Motley Co. Seniors To Present Class Play

The Senior Class will present its class play on Monday, Nov. 5, at 7:30 p.m. The play, "Lock, Stock, and Lipstick," is a 1950's comedy about a woman-hating guidance counselor, Gordon Warren, played by Bill Palmer. Plunkett, played by Eddie Roys, is the school custodian but does his share of "counseling," on the side. He is assisted by Mrs. Maggs (Kay Phillips).

Pam Francis is the principal, Miss Entwistle and Sharlene Smith portrays, Miss Prather, the paranoid school Math Teacher.

Larry and Don Danley are the new kids in town and are complete opposites. Don (Randy Hunter) is the model student, while Larry, (David Green) is a leather-jacketed trouble maker.

Rebecca Finch is Carol Izzard, Larry's girl and Gwen Calvert portrays Mary Lou Brennan, the all-around American girl. Jane Gardner, played by Gina Long, upsets the balance of Gordon Warren's world when she is hired as a girls guidance counselor and comes in with a fresh outlook and new ideas.

Action in the play really picks up with the disappearance of over $500 of yearbook money. Circumstantial evidence indicates that Larry is guilty of having taken the money. His mother played by Lucretia Johnson, appears then, and offends everyone with her boorish ways and wild accusations.

The climax comes with the reappearance of the money and the mystery is completely cleared up.

Mr. Warren decides women aren't so bad after all and Mr. Plunkett finds his own true love.

Jackie Bearden, Pamela Pitta, Vicky Halford and Barbara Lee will portray various high school students and Dewayne

Walker and Kyle Moore are Stage managers and crew. Danny James and Carrol Clancy are directing the play and Wayland Moore is the class sponsor.

Admission for the play will be $1.25 for adults and .75¢ for students. The Seniors invite everyone to come and enjoy an evening of comedy.

COUNTY MEETING -- Dr. Tony Way, (right) instructor at the Tech school of medicine, answers questions directed by residents who were interested enough in local medical care to attend the meeting. Jim Clayton of the South Plains Health Providers in Plainview and nurse practitioner Jean Bell of Crosbyton also were guests of the local hospital board at the meeting.

Health Care Meeting Held Here Oct. 24

A community meeting held in the Motley County Courthouse on Wednesday, Oct. 24, on the subject of health care for this area enlightened many residents who were doubtful if a clinic with a nurse practitioner would be successful in Matador.

Jim Clayton, projector director for South Plains Health Providers in Plainview, introduced Dr. Tony Way of the Texas Tech School of Medicine, and Jean Bell, nurse practitioner from Crosbyton, to the assembly. Also present at the meeting was Ronald D. Warner, president of the South Plains Health Systems, Inc., in Lubbock who assured the people this was a top priority matter.

Mrs. Bell began by explaining what a nurse practitioner was and what one could do. "We can give complete physicals, take care of all common ailments, see patients on a monthly basis, give shots and write prescriptions of certain drugs," she said. "Any case that is serious enough will be referred to a doctor. We can treat 80 per cent of all cases which need medical care."

Dr. Way, who visits Mrs. Bell's clinic once a week, sees patients which she has referred to him. The patients are able to see the doctor on a regular basis and save driving expenses. Way said the system was working very well in Crosbyton and the patients he saw were only the more serious. Mrs. Bell, he said, took care of most of them.

"From a community standpoint a nurse practitioner is a health care provider who diagnoses and treats," Dr. Way said. "She recognizes the common ailments and the ones that need more elaborate treatment."

Way said this meant that she kept charts and records which were reviewed by him one day per week. The doctor sets all the rules and regulations and she practices as if she was the doctor. The doctor assumes full responsibility for everything the nurse does.

"I see about 300 patients a month in Crosbyton," Mrs. Bell said.

The nurse practitioner is not an emergency person. Those cases needing emergency care would need to be rushed on to a hospital. She also, the officials stated, would not be on call a 24 hour day, seven days a week, and with only limited after hours service.

"I think you can forget about getting a doctor to come here and operating 24 hours a day out of your hospital," Way told the group. "Those days are all but gone. What you do need to think about is getting someone here to provide the everyday care that is needed. I think this is the best way for you to go."

