A Look back in Time

JANUARY 3, 1957
French Couple "Dine"
At Chuckwagon Here

"President of the French Chamber of Deputies, Louis Jacquinat and his charming wife, Mme. Jacquinet, were in Matador shortly before Christmas.

They were not here to float a loan or look at the drought situation. They merely wanted to eat a meal at a West Texas Chuckwagon. They were the guests of the Red Lake Cattle Cooperation.

Local manager John Stephens met their plane in Lubbock and escorted them to the chuckwagon. They made the trip from Dallas especially for the experience."

FEBRUARY 14, 1957
"Wildcat" Yields Oil!

"County's first discovery creates much excitement - oil! A word more electrifying than gold spread through Matador Thursday afternoon to submerge, talk of drought problems and start a wave of excitement that is continuing to increase by the hour. A drill stem test by the Pan American Oil Corp. at its No. 1 Fred E. Brandon well, 5 1/2 miles east of Roaring Springs, showered more than 100 feet of clear oil."

Johnny Stevens Receives 1997 Trail Blazer Award

JOHNNY STEVENS

Longtime rancher and Matador resident, Johnny Stevens, received the 1997 Trail Blazer Award Saturday, August 16, during The Texas Ranch Roundup held in Wichita Falls.

Each year The Texas Ranch Roundup chooses to recognize outstanding ranchmen, who over a lifetime have shown in word and deed that they have earned the respect and admiration of the livestock industry. These cowmen have never sought out the limelight or public acclaim. Representative of the breed of men and women who individually shaped the Texas cattle industry, they are modest, honest, quiet and unassuming. In a word, gentlemen. Their success, in a lifetime pursuit of the cattle business, makes them worthy of consideration as a role model for generations to come. Indeed for young people contemplating a career in the ranching business, their accomplishments and exploits are an inspiration. The history of the cattle industry is made up of a patchwork of individual stories of hard work, cow sense, sacrifice, luck and accomplishment. The Trail Blazer Award winners and their stories typify this colorful history.

Mr. Stevens was born May 3, 1914 at the Stevens Ranch southeast of Seymour in the community of Round Timbers.

A quote from Salt Pork to Sirloloin, The History of Baylor County From 1778 to Present, best describes Johnny Stevens' life: "John Stevens started 'cowboying' at a very young age. The first pair of chaps he got had to be cut off, and the piece was saved and added as he grew." Early pictures show him as a child who began his life-long interest with cattle, horses, and ranching.

Two generations before him created a setting which would provoke an interest and participation which penetrated all aspects of ranching - and a large geographical area of Texas.

John's grandfather, John Wesley Stevens, came to Texas after the Civil War from Fairview, Ohio. After fighting in the Civil War, he drifted in Illinois and Iowa, remaining in Kansas for five years, and then yielded to trail herd cowboys' enticing talk about Texas. He purchased land in Baylor County and cattle at Menard County.

By 1918, Grandad Stevens and his two sons, Roy and Elmer, had ownership of land stretching from Northfield and Cee Vee to Wellington, Texas, and what is today the Hash Knife Ranch and Millett Ranch in Baylor County. Roy was Johnny's father.

At age 16, Johnny started college at Texas A&M, ran out of money, went to work at the Pitchfork Ranch and after two years of cowboying at the Pitchfork, returned to A&M. Upon completion of college, he returned to the Pitchfork Ranch to become Virgil Parr's "primary assistant."

Leaving the Pitchfork in 1939, Johnny was "hired on the spot" to work on the Alamositas division of the Matador Ranch. After being with the Matador two weeks, the manager experienced a stroke, and the job was given to Johnny. "I had some trouble with the older hands who thought they ought to be manager. I let the one who caused the most trouble go; after that I had no more trouble." He was 25 years old.

Since 1973, Johnny and his son operate their own ranch - and do most of the work.

"I feel very lucky to have lived in the time when everything was done by horseback and when traveling was done mostly by buggy. We lived on the Brazos River and kept buggy teams in order to cross the river until about 1929. Also, I was very fortunate to have worked with the old time cowboys until the 1950s when we lived with chuckwagons and horses. Cowboying has dramatically changed with the coming of the pickup and trailer."

