Memorial Day Service Held

DESPITE the Holiday Bill changing Memorial Day to Monday, residents of Matador observed the traditional day at East Mound Cemetery yesterday. The ceremony was held at 7 a.m. and a larger than average group attended.

"Memorial day was started in memory of men who had died for their country," Rev. Leonard Sims, pastor of the First Baptist Church, told the audience. "But during the years we have forgotten the purpose in many instances... we have forgotten the blessings of God and the sacrifices of men who gave their lives to protect our freedom..." Rev. Sims made the principal address.

He cited a quotation from the Bible, (Judges 20:16) "Among all this people were seven hundred chosen men left-handed... everyone could sling a stone at a hair's breadth, and not miss."

The soldiers had been maimed in their right arms, but continued to fight by training to use their left arms and hands.

"We ought to come with humble hearts and gratefulness for our blessings," Rev. Sims said. "God has blessed us. He has blessed our country and kept it safe..."

"Freedom has always cost a great price and will continue to do so... men have died because they believed in what they were doing... we as God's people, ought to praise Him for that which he has given us."

The flag was raised by Boy Scouts, Rickey Turner, Mark Wason, Douglas Campbell and Grant Johnson.

Invocation was by Rev. Douglas Gossett, pastor of the First United Methodist Church. The song "America" was led by J. R. Whitworth. The rifle salute firing squad included the following veterans, John Briscoe, Lon Terry, R. C. Giesecke, W. R. Tilton, Larry Hoyle, D. P. Keith, Charles Johnson, Billy Wason, Carl King, Joe Smith, Jim Parks and Ward Rattan. Taps was sounded by Rattan.

Decorations of veterans graves followed the program.

United Methodist Churches Observe Rural Life Sunday

The First United Methodist Churches of Matador and Roaring Springs observed Rural Life Sunday on May 27, with special services stressing Soil Stewardship Week, May 27 through June 3.

The ritual of the dedication of Soil Seed and Sower was given by four primary children of the Matador Church.

Karl Palmeyer placed a jar of soil on the altar, representing the soil on farms and ranches. Susannah Woodruff added a jar of water representing the need for water. Cindy Johnson placed a jar of planting seeds, representing the seeds now being planted in the fields, and Charles Ed Cammack placed the Holy Bible on the altar, containing God's word to man, in which Jesus Christ teaches us that man does not live by bread alone, but by the Word of God.

Tony Dean of the Upper Pease Soil Conservation District in Motley County, presented the sermon for the worship service. His theme was based on Soil and Water Stewardship information sent out by the District.

The leaflet, "Consider These Changing Challenges" was distributed to the congregation. Dean was speaking to his own congregation, where he is a member of The Administrative Board, and a member of the choir, and Young Adult Sunday School class.

FOUR CAPTAINS FOR 73-74 TEAM

By Lance Jameson

When writing my last sports story for the paper, which was naming the 1973-74 Matador football captains, I omitted the name of Doug Meador, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Meador.

This year, the football squad chose four captains rather than three as I stated. I apologize for not getting the facts straight and fade away from sports writing with a red face.

The other captain selections were Thomas Tilton, son of Mrs. June Tilton, Billy Osborn, son of Mrs. Betty Bearden and Kelly Keltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Keltz.

Mrs. Miller, who is retiring, has taught school for 49 years, with 44 of those years in the Roaring Springs school system.

It was a community affair with almost everyone sharing in the observance.

"This is the first orchid I ever received in my life," Mrs. Miller declared as she proudly displayed the flower on her dress. Among the gifts which she received at the reception was a beautiful perpetual floral arrangement in a cut glass bowl, which centered the refreshment table. Punch, coffee and cake were served to a host of friends and well-wishers, who registered between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

Gifts also included money, with which the gracious retiring teacher could purchase a gift of her own choosing. During the afternoon she expressed appreciation to guests and those on the reception committee.

OPENING DATE FOR SPRAYING MESQUITE SET

The opening date for aerial mesquite spraying is set for June 10th, according to Ervin Willard of the local SCS Office. Cool spring weather delayed the leaf buds of the mesquite tree resulting in a later opening date than normal, Willard said.

