About HCJC Bond Issue

College Program Geared To Local Community Needs

(This is the second in a series of articles about Howard County Junior College and its appeal for bonds to finance a permanent home.—Ed)

Howard County Junior College has a program to meet the needs of the community in academic and pre-professional training, in vocational skills, and in helping those with little or no formal education raise their level of learning.

What sort of a job is it doing within the framework of the program? It would be difficult to not impossible to check accurately the benefits accruing to each student. One of the hardest, although not a complete, measuring stick is in the number of graduates continuing higher education.

In three years there have been 85 to graduate from HCJC. Each year the size of the graduating class increases, but the total reflects one salient fact—the vast majority of those making use of the college are those who can't or don't intend to continue beyond the two basic years. National figures bear this out.

Of the 53 graduates, 21 transferred credits to other senior colleges and universities such as Texas Tech, A. & M. University of Texas, Baylor, Oklahoma University, TCU, SMU and teachers colleges.

Records show that of the group, only one flat failure. That individual, as is usually the case, was a marginal student. At the other extreme, there were six who made outstanding records in the higher institutions and one was named a most representative student.

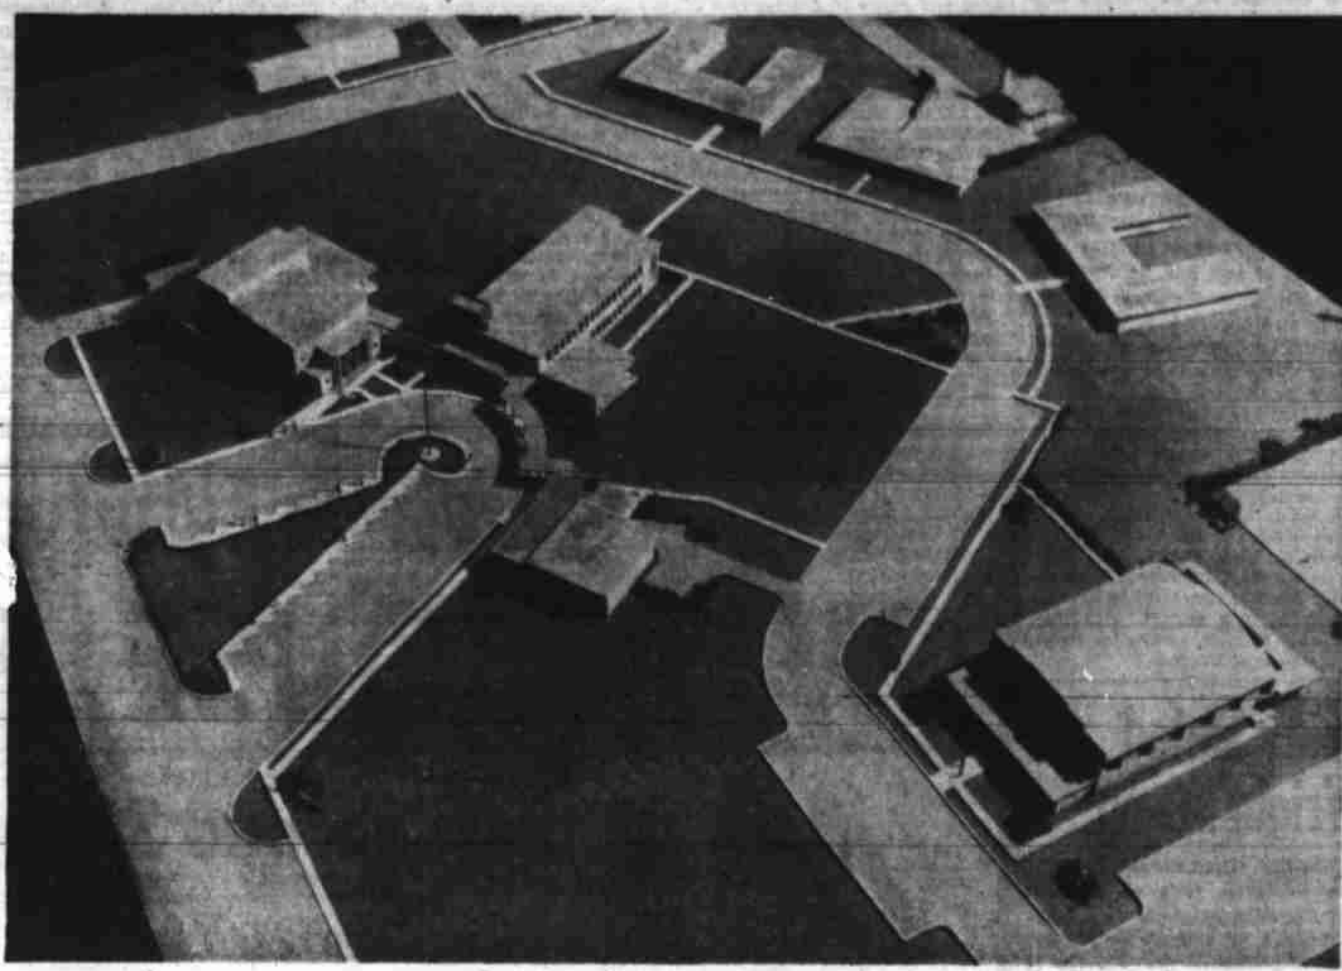

In dealing with people, and particularly young people, figures are not always the best criterion. An analysis of HCJC's enrollment, however, is interesting from the point of providing an opportunity of college training.

Among the more than 300 evening students (most hold jobs in the daytime and go to school at night), less than 10 per cent thought they would have been able to have had advance training such as the college supplies were not conveniently located at home.

Of the regular or daytime students, numbering approximately 225, only 40 per cent thought they would have been able to go to college elsewhere. This shows something like 315, or about one out of four students enrolled who could have had a college experience were it not for HCJC.

An appeal for funds to provide a permanent home for the college, which is now housed in the temporary buildings erected as part of the wartime army base, naturally involves the question of financing.

PROPOSED JUNIOR COLLEGE HOME—Shown in model form is the architect's conception of the proposed permanent home for Howard County Junior College, at stake in Tuesday's election. Voters ballot on a $350,000 issue, which will be supplemented by $150,000 on hand from the founding issue, to provide a half million dollar outlay. The new construction would be in the foreground. At left is the classroom and auditorium unit with the administration and classroom building at the center of the driveway. To the right of the drive is the vocational, industrial and homemaking building. The gymnasium is shown at extreme left. Five temporary buildings are provided for in the rear of the site. Location is at the corner of Birdwell Lane and Martha, where HCJC has an 100-acre site.

HCJC Bond Election Is Set For Tuesday

Regular polling places in the 15 precincts of the county will be utilized Tuesday in the referendum on a proposed $350,000 bond issue for Howard County Junior College. All general election laws applying to bond votes will apply in the balloting on the petition for funds to provide a permanent home for HCJC. The college has been housed, since its start more than three years ago, in temporary buildings which were part of the Army air base.

Absentee voting closed out Saturday with a total of 11 such ballots on hand. Polls open at 8 a. m. Tuesday and close promptly at 7 p. m.

All qualified voters of the county who have duly rendered property for taxes to the county-wide junior college district will be eligible to vote in the election.

New voting procedure will be in use, of course. This means that voters must present their poll tax receipts or exemption certificates so that they may be stamped as voted. Then the voter picks up his own ballot from a shuffled stack, scratches out the option for which he (or she) does not wish to vote. Then the perforated stub is detached, signed across the back by the voter, and put by the voter in the stub box. The voter also deposits his ballot in the ballot box.

Boxes No. 1, No. 2, No. 3 and No. 4 will be in the courthouse, No. 5 at West Ward School. With the exception of Coahoma, and Soash, other boxes are due to utilize the schools.

Steel, Coal Production Records Toppling In Resumed Activity

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19. (AP)—America's industrial wheels are humming again — a week after the end of the nation's first twin steel and coal strikes.

The industry-feeding mines and mills have whipped their output up to near capacity. Some production records have been broken.

Pittsburgh — staggered by the double-barreled walkout which virtually choked its economic lifeblood — has bounded back to good retail business health.

Of the 513,000 steelworkers who walked out Oct. 1, only 28,950 employes of 28 comparatively small firms are still on strike for the pension-insurance package set up in the pact setting Bethlehem Steel Corporation settlement.

The picture in coal was not altogether bright, however.

The bluminous pits east of the Mississippi are producing under a truce which will end Nov. 30.

What happens then depends on Lewis. President Truman has indicated he will invoke the Taft-Hartley law if the miners' boss resists the strike. Lewis and the operators have scheduled no further meetings on their contract dispute.

The mines poured out fuel as fast as possible. Output in Western Pennsylvania was back to its normal average of about 300,000 tons daily. The National Coal Association said the industry probably will exceed its normal output of 12,370,000 tons next week.

The steel mills matched the pace set by coal.

U. S. Steel expects to reach 87 per cent capacity by next week end.

Nov. 28.

Banks, the postoffice, and public offices will close down, too, on Thursdays.

Thursdays will be holiday in city. Big and busy days lie ahead, if the past week is any measuring stick, before Big Spring business takes off Thursday in a full holiday.

Schools here and throughout the county will dismiss Wednesday afternoon for a double holiday. Classes resume the morning of Nov. 28.

Woman Killed In Four-Car Mishap West Of City

One person was killed and two others injured, one seriously, in a four-car accident 10 miles west of Big Spring on U. S. highway 80 last night.

Mrs. W. F. Cates of Lockney died about 9 p. m. in a local hospital of injuries received in the mishap. Her husband was in the Big Spring hospital, but extent of his injuries was not determined.

J. Boyce Lynn of Midland sustained a broken right knee cap in the accident. He was treated in the Stanton hospital, then taken to a Sweetwater hospital.

Deputy Sheriff C. E. Kiser who investigated the mishap said the Cates machine was in collision with the rear of another car which had already rammed into the back of a car ahead of it.

Kiser said the Cates car was thrown across the highway into the path of the automobile driven by Lynn. Identity of the occupants of the other two cars was not known, but they were uninjured, he said.

Lynn's car was going east, the deputy stated. The accident occurred about 6:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Cates were brought to a local hospital by Eberley and McDaniel-Bouillon ambulances. An Eberley ambulance carried Lynn to Stanton, later to Sweetwater.

Iron Lung Fund Is Hiked to $1,455.65

Total of the VFW Iron Lung Fund has reached $1,455.65 Saturday. Latest donors included Mrs. Gertrude DeVries $10, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Creighton and Coahoma Home Demonstration club, $5 each. Proceeds from contributions will be used to acquire a second public respirator. The VFW and Jaycees are joint sponsors.

Checks should be made payable to the VFW Iron Lung Fund and left at the Herald or Pancho's News stand.

41,000 Bales Of Cotton Ginned In Howard County

Howard county cotton gins took another step toward establishing a new record during the past week, as the harvest maintained a rapid pace.

Estimates were that something over 41,000 bales had been ginned in the county by Saturday night, and that possibly 1,000 bales were lined up at the gins awaiting their turn.

Five gins, including four in Big Spring and one at Fairview, reported a total of 20,700 bales ginned late Saturday. Some of them had as many as 200 bales each waiting in their yards.

The gin traffic, of course, was reflected at the cotton yards. The Farm Bureau's new yard at the former Army Air Field, which opened Wednesday, had over 4,500 bales by late Saturday afternoon. They planned to continue receiving cotton Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night.

Although large crowds thronged Big Spring streets, many harvest crews worked in the fields Saturday to take advantage of the excellent weather.

If the fair weather continues, new ginning records may be established within two weeks.

Seek Negro In Rape Of White Girl

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Twenty police patrol cars continued a search throughout Houston tonight for a well-dressed Negro man who raped an 11-year-old white girl.

The child was lured away from the play ground at St. Mary's Catholic Church, taken to a week patch behind the church and attacked in a ditch.

Police arrested a 25-year-old Negro early this afternoon. Inspector L. D. Morrison, chief of the police crime prevention bureau, tonight said he did not consider the man much of a suspect.

Police had photographs of two other men and planned to show them to the still nearly hysterical child.

Attendants at a hospital said the girl had been raped.

The pretty brunette child, a student in the sixth grade at the nearby Sutton Elementary School, said her attacker smelled of whiskey.

She told police she struggled during the attack but "kept my hands over my eyes."

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19. (AP)—Joan Crawford is ill in bed today; her physician says she is suffering from heat exhaustion and a severe cold.

Three Die When DC-3 Hits House

DETROIT, Nov. 19. (AP)—A big freight plane delivered its load of Christmas gifts to Detroit today in a mass of flames and death.

Three persons were killed as the twin-engine DC-3 plunged into a house, unleashing a blazing torrent of gasoline.

The two crewmen, Arthur Deese, 28, of Brooklyn, N. Y., the pilot, and O. L. (Gus) Morrow, 31, of Hackensack, N. J., the co-pilot, were trapped in the wreckage. Their bodies were not removed until two and a half hours later.

Harold Witke, 36, died in Detroit's Saratoga Hospital. He was taken from the demolished house with both legs almost cut off.

Four other persons in the house were injured—two seriously.

J. E. Scott, research chief of Mellon Transport Co., owners of the ship, said engine failure was apparently the cause. The Civil Aeronautics Board began an immediate investigation.

Hero of the crash was Raymond Perry, owner of the house.

"I saw it coming," he said. "I couldn't believe it at first. It just looked mighty low. Then there was a terrible noise. I saw it bounce off the house next door."

"I grabbed my wife and we ran. Everything fell apart."

Perry said he showed his wife, Edna, and his 14-year-old daughter, Judy, through a window as the house crumbled around them.

Another occupant of the house, Mrs. Bertha Witke, 76, mother of Harold, managed to get to the back porch where she was trapped. When rescuers finally got to her, they said, they couldn't grasp her "without the skin pulling right off her body."

The Perrys were treated for cuts at Saratoga Hospital and then released.

DAY'S PAY HONOR ROLL

The number of firms reporting 100 per cent of employees giving on the Day's Pay plan to the Community Chest rose to an even 28 today.

Letest to join the honor roll were West Texas Sand & Gravel employes.

The honor-roll includes: Westex Oil Co., H. W. Smith Continental Oil Co., L. Rowe Humble Oil Co., K. H. McGibbon Phillips Oil Co., Cunningham & Phillips No. 1 Packing House Market Jordan Printing Co., Dr. E. O. Ellington Staff Dr. Dick Lane Staff Hilburn Appliance Co., Thomas Typewriter Kate Morrison Faculty Big Spring Herald Hamilton Optometric Clinic W. M. Gage Gulf Oil Taylor Implement Co., Horace Reagan Insurance East Ward Faculty Chamber of Commerce West Texas Sand & Gravel.

Two Crewmen Of Superfortress Reported Dead

Weakened Airmen Are Taken Aboard Canadian Warship

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 19. (AP)—Eighteen U. S. airmen were rescued from rubber life rafts in the Atlantic late today after surviving the ditching of a B-29 bomber that killed two of their mates.

They had spent three days on the open sea.

The Canadian destroyer Haida took them aboard.

Official announcements in Hamilton, Ottawa, and Tampa, Fla., told of the break in an epic search by air and sea.

"Survivors in weak condition," said a radio message from the Haida.

She is expected to land the men here about noon tomorrow.

The hunt started when the bomb crew, with navigation equipment failing and fuel gone, radioed Wednesday morning that it was making a crash-landing.

A B-29 bomber sighted the survivors' two rafts in mid-afternoon about 330 miles northeast of Bermuda and dropped a life boat. Then it summited surface craft and circled above the men as an aerial guidepost.

The rescuing destroyer was one of three Canadian warships diverted from autumn maneuvers to the search.

$19,000 COLLECTED

Chest Drive Spurs Past Halfway Mark

Howard county's Community Chest campaign took a $6,000 surge Saturday and rolled past the halfway mark.

Saturday night the total had reached $19,000, said Ted O. Groehl, general chairman.

Among the contributing factors was the report from the schools, where teachers had averaged more than $5 each in contributing $740.77 to the campaign. West Texas Sand and Gravel employes joined the honor roll, giving 100 per cent on a Day's Pay basis.

Miscellaneous contributions at four downtown booths raised $85 in two days effort, which provoked Chest officials to renew their appeal to the public to stop waiting for a personal call before giving.

The general chairman was himself responsible for a sizeable portion of the gain. He left off checking reports Friday long enough to put in a couple of hours of contacts. As a result, he personally reported in $600.

Cross checks have indicated that some workers simply have not made their contacts. Several teams have not made partial reports. Groehl pleaded once more for them to attack their assignments, explaining the urgency of representative giving to meet the needs of six agencies in one gift.

Work was still progressing among the Couden and Texas & Pacific employes, stressing the Day's Pay plan.

No reports had been received from the rural areas. Although people were urged to make contacts as rapidly as possible, to make reports as often as possible.

Groehl was to keep a close touch on the campaign Monday and Tuesday, before having to leave town for a few days on business. He urged all workers to complete all possible on their calls and report during those days to keep the drive for $37,000 rolling.

Before leaving for a New York and Couden directors meeting, R. L. Tollett, Chest president, appealed to all residents of the city and county to help on the Chest campaign, with contributions and work.

"The record of the school teachers of Big Spring should stand as a challenge to all of us," he said. "Although they are the highest paid of public workers, they realize the worth of their agencies sharing in the Chest. Others can follow such a splendid example."

"Our workers can and should give maximum support to the general chairman, who not only has put great effort into the campaign, but has gone out as a worker himself. These are examples of the spirit that can and will put the Chest over if the people only do their part."

HEAVY SATURDAY TRAFFIC REPORTED

Fall Shopping Hits Peak In City

Exceptionally large crowds in the city Saturday apparently brought general fall shopping activity to a peak in Big Spring.

Thursday. When business re-thrived many local stores from mid-morning until closing time, and store managers noted that most people who entered their stores made some type of purchase before leaving.

It was described as strictly general fall business—Christmas shopping has not started, which means that the merchants still have many busy days ahead of them.

One department store manager said traffic in his store had been very heavy for the past three Saturdays, and the yesterday may have been the largest of all.

Grocery stores, however, may have been the centers of the great shopping activity. They were selling huge quantities of foodstuffs for Thanksgiving, while department stores and other shopping centers were marketing mostly general items that usually are in demand during the fall.

One store manager said that such items as sports coats and jackets and other similar merchandise were moving rapidly.

The manager of a major retail grocery store said his Saturday business probably was the best of the year to date.

Long lines of customers with well filled shopping baskets were waiting their turn at the checking counters late Saturday afternoon.

The same firm had run short of shopping baskets when the traffic reached record proportions.

A variety store manager said it was the third big Saturday in a row at his establishment. Yesterday may have topped the business volume of a week ago, but two Saturdays back might be logged as the biggest day of general fall shopping.

harvest crews are beginning to return to their homes in South Texas. On the other hand it was noted that many hands probably took advantage of fair weather to work in the fields Saturday instead of making a trip to town. That could mean a good general volume on beyond Thanksgiving if they remain on the job for several more days.

Christmas shopping probably will begin to show up on the volume in about two more weeks. The city will greet the Christmas shoppers formally on Dec. 4 when the chamber of commerce retail trade committee stages its annual festivities.

New Officers Are Elected By County Farm Bureau Thursday

Howard County Farm Bureau adopted a dozen resolutions and raised membership dues from $5 to $10 a year at their annual convention Thursday night.

New president of the organization is L. J. Davidson of Center Point. Davidson, who succeeds Dale Puckett, has served as vice-president during the past year.

Ross Hill of the Elbow community, is the new vice-president, while Willis Winters, Jr. of Vincent was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Others elected to serve on the board of directors for one year are Ellis Iden, Vashmor; Ralph Proctor, Luther; J. L. Saugh, R-Bar; R. V. Middleton, Big Spring; Paul Adams, Knott.

Two-year directors are H. D. Cowden, Cault; Cecil Leatherwood, Hartwell; Lawrence Adkins, Lemax; E. O'Daniel, Coshoma; M. H. Ulmer, South; Frank Lovless, Green Valley; Robert Brown, Knott; Edgar Phillips, Fairview.

