

Recall Of Envoy To Moscow Demanded Before The House

Soviet Speech Called Effort At Propaganda

Criticism Of President Linked With Neutrality Revision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—A demand that the United States recall its ambassador to Russia because of Premier Molotov's criticism of President Roosevelt was injected into the house neutrality debate today by Rep. McCormack (D-Mass), "Anti-God" Forces.

Describing both Russia and Germany as "the anti-God forces of the world today," McCormack said he had read newspaper accounts of Molotov's address to the supreme soviet yesterday in which President Roosevelt was criticized for "intervening" in Russia's negotiations with Finland and it was stated that this country's moves to repeal its arms embargo would "intensify, aggravate and protract" the European war.

For that statement made by the official representative of Soviet Russia," McCormack shouted, "the United States ought to recall its ambassador."

That should be the answer of the United States to this attempt to influence American public opinion—this grave breach of international law.

(Laurence A. Steinhardt is United States ambassador to Russia.) McCormack's comment on Molotov's speech came within two hours after Stephen Early, presidential press secretary, had questioned in a conference with reporters whether it was "purely coincidental" that Molotov had criticized the president at a time when an important vote was scheduled here in the house on the neutrality legislation.

CHALLENGED WINS

PIMLICO RACE COURSE, Baltimore, Nov. 1 (AP)—William L. Brann's Challenge won the $10,000 Pimlico special mile-and-three-sixteenths race today.

Kayak II, owned by Charles S. Howard, was second by half a length and Townsend B. Martin's Cravat was third.

The time was one minute, 59 seconds on a track that was in good condition after three days of rain.

Challenge won the entire $10,000 in this winner-take-all purse, bringing his money earnings for the year to $184,535.

PREDICTS CALLING OF SPECIAL SESSION

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—State Senator Joe L. Hill of Henderson, predicted today that O'Daniel next Sunday would announce a decision to call a special session of the legislature.

"Three months ago," Hill said in a press statement, "I prophesied that I would call a special session after we had put the pressure on him to do his duty. He now has been smothered out and though he tried to escape by means of a proposal to commit the members to the sales tax, he will issue the call."

AGED PARALYTIC IS BURNED TO DEATH

HOUSTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—A 62-year-old paralytic, Carl G. Collins, burned to death last night when a kerosene stove exploded and fired his bedroom.

CHARGED WITH MURDER OF KIN

Henry F. Haynes, III, has been quoted by District Attorney H. W. Allen at Comanche, Texas, as saying he slugged his grandmother, Mrs. Martha McGuire, 75, and her son, J. B. Haynes, 55, and set fire to their home as their bodies lay on the floor.

The youth, in a signed statement, claimed relatives had made "slurring remarks" about his widowed mother. He is charged with murder and the grand jury will convene Nov. 13 to investigate the slayings. (Associated Press Photo).

AAA Parley Slated Here

Approximately 300 county agents, assistants, AAA county adjustment assistants, chief clerks and committee men from little less than two score counties in this area will converge here Nov. 5-10 for a district meeting concerning the 1940 AAA program.

J. W. Doak, San Angelo, West Texas AAA representative, was here Wednesday checking into advance arrangements for the affair.

No program details were given. The meeting will be similar to one held here a year ago when some of the leading state and southern AAA officials addressed the district No. 6 gathering here.

Like the session last year, the meeting is one of a series of district parleys held over the state and is particularly significant in that it precedes the annual referendum on cotton quotas.

Industrial East, California Will Share Heavily In Wartime Orders

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—The industrial east, a few middle western states, and the aircraft plants of California and Washington appear destined to get the bulk of the "cash and carry" European war orders if the arms embargo is lifted.

It was upon these areas that the United States army and navy lean most heavily for munitions in peacetime. Administration officials suggested today this was the most accurate available gauge of the likely spread of foreign orders.

The northeastern and far western industrial areas particularly have the productive capacity to turn out arms and equipment with the speed that British, French and other buyers would demand.

By some unofficial estimates, Great Britain and France are ready to place orders approaching $1,000,000,000 with little delay if the embargo is lifted.

Data collected by the army and navy in connection with plans for industrial mobilization show where the producers are. For instance: In six states within a triangle formed by Pittsburgh, Wilmington, Del., and Boston are located the industrial plants on which the army and navy would depend for some 50 per cent of their munitions should the United States be involved in war.

Two-thirds of American planes are made on the Pacific Coast, but the engines are manufactured chiefly in the east.

Freighter And Crew Lost In The Atlantic

Had Reported Sub Attack, Perhaps In 'Neutrality Zone'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—The coast guard announced today the cutter Bibb reached the reported position of the British freighter Coulmore this morning and found no sign of a ship or survivors.

Gale Blowing The Bibb, which started out last night after intercepting a distress call from the vessel, reported that it found a moderate southerly gale blowing in the area, officially estimated as 50 miles east by south of Boston.

The Coulmore had reported it was attacked by a submarine. The Bibb was the first of a rapidly growing number of coast guard and navy ships and planes looking for the Coulmore.

A serious storm passed over that area yesterday and a 40-mile wind continued to whistle today, rendering perilous the position of any lifeboat occupants. The storm also would have made the surface operation of a submarine difficult.

The reported submarine attack apparently occurred within the "neutrality zone" set up by the Pan American conference.

