

Vietminh Set Fresh Force Around Fort

By LARRY ALLEN
HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The Vietminh shooed tens of thousands of fresh troops into attack positions around Dien Bien Phu today. The third round of the savage battle for the French Union stronghold appeared to be days or even hours away.

Reliable sources said rebel Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap had rushed up at least 40,000 unbloodied regulars to bolster his badly battered force in the low hills encircling the fortified plain and along its fringes.

With these reinforcements and replacements for the thousands killed by murderous French fire in the past five weeks came 5,000 or more youthful rebels just out of training camps.

It appeared certain here the Vietminh in their next all-out assault would outnumber the defenders at least 6 or 8 to 1.

But the rebels, a French high command spokesman speculated, might not rush down on the fortress in force again until next week. He thought they might hold off until "just before the Geneva conference," hoping that a spectacular attack would impress the big power diplomats meeting April 26 to explore the possibility of ending the Indochina war by negotiations.

The Communist-led reinforcements went into forward trenches to relieve units of the four divisions which have spearheaded the hard fighting around the fortress since the first Vietminh push March 13.

The veterans fell back a short distance, presumably to rest up for the next anticipated massive charge.

The stoutly defended French fortifications faced more critical moments today as the garrison force tried to drive out Vietminh troops entrenched on the northern section of the main Dien Bien Phu air strip.

The French, also kept up their infiltrated units with bayonets, grenades and machine guns, routed them yesterday from about half the trenches they had dug and blasted with high explosives on the pocket field.

But the rebels still clung to dug-outs only 2,400 feet from the heart of the French bastion. These split the east-to-west network of defense communications on the north and posed the most serious threat to the fortified plain since the Vietminh first struck.

The foothold on the airstrip was won this week after Vietminh night raiders blasted craters with nitroglycerine. Rebel troops then rushed in and furiously hacked out a system of connecting trenches.

The Vietminh also kept up their steady digging along the outskirts of the Dien Bien Phu plain today, relentlessly pushing their web of trenches and foxholes closer to the French barbed wire barricades.

Giap was believed to have rounded up his reinforcements by beating the jungles throughout northern Indochina. Apparently he even drew on the regulars who have been fanning out in repeated scattered attacks against the French and their Vietnamese allies in the vital Red River delta, about 150 miles to the east.

The French gave no information on the numbers of defenders they still have at Dien Bien Phu after the five weeks of pounding. The high command here said only that none of the fortress' six main defense positions had suffered any food or ammunition shortages.

All supplies and reinforcements for the garrison of several thousand men must be parachuted in. The remote fortress is completely surrounded by the enemy, and constant artillery bombardment makes its two airstrips unusable, even for removal of wounded.

In Washington yesterday the Defense Department acknowledged that the U. S. carriers Boxer and Essex have been operating in the South China Sea between the Philippines and Indochina, but there was no indication the carriers' planes would be thrown into the critical Indochina fight. Officials said the ships had moved into the area for training a month ago to take advantage of good weather.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, in an appearance at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, reportedly denied reports the United States was considering sending combat air and naval forces to aid the French.

Shivers Defers His Decision On Running Again

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers eliminated himself as a possible candidate for U. S. Senator today and said he would announce next week whether or not he will ask reelection to a third term as governor.

He told reporters today he wanted to study the question further from a personal and public service standpoint before deciding what he would do.

Shivers promised to make his announcement before the middle of next week.

Shivers said Texas still has many problems that he would like to help solve, but that he also felt an obligation to be able to give more time to his family.

Two years ago when Shivers decided not to run for U. S. Senator he said it was because he did not want to have to take his family to Washington.

But today he gave no hint as to what his decision would be. Shivers said he would weigh both personal and public obligations in making his decision.

The governor said there were "many reasons why I would not care to be a candidate for re-election again as governor" and the chief of them was family consideration.

Others, he told reporters at a news conference, "include the fact that the people of Texas have honored me beyond expectation."

But, said the governor, there were economic problems, problems of water conservation and drought, the handling of crime and the unfortunate in state hospitals that he was deeply interested in and "would like to see Texans solve in a Texas way."

Shivers said he planned to be at home at Sharyland with his family this weekend and will make his decision for announcement early next week. "Not later than the middle of the week."

Shivers said he had no other office or appointment in mind. He made it clear he was talking about whether or not he would run again for governor.

That definitely took him out of any possible consideration as a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Shivers was in a serious mood as he talked about his obligations both personal and public. He and Mrs. Shivers have four children, three boys and a girl.

The governor said his was a family problem as well as that of a man in public life. A reporter asked:

"How do you work those things out, poll your family?"

Shivers countered by asking: "Well, how do you work out your family problems?"

Facts Claimed On Oppenheimer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senior Republican and Democratic members of the Senate internal security subcommittee have joined in saying their group uncovered "voluntary information" in 1952 on atomic scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer.

But Subcommittee Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) and Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), former chairman, said they took no action at the time because of the highly sensitive nature of Oppenheimer's work and the "many ramifications involved in the situation."

Oppenheimer, famed for his work in helping develop the first atomic bomb, has been barred access to government atomic secrets pending a probe of security charges by a special three-man panel. He denies being a security risk.

The Jenner-McCarran statement came yesterday in the wake of two letters attributed to another high-ranking scientist, Dr. Edward U. Condon, which concerned Oppenheimer.

The New York Journal American and the Daily News said Condon wrote Oppenheimer in 1949: "One is tempted to feel that you are foolish as to think you can buy immunity for yourself by turning informer."

This was after Oppenheimer had testified behind the closed doors of the House Un-American Activities Committee and the Rochester, (N.Y.) Times-Union reported he had named another scientist as a longtime Communist.

Zachry Low On Storage Lining Job

H. B. Zachry of San Antonio today was apparently low bidder on alternates which the Colorado River Municipal Water District likely will accept for lining of terminal storage facilities at Odessa.

The Zachry bid was for $143,200 for installing prefabricated asphaltic membrane lining and plastic soil cement. Bids for this particular combination ranged upward to $147,000 for the next lowest and a high of $321,000.

Storage area to be lined with this material as a waterproofing and conservation step is 720 feet by 630 feet with a maximum depth of 39 feet. This will provide up to 80 million gallons storage space as a safeguard against mechanical or other failures which otherwise could create an emergency.

Notice to the successful bidder likely will go out during the week-end and the contracts ratified at a meeting of the CRMWD here early in May.

Observance Of Passover Set

Passover, one of the most important religious occasions of the year, will be observed here this weekend by those of the Hebrew faith.

Families will assemble in the privacy of their homes to begin the observance on Saturday evening. Then the congregation is to assemble Sunday at 6 p. m. at the Wagon Wheel for the Seder, or the Passover feast. Julius Zodin, president of Temple Israel, will preside.

Anyone is invited to attend, and particularly armen stationed at Webb who are of the Jewish faith.

The Passover memorializes God's mercies to His people in Egypt when the death angel passed over households whose heads had complied with regulations for this special dispensation. In all other houses, the eldest child perished.

Enforcement Of Inspection Law Starting Today

Local Highway Patrol officers today were to start issuing tickets to motorists without the state safety inspection stickers on their windshields.

Practically all cars in this area are equipped with the stickers signifying they have passed the safety inspections, the Patrol said.

Patrolmen said they have been warning drivers to get the inspection for the past few weeks. Deadline for the inspections passed last night and officers said they planned to start giving tickets for violation of the inspection law today.

Referring to some reports that Homer Garrison Jr., director of Public Safety, had said that only warnings will be issued for the next few days, local Patrol officers said they "haven't heard anything about that."

"We plan to enforce the law, until we hear otherwise," they reported.

HOUSTON AREA GETS RAIN

An Easter season norther swept clouds from Texas skies Friday. Rain lingered only in the southeast corner of Texas, where thunderstorms had played the day before.

Amid stormy weather along the Rio Grande Thursday a tornado formed late in the afternoon at San Ygnacio, 30 miles southeast of Laredo, and damaged several houses and buildings. Trees were uprooted and four miles of power lines knocked down.

Severe hail wiped out the cantaloupe crop southwest and northwest of Laredo.

The fast-moving stormy weather brought 1 1/2 inches of rain between McAllen and Mission, 1 inch to a dry land section in southwest Hidalgo County, 4 of an inch to Pharr, and 1 to Edinburg and then moved east. There apparently was no general rain. More thunderstorms were predicted for Friday.

The norther took just 24 hours to cross Texas and reach the Gulf. Skies cleared back of the front and even before daybreak Friday West Texas was virtually cloudless. Overcasts in other parts of the state were breaking up.

Beaumont, the only point reporting precipitation, had a light rain shower as the sun came up.

'Fair Share' While Security In Danger

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged today that a "fair share" of American troops will be maintained in Europe as long as a threat to the security of the Western nations exists.

In a six-point message to the prime ministers of six Western European countries, the President sought to assure French ratification of the European Defense Community (EDC) project by promising in effect that rearmament of West Germany would not be permitted to endanger France.

France long has sought such formal assurances before joining in the creation of a six-nation army designed as a bulwark against any Russian aggression. The proposed EDC has been ratified by Belgium, West Germany, Luxembourg and The Netherlands. Only Italy and France have yet to act.

The President also pledged continuation of efforts to provide for sharing with U. S. allies more information about the use and the effects of the hydrogen bomb and atomic weapons on military and civilian personnel.

In an administration statement of policy, he messaged all six nations from his vacation headquarters here that:

1. The United States will continue to maintain in Europe, including West Germany, such American troops "as may be necessary, appropriate to contribute its fair share of the forces needed for the joint defense of the North Atlantic area while a threat to that area exists . . ."
2. The United States will consult with fellow signatories to the North Atlantic Treaty and with the EDC nations "on questions of mutual concern," including the armed forces strength to be placed at the disposal of the supreme commander in Europe, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther.
3. The United States will encourage the closest possible integration between EDC forces on the one hand, and U. S. and North Atlantic Treaty forces on the other.
4. The United States will continue, "in conformity with my recommendations to Congress, to seek means of extending to the Atlantic community increased security by sharing in greater measure information with respect to the military utilization of new weapons and techniques for the improvement of the collective defense."
5. James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, told newsmen that that pledge means sharing of information regarding the use and effects of hydrogen bombs and atomic weapons on both military and civilian personnel. The pledge does not apply, Hagerty added, to production secrets.
6. In line with its policy of "full and continued support for maintenance and the integrity and unity of EDC, the United States will regard any action from whatever quarter which threatens that integrity or unity as a threat to the security of the United States." In such event, the President said, the United States would consult with the other North Atlantic Treaty nations.

That promise obviously was designed to allay French fears that a resurgence of German armed strength under EDC won't be permitted to threaten the security of France itself. It amounts to a U. S. guarantee that American troops won't be pulled out of Europe after Germany is rearmed.

As in the case of the North Atlantic Treaty itself, the President's promise also applies to any aggression by Russia.

6. The United States regards the North Atlantic Treaty—as a pact of "indefinite duration." On that point the President said:

"The United States calls attention to the fact that for it to cease to be a party to the North Atlantic Treaty would appear quite contrary to our security interests when there is established on the continent of Europe the solid core of unity which the European Defense Community will provide."

There have been some French demands for a treaty amendment saying specifically that the pact is of indefinite duration.

Eisenhower said the essential elements of the U. S. position he outlined have been discussed with both Republican and Democratic leaders in Congress.

He alluded to the principles he set forth and said:

"The United States is confident that, with these principles in mind, the Western European nations concerned will proceed promptly further to develop the European Defense Community through ratification of the (EDC) treaty."

