A Second Glance

By Leon Watson

"Consider the editor. He weareth purple and fine linen. His abode is amongst the mansions of the rich. His wife hath her limousine and his first born sporteth a racing car that can hit her up in forty flat.

"Lo! All the people breaketh their necks to hand him money. A child is born unto the wife of a merchant in the bazar. The physician getteth 10 gold plunks. The editor writeth a stick and a half and telleth the multitude that the child tippeth the beam at nine pounds. Yea, he lieth even as a centurion. And the proud father giveth him a Cremona.

"Behold, the young one groweth up and graduateth. And the editor putteth into his paper a swell notice. Yea, a peach of a notice. He telleth of the wisdom of the young woman, and of her exceeding comeliness. Like the roses of Sharon is she and her gown is played up to beat the band. And the dressmaker getteth two score and four iron men. And the editor getteth a note of thanks from the SGG.

"The daughter goeth on a journey. And the editor throweth himself on the story of the farewell party. It runneth a column, solid. And the fair one remembereth him from afar off with a picture postal card that costeth six for a jitney.

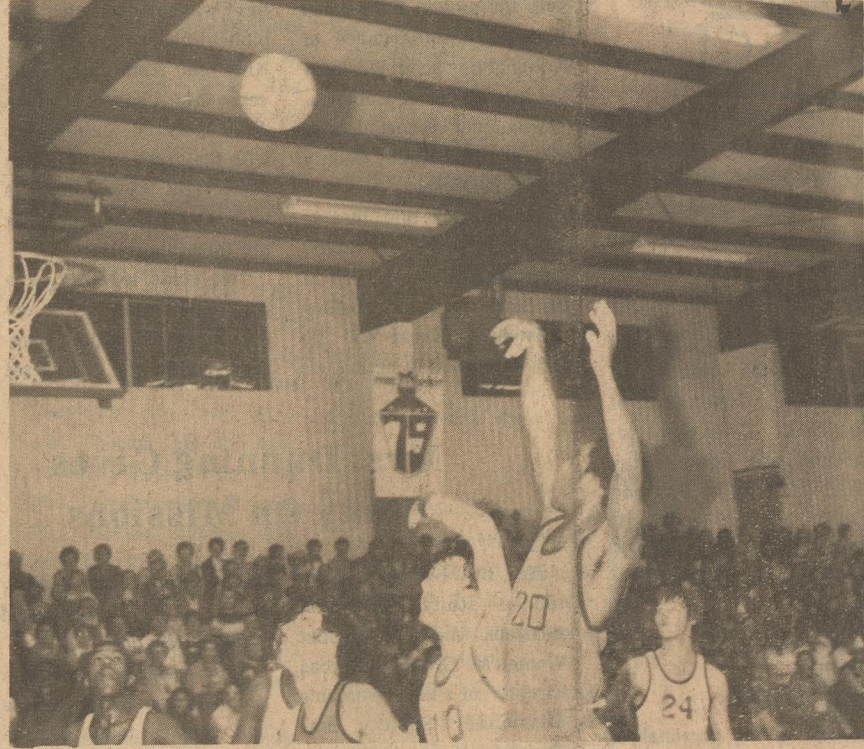

"Behold, she returneth and the youth of the city fall down and worship. She picketh one and Lo, she picketh a lemon. But the editor calleth him one of our most promising young men and getteth away with it. And they send unto him a bid to the wedding feast and behold, the bids are fashioned by Muntgummary Hawbuck, in a far city.

"Flowery and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth 10 bones. The groom standeth the editor off for a twelve-month subscription.

"All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathered into the silo. The minister getteth his bit. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a cubit of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forgetteth to read proof on the head, and the darned thing cometh out "Gone to Her Last Roasting Place."

"And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great jumps. And they pulleth out their ads and cancellleth their subscriptions and they swing the hammer unto the third and fourth generations. "Canst thou beat it?"

My thanks to the Cowlitz County Advocate for this column.

