KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Troops jailed some 150 persons in troubled East Pakistan today in the wake of Karachi's ouster of the provincial government for "disloyalty."

S. Korea Blasts Governors' Trip

SEOUL (AP)—The South Korean government subsidized daily newspaper, The Korean Republic, today described the recent visit of three American governors as "a glistening whitewash job for all phases of the reconstruction and rehabilitation efforts."

The editorial was accompanied by a cartoon showing three blindfolded men holding their hands over their ears. They were shown squinting on a flying carpet for the "flying trip of U.S. governors" over Korea. The cartoon was entitled, "See Nothing, Hear Nothing, Learn Nothing."

The paper declared: "Korea is fully prepared to admit that there are two sides to the reconstruction story and that all the right may not be on our side. But as far as the supposedly impartial investigators are concerned, there is only one point of view, and that belongs to those who apparently are more interested in building up bureaucratic empires than in creating a strong and healthy Korea."

Governors Dan Thornton of Colorado, John S. Fine of Pennsylvania and Allan Shivers of Texas came to Korea last Monday on a presidential mission to survey the U.S. reconstruction and rehabilitation program in Korea. They left Friday and were to make a first hand report to President Eisenhower.

First Cotton Bale Ginned

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP)—The nation's first bale of cotton of the season was delivered—fittingly—in a Cadillac convertible yesterday. It will be worth at least $2,500 to Ray Barnick of Mission, Tex., 45 miles from here, if it passes all regulations, as expected.

The Harlingen Junior Chamber of Commerce guarantees the grower $1,500 for the bale, plus a $1,000 bonus for bringing it to Harlingen. The special cotton committee of the Harlingen Chamber of Commerce guarantees the grower $1,500 for the bale, plus a $1,000 bonus for bringing it to Harlingen.

It will be auctioned June 5. Barnick also produced last season's first bale, which brought him $4,345. He also produced the first 1952 bale.

The Cadillac is owned by a friend, George Anderson of Mission. The bale ginned out at 454 pounds from 1,321 pounds of seed cotton. Barnick supplied affidavits that it was this year's cotton from his own land and produced according to all state and federal regulations. State Agriculture Inspector Nixon Doffing was in the field when the cotton was picked and at the gin when it was ginned and weighed.

Graham Converts English Commie

READING, England (AP)—Charles Potter, former secretary of the Reading Communist Party, announced yesterday he has resigned from the party after hearing two sermons by American Evangelist Billy Graham.

later, and others among his Cabinet colleagues also may be arrested soon. Developments in East Pakistan were cloaked by official censorship.

The ouster of Fazlul Huq's administration was ordered yesterday by Gov. Gen. Ghulam Mohammed, Pakistan's chief of state, as bitter differences between the divided sections of the country came to a head. The Governor General acted under the "governor's rule" followed since Britain withdrew from the Indian subcontinent in 1947—which permits the central government to assume the functions of a provincial ministry.

Declaring a state of emergency throughout East Pakistan, Ghulam Mohammed named Maj. Gen. Iskander Mirza, secretary of the central government's Defense Ministry, to take control of East Pakistan's administration. Mirza's first official act was to impose censorship.

The new governor was expected to start a general roundup of Communists and "enemies of Pakistan."

In a broadcast to the nation explaining the government's action, Prime Minister Mohammed Ali said Fazlul Huq was a "traitor to Pakistan, even to East Pakistan."

All declared the 81-year-old ousted chief minister had said his ultimate goal was an independent Bengal (East Pakistan), a statement the Prime Minister described as a "disloyal utterance." All also accused Fazlul Huq of refusing advice from the central government.

Following his dismissal, Fazlul Huq called the ousted members of his Cabinet to his home in Dacca, East Pakistan's capital, for a meeting. Police swarmed about the house as the conference went on long into the night.

The ouster followed mounting friction between the central government here in Karachi and East Pakistan. The province, which has 44 of the dominion's 78 million people, is separated from West Pakistan by 1,000 miles of Indian territory.

Fazlul Huq led a five-party united front to an overwhelming victory over Mohammed Ali's Muslim League party in provincial elections two months ago. He campaigned on a platform of greater autonomy for East Pakistan.

The victorious united front included the Communist organization in the province. Immediately after the coalition took office April 3, riots broke out in several East Pakistan mill areas. More than 500 persons were killed in the clashes, which Mohammed Ali said were organized by Communists.

The announcement of today's arrests said Mjibur Rahman was taken into custody on charges of leading a mob that attacked Dacca central jail early in May. The mob was attempting to free persons arrested in connection with the mill riots.

TAKE SUSPECT ALONG Authorities Seek Evidence In Death

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP)—Authorities planned a new search today for a pair of bloodied trousers which they say a Navy airman discarded after murdering a Navy Wave.

They said their prisoner—Alrman Carl Willis Strickland, 21—would accompany them on their tour of the Scotland Beach area. Strickland is due to appear in Magistrate's Court Friday on a murder charge.

The young sailor insisted that he left the Wave, Irene Marion Conole, 26, of Rochester, N.Y., alive with an unnamed hitchhiker early Saturday on the beach near Point Lookout, Md., after spending the evening with her.

Her body—the head and face wounded in about a dozen places—was discovered half submerged in Chesapeake Bay early Saturday. Authorities attributed the death to drowning.

St. Mary's County Sheriff Wilford B. Long said he thinks Strickland disposed of his trousers, Miss Conole's purse and two beach blankets somewhere between Scotland Beach and Patuxent Naval Air Station.

