Jackson Challenged Chamber To Motivate

Drivers License Must Show Correct Address

Weldon Menzer, drivers license trooper for this area, reminds people that they should change the address on their driver's license if they have moved. He stated that the people are required to do this by law. Menzer advises people that the enforcement of this law has not been very strict in the past, but will be immediately. Menzer also stated that there are advantages to changing ad-resses. One of them is in case of a serious accident, it is difficult to notify the next of kin if the address has not been changed. He stated that the address change law is for the people's own benefit as well as being the legal thing to do. Menzer says that if anyone needs to make a correction or change on their driver's license, they may contact the driver's license department located in the Bailey County Law Enforcement Center, and Mrs. Gladys Black, office clerk, will assist them. Office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The cost of getting a duplicate license with the corrections will be one dollar and another picture will be taken.

Sealcoating To Begin On U.S. 84 East

Highway construction contracts left in January by the Texas Highway Commission include Lubbock area work.

The work, supervised by District Engineer George C. Wall, Jr., will be in Bailey, Castro, Crosby, Garza, Hockley, Lamb, and Yoakum Counties.

A contract was awarded to W.D. Turner Construction Company and High Plains Pavers, Inc., of Lubbock. Low bid was $998,464.35.

History Class Needs Pictures Of Early Schools

The Seventh Grade Texas History Classes are researching materials to make models of the first schools in Bailey County for the Muleshoe History Fair, March 18 and would like to have pictures and any information relative to these early schools: Progress (Hurley), Circleback, Liberty (Y.L.), West Camp, Muleshoe, Goodland (Figure 4), Baileyboro, Stegall, Watson, Bula, Fairview, Longview, Maple-Wilson, Enoch, Figure 2, and Kaiser (1901).

If anyone has pictures of information regarding these original schools, please contact Mrs. Elizabeth Watson or Wayland Ethridge at the Muleshoe Jr. High School or phone 272-3325. The pictures will be returned to the owners and the information will be greatly appreciated.

Students would like to make taped interviews of early day teachers or settlers of Bailey County as part of the Bicentennial Historical Project which will be entered in the Regional History Fair in Plainview April 3, 1975.

Mrs. Cortie Taylor and her granddaughter, Karen Osborne of Plainview arrived home after spending Christmas and five weeks in Milpitas, California with Mrs. Taylor's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne, Jr. While they toured some of the highlights in San Francisco and Fisherman's Wharf, where they had lunch. The Golden Gate Park attraction were displays of a-phagans and North American birds and animals. Also, the Stinhart Aquarium with a collection of sea life around the world and the Science Museum. They also visited Ghilardilli and watched them make the Ghilardilli chocolate candy. Another great attraction was the Japanese Tea Garden; seeing the Japanese drink tea. Then they drove down Lombard Street, one of the most unusual one way streets in the world and often referred as the crookedest street in the world. Then they saw the Church of Satan. Mrs. Cortie Taylor said she enjoyed the trip.

Planting Report Shows Cotton Down

The following is the prospective plantings report issued by the USDA this week showing 1975 in relationship to 1974: For corn, 76.1 million acres in 1975 which is down four percent; Sorghum, 19.4 million acres in 1975 which is up 10 percent compared to 1974; oats, 17.3 million acres which is down four percent; barley, 9.4 million acres, which is up eight percent; soybeans, 57.1 million acres which is up eight percent; cotton, 9.5 million acres which is down 32 percent; and sugar beets, 1.4 million acres up 22 percent.

Explosion In Sunflowers Seen For Texas High Plains In 1975

LUBBOCK - In what could be one of the biggest jumps in crop acreage in recent years on the Texas High Plains, sunflower plantings for 1975 are expected to exceed 200,000 acres and could go as high as 400,000. This compares to only 5,000 acres grown last year.

These facts were reported by Dr. James Supak, an agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, after a series of meetings this month with producers and county agents across the South Plains. Supak said that industry officials had expected an increase, but the prospects of acreage in excess of 200,000 acres has probably caught many by surprise.

He said that 200,000 acres of sunflowers could gross between 30 to 50 million dollars. The anticipated expansion of sunflower acreage, he added, means that many farmers will be planting this crop for the first time in 1975.