M. C. Boys Team Wins Bi-District Championship

By Leon Watson

The Motley Matadors boys basketball team pulled off an exciting win over Estelline Tuesday night at Valley to claim the Bi-District crown.

Estelline was a tough opponent and the lead changed several times, but the shooting skills of Robert Parker helped the Matadors stay in front during the fourth quarter.

After a slow and troublesome start, MC found themselves trailing 12-4 with 2:51 left in the first quarter.

At the end of the quarter MC had come alive and led 17-16. Turnovers helped Estelline hold a 34-32 edge at halftime.

The score was just as close throughout the third quarter and MC was on top 49-47 at the final eight minutes started.

Estelline's Mark Morris, with 25 points, kept them in the game, but the Matadors began to pull away at the four minute mark and won at the final buzzer by four points.

MC used back-court pressure and ball control to keep Estelline at a disadvantage.

Parker was MC's leading scorer with 22, followed by Mark Wason with 11. Preston Pitts and Lester Campbell each sank 10 points, with Dwight Campbell getting eight and Bezell Moore two.

MC scored on 11 out of 21 free throws to Estellines 9 of 14.

MC will now move into the regional playoff tournament at Levelland. They will play the winner of the Southland-Whittharrell game.

Eclipse Expected Monday, Blindness Warning Issued

Barring overcast skies, on Monday morning February 26th, panhandle residents will be able to observe the last eclipse of the sun in North America this century, according to Arthur Schneider, Director of the Don Harrington Discovery Center, Amarillo, Texas. Although partial for this area, the eclipse will be total in the northwestern section of the United States and central Canada.

The moon's shadow first strikes the earth in the North Pacific, about 1000 miles west of Vancouver, at sunrise. It then swiftly moves eastward, striking land at the mouth of the Columbia River, between Washington, and Salem, Oregon near the path of total eclipse. The shadow continues to sweep eastward and then slightly northward, passing over Butte, Missoula, Helena, and Great Falls, Montana. At 10:40 a.m. CST, the shadow moves into Canada near Crosby, North Dakota. From there it is into the wilderness of northern Ontario, Hudson Bay, Baffin

Island, and finally northern Greenland.

Astronomically, conditions for viewing the eclipse are similar along the path of totality. The sun will be positioned fairly low in the southeast, with totality lasting only 2 1/2 minutes.

The panhandle of Texas will experience a partial eclipse with 70-75 per cent of the solar disc eclipsed by the moon. The event begins about 9:08 a.m. CST with a dark notch appearing on the upper right of the sun's face. Around 10:18 a.m. CST greatest eclipse will take place. Although nearly 3/4 of the sun will be blocked by the moon and the sun's total light may be dimmed, it is extremely dangerous to look directly at the sun. The infra-red rays will be focused by the eye lens on the retina, burning the later and causing blindness. Direct viewing is not recommended with any means, unless astronomical-solar filters are available.

For safety, one should never look directly at the partially eclipsed sun with the unprotected eye. One method of totally safe viewing is the pinhole projection method.

In a darkened room, facing south, a small hole in a window shade will cast a pinhole image of the solar crescent on the floor or opposite wall. In a similar manner this type of projected solar image can be produced inside a large box with one end having a small nail hole in it. The box acts as a shade allowing the image to be more easily seen inside the box. Remember, in each case the PINHOLE IS UTILIZED FOR PROJECTION AND IS NOT USED TO DIRECTLY OBSERVE THE SUN.

A variation of the pinhole projection technique is to use a flat mirror and project the solar image on a shaded wall of a nearby house or other structure. In order to see the sun properly, this image should be projected 30 to 50 feet away. Again, do not reflect the light directly into anyone's eyes.

Between the Lines

Elvin Dick

Mr. Jim Jones was a murderer, Marxist, God hater, absolute dictator and Satanist who "wanted to believe he was God" (Los Angeles Herald Examiner 11-21-78) of his communist church, which was situated in a procommunist country, Guyana; which is a way-stop for Russian aircraft ferrying Cuban troops and supplies to Angola and Ethiopia for further conquests in Africa.

