Rotary Hears Experiences Views Saudi Arabia Video

Muleshoe's chapter of the Rotary Club met July 16 at the Bailey County Civic Center with about 35 members attending. Richard Murphy, local hospital administrator, gave the invocation and Curtis Shelburn led the group in singing. Eight visitors were introduced. Among them is Lance Smith, new county supervisor for the Farmers' Home Administration.

As part of the program, Erin Kelley was introduced. Erin is a cheerleader for Muleshoe High School who participated recently in a Hardin Simmons University cheerleading camp. While there, Erin was given an opportunity to represent Muleshoe through the Universal Cheerleading Association at the Lord Mayor of West Minister's New Year's Day Parade. Erin is asking that organizations and merchants in Muleshoe be given the opportunity to help her finance the trip to London.

Jim Shane of Cannon Air Force Base gave the group a program on his experiences in Saudi Arabia. He discussed what the F 111 did and explained SCUD attacks. Shane is a member of the Central Commands Air Force. In that capacity he would take information on targets, then choose weapons for those targets. He also coordinated tanker support for the F 111s.

Shane mentioned the crowded conditions in Saudi Arabia, noting also that the computer support took a lot of room in the offices.

Tracking of aircraft was one of the major roles that Shane's unit was in charge of. Computer screens show all the current information to high military officers of the squadron. "Every day we put out a 700 page document. All this was a time-intensive task," Shane commented.

Shane reports a great success rate among the tasks that his group was in charge of. He and others under him learned of the problems that were present with some weapons.

Many military tactics were exercised. "We took Iraq and Kuwait. We knocked bridges down. We used laser guided infra-red target systems and precision guided weapons," Shane said.

"We used a variety of weapons including the TV-guided bombs. We built a weapon that can penetrate 100 feet into the ground. It took 43 days to build," Shane commented.

City Council Grants Almeria Lease Extension

Tuesday morning representatives from Almeria, Inc. met with the City Council to ask for an extension of their real estate options. They talked to the councilmen about the benefits Almeria would have for the local economy. They stated that from the investment standpoint, Almeria was an ideal investment because there is no noise, smoke or chemical to harm the environment. For Almeria the site in Muleshoe is ideal because of the water.

They stated that it was a sound solid investment. "The market is growing every year. People are turning away from red meat every day, and turning more to vegetables."

"We don't plan to compete with farmers or field crops. We will be growing specialty vegetables, fixed sweet peppers, special varieties of tomatoes, Japanese egg plant and Chinese long beans, as well as a bonus crop of baby beets and carrots.

They were to fly to Austin on Wednesday to meet with bankers and hopefully have ground breaking in October, plant in February and a shipment in April.

Plans are to start production with two greenhouses and build two more each quarter until they complete 20. They also stated that they will basically have their own transportation.

The greenhouses will measure 700 feet by 140 feet with a 13 foot working clearance, making it possible and easier to work with tractors and other farming equipment. Cost per building will be $750,000.

"From the businesses standpoint this is attractive to the community. Over the next five years their financial projection is $110 million, with a $21 million payroll.

Four months after ground-breaking they plan to employ 50 people.

The councilmen approved a 180 day extension to their contract.

In other business the council discussed an ordinance providing for the establishment and administration of a records management program for the city of Muleshoe. The ordinance was adopted.

A discussion was also held on a Drug and Alcohol Policy, for

Upon the recommendation of Superintendent of Muleshoe Schools Bill Moore, the Board of Trustees hired Al Bishop as principal of Muleshoe High School at a called meeting Thursday, July 18.

Bishop comes to Muleshoe from Pecos High School where he has served as Dean of Students for the past three years. He went to Pecos High School in 1980, as a teacher and coach. In 1985, he left the classroom to serve as director of the newly established Alternative Education Program in Pecos-Barstow-Toyah ISD.

In 1987, Bishop was named assistant principal at Pecos High School and a year later was promoted to the position of Dean of Students.

Bishop is a graduate of Pecos High School and received his Bachelor of Science degree from Texas Tech University and a Master of Arts in Education from the University of Texas Permian Basin. Prior to returning to his alma mater to teach, Bishop taught at Gruver High School, DeKalb High School, Waco University High School and Frost High School.

On four different occasions while at DeKalb High School, he was selected as "Teacher of the Month" by the students and fellow faculty members.

Bishop has been active in community service since returning to Pecos. Besides serving on the Board of Directors for the City of Pecos Recreation Department, Bishop was selected to the Pecos City Council in May, 1990.

Superintendent Moore said, "We are delighted to have Al Bishop joining our administrative team. His experience and expertise lead me to believe that he will be an outstanding educational leader for Muleshoe High School."

"We had nearly forty applications for the position and interviewed the top four applicants. I am very appreciative that a group of teachers from the high school who had been elected by their peers assisted me in this process. Stephanie Barrett, Leon Hagerman, Barbara Milburn, Pat Watson, and Johanna Wrinkle gave many hours of their vacation time to help in this process. As a result, I believe we have the right person for this very important position. I welcome Al and his wife, Brenda, to Muleshoe."

