Officer Reveals Child Was Held In Spokane, Washington WASHINGTON (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, said Monday his agents ascertained that George Weyerhaeuser, 3, Tacoma, Wash., kidnaped youth, was hidden at 1507 West Eleventh street, Spokane, Wash.

Planned

The administration and Big Business face each other like two kids who can't make up their minds whether to fight or be friends. Mr. Roosevelt has deliberately stepped down from the New Deal cab. He has invited private industry to take the throttle. That is the meaning of the confusing maneuvers at Washington.

Irritant

The President neatly anticipated this dilemma. In fact, he welcomes it as an escape from his present predicament. Privately and publicly he has said, in effect, that Big Business is now on trial. He is willing to "let it stew in its own juice," as one adviser puts it.

TEXAS GRADE CROSSING

It is unlikely that Texas will look in the near future to seeing streamlined trains traveling in excess of 100 miles an hour, such as are now going into regular service in the East. But it is not too soon to start to prepare for such service.

The many problems of building trains capable of speeds above the century mark have been solved. Efficient power plants have been evolved, lighter and stronger wheels been employed, and streamlining has helped reduce resistance and save fuel at high speeds.

But having built their trains the railroads are now confronted with the problem of how to run them. Lightness and speed call for still smoother track, long-radius curves and a complicated system of block signals.

Greatest obstacles to high speeds, however, are grade crossings. In Texas, as elsewhere, grade crossings present a decided hazard to life and limb when with present day speeds. What then would be that hazard to speeds ranging from one and a half to two miles a minute?

With the majority of railroads in precarious financial condition little may be expected of them in the matter of grade crossing elimination, a fact which has probably prompted President Roosevelt, in the earmarking of $200,000,000 of the public works fund for this purpose.

The state of Texas has some 5,500 grade crossings, 1,074 of them on state highways. With a view toward the elimination of this latter number the state highway department plans a campaign which will call for $11,000,000 of the federal allotment. Just how much more the state plans to spend is not known.

Authorities differ as to what proportion of the expense of this elimination should be borne by the public, but it is doubtful if in the case of Texas the railroads will be called upon to share the burden.

The state highway department long ago realized that asking help from the roads was fruitless, and went quietly ahead with an elimination program of its own.

In some states the railroads are compelled to pay half the cost of elimination, while in New York state they bear one-third of the cost. In others the state assumes a still larger portion on the grounds that since the state, through roads, made competition possible, the public should supply most of the cost.

However, regardless of who bears the cost, the sooner we eliminate these grade crossings the sooner we may expect improved rail service. As the railroad situation now stands Texas, the largest state in the Union, ranks low in the point of efficient service, and without help it is unlikely that the railroads will raise their standards.

IT'S HARD TO PITY THE RICH

The poor little rich girl used to be a subject of widespread pity, especially in plays and novels. Perhaps it was rather soothing to those of us who were never cured by superfluous cash to reflect that you can have all the money in the world and still suffer from dissatisfaction and boredom.

Anyway, this ancient motif has popped into the news again. This time we have a wealthy young lady from Illinois who went to New York to see the sights a few months ago and who has found that a life of elegant idleness is all a snare and a delusion.

So she is advertising for a chance to undertake some sort of adventure or exploration; and she says, "I'm fed up with teas and cocktails parties—I want to do something real and exciting."

It all follows the time-honored tradition. And yet it is somehow hard to feel the pity we used to feel in such cases.

KYUITLER PRODUCES WIN MARK

Pyron's 'Horses' Fail To Gain Advantage Until Late

MIDLAND (Sp.)—A doubtful hit down the right field line that rolled into the cars gave the Midland Colts a run in the ninth inning and a 7-6 decision over the Big Spring Cowboys Sunday.

The Colts found two Big Spring hurriers for a total of twelve hits during the afternoon but they could not gain an advantage until the last stanza.

The visitors collected 10 hits off Hanks, Midland pitcher. The Cowhands led off with a run in the first, made a pair while the Colts were breaking the ice in the third, and ran their lead to 5-1 in the fourth when Morgan and Moxley tallied.

Pop Payne, however, was relieved in the fourth, and the Ponies suddenly hit their stride against his successor, Livian Harris, and took the lead with a five run rally in the fourth and fifth.

Both pitchers tightened to pitch shutout ball until the ninth, although Hanks was in trouble in the seventh when "Dutch" Moxley was issued a free ticket to first and went to third on Baker's double across third base. Moxley, however, was out when an attempt hit and run play with Morgan at the bat went "haywire" and "Mittman" Kyuttler caught the "Squarehead" at the plate.

Hanks faltered again in the ninth and the Cowboys went into a deadlock when Martin, Brown and Moxley binged in succession. Martin's blow into right center would have been good for four bases had not it been hit directly into the wind.