Both were stationed at Patuxent. A tour of this area was made yesterday, but none of the items was found.

Strickland was arrested at his home in Rocky Mount, N.C., Saturday afternoon and returned to Leonardtown jail yesterday. His wife of one year, Wanda, made the trip back with him.

Rocky Mount Detective Lt. P.C. Zimmerman, who arrested Strickland, said the young airman gave him this version of his date with Miss Conole:

Returning home after visiting several night spots, they picked up a hitchhiker at Miss Conole's request. The three then proceeded to Hays Beach, near Point Lookout.

Holiday Deaths Reach 350; Total Still Rising

Twisters Strike Nebraska Farms; 4 Children Killed

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—Tornadoes cut a swath across northeast Nebraska last night killing four children and injuring at least 18 other persons.

The Weather Bureau said there were two confirmed tornado reports and three unconfirmed reports in a 30-mile path. Damage to telephone lines made checks in the area difficult.

The list of dead was revised downward this morning when hospital attendants accounted for all members of the Ben Kohl family. Earlier it had been reported four Kohl children were killed and two children and the parents injured. Hospital attendants said when the injured revived sufficiently to talk they said there were only four children in the family.

The dead: Nell Klawonn, 8; Cindy Carberry, 4; George Kohl, about 8; Robert Kohl, about 8. All the deaths and injuries were in an area about two miles wide and four miles long some 10 miles southeast of Norfolk. At least seven farms were known to have been hit. The area is about 130 miles northwest of Omaha.

Torrential rains ranging up to 3 1/2 inches in Pierce, some 20 miles north of the tornado area, made side roads impassable and the State Safety Patrol survey of the toll was slowed up.

The rains set streams in the area over their banks; highways were reported blocked in three places.

One tornado, coming in from the southwest, apparently dipped down and hit the Ben Kohl farm about 9:15 p.m. (CST) killing two children and injuring the parents.

Jose Manuel Fortuny (above) has been relieved of his post as Secretary General of Guatemala's Communist Party. The announcement gave the reason as "ill health." Observers speculated that his removal might mean a split inside the Communist party of Guatemala. (AP Wirephoto.)

Traffic Accidents Claim 258 Lives

By The Associated Press
Traffic fatalities during the Memorial Day weekend mounted to 258 Monday as travel over the holiday period reached a peak.

Deaths on the nation's roads ran well ahead of this year's daily average of 88. But whether a new Memorial Day record would be set depended on the fatalities during the homeward trek from beaches, ball parks, picnic outings and other activities.

Besides the traffic toll, which extended from 6 p.m. Friday, until midnight on Monday, 31 persons were drowned and 41 died from other causes.

Among the miscellaneous deaths were counted those of four children who died in tornadoes in Nebraska. There seemed little doubt that the holiday weekend toll would surpass figures compiled by the Associated Press for comparative purposes. Over a 78-hour period, 6 p.m. May 14 to midnight May 17, fatalities were: traffic 243, drownings 30, miscellaneous 65, total 338.

The record for deaths in highway accidents during a Memorial Day weekend was set during the three-day period of 1952. It was 363. The record for all fatalities, set during the four-day Memorial Day weekend of 1950, is 571.

The toll by states (traffic, drownings, miscellaneous): Alabama 8 8 0; Arizona 5 0 0; Arkansas 0 2 0; California 24 2 2; Colorado 3 0 0; Connecticut 4 0 0; Delaware 2 0 0; Florida 5 0 0; Georgia 7 0 0; Idaho 2 0 2; Illinois 25 2 4; Indiana 10 0 1; Iowa 1 0 0; Kansas 0 3 3; Kentucky 7 2 1; Louisiana 9 1 1; Maine 3 0 0; Maryland 3 1 0; Massachusetts 4 1 3; Michigan 11 3 2; Minnesota 5 1 0; Mississippi 0 1 0; Missouri 7 2 1; Montana 2 0 0; Nebraska 1 0 4; New Hampshire 2 2 0; New Jersey 5 0 1; New Mexico 6 0 1; New York 8 3 2; North Carolina 9 2 0; North Dakota 2 0 0; Ohio 12 0 3; Oklahoma 5 1 0; Oregon 6 0 0; Pennsylvania 9 2 4; South Carolina 12 1 2; Utah 1 1 0; Vermont 1 0 0; Virginia 5 4 0; Washington 1 0 0; West Virginia 3 0 0; Wisconsin 10 1 2; Wyoming 2 2 0; District of Columbia 1 0 0.

Weekend automobile mishaps included a car rolling into a canyon, another striking a fence, and still another running into a yard. A three-vehicle "stack-up" occurred on the Lamesa Highway, and there were two other collisions.

Holiday Claims 26 Texas Lives

By The Associated Press
Traffic was the chief killer in Texas as warm spring weather lured thousands of persons on Memorial holiday weekend outings.

Out of 28 violent deaths, 18 resulted from accidents on streets and highways. Four persons were shot to death, and one each died from drowning, electrocution, hanging and a fight.

Charles Chester Kysar, 46, of Denison, died early Monday of injuries received in a fight near the Denison railroad tracks.

Chief Paul Borum filed murder charges against William Horace Patterson, 38, of Denison. Mrs. Janie Lammus, 28, of Houston was killed and four persons injured in a pre-dawn highway crash Monday on the Gulf Freeway, 3 1/2 miles south of Houston's Ellington cutoff.

At San Antonio, Eulalio Acuna, was found dead, hanging from a belt, in his cell in the Bexar County jail Sunday night.

