

Frosh Hold Convocation Wednesday

Lighting candles throughout the audience at the Freshman Convocation will represent Tech spirit being spread through the freshman class at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Union Ballroom.

FEATURED speaker for the Convocation will be George Gilkerson, District Attorney, introduced by John Alexander freshman class president.

Special music will be provided by the Impressions. Invocation will be delivered by Kenneth Hill, freshman class vice president and Cary Hobbs will lead group singing of the National Anthem and Matador Song.

FRESHMAN Council will perform the candle lighting ceremony with the Tech lantern which will burn until Saturday on display in the Union.

"Purpose of the one hour program is to instill the spirit of Tech Homecoming in the freshmen and promote enthusiasm," said Carol Wheeler, special projects chairman.

CLASS OFFICERS and Freshman Council will be recognized at the Convocation, which is for all freshmen students.

Other class officers are Kay Woody, secretary and Betty Sue Meinecke, AWS representative.

KAM MEETS

Kappa Alpha Mu, national photography organization, will hold an organizational meeting at 5 p.m. this afternoon. Anyone interested in joining is urged to attend.

Coeds Have Chance For Editorship

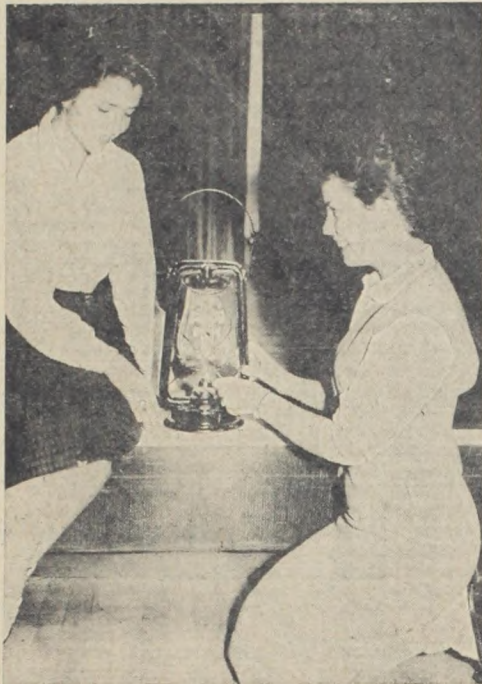

Three contests are currently being sponsored by "Mademoiselle" magazine for college undergraduates coeds.

DETAILS and rules are available in the Toreador editorial office. Contact Tommy Schmidt, news editor.

A guest editorship will be awarded to the winner of Mademoiselle's College Board contest. The contest entries judge ability to write, draw, promote or design. Tryouts must be postmarked by midnight Nov. 30.

THE MAGAZINE also is sponsoring a college fiction contest, the winners to receive $500 for serial rights to their stories. Entries must be postmarked by midnight March 1, 1959.

A third contest, the Mademoiselle Art contest will present winners with $500 prizes. Deadline is March 15, 1959.

LIGHTING UP — Carol Wheeler, Lubbock, Chairman of the Freshman Council Special Projects Committee, and Melinda Harrison of Dallas look over the Tech Lantern, with which they will light candles at the Freshman Convocation Wednesday night. The Lantern will be on display in the Tech Union until Saturday.

Queen Selections Set For Wednesday

Texas Tech's 1958 Homecoming Queen will be selected Wednesday in an all-school election. Voting will be done during the noon hour at the various dormitory dining rooms.

THE POLLS will close at 5 p.m. and the winner, along with four attendants, will be presented at the Tech-University of Arkansas game here Saturday afternoon during halftime.

The Queen and four attendants, picked from the top four finishers, will be crowned at Friday's pep rally preceding the game.

THE TOP TEN were chosen from a field of 31 candidates Sunday. The selection was done by a representative panel composed of one delegate from each organization sponsoring a contestant.

The ten finalists and the organizations sponsoring them are Pat Rainer, Pi Beta Phi; Peggy Miller, Kappa Sigma; Enna McDaniel, Horn; Kay Adkins, Delta Sigma Pi; Gail Petersen, Ski Club.

Annette Rose, Delta Gamma; Sylvia McAden, Doak; Mayme McDaniel, Gamma Phi Beta; Judy Ecklund, Double T Assn.; Donna Pearson, Angel Flight.

'Little International' Will Be December 13

"Little International," Tech's annual livestock show, will be Dec. 13.