Harris was wild when he returned to the mound and Woody coaxed a pass out of him as he began Midland's part of the ninth. The right-hander steadied to send Estes back to the dugout on three pitched balls, but Kyuttler stepped up to produce the blow that decided the game.

"Pepper" Martin was a puzzle to the Midland flinger, collecting a double and two singles in five at-bats, to lead the Harrison's assault. Morgan and Moxley along with Martin divided the major share of the Cowboy's offense with two blows each.

Estes, Baumgarten and Hanks collected half the Midlandites' 12 hits with two bingles each.

Maxie In Fine Shape

(By the Associated Press)

At Asbury Park, N. J., where Max Baer is conditioning himself for his 15-round bout with Jim Braddock, the world's heavyweight champion is putting on just the same sort of show that marked his training for his winning efforts against Schmeling and Carnera.

Apparently Baer cannot or will not take these training sessions seriously. He clowns with his sparring mates, shows off while punching the bag and has a lot of fun going through the motions of training. This generally trying part of a ring athlete's life is no grind to Max—he won't have it so.

And yet for all the fooling he does, Baer looks in splendid physical condition. He looks ready to step into the ring and defend his heavyweight crown.

"Why criticize my training methods," he asked "I set to the top of the pile with them, didn't I? Maybe they would be all wrong for someone else but they suit me perfectly. So why should I change at this stage of the game?"

He's Satisfied
Perhaps there is a lot in what the champion has to say. What more could the generally accepted routine give him than he already has?

His refusal to take the training work seriously is well in line with his light-hearted, carefree temperament. Nature has been most generous in equipping him for the prize ring and at the same time spared him the sort of disposition which makes one fret and worry.

He has supreme confidence in himself and in his ability to put any man in the world on the floor with his powerful right fist.

Max points to the 40 rounds of fighting he has done in exhibition bouts this past year. The best possible sort of preparation in the world for his coming bout with Braddock, he insists. With that work behind him, Baer believes that he needs only a bit of polishing and general conditioning to be ready to enter the ring.

Buddy Comes Along
Perhaps it is because he is the direct opposite of his flamboyant, spectacular brother, Max, that Buddy Baer so appeals to a visitor at the camp.

The younger brother of the champion has demonstrated that he, too, is blessed with more than ordinary fistic talent since he took up boxing a year ago. He was then 18, bulked around 265, was 6 feet 6 inches tall and something of a fat boy. Today he is down to 240, he has learned rapidly and has secured 23 victories in 24 fights since last October.

When visitors come into camp Buddy hies away to a secluded corner to entertain himself with a book or to do some sketching and yields all the clamor and glamor to his "big" brother.

Buddy is hesitant about showing his sketching efforts to anyone although they are well done considering the fact that the youngster has had no technical training since he was a boy.

In addition to his other talents the boy has a fine baritone voice which if he cared to have cultivated promises to carry him to even greater fame than his prowess with the padded gloves.

CASTLE TO GO AFTER MARVEL IN EARNEST

"Just let Bob Castle or anyone else try to take my mask off," the unknown bone-bender has boasted to the Big Spring Athletic club manager. The Marvel has let it be known that he has no intentions of holding around tomorrow night just to let Castle amuse himself.

The Marvel has never had his mask torn off. However, the grumpy Castle says there's always a first time, and he intends to make it Tuesday night. "If that ain't plain silk won't give his head will," Castle declared.

Bob might well remember, tho, that while he's tugging at the headgear the Marvel will be flashing some of his speed and scientific affects. The unknown fellow has an effective attack for any opponent. A snappy semi-go match and special event has been arranged, such with a new "face". All three matches promise to be fast, with a few knuckles and knees thrown in to make things more interesting.

Golfers Stage Close Matches

The Herald and Texas Electric golf teams in the Mundy league broke even Sunday with three points each. City Hall and Leander also wound up at 3-3.

The Chevrolet shot-makers had an easy time with the South Seery's Slicers, collecting five of the six points.

American Airlines team was forced to withdraw, and Guit won by default, 5-1. West Texas Motor took the place of the Flyers.

Schedule for this week:
League No. 1—Herald vs. Settles; Young's Cafe vs. Texas Electric.
League No. 2—Montgomery Ward vs. Mundy Swimming Pool; First National Bank vs. Madison's Barber's.
League No. 3—City Hall vs. South Seery Slicers; Big Spring Laundry vs. Carter Chevrolet; Gulf Refiners vs. West Texas Motor.

Koenig, Lazzeri To Meet Again—As Series Foes?

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the most interesting phases of the 1935 "subway world series"—if it should come to pass—is the fact that such an all-Gotham meeting would bring together, as rivals, the two halves of the stellar keystone combination of some of the greatest Yankee tennis.

