownership of lands beneath the marginal seas within state boundaries.

Potter's remarks were directed at an amendment proposed by Sen. Hill (D-Ala.) and others. The proposal would use federal revenues from the offshore resources to finance a system of federal aid to the states for schools.

"I am not impressed," Potter said, "by those who argue that the passage of this (state ownership) bill would favor three states at the exclusion of others, nor am I disturbed by those who argue that federal ownership is necessary to the best interests of our national defense."

The oil-producing states, Texas, Louisiana and California, failed in lawsuits to have their ownership claims upheld. The Supreme Court ruled the federal government holds paramount rights in the offshore submerged lands.

Potter contended all 48 states have valuable resources beneath navigable waters. He said the states are just as much interested in national defense as the federal government.

Potter said Michigan wants confirmation of state title to 24,613,760 acres beneath the Great Lakes within its state boundary.

"When the State of Michigan permits the orderly development of the vast resources beneath the bottoms of the Great Lakes, it is contributing to the national defense as much if not more than if the same resources were being developed by the federal government," he said.

Dynamite Set For Oil Well

WHARTON (AP) — Fire fighters planned to dynamite an abandoned oil well today that had blazed furiously for more than 36 hours.

It is the No. 1 Kuntz Estate in the Louise Oil and Gas Field near the Wharton-Jackson County line, about five miles southwest of Hillje. Flames could be seen 15 miles away in the night.

Houston Oilman C. J. Brown recently took over the well from Pure Oil Company. Brown was having the well reworked for a gasser when it blew out Wednesday night.

J. Leonard Davidson, geologist employed by Brown, said the blazing well created an inferno over 10 acres surrounding the site.

Fire fighters planned to use dynamite today in hopes of snuffing out the flames. Then they planned to pump mud into the hole in an effort to check the flow of gas.

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — City officials estimate more than 8,000 unemployed farm laborers are here and more are arriving daily by train and bus. Stock Disposal Waiver Is Sought To Hire Two Aides

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson has asked members of the Senate Armed Services Committee to waive their stock disposal rule so he can hire two more big businessmen as top assistants.

The battle over Wilson's own nomination, which ended in a decision that he had to promise to dispose of his General Motors stock before being confirmed, touched off the first big appointment fuss of the new Eisenhower administration.

The defense secretary's move to reopen the touchy political situation seemed likely to bring flat refusal from Armed Services Committee members, senators willing to discuss the matter predicted the committee will not relax its requirements that defense officials dispose of their industrial holdings.

The law says that no federal official shall do business with any firm in which he has even an indirect financial interest.

Wilson was reported to have suggested the unification act be amended to give him two additional assistant secretaries. He now has three such aides, paid $15,000 yearly.

Wilson was said to have told committee members he is having extreme difficulty in enlisting the men he wants because the prospective appointees are reluctant to dispose of their stocks.

When he took office, Wilson issued a directive disqualifying any defense official from passing on any matter where he held any financial interest in the result. In cases of topflight officials, the secretary said, he himself would make the decision.

Wilson told senators he believes this directive should meet any objection that future appointees might have financial interests in matters which go over their desks.

However, the committee once refused to accept this same substitute for its stock sale ruling. It approved the nomination of Wilson's chief deputy, Roger Kyes, and the service secretaries only after they had agreed to dispose of their stock. Wilson and Kyes have reported such disposal. Secretary Anderson of the Navy had no stockholdings. Secretaries Talbot of the Air Force and Stevens of the Army have yet to report their stock disposals.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), who first raised the stock issue, was reported to have told Wilson he sees no reason for changing the rule in the case of the proposed two new assistant secretaries.

Sen. Duff (R-Pa.), said he had not been approached about the proposed new appointments. But he added he thinks the committee would be unanimously opposed to changing its rule.

"What applies to one, applies to all," Duff declared.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said he had heard rumors of the impending appointments. But he said he won't go along with any change in the rules.

Standard Oil Plans Record Improvements Program This Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey is setting its sights this year on a record capital improvements program.

The huge oil company, biggest in the U. S., has earmarked 600 million dollars for replacement and expansion of properties, plant and equipment in 1953, a record for any year, Frank Abrams, chairman, and Eugene Holman, president, said in the annual report.

Abrams and Holman said an era of intensive competition confronts the oil industry.

Jersey produced and sold record amounts of oil and refined products in 1952, the report stated, but net income declined because of the higher costs.

Net income totaled $519,981,109 against $528,460,779.

Black Cancer Is Halted For Time By A New Drug

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP)—Discovery of the first drug-stopping the speedy and almost-always fatal black cancer, melanoma, was announced today.

It works only for a time. But it has banished this dread cancer in one human for at least a year, and has helped a few others.

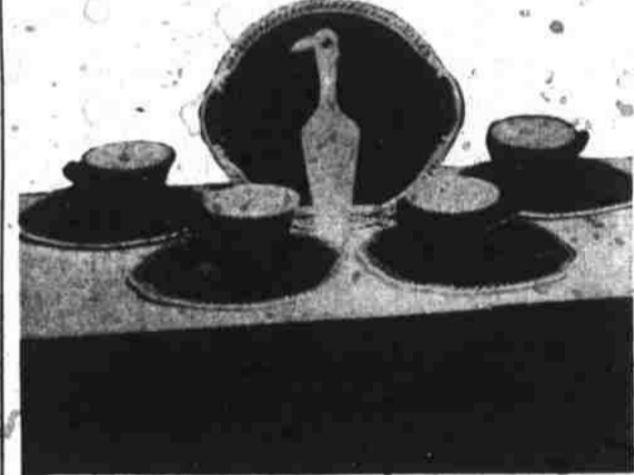

Until now there has not been any drug or treatment, except surgery at the very earliest signs, which has had the slightest effect upon melanoma. This dark cancerous growth always starts somewhere on the skin, then spreads with distressing rapidity inside the body.

This heartening step in chemical warfare upon cancer was reported to the American Association for Cancer Research by Doctors Farber, Virginia Downing, and Majib Abu-Hydar of the Children's Cancer Research Foundation and Department of Pathology, Harvard Medical School, Boston.

TEPA has been used so far upon 17 humans with melanomas, Dr. Farber said. It temporarily knocked out the cancers in five. The other 12 were persons in whom the cancers already had spread to internal organs.

Work on mice indicates that TEPA might entirely abolish human melanomas if they were caught very early, said Dr. Farber. Melanomas account for about three per cent of all cancer deaths.

TEPA was developed by scientists of the Calco Chemical Division, American Cyanamid Company and first was tried against leukemia, the cancer of the blood. It has little effect against acute leukemia, but by happy accident it was tried upon melanoma.

As President in 1946, Truman personally visited the grave and placed a wreath. Since then, he has arranged for a wreath each year.

A local florist said yesterday the former President, now on vacation in Hawaii, instructed him to prepare the wreath, and requested that Mrs. Roosevelt place it for him.