Former Archer County Judge Joe Earl Shelton, 65, was killed Sunday and five other persons injured in a two-car collision near Washom, Tex.

Mrs. E. W. Franz, 40, burned to death after a panel truck overturned Saturday night near Austin. Her husband was seriously injured. James Thomas Scribner, 26, was shot to death in Dallas Sunday night. The former husband of Scribner's wife was questioned by officers.

Three persons were killed in a two-car crash Sunday night in the Beaumont area. They were Jordan Ernest Thompson, Beaumont; his son, Tommy, about 9; and Mrs. S. N. Weatherby of Ajo, Ariz.

Six of the traffic deaths occurred in a three-car crash near Gonzales in South Texas Friday. Those killed were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Willoughby, Walter, Okla., and four airmen from Lackland AFB near San Antonio—Raymond C. Quayhagen, 24, Denver, Colo.; Armas E. Miller, 24, Lake Cinda; Mich.; and Wilbur D. Hult, Woonona, Mo.

A West Texas couple, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hanna, Brady, were killed Saturday night when their car crashed head-on with a cattle truck just east of Goldthwaite, Tex.

Roy Lee Johnson, 8, was killed Saturday when struck by a car at Coma, Tex., near Lubbock. He was chasing his windblown cap into a street.

Gilbert Rodriguez, 7, was killed Friday as he sat on the curb outside his San Antonio home. A car went out of control, jumped the curb and hit him.

Mrs. Edith Province, 45, Amarillo, was killed in a Panhandle traffic accident near Canyon Friday night.

Margaret Tsungate, 14, drowned on Lake Austin. She was on a vacation Bible school outing.

Mrs. Lulu Virginia Bryan, 29, mother of two children, was killed Saturday by an electric shock from a power motor as she cut the grass at her Fort Worth home. The ground was wet and she was barefooted.

McKinley Survivors

McKinley in Alaska where he and Morton Wood (right) met tragedy earlier this month when their four-man climbing party fell 1,000 feet into a glacier. One man, Elton Thayer, was killed. Rescue Team Attempts To Bring Down Injured GI Climber From Mt. McKinley

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—A rescue team of eight expert mountain climbers cat-stepped its way down the ice-covered sides of Mt. McKinley today, carrying an injured Brooklyn soldier nearer to safety.

Strapped tightly to a sled was Pfc. George Argus, whose hip was broken May 16 in a 1,000-foot fall that killed a companion, George Thayer, 27, of Reedsboro, Vt.

Argus, left in an improvised tent May 23 by two other climbers who survived the fall, was found yesterday morning by Dr. John McCall of the University of Alaska and Frank Milan of the Air Force aero-medical laboratory at Ladd Air Force Base.

The 25-year-old GI owned his life in part to a promise McCall made to Thayer before the ill-fated climbing expedition started April 17, a promise McCall fulfilled even after Thayer's death.

The two who survived the fall uninjured, Morton Wood and Les Viereck, left Argus wrapped warmly in the small tent at the 11,000-foot level on McKinley while they made their way down the mountain to report the tragedy.

McCall and Milan, rapidly out-distancing the other five members of the ground party yesterday and Saturday after Argus' tent was spotted from the air, succeeded in a desperate bid to beat death to Argus' side and reached the crippled climber at 10:10 a.m. (4:10 p.m. EST) yesterday.

"He's alive and well," they radioed.

Although it took McCall and Milan more than 24 hours to make the last miles to the tent yesterday, the descent will be a much harder job.

McCall's promise to Thayer was that he would stand by for emergency duty should Thayer and the other three climbers run into trouble.

Merger Issue Up Today Before Southern Presbyterian Meeting

By GLENN McCULLOUGH
MONTREAT, N.C. (AP)—Unification was the problem facing the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church here today.

The issue came in the wake of Saturday's dramatic session which saw the church strongly urge its doors be opened to all—regardless of color.

Underlying the passage of the de-segregation issue was the philosophy of the unity of mankind—the oneness of God. Those favoring union with two northern branches of the church looked back and took encouragement that the union issue may be swept into the current of liberalism also.

Others felt that the concessions already made by the conservatives would cause them to fight union with even more vigor than in the past.

Union already has been approved by the Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. (Northern) Presbyterian Church of North America.

Yesterday afternoon the Rev. Ralph Waldo Lloyd, president of Maryville (Tenn.) College and a fraternal delegate to this assembly from the northern branch, urged commissioners to vote for a merger.

The Rev. Albert J. Kissling, Jacksonville, Fla., who was this assembly's fraternal delegate to the northern branch's assembly at Detroit last week, earlier predicted the merger would pass.

The Rev. Kissling, pastor of Riverside Church, said however, there would be "violent opposition" before the measure passed.

The present movement toward Presbyterian union began in the General Assembly of the southern branch here in 1937. The assembly authorized the appointment of a committee of nine, changing it the next year when it met at Meridian, Miss., to 17, each member to be elected by the respective synods composing the church.

Later the committee was enlarged to 22. Negotiations started in 1937 between the northern branch and the southern branch but it was not until 1949 that the United Presbyterians accepted a renewed invitation to enter the talks.

The plan before the assembly today is the work of about 18 years, during which four revisions of the plan were made.

Informed sources said the committee itself was split on its own recommendations and that the majority report would recommend the plan be rejected. It was predicted by others that the possibility of then adopting the minority report would be good.

