DETERMINED COED—The above coed could not take advantage of Monday's ideal sun-bathing weather, but she resolved to absorb some sun - shine the next day come rain or shine. However, the sand came, accompanied by winds gusting up to 49 miles per hour, and a gas mask, or maybe it's a sand mask, was necessary to carry out her resolution.

Looney Named To National YR Office

Glenn Looney of Lubbock was named National Committeeman in the Texas Young Republican Federation this past weekend at YR state convention.

Looney, a political science graduate student, was elected unanimously by the more than 500 delegates representing Texas chapters at the Houston convention. Looney is also a member of the Tech government department.

Others Elected

Two others from Lubbock were elected to positions. Curtis Swinson, Tech junior and president of the Tech Young Republicans, was elected college chairman.

Scott Smith, Coronado High student, was elected high school chairman.

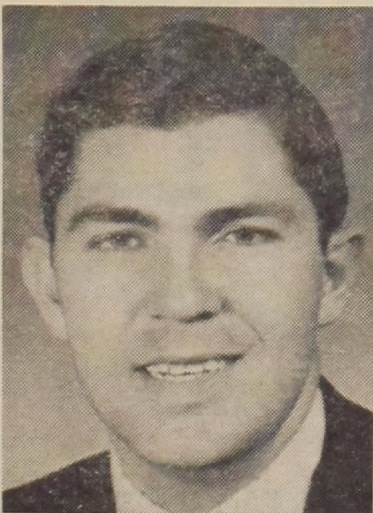

Elected to area and district YR officers were R. B. Allen, Tech junior, Area 111 chairman; Mary Turner, District 28 committeewoman and Ben Walker, District 28 committeeman.

More than 70 area Young Republicans attended the state convention. Area YR organizations with delegates at the convention were Texas Tech, Lubbock Christian College, Coronado High School, Lubbock High School and Littlefield.

Looney as national committeeman will represent all the YRs and YR organizations of Texas on the National Committee of the National Young Republican Federation. He will be responsible for formulation of national YR policy and will coordinate Texas YR efforts with other state organizations.

Looney helped organize the Tech chapter of YR and served for two years as president. Looney was named outstanding college Young Republican in Texas in 1963.

Play Tryouts Set Today

Try-outs for "Gallow's Humor," Tech speech department production, are scheduled today and Thursday in University Theater.

They will be 3-5 p.m. today and 3-5 and 7-10 p.m. Thursday. Anyone may try out.

Careers Meet Set March 30

The Second Annual Careers Conference, sponsored by Delta Sigma Phi, will host representatives from 33 companies March 30, in an effort to acquaint Tech students with the operation of several businesses.

The program, designed for students of all classifications in all schools at Tech, is conducted in cooperation with the faculty, the Placement Service, and the Tech Union.

The conference will begin with a noon luncheon in the Union Ballroom. The meeting will then be broken up into informal discussion groups led by the various company representatives. The discussions are designed to allow students to talk personally with these representatives.

Off-Campus Dorm Sponsors Contest

A student who finds the right name for the off-campus men's dorm now under construction will receive a year's room and board at the hall in a contest sponsored by University Inns, Inc.

Names for the hall must have a historical or other significant relationship with Texas Tech or the community, and must be submitted by students who will be at Tech next year.

Judges

Guy Moore, director of housing, will be chairman of the judging committee to consist of Dennis Watkins, assistant dean of men, Cecil Green, editor of the Daily Toreador, Dean Loyce Katz, assistant dean of women, and Joy Cox, president of the women's residence council.

Entrants may submit as many names as they wish, and the prize, which is not transferable, will go to the best name submitted, or to the earliest postmarked entry in case of a tie.

The hall, which will house 968 students, will have suites for four men with carpeting, semi-private bath facilities, air conditioning, and daily maid service.

Recreation Area

A ground floor recreation area will offer color television, enclosed heated swimming pool, ping pong, snack shop, library, student government offices, and meeting rooms.

The unit under construction, which is the first phase of a planned 4,000 student, 23 acre complex, was begun Nov. 25, and is to be ready for occupants next fall.

The cost of the construction is above $1 million and with furnishings the dorm will be valued at $3 million.

Entries should be submitted on post cards, with one suggestion to a card with the entrant's name and address, to "Name the Hall Contest," 1717 Norfolk Ave., Lubbock. Entries later than midnight April 11 will not be accepted.

