ADMITS SLAYING TWO WOMEN

MINNEAPOLIS, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—John Reo, 40, broke early today after 36 hours of steady questioning and District Attorney Edward J. Neary announced, confessed slaying Mrs. Lenida Waite, 59-year-old widow, and Jeanne Schuellain, 19, her neighbor, in Long Island, "motivated murders."

Reo, a distant relative of Mrs. Waite, was locked up on charges of first degree murder.

Neary said the motive for the crime was still obscure.

"Reo was angry at Mrs. Waite for some reason," Neary said, "and killed the girl to prevent her from becoming a witness against him."

The bodies of Mrs. Waite and Miss Schuellain, each shot through the head and bound with silk stockings, were found in the Waite home in Elmont, a Long Island village last Wednesday.

READING AND WRITING

THE PRIVATE LETTERS OF PRINCESS LIEVEN TO FRANCE METTERNICH: 1830-1835, edited by Peter Quennell (Dutton; $3.75).

Peter Quennell's beautifully edited book of Princess Lieven's letters to that wily old minister, Prince Metternich, is published today. More exactly, the material is a set of excerpts from the intriguing "Princess" letters which she herself thought fit for preservation. When Metternich returned the missives to his former mistress, Princess Lieven copied out the parts she thought told the story of the years 1830-35 which she wants to pass on.

They are fabulous, these excerpts. They abound in odd scenes such as the Queen's attempt to attend a reception given by George IV, and the Court's plan to lock the good lady up in a little room and keep her there.

But they also are valuable. The Princess was born into an important family in Livonia, rather recently ennobled. She was married at 15; Lieven then was a count. He was never a great man, but he was steady and eventually he was sent to the Court of St. James as ambassador. Long before that it was evident that Mme. de Lieven was first, generously unfaithful to her husband, and second, an accomplished intriguer, one to whom the back alleys of high politics were both familiar and beloved.

So while her husband served Russia to the extent of his limited abilities, Mme. de Lieven wrote her long and acutely observed letters—to Metternich, whom she had met first at the Aix-la-Chapelle conference in 1813. Metternich's replies, up to 1830, have been preserved and published, but Mme. de Lieven's letters for that period are missing. The correspondence published today begins in 1820, and ends in a tantrum when Metternich married a young and unimportant woman, his third wife. Opinions differ as to the Princess's importance. But if there is a sharper set of comments on late Georgian England (or all of Europe, for that matter) this reader has not seen them. It's like having your favorite aunt at court—

Other Convicts Shun Capone

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18 (AP)—Al Capone goes about Alcatraz Island in daily garb of his life, a 523 Francisco police source said today on the word of a captured Alcatraz convict.

Police Inspector William McMahon quoted William Malcolm Mitchell, now en route to Providence, R. I., for questioning in a $35,000 jewel theft, as declaring after his release from Alcatraz that other prisoners hate Capone because they think he is a prison informer.

"In the morning, after the other men leave the yard," Mitchell said, "his job is to go out and pick up papers and cigarette stubs."

In the afternoon, Capone is a "towel boy" in the prison shower room.

"He is sort of kept away from other prisoners," Mitchell said. Mitchell was in Alcatraz for three years.

Tommy Farr In Great Shape For Bout With Ex-Heavy Champion

By GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—The new and reputedly sweet-tempered Tommy Farr has in the past month worked himself into grand shape for his 10-round tilt with Jimmie Braddock Friday night at the Garden.

So vicious has been Tommy's preparation for his American comeback that a dozen sparring partners have quit the camp. Kid McFarland, the old lightweight, says the Welshman is the hardest-working fighter he's seen in over 20 years, and he's watched all of them.

"I've really got myself in shape this time," said Tommy. "Now my American friends are going to see the real Tommy Farr. The last time I had too much manager trouble, and I didn't like training on the seashore."