In Washington, Sen. Saiton (R-Mass) said the Eisenhower administration should clear with Congress any new long-range commitments to keep U. S. troops in Europe.

Saiton, who is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), senior minority member of the group, said in separate interviews they had not been informed of any promise to retain U. S. forces on the Continent indefinitely.

Sunrise Service 6:14 Sunday

In an out-of-doors setting, not unlike that of the day it commemorates, Easter sunrise services will be held in the City Park Amphitheatre early Sunday.

As the sun rises across the rolling hills to the east at 6:14 a. m., a trumpet will call the faithful to worship.

This year's observance brings the rites back to their traditional setting. For the past two seasons the early morning sermon had been held in the Jet theatre. Prior to that, for more than a decade, they had been held in the great native stone bowl on the side of a slope in the city park.

Over the years, depending upon weather conditions, from 1,000 to 3,000 have arisen early "toward the dawn" and made their way to the amphitheatre. Here they have sat in quietness of the crisp morning air, frequently against a musical backdrop furnished by mockingbirds.

This is a service in which all the churches of the city represented in the Big Spring Pastors Association, and others, too, regularly participate.

The Rev. Clyde Nichols, pastor of the First Christian Church, is to preside as president of the pastors association.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, is to bring the morning message, "Power of the Resurrection." Invocation for the service will be led by the Rev. Jesse Young, while the Rev. Don Perkins will read the Scripture and the Rev. S. E. Ellridge will pronounce the benediction. Proceeds of the morning offering go toward association projects, principally financing Bible class instructor costs.

In event of inclement weather, the radio stations will keep the public advised if it is necessary to shift to the First Methodist sanctuary.

French Pleased With U. S. Pledge

PARIS (AP)—France's government today it is entirely satisfied with President Eisenhower's assurances of U. S. support for the European Defense Community. But a Cabinet spokesman said he could not speak for the National Assembly, which demanded the assurances.

The French Foreign Ministry spokesman said Premier Joseph Laniel's government considers Eisenhower's declaration fully as valid as Britain's similar pledge earlier this week to keep troops on the European continent as long as Western Europe's security is threatened.

Both the British and American promises were made in an effort to calm French fears of a re-armed Germany and to expedite ratification of the EDC treaty, now bogged down in the French National Assembly.

Jury To Get Estep Case

ARILENE, Tex. (AP)—The William Estep fraud trial was expected to reach a federal jury here today following concluding arguments by opposing attorneys.

U. S. Dist. Atty. Heard L. Floore of Fort Worth and Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Warren Logan were to make arguments for the government. Defense attorneys Maury Hughes and Howard Dalley, both of Dallas, were to make the arguments for Estep.

Estep is charged with using the mails to defraud and violation of Security Exchange Commission regulations in connection with sale of stock and handling of funds of the Atomotor Mfg. Co. of San Antonio.

J. Willis Gunn, assistant vice president of the Republic National Bank in Dallas testified yesterday that he rejected a proposal that he become president of the Atomotor firm.

Estep has been listed as treasurer of the company but the government contended he was principal officer and used the firm's funds for personal expenses.

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson yesterday rejected a defense motion for acquittal. The defense has based its case principally on a denial that Estep, a San Antonio resident, induced investors to buy stock in the corporation.

Rep. Hinson Makes Formal Application For Spot On Ballot

AUSTIN (AP)—Rep. George Hinson, Mineola, made formal application yesterday for a place on the Democratic ballot as a candidate for lieutenant governor.

He called attention to his co-sponsorship of bills passed during the special session just ended which raised salaries of teachers and state employees and provided for an emergency building program at four state institutions.

The Legislature still must face numerous important issues, the most important of which is water conservation, Hinson said.

He suggested a state revolving fund to help conservation districts and river authorities launch a program for storing water.

The East Texas lawmaker will make his opening campaign speech the second week in May on the steps of the old home of former Gov. Jim Hogg in Quitman in Hinson's home county.

Liberal Credit For Farmers Is Asked

What West Texans most need is more liberal credit, a delegation told Gov. Allan Shivers in a conference at Austin Thursday.

Judge James McMorries, Martin County judge and spokesman for about 50 men representing 28 counties at the drought party, told the governor that "we know that some of our requests are not within your province, but you are the one man in Texas who can help us get them."

In a caucus preceding the presentation, it developed that public law 875, which opened the way to disaster relief, was already in effect. Accordingly, at the conference with the governor McMorries simply asked if public works were possible under it.

"We need a public works program to absorb our unemployed," he said. "Lots of the poorer counties simply can't take care of the situation."

Gov. Shivers said that he did not believe that Public Law 875 would cover the situation and that he did not know of any law that would provide such a works program.

When the subject of rain over part of the drought area came up McMorries observed that "none of us knows really just what it means," the governor observed with a twinkle that "you've had more experience with drought than rain out there, haven't you?"

The delegation agreed that the main needs were a more liberal loan program which would include: 1) aid to small businesses which have over-extended credit to stricken farmers and ranchers and need aid to continue to serve these people; 2) increased living allowances for farmers and ranchers, particularly those with larger families and smaller land units; and 3) longer periods of repayment (up to 10 years if necessary).

"These loans simply cannot be repaid in two or even three years," said McMorries. "Our people have fought a hard battle but many are about to the end of their ropes unless they get some additional help."

McMorries also asked for consideration of aid to farmers in deep breaking land in an effort to protect or restore it.

He also mentioned need for use of surplus commodities.

Gov. Shivers said these commodities, while not fancy groceries, would hold body and soul together... and are available if you (counties) apply for them."

Receiving the group cordially, Gov. Shivers told the delegation that he was going to Washington on April 26 for a governor's conference called by the President and would explore possibilities of aid. He said that "we are going to do everything possible from this level just as I know you are at the local level."

Foundation To Boost Industry Suggested Here

The establishment of a foundation to provide capital for industry development in Big Spring has been suggested by two Chamber of Commerce committees.

Both the new industry committee and the established industry committee have suggested such a foundation.

Dual purpose of the proposed foundation would be to make funds available for assistance to established industries while at the same time raising money for use in encouraging new industries to locate here.

The industrial foundation was merely suggested in the two recent committee meetings, and no definite steps were taken toward concrete action.

It was pointed out in the new industries committee, of which Vance Lebkowsky is chairman, that any money raised for the project would be considered an investment rather than a donation. A system to amortize the investments over a period of years would be worked out.

The established industries committee, headed by E. B. McCormick, will contact several business men concerning their views on such a foundation.

Meanwhile the Chamber is to conduct surveys on the available business houses in the city, the sites available for industry here, the businesses which could be expanded with additional funds, and the prospective industries interested in locating in this area.

The members of the established industries committee suggested that there is a present need for a greenhouse here to produce vegetables for sale, and that there is need for a milk plant.

Texas Man Named In Receiving Count

FORT WORTH (AP) — A federal grand jury yesterday indicted Kenneth Bramlett, 20, Decatur, on a charge of receiving and concealing $250 taken in the armed robbery of Farmers & Merchants State Bank of Krum.

Howard Laver Walker, 24, also of Decatur, was given two 10-year prison terms after pleading guilty to the $1,200 robbery in U.S. District Court at Sherman earlier this week. Bramlett said he drove with Walker to Mexico after the robbery but declared he didn't know a robbery had been committed. He surrendered at Decatur, he said, after learning he was sought for questioning.

FORT WORTH (AP) — Farm prices aren't likely to rise this year and the farmer's only way to make more money is to produce more per acre, says Dr. R. T. Timm of Texas A&M.

Richard Widmark Leaves Studio To Court Success Free-Lancing

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Today Richard Widmark checks out of his contract at 20th Century-Fox to try his wings as a free-lance actor.

He leaves on somewhat of a sour note, but he isn't bitter about it. His last picture at the studio is "Broken Lance," and he expects to get fourth billing in it, under Spencer Tracy, Jean Peters and Robert Wagner.

"It's a good script, but I don't have anything to do in it," he commented blandly. "I suppose I could raise a big fuss about the role and the billing, but what good would it do me? It doesn't mean that much."

"It just seems kind of silly to me for a studio to spend seven years in building up a name, and then toss it away in the last picture."

He should worry. Since the word got around that he wasn't signing again at the studio, he has been up to his elbows in scripts. The first one he has chosen is "A Prize of Gold" for an independent company. He'll transport his family to England, and the film will be made there and in Germany. He has no immediate plans after that.

"But I intend to concentrate on movies for the next two years," he said. "I am going to try for good scripts, and if I can get a couple of really good pictures behind me, I'll perhaps go back to the stage. The important thing is to consolidate my position in pictures. I like making movies, and I'd like to continue in this medium."

"I haven't cared much for the films I have made in the past four years. A lot of them have been commercial but they haven't been really prestige pictures. I don't want just prestige pictures either. I want a combination of commercial and prestige."

I asked which was the last picture he liked.

"It was a little comedy called

"My Pal Gus," he remarked. "It didn't do much business, partly because the studio just let it sneak out. It didn't even get a big playing date in New York. The studio also didn't get behind 'Panle in the Streets,' another picture I liked."

But he admitted that part of the difficulty was that he played nice guys in those two films. "The audiences expect to see me as a rough-tough guy," he observed. "When I play a nice fellow, they're a little disappointed; they don't know what to make of it."

"I'm aware of that, and in the next two years I don't plan to shock them by playing too nice a guy. Whatever I do will have the element of toughness they expect."

Thornton Explains State Must Match Federal Fund Hike

GALVESTON (AP) — The $2 million dollars in federal highway funds which Congress approved for Texas Tuesday will become available only if Texas raises $48,000,000 to go with it, says Highway Commission Chairman E. H. Thornton Jr. Thornton expressed confidence the Legislature in January will provide the necessary funds.

"Under the new federal aid bill, Texas will receive $2 million dollars as compared to $34,500,000 it received last year," Thornton explained. "In order for Texas to receive this appropriation, it will be necessary for us to put up $48,000,000. Immediate action will therefore be needed in January by the Legislature to provide additional funds for this purpose."

Easter Bonnets Well Taxed, Group Claims

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP) — No matter how cute midday's Easter bonnet may be, the Taxpayers Assn. of New Mexico sees only taxes. All "hidden" except the state sales tax, feminine hats now bear their share of at least 150 taxes, the association says.

These are levied through the processing and transportation, fabrication, design, assembly, trimming, packaging, packing and handling, distribution, display, sale and delivery.

Men's Easter suits, says the association, have only 116 taxes of the same sort.

Wait-And-See Attitude Should Prevail In Oppenheimer Case

It was during this period that so large a number of really competent human beings found refuge in the dialectical materialism of Marxism. For some, the doubts continued; others joined the Communist Party or associated themselves with allied movements; still others were repelled by atheism and pragmatism.

HERITAGE DAYS

The Texan army marched toward destiny on April 16 and 17, 1836, with Sam Houston, riding along the lines to explain that the day of battle neared. Admitting he had been blamed for not meeting the enemy sooner, the commander expounded his plan that "as soon as circumstances would permit it to be done to advantage, we should have it to our satisfaction."

A "TEXIAN LOAN," used to finance the revolution in 1836 is reproduced above. Negotiated in New Orleans, it called for repayment in five years, at eight per cent interest. In lieu of cash, it provided that "land may be taken at the rate of 50 cents per acre."

Democrats Declare They'll Not Let FHA Probe Be One-Sided

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Democratic members said today they will fight any effort by the Senate Banking Committee to focus on housing swindles which may have taken place in the Truman administration while glossing over more recent irregularities.

