Underwriters Meet Here For Sales Parley

Over 150 Register For First Congress In West Texas

From every section of West Texas, life underwriters gathered here Monday for the first sales congress ever held in this section of the state.

Well over 150 life insurance men were on hand and many of them brought their wives to fill the Settles hotel ballroom almost to capacity for the morning session. They were still registering after the noon recess.

John P. Costello, C. L. U., of the Southwestern Life in Dallas, and Francis G. Bray, Houston, secretary of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters, addressed the group in the morning meeting.

Ilburn Coffee, Big Spring, and Walter G. Clayton, Amarillo, vice presidents of the state unit, were in charge and Mayor G. C. Dunham extended a welcome to the visitors following the opening of the one-day sales parley by Dr. D. F. McConnell, First Presbyterian pastor, Arnold Marshall furnished the entertainment for the morning in basso solos.

Costello stressed the value of ideas in the business of life underwriting, giving numerous pertinent illustrations how ideas furnished a focal point of attack. However, he warned that it was more important to put ideas into dynamic action.

He looked upon life underwriting as a calling from God for, as he said, it meant the offering of a service which threw up walls of defense "against poverty and want."

Costello added a commission—"for us to go out from here and build stronger walls around more homes."

Speaking on "I will take the heart," Bray drove home the point that it was the heart that motivated the better and more thoughtful actions of human beings, and that men and women in every line of business would be wise in recognizing the vital necessity of taking the heart into consideration in business dealings.

The meeting was to be concluded with two parleys during the afternoon with Jul B. Baumann, Houston, president of the state association, Charles E. Seay, of the Southland Life in Dallas, an outstanding production man, and Carroll C. Day of the Pacific Mutual, Oklahoma City, Okla., making information addresses.

FD's Message Is 'Personal'

VICHY, France, Oct. 28 (AP)—A foreign ministry spokesman said today Marshal Philippe Petain, France's chief of state had received from President Roosevelt a "personal message" which could be disclosed only by Petain "because of the privacy of its character."

The spokesman said the foreign ministry had been informed orally of the arrival of the message.

Diplomatic sources here believed Roosevelt's note concerned the current negotiations between Petain and Adolf Hitler.

The note was said to have been delivered to Henri Haye in Washington and to Petain directly by the United States charge d'affaires, H. Freeman Matthews, last Saturday morning.

Vice Premier Pierre Laval was named foreign minister today to succeed Paul Baudouin, who became secretary of state attached to the presidency of the council.

The French cabinet held an emergency session and Laval headed for Paris to continue negotiations with France's new axis partners.

Announcement of the shakeup came in a government communique issued after the cabinet session. Laval will be joined in Paris later by General Charles Huntziger, minister of war.

RESERVATIONS URGED ON GOODWILL DINNER

Another appeal went out from the chamber of commerce office Monday for business and professional men to rally at once to support of the Midway goodwill dinner Tuesday night by making reservations.

J. H. Greene, manager, said there had been some response in this direction Monday morning, but added that a large number yet were needed.

He urged all who can go to make reservations today or Tuesday evening at the chamber office.

Parties Waging Hot Battle For The New England Vote

BOSTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—A warmly waged battle for 33 of New England's 41 electoral votes swept into its final week today with leaders of both parties claiming a presidential edge, but with neutral observers limiting themselves for the most part to forecasts of a "close" finish in four of the six northwestern states.

Only in Maine and Vermont, the states which gave republican Alf Landon all of his eight electoral votes in 1936, did the presidential campaign move toward a relatively quiet close. There were few if any predictions of democratic success in these traditionally republican areas.

In New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, however, the tempo was stepped up.

An announcement that Al Smith would take the stump in Massachusetts for Wendell Willkie next Thursday was followed by a decision by President Roosevelt to speak in Boston on Wednesday night, after traveling over part of the route which Willkie followed during four days of intensive New England campaigning earlier this month.

Both republican and democratic leaders throughout the area have been centering their efforts on an apparently sizeable bloc of independent voters, with many observers contending that the effect of the final week's drive upon this group might prove a deciding factor in New England.

THOUSANDS CHEER

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—An hour behind his schedule on a whirlwind campaign tour of New York City's five boroughs, President Roosevelt sped through streets lined with cheering thousands today.

The sortie into the city was threatened with an abrupt termination because Italy and Greece had gone to war during the night. For hours, crowds lined the curbs awaiting the president's first appearance in lower Manhattan, after passing through Staten Island and making a brief stop in Brooklyn, where he broke ground for the $80,000,000 Battery-Brooklyn vehicular tunnel.

NEW DEAL FUTILITY

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN En Route To Louisville, Oct. 28 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie asserted today that Secretary of State Hull's speech Saturday night was "an extraordinary documentation of new deal futility."

"The secretary pointed up more clearly than could any contemporary critic of the new deal the serious failure to organize a national economy capable of building rapidly an adequate defense," said Willkie in a statement issued on his campaign train.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

STANTON, Oct. 28 (SpI)—Charges of theft were lodged today against Leslie Jenkins, 29, negro, in connection with loss of clothing from the farm home of Bryan Creech.

Jenkins was arrested here when he attempted to board a bus for Midland. Sheriff Morris Zimmerman said that articles of clothing were found in the negro's possession.

Anne Jamison, Here For Concert This Evening, Invites Music Pupils To Morning Rehearsal

"I just love Texas. It's so big I wonder how all of it could be one state." Anne Jamison speaking, she of the red hair, blue eyes and charming personality, the songstress who appears at 8 o'clock this evening at the municipal auditorium in the first of the Civic Music association concerts.

Mrs. Jamison was attired in a beige suit and a perky brown turban as she rehearsed this morning at the auditorium. She graciously consented for several music pupils to hear her rehearsal. Miss Jamison was born in England and is a veteran traveler, but

All In Readiness For Draft Lottery Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—From the cobalt blue capsules to the historic accessories of the 1917 drawing, everything was pronounced in readiness today for the great manpower lottery which will determine the order in which several millions of young Americans will be subject to call for the next five years.

In the interdepartmental auditorium—where the drawing will get under way shortly after noon tomorrow—workmen finished the preparations for the occasion. Doors were locked and guards posted.

The capsules—some 8,500 of them, each containing a serial number—spent the weekend in a treasury vault, where they will remain until the zero hour tomorrow. The World War accessories—the big glass bowl, the wooden ladle for stirring up the capsules, and the blindfold to be used during the drawing—were in the custody of selective service officials.

Once the initial ceremonies are over tomorrow, officials estimate that the drawing will proceed at the rate of between 700 and 800 numbers an hour. From start to finish, the lottery is expected to require a minimum of 12 hours.

Will Attend Air Hearing

Ted O. Groebel, president of the chamber of commerce, was named by the chamber director Monday to accompany J. H. Greene, chamber manager, to Washington for the Nov. 14 CAA hearing on applications for north-south airline service through West Texas.

Several months ago the directors had authorized Greene and one other man to make the trip if and when the CAA called a hearing.

Groebel was nominated on recommendation of the chamber aviation committee. It also was announced that the Big Spring brief, built for use in the hearing, was virtually complete. Dr. P. W. Malone, aviation committee chairman, gave a report on the conference with Continental Airline officials here last week.

After an outline of what other counties in this area are doing in floating bonds for assumption by the state highway department for construction of roads on designated state highways, it was agreed that a thorough investigation be made of the matter.

All Possible Help Pledged By Britain

King And Churchill Say Pledge Of Aid Will Be Redeemed

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Both King George VI and Prime Minister Winston Churchill have promised Greece every possible help against the Italian invaders in personal messages to the Greek sovereign and prime minister, it was learned tonight.

The messages, from King George VI of England to King George II of Greece, and from Churchill to Premier John Metaxas, conveyed Britain's "position" assurances that she intends to redeem the pledge of support in the event of attack which was given to Greece by the Chamberlain government in April of 1939.

These assurances were dispatched in response to Greece's appeal for help. Presumably they were given to Greek Minister Simopoulos when he saw Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax at the foreign office this afternoon.

RAF Bombs Skoda Works

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—A successful air raid by a "strong force" of RAF bombers on the Skoda armament works at Pilsen, in Czechoslovakia, last night, was reported today by the air ministry.

The raid was the most distant of the R.A.F.'s widespread attacks on Germany and German-occupied countries.

Blenheim bombers of the coastal command, the air ministry's news service said, also scored a direct hit on a power station at the Nazi-occupied French naval base of Lorient.

The target was illuminated by a flare visible 35 miles away, set by a previous salvo of bombs, it was related.

Yugoslav Chiefs In Conference

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Oct. 28 (AP)—Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic arrived in Belgrade by plane from Athens today and called an emergency meeting of the Yugoslavian cabinet.

Croat leader and Vice Premier Vladimir Macek was reported to be speeding toward the capital from Zagreb aboard a special train.

Shortly before 11 a. m. fully armed and equipped Yugoslav troops marched through the capital's streets toward the railway station. There was no official confirmation of a report that the army had issued general mobilization orders.

Over 600,000 In Greek Army

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Available estimates here credit the Greek army with a strength of about 601,200 men counting trained reserves, but the nation's active land forces totalled only 140,000 in the spring of 1940.

With only about 100 airplanes of all classes, according to these estimates, the Greeks have an air force of 1,600 active men and trained reserves totalling 4,500.

The Greek navy is classed as "negligible" in naval circles and as of last spring was listed as having one armored cruiser, one cruiser-mine layer, 12 destroyers, six submarines, and several torpedo boats.