Resolutions urged a renewal of a Farm Bureau fight for a rural road program to be administered on a county or local level, a national farm program with support prices and controlled production, if necessary, with commodity loans set at 100 percent of parity with production costs included in calculation of parity.

Other resolutions were as follows: That the Farm Bureau directors take immediate steps to work out a plan with the county to eliminate crop-destroying pests and rodents in the area.

That directors endeavor to get ginners to install seed scales.

That a three-man committee be established by the bureau to work on a rural road betterment program in Howard county.

That the state department of agriculture be urged to furnish and maintain adequate facilities for seed testing.

That the Texas Farm Bureau Federation promote an educational program on the handling of livestock on the farm, in transit to market and at local auction sales to reduce the loss to farmers and ranchers due to cuts and bruises from improper handling of livestock.

That the Texas Legislature be urged to enact a financial responsibility law which would adequately protect all citizens from property damage and liability in case of accidents.

City Sewer Line Extension To Moore Addition Finished

Completion of a sewer line extension to serve the Moore addition will conclude approximately 87 per cent of the current sewage expansion program for Big Spring, City Manager H. W. Whitney said Friday.

The 6,800 foot Moore extension was scheduled for completion late Friday. Two northside lines for a total of 3,230 feet remain to be laid, Whitney said.

Already completed are a Mountain Park addition extension of 500 feet, a 130-foot extension in the North Parkhill addition and 160 feet of new line between 15th and 16th streets across Pennsylvania street.

A 150-foot line has been installed along Cedar street from Pennsylvania to the west, and a 200-foot extension has been made from N. W. 7th along N. Bell to the north. A 1,300-foot extension to the Farm Labor camp was completed Wednesday.

Work is to start soon on an extension from N. 6th to N. 12th between N. Main and N. Scurry for a distance of 2,370 feet, Whitney said. Another line is to be laid between N. 10th and N. 11th from highway 87 to N. Lancaster street, a distance of 800 feet.

Confident Yugoslavia Building Homes, Factories And Highways

By ALEX SINGLETON AP Staff

BELGRADE, Nov. 18. — Yugoslavia is building new homes, factories and roads in the manner of a nation confident of its own future and in the prospects of peace.

She maintains this attitude of resistance despite Premier Marshal Tito's increasingly tough and heated war of words with the Moscow-directed Cominform.

The hostility of other Communist-governed countries in Western Europe has not produced any outward sign of feverish military preparations in this Balkan land.

Instead, based on observations and impressions during a recent 1,500-mile trip by car through the country, the Yugoslavs appear to be giving almost undivided attention to the useful tasks of peace.

We cruised across the fertile farmlands of Serbia into the hills and mountains of Croatia and Slovenia, down through the former Italian peninsula of Istria and across Yugoslavia's once-forbidden Zone B into the strategic Adriatic seaport of Trieste.

Not so long ago such a trip would have been ruled out as both impossible and injudicious. But, aside from border Red tape, it proved about as hazardous as a Sunday junket in the family auto through the American countryside.

Here in Belgrade the coffeehouse rumors are a dime a dozen, but the countryside—even near the Hungarian border—is far more pastoral than perturbed. Along the bumpy roads which link Yugoslavia's villages and cities, there is little evidence of fear of attack, but plenty of evidence of Tito's building program.

Men and women in "voluntary" work brigades are constructing factory and housing projects and building new roads. It seems unlikely that Tito would commit such a large expenditure of manpower to such extensive building program if he thought war was near.

The programs do not always look efficient. In a country short of machinery a hundred hands swing shovels to push dirt which one bulldozer could do in less time. Some of the network of new roads look as though they will need repairs before long.

The road building program is designed to help solve one of the country's major economic problems. Yugoslavia needs a much better road and rail system to get her rich ore and timber resources and her farm products to outlets for export.

Jet-Propelled Delivery Slated For Letter With Wright Stamp

MANTEO, North Carolina (AP) — A letter bearing a six cent air mail stamp, honoring the Wright Bros., will get jet-propelled delivery Dec. 17 when the nation marks the 46th birthday of the birth of flight.

The first of the new stamps cancelled at Kitty Hawk on that day will be whisked off to Dayton, Ohio, birthplace of Orville and Wilbur Wright, at about 525 miles per hour aboard a jet plane. It will be a far cry from the first flight launched by the Wrights, said A. W. Drinkwater of Manteo—and he should know.

It was he who dispatched the first message to the outside world that the Wrights had made a successful flight at Kill Devil Hill near Kitty Hawk on Dec. 17, 1908. Drinkwater, a telegrapher, said, "I had a hard time convincing people the Wrights went 35 miles per hour."

Drinkwater, a member of the Kill Devil Hill Memorial Assn., said this year's celebration would be co-sponsored by his group, the Air Force Assn. and the North Carolina Division of the American Philatelic Society. The program will be built around the cancellation of the commemorative stamps.

More than 2,000 mailbags will be used in shipping the first day covers and many additional envelopes will be added temporarily to the Kitty Hawk post office and the Elizabeth City post office to handle the expected heavy volume of letters.

"First day covers are in big demand by stamp collectors," said Drinkwater, "and about 15,000 pounds of mail will be shipped from the Kitty Hawk post office by plane to connections to be established at Roanoke Island Airport or the Coast Guard Station at Elizabeth City."

The first stamp cancelled will be sent to Dayton, Ohio, via a powerful Republic jet plane. The letter will leave Kitty Hawk on a Coast Guard helicopter the morning of Dec. 17 and will be put aboard the jet plane in Elizabeth City. It will be cancelled again in Dayton and returned to Kill Devil Hill while the program is still under way.

"It will be the fastest delivered letter to and from a destination in the history of mankind," said Drinkwater.

Plans for the day's program also include speeches by high ranking military and postal authorities, a musical concert by the Elizabeth City High School band, and a display of various United States planes.

Mom's College Certainly Was Not Like This

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19 (AP) — Betty Co-ed would turn over in her raccoon coat if she heard about Ruth Merson, pretty Swarthmore College senior.

Ruth's alma mater meets Haverford College in their annual football tussle today. For the past week, students of the two schools have been carrying out raids and counter-raids.

Thursday Ruth got into the swing of things, too. With two other Swarthmore students she infiltrated the Haverford campus, bent on burning a big "S" right in the middle of the Haverford football field.

Before Merson's marauders could carry out their mission, Ruth was nabbed and paraded around the Haverford campus as a "prisoner of war." Then she was locked in a room. But not for long. With the aid of a boy scout type pocketknife, she picked the lock and escaped.

While imprisoned, Ruth overheard plans for an impending Haverford raid. Once free, she hurried back to Swarthmore to warn her fellow students.

The raiders arrived about the same time as Ruth. Someone pulled the master switch, dousing lights in a building housing the Swarthmore College radio station. Several piles of leaves were set afire.

But when the smoke had cleared, four of the 80 raiders were captives and Ruth was the heroine of the hour.

GLASS-THROWER NABBED BY COPS

Ramundo Rintoria has been court on a charge of throwing glass on a highway.

Rintoria was accused of drawing a bead on police cars roving the area in the northwest section of Big Spring, delivering his bombs and then hot-footing it for cover.

The Latin-American's strategy worked until he encountered an officer who recognized him from a distance and rounded him up later.

He is laying out the fine in jail.

Cancer Baby Goes to Boston for Treatment

WACO, Nov. 18 (AP) — Eddie Wayne Franks, Waco's cancer baby, will seek medical aid in Boston.

The 16-month-old son of Wayne and Anna Ruth Franks, Baylor University students, was to fly there today.

The baby has been under treatment for a highly malignant abdominal cancer since Oct. 10. He had an operation Oct. 13.

Eddie's mother quit school to stay at her son's bedside. Wayne completed his work at Baylor and was excused from final exams so the family could be together in the East.

Baylor students and other contributors are underwriting the baby's treatments.

Anderson Sees Another Term For President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Sen. Anderson (D-NM) expressed confidence today that the Democratic Party will re-nominate President Truman in 1952 and that he will win another four-year term.

Anderson formerly was Truman's secretary of agriculture, is now chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee. He recently returned to the capitol from the West to map a campaign for retaining Democratic control of the Senate in next year's election, when 26 seats will be at stake.

Talking to a reporter, Anderson said he is optimistic about Democratic chances in both the 1950 and 1952 elections. As for Truman, he commented:

"I think he'll be the nominee and will be elected." He added:

"I also am confident that the party will retain its majority in the Senate and increase it. I have been talking with a lot of farmers and businessmen in California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado and I'm very much encouraged."

Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), a top GOP leader in the Senate, sharply disputed Anderson's claims for next year's congressional elections.

Millikin didn't go so far as to predict that Republicans would take over control of Congress from the Democrats. But he said GOP chances of making substantial gains are excellent.

A fresh forecast of Democratic success in 1950 came Friday from House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.). Speaking in Houston, Rayburn said next year's elections will increase the party's majorities in both the House and Senate.

NEW HUDSON IS COMPACT—Pictured is the new Pacemaker four-door sedan, Hudson's entry in a lower priced field. It is a compact, five-foot high car incorporating Hudson's exclusive "step-down" design and offering more inside room and lower center of gravity than any car. The new Pacemaker goes on display here today at the showrooms of Eaker & Neel, 419 Main.

ON DISPLAY TODAY

Hudson Offering New 'Pacemaker'

Hudson Motor Car company today steps into a lower priced field with the new Pacemaker, a compact five-foot high car incorporating Hudson's exclusive "step-down" design and offering more inside room.

The New Hudson will be on display beginning today at the local dealership, Eaker & Neel, 419 Main street.

A. E. Barit, Hudson president, said that production of this car completes the task of Hudson engineers set for themselves four years ago, of making the room, comfort, riding and safety advantages of "step-down" design available in a car that could be priced within the range of millions of new car buyers.

"The Pacemaker has a lower center of gravity than any other car while maintaining full road clearance. Because of this feature it is safest, rides smoothest, and hugs the road tightest, according to our engineering tests."

The Pacemaker uses Hudson's all-steel Monobilt body-and-frame with recessed floors. This box section frame, which is built into the body and encircles the rear wheels, is welded into a single unit, providing girder protection all around the passengers.

This exclusive Hudson construction permits recessing the floor down within the frame, utilizing the space between frame members as the "step-down" zone. This permits a lower roof line without reducing the height of the passenger compartment or decreasing headroom.

The recessed floor and lowered roof, together with a passenger compartment which has been moved forward, results in a car only five feet high and having the low-

Free Book on Arthritis And Rheumatism

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Nov. 19. So successful has a specialized system proven for treating rheumatism and arthritis that an amazing new book will be sent free to any reader of this paper who will write for it.

The book entitled, "Rheumatism," fully explains why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble; explains how you may obtain relief from rheumatism and arthritis.

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. For writing promptly, the Clinic will send their newly enlarged book entitled, "Rheumatism." Address your letter to The Ball Clinic, Dept. 2317, Excelsior Springs, Missouri, but be sure to write today.—(Adv.)

est center of gravity in any American stock car.

Topping the list of new mechanical features is the completely new, high-compression-112-horsepower Pacemaker six cylinder engine. It has a bore of 3-9/16th inches and a displacement of 232 cubic inches. Standard compression ratio is 6.70 to 1. With a high-compression aluminum head the compression ratio is 7.20 to 1.

Top performance and economy are achieved by use of a dual-jet, triple range down-draft carburetor.

Pacemaker interiors are roomy, with both front and rear seats wider than the car is high. Seating room measurements are 64 inches in front and rear. The Pacemaker has 37 1/2 inches of head room in both front and rear compartments. Hudson Super-matic Drive, an automatic transmission developed by Hudson's engineering staff is distinctive in design and operation.

Super-matic Drive is the only automatic transmission on the market today that can be changed to conventional drive by the touch of a button, provided for that purpose on the instrument panel. This is particularly advantageous if the car is to be driven by someone unfamiliar with an automatic transmission. It also is of great advantage in traffic on steep hills under which conditions some drivers prefer to shift manually.

With Super-matic Drive, gears are shifted silently and automatically and under complete control of the driver at all times. To start, the shift lever is placed in the high gear position. When the accelerator pedal is depressed, the car moves forward in the get-away gear. The driver may remain in that gear as long as he cares to, accelerating to the speed desired. In going into normal high gear, it is only necessary for the driver to lift his foot from the accelerator pedal and the shift is made instantly and automatically. Above speeds of 22 miles per hour the transmission automatically shifts into high cruising overdrive gear. For reserve power, passing, climbing steep hills, and emergencies, Super-matic automatically shifts to reserve power gear.

Rainier III Ascends Throne of Monaco

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, Nov. 19. (AP)—Handsome Prince Rainier III ascended today the throne of this tiny principality, the second smallest independent state in Europe. It covers only 370 acres.

The new ruler, 26 years old and unmarried, succeeds his grandfather, Louis II, who died last May.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Know For Whom You Cast Vote

Dear Editor:

This is the time of year when folks are beginning to think of running for office in 1950. The public should be careful to put a constructive minded person in office—to check past life and know that those whom they support haven't destroyed human lives. Instead of helping or saving them.

Life is a precious thing. We build to betterment of humanity, and community. Our democratic government is a thing all nations would love to own or ruin because we the people have freedom of so many things.

Know for whom you vote. Ignorance can ruin a nation. Knowledge of our laws and constitution will build a nation stronger and stronger.

Vote for those who are qualified to fulfill the job to betterment of the people and our great nation.

EXPENSIVE LUNCH HOUR

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (U. P.)—E. J. Solon, Jr., teller for the National City Bank here, had an expensive lunch hour.

When he left his cage at 1 p.m. Friday there was $1,500 in crisp new bills to the right of his window, he told officers.

When he came back, all the bills were gone.

Witnesses told police they saw two men leaning against Solon's window when he shut it. Leonard said the window was closed, but not locked.

Those who have pity or sympathy for Hitler, knowing where and what he stood for, needs no public office, nor do the communistic-minded. We are a capitalist democracy. Let's keep it that way—free to think, worship and live a good constructive life.

Restoration Of Wool Tariff Is Asked By Group

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19. (U. P.)—Restoration of a tariff high enough "to encourage the expansion of wool production in this country" was asked today by the California Wool Growers' Association.

"We believe that no plan yet devised for supporting the price of wool to the American producer is so simply or so easily and cheaply administered as the imposition of a tariff on wool and wool markets," the association said in a resolution as it ended its 89th annual convention.

"We further believe that tariff is the most efficient system in protecting the price of American wool."

Without additional tariff protection, the association advocated the present wool purchase program be continued and wool supported at 90 per cent of modernized parity.

In other resolutions, the association:

- Opposed a bill by Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-NM) to place all forest lands, public or private, under federal management; opposed the railroads' request for a boost in interstate freight rates; recommended that land bought to improve wild-life resources shall not include land currently used in livestock on farming operations urged continued study of soil conservation, more research on control of sheep diseases, rigid control of predatory dogs and more federal money for predatory animal control work.

THEY'LL TAKE THE CAKE—Vice President and Mrs. Alben W. Barkley hold a knife to cut their wedding cake at a reception in St. Louis, as the bride gestures with her hand on which she wears her wedding ring. On the sash of her blouse she wears fan-shaped diamond clips. The reception was at the home of Mrs. T. M. Szymon. (AP Wirephoto).

Alben And Jane Barkley Head South On Honeymoon Trip

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19. (U. P.)—Those famous newlyweds, Alben and Jane Barkley, were headed South on their honeymoon today, but their whereabouts was not definitely known.

Late last night a report from Paducah, Ky., said a car believed to be the one the vice president gave his bride shortly before their wedding was seen turning into "the Angles," Barkley's home near there. However, the couple's presence at the home could not be confirmed.

The Barkleys, who were married here Friday at St. John's Methodist Church, left early in the afternoon in the new convertible for an unannounced destination. They were seen to cross the MacArthur Bridge into Illinois, but there was no further word of them.

The veep told reporters they were headed for a honeymoon in "Shangri-La," an imaginary, Utopian region. He declined to amplify, but intimated they were headed for the South, possibly Florida. Later they will reside in Washington.

Not since the 1946 world series has an event so focused attention on St. Louis as the wedding of the 71-year-old vice president and the 38-year-old widow, Jane Rucker Hadley. The marriage climaxed a brief but intensive courtship by the courtly Kentuckian. He met Mrs. Barkley in Washington last July. Barkley, a widower, was the first vice president to marry while holding office.

Police estimated more than 5,000 persons jammed the streets outside the church trying to get a glimpse of the bride and bridegroom when they entered and emerged from the church chapel.

The simple ceremony was performed by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, with only immediate members of the two families and numerous newspapermen present. The country's new second lady, who has admitted she "detests" all the fuss made over her, received a little lesson from her husband just after they were married.

Referring to the cheering and milling thousands outside the church, Mrs. Barkley remarked plaintively: "I hate to go out in that mess."

The veep responded quickly: "That's not a mess, dear; that's the American public out there."

Then escorted by the veteran statesman, to whom cheering crowds were nothing new, the bride smiled and gestured prettily as she made her way to their car amid showers of rice.

A luncheon at the home of friends followed the ceremony. Then the famous newlyweds took off for "Shangri-La."

Griese Is Elected Commander Of Local DAV Post

Bill Griese has been elected commander of the Disabled American Veterans post No. 47.

He was chosen Friday evening at a reorganization meeting held at the VFW hall. At the same time, 12 new members were received into the post, which has been reactivated. These are in addition to those who held membership in the post at the time it became inactive last year.

Other officers named were R. E. Hoover, senior vice-commander; Odie Wise, junior vice-commander; and J. A. (Duck) Hull, chaplain.

R. L. Price, Lamesa, deputy chief of staff for the state department, was here to assist in the reactivation. Regular meetings have been set for 7:30 p. m. on the second and fourth Friday evenings of each month. Initial exception will be the passing of the scheduled meeting this week until Dec. 9 due to conflict with Thanksgiving holidays.

All veterans with at least 10 per cent disability, regardless of whether they are receiving compensation, are invited to participate in the meetings.

A LITTLE Of Your Money

MEANS A LOT to your young folks!

Vote FOR The Junior College Bond Issue

on TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 22

BECAUSE:

The proposed $350,000 bond issue can be financed under the permissive rate which voters already have approved. The college administration has been showing surpluses in operation each year. The cost of maintaining the present old buildings and debt service runs to $27,500 per year. The new plant can be financed and maintained for $35,000 per year. This difference is negligible, when the value of a new permanent HCJC home is considered.

BECAUSE:

The college cannot continue to grow in the present cramped, fast-deteriorating quarters. If HCJC is to remain an institution of which Howard County can be proud, and one that will be attractive to Howard County's own young people, it must provide decent accommodations for them. HCJC credits now are acceptable to any college and university in the state. Its standing will be more widely recognized and accepted if its physical facilities are brought up to a standard that will permit the best possible work.

BECAUSE:

HCJC is giving advanced education to our own young people who cannot afford to leave home. It is bringing about a great saving to Howard County people who must finance their children's education. It is providing technical training for local people who must go into jobs. It is providing night training for those who want to get ahead. If, for these reasons, our local people deserve a college at all, they deserve a good one, and a permanent one. They deserve one as well equipped as any other Junior college in West Texas.

The Progress of Howard County's Own College Depends on Your Support!

U. S. Stiffening Its Policy Toward Russia As Tact Fails

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—All during the war, and for some time afterwards, the U. S. treated Russia to a sort of diplomatic "coddling." But for about 10 months now, Washington has been showing the world it is fed up trying to kid-glove the Soviets into playing ball.

Now Moscow must live up to all of its treaty promises in reasonable time or Washington announces—publicly—that it hasn't.

Previously the U. S., and other major powers, kept queries going to Moscow—but in the secret diplomatic pouch.

Washington has at times waited for months on end before making it public that Moscow has fallen down on an international pledge. Now it doesn't. It tells the world through the press, and fast.

State Department spokesmen explain that since Dean Acheson took over as secretary the over-all attempt has been to make the Russians understand that a promise is sacred among civilized people and that words mean nothing if actions don't follow.

Go back to the Dumbarton Oaks Conference in 1944.

The Russians asked that all 16 Soviet republics get separate votes in the new United Nations.

President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill were shocked. They envisioned an organization in which each nation would have just one vote regardless of size.

