

Boys Baseball All Star Team Finish Tournament Play

The Boys Baseball All Star team completed tournament play this past weekend. They competed in the Guymon tournament on the 8th and 9th and in the Gruver tournament on the 13th and 14th.

At the Guymon tournament the boys started out a little slowly. They lost their opening game to the home town team by a close score of 7 to 3. The Guymon "A" team opened the scoring in the 2nd inning with two runs. In their half of the inning, Spearman was able to score three runs and take the lead.

Spearman was able to hold the lead through two scoreless innings. But, in the 5th inning, Guymon exploded for five runs, and held on to win the game 7 to 3.

In their next game the Spearman boys were able to turn it around and defeated the Stratford team 9 to 7. In this game the boys started off strong, offensively, and stayed that way through the entire game. They scored at least one run in every inning of the game. Even though their defense, at times appeared a little shaky, their hitting and scoring make up for it.

In their 3rd and final game of the Guymon tournament, the Spearman boys started off strong. They scored five runs in the first two innings. Their opponents, Tyrone and Turpin, stayed right with Spearman, scoring four runs of their own. The score stayed close through the rest of the game. The difference in the score came in the fourth inning. In the fourth inning Spearman was only able to score one run while Tyrone and Turpin scored two. This gave Tyrone and Turpin the one run advantage after both teams scored two runs apiece in the fifth inning.

This second loss eliminated the Spearman team from the tournament.

The following weekend the Spearman All Stars were back in action in the Gruver All Star tournament. This weekend the boys seem to have trouble with teams whose names begin with "G".

They start off by losing a close game, 3 to 1, to the home town team, the Gruver All Stars. In their next two games they out score their opponents Gruver "B", 18-0, and Liberal, 9-1. But, in their fourth game against Guymon, the Spearman boys were on the losing end, 2-11. This second loss eliminated the Spearman team from the tournament.

Allen Varmon, as the coach of the Boys Baseball All Stars and as Commissioner of the league, would like to thank all the people who made this summers baseball such a success.

He would like to thank the coaches and the team Moms for their help on each team.

The concession stand could not run without each Mom. Those who helped to voluntarily supply the different items to the concession stand, thank you.

People who helped on up keep on the baseball fields, including the City of Spearman for mowing the grass and the Texas-New Mexico Power Company for light repairs. The Spearman Jaycees for the use of the concession stand and fields.

Finally he wants to thank his wife for backing him in this worth while endeavor.

Camp Encourages Leadership

"Teaching leadership and free enterprize," is the purpose of the Rotary Youth Leadership Award (RYLA) Camp, according to John Collard of the Rotary Club. Joel Shields and Jeff Spense, the two boys the club chose to send this year, said it was a lot of fun too.

RYLA is a camp sponsored by the International Rotary Clubs. There is a camp each summer for boys and one, each summer, for the girls. The boys and girls that go to the camps are picked and sponsored by their local Rotary Clubs. The boys and girls that are picked to attend the camp are mostly high school juniors and seniors.

The two boys that went to the RYLA Camp this summer were Joel Shields and Jeff Spense. They left for the camp July 9 and were finished on July 14. The boys were accompanied by John R. Collard.

During the mornings of the five days of the camp, the boys attended lectures and workshops dealing with issues in civic leadership, public service, financial services, and personal achievement. In the afternoons the boys were free to take advantage of the recreational facilities of the camp.

The recreational facilities included volleyball, basketball, rifle range, obstacle course, rope course, and water sports. The boys were split on which activities they wanted to spend their time on.

Joel elected to spend most of his time on basketball. "Our cabin won the basketball tournament," Joel said as justification for his choice.

Jeff on the other hand spent his time between horse back riding, volleyball, and softball. Jeff's volleyball team came with in one game of winning the volleyball tournament.

Both boys were very thankful to the Rotary Club for choosing and sponsoring them at the camp. They both feel that they learned some valuable lessons and had a lot of fun in the bargain.