Bulgaria Will Work For Peace

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 28 (AP)—King Boris told his parliament today that Bulgaria "will continue by all means to preserve peace and defend her vital interests."

He did not mention invaded Greece by name, but apparently he included it in a reference to "countries with whom Bulgaria maintains relations in accordance with existing possibilities."

FLEET ASSEMBLED

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Reuters, British news agency, quoted the Ankara radio today as saying that Greece's fleet was being assembled in the harbor of Salonika.

DRAFT DIRECTOR NAMED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt sent to the senate today the nomination of Don Welch as draft director for Oklahoma.

BRITISH FLEET MOVES IN TO HELP ALLY

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Reuters, British news agency, reported today from Athens that Greek troops had broken through Italian positions at one place and driven eight miles into Albania.

BELGRADE, Oct. 28 (AP)—Stubborn Greek resistance against Italy was reported by neutral military sources tonight.

Neutral attaches said the Italian invasion showed a lack of striking power, indicating that Rome had expected Greece to submit without a fight to the Italian ultimatum.

ATHENS, Oct. 28 (AP)—The British fleet came to the aid of invaded Greece today in the first day of her war with Italy and, informed sources said, took over the strategic 150-mile long island of Crete while Greece's little army fought the Italians all along the northern frontier.

British warships were reported to have engaged Italian naval units in a stiff battle off Corfu, Ionian island just opposite the juncture of the Albanian and Greek frontiers, and to have occupied a small island with an airdrome nearby.

Crete, reported being occupied by landing parties from other British warships, lies in the eastern Mediterranean southeast of the Greek mainland.

Still other reports, these from reliable neutral sources and not officially confirmed, said Turkish troops, responding to Greece's call for help, were marching into Thrace and eastern Greece.

In Athens, the government of "Strong Man" General John Metaxas announced that Britain was sending "unlimited support."

Less than 12 hours after the Italians had attacked by land and air, the government issued this communique:

"Premier Metaxas conferred early this morning with the British minister, who told him that Greece in her fight against Italy would have the unreserved support of England to the fullest extent. British support will be unlimited.

"Metaxas also conferred with the Turkish minister to Athens and immediately afterwards communicated by telephone with the Greek minister in Ankara. The premier later communicated by telephone with the president of the Turkish republic, Inonu."

The urgent conversations with the highest authority in Turkey were taken as evidence that Greece's dictator, John Metaxas, is making every effort to bring the Turks in on his side.

Turkey and Britain have a mutual assistance pact, but the Turks are not directly bound to go to the aid of Greece.

The Greeks elected to fight rather than to bow to Italian demands for Greek territory and free passage for Italian troops.

Italian motorized units thrust across the mountainous Greek-Italian frontier at 5:30 a. m. (9:30 p. m. C.S.T. Sunday)—half an hour before the expiration of an Italian ultimatum, a Greek communique said.

By noon Athens had undergone two air raid alarms, and in the second anti-aircraft batteries went into action when two Italian planes were seen high over the ancient city. The Corinth and Tatoi airdromes were bombed, and 15 Italian planes in three waves bombed the port city of Patras, damaging port facilities, public buildings and residences, with a toll of four killed and 17 injured.

(Reports from Belgrade said Italian warplanes also bombed the 2,500-year old port of Piraeus four miles south of Athens. Other planes were said to be supporting Italian land drives at Florina and Kastoria, on the Greek border south of Albania.)

Greece hurled her manpower and resources into the struggle, flatly rejecting demands which Premier Metaxas said constituted "a declaration of war."

Full mobilization was ordered immediately for the army and then "partial mobilization" was decreed, placing all business and industry under government control.

Not even the air raid alarms kept crowds out of the Athens streets where demonstrators cheered, waved Greek, British and Turkish flags, and shouted "down with Italy."

The king and Metaxas were cheered by crowds as they drove through the streets. Later the premier conferred with ministers from Britain, Turkey and Yugoslavia.

Street crowds demonstrated with Greek, British and Turkish flags and shouted: "Down with Italy."

A Greek communique said "Italian forces have been attacking since 5:30 this morning our advanced posts along the Greek-Albanian border. Our forces are defending their national soil."

Reports from anxiously-watching Yugoslavia said 10 Italian divisions of at least 200,000 troops swarmed across the Greek border from Italian-held Albania promptly at six and were met by beset Greek soldiers.

Her army already was estimated as upwards of 100,000 because class after class has been called to the colors in the past several days.

Axis Leaders In 'Complete Harmony'

Hitler And Mussolini Confer Again As New War Begins

FLORENCE, Italy, Oct. 28 (AP)—Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini talked in complete harmony "on all present questions" here today as Italy took what were described as "urgent measures required to face the danger of the situation" in Greece.

A communique issued after the axis leaders' first, three-hour session, merely said that their conversation, "in the spirit of the alliance between the two countries, developed as always in the most cordial form and show a complete identity of views on all present questions."

When their conference ended at 1:40 p. m., Hitler and Mussolini, with their respective foreign ministers, Joachim von Ribbentrop and Count Galeazzo Ciano, drove through the rain to the government palace for luncheon.

Despite the rain, crowds lined the streets to watch.

The conversations took place in the medieval battlements of Palazzo Vecchio on the 18th anniversary of the fascist march on Rome, which put Il Duce in power in Italy.

Tenth Nation Struck By Axis

By the Associated Press
Greece is the tenth nation onto whose soil the axis armies have pushed since the start of the war and the third whose frontiers have been crossed by the fascist legions from Rome.

Italy's first armed thrusts onto foreign soil were into France and the drive into Egypt from Libya in a campaign so far apparently only begun.

Germany started with the blitzkrieg in Poland, Sept. 1, 1939.

Next were Denmark, which surrendered, and Norway, which resisted, April 9, 1940.

After that came the drive begun May 10 through Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg and then the conquest of France, in which Italy shared.

The next was Rumania, a willing host, which let in Nazi troops to guard her oil fields and officers to train her army.

Soviet To Take The Dardanelles?

BUDAPEST, Oct. 28 (AP)—Rumors were current in the Balkans today that Soviet Russia is preparing to take over the Dardanelles "protectively" as southeastern Europe nervously awaited some indication of Moscow's attitude over Italy's invasion of Greece.

Diplomatic observers expressed belief that the entire question of German-Russian relations was approaching a showdown.

Many said they believed that Moscow was informed in advance of the Italian action and that no soviet intervention could be expected.

Turkey Points To Own Power

ANKARA, Turkey, Oct. 28 (AP)—Premier Refik Beydam broadcast today that "we are stronger than ever," but made no mention of Italy's invasion of Greece.

It was generally assumed that Turkey's attitude would depend largely on how much aid England sends to Greece, as well as on the degree of Greece's own resistance.

Although official sources kept silent, no credence was given rumors in other Balkan capitals that the Ankara government was drafting a declaration of war.

Turkey, allied closely to Greece but not bound to go to her aid unless a secret military clause exists between them, received the news of the Italian attack calmly.

Virian Ferguson Named To Club Office At Christian College

(Special dispatch from Christian College):

Virian Ferguson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Ferguson, a student at Christian college, Columbia, Mo., was elected treasurer of the Spanish club at a recent meeting. The Spanish club is one of the most active organizations on the campus. During the school year it presents a number of Spanish programs and usually two plays by a Spanish dramatist before the student body and invited guests. The Spanish club also gives at least two formal dinners a year in which they customarily invite guests. There are 35 members in the Spanish club, which is sponsored by Estelle Myers, a member of the faculty and instructor in Spanish.

Other officers elected were as follows: President, Barbara James, Minneapolis, Wis., vice president, Ruth McNutt, and Dorothy Zeek, secretary, both the latter from Little Rock, Ark.

Mrs. W. N. Wood had major surgery Sunday night at Cowper Clinic.

Miss 'Laneous Notes

By MARY WHEATLEY

Nominations for convener is the guy who sits and tells you all about the picture show that you are planning to attend the next night.

He will tell you the funny spots and roar with laughter and in your own mind you try to put two and two together from what you can distinguish between laughs and finally get the point of the joke.

Then when you see it on the screen the chances are ten to one that you won't even think it funny.

This type of person usually begins by asking if you have seen Jackie and then sometimes asks if you intend to see it. But you might just as well draw up a chair and relax because no matter what the answer, you are bound to hear all about it anyway.

He will tell you how the heroine does not get killed in the end or does as the case might be, so you figure what's the use of seeing the picture. It's all told, but the one who would save you the price of a ticket never tells any in sequence and you have a hazy conception of the plot. You end up not quite sure whether the bandits got what they deserved in the end or whether they reformed due to the love of a little child.

After puzzling over what you have heard, you may end up by going to see the darn thing just to get it straightened out in your mind. But it will be with a sour look that you watch the screen. All the climaxes and anti-climaxes, all the exciting parts, have already been explained. The only things you won't know about the picture are the connecting scenes that make a story hang together.

Mrs. Berry Is Honored With Bridge Shower

STANTON, Oct. 28 (Sp)—Four hostesses entertained Saturday morning in the Calvin Jones home with a bridge shower, complimenting Mrs. P. A. Berry. Joining Mrs. Jones were Mrs. Bryan Henderson of Wink, Mrs. H. A. Poole and Mrs. James Jones. The Jones home was decorated with large bowls of roses, dahlias and chrysanthemums.

Following the games of bridge, refreshments were served buffet style from a linen laid table, centered with roses. Mrs. Henderson poured coffee. Plate favors were babies, dressed in pink. Mint cups were tiny blue cradles.