Chairman Capehart (R-Ind) said there was no such intent on the part of the committee, which plans to start public hearings Monday into reports of a multimillion-dollar scandal.

The three Democrats — Senators Douglas of Illinois, Lehman of New York and Maybank of South Carolina—said that so far they had noted a lack of emphasis on exorbitant fees said to have been charged home owners for repairs financed with loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA). Officials have said these irregularities have continued virtually up until the present.

The other principal aspect of the investigation—also being carried on by at least three agencies of the executive branch—involves FHA-insured loans to build big apartment houses. The section of the act which authorized these loans expired in 1950, although some projects are said to be still under construction.

The Internal Revenue Service announced late yesterday that 1,149 corporations got loans to build apartment houses which cost less than the amount of the loans, with the corporations pocketing the difference.

One result in many cases has been to force up rents in those projects, because the rents are tied to the size of the loan.

Capehart has said builders may have reaped a half-billion-dollar windfall under this program, de-

McGinnis Upsets Railroad Regime

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Patrick B. McGinnis, New York stockbroker, today upset the three-year regime of Frederic C. (Buck) Dumaine, Jr., as boss of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad by the election of 11 directors for McGinnis to 10 for Dumaine.

The outcome was announced at 7:30 a.m. EST—4½ hours after the stockholders' meeting was called to order Wednesday at 2 p.m. . . . Dumaine retained his seat as a member of the board.

McGinnis told newsmen he expects to be made president and that he would make John F. Slater of New York, president of American Export Lines, board chairman.

Slater also won a place on the new board.

signed to stimulate apartment buildings in the postwar years.

Douglas said in an interview: "It's perfectly natural for the Republicans to try and shift the blame to Harry Truman. We are certainly not going to try and cover up well-publicized abuses in apartment construction after World War II. But we're not going to allow the Republicans to divert attention from the currently scandalous operations in the field of repair loans."

Capehart said the question of partisan politics "hasn't entered my mind. There's no politics in this thing at all."

He said in a separate interview the home-repair "racket" is "equally as bad if not worse" than the apartment-project swindle and that he intended to give it a complete airing.

Lehman said through an aide he could not understand "why the apartment project program should be brought into the situation at this time," and he added:

"This was an emergency program to get rental housing quickly. Democrats exposed the excesses in this program. Tying it in with the home repair abuses seems to be a means of hooking the whole business up with the Truman administration."

Maybank, senior Democrat on the Banking Committee, said Democrats had repeatedly warned of possible abuses in the apartment-project scandal and that he would not sit by and let the investigation turn on "whipping a dead dog."

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Students at state-supported colleges in Michigan will be required to take a course in political science before graduating.

Japan Fears Bomb Tests Spread Far

TOKYO (AP)—The Japan Fishery Board said today it feared that U. S. hydrogen bomb tests have contaminated the Pacific with radioactivity for 3,000 miles east and west of Bikini Atoll.

It said Japanese fishing boats 2,200 miles southwest and 1,000 miles northeast of the Bikini Atoll test site had become radioactive.

In all, 20 fishing boats including three whalers from the antarctic showed radioactivity, the board said.

The government planned to send a survey boat out next month to check a 2,000-square-mile area outside the Bikini danger zone.

A spokesman said the survey was badly needed "to remove fears held by the Japanese people about fish being brought back from the South Pacific."

Meanwhile, two areas on the main island of Honshu reported a fall of radioactive rain in the past few days.

Prof. Yasushi Nishiwaki of Osaka University said Japan could expect more contaminated rainfalls and expressed fear that they would affect vegetables and livestock.

"Continuation of the hydrogen bomb tests," he said, "could threaten all the food of the Japanese people."

Anti-Bracero Drive Planned in Colorado

DENVER (AP)—U.S. Border Patrol officers are surveying southern Colorado for sites to launch an enforcement drive to prevent illegal Mexican aliens from settling in the state.

Aircraft and jeeps will be used in the campaign to prevent the so-called wetbacks from entering Colorado this summer, said Marcus T. Neely, El Paso District director of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Neely said "hit-and-run" roadblocks would set up at strategic points in an effort to trap smugglers who bring the illegal laborers into the state by trucks and jeeps.

Colorado's campaign will coincide with a stepped-up enforcement drive in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

Neely said the Colorado campaign would be concentrated in the Raton Pass and San Luis valley sections of southern Colorado.

Colorado Argues Pipeline Permit

DENVER (AP)—Colorado public utilities commissioners hoped to wind up today a week-long hearing on Colorado-Western Pipeline Co.'s application for a permit to build a natural gas line from southwestern Colorado to Denver.

A Public Service Company of Colorado engineer told the commission yesterday that Colorado Interstate Gas Co., which is fighting the pipeline, has supplied all Public Service's gas needs in the past.

Brobe MacCannan, the engineer, denied contentions that Denver's gas supply has been inadequate.

Colorado-Western wants to bring gas from the San Juan Basin over Wolf Creek Pass into the San Luis Valley and north through Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver. Interstate supplies these cities with gas from the Texas Panhandle and Kansas.

Texan Listed Dead

Motion Filed In Railroad Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—A legal action to compel the New York Central to transfer 800,000 shares of Central stock to the two Texas millionaires who bought it was on file today in the State Supreme Court.

The stock was purchased by Clint W. Murchison and Sid W. Richardson from the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, but the Central declined to transfer it, contending the transfer papers were not in order.

The Texans are friends of Robert H. Young, who is fighting for control of the Central. The stock had been in trusteeship when Young headed the C&O, the Interstate Commerce Commission having ruled that he could not also participate in the affairs of the Central.

A spokesman for Murchison and Richardson insisted the transfer papers were in order and charged that the Central "had arbitrarily and capriciously refused to make the transfers as demanded."

To Publish Book On Unwed Mothers Soon

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women Editor
Common sense and frank discussion have done much to rehabilitate the lives of today's unwed mothers, says Sara B. Edlin, for 40 years director of a home for these one-time outcasts of society.
A kindly, bright-eyed little woman with a vast understanding of human problems, Mrs. Edlin has set down her findings in a new book, "The Unmarried Mother in Our Society," soon to be published. Discussing in an interview the changes both in public attitude and in the character of the girls themselves over the years of her long tenure, Mrs. Edlin says:
"When I first arrived to take over management of the Lakeside Home in Ston Island in 1914, most of the expectant mothers there were young immigrant girls who had come over from the old country to seek jobs in New York.

"Today we have girls from all strata of society, from wealthy and upper-class homes as well as from poverty-stricken families. So we cannot place the blame for their plight on either ignorance or poverty. Most of the girls have had the advantage of sex education in the schools, many have excellent backgrounds and college educations.
"I have come to the firm conclusion that in almost every case the misfortune of these girls is caused by a faulty relationship with their parents. In some instances the girls feel they have been slighted for a more attractive or more gifted brother or sister. In some cases they resent parental discipline and feel that the rules laid down by their mothers and fathers are old-fashioned.
"It seems to be a spirit of defiance against their parents that has driven practically every one of them to her present state.
"Most of today's unmarried mothers do not keep their babies, says Mrs. Edlin, and under the present social structure in this country she believes this is best for the future of both mother and child. She explains:
"It is still difficult for an unmarried mother to return to her place in society with her child, and gain anything like a normal life for either of them.
"If the child is offered for adoption, it grows up in a normal family structure and has an even chance with other children. Also the mother, without the child, usually marries and establishes a new life for herself."
It is unusual for today's unwed mother to marry the father of her child, says Mrs. Edlin. Often she doesn't want to marry him, even if he is willing.

Mary Margaret McBRIDE SAYS

When I was a little girl, Easter meant new shoes to wear to Sunday school and for a walk with my father to the far meadow, carrying sail for the sheep.
The other day, reading "The Easter Book," by Father Francis X. Weiser, I discovered that all unknowingly, there on a middle-western farm we were observing at least three Easter customs that go back hundreds of years. The new shoes symbolized putting on fresh raiment following a period of mourning and repentance. The walk through fields and open spaces after church is a left-over from medieval times when candles were carried by the walkers who

Water Window High

High water, which has struck the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas has forced evacuation of many homes, but the flood threat was believed under control by Thursday afternoon. Above, the flood waters forced the family from this farm home near La Blanca in Hidalgo County. Damage to crops from the floods had been very heavy. (AP Wirephoto).

WHAT'S TO BLAME?

Seattle Astir Over Windshield Breaks

SEATTLE (AP)—Superbomb, supernatural or superstitious, there was no doubt about it today, the one million people in the Puget Sound country were stirred up by the case of the pockmarked windshields. Some were even blaming H-bombs. And the mayor of this city of 500,000 was trying to stir up the President of the United States. The mayor, Allan Pomeroy, apparently was among the believers that something, rather than someone, is damaging thousands of automobile windshields with an unknown substance. The mayor asked the President to "instruct appropriate federal agencies to cooperate with local authorities on an emergency basis."

There are doubters, too, who think an awful lot of people are victims of mass hysteria, suddenly conscious of something that may have happened days, weeks or months ago.

"Tommyrot," exploded Dr. D. M. Ritter, assigned by the chemistry department of the University of Washington to assist authorities seeking an answer to the riddle. "There isn't anything I know of that could be causing unusual breaks in windshields," he said after examining several and residue found on the cars. "These people must be dreaming."

One thing is certain: the claims of damaged windshields are mounting into the thousands. And one thing else appears certain: no other glass objects seem to be suffering, not even side windows of cars.

The description of the damage varies from actual holes to pit marks covering every known shape. Chips, scratches, mars, pits, holes, crumbling, blemishes, blurs, blots and cracks. Some people even claim the damage has happened before their eyes.

Law enforcement officials are convinced that some vandalism was involved in cases reported at Bellingham. Some, but not all, believe the vandalism spread.

Then, this week, other communities south of Bellingham said they had suffered an outbreak of the trouble. Wednesday night it broke out in Seattle. The police switchboard couldn't handle the complaints; neither could the newspapers.

Some police officers said it even happened to them. Others took the Dr. Ritter attitude. A state patrol official who asked not to be named because "so many high officials appear to have been taken in," said he hadn't found one actual case outside of Bellingham that couldn't be laid to normal travel damage.

He pointed out that winter, with its heavily sanded streets, has just passed. Windshields were dirty, the atmosphere dark and murky. Blemishes didn't show up then. "It's clearer, brighter, now," he said. "And with this wave of hysteria, people are inspecting their windshields closely and finding spots they never knew were there before."

On the other side, persons not known to be the hysterical type reported their autos had been hit. Some said a graphite-like substance had been found on the cars and that it reacted in a magnetic fashion.

Meanwhile, rumors were thick that teen-agers had been rounded up and had signed confessions of responsibility for the Bellingham depredations. The cops are just waiting to round up the rest of the gang, the rumors went.

But police in Seattle said the reported cases of damage are too widespread to have been done by a person or persons.

Some of them, and many of the persons who claimed damage, blamed it on a reaction from explosion of the hydrogen bomb. Others said it was "a manifestation of God's wrath."

At Widbey Island Naval Air Station, where a number of marked windshields were discovered, Geiger counters showed there was no radioactivity present.

Marilyn Monroe Not Expecting Yet

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marilyn Monroe says, "I'm not pregnant, but I wish I were. Joe and I want a lot of little DiMaggios."

On her first day at work since her marriage Jan. 14 to ex-baseball player Joe DiMaggio, the 20th Century-Fox star also told inquiring reporters yesterday:

San Francisco will remain the DiMaggios' home. They'll rent a house here and commute between films.

She's learning to cook but Joe "is much better at making spaghetti."