In 1977, with about 1,200 followers, Jones left California for Guyana. After the assassination of Congressman Ryan and associates November 18, 1978 Jones ordered the mass murder of some 900 followers. Most of them were derelicts, ex-cons ex-dope addicts and drop-outs of society who were easy prey of the occult.

His death was ordered too, but by who? He ordered the mass murder in seemingly a drugged and calm stupor. Was he under a mind-control technique influenced upon him to destroy yet himself and to cover up the secret we will never know of who the real leader(s) in this were. According to TIME 11-27-78, "Stoen (San Francisco attorney)...once he got control of their minds, he (Jones) would accept no dissent and told members that a defector had no right to live." Who shot Jones?

Liberal democrats ties in with Jones are: Vice-President Mondale (former member Congressmen for Peace Through Law-anti national defense) who wrote him, "...for the work of the Peoples' Temple Christian Church in defending the First Amendment guarantees of freedom of the press, in managing the drug program and running the ranch for the handicapped children. Knowing the congregation's deep involvement in the major social and constitutional issues of our country is a great inspiration to me."; Senators Humphrey and Henry Jackson who wrote, "I also welcome hearing of the fine work of your church and the many projects which your congregation has undertaken"; Representatives Burton, Bingham and Bella Abzug.

NEWSWEEK (12-4-78) states, "In addition to Mayor Moscone, Temple visitors included San Francisco District Attorney Joe Freitas, Assemblyman Willie Brown and Gov. Jerry Brown. When Walter Mondale campaigned for the Vice Presidency in 1976, Jones was invited aboard his plane. When Rosalynn Carter appeared, Jones helped gather one of her largest campaign crowds and dined with her later at

School Building Issues Aired

By Lila Meador

The issue concerning restoring the old high school building to be used as a community civic center has been given another extension in time by the Motley County School Board. Action was taken at last week's meeting of the board which was attended by several non-members interested in saving the building.

After lying in limbo for several months, the issue again surfaced when Matador Senior Citizens became aware that a $5,000 grant received from SPAG would not be available unless used in the immediate future. The funds are to be used in obtaining a meeting place for the senior citizens organization.

Several other local organizations have evidenced that they would use the school facility, if available. A number of concerned citizens have been working toward this end since it was learned early last year that the school board was planning to demolish the building and use the grounds for parking space. Former residents, principally among the ex-students ranks, sent generous contributions for use in retaining the building.

At this point, the school board is requesting an estimate of the amount which would be needed for the proposed repairs, which include the roof, auditorium, plumbing and wiring of the lower floor. The plans do not include the use of the second floor. The extension of two months was granted by the board, to obtain the estimates, and also to devise means of raising the necessary funds to match possible government grants that are being sought.

OLD SCHOOL HOUSE -- The fate of the former Matador High School building is resting in the hands of the Motley County School Board. A group of citizens is trying to save the building which may be torn down to make room for a parking lot. (Photo by Leon Watson)

Prevent Blindness recommends indirect watching as the only safe way to view the solar eclipse February 26. The simplest indirect way is the "pinhole" method. A person can take two pieces of white cardboard, make a small hole in one, and with the sun at his back, focus the eclipse through the pinhole onto the second board. The size of the image can be changed by altering the distance between the cardboards. One may use the binoculars or a telescope as the projector, replacing the pinhole cardboard. With the sunlight at his back, a person should position the instrument over his shoulder with the eyepiece down so that the light passing through it focuses on the white cardboard. Never look at the eclipse through the pinhole or through the binoculars or telescope.

SCOUTS PRAISED FOR UNIVERSALITY

In a message Sunday night at the First Baptist Church, Rev. Kenny Kirk, pastor of the United Methodist Church praised the Boy Scouts of America for unity and universality. Occasion was the 42nd annual Youth Night Union Service, instigated with the annual Father-Son Banquet in observance of National Boy Scout Week, by the late Lt. Paul Eubank. The banquet is scheduled for tonight at the Motley County School cafeteria.