The guest list included Mrs. Morgan Hall, Mrs. Arlo Forrest, Mrs. Gordon Stone, Mrs. A. L. Houston, Mrs. H. D. Haley, Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. Floyd Smith, Mrs. Jim Tom, Mrs. Fillmore Epley, Mrs. O. B. LOOKS AT NEW BOOKS

Second book in the Doubleday, Doran Seaport Series, launched last month with James B. Connolly's The Port Gloucester, is Max Miller's magnificent account of the colorful port of San Diego, to be published October 18 at $2.00. As a working newspaperman covering San Diego harbor, Max Miller some years ago began making that locale his special literary province. His first book, "I Cover The Waterfront," was a quiet, sunlit picture of the harbor of the present day, with its colorful fish-erfolk, its blue, gull-haunted waters, its tenuous but exciting links with the past. In subsequent writing, Miller's interest in San Diego and this genuine love for the place, have made frequent appearance. No writer is more saturated with San Diego's history and local color; author and subject are here in extraordinary harmony.

The Raven's Wing is the romantic story of Elisabeth Wittelsbach who, at sixteen, became Empress of Austria and spent her life in the shadow of the raven's wing—for to the Habsburgs that bird was ever a messenger of ill fortune. In-to the tale, against a background of social and political life in nineteenth-century Europe, are woven also the strange career of Ludwig of Bavaria, of Maximilian, of Elisabeth's son Rudolf, and many other renowned figures.

From the thrilling moment when Franz Josef publicly chooses Elisabeth, to the tragic climax, this is a touching and extraordinary story. The Raven's Wing will be published on October 22nd. Published by the MacMillan company.

A spiritual mixture of fiction and travel, a book which gives the reader an unforgettable vivid picture of Mexican life and people, is South Of The Border, by Arthema Goertz. Miss Goertz comes from New Orleans, her book is the result of a year's visit to Mexico during which she had many colorful adventures.

South Of The Border will be published on October 22nd by MacMillan company.

Naval Reserve Unit Planned

Organization of a naval reserve unit in Big Spring is being attempted here, W. A. Davidson, a member of the Ablett unit, said Monday.

The unit would be attached to the naval communication's unit and would be designed to offer young men training which would enable them to enter naval service as a first class seaman instead of going in as an apprentice.

The need now, said Davidson, is for a room in some public building which could be kept under lock and key for the members of the volunteer naval communication reserve—for their uniforms and radio equipment, etc.

There are enough men already attached to the communication reserve at Abilene to insure establishment of a unit here, he said.

At the present time, local members of the Ablett unit are drilling each Wednesday evening with the control station at Abilene, operating on a naval band of 3096 kilocycles.

Davidson stressed the benefits accruing to a city with such a unit, for in times of failure of other communications and cases of emergency, the service would be immediately at command of the Red Cross, authorities, etc.

Reserves in Big Spring are Horace Leroy Ayres, Elmer Sylvester Dorsett, John Wesley Glenn, Jr., Alex Benjamin Jernigan, Earl William Martin, Edward Alexander Savage, Albert Joseph Winn, Melvin Boatman, Walter Roberts, John J. Davidson and W. A. Davidson.

Salvation Army Drive Gets Off To A Good Start

Encouragement came from Salvation Army headquarters this afternoon as the annual drive for funds moved toward the end of the first day.

Cliff Wiley, head of the campaign to raise a $3,000 budget, said that there were no figures immediately available on results of work done during the morning, but that the spirit in which those assisting in the work were being received was most gratifying.

"During the morning," he said, "we contacted around 300 people. I would say that around 90 per cent of these resulted in subscriptions."

"No one is failing to renew his pledges, and several new ones were being added to the list."

The big problem, he said, is not in getting support but in getting enough workers to make the contacts.

Greece And Italy At War

months as axis threats have increased and war clouds have darkened over the Balkans.

The Greek premier was with his cabinet in emergency sessions for two and a half hours before the ultimatum expired and officials said at that time that disposition of the army for Greek defense already had been made.

Where the blow would come seemed obvious because of steadily increasing tension along the Greek-Albanian frontier and recurrent reports of heavy Italian troop concentrations on the Albanian side of the border.

Greek guns and soldiers were in place in the Metaxas line—the defense system Greece's strong man had built along the northwestern frontier after Italy first took over little Albania.

The Italian ultimatum was delivered little more than 24 hours after a new series of "incidents" along the Albanian frontier was charged by Italy—an outbreak of shooting which Italians blamed on Greeks to have penetrated Albanian territory Friday night and Saturday morning.

Two Greek communiques officially denied any Greek connection with the shooting and suggested that roving Albanian bands were to blame.

Greece has denied equally firmly Italian-backed Albanian charges of Greek disorders along the frontier, of mistreatment of Albanians in Greece, of inciting Albanians to revolt, and of any responsibility for the beheading of the Albanian "patriot," Daut Hoggia, last August.

County Cotton Allotment May Be Lower

Prospects for loss of about 500 acres of Howard county's cotton allotment loomed Monday with receipt of the allotment factor from the state AAA committee.

The factor was announced as 37.6 per cent in comparison with 38.5 per cent in force this year.

The county was given an additional 655 acres for distribution, which would have the effect of boosting the average allotment per farm to around 38 per cent.

It was not immediately known what motivated the cut in the allotment factor for the county. Some thought it might be attributed to the induction of sod land into cotton production, a condition which would lower the average factor but would not materially affect the total county acreage.

Man Sought In 'Car Swap' Deal

Officers in this area were seeking a man in connection with a complex car swapping deal which affected men in three cities.

Frank Jones and Kenneth Fagin, who said they had paid the man $3 for a trip to San Antonio, reported him to police here when he failed to return to the Stone Motor Co. where he was having the car repaired.

It developed that the car left in the garage was taken from R. S. Culp of Midland. Meanwhile, the man had borrowed a car from the motor company to make some calls pending repair of the Culp car.

Late Sunday the Stone Motor Co. car was found abandoned at Colorado City, where officers advised another car was missing.

Main Street Being Topped

While the city started topping operations on seven blocks of Main street south from 11th, the county Monday announced that asphalt had been ordered for paving four and a half miles on the Coahoma-Vincent road.

Operations on the Main street job moved along smoothly and barring disruption, the work should be finished by the end of the week.

Thurston Greenbaum, county road engineer, said that delivery on the county's asphalt had been set for Nov. 5 and that the 4 1/2 mile section which has caliche base down would be topped before base material is installed on the balance of the seven-mile job.

Meanwhile, work clicked along on the Moss Creek lake job, which will extend half a mile north to give a connection from highway No. 1 east instead of only to the old highway, which lies to the south.

Greenbaum said that only about a mile of caliche base was to be installed on this project, now stretching four and three quarters miles. Topping will follow soon after the base is down, according to plans.

Hospital Notes

Big Spring Hospital
Mr. and Mrs. George Hardin, 411 Owens, are the parents of a seven-pound daughter born Saturday.
Mrs. T. L. McKenney, Westbrook, had major surgery Saturday.
Mrs. O. C. Petty, route 2, Loraine, received medical attention.
Mrs. W. L. Burns, 507 Donald, underwent major surgery.
Miss Maxine Pyle of Welch was dismissed Saturday.

MAN IS HELD ON FORGERY CHARGE
E. M. Calahan, employee of a residential building company here, was in the Howard county jail Monday in lieu of $2,000 bond.
He was booked on a charge of forgery signed by J. C. Velvin, and was taken into custody Saturday by Carl Mercer, constable. Calahan waived examining trial before John C. Ratliff, justice of peace, who set bond.

NEGROES WANTED FOR ABDUCTION

STANTON, Oct. 23 (SpI) — Sheriff Morris Zimmerman left today for Carlsbad, N. M., to gain custody of two negroes, Brooks Williams, 23, and Horace Smith, 25, wanted here on charges of abducting a 14-year-old negro girl, Marthe Freeman.

Zimmerman said the girl was abducted the night of Oct. 19. The two negroes were arrested Sunday in Carlsbad by New Mexico officers.

Santa Fe Railway since 1892.

The surgeon was born at Gainesville in 1865, the son of Rufus Franklin and Martha Moran Scott, who came to Texas from Tennessee shortly after the war between the states.

He received his doctor of medicine degree from Bellevue hospital medical college, New York, before he was 21 years of age.

In 1898, he read a paper at the American Medical convention in San Francisco explaining his development of the shadow test in diagnosis of cancer of the breast.

A cancer exhibit was highly praised at the convention. Later he was asked to show it at the Interstate postgraduate medical congress at Philadelphia. Subsequently the exhibit was displayed at the Southern Medical association meeting in Oklahoma City.

Surviving are the widow; a son, Dr. A. C. Scott, Jr.; and two daughters, Mrs. Preston Childers and Mrs. Walter Sausbury. All are residents of Temple.

SCOUTS JOIN IN NATIONAL PROGRAM

Big Spring Boy Scout leaders conferred Sunday on plans for participating in the nation-wide scouting plan of mobilization and emergency service.

W. S. Morrison, district commissioner, and George Melear, neighborhood commissioner, outlined plans for this district and made dates for inspecting local troops on organization plans and on enrollment.

Basically, the program is to bring each troop to as near full strength as possible and to organize them so that they may be immediately mobilized for emergency or other needed service.

Jamison

their taste for music calls for something unusual and catchy.

"My most embarrassing moment occurred the first time I ever sang over the radio," she laughed. "At that time everyone had to use the same microphone, and when the announcer introduced my song, he stepped back and right on me. I fell on the floor and the orchestra was forced to play the introduction over."

Miss Jamison's "hobby" is her 4-month-old son. "He is so new and interesting that he is my biggest hobby, although I do love to ride and hike."