She declined to say how much her new contract pays her. Some reports have put it as high as $100,000 per picture. Before squabbling with the studio, which put her on suspension until she signed the new pact, she earned $750 a week.

Dallas Man Held On Assault Charge

TEXAS CITY (AP)—Curtis Ray Huddle, 26, of Dallas, was held under $2,500 bond today after waiving preliminary hearing yesterday on charges of assault to murder a young mother.

Mrs. Louise McGuire was found unconscious in a pool of blood and milk here March 15, two broken baby bottles beside her. She has a 15-month-old boy.

Huddle also is wanted in St. Paul, Minn., on a charge of worthless checks. His wife was arrested on similar charges when she visited him in the Galveston County Jail two weeks ago.

Man And 3-Year-Old Son Both Test Drunk

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police said they found a Dayton man and his 3-year-old son drunk together, and a judge sentenced the father to six months in jail for child neglect yesterday.

Thomas Shropshire, 54, pleaded guilty before Juvenile Judge Frank F. Nicholas.

J. E. Carter, assistant prosecutor, said Shropshire and his son were picked up by police April 5 and both tested drunk on the police drunkometer.

Hawaiian Japanese Thinks Mother Nation Won War

By ROY ESSOVAN HONOLULU (AP)—A Japanese farmer, indicted on a charge of violating the immigration law, says Japan won World War II "and you can't make me believe otherwise."

The farmer, Kametoku Tomel, 64, was accused of refusing to file an annual alien address report and the U. S. attorney's office said he insisted that Hawaii is part of Japan.

"Hawaii is a part of Japan," Tomel told a reporter yesterday. "Everything else is a pack of lies."

Tomel's children, all born here and U. S. citizens, left home several years ago. They were angered and embarrassed, said the eldest son, Shigemichi Tomel.

"We tried everything to explain the true situation to him," Shigemichi said. "He wouldn't believe us. I even offered him money to take a trip to Japan to see for himself but he refused, saying the time had not come to visit Japan yet."

Asked why U. S. law was in effect if Hawaii is part of Japan, Tomel replied: "It takes time to set up a new administration but the Japanese administration will come within this year."

One of Tomel's sons was wounded in the Korean War, but the farmer said: "There was no Korean War. My son probably was injured in some Army maneuvers."

Tomel said he would believe Japan lost the war "if the Emperor sent a representative" but added: "The Emperor would not do such a thing."

Dr. Andrew W. Lind, professor of sociology at the University of Hawaii, said Tomel's attitude was the result of an "emotional crisis at VJ Day which drove some older generation Japanese to seek questionable mental security in delusions of Japanese victory."

California Peak To Again Be Site Of Easter Rites

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—Again the faithful, perhaps 10,000 of them, will climb Mt. Rubidoux at dawn Sunday to worship at the scene of what is believed to have been the world's first Easter sunrise service.

It was 45 years ago, on April 11, 1909, when about 100 persons ascended the 1,337-foot, boulder-strewn peak near here, led by Frank A. Miller, founder of the Riverside Mission Inn.

The idea had been suggested by his friend, Jacob A. Riis, famed Danish-born sociologist and a frequent visitor to the inn.

Riis came to this country in 1870, at 21. He was a police reporter for the New York Evening Sun from 1888 to 1890, then devoted his efforts to abolishing New York City's tenements.

In numerous articles, books and lectures he described the sordidness of the slums. He advocated playgrounds, child labor laws and fire codes. He established a settlement, later given his name, in one of New York's worst tenement districts and led many national reforms.

Swede Says U. S. Jail Tops Europe

BALTIMORE (AP)—A deportation hearing is scheduled here next Wednesday for a 41-year-old Swedish seaman who said he has drifted around this country for 18 years without detection by authorities.

During this time, said Ronald William Peterson, he has visited all 48 states, staying no longer than one week at a time in any one place.

Peterson, of Goteborg, Sweden, was arrested at Laurel race track on suspicion of auto theft and turned over to immigration authorities when he revealed his background. "I would rather go to jail here for life than go back to Europe," he said.

The City of Big Spring started off the 1954-55 fiscal year with cash balances of $25,550.15 in the general fund and $96,896.94 in the water and sewer system revenue fund.

These balances were reflected in a financial report submitted to the city commission by City Secretary C. R. McClenny. The cash balance in the interest and sinking fund as of April 1 was listed at $97,497.77.

McClenny's report shows that 88,680,100 gallons of water were metered to customers during March. The water and sewer bills during the month amounted to $40,386.32.

General fund receipts during March amounted to $71,213.95, and the expenditures were $66,486.46. Water and sewer system revenue fund receipts for March were $30,425.57.

The city's bonded indebtedness at the beginning of April was $791,000 in tax bonds and $1,210,000 in revenue bonds. Disbursements from the interest and sinking funds in March were $80 for interest and $5 for the commission.

Various fund balances on April 1, the beginning of the city's fiscal year, were:

Street improvement bond fund, $12,418.15; Fourth Street escrow fund, $923.15; special account insurance refund, $168.33; water and sewer system construction fund, $442,191.23; storm sewer bond fund, $1,019.15; airport fund, $5,048.13; cemetery fund, nothing; swimming pool and park system, $7,927.59; garage, $12,136.73; and parking meter fund, $22,537.48.

Cayuses Host San Angelo Tonight

Spuders Visit On Saturday

The Big Spring Broncs return to action in the friendly confines of Steer Park tonight, meeting the San Angelo Colts in an 8 o'clock exhibition.

Pepper Martin's provincials will also see action here Saturday night, at which time they tangle with the Wichita Falls Spuders. Game time then will be 8 o'clock.

Martin will use one of the games to take a look at the only left-handed hurler on the Big Spring staff, Al Mendoza, sent here recently from Albuquerque.

The Cayuses recently split a twin bill with Wichita Falls in Wichita Falls. They won the first game easily but errors cost them the second contest.

Hillis Layne, former major leaguer, leads the San Angelo club into town. Layne formerly played with the Washington Senators. He'll hold down some infield spot with the Colts this season.

Angelo's lineup recently was strengthened with the addition of Charles Watts, a second baseman acquired from Dallas. Watts hit .301 for Clovis of the WT-NM League last year.

Johnny Tayan, a veteran who threatened to quit baseball because he was being forced to take a pay slice, will probably be with the visitors.

Glenn Burns, one of the most awesome sluggers ever to play in the Longhorn League, is no longer with the Colts. He was sold recently to Abilene.

San Angelo brings a 2-4 won-loss record here. The Colts are closing out a three-day road trip. They topped Midland, 8-2, Wednesday night and lost to Plainview, 4-0, last night.

Several names familiar to Big Spring fans decorate the Wichita Falls roster. Tony Truespoeto, who used to catch for the Broncs, now wears a Spudder's cap, as does Julio Ramos, a mound ace of the 1949 Big Spring team.

Ken Cluley, formerly with San Angelo, and Manager Al McCarty are other class-men with the Wichita Falls team.

Admission prices for both games have been pegged at 50 and 25 cents.

Curt Borrett, who played right field for Big Spring last season, now wears the spangles of the San Angelo Colts, which play the Steeds at 8 o'clock here tonight. He's a left-handed batter.

Cardinal Mound Staff Has Been Unimpressive

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals must be wondering today whether all that peerless pre-season pitching by his Big Three was only an early spring night's dream.

It was only a few weeks ago that Harvey Haddix, Vic Raschi and Gerry Staley were racking up goose eggs all over the lot. But in successive starts since the regular season began, Haddix and Raschi were pounded off the hill before they could even draw a deep breath. Haddix got his jumps opening day, pounded for five hits and four runs in less than three innings by the Chicago Cubs.

Raschi made his National League debut in Milwaukee yesterday and the former Yankee ace faded even worse. He was pulled in the second inning after he had been slugged for four hits and as many runs.

The Cards fought back to tie the game with a run in the eighth and three more in the ninth but Billy Bruton walked in the 11th and raced all the way home with the winning run on Danny O'Connell's single to right and Rip Repulski's bobble. The 7-5 defeat was charged to reliever Haddix, his second in two games. A record crowd of 39,963 saw southpaw Warren Spahn go all the way for Milwaukee.

Staley, the third member of the big trio, is due to make his 1953 bow in Chicago tomorrow.

The only other winless club in the majors are the Chicago White Sox, who dropped their third in a row as Baltimore celebrated its first American League home opener since 1902 with a 3-1 victory before 46,354 wildly cheering fans.

Bob Turley, the sophomore speedballer, permitted seven hits and struck out nine for the Orioles. Home runs by Clint Courtney and Vern Stephens sent Virgil Trucks down to defeat.

Cincinnati's hard-hitting Redlegs remained the majors' only unbeaten team, pounding out an 11-5 decision over the Cubs for their second straight. Jimmy Greengrass, who tied a record with four doubles on opening day, added a fifth two-bagger and whopped a bases-loaded home run to high-light six-run seventh for Cincinnati.

A slim gathering of 12,498 hardy souls braved the wintry blasts at Ebbets Field and were rewarded by a 7-4 Brooklyn victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Three Dodger home runs, all off loser Max Surkont, accounted for six runs. Roy Campanella hit his third of the season with two on, Junior Gilliam hit his second and Jackie Robinson his first with a runner on base. Russ Meyer was the winner but he needed help from Jim Hughes in the eighth.

Veteran Murry Dickson got the better of a pitching duel with young Johnny Antonelli as the Phils beat the New York Giants 2-0 in a game cut to six innings because of rain. Antonelli yielded only three hits but two of them were damaging drag bunts. One was made by Ted Kazanski, who took second on Antonelli's wild throw, third on a passed ball and scored on a fly in the fifth. The second was made by slugger Del Ennis, who squeezed Willie Jones home with two out in the sixth.

Four teams were tied for first place in the American League with 2-1 records. Detroit handed Cleveland the first defeat of the season 3-2, scoring the winning run in the ninth on two walks, an infield single by Bill Tuttle and an infield out by Matt Batts. Reliever Ralph Branca was the winner and Mike Garcia the loser.

The New York Yankees joined Cleveland, Detroit and Baltimore at the top, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 3-0, on Tom Moran's eight-inning. Eighth-inning home runs by Hank Bauer and rookie Bill Skowron off loser Alex Kellner broke up a close hurling duel.

Catcher Sammy White drove in three runs with a home run, double and two singles in four times at bat to lead the Boston Red Sox to a 6-1 victory over Washington. Lefty Bill Henry hurled a three-hitter.

Dozen Teams Are Entered In Y City Softball Loop

A record twelve teams have been entered in the City Softball League, which begins its practice games tonight at the City Park. The dozen teams which will formally launch play on May 31 include five Webb Air Base nines. The final meeting of league managers will be conducted at 5:15 p.m. Friday, April 16, at the YMCA. Entry fee for each team is $35. Each team will be allowed a roster of 16 men, in addition to a non-playing manager. Rosters must be in the league office by April 21. Rex Pinkham will be in charge of game officials.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

A party says he believes Roswell will run away with the Longhorn League pennant. If all clubs hold the line on salaries. The man says it will happen that way because Pat Stacey and Company can get good ball players for $200 a month each, while the contingents won't play for that.

Could be, but I doubt it. True, Stacey won the regular season flag the first three years he was in the league but all the teams were over the pay level, then. In short, $350 and $500 a month ball players didn't help at that time.

After that, however, the other teams began to cut Stacey's clubs down to size. He finished in the playoffs every year until 1933, then lost his rabbit's foot. And the years his teams attained the playoffs after 1949, he didn't get very far.