Not a single word was received from the freighter after her initial calls for assistance.

When the Coulmore called at Boston with a cargo of Russian coal on Sept. 9, she carried a crew of 34 and the wife of the captain, Mrs. Ernest Davies. At that time, Mrs. Davies said she intended to remain aboard for the return passage.

The navy did not elaborate on the part it was playing, beyond stating it was co-operating with the coast guard in "saving life at sea."

IN NEUTRALITY ZONE?

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—If the British freighter Coulmore has been attacked within the neutrality zone, the United States will consult immediately with other American republics on what steps to take, it was stated today in official quarters.

The possible steps include a protest to Germany, should it develop that a Nazi submarine was involved. The protest might be by the United States and other republics individually or by all the American republics jointly.

Comparison of the position given by the Coulmore when she sent an SOS place her about 100 miles within the neutrality zone fixed at the recent Panama conference. She gave her position as 62.31 degrees west of Greenwich, and the neutrality zone limit runs due south along the 60 degree line.

Welfare Work To Center Here

Big Spring is to become an area headquarters for several counties in this immediate area under the new Texas welfare set-up, it was indicated today.

In notices affecting the dissolution of Texas Relief Commission offices in many cities over Texas and the replacement of them by area welfare offices, Big Spring has been mentioned as one of 37 area headquarters for the state effective November 15.

Howard, Mitchell and Nolan counties, and others not yet divulged, will be served from the area office here.

Establishment of the office will restore to this city area headquarters pertaining to relief and welfare activities. At one time Big Spring boasted WPA and TRC headquarters. Both, however, were absorbed by other cities in this territory.

Finns Apparently Must Make Concessions Or Fight Soviet

Delegation Enroute To Moscow With Answer; Russian Demands Revealed

MOSCOW, Nov. 1 (AP)—Finland, caught in the vise of conflicting European interests, apparently faced the choice today of making concessions and a territorial trade with Soviet Russia, or refusing at the risk of a fight.

Premier-Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov said the Russian proposals "are extremely modest."

He commented that the European war was "fraught with great surprises and dangers for all European states."

The Finnish delegation, which has conferred twice with Molotov, was enroute to Moscow with Finland's "final answer" when Molotov disclosed what Russia wanted:

A strip of territory north of Leningrad, title to some islands in the Gulf of Finland, a naval base at the mouth of the gulf, portions of the Rybach peninsula and Semlarization of the Finnish border.

In exchange, Finland would be given a larger strip of Soviet Karelia, and Russia would withdraw objections to Finnish fortification of the Aaland islands in the Gulf of Bothnia.

The Finnish government announced in Helsinki that publication of the heretofore secret demands had "created a new situation," but the Finnish delegation due to reach Moscow tomorrow conferred with its foreign office by telephone and decided to continue its journey.

Molotov, in addressing the Supreme Soviet last night, aroused diplomatic interest by expressing a desire for closer Soviet relations with Japan.

He affirmed cooperation with Germany, including trade negotiations; made thrusts at Great Britain and France; and slapped at the United States for its "moral support" of Finland.

While he displayed a certain coolness toward Turkey (which recently signed a mutual aid pact with Britain and France after fruitless negotiations with Russia), foreign circles believed Russia still was studying aims in the Balkans.

SWITZERLAND, TOO

BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 1 (AP)—Neutral Switzerland, guarding against a possible food shortage, put into effect today strict limitations on sales of sugar, rice, dried beans, rye and barley oil.

Ration cards were issued. Every person is allowed three pounds of sugar a month, a half pound of flour, dried beans, rye, barley and cooking fats, and a quarter pound of spaghetti, or macaroni. Sale of bread, cakes and candy is unlimited.

SHORTAGE IN SPAIN MADRID, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Spanish government, acknowledging the threat of a major food shortage, declared war on profiteers today and undertook "absolute" control of staple commodities to insure even distribution.

The nation was informed of the situation in a speech broadcast last night by Ramon Serrano Suner, minister of government, who said the year's crops would fall far short of existing needs. Serrano Suner promised that the government would import foodstuffs to meet the emergency despite a national treasury "exhausted by the Reds."

Dies Witness 'Framed,' His Mother Says

Asserts Union Man Told Of Communists In High Positions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—The mother of Jean William McCuiston, Dies committee witness, said today she was "confident" that a charge of murder made against her communist fighting son in New Orleans was a "frame up."

Reds in Washington? But, added Mrs. Dollie M. Crawford, "if he goes to jail on a framed charge or if he goes to the electric chair, I'd a darn sight rather he'd go fighting the communist party."

Appearing before the Dies committee, the Frederick, Md., woman also testified that Joseph Curran, president of CIO's National Maritime Union, once told her the communist party was placing so many members in key positions in Washington that it hoped to take over the government in a few years.

At the start of today's session she took the stand from which McCuiston had testified for two days about alleged communist activities among seamen. At the conclusion of his appearance yesterday he was taken into custody by Washington police at the request of New Orleans authorities.

In the latter city Chief of Detectives John J. Groch filed an affidavit charging McCuiston, former communist and officer of the N.M.U. in New Orleans, with slaying there in September of another N.M.U. officer, Philip Curran.

McCuiston said he did not know what the charge was about but that he would waive extradition to Louisiana.