Her father was a soldier, and none of her family had any particular talent for music although her grandmother did sing now and then at parties.

Anne is a personal friend of Mary Martin, one of Texas' stars, and told about the time Mary Martin used her Steinway for eight weeks when the actress first came to Hollywood.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (SpI) — An early downward drift in today's stock market lost momentum after mid-day and initial declines running to a point or more for leaders were reduced or cancelled in many cases at the close.

A slight touch of depression in the forenoon was attributed partly to the overseas news involving extension of the European war to Greece and fears of upsetting repercussions elsewhere in the Mediterranean.

Foreign dispatches, brokers said, helped offset to some extent the more hopeful view of Wall Street and business and politics. Earnings reports and dividends were cheering, but even these had to vie with persistent tax doubts.

"The Biggest Home Built And Home Operated Carnival In West Texas"

Looking 'em Over

With Jack Douglas

"Just three more rivers to cross" is the song being whopped up in the Steer camp up at Big Spring high school's stadium these days.

Coming through in a bang-up style to conquer Midland's aerial bulldozers at their own game, the Herd is kicking up the dust to make an attempt to break out of the also-ran pasture and get on the grass in the upper section. Luck, breaks, or good playing—call it what you will, Big Spring's Longhorns were even more entitled to the winners' nod Friday night than the scores indicated.

Credit for the top spot now held does not go just to one Big Spring, although that is the case in some instances when a football team blasts all opposition. There is not necessarily what one might call an outstanding star on the Steer roster.

Of course there are those who come mighty close to fitting that designation, but in the general trend, Coach Pat Murphy seems to have built his team with the idea that it takes eleven to play instead of just two or three. We must admit we have seen some performances by the Big Springers when it seemed as though just two or three were playing and, to jerk an East Side phrase, they should stand in bed. But the Bowlines are on top now and it seems they might have a chance of finishing at the same place—maybe.

Next week, Plainview entertains Big Spring in a non-conference battle, then San Angelo comes over to romp with the boys. After that, Sweetwater plays host to the Herd for what stacks up to be the biggest hurdle that the locals must jump. For the curtain-dropper in the district, Coach Mayhew, et al, pours for the visiting Murphymen.

It was a sad, and weekend for a couple of Southwest conference crews. Texas University took a dismal flop on its face before an unpredictable Rice crowd. Christian University, after letting all and sundry know it was out to mop up on Tulsa in a furious assault, took a rest from the war and let a stumbling bunch of Oklahomaans plant a few but sharp cleats in its face.

Baylor's stubborn scrap didn't make the Aggies any too happy. 14 to 7 is not enough margin between the teams that is touted to ride the top and the club down one step removed from the bottom.

NTSTC To Be Risking Lead 3rd Time Fri.

By the Associated Press
With the hardest half of the conference slate behind and still boasting an unblemished record, North Texas Teachers this week meets a third Lone Star conference opponent in as many weeks when they battle Southwest Texas' Bobcats in Denton Friday afternoon.

Sam Houston Teachers, who must win every league contest remaining in order to hope for any title ambitions, invade Commerce Saturday in quest of their first win in LSC history over the East Texas Lions on the latter's field.

Stephen F. Austin, at last out of the league cellar by virtue of a 13 to 7 win over Southwest Texas after being shelled by Commerce and Denton, is the only LSC club not to see loop play. It entertains out-of-state Louisiana Normal Saturday at Nacogdoches.

Having been pushed to the limit to overhaul a stubborn Sam Houston eleven 7 to 6 last week, the North Texas Eagles took a deep breath early this week before wading into the San Marcos eleven.

Grid's Crucial Tilts Due In November

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—It's a football tradition going back to the days of long-haired Nemen and turtle-neck sweat-shirts that November brings the decisive games of the season.

There's nothing to change that idea in this week's card, although September and October games already have eliminated all but a dozen or two teams as contenders for the national crown. There's a chance that about half the survivors will go down this weekend.

The weekly survey shapes up something like this:
East—Cornell's 21-7 triumph over Ohio State advanced the big red team a little farther along the national trail. With Penn eliminated by a 14-0 loss to Michigan, Cornell is the only "Ivy league" team in the national picture except possibly Navy. The Midshipmen looked good in beating Yale 21-0 but they haven't faced Cornell's schedule. Next Saturday the Ithacans figure to beat Columbia, eliminated from the undefeated class by a 3-0 last-minute defeat by Syracuse. Navy's encounter with Penn should be a make-or-break affair for both teams.

Taking tradition into account, the Army-Notre Dame, Harvard-Princeton and Yale-Brown games should be among the week's big attractions. But Army this year doesn't figure to cause trouble for mighty Notre Dame, whose fourth straight win was 26-0 over Illinois. Mid-west—If Minnesota is as powerful as its 34-6 victory over Iowa indicates, the next two weeks should prove it. Next Saturday the Gophers encounter Northwestern, which beat Indiana 20-7 without Bill Decorvent, and the next week they face Michigan, which is taking a week off to get ready.

Other Big Ten games this week are comparatively unimportant. The Big Six, however, has one of those crucial games—Oklahoma against Nebraska. They're tied for the lead after the Cornhuskers trimmed Missouri 20-7 and the Sooners beat Iowa State by the same count. The winner figures to go right on to the championship. Kansas State, 20-0 winner over Villanova Sunday, against Tulsa, Missouri Valley conference leader and 7-0 conqueror of Texas Christian.

South Unbeaten Tennessee and Clemson are making the pace in their conferences but neither has the race sewed up yet. Mississippi

State, which beat North Carolina State 26-10, and Mississippi, 21-20 upset victim of Arkansas, both are unbeaten in the Southeastern circuit. L. S. U. 7-0 victor over Vanderbilt, may be good enough to bother the Volunteers Saturday. Mississippi encounters Vanderbilt this week and Mississippi State plays Southwestern of Memphis.

Southwest—The upset of Texas by Rice, 13-0, disposed of one threat to the Texas Aggies' supremacy in the Southwest conference but Southern Methodist still is in the way. The Mustangs, tied by Pitt but otherwise in the clear, were idle last week while the Aggies were hard pressed to beat Baylor 14-7. This week the Aggies play Arkansas and S. M. U. meets Texas. T. C. U. and Baylor clash in a consolation game while Rice tapers off against Texas A. and I. Texas Tech plays Miami in Florida Friday and Hardin-Simmons meets West Texas Teachers.

Rocky Mountain—Colorado, 62-0 winner over Wyoming, is the unchallenged Big Seven leader since Utah, smarting from an unexpected loss, bounced back to whip Denver 25-14. If the Buffs can get past Utah this week all should be clear sailing. Utah state, which played a scoreless tie against Idaho, meets Brigham Young in this week's other conference game.

Pacific Coast—Although Stanford preserved its unbeaten record by conquering Southern California 21-7, the Indians can't be crowned champions until after their game with Washington Nov. 9. The Huskies just scraped past California 7-6 and will have a week's rest while Stanford plays U. C. L. A. at Los Angeles. Other games Saturday are California-Oregon State, Idaho-Washington State and Oregon-Montana.

DALLAS, Oct. 28 (AP)—Sam Garafalo, St. Louis bowler, struck out in the closing frames to win the 31,000 sweepstakes here early today with a score of 1,670.

Louis Reisen, Wichita Falls, Tex., the all-event champion of this state, missed winning the event, when, on the tenth frame of his final game, he left the ten pin standing. His final score of 1,665 placed second, two pins ahead of a fellow townsman, George Blackerby, former Texas league baseball player.

Jess Neely's Rice Owls Get SAW In Muddle

Drawlin' Gent From Southland Throws Dynamite In League

DALLAS, Oct. 28 (AP)—Slowpoke Jess Neely, a deep south boy who shuffled into the Southwest conference this season for a gamble on a tough situation, had the daffiest of all football leagues in a deplorable condition today.

The very nature of this mellow, drawlin' man who abandoned one of the best spots in the game at Clemson to tinker with Rice Institute's sputtering machine, pre-saged anything but trouble when he arrived this fall.

But he's dropped dynamite smack into the middle of everything. Jess Neely has just about stolen the show from everything but the monotonous, but magnificent, march of a Texas Aggie team that has won 16 straight games.

Not a big name glittered on the Rice lineup when Neely moved in to a murderous schedule. Two or three sophomores have through the first four games, but "coordination" is about the biggest name around the Owl camp.

It was that, plus some of Sophomore T. A. Weems' wizardous running, that sent unbeaten, untied Texas spinning into defeat, 13-0, Saturday last. It could be called an upset, but anything Rice does from now on won't be upsetting. It is to be expected, for Rice has a well-knit machine that can strike furiously aground and in the air.

Cowboy Jack Crain, admittedly injured but still a threat, was no menace to the stannish Rice defense. He couldn't move—sat on the back row and watched 200-pound, sophomore Weems stand his running thunder.

The Rice Owls are not undefeated. They dropped a 6-15 decision to Tulane several days ago, a Tulane Surge Wave that was bound to surge after three defeats. But they have trounced Centenary, 25-0, Louisiana State, 23-0, and Texas, 13-0.

Now they loom in front of the poisonous Texas Aggie team, a team that weathered one of its stormiest seasons last Saturday in disposing of a Baylor team that had worked itself into a terrific state for the eadle game, only to fall, 7-14, as the sixteenth consecutive victim of the massive red machine.

Rice has what should be easy sailing against Texas A. & I. next Saturday night, at Houston, but the Aggies must meet trouble again when Arkansas, the team that never knows when to quit, comes to College Station. The Porkers shook off Mississippi's 20-7 advantage in the last nine minutes and mowed down the unbeaten southerners, 21-20, Saturday.