Yesterday commissioners listened to routine reports after hearing Dr. Stuart Oglesby, pastor of Atlanta's Central Church, preach at Anderson Auditorium.

There was still confusion as to how best to handle the assembly's de-segregation motion. While the motion was felt by some commissioners to have the effect of an order, other commissioners felt that it would be necessary for the various synods, presbyteries and individual churches to decide whether to follow the motion.

The General Assembly generally gives to local churches a free hand. Whether the de-segregation action would be left in that category was still a topic of private debate here.

Justice Douglas Says Indochina Freeing Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court says military intervention alone will not save Indochina from the Communists, and that Western action behind a French colonial government would be "disastrous."

Interviewed on a CBS television program yesterday, Douglas said the only hope of saving Indochina is an independent government for Viet Nam, preferably "this afternoon or tomorrow," and he added: "Maybe that's too late. It's a thing that should have been done years ago. But it's the only possible thing . . ."

Scott Wins In Carolina

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—W. Kerr Scott, strongly supported in rural areas where many roads were paved while he was governor, today held North Carolina's Democratic nomination for U.S. senator.

Scott, 57-year-old dairy farmer, defeated Sen. Allen A. Lennon and five other candidates in a bitter primary battle Saturday. The race issue played a major role in the latter stages of the campaign.

Lennon supporters brought the issue into the campaign after the U.S. Supreme Court decision banning segregation in public schools. Scott's backers charged them with publishing a "phony" newspaper advertisement and with distributing thousands of reprints of the ad, which said Scott had worked for non-segregation.

Unofficial returns from 1,918 of the state's 2,027 precincts gave Scott 297,001 votes to Lennon's 271,661. This was a lead of 25,340 for Scott and a 5,341 majority over the field.

Scott will oppose Republican Paul West of Raleigh in the November general election. West was nominated in convention. The Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in this traditionally Democratic state.

Four Top Heel congressmen won renomination handily. They are Reps. L.H. Carlisle and C.B. Dean, J. C. Sedberry, Charlotte municipal judge, won the Democratic nomination to oppose Rep. Charles R. Jonas, Republican, in the November election.

Sen. Clements May Become Demo Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strong support for Sen. Earle C. Clements of Kentucky as the next chairman of the Democratic National Committee was reported yesterday by the building up among Senate Democrats.

Stephen A. Mitchell, the present chairman, has said he plans to resign after next November's elections for control of Congress. Others who have been named as possible successors include Paul M. Butler, Indiana national committeeman, and Michael V. Di Salle of Ohio, former price administrator.

Clements, 57 and a former governor and House member, has been in the Senate since November, 1950, and is chairman of the Senate Campaign Committee. He could retain his Senate seat if elected party chairman.

Wilbur Edmund Notestine Exchanges Vows With Frances Elaine Folley

In a ceremony Friday evening, the 25th anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Folley of Amarillo, Frances Elaine Folley became the bride of Wilbur Edmund Notestine.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Notestine of Amarillo, formerly of Big Spring.

The formal, single ring ceremony was held at the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo with vows read by Dr. F. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring.

Music was presented by Ray C. Johnson Jr. of Amarillo, who sang Bohm's "Calm as the Night" and Tschalkovsky's "Twenty - Third Psalm." Traditional wedding marches were played.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of candlelight Italian silk taffeta.

The fitted bodice tapered to a point both in back and front and a small hand-rolled cord of taffeta outlined the edge.

Long gauntlets of the taffeta came to points over the hands. The full skirt extended into a cathedral length train and a veil of imported silk illusion in candlelight fell from a half-hat made of illusion trimmed in small lace medallions hand-applied over the crown.

Other group projects are a progressive dinner party, family fun night, come-as-you-are breakfast, toy making, sewing clinics and a field trip to Big Spring.

The girls will also take part in vacation Bible schools, a youth rally and assist in gathering clothing for the Salvation Army.

Other activities planned are a June meeting, an August picnic honoring new members, yearbook committee meetings and an officers' clinic.

COL. ROBERT WHITTINGTON
... Hospital Commander

New Base Hospital Chieftain Already Feels Like A Native

A resident of only about a week, Col. Robert D. Whittington, recently assigned commander of the 3560th USAF Hospital at Webb AFB, already is feeling like an old timer.

He was made to feel completely at home both on the base and in Big Spring, he said. Several invitations poured in to attend civic and professional gatherings.

In addition to his command position, Col. Whittington is the chief surgeon at the hospital, specializing in general surgery. He came to Webb last week from Barksdale AFB, La., where he served as wing surgeon and deputy hospital commander of the 37th Bombardment Wing.

Col. Whittington has expressed complete satisfaction with the medical facilities and the staff at the Webb hospital, pointing out that medical services available to servicemen and their dependents are "well above average."

1953 graduate of Arkansas A&M, Col. Whittington received his medical degree from the University of Arkansas in 1937. His internship was spent at the Highland Sanitarium in Shreveport and he remained there for another year and a half of resident practice before entering private practice.

The new wing surgeon entered service in 1940 and served in the China-Burma-India Theatre during World War II. More recently he served in Japan from January 1952 to November 1953.

Among the colonel's awards and decorations are the Bronze Star Medal with one Oak Leaf cluster and the Reserve Medal with one "hourglass" attachment, denoting an additional 10 years of reserve duty.

A hunting and fishing enthusiast, Col. Whittington makes a hobby of gun collecting. He has about 600 head of cattle on his farm in northern Louisiana.

Home runs by Bud Hull and Pat Waters enabled Hidalgo to dump Odessa, 8-3.