Tony "Poosh 'em Up" Lazzeri is still doing business at the old stand for the onrushing Yanks while Mark Anthony Koenig, his old sidekick at shortstop, has bobbed up with the over-the-Harlem rivals, the Giants.

Not only has Koenig bobbed up after more than four years of wandering, but his brilliant and steady play has clinched for him the title he had a lien on even before Bill Terry nabbed him from Cincinnati, to wit: that of the greatest "plumber" in the game.

Koenig has had his ups and downs in quantities few players know, even in the fickle business of baseball. Had eyes appeared to have finished him as an infielder five years ago. He tried pitching, but after a brief spell with the Detroiters gave that up and went to the coast.

The Cubs picked him up late in the '32 campaign, and he was a leading figure and spirit in the phenomenal drive the Bruins undertook to win the pennant that year—only to be given a fractional world series share and subsequently shipped to Cincinnati.

Terry got him this spring for infield utility work, and he has been more than handy filling in at second, third and shortstop during the wave of incapacitations that struck Hughey Crif, Travis Jackson and Dick Bartell.

He has, in fact, been found so exceedingly convenient that he is one of only four Giants—the others are Terry, Leiber and Ott—who played every minute of every game through the first six weeks of the season.

Steady work, and responsibility, have helped Mark. He's batting over the .200 mark and fielding better with every passing week.

Faye Runyan returned Sunday from Abilene where she has spent two weeks visiting friends.

Refiners Hit Davidson Hard

Spike's Oilers Defeat Carter Chevy Sunday, 11-4

Carter Chevrolet fell victim to the fourth place Cooden Oilers and went down in defeat, 11-4, in Sunday afternoon's only softball game on the Mundy diamond.

"Dumco" Davidson failed to exercise the control he had held over the other teams and was hit hard in his stay on the mound.

Davidson had the most trouble with "Pepper" Martin, who enjoyed a perfect day at bat with a home run, three singles and a walk in five trips.

Three of the Carterites four runs were made by circuit clouts, two of which came in the ninth.

The Krausmen found Henninger for ten hits but the Cooden manager scattered them handily over the route.

The Oilers tallied twice in the first, once in the second, hit hard for four runs in the fourth, two in the fifth, and three in the sixth, and polished their victory off with a two-run uprising in the ninth.

I Used To Be Private Secretary

BEFORE I married, I mean. Which was three years ago. But I still remember—and I'm never going to forget—how my boss ran his business.

I never saw such a successful man. When I first started to work for him, I thought he was just lucky. But I learned differently after I was with him for a while.

He never gave out a contract—never bought a thing, mind you—until he had studied all the bids made him, and compared all the points. I used to collect and file them for him, so he could get the facts when he needed them. So I know.

I know now, all right. That's the way I run my home. Only I don't have to collect and file my bids. I get them regularly in my newspaper. And do I study the advertisements carefully before I buy? You're telling me!

DRIVING THE WATERFRONT AS FLOODS APPROACH

Several thousand men were hired for emergency flood work at Kansas City as the turbulent Missouri river began flooding lowlands nearby. This large crew of laborers is shown filling sacks from a trench dug between railroad tracks, preparatory to laying them upon the rails and anchoring them. Other hundreds of men were dispatched to various points along the Kaw to protect property within the expected reach of the approaching high water. (Associated Press Photo)

'NUMBER ONE' TO THE G-MEN

Finds Ransom Cash

SHE LIKED EUROPEAN MEN, BUT—

Once upon a time Marjorie Geirich, socially prominent writer, penned an article approving European men. When she chose her own husband, however, it was piano-playing Eddie Duchin, orchestra leader, born in Massachusetts. They are shown after the marriage in New York. (Associated Press Photo)

GOLF ACES IN ACTION AT NATIONAL OPEN TOURNEY

SING SING 'GRAD' TO TRY BASEBALL

Army Colonel Held

SHE'S A RANSOM MONEY HUNTER

Like thousands of other cashiers and clerks, Miss Iva Rasmussen, cashier of a Tacoma hotel dining room, spends her spare time checking $5, $10 and $20 bills against a list of the 20,000 ransom bills given to kidnapers of 9-year-old George Weyerhaeuser of Tacoma. (Associated Press Photo)