Draft Boards Will Not Get Information Registrar Will Forward Grades Upon Request

The Tech registrar office will not furnish Selective Service boards with student grade information unless the student requests that it be made available to them, Don Renner, assistant dean of admissions and registrar, said Tuesday.

Renner said the registrar's office is not geared to handle the tremendous job of furnishing every student's grades to his local board. Renner said his office is doing all it could under the present limited administrative capacity. "Besides selective service, the registrar's office must also handle the new GI bill and social security information."

"Since we certify that students are enrolled at Tech, it should be understood that the student is making satisfactory progress or he would not be able to enroll."

Renner said that out of 8,900 college certification forms filled out in January, incorrect information was given on more than half of the forms.

He said the college added extra work to an already over-loaded office only to have the plan backfire.

"The registrar's office is not an extension of the selective service," Renner added. "Students have asked our office how many children they should have to keep from being drafted. This is a matter that only the draft board can answer."

Renner said the registrar's office will continue to certify a student's enrollment, but only at the beginning of each semester.

"But this is as far as the registrar's office will go. All questions must be directed to the student's board and if the board wants additional information, they will contact the student who must then come to us," Renner said.

Women Students To Elect AWS Officers

Tech women students will go to the polls today to select the executive officers for the Association for Women Students General Council for 1966-1967.

Voting in the women's dormitories will be from 11:15 a.m.-1:15 p.m. and 5:15-6:30 p.m.

Genelyn Cannon is unopposed for the office of president.

Sandy Harris and Sarah Abernathy are vice presidential candidates.

Suzanne Hightower is unopposed for second vice president and Suzy Crain is unopposed for third vice president.

Candidates for secretary are Sherrell Andrews, Rosie Ashton and Vivian Lowery.

Mary Lou Clements and Nancy Fordtran are running for treasurer.

Judicial Council chairman candidates are Sue McDonald and Marsha Myers.

Terry Terrell and Carla Matthews are candidates for Intercollegiate Association of Women Students representative.

Dorm Residents Continue Fall Semester Sign-Ups

Approximately 1,200 spaces are available in men's dormitories as residents continue to sign up for rooms throughout the week.

Residents who wish to remain in their present dorm, but who want to change rooms may sign contracts today. Residents of Men's No. 9 may also sign for new rooms.

Thursday, residents wishing to change dorms may sign for rooms in the dorm that they are moving to.

Spaces available as of 4 p.m. Tuesday were Bledsoe, 120; Carpenter, 150; Gaston, 200; Gordon, 106; Sneed, 200; Thompson, 220 and Wells, 200.

Residents of the men's dorms signed up for their same rooms yesterday.

Women residents will sign for rooms again Thursday. Sophomores who want to change dorms or move to Men's No. 9 will sign up. Junior and senior women completed signing for rooms Tuesday.

Spaces remain in all upperclass dorms except Weeks. Spaces available as of 4 p.m. Tuesday were Clement, 200; Hluen, 100; West, 60 and Men's No. 9, 133. No number was given for Doak Hall.

Today an exact count will be taken in women's dorms before sophomores sign up.

All present students will be housed before new students are assigned to rooms. Incoming freshman women students will be assigned to rooms in April. The Office of Room Reservations has received 2,150 requests for rooms from freshman girls.

Freshman dorms will remain the same next year. They will be Wall, Gates, Horn, Knapp and Drane.

Room sign ups will be completed Thursday.

Fine Arts Reminders

Channel 11 television sets the pace for lively entertainment this week with two outstanding shows, one a re-run, scheduled for today and Thursday.

The Julie Andrews Show, a special shown for the first time last November, will be shown again at 8 p.m. today. Along with Miss Andrews on this widely-acclaimed show are guests Gene Kelly and the Christy Minstrels.

Miss Andrews' numbers include a medley of tunes from the shows in which she has appeared, including "My Fair Lady," "Mary Poppins" and "The Sound of Music." Kelly joins her for a variety segment about their respective family trees.

The Dean Martin Show on Thursday also promises to be very entertaining, including as two of the special guests popular musical groups the Supremes and Herb Alpert and the Tiajuana Brass.