It is also recommended that the soil temperature at a depth of 12-14" reach a minimum of 73-75 degrees prior to spraying, according to Willard. Research has found that permanent root kill increases with the increased soil temperature in the spring. For further information and assistance, contact the local SCS Office representing your Upper Pease SWCD.

Receiving Degree At 68 Is Rewarding

ONE OF Matador's newest residents, Mrs. Agnes Aaron, 68, received her degree from Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Oklahoma, May 18.

Present on this momentous occasion were her seven daughters and members of their families. Her son, John Aaron, a physicist employed in Houston by NASA, was unable to join the family.

Mrs. Aaron, who graduated cum laude only a few months before her 69th birthday, is the mother of Mrs. Reece (Grace) Timmons, a member of the Motley County High School faculty.

She has purchased a home in southwest Matador. "I like Matador very much," she declared. "I like the birds and I like the vistas... I like the people."

Mrs. Aaron is a commissioned lay speaker of the First United Methodist Church and has served as pastor of several small churches during the past 16 years. She joined the Methodist Church in 1933 and has held almost every office in the church. She has served as president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, lay speaker and Sunday School teacher.

The former Agnes Eversole, Mrs. Aaron was born in Gonzales County and grew to womanhood in South Texas. She graduated from Skidmore High School in 1922 and married John Aaron the same year, at Beeville, Texas. The family moved to Mangum, Oklahoma in 1957 and Mr. Aaron died there in 1966.

Mrs. Aaron was featured in an article in The Weatherford (Okla.) Daily News, issue of May 17. Following are excerpts from that publication.

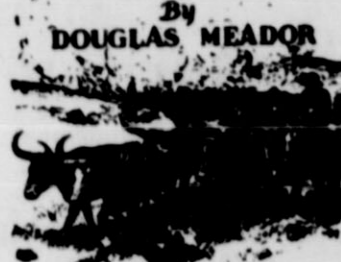

After watching her children accept five degrees during Southwestern State College graduation ceremonies, her children will get to see their mother (Mrs. Aaron) take the sixth degree in the family, from SWSC. Two daughters have degrees from West Texas State University.

Mrs. Aaron has always thought she wanted to go to college but she married shortly after she finished high school. After she lost her husband, Mrs. Aaron decided she didn't want to just stay at home and feel sorry for herself.

She first enrolled at Altus Junior College, where she completed three semesters then transferred to SWSC when one of her daughters decided to work on her masters degree in Weatherford.

Mrs. Aaron explained that she has thoroughly enjoyed living in Weatherford the past four years. She said she would recommend the college for anyone, especially for older people. "The mind needs to be exercised, just like any other organ of the body. If people are alone, they need to have a goal or something to work for. Even if they have been to college, they could work toward another or higher degree."

TRAIL DUST

Music is a delicate language reflecting moods of mankind and the world through the ages. It has lifted the spirit and brought peace to troubled hearts, to the affluent and poor alike; and music has brought inspiration and courage in dark hours. Music was the voice of love and romance, until it was diluted with noise under the guise of rock and roll and seduced with weird sounds by weird musicians. Fortunately, time will eradicate the impurities from the once gentle art, and sound will return to decency and again touch the hand of dreamers.

The restless clouds move gently before the force of the winds and seem afraid at times to proceed. They may hesitate for an instant like souls at the portals of eternity.

Religion plays a mighty role in the lives of those with faith and proceeds without fanfare to point the way to the destitute of spirit. It can be like the hydrant so close to a flower withering with thirst. The hand of faith can turn the handle and provide life in abundance.

Nature has many examples of courage, as the gnarled mesquite growing on top of a rocky hill, swept by winter winds and summer storms but persistent in its purpose. Recently I heard a mockingbird continuing its song in defiance of rumbling thunder.

There is a tendency in journalism to produce a headline and leading paragraph to cause the reader to think he is going to find something intensely interesting. It is a trick which leaves no substance for thought and little entertainment in many cases.

Some good is going to come out of the current Watergate scandal despite the depreciation in a nation's confidence. The public is not worried about our form of government but it is going to use greater care in voting for leaders. The scar Watergate has left on the Republican party will never be erased. It is going to require a great leader to allow its toleration.

Rites Set for Wylie Lee Jr.

Services for Wylie Wilson "Tinker" Lee Jr., 28, will be at 3 p.m. Thursday (today) in Singleton-Ellis Funeral home Chapel of the Chimes in Muleshoe.