He returned to the Dies committee today and succeeded his mother on the stand.

He told the committee that before he testified yesterday he had read in the newspapers that he was wanted in New Orleans but that, instead of trying to escape he wanted "to return here and to complete what I had started and then answer any charges."

Chairman Dies (D-Tex) already has announced his intention of going to New Orleans to find out whether police there actually want McCuiston. He said he would not permit committee witnesses to be "browbeaten or intimidated."

Dies himself figured briefly in McCuiston's testimony when the witness said he once was advised that the National Maritime Union had undertaken to "discredit" the committee chairman.

Within the last 12 months, McCuiston said, he had seen Curran in Corpus Christi, Texas. He quoted Curran as saying the union would "have that Dies so thoroughly discredited in a few months that the people of his home town will ride him out on a rail."

NAZI FLANK MOVE HALTED BY FRANCE

PARIS, Nov. 1 (AP)—Military sources reported today that French troops had fought off a German force of 1,000 men attempting to encircle a French frontier village on the northern flank of the western front.

The Germans were said to have attacked yesterday in an area extending from west of Saarbrücken to the Iller river valley, east of Saarbrücken. The identity of the threatened village was not disclosed.

The French said they took six prisoners and were questioning them in an effort to learn the significance of growing German infantry and artillery pressure.

Heavy artillery was brought into play to support the German attacks, it was said, and French guns replied.

The Germans have been in position for a big offensive two weeks. Clearing weather brought new aerial reconnaissance over both lines.

MISS LANEONOTES

The little things are only about a quarter of an inch long, some times smaller, they never make a lot of noise and have never been known to fly back to anybody.

They are dark, not gaudy in hue. They move about with soft swishing and when at a standstill, they give the appearance of being happy about the whole thing by rubbing their hands together gleefully.

The description doesn't sound like it belonged to desperate characters but next to the mosquito, there is no worse nuisance. It is the character sketch of a fly.

The little bastards fill through the air and get in your hair, they show a preference for resting on your nose, and despite your degree of accuracy, they evade your stinging blows and return to haunt you at work, at play, asleep or awake.

Of all the pests and diseases that Pandora's curiosity let slip from the box, the fly is the worst. If she had just closed the lid in time to keep in the fly, her status would probably adorn the homes and public places of the world.

The little things irritate you during the day and make you like the terrible Mr. Bang. Furthermore, the six-legged insect is so prolific that no matter if you get seven at a blow, seventeen arise from nowhere to heckle your life. Swat 'em, hit 'em, drat 'em, and miss 'em, the fly lives on. Darn 'em.

Dancer Turned To Spy Activity 'Just For Fun'

GENEVA, Nov. 1 (AP)—Defense counsel was reported today that he told five Swiss judges that a dark-eyed night club dancer accused of being the "brains" of a far-reaching spy ring had turned to espionage "just for fun."

Reports filtering from the closed court said that in his final plea Chief Defense Attorney George Haldenwang argued that his client, known to continental cafe society as "Nina," was merely a minor figure in the ring and failed to realize the gravity of her acts.

Government witnesses previously had pictured the 35-year-old dancer—listed on the docket as Virginia Capt Rota—as the principal figure in a plot to obtain Swiss military secrets.

Haldenwang said the dancer had been drawn into the ring by mysterious "higher ups" still at large. "Nina," he said, had less to do with the plot than Paul Roehat, the Geneva detective who is on trial with her. Also on trial are Roehat's wife and Roger Joel, one-time draftsman in a Swiss arms factory.

THIS IS SHOCKING

FLORENCE, Ala., Nov. 1 (AP)—Indignant tourists complained that gatekeepers on the new Pickwick lake were playing practical jokes. Handing over toll money, the motorist often got a jolting shock when he touched the keeper's hand.

But it's no joke to the keepers either, explained Bridge Engineer G. P. Willoughby. Automobiles running at high speed create static electricity, he said, and crossing the palm of the "grounded" collector causes the shock.

The highway department is considering rubber insulating mats for collectors.

Repairs Made To School Damaged By Explosion

HOWE, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Howe school will resume classes probably tomorrow when repairs have been made on the building damaged by an explosion that injured five students.

Injured were Jack Calloway, fractured chin and dislocated jaw; Hansel Smith, Mary J. Boozer and John Robert Coleman, facial injuries, and Charles Rose, leg injury.

J. Y. Wheeler, division superintendent of the Community Natural Gas company, said a leak was discovered in a gas pipe just outside the foundation of the room and that smaller leaks were found around stove connections in that and other rooms.

He said the lines did not leak when tested October 10. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

Suffering Women Welcome "Build-Up"

A simple method is saving many women much pain and discomfort! It is based on the knowledge that women's headaches, nervousness, and cramp-like pain often are symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to a weak, run-down, undernourished condition. That so many women find relief from these painful symptoms through the CARDUI "build-up" is easy to explain. By improving the appetite, assisting digestion and assimilation, CARDUI helps to build physical resistance against periodic pain. Thousands of women also report that CARDUI, taken just before and during "the time," lessens periodic pain.—adv.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—"New job jitters" haven't wrought any serious damage within the ranks of Tony Rego, Big Spring's baseball skipper the past season, corresponds from his home in Tulsa, Oklahoma, that the West Texas-New Mexico league's winter baseball meeting will be held at the Herring hotel, Amarillo, Sunday, Nov. 19.