Way told the assembly that this was not second class medical care.

"Patients get as good or better care than they get from doctors, because the nurse practitioner takes more time and shows more interest in each one."

Warner told the audience that they needed to decide soon if this is what they want in Motley County. He said there were different ways for this to be funded (locally or HEW loan) and that needed to be decided also.

Clayton said a nurse practitioner had already said he would like to move to Matador and several doctors were interested in the program here also.

After a question and answer session covering office call cost, insurance and other topics, local hospital board president Larry Hoyle said it was up to the people whether this was successful or not, depending on if they used it. He also noted that board members would like feedback from the people of the county.

Matadors Fall 34-6 to Valley

With 2:38 left in the game David Green broke through the Valley offensive line and blocked a punt in the Valley end-zone. Glenn Calvert also broke through and covered the ball for a Motley County touchdown. But that was all of the Matadors' scoring, as they were beaten 34-6 by the top rated team.

Motley County received the opening kickoff but had to punt on 4th and four. The first time the Valley Patriots touched the ball they scored, giving the ball to James McNary who broke two tackles and went 47 yards to score. With 10:14 still remaining in the first period Valley led 6-0, after a try for point-after failed.

When the initial shock of the touchdown wore off, the Matadors dug in and held the Patriots on their next three series of downs. The first quarter ended 6-0, as the Valley defense was also tough.

Valley punted as the first quarter ended and the ball sailed to the Matadors' one yard line. After two plays MC punted and Valley took over on the Matadors 41. Ray Williams carried for 21 yards then Quarterback Rodney Carpenter carried for 19 to the one yard line. Then Williams went in for the TD. The PAT again failed and with 10:29 left in the first half the score stood 12-0.

Valley scored again with 5:17 left in the half when McNary scampered 27 yards for a touchdown. The PAT kick was good and the score was Valley 19 and MC 0.

The Matadors had the ball for only four plays in the 3rd quarter and Valley had the ball 24 plays. The Patriots scored again when Carpenter hit end Dee Dowd with a 20 yard TD pass as the 3rd quarter ended.

On the Patriots first possession of the fourth quarter Bruce Setliff caught a 21 yard pass for their final TD, with 8:13 left in the game.

MC had to punt on their next series, but Valley fumbled back to them two plays later. Then after four plays Julian Zabielski punted 45 yards to the Valley one. The Matadors held and on 4th and 8, blocked the punt which gave MC its only score for the night.

"I felt like the boys played as well as they are capable of playing," MC Coach Gene Griffin said. "We went into the game knowing we were going to give them something defensively."

The Matadors adjusted their defense to the run, and safety-men were supporting linebackers against the run. When they did so Valley was able to complete two long pass plays for touchdowns. "We did that to take away what they did best," Griffin said.

McNary rushed for 124 yards in 18 carries to be the games leading rusher. Charlie Campbell carried 17 times for 34 yards, Harvey Lee had 10 yards on seven carries. Shawn Bearden had 19 yards in eight carries.

Zabielski punted eight times for an average of 32 yards a punt.

"Nazareth is not an extremely fast team," Griffin said, "But they are about the biggest team we will play. They have a boy named Huseman who is a fine and tough runner. He gained 210 yards and made four TDs against Silverton, and Silverton has a fine defense."

A program on Pompeii AD 79 was presented by Mrs. C. L. Stevens of Dallas, Thursday, Oct. 25, for El Progreso Club at the home of Mrs. Franklin Price, president.

The former Joanne Darsey was introduced by her mother, Mrs. Robert Darsey, leader for the program, "Pompeii Comes to America." Mrs. Stevens serves as a docent at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, where the exhibit of excavated artifacts of Pompeii were shown from January 2 through March 18.

The program was a slide presentation, showing the priceless treasures of the city of Pompeii which was destroyed by the volcanic eruption of Vesuvius 2,000 years ago. The city was buried under 12 feet of volcanic ash, which in fact preserved it as "A civilization frozen in time." Mrs. Stevens described in detail, the frescoes and paintings, marble and bronze sculptures and many other items which were found intact. The slides also showed street scenes of the ancient city.