Scoutmaster and former Matador school teacher, Paul Eubank also served in the State legislature before enlisting in World War II, and was killed in action.

"Few organizations show universality as epitomized by Boy Scouts," Rev. Kirk declared. "They are all around the world, and accept each other readily, with a special kind of friendship."

This blending of nationalities was likened to two biblical characters as Rev. Kirk read from chapter 10, verse 15 of II Kings, in which Jehu saluted Jehonadab with the greeting: "Is thine heart right, as my heart is with thy heart...if it be, give me thine hand."

"We come together as a congregation—not as a denomination...we come together under the universal dome of God's love. We are diverse in our opinions, and do not always agree, but we are drawn together by God's commandment that we love one another. If our heart is right, then we will have the right relationship with God.

"...then give me your hand" is not saying: Accept my way and I will accept yours; but is to say: Love me—here is my love."

Quoting from chapter 13 of I Corinthians, the minister pointed out that this scripture described a love that overlooks differences. "We work together as a people to spread the gospel—our lives are joined together. Love truly is of God. Let us love one another in universal love."

Scout Craig Turner served as master of ceremonies, with other Scouts participating. These included Wade Vandiver as song leader; Jay Wallingsford, who gave the invocation; Kody Hardin, who gave the scripture reading from Proverbs 13:1-13; Jimmy Wallingsford, who read the poem "God's Plan;" and Kyle Hardin, who gave the benediction.

Piano selections were played by Carla Hart for prelude and postlude, with Mrs. Ronnie Cox, organist and Mrs. Vann Francis, pianist, playing for congregational singing. Serving as ushers were Scouts Brent Campbell, Alex Guerrero, Wesley Stafford and John D. Russell. Rev. Jerry Colden, Baptist pastor, introduced the speaker.

County Agent Says

By Bill Pallmeyer

In 1978 about 55 per cent of the Motley County cotton producers participated in the Cotton Insect Management Program, and in March, decisions for 1979 action will be made. Proposals will be made at a series of meetings in the 7 counties just below the Caprock that should assist local producers stay in cotton production at a price they can afford.

As of now states Extension Agent Bill Pallmeyer, no one knows what the 1979 Diapause Control Program will be, but the In Season Management Program is designed to cover the part of the production season before the Diapause Program starts.

Producers will receive letters telling of the meetings, but basically the proposed program is much the same as the program that was in operation in 1978. This will call for a uniform date to start planting, early season scouting and recommendations for controls if justified. In addition, plans call for an Entomologist to be located in Matador to assist with the program.

All producers are urged to attend one of the meetings, and as a meeting in Lubbock is scheduled for Friday Feb. 23rd, added outlook on the Diapause Program can be given.

BATTLE CRY IS: ENOUGH FOR TEXAS 13 SUPPORTERS

A few months ago a small group of Travis County citizens, fed up to their eyebrows with the crushing burden of taxes needed to fuel the remorseless growth of government spending and government bureaucracy, got together and formed a non-profit, non-partisan organization which they called TEXAS 13.

The idea behind TEXAS 13 caught fire and today has spread across the state. An army of Texans from all areas and all walks of life is being recruited. Their battle cry is: ENOUGH!

With Waggoner Carr of Austin, former Texas Attorney General, as president, TEXAS 13 has a Board and referendum so they can initiate tax relief for themselves, as was done in California.

To achieve these ends TEXAS 13 will support no candidates, but only issues. Its objectives were embodied in the Tax Relief Amendment adopted resoundingly by Texas voters last Fall. Governor Bill Clements has endorsed them and they have been introduced as bills in the Legislature.

However, their passage is by no means assured; in fact, they face an uphill fight.