THE SPORTS PARADE

BY HANK HART

Don't be surprised should Abilene ask for another chance to test the game there. The Berger franchise is more or less a 'loan' and can be moved by the directors' vote. Too, 'tis related in some quarters that Pampa wants to go back to semi-pro baseball in 1940 and may desert the professional game entirely.

If neither Berger nor Pampa is ready for the 1940 season, League President Milton E. Price may lead a drive to bring Wichita Falls into circuit.

Rego, trying to dispose of his holdings in Tulsa, is expected to return here soon and scout around for a new ball plant, having long ago condemned the one at West Fifth and San Antonio streets.

The possibility of converting the rodeo grounds into a park appears remote although the stands, which seat 4,500, could certainly be employed.

More than 17,000 tickets for the Thanksgiving Day Texas-Texas A&M football game at College Station have already been sold. The Cadets' stadium will seat but 35,000.

Dana Bible's Texas club has already won more conference games this season than any Longhorn team has been able to do since 1934. The Steers won solitary games during each of the past four seasons.

C. B. Rushign, a center, is the only member of Stephenville high school grid squad that participated in the 20-0 victory over Sweetwater in 1937 that will see action in the 'Jackets' game with the Mustangs this weekend.

the dozen or so major football coaches occupying strange perches on this hectic gridiron season.

Only one big-time team operating under new guidance came through its first four games unbeaten and untied but taken by and large the strange boys in the neighborhood are catching on very well.

Challedon Is Favored At Pimlico

Track Is Soaked By 24-Hour Rain; Holds Record For Length

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Pimlico Special, a glamorized horse race presenting three great thoroughbreds in a test of speed and stamina, lent the color of a national championship contest to the opening of the Maryland Jockey club's autumn meeting today.

All indications were that the track, soaked by a 24-hour rain, would be as gooey as tapioca pudding by the time that W. L. Brennan's Challedon, T. B. Martin's Cravat and C. S. Howard's Kayak II went to the post at 2:15 p. m. (CST) to decide the "race of the year."

Challedon, Maryland-bred three-year-old champion and leading money-winner of the year, ruled the pre-race favorite.

The sturdy bay son of Challenger II and Laura Gal holds the world's record of 1:54 3/8 for the mile and three-sixteenths—the distance of the $10,000 winner-take-all, weight-for-age special. But even so his competitors were conceding him nothing.

Kayak II, four-year-old Argentine-bred son of Congreve-Mosquita, and a personal grudge to settle. The west coast sensation was beaten by Challedon in the Narragansett special.

Kentucky-bred Cravat, four-year-old son of Bickle-Flite, by Man o'War, had a double incentive to win. He not only was entrusted with upholding the honor of the famous Blue Grass country, but was out to avenge his defeat by Kayak II in the Hollywood gold cup.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIEZE
NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Coast reviewers say the Tennessee-Alabama films show Johnny Butler's 58-yard gallop was illegal and should have been called back. A brilliant bit of individual running, marred by too much clipping, the westerners took it. New York's excuse for not recognizing Georgia Pace as bantamweight champ may be that he has fought only twice in the last year, both times against the same guy.

One-Minute Interview
Senator "Happy" Chandler (who has been mentioned for the national league presidency): "I have been too busy to consider it. I am a member of the U. S. senate and want to stay there as long as the people want me."

Ohio State and Harvard expect to announce soon an intercollegiate football series. And one of the first deals to pop at the Cincinnati base ball meetings may find the Dodgers sending Blimp Phelps to Redland for Schaefer Lombardi. Donie Bush, ill most of last summer, is in the pink again and will return to manage the Louisville Colonels.

Today's Guest Star
Jack Singer, N. Y. Journal-American: "Georgia can have a rematch in the punch bowl New Year's Day, but they'll have to sign to fight exclusively under the auspices of Mike Jacobs for the next seven years."

Ernie Koy, quite a footballer in his day, says Jack Crain, Texas U. sophomore, is the greatest back he ever saw. And you needn't laugh that off just because Ernie is a Dodger.

ENGLISH "MOST VALUABLE"
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1 (AP)—Gill English, former major leaguer who staged a remarkable comeback with St. Paul this year, was named by the Sporting News today as the most valuable player of the American Association for 1935.

"Yes," they'll say, "we know about Crain, but did you ever see Travis Raven run with a football?"

Raven is the Texas schoolboy sensation of 1935—a one-man riot stealing the thunder from under the very nose of Crain, the Nocona Nugget who finds pay dirt on Saturdays just across town.

"Raving" Raven they call him. This 151-pound bundle of dynamite does everything from running 105 yards to a touchdown to passing the opposition dizzy.

Last week Raven reached his all-time heights by scoring 39 points against Thomas Jefferson High of San Antonio. Austin won 39-6, so you can see who did all the running. One of his touchdowns was made on an 80-yard gallop.

is Versatile
But Raven is not just a ball carrier. He does the punting and passing, plays safety, kicks the extra points and is an excellent quick-kicker, a rarity in Texas schoolboy football. He averages 37 yards on his punts and against John Reagan of Houston completed 10 passes out of 13 tries.