Johnny's wife, Helen, passed away in 1986, leaving the couple four daughters and one son.

John Stevens has lived an authentic ranching life, and has witnessed many changes. In reviewing his life, it appears that he has been challenged many times ... and those first chaps which had to be cut to length for a little boy, have been added to many times as he stepped up to those challenges.

Signs, which will be erected east and west of town. The City will pay for half of the signs and the Chamber of Commerce will pay the other half.

Jim and I returned Sunday from a glorious trip to Ruidoso, N.M. For 3 1/2 days we breathed cool, mountain air - it was wonderful! Lightning had struck the phones in the rooms at our hotel, shortly before we arrived, so we didn't even have to worry about the phone ringing. It was a nice vacation. There's nothing like the mountains to revive you and get you going again.

While there, we drove up through Lincoln National Forest and over to Cloudcroft. As you probably all know, most of that winding, mountain road is Indian reservation, so the cows and horses pretty much roam the roadways. Although there are fences, I guess they just come and go as they wish. Jim decided he wouldn't want to live there and get the calls for all those loose cattle and horses. Can you imagine?

Anyway, we had a wonderful time, away from Motley County. Everyone has to get away once a while, don't you think? The best part of the trip was stopping in Lubbock on the way there and back, and playing with Morgan. She's growing like a weed, and she's just beautiful!

I can't believe that Old Settlers is already upon us! Next weekend will be a big one for Motley County. We are working on a special edition for the Old Settlers Reunion. I hope it turns out good and everyone will enjoy it. Remember to get your pictures in if you haven't already. We need oldtime pictures of Old Settlers past, etc.

I visited the Pre-K Class at school Tuesday and took their picture. They are soooooo cute! They're tiny! Mrs. Parks, their teacher, really has her hands full. Can you imagine spending 6 hours in a room with sixteen four-year-olds. These kids are so happy, full of joy, and excited about beginning this new adventure in their lives. I really enjoyed visiting with them, it was a bright spot in my day!

LIBRARY NOTES
Suzanne Abbott

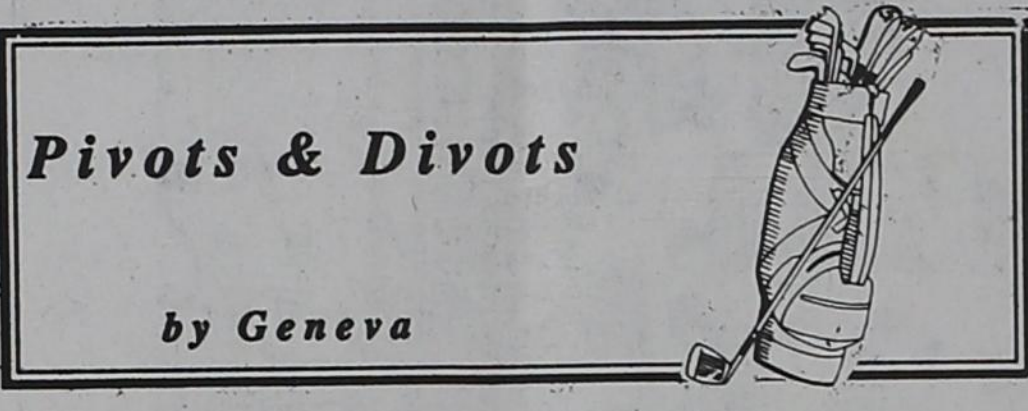

Come to the library and see our beautiful new Texas Natural Heritage Map that is now hanging on the north wall. We have had the map for several years, but, thanks to the Inaugural Funds Grant secured for us by Nelda Laney, we just now were able to get it framed. A big thanks to Charlie Johnson and Kenneth Abbott for their hard work in hanging this big map for us.

We appreciate the memorial donations to the library made by James Bearden and by Lois Bird in memory of Frank Pohl. We also thank Joanne and Steve Stevens for their donation in memory of Virginia Remillard. Thank you to Janie Hagle for her donation in memory of Mattie Davidson Edwards. Donations such as these make a lasting memorial to people who have been special in our lives, and the library could not function without memorials.