Activity was brisk around the pool area both Saturday and Sunday. Nearly three times as many people were wading the pool activity as were swimming. Cars crowded into the parking area.

Sen. Monroney Disputes Claim Of McCarthy To Secret Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Monroney (D-Okl.), an author of the Congressional Reorganization Act, today disputed Sen. McCarthy's claim that that law supports the Wisconsin senator in his constitutional clash with the Eisenhower administration over getting secret information from government workers.

Furthermore, Monroney declared in an interview, McCarthy has been "usurping" the prerogatives of other congressional committees by invading their fields.

There was no immediate response from McCarthy, vacationing over the Memorial Day holiday. But the Wisconsin Republican contended at televised hearings last week that the congressional act makes him—chairman of the Senate Government Operations Committee and its Permanent Investigations Subcommittee—an "authorized person" to be fed secret data from federal employees.

That was a central point in his argument against the administration's expressed view—obviously aimed at McCarthy—that executive branch officials should not disclose classified material to "unauthorized" individuals whoever they are.

The Congressional Reorganization Act, passed in 1946 and known as the "La Follette-Monroney Act," was designed among other things to revamp the committee and set up and lay out lines of jurisdiction. Monroney was a member of the House at the time.

Monroney said today: "There is nothing in the act which permits the senator from Wisconsin to violate executive orders, or the law against receiving or divulging classified information."

Morocco Is Hotbed Of Unrest, Violence

Editor's Note: Last month William L. Ryan, Associated Press foreign news analyst, during a study tour of the East and Southeast Asia, surveyed France's fight in Indochina. Now he is reporting current affairs in North Africa.

Ryan reports today on the troubled situation in another vital French overseas territory.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Casablanca, Morocco (AP) —

French civilians are carrying guns in this war-torn city today as Nationalist terror rises.

Casablanca, Morocco's big metropolis of 700,000, falls silent by night. Streets are virtually deserted. Movie houses and restaurants are bare of customers. French and those Moroccan who are terrified by extreme Nationalists are staying in their homes at night.

Outside the central prison dozens of veiled Muslim women cling to the bars of the iron gates and wall for their men. Around provincial police stations with guards in red fezzes and blue uniforms, crowds are herded daily to have identification verified as a strict security measure. Unless their papers are strictly in order, they are subject to arrest.

Heavily armed Moroccan government troops roam the streets on bicycles to keep down wanton trouble in the medina, the native town. In the medinas and bidonvilles—the fantastic shums of Moroccan cities—there is an air of tension. It is there that extreme Nationalists carry out terror against Moroccans who are suspected of being pro-French.

Auxiliary troops brought in from country tribes are encamped on hills overlooking the medinas and bidonvilles in a state of constant alert.

But despite the extraordinary military measures, terrorist activities. Almost every night there are killings or other violent incidents in Casablanca, scene of the most persistent attacks.

Business people are extremely worried. They say that if the terror continues unchecked another year, their backs will be against the wall. The terror is frightening away both French and foreign capital. Some French are already beginning to pull out of Casablanca.

Officials worry over the worsening business situation, which promises rising unemployment.

One French official acknowledged it is not impossible that hit-and-run guerrilla warfare will become current here.

Anger has been rising steadily during the nine months since the French ousted Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef and placed 65-year-old Sultan Moulay Mohammed Ben Arafa on the throne of the Sherifian Empire.

"There is nobody on the throne," a group of Moroccans told me during an interview in a Moroccan home. "The new sultan is nobody."

They added:

"And what is happening? The gulf between French and Moroccans is widening."

Francis La Coite, incoming French resident general, faces grave dilemma. One thing on which all Moroccans I saw agreed was the issue of the Sultan. They are insistent that he must be returned.

Yet the French see no way of bringing Sidi Mohammed back, no way of making concessions that will protect French prestige, although they say that in order to accomplish anything at all LaCoite must bring concessions with him.

Some French here have been criticizing openly the present French policy of polite repression of nationalism, which has failed or exiled all Nationalist leaders.

As matters stand now, with leaders gone and legitimate political activity suppressed, there is no safety valve. Nationalism, becoming more impatient and extreme all the time, finds its only expression violence.

legged Communists in the Army.

Cohn, McCarthy's chief counsel, faces more cross-examination tomorrow. He previously has denied, point by point, the bulk of the Army charges.

Dworshak authored the successful motion—over solid opposition from subcommittee Democrats—to dismiss Francis P. Carr, McCarthy's chief of staff, and H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense, as principals in the case. That prompted Democratic charges of "whitewash."

"That's all bunk," Dworshak said in an interview. "I don't know whether the Eisenhower administration likes what is going on in the hearings or doesn't like it. I didn't talk to anyone in the administration about my motion or any other aspect of the case."

Council for Stevens and Adams objected to the dismissal of Carr as a principal and said he should at least be called as a witness. Both McCarthy and Hensel agreed to dropping Hensel out of the case.

While Carr was dismissed as a principal, Dworshak said he thinks Carr should testify "if developments in the hearing show the need of calling him."

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) said that in his mind there is "no question" that Carr will be called to the stand. McCarthy wrote Mundt a letter earlier saying his staff chief would be available.

The issue of whether McCarthy can obtain information classified as secret from federal employes hit a peak of controversy over the weekend, with Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, saying that McCarthy is treading on "highly dangerous and doubtful grounds."

Mitchell U. S. 80 Funds Set Aside

COLORADO CITY — Nearly two million dollars will be expended in Mitchell County within the next year on U. S. 80 improvements.