Tenor Saxists In Austin Show

Jazzdom's top two tenor saxists will be sharing the spotlight—perhaps even vying for it—at the Longhorn Jazz Festival being staged in Austin April 2-3.

Featured at the festival's Sunday night, April 3, concert will be John Coltrane and Stan Getz, a pair of tenor-tax giants who have dominated the field for at least a decade now.

Although they are unanimously conceded to be the leading exponents of the tenor sax, Coltrane and Getz have arrived at their positions of prominence through markedly different styles, Coltrane getting his start with the Miles Davis Quintet and Getz with his popularization in this country of Brazil's bossa nova beat.

The April 3 program which these two will head also features the Pete Fountain Quartet with Bobby Hackett, vocalist Chris Connor and the Maynard Ferguson band.

Quiz Bowl Matches Wit, Speedy Answers

An experiment in intelligence testing under the strain of competition and time limits comes to Tech with the presentation of the Quiz Bowl at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Sponsored by the Ideas and Issues Committee of Tech Union, the Quiz Bowl is a contest matching sorority and fraternity teams in an elimination tournament of question and answer matches. It is patterned after the General Electric "College Bowl" of television renown.

Rules for the television show will be applied to the Quiz Bowl with only a few adaptations for local purposes.

The contest, formally known as the Lyceum Quiz Bowl, is a program "designed to aid in recognizing those students whose intelligence, broad knowledge and command of information are of the highest order.

It is also designed to offer various groups on campus the opportunity to demonstrate the quality of their membership and to offer to the general public an entertaining and exciting contest.

The nine Tech fraternities and sororities competing will vie in 15-minute matches with two teams to a match. There will be a 10-minute break between matches.

The final match is scheduled for approximately 1:30 p.m. and a trophy will be awarded the Quiz Bowl winner.

Chuck Dietz will serve as moderator. Teams participating in Saturday's Quiz Bowl are Delta Delta Delta, Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Delta Pi, Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Gamma, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Psi and Pi Kappa Alpha.

DO YOU HAVE WHAT IT TAKES TO BE A LEADER?*

*If you do, don't settle for less.

If you will complete your first two years of college this spring and have not had ROTC training, you now have a special opportunity to earn an Army officer's commission in the next two years. You can qualify to fulfill your military obligation as an officer while you study for a college degree in a field of your choice.

Through a new two-year Army ROTC program you will receive leadership training and experience that will be valuable assets for the rest of your life, in either a military or a civilian career. You will receive an allowance of $40 each month during your Junior and Senior years. If you desire, you may request postponement of your military service while you complete your studies for a graduate degree.

Most large business and industrial firms prefer the college graduate who has been trained and commissioned as an officer—who has the ability to organize, motivate and lead others—and who has had experience in accepting responsibilities beyond his years.

You owe it to yourself to investigate this important opportunity.

For complete information on the new two-year Army ROTC program see the Professor of Military Science on campus.

Symphony Appears; Closes Out Season

The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra under the direction of William Steinberg will appear at Lubbock's Municipal Auditorium April 18, at 8:15 p.m.

Its appearance brings down the curtain on this season's Tech Artists Course series.

The orchestra has recently returned from a tour of the European continent and the Near East, under the sponsorship of the State Dept.

In its 11 weeks of travel 42 concerts were given in 14 countries. The orchestra has participated in music festivals in Athens, Lebanon, Switzerland, Scotland, Poland.

It performed "royally" before Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip in Edinburgh, the Duke and Duchess of Luxembourg, and the president of the Swiss Confederation.

The United States tour includes 51 concerts in at least 13 states.

Tickets will be available to students beginning March 28. Faculty can purchase tickets one week prior to the performance at $2. General public admission $4.

Speech Intramurals Begin Wednesday

The third and final round of speech intramurals begins next Wednesday.

Sweepstakes and second place trophies will be awarded following the competition as well as trophies for first place winners of each of the individual events.

Organizations and individuals will compete in informative speaking, manuscript and prose reading. Manuscripts and informative speeches will be original compositions not exceeding eight minutes.

Prose selections may be from any prose work and must not exceed eight minutes.

Gamma Phi Beta is presently in first place, with the Pre-Law Club and Kappa Kappa Gamma holding second and third positions, respectively.

Entries are due Monday in Agricultural Engineering 207 with a 50 cent entry fee for each participant.

The City, The School...