Texas must come out of the Rice derelict again unbeaten, but tied, Southern Methodist in an Austin classic. The Methodists were idle last week, and they needed just to mend a team wracked by injuries.

Luckless Texas Christian, dropped by Tulsa, 7-0, meets Baylor in Fort Worth.

BOB BRUMLEY, RICE FULLBACK, plunged through the line to score the first touchdown for his team over Texas in the game which Rice, generally accounted the underdog, won 13 to 0.

ACC's Jones 3rd In Nat'l Scoring Lists

Mich's Harmon, Penn's Reagan Still Lead In Football's Paydirt

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Michigan stopped Pennsylvania's Frank Reagan last Saturday but Penn couldn't stop Michigan's Tommy Harmon. So today Harmon is farther ahead than ever in the national football scoring race.

His one touchdown and two extra points against the Quakers brought his season's total to 87 points—12 touchdowns, as many conversions and a field goal. Reagan remained in second with 61 points but his hold on that spot was threatened by a couple of small college players who just broke into the list, Thurman Jones of Abilene Christian in Texas with 57 points and Charles Larson of Culver-Stocketon in Missouri with 56.

S'West Card Filled Sat.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28 (AP)—Comes November and the peak of the year for Southwest conference football. Three conference games—the maximum number possible—will be played on each of the next three Saturday afternoons.

Headliner for the immediate Saturday—Nov. 2—is undoubtedly S. M. U. and Texas at Austin. Not since 1934 have the Longhorns managed to come out on the long end of the score against the Methodists. The Bible plan plans to call a halt to that habit.

The Texas Christian eleven comes back to Fort Worth for its first appearance at home in a month. Opposition will be furnished by T. C. U.'s ancient and honorable rival, the Baylor Bears. When Frogs and Bears mix it up on the gridiron the result is unpredictable. But the Frogs do point out that the Bears won last year, and that it's T. C. U.'s time now.

The powerful Aggies draw the not-too-strong Arkansas Razorbacks in College Station. It would be the most major upset of the year for the visitors to do more than make a good showing against the Aggie strength.

Saturday will be Texas for the Rice Owls. They meet Texas A. & I. at Houston in a night game. The Javelinas are strong in their class this season, but they'll be out of their class when they go up against Coach Jess Neely's 1940 version of the Owls.

For the first time since the season opened, the week's grid bill offers no inter-sectional contest for a Southwest eleven. But there are several more to be played before the season ends.

F. C. U. meets Detroit at Detroit Nov. 9. Arkansas plays Fordham in New York City Nov. 21 and Texas contends with the University of Florida at Gainesville Dec. 7.

GAIN IS SHOWN IN TEXAS EMPLOYMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—A report prepared by the labor department showed $79,000 persons were employed in non-agricultural establishments in Texas last September, an increase of 16,000 over the preceding month and a gain of 7,000 or 8 per cent over September, 1939.

Nearly all states, the report said, shared in a total increase of 660,000 jobs in non-agricultural industries between August and September, bringing the total employed in non-agricultural industries in September to 24,000,000.

Westbrook Tops 6-Man Loop, Forsan Second

Winning over Sterling City's six-man football team with the score of 33 to 22, Westbrook's sextet maintained its lead Friday in district 12 as three more games this season loomed for the competitors. Last year's champions in the circuit, the Westbrookers have a big, brilliant crew that stands a highly-favored chance to repeat this year.

With the defeat of Courtney by Garner, 6 to 0, Forsan moved into second place, dropping Water Valley's six, 35 to 22. As they now stand, Garner is making a bid to move into the top ranks and completely tie up the whole works for the leaders.

Forsan, the team that was given the pre-season choice for the cellar, is showing an increasing power as they move into the home stretch, although a scrapping crew of Water Valleyers ran up the score against them. Next week, Forsan will meet the leaders, Westbrook, in a return engagement at Westbrook. In the first game of the season for Forsan and Westbrook, the Forsan sextet chopped down the top-rankers by virtue of penetrations. That is the only mark thus far on the defending titlists' record this season.

Coahoma and Garden City are crowding each other on the bottom rung, both having lost all but two of their duels this year. Last Friday the Garden City aggression brought Coahoma into a tie for the cellar spot with a flood that swamped the Coahomans 30 to 8.

At this stage of the conference race, everything is favoring Westbrook to repeat, with Forsan and Garner having it nip and tuck for second slot honors. Courtney is still a threat but is not slated to be able to overcome the advantage held by Westbrook and Forsan.

DISTRICT STANDINGS

Westbrook	5	1	857
Forsan	5	2	714

Recreation News

Both children and adults will find an assortment of entertainment at the city-WPA recreation department free Halloween carnival to be held Thursday night on the American Business club park in western Big Spring.

All types of activities are planned and there will be refreshments. Members of the 1930 Hyperion club, the Business Club, and the recreation staff, will supervise the affair. Included on the program are music by the Sunset Serenaders; a city junior championship amateur boxing tourney; a costume parade featuring selection of a Halloween king and queen; ball of horrors; fishing; pond for prizes; fortune telling; apple bobbing; story telling; and other recreation.

Children and leaders on the East Side banner in the boxing event, ready for the event by making costumes, false faces and decorations. Virtually all playgrounds plan to send members in regalia. J. C. Wagley, Chester McSwain and H. B. Wagley are carrying the East Side banner in the boxing event.

Last week the East Side playground had a hike and Weiner round for junior boys, which also includes nature study with prizes for those making the largest collections.

Beginning Monday the arts and crafts class at the ABC park will be staged from 1:30 p. m. to 6:30 p. m. On other grounds the schedule is: Wednesday, Birdwell Park, 4 p. m. to 6 p. m.; Friday, East Side, same hours; and Saturday, Mexican Plaza, 10 a. m. to 11 a. m. During the week outstanding work was done by Giles Patten, who built a whatnot shelf of spoons and apple boxes, and Billie Joe Weatherly, who made a first aid medicine cabinet of panel board. They are both of the ABC group.

Moore is to stage a Halloween carnival Wednesday evening with Big Spring and Moore boys staging boxing bouts as a feature. Children at Moore are preparing a radio program slated over KBBT on Nov. 1. It is a new experience for most of them.

Walls of the ABC playground were sealed with panel board during the last week eliminating draft and dust. The American Business Club did the work.

Thirty junior boys and girls joined in the progressive games tournament at Birdwell Park Thursday afternoon. Dominoes, checkers, Chinese checkers and horse shoe pitching were played with Marvin Hockendorf and Elmer Clinton winning first and second.

Participating in the ABC park radio program recently were Ellen Landermilch, Mary Lou Redwine, the rhythm band, D. Wayne Hooper, Naida Smith, Della Mae Kellogg, Bettie Lee Shorten, Bonnie Ericson, Ole Mae McCasid, Betty

Two hours practice were put in by the senior music club at the ABC park building last week in band practice. Twenty-three took a study of chorals. Last week the music unit classes in the East Fourth Baptist basement. Among other things, this unit is organizing a Spanish class in music with 10 enrolled for weekly sessions at the Mundy auditorium Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Dorothy Hendricks and Francis Murphy took charge of the program Wednesday for the junior music club, presenting vocal numbers, readings and a stringed duet. Marjorie Hodges and Billy Gene Butts were named to be in charge this week.

Amarillo Has Football Duel Of Life Ahead

Sandies And Sherman In Shaky Position As Opposition Gains Power

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

The conviction took root along the Texas schoolboy football front today that two of the heralded powers—Amarillo and Sherman—face the fight of their lives in winning their own district championships.

Two weeks ago Amarillo and Sherman were mentioned as almost certain to clash in the semifinals.

But sober reflection and a perusal of the records have given the seeds of doubt, along with some other things that have brought changes in the critics' views regarding teams that a month ago they said couldn't miss.

Backers of Amarillo are shaky over a 15-game winning streak on the part of the swashbuckling Westerners of Lubbock. And Lubbock's smashing 51-0 defeat of Borger in the opening conference game of District 1 last week didn't help their frame of mind any.

The thing that gives Sherman followers the jitters is the unbridled power shown by the Paris Wildcats as they slowly but surely push their way into a co-favorite's way for the District 5 title.

Last week Amarillo was not particularly impressive in beating five times defeated North Side of Fort Worth. True the margin was the same as rolled up by Lubbock over North Side but the Westerners played the Fort Worth team in Fort Worth and it was early in the season.

Lubbock's defensive record is better than Amarillo's and when the Westerners want to turn on the offensive heat they fairly sear the opposition.

Paris also has a better defensive showing than Sherman although their point-making ability does not compare with the Bearcats except of recent date.

These four teams are among the state's 16 undefeated, untied aggregations and they come close to being the top forty of the state, although there are also some other fine teams strewn out along the way to the gulf.

For instance Masonic Home (Fort Worth) not only is unbeaten and untied but is unscored on. Stephenville is running riot in the Old East Texas menace through a 14-7 upset of hitherto unbeaten, top-rated Longview.

Lufkin is moving along without trouble in the piney woods area. Jeff Davis (Houston) has an unscored goal line. Port Arthur is gaining power with each game and now looks like a quarter-finalist.

Corpus Christi is cutting a wide swath through the gulf coast area. Play this week will go far toward settling the issues in at least three of the districts.

Jeff Davis meets Lamar of Houston in one of the state's feature games. It will determine the leadership in District 13 in addition to matching two unbeaten teams. Lamar has a spotless record except for a tie last week with Austin (Houston).