He was killed in an oil field accident in the Brighton area near Denver, Colo., late Friday, relatives here and at Roaring Springs were informed.

Officiating will be A. B. Martin, Church of Christ minister of Seymour, and Frank Duckworth, Church of Christ minister of Lockney. Burial will be in the Muleshoe Cemetery.

Lee moved to Louisville, Colo., two years ago from Muleshoe. He was born in Matador, June 28, 1944, and died May 25, 1973. He was employed on an oil drilling rig.

Survivors include his wife, Phyllis; three daughters, Gina, Melissa and Kimberly, all of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Lee Sr., of Muleshoe; his grandparents, N. E. Davis of Roaring Springs and Mrs. Sarah Lee of Levelland; four sisters, Mrs. Harold Clark of Morton, Mrs. Billy Derrick of Texaco, Mrs. Weldon Duke of Levelland and Mrs. Richard Lewallen of Muleshoe; and three brothers, Billy of Tucson, and Albert and Aaron, both of Muleshoe.

THEY CAME TO SEE AND HEAR an idol. This is only a portion of the crowd that attended "Bob Wills Day" in Turkey, Saturday, April 28. The musical favorite, now in poor health, is not shown but protected from the sun by the umbrella in lower center. Beyond crowd at extreme top is the Bob Wills memorial which was later unveiled for the musician. Over 2500 people attended the noon barbecue.

Soil Conservation Week thru June 3

By Tony Dean

Our nation is operating at a faster pace than ever, and with this comes a higher rate of change, including changes in agriculture and our environment.

May 27 through June 3 is Soil Stewardship week, a week set aside by the National Association of Conservation Districts to remind people of every race and religion that our natural resources are gifts from God and they deserve our best in Christian stewardship.

The theme for the 1973 soil stewardship observance is "Changing Challenges". Some of the new questions facing modern stewardship are: can we plan land use for whole regions as well as for ranches and farms; can we strive for an end to pollution as we've fought against gullies and floods; can we acknowledge that rights of ownership must be tempered by the common good of all people; and, can we find ways to capture the vigor of young people who care for the land?

The upper Pease Soil and Water Conservation District of Motley County is interested in wise use of all resources and asks your support in dealing with these new challenges as well as the long standing conservation problems that we have always faced.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

A new vaccine is available to reduce newborn calf losses from a form of diarrhea caused by a reo-like virus. Known as reo-viral diarrhea vaccine, the new product has been licensed by the USDA and is available to cattle producers through local veterinarians. The vaccine was developed and patented by the University of Nebraska.

The new vaccine is not a cure-all for all types of diarrhea in young calves, but can be helpful where losses from calf scours occur during the first week of life. The vaccine is mixed with a diluent in a syringe, the syringe needle removed, and the vaccine sprayed into the back of the calf's mouth. Treatment should be as soon as possible after birth, and vaccination after the first day of life probably won't stop diarrhea.

As there is no alternative way to prevent this type of diarrhea in young animals, this new release appears to have a place in livestock production practices.

AN EXPRESSION OF GRATITUDE

How can I say "Thank You" Big Enough to express my deep gratitude for the many, many kindnesses shown me during the 44 years I have served as a teacher in the Roaring Springs Public School?

I owe special thanks to all my co-workers, my administrators, fellow teachers, patrons, students and all other friends.

The reception given in my honor by the community was overwhelmingly beautiful and heart-warming. Again there are just no words to express my sincere feelings.

Lem joins me in my deep appreciation for every act of thoughtfulness. We are indebted to so many for so much, and to everyone who has added so many blessings to our lives.

Very sincerely,
Emma Miller (1)

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our heart felt thanks and appreciation to our many friends and neighbors of the Afton and Dickens communities, during the time and loss of our mother and sister, Mrs. Lizzy "Ethridge" Johnson.

The service by Bro. Victor Crabtree, the song service, the prayers, flowers and food prepared will long be remembered. May God bless and keep you in our prayer.

The Ogle and Ethridge families (2)

IN APPRECIATION

I am so grateful to my friends and relatives, who shared my ninety-third birthday with me. Thank you for your cards, gifts, phone calls and other expressions of love, shown in innumerable ways. Most of all, thank you for your love and faithfulness throughout the years.