Bennett Speaks In San Antonio

Problems farms may face in marketing their products in the future will be discussed by Dr. Wayland Bennett, of Texas Tech, at the Irrigation Conference in San Antonio Thursday and Friday.

BENNETT, who heads Tech's agricultural economics department will be one of the two college professors invited to speak at the meeting being sponsored by the Texas Irrigation Council.

ANYONE interested in showing any kind of livestock should sign on the lists posted on the Animal Husbandry bulletin board. Beef and dairy cattle, swine, sheep, and horses will be judged at this show. There will also be both fat and breeding classes in all divisions except in horses.

THERE IS a one dollar entry fee for each head of livestock shown and prizes will be awarded. A champion will be picked from the entire contest. Anyone who is a student of Texas Tech may enter "Little International" with his stock.

A notice will be on the A.H. bulletin board for the date and place where the drawings for the animals will be held.

Homecoming Week Gets Under Way

by MARIJAYNE DYKES

Activities of the 29th annual homecoming at Texas Tech commenced Sunday with the selection of ten finalists for homecoming queen. An all-school election this Wednesday will determine who is to reign over this year's festivities.

THE QUEEN will be crowned Friday at 7 p.m. preceding the bonfire and pep rally at the Saddle Tramp Circle. The Circle will also be dedicated at this time.

OTHER homecoming events scheduled for Friday include a meeting of the Ex-Students Council, including officers, chapter presidents and district representatives at 10:30 a.m.

Also scheduled are class reunions for '26 through '38 classes at 9:30 p.m. in the Caprock Hotel; '39 through '49 classes at 8:15 p.m. in the Faculty Club and '50 through '58 in the Rec. Hall.

OPENING Saturday activities will be the homecoming parade through downtown Lubbock beginning at 10:30 a.m. Twenty-eight floats, marching bands, ROTC units and Tech dignitaries will be featured in the parade.

Floats will be classified in 3 groups — fraternities, sororities and all-campus organizations. A sweepstakes winner and first- and second-place honors will be awarded in each division.

FOLLOWING the parade will be a luncheon for exes in the old gym at 11:45 a.m.

Highlighting the homecoming celebration will be the game between the University of Arkansas Razorbacks and the Red Raiders at 2 p.m. in Jones Stadium.

THE HOMECOMING queen and her 4 attendants will be presented during half time activities. The Tech band will also perform at this time.

Climaxing festivities will be a homecoming ball for exes at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Lubbock Hotel and a student dance at 8 p.m. in the Lubbock Coliseum.

ANOTHER feature of the celebration is a dorm decoration contest with all dorms following the theme "Welcome Exes." A plaque will be awarded the dorm with the most effective display.

The appearance of Bop Hope in Lubbock Nov. 21 will also attract many exes and students.

IN ADDITION to the major activities, many of Tech's student organizations are sponsoring receptions, coffees and other social events in connection with the celebrations.

Museum Protests Separation

Protesting a recommendation that the West Texas Museum be disassociated from Tech, officials of the museum association listed four objections to the proposal in a letter Saturday to the Tech board of directors.

THE STATE Commission on Higher Education voted last week to recommend to the legislature that such museums in Texas be separated from the colleges to which they are respectively attached and joined to some other agency.

The local museum association protested the action of the commission on the grounds that (1) the museum building is owned jointly by the college and the association; (2) the museum building is located on the campus; (3) maintenance and operational costs are furnished by the college "at small expense because it maintains all such services on a large scale," and (4) the relationship is mutually beneficial.

"THE MUSEUM gains by the services rendered by the college and by the scientific counsel and advice given by members of the faculty," the letter pointed out, "and the college gains because the museum is an integral part of the teaching and research activities of the college."

World Travelers Have Travelogue

The World Travelers is sponsoring a "Travelogue" tonight at 7 p.m. in the Tech Union workroom.

Don Ledwig will show slides on Russia and Finland and tell of his visit there last summer. Admission is free and refreshments will be served.

PARADE MEET SET FOR TODAY

All organizations who are in any way represented in the Homecoming Parade are asked to send a representative to a meeting in the Rec Hall at 5 p.m. today.

This meeting includes everything in the parade such as the ROTC and the Tech Band, according to Ronnie Morris, parade chairman.

Jones Speaks At Luncheon

Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech president, spoke on the needs of higher education Monday at a luncheon of governing boards of state colleges and universities.