Waxahachie, surprise of Central Texas, jumps out of the frying pan into the oven. Last week the Indians beat Bryan 2-0 to become the only undefeated team in the District 10 race. This week Waxahachie plays Corsicana, a club just now finding its stride. A Tiger victory would scramble the race like a crate of broken eggs.

In District 12, Lufkin plays Mexia in a game between the leading clubs. In District 4, South Park (Beaumont) and Port Arthur, two of the three undefeated teams, play each other. Beaumont, the third, meets Orange.

Here's how the district races now shape up:
1—Lubbock, undefeated, invades Pampa, conference game; Plainview, undefeated, entertains Big Spring; and Amarillo invades Borger to open its district campaign;
2—Wichita Falls and Graham defeated; 3—Big Spring leading by half a game; 4—Austin (El Paso) and El Paso High undefeated; 5—Sherman and Paris unbeaten; 6—Greenville and Highland Park (Dallas) tied for the lead; 7—Masonic Home and Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) tied for the top; 8—Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) the only unbeaten team.

9—Stephenville the only undefeated team; 10—Waxahachie the only undefeated team; 11—Tyler the only undefeated team; 12—Lufkin and Mexia undefeated; 13—Beaumont, Port Arthur and South Park unbeaten; 15—Austin and Kerrville undefeated; 16—Corpus Christi defeated but Robstown hasn't played a conference game in the north zone; Brownville and Harlingen unbeaten in the south zone.

In the spotlight.
Saturday's hero—dime a dozen. Take your pick.
Saturday's zero—Joe Lsmanna, N. Y. U. safety who battled a Georgetown punt out of bounds on his own one-yard line when the ball was just about to roll into the end zone for a touchdown... Result: Georgetown touchdown.

More Debate Over Vitt

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28 (AP)—President Alva Bradley announced today the Cleveland Indians "have decided not to renew Oscar Vitt's contract" as manager. Selection of a new pilot, Bradley added, will be made some time in the future.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28 (AP)—Anytime things get dull around Cleveland, just start talking about the rebellious Indians and their favorite target—Oscar Vitt. Apparently everyone has an opinion about that.

Tongues wagged as directors of the American League club were called together today to do something about a 1941 manager. Owner Alva Bradley would admit only two things:
That he had talked with Bucky Harris, Washington pilot, and Luke Sewell, Cleveland coach, about the job and that directors definitely would make a decision on Vitt today.

"I can't say we will name a new manager at this meeting," Bradley declared. "We will go into all the possibilities after the Vitt situation is cleared up."

Joe Barnea; Andy Daylong, and Della Jane Kirkland.

Two hours practice were put in by the senior music club at the ABC park building last week in band practice. Twenty-three took a study of chorals. Frank Rutherford Has Operated A Cleaning Plant Here 12 Years

Working after school in a cleaning shop when he was 15 years old formed the ambition of Frank Rutherford, owner and manager of the Crawford Cleaners, 306 Scurry, to have a shop of his own and 12 years ago he realized that ambition with his shop in Big Spring.

Rutherford came to Big Spring when he was five years old from Rice, Tex., to just miss being a local native.

The cleaning shop was originally located in the Crawford hotel from 1928 to 1938 and two years ago Rutherford moved to his present location.

In his modernly equipped shop he has two men to assist him and Mrs. Rutherford works part time.

They have two presses and do their own cleaning. They feature their one-day cash and carry service and finish garments in the evening if brought before 11 o'clock in the morning.

Before Rutherford had his own shop, he had had years of experience as a hatter and he does all of the hat work in the shop now. He handles both men and women's hats and a great part of the plant's cleaning is specializing in hats. He figures he has had better than 20 years experience at this one type of job.

Rutherford's hours are long, from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. but he says the work is easy for him as he likes it.

The shop has delivery service as well as cash-carry trade and caters to both types of customers.

Motor And Magneto Sales, Service A Specialty Of Masters Firm Here

Is Exclusive Agency For Several Lines

Being specialists in electric motor and automotive rewinding and sales and distribution agents for a wide variety of motors, magnetos and similar forms of electrical equipment, Masters Electric Service, 408 E. 3rd, is prepared to meet any demands placed on it in the matter of electric power.

E. C. Masters, owner of the shop, is in his ninth year in Big Spring, having come here from Carlsbad, N. M., where he was chief engineer for the Crawford hotel interests.

Motor rewinding is an extremely delicate process and can only be done efficiently by skilled workers and with a full line of tools. The modern magneto is such a complex piece of machinery that special care must be taken in the simple act of oiling it and keeping it free of sand.

Although Masters' shop specialty is not seasonal, there is a slight increase in business during the spring of the year, that being the time when farmers get their tractors in condition for the spring plowing. Masters suggests that the magnetos be serviced every year in order to maintain the highest degree of efficiency and lengthen the life expectancy of the electrical unit of the engine.

Sales and distribution are two major items at the Masters shop. The exclusive agency for Briggs and Stratton motors, MRC ball bearings and Browning belts and pulleys is at Masters'. In addition, Kohler, Master, Century, Delco and Wagner motors are handled. A full line of magnetos is stocked at the shop. American-Bosch, Fairbanks, Bendix, Scintella, Wyco and Case units make an almost complete line of the more commonly known magnetos on the market today.

Masters' work is not localized, as he is called upon to handle servicing jobs from a large area surrounding Big Spring. He has been sent magneto work from as far west as Prescott, Ariz., and as far east as Ranger, Carlsbad, N. M., and Del Rio are other points in the Masters Electric Service's extensive area of customers.

last year, expects to increase the volume greatly for 1941. Chrysler has made "fluid drive" optional equipment on its Dodge and DeSoto models as well as the lower priced Chryslers.

Price Advances Moderate The price trend generally is higher, but not so much as the trade or buying public had expected. In all instances where price advances have been announced immediate attention has been directed to the standardizing of equipment that was "extra" in last year's models.

Manufacturing economies have been effected by some producers by using identical chassis for six- and eight-cylinder models, with the larger engine available at a difference of $25 or $35 in price.

Since the first Automobile Show, the wages generated by the use of motor vehicles have amounted to more than $5 billion dollars, or five times all the monetary gold now held in the United States.

Banner Will Use A New Bottle Cap

Adding another link in the protective chain of sanitation for their milk products, the Banner Creamery will begin serving the Big Spring area with new Sealon Hood capped Banner Milk, Tuesday morning.

Designed to overcome the possibility of germs, contracted through handlink, being left on the lip of the bottle, this circumventing sanitary precautions taken at the creamery, the cap will insure each bottle of Banner Milk being absolutely pure until the milk is actually used.

The new Sealon Hood is fitted over the first or ordinary cap by machinery using a heat temperature of 320 degrees Fahrenheit, thereby providing for the complete sterilization of the closure.

Production Rate Is Stepped Up On Pontiac Torpedos

Public acceptance of the Pontiac Streamliner Torpedo Sedan-coupe has been so remarkable that production schedules through December are being revised upward to handle orders for the five-passenger, ultra-streamlined model, according to D. U. Bathrick, vice president and general sales manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

It is a rare model that can so up-estimate that production schedules must be changed, but the Streamliner sedan-coupe—a brand new body type—has accomplished just that," Bathrick said.

"We at first were of the opinion that it would take some time for the public to become used to the sweeping lines of the sedan-coupe. But acceptance came before more than a few of the models were in dealer's hands.

"It began when the engineers started driving sedan-coupe. Then when our field organization men were brought in at the beginning of the model year they picked sales as their personal cars. The public took over from there."

Sales of the five passenger model now constitute 52 1/2 per cent of the sales of the entire Streamliner Torpedo line, Bathrick says. Last year the comparable-priced five passenger sport-coupe sold only 9 1/2 per cent of the line.

Has 18 Years Experience As Undertaker

Although C. O. Nalley has been in Big Spring only since March of 1938, he is rounding out 18 years of experience as an undertaker. He came here from Abilene two and a half years ago to open the Nalley Funeral Home at 7th and 7th-street, an institution he has maintained at the same location since.

He was born and reared at West, Tex., and went with his family while a youth to Callahan county before as a lad of 15 years, he started out on his own. His travels took him to Wyoming as an employee of the Union Pacific Railway Co.

His first experience as a mortician came in 1922 when he became associated with the old Fort Worth Undertaking Co., a concern he worked with for four years.

Then he returned to mid-West Texas and spent two years at Stamford and Abilene. Later, he joined with a casket manufacturing company and served as district salesman for three years before coming to Big Spring.

Since 1927, Nalley has been a licensed embalmer, enabling him to give complete mortuary services.

Even though his institution here is a comparatively young one, Nalley has been gratified by the way in which the community has responded.

The home, which contains a chapel, reception rooms, quarters affording privacy for relatives of deceased persons, etc., also has a complete display of caskets.

To go with this, Nalley not only has experience in directing funerals, but also has complete and modern motorized equipment for hearse and ambulance service.

Nalley is a past president of the American Business club, and is otherwise active in civic affairs. Recently he led a team which out-distanced all others in raising funds for Boy Scout work and now is chairman of a general committee working up a pre-Christmas celebration for the city.

MINING MAN HELD BY KIDNAPERS IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28 (AP) — Negotiations were reported still in progress today with the abductors of J. W. Reid, head of the El Cubo silver mine, who was kidnapped Saturday in the state of Guanajuato.

This was Reid's second experience with Mexican kidnapers. In 1929, he and another mining man, Henry B. Hanson, an American, were released after more than a month as captives on payment of a ransom.

Reid was believed here to be a Canadian.

Only one person in every ten of New York City's 7,649,000 population owns a passenger car as compared with more than one out of every three of Los Angeles' 1,400,000 population.