"They'll be hampered by many unknowns about this new crop," the agronomist predicted. "We don't have answers for insect control, yields under varying soil and climate conditions, disease resistance levels of new hybrids, and other important questions."

Reasons for the drastic increase in sunflower acreage this year, Supak explained, reflect producer concerns about market outlook and the need for additional cash crops with low water and plant nutrient requirements.

What prompted many to consider jumping onto the wagon was the availability of firm, profitable contracts for sunflower seed, plus the recent development of sunflower hybrids, he said.

Before 1973, only open-pollinated varieties, largely of Russian origin, were available for commercial production. Since that time, several sunflower hybrids have been introduced in this area by commercial seed companies.

Supak noted that the hybrids provide higher yields, and are more uniform in emergence, flowering, maturity and height, permitting more effective insecticide treatments and harvesting. Hybrids also exhibit some resistance to potentially damaging diseases.

He reported that industry spokesmen indicate that supplies of hybrid planting seed will be limited in 1975, but should be adequate after this year.

The most potentially dangerous risk farmers will face are insects, the agronomist said. According to Dr. Robert McIntyre, Extension entomologist and co-worker of Supak, as many as 47 different insect species are known to feed on sunflowers.

Major insect pests of this area, McIntyre said, are the carrot beetle and sunflower moth. The moth can be successfully controlled with insecticides, but no effective control method has been found for the carrot beetle.

"During the period from 1962 to 1971," McIntyre reported, "the carrot beetle ranged at will over all trial plantings on the High Plains, virtually destroying most of them."

"But in 1972, 1973, and again last year, little damage from the beetle was reported. Commercial plantings were grown successfully in the Crosbyton, Petersburg, Hale Center, Post, Anson, and Roscoe communities of the High Plains during 1974."

Continued McIntyre, "In contrast to these successful ventures, sunflowers had never been successfully grown at this

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Munday until the fall of 1974.

The entomologist said that no insecticide has effectively protected sunflowers from severe carrot beetle damage. Researchers with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station are now looking at cultural and biological control methods that might contain the pest.

"Thus far," McIntyre said, "manipulation of planting dates as a possible cultural control method for escaping beetle damage has not yielded conclusive results. Beetles can develop a crop at any stage of development. And, biological control studies are not far enough along to tell us much."

Diseases also pose a potentially serious problem, said Supak. Although some of the new hybrids have varying degrees of resistance to some diseases, their tolerance to a multitude of disease organisms is widespread commercial plantings is yet to be fully evaluated.

He added that growers should avoid risking large amounts of land, labor and capital until they have gained experience in producing this new crop.

Sunflowers, he said, are generally adapted to any area where cotton, grain sorghum, corn and soybeans can be grown. They are considered a drought-tolerant crop, and seedlings are hardy plants which seem to tolerate higher levels of hail, wind and sand abrasion than other crops normally grown in this area.

Sunflowers are the world's second largest source of vegetable oil, ranking only behind soybeans. About one-half mil-

74 Weather Carries Over Into 75 Seed

LUBBOCK--A series of crippling factors during the 1974 cotton season have combined with a severely short crop yield to cast shadows over hopeful prospects for next year, according to an area economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Marvin Sartin, area specialist here, says that cottonseed products and cotton planting seed definitely will be affected by the problems that befell the 1974 season.

"Farmers are becoming increasingly aware of the adverse effects of cool, wet weather this past fall," says Sartin. "Yield and quality of all crops deteriorated as a result."

"Cotton producers know these conditions dictate relative immaturity of the fiber, and normally expected lower than normal micronaire readings."

"Because the plants were not killed by a freeze until after the normal frost date, some of the late-set bolls matured enough to go into the stripper basket. The fiber in these late bolls was made during unseasonably cool and cloudy conditions, and were very low in micronaire. Mixing this immature cotton with the better quality that matured earlier in the year resulted in low micronaire classification," Sartin explains.

An additional problem for the cotton industry resulting from this situation is poor seed quality, he adds. Immature bolls caught in the stripper contained small, light seed which will not be fit for planting and not worth much for processing. The more mature bolls, especially those that have been open during much of the rain, may have seed that have deteriorated in ability to germinate.