"The big spenders, the entrenched bureaucrats, the special interest, the 'something for everyone' boys have already mounted their attack against these measures," Carr said. "The people have spoken, but their voices are being ignored. Now it is up to the people to sound their message again, loud, clear and unmistakable. If enough of us Texans speak as one, with firm determination and righteous anger, even the deafest politician will listen, and TEXAS 13 intends to be the instrument through which that message is delivered."

TEXAS 13 founders have pointed out that federal, state and local governments are now taking 45 cents out of every dollar the average American makes to pay the cost of government. If the present trend is not stopped the tax collectors' take will be 80 cents out of every dollar earned in just 20 years.

Has the 66th Legislature received the message that their constituents want tax relief? "The answer is no," Carr said.

"Legislative leaders of both House and Senate have recommended an increase of about $3 billion in spending for the coming biennium," he noted. "The organized groups pressuring for ever more spending have been at work in Austin for weeks. So there is no doubt we must do more than we have if we are to escape higher state taxes, much less get meaningful tax relief. Therefore, we must organize in order to be heard. We shall not rest until our government returns its spending and taxing to a level of sanity and reasonableness."

The TEXAS 13 drive for members is in full swing statewide. No membership fee is required. Voluntary contributions support the activities of the organization. Corporate contributions are legal and welcome.

TEXAS 13, INC., maintains its state office at 305 Stokes Building, 314 West 11th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. The telephone number is 512-477-9499.

President Carter's Nomination Draws Sharp Opposition

President Carter's nomination of Norval Morris to head the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration has drawn sharp opposition from the National Rifle Association.

The one-million member association's opposition to the appointment of the dean of the University of Chicago Law School came in a letter from Neal Knox, executive director of the NRA Institute for Legislative Action to Senate Judiciary Committee chairman, U.S. Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss.), and to U.S. Sen. Strom Thurmond (R-S.C.), the ranking minority member.

Knox characterized Morris' views on outlawing the private ownership of firearms as "extreme," and told the Judiciary leadership, "to have Prof. Morris direct an instrument of such massive influence and power as LEAA is totally and irreversibly unacceptable to

The NRA's top lobbyist cited Morris' ten-year crusade aimed at "categorically denying private citizens the right to keep and bear arms" and his total diadain for the proven, effects of such criminal justice tools as stiff mandatory sentences as a deterrent to criminal activity.

"On countless occasions, in testimony before various government panels, in publications and in the press, Prof. Morris has called for physically disarming our law-abiding citizenry," Knox added. Further, Knox said that polls have indicated that nearly half the total households in America have at least one firearm. "A huge segment of our population has a direct, personal stake in this man's views and in this appointment. But Prof. Morris has also predicted the ultimate disarming of the police," said Knox. In a recent publication, Morris modified his position to allow some sports clubs to keep member firearms in "arsenals."

"When a man who enjoys Prof. Morris' reputation as an authority on law can advocate the use of hidden monitors 'capable of searching anyone passing through a door or along a footpath' for firearms and then states 'there can be no right of privacy in regard to armament,' one wonders if so cavalier an attitude in denying rights to firearms owners might not, at some future date, be extended to others, say the press, for example, or minority groups or to those espousing a different political philosophy," said Knox. In short, Prof. Morris seems to have a frightening disregard for certain basic civil liberties—civil liberties our forefathers did not mean to be turned off or turned on to suit the whims of a particular administration."

"His appointment to LEAA is especially repugnant to NRA members," said Knox, "because he called for use of Federal power to coerce states into adopting extremist laws on firearms prohibition. As director of LEAA, he would be in a position to exercise such blackmail, and no doubly would try."

Prof. Morris' call for federal licensing of all 'approved' firearms owners (he stipulated that 'household protection' is not a suitable reason for firearms ownership) and the disarming of all otherwise law-abiding firearms owners would require nothing short of a federal police state.

"As head of LEAA, which has a $640-million grant-aid budget, Prof. Morris would be in an all too tempting position to set into motion just such a national policing mechanism," Knox said. (For further information contact James O.E. Norell, ILA Communications, telephone 202-457-5915.)