DR. JONES said that enrollments in the state-sponsored colleges and universities, which totaled 78,000 in 1957 are due to rise to 86,000 in 1959 and the institutions face a critical need for additional funds in the next biennium.

"In the crisis there is a serious threat not only to the institutions themselves but to the state's entire system of education," he commented.

"MORE THAN 66 percent of all the teachers in our Texas high school and elementary schools are trained by our 18 state institutions," the Tech executive pointed out.

"If the quality of instruction on these drops, our entire public education system will suffer."

"If we are to build an industrial, business and cultural empire in Texas, we must face up to the fact that we must have qualified Texas manpower to man it," said Dr. Jones.

"WE BELIEVE the people of Texas are entitled to know that they can buy only education mediocrity at the bargain counter..."

Hope Show Offers Outstanding Talent

Amid Homecoming activities, the Bob Hope Show will be presented along with the Russ Gary Orchestra and the Ink Spots at 8:30 p.m. Friday in the Municipal Auditorium.

TECHSANS WILL be admitted to the show for $2 and presentation of their identification cards. They will be seated in the middle section of the balcony.

Tickets were near the sell-out point late Monday and were reported moving swiftly with the largest mailout orders ever recorded. The show is being sponsored by Civic Lubbock Inc., as a "Special Attraction."

SUPPORTING Hope on the show will be comedian Pete Pedersen, who will be the emcee for the evening and will also display his versatility on the harmonica.

Songstress Ann Mason, a Las Vegas favorite, will make her first Lubbock appearance on the show. The Ink Spots, long favorites with all ages will be featured and "The Mark III," an entirely new act will be seen in its debut.

HOPE REALIZED overnight sensation after his first stage presentation, "Roberta" which played on Broadway. His talents were quickly recognized by the motion picture industry.

Hope went to Hollywood in 1934 for some short subject pictures after starring in "Red, Hot and Blue" and "The Ziegfeld Follies" in New York. Stardom in the motion picture field came in 1938 when Paramount signed him for the "Big Broadcast."

SINCE THAT time, he has been in a series of motion picture hits which have been presented in several countries.

After conquering the motion picture field, Hope went to radio. He enjoyed one of the most successful shows ever to grace the air waves.

IN 1950, he turned on television and once again he conquered this field. He is one of the few comedians that still retains his high rating year after year.

Hope's one night performance in Lubbock is also his first appearance in this city.

Town Girls; Deans Meet For Tea

Town girls and the deans of women will meet at an informal tea Wednesday afternoon from 4:30-5:30.

The tea, sponsored by the Town Girls Club, will be given in the Dean of Women's office. Mary Lynn Peveto is in charge of arrangements.

Town girls who are not members of the club are also invited to come.

Mortar Board Members Sell Mums

Mums for Homecoming will be sold on campus this year.

Mortar Board Members are taking orders for mum corsages in the Tech Union on Tuesday and Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and on Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

THE FLOWERS, to be prepared by a professional florist, will be large white chrysanthemums decorated with scarlet and black ribbons and a red Double T. They will be priced at $2 and may be decorated with fraternity Greek letters if ordered by Thursday," said Mortar Board member, Hazel Casey.

Miss Casey also stated that buyers could pick up the mums on Saturday from 8 until 10:30 a.m. and following the parade until 12 noon.

PROCEEDS FROM the project will be used to provide scholarships for Tech students.

JOE EVERETTE discusses the purchase of a mum for the Homecoming Game with Mortar Board member, Carol Cummings. Mortar Board, an honorary organization for senior women, is sponsoring the mum sale to provide for future scholarships to Tech. The large white chrysanthemums decorated with scarlet and black ribbons and double T's sell for $2.

International Traveler, Author Presides At Tech Tea Today

Mrs. Rosella H. Werlin, international traveler, lecturer and author, will preside at an informal tea today at 3:30 p.m. in the Anniversary Room of the Union. Purpose of the tea is to "talk over old times with students who have gone with us on our European tours and to give information to anyone else who would be interested in going on the tour next summer," Mrs. Werlin said.

MRS. WERLIN and her husband, Dr. Joseph H. Werlin, professor of sociology at the University of Houston, have been conducting tours of students for 23 years.

Their tour is conducted through such countries as France, Belgium, Spain, Italy, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Holland and England. Other places of interest toured are Monaco, the French Riviera, the Italian Riviera, San Marino and Lichtenstein. Optional trips to Denmark, Sweden and Scotland are included.