Gasoline taxes made up by far the largest single type of revenue, levied by municipal, state and federal agencies accounting for $1,083,000,000.

A new field of radio entertainment is opened to the motoring public with the announcement by the Buick division of General Motors of a short wave receiving set, which is combined with the regular receiving instrument designed for the 1941 cars.

Known as the Super Sonomatic, the short wave receiver uses the same antenna as the regular set. A flick of a switch provides the listener with any of four short wave bands: 16, 19, 25 and 31 meters. The band desired is spread across the dial and tuning is the same as on the regular instrument.

Developed by Buick radio engineers in conjunction with Radio Corporation of America, the combination set will enable motorists in rural America to pick up short wave broadcasts where regular reception is impossible due to great distances from station locations. European short wave broadcasts can be obtained with the selection of the proper wave bands, dependent upon the time of day and location.

Since the first Automobile Show, the wages generated by the use of motor vehicles have amounted to more than $5 billion dollars, or five times all the monetary gold now held in the United States.

RESUME HEARING OF WAGGONER CASE

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 28 (AP)—Judge Bryan G. Johnson resumed today a district court hearing seeking to establish the legal residence of Guy L. Waggoner, wealthy sportsman who wants a New Mexico divorce from his pretty, 29-year-old wife, Virginia Green Waggoner of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Waggoner brought a divorce suit in Texas, her husband instituting one in San Miguel county, New Mexico. The hearing was to determine the jurisdiction of New Mexico courts to try the suits.

Waggoner contended he has made his residence in San Miguel county since 1937, but attorneys for Mrs. Waggoner sought to prove the sportsman's legal residence is in Texas.

Editorial

The National Guard association in Washington recently adopted a most remarkable resolution. We reproduce the gist of it here, as given in an Associated Press dispatch: "To secure the cooperation of the American press and radio to the end that all news in connection with the rearmament and mobilization plans be constructive, factual news, and to secure the adoption of a press and radio policy of self-censoring of so-called special articles based on hearsay and speculation which destroy the confidence of the American people in the armed services, and consciously or unconsciously sabotage the program."

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Shed a tear for the pigeon bill. It's dead. There were some who called it emergency defense legislation. There were some who merely boob-pooed it as another clutter on the statute books. Among the latter was President Roosevelt, who sent it back to the house of representatives with his veto.

The pigeon bill was a measure which would have made it an offense punishable by $500 fine to shoot, capture, pursue or otherwise hamper a homing-pigeon in flight.

It was introduced in the house by the representative from Brooklyn, Dr. Joseph L. Pfeifer, prominent surgeon and himself a fancier of the winged messengers. He pointed out at the bill's inception that it was an emergency measure, that the war department was "interested in the measure, which it says is needed for national defense" because "when all other means of communication fail, the homing pigeon always gets through."

PASSED BY SENATE

Senator Wagner, also of New York, had the bill given right of way in the senate as defense legislation. It passed both houses.

The president said in his veto message that it seemed like an unnecessary new law and that if any real need should arise for the measure, there would be plenty of time to enact it later.

"I am inclined to think there are no Americans, or at least very few of them who would deliberately shoot or capture a homing pigeon. I think there are practically no people who would deliberately remove or alter a message in the leg band of a homing pigeon. After all, homing pigeons do not closely resemble any game birds."

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Recently Sonny (C. V.) Whitney got back to NY from a 20,000 mile aerial tour of the southern Pacific. When he goes on trips, or stays in town for that matter, he notes each day's happenings in a personal diary. Here are a few leaves from his diary, written on this tour:

"About Canton Island. The first things you see as you glide down and tie up to the wharf are the British and American flags, side by side. Canton is the only island in the world under the joint sovereignty of Great Britain and the U. S. Poor Mr. and Mrs. Flemming, the agents of His Majesty the King when the war came, they were forgotten on this tiny isle. Their provision boat did not come as usual, and they are now supported by Pan American Airways."

"On Nuraku Island. There are about 10 women for every man. I must tell you, says a British government medico, 'they are the most beautiful women I have seen in all the South Seas. They are perfection—and unspoiled, for they are never visited by the outside world.' They told me about the Clipper coming over for the first time. All were in church. A woman came in, shrieking 'The Angel of Death is approaching!' Everyone dashed out of the church. They grabbed their babies and took to the bush where they stayed until it passed over."

"New Caledonia. Used to belong to France—now under the De Gaulle government in London. An island being watched by Japan through a periscope and by Australia through a monocle. Noumea (the capitol) itself still has the charm of a French provincial village. Champagne

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—It may sound a little wacky, but I've just talked to an actor rejoicing over a failure.

"If I had been in a success in that," he fairly gloated, "today I'd be back in New York, maybe on the stage, maybe just looking for a job. Instead I'm here and..."

The actor was William Gargan, redheaded son of Brooklyn. "That was a picture called 'Rain,' made some ten years ago and still a lot of a headache to Joan Crawford, its star, as well as to Gargan, who drew it as his first picture assignment."

Gargan is very much here, 10 years after "Rain" pitter-pattered a tiny, disheartening tune at the box office. Gargan is here because his work in "They Knew What They Wanted," even before its general release, has landed him two fat jobs with more in the offing. The first is "Cheers for Miss Bishop," in which he's opposite the screen's answer to Helen Hayes, our Martha Scott. To be cast in a movie with her today is like hitting the jackpot. When a leading man says "Great Scott!" he's thinking of Martha.

"When I came out to make 'Rain' I knew everything," says Bill Gargan. "I could have told everybody in Hollywood how to make pictures. Maybe I did. But if 'Rain' had been a hit, I'll bet it would have gone straight to my head and there'd have been no living with me."

"Fortunately for me, 'Rain' died. It collapsed and I stumbled with it. So I had to do it the hard way. You know how many pictures I've worked in since then? Exactly 66—good, bad, in-

Russia and other totalitarian lands. No newspaper or radio, according to this proposal, would have the right to criticize any army officer for pulling a boner that cost the lives of a thousand men. To do so would be to "consciously or unconsciously sabotage the program."

If the time ever comes in this country when the pipelines of facts and opinions are voluntarily or forcibly shut off, at that exact moment we will cease to be a democracy and become a totalitarian state.

One of the surest ways of sabotaging the national defense efforts is to give military and naval bigwigs the impression that they are above criticism.

No honest newspaper would knowingly print anything to damage American prestige or hamper its defense efforts. No honest official, army or otherwise need fear just criticism though he must be prepared to run the gamut of public opinion as long as the channels of expression are open.

By Jack Stinnett

On the fact of it, I'll string long with the president. Name an enemy spy out to bag a homing pigeon and its message who would tremble with fear at the prospect of a $500 fine. But if I have my pigeons in a straight line, there's a story behind this story... and here it is.

In Brooklyn and other communities there's a widespread pigeon racket, perpetrated by a sort of Black Hand of Pigeondom. These fiends who prey on the pigeon fanciers have devised intricate ways of capturing the homing birds.

Sometimes they send up their own flocks nearby during exercise periods and thus snare a few strays from the purebred Antwerp or homers.

Sometimes they net them or stun them with minute shot and light charges from rifles or shot guns.

They examine the bands, find the owner, call him up and give him the "Say, Mister, I just found your pigeon. I'll bring him back but I'm way across town and it'll cost a dollar to get there. Will you pay it?"

They merely sit and looked at her. She realized there could be no hope of help from Sherdeck who was wrapped up blindly in the desire to serve his beloved Prince and pupil. She held out a pleading hand to Temu Darin.

"Temu, you say you came to know American girls when you were in my country. You must understand how impossible this is."

"His eyes had narrowed. 'Do you wish to go back and marry your banker?'"

"I do not wish to marry anybody," she cried wildly. "I doubt if I even like the idea of marriage. It is all so mixed up with settlements and laws and material advantages and necessities and a sense of possession—everything but love. I'm no chattel, I'm a human being with rights and reserves of my own."

"If you married the Prince you might learn to love him."

"Stop it!" she commanded. "I've heard silly arguments like that before. The Prince is not the only man who wished to marry me because he saw that picture."

Sherdeck interposed. "If you are 25 cents a quart..."

"But... My first impression of Balt was in the two individuals who were standing by the plane to help us alight. One was a Balinese soldier looking very efficient in his spotless uniform, the other a porter clad only in a sarong. The trance dance... a young girl of humble descent is selected for the principal role. The girl hangs her head over the fire in which the Medicine Men pour various herbs and potions until she finally becomes drugged by the fumes..."

"While the story unfolds, in song and acting, the girl dances in trance as the spirits are supposed to move her... This performance would make a sensation on any stage in America..."

"We spend a week in Java... The Sultan is one of the last remaining Eastern Potentates... He has an autocratic rule over 40,000,000 people... There are 20,000 within the walls of his palace... He is only 26 and speaks perfect English... As we toured the palace with him I saw a table tennis set stowed away in a corner. When I mentioned this his face lit up and he said, 'Yes, that's the only exercise I get... I believe he has about 15 wives, and there are a horde of royal princesses...'"

The Herald's Serial Story

Chapter 10 GIBL IN A TRAP

Lynn regarded Sherdeck with a sense of helplessness. "Have you any recollection of your life with King Bron-bstan-agam-po?" Sherdeck asked.

Lynn glanced at Temu, unable to interpret the inscrutable smile on his face. Did he believe this stuff or was he secretly laughing?

"I certainly have no such memories," she said.

"Your life, the Prince's, mine, theirs," he nodded at Gering and Temu and Chin Pak. "All our lives have run parallel before."