In introducing the program, Mrs. Darsey read the yearbook quotation, "The overall impression is that even though 2,000 years separate us, the Pompeians had the same needs for love, home and family that we have," from the Modern Maturity magazine.

T.V. Association Still Struggling

The Motley County T.V. Association still needs the support of all who are using the T.V. Tower west of town. The subscriptions have come in well, and the association has acquired several new members. However they wish to solicit ever one who is using the Tower to please pay their share for this service.

If you are using the tower and will join in sharing the expense and maintenance the association will greatly appreciate your check for a years service of $75.00, or a monthly payment of $6.25, or give them authorization to draw on your account at the bank for a monthly payment of $6.25.

The association has a list of forty or fifty household users who are using the T.V. service and are not paying for it. They do not have a way to make anyone pay. This whole operation is strictly "honor-system." It is up to the individual to pay.

You may contact Ed Lee or Nelson McMahon, or call Mrs. R.E. Campbell Jr., or mail to Box 66, Matador, for information on this matter.

How The West Was Won Relieved by Cross Country Bikers

In 1849 the pioneer spirit was alive in the dreams of Americans and they struck off across the nation in their wagons heading for that promised land - California. They were the 49'ers.

Today that dream is alive in a group of young people, as they cross the great nation toward San Francisco, on bicycles. They could easily be called the 79'ers.

Keith Duncan, Terry O'Hara, Lynn Azzinaro, and Kimberly Matheson started out from Kingstons, Road Island, on Sept. 15, a Saturday morning, six weeks later they rolled into Matador, Texas.

"We plan to be inside the State of California by Thanksgiving," Keith said. "We average from 60 to 90 miles each day. The only thing that stops us is the win, breakdowns and maybe extremely good food." "We have met so many great people," Terry said as she reflected on the trip thus far. "The highlight of the trip has been Hot Springs, Ark., where we took hot baths and received professional massages. The next day we made 90 miles."

The trip is by no means just a wild adventure. The youngsters, all in their early twenties, call home two or three times a week and give their parents progress reports. Their route is well planned and all necessary items are carried with them, including extra bike parts for breakdowns. The most common breakdowns are tires and spokes.

"Our parents were all excited but concerned about the trip. They all have big maps on the walls and mark our progress," Lynn said. "When one of us calls, our parents all call each other with the report."

There are new surprises every day. They never know what is up the road. When they reach a town where they plan to spend some time or overnight, they contact the sheriff or mayor.

"In Fisher, Ark., we spent the night in a mayor's office in city hall," Keith said with a laugh. "What an experience. I bet my buddies never spent the night in a city hall before."

The night spent in Matador was a special experience for Kimberly. It was her birthday, and she got to talk to her Mother in Road Island, a birthday present from Joe and Billy Dean Smith, owners of the Motel where the kids stayed.

"This was just an idea that blossomed into reality," Lynn said. "The natural beauty we have seen is really great."

Keith agreed with her. He said this part of the country was just beautiful. "We have seen all kinds of weather so far" he said. "At one place we stayed in Kentucky the bird bath was frozen solid, when we woke up the next morning."

"And so was my sleeping bag," Kimberly laughed.

The girls have airline reservations to fly back home when they reach San Francisco. But Keith will depart their company there. He plans to return to Ardmore, Oklahoma, where he will continue student pilot training.

Keith is keeping a log of the trip and recording the experiences. He writes down the route, towns, and record of miles. Throughout the log are addresses of friendly people and reprosters he has promised to contact when the trip is completed.

So, with a wish of Godspeed, the four bikers left Matador. And as a final thought Kimberly smiled. "Maybe I'll be discovered in Hollywood." With that sense of good humor and the pioneer spirit of the forefathers - they will make it.

Crop and Livestock Reports Needed From Farmers, Ranchers

From mid-November to early January, thousands of Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff. The information gathered through the questionnaires and interviews provides the basis for determining the final acreage, yield, and production of crops and end-of-the-year livestock and poultry numbers for the state of Texas and for each county.