Highlights of the trip are boat trips on North Sea, visits to museums, palaces and cathedrals, sightseeing in 40 cities, touring through Europe's highest mountains and passes, swimming on the Riviera and sleeping atop a mountain in the Austrian Tyrol.

THE GROUP will also attend the opera at Rome, the theatre at Stratford and London, a bull fight in Madrid and fashion showings in Paris, London and Rome.

Herbert H. Werlin, Dr. and Mrs. Werlin's son, is an instructor in the Texas Tech government department. He is one of the directors of the tour.

"Of all the college campuses in the four states that I have lectured in, I think that the Texas Tech campus is one of the most beautiful and friendly. This is the fifth year I have visited Texas Tech and my visit is even more enjoyable this year since my son is here," Mrs. Werlin commented.

MRS. WERLIN has written for the Houston Post and the Houston Chronicle. She has also contributed articles to the Christian Science Monitor and the New York Times. For seven years, the journalist was publicity director

New Light Given On Integration

LAST WEEK at an Associated Collegiate Press Convention in Chicago, which the editor attended, several problems of schools were brought up that make ours at Texas Tech seem small.

The major topic of discussion in the various panels was integration and the college press, although it wasn't listed on the program.

Almost unanimously the discussion groups thought that integration should come about nationally as soon as possible.

Then, a press representative from a small women's college in Atlanta, Ga., rose to speak.

In a deep southern accent she said, "We have been discussing the problem of integration, and so I would like to bring our particular problem up in hope of some sort of solution.

"First, let me say that all students in the South do not view the racial problem with the same idea as most people think. It is about 50-50 in our school, and most everyone thinks something will be worked out that is satisfactory.

"But still, this is not our main concern. Over the past two years there have been bomb threats made to the college if anyone openly announced they were pro-integration.

"Once already this year we have been forced to evacuate dormitories because of the bomb threats. Now I would like some discussion on what we can do."

A hushed silence prevailed for a few moments, then the chairman for the discussion group, who was from California, said, "I think we had better clean up in our own backyards before we are capable of solving anyone else's problems."

A short discussion followed, and those from the North admitted that prejudice against the Negro was prevalent in many facets of their college life.

We must all work for the betterment of our college and nation, but not overlook our immediate problems on the way to this goal.

Dormitory Rules Change at U.N.C.

The Women's Residence Council at the University of North Carolina has released a new set of social regulations for Freshman women.

CLOSING HOURS for freshmen women are at 11 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 1 a.m. and 12 midnight on Friday and Sunday.

The Permission Form for signing in and out, signed by the girl's parents, must have been received by the Dean of the School of Nursing, or Supervisor of Dental Hygienists or by the Dormitory Hostess before any permission to leave town can be granted.

STUDENTS SIGN out at the dormitory desk without special permission from the Dormitory Administration when expecting to return to the dormitory after 8 p.m., when not planning to leave the city limits.

Freshmen women students may have three out-of-town permissions (not to exceed six over-nights) during fall semester in addition to University holidays and between semesters.

TERMED ONE of the most "thoroughly worked over and feasible constitutions" in the history of the University of Detroit, the new campus-wide constitution differs with the old one in the following respects:

(1) Separation of the Student Council, Women's Students League and the Student Union Board of Governors. The latter two formerly made up the Council.

(2) ELIMINATION of detail. A more concise and compact constitution will make frequent changes unnecessary.

(3) Elimination of class committees and coordination of all student activities under the Council.

(4) Establishment of a minimum scholastic average of 2.3 for all members.

It seems that everytime the Rodeo Association tries to sponsor some event, it has to go through a thousand different kinds of hell to do it.

The latest incident is the Committee on Student Organization's non-approval of Texas Tech's annual (?) Levi Day. Of course, as certain officials stated, the decision is not final. The matter simply won't be brought up again until it's either too late or the students forget it in all the confusion before the onrushing holidays and final exams.

Now why would anyone want to cancel Levi Day? Well, the major excuse given the Rodeo Assn. seems to be lack of time for preparation. But since when does it take ages to announce a special event to the student body; there is a student newspaper that is published three times a week; there are posters which can be easily prepared; and there are students chatting informally everywhere — surely there would be no publicity problems.

And it certainly doesn't take great pains to don a pair of levis.