We have several new books in the library, including an "Oprah Book Club" book, The Heart of a Woman, by Maya Angelou. Also new to our shelves is Herbs that Heal by Michael A. Weiner. New fiction books include Faye Kellerman's newest, Serpent's Tooth, and Special Delivery by Danielle Steele.

A really pretty new book is Historic Ranches of Texas, text by Lawrence Clayton and paintings by J. Salvant. This book features many of the famous Texas ranches, including the Matador. There are several paintings of the ranch buildings to accompany each narrative. This and many more new books are ready to be checked out from the Motley County Library.

By their nature, summer fashions reveal more of the body's flaws than do fashion at other times of the year. Since most people have more body fat than they wish they did, the knowledge of how to conceal many body flaws seems of interest.

There are many tricks of the trade used to disguise those parts of the body that need it most. With a little planning and wise purchases, one can look slimmer without losing a pound. Just consider the fact that many people tell their friends that they look as though they have lost weight after winter woolens are put in storage.

There are, of course, some well understood rules for dressing slimmer. Cool colors -- violet, blue, green -- are generally slimming. Dark colors can be slimming also, particularly if they are not of strong intensity - charcoal, more than stark black.

Brights and neon colors tend to enlarge. Large designs or splashes of color are also used to give an illusion of greater size.

Loose fitting clothing increases apparent size unless they are of sheer fabric. The reverse can also be said, tight fitting clothing that makes a body appear to be melted and poured into them also make the body look larger. Objects of decoration that bring the eye away from the potential flaw of the body are a good idea. The eye catcher should however be in proportion to the body of the wearer of the garment.

V-neck blouses -- or dresses with diagonal lines -- are common garments that give the illusion of a slimmer body. Simple cardigan jackets - those without large decorations including pockets -- add overall length to a fashion look.

For those individuals with a large waistline, large shirt waist blouse or tunics worn over pants or skirts may be the answer. Even a skirt or pant with a waistline revealed in the front - as when wearing a cardigan jacket or unbuttoned long shirt waist blouse or skirt - can be slimming.

Curved lines can have a similar effect as V-neck or diagonal ones if the curved portion is properly placed.

Today's very popular prairie skirt does wonders for some body shapes. The key to it all is proportion and balance. To make it all work for you, if you do not have one, invest in a full length mirror. Never leave your dressing area until you get the full view! Before you know it compliments will come your way.

For additional information contact the County Extension office in the Courthouse.

Is Your Pocket Buttoned!?!?

A serviceman wrote about a bit of unintended comedy he witnessed in the army. It happened during a company inspection at the Redstone Arsenal in Alabama, the U.S. Army's guided missile school.

The inspection was being conducted by a full colonel. Everything had gone smoothly, until the officer came to the man standing just next to the soldier who recalled the incident.

The colonel stopped, looked the man up and down and snapped: "Button that pocket, trooper!"

The soldier, more than a little rattled, stammered, "Right now, sir?"

"Of course, right now!" was the reply.

Whereupon the soldier very carefully reached out and buttoned the flap on the colonel's shirt pocket.

For some reason, peculiar to our human nature, it is always easier to see the unbuttoned pockets of others than it is to see our own splinters. In others people's eyes seem to be more obvious than planks in our own eyes. Matthew 7:3, "Why do you peer at the speck in your brother's eye and overlook a log in yours?"

Notice of Public Hearing on Tax Increase

The MOTLEY COUNTY I. S. D. will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1996 by 8.96 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on Aug. 25, 1997, at 7:30 P.M. MOTLEY CO. ISD.

FOR the proposal: STAFFORD, LUCKETT, DENISON, GRUNDY, CRUSE & CLIFTON

AGAINST the proposal: NONE

PRESENT and not voting: NONE

ABSENT: THACKER

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the EFFECTIVE tax rate that the unit published on AUG. 14, 1997. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$ 23890.00	$ 23890.00
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	$ 5000.00	$ 15000.00
Average taxable value	$ 18890.00	$ 8890.00
Tax rate	1.09268 /$100	1.20 /$100 (proposed)
Tax	$ 206.41	$ 106.68 (proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would DECREASE by $ 99.73 or 48.32 percent compared with last year's taxes. Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would INCREASE by $ 1.0732 per $100 of taxable value or 8.943 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Counties in the Southern High Plains - Caprock Eradication Zone are: Andrews, Borden, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Ector, Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Howard, Kent, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Motley, Terry and Yoakum.