But they were anxious that Russia join the UN and at Yalta, in early 1945, they bargained until Russia was cut down to three votes, for the Soviet Union, Byelo-rusia and the Ukraine. The Soviets are still the only nation with more than one vote in the UN.

Russia joined UNRRA, the world agency set up to give postwar relief, pledged to no discrimination. But for six months Russia refused UNRRA the right to send help into Poland.

Washington officials failed to tell the press for some time about this tangle and thereby granted Moscow a sort of helpful screen behind which to operate.

But that sort of thing has changed. Here are some of this year's highlights that tell the story:

Start with the note Stalin sent last January to a newspaper reporter in which he said he would be willing to meet President Truman somewhere behind the iron curtain. He added he would like to talk over a "peace pact."

Acheson pointed out at a press conference that President Truman had always been willing to see Stalin in Washington if the Russian really wanted to talk.

Acheson added he was puzzled by the "peace pact" offer. He said that was just what all the nations had signed in the United Nations charter. He wondered why Stalin thought another was necessary.

Stalin's offer was made just as Congress sat down to debate the North Atlantic Pact and arms aid for western Europe.

Political experts here thought the move could have been made merely to weaken congressional support for the aid program.

At Potsdam, in July, 1945, Stalin had agreed that Berlin should be a sort of international city, occupied by the big four.

Then on June 28, 1948, the Russians clanked down the iron curtain and forbade all rail and truck service into Berlin from the west. For 10 months American and British flyers flew supplies into the 2 million Berliners in the western zone.

Moscow finally lifted the blockade on May 12 this year. Belief here is that Moscow was tired of letting Europe see by daily example how effective the Anglo-American Air Force could be in a tight spot.

In March the State Department issued a review of American attempts to get an American-Russian exchange of students. Moscow had ignored most of the notes on the subject. The department expressed belief Moscow "was afraid of a free exchange of ideas."

In early October Washington protested the way Russians treated Americans who wander into the Russian zone of Germany. The note accused Russians of "violating the most elementary standards of international decency."

A second note said that Russia had reduced Eastern Germany to "an oppressive police state."

These notes came after President Truman announced, on Sept. 23, that the Russians had "achieved an atomic explosion." To world diplomats they meant that American knowledge of Russian atomic successes had not impelled Washington to back down.

On Oct. 17 the State Department announced it had evidence that Russia had uprooted 17,000 Greeks to labor camps.

Also in October Washington protested the wholesale arrests going on in Czechoslovakia. Acheson said "restrictions have been imposed on Czechoslovakia which violate the rights of conscience and the decencies of civilization."

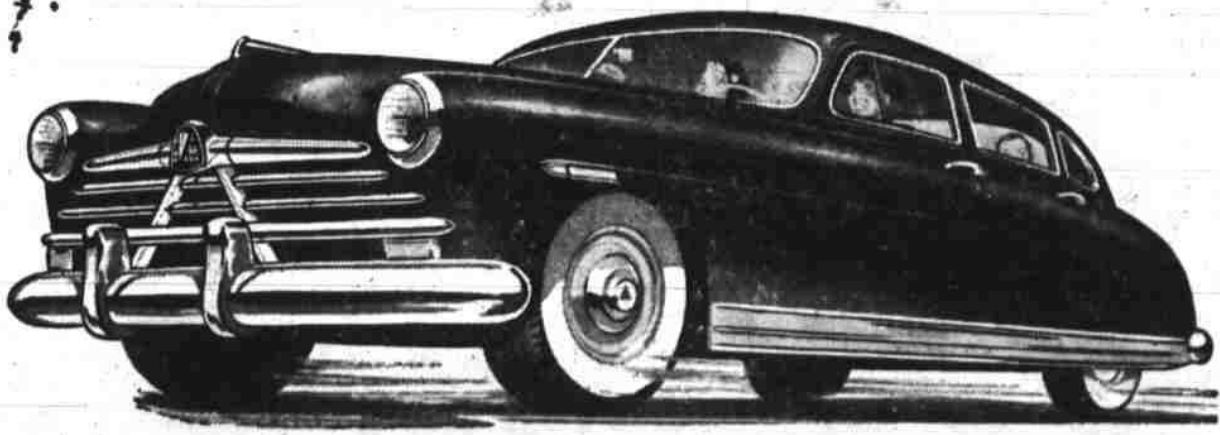

On Oct. 28 five nations on the UN committee which has been trying to work out a world atomic energy control program put out a severe criticism of the sixth member—Russia. The report, in which the U. S. was a prime mover, said Russia was putting its own welfare before that of every other nation in refusing to co-operate on a control program.

Old diplomatic hands here considered the announcement the stiffest criticism of a major power in many years.

What good is it all? Here's the way the State Department looks at it:

1. Other nations are learning the Russian record on co-operation and keeping it word.
- This is showing up in UN voting. Back in 1946 several small nations abstained from voting when the U. S. and the USSR disagreed. Now many of them are casting their votes with the U. S. viewpoint.
2. There is another gain, harder to assess. Communists inside the iron curtain are getting some powerful arguments out of the diplomatic record which Washington is making public.

A BUMPER CROP BURSTS OPEN—Howard county cotton farmers apparently have come up with their largest crop in history, which is sufficient to tax all local resources for harvesting, processing and storing. Originally estimated below 40,000 bales, the county's 1949 cotton yield may exceed 60,000 bales, which would peg the gross value at approximately nine million dollars.

TOP LEFT: Harvest workers find good picking in virtually all fields of the area. They have taken over 40,000 bales from heavily loaded plants in Howard county, are still far behind.

TOP CENTER: Unprocessed cotton is piled on the ground in fields to await transportation to gins. All gins are working on continuous schedules, but remain behind a heavy backlog. Many farmers have all of their trucks, trailers, etc., waiting at the gins loaded with cotton waiting for their turn. They stack huge piles of cotton on the ground as the harvest moves ahead unabated.

TOP RIGHT: Mountains of cottonseed are spread on the ground near the oil mill and at the airport. Open storage of cottonseed has been authorized for Commodity Credit Corp. support purchases during the emergency.

LOWER LEFT: Trucks and trailers, bulging with cotton, stand in gin yards awaiting service. A count at one gin recently disclosed that 165 bales were still on the yard at daybreak after gin crews had worked all night.

LOWER RIGHT: Cotton bales also are forced into the open, as warehouse facilities are exhausted. Cotton yards have mushroomed at several locations, and an embargo went into effect a week ago at the West Texas Compress and Warehouse Co. when storage facilities were filled to the maximum. Another yard was opened by the Howard County Farm Bureau.—(Mathis Photos).

60,000-Bale County Cotton Crop Shatters All Records

Howard county cotton fields have presented a spectacle this fall that has never been equalled in 50 years of commercial cotton production.

This is the big year of all time, the bumper crop that shatters records—the crop that will be referred to for decades to come whenever local cotton crops are discussed. Production estimates now stand at 60,000 bales—and gross value at nine million.

There was a clue to the fall prospects as early as last June when cotton farmers remained undaunted by repeated heavy rains and replanted several times to get their crops started on the way. There were certainly no reckless forecasters who would dare hazard a guess as to the eventual outcome at that stage of the season, however, nor for many weeks thereafter.

There were too many "ifs" attached to the cotton production prospects. There were insects to be fought, weeds to be cleared after they had gained a .500 foothold because of the heavy rains that finally sent the cotton itself on its way.

The weather still contributed to the uncertainty of the picture. There was always the possibility that plentiful rainfall in the spring would be followed by fall droughts, which could cut the yield back sharply up until a few days before time for the harvest.

Even after the harvest started there was uncertainty which delayed realization that a really big cotton crop was at hand.

But then came the harvest flood and the fields began to give up their fruits in volume that all but shocked the people who had planted and cultivated the fields and watched the plants grow.

The result is a general congestion of all processing facilities that has dictated continuous schedules at gins in the county.

They are confronted with the task of putting the fruits of the fields into condition for conversion into dollars, and for several weeks it has been a constant grind.

The dollars are the important factor, and there are a few who many of them. The gross value of the Howard county cotton crop may approach nine-million dollars, including the cottonseed.

Early season estimates pegged the county's 1949 cotton yield below 40,000 bales, a figure well below previous records. First estimates, however, have already been completely overshadowed by actual ginning figures, and yet the harvest goes on unabated.

Revisions have been the rule among forecasters during the past six weeks, and the trend has continued upward. Now outright predictions are ranging from 55,000 to 60,000 bales, and a few even venture 75,000. Most observers are confident that the high figures are available in the fields. The uncertainty now has boiled down to the problems of taking the maximum yield from the crop lands and moving it through the channels to markets.

County gins have already processed over 40,000 bales of cotton, and thousands of tons of cottonseed have been exchanged for dollars. The Commodity Credit Corporation alone has handled well over 4,500 tons of seed at the support price of $46.50 per ton.

Most Howard county cotton has been bringing approximately 26½ cents a pound, which has been the average price for strict low middling, 29132, grade during the past week.

Cotton production records, dating back to 1899, when five bales were harvested and sold in the county, show that ginning figures have exceeded 40,000 bales only twice previously.

The record which is being approached now is 50,670 bales recorded in 1937, while the second best previous figure was 49,085 in 1941. If the present pace continues those figures will be exceeded within a fortnight.

Meanwhile, cotton already ginned and ready for market is decaying the countryside around Big Spring. A new storage facility was opened recently by the Howard County Farm Bureau to absorb the overflow when permanent facilities were filled to capacity. Open storage of both cotton and cottonseed is a common sight in the area.

Still, the pickers in the fields, bolstered by 1,500 Mexican Nationals, representing another Farm Bureau project, have not approached the end of their tasks.

HCJC, City School Plans Don't Clash

The development of Howard County Junior College on a permanent basis (through a bond issue before the voters Tuesday) and the future expansion of the Big Spring public school system are in no way conflicting projects.

This was the consensus of administrative representatives of both schools, as they met at a luncheon Friday to discuss common problems.

Four members of the school board were present, three were there from the HCJC board, in addition to Supt. W. C. Blankenship and HCJC President E. C. Dodd.

Although the need for additional public school facilities admittedly is pressing, the school district is in no position to make any expansion proposals to the public at this time, said Board President Marvin M. Miller. He pointed out that the district again this year is making rebates on the over-assessed tax rate of 1947, and cannot begin to accumulate money for a building fund until after that rebate is completed. He said further that the district needs to survey the operations of new phases of the Gilmer-Alken act for a few months, to determine what assistance will be available through the new state G-A Foundation.

The school tax rate is at its maximum, he reminded, and future building plans must be made to conform with that level.

Miller did say that the board hopes, probably within a year to be in position to propose a new high school building, to help alleviate the continuously-growing problem of overcrowding.

He said the high school plant must come, but he also felt that the district must face this project when it is economically feasible to do so.

As for the current HCJC bond proposal, Miller is joined by other trustees present—H. W. Smith, Dan Conley and John Hogan—in the view that the county's educational system should continue to grow and that a service to the people of the county will be rendered in the provision of a permanent home for HCJC.

That there is only mutual interest in the college and public school problems was the view of P. W. Malone, HCJC board president, R. T. Piner and Leroy Echols.

"If the county cannot afford to provide its people with educational facilities, then it is in sad shape," was the general observation of the group.

Local Gin Trash Is Inspected For Worm Infestation

Department of Agriculture entomologists conducted gin trash inspections at local gins Thursday and Friday, rechecking the extent of pink bollworm infestation here.

The light infestation reported by the group early in October still exists, but is considerably lighter than at the same time last year. G. W. Chowns, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine officer, said. Only a few of the worms have been found where large quantities were discovered in 1948.

The sterilization of planting seed by Howard county farmers was credited for at least a part of the decrease by the entomologist. Extremely cold weather last winter may have taken its toll of the worms too, he said.

The gin trash inspectors are to examine Midland county cotton Monday, Chowns said. Rechecks in this section will conclude this year's operations for the group.

Legionnaires Of County Backing HCJC Bond Issue

Overwhelming endorsement of the proposed $350,000 bond issue to finance a new permanent home for Howard County Junior College has been given by the county's ex-service men.

Members of the local Legion post were polled by mail, and returns through Saturday morning showed 104 favoring the issue to five against.

Voters of the county will go to the polls Tuesday to decide on the issuance of the bonds which would finance a new college plant on the site east of the rodeo grounds.

In addition to the Legionnaire response, a group of veterans who are not members of the Legion were contacted on the proposition, and 69 of these gave endorsement to the issue.

Frank Hardesty, Legion post commander, said that many other cards from the poll were expected over the weekend.

"We feel the veterans are interested in a permanent college because of what it can do for them under the GI training program," Hardesty said. "There have been 450 veterans to take advantage of the HCJC facilities since it opened, and in Howard county alone 1,500 more veterans are eligible for GI benefits while attending school until the year 1955."

"Many of these veterans would not have had the opportunity for this college training if HCJC had not been operating. There undoubtedly will be many other veterans wanting similar training during the next five years. The results of this Legion poll are evidence that the ex-service man wants a permanent, growing and well-equipped college for the best advanced training that Howard county can provide."

Wide Variety Of Meats Available In City Markets

Whatever one's taste, as far as meat is concerned it can probably be satisfied at one of the Big Spring markets.

A wide variety of both cured and fresh meats is available at even the smallest market—thanks to the magic of refrigeration. Fish, oysters, beef, pork, mutton, poultry can all be found in the show-cases at the corner grocery.

Big Spring, situated in the midst of the cattle country and with its own butchering and freezer facilities, is a natural as far as beef supply is concerned. Both mutton and pork are also produced in this area, but other products have to be imported.

Two fish and oyster concerns furnish the city with both fresh and salt water varieties of fish, bringing new supplies daily in large refrigerated trucks. Poultry is dressed locally as well as imported via refrigerator trucks and railway cars.

Dressed rabbit is one of the few types of meat that are not on profuse display in local markets. Butchers report little demand for that type of meat, but say that it usually sells when handled. Rabbit ha is marketed here is raised locally, they said.

Typhoon Does Big Damage On Island

GUAM, Nov. 19. (AP) — Gov. Carlton Skinner today estimated that Thursday's typhoon wrought $1,600,000 in damage to civilian property exclusive of crop losses.

No estimate was made of the damage to military installations, which also were hard hit. The storm was said to have been the worst to hit Guam since 1918.

With maximum winds of 145 miles an hour, the typhoon's center passed only 40 miles south of Guam. Gusts of 125 miles an hour were recorded on Guam. There were no fatalities and only a few minor injuries.

(U. S. Air Force weather observers in Tokyo located the typhoon about 400 miles west by northwest of Guam. Its intensity was expected to drop as it headed toward the East China Sea north of Formosa.)

FFA Members Do Some Novel Judging At Coahoma School

COAHOMA, Nov. 19.—Members of the Greenhand FFA chapter combined hi-jinks with an educational program at high school assembly last week.

Using four male faculty members as subjects, Jack Wolf, Bobby Cathey and R. J. Echols judged a "fat barrow" contest.

Elvon DeVaney, FFA president, used the occasion to introduce Joe Nell Tindol (senior), Billie Jean Walker (junior), Evelyn Diaz (sophomore) and Fern Blacklock (freshman) as nominees in the FFA sweetheart contest, now opening.

Speeches on the FFA chapter and its various projects were given by Henry Hicks, Billy Brooks, Boggy Read, Clinton Jenkins and Hugh Wallace.

In El Rancho district quiz and farm skill demonstration held here Wednesday, Coahoma won second in the quiz division with Bobby Read, Clinton Jenkins and Hugh Wallace as team members. The skills team took third. Lamesa swept first place in all four divisions of the competition.

Military Business Booms At Airport

Military business at Municipal airport hit a new high during the past week. Jack Cook, port manager, reported Saturday. Several hundred ships dropped in during the week.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration control tower handled 100 military operations in a single day. Wednesday, 32 Army and Navy aircraft were serviced at Municipal hangar, Cook said.

An Air Force C-54, loaded with occupation personnel from Japan, stopped briefly at the Municipal airport Saturday afternoon. The soldiers were returning to the States for a Thanksgiving tour. The big ship checked out for Tucker Field, Oklahoma City.

Approximately a score of Mexican government officials landed here Friday aboard a DC-3 from Mexico City. The delegation was headed by Carlos I. Serrano, president of the Mexican Senate, Cook said.

The group went on to Snyder where they were to receive some cattle purchased from the Winston Brothers ranch. They remained overnight at the Settles here, returning to Mexico today.

J. E. Ferguson Jr., Pioneer Airlines' Big Spring manager, has announced a program of "air educational flights" for school children has been inaugurated by his company.

Pioneer will offer trips at reduced rats to groups of eight or more youngsters between the ages of eight and 19, permitting students to make tours of West Texas and New Mexico points of interest, Ferguson said. The program is to start Dec. 7.

North Dawson Test Barren

The Sprayberry section was found barren in drillstem tests run on a northwestern Dawson deep well last Friday.

Carraway No. 1 Los, seven miles northwest of Lamesa, tested from 7,400-7,520 with the tool open two hours. There was a slight blow for eight minutes and recovery was 30 feet of mud. There were no shows. The venture is located 800 feet from the north and west lines of labor 12, league 3, Taylor county school lands.

Seaboard No. 1 Matt Barrow, a failure in the Ellenburger at 11,312 feet, swabbed down and returned nothing but mud after acidizing above plugged-back depth at 4,370 feet. It is awaiting orders. Three miles northeast of Lamesa, the test is located 600 feet from the south and 1,900 feet from the east lines of section 8-35-4n, T&P.

In the Sprayberry pool, Seaboard No. 8-D Robinson, 660 feet from the north and 1,745 feet from the west lines of section 37-34-5n, T&P, progressed to 6,430 feet in black shale. Seaboard No. 8-A-D Robinson, 600 feet from the south and east lines of the 228 acre lease in section 27-34-5n, T&P, was waiting on cement around 10 1/4-inch string at 1,584 feet.

Seaboard No. 3-D Shafer, 1,380 from north and 680 from west lines of section 45-34-5n, T&P, drilled to 3,323 feet.

New Auto Tire Is Introduced Here

A new automobile tire, differing radically in design from conventional types, is being introduced here.

Ted Phillips, manager of Phillips Tire company, said that formal observations of the introduction would be set for the first week in December when an open house will be held. Tip Anderson, sales manager, has just returned from a pre-view of the tire in Dallas.

The new tire, known as the "Mid-Century" U.S. Royal master, carries with it a difference in styling a "scuff-proof" feature for white side walls and a special tread that is said to practically eliminate need for chains in most weather. This is accomplished by traction from a treat pattern of innumerable flexible blocks. A "curb guard" rib of rubber around the outer rim of the sidewall protects the white-faced tires. This not only holds the wall away from the curb, but pushes it back into the tire under sufficient pressure.

Local Fire Losses Hit $8,085.32 During October

October fire losses, not including damage to the Guitler gin or the contents of the C. R. Anthony store, amounted to $8,085.32, F. W. Bettle, city building inspector, said Saturday.

Neither the value of the Anthony goods or damage to the local gin had been determined, Bettle said in his monthly report to the state fire commission.

Damage to the Anthony building, owned by C. H. and B. Sparenberg, was set at $7,440.32. Cotton destroyed in the Guitler gin fire was valued at $500, while $50 in damage was done to contents of the J. T. Myrick residence, and $95 damage to the John Nutt confectionery.

Shortening Price Cuts Announced

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19. (AP)—Procter & Gamble Co. today announced a reduction of one and a quarter cents in the wholesale price of their Crisco vegetable shortening. The cut brought the price to its lowest level since October, 1946, the company reported.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 19. (AP)—A cut of one and a quarter cents in the price of Spry vegetable shortening was announced today by Lever Brothers Co. The drop was attributed to a decline in raw materials costs.

Crew Abandons Burning Vessel

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—The Coast Guard said today that the freighter "S. S. Kiplan B." had been reported afloat off the northern coast of Cuba and her crew had abandoned ship.

The Coast Guard Cutter Moccasin, the service said, was ordered to stop a towing mission and proceed full speed to the freighter's position.