Then there's another excuse — that being that since the Vet's Club earlier this year was refused permission to sponsor Levi Day, it wouldn't be right to allow the Rodeo Assn. to do so now.

Why were the Vets refused? Well the excuse "no time" wasn't good enough in this instance since the request was made a couple of weeks ago. No, officials simply urged the Vet's Club to drop the matter since Levi Day didn't present the best interests of Texas Tech. In other words, there are still a few old-timers held over from the Middle Ages who do not think levis look "nice." And these are the people who have almost killed Levi Day.

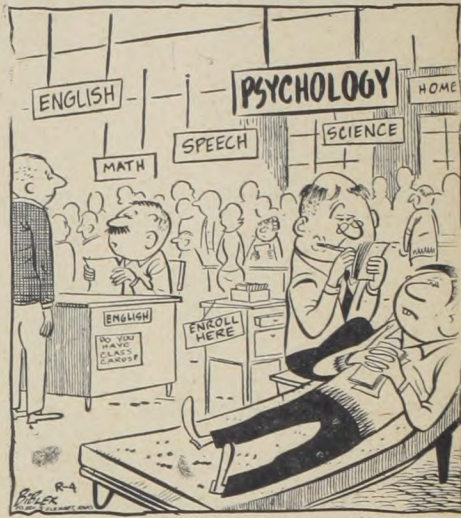

Now I don't mean to sound critical, but when these few are able to dictate to the students which traditions will remain and which will be expell'd, then Texas Tech is in sad shape.

In the first place, why did the matter have to be brought before the Committee on Student Organizations? If approving functions is its job, then it certainly is inefficient since there are quite a few events taking place on this campus without its permission.

But you see, Levi Day is somewhat a unique case — it appears "distasteful" to the administration. So the red tape has been increased two-fold, to say the least.

Levi Day is a student function. (No one expects the teachers and officials of the college to come to Tech that day dressed in blue jeans.) Since it is a student function, the students should be the ones to decide whether or not to have it.

This privilege was denied to the students in this case. So beware! It could happen again.

Techsans Talk Back

FOREIGN STUDENTS

My thanks to the editor of the TOREADOR in his editorial "Business Firms Discriminate," in which he honestly defended the foreign students at Texas Tech.

As a foreign student myself, even though never having been tagged as a "Mexican," I would like to show what we are, what this discriminating tag means to us, and how it influences the international relations between the United States and other countries.

The foreign students in the United States, in general are of the educated and well to do families. Many of them are related to, or are going to be important leading figures in their respective countries. Some are even already engaged in campaigns for leadership to decide the future of their countries at the present.

There is a lower class in every country as well as in the United States, and if some people here treat their lower class in such a discriminating way as to refuse to deal with them, it should be understood that we would not accept treatment of that sort. We are just as good as any American, and if God made the American human beings, it is the same God that made us humans as well.

Since we have arrived at Tech, we have made good and very friendly relations with the important figures in Texas Tech and in the city of Lubbock. As to our privileges, the college has given us the right to establish the Cosmopolitan Club, and to get the American students to know us better through it.

The Chamber of Commerce in Lubbock has given all of us honorary citizenships of Lubbock and the state of Texas. Most of us have been honorary members in the Sertoma International Club of Lubbock. We feel privileged to be able to obtain these good relations, and unless some narrow minded people revoke these honors, we will hold to them.

To convince us as to how much the Americans stand for their principles is very difficult, even though it is not us, but the Americans themselves, who are making it hard. We all advocate the best of international understanding and cooperation, but it has to be on the condition of equality.

Tech Students Will Tour Europe During Summer

"Europe, here we come!" will be the cry of several Tech students this summer. Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Stout, English professors at Tech, will sponsor a 63 day tour of 11 countries through Europe this summer. STUDENTS making the tour will receive six hours of English credit.

Refugees Benefit From Care Savings

Refugees around the world will benefit from a CARE fund of $225,000 resulting from operational savings accumulated over the last year, announced Executive Director Richard W. Reuter. ALTHOUGH CARE is a non-profit agency using donations by the American people to send food packages and Self-Help aid abroad, the nature of its world-wide service, involving the purchase, shipment and distribution of huge quantities of material, dictates that it be run on a business-like basis. For that reason, a small overhead charge is included in the price of each package to cover possible increases in costs of supplies, shipping and delivery. THESE resultant funds are then allowed to accumulate until they can be used for more relief for the needy.