LAST YEAR ABOUT this time, the big news was Gov. John Connally's veto of the legislative bill that would have created a medical school for Texas Tech.

Monday, the medical school was in the news again, placed there by Gov. Connally in several of his speeches on campus.

Again, he reiterated his stand on the medical school and expanded some of his points.

He said that a medical school was needed in this part of the state, but at the present time there is not enough financial backing for it, and not enough study has been made as to its possible location.

Last year, noting in a message to the Texas Legislature that the bill authorized creation of a medical school "prior to the completion of any professional study as to the overall medical needs of the state or the location of new facilities to meet those needs," Connally concluded:

"In my opinion, this is contrary to sound planning of graduate programs in the highly complex and expensive field of medical education."

Apparently, he still feels the same way, and certain conditions will have to be met before he changes his mind.

Since state money can't be used to provide a training hospital (usually used for charity patients), the money and the land will have to come from the city where the medical school will be located.

This means that interested cities are going to have to show their interest by authorizing a bond sale to finance the hospital and land; they can't just stand around and say "maybe." After that, the state can go ahead and provide the instructors and classroom facilities needed.

If we expect to get a medical school, the City of Lubbock is going to have to get off its status quo and get on the stick.

To Seat A Crowd...

THE RECOGNITION SERVICES Sunday were a graphic example of how much a medium-sized auditorium is needed at Tech.

Too many times, whenever an organization needs a special meeting place, or whenever a crowd-drawing speaker arrives, the only places available are the Main Ballroom and Coronado Room of the Union, the University Theater or the Municipal Auditorium.

Both the Ballroom and Coronado Room are not meant to double as auditoriums. The acoustics leave a lot to be desired in both rooms, and hard, folding chairs are not conducive either to comfort or attentive audiences.

And the University Theater is something else again. So often it is "reserved" for speech department affairs that it rarely serves a functional purpose for other areas of the campus.

Then, when organizations get around to the Municipal Auditorium, the problem is money and too much space.

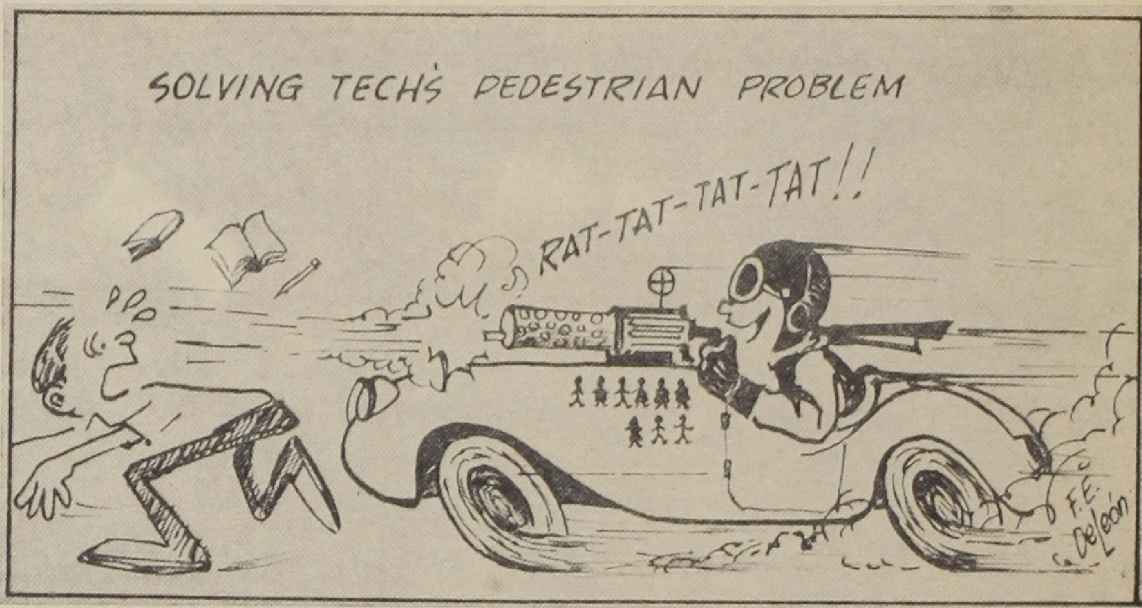

Unfortunately, it was almost ridiculous Sunday at the Recognition Services. Approximately 700 students were recognized, and the rest of the Ballroom was literally overflowing with friends, family and guests.