Odessa-Angelo Clash Is Feature 3-AA Football Feature This Week

Feature game of the District 3-AA grid schedule this week will pit San Angelo's Bobcats against Joe Coleman's Odessa Bronchos in Odessa, Friday evening.

Each team has suffered a conference beating and only the victor will retain a chance at the conference championship.

The Anglos lost to Sweetwater, 7-0, last week while Odessa dropped an early season encounter to Big Spring by the same score. Since, the Bronchos have defeated Lamesa and Abilene and have climbed into a deadlock with Big Spring for second place in league standings.

The Bobcats will be slightly favored to win, however. Harry Taylor's crew looked to advantage in their engagement with Sweetwater last week.

Coleman's team has been inactive since its 9-7 victory over Abilene two weeks ago and should be in good physical condition for the invasion.

On other fronts Abilene's Eagles, still seeking their first triumph of the year, will scrap with the Midland Bulldogs in Midland in an effort to escape the loop cellar. Beaten last week by Lamesa, 13-14, the War Birds appear to have little chance with the Dogs but may upset the well known dope bucket. Dewey Mayhew's team put up a terrific scrap with the Tornados but in the end were shelled into defeat by an aerial bombardment.

The Dogs, victorious over Big Spring by a 21-13 count last week, still are in the running for the district flag and are expected to "shoot the works" against the hapless Abileneans.

Sweetwater's Mustangs, who maneuvered toward the inside track in the race for the circuit's crown by thumping Angelo and with the scalps of Abilene and Midland already on their belts, test the Stephenville Yellow Jackets in Stephenville in a non-conference go. The Ponies are one of the state's few undefeated and untied teams and are expected to have little trouble in conquering the Erath county eleven.

Big Spring, preparing for its invasion of San Angelo Nov. 11, will be idle along with Lamesa.

SHORTHORN-S' WATER GAME TO BE DEDICATED TO M'DANIEL

KAVANAUGH A MAJOR THREAT TO VOL'S PERFECT RECORD

Oregon State Confident In Trojan Test

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 1 (AP)—Undeclared and untied in five games this season, Oregon State college football players took up the cry "On to the Rose Bowl" today as they prepared for their all-important clash here Saturday with the powerful Southern California Trojans.

It looks as if the winner of Saturday's game likely will get a bid to represent the West in the Pasadena pigskin classic New Year's Day.

Oregon State will be on the short end of a 3 to 1 odds, but the determined little squad has high hopes of knocking over the once-titled Trojans, defending champions of the Pacific Coast conference and Rose Bowl victor last season.

Coach Lon Stiner has a hunch the Beavers can duplicate the feat of his 1935 squad, which smashed Southern California's magnificent record of 28 straight victories.

To reach Saturday's test, the Oregon State beat Stanford, Portland University, Idaho, Washington and Washington State. None of these, Stiner insists, forced him to order the Beavers to open up.

Has Scored In All But 1 Game This Season

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 1 (AP)—Tennessee, the nation's No. 1 football outfit, stakes its perfect defensive record and Rose Bowl hopes against Ken Kavanaugh's pass-grabbing ability Saturday.

Major Bob Neyland is worried lest his team come a cropper in the argument with the great Louisiana State end.

"I don't believe there is a team in the country that can stop Kavanaugh from catching passes," Neyland declared today.

"Our scout report that LSU is 50 per cent stronger than the team we beat 14 to 6 last year. Their running attack is more versatile and there's always Kavanaugh."

Kavanaugh, whose dexterity at spearing passes has placed him at the top of the Southeastern conference scoring heap with 54 points, was the last gridders to score on the Volunteers. He put on his specialty in Tennessee's end zone late last fall, but since that time none of the ten opponents the Vols have met has seriously threatened their goal line.

The rangy Louisiana receptionist will be a marked man when the Tigers and Vols tread the field at Baton Rouge Saturday. He's been marked in every game this year but has acquitted himself nobly—so nobly, in fact, that he's already being talked for all-America.

Mississippi held him scoreless in LSU's opener, but on successive Saturdays he scored four touchdowns against Holy Cross, one against Rice, and two each against Loyola and Vanderbilt.

Whacky Meeting

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 1 (AP)—Marius Russo, New York Yankee rookie pitching star, was admitted by in bad humor one night last spring.

He was pitching for the Newark Bears then. Early in the game Rochester shelled him from the box. As he was leaving the park a young girl asked for his autograph. He irritably refused.

Today that girl, Stasia Syndek, 20, and Russo were on their way to the altar. They filed marriage intentions in city hall yesterday and will be married Saturday.

Miss Syndek, with Russo listening last night, said she was attracted when her companions laughed at her because Russo refused the autograph so she sought out an usher friend and told him what she thought about baseball players and pitchers in particular. He looked up Russo and related the girl's reactions.

Russo came back, apologized and soon they were out dancing. "Now, I guess we'll have to wait through life," says Stasia.

BREEDERS, TRAINERS TO FIGURE IN PURSE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 1 (AP)—Breeders and trainers of the first three horses finishing in the Kentucky derby next year are going to get something more than just mention in the record book.

Beginning in 1940, the men who have a great deal to do with producing a champion or a horse that finishes in the money will be rewarded with a share in the derby "gold," which directors of Churchill Downs have upped from $50,000 added to $75,000 added to make it the second richest race in America.