Latest Blood

Drive Deemed

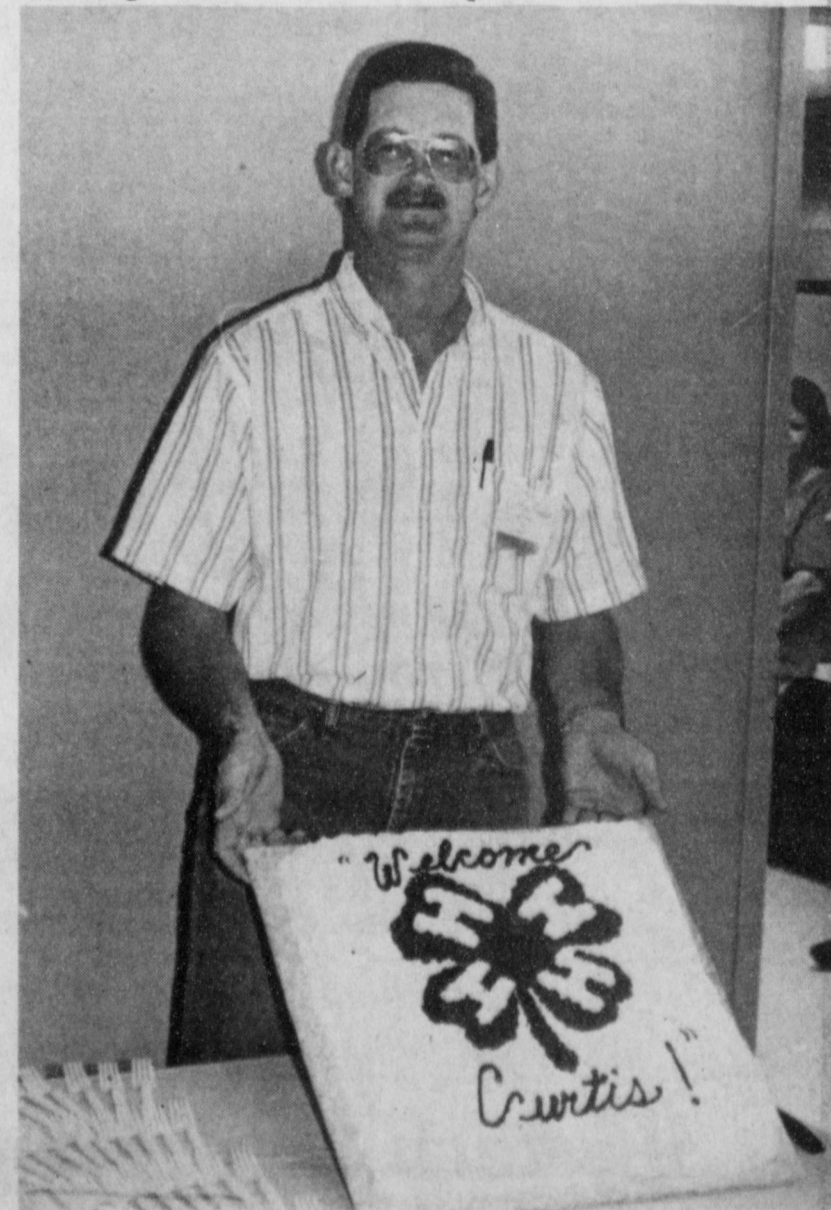

Successful

The Muleshoe Blood Advisory Board and the Muleshoe Church of Christ have sponsored another very successful blood drive. The July 11 drive saw 95 people volunteer to donate, and 90 were able to give. Four people gave blood for the first time.