Those toward the back of the room complained they could neither see nor hear what was going on, and those persons relegated to the additional chairs in the nearby cafeteria had the same problems in spades.

This situation and many, many more could be corrected with a good medium-sized auditorium seating approximately 1,500-2,000.

Whenever the Union is expanded again, one of the plans being talked around is the construction of an auditorium that would meet such requirements.

It would be a welcome addition.

LSU International Students Petition Governor, Officials

(ACP)—Ninety per cent of the foreign students at Louisiana State University have petitioned the governor of Louisiana and the university to remove the director of international students whom they blame for a "serious deterioration of foreign student morale," reports the Daily Reveille.

Dr. Andrew H. Yarrow was brought from the University of Miami last fall to completely revamp the English language and orientation program. The University contended the program was substandard.

Contending the program was more in need of "surgery than medicine," Yarrow discontinued the services of the orientation program's supervisor and terminated a sociology course concerning American life. "I could not afford to wait," he said. "I made these changes in the space of two weeks."

The English orientation program is the foreign student's first contact with the University. He must complete the program before becoming a full-time student.

Jack T. Norman, who supervised the program for the past 13 years, left his office last fall. Norman said he was ordered by Yarrow to limit scholarships available through the program to important and influential families.

Yarrow denied the charge. Chancellor Taylor has expressed concern over the controversy and is speaking "off the record" to foreign student groups in a personal effort to discover the sources of discontent.

In part, the petition of Jan. 31 states:

"It is our belief that Dr. Andrew Yarrow fails to understand the needs and concerns of the international students and that his appointment as director of the international students has resulted in a serious deterioration of foreign student morale and a breakdown of trust and confidence between these students and the Director of the International Student Office, and that an irreparable harm is being done to U.S.-Foreign relations, which will manifest itself over many years to come.

"Dr. Yarrow has succeeded in making these students feel that they are seen as numbers and not as human beings. We have looked to an adviser and been met with contempt and disinterest."

Chancellor Taylor issued a statement Feb. 28 recognizing the university's increasing concern with "fulfilling its international role." He said the administrators have "been aware of degrees of dissatisfaction on the part of our international students this year and recently have made serious efforts to get at the facts. Where there are problems and difficulties, we are prepared to take early corrective action."

The foreign student and exchange student programs are important to every American college and university as a means of furthering our knowledge and bettering our relationships with other countries.

Therefore, it is important that both the administration and all students take an active interest in these international students and encourage them to take part in campus activities and become a part of campus life.

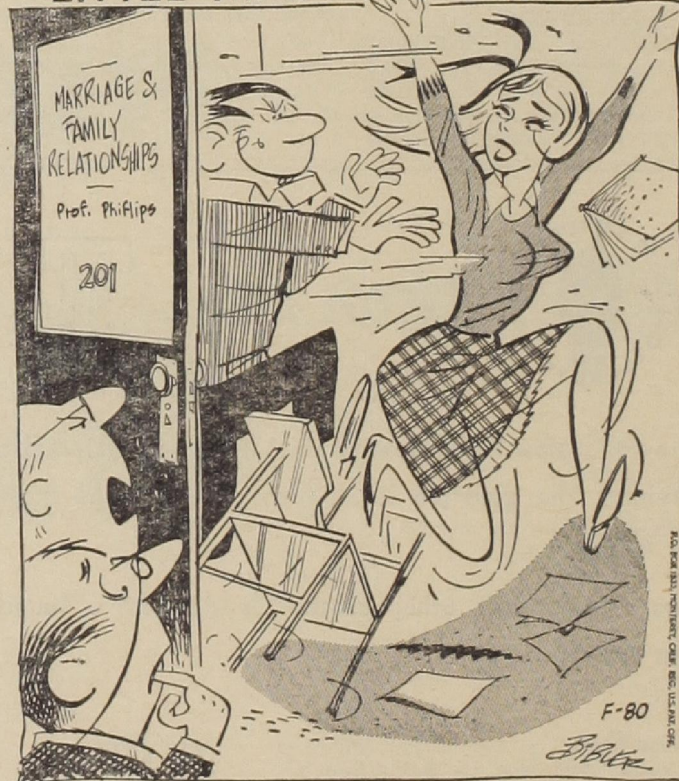

The foreign student program serves two chief functions. First, it enables foreign students to study at an American institution, to learn something about American customs and traditions and to take these back to their own country. Second, it allows American college students to become better acquainted with other countries by putting them in daily contact with these foreign students.