Contrary to a carefully educated skepticism, Lynn thrilled to the idea. Surely, the mystery of life is much deeper than any glib scientific attempt at explanation.

Sherdeck continued, "Perhaps we did unwittingly in dealing with your brother and now we have to pay for it in this difficulty with you."

She looked from him to Temu. "Why didn't this Prince of yours come for me himself?" She noticed a hesitation as if each man waited for the other to reply until Temu answered.

"Leaving his own domain is rather risky for a ruler these days, especially in this part of the world. The Prince has enemies; there are even certain powerful governments that would like to see him out of the way. He is safest in his own domain."

She held his eye for a moment. "You call that love?"

"We are not trying to prove anything now. You will have your proof of love when you reach Delun."

Lynn stiffened. "The whole thing is preposterous. I demand that you send me home at once."

They merely sat and looked at her. She realized there could be no hope of help from Sherdeck who was wrapped up blindly in the desire to serve his beloved Prince and pupil. She held out a pleading hand to Temu Darin.

"Temu, you say you came to know American girls when you were in my country. You must understand how impossible this is."

"His eyes had narrowed. 'Do you wish to go back and marry your banker?'"

"I do not wish to marry anybody," she cried wildly. "I doubt if I even like the idea of marriage. It is all so mixed up with settlements and laws and material advantages and necessities and a sense of possession—everything but love. I'm no chattel, I'm a human being with rights and reserves of my own."

"If you married the Prince you might learn to love him."

"Stop it!" she commanded. "I've heard silly arguments like that before. The Prince is not the only man who wished to marry me because he saw that picture."

Sherdeck interposed. "If you would only have shared my experience in finding the boy he had been beaten and starved and frozen, but he was still undaunted."

"Many appealing little boys grow into strange specimens of manhood!" she retorted bitterly. "Look at my own brother!"

Temu shrugged. "Then let us forget it until we reach Delun."

"I'm not going to Delun," declared Lynn rising.

He came to his feet smiling grimly. "Sorry, but you're going to do as we say."

Anger and loathing and an inner sense of helplessness darkened her eyes. "You beastly Mongolians!" she raged.

"Sit down again please!" Though Temu did not touch her, she felt literally pushed down into her chair by the personal force of his words. "We have something more to tell you. It happens that the Prince is a white man and not a 'beastly Mongolian.' His parents were missionaries recently come from America."

The Road To Shani Lun

Lynn's only experience of a missionary's son happened to be identified with their nation. They believed fanatically in his incarnation as their leader. His will was their law and pleasure. It must be good to be loved so deeply.

She thought of the Prince and his destiny with a sense of awe. He could hardly be blamed for believing what Sherdeck told him. The reincarnation story was hardly less incredible than the facts of his own life. Born in America! Orphaned in the Tibetan wilds under horrible circumstances. Few white men could stand up under it.

Had his parents remained in America, he would probably have grown up to be a lawyer or a business man or a ditch digger. She wondered how he compared with Temu in character and worth and was willing to wager that the Mongol would prove the superior of the two.

Temu would not be an easy man to circumvent. The thing to do, she saw, was to accompany the caravan willingly so long as she must and escape when opportunity came. That the opportunity would come, she felt absolutely certain.

Mongol Table-talk She went pleasantly and in a friendly spirit when the Duchess called her to their late afternoon meal. Her son, the abbot from the lamassary was present. Lynn noticed him now as she had not the afternoon before. There was small resemblance, except in weight, between him and the Duchess. The abbot was a fat young man who held his head down and looked up at one under slanting brows. Lynn wondered if it denoted slyness or merely shyness.

Sherdeck was in high spirits. Somehow Lynn did not hold him as accountable for her plight as she did Temu. Temu was a contemporary and should understand her point of view. Sherdeck belonged to the past generation. He caught her watching him polish a duck's wishbone. Mongols felt, she knew, that to waste meat is to esteem lightly the soul of the animal whose life one has taken to feed his own life. But Sherdeck was a Buddhist and a priest.

"Buddhists of hot countries are vegetarians," he said, "but we worshippers of the highlands believe that we do well to eat meat. Thus we give animal forces an opportunity to be reborn in the form of human activity. Partaking of the flesh involves the assimilation of the psychic elements of the animals sacrificed."

She smiled at him mischievously. "Now you are duck, I suppose," she said, "or do I mean a duck is you?"

Temu grinned and entered the conversation. "It is probably mutual. What is Gering?"

"Quail," Lynn answered instantly. "What am I?"

"We'll ask Gering," he evaded and translated the trend of the talk to the Duchess. She entered the game immediately.

"She says that you are lark and her son is made a sheep?"

"What's he made of?" asked Lynn pointing to Temu.

"It is the Phoenix Bird, paragon of excellence."

"I agree with her," said Lynn, as they rose from the table. "He is certainly a paragon."

Temu gave her a reproachful look and walked with her out of the dining tent. "We start very early in the morning," he told her. "Should you like to come for a short ride about the camp?"

"Gladly, if I may go dressed as I am and ride side-saddle. I'm too lazy to change." She glanced at her white, wool sweater over a blue dress.

"I'll have a horse blanketed for you," he promised. "But are you dressed as warmly enough?"

"All the solicitude of a cannibal chieftain!" she jibed.

"Do you want to be loved for your wit alone?"

"Don't you want to be loved at all?" she countered as they stopped in front of her tent.

"Speaking of love, doesn't it make you like the Prince a little better to know his story?"

"At his hesitation she cried triumphantly. "There it is! Sherdeck looks at him with fond, parental eyes but you can't help seeing his shortcomings."

Temu spoke stubbornly. "Despite the Prince's shortcomings, I think I am doing right in taking you to him. As much as I believe anything on earth, I believe that your place is at his side and his place is the leadership of our country."

Lynn raised her hands in despair. "I keep fancying you ought to be different, but you're just another Oriental fanatic."

"I may be," he admitted with a smile that Lynn found as baffling as his Oriental philosophy. "Let's not talk about it any more. The wind is chilly; put on a warm wrap."

DAY OF PRAYERS

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 28 (AP) — Pope Pius XII today proclaimed Nov. 24 a day of "holy masses and public prayer to be offered throughout the world for the present needs of human society."

The Timid Soul

CONFIDENTIALLY, I THINK THE STATE OF AFFAIRS IS DEPLORABLE, AND IF WE DON'T WAKE UP PRETTY SOON IT'S GOING TO BE TOO LATE. THE POLICE FARMIENTE STUFF IS ON IN NORMAL TIMES, BUT RIGHT NOW IT'S SUICIDAL.

MY I WONDER IF I WOULD BE VIOLATING A CONFIDENCE IF I REPEATED THAT TO MADGE?

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—Recently Sonny (C. V.) Whitney got back to NY from a 20,000 mile aerial tour of the southern Pacific. When he goes on trips, or stays in town for that matter, he notes each day's happenings in a personal diary. Here are a few leaves from his diary, written on this tour:

"About Canton Island. The first things you see as you glide down and tie up to the wharf are the British and American flags, side by side. Canton is the only island in the world under the joint sovereignty of Great Britain and the U. S. Poor Mr. and Mrs. Flemming, the agents of His Majesty the King when the war came, they were forgotten on this tiny isle. Their provision boat did not come as usual, and they are now supported by Pan American Airways."

"On Nuraku Island. There are about 10 women for every man. I must tell you, says a British government medico, 'they are the most beautiful women I have seen in all the South Seas. They are perfection—and unspoiled, for they are never visited by the outside world.' They told me about the Clipper coming over for the first time. All were in church. A woman came in, shrieking 'The Angel of Death is approaching!' Everyone dashed out of the church. They grabbed their babies and took to the bush where they stayed until it passed over..."

"New Caledonia... Used to belong to France—now under the De Gaulle government in London. An island being watched by Japan through a periscope and by Australia through a monocle. Noumea (the capitol) itself still has the charm of a French provincial village. Champagne

World's Fair Closes With New Record

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—To the click of an all-time record gate, the New York world's fair has passed into history, wearing a crown of superlatives which marked it the king of expositions.

A total of 537,952 cash customers jammed its 1,216 acres as the curtain came down yesterday, sending the two-year mark to 45,008,385 paid admissions as compared with the previous high of 38,626,546 attracted by the Chicago Century of Progress exposition in 1933-34. Yesterday's crowd was the fair's largest.

Local Woman's Sister Succumbs

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas returned Sunday evening from Shawnee, Okla., where they attended last rites for her sister, Mrs. B. F. Halford, 51, a former resident of Big Spring.

Born in Waco, Mrs. Halford was one of a set of triplets born to the late Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Griffice. They moved to Big Spring while the three daughters—Garnett (Mrs. Halford), Coral (Mrs. Hardy Jones), and Ruby (Mrs. Emmitt Tamplin) were very young. Many long time residents remember them as the only triplets in the county until birth of the Shaw triplets here four years ago.

Court Refuses To Review Ruling On Wage-Hour Law

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The supreme court refused today to interfere with a circuit court decision holding that the federal wage-hour administrator could subpoena records from employers.

The court turned down a request by Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. to review a ruling that records could be required even though there was no reasonable cause to believe that the wage-hour act was being violated.

Denial of review left in effect the decision by the seventh federal circuit court.

The Chicago mail order house challenged the authority of the administrator to subpoena records concerning 2,000 employees at its Kansas City, Mo., branch.

Its contention that such action constituted an unreasonable "search and seizure" prohibited by the constitution was overruled by the seventh federal circuit court.

During the past ten years an average of 2,388,000 motor vehicles annually have been scrapped.