All of the estimates published by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service are based on the data provided by Texas farmers and ranchers, County Extension Agents, ASCS offices, and many others in agriculture. This cooperation provides the necessary data which is, in turn, returned to farmers and ranchers and others in the form of accurate estimates, which are so essential in making the wisest production and marketing decisions. Accurate estimates are also essential to farm organizations and legislators in promotion, planning, and enacting wise legislation and are used in establishing acreages and payment levels to producers under the various commodity programs.

The collection and publication of agricultural statistics are a cooperative effort between the Texas Department of Agriculture and USDA. This cooperation avoids duplication of effort, promotes economies, and increases the effectiveness of statistical reports. All individual farm and ranch information is kept confidential, and only state and county summaries become part of the final published estimate.

Cattlemen Are Urged To Control Cattle Lice

Lice cost U.S. cattlemen about $67 million last year, so it's important to control them.

Lice begin to reproduce rapidly with the onset of cool weather, so peak populations on cattle occur in late winter and early spring. Uncontrolled lice can soon infest a whole herd because with cold weather, cattle tend to bunch up more so that the pests can move easily from one animal to another. Heavy hair coats on animals during cold weather also afford protection for the parasites and allow for increased reproduction.

Two types of lice, bloodsucking and biting, can infest cattle. Sucking lice pierce the animal's skin and suck blood while biting lice feed on particles of hair, scab and skin exudation.

Lice infestations irritate animals, causing itching, scratching and rubbing on fence posts or anything else available.

This produces denuded areas, bruises and lacerations on the infested animal. Heavily infested animals will have an unthrifty appearance and will suffer weight reduction, decreased milk production, anemia or even death. Lice infested animals may also be more subject to infectious diseases. Heavy lice infestations can also stunt the growth of calves.

To control lice, spraying or dipping infested animals with the proper insecticide is the most effective means. However, properly placed and maintained dust bags offer effective control and save both time and labor. Dust bags should be positioned prior to lice buildup so that cattle can become accustomed to using the bags. The dust bags can often be placed so that the cattle must pass under them to get feed or water. To effectively control lice in a spraying or dipping program, an animal must receive a thorough soaking in two different applications 14-18 days apart. The second spray or dip will kill any lice hatching from eggs that were laid prior to the first spraying. When spraying, use a high pressure (250 pounds per square inch) and thoroughly wet the animals to the skin.

For a list of effective insecticides for controlling lice, cattlemen should obtain a copy of "Suggestions for Controlling External Parasites on Livestock and Poultry" at the county Extension office in Matador.

Check the label on the insecticide container and pay particular attention to warnings, restrictions and waiting periods, especially if some of the cattle are being prepared for slaughter.

Social Security Tips

By Virginia DeWitt
Social Security Representative

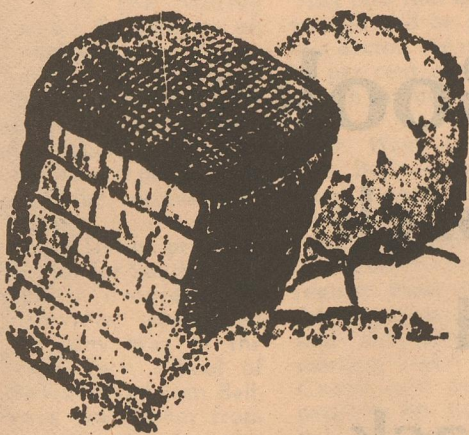

A Texas woman who tried to get social security benefits for a non-existent child received a federal prison sentence Monday, according to Ray Purcell Manager of the Plainview Social Security office. Purcell said Dixie Lurlene Holland Johnson of La Porte was sentenced in U.S. District Court in Corpus Christi to serve six months of a 3-year prison sentence, and was ordered to serve 5 years of supervised probation.

The woman pled guilty to a charge that she fraudulently claimed the benefits in an application filed in Victoria, Texas in August, 1977, Purcell said.

Purcell said U.S. attorneys in the 5-state Dallas Region are aggressive in their support of the Social Security fraud deterrence effort. In recent months, 11 convictions have been obtained in the Region. Twenty cases are pending prosecution decisions and 5 other individuals have been indicted or arraigned.