Fear Lad Kidnaped

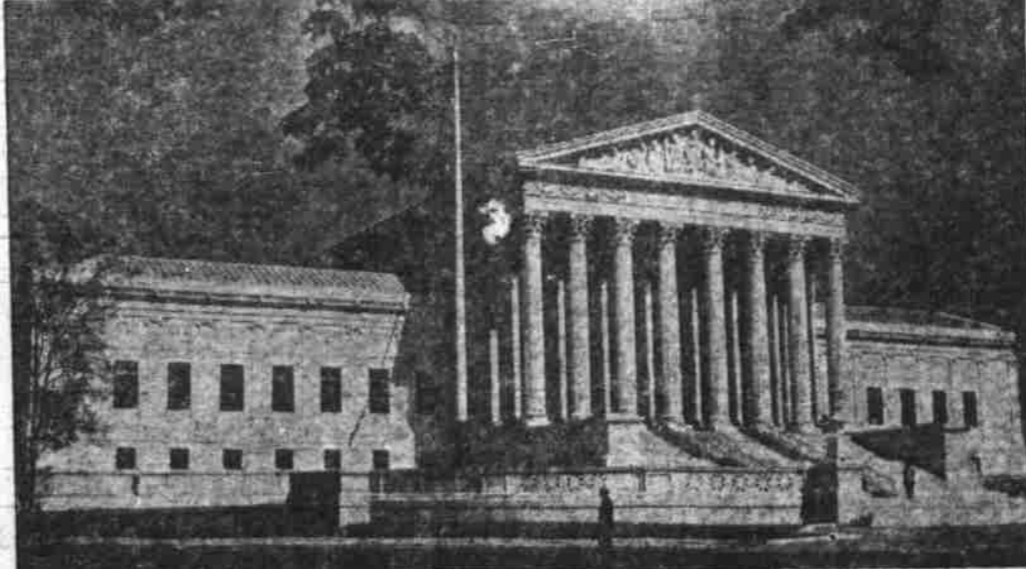

The absence of Jackie Kaul, 5, (above) from his New York home led to fears that he had been kidnaped in the mistaken belief that he was the son of wealthy parents. (Associated Press Photo)

KAW INVADES HOMES AS LEVEE FAILS TO HOLD

Homeowners of North Lawrence, Kas., were forced to a hasty retreat before the flooding waters of the angry Kaw river as it swept through a levee break. As Mrs. Lawrence's family making a quick exit from their home in a motor launch, the levee broke through when the waters surged into the low-lying residential district. (Associated Press Photo)

HOOVER TRIES VERMONT'S FISH

Former President Herbert Hoover found some "good water" during his pleasure trip through Vermont. In this peaceful setting he said politics were taboo, and devoted his time to casting for fish near Barnard, Garfield Miller of White River Junction pulled the oars. A Proclamation

WHEREAS, this city has been served for many years by the Texas & Pacific Railroad Company, and WHEREAS this railroad has long played a vital part in the lives of our people, and

WHEREAS, this railroad has paid, and continued to pay, large amounts in taxes, and WHEREAS, this railroad has furnished employment for many, and in, first, reducing basic fares and sleeping car charges, and, second, in air-conditioning all principal passenger trains, and

WHEREAS, this has meant lowered cost and improved travel service to the traveling public, and WHEREAS, the governors of western states have asked that the public pay honor to Western Railroads for their continued pioneering.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, C. E. Talbot, mayor of the City of Big Spring, Texas, ask our citizens to join in the observance of "Railroad Week" for Monday, June 10, to Saturday, June 15.

(SIGNED) C. E. TALBOT, Mayor of Big Spring, Texas

A BRACE OF TOUGH GUYS

"The Thin Man's Hardbodied Brother," George Raft in Dashiell Hammett's 'The Glass Key,' in which he has a role similar to the one which brought him fame in 'Scarface'; Popeye the Sailor in his newest cartoon, "Choose Your Weppins" are the two tough guys pictured above.

and inauguration—now running in a national magazine. Written by a former Hoover secretary and the ex-President's literary executor, it assails Mr. Roosevelt for his failure to cooperate with his predecessor.

Notes—Lawmakers saw the President's "must" list of fourteen huge bills and gave up hopes of July vacation. Two NRA's are visioned—one, the skeleton of the old, to keep the framework together, and a second, fully worked out with law muscles, teeth in everything.

NEW YORK By James McMullin There was a significant angle to the Edison Electric Institute convention at Atlantic City which escaped general attention.

Incision—The Interstate Commerce Commission's contribution to the passenger traffic problem—a suggestion for national adoption of uniform low rates—has a lot of railroad men up on their ears.

Overtime—The chain letter craze is developing new tangles. Many New York veterans have received a form letter asking them to kick in for a dollar for a fund to be administered by the heads of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans.

community in northern Howard County bearing the same name. When the community was founded it was one of the most modern rural centers of the time.

Magnified—The story that Lindbergh is no longer TWA's technical adviser—carrying implications of a sensational bust-up—was a fine example of magnifying a mouse to a mouse.

Harassed—New Yorkers get word that the Japanese are selling watchworks successfully in Geneva, Switzerland, cheaper than the Swiss can make them.

Sidelights—A French Library will be established in New York this fall. That's a polite name for propaganda bureau.