However, both of these two functions will be defeated if the two groups do not associate and work together and take an active interest in each other.

The administration and students should realize the importance of working with foreign students and the international students should make an effort to become a part of the campus life where they are studying—whether it be at Texas Tech or Louisiana State.

Upchurch And Coats To Debate At TCU

Hal Upchurch and Janine Coats will represent Tech in debate eliminations at TCU Friday and Saturday. A fourth place or better in the competition will qualify Tech for West Point's National Debate Tournament in April.

The West Point Tournament is one of the last tournaments in a debate year. Thirty-two schools participate in the final West Point Tournament, but every school in the nation with a debate team competes in an attempt to attend the tournament.

The elimination tournament at TCU is an area tournament, and is the last step before the West Point Tournament itself. The area includes Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi. To participate in one of the eight area tournaments, the debate records of every school in the area are compared and nine teams selected. Upchurch and Miss Coats are ranked third.

The University of Houston and North East Oklahoma State are tied for first. Other schools represented and their order are: 4, University of Southern Mississippi. 5, North Texas State. 6, University of Texas. 7, Baylor. 8, South East Oklahoma State. 9, TCU.

Tech, represented by Upchurch and Miss Coats, has a 79.2% win-loss average, losing only 9 debates and winning 32. This record is based upon the six major tournaments which the two have attended. In these six tournaments Upchurch and Miss Coats have one first, two thirds, two fourths and one second place win.

Only four teams are sent from each area to the West Point Tournament. These teams are determined by win-loss averages.

Each of the nine teams in an area will debate with all of the other eight, and the four with the best averages qualify to go to West Point.

Upchurch, a senior from Kermit, and Miss Coats, senior from Amarillo, represented Tech last year in debate competition, winning the Southwest Conference title in affirmative debate with the only undefeated record. Recently the Awards Board selected these two Techs to represent forensics.

Although both are speech majors, anyone may participate in the debate program, regardless of major.

Mr. Vernon R. McGuire is the co-ordinator, or coach of the debaters, and the organization is called the Forensic Union. The Union meets every Thursday at noon, and anyone may join.

Fifty students have traveled as part of the debate team this year; including David Bradley and Robert Trapp. Bradley, sophomore from Denison, and Trapp, a freshman from Perryton, were partners of Upchurch and Miss Coats in standing debater is Carl Moore, a certain tournaments. Another out-sophomore from Lubbock.

If communications were good enough you could stay in the sack all day

Moving your body around is highly inefficient.

If communications were perfect, you would never have to. Of course, you would still have to get exercise. But that's your problem.

We want to make it easier for you to contact people, learn, get information, attend lectures, and hold meetings.

We developed Picturephone* service so you can see as well as talk when you call. And be seen, too. We introduced Tele-Lecture service (two-way amplified phone calls) to let you hear lecturers in distant locations. And so you could ask them questions no matter how far away they were.

Right now, many students can dial from their dormitories to a language lab. Soon a student will be able to dial into a computer thousands of miles away to get information for his courses.

Depending on the nature of the information, he might get his answer back audibly, printed on a teletypewriter, as a video image, or a facsimile print.

Some of these services are available now. Others are being tested.

For the next week or so, better get a move on.

Communist Senate Convenes

(AP)—The world will watch with a mixture of hope and mis-giving when Communists from all corners of the U.S.S.R. assemble in Moscow Tuesday for the Soviet party's 23rd congress.

There seems a good chance the congress will drive deeper the wedge between the Kremlin and Red China, even though the Russians likely will try to keep the quarrel from exploding into publicized debate. The congress provides an opportunity for summoning the leaders of the world's 111 Communist parties to Moscow for exchanges of viewpoints.

Decisions to be approved probably will have been made long before the 5,000 party members meet. Nevertheless, the congress is an important Soviet milestone.