Bulldogs Lick Buffaloes, 22-19

Marshall Paces Quintet With 12 Points

Forsan Senior Girls Topples Coahoma, 22-9

COAHOMA, Jan. 18—Lloyd DeVan's vicious Bulldogs of Coahoma high school showed a complete reversal of form in trouncing the Forsan Buffaloes here Monday night, 22-19, in the feature of four games between the teams of the two schools.

The Forsan senior girls copped their battle, 22-9, and the junior girls' setto, 16-14, but came up second best in the junior boys' tilt, 8-6. Paced by Ralph Marshall, who sank six free tosses, and a 2-2 shifting zone defense, the Bulldogs kept in front of the invaders throughout the battle. They led, 11-4, at half time and were out in front as much as 11 points during the last period.

Coach Brady Nix substituted a whole new team five minutes before the battle ended and the Forsanites fired away at the basket with startling regularity but it was "no-go." The Coahomans had a lead that could not be overtaken.

Fenns Lose Marshall, sinking three field goals besides his six free tosses, captured high point honors while Don Wetzels was tops for the invaders with four points.

The Coahomans could not put much argument in the senior girls' game. Paced by Grison and V. Gregory, the visitors led from the opening whistle. Grison captured the laurels in scoring, crumpling the basket for four field goals and a gratis throw.

The Coahomans returned over the weekend from the Ira tournament in which they captured consolation honors in a meeting for the second weekend in a row.

CUNNINGHAM INTENDS TO RUN UNTIL HE BEGINS TO WAVER

Starts On 6th Season, Apt To Break Marks

By DREW MIDDLETON NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—Ole Man River and Glenn Cunningham are two of a kind—they just keep rolling and they don't say nothing.

The calm resourceful Kansan has just one answer to the frequent question "when are you going to quit?"

"When I can't keep up with the rest of the boys." That's what he said a year ago and now, on the threshold of another indoor season of racing, he says it again.

In his sixth year as a top flight miler, Glenn has shown no signs of deterioration. In 1933 he ran a 4:13 mile indoors to start his campaign. This month he ran his first big mile of the year at the Sugar Bowl meet in 4:12.2.

Between those two races lie five years of great foot racing. The silent young fellow, who had represented the United States at Los Angeles at the 1932 Olympics, has become one of the great sport figures of the decade. He has 18 miles under 4:15 and six under 4:10 to his credit and has been a leading figure in a golden age of mile racing that has chopped almost three seconds off the record Jules Ladoumeque set in 1931.

Cunningham has set world records in the mile, outdoors and indoors, 1,500 meters indoors, 1,000 yards outdoors and indoors and an American record at three quarters of a mile. Oddly enough the record he prized most, his outdoor mile of 4:06.7, which seemed inviolate, was cracked last summer by Stanley Wooderson, of England, who ran the distance in 4:06.6.

Andy Tremaine To Mix With Sampson

BSAC Bills Double Main Event, Wilson Opposes Cummings

A bit of old magic—where the legs and feet this time are quicker than the eye—will hold away tonight at the Big Spring Athletic club when one Andy Tremaine, who will be remembered here as the fall guy for a couple of thugs on last week's show, has his little say-so with Dick Sampson, the top showman of his line.

The bout is the top of a double main event. Billed for 90 minutes and set to go the best two out of three falls, this little argument should pack 'em in. The unorthodox Sampson is the best artist to come this way in some time although he hasn't been able to hold his own with most of the boys.

He loses more bouts than he wins—at least that has been the case here—but most of the time he manages to gain something. He gained nothing but a sit-down strike by the patrons last week when he took advantage of Tremaine's unprotected chin but he's back to do better.

Tremaine's just about the best leg artist in the business today. He's fast with those pins and when we say fast we mean just that. He went "great shakes" as a footballer for the University of Arizona several years ago and might have learned something there. But wherever he picked up the knowledge, he's pretty good.

Bob Cummings and Benny Wilson get together for 45 minutes or less in the other featured bout. Cummings defeated Gene Blakey in an added attraction last week after the main bout was over and should rate the call here.

They open up at 8 o'clock.