Local Herefords Entered In Stock Show In Chicago

Five Herefords fed by Howard county 4-H club members were en route Saturday night to Chicago where they have been entered in the International Livestock Exposition.

The animals were loaded into a boxcar late Saturday afternoon and forwarded on their way before midnight.

E. B. Low and Lloyd Robinson are riding the train to care for the animals during the trip.

Howard county club entries in the International event included Donald Hewett, one junior calf; Lloyd Robinson, one summer yearling; Reppy Guitler, one summer yearling; Marilyn Guitler, one summer yearling; Donald Denton, one junior yearling.

The animals will be judged Saturday and Sunday at Chicago.

County Agent Durward Lewter plans to accompany a group of club members to the show site next week. He is scheduled to leave Big Spring on Thursday and arrive in Chicago in time for the judging.

An entry from the Roy Largent ranch near Merkel was shipped to Chicago in the same car with the Howard county Steers Saturday.

Crommelin Case Closed By Navy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—The Navy high command said today it has "closed" the turbulent case of Capt. John G. Crommelin — but the outspoken captain immediately said he hoped Congress would reopen investigation of Pentagon policy.

Commenting on a formal but vigorous reply by Crommelin to the reprimand given him for his sensational part in the inter-service wrangle, Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, said in substance:

1. The case is closed. 2. The letter of reprimand gave Crommelin opportunity to reply; he has replied, that ends the matter. This appeared to exclude possibility that Crommelin would be given a court martial, where he would have opportunity to reopen, through introduction of evidence and witnesses, the whole row.

The captain, who under Navy law cannot demand a court martial, expressed to reporters regret that this had been closed to him.

I strongly hope that Congress will restore the system of checks and balances so necessary for the operation of the defense establishment and our national security," he said.

"It is my fervent hope that the defense establishment will be further investigated by Congress."

YMCA-Sponsored Clubs Will Send Delegates To Meet

Delegates from two clubs sponsored by the Big Spring YMCA are due to participate in "Youth in Government" activities at Austin on Dec. 8-9-10.

Delegates named by the Hi Y club are Woody Wood and Wayne Bartlett, with Lawrence Wilson and Jeff Hanna as alternates. Tri Hi Y delegates are Janelle Beene and Dolores Franklin, whose alternates are Jo Ann Smith and Sandra Swartz.

Delegates to the event will present bills before a model legislature.

A joint meeting of the two clubs was held scheduled for Monday night. At that time Clyde Seeley, area director for Y clubs, will be on hand to help the local group make plans for the trip to Austin.

County Farm Bureau To Be Represented At Dallas Meeting

The Howard County Farm Bureau will be represented by nine delegates at the annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation which opens Monday in Dallas.

Official delegates who were planning to make the trip to Dallas today are Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Leatherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Proctor, J. L. Baugh, and Mrs. C. H. DeVaney. C. H. DeVaney, who is a state director, has already gone to Dallas to assist with pre-convention arrangements for the session.

The convention continues through Wednesday.

Thanksgiving To Be Theme Of KBST Broadcast Today

A special Thanksgiving program has been planned for the chamber of commerce radio broadcast over KBST at 3 p. m. today, Edith Jay, chamber secretary, announced Saturday.

J. H. Greene, manager of the chamber of commerce, is to speak during the program. A French horn quartet will provide music. Members of the quartet are Billie Wood, Guy Knowles, Harris Wood, and Margaret Martin. They will be directed by J. W. King high school band conductor. Miss Gay is to sing.

The Howard County Junior college bond election will also be plugged during the broadcast, with Billy Watson and Fritz Wehner slated to air their views on the proposal. A speaker to be selected is to encourage the current Community Chest drive.

Harvester Dealers Will Hold Sales Meet Here Monday

More than 100 representatives of International Harvester company dealers throughout West Texas and New Mexico are to start gathering here today for a one-day sales meeting Monday.

E. C. House, sales expert from New York who is conducting a series of sales lectures here next week, will address the group at a luncheon to be held at the Settles. His subject will be "The Complicated Age."

R. S. Biggerstaff, manager for the Sweetwater district of International dealers, is to be in charge of the day's program.

IHC motor truck, farm equipment, industrial power, and refrigeration dealers will attend the district meeting. Biggerstaff and other company officials will outline winter truck sales plans, covering such subjects as retail sales, national and local advertising, merchandising, and promotion.

R. E. Hamilton, assistant district manager in charge of truck sales; G. D. Long, assistant general manager in charge of general sales; M. W. Wobson, district sales promotion supervisor; and C. C. Dobbs, district service supervisor are to assist with the program.

The meeting is to begin at 8:30 a. m. Monday and will last until 4 p. m. All sessions, with the exception of the luncheon, will be held in Municipal auditorium.

Ritz Drug Bought By City Couple

Purchase of the Ritz Drug store by Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hagood has been announced.

The store was acquired from Weldon Dennis, who has operated it for the past three years. Mrs. Hagood, who has been with the Ritz Drug for four years, is to manage the firm. She had worked with M. D. Spear, before Dennis acquired the firm. The store will continue its same services of complete drugs, cosmetics, notions lines together with confections.

Diarrhea Incidence Boosted In County

A sharp increase in the number of diarrhea cases was included in the weekly report of communicable diseases by the Big Spring-Howard county Health unit Saturday.

Sixty-six cases of the disease were diagnosed here during the past week. Last Saturday, 46 cases of diarrhea were reported for the previous week.

Four cases of pneumonia, one each of meningitis, measles, and mumps were reported for the past week. Three diphtheria cases were also diagnosed here.

Goliad Man Dead From Shotgun Blast

GOLIAD, Nov. 19. (AP)—R. A. Thompson, 60, retired Goliad County rancher and oil man, was found at his ranch home early today, killed by a shotgun charge.

Justice of the Peace W. P. Baumgartner, Sr., said he would not return an inquest verdict until after the funeral has been held tomorrow. Baumgartner said it will be Monday before he records the verdict.

The Justice said Thompson was found in a bedroom of the home by his wife. A gun was in Thompson's hand, Baumgartner said.

Communists Spur March on Chungking

CHUNGKING, China, Nov. 19. (AP)—The Communists spurred their march on Chungking today, amid indications the Nationalist government would soon be forced to flee to Chengtu, 170 miles northwest of here.

(The Red radio in Peiping said the Reds had reached the outskirts of Nanchuan, only 53 miles southwest of Chungking by a rough mountain trail. It is 82 miles from Chungking by the regular highway. The broadcast was heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press.)

Couple Dies When Fire Destroys Home

CAMERON, Nov. 19. (AP)—A blind man and his wife, both 80, perished in flames when fire destroyed their little frame home today.

Attendance Of 300 Seen On Eve Of Opening Of City Sales Clinic

Prospects for an attendance of 300 were bright today on the eve of the opening of a series of three sales lectures.

E. C. House, New York sales consultant, is to be the speaker for the three one-hour lectures, held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p. m.

A strong word for the series came from Flatview, where House recently completed a similar course. Raymond Lee, John, manager of the chamber of commerce there, wrote that attendance rose from 170 the first night to 326 and 370 the succeeding evenings.

"You, probably as we, could not realize prior to the lectures the effectiveness of such a speaker as Mr. House upon the people," said Johns. "After the first lecture we began to receive private comment and have been getting it ever since."

The lectures follow in logical sequence on basic sales approaches and topics. House urges participants to bring pencils and notebooks for maximum benefit from the lessons.

Among firms signing in addition to those who have affiliated previously with the course are: Swartz's Big Spring, M. J. Eaker & Neel Motor, Nathan G. Elzer, Western Auto Associate Store, Creighton Tire Co., Sherwin-Williams Co., Western Drug, Collins Bros Drug, Phillips Tire, Mead's Auto Supply, Rogers Food Store, Stanley Hardware, Hal-Compton Auto Supply, Firestone Supply, Hotel Settles, Tom Rosson.

30 City Firms To Participate In Christmas Program

Thirty firms have signified that they plan to participate in the Christmas window-unveiling program Dec. 2, Lloyd Brooks, chairman of the window committee, said Saturday.

The merchants are to participate in the Christmas treasure hunt sponsored by the chamber of commerce, and will decorate show windows to be unveiled simultaneously at 6 p. m. Dec. 2. Treasure hunt cards will be displayed in the windows.

Tickets are to be distributed immediately following the Welcome Santa parade which is scheduled for 5 p. m. The program will officially open the Christmas season here.

The window committee is also contacting individual merchants to encourage them to decorate store fronts in keeping with the season, Brooks said.

Dalhart Man Found Dead In Trailer

DALHART, Nov. 19. (AP)—Firemen found the body of A. J. Bryant, about 65, in a burning trailer near the edge of the downtown business district last night.

Bryant lived alone in the trailer. Origin of the fire was undetermined.

County Attorney James W. Miller said police and medical authorities were satisfied there was no foul play.

$155,000 Damages in Gin Fires Reported

FLOYDADA, Nov. 19. (AP)—Two gins burned in Northwest Texas Friday, causing damage estimated at $11,000.

The McCoy Gin, nine miles southwest of Floydada, had a damage loss estimated at between $80,000 and $90,000.

The Terry & Harren Gin and cotton house burned at Weinert and loss was estimated at $75,000.

20 Churches To Be Represented At Baptist Meet Here

Baptist Brotherhood officers from at least 20 churches in the Big Spring association are expected to meet at the First Baptist Church in Stanton Tuesday for the associational training clinic for the organization's officers.

Brotherhood officials will launch their year's work with a discussion of individual projects and problems. Wayne Williams, Big Spring association president, said, Rev. J. S. Parks, pastor of the East 4th Baptist Church of Big Spring; G. G. Morehead, First Baptist Brotherhood president of Big Spring; and W. L. Mead, Big Spring Brotherhood presidency, are to speak during the meeting.

Eleven of the Brotherhood groups in the association have announced that they would have representatives at the meeting, the association president said. The other nine are expected to send delegations.

One of the objectives of the organization for the coming year is the formation of Brotherhoods in each of the 37 churches in the Big Spring association.

A nine man delegation is to attend the gathering from the First Baptist Church of Big Spring; Morehead, Williams, Paul Sledge, Ted Phillips, John Coffey, J. O.

Haygood, J. E. Langston, Mead and Rev. J. W. Arnett, district missionary, will make up the group.

Dr. H. M. Jarratt, president of the East 4th Brotherhood, is expected to name representatives from that church today.

Cooperative Plans Room Is Opened By Local C-C

A cooperative plans room, for use by contractors and architects in this area, has been opened by the local chamber of commerce.

Plans and specifications for construction projects in a wide West Texas area will be submitted by architects for consultation by local contractors. Architects from Big Spring, Abilene, Midland, San Angelo, Odessa, and Lubbock are cooperating in the project, chamber of commerce officials said.

The cooperative plans room eliminates the necessity on the part of architects for printing large quantities of plans for each job to be distributed to individual contractors. It is hoped that the plans room will increase the number of bidders on construction projects.

nance. If voters approve the $350,000 issue, that means that in three decades, that amount of money, plus a low rate of interest, will be repaid. There should be no illusions on this point.

Yet, this is not all of the financial story. Use again the figures on students who feel they could somehow attend some other college. They number about 125. Approximately this number (117) gave answers to their expenditures here.

These averaged $125 monthly. They spent about $5,000 a month for food or board, nearly $2,000 for clothing, around $2,500 in car expense, payments, etc., $1,200 in rents, $1,000 for laundry, $1,400 for amusement, $1,700 for other expenses. If these students, representing a cross-section, are average, it is safe to assume that at least $150,000 is being spent here annually which might be spent elsewhere were it not for a college at home.

That is part of the financial picture, too.

People Have Responsibility In Having Voice In College Vote

Voters of Howard county will be asked Tuesday to decide whether they wish to invest $35,000 in a permanent home for Howard County Junior College. Every qualified voter who has rendered property for taxes ought to go to the polls and register his opinion.

We have felt for a long time that money invested in education is money well invested. Bond issues cost money and the taxpayers foot the bill. A couple of years ago the U. S. chamber of commerce, usually considered as a conservative organization, made an intensive study. It came up with this conclusion, which is advocated aggressively, that where educational investments are greatest, standards of living are higher. In other words, the more educational advantages people possess, more telephones, more automobiles, more houses, more food, and in fact more of the worthwhile things are bought.

This is one way of saying that such investments pay for themselves—not tangibly perhaps, but realistically nevertheless. Bonds are not floated on a day and paid back the next. Almost without exception, those who are the immediate beneficiaries come along to help shoulder their part of the load for the benefits they have gained. Education that contributes toward a higher standard of living makes it all the more a pleasure.

Some may not favor any public bonds; some may not favor this particular issue, and there should be no quarrel at all with them. But if lack of information is the reason, then there is cause for an analysis of the situation.

The funds asked should provide a creditable permanent home for the junior college. The college has $150,000 on hand to be entrusted to it at the creation of the college four years ago. This will supplement the new funds so that a half-million dollar plant can be created.

The college is not something to be exalted at the expense of other schools. It is part of the whole. Actually, there is only minor duplication for any district, for Howard County Junior College is a county-wide district. As such it has a tax base in excess of $24 million. Against this, the total bond load would be considerably under even safe levels.

Best reason, however, for providing for the college is to insure its growth and development—and through it an opportunity to our young people—and as many adults who want to make use of its training—to take that advanced training here at home. The savings alone to patrons will many times exceed the total cost, but the main reason is that each year two or three hundred of our youth, whose families cannot afford to send them away, will get to study in college.

Matter Of Fact—Joseph Alsop

FDR, Junior Is Sure Bet For New York Governorship In '50

WASHINGTON—Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Jr., a less impulsive character than his brother James, is not likely at any time in the near future to follow his brother's example. James Roosevelt has amazed absolutely nobody by announcing his desire to become governor of California. There will be no similar announcement from his brother, who is sticking carefully to his knitting as a Congressman, and firmly tells inquirers that the thought of the governorship of New York has hardly even occurred to him.

Nevertheless, there are a number of reasons for supposing that the idea will soon force itself on his attention. It is only necessary to add together two facts to see why young Roosevelt's name is very much to the fore in speculation about the Democratic nominee in next year's New York gubernatorial contest.

One fact is that Roosevelt is constitutionally incapable of turning down a chance for high public office. The other fact is that it is only necessary to comb over the potential Democratic candidates to find that Roosevelt is almost certainly the best Democratic bet to beat Governor Thomas E. Dewey, if Dewey runs again.

Mayor William O'Dwyer's name is also often mentioned for the 1950 race. But O'Dwyer has told friends that he does not want to run. Moreover, whether or not O'Dwyer changes his mind, he suffers from certain disadvantages. In the first place, labor leader David Dubinsky is emphatically not an O'Dwyer supporter. Dubinsky controls New York's Liberal Party, which polled almost 400,000 anti-O'Dwyer votes in the recent campaign.

Dwyer votes in the recent campaign. Since a Democrat must pile up an overwhelming lead in New York City to win the state, enthusiastic Liberal Party support is highly important.

In the second place, although O'Dwyer is very popular in New York City, he has no reputation upstate, where he would certainly be tagged a city slicker. Since Roosevelt supported O'Dwyer against Dubinsky's candidate, Newbold Morris, in the mayoralty campaign, Dubinsky has distinctly lost his initial enthusiasm for Roosevelt. This is a major obstacle.

On the other hand, by backing O'Dwyer, Roosevelt has gained the support of Tammany and the regular Democrats who fought him in his Congressional race. And Roosevelt has a vital asset in the enthusiastic backing of Bronx boss Ed Flynn. Roosevelt has already begun to build a reputation upstate. He campaigned hard for Herbert Lehman in the recent Senatorial race, and spoke in almost every important upstate city.

Those who say him in action agreed that he was a remarkably effective campaigner—almost everywhere, he drew larger crowds than John Foster Dulles, although Roosevelt was not a candidate.

Roosevelt supporters point out that Lehman beat Truman's 1948 upstate vote and his own upstate record in the 1946 race by a considerable margin, and give young Roosevelt at least part of the credit. At any rate, his backers are convinced that his campaign for Lehman has greatly strengthened his position for next year.

Intra-Administration Quarrel On Over Reclamation, Power

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—Sixty days after the Democrats' much bally-hoed "Land, Water, Jobs" conference in San Francisco, of which President Truman's public power promises were the keynote, the administration is involved in a family quarrel over power.

The president's pal, Mon Wallgren, whom he finally landed on the Federal Powers Commission, joined with his colleagues over last week end in granting Pacific Gas and Electric Co. a 50-year license for the construction and operation of a hydroelectric development in Central Valley, California. FPC also granted a preliminary permit to the Fresno Irrigation District for a power plant in the same region.

Interior Secretary Julius Krug will appeal for a rehearing forthwith and the fight will be strongly pushed by his successor, Under-Secretary Oscar Chapman. Their argument of the FPC will be that the Reclamation Bureau plans development of the Central Valley as a whole, including the project now granted to P. G. & E. and Fresno.

With equal firmness they will seek the president's open support on the ground that the FPC is running directly counter to the Truman campaign pledges to the west which have so lately been re-emphasized by the party. Public power advocates agree that the President must register his own views strongly if he is to escape charges of insincerity.

They had felt that the President took a long step forward as a defender of the west when he promoted Chapman, a Coloradoan, to the FPC for 20 years with development of western land and water resources. The FPC decision—with the name of the President's friend, Wallgren, attached—struck them amidships.

They consider it particularly gratuitous as Wallgren has just taken office and heard none of the arguments in the original hearing. As the FPC decision was unanimous—another blow—it is pointed out that Wallgren did not have to break a tie; he could have abstained until he had studied the question. Now they are terming him "Wrong-Way Wallgren" and accusing him of running toward his own goal posts.

FPC states that the President last August disapproved Interior's Central Valley plans and that Interior then withdrew the two projects at issue from the President's Congressional authorization. Interior admits this but says it was only a postponement, that they are drawing up new plans they believe will pass White House inspection. They felt certain the President did not intend to veto federal development of Central Valley then or in the future.

The administration will have a chance to restate its public power views January 15 next at a New England Democratic conference. Current developments insure a special drive to induce the President personally to speak. The conference was postponed from this month due to the death of its chairman. Interior last year launched an attack on high power rates in New England, abetted by Governors Dewey, of Massachusetts, Bowles, of Connecticut, and Gibson of Vermont.

In a sense it is tough luck for Chapman that he must enter the cabinet involved in a hard contest with another presidential appointee so closely identified with the President. But Chapman has been anchor man in Interior throughout the New and Fair Deals; he will only be fighting, as always, for his own principles.

Ex-Marine Had Situation In Hand When Paul Robeson Arrived In Los Angeles

Editor's Note: The Braniff, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, today goes to Maj. Gen. William A. Worton, the ex-Marine who is now cleaning up Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES—When Negro singer Paul Robeson came out to Los Angeles shortly after the Peekskill riots, it was generally expected that all hell would break loose.

Robeson was reported to have picked this polyglot, mushroomed metropolis of the West Coast because of its crackpot Communist fringe and the hope that another riot would add more fuel to the distorted flames of the Moscow radio.

But just the opposite happened. Robeson came and left Los Angeles without a ripple. No baseball bats were wielded. No rocks thrown. No ovals waited for him. And, most important of all, no propaganda ed the Moscow radio.

The man responsible for this efficiency is a stocky, quiet-spoken officer who trained the 3rd Marines for the landing at Okinawa and who is now tackling the toughest job of his life—it is no exaggeration to say that Maj. Gen. William Arthur Worton would rather lead troops into battle than face the political morasses and pitfalls that await the chief of police of Los Angeles.

His job is probably typical of that faced by the modern, overgrown, big American city which is now trying to prevent the new wave of sex crimes, robberies and degeneracy that has erupted every big city in the wake of war.

"PAPERS 'SCOOPED'" When General Worton took office late last summer, just about everything under the sun happened in Los Angeles. Key Cohen, much-publicized gull of the underworld, had just been shot at. Worton's predecessor as chief of police had just been indicted—though later acquitted. And a raft of dictaphone recordings taken from a microphone hidden in Mickey Cohen's house made headlines in the Los Angeles papers.

Indicative of the easygoing lethargy of the Los Angeles police force was, first the fact that these dictaphone recordings had been lying in a police lieutenant's garage for months. And, second, the fact that the recordings were sold to various underworld leaders before they were shown to the new chief of police.