WAITING LINE—Residents of Men's No. 9 line up early to sign contracts for available rooms in Men's 10. No. 9 will be assigned as a women's dorm in the fall semester. Room sign-ups for other campus dorms will continue until Thursday. (Staff Photo)

Sleep-In Staged At Men's 10 To Insure Room To Live In

Men's No. 9 is losing its name, but evidence of this came to a climax Monday night when the time came for students to register for rooms for next year.

Next fall Men's 9 will become a girl's dorm which will obviously force its male residents to find other dorm housing. The most logical sight for the switch became Men's No. 10, but problems seemed to be furking in the air against this venture.

About 80 per cent of the residents in Men's 10 filed to remain in the dorm next fall which left only 97 available vacancies.

Men's 9, in answer to the problem, staged an all night "sleep-in" in order to get a room. 85 students formed a line in the lobby to wait for the Tuesday registration, and by 4 a.m. the line had grown to approximately 120.

Mike Lewis, Men's 9 wing advisor, said all of the students that stayed up all night were able to get rooms, but the students that got in line after 4 a.m. were placed on a waiting list.

Several students brought blankets and made tents out of them to shut off the light which stayed on during the sleep-in. After 2 a.m. most of the students managed to sleep despite small obstacles.

The dorm wing advisors supervised the sleep-in by making sure there was no cutting in line. A spontaneous roll call was given at different intervals of the night, but a five minute warning was given so students out of the line could regain their places.

If a student missed a roll call, he lost his place and had to go to the back of the line.

NROTC Program Deadline Postponed

Colonel Max H. La Grone, USMC, professor of naval science at the University of Texas announced Friday that the Department of the Navy has advanced the deadline date for college students applying for the new two-year ROTC program to April 15.

The Navy previously announced an expansion of its two-year NROTC program to include all the sophomore's expenses during a special summer session catch-up plan. This would allow new midshipmen entering their junior year in September to be on an equal footing with those who had participated in NROTC since entering college as freshmen.

The expanded and revitalized two-year NROTC plan is open to unmarried males under 25 years of age with a C average who will graduate by June 1968.

A student needs to be enrolled in the University of Texas, Rice or one of the 50 out of state colleges with Navy ROTC units. The applicant may attend an accredited college which will allow him to take Naval Science courses at the University and meet the above requirements.

The two-year contract NROTC program offers its students five options: science and engineering, surface, aviation, supply corps and the United States Marine Corps.

A special six-week training session will be conducted during July and August 1966, at regionally selected NROTC universities. Candidates for the two-year contract program will enroll in the special six-week summer sessions and undertake those Naval Science courses normally studied by contract NROTC during their freshmen and sophomore years. Successful completion of the training course will make the candidate eligible for enrollment at the junior class level in the contract NROTC program.

Applicants will receive travel pay to and from the summer sessions, $87.90 a month while attending the sessions, Naval Science textbooks, tuition and room and board.

While enrolled in the contract NROTC program, students receive uniforms, Naval Science textbooks and $40 a month subsistence allowance.

Applications for the summer training session are due before April 15 at any U.S. Navy Recruiting Station or the NROTC Unit, University of Texas.

Kappa Alpha Theta Wins First In University Sing

Kappa Alpha Theta won sweepstakes in Tech's annual University Sing Saturday night with a musical tribute to American war heroes past and present.

Against a backdrop of silhouetted soldiers, they sang "The Cruel War," "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," and "Here's a Toast from Theta," written by song leader Jane Sparks.

The sweepstakes trophy is awarded each year to the best overall vocal group from the three divisions—sorority, fraternity, and mixed.

Theta also took first place in sorority division. Alpha Chi Omega was second, Zeta Tau Alpha, third, and Alpha Delta Pi, fourth.

Kappa Alpha's rendition of "Green Fields" and "Bonnie Blue Flag" swept the fraternity division. Delta Tau Delta was second, Phi Delta Theta, third, and Phi Kappa Psi, fourth.

The mixed division trophy went to Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Alpha for their presentation of "Shenendoah." Delta Gamma and Pi Kappa Alpha took second.

University Sing was sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha, Panhellenic, and Interfraternity Council.

Other Greek groups who participated in University Sing were Alpha Phi, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, Pi Beta Phi, and Phi Mu.

Tech To Administer Draft Tests

Around 100,000 bulletins of information about upcoming draft tests for students, plus application blanks for taking it, are scheduled to be mailed to state draft boards Thursday.

Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said students could get the bulletins and blanks by writing their local boards, or calling at any board.