The August estimate for yield in the area hovers near the one-bale mark bringing estimated production in at 3.08 million bales.

The area could have even greater potential, primarily depending on a favorable weather pattern during the month of September and through harvest.

It's old news that there will be no diapause program in 1997.

The latest news, following the referendum, is there will be no areawide boll weevil control program in 1998 unless producers demand one after the first of the year.

Producers spoke through the recent referendum and said "No" to establishing a Southern High Plains/Caprock boll weevil eradication zone. This "No" vote to the first item on the referendum ballot eliminated all subsequent items.

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers learned Wednesday that of some 13,200 voting forms mailed out only 6,636 valid ballots were returned. Just 48.4% of these voted for Proposition #1, well short of the two-thirds majority needed to establish the zone.

In a meeting of PCG's Boll Weevil Steering Committee discussing the results members expressed respect for producers not being ready to accept the proposals offered by Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation.

State Senator Robert Duncan, attending the meeting stated: "This is not the time to quit. It's imperative that we have a program in this area. It's time to enlist support from those who have been sitting on the sidelines."

PCG has always taken a proactive stance in facing the boll weevil issue. The organization will continue to gather and publish boll weevil population data from its established trapping programs as service to producers faced with fighting the insect one-on-one.

The end result of this referendum is that cotton producers are 100% responsible for any, and all, boll weevil control on their own farmers. PCG stands ready to carry out the future desires of producers in regard to boll weevil control activities.

High Plains cotton producers have worked hard over the past decade and a half to improve the quality and perception of the cotton they grow.

This effort has been enhanced over the past three years by High Plains producers participating in the beltwide "Fiber Forum" sponsored by Fiber magazine.

The "Fiber Forum" is exactly what it seems, a forum during which producers and spinners can discuss current issues. Participants can then work to develop strategies for avoiding potential problems and enhancing the value of products produced at both ends of this marketing chain.

During past Forums High Plains producers have had to travel to the Southeast to attend the meetings. Now, efforts are underway to bring the next "Fiber Forum" to the High Plains. If all goes well Lubbock could host the next Form in March of 1998.

"This is really an outstanding opportunity for growers across the High Plains to visit directly with the end-users of about 55 percent of their production," says PCG President Jackie Burris of Wellman. "By taking the time to visit with the people who utilize our crops, we can target our efforts towards producing the type of cotton they need to operate efficiently."

Numbers published by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service indicate approximately 3.26 million acres from an initial planting of 3.44 million acres.

GETTING YOUR NAME RIGHT IN YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY RECORDS

How your name is recorded on your employer's records can affect how your earnings are reported to the Social Security Administration. The information on your W-2 should match your name and Social Security number on your Social Security card. The name on your Social Security card matches your permanent Social Security earnings record.

Your employer should record your name using the first name, middle initial and last name. Don't use titles or suffixes, such as Mr. or Mrs., Dr., MD, or PhD.

If you have a compound name, connect it with a hyphen. Don't separate your name with a blank space or join into a single word. To record Pamela Ann Peabody Jones, it should appear as Pamela A. Peabody-Jones.

If you change your name, continue using your old name until you get a new Social Security card showing your new name. Using your new name without updating Social Security's records may prevent posting of earnings to your record.

Notifying the company you work for will not update Social Security records. You should report name changes directly to Social Security by calling toll free 1-800-772-1213. You can change your name and get a new Social Security card free. There is no charge for this service.

Getting a Green Thumb

Q. I can't seem to get anything to grow. Is a green thumb something you're born with, or can it be acquired?

A. Actually, a green thumb is in your head. It's simply a positive state of mind about growing things.

Raising houseplants successfully requires a combinations of lots of actions—choosing the right plants for the right spot, watering properly, feeding properly with a quality fertilizer such as Miracle-Gro, showing love, playing the right music—but most of all, showing confidence. It may help to start with something hardy such as sansevieria, often called snake plant or mother-in-law's tongue. As it grows, it can help your confidence grow. Then, all it takes is willingness to give some time and energy to the care of your plants—and you'll find you've grown yourself a green thumb.