Dogs Polish Plays For Westbrook

COAHOMA, Nov. 1.—B. C. Hays' Coahoma Bulldogs polished their plays Tuesday afternoon for the Thursday invasion of the Westbrook Wolves.

Bill Fletcher's crew from Mitchell county will be favored to defeat the Dogs but not as heavily as it would have been two weeks ago. The Dogs lost a close decision to Foran last week while the Wolves were barely nosing out Garner, 14-13. The week before Coahoma shelled Garner, 41-18.

NATURALLY TOUGH

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Four reasons for the Fordham Ram worrying about this week's game with Rice: 1—the passing ability of Ernie Lain; 2—two lines, which average 207 and 208 pounds; 3—the law of averages (which can't deny this strong Southwest team forever), and 4—a big town stimulus which always makes invading teams play better than average ball.

FUNDS TO GO TO PLAYER'S FAMILY

Funds realized in the football game between the Sweetwater B squad and the Big Spring Shortorns, scheduled to be played in the Highland Park stadium Thursday night, will be dedicated to a benefit to the family of McWade McDaniel, Steer grider who succumbed in a local hospital last week.

A committee headed by Joe Fond, Curtis Driver and Martelle McDonald went to work today to dispose of tickets for the game. The pasteboards will sell for 25 and 40 cents.

Ticket sales will be conducted at the gate but fans are urged to make their purchases from one of the canvassing parties if contacted.

The school is donating use of the plant and all proceeds will be contributed to the family.

The Sweetwater eleven thumped the locals, 25-12, in a game played in Sweetwater two weeks ago but John Daniel, local mentor, hopes to have more strength on hand for the coming encounter.

The Shortorns have been drilling steadily and are in good shape for the engagement.

AUSTIN HI FLASH STEALING NOCONA NUGGET'S THUNDER

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—Wander over to the Austin High school campus and start extolling the prowess of Jack Crain, University of Texas football sensation. Then watch your listeners lift their eyebrows.

"Yes," they'll say, "we know about Crain, but did you ever see Travis Raven run with a football?"

Raven is the Texas schoolboy sensation of 1935—a one-man riot stealing the thunder from under the very nose of Crain, the Nocona Nugget who finds pay dirt on Saturdays just across town.

RULES AND CONDITIONS

To obtain the 10 symphonies and symphonic masterpieces and the electric Record Player to be distributed in this Music Appreciation Plan, proceed as follows:

First, fill in and mail the Reservation Form printed in the lower right corner of this page. The purpose of this form is not to obligate you in any way, but to enable us to estimate the quantity of records and Record Players to have on hand to meet the demand.

Each day during this music appreciation offer, we will publish a reminder coupon setting forth the date on which each symphony will be ready. You can get your first symphony (Franz Schubert's No. 8 in B Minor) on or after November 4th. Subsequent symphonies will be released one every two weeks thereafter. Watch the reminder coupon which will be published daily. It is not necessary for you to clip the coupons in order to get your records or Record Players.

You obtain each symphony, which consists of three or four double-faced 12-inch records, for a payment of $1.49. This payment is not for each record, but for all THREE or FOUR records. Symphonies which consist of FIVE double-faced 12-inch records require a payment of $1.98 for the entire symphony of all FIVE records. The Cesar Franck Symphony in D Minor, on account of its great length, is divided into two units, each unit consisting of three double-faced 12-inch records, and the cost of each unit is $1.49, the same as for any other three-record group.

A quantity of de luxe records, known as Philharmonic Transcriptions, enclosed in beautiful record albums which have been designed individually for each particular symphony, are available at a slightly higher price.

After you have obtained all ten of the symphonies, you can secure the Electric Record Player for a payment of only $3. If you want to get your Record Player earlier, you can do so—you can get it with your first group of records, your second, third, or any other group, merely by making a deposit of $5. After you have obtained all of the 10 symphonies, $2 will be returned to you. Thus, whether you get your Record Player before or after you have obtained all of the symphonies, the cost to you is only $3.

For those who want a more elaborate Record Player, a Symphonic De Luxe Model, enclosed in a walnut case, is available at a higher price.

First, mail the Reservation Form to assist us in our distribution problems. Please check whether or not you want the Record Player reserved. We will acknowledge your reservation by mail. Filling in and mailing the reservation entails no obligation whatever on your part.

Consider The In-Betweens

Speaking of representatives of 25 institutions in a convention of the Association of University Governing Boards at Austin, President Homer Price Rainey of Texas university said an increasingly sharp conflict between needs of youth and those of old age calls for the highest type of statesmanship. As the population over 65 years of age mounts, the necessity to provide old age security naturally will conflict with the needs of youth, he said.

"The problem will be rendered more acute by the fact that old age has political influence through its vote, which youth does not have," said Doctor Rainey.

This problem will be some time in the future if we may judge by the present. In the fiscal year ending in July, 1938, Texas spent for old age assistance and Confederate pensions a total of not quite 12 millions of dollars, while in the same time for education of youth, fitting them for life, expenditures were something over 52 millions of dollars—more than four times as much money in favor of youth.