In 1947, '48 and '49, Stacey was getting the cream of Joe Cambria's farm pennant. Boys like Potolo Pascual, Gaspar Del Toro, Tony Truespoeto, Bert Baez, Ace Mendez, Cookie Vasquez, Julio Ramos and others were being sent to Cambria. Stacey had difficulty using all the help that was sent him.

It's different now. Cambria has spread himself too thin. He's trying to supply far too many clubs now. Too, the natives the other clubs are getting now are better than they were in the latter '40's, when the effects of the war and the draft hurt the talent.

In the past, too, Stacey depends on his own big bat to see him through. He was the team's cleanup hitter, and a good one. He's gone downhill since then, however. They figure he isn't anywhere nearly as effective with the hickory as he used to be.

Incidentally, don't think Bertie Baez didn't have a lot to do with building those Big Spring powerhouses the first three seasons Big Spring was in the league. Baez did a lot of scouting for Stacey. Cambria took the credit but it was Baez who found and signed many of the boys with the local team. Potolo Pascual was signed for Big Spring by Baez, incidentally.

Baez, of course, is no longer around the local scene. He lives in Tampa, Fla., and may be back with that city's Florida International League club this season.

Horace Busby, business manager of the Midland club, insisted the Indians weren't about to violate the salary code. "Any way we go, anyone we sign, will be under the pay limit," Busby said. "It went hard with some of our veterans when we told them that, but we're going to respect the rules."

Incidentally, Joe Grasso — the hurler who beat the Broncs here last Sunday — is the only player signed by the Indians who was recommended by Manager Rudy Briner. The others were already owned by the Warriors or sent to them by some other club.

At this writing, Bobby Savage had his East High School baseball team out in front in the Des Moines, Iowa, schoolboy baseball race. He's the former Big Spring High School athlete.

Sports say Jimmy Bond, the Pampa cage star, will probably enroll at SMU. Schools all over the country are after him.

Bentley Will Take Four Athletes To Abilene

Coach Harold Bentley will take only four members of the Big Spring High School track and field team to the Abilene Relays Saturday.

They are Bobby Fuller, who is likely to either win or place in the mile run; Milton Davis, quarter miler; Kirk Faulkner, 800-yard runner; and Darrell Sanders, an entry in the same event.

Frosty Robison, local discus thrower, will not make the trip. He is keeping in shape for the Regional Meet, however.

The Steers have had little chance to work out due to adverse weather conditions this week. Too, part of the track at Steer Stadium has been under water.

Preliminaries in the Abilene meet will be run Saturday afternoon and finals at night.

Leagues To Follow Rules On Gloves

DALLAS (AP)—Texas professional baseball leagues will observe the new rule that forces the fielders to bring their gloves in to the bench when they have finished an inning in the field.

"It's because Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick commanded it. The commissioner, noting that a number of leagues were planning to ignore the rule this season, said he wanted it observed."

"We have no alternative," said John Reeves, president of the Texas League. "It opens the way to stalling but since the commissioner says we must observe it, I shall issue an order to the Texas League that it do so from now on."

Howard Green, president of the Big State League, said his circuit would follow the commissioner's edict but that he thought the rule would be repealed at the next meeting of the rules committee.

Baylor Gets Pair

TYLER (AP)—Baylor University picked up some football talent yesterday when David Lunceford, Tyler Junior College tackle, and Tyler Peters, Van High School back, signed letters of intent to attend the Waco school.

BASES-JAMMED DOUBLE GIVES INDIANS WIN

MIDLAND (SC) — Pete Albarano's double with the bases loaded in the seventh inning provided Midland with a 6-3 victory over Big Spring in an exhibition game played before 205 paying customers here Thursday night.

The game was costly for the Broncs. Shortstop Luis Cabellero re-injured his leg and was lost to the Big Springers indefinitely.

Despite the loss, Manager Pepper Martin had warm words of praise for the mound work of Mike Rainey, who may be the Steeds' starting hurler against Artesia next Tuesday. Rainey gave up five scattered hits in six innings and only one unearned run.

Frank Maren succeeded Rainey on the mound and was tagged for the loss, as he surrendered five tallies in the seventh.

Ralph Atkinson started on the mound for Midland. The former Big Springer toiled six frames and was succeeded by Fred Comacho, who gained credit for the win.

Big Spring led by a score of 3-1 going into the seventh. A bobble by Bob Martin, who moved in at shortstop when Cabellero left the game, opened the door for the Indians.

Harold Berry blistered Midland hurling, collecting a triple and a single. Julio Delatorre and Bob Martin had two-basers for Big Spring.

The 54-hole contest has a select field of 23 teeing off today, a second 18 holes tomorrow and the final 18 set for Sunday.

Marlene Rated Chance To Win

BEAUMONT (AP)—Mildred (Babe) Zaharias was the practical as well as the sentimental favorite here today as the second annual Babe Zaharias Open Golf Tournament started over the Beaumont Country Club course.

But Marlene Bauer, 20-year-old phenom playing out of Sarasota, Fla. was rated a good chance to dethrone Mrs. Zaharias. Miss Bauer, one of golf's glamour girls, won the Colonial Women's Open at New Orleans, La., last week.

The Babe, still on the comeback trail after a serious cancer operation last year, is the defending champion and has predicted she will win the $3,500 tournament again.

The 54-hole contest has a select field of 23 teeing off today, a second 18 holes tomorrow and the final 18 set for Sunday.

Boxes still available

A few boxes between home plate and third base for Big Spring Broncs home games will be offered to the public on a "first-come, first-served" basis. Those interested can contact Jack Smith, who is handling sale of the reserved space for Pepper Martin. He can be reached by dialing 4-4661.

The boxes are good for 70 home games and the playoffs, if the Broncs should land in the Shagheensy round.

Oliver And Francis Shop Around For Pay Offers

By DAVID L. DILES
RIO GRANDE, Ohio (AP)—Newt Oliver, the volatile little ringmaster of Rio Grande's basketball class, came out of hiding today and announced he and star performer Bevo Francis are considering offers "that would put each of us in the five-figure salary bracket."

The Rio coach, who boasts openly that he personally put over one of the biggest pay bumps in the history of the game, had successfully evaded reporters nearly a week.

Since last Monday's expulsion of Francis, one of the most prolific scorers the game has ever known, Oliver's whereabouts have been a dark secret. His traveling signals even had his family and college faculty friends confused.

But late last night, Oliver called the Associated Press, and said when he was asked where he had been: "Just shopping."

Despite a myriad of double-talk, he got the idea across it had been a successful trip to market.

The conversation went this way: Question: "Have you and Bevo decided on any offers?" Answer: "We have two, good, solid offers—and either one of them would put each of us in the five-figure salary bracket." Q: "What are they?" A: "— can't say. In fact, I can't even give you a hint. But there's just the slightest chance we'll stay at Rio Grande. If we don't form our own team, we'll go pro. Nothing's definite yet, but it's going to be a hard decision to make."

Q: "Were you really in Cincinnati, or somewhere else?" A: "I was in Cincinnati last night to see the Harlem Globetrotters and the College All-Stars."

Q: "Did you talk to Saperstein (Abe Saperstein, owner of the Globetrotters)?" A: "I can't say who I talked to. But you don't think I went down there for my health, do you?"

Q: "What about that 'slight' chance you and Bevo will be back at Rio Grande next year? Are you two going to be together or not?" A: "When the college dropped Bevo, they busted the biggest publicity bubble in basketball history. But if he doesn't come back, it's just as certain as the sun coming up in the morning that I won't be back here either. Bevo'll be playing basketball somewhere next season, and you can bet your life I'll be right there on the bench. We'll be together, no matters what happens."

Transplanted Texan Stars As Bosox Topples Sens

By BOB HOOBING
BOSTON (AP)—Lethander Bill Henry, a transplanted Texan with a sizzling fast ball, today looked like Boston's answer to the critics of Red Sox pitching after his three-hit performance against Washington ace Bob Porterfield.

Henry, who closed out the 1953 season with a brilliant one-hit, 1-0 victory over the world champion New York Yankees, was quiet but obviously pleased with his 6-1 triumph over the Senators yesterday.

The 26-year-old Houston, Tex., lad who was called up from the Sox' Louisville farm in the middle of last year, had a double handicap to overcome, too. He was facing the top American League pitcher of 1953 in Porterfield (22-10) and some uncomfortable 40-degree weather.

"I threw so many pitches I didn't have a chance to get cold," was the way Henry explained his success with the elements.

Sports Flatten Eagles, 10-4; Cats Thrashed

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff

Shreveport's amazing Sports had a 24-game Texas League lead Friday after humbling defending champion Dallas, 10-4, in the Eagles' home-parade opener.

The Eagles had a miserable night in getting only eight hits, committing four errors and watching four of their hurlers blasted from the mound.

It was the eighth straight victory for the Sports against no defeats for the season.

In other Texas League games: Bill Pilgrim limited the Oklahoma City Indians to three hits to pitch the San Antonio Missions to a 9-3 victory.

Tulsa used a story-book finish for its home opener to edge Houston 4-3.

The Beaumont Exporters—playing before the biggest Fort Worth opening day crowd since 1930—thrashed the Cats, 9-3, on Joe Kuncel's sterling four-hit pitching.

All other Cat runs at Fort Worth came on home runs. Pitcher Tom Bigham got a two-run round-tripper while Cal Felix contributed the other to the Cat cause.

The crowd of 12,128 gave Fort Worth the President's Cup which goes each year to the city with the largest opening day attendance. Dallas had the second largest crowd, 8,512.

Oklahoma City's opening night crowd amounted to only 1,423 chillsy fans who watched the Indians lose their seventh game against one victory for the young season. Van Durham slammed out a three-run home run for the Missions while Howie Boles knocked a one-run homer off winner Pilgrim.

A crowd of 4,367 watched the thriller at Tulsa. Utility outfielder Jeff Williams singled in a pinch-hit role to drive in two runs and tie the game at 5-5 in the ninth. Then the former Kansas City Monarch player scored the winning tally on a single by Jim Bolger.

Beaumont was a half-game back of second-place Dallas and a half-game ahead of fourth-place San Antonio when the night's playing was over. Tulsa and Fort Worth, five games back, were tied for fifth and sixth places, followed by Houston and Oklahoma City in that order.

Only three games were in tap for Friday night: Beaumont at Fort Worth, Shreveport at Dallas, and San Antonio at Oklahoma City. Tulsa and Houston, observing Good Friday, were to take the day off, but set a Saturday doubleheader.

Robinson Seeded First In Meet

HOUSTON (AP)—One of last year's semi-finalists, Tommy Robinson of Baton Rouge, La., was seeded first as the River Oaks Junior Tennis Tournament began today.

Robinson lost a year ago to Richard Schutte of Houston, who will compete next week in the star-studded 20th annual River Oaks Tournament.

Nude Prowler Is Nabbed in Dallas After Screams

DALLAS (AP)—A bank official, an airline pilot and a building contractor ran down and severely beat a nude prowler here yesterday after the naked man chased the pilot's wife into her home.

The 24-year-old 190-pound prowler identified himself as a former Houston resident who was honorably discharged from the Navy in January. He was in city jail last night with a broken jaw, fractured nose and several teeth missing.

The incident occurred about 4:45 p.m. in the same general area where Mrs. H. C. Parker, 36-year-old dime store clerk was raped, robbed and fatally stabbed in September 1952. A 19-year-old Negro, Tommy Lee Walker, is under death sentence for the Parker slaying.

R. L. Dauterman, asst. vice president of the Mercantile National Bank here, said the pilot's wife—Mrs. Frank Harnden—was in her back yard when the nude man walked toward her from a row of trees back of the house.