"Combining these factors with the very small cotton crop on the Plains this year means a definite reduction in cottonseed products and in cotton planting seed for 1975," the economist reports. "Additionally, the seed that is bagged could well be lower than normal quality. Reduced supply and high prices for cottonseed products indicate rising planting seed prices for next year."

Sartin says that grain suffered less than cotton during the prolonged wet weather. "Some milo shattered, and some sprouting in the head was reported. However, overall the grain crop withstood the situation."

Corn producers probably incurred the worst problems, he adds. Much of the corn fell that was not harvested before the wet conditions set in. Reports indicated this fallen corn was effectively picked up with combine attachments, and yield losses were held to a minimum.

"Most area seed producers did not harvest before the rains and production of hybrid grain sorghum seed may suffer proportionally more than grain production," Sartin predicts.

"Problems of seed swelling with the moisture, shrinking as they dry, and subsequently shattering were reported from certain areas. Reduced total production and probable lower quality in those seed produced will provide substance for price increases for grain sorghum seed. Also, some particular hybrids may be in fairly short supply."

He adds that although little corn seed is produced in this area, the adverse season in the corn belt will likely have about the same effect on the availability of corn seed. Producers can expect price increases and possibly less choice than usual.

"Potential repercussions of these problems for 1975 suggest that seed prices, along with most farm inputs, will be going up. Even more serious may be the shortage of particular varieties and the quality of the seed produced this year," the economist warns.

"A possible alternative for farmers is to obtain 1973 seed where possible. This seed was generally high quality, and insuring your supply of the preferred varieties or hybrids could be a very positive step for next year. Farmers who normally catch their own cottonseed and who did not carry over seed from last year might investigate purchasing seed of determinable quality as their own production may not be very good this year.

"Above all else," Sartin concludes, "remember that strong vigorous seed are important in establishing a good early stand. The yield potential of your crop is determined by the seed that are planted. Do not sacrifice on seed. Plant the best that you can get."

(Next: Are Seed Prices Too High? The second of this two-part story will deal with risks involved in buying cheap seed.)

million acres of oil types are grown in the U.S. annually. Last year, Texas had about 7,000 acres planted in oil-type sunflowers. There are other types grown for uses other than oil that are not included in these figures.

Supak said that dryland yields are expected to range from 500 to 1,000 pounds per acre depending on soil fertility and rainfall. Irrigated yields may range from 1,200 to 2,500 pounds per acre.

Processing of High Plains sunflower seed are done mostly by local oil mills.

An investment in Your Future ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

Putting forth a Real effort

A child's first attempts at printing require deep concentration and great effort. However, with patience and practice he becomes more adept and lettering is easier. Then he is ready for the next step, learning to write.

The Lord expects us to put forth an effort to improve ourselves.

"I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Miss Coffee, Stephens Exchange Vows

Miss Patricia Coffee became the bride of David Wesley Stephens Saturday, December 28 at the First Baptist Church in New Branfels, Texas. Rev. Bill Arnold, pastor of the church, and Rev. Patrick Flanagan officiated the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dan E. Coffee and Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Stephens, both of New Branfels. Grandparents of the groom are Mrs. W. E. Dement of Muleshoe and Mrs. Odessa Slayden of Muleshoe.

Piano selections and a vocal solo were presented by Miss Linda Hibbs preceding the wedding ceremony. Presenting the organ selections was Dale Dietert.

Miss Kyle Collier of Austin was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Stephens of New Branfels, sister of the groom; Miss Susan Collier of San Antonio; and Mrs. Beth Crocker of New Branfels. The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore two-piece ensembles consisting of sleeveless empire dresses in pastel green and bottle green jackets. They carried bouquets of red and white miniature carnations and greenery. Lisa Cummins, of Austin was the flower girl. She carried red and white miniature carnations and greenery in a basket and wore a dress similar to the bridesmaids' dresses.