Doctor Rainey need not worry over youth being placed at a disadvantage by age. The money that age votes for the benefit of youth shows the attitude of age toward youth. The great majority of parents, no matter how aged, will forego comforts for themselves to provide luxuries for their children. It is so and has always been so.

The problem that should engage not only the University Governing Boards but that ought to be considered by everyone, is where to draw the line between providing for age and youth and still be fair to those in-between people who must provide the money. That, after all, is the really important problem.

George Tucker
Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Do department stores excite you—I mean the really big ones, like Macy's. I mean the ones so big you can wander through them all day, and get lost, and still not see half that's in them.

They used to fascinate O. O. McIntyre. I know people who come to New York once each year and spend half their time plunging through them. No one walks through the big Manhattan department stores. If you strolled you'd be tramped to death. You get on your mark, you get set, you take a deep breath, and you plunge.

From time to time I have written accounts of whirling through the big revolving doors and there by becoming a visitor in Wonderland, like Alice, for a day, and I have told of the pageantry and the unbelievable variety of dood-dads that range from diapers to Imperial Russian heirlooms.

And maybe I said I enjoyed it. I don't remember. But if I did, I didn't mean it. Not really. Like fairies, they tire me out. I come out of department stores morose and dispirited, with a pain in my side, and spots before my eyes. By the time I reach the sports department the lure of the outdoors has been lost in the shuffle of the escalator. If I search for neckties, my enthusiasm gets knocked key-west before I am past the lace collar department.

I have yet to ask for anything and find it on the same floor with me. The purchases I wish to make are always seven flights up, or eight flights down.

Of course, there are information clerks all around, but the crowd around them is too dense to penetrate. If you try to remember where you saw something before, and climb by escalator or elevator to the floor where you saw it, the girl invariably tells you that it is back where you started from.

The elevator operators who pause at each stop and enumerate the four hundred items to be found on that floor really perform prodigious feats of memory—but I am not impressed. How can you be when you can't even see the operator. You can't see anything backed against the wall by 23 ladies who, with you, are jammed in an elevator designed for 12. If you have a new hat, and try to be polite by removing it in the elevator, it gets crushed. If you have bundles in your hand, and can't protect yourself, some lady with a pheasant's feather on her hat is sure to begin bobbing her head—and tickling your nose until you have to sneeze. Then everybody gives you dark looks. Sneezers spread germs. In New York, most people are horrified by germs.

Department stores? The ads look mighty cheerful in the newspapers, and the windows are mighty gay in season—this season particularly. But, personally, lead me to a little two-by-four haberdashery, with only one floor, and one clerk, and maybe only one rack of neckties to choose from. Any man who can't find what he wants in one rack comes pretty close to being a fop, anyway.

Many dinners will be given the successful football players, but the outlook for the good scholars is that they will have to pay for their own eating-Salem News.

There are no important differences between men and women," declares a psychologist. All sorts of notions as to just what is important, aren't there?—Washington Post.

Chapter 20
BREAKFAST GUEST

Two sparkling stones lay on the desk in the study, divested at last of the hard coating of wax which had dimmed their luster and concealed their brilliant beauty.

"On a snap guess, I'd say they're worth fifty thousand dollars," the District Attorney said.

Tuck drew a deep breath. "We've accomplished something," she said. "We've made the first grade."

Bunny had a tinge of bright color in her cheeks. "I'm glad," she said happily. "Somehow it seems to clear the air. There's something tangible to fasten to somewhere to start from."

"And," said Michael, "a million questions to answer. Who put the diamonds there? Are they Michaelson's, or did he steal them, and hide them where they'd never be brought out as evidence against him? Or is there some other queer business wrapped up in them?"

"I shouldn't be surprised," his father said dryly, "if, from his wife you've told me of, her husband didn't have a hand in any thievery that went on."

"You mustn't be prejudiced, Dad. Wait until you get a look at her. She's very good looking."

Tuck sniffed, but her heart was not in it. There was, for the first time, a hint of some serious suspicion in her eyes. "I don't just like it," she said. "I don't think I really believed any of it before. Now I know some of it's true. It makes me wonder..."

The District Attorney put his hand for a moment on her bright hair. He frowned. "How would you like to go down to the lake for awhile?" he inquired. "The cottage is empty. It's a nice lake."

Tuck leaned back and stared up at him. "A lake?"

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—As the time approaches for termination of the U. S.-Japanese trade treaty, both Japanese and American observers appear to recognize that never before has there been a time when this country could apply so much pressure to get Japan to change her ways in the Orient.

Germany is busy in Europe, which frees Russia to act independently or aggressively in the Orient.

Japan is involved in China in a costly "incident" from which no great profit can be expected for a generation.

The United States, free of any involvement in Europe, is able to strengthen its hand in the Orient.

Japan is in need of recovering some of her losses by sharing the profitable trade coming from the European war. For that she needs American raw materials.

There is active sentiment in this country for retaliatory acts against Japan.

Finally, the rehabilitation of China will require huge capital resources, which are available nowhere except in the United States.

Ad' all that up and you will understand more clearly how shocking to Japanese was the speech of U. S. Ambassador Grew in Tokyo in which he pointed out the sentiment in this country to frown upon Japan.

NO OFFICIAL COMMENT

There was immediate expression of resentment in Japan. But it did not creep into official comment. Yukihiro Suma, who used to be in Washington as embassy counsellor, announced in Tokyo there would be no official reply.