The Rural Community

By Deacon Jerome Brockman

Small communities in rural America are in trouble. Many are declining in population, losing their schools, churches and business houses, while others manage to hang on but are hamlets of old people. Their young, bright, college-educated children seldom return to live in the small towns because the professions for which they are trained usually are practiced only in the large cities. The skilled and the unskilled also migrate to the urban areas seeking employment, and often finding it.

become an ever increasing problem to the welfare agencies to which they are forced to turn for help. Meanwhile, the small communities where life is usually thought to be more pleasant, more peaceful, more relaxed, more law-abiding, wether and die. Why?

The answer is complex, but here are a few of the major reasons:

Most rural communities are dependent on the agricultural industries around them. As farmers and ranchers try to keep their operations profitable by increasing the size and scope of their activities and by decreasing their needs for labor by purchasing larger and larger equipment it becomes clear that fewer farmers and ranchers and fewer employees are needed. And it has been noted that for each seven farmers who quit one local business also quits. This is in line with the common rule of thumb that each seven jobs support one additional job—a pyramiding effect—but working in reverse in this case. Fewer farmers and ranchers, fewer farm and ranch workers require and support fewer grocery stores, fewer cafes, fewer garages, fewer five and dime stores, and eventually, fewer bowling alleys, fewer schools, and fewer churches.

Then too, many young people, having seen the bright lights or the "good life" of the city, are not enthralled with the life they foresee on the farm or in the small town. They see their parents often working 60 to 70 hours a week, often on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, in the heat and cold, in the dust and mud, constantly deeply in debt, wondering whether each year's income will pay off their current loans and provide a meager standard of living, at the mercy of government programs, the weather, insects, crop and animal disease—indeed a recent survey indicates that many farmers consider stress to be their greatest problem—and soon many of them decide to take less demanding and more comfortable employment in the city. Why be a veterinarian in the feed lots when more money can be made treating cats and dogs in comfortable "clinics"?

Another factor, of course, is the increasingly greater cost of getting into business, whether it be the expensive airplanes, mixing, filling and communications equipment needed by the local spraying service, or the $500,000 investment in land and machinery which the average farm or ranch requires to be successful. This makes it all but impossible for the young to break into these activities unless parents or other relatives can afford to gradually incorporate them into an existing business. Even then the increasingly large tax load and the formidable interest bill brought on by the huge capital requirements many times leave no room for profit, especially when accompanied by low commodity prices existing now.

As the small farmers and ranchers quit, as the farm and ranch workers find themselves not needed, the local businessman, having fewer and fewer customers, and finding that the large independent and corporate farmers by-pass him to deal with the wholesale house in the city, gradually loses his profitability, has to let his employees go, and finally is forced to close down and seek his fortune in the city.

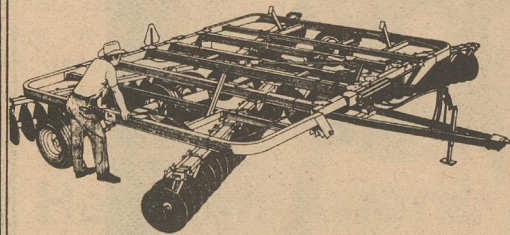

Still others, because of poor rural roads, below average housing, lack of schools, churches, health, library, and social facilities, inadequate shopping centers, etc. simply move to the city where these facilities are more readily available. This would certainly apply to many of the elderly.

The above list is by no means complete but the causes of this movement of our country's population from the rural areas to the urban could be summed up briefly thus: Lack of economic, social, and educational opportunities in the countryside and small communities. The result: More crowding, more social problems, increasing needs for space, water, fuel and electric power in our cities. Is this trend inevitable and irreversible? Must we watch our communities shrivel and die? Are there some solutions? Is there some hope? We'll try to explore these questions in the next article.