In fact, Los Angeles generally was so uninterested in its own police graft that Dick Hyer of the San Francisco Chronicle stole the story right from under the noses of the Los Angeles newspapers. And for some days, Los Angeles papers were frantically rewriting the San Francisco Chronicle stories in order to report what was going on in their own town.

"POLICE UNION" What General Worton found in the Los Angeles police force may also be typical of what is happening in other American cities. When he tried to fire the head of his detective force, he found that he couldn't. The detective chief was protected by civil service. And if charges were preferred against him, those charges were heard by a board of yellow police officers whose watchword was self-protection.

tightly controlled as if it had been organized by John L. Lewis, had developed.

Chief Worton's job has been difficult not only because Los Angeles filled up during the war with a motley migration of Midwest war workers, pension-hunting oldsters and migrant Mexicans, but also because large sections of the city are not under his control.

What Worton found was that Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Pasadena, and half a dozen of the other cities that nudge Los Angeles and really make up its metropolitan area, operate their own police forces. On top of this, Los Angeles County has 3,000 police of its own, and it is in the county rather than the gambling really flourishes. Kingspin of Los Angeles County is colorful Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz, who seems to get no more excited about an occasional gang shooting than about the gambling that attracts crowds along Sunset Strip. After the hoodlums spat the front of Sherry's with shotgun slugs in an effort to bump off Mickey Cohen, Sheriff Biscailuz decided to re-enact the crime—with all witnesses present. So, accompanied by newsmen and photographers, the sheriff arrived with his retinue. But no witnesses.

After a lot of waiting, hemming and hawing, the sheriff remarked: "Well, they must have been tired, or maybe they went to the fights tonight."

Whereupon he had his picture taken, pointing at the bullet holes, and went home.

IMPROVEMENT SEEN The Los Angeles press seems to love Sheriff Biscailuz and seldom points to the fact that it's in his bailiwick that things are wide open, free, and easy. Of course, there may be a reason for this love. Not long ago the sheriff knew a party at the East-side Brewery, with a young army of newsmen present. There was also plenty of bourbon and flit bignion. Just how the sheriff could afford such a party remains a mystery, but his objective was no mystery.

"We've all been in this thing together for a long time," he said, in a little speech of welcome. "So remember your old friend Gene Biscailuz if things start popping. And remember we've always been friends."

A few days later 200 deputy sheriff badges, as big as Pepsi-Cola badges, were handed out to the press.

No wonder, when General Worton took over the Los Angeles police and started cleaning up, he was razzed by certain newspapers. He hadn't learned the trick of passing out flit bignion, bourbon, and deputy sheriff badges.

The ex-Marine corps general leads a lonely life, but it's beginning to pay dividends. Every night after supper he makes a surprise inspection of a police station. Every day he is getting better morale, more loyalty, and more work from his men. Many of the Los Angeles police force are now ex-veterans and, though green, take their work seriously.

Worton's greatest problem is the fact that under civil service rules he can hold office only four months.

Hollywood Cafes Waging 'Battle Of Beefsteak'

HOLLYWOOD—The film-town's top restaurants are waging a peculiar "Battle of the Beefsteak."

The first salvo was fired when this message was placed on tables at the Sunset Strip spot, Larue's:

"In order just to swap dollars in the buying, cooking and serving of steaks, we are forced to charge $5.50 (a la carte) for such services. It's entirely too much for this food and we earnestly request that you scan our menu for many other excellent dishes more reasonable in cost and in many instances superior in food values.

"Stop eating steaks for awhile and bring these prices down."

The notice was caused by a dollar rise in cost of a New York steak, a Larue's spokesman told me. The campaign cut nightly steak consumption from 60 to 12, he said. And the movement spread.

eat for $2.25. It's like a continuous party. Before, I charged $12 for a dinner and lost money. Now it's $2.25 and I'm making money. The reason is that I do not have high-priced help sitting around doing nothing."

Mike Romanoff heard of it and ordered the same cards for his Beverly Hills restaurant. And similar announcements sprouted on the tables at the Brown Derby.

Meanwhile, another experiment in the restaurant business was being tried by movie maker Preston Sturges. His fashionable Players cafe was offering meals "Hollywood Party Style."

"I changed dinner at the Players to buffet-style, all you can

Around The Rim—The Herald Staff

Tourist Business Is A Giant, And Rapidly Is Getting Bigger

And what do you think ranks as the third biggest industry in the United States, and seems to be climbing faster than any of them?

You could have fooled me, but this giant is the travel and recreation industry which holds a rank of 24 billions of dollars per year. Only manufacturing, with 61 billions, and wholesale and retail trade, with 37 billions, are larger. The travel-and-recreation boys are raking in more money than does agriculture, which is in fourth place with 19 billions.

The figures are from a report from the Brookings Institution which opens that, according to present trends, travel and recreation are destined to become the nation's biggest industry.

This has all been developed by Ike Ashburn, publisher of the Texas Parade, a magazine devoted largely to promotion of Texas as a tourist and recreation area. Ashburn says that Texas alone can have a tourist business amounting to a half billion dollars in 1950. Here's how he arrived at his estimate:

According to inquiries made by the Texas Highway Department's information stations, tourists coming here by automobile from other states left $114,528,000 in Texas last year.

If intrastate automobile travelers equal that amount, the total would be more than $229,000,000.

Money spent by those who used means of travel other than the automobile certainly brought the 194 total over 300 million.

"Concentrated effort on the part of Texas and the investment of some money in exploiting the recreational resources of Texas can bring half a billion dollars in tourist trade here next year," the magazine publisher said.

The sheer variety of the great state's attractions is a drawing point, and probably has not been emphasized enough. Texas has a coast line of more than 500 miles, plenty of space to accommodate those who want deep sea fishing or who just like the seashore. There are plenty of inland lakes, plenty of scenery in the hills of central Texas, not to mention such spots of scenic grandeur as the Davis Mountains, Palo Duro Canyon, the Big Bend wonders.

Texas has a mighty fine network of rail, air and highway routes, too, to take care of the traveler who wants to see more than one kind of sight.

The tourist business is one that has been pushed on many fronts, but Texas never has done on a coordinated basis, what it should do. And even the winter time is a good time to talk about this particular industry because the southern routes are loaded with out-of-state people during the colder months. Just have a try at negotiating traffic on highway 89 most any day, and you'll see what is meant.—BOB WHIPKEY.

British Socialist About-Face May Indicate Loss Of Strength

THERE'S MORE THAN APPEARS ON the surface in the British Socialist government's sensational compromise with the Conservatives whereby nationalization of the great steel industry will be delayed until after the next general election.

This steel project was top item in the nationalization program and the government had been anxious to achieve it before factin, the voters again. Their sudden backflip means, as Conservative leader Winston Churchill points out, that the election will be "almost a referendum" on the proposition of nationalizing steel.

NATURALLY THIS DEVELOPMENT has inspired the thought among some observers that it represents one of those patriotic gestures which John Bull characterizes as "playing cricket," that is, good sportsmanship and a deificating willingness to leave the decision to the people. I believe—Prime Minister. Attlee has made this gesture mainly because he no longer is sure that his party can control a majority of the voters.

He apparently was confident a few months ago that he could win. But the economic crisis has become so complicated and uncertain that public sentiment today can't be accurately gauged. And the conservative prospect are no more sure. So we find the government saying to the voters in effect:

"WE HAD INTENDED TO TAKE OVER the steel industry before entering another general election. However, since this is the most important item in our program and it is a controversial one, we have decided to submit the matter to your judgment. You shall decide whether you want to proceed with the program. Meantime parliament will have approved the measure authorizing nationalization if you want it."

The Nation Today—By James Marlow

President's Powers May Be In Need Of Some Clarification

WASHINGTON.—PRESIDENT TRUMAN puzzled people with a statement he made last February. They're puzzled all over again by a similar statement he made Thursday.

When the nation is faced with a big strike which may hurt it badly, the President can stop it for 80 days—but for 80 days only, and not permanently—by using the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

He does it by declaring a national emergency. Then he gets an order from a federal judge forbidding a strike for 80 days. After those 80 days, though, the workers are free to strike.

This is the first and only labor law explicitly giving the President power to stop a strike. But neither Mr. Truman nor his labor-leader supporters like the T-H act.

THE ACT WAS PASSED IN 1947 WHEN the Republicans controlled Congress. This year the Democrats had control. As soon as they came into session in 1949 they set out to wipe out the act.

But many people raised this question: If T-H is killed and there is no law explicitly giving the President power to stop a big strike that might endanger the nation, what can be done?

The President was asked about that at a news conference Feb. 3, 1949.

He said the constitutional and implied powers of the President are sufficient to meet any national emergency, and need not be spelled out in a new law.

And he said his attorney general told him the President has ample authority to deal with any strike crisis without using the labor law.

Precisely what he meant by all that has never been explained. But Congress went home this fall without, after all, changing the T-H act. It still stands as the law.

Now the nation may have another coal strike. When John L. Lewis on Nov. 9 sent his miners back to work after a 52-day strike, he said it would be until Dec. 1.

AFTER THAT DATE, HE'S FREE TO strike unless the President does something to prevent it. Would Mr. Truman use T-H to do it?

Yes, the President told a news conference Thursday, but—only if there's a national emergency. He would not admit there'd be an emergency if the miners struck Dec. 1.

Hal Wants To Be Automobile In His Next Reincarnation

NEW YORK.—IF THERE IS SUCH A thing as reincarnation—if we are born again—I want to be a motor car.

Other souls may prefer to come back and inhabit the body of a lion, a dog, a cat, or a sacred cow. But if my spirit ever wanders earthward again, I want it to swell in the chassis of a sleek and shiny automobile. And I'll purr in contentment. For it the motor car isn't exactly an object of worship in America, it is certainly a leading fetish.

A fetish is an object of unreasoning devotion which is supposed to help its owner gain from life whatever he wants. That is a perfect description of the place of the automobile in our civilization.

IN SLIGHTLY MORE THAN A GENERATION it has gained a hold on the people such as no stone or wooden idol ever held on an African tribe. And its appeal is steadily increasing.

This year a record number of images of this four-wheeled demi-god of our times will be turned out of the factories—about 55 million.

The automobile has cost more lives in the United States than two world wars, and it has changed the face of our nation and the pattern of our lives.

But the near-worship accorded it only grows stronger. Folks will do things for it they wouldn't think of doing for themselves.

Any number of people spend more money keeping their cars in shape than they do on their own bodies. A gnat who lives on hamburgers and refreshed himself with bootleg corn will stoutly insist that his jalopy gulps only the finest high-grade gasoline.

MANY CARRY MORE INSURANCE ON their cars than they do on their own lives. It costs $3 a day to keep a car in some indoor Manhattan parking palaces, more than a good middle-class hotel room used to. In 1939 I paid $35 rent for a small apartment here with kitchenette and bath. Some garages now charge $50 and up to care for a car 30 days—and it doesn't even have cooking privileges.

With this veneration of the automobile growing as it is, a man would be a fool to want to come back to America in some after life and waste his career as a mouse, an elk or a high-flying duck.

No, the thing to aim for—if you get a second chance—is to be an automobile. That's my goal.

Victory Clinches District Crown For Abilene '11'

ABILENE, Nov. 19.—The Abilene Eagles scored by every method, except the safety route, here Friday night to crush the Big Spring Steers 72-7 and sack up the District 5-AA football crown.

The War Birds struck swiftly to get themselves four touchdowns in the first five minutes of play and then coasted in as Coach Pete Shotwell kept three teams shutting on and off the playing field as the Abilenians built up their margin almost at will during the remainder of the game.

An awesome running attack all but swept the outmanned Longhorns off the field in the opening minutes of play, with such backfield poyers as Bill Galusha, Hub Ingram and Joe Youngblood leading the way.

For the most part the Eagles stuck to their ground game, picking up a total of 869 yards rushing. However, their stalwart pass defense produced touchdowns twice as a result of interceptions by Ingram and Prentice Martin.

The second Eagle score came by their own aerial maneuvers, however, when Ingram tossed a 22-yard gainer to Don Strange.

The Steers made a brave effort to recover from the early Abilene onslaught, moving deep into Eagle territory three times near the end of the first quarter. The Longhorns kept pounding away and finally pushed over a tally early in the second after their passing game clicked briefly to set up the counter.

A 41-yard pass from Amos Jones to Howard Washburn set the Steers up in business on the Abilene 35 yard line. They gradually worked the ball down to the five, and then Robert Cobb plunged over for the score after an offside penalty against the Eagles placed the ball on the 1-yard line.

The Steers had been to the Abilene 5-yard line once previously, and they also generated a drive to the 25, but bogged down on each occasion when the Eagles stiffened.

The victory clinched the district title, since they have only one other game and have not met defeat in conference play. Sweetwater, the second place team, was defeated by Abilene two weeks ago.

The Steers close out their 1949 season on Thanksgiving Day when the Sweetwater Mustangs play a call at the local stadium.

The Douglass hotel team moved into a tie with Zack's of Marso's for the lead in women's bowling play Friday night by clipping Leonard's twice.

Vera Dozier was the individual star, posting a 208-570 for the winning aggregation. Mary Ruth Robertson had a 485 for second high series.

The Douglass team turned in the high team game, a 717.

Irish Finally Awaken To Rout Hawkeyes, 28-7

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 19.—Notre Dame's football giant, a coffin-case for nearly three quarters, suddenly became its monstrous self and ground out two long touchdowns marches which crushed Iowa's hustling Hawkeyes 28-7 today.

For the first time this season, the Irish needed the breaks of the game to keep ahead. It wasn't until Iowa tied the last minute of the first period that Notre Dame mustered its typical power for the momentum needed to roll through its 26th game without defeat.

Coach Frank Leahy's mighty men, a bit overconfident on this blustery, chilly day, wrested their eighth straight victory of the season and 31st successive win at home before 56,790 spectators.

Notre Dame punched a touchdown in each period, and Steve Oracko placekicked the point after each, Iowa tied the count 7-7 at the outset of the second. Although trailing 14-7 at halftime, the Hawkeyes had outmarched Notre Dame 111 yards to 55.

The Irish meeting a finely-coached, stubborn Iowa line, and rocked by the running of Jerry Faske, the Brooklyn bullet, had to go full throttle all the way for the eventual decisive edge. It was perhaps the first time this season, Leahy did not have to fret about keeping the score down—he was too busy worrying whether he could get it up.

Notre Dame matched 95 yards to score and take a 21-7 third quarter edge over Iowa. Neither team made headway until the final minutes when the Irish absorbed a pair of clipping penalties and ultimately began rolling from their 5. Williams' 51-yard toss to Spaniel ignited the surge which Spaniel capped on a one-yard plunge with 50 seconds left to play. Oracko booted his third consecutive point.

In a listless last period, Iowa got as far as the Notre Dame 35 after Winslow recovered Sitko's fumble but made no headway. In the last 90 seconds the Irish took over on their own 42 and struck on the ground behind Barrett, Spaniel and Sitko to the Iowa 13. On last down and one yard to go, Williams speared Hart for a touchdown and Oracko added the point.

Brown Decisions Columbia, 16-7

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Battered to a standstill, for better than three quarters, Brown University put over a 27-yard field goal and a touchdown pass in the closing minutes of play today to hand the Forsaken Columbia Lions their seventh straight defeat, 16 to 7.

Picked to win by two touchdowns at least, the Bruins from Providence found themselves locked in a tight 7-7 deadlock until, at 8:12 of the closing period, Joe Condon, 28-year-old senior, booted his long placement to relieve the pressure. Then, with only 20 seconds remaining and with the crowd of 20,000 rapidly emptying Baker Field, Walt Pastuszak, substitute Brown fullback, fired a 16-yard pass to Halfback Loren Rodewig in Columbia's end zone for the clincher.

Steer Cagers Open Loop Play At Brownwood

The Big Spring Steers will open their District 5AA basketball schedule in Brownwood Jan. 13.

Play in the double round robin schedule will continue through Feb. 14, when the Longhorns will close out their conference competition opposing the San Angelo Bobcats in the local gym.

First home conference game for the Steers will bring the Abilene Eagles here for an appearance on Jan. 20.

Coach Larry McCulloch will have his Longhorn candidates on a full time training routine immediately after the Thanksgiving holidays.

Several Steer basketballers already have been getting in a few licks at the gymnasium. Such operators as Floyd Martin, Howard Graves, Howard Washburn and others who are out for football will join them after the Turkey Day recess.

Sterling Romps Over Bearcats

STERLING CITY, Nov. 19.—The Sterling City Eagles annexed the district No. 8 six-man football championship here Friday night, burying the Garden City Bearcats in a 68-27 avalanche.

The victory gave the Eagles the right to meet the Flower Grove Dragons, district No. 7 champions, for the bi-district title.

Jim Lindsey scored 19 points to lead the Eagles to their second district No. 8 crown in the last three years. Don Gann, Eagle passer, proved the way for most of the Sterling City scoring.

Gann had eight points to his credit, Pascal Brown and Duard Grosshan (who ran 35 yards and a TD on the game's opening play) had 7 each; Elroy Butler, Leroy Butler, William Blair, Henry Bliznak six each, Larry Glass added two and Loy Mitchell one for Sterling.

Flicker took two long passes in the second for a pair of tallies, and Fisher and Cunningham counted in the final frame for the victors. Sterling piled up 404 yards rushing to 106 for Garden City and led in first downs, 24-7.

Y Cage League Plans Are Told

All prospective sponsors are being asked to prepare their team rosters for the YMCA basketball league in advance of a loop meeting which will be held soon, officials announced Saturday.

The meeting will be called soon, probably the week after Thanksgiving, and the league hopes to launch a schedule immediately.

They plan to draw up schedules, approve rules and regulations team rosters, etc. at one sitting to avoid the necessity of another parley before play begins, according to Frank Hardesty, loop president.

Arrangements already have been made for the use of a gymnasium two nights a week.

Any team in the Big Spring territory will be considered for membership in the league, but team leaders should be definitely set to field a team before the organization session, Hardesty cautioned.

Cards Take Title; Down Buffs, 19-0

SNYDER, Nov. 19.—The Hermleigh Cardinals out-runned Stanton's Buffaloes, 19-0, in a hard-fought football game here Friday night to sew up the District 6-B title.

The Red Birds pushed across their first touchdown in the opening quarter when Carl Williams plunged over from the 1-yard line. The score was set up by a 30-yard pass from Bill Voss to Lindell Locket.

The Hermleigh lads took over again on a pass interception at the Stanton 40-yard line and promptly moved to another touchdown, with another long pass from Voss to Williams eating up the yardage.

Voss carried over from the 3-yard line in the third quarter to conclude the scoring. The Cardinals had mixed passes and running plays to the stage for the final tally.

Hermleigh will tangle with Eden next week in the bi-district playoff.

Pass Interception Costs 'Dogs As Robert Lee Steers Win, 7-6

ROBERT LEE, Nov. 19.—Coahoma's Bulldogs bowed out of the district No. 6-B football title race here Friday evening, dropping a 7-6 defensive classic.

Coahoma held the edge in statistics and penetrations but yielded on a pass interception in the first quarter. Mauldin intercepted a Bulldog flat-zone pass and scampered 20 yards for the Robert Lee score.

In the second, Coahoma opened up with a 58-yard pass play from Red Dickson to Gerry Hoover, which was spilled on the five. From there, Edgar Vinson rammed it over. A fumble nullified the extra point try.

Later Coahoma got to the Robert Lee six-inch line and then blocked the Robert Lee punt. But the Bulldogs couldn't batter down the home team's defense.

Coahoma played without the service of two top performers, Wendell Shive, key halfback, fractured an ankle in practice Wednesday. Jimmy Knight was out with a bad hand, and earlier in the season Jack Wolf, bruising fullback, sustained a broken leg. Maurice Duncan, regular guard, has subbed in at full for Coahoma. Echols managed to finish the game but was hospitalized for an arm and leg luge Saturday.

Offensively, Coahoma backs stacked up this way: Echols five times for 17 yards, Cathey 19 for 72, Vinson 11 for 40, Duncan 2 for 10, Dickson one for 18.