George Jacobus, manager at the Bobby Jones municipal course where the tournament will be played, said "Ole Diz" had told him he had a better chance to win the title since it would be on a match basis.

Medwick, Cardinal slugger ace will be playing in the event for the first time, Jacobus said.

DiMaggio Is On Hand For Pay Debate

Denies He Has Come To Terms With New York Yankees

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, who, without proclaiming himself a holdout, has started more discussion over his 1938 salary than any other major league ball player, is back in the big town to dicker with the New York Yankees.

DIMAGGIO, recently voted the "player of the year" by New York baseball writers, said he thought he was "entitled to a substantial increase" in salary but vigorously denied reports that he already had come to terms with the Yankees.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 18 (AP)—Next month, a film company will move to Texas to film scenes for "The Marching Herd." James Hogan, who will direct, returned today from the Lone Star state where he picked location sites. Most of the picture will be filmed at the old Burk ranch, near Cotulla, Texas, Hogan said.

TIME PAYMENTS HARD TO STOP

Being on a cash basis is a fine thing to speculate about, but President Roosevelt's reported desire to curtail installment buying is going to prove the hardest nut he ever tried to crack...

Home owning is almost entirely based on installment payments and where this worthy endeavor to create employment and sale of materials would end if cash were required need not be discussed...

It might be well for dealers to use a little more care investigating the financial ability of purchasers before selling, but to try to make a hard and fast rule on installment buying by the government is one of those things that just can't be done...

THE CONSEQUENCE OF THE PANAY AFFAIR

Enough time has elapsed since the sinking of the Panay to justify a preliminary appraisal of the effect of that exceedingly grave incident.

To be sure the incident is in a diplomatic sense closed. But the consequences have been far-reaching and no statesman here or abroad can afford to ignore them in his calculations.

The bombing of the Panay has, I believe, profoundly affected American public opinion. It has brought to an end the wholly abnormal notion that the American people would stand for anything short of an actual invasion of the American continent.

There are very strong reasons for believing that the Japanese officers who ordered the attack on the Panay meant to prove to the Chinese and to the other peoples of Asia that the United States was impotent and of no account.

The coup was not nearly so successful as the preceding coups against the Russians and British. The civil government in Japan and the more responsible military men as well realized instantly that the United States is a very great power in the Pacific, and that, in spite of the sentiment reflected in the neutrality act and the Ludlow resolution, the American people cannot safely be provoked too much.

It may not be understood. There is a possibility that in London and in Paris the wish may be the father to the thought, and that men will jump to the conclusion that we may now be counted upon as allies because we have shown that we might fight. That would be a mistake.

But it is equally important that statesmen should realize in Tokio, Berlin and Rome that there are specific and vital American interests in all parts of the world, that almost certainly they would be seriously affected by any great war, and that the likelihood of America's submitting to gross injuries is not very great.