Best man was Dan E. Coffee, brother of the bride. Groomsmen were Lawrence Schumann, Ronald Waltisperger and Donald Jonas, all of New Branfels. Ring bearer was Wes Schoppa of Houston. The ushers were Gerald Thiele and Billy Stephens. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Elks Lodge. Wes Schoppa handed out programs and registered the guests. After a wedding trip to Guadalupe, Mexico the couple will reside in New Branfels. The groom is employed as a news reporter and announcer at KGNB-KNBT Radio in New Branfels and as a staff writer for the Austin American newspaper in Austin. The bride will soon begin working for the IRS district office in Austin.

The rehearsal dinner was held at My Place Restaurant in San Antonio hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Billy Stephens, aunt and uncle of the groom.

Your Own Ski Wear

COLLEGE STATION --- Ski wear sewn at home looks just as great on the ski slopes as readymade -- at half the cost, one clothing specialist noted this week.

"The homesever can use special ski wear patterns or even adapt regular pattern styles for snow fashions," Beverly Rhoades, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, pointed out.

In making outer wear, such as warm-ups, take measurements over all garments to be worn underneath--the pattern size will be two or three sizes larger than usual, she said.

"Special snow wear fabrics are now available. Nylon is popular because it's water repellent, strong, lightweight, and fast drying.

Urethane-coated nylon is waterproof, making it ideal for outer wear.

Uncoated nylon is lightweight and ideal for windbreakers, warm-ups or parka linings. Both coated and uncoated nylon are available in 44-45 inch widths," the specialist explained.

Other fabrics she mentioned as being suitable for ski wear are quilted nylon with polyester filling, stretch fabrics with a blend of 85 percent wool and 15 percent lycra. Fabrics with at least 50 percent wool will hold and retain warmth better.

"Knit fabrics with a double layer of nylon and light fleece interior also provide warmth and comfort."

Heavy, durable zippers with large tabs or rings, which can be handled with gloves on, are best for ski wear, she noted.

When sewing on heavy, dense fabrics, the specialist advised using a large (16-18) needle and heavy thread. For seams in quilted fabrics, use small stitches (8 to the inch) to ensure warmth and wind resistance, she said.

"For lighter weight fabrics, a fine needle (9-10) may be desirable. For best results, use a ball point needle on synthetics.

"Since machine tension is vitally important, make a test seam before sewing on the pattern pieces. Adjust tension as needed," the specialist reminded.

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION --- Egg prices dipped slightly, and beef offers some "interesting specials," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reported this week.

Beef specials go along with cool weather menu suggestions of pot roasts, stews and home-made vegetable soup, the consumer marketing information specialist said.

At frozen food counters, a variety of vegetables are featured--along with orange juice concentrate, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System, specialist.

Fresh vegetable buys include carrots, onions, rutabaga, squash and sweet potatoes. "Also, cabbage is plentiful with attractive prices, and lettuce quality has improved--with prices moderate to low.

Banana and grape prices are unchanged, but pineapples is a bit higher," Mrs. Clyatt noted.

"Outstanding fruit values focus on citrus, including grape fruit, oranges, and tangelos."

At pork sections of the meat counter, best values are fresh picnics, Boston butt and loin-end roasts, and liver, the specialist said.

"Grade A bacon prices are generally steady, and there are some specials on lesser grades."

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: On "specials," consider more than price--check the "why."

For example, specials on perishables, such as bananas, may be a good bargain, if you plan to serve them right away.

Coal price soars as utilities seek supplies.

Mylinda Graves is preparing a manual over "Business Law"; and Beverly McCamish is involved in a manual over "Retail Jewelry". Truman Lindsey and the employees of Lindsey Jewelry have been assisting Beverly with her manual.

There will be an elimination in each contest at the local level. Two manuals will go to the Area Contest. Muleshoe is also entering two Checker Bagger teams, two job interview contestants, two public speaking contestants, two sales demonstration contestants, one display contestant, and one advertising contestant. Six students will go as observers to get acquainted with the contest and to prepare themselves for the coming year.

Friday, February 7, a get-acquainted dance will be held at the cafeteria of the Hershey High School. Saturday morning will be the time given for the contests, and Saturday afternoon is the Awards assembly. Mr. Gist is the chairman of the Sales Demonstration contest and President of TADET (Texas Association of Distributive Education Teachers). He will instruct the judges on how to judge sales demonstration. Mr. Gist is also responsible for the rating sheets to be used.