Beauty And Talent Come Together At F. B. Contest

At the First Methodist Church, beauty and talent came together when the Hansford County Farm Bureau held their annual Queen and Talent Search Contest. The selection ceremonies took place on Monday night, July 17.

The festivities started with a banquet at the El Vaquero Restaurant for the contestants, judges, and the Farm Bureau officials. The banquet was hosted by the wives of the Farm Bureau members.

The contestants in the Queen contest were Ginger Pearson, of Spearman, and Shelly Stedje, of Gruver.

Pearson is a town girl who just graduated from Spearman High School. She is the daughter of Jacki and Bob Pearson.

Stedje is a country girl and an upper classman at Gruver High School. She is the daughter of Cathy and Dennis Stedje.

There were three talent contestants participating in the show. They were Michele Graham, Ross Jarvis, and Dena Turner.

Graham sang a soprano rendition of "Amazing Grace." She is a recent graduate of Spearman High School and is the daughter of Ellen and Preston Graham.

Ross played the piano both in the talent search and during the queen competition. His piano piece during the talent search was "My Jesus I Love Thee". He is a Junior at Spearman High School and the son of Cheri and Wesley Jarvis.

Turner sang "Didn't We Almost Have It All" by Whitney Houston. She graduated from Spearman High School in 1988. She is the daughter of Molly and

The judges for the queen and talent search contests were Aleta Gurwell of Guymon, Becky Cunningham of Perryton, and Joyce Ann Lasley of Stratford.

Some of the Farm Bureau officials that were present were David Thomas, President of Hansford County Farm Bureau. He presented the awards to the winners. The State Director of Farm Bureau, Aubrey Rasor, was also present. New area field man, George Cauldwell, viewed it as an opportunity to meet the people he would be working with.

There were four members of the Board of Directors present. They were Randy Reid, Elmo Dahl, Keith Height, and Carl Kunselman.

The Banquet was a time for the queen and talent contestants to meet the judges and Farm Bureau officials. After the feasting and socializing, the ceremony moved to the First Methodist Church where the contests took place.

The Master of ceremonies for the contest was Glen Harris. He got the proceedings under way by bringing out each of the queen contestants in evening gowns. The contestants, during this phase of the contest were expected to answer questions about where they live and about their family life.

Next, each of the queen contestants were brought out one at a time to deliver pre-prepared answers to two questions. The first question, why are you proud to be an American, is the same for both girls. The second question was drawn by each girl the day before, from a possible list of 15 questions. These second questions have to do with how the Farm Bureau operates.

Ms. Pearson stated, in answering the first question, she was proud to be an American because, "We belong to a God-fearing country." Her second question was about how the Farm Bureau policies are formed.

Ms. Stedje answered the first question by saying, "No other country could match America in achievements in civil and human rights." Her second question dealt with the different jobs the Farm Bureau Secretary must perform.

During this part of the contest the girls are judged not only on their appearance but on their poise and ability to speak in public.

This concluded the queen contest part of the show. Next to come was the talent search portion.

The first talent search contestant was Ms. Graham. She sang "Amazing Grace". After Ms. Graham, Mr. Jarvis played an arrangement of "My Jesus I Love Thee" on the piano. Last contestant was Ms. Turner who sang the Whitney Houston song, "Didn't we Almost Have It All".

After the contestants finished their performances the judges scoring sheets were tallied.

While the audience waited for the judges scores to be tallied and the winners to be announced, they were entertained by a fashion show and country and western music performed by Brenda Dahl and Robin Castillo.

The fashion show was staged by three 4-H girls who showed their

by Helen Fisher

That well-fed look on the face of T.D. Sansing lately is the result of the home-cooked meals he has been enjoying. His daughter, Carolyn McGearty, of Bellville has been visiting him last week, and she has lost none of her culinary expertise.

Jody and Bill Harnish and sons, Lance, Shane and Jason, are back from a cool and scenic vacation in the mountains. Brooks Beck accompanied them.