Capitol Comments

STATE REPRESENTATIVE
FOSTER
WHALEY

I was very happy to be asked by Representative Bob Simpson to co-sponsor HB 880, That would exempt the Opportunity Plan Inc. from Ad Valorem Taxation. This is a non-profit corporation located off campus in Canyon. It has loaned millions of dollars to worthy Panhandle Students who attend Colleges and Universities throughout the State. For many years the Students receiving these loans were primarily students of West Texas State University. It is my understanding they now make loans to Students attending other colleges and Universities.

Mr Milton Morris of Canyon is the founder and great sponsor of this fine program. Both the Federal Government and the State of Texas would do well to consult Mr. Morris on how he has had such a phenomenal record of collection on these loans. The loss ratio has been less than two percent. I'm sure you have read where the loses of the Federal Government Educational Loan Program have run into the hundreds of Millions. Loses by the State of Texas on Student loans have been in the tens of MILLIONS. At the present time the State of Texas in cooperation with the local school districts picks up the $1,500.00 annual tab it cost to send each student to grade and high school. I feel the State has a real responsibility here. We need the best without waste at this level. In addition the State picks up a $2,500.00 tab per year for each of the college and University students. This represents about half of the $500.00 annual cost of sending one student to a college or University. It is a well established and documented fact that college and University graduates will increase their life time earnings in the hundreds of thousands of dollars by gaining a degree. I feel a hard look should be taken on all loans and outright grants to students in higher education. Visitors in our office this week from District 66 included the following from Quitaque: Phil Barefield, Monti Stephens, David Brunson, Bruce Patrick, Warren Merrell and O.R. Stark, Jr. Other visitors included Floydada residents Alton Higginbotham and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pitts; Pampa residents Jack Osborne and Raymond Maddox.

The Committee on Government Organization, of which I am a member, heard testimony this week on the reestablishment of it's first government agency. We heard five hours of testimony on one bill that would reestablish the state bar.

This Committee was created to handle all the Sunset Legislation. During the 65th. Legislature, a law was passed that would cause every state agency to expire at a predetermined time. If new legislation is not passed to activate these agencies they will expire when the sun goes down on this predetermined date. This, Sunset Legislation.

Heroism Award To Be Presented

Some deserving individual who has performed an act of exceptional bravery during a time of crisis will receive the 1978 Rural Heroism Award sponsored by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

The council sponsors the annual award program to help promote safety in rural areas, notes Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and vice president for farm and ranch with the Texas Safety Association.

Anyone aware of an individual who risked his or her life to save another is asked to submit a nomination. All entries must be submitted by Mar. 5 to the Rural Heroism Award Committee, Texas Farm and Ranch Council, P. O. Box 489, Waco, TX 76703.

According to Nelson, the heroic act or deed must have occurred in Texas during 1978 and should be related to farming or ranching operations.

Nominations should include a written account of the incident and names, addresses and phone numbers of all persons involved. Newspaper clippings and pictures should also accompany nominations if available.

The 1978 Rural Heroism Award will be presented at the opening general session of the 40th Annual Texas Safety Conference and Exposition, Mar. 25-28, at the Shamrock Hilton in Houston.

John B. Connally Tours Panhandle, Makes Lubbock Stop

Republican presidential candidate John B. Connally and his wife Nellie will be guests at an informal reception in Lubbock Thursday, February 22, completing the Panhandle portion of their tour of the state. Raymond S. Tapp, event chairman, announced the plans. Vice-chairman of the event is Marion T. Key, and a committee of prominent Lubbock citizens are serving as the hosts.

The 5:30 p.m. reception will be held at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center Terrace Suite and all Texans are invited to attend.

"Governor Connally wanted to start his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination in his home state," Tapp said in revealing plans for the Texas tour. "The Connallys will visit more than 20 communities during seven days and meet and greet as many fellow Texans as possible."

Governor and Mrs. Connally will be arriving in Lubbock after stops in Wichita Falls and Amarillo that same day.