Mrs. Harnden screamed and ran toward the house where her husband was writing a letter. Harnden, 33, saw the man chasing his wife and met the husky, red-headed former sailor just outside.

The flier gave chase as the nude man turned and ran for some open country behind the row of houses where the pilot lives. Tom J. Speed, the builder, contributed a flying block as the man ran through Harnden's next-door neighbor's yard, and Harnden caught the fleeing man with a flying tackle as he was knocked off balance.

Dauterman arrived in time to toss his weight onto the prostrate prowler.

"He begged us to let him go," Dauterman said. "He told us he would never do anything like that again if we'd only let him go."

"We had no intention of hitting him," the bank officer continued. "It was just that he kept wanting to get up and we kept wanting him to stay down."

The man stayed down. Officers arrived, put some clothes on the man with garments from a bundle found hidden in shrubbery, took him to Parkland for treatment and then to the city jail.

Paper Allowed To Fight TV Permit

WASHINGTON (AP)—A newspaper may formally object to the granting of a license for a television station on grounds that they would be competitors for advertising, the Communications Commission ruled yesterday.

In a 4-3 decision, the commission allowed the Clarksburg Publishing Co., publisher of the Exponent and Telegram at Clarksburg, W. Va., to become an "interested party" in consideration of TV service for the city.

In the precedent-making decision, the commission said the publishing firm might suffer "economie injury." The firm, while saying newspapers and TV stations are competitive, said it was not arguing against "legitimate competition."

Redfish May Get McCarthy Gaze

HOUSTON (AP)—Oilman Hugh Roy Cullen chatted with newsmen awaiting Sen. Joseph McCarthy's arrival here yesterday.

Talk turned to the senator's fishing trip in the Gulf. "What are you going to do if the senator pulls up a redfish?" asked a reporter. "Tell him to throw it back in," Cullen smiled.

Tulsa Newspaper's Editor Says Profession Libelled

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa (Okla.) Tribune, said today journalism is "losing its ability to attract bright boys and girls"—in part because it has not countered "years of libel" of the profession.

In a report for the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) annual meeting, Jones said he and many other editors have been compelled to hire—and fire—"a parade of slack jaws and pinheads" because enrollment in journalism schools has fallen off so sharply that enough graduates cannot be obtained to fill the need.

One survey, he said, showed that 52 journalism schools received 3 to 10 job offers for every graduate. Jones said an outdated reputation for poor pay is one of the deterrents to capable youths. He quoted one survey of Iowa high school seniors as showing that 20 per cent thought they would receive a starting wage of $20 to $30 a week in journalism, and 79 per cent thought they would get less than $50.

The Oklahoma editor said "low pay is a thing of the past." He said his own paper paid an average of $100 a week to staff members and will hire a college graduate for $65 weekly for the first three months "with raises or dismissal guaranteed."

Jones blamed newspaper executives themselves for stressing hard work, long hours and low pay, as well as movie and television programs featuring "the boozey editor or the venality of a rich and crooked publisher." Jones added: "The newspaper industry is suffering from the cumulative effect of years of libel. . . I suggest we tell the truth about ourselves."

Dallas Group Plans 'Draft' Of Wilson

DALLAS (AP)—A group of Dallas businessmen have started a movement to draft Rep. J. Frank Wilson, from the Fifth (Dallas County) Congressional District, for a fifth term.

Wilson said in Washington last Sunday that he would not seek reelection and intended to return to Dallas to re-enter private law practice.

Charles E. Simons, an oil association executive and former state Democratic Executive Committee secretary, said last night a telegram had been sent to Wilson asking the congressman to stand for re-election.

Simons said the telegram to Wilson was sent after medical reports on the congressman's operation in the U.S. Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Md., last week revealed that health was not a major concern.

Church Group Asks No More H-Bomb

AUSTIN (AP)—Representatives of three church groups called today for abandonment of the H-bomb regardless of what others do.

"Man cannot serve both Christ and the bomb," said a statement issued by members of the Mennonite Central Committee, Brethren Service Committee, and American Friends Service Committee.

The Good Friday statement said man "must choose which is to be his master. x x x Let us be done with these fearful weapons, regardless of what others do."

"Whether the bomb is a tool to deter or destroy, it is not the sign by which men conquer."

Aged Britishers Get Traditional Pennies

LONDON (U)—Queen Elizabeth's court gave pennies to 28 old men and 28 old women yesterday in a traditional Maundy Thursday ceremony.

As tradition dictates, the royal court settled on 28 old people of each sex, and gave each one 28 pennies, because the reigning sovereign is 28 years old.

Usually the Queen herself goes to Westminster Abbey for the service. In her absence on a Commonwealth tour, the presentations yesterday were made by the Lord High Almoner, Dr. Grestford Jones.

Newspaper Editors Say Atomic Secrecy Has Hurt Civil Defense

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (U)—Secrecy on atomic weapons progress has thrown civil defense planning into confusion and hindered development of a continental defense system, the American Society of Newspaper Editors was told today.

Paul Block Jr., co-publisher of the Toledo Blade, reported to some 400 editors at their annual meeting that despite recent hydrogen bomb revelations, atomic developments have outrun public information.

"The public appears to be relatively farther behind informationally than ever before," said Block, the society's one-man watchdog committee on atomic information. The sensation created by Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss with his recent description of a 17-month-old hydrogen bomb explosion, Block said, raises the question "whether the people must not be told much more soon."

"Witness the confusion of the Federal Civil Defense Administration," Block said. "The potential of the H-bomb required a major change in emphasis in the teachings of this organization. 'Now the watchword is 'evacuation' and the training of rescue units is pinned to the needs of rescuing other areas rather than one's own city.'"

"And what of the many stories about a cobalt bomb—which would set off a rain of destruction by the dropping of radioactive materials many miles from the site of the explosion?"

A major question of national defense policy, the editor, went on, is whether more money should be spent on continental defense. "Clearly the answer to this is in the hands of the electorate," he said. "Does it have enough information on which to base a decision?" Block's message was one section of a comprehensive report by the society's Committee on Freedom of Information headed by J. Russell Wiggins, managing editor of the Washington Post and Times-Herald.

General improvement in the information policy of federal agencies was reported. But Wiggins emphasized a need for a federal law to compel officials to divulge nonmilitary information if they refuse to do so voluntarily.

Conscience Finally Gets Wisconsin Man

OMAHA (U)—Henry W. Drake's father used to run a general store in Maplehurst, Wis.

From Wathee, Wis., Drake recently got a letter. In it was a money order for $6.80 and a note saying, "During the winter of 1914-15, I bought a $2 shirt at your father's store and never paid for it."

The $6.80 covered the original $2 and 40 years interest at 6 per cent.

Shrub Care Leads To Fussing, Suit Claims

MEMPHIS (U)—An 87-year-old man charged his 58-year-old wife with cruelty in a divorce bill filed in Circuit Court yesterday.

Richard Borner Sr. said his wife Nola "fussed and nagged" because he took care of trees and shrubs planted by his first wife, who died several years ago. Borner remarried in 1950.

tion, the growing tendency of congressional committees to hold secret sessions. Forty per cent of the 3,105 committee and subcommittee meetings in the last session were held behind closed doors, the ASNE group said.

As for improved information policy in federal agencies, the Wiggins report said five departments now are holding regular news conferences: State, Defense, Justice, Agriculture and Post Office. Two others are considering requests that they establish regular conferences, Interior and Commerce.

Some agencies which have been the targets of ASNE criticism in the past have opened up, Wiggins said. His report said Secretary of Defense Wilson is "responsive and informative," the Justice Department shows "a friendly, cooperative attitude" and the Post Office has established more liberal information policies.

In general, complaints and requests for information throughout the executive departments have encountered "sympathetic and responsive attention," the committee said.

However, the editors were told there still are obstacles and irritations in connection with military security.

The Wiggins group said that although President Eisenhower in November revoked the order issued by former President Truman in 1951, and stripped 28 agencies of the power to classify material as confidential or secret, newspapers still find the handling of military information "somewhat unsatisfactory."

One problem was listed as the absence of a designated agency to maintain a continuous scrutiny of the departments to make sure they do not improperly restrict documents. Another was said to be the fact that the only penalty for a breach of security is the harsh punitive provisions of the Espionage Act or the Atomic Energy Act. "This is somewhat like arming a quail hunter with an elephant gun," the report said.

"Members of this society and the newspaper industry generally face an enormous challenge, the Wiggins committee said.

"We are without the means of adequately policing ourselves or our colleagues on security matters, no matter how good our intentions are."

"We can only consult security officials in whose journalistic judgment we generally lack confidence. We cannot go ball for newspapers that are careless, reckless or irresponsible."

"We are, at the same time, without the means of assuring American citizens that information to which they are entitled is not being withheld from them by overzealous classification of security information. . . ."

"If the industry itself does not come forward, sooner or later, with some alternative to a present situation that menaces both security and information, it must anticipate action by others that may be unacceptable or distasteful."

New Bikini Suit Invented By Jap

TOKYO (U)—A Tokyo inventor has designed a new bikini suit. It's the Pacific style, not the abbreviated Riviera beach costume. His outfit consists of jacket, trousers, gloves and full-fashioned headgear which envelop the wearer like a sheet. As a matter of fact, girls, it is white cotton sheeting applied over a lead-coated wire screen.

Chochi Tsukada, who introduced the Pikadon (atom bomb) style suit, says it's "guaranteed" to protect against atomic blasts, after a fashion. The lead screen deflects radiation, he explained, and the cotton cover deflects heat flash. Price: about $48.

Jon Halls Agree Upon Separation

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Jon Hall's attorney says the actor and his wife of nearly 16 years, singer Frances Langford, have agreed on a separation.

Leon Kaplan said yesterday the couple had drifted apart because their careers allowed little time together. The attorney said the two recently spent several days in Ensenada, Mexico, discussing their problems and decided their differences were irreconcilable.

He said Miss Langford has returned East and there may be a divorce later. The Halls married in June 1938.

Duck-Tail Hair Style Brings Police Barber

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (U)—Police Chief James V. Hicks has directed that the youths wearing the so-called duck-tail hair style be given a free haircut when they are booked at Juvenile Hall.

"We find that more and more of the youths we pick up as delinquents wear their hair in this style," he said.

Shoulders Held Guilty Of Lying In Kidnap Case

KANSAS CITY (U)—A federal court jury has convicted Louis Shoulders, the veteran police officer who broke the Greenlease kidnaping case, of lying about the handling of the ransom money.

A half year ago Shoulders, who spent more than a quarter of a century on the St. Louis police force, was hailed as a hero after he arrested Carl Austin Hall, Hall and his partner, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, were executed for kidnaping and killing 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

Yesterday the federal jury found Shoulders guilty of lying about his handling of two money-stuffed suitcases found in Hall's room.

Shoulders was charged with committing perjury in testimony early this year before a federal grand jury. He maintained the suitcases were brought into the police station 15 to 20 minutes after Hall was booked. The government said they weren't brought in until more than an hour later.

Of the $600,000 ransom money paid to Hall by Robert C. Greenlease, wealthy Kansas City automobile dealer, $303,720 still is missing.

The former police lieutenant was granted 15 days in which to file a motion for a new trial. Sentence was deferred pending possible filing of the motion. The maximum penalty is five years imprisonment and $2,000 fine.

Shoulders was the second person convicted as the result of a grand jury investigation into the missing ransom money. Elmer Dolan, patrolman who aided in the arrest of Hall, also was convicted on a perjury charge. Dolan, suspended by the St. Louis police force, has filed a motion for a new trial.