State Highway Department announcements, amplified by Jake Roberts, district highway engineer, show $1,740,000 earmarked for the U. S. 80 freeway through the county.

The announcement followed on the heels of the county's recent approval of a $200,000 bond issue to provide the necessary right-of-way.

A breakdown of the approved expenditure is as follows:

From the west county line to Westbrook, $36,000; from Westbrook to Colorado City $435,000; From Colorado City to the Nolan County line $951,000. The highway will follow the general route except that it will bypass the Lorraine business district on the north.

In addition to the freeway project, County Judge Sam Bullock pointed out that a total of 17 1/2 miles of approved farm-to-market roads are going to be constructed in Mitchell County this year. Most of the needed roadway for these jobs has been purchased. One of the projects is a six-mile stretch south of Lorraine, another is an eight-mile road linking Buford community to Farm Road 644; and three and a half miles from Westbrook south to connect with Highway 101.

Walk Supplies Tyler A Win

Tyler walked over Temple, 3-1, in the Big State League Sunday. A walk to Gus Chenard with the bases full pushed home Ted Browning with the winning run.

The victory boosted Tyler's lead to three full games over Waco, which bowed to Austin, 5-4. In other games, Bryan snapped its four-game losing streak with a 14-6 decision over Harlingen. Corpus Christi walloped Galveston, 15-0.

Temple tied the score in the top of the ninth, but Browning's single and three straight bases on balls ended the frustrating—for Temple—ball game. Four Temple players were tossed out of the game for talking too long and too loud about decisions by the umpires.

Stumpy Jones saved Roger May's ball game, leaving Waco with three men sitting on base as the final out was pocketed.

Bryan used 15 hits off five Harlingen pitchers for one of its easier victories this season. The result was good for a boost from seventh to sixth in the standings.

Corpus Christi banged out 21 hits to win its fifth straight from Galveston. Seven Galveston errors helped, too.

Gainesville Still Winning In Sooner

The rampaging Gainesville Owls kept right on bowling over Sooner State League opposition over the weekend, but the Shawnee Hawks matched the torrid pace, just a half game behind.

Gainesville nipped Seminole, 7-4, in a 10-inning thriller Sunday night. The Owls turned a single, four walks and an error into three runs in the 10th for the victory.

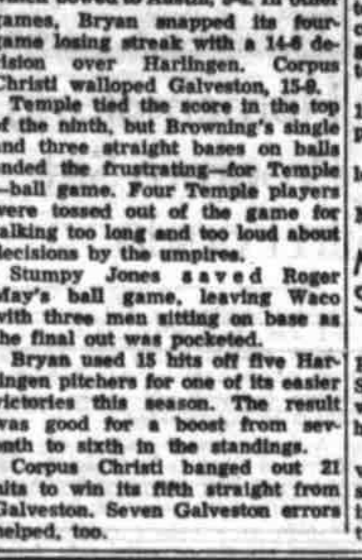

Shawnee, meanwhile, came from behind in the bottom of the ninth to down Lawton, 11-8. Relief pitcher Derald Wooten clouted a grand slam homer with two out to win the game.

Ada defeated Ardmore, 10-9, in 10 innings and climbed to fifth place.

McAlester slammed Pauls Valley, 18-7, getting 20 hits.

The same teams face each other Monday night.

Indians Romp On War Birds

Oklahoma City made quite a hit with the home folks Sunday: 23 hits to be exact and the result was a top-sided 15-9 Texas League victory over Dallas.

The "you hit my pitcher and I'll hit yours" baseball game saw a total of 39 hits, 11 more than Houston and San Antonio collected in a doubleheader; 5 more than the twin bill involving Shreveport and Beaumont and 12 more than the two games played by Tulsa and Fort Worth.

Everybody split in those double-headers. The results: Tulsa 5-0, Fort Worth, 13-10; Houston, 10-1, San Antonio, 15-9; Shreveport, 10-9, Beaumont, 13-5.

A 5-run third inning spree, 4 in the fourth, and 6 in the seventh did Dallas in. Al Pappal notched his fourth straight pitching victory.

Shreveport used seven runs in the seventh inning to take the second game from Beaumont after Bob Zick had handcuffed the Sports on six hits in the opener.

Precepito Herrera also tossed a six-hitter to give San Antonio a split while Danny Ozark's grand slam homer, triple, double and scolding home highlighted Fort Worth's whitewash over Tulsa. A 5-run seventh won the first for Tulsa.

The same teams meet again tonight with Dallas at Oklahoma City; Tulsa at Fort Worth; Houston at San Antonio and Shreveport at Beaumont.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Rocking cradle of type used during a past century.

During the last century, a poet wrote: "The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world." Those words suggest that mothers are the real rulers of the world because they influence the lives of their children.

In my opinion the statement falls short of the whole truth. Mothers do have an important influence on their children, but so do fathers. Teachers and others also enter into the lives of the growing generation.

During the twentieth century, rocking cradles have gone out of fashion to a large extent. In most places we see them only rarely. Perhaps I should add that H-bombs are rocking the world these days.

Would we be better off if mothers had control of things? Mothers think of the welfare of their children, of good health and good schools for boys and girls. It is hard to imagine that the Mothers of the World would spend billions of dollars for germs, poison gas, A-bombs and H-bombs.