This is the second year for the conference to be held at Wichita Falls. Muleshoe will be staying at the Imperial Motel. Several local merchants have been judging the preliminaries of the Area VI contest for the local level to see which students will participate in the area contest.

Judges have been picking 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners in job interview and advertising all this week. Muleshoe State Bank's Bob Finney provides the expertise and facilities for job interviews. The qualified staff of Muleshoe Journal, Polly Otwell and Sheri Smith, critique the advertising layouts. Occasionally future employees are found through these contacts.

Many other people assist with the contest program and include High School Principal, Fred Mardis, Sales Demonstration, and Kerry Moore and Cheryl Gist are judging Public Speaking contestants.

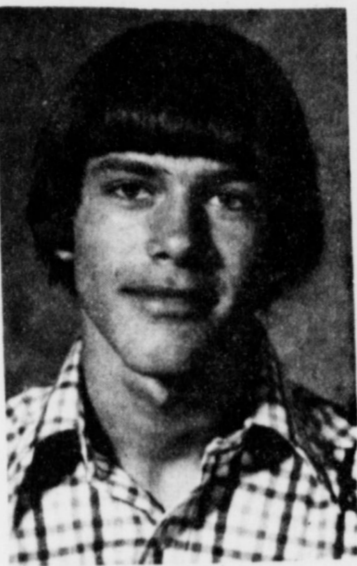

Many thanks go to those people who give the time and experience to help these young adults with their extra-curricular interests.

Alcoholism Hits Anytime

The person who has learned the abuse of alcohol knows only one place to find an understanding fellowship. It is a short walk to a bar and so . . . The hangover is likely to be devastating. The drinker following the 'geographic escape' pattern discovers, when he is able to think again, that he has lost one or more days.

Now how does he explain? Chances are he has assured his boss that "I'm really not what you'd call a drinking man." Of course, being shrewd and crafty, he had admitted a little nip now and then, you know.

But a binge can disillusion employers and destroy a million good intentions. So the alcoholic must set out again to travel somewhere to make a new start and build a new way of life.

Once more, the problem drinker has added a new trick to his repertoire of tactics needed to outsmart the growing psychological imprisonment effected by alcoholism. Whether the alcoholic flees old habitats or stays home to sweat it out, the accumulative effects of heavy drinking and the pursuit of poor habits become evident.

Diet Balanced Malnutrition results, both physically and mentally, through the notoriously poor dietary habits of the alcoholic.

It is not primarily the complications arising from the direct action of alcohol on body tissues. These are insignificant compared with the damage attributed to the substitution by the problem drinker of a 'liquid' diet for a nourishing and balanced diet.

Since calories in food largely determine human consumption of food, it follows that the alcoholic in his intake of large quantities of high-calorie alcoholic, is left with little desire to eat. He therefore suffers from ailments peculiar to malnutrition, among these are beri-beri, pellagra, polyneuropathy and cirrhosis of the liver.

Close at Hand The road to chronic alcoholism may be slow, but it is certain of its destination for those who are alcoholic. For those who see in those they know symptoms described in these articles an indication that the disease is close at hand, advise and help is possible at the Central Plains MH /MR Center.

Property Taxes To Be Discussed At Confab

COLLEGE STATION -- A discussion of critical issues in property taxation by a noted Austin attorney will be one of the highlights of the upcoming 17th annual County Judges and Commissioners Conference at Texas A&M University, Feb. 5-6.

Jack McCreary will discuss legislative proposals for an equitable tax base for financing public schools and other local government operations, points out Charles Lawrence, county officials program specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and program chairman.

The attorney will also direct his remarks to the tax load now borne by owners of real property and will explore ways to achieve uniformity and equality in the assessment and equation of taxable property. More than 600 county judges and commissioners from throughout the state are expected to attend, according to Lawrence. All conference sessions will be held at the Aggeland Inn, with registration from 8 to 10 a.m. on Feb. 5.

Also appearing on the first morning portion of the conference with McCreary will be Reagan Brown, special assistant to Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Afternoon speakers will discuss such critical issues as predator problems, revenue sharing and inflation. Friday morning speakers will address themselves to the issue of community resource development, management of county personnel, and the land price situation.