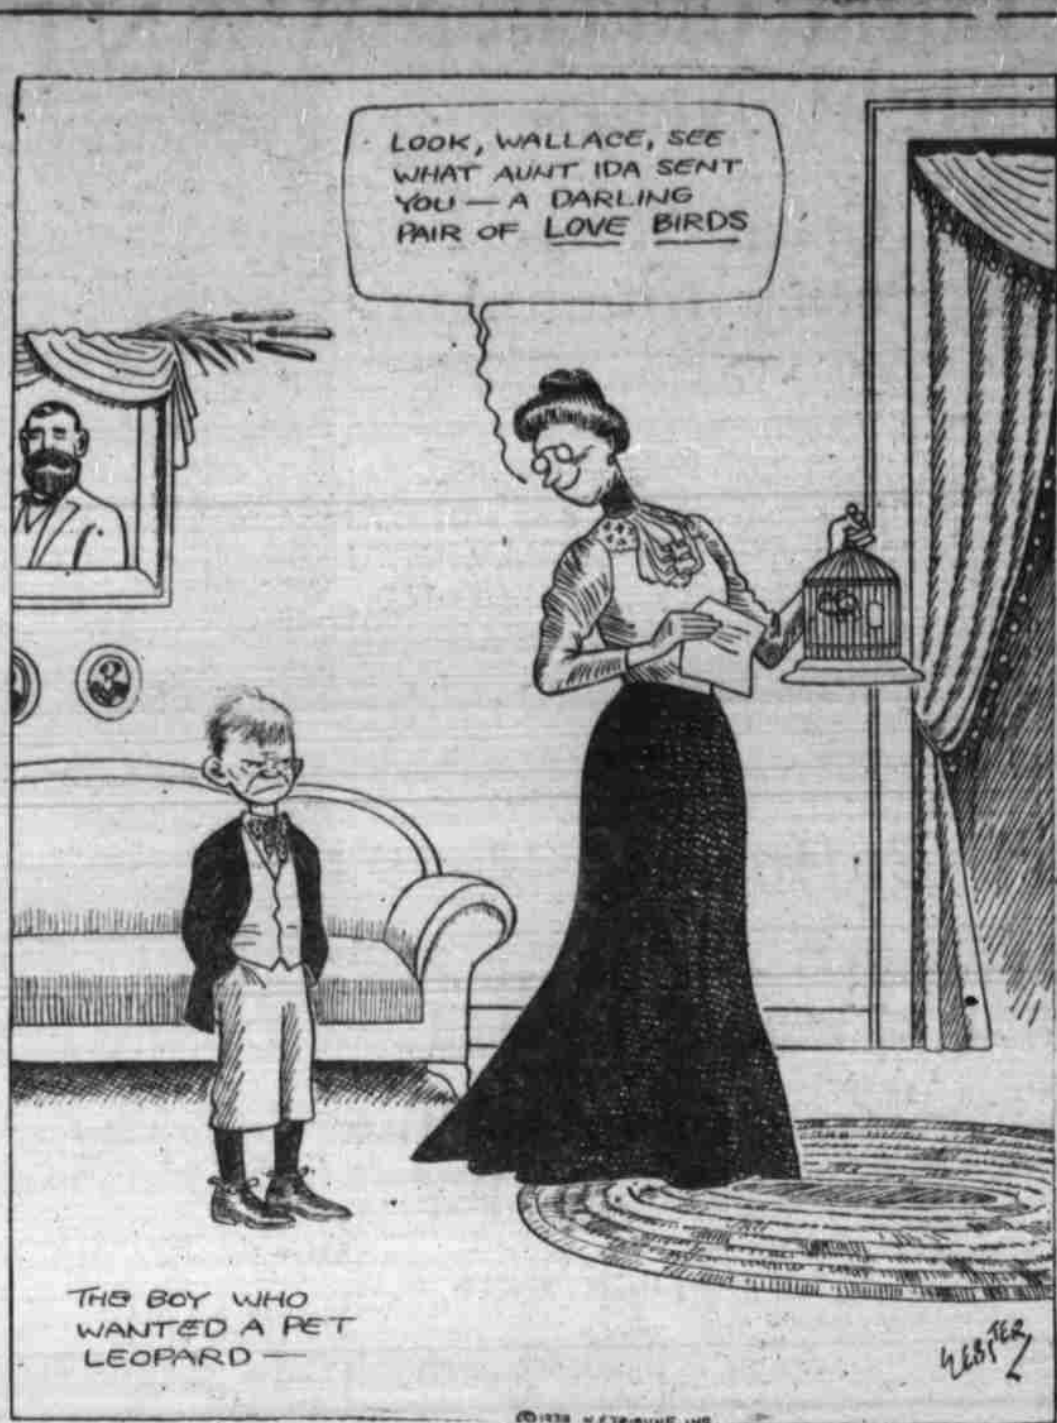

One need not read more into the event than is intended to know that the visit of the American cruisers to the British naval base at Singapore is an outward sign of a necessary development in Anglo-American relations. It symbolizes the fact that there is an outer limit to the Japanese advance, that there is a point at which that advance would be met by the combined power of Britain and her dominions, of France and of the Netherlands.