Along with our good thoughts about mothers, let us also think of "dear old dad." He spends much of his time away from home while he makes a living for his family. At home or away, he loves his sons and daughters and wants them to enjoy happy, worthwhile lives. It would be a terrible mistake to suppose that dear old dad would wish a third world war which might destroy his family. As I have said before, it is hard to find anyone who favors a new war. On both sides of the Iron Curtain, the top officials say that they want peace.

Turning back to the little ones in cradles or cribs, we all feel that they should have a good future. Something about a helpless infant makes us want to give protection. People can throw aside the idea that another war "has to be." If we manage things in the right way, the entire world will enjoy peace and plenty.

Tomorrow: Papoose Cases.

NLRB Bans Fur Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) last night ruled that the International Fur and Leather Workers Union may no longer use its services because Ben Gold remains the union's president.

Gold, an avowed Communist for 30 years, was convicted April 30 of swearing falsely in an affidavit filed with the NLRB in 1950 that he was not a Communist nor a believer in communism. He said he had quit the party the day before.

On May 17, the independent union's convention unanimously re-elected Gold to a two-year term as president in the face of notice from the NLRB to oust him or demonstrate why it should be considered still eligible to use NLRB services.

The Taft-Hartley Act requires that officers of unions using NLRB machinery file non-Communist affidavits. Gold has filed a new affidavit and is free on bond while appealing his conviction and 1 to 3 year sentence.

The NLRB action means that if a new election were held to determine the bargaining agent among fur and leather workers, Gold's union would be barred from a place on the ballot.

Romulo Urges Meet To Set Asian Aims

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—President Eisenhower should meet with Southeast Asia leaders to make a policy declaration similar to the Atlantic Charter, Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippine Islands said yesterday.

was made in a University of Portland commencement speech. Romulo, the personal representative in the United States of Philippine President Maguayay, said the Prime Ministers of India, Pakistan, Indonesia, Ceylon, Burma, and Thailand as well as a representative of the Philippine government should have a part in framing the declaration, which Romulo envisioned as similar to the 1941 wartime peace aims statement made by Great Britain and the United States.

Ham Operators Span U. S., Southwest No Bottleneck

By EDDIE LEE
 CAPILLO PEAK, N. M. (A-)

Wonderful weekend weather helped radio amateurs break the Southwestern bottleneck and complete history's first transcontinental relay on the two-meter band.

Working under a blazing sun on the mountain tops and plains of the Texas Panhandle, New Mexico, Arizona and California, the amateur messages smoothly through the area where last week's test broke down.

"They can't blame us if they don't get through this time," said Hubbard Harrell, W5FAG, who set up his station just off U. S. Highway 66, seven miles east of Cilnes Corners.

The westbound message, which left Ed Tilton's Canton, Conn., station, WHDQ, at 6:25 a.m. (EST) Saturday, reached Ed Lucky in Manhattan Beach, Calif., W5EMM, about 14 hours later.

Tilton is an editor of QST, official magazine of the American Radio Relay League, national ham organization. Lucky is trustee for the Two Meter and Down Club station of Los Angeles, one of the leading organizers of the test.

The fate of the official eastbound message, which cleared A. David Middleton, W5CA at this 9,000-foot elevation at 5:22 p.m. (7:22 p.m., EST) was not known, but it passed beyond Amarillo, Tex. The relay had been solid from that point east all day.

"More than 40 stations across the country, most of them manned by two or more amateurs, combined equipment, time and energy in the test," Middleton said. "Generally, each station could hear only the one immediately east and immediately west."

Such relays are necessary on the two meter band, in what is known as the very high frequency range, because signals generally follow line of sight--or horizon to horizon--and a jump of 300 miles from a mountain top to a distant high point is considered exceptional. From high point to high point, signals will average under 300 miles.

Jap Slave Village Is Now Reformed

TOKYO (A-)-A farm village once known as a break market for the sale of boys and girls has given up the practice and has become a model farming community, the Japan Daily News reports.

Farmers in Hiraishi Village, Ibaraki Prefecture, in the past frequently bought boys and girls from their parents and used their purchases as a cheap form of farm labor. Going price for a strong boy was reported to be 2,000 yen, or $233 according to present dollar-yen exchange rates.

Authorities in 1945 estimated that there were at least 10 boys and girls who were living out a period of virtual slavery at Hiraishi as the result of their having been sold by their impoverished parents. The period of service for the boys ended only with their conscription into the army.

Since 1948 the practice has gradually been ended.

Three Major Eisenhower Bills Face Crucial Tests This Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three major proposals in President Eisenhower's legislative program headed for crucial tests on Capitol Hill this week—with mixed prospects. Both the House and Senate took today off because of the Memorial Day holiday. The House will take up tomorrow an administration-backed bill to add new millions of persons to the social security program, increase the benefit payments and boost the annual contribution by employees and employers. Passage seemed assured.

The Senate has scheduled debate starting Thursday on a House-approved housing bill. While passage in some form is virtually certain, new opposition from some southern Democrats cast considerable doubt on the fate of the President's request for authority for a four-year public housing program.

The Senate Finance Committee hopes to complete by Friday its version of the administration tax revision bill, already passed by the House. GOP leaders have voiced confidence that the committee will approve it about in the form the administration asked. But Democratic senators plugging for a new income tax cut have said they will carry their fight to the Senate floor if they lost in the committee's closed-door sessions.

The tax revision, a bulky 875-page bill, would make no changes in major levies but would cut taxes about $1,400,000,000 in its first year of operation through various benefits for individuals and businesses.