Shoulders resigned in anger from the St. Louis force last year after the police board began an inquiry into Hall's arrest.

The kidnaping of Bobby Greenlease took place in Kansas City Sept. 28. He was killed the same day.

Christ the Living Lord -- Easter

JESUS APPEARS TO MARY MAGDALENE, THEN TO HIS DISCIPLES

Scripture—John 19:41-42; 20:1-21.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. EASTER DAY, the Lord has risen. All nature rejoices at this time. The leaf buds are opening on the trees; flowers are blooming or about to bloom; birds are singing as they build their nests, and, above all, our scripture tells us that Jesus Christ rose from His tomb on such a day, centuries ago. He died for our sins, but He rose again!

The first two verses of our lesson (John 19:41-42), describe the tomb in which Jesus' body was laid. It was a new tomb in the private garden of Joseph of Arimathea, the Pharisee who was secretly a disciple of Christ's. It was sealed with a great stone and soldiers guarded it at night. Very early in the morning Mary Magdalene went to the tomb, before it was light. The first thing Mary noticed was that the stone had been rolled away; then she looked in and the tomb was empty. She ran to meet Peter and John, and told them, and side, and the disciples were overjoyed to see their Lord. Now Thomas, called Didymus, was not with his brethren, and when he heard of Christ's appearance to them he said, "Except I shall see in His hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hands into His side, I will not believe."

This doubt is the origin of our modern saying, when a person expresses doubts, that he is a "Doubting Thomas."

Eight days after this Jesus came to them again, and this time Thomas was with them. Jesus told him to "reach hither thy finger, and behold My hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into My side: and be not faithless, but believing."

Thomas answered and said, "My Lord and my God!" Then Jesus said to Thomas, "Because thou hast seen Me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed."

MEMORY VERSE

"Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed." —John 20:29.

They looked in the tomb, and then Peter went in and then John. They saw the linen that had wrapped the Body lying there, and the napkin that had been about His head neatly folded in a place by itself, but "as yet they knew not the scripture, that He must rise again from the dead."

The two men went home, John writes, but Mary stood without the sepulchre weeping. She saw two angels in the tomb, and they asked her why she wept? She said, "Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid Him."

Turning away from the tomb Mary saw Jesus, but weeping, she did not know Him. He said to her, "Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou?" Thinking Him to be the gardener, she said, "Sir, if thou hast borne Him hence, tell me where thou hast laid Him, and I will take Him away."

Jesus spoke her name, "Mary," and then she knew it was He and joyfully called "Master." He told her to "go to My brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto My Father, and your Father; and to My God, and your God."

So Mary told the disciples, and that same evening, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled, "came Jesus and stood in their midst, and saith unto them, 'Peace be unto you.' He showed them His hands and feet."

Amazing Grace
The captain of a slave ship reads a book

An old windjammer tied up at Southampton. The captain staggered down the gangplank, paused and looked back at his ship. Then he disappeared up the ancient cobblestone street.

Capt. John Newton was only 23 years old but he had been to sea ever since his pious mother had died when he was 7. He had sailed with his sea-captain father, had done a trick in the British Navy, deserted, been caught, put in irons and whipped in public. Defiant, he signed on the lowest of all craft . . . a slave ship. He hardly knew how to read, but he knew the sea and it wasn't long until he was walking the bridge as master of his own slave, with a whip in one hand and a gun in the other.

John Newton wasn't drunk that day in 1764 when he staggered down the plank. He was sick . . . sick physically, spiritually and morally. Most of all he was sick of the filthy slave business. On a long voyage from Brazil he had read a book called "Imitation of Christ." Then came a storm . . . a vicious storm that threatened for days to send him to the bottom. When the storm calmed he fell to thinking . . . thinking about Christ who Thomas Kempis had written about in his book.

Not an Englishman in His Majesty's Empire would have dreamed that Capt. John Newton would have quit the sea for the ministry. That is, not an Englishman except Capt. John Newton. But when he paused for a last look at his ship, that's exactly what the hard-boiled skipper had in mind.

After 16 years of self education, John Newton was ordained and given a little church at the town of Olney. But he never gave up his sea garb. In the sunset of life, as pastor of one of London's greatest churches, he appeared in the pulpit dressed like a sailor—with a cane in one hand and a Bible in the other. But it was while serving his little church at Olney that he wrote . . .

Amazing grace how sweet the sound,
That saved a wretch like me!
I once was lost, but now am found,
Was blind, but now I see.

'Twas grace that taught my heart to fear,
And grace my fears relieved;
How precious did that grace appear
The hour I first believed.

Thro' many dangers, toils and snares,
I have already come;
'Tis grace hath bro't me safe thus far,
And grace will lead me home.

When we've been there ten thousand years,
Bright shining as the sun,
We've no less days to sing God's praise
Than when we first begun.

ETERNITY IS BORN

Flowers and trees burst into a symphony of color and beauty. Meadows and woodlands put on bright robes of green. Spring is the symbol of new life. But as time moves on, nature grows old. Blossoms fade and wither; leaves turn brown and fall. At last, nature buries herself under a blanket of ice and snow. Is this our fate? Does our existence fit into the same pattern of nature: birth, life, death? Do we spend only a few score years on earth, and then are no more? In churches all over the world this Easter morning, the cry comes ringing back: "HE IS RISEN! HE IS RISEN!" A new and glorious hope comes from the empty tomb—the hope of everlasting life for all who will believe. Come to church this Easter morning. Let us thank God that for you and me, eternity is born.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Movie producer William Cagney, 48, was sued yesterday for separate maintenance by his wife Nadine, 29.

Two days earlier the brother, partner and business manager of actor James Cagney filed suit here for divorce.

Don't Want More

MATTOON, Ill. (AP) — Not many people showed up yesterday at churches to pray for rain. The day of prayer had been proclaimed by Mayor H. B. Ewing two weeks ago with the city's reservoirs running almost dry.

Reason for the poor church attendance yesterday: It began raining the night before.

'Captive' Audience

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Adolph Schwartzkopf, a news vendor, appeared before City Judge Robert G. Dowd yesterday on charges of blocking traffic by running into the street to sell papers to motorists.

Said Schwartzkopf: "I don't weave in and out of traffic. I push that button and stop the traffic." He told the court a traffic signal at the corner has a manually-controlled "walk" light.

Judge Dowd asked: "You mean you stop this traffic every time you want to run out and sell a paper?"

The news vendor replied: "Sure. How else am I going to get into the street if I don't?"

Judge Dowd fined Schwartzkopf $25, but stopped payment on this condition:

"You stay out of the street and don't be pushing that button any more."

What About Mama?

TARRAGONA, Spain (AP) — Infant Jose Aznar got a lifetime pass on the Tarragona-La Cañonja bus line yesterday for being born aboard a bus.

His mother, Carmen Aguilar Aznar, took the bus at La Cañonja for a Tarragona hospital but didn't get there in time.

The bus line operator decided to reward young Jose for the "inconvenience" he suffered in being born on the bus.

Show Must Go On

NEW YORK (AP) — Opera director Otto Erhardt was hustling about the City Center Theater stage yesterday during rehearsal of Verdi's "Falstaff."

He missed his footing, fell off stage into the orchestra pit and landed in a kettledrum.

Before being taken away for treatment of a sprained back and ankle, the 300-pound director shouted at the startled singers:

"Go on, don't mind me. You've got a performance tonight."

Riding THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

Well, from here it looks like the Garden City "Straw Hat Shoot" may be held the afternoon of Sunday, May 2, according to word received from Oliver West, Glasscock County agricultural agent.

The shoot, at the county caliche pit, two miles east of Garden City on the Sterling City Highway, will be sponsored by the 4-H Club, all profits will go to the club and straw hats instead of turkeys will be awarded the shooter making the best score in each string of 10 targets.

There will be some sample hats on the grounds for the purpose of determining the winner's correct size and his new hat will be delivered to him just a few days later, provided he lives in some nearby town, meaning Garden City, Sterling City, San Angelo, St. Lawrence, Stanton, Big Spring, or other area communities.

There will be 400-yard classes for big bore or deer rifles with open sights; for big bore rifles with "scope sights"; for .22 rimfire rifles, and for pistols and revolvers. No shooter will be allowed into the division. He may win one hat in the big bore open sight; another hat in the big bore "scope sight"; another hat in the .22 rifle class, and a fourth hat in the division for pistols and revolvers, but he can't win two hats in any one of the divisions.

The fees will be $1 for five shots in all divisions.

So if you feel lucky and think you can out the mustard with that carbine, or 270 Winchester, or that old "Thumb Buster," just hold off buying that new hat and get one the hard way.

More about this shoot later, so keep on reading the Grub Line for the latest news on it.

Up there at Lenora for the past four years Bud Jones has been looking hopefully at the sky and hopelessly at a rain gauge he has had mounted on a fence post in his yard.

Saturday he decided that if there was anything in the world he didn't need it was a rain gauge. He'd never seen it wet and he'd had to clean the sand out of it too many times, and so he took it down.

Monday morning he had to go over to the store and let Grover Springer tell him that the rain they had received Sunday night had measured 1.83 inches.

The men and women who fix seasonable colors for women's clothes have missed a wonderful opportunity by not being in West Texas this week to see the beautiful shade of soft, but bright, green that comes to mesquite and shinnery that hasn't had a good drink of water for four years.

Artists may be able to mix some lovely greens, but nothing like that work of nature, and I don't know that shinnery and mesquite have ever really been so pretty before.

It'll be too bad if that particular shade of green can't be translated into a fashionable spring of summer color for the girls. It wasn't at all the same shade that one associates with budding mesquite and shinnery in the springs that follow a fall and winter when there has been snow and rain.

But these rains have done far more than just wet the ground and brighten up the mesquite and shinnery. They've also brightened up the faces of the farm and ranch folks, washed lots of worries from their drought-stooped shoulders and have shined up the hope that springs eternally from the heart of the West Texan.

These showers have proved again that there's always a good rain at the end of every dry spell, and as long as West Texans can believe that every drought will end up this way, just that long there'll always be a West Texan.

Still, I don't believe I've ever seen mesquite and shinnery clothed in such a pretty shade of green.

The livestock judging team of the Glasscock 4-H Club took first place in the sheep judging, and first place in the hog judging at the San Angelo contests a few days ago.

Members of the team are Jimmy Davee, Theibert Ashill, Rex Mason and Aubrey Ashill.

This team also judged and graded cattle in the San Angelo contest, and in the overall scoring on all three types of livestock the team placed fourth. The Glasscock team had entered this contest as a practice workout before going into the District 6 contest at Alpine on April 24. The winners in the district contest will go to the State 4-H judging contests at College Station on June 5.

The Glasscock 4-H is also getting teams ready for other judging contests. These include a grass judging team composed of Kenneth Smith, Don Phillips, Clifford Stevens and Eddie Prior; a wool and mohair judging team with Paul Harrison, Marek Schaefer, Dennis Schraeder and Ralph Schaefer as members, and a rifle team or two. The rifle team members have not yet been selected. These teams will also be entered in the district event at Alpine.

Glasscock countians are mighty happy with their rains which have probably averaged better than 2.5 over the county.

Good Friday Sees California Shipping Tons Of Flowers

By SAM DAWSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Good Friday sees a great outpouring of flowers from California's 50 million dollar a year "hothouse" to help brighten the nation's Easter.

Tons of choice blooms have been speeding eastward for a week—by chartered plane, by common air carriers' regular and extra cargo planes, in countless rail cars, and for shorter distances by refrigerated trucks.

Growers, estimating the tonnage volume today, say it has equaled and perhaps topped last year's.