Coahoma's coach, Ed Robertson, threw up a nine man line against Robert Lee and if there were any who starred among the stubborn defenders, they were Duncan, Minchew and Thomas.

Hamilton, Bobby Hood and Don Duncan carried the offensive load for the Robert Lee Steers, Mauldin and Varnadore also turned in fine work. Coahoma's loss, plus Hermleigh's win over Stanton eliminated the Bulldogs from the title race.

Hawks Looking To Scrimmage With McMurry

Howard County Junior college basketballers will sound out the McMurry college Indians in a practice session Tuesday night at the McMurry gymnasium in Abilene.

The Jayhawks, who already have tested their weapons in one pre-season skirmish hope to develop their attack thoroughly before embarking upon regular season play.

Each Harold Davis carried the Hawks to Lubbock last week for a scrimmage with Texas Tech. He believes a brush with senior college opposition will be profitable to the H.C.J.C. quintet when they begin taking on junior college foes in red-earnest play.

The Jayhawks hoop artists have been working out regularly since the H.C.J.C. football schedule was completed two weeks ago.

SMU Bewildered By Burk's Passes, Bears Win, 35-26

Victory Keeps Baylor's Title Hopes Alive

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Nov. 19. — Tall Adrian Burk, Baylor's man with the sling shot, knocked down Southern Methodist 35-26 today to keep the Southwest Conference football championship race going for another week.

The precision ball manipulation on Baylor's glittering T formation passed for three touchdowns and set up another turning back battling Southern Methodist and its great Doak Walker.

It was Baylor's first victory over SMU since 1936 and puts the conference title and the host spot in the Cotton Bowl up to next Saturday's game at Houston between Baylor and Rice.

Rice remained undefeated in conference play by beating Texas Christian 20-14. Baylor has lost one game but by beating Rice can tie for the title and get the Cotton Bowl bid.

A crowd of 63,000 watched Baylor break away for two touchdowns in less than nine minutes, then held on easily against a great exhibition by Walker who scored three touchdowns.

Baylor scored on the first play of the game. From his 20-yard line Burk passed to Dudley Parker on the SMU 32 and he ran to a touchdown. Recovering Walker's fumble of a punt on the SMU 33, Baylor got another touchdown just eight minutes later. It came on a 25-yard pass from Burk to J. D. Ison in the end zone.

SMU roared back with a 73-yard drive with Walker going over from the four.

It was halfway through the second period that Walker, with nine yards to go for a first down, gambled on fourth down and his pass was incomplete. Baylor took over on the SMU 46. Burk passed to Stan Williams on the 22 and the big wingman ran to a touchdown. SMU took the third period kickoff and in 12 plays zipped to a touchdown. Walker scoring it on a four-yard run. Gene Heering intercepted a Walker pass on the Baylor 39 to halt another SMU drive and from here Baylor zoomed to a score. Burk's passes to Williams and Ison set it up with Jerry Mangum crashing over from the four-yard line.

Again SMU stormed back, dashing 66 yards in 11 plays for a touchdown which Rote made from the four.

The next Baylor score was on an 11-yard plunge by Art Sweet after Milt Johnson set it up with a punt return to the SMU 23. Then came SMU's last drive with Fred Benner pitching to Walker 15 yards for a touchdown. Henry Dickerson of Baylor kicked five extra points. Walker two.

Southern Methodist won in the statistics, which wasn't much consolation. The Methodists ground and passed for 370 yards to 347 for Baylor but the amazing thing about

Oregon Whipped By Oregon State

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 19. — Oregon State, off to a slow start this year, closed its season in glory today, winning a prized 20-10 decision over traditional rival Oregon.

The Staters, who upset highly regarded Michigan State last week, felt out their rivals through the first half today, then broke loose for three touchdowns in the closing periods. A capacity crowd of 23,000 attended.

Halfback Ken Carpenter, their top candidate for all-state honors, was the prime mover in all of the Staters' scores.

They involved drives of 58, 40 and 46 yards. The first two came in the third period with Carpenter grinding out most of the yardage. Then he flipped a pass to Quarterback Gene Morrow in a 24-yard touchdown play fairly early in the fourth quarter.

Oregon was in the game only briefly, late in the second period, after a pass interception on the Oregon State 35. They bucked to the 12 and from there guard Chet Daniels booted a field goal to give Oregon a 2-0 halftime lead.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Baseball's bible, the Sporting News, reported Big Spring's baseball attendance the past season at 88,550, over 1,500 shy of the figure the local management offered. . . . Club President Al Aton stated that opening day sales were not included in the first figure he sent forward, after which time he went about to correct the oversight. . . . The Sporting News had San Angelo playing to 83,245, Odessa 60,426, Midland 52,078, Vernon 50,386, Ballinger 44,815, Roswell 43,584 and Sweetwater 33,770. . . . If Big Spring had had Angelo's park facilities this year, chances are the Broncs would have attracted more than 85,000. . . . This reporter saw the Colt stadium for the first time recently. . . . A better Class D layout probably can't be found anywhere. . . . The plant here needs more conveniently located box seats, more grandstand pews, a better lighting system and perhaps a deeper left field. . . . Judging from the play the Odessa paper gave the announcement that Al Monchak had been rehired as manager of the Odessa baseball team, one would think the football campaign is over in the Ector county metropolis. . . . Is it?

The news organ said Monchak turned down managerial posts with Class A and B clubs to take the Odessa job last season but is apt to play second fiddle to Bob Crues of San Angelo in that respect next year. . . . Carlos (Potato) Pascual, Big Spring's stellar third sacker last season, broke his finger in a baseball game in his native Cuba recently. . . . He was the only Bronc in winter ball. . . . Bert Baer, the Bronc first sacker who plans to go to Havana after New Year's Day for two weeks, thinks Big Spring will have a better team in '50 than it had the past season.

School Officials Welcome Transfer

A. D. (Shadow) Ensey, one of the leaders in the fight to have a limit placed on the Cuban players in the Longhorn league next year, has petitioned Manny Rodriguez, the ex-Bronc, to bring some of the Latinos to the Odessa camp with him next spring. . . . Now that Big Spring high school is in the process of being voted back into District 3AA, the Steer gridders will probably drop Brownwood from their schedule next year. . . . The Lions and the Longhorns don't draw so well. . . . The switch in conferences, of course, tickled all local school officials, since the resident team stands to net more money in football and basketball. . . . For one thing, the Bovines will be required to do less traveling and for another the gates in 3AA

Softball Rules for 1950 to Change

Abbe Stuber of Iowa State may get Jim Lookabaugh's coaching job at Oklahoma A & M. . . . Abe had quite a season with the Cyclones, who should do even better in '50, what with their greatest freshman team in history coming on. . . . One of Iowa State's frosh hopefuls is Jim Robertson, who tried out at Notre Dame, and who is mentioned here because he is capable of throwing the weights further than Darrow Hooper of Fort Worth, now a Texas A & M student. . . . The greater Southwest should have its best representation in history on the recognized All-America football clubs next month. Bill Corum, the famous sports scribe named to succeed Matt Winn as head of Churchill Downs

Broncs Battle Bravely Before Bowling, 28-21

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 19. — Stubborn Santa Clara gave Oklahoma its toughest game of the football season today with the Sooners fortunate to keep their 19-game string alive with a 28-21 victory.

Santa Clara came into the game a three touchdown under-dog against the number two team of the nation but came fighting back time after time to push Oklahoma until the end.

A crowd of 59,000—the largest ever to attend a game in Oklahoma—saw George Thomas, Sooner half back, make three of Oklahoma's four touchdowns for a new Big Seven Conference scoring record. His 105 points better the 87 made in 1947 by Missouri's Bob Stuber.

Although Oklahoma was never behind, Santa Clara was always a threat. It was this same team that gave Oklahoma its last defeat, 20-17, in the opening game of last season.

Fumbles hurt both teams with Santa Clara making seven and Oklahoma six. Half a dozen of these were within scoring distance.

IL Selects Its Advisory Group

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. — Four who have served before and seven newcomers have been elected to the Interscholastic League's Advisory Council.

The Interscholastic League, league publication, announced yesterday the results of balloting last month in schools of the league's 11 regions with vacancies. Terms are for four years each.

The 23-member council, representing each of the league's regions in four conferences, makes advisory recommendations to the league executive committee.

Newcomers are Dale Douglas, superintendent of Pleasant Grove School, Dallas, Region III, Conference A; Joseph R. Griggs, superintendent of Huntsville Schools, Region V, Conference A; P. J. Dodson, superintendent of Bastrop Schools, Region VI, Conference B; Hugh Norris, principal of Mercedes High School, Region VII, Conference A; John F. Bailey, superintendent of Breckenridge schools, Region II, Conference AA; Henry L. Foster, superintendent of Longview schools, Region IV, Conference AA; and G. E. Wade, superintendent of Kingsville schools, Region V, Conference AA.

Owls' Granite Defense Protects 20-14 Victory

By WILBUR MARTIN
FORT WORTH, Nov. 19. — Rice used a granite goal-line defense and a couple of breaks today to squeeze past Texas Christian University, 20-14, and clinch a tie for the Southwest Conference championship.

The big, burly Owls rolled up a three touchdown lead in the first half, but had to hang on grimly the rest of the game.

Four times Texas Christian scored in the second half, but penalties rubbed out two touchdowns. And at the end, a pass interception by Rex Procter saved Rice's unbeaten record in conference play.

Next week the Owls and Baylor will decide which acia as host in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 2.

Rice had the answer to Texas Christian's nine man line, the defense that upset Texas, in the first half. It was deadly flat zone passing, with Tobin Roe doing the tossing and Bob Lantrip and James (Froggie) Williams the catching.

Flat passes played key roles in Rice's first two scores. One, a 31-yard run from Roe to Williams, sparked the Owls' first touchdown march a 59-yard drive the first time they got the ball. Billy Burkhalter plunged over the goal line from the one.

Early in the second quarter another pass—Rote to Lantrip—set up 20 yards in a 49-yard drive Burkhalter climaxed a 12-yard touchdown spring.

John Kelly snagged Lindy Berry's pass minutes after Rice's second touchdown and ran 48 yards for the Owls' third score.

Two extra points by James (Froggie) Williams boosted Rice's half-time margin to 20-0.

TCU, sparred by Berry, playing with a plastic mask to protect his cracked jaw, and Big John Morton, stormed back in the third period. The Horned Frog's Bob Moorman recovered Lantrip's fumble on Rice's six-yard line. This time the Owls' defense held at the goal.

But TCU cranked back 43 yards for two touchdowns, one that didn't count. After Morton clipped off 33 yards, Berry passed to Morris Bailey in the end zone. An offside penalty nullified it.

Morton got back the five, then one more. This time Berry's pass to Johnny Dunn went on the scoreboard.

Later this third quarter, Rex Alford broke through to block Sonny Wyatt's kick and Wayne Rogers staggered over the goal line with the football for the Horned Frogs' second score.

Homer Ludiker kicked both extra points.

yards to 264, powered to a first down on Rice's two-yard late in the fourth quarter.

The Owls wouldn't budge on two line plunges by Morton. A backfield in motion penalty rubbed out a touchdown sprint by Berry.

George Roal caught Berry's next pass, but inches out of the end zone. That chilled all but the faintest hopes the Frogs had of pulling another upset. This last flickering spark went out when Procter grabbed Berry's pass after TCU had taken over on the Owls' 25-yard line with less than a minute to play.

New "Scuff-Proof" Whitewall Tire

A NEW "scuff-proof" whitewall tire that resists the scuffs and markings of curbside parking has been developed by U. S. Rubber Company. The tire has a "curb-guard" rib of rubber around the outer rim of the whitewall, so designed that it acts as a protective buffer against the curb.

Here, Dr. A. W. Bull, director of tire development, inspects a tire which has retained its original unmarked appearance after a test scuffing against the curb. New in design and appearance, the tire also features a special tread that virtually eliminates the need for chains in most kinds of winter driving.

Shows Indicate Central Midland Oil Possibility

MIDLAND, Tex., Nov. 18—Some possibilities of the discovery of oil in Central Midland county has been indicated at York & Harper, Inc. No. 1-A TXL, 12 1/2 miles south of the city of Midland.
 This venture had a recovery of 850 feet of free oil during a two and one-half hour drillstem test in the Fusselman zone of the Silurian at 12,573-685 feet.
 No gas or fluid came to the surface while the tool was open. When 1,440 feet of drill pipe had been pulled free gas was encountered. When 5,642 feet of drill pipe had been pulled and rack drilling mud was encountered. Some of the fluid, which was cut with oil and gas, was unloaded from the pipe while it was being pulled.
 Total recovery was the 850 feet of clean oil and 3,240 feet of oil and gas cut water blanket and drilling mud.
 It is estimated to about 15,000 feet to explore the Ellenburger—unless it gets commercial production at a higher level.
 Location is 600 feet from north and 600 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 25, block 49, TP survey, T-3-S.

West Coleman Gets Shallow Outpost Well

Guy Mabee Drilling company of Midland has completed its No. 1 Hubert Stokes, as an outpost to a recently completed discovery from the Frye sand of the Pennsylvanian in central-west Coleman county.
 This development, located 230 feet from north and 1,650 feet from west lines of section 69, T&N survey, reported a 24-hour natural flowing potential of 350 barrels of 47.7 gravity oil, through a 24-64th inch tubing choke, with gas-oil ratio of 400-1.
 No formation water was shown.

Good Pool Gets New Location

Southwest Borden county's Good Canyon line pool gained a location Saturday as a completion loomed.
 Seaboard announced its No. 9 T. J. Good, 475 feet from the south and 4,378.5 feet from the east line of section 35-33-4n, T&P, was cleaning to time. Its Seaboard No. 8 Good, 540 feet from the north and 730 feet from the west lines of section 35-33-4n, T&P, was cleaning to pits, preparing to take a potential test. The venture set seven-inch string at 8,020 feet and was to complete from open hole below that point.
 Seaboard No. 7 Good, 600 feet from the south and west lines of section 37-33-4n, T&P, was drilling at 7,881 feet and should tap the pipe zone during the week. Seaboard No. 8 Good, 1,800 feet from the north and 600 feet from the east lines of section 35-33-4n, T&P, was past 7,363 feet in lime.
 Condon No. 1-37 Good, another test in the same pool, lost circulation at 6,037 feet and there was no information on the zone. It is 668 feet from the north and 670 feet from the west lines of the southwest quarter of section 37-33-4n, T&P. Condon No. 1-38 Good, 690 feet from the north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 35-33-4n, T&P, lost circulation at 8,037 feet and the zone was unreported.
 In western Mitchell, Gulf No. 1-E-A Dillingham, northeast stepout from the Ellenburger discovery, Superior No. 1 Dockery, was reported still attempting to run another drillstem test to 8,020 after two unsuccessful attempts. Earlier it had reported shows, the last of which had some water.

Scurry Pools Linking, Borden In Wildcatting Lead With 3 Tests

By JOHN B. BREWER
 SAN ANGELO, Nov. 18—Good shows in a link test between the North Snyder and Kelley fields in Scurry county, completion of a Canyon discovery in Scurry; recovery of free oil in the Mississippian or Pennsylvanian in a Gaines county wildcat, and Giorietta shows in a Yoakum county wildcat highlighted West Texas oil news the past week.
 A total of 18 wildcats were staked in 14 counties with Borden leading with three followed by Garza and Scurry, each with two.
 Standard-Fryer No. 1 J. B. York, wildcat C NW NW 150-3-H&GN in Scurry county and a link to the North Snyder and Kelley fields, topped the Canyon reef at 6,730 feet.
 S. B. Roberts and others No. 1 Burt H. Lewis, two miles northeast of the Diamond M field and 2 1/4 miles west of the Kelly pool in Scurry, was completed as a Canyon lime pool opener when it finished for a d-rily potential of 610.52 barrels of 42.1 gravity oil. Production was from open hole at 6,841-61 feet after acid treatment. It is 467 feet out of the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 246-97-H&TC.
 R. C. Lipscomb staked an 8,000-foot wildcat 12 miles west of Snyder in Scurry county. No. 1 Von Roeder will be 467 feet from the south and west lines of the east half of section 75-25-H&TC. Spartan Drilling Co. and Big West Drilling Co. of Dallas will drill No. 1 J. H. Langford, an 8,000-foot wildcat 3 1/2 miles northwest of the Diamond M. pool. It will be 467 feet from the north and 600 feet from the east lines of the southeast quarter of section 240-97-H&TC.
 Honolulu No. 1 Paul Cobb, Yoakum county wildcat 2 1/2 miles northeast of the Owyne pool, gave promise of becoming a small producer by recovering 2,050 feet of free oil on a test in th Giorietta. Production is 660 feet from the south, 1,980 feet from the west lines of section 361-W-J. H. Gison. It is 12 miles east of Plains.

Borden county gained three wildcat locations. Gary staked No. 1-A A. L. A. Pearce, 600 feet from the south and west lines of section 35-31-5n, T&P, one mile west of Gail. It is contracted to 8,200 feet. L. H. Armer will drill No. 1 L. D. Rodgers, 466.8 feet from the south and west lines of the north half of section 25-32-3n, T&P, five miles east of Vealmoor. It is contracted to 8,500 feet. Twelve miles southwest of Gail, Honolulu will drill No. 1 T. J. Good, 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 2-32-3n T&P. It is also contracted to 8,500 feet.

Gaines Ellenburger Discovery To Test

Samedan Oil corporation and Anderson Brothers of Midland, No. 1-E-A Andrews, indicated Ellenburger discovery in central-south Gaines county, was preparing to wash perforations in that zone from 11,900-960 feet with mud acid to clean that interval. Operator will then likely treat with regular acid. In 12 hours of swabbing on section from 11,900-960 feet operator recovered 18 barrels of new oil.
 The possible deep discovery is on the northwest side of the Robertson field, and 600 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 19, block A-24, psi survey. It is 15 miles southwest of Seminole.
 This prospect has also shown for possible production from a thin section in the Devonian from 10,062,960 feet.

Snyder Wildcat Sure Producer

Commercial petroleum production from the Canyon reef lime has been developed in the northwest side of the Snyder townsite in Central Scurry county, two miles east of the nearest completed oil wells on the north side of the Kelley field.
 The new production has been developed at Standard-Fryer Drilling company No. 1 J. B. York, located 600 feet from north and west lines of section 180, block 3, H&GN survey.
 This exploration took a one hour and 45 minute drillstem test in the top of the reef at 6,724-45 feet. Gas showed at the surface in six minutes and oil started flowing out in 84 minutes.
 When 22 stands of drill pipe had been pulled after the tester was closed it started unloading fluid. Operator figured that total recovery was 4,500 feet of clean oil and 550 feet of heavily oil and gas out drilling mud. No formation water was developed.
 Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 600 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 30 minutes was 2,750 pounds. Hydrostatic pressure was 3,400 pounds.
 A string of 5 1/2 inch casing is to be cemented at the top of the pay and the well will be completed as it is.
 Top of the Canyon reef, and the approximate top of the pay was at 5,720 feet. Elevation is 2,346 feet, to give the new well a datum of minus +294 feet.
 It is understood that Standard-Fryer is to skid the rotary rig used to drill No. 1 York to the location for its No. 1 James A. Clark in the southwest quarter of section 170, block 5 H&GN survey, which will be one quarter of a mile north of the extender. Drilling operations are slated to start at No. 1 Clark immediately.
 Hiawatha Oil & Gas company is scheduled to start activity at once on an east flanker to the Standard-Fryer No. 1 York. That venture will be Hiawatha No. 1 York and it will be located one-quarter of a mile east of the new townsite producer.