They spent several days at Monument Lake. Her sister, Sharon and Bernard Dossett of Amarillo joined them there. The Dossetts returned home and the others went onto Aspen and other places of interest.

So now it is back to her duties at the Hansford manor for Jody and to Chevron for Bill, and to prepare to enter W.T.S.U. in the fall for Lance and Texas Tech for Brooks and high school for Shane and Jason.

Extremely interesting guests in Spearman for several days have been Mike and Marsha Key with son Micah, daughters Mindy and Marilissa.

Mike is the son of Mrs. Okla Mae Key of the Hansford Manor and the nephew of Mrs. Verna Jarvis.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Key spoke to the congregation of the First Baptist Church in Spearman. They were noon guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jarvis. Others at the meal were Mr. and Mrs. Woodville Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Pack and Jay, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Gibbs and Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Key have been Baptist missionaries for 17 years, and most of the time has been in Togo in West Africa. They did spend a year in France to learn the language as Togo is a French speaking country with many local dialects at present the Keys are on a years furlough and are living at Huntsville, Texas.

Space here prevents a detailed account of the lives and fascinating activities of the Keys.

Kenneth E. Shufeldt and his daughter, Sandra Brant, of Canyon are in Illinois where they attended funeral services for his mother on Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Shufeldt, 90, of Iuka, Illinois, had made her home here with Kenneth for the last year and a half. Last week she suffered a broken hip in a fall in the home and was taken to Amarillo where she died on Friday.

A grandson, Hal Shufeldt of Spearman, also survives her.

Last week there was a mini-epidemic of cataract surgery with Lowell Denman and Ila Mae Buchanan having it done in Pampa, Lawrence Anthony in Amarillo, and Anita Anthony a few days previously in Amarillo.

Guests in the home of Lowell and Cleo Denman last Friday night were Lt. and Mrs. Glenn Taylor, Cleo's grandson. They are stationed at Ft. Hood, Texas.

From Spearman they went to Longmont, Colorado where they have old friends.

Later they will visit Glenn's other grandparents in Seattle, Washington.

Chris Hornsby will start the school season with a renewed interest in geography and history as a result of a trip he took recently. His mother, Debbie Hornsby, grandparents, Kenneth and Lorene Burke, returned Saturday from an interesting trip ending in Jacksonville, Florida.

First they spent two days in Dallas with their daughter, Kendra. Then they drove the scenic route along the coast thru Louisiana and Mississippi stopping at places of historical interest, including Biloxi.

In Florida they were met by their son, Steve, at Orlando. They all toured St Augustine and took the space center tour by bus to Cape Canaveral where they were fascinated by first hand sight of the many places and craft well known from the news.

Of course Disney World was a lot of fun, and St Augustine is rich in history.

At Jacksonville, Lorene, Debbie and Chris had their very first view of the ocean. Chris enjoyed swimming in it and watching the dolphins.

Steve, Petty Officer 2nd Class, is assigned to the Destroyer USS Tatnall which was in port at the Mayport Naval Base. The sight of all the naval ships was impressive to the Burkes.

They returned home by a different route and enjoyed every mile of their 3600 mile trip.

When they reached home, they found Kenda here. She is on vacation from Horizon Oil and Gas company and will be here a week.

Garland and Virginia Head, accompanied by Delinda McLaughlin and her three children, attended the Head family reunion this past weekend. It was held in the Days End Motel at Lubbock with about 48 present.

Also attending was the head's son, Ronnie, and his two daughters. They live at Artesia, New Mexico.

Admissions to Hansford Hospital the past week were: Silas Dozier, E.B. Boyd, Norma Eddins, Gruver, Bob Skinner, Ned Turner, Ellen Reynolds, John Dawson, Thelma Wright, Spearman.

Jeanette Melton visited her mother, Willene Hughes, a few days this past week. Jeanette now lives in Bakersfield, California where she moved 18 months ago when she married Don Melton.

Her children still live in the Dumas area and she still maintains her home there. Her son, Robbie Thomas, also visited Willene.