Value of the airborne Easter flowers alone is estimated to be more than one million dollars. Dealers say that is about equal to last year's, taking into consideration a slight price drop.

Flowers moving for Easter are mostly the hothouse variety — expensive orchids, roses, gardenias, carnations—and their prices are holding up fairly well.

It may be a different story next month when California will ship out a huge volume of field-grown posies for Mother's Day, at prices expected to be lower than last year.

Exotic flowers are also speeding eastward from Hawaii for the nation's fashion parades. And lilies are flying to the United States from Bermuda as the nation prepares for the observances of the religious festival.

California's total flower shipment figures are hard to come by, but the principal outlets add up to impressive sums.

Consolidated Flower Shipments, Inc., a cooperative with 38 member growers in the San Francisco Bay area, chartered a plane for two flights of flowers, of 8 1/2 tons each, to points as far away as Tampa and Memphis.

It was also sending 15 tons a day by common air carriers, starting last Saturday.

Airborne Flower & Freight Traffic, Inc., however, says airborne posies may be fewer this Easter than last, although it estimates that shipments by other forms of transportation probably increased. It lays this to a rise in air freight rates on flowers. Even so, it estimates that around three-fourths of a million pounds of flowers left San Francisco airport this week, with a total value in excess of one million dollars.

The airlines, however, insist their tonnage total will be higher than ever.

They made additional equipment available for the flower growers in Holy Week.

Mother's Day will be the next big peak and the flower shippers will start sending the floral tributes East in about three weeks. Another peak comes at Christmas.

DENNIS THE MENACE

THAT'S A TREE? THAT'S GRASS? THAT'S.....

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

The birds known as cowbirds cause too much trouble. They are lazy, and place their eggs in nests which other birds have built. That is only part of the dreary story. After laying the eggs, the cowbird females fly away. They leave the work of hatching to other birds. The eggs of these birds usually hatch sooner than the other eggs in the nest. A greedy baby cowbird is ready for the first food which the foster parents bring to the nest. It is larger, as a rule, than the other baby birds, and may grow while they starve. All in all, the cowbirds are a nuisance. They cause the loss of thousands of warblers and other small songbirds. There are dozens of kinds of warblers—magnolia warblers, Tennessee warblers, blue-winged warblers and others. These are favorite victims of cowbirds, but only one kind of warbler seems to know how to defend itself.

The bird of which I speak is the yellow warbler. It also goes under such names as yellowbird, golden warbler and blue-eyed yellow warbler. Yellow warblers have a wide range in North and South America. They make nests in Canada, chiefly on the western side, also in various parts of the United States from the Pacific coast to the Carolinas. Many of them spend the winter in Brazil. Yellow warblers are small birds, with a length of hardly five inches. Little though they are, they seem to have good brains. I say this because they have found a way to defeat the cowbirds. Time and again it has been observed that a yellow warbler will seal off her small, deep nest when a cowbird egg is laid inside. She does this by weaving a layer above the egg. Later she lays her own eggs above the new layer, and hatches them.

Backward Parties Are Sometimes Fun

Dear Miss Brandow: I am thinking about giving a backward party before the end of school. Can you offer any suggestions on what to do or not to do to make it a success? Ruth Ann Backward parties are usually a huge success or a complete flop; seldom are they mediocre. Whether yours will go over with a bang or a thud will depend upon the type of people you invite. The shy guest will have a miserable time, but the bouncy, energetic one will find this "Different" party a refreshing delight and will probably enjoy it thoroughly. Because the nature of the party is the exact antithesis of accepted party procedure, it is ideal only for those with adventurous spirits and who are loaded with initiative. The girl takes the lead in everything from asking for a date to taking him home after the party is over. The timid girl wouldn't consider this much fun, although an aggressive one would be in seventh heaven. When the girls on your list know boys well enough to invite them to this kind of an affair, hurrah! Otherwise, ugh! (Steadies of course, have a ball.) Both boys and girls temporarily forget all they've learned about proper dating. Girls find it their obligation to provide transportation and corsages, (usually a conglomeration of vegetables). They hold chairs for their boy friends, ask for dances and walk on the outside of the sidewalk. Of course, even in fun you can't change nature and a girl is still a girl and a boy is still a boy. Although the girl is required to take her date home, he then must escort her to her own doorstep where he leaves her. Since she has swapped places with him for the evening, you may wonder if she has the privilege of kissing him goodnight. She may have the privilege, but if she's smart and hopes to win him over, she won't use it. Why? Because regardless of what you are pretending, he'll still respond in a masculine way and boys feel gypped and silly when they think they are not leading in the love department. If he wants a goodnight kiss, he'll get it.

U. S. Newsmen Rap French Censorship

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—All the American correspondents in Hanoi want the State Department to call upon the French high command here to relax censorship and other restrictions imposed on news coverage. The newsmen sent U.S. Ambassador Donald Heath a 300-word appeal saying the curbs were "so serious that we can no longer properly carry out our jobs" of informing the free world of the French fight against the Communist-led Vietminh. The correspondents expressed belief "the American people have an inalienable right to full and accurate information" on the battle within the limits of French security.

Catholics To Ask Funds For College

DALLAS (AP)—A diocesan-wide fund-raising drive to establish a two million dollar co-educational liberal arts university here will be launched Monday by Roman Catholic leaders. A dinner will start the campaign here and similar kick-off meetings in the fund drive are being planned throughout the Dallas-Fort Worth diocese which covers most of North and Central West Texas. Catholic officials announced in February plans to move the Sisters of St. Mary of Namur to Dallas from Fort Worth and to establish the university under their sponsorship. The Sisters of St. Mary is a teaching order established in Texas more than 80 years ago.

47-Foot Fall Proves Not Serious For Tots

PARIS (AP)—Three-year-old Michele Aleepe and her 21-month-old brother Tony fell out of an apartment window yesterday and landed on the sidewalk 47 feet below. They were rushed unconscious to a hospital. X-rays showed no fractures and there wasn't even a bruise. An hour later, they were playing gaily in the hospital corridors.

Some On Payroll Yet Cited By McCarthy

By SEM PRICE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Since Feb. 9, 1950, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has linked the names of at least 128 persons with his investigations into communism and "security risks."
Thirty-eight of these he has said were connected with the State Department.
Three he named as having been connected with the White House during the administrations of Presidents Roosevelt or Truman.
All the others have been named at various times since 1950, including the period of McCarthy's investigations at the Ft. Monmouth, N. J., radar center.
Of the 28 connected by McCarthy to the State Department 11 still are employed there. None of the 35 ever has been convicted in any court because of charges brought by McCarthy, though one—Owen Lattimore—is under indictment for perjury.
While 27 no longer are employed in the State Department, because of security orders the department will not say who resigned without

Amarillo Alternate Route Idea Dropped

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Highway Commission has dropped from consideration an alternate route which it suggested last fall for the proposed north-south expressway through Amarillo and Randall County.
State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer reported the Highway Department now feels that the primary route which it suggested is the preferable one.
That would be along South 36th Ave. or in that immediate vicinity in Amarillo, from near the intersection of Farm Road 288 to the point of beginning of a four-lane dispersal system in the vicinity of South 15th Ave.
Mrs. Moss was described at another hearing as having been identified by an undercover investigator as a Communist in the 1940s. McCarthy said she was employed as an Army code clerk handling top secret material.
Mrs. Moss appeared before McCarthy's committee and denied she ever had been a Communist. She said several other persons with the same name live in Washington, The Army said she handled only coded messages which she would be unable to read and did not have access to the code room. Mrs. Moss subsequently was returned to employment in the Army in another job, pending completion of the Army's own security investigation.

'Cactus Jack' Is Now Attraction For The Tourist

By MARTHA COLE
UVALDE, Tex., April 16 (AP)—The thorny hide of Cactus Jack Garner has been smoothed by 85 years of living.

"People come by here to see me. They want to see what a former vice president looks like. They expect to see some big imposing man. And it's me.

"I'm just a little old Democrat," John Nance Garner grinned.

Once this man was vice president of the United States, from 1932 to 1940 under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Now he's white-haired, shrunken with the years. He lives and puts around in an old-fashioned frame house behind the red brick home he built for his late wife Etta. Several years ago he gave the brick house to the city of Uvalde, and it's now the Garner Memorial Home.

The former vice president rises early, goes to bed early, does his chores, visits with callers and reads. He reads everything—news-papers, magazines, books. He doesn't listen to the radio, and Uvalde doesn't have television. But there's always something to be done—feed the chickens, go see how the pheasants he's raising in pens are, look over the pecan trees, tell his Mexican handyman what to do about the weeds.

Garner seldom leaves his place except to go downtown when he needs a haircut. He doesn't go to church. Paddling around the house, he wears a battered green eyeshade, rumpled khaki clothes, and carpet slippers. But you can't call John Nance an old man alone with his memories.

"I guess I average 10 to 12 visitors a day, sometimes a whole busload of 250. I figure it this way—Uvalde is on Highway 90 from the East Coast to the West Coast. And right out here is Highway 83 from up north to the border. Last year I had people come by from every state except Maine and South Dakota."

"Do they just come up to your door and knock?"

"Yes, mum."

"Do you go shake hands with them?"

"No, mum. If they want to see me they can come in here and see me."

Garner sat at a battered old wooden table in a sparsely furnished room off the main hall of the house. Old wooden straight chairs were around the table. Beside him was a floor lamp with a frayed shade.

The old man still can display the snappish, irascible temper that spiced his years in Washington. But on this warm afternoon in the quiet, clean little ranching town of Uvalde, underneath the oak and pecan trees, he was a pleasant old gentleman.

"Now, I've been reading this fellow's diary the newspapers are running. What's his name? He was in the Cabinet."

"Ickes?"

"Ickes. Well, I notice all these people he mentions he has something bad to say about them. But everytime he writes about me, it's something good. And that interests me, I used to tell him exactly what I thought."

"Perhaps Mr. Ickes had respect for you."

"Well, he better have." The old man grinned. His blue eyes almost hidden by his thick white eyebrows. His ruddy cheeks gleamed.

"Now, people ought to be honest and truthful. It's no effort. There's no use in being a liar."

Standing just inside the archway to the dining room was a refrigerator, where Garner keeps fresh food and a pitcher of water. His whisky bottles are handy on the shelf when he "strikes a blow for liberty" as he calls drinking each day.

"I never drink whisky before 3 o'clock, though, started that when I was 18 years old. Oh, now I take a little bit before 11, before lunch."

The old man stood up, took off his eyeshade and plopped a soft felt hat, turned up jauntily in the back, on top of his head.

"Well, it's 4 o'clock. Got to feed the chickens. My man stays until 4:30, but I reserve the right to feed the chickens."

This Year's Texas Peach Crop Will Be Light, A&M Says

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—The 1954 peach crop in Texas is going to be light, the extension service of Texas A&M College reported today.

The severe cold spell of March 14 and 15 dealt the crop a severe blow.

The extension service said there will be very few Elberta peaches produced in Texas this year. The best crop was reported found in the area around Stonewall in Gillespie County where a 75 per cent crop was reported.

The service said the peach crop was wiped out in the West Cross Timbers, an area that begins between Fort Worth and Wichita Falls and extends down toward San Angelo.

In the Jacksonville area of East Texas estimates ran from a 10 per cent crop in some orchards to 40 per cent in others of the Elberta variety.

British Living Costs Hit High Mark Again

LONDON (AP)—Britain's cost of living has climbed back to the postwar high it hit in March 1953.

The Ministry of Labor reported today the index rose one point in March to 141. The base of 100 is determined by living costs in June 1947.