The current negotiations for a trade agreement with the United Kingdom are even more significant, if they are successful, and one can hardly imagine a British government foolish enough to let them fail, the effect will be to augment considerably the economic interdependence not only of the United Kingdom and the United States, but of the United States and the Dominions.

For in substance such an agreement must mean more American exports of farm products and raw materials to the British Isles, more exports of British manufactures to the United States, more exports of American manufactures to Canada, more exports of Canadian primary products to this country.

Thus the effect of the agreement will in the end make the British commonwealth and the United States depend much more upon one another for the maintenance of a higher standard of life, and, as respects the United Kingdom, for the very necessities of life.

EMPIRE FOR A LADY BY ALAN LEMAY

Chapter One A GIRL FROM ANOTHER WORLD. It was impossible to believe that she was there, whenever I looked away from her.

The girl's presence here was incredible, yet she was more real than the jungle, the sea, the throbbing war drums.

time I heard her low voice it was with a repeated sense of bafflement, of disbelief. Yet she was there, and we were all acutely aware of her — more conscious of her than of the agongs, or the brasses, or of our own ship, the Linkang, which lay at anchor six chains away.

In the fantastic dream which is my memory of Balingong, Christine Forrester stands out as more actual than any other thing. Plainly I can hear the weird battle cry of the Malays, and smell the burning nipa thatch, and watch the silky nerve-edging smile of the Rajah Mantusen offering lies more deadly than his kris.

As she sat that day under the awning of the afterdeck, the picture of her is very clear. I see the little pulse in her throat, and the grave steadiness of her eyes, and her slim straight fingers, she remains as real as the tarred deck seams, or the scent of ginger blossoms from over the flat salt water.

At first, though, her presence was bewildering. Two years in Asiatic waters had accustomed me to many things. When you are new out there it is very hard to realize that so much of the world can remain so little known.

But presently you begin to see reasons. The Pacific is a big place, with more than 30,000 islands in one great belt which swings a good 3,000 miles across the South Seas.

The afterdeck awning, covering the whole semi-circular sweep of the poop, was permanent, or wood. It was a luxury, all right. Coarse screens of finely split bamboo were made fast around the rail, reeved on the shade side, but let down to kill the glare on the sun side.

And now the things were set out on the little tables. There were thin China cups and a long-spooned silver teapot and pitcher acutely canted on their bases as they are made by the silver workers of India.

"But I am trying to tell you, my uncle was insisting, 'that you are absolutely not all right. I've been the ransom money through the part-mutual windows at Santa Anita, Hoover said, when he was seized.

Previously, he had been trailed to Spokane and Seattle, Wash., Portland, Ore., Chicago, New York City, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Miami, Fla., and New Orleans, with federal operatives "close behind him on every move."

A trap similar to that set in the Lindbergh case was baited across the country as the government sent a complete list of the serial numbers of 5,250 bills given the abductors to police, newspapers, banks and business houses from coast to coast.

Three Aliases
The accused man was said to have at least three aliases: Albert March, Marshall Eaton and Ray Grant. Hoover said he also confessed to participating in the robbery of about 30 banks.

The abduction of Ross last Sept. 25 had appeared fated, until Anderson's surprise arrest, to go down in history surrounded by the mystery of another Ross kidnaping—that of 4-year-old Charles Brewster Ross in 1874. The boy was never seen again.

A retired manufacturer of greeting cards and valentines, Ross was forced from his automobile on a lonely Illinois prairie, while his former secretary, Miss Florence Freilage, pleaded with his assailants that the 72-year-old man's health was poor and they would endanger his life.

While fears mounted for Ross' welfare, a $50,000 ransom demand was met on Oct. 8 but failed to win his release.

The first ransom bill—a $10 note—was discovered Oct. 21 in Chicago by a clerk in the Rock Island railroad freight office.