Of the current $225,000 fund, $150,000 will be used to provide nearly a quarter of a million yards of cotton, gingham, and khaki goods to clothe more than 80,000 Arab school children in the Gaza Strip in Egypt.

Gillis Wins Prize

Everett Gillis, Tech English professor, was named winner of the $100 Old South Prize at the annual awards dinner of the Poetry Society of Texas Saturday. Gillis' "Seascape: Santa Monica Palisades" took the largest award for the night. His sonnet "Captive Fire" was second in the Alamo Contest.

The trip, under the direction of Council Student Travel program, will be geared to fit young people. ON THE boat trip from New York to Europe and back, many activities such as dancing, language classes, talent shows, movies, panel discussions on each country and other recreational facilities will be available to students.

Expenses will be approximately $1173 for the entire trip including boat passage with berth and meals; transportation, hotel accommodations and meals in Europe. COUNTRIES to be visited are England, with special emphasis on London, Stratford-on-Avon and Oxford; Holland, with visits to Amsterdam and the surrounding countryside and Germany with Cologne, Heidelberg and Wiesbaden.

Other places of interest will be Interlaken, Switzerland, at the base of Jungfrau, largest mountain in Europe; Lichenstein, a small country located between Switzerland and Austria; and Innsbruck, Austria, which has some of the most beautiful scenery in Europe. THE TOUR will extend southward into Italy, where such famous sights as Venice, Rome and Pisa will be visited. San Marino, a small independent country within Italy, and Monaco, home of Prince Rainer and the former Grace Kelley will be toured also.

France, with gay Paris, Versailles and the chateau country will also be seen. Spain, with trips to Barcelona, Madrid, Valencia and Toledo, will also be on the agenda. FOR FURTHER information, contact Mrs. A. L. Stout in Room 11 in the library. Students interested should contact Mrs. Stout as soon as possible in order to insure a place on the trip.

IN COOPERATION with a program sponsored by the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration, CARE will distribute $7,000 worth of various mechanics' tool kits to Greek workers emigrating with their families to establish new homes in South America.

An additional $15,700 will provide Czech and Russian refugees in West Germany and Austria with CARE Food Crusade packages and warm clothing this winter.

FINALLY, $20,800 has been earmarked for a pilot project in Hong Kong in which 68 Chinese refugee families will be relocated from a squatter village. With materials provided by CARE, the villagers will build homes and roads and develop orchards, fish ponds and other facilities to help them attain a self-sustaining community.

FOR TALENT SHOW Nov. 25 Is Deadline For Final Audition

November 25 is the date for the final audition of the Talent Show, according to Karen Frack, chairman of the Music and Exhibits Committee in the Union.

DEADLINE FOR the appointments will be Thursday. Entry blanks are available at the Tech Union newsstand, the Music Building and the Tech Bookstore. Entry blanks should be turned in at the Union Program Office where audition times will be given.

Rock and roll, folk songs, tap dancing, twirling with fire batons and acrobatics are only a few of the acts that have been auditioned. Limited to ten minutes, the acts can be of any type. Props and equipment must be furnished by the performers.

JUDGES FOR the December 9 date are Prof. Ronald Schultz, speech dept., Dick Richards, Jane Perry, physical education dept., Wayne Gibbons; producer of the Varsity Show of 1957, and Don Bowman, local disc jockey.

Varsity Beats Frosh Team

The varsity swimming team won over the freshman swimming team 50-36 in the second of a series of meets held preceding the regular swimming meet.

HIGH POINT man for the varsity team was Mo Jones with 15 points and high point man for the freshman team was Paul Cooper with 8 points.

Varsity captain is Harry Van Horn and freshman captain is Bo Grimshaw.

HEAD COACH is Ramon Kirellis and assisting him is Jim McNally.

There will be no more swimming meets before Thanksgiving.

Outlook

By BILL DEAN

The bowl picture around the nation is beginning to take shape following another round of stunners last Saturday.

Only one major unbeaten, untied eleven remains — LSU — and the Tigers had a real scare Saturday in winning from Mississippi State 7-6.

Saturday Iowa fell to Ohio State 38-28, Rice lost to A&M 28-21, Arkansas beat SMU 13-6, Nebraska dumped Pitt 14-0 and Tennessee raked Mississippi 18-6. There were more.