Four Producers Added In Scurry

Four completions have been added in Scurry county, where oil production appears to be pushing into Snyder's front yard.
 Standard of Texas No. 1 J. B. York, central Scurry outpost, topped the Canyon lime in the northwest portion of Snyder townsite. The reef was encountered at 6,730 feet, giving it a minus 4,254 datum and indicating a possible 100 foot thickness before water. The first 29 feet of the section had good oil saturation. Location is 600 feet from the north and west lines of section 180-3, H&GN.
 Lion No. 2 McLaughlin, 605 feet from the north and 1,964.3 feet from the east lines of section 190-97, H&TC, was completed for 456.05 barrels of 42.2 gravity oil as another Diamond M producer in southwest Scurry. Gas-oil ratio was 217-1. Top of pay was 8,694 and bottom of hole 6,821.
 Flowing natural from perforations in the 5 1/2 inch casing at 6,208-776 feet, Lion Oil company No. 19 McLaughlin in the Diamond M field, made a 24-hour production of 461.47 barrels of oil and no water.
 Gravity of the oil was 44-degrees, with a gas-oil ratio of 705-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 570 pounds and the flowing casing pressure was 240 pounds.
 The venture was drilled to a total depth of 6,773.5 feet where the 5 1/2 inch oil string was cemented. Top of the pay was at 6,598 feet from north and 1,831-10 feet from east lines of section 197, block 97, H&TC survey.
 Standard Oil company of Texas No. 8-2 Brown flowed 12 hours through a 24-64th inch tubing choke natural, to rate a calculated 24-hour potential of 894 barrels of 42-gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 330-1. No formation water was reported.
 Flowing casing pressure was 530 pounds and the flowing tubing pressure was 740 pounds.
 The flow was from pay between the 7-inch oil string cemented at 6,520 feet and the total depth at 6,932 feet.
 Location is 600 feet from south and 1,990 feet from west lines of section 449, block 97, H&TC survey. The same company completed

Shallow Strike Looms In N. M.

MIDLAND, Nov. 18—Humble Oil corporation appears to have made a shallow oil discovery from the San Andres lime of the Permian at its No. 1 State in Central Chavez county, New Mexico, at its No. 1 State.
 The prospective new field opener is 18 miles southeast of Roswell and 1,260 feet from south and east lines of section 13-11-27e, and it is about 10 miles southeast of the old shallow, depleted Comanche field.
 The Honolulu wildcat had its show of oil in a drillstem test at 1,082-2,050 feet. The tester was open three hours and 15 minutes.
 Gas showed at the surface in 15 minutes. The gas volume was not gauged or estimated.
 Recovery, when the drill pipe was pulled was 1,150 feet of clean oil, of a gravity of approximately 29 degrees. There was no formation water.
 Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 250 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure was 700 pounds, after 15 minutes. Hydrostatic pressure was 1,190 pounds.
 The venture is making bore hole 2,000 feet in lime. If it logs any further shows of oil and gas by the time it reaches 1,300 feet another drillstem test will be undertaken.

What a whale of a difference when Oil does it all!

WHAT DO WE MEAN when we say that in Dynaflo Drive* "oil does it all"?

Simply that in Dynaflo Drive, the spinning of oil in the Dynaflo unit does what you have long needed shifting gears to accomplish. For instance—

Here you are starting out. In most cars, you have to throw out a clutch and shift into low gear to get starting power. In Dynaflo, you simply set your lever in Driving position—and nudge the gas treadle.

Oil spins in a sealed drum to give you all the power needed for starting—but there's no transmission gear-whine whatever.

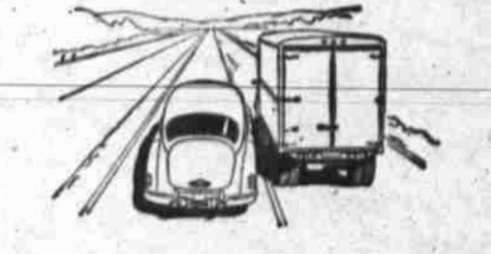

Now you are beginning to move. In most cars, you shift manually—into second, then third—each time repeating that press-the-pedal-move-the-lever routine.

With Dynaflo, oil simply spins in a different path within the Dynaflo unit and you move into cruising pace easy as a bird taking off.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

Here's a slow-moving vehicle you want to pass. In other cars you may have to shift again—with a definite loss of forward motion. That means a lag before you get action—and maybe another shift back into high after you have passed.

Not so with Dynaflo. Just step on the throttle, and spinning oil takes the path to give you extra power for passing. Response is as fast as engine response—practically instantaneous.

Here's a common traffic situation. Usually you go into second or low—in order to get a good fast getaway.

With Dynaflo, just press the gas treadle, never touching the shift lever. Spinning oil will find the proper channel of flow to give you getaway power—power that's ever-smooth—and great enough to step you out smartly and with unbroken, velvety smoothness.

Does that mean you never shift at all? Not quite.

For emergency braking power, for starts on very steep hills with heavy loads, for rocking out of sand or snow, you may occasionally change to Emergency Low range. This simply puts the entire Dynaflo operation into an extra powerful range.

But for all normal driving, you can use Driving range entirely. Oil will travel whatever course is required to give you the kind of power you need without any gear-changing whatever.

***

To see what a whale of a difference that makes—in ease, freedom of mind, and restfulness in a long day—ask your Buick dealer for a demonstration.

That, plus some very particular advantages in economy of upkeep, will convince you that Dynaflo is truly the "drive of the future."

Stolen Government Papers Take Limelight In Hiss Trial

NEW YORK, Nov. 19, (AP)—Strategy hinted by the defense and prosecution in the second Alger Hiss perjury trial has focused new emphasis on a batch of stolen government documents.

As the prosecution began unfolding its story of Red spying in Washington, both sides Friday pointed to the secret papers as the pivotal evidence in the case.

While in the first trial the weight of the government case had rested on the testimony of ex-Communist Agent Whittaker Chambers, chief prosecutor Thomas F. Murphy told the new federal jury: "The government will prove its case by the highest type of proof—by the immutable documents themselves."

By those same documents, Defense Council George B. Cross said, they would show that they were not pilfered by Hiss, former top-ranking State Department official, but another official.

Revealing a switch in defense tactics, Cross told the jury that the papers were fished by Julian Wadleigh and "a confederate" in the State Department's Far Eastern division where Wadleigh was an aide.

In the first trial, the defense contended merely that Hiss did not remove the documents, nor pass them to Chambers for transmittal to Russia.

Wadleigh, in the first trial, made a sensational admission that he had temporarily been a Communist sympathizer and from 1934 to 1936 had given secret papers to Chambers, admitted one-time courier for Soviet spies. But Wadleigh insisted he had never taken papers from Hiss' office.

Hiss, 45-year-old former foreign policy adviser to President Roosevelt, is accused of lying when he denied furnishing documents to Chambers, and when he swore he didn't see Chambers after Jan. 1.

The maximum penalty for conviction on both counts is 10 years in prison and a $4,000 fine.

Murphy said the government will present as evidence 47 stolen documents that were turned over to Chambers. Part of these are the hollowed-out pumpkin on his Maryland farm last year.

In his opening, Cross declared that the microfilms were not made of documents from the office of Francis B. Sayre, former assistant secretary of state, in whose offices Hiss worked.

Cross said the microfilms were from carbons sent to the trade agreement office where Wadleigh was an economist.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19, (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) has suggested that newspapers and magazines getting second class mail privileges give up their "$400 million handout" to help cut down the government deficit.

"If the newspapers which carry editorials about the need for balancing the budget would come up and say we don't want any subsidies for ourselves and we told reporters Friday, 'it would have a more salutary effect than anything else.'"

In fairness to the newspapers, he added, he wanted to point out that magazines are the chief gainers from the second class mailing rights.

CIRCUS PERFORMER FALLS TO HIS DEATH AS SAFETY ROPE BREAKS

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18, (AP)—"You will now witness the most desperate attempt at suicide ever made by man," shouted the circus announcer.

From a tiny platform 96 feet high, Jan Vogel, 37, billed as the "Great Stanelly," leaped for a trapeze 10 feet away.

As always, he missed the trapeze and started to fall. And as always, he had a rope tied to his ankle to check his plunge.

But last night the rope broke. He fell to the floor as more than 9,000 persons in the audience gasped.

Attendants quickly rushed him from the arena of Municipal Auditorium and the show went on.

Vogel died shortly afterward in a hospital.

Formerly of Amsterdam, Holland, he had been in this country about a year.

COLD DAY FOP RESORT CITY

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 19, (AP)—Downtown Miami had a low of 43 degrees today—the coldest Nov. 19 in 38 years.

The previous low for that date was 52 in 1916 and again in 1923. The weather bureau said its records go back only to 1911 for this date.

Temperatures between 38 and 40 were reported unofficially in the suburban northwest section of the city.

The coldest day this year was Jan. 1 when an official 41 degrees was recorded.

New Officers To Be Elected By County Sheriff's Posse

Ballots have been mailed to all members for election of a new slate of officers for the Howard County Sheriff's Posse.

Election will be held at a membership meeting Friday, Nov. 25, at 7:30 at the Settles hotel. At the same meeting reports will be received on progress on the Posse's second annual Futurity, set for next Spring.

On the ballot are the following nominees: President, M. H. Bennett; captain, Everett Lomax and G. L. Wilbanks; lieutenant, Elton Taylor and Truman Jones; corral boss, John Marchbanks and Alvin Walker; treasurer, Harvey P. Woolen; secretary, H. J. Morrison; directors (five to be elected) R. C. Fitzgerald, F. W. White, W. R. Newsom, H. W. Wright, Donald Lay, C. S. Blomshield, Dale Douglass, R. R. McEwen, H. M. Rainbolt, and J. R. Dillard.

C-C Directors Will Hold Meeting Monday

Chamber of commerce directors are to meet at noon Monday at the Settles, Douglas Orme, president, announced Saturday.

The group will make final plans for sending delegates to the West Texas chamber of commerce meeting in Fort Worth Tuesday, as well as initiate preparations for the annual chamber of commerce banquet. Walter Phillips, chairman of the chamber's Christmas program committee, is to report on that organization's progress.

Exhibit Scheduled

Dr. Carlton Palmer of New York and Atlanta will exhibit in Room Two of the Hotel Settles, Nov. 23-27, a distinguished collection of 75 paintings representative of nationally known American and European artists. Mrs. R. P. Kountz arranged for the exhibit to be brought here.

Palmer, who has traveled in 39 foreign countries and studied in both American and foreign universities, served with the Polish army in the Russian campaign of 1920. He crossed the Arabian desert with a native camel caravan in 1924. He has coached athletics at Vanderbilt university and served as a professor at the University of Alabama from 1928 to 1933.

Palmer has exhibited outstanding paintings in West Texas since 1937. His exhibitions have appeared regularly in San Angelo, the Abilene museum, Amarillo high school, Texas Technological college, Lubbock; Midland, Del Rio, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth.

The exhibit will include distinguished examples of the European paintings of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, nineteenth century American paintings, as well as various contemporary American paintings. Also featured in the exhibit will be a display of four paintings by the famed cowboy artist of Montana, Charlie M. Russell.

Other exhibit displays will include the works of Edward Moran, N. A.; John Kensett, N. A.; Alvin Fisher, N. A.; James B. Smith, Carl Blenner, Hobart Nichols, F. N. A.; Porfirio Salinas, Robert Wood, William S. Robinson, N. A.; Sidney Percy, Henry John Buddington; H. Dudley Murphy, N. A.; F. Ballard Williams, N. A.; Jay Connaway, N. A.; August D. Turner, Paul Salisbury, Frederick J. Waugh, N. A. and numerous other artists.

Hazel Corning Becomes Bride Of J. H. Eppler

Hazel Corning became the bride of James Haughlin Eppler in the home of her mother, Mrs. Lois Corning, 2203 Spruance, Friday, November 11.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Irene Eppler.

The Rev. James S. Parks, pastor of the East Fourth Baptist church, officiated at the double ring, informal service.

For her wedding, the bride chose a tailored gabardine suit of aqua blue with black accessories. Her black felt off-the-face hat featured a veil trim. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white carnations.

In carrying out the bridal tradition, the bride carried the white Bible as something borrowed; she wore her mother's engagement ring for something old; her wedding ensemble was new and she wore a blue satin garter. She wore a penny in her shoe for luck.

Faye Russell served as maid of honor. Miss Russell chose a black tailored suit with white carnation corsage. Her accessories were black.

Billy Bob Whittington was best man.

Mrs. Corning, mother of the bride, was attired in a balenciaga suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. An informal reception was held immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Eppler is a graduate of Big Spring high school and has been employed by the Midland Telephone Company. Eppler attended Big Spring high school and is associated with the Texas Electric Service Company.

Following a short wedding trip to New Mexico, the couple will be at home at 504 Scurry.

Barbara Olsen And Delbert Stanley Marry In Baptist Church Saturday

Candlelight nuptial vows were repeated by Barbara Olsen and Delbert Stanley in the East Fourth Baptist church Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Olsen, 208 Harding. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. J. M. Stanley.

The Rev. James S. Parks served as officiant at the double ring informal service as the couple stood before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli and large white mums. Greenery and palms were entwined around the choir rail. Tall, white cathedral tapers in bronze candelabra completed the sanctuary arrangement.

Mrs. J. E. Harlan pianist, played the selections, "O Wonderful One," and "O Promise Me," prior to the ceremony. She played "The Bridal Chorus," from Lohengrin by Wagner as the procession and the "Wedding March," from Midsummer Night's Dream, by Mendelssohn as the recessional. During the ceremony, she softly played the selection, "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Harlan was attired in a brown crepe dress with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow pom-poms. Lillie Lindsey sang the selections, "I'll Never Say," and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Harlan. Miss Lindsey chose a white blouse with sequin trim and an

Biggest P-TA Meet In History Closes

WACO, Nov. 19—The forty-first annual Texas Parents and Teachers Congress—biggest in the organization's history—closed in Waco Friday.

Delegates to the 3-day meet voted opposition to the Federal Government's claim to the state's oil-rich tidelands.

Mrs. Newton F. Leonard of Providence, R. I., a vice-president of the national P-TA group, in a Friday talk suggested that the Texas P-TA "get behind the public health act." This resulted in a few phone calls and telegrams opposing the backing of "socialized medicine." Mrs. Leonard explained later that she had referred to Senate Bill 322, sponsored by the national P-TA, which merely calls for more local health units for better community health protection. It has no connection with the proposals as "socialized medicine," she emphasized, and the matter was laughingly dropped.

The resolution regarding the tidelands said that Texas reserved 3,000,000 acres of tidelands on entering the union, and that all revenue from the lands are dedicated to public school funds. The federal claims would cause serious financial loss to Texas education, it declared.

The resolution called on Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson and the entire Texas congressional group to take the lead in its platform for the coming year, the Texas Congress voted to work for these objectives:

Higher standards of home life through improved family living.

Creating experiences drawing parents and children closer together.

Offering opportunities through parent education groups for better understanding of children.

Training children in home management.

The P-TA also will work toward bringing the home, school and church into closer cooperation on mutual objectives, the platform stated. School officials will be urged to include programs especially for the physically or mentally handicapped, and the mentally fatigued child. The platform called for extending the P-TA movement to other nations.

Walter K. Kerr, of Kerrville, chairman of the State Youth Development Council, was the speaker for the final day's sessions. He explained the work that led to the creation by the Legislature of the new Texas training school commission.

"The most important and effective place to deal with juvenile delinquency is in the area of prevention, and this means a positive development program for all children," said Kerr.

The number of repeaters at the state's juvenile institutions and the record of the Texas Prison System shows that the institutions are failing to make good citizens of the children committed to them, he said. Forty-three per cent of the boys at Gatesville, and a third of the girls at Gatesville are repeaters, he pointed out.

The new state commission will try to improve the situation with a rehabilitation program divided into three parts—diagnosis, training and treatment, Kerr said.

Final registration figures for the convention showed 1,665 delegates registered, of which 1,560 were voting delegates. Visitors totaled 104. Other persons attending made the total attendance around 2,000, as had been expected.

Three committee reports were presented Friday by Mrs. Will T. Decherd of Austin, on credentials, and Mrs. C. R. Laiser of Houston, on the state platform and courtesy resolutions. Mrs. Newton installed the four new regional vice-presidents elected Thursday.

San Antonio was the only city which put in a bid for the 1950 convention. No final decision was made on the next meeting site, however.

For a hearty luncheon or supper dish add slices of frankfurters to a soup of dried split peas; use either the yellow or the green peas for the soup.

ENGAGED—Mrs. Bula Watson of Lamesa, announces the engagement of her daughter, Vaughn, to E. W. Hickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Hickson of Big Spring. Wedding vows will be read in the Main Street Church of God on December 28 at 8 p. m. The Rev. R. E. Bowden of Sweetwater, will officiate.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS
By Mildred Young

Those who heard Delbert Downing, Midland Chamber of Commerce manager, address the classroom teachers banquet last week know that he was speaking of something very serious when he discussed Life magazine's recent presentation of the new game called "chicken." Reckless driving, which takes the form of games, sometimes, death games, has become very popular with teen-agers on the West coast and as near home as Dallas. Who knows? It may be closer home than that. Local youngsters may be playing the game and have had the luck, probably bad, of not being caught. Last week, some of the reckless driving made its appearance in Id-diana. Nobody was behind the wheel of a car that whizzed past a detective. He gave chase. When he finally overtook the auto, he found three high school boys in the back seat. They were steering the car by means of reins attached to the wheel. He gave them a ticket for reckless driving. We doubt that one lone traffic ticket made much of an impression. Maybe it's like Downing said, the "kide" need to learn that life itself is worth something. Jack Benny has taken first place in a recent radio program poll. Walter Winchell was second, and Charlie McCarthy, third. Also in the upper 15, are such presentations as Fibber McGee and Molly, Red Skelton, People Are Funny, Radio Theater, My Friend Irma, Bob Hope, Horace Heidt Show, George Burns and Gracie Allen and Our Miss Brooks.

Thanksgiving Social Held By Baptist Class

First Baptist Coinia Class held a Thanksgiving social Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Eddie Savage. Games were played. The Thanksgiving motif was carried out in the decorations and refreshments. Those present were: Mrs. Louise Pope, Mrs. A. J. Clement, Mrs. L. S. Lilly, Mrs. J. E. Farrell, Mrs. Ralph Proctor, Mrs. Merrill Creighton, Mrs. L. R. Talkington, Mrs. E. W. Dennis, Mrs. Ted Phillips, Mrs. Dwin Leonard, Mrs. Orville Bryant, Mrs. J. O. Haywood, Mrs. J. D. Langston, Mrs. Joe E. Fortson, Mrs. Bledsoe O'Brien, Mrs. Poo Mead, Mrs. Pat R. Patterson and the hostess. Austria, in 1948, had 69,000 marriages, 119,000 births and 82,000 deaths. The only figure to decrease since 1937 was deaths.

BRIDE—Billie Pearl Graham became the bride of Billy Morris Thursday in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Tip Graham. Double ring vows were read by Dr. F. D. O'Brien. Miss Graham is a 1949 graduate of the local high school. Morris is employed by the Big Spring Glass company. After a short wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M., the couple will reside at 103 1/2 West 15th.

HI-TALK

By Dolores Franklin

Almost the entire student body journeyed to Abilene for the game Friday night. A few of those attending were: Wayne Bartlett, Wyatt Lancaster, Jovieta Whittington, Carolyn Mills, Wanda Lou Petty, Marilyn Miller, Jan Masters, Sue Craig, Kitty Roberts, Curtiss McCauley, Rita McDaniel, Keith Franklin, Janette Boone, Barbara June Greer, Doris Ann Stevens, Woody Wood, Sandra Swartz, Joann Smith, Patricia Lloyd, Magtha Ann Johnson, Wayne Horne, Joyce Choate, Luan Creighton, Rita Faye Wright and Mackey Dee Younger spent the week-end in Abilene with Marilyn Guitler, formerly of Big Spring. Also June Cook, Peggy Lamb, Sue Craig, and Lou Ann Miller went to Abilene early Friday morning to return a good will mission. Four representatives from Abilene were here for our Polo Rally Thursday on a good will tour. At half-time of the game, the band formed a Steer and an Eagle. They played "I'm an Old Cowhand", "Under the Double Eagle", and other tunes. The band received an excellent write-up in the October issue of the Texas Music Educators Magazine. The band is improving steadily and is directed by J. W. King. Quite a few students have been awarded penmanship certificates by Miss Clara Secret, Melvin Byers, Billie Fryar, Mary Sewell, Shirley White, Anna Thorp, Nell Harris, Evelyn Lewallen, Charlene Boyd, Nancy Clark, Nelda Boatman, Francis Stark, Shirley Johnston, Jen Bostler, Mary Cockran, Joyce Anderson, Ann White, Jann Bailey, Della Sue Reynolds, Patsy Hale, Nancy Henson, Bill Shivers, Jusita Witt, Alice Martin were among those receiving certificates. Teen-agers—be sure to mark Friday, November 25 on your calendar for a Queen's ball at the Legion but. The dance is in honor of June Cook, 1949 football queen. The F. F. A. contest is in full swing. Contestants in the running are Rosemary Rice, Connie Crow, and Shirley Burnett. The F.F.A. boys took honors at the district meet this week. They returned with a second and third place banner. The 1950 El Rodeo size has been increased to 144 pages. The extra pages will make it possible to have more snapshots and a larger club section. The annual covers were also selected this week. The 1950 staff is striving to complete a different and better annual. The senior section is now being mounted, and a junior editor, Jo Ann Smith, was named this week. Students only have three more days to purchase them at sale price. Students will really have earned their two holidays next week-end since six-weeks' tests begin tomorrow.