Periodically, new "hot money" was found as federal agents stepped up the pace of the manhunt.

WIFE SECLUDED
CHICAGO, Jan. 18 (AP)—Grief-stricken and broken in health, Mrs. Charles S. Ross remained secluded in her apartment today and declined to comment on an announcement that the kidnaping and slaying of her aged husband had been solved.

The grim vigil she maintained for word of her husband's fate was broken last night, 114 days after his disappearance.

V. A. Merrick Makes Radio Talk On Birthday Balls

Speaking in the interest of the Birthday Ball for the President, V. A. Merrick, member of the local committee, over Radio Station KBST Monday evening, urged cooperation of every citizen in Howard county and surrounding area to make the affair to be staged in Big Spring on the evening of January 29th, a huge success. Merrick was the second speaker to broadcast over the local station in behalf of the Birthday Ball. Others will be heard each day at 11:30 a. m. and 6:15 p. m.

Merrick, in part, said: "Big Spring is going to stage its largest Birthday Celebration for the President on the evening of Saturday, January 29th, as a part of a nation-wide program to raise funds to fight infantile paralysis. We have set our goal at $2,000 to be raised from proceeds of four dances to be staged here, one each at the Settles, Crawford, Casino and Wally Simpson Club. Last year residents of Big Spring and Howard county responded to the tune of some $1500, and we hope this year will see an even bigger turnout.

Another feature this year is a benefit show at the Ritz theatre Sunday evening, January 30th, beginning at 8:30, the entire proceeds to go to the fund.

"We ask the cooperation of every citizen of this county and surrounding area this year, and trust you will patronize this celebration for a worthy cause. Buy a ticket now—only $1.50 per couple which entitles admission to each dance. Tickets now on sale at Settles and Crawford hotels, Club Cafe and Cunningham & Phillips No. 1. Buy one whether you attend or not. We are counting on you—DO YOUR BIT!"

ENVOY RECALLED
TOKYO, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Japanese government today instructed its ambassador to China, Shigeru Kawagoe, to return home, Domei (the Japanese news agency) reported.

Domei said also that the Chinese ambassador here would sail for China Jan. 20. Embassy and consulate staffs would be left both in Shanghai and Tokyo.

Foreign Minister Koki Hirota was expected shortly to issue a statement further clarifying Japan's new policy toward China, which the chief secretary of the cabinet said did not include a declaration of war.

Brothers' Quarrel Ends In Slaying Of Six Persons

DURAND, Wis., Jan. 18 (AP)—A nine months' quarrel between two brothers over the burning of a barn culminated in the slaying last night of six persons, four of them children under 10 years of age. Two others were seriously wounded.

Sheriff Victor Selins, of Poplin county, said Lawrence Leflay, 37, committed suicide after shooting to death his wife, about 36, their daughters, Virgie, 8, and Beulah, 7, their niece, Phyllis, 8, and nephew, Virgil, 5.

Leflay's brother, Marvin, 35, was wounded and the latter's wife was killed by a blow with the butt of a revolver. She feigned death and later crawled to the home of a neighbor. Her son, Roger, 4, also escaped.

After attacking his brother and sister-in-law, Lawrence took their two children to his nearby home. There he ordered his wife, daughters and the two other children to a bedroom and commanded the children to lie in bed, the sheriff said. The children were shot through the chests, Mrs. Leflay in the head.

Sheriff Selins said Lawrence had accused his brother of setting fire to the barn, and that the old quarrel was resumed while they were doing chores last night on the farm they jointly tenanted.

Legion Post To Seek New Members

Plans For Club Quarters Discussed At Meeting

Plans for an intensive membership drive and for future establishment of post headquarters were discussed at a meeting Monday night of the newly organized American Legion post here. Approximately 25 attended the session, held in the Settles ballroom.

Post Commander R. R. McEwen presided over the meeting and made a talk outlining the importance to Big Spring of an active Legion post. He said an enthusiastic and willing membership were the first essentials to a successful organization. Aim of the post, he said, will be to develop active and productive members.