The tour will cover all parts of Texas and will close with a birthday reception for Governor Connally in Houston on February 27.

Tapp emphasized that the Lubbock reception is open to everyone -- Republicans, Democrats and Independents.

Tickets for the reception are $10 each and may be purchased at the door or may be obtained by sending a check to Connally for President Reception, P. O. Box 2429, Lubbock, Texas 79408, or by calling 745-2507. Checks should be made payable to Connally for President Committee.

the Stanford Court Hotel." Through endorsements of leftists and liberals, Guyana admitted the totalitarian commune. There were 60 such reference letters as such with one from Rosalynn Carter handwritten on White House stationery 4-12-77:

"Dear Jim, Thank you for your letter. I enjoyed being with you during the campaign and do hope you can meet Ruth (his mistress) soon.

Your comments about Cuba are helpful. I hope your suggestion can be acted on in the near future.

Sincerely Rosalynn Carter Jones supported left-wing causes like ACLU, NAACP, & Farm Workers Unions.

Like all communists, he only preached civil rights and equality but never practiced it. TIME (11-27-78) states he was a "white civil rights activist and Marxist."

Edwin Newmans NBC interview said, "Believing in Karl Marx, Jones would read from K.M. writings all day long and all night over commune loudspeakers..."

His lawyers, Charles Garry of San Francisco (defended Huey Newton and Angela Davis) and Mark Lane defended the communist, Lee Harvey Oswald and blamed the assassination of Kennedy on a "secret" right wing conspiracy. He also warned Congressman Ryan that if he harassed Jones, Russia and Cuba were willing to give him refuge.

Later, Garry said, "Mark Lane knew everything; the guns, the drugs, the suicide pact and he never told anyone." Lane advised Jones to contact Andrew Young ("U.S. Ambassador" at the UN) for help in his effort to further embarrass the U.S. and to further ties with Castro.

Along with this showing the utter failure of communism, Mark Lane is guilty of conspiracy to kill over 900 people and a U.S. Congressman. The Carter Congress should criminally indict and prosecute this pro-communist lawyer. Why haven't they yet?

AMWAY ALL-PURPOSE SPRAY ADJUVANT SOLVES SO MANY GROWER'S PROBLEMS.

Here are some of the things economical Amway All-Purpose Spray Adjuvant can do for you:

- Helps in the dispersion and suspension of pesticides and other agricultural chemicals.
- Increases contact between pesticides and leaf surfaces.
- Plant coverage and uniformity of deposit are improved.
- Improves herbicide penetration in weeds.
- Increases soil penetration and root contact.
- In hard-to-wet areas, makes water (the carrier for the soil's nutrients) more readily available to the plant.
- Aids irrigation by helping water soak into hard-to-wet soils faster, thus reducing evaporation and run-off.
- Helps overcome wetting problems associated with many types of soils, especially in "hard pan" areas.
- Helps keep spray equipment clean and prevent clogging of nozzles.

Amway All-Purpose Spray Adjuvant makes water wetter by reducing its surface tension (water "skin"). Because of this, it makes pesticides more efficient, helps them achieve greater performance.

With the addition of Amway All-Purpose Spray Adjuvant, pesticides more thoroughly contact the leaf's surface. Air pockets are reduced or eliminated. You get greater saturation of the entire area sprayed.

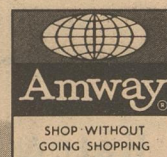

For Canadian growers, there's Amway Spray Adjuvant (also available in the U.S.) which is especially formulated for use only with atrazine on growing corn. Amway Spray Adjuvant Defoamer — for use with either Amway All-Purpose Spray Adjuvant or Amway Spray Adjuvant — eliminates foaming problems caused by some spray equipment and should be used only if needed.

Amway products are available only from your Amway distributor, who is probably someone you know — a friend or neighbor you can trust with products you can trust. Your satisfaction is further assured by Amway's 100% money-back satisfaction guarantee on every Amway product.