Full details about the test will be found in the bulletin of information available at the boards. Purpose of the test is to furnish information to the students' draft board.

Application blanks to take the test are to be mailed to Selective Service Examining Section, Science Research Associates, P.O. Box 4610, Chicago, Illinois. A self-addressed envelope will be furnished with each bulletin of information and application card. Applications are due by April 23.

The test is scheduled to be given on 69 college and university campuses in Texas. They are Abilene Christian, Hardin-Simmons, McMurry, Sul Ross State, Alvin Junior College, Amarillo College, Arlington State.

Also Henderson County Junior College, Huston-Tillotson, St. Edwards, University of Texas, Lee College, Lamar State, Mary Hardin-Baylor.

Also Howard County Junior College, Frank Phillips College, Blinn

College, Texas Southmost College, Howard Payne, West Texas State, Panola College.

New College Computer Service For Compatible Data Dating

Looking for a girl who plays Bach? Looking for a boy who sky dives? Skiing, butterfly collecting, folk singing, jazz—what ever your interests on or off campus, we can help you find your match. Compatible dating data collected from thousands of collegians holds the key. Computers turn the lock that separates your personality from the pack and yields up similar misters or misses.

Think computer dating is something new? The older generations have been using it since 1948, and it's seen regular service on other campuses for the past two years. We are an established service with a consulting psychologist on staff. Computers don't make mistakes on matching individuals. The people who operate them can and sometimes do—particularly if they are not qualified. So go with the pro.

Broaden your circle of acquaintances. Know their interests and personality traits before you meet. Get the story behind their story from our man and his computer.

We will send you an evaluation of your personality profile plus the profiles of your dates.

The cost? Just $1 for girls and $5 for boys. You pay when you send in the questionnaire. Write today for questionnaires.

Intramural Sports

Horseshoes, spaceball, and softball make up the major part of this week's intramural program.

Schedules of the matches and the match deadlines are being mailed to horseshoe contestants. Competition will begin sometime this week as contestants receive these schedules notifying them of their opponents.

Spaceball, the trampoline sport, was postponed to permit workmen to finish modifications in the gym. There is now room for the spaceball unit and play will be possible.

Those contestants who entered are requested to confirm their entries by noon Saturday. They should also check with the intramural department sometime after 1 p.m. Monday for notification of opponents and game schedules.

Softball is still in the preliminary stages. Phi Kappa Psi and Kappa Sigma lead the fraternity league in fast pitch softball and Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Psi, and the Phi Delts lead the league in the slow pitch division.

Australia Dominates Track Meet

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., beat Australian Ron Clarke in the two-mile run and young Richmond Flowers of Tuscaloosa, Ala., scored a double in the hurdles Tuesday in a triangular track and field meet involving Americans, Australians and Russians.

The three-man U.S. team scored three firsts, a second and a third while the Russians failed to win an event. The bigger Australian squad dominated.

In the featured two-mile run over a rain-soaked track, Grelle rallied in the final 100 yards to overtake Clarke, holder of numerous distance records, and won by half a second.

Grelle was timed in 8 minutes, 34 seconds, Clarke in 8:34.5. Kerry O'Brien, who led through the first mile, beat out Russia's Yuri Tyurin for third.

The American distance ace moved into position a yard behind Clarke and stayed there until he made his final kick.

Flowers, 18-year-old freshman at the University of Tennessee, set a South Australian record in winning the 110 meter hurdles in 14 seconds flat and won the 200 meter hurdles in 23.6.

Sprinter Ollan Cassell of Nutley, N.J., the only other U.S. competitor, finished third in the 100 meter dash and second in the two-man 200 meter race. He was fifth in the 400.

Stuart Lang of Australia scored a sweep in the sprints, taking the 100 meters in 10.8 seconds and the 200 in 21.3. Cassell was timed in 11 flat in the 100, 21.4 in the 200.

It was a bad day generally for the Russians. The best Soviet showing came in the 800-meter run where Vadim Mikhailov ran second to Australia's Chris Woods. Woods was timed in 1:48.3 and Mikhailov in 1:50.7.

Viktor Bolshov 6-8½ was third in the high jump, won by Laury Peckham of Australia with 6-10½. Leonard Barkovsky withdrew from the broad jump after injuring his groin.