Suma, who is a veritable hotel-greeter, a sort of one-man good will mission, harked back to the hoary Japanese contention that Americans do not understand the Oriental situation. Moreover, he added, American reaction toward Japan is motivated more by sentiment than by realities.

That, doubtless, is true enough, but what America's policy is to be in the Orient is as likely to be governed by our sentiment toward China in particular and toward the under-dog in general, as by the so-called realities.

SOME SUGGESTED TERMS

To date Japan has made no official approach to the U. S. for negotiations on the trade treaty. When Japan does, probably soon, she will be forced to recognize that she needs much from America, while there is little the United States needs from Japan.

Spokesman Suma did point out one recognized truth, that the U. S. must make some advances to match those of Japan. He did not list them, but enlightened self-interest on the part of the United States, some writers point out, might suggest something along these lines:

Relinquishment of the Japanese exclusion act of 1924.

Easing of the tariff and trade barriers that contributed to the economic pinch in Japan that, in part, was the motive for her foray into China.

Loans for China betterment, and perhaps even directly to Japanese interests.

A primary concession from Japan would be some sort of assurance that approximately equal rights in China will be restored to all nations—with Japan out of the saddle.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—That man's out again. Which man? That man who is always escaping from Devil's Island, France's gift to the cinema, or from some place just like Devil's Island but not so named because France might get sore.

The man this time is Gable. Last week it was Basil Rathbone, the week before—but let's get up a list instead, sometime, of the actors who haven't made the dash for freedom. You know—"the jungle—the fever—the swamps—and if you don't get through—the ants. Yain't got a chance, and your hero has to make the try or the movie he's in ain't got a chance, buddy, either."

Well, Gable's doing it for a new one called "Not Too Narrow, Not Too Deep" (but much too long for the marquee so the present title hasn't much chance). The girl is Joan Crawford, here with Gable for the sixth time.

That means something to the Crawford career, coming as it does quickly after her about-face in "The Women," a role which made her interesting again. With Gable, Joan made her biggest early talkie successes. And the present picture will be ready soon after Gable begins reaping the reward for his months of screen absence spent in the making of "Gone With the Wind." The long overdue picture has the sneakers raving, with especial huzzahs for Ohio-born Gable's impersonation of Dixie's Rhett Butler.

"Not Too Narrow, Not Too Deep's" release will find Gable bigger than ever in consequence, and Joan, in the slightly shady role of a waterfront resort hostess, ought to profit immeasurably by the association. Stardom is measured, more than ever these days, by the company it keeps on the marquee.

It's the brave movie light indeed, these parlous box-office days, who dares to shine alone on a marquee. Since the making of "Grand Hotel" and "Dinner at Eight"—counter-depression measures involving the dumping of a carload of real stars into each production—the idea of fellow traveler stars (non-politically speaking, of course) has gained such ground as to be almost the rule.

Even our leading star, Shirley Temple, is not averse to stellar support, although her name alone is one of the few that can sell tickets on its own. In the old days one Billie Dove or one Greta Garbo was sufficient. Today we get combinations like Power-Loy, Brent, Muni-Davis-Aherns, Garbo-Melvyn Douglas-Lubitsch, and in each film they're aided by the best "support" money can buy. We get three Marx brothers, three Lane sisters (with a Gale Page throw in) and we used to get three Ritzes and four Yacht Club Boys. For "Not Too Narrow, etc." besides Gable and Crawford we're getting Melvyn Douglas and Peter Lorre and Betty Compson, with Frank Borzage for director.

Dukes

(Continued from Page 5) much of a stranger at Duquesne after his job as assistant there, proved his familiarity with the set-up by smashing Pitt's "undefeated" hopes in a 21-13 fiasco. Upsetting the Panther when he's the noisiest is a favorite Duquesne pastime, and even if Buff's team hadn't won the first three games, beating Pitt would have made it a successful season. That upset, though, ended Charley Bowser's ride on the rainbow up at Pittsburgh, where he succeeded Jock Sutherland. Bowser's team was the talk of the nation with three successive triumphs and then unneighborly Duquesne spoiled it. But a coach whose team beats mighty Duke isn't doing so badly.

Horrell Does Well The West Coast has a first-year man who's registering well. He's Babe Horrell, who moved up from an assistantship at U.C.L.A. when Bill Spaulding vacated the head coach position to become athletic director. The Uclans romped along merrily in their first four games, spilling Texas Christian, Washington, and Montana, but getting no better than a 14-14 tie with Stanford.

Joe Sheeketski, another assistant become head coach, apparently had things humming happily at Holy Cross until Louisiana State roared in by plane and then roared under and over the Cross for a rudely decisive victory. But Sheeketski has well-earned victories over Georgia, Brown and Manhattan for comfort.

Dr. Eddie Anderson, who left the Holy Cross job to Sikeeketski, hasn't fared badly in his new post at Iowa—except that his team ran into Michigan, a pretty bad blunder in any league. Iowa turned aside South Dakota and Indiana before Michigan and Harmon snowed Anderson's boys under. Boston College, where Frank Leahy succeeded Gloomy Gil Doble, won two early games and lost a 7-0 decision to Florida. But then Leahy brought the boys back to life and Temple was murdered, 19 to 0.