Leon and Valarie Hagerman with Tanner and Mollie spent the weekend with his mother, Lucile Hagerman.

They have moved to Muleshoe where he will be the head coach for the boys basketball team.

Word from the office of Bob Skinner is encouraging as to his condition following an accident. Last Wednesday he was working at one of his gas wells at the compressor unit when a hose came loose and struck him, inflicting serious internal injuries.

He was brought to Hansford Hospital, then transferred to High Plains Baptist where he underwent emergency surgery immediately. He is making rapid recovery and is hopeful of being able to return home about the middle of this week.

Raye and Butch Butler returned last weekend from a two weeks vacation. They left on June 30th and visited in Wilburton, Oklahoma with their son Jamie and family; then to Abilene for son

Road and Jerry Roberts of Amarillo.

From there they went to San Antonio for sight seeing and relaxation. In spite of the heat, it was a very enjoyable, restful several days.

They returned by way of Redon, Oklahoma to help Raye's mother celebrate her 87th birthday. Her mother lives alone and tends her own household and is very alert and enjoys life.

Johnnie and Kelly Fuller are back at work after their vacation. In Big Spring they spent a few days with his parents. Later at San Antonio, they were pleased that the weather was pleasant, especially while they were at Sea World.

Texas Tech Turns Waste to Feed

For years, cotton producers have sought ways to convert cotton gin trash into money. Now, two Texas Tech University professors and an Austin businessman say they have the solution to that problem.

Reed Richardson, professor of animal science, Richard Tock, professor of chemical engineering, and Charles Sweeney, owner of Biolytic echnology, have developed an economically viable procedure that transforms the trash into cattle andsheep feed.

Cotton gin trash the waste that remains after the cotton plant is processed for cotton fibers and seed. More than 1.3 million tons of trash accumulate each year in the state of Texas.

Richardson said the idea to turn cotton gin trash into feed is not new. In past studies, chemical pre-treatment reagents such as sodium hydroxide, sulfuric acid, hydrogen peroxide, ammonia and ozone were used to alter the trash and other biomass residues to increase their nutritional value and digestibility.

"Some of these past projects were effective, but they were too costly for mostfeedlot operations," said Richardson. "The new procedure that relies on a biolytic mixed oxidant is exciting because of its economical potential."

The biolytic procedure uses a water solution of various oxidants -- ozone, hydrogen peroxide and other superoxide species. The liquid product is produced in a special electrolytic cell designed by Sweeney. The electrolytic cell produces the oxide mixture by passing an electrical current through a brine solution. The mixture is blended with the cotton gin trash to chemically alter or pre-digest it. The final product is fed to cattle as the fiber portion of their diet.

Sweeney recently signed a $40,000 contract with the Texas Tech Research Foundation. The foundation is a not-for-profit agency developed for the exclusive charitable, educational and scientific benefit of Texas Tech University and the Health Sciences Center. The funds will enable Richardson and Tock to finalize research. The group plans to make the procedure available for commercial use by the end of August.

Richardson will study the nutritional value of the processed cotton gin trash and its effects on cattle, and Tock will concentrate on economic evaluation and the development of the process for commercial use.

"Scientifically, there is a dramatic improvement in digestibility," said richardson. "The untreated cotton gin trash was only 34 percent digestible, but the new process increases digestibility to 64 percent."

Sweeney said he also envisions his process as a potential application for treatment of cereal fibers for human consumption.

designs which won them district honors. The girls will be showing their designs at a regional contest later this month.

Ms. Dahl, playing guitar, and Ms. Castillo, singing, performed a number of country and western hits. By the time they were finished, every one in the place was tapping their feet and mouthing the words to the music. The duo performed for about twenty minutes.

Now it was time to announce the winners of the Farm Bureau Queen and Talent Search Contest.

The winner of the Queen contest was Ms. Ginger Pearson of Spearman. She will now go on and compete in the state Farm Bureau Queen contest to be held later this month. If for some reason she cannot compete Ms. Stedje will take her place.