Come Jan. 1 it shapes up like this:

ROSE BOWL — Iowa (Big Ten champ) vs. California (currently leading the Pacific Coast Conference).

SUGAR BOWL — LSU (Southeastern Conference winner) vs. Clemson (Atlantic Coast champ) or independent Air Force Academy.

ORANGE BOWL — Oklahoma (Big Eight champ) vs. West Virginia (Southern Conference winner) or Air Force.

COTTON BOWL — TCU or Rice vs. Air Force or Syracuse.

GATOR BOWL — Mississippi (SE Conf.) vs. Syracuse or Pitt or West Virginia.

Looks like a really big one.

As fate would have it by the time the Red Raiders get around to Arkansas on their schedule the Hogs suddenly come to life after a dismal beginning and are the current ripper-upper in the SWC.

This will only be the second meeting of the two teams. Last year in Little Rock the Hogs opened the series with a 47-26 victory.

In addition to what should be a colorful ball game, this will be Homecoming weekend here and the campus will be touched up with all the trimmings.

The last Arkansas athletic team to visit Lubbock went home a little depressed as the cagers of Polk Robison handed them a 20-point defeat.

It would be nice to see a repeat performance of that one.

Less than two weeks from today, Dec. 1 to be exact, Texas Tech's 1958-59 basketball squad will open with West Texas State in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Although there has been very little said about basketball, workouts have been going on since the middle of last month.

Yes sir, it's almost here. Thank goodness!

Phi Delts Cop Football Title

Phi Delta Theta defeated Dorm No. 6, Sunday, 20-2, to become the All-College intramural touch-football champion for the second straight year.

The Phi Delts never let up throughout the game. Pete Hudgens passed to Jimmy Patterson in the end zone for the first tally and followed this up with touchdown passes to both Jimmy Joe Stanford and Todd Henson. Phi Delts' pass defense told the story of the game as they intercepted a large percentage of the Dorm No. 6 aerial attempts.

Dorm No. 6 scored their two points after the Phi Delts had been penalized to the one-yard line. They converged on Hudgens in the end zone to score a safety.

Raiders Prepare For Hog Challenge

The Texas Tech Red Raiders, stopped for the third straight year by a Tulsa field goal, began preparations Monday for the onslaught of the Southwest Conference's hottest team — Arkansas.

The Hogs and Raiders battle here Saturday in Tech's Homecoming classic.

HALFBACK Ronnie Rice is still the leading Raider rusher with 238 yards on 56 carries and a 3.9 average. Halfback Floyd Dellinger trails him by fractions with 216 yards on 57 carries and a 3.7 mark.

Another halfback, sophomore

Dan Gurley, actually has the best mark, 8.1 but has carried only 10 times for 85 yards.

Jerry Bell, with 15 completions in 43 attempts for 142 yards is the leading passer, although Dellinger has the best percentage with 6 out of 10.

DELLINGER ALSO leads in total offense, 296 yards; punting, 37.8 average; punt returns, 5.0 average; pass receiving, 9 for 116 yards; and interceptions, 2 for 48 yards.

End Bob Witucki is still the leading scorer with 18 points followed by Gerald Seeman and Jerry Bell with 12.

The Raider fencing team finished a close second to the U. S. Pentathlon, a service organization, in the Dallas Open Invitational Fencing Tournament which ended Sunday.

TECH'S FRANK Griffin was knocked from the top spot in the epee and sabre by Larry Anitasi of the Pentathlon. Anitasi also won the foil making a clean sweep of the meet. Tom Bickley of Dallas placed second in this event and Griffin was third.

Anitasi, the fourth ranked fencer in the nation, and his teammates on the U. S. Pentathlon are members of a service group which competes in five different sports — fencing, riding, shooting, running and swimming.

DELANO McLANE of Tech placed third in the sabre and sixth in the meet "as being one of the best.

All of the fencers were far above average."

Next on the agenda for the team will be the sectional qualifying for the Amateur Fencing League of America tournament.

Entries Needed For Tournaments

The All-College swimming meet and Bowling Tournament begins Dec. 5 and 6 respectively and more entries are needed for the success of the two events. Both of these are team competition events only.

Each bowling team may consist of four bowlers and the Lubbock Bowling Club will award a rotating trophy to the champions.

The swimming meet will allow a contestant to enter two events plus the relay.

THE CHAMPS — Shown above are the members of the intramural football season as champions of the Dormitory league.