The post will meet again on Wednesday night of next week, Jan. 26, and by that date each member is expected to add three other ex-service men to the post roster. The membership campaign thus is being put on an individual basis. Leaders hope for an attendance of 100 at the Jan. 26 meeting.

E. V. Spence brought out the need for establishing quarters for the post. He suggested that club room space be developed that would serve as meeting and recreation space for all business men of the city as well as legionnaires. Spence will be a speaker at the next meeting, discussing in detail at that time a proposal for obtaining a hall or a "hut" for Legion use.

Principal speaker at next week's meeting will be J. T. Gray, service officer of the state department. Formulation of a program of practical and reasonable objectives for the new service organization was discussed by Dr. M. H. Bennett. The post's first aim will be to boost its active membership.

FATHER AND SON DIE IN CHAIR

BOSTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Praying with a fervor more in keeping with a Sunday church service than with a brilliantly-lighted death chamber, Frank and Anthony Di Stasio, father and son, died in the electric chair at state prison early today for the "torch murder" of Daniel Crowley, a Boston lawyer.

It was Massachusetts' first father-son execution on record. Anthony, 24, shuffled into the chamber a few minutes after midnight.

"At the chair, he said, simply: 'Goodbye father.' He was praying when he died. The father, head bowed but eyes fastened on the priest, seemed to waver as he was led into the chamber, but he rallied quickly.

"Goodbye, son, it's tough. But I'll see you again," he said as he was about to be placed in the chair.

APPROPRIATION BILL APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—The house passed and sent to the senate today a $1,515,833,258 treasury-postoffice appropriation bill for the next fiscal year.

The total of the measure as finally passed represented a net reduction of $200,000 below the figure recommended by the house appropriations committee.

Included in the bill were increases in various items amounting to $2,300,000 which were more than offset by elimination of a $2,500,000 item for construction of government printing office annexes.

The standing vote on final passage was 281 to 4.

Dental Health-Puppet Show To Be Presented To Students Of Area

A visual education project on proper care of the teeth will be presented to Howard and Glasscock county schools during the first week in February when the Morrey-Towse Dental Health Puppet show will make 11 stands.

The puppet show has been arranged under the approval of nationally known leaders in the fields of dentistry, medicine, and elementary education. It is dramatized with music, voice, and employs much humor in bringing out four fundamental points in dental health. It is presented by Wilson R. Cronquist and Ruth Snow, both of whom are highly trained in dramatics and puppetry. It is offered through the state department of education.

Plot of the story concerns the trials and tribulations of little Jack, who could not go to the circus with his sister, Joan, because he had a toothache. Through cooperation of his mother and the friendly family dentist, his pains are relieved and he is taught how to care for his teeth to prevent a recurrence, how dental disease affects the general health, the importance of right foods, exercise, home care and dental care. Supporting Jack are his mother, Joan, Tom, the fruit peddler, Tom's son, Jocko, the monkey, and the milkman.

Approximately 400,000 saw the show last year in 40 counties. Although the show is for children, parents are invited to see it.

The schedule in this territory follows: Big Spring schools, Feb. 1; Chalk, 9 a. m. on Feb. 2; Fossan at 11 a. m. on Feb. 2; Elbow at 2 p. m. Feb. 2; Knott at 9 a. m. on Feb. 3; Moore at 11 a. m. Liquor Dealers Surrendering Licenses Liquor and beer dealers Tuesday had begun surrendering their licenses to the district offices of the liquor control board, L. E. Morris, director, said.

At the same time, two applications were filed with him for medicinal permits by drug stores desiring to handle liquors.

Morris warned that all vendors of liquor who could not present receipts for county and city license fees would be denied a refund on the state fees. Those who have operated without their city or county fees have been doing so in violation of the law, said Morris, and are not entitled to a refund on their state fees.

County and city alike are waiting on the licensees to be surrendered to the state liquor control board before they undertake the task of refunding fees on an unexpired basis.