N. I. Dalton Observes 84th Birthday Today

A quiet dinner at home will mark the 84th birthday for N. I. Dalton, 185 W. 10th street, today. Mr. and Mrs. Dalton plan to observe the occasion quietly with friends at their home. He has been a resident of Howard county for more than 27 years. About 27 per cent of Austria is covered by forests, mostly spruce.

Skirts To Be Shorter

By NADEANE WALKER AP Newsfeatures

PARIS — Two of Paris' top couturiers, both recently back from trips to America, predicted this week that skirts are going to get shorter still. Madame Elsa Schiaparelli's hint was veiled with a secretive smile and a misleading preamble. "You can't be changing hem lengths every five minutes," she said. "Skirts are going to stay right where they are, unless... they get shorter." Jacques Fath came out with a flat statement that hemlines are going to be "a bit" briefer. Madame Schiaparelli had an unkind word to say for the outdated brainchild of competitor Dior. "The New Look," she sniffed, "was the shortest fashion that ever was—thank goodness!" And, weighing her words carefully, she pronounced an epitaph: "It wasn't very pretty." "All those things flapping around your ankles—we just don't live the kind of life for that sort of thing nowadays." The leading lady of the Paris fashion world had this to say of American college girls: "They're very cute, very amusing, and very conscious of it." She considered for a moment, turned on the mischievous Schiap smile, and murmured, "VERY conscious of it." She also offered a piece of advice to American women on the subject of perfumes—they ought to learn to use sprays like French women do, instead of dabbing a bit here and there, where only a near-by nose can smell it. "The French system of spraying on a cloud of scent is better, she thinks, because that way the wearer herself can enjoy it. "You can't turn around and smell behind your own ear," she pointed out reasonably, "and unfortunately you can't always be kissed." But because "all good perfumes are too expensive in America," she added, women really can't be blamed for using it so thriftyly. Comparing her success in America to a happy marriage, Schiaparelli denied that she ever deliberately aimed her clothing designs at the American market. Women the world over dress to please men she declared. Jacques Fath, just back from a U. S. trip which included a stay in Dallas, reserved his handsomest compliment for Texans. "They're all handsome," he said. "The babies are handsome, the children are handsome, the women are handsome, and the men are handsome—all of them. They're just like flowers in a greenhouse."

Fath said he really meant it when he told a Dallas newspaper that he was going to introduce square dancing in France. "I have two American mannequins," he explained, "and I'm going to open a school of square dancing with them as teachers as soon as I get back from showing my collection in Rome at the end of November." The designer said he admires the New York and Dallas fashion industries, and doesn't intend to "make competition for anybody." He claimed credit for having been the first to introduce the new short hairstyles for women in Paris. "After a trip to America two years ago I had all my mannequins cut their hair—but even shorter than the American cut," he declared. Madame Schiaparelli, tiny behind her big desk, and playing with a miniature bottle of perfume as she talked, was wearing a little black suit, black jersey blouse with a multiple rope of pearls, and a one-sided black velvet cap. The young, blonde Mr. Fath, interviewed in the corridor outside his fitting rooms, was tastefully resplendent in a blue, blue suit and a darker blue tie with a small white figure. Both couturiers said they were far too busy with business arrangements to notice any new trends or changes in America.

'Hollywood, Here I Come' Is Title Of Junior Class Play Presentation

Reports from the local high school state that there has been little detection of nervousness on the part of the junior play cast, even though the play's one night stand will be the first time before the footlights for most of the group. Time for the play has been set for 8 p. m. Tuesday in the municipal auditorium.
 At that time, the group will unfold Conrad Selzer's story, "Hollywood, Here I Come." The presentation will be a three-act comedy. The title of the play is taken from a phrase that Jane Mayberry, played by Wanda Petty, repeats throughout the performance to indicate the determination she has to become a famous dramatic actress. Jane hails from Peoria, Ill., and goes to Hollywood to prove her talent.
 When Jane arrives in the "glamour capital," she moves in with three former schoolmates from Peoria, Wilma and Dot Hawkins, sisters, and Cornelia Burke, nicknamed Corny.
 Of the sisters, Wilma appears to be the "brighter." Dot makes seemingly "dumb" statements and imitates the other characters. Corny, who displays a good deal of common sense, is regarded with respect by her two roommates. Wilma and Dot are portrayed by June Brownrigg and Marilyn Miller, respectively, while Susan Houser plays the part of Corny. The three are "career girls." Corny's position is with a motion picture studio.
 Jane Mayberry's presence in Hollywood brings life to the story and suspense mounts.
 Others in the cast are: Otis Buckalew, the ever-present, ardent admirer of Jane who proves that everyone in the final act. He is a tall, handsome chap, played by Jim Hahn; Jack Little, who plays the part of Melvin Sprague, the patient suitor of Cornelia-Burke; Mrs. Tweedie, played by Barbara Greer, is the "nosy" landlady and a movie fan. She proves to be the real center of attraction on several occasions. Lindsey Marshbanks plays the role of Manny Kaufman, the movie producer, who is Corny's employer. Kaufman's chauffeur, Ormsby, is played by Chester Cluck, and is a "faithful" servant, who always agrees with his boss.
 Property managers are Johnnie Berry, Kitty Roberts and Martha Johnson. Prompters are Darlene Sneed, Jan Masters and Ann Crocker. Ann Brown, Sue Craig and Beth McGinnis are in charge of the make-up.
 Sound effects are under the direction of Yvonne Cornell and Barbara Dehlinger. Heavy props are managed by W. C. Blankenship, Jr., Bob Leonard and Robert Reagan.
 JoAnn Smith, Theima Tucker, James Nuckels, Jimmie Bennett, Larry Evans, Pat Lloyd and Lyn George are in charge of advertising. Usherettes are Nona Campbell, Melva Allen, Mildred Sipes, June White, Joanna Hickson and Barbara Sue Wilson.
 Homer Logan, Bob Leonard and Robert Reagan will present a between acts skit. Larry Evans will play several piano numbers.
 Mrs. Harold Davis is the class sponsor and play director. W. C. Blankenship, Jr. is stage manager. The presentation is open to the public.

Shopping Contest

CASH PRIZES TOTALING

$75

First Prize ..... $25.00      Third Prize ..... $10.00
Second Prize ..... $15.00      Five Prizes, Each ..... $ 5.00

Big Spring merchants are getting ready for YOUR Christmas in a big way! They're setting up special displays, and they want you to come in and look around. And they want you to participate in this easy, novel CHRISTMAS SHOPPING CONTEST. CASH PRIZES TOTALING $75. It's fun to enter, easy to take part, easy to win.

HERE ARE THE SIMPLE RULES:

Each participating store listed on this page will have on display, MONDAY AND TUESDAY, inside the store within easy vision, an item with a large card reading: "This is Our Herald Shopping Contest Item."

Find the item in each store and letter it in the wreath with the name of the store where the item was found. Follow this procedure until you have entered all the Shopping Contest Items.

Then you may color or ornament this advertising layout in any manner you choose. The person getting the items in the wreaths correctly and presenting the most interesting and neat entry will be awarded the first prize of $25 in cash. The next best will receive $15, and so on, until eight winners have been awarded.

ENTRIES MUST REACH THE BIG SPRING HERALD OFFICE BY 6 P. M. WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23. A board of impartial judges will select the winners and their names will be announced Sunday, Nov. 27.

Remember, the Shopping Contest items will be on display in the stores MONDAY AND TUESDAY, Nov. 21 and 22—two days only.

Plan to participate. You will enjoy looking for these items as well as visiting your local stores. And while you're looking, you may want to do some shopping. See the ads of all these participating merchants on other pages of this issue.

Federated Clubs Name New State Officers

AUSTIN, Nov. 19.—Four women, familiar with business and professional work will direct the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs for the next two years.

They are church leaders, civic and philanthropic workers, former teachers, a registered pharmacist and an operator of reaching interests. They are the new officers, who were installed at the closing session of the state convention Friday night at the headquarters building.

The new president, Mrs. J. Howard Hodge of Midland, has served her alma mater, Howard Payne College, as a trustee and as an assistant instructor. She has taught in three Texas high schools and for 16 years has been a teacher for an adult Sunday school class at the Midland Baptist Church. She is a trustee of the Midland Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. T. M. West of San Antonio, first vice-president, is actively engaged in civic and philanthropic activities in San Antonio and in her church, the Laurel Heights Methodist Church.

Mrs. John O. Douglas of Houston has a record of 16 years service on the State Federation Board as chairman of the Department of Public Welfare, treasurer and appointed board member. She has just become second vice-president.

The new treasurer, Mrs. U. L. Willie of Matador, has been a business-woman for years. She has operated ranching interests served as an assistant to the district and county clerk of Mole County and assisted in operating an abstract office and a life and fire insurance office.

The registered pharmacist is Mrs. W. E. Cantrell of Goldthwaite. She is also a former teacher. Mrs. Cantrell is the immediate past president of Sixth District.

Mrs. Hodge will hold her winter board meeting in Dallas, January 20, and will meet with the district presidents the night of January 19, in Dallas.

Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton of Red Oak, Iowa, first vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, concluded the installation ceremonies.

W. O. Reed of Dallas, former speaker of the House of Representatives, addressed the delegates. In his talk on State Government and Women, he discussed the legal status of women in Texas and what they ought to do, if they desired a change.

The federation Friday morning endorsed several resolutions of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. These included a continuation of the committee on un-American activities, provided that it work with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and that certain safeguards protecting the rights of individuals to be incorporated into a definite code under which the committee shall function.

Another approval was of an amendment to the United States Constitution giving Congress power to enact uniform marriage and divorce legislation. Like the General Federation Board at its fall meeting, the principle of the genocidal convention approved and urged its prompt ratification with adequate constitutional safeguards.

The women voted to continue their interest in the state cancer hospital and to assist in the educational, scientific and legislative program. They commended the state fire commissioner for his efforts and urged all school boards to comply with the requirements of the fire safety laws for schools.

The federation went on record favoring state-wide cooperation with any health program recommended by the State Health Department.

It accepted the general federation's recommendation of the adoption of the amendment to the food, drug and cosmetic act. It states non-nutritive ingredients shall not be added to any food product unless their addition shall serve more useful purposes and they have first been certified by the food and drug administration to be non-injurious.

Fort Worth delegates asked that the 1930 state convention be held in their city at the afternoon session. The invitation will be voted on at the winter board meeting.

WEDDING

iridescent satin skirt. Her corsage was of yellow feathered mums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a champagne-satin suit and green accessories. The suit was designed with a fitted jacket, which formed a draped, bustle effect at the hip line. A row of miniature covered buttons cascaded down the front of the bodice. The paneled skirt rippled into a soft fullness in the back. Her white shoulder length veil fell from a halo of red roses and caddy tuft. She carried an arrangement of red roses interspersed with shattered white carnations atop a white Bible.

The bride carried the bridal tradition. She carried a late-edged linen tuckler, which belonged to Mrs. Susan White as a young girl, her wedding ensemble was something new. She carried a white Bible belonging to Bobbie Jean White and she wore a blue garter made by Neta Betterton. For luck, she placed a penny in her shoe.

Neta Betterton served as maid of honor. Miss Betterton chose a white wool tailored suit and navy accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of Cavalier roses.

Deacon Stanley, brother of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Nell Spencer and L. C. Underwood. The sanctuary candles were lighted by the ushers.

Mrs. J. B. Olsen, mother of the bride, was attired in a balenciaga dressmaker suit, with brown accessories and a pearly carnation corsage. Mrs. Stanley, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in a grey crepe ensemble with sequin trim and black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of pink carnations.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sawyer of Lamesa, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Eoff, Winters, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stanley, Ballinger, and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Browning of Fluvanna.

The bride is a graduate of the Big Spring high school and has been employed by Big Spring Hardware. Stanley is a graduate of Winters high school and attended Howard County Junior college. He served two years with the Army Air Corps, and is now engaged in the farming industry in the Luther community.

For traveling, Mrs. Stanley chose a brown fitted crepe dress designed with a small, rolled collar above a cut-out neckline. The bodice was softly shirred and the sleeves were long and fitted. The fitted skirt flared at the hemline. Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 302 Wills.

Center Point Club Meets On Friday

CENTER POINT, Nov. 19.—Mrs. E. A. Hull was hostess to the Center Point Home Demonstration club in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Shuren, Thursday afternoon.

After the meeting opened with the singing of the club song "I Would Be True," Mrs. Hull gave the devotional and Mrs. J. W. Brigan offered prayer.

ABOUT MARILYN MILLER

Musicomedey Star's Career Is Re-Told

It was only some 25 years ago, just long enough for some of us to forget perhaps, that a golden-haired girl sang, danced and charmed her way into the accolade of "the toast of Broadway" during the era of the lavish and ornate Broadway musical comedies—that girl was Marilyn Miller.

And today and Monday at the Ritz theatre will bring to local moviegoers a picturization of the life of that fabulous musical comedy star in the film entitled, "Look For The Silver Lining," a Warner Bros. film in Technicolor. June Haver plays the Miller role. Ray Bolger portrays dancing star Jack Donohue while Gordon MacRae plays Marilyn's husband.

Marilyn Miller got her first start as a singer-dancer in one of the great musical comedies of 1918. But she shot to stardom and a fabulous career cut short through death at 37. But while reigning from a suite in a New York hotel, with chauffeurs and maids and many admirers dancing attendance, Marilyn Miller held court for famed and titled people from all over the world.

In quick succession came the hits of the time—"Sally," "Sonny," "Rosalie," "Smiles," great hits all, and they included the greatest performers of the day, Fred Astaire, Eddie Foy, Jr., Tom Howard, Jack Donohue, W. C. Fields, Eddie Cantor and Will Rogers. The music for these shows was in the main composed by Jerome Kern Irving Berlin and Sigmund Romberg.

It is this flavor that Warner Bros. is reproducing in "Look For the Silver Lining."

ABClub Initiates 13 At Regular Friday Luncheon

Thirteen new members were initiated when the American Business Club held a regular luncheon meeting at the Seftler hotel Friday noon.

Doug Orme was in charge of the initiation and was assisted by Lee Harris, Jake Morgan and Roy Reeder. Those in charge of the initiation explained the purposes, aims and obligations of the club. Reeder gave a brief history of club activities.

Members voted not to have a meeting next Friday noon as previously scheduled.

MUSICAL MOMENT—Gordon MacRae plays and sings for June Haver in this scene from "Look For The Silver Lining," a Technicolor production which plays at the Ritz theatre today and Monday. The story is that of Marilyn Miller, famed musical comedy star of a generation ago. Ray Bolger is also featured in the story, which revives great musical moments of yesterday on the New York stage.

IN TERRACE FILM

Tulsa Oil Boom Is Dramatized

The drama surrounding the fabulous growth of an oil empire is presented in "Tulsa," the Terrace Drive-In theatre's feature for today and Monday.

Susan Hayward, Robert Preston and of people caught up in gold-fever role.

The story is that of Tulsa, the boomtown of the early twenties, and of people caught up in the golden tide of oil.

Miss Hayward appears as a quarter-Indian girl, daughter of a great cattleman, who becomes embittered when her father is killed and much grazing land is ruined by the explosion of a neighboring oil well.

The strong-willed girl sets out to become a power in the oil industry herself, and becomes ruthless in her climb to wealth and power.

She is aided in her ambition by Armendariz, in the role of Jim Redbird.

She meets a geologist (Preston) who falls in love with her but deplores her mad pursuits of fortune. Only a tremendous fire which all but takes her life and that of her friend Redbird brings about a change in the girl's outlook and leads her to happiness with her lover.

Many of the scenes of "Tulsa" were made in Oklahoma, and much of the background of the oil industry is brought into prominence. The oil well fire scenes are described as some of the most thrilling episodes in recent screen history.

Bing And Barry Are Detectives In Old Ireland

Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald, those wonderful friendly enemies, who were priests together in "Going My Way" and doctors in "Welcome Stranger". Now they are tackling a new field of endeavor in their latest Paramount comedy, "Top O' the Morning," which plays today and Monday at the Lyric theatre.

Bing will be seen as the investigator for an American insurance firm that has insured the famous Blarney Stone, supposedly in safe keeping in the town of Cork, Ireland. Barry plays the police officer in Cork from whence the stone is mysteriously stolen. Bing is sent to Cork where he runs smack into the belligerent Fitzgerald, who wants to solve the mystery himself. The two men are said to be in their element swapping insults and laughs, which ought to be welcome news for movie fans.

"Top o' the Morning" co-stars them with lovely Ann Blyth and Hume Cronyn, the latter as Barry's assistant, the former as his daughter with whom Bing becomes romantically involved. There are eight songs, six of them Irish airs and two Burke-Van Heusen hits—the title tune and "You're in Love With Someone."

Novel Adventure Film Offered At The State

A production regarded as startlingly novel as the State theatre's attraction for today and Monday. It comes as a roadshow attraction.

The picture if "Forbidden Adventure," dealing with the strange happenings in a legendary land where human races are as wild as the wild beasts. Pictures are people presented as monkey worshippers with other fantastic scenes of strange life in the jungles.

Democracy Day Is Set For Dec. 7

AUSTIN, Nov. 19 (AP)—Texans have been invited to join in a mass, intensive, one-day study of democracy, Dec. 7.

Gov. Allan Shivers Thursday designated the date as "Democracy Beats Communism Day" and urged Texans to co-operate with American Legion posts in a "calm, patriotic appraisal of democracy."

Hundreds of Legion posts over the state will stage daylong programs starting with breakfasts and winding up with night church services.

The program is under the sponsorship of the Legion's Americanism committee whose chairman is John Ben Shepperd of Gladewater. The "Operation Democracy" plan in general follows the pattern tried out at Gladewater last March 20-28 in a series of programs emphasizing the democratic way of life.

NEW MUSIC FEATURE
Music with the Hormel Girls, the popular ABC musical program which has been broadcast at 11:00 a. m. on Saturdays under the title "The Hormel-Girls Goop" will move to Sunday, beginning tonight, and will be heard from 5:30 to 6:00 p. m. over KBST.

The corps, now made up of 65 ex-G.I.'s, started with six members back in 1947. In the beginning, they entertained at Kiwanis and Rotary club meetings and at American Legion conventions, and also did demonstration work in food stores in Northern Wisconsin.

Currently the 65 talented girls, all ex-G.I.'s, who make up the roster of the Music With The Hormel-Girls program, are on a tour which will take them into hundreds of cities and towns throughout the United States.

"THE GREATEST STORY"
"And It Shall Be Opened To You," a biblical story with the message that help—in times of distress or anxiety—awaits those who will seek divine guidance, will be presented on The Greatest Story Ever Told broadcast, this afternoon at 4:30 p. m., CST, over ABC and KBST.

Marion, a poor widow, is faced with the problem of giving up her 10-year-old son to his wealthy paternal grandfather. The thought of parting with her only child brings such sorrow that, for several days, she is unable to come to any decision.

Because her love for her son is wholly unselfish, she seeks the master's help. Through his words, "Seek and ye shall find, knock, and it shall be opened to you," Marion becomes aware of the right course and follows it.

"And It Shall Be Opened To You" is based on narrative and quotations from St. Luke 11:9-10.