The talent search contest was won by Ms. Graham. She received a plaque in honor of the occasion and will go on to compete in a state competition. If she can not compete then Mr. Jarvis will take her place, as he finished second.

The awarding of the prizes and thanking of all the Farm Bureau wives who worked to make the event possible concluded the evening's festivities.

Young Drug Fighters Join Forces

Youth and adult leaders throughout our region are gathering at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene for the Annual Regional Leadership Conference, August 7 and 8th.

Sponsored by Texans War on Drugs, the 2 day conference will highlight the growing number of citizens who are working at the community level to raise the awareness of drug education and drug-free lifestyles.

Topics to be addressed are Leadership Development, Red Ribbon Week, Aids-The Drug Epidemic, Getting Involved at the Grass-roots, Drug Legalization: Should We Just Say Yes? Steroids & Running, Parenting Skills, Working with the Media, and Sex and Drugs.

The goal is to train leaders in drug education, as well as provide a network of support to reinforce the commitment for drug-free life-styles.

This action packed, fun filled, and informative conference will give both adult and youth skills to start and support drug-free programs in their community that will be effective.

Registration is $25. for the two day conferences. This includes packets, meals, lodging, and fun activities in the evening.

All Stars do well at AAU Tournament

Coach Richard North took nine girls to the Jr. Olympic National AAU Basketball tournament in Charleston West Virginia. The girls, with two exceptions, just graduated from local high schools and are bound for college. The team was called the Northstars.
 The girls on the team are: Krista Kirklan and Heather Murrell from Spearman; Jara Behrens, Stephanie Brown, and Misty Patterson from Canyon; Amy Jowell of Dumas; Stacy Boone of Perryton; and Tammy Evans of Amarillo.
 The Jr. Olympic National AAU Basketball Tournament is composed of 38 teams. The girls on the teams were all eighteen years old and younger. There were nearly 500 athletes from all over the nation. Watching the players were 300 college coaches and scouts. In this kind of arena, the Northstars finished ninth.
 The northstars received a bye in the first round of play. In the second round they met Mississippi, which had defeated its first round opponent. The game was close all the way with the North-stars holding on to win 78-75. The high point scorers were: Krista (24pts), and Missy (32pts). A very strong Tennessee team met the Northstars in the third round of play. Tennessee, led by three Parade All-Americans, proved to be too strong winning 75-66. Foul trouble and a big height disadvantage hurt the Northstars. Krista, while managing to score only five points fouled out, as did Missy Kraai of Canyon. Missy led the Northstar with 20 points and Stacy Boone of Perryton added 11. Sixfoot three inch Misty Lamb, one of three Tennessee starters over six foot, had 12 points.

 On Tuesday night, in the losers bracket, the Northstars faced Missouri. Both teams shot exceptionally well as evidenced by the score. However the tough defense played by the Northstars proved to be the difference. The Northstars won 105-87. The high point scorers were: Krsita (21 pts),

Heather (9pts) and Tara (33 pts). A bit if intrigue surrounded the Northstars final opponent, Washington. Their coach, Andrea Lloyd had been a four year starter for the University of Texas and a gold medal winner for the USA in the 1980 Olympics. The Northstars played with great intensity but foul trouble once again aided the enemy. After leading for most of the game the Northstars fell behind after Krista and Tara fouled out and Missy sat out with 4 fouls for about eight minutes. The final was 76-69. Washington was led by 5'5" Cindy Sparcich who had 12 pts. Missy (27 pts), Krista (10pts), Heather (2pts) and Stacy (2 pts)
 Money to pay for the team to compete in West Virginia had to be raised by the team. They excepted donations from communities and organizations. These monies went to a fund the whole team used. The exceptions to this were the two girls still in high school. They were Amy Jowell and Misty Patterson. These two girls had to pay their own way.

 According to Rhonda North, money to defray the cost of the trip is still needed. If you would like to help, please get in touch with Coach Richard North.