Ogg Introduces Bill To Limit Smoking

Senator Jack Ogg of Houston introduced legislation today that would prohibit smoking in certain public places. The Ogg bill would ban smoking on planes, trailers, elevators, hospitals, museums, and other public places unless a designated area for smoking is provided.

This is legislation to protect the rights of non-smokers by requiring certain public facilities to set aside separate areas for smokers and non-smokers. The intent of the bill is to protect the rights of non-smokers. Although I am personally convinced that smoking is injurious to a smokers' health, it is certainly his prerogative (to smoke). However, non-smokers also have the right not to inhale the smoke of others that is also dangerous, offensive and impolite to them. There are already states and cities who have comparable legislation and ordinances, many public facilities also voluntarily protect the rights of non-smokers. The legislation merely extends this principle." Senator Ogg stated.

Under the Ogg bill, a violation of the provision would be a Class C misdemeanor, carrying a fine of up to $100.

When asked if the measure was intended to be punitive, Senator Ogg, who is a non-smoker, stated, "Certainly not. It is merely a protection for those who choose not to smoke their own or someone else's."

Rep. Hightower Will Keynote Water, Inc. Annual Meeting

U.S. Rep. Jack Hightower will keynote the Eighth Annual Membership Meeting of Water, Inc., Feb. 15 at the Quality Inn, Amarillo. He heads a list of program participants which includes State Senators Max Sherman of Amarillo and Kent Hance of Lubbock. Theme of the annual get-together will be "A Year of Progress", with emphasis on the new unity at the state level. More than 250 persons from throughout West Texas and Eastern New Mexico are expected to attend. Two meetings of the Water, Inc., board of directors are slated in connection with the Saturday meeting, the first at 4 p.m., Feb. 14, and the second immediately following the membership meeting. The later is the board's annual session at which officers and members of the executive committee are elected for the coming year. Rep. Hightower of Vernon was elected to represent the sprawling 13th Texas Congressional District last November, a district that includes the Texas Panhandle and a swath of North Central Texas extending to Wichita Falls. He was first elected to public office in 1952 as a state representative. After one term he was appointed district attorney, a post in which he served for six years. He was elected to the state senate in 1954, serving in the state's upper chamber until his recent election to Congress. In the state senate, Hightower was known as a prime-mover of water legislation. During the past year he headed up the state senate's four regional water study councils. D.G. "Bill" Nelson, Amarillo, executive secretary of the Texas Wheat Growers Assn., and director of Water, Inc., is chairman of the annual meeting committee. Also on the committee are K.B. "Tex" Watson, Edward G. Weber, and Jerome Johnson, all of Amarillo.

Marriage Counselor Joins Staff At Central Plains Center

Dr. William K. Norton, has joined the staff of The Central Plains Mental Health Center in Plainview as a family and marriage counselor, it was announced this week by Dr. John Gill, Director of Mental Health Programs. The Center's 'Family Concept in Therapy' will be greatly strengthened by Dr. Norton's experience, Dr. Gill added. Dr. Norton, a Psychologist, was formerly with the Department of Home and Family Life at Texas Tech University. He received his Ph.D. in Marriage Counseling from Florida State University in 1971. His doctoral thesis was 'Empathic Ability and Marital Adjustment.' Before coming to Tech, Dr. Norton was responsible for founding and organizing the 'Family Life Services' at Florida State University, an office for offering marriage and family counseling to married students and their families. At Tech, Dr. Norton taught and counseled in the field of Marriage and Family Problems.

He was also Graduate Studies Chairman for his Department. Dr. Gill explains the Center's Family Concept of Treatment as a necessity 'because all members of the family are affected by the illness of any member' and by working professionally to help every member of the family during a marriage or family crisis 'we can treat the primary patient rapidly and get the family back in shape as soon as possible.' Counseling for the most part involves working with out-patients. Community needs are carefully watched by the staff at the Center, and convenient outreach offices are located in Tulia, Dimmitt, Friona, Muleshoe, Littlefield and Floydada. The Central Plains Mental Health Center serves nine counties: Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd and Motley.