Sen. George (D-Ga.) and two colleagues are sponsoring a move to cut individual income taxes about 4½ billion dollars this year by boosting from $600 to $800 the personal exemption allowed each taxpayer and dependent. A Democratic drive for a boost to $700 lost narrowly in the House.

The administration is fighting the move on the ground the government can not stand that loss of revenue.

Democrats have coupled their effort with a move to knock out of the House bill an administration-backed provision which would give substantial tax relief to stockholders on their dividend income. The revenue loss would be 340 million the first year, and $14 million annually when fully effective.

The social security bill, Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) said Saturday night, will win "overwhelming" House approval. The Senate has not acted. Reed, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee which handled the bill, hailed it as representing "substantial progress towards achieving universal old-age and survivors' insurance coverage with benefit levels adequate to provide a realistic minimum . . . protection . . ."

On the housing issue, Senate Democratic leaders were reported looking for some compromise which might avert a party split over a civil rights issue. The possibility of such a split was raised last week when the Supreme Court threw out an appeal in behalf of racial segregation in a public housing project.

Sen. Maybank (D-SC), previously a strong advocate of low-rent public housing, then announced he would move in the Senate to strike out all authority for such projects. Eisenhower asked authority to build 140,000 units over a four-year period. The House eliminated all public housing authority, and the administration had been counting on the Senate to restore it.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said over the weekend he would continue to support public housing, but he conceded the Supreme Court's action would "undoubtedly affect the thinking of those who are lukewarm . . ."

The issue is not likely to come to a Senate vote before next week.

Geneva Talks Enter 6th Week; Big-Name Envoys May Go Home

By MAX HARRELSON
GENEVA (AP)—The Far Eastern conference entered its sixth week today amid increasing reports that the big-name diplomats may go home soon, leaving their deputies to carry on an "Indochinese Panmunjon."
None of the big power foreign ministers yet has announced plans to pull out of the negotiations, but this may be the last week of attendance for some of them.
U. S. Secretary of State Dulles returned to Washington four weeks ago. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov flew to Moscow early yesterday for consultations, telling some of the Western delegations chiefs he would be back in a few days. The feeling persisted here, however, that unless more positive results are obtained this week, the conference will enter a new phase of protracted lower-level discussions similar to the two years negotiations which preceded the Korean armistice.

Many Western sources believe the Indochina talks will develop into a series of meetings by sub-committees of military and other experts on the technical aspects of a cease-fire. These could continue for months.
Saturday's decision to begin direct military talks here this week on the question of assembly zones for the rival forces in Indochina was regarded generally as only a procedural agreement.
The representatives of the French and Vietnam commands still will have to resolve the basic question of whether there should be a series of isolated assembly zones or one large consolidated area for each side, as the Communists have demanded.

This military question has grave political overtones, since concentration of large forces in opposing areas could set the pattern for partitioning of Viet Nam.
Military representatives of the two sides are expected to hold their initial session tomorrow.
France's delegation at the conference was faced today with new problems outside those posed by the Communists. Marc Jacquet, secretary of state for the Associated States (Indochina) and a key member of Foreign Minister Georges Bidault's delegation here, resigned from Premier Joseph Laniel's Cabinet.
Jacquet, a follower of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, quit after a Cabinet dispute over the leaking to a Paris weekly of a top secret military report on Indochina. Jacquet also has been advocating a more conciliatory approach to the Vietnam.

DATE DATA

The Goodnight Kiss; 'Nothing Ventured--'

By BEVERLY BRANDOW
It's been a wonderful evening. When you and your date are out together the world is enchanted. You could talk forever. There's no end to the things you have in common. Oh what a night—such a night!
What better ending to a perfect date than a goodnight kiss? "May I kiss you goodnight?" is proper etiquette down to a T, but fellows, please close your eyes when you come to that chapter. If you want to kiss her, believe me, that's the quickest way in the world to get a no answer.
The girls say in no uncertain terms that they prefer the masterful type boy who takes the situation in hand. As Carol felt like telling James, "If you're going to kiss me, do it; let's not stand here talking about it."
No boy wants to risk insulting a girl he really likes by stealing a kiss she doesn't want him to have, but he can also lose her respect by being too bashful. By careful observation throughout the evening, you can tell how she feels toward you. Then, when you're standing in her living room, take her in your arms gently, thus giving her a chance to wriggle away from your embrace if she really wants to. Never ever lunge at her!

But girls, if he does say "May I?" What then? Probably you feel a rush of blood surging to your face and you wish you could evaporate into nothingness.
How embarrassed can you get? To say yes sounds so forward. Girls like to feel that a kiss is all the boy's idea whether it is or not. "I'd just as soon ask him to kiss me" most girls say and agree that it makes them feel so aggressive they would rather turn the boy down than be put in this position.
However, girls, if you really would like to answer "yes" in spite of your embarrassment, counter his question of "Will you kiss me?" with an upturned face and "There's one way to find out." Variations of this might be, "That depends upon you," or "Nothing ventured; nothing gained."
This approach works like magic and spares you the anguish of having to say an outright yes.

French Socialists To Vote For EDC

PARIS (AP)—Supporters of the European Army Treaty cheered today a Socialist party decision that its members in the French National Assembly must vote for the pact or face party discipline. The move may give the government enough backing to ensure ratification of the hotly disputed treaty.
The main opposition to the pact—which would create a six-nation European Army including German troops—has come from the De Gaulle, Communists and some Socialists. It is generally agreed the government needs about 75 of the 305 Socialist votes in the Assembly to insure ratification.
The accounts in Connecticut's banks average $1,355 each.