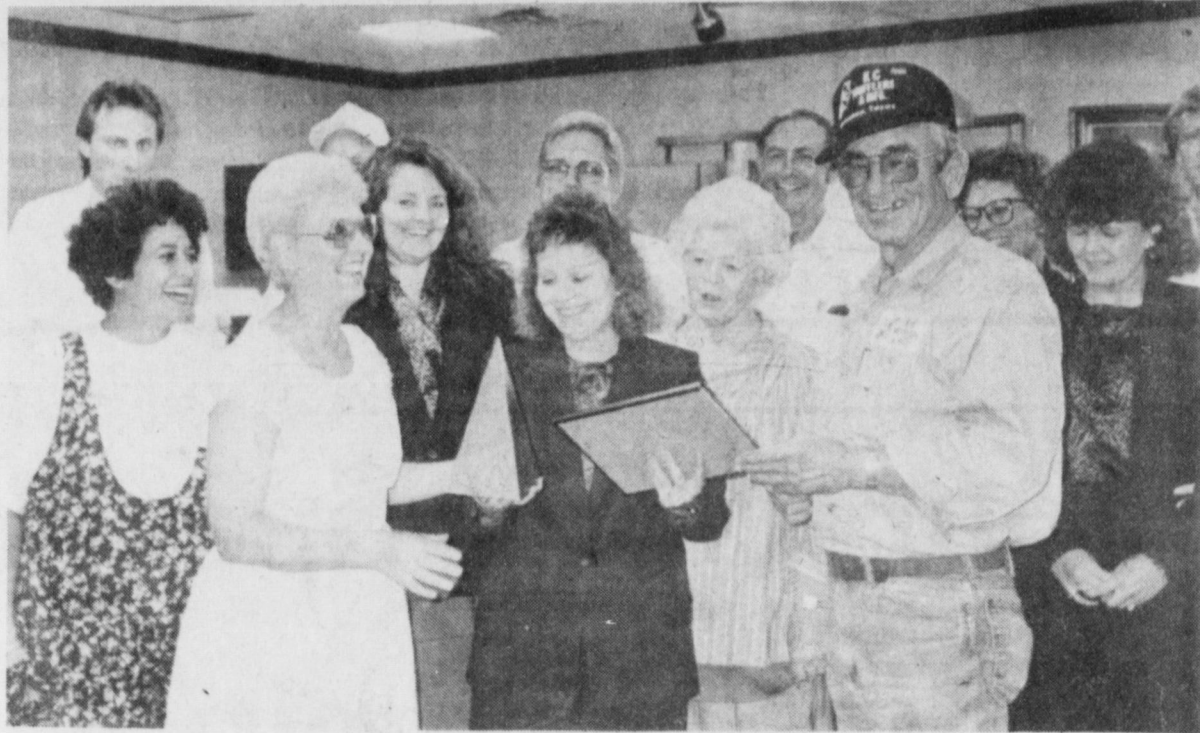

The need for blood is on going. Each day, healthy volunteers donate so that those in need may have another chance at life. Thanks to the support of communities like Muleshoe, this precious fluid is available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

The blood drive was coordinated by Johnette Marlow, Glenda Powell and Carol Cox. The Church of Christ provided their family room for the drive and volunteers who called donors also made cookies. Special thanks go to Pay-N-Save and Serv-All Thriftway for providing juice.

Summer Clothing Tips

If you're looking for ways to keep cooler in the Texas summer heat, a clothing specialist suggests taking a look at your wardrobe.

The type of clothing you wear can make a big difference in how comfortable you are indoors and outdoors, said Dr. Ann V. Board with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Color, design, fiber, finishes and the fit of a garment are factors that affect clothing's ability to keep you cool," Beard said. "Choosing clothes that allow your body heat to escape, and those that reflect rather than absorb radiation in direct sunlight will make you more comfortable."

Clothes can absorb moisture through evaporation--the primary means of body heat loss--to help keep you cool. However, if moisture stays on the surface of the fabric, you will feel hot and sticky, Beard said.

The wages of sin have been reduced very little.

nized as a leader in the field of marriage and family relations. His contributions include a range of studies focusing on the important processes that go into the selection of a marriage partner and interpersonal and marital interactions, as well as work in family violence, specifically violence in dating relationships.

Cate, a former resident of Sudan, Texas, earned his B.S. at the University of Texas, Austin; his M.S. at Texas Tech University; and his Ph.D. at the Pennsylvania State University.

Tops Club

TOPS Chapter No. 34 met at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, July 18 in the Heritage Thrift Shop. Leader Laverne James called the meeting to order. The TOPS pledge was recited and the fellowship song sung. Mrs. James led the group in a prayer.

Betty Jo Davis, weight recorder, called the roll with 20 members answering with the amount they had lost or gained.

Leader Laverne James brought to the club's attention an inadvertent error in the announcing of the Six Month Queen; however, the runners-up should have been as follows: Zane Kelly, first runner-up; Joy Harp, second; Yvonne Hale, third; Janette Fine, fourth; Rose Sain, fifth; Ruth Clements, sixth; Orvdie Burris, seventh; Carolyn Stansell, eighth; and Molly Davis, ninth.

Zane Kelly received a $10 check for being first runner-up to the Six Month Queen. She also received a check for a free hair set for losing six consecutive weeks in a row.

Leader Laverne James announced that the runner-up charms were on order.

Aurora Mata, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting and they were approved as read. Ruth Clements, treasurer, gave the treasurer's report.

It was announced that Alene Bryant had been asked and had accepted the position of one of the weight recorders. Evelene Harris, after a number of years of service, asked to be replaced as a weight recorder. The club appreciates her number of years of service.

Joy Harp received a gift for being best loser last week and losing again this week. She also received a gift from the birthday box.

Best loser for the week was Orvdie Burris; first runner-up, Marian Wilson; and second runner-up was Clea Robertson.

The meeting was adjourned with the singing of the good-night song. Remember members: according to the Chapter's By-Laws, if you want to be eligible for awards and contests, each member must attend at least two (2) business meetings each month. Fulfilling this requirement is a part of the member's responsibility, not that of the chapter leader or the weight recorders.

See you at TOPS Thursday, July 25, with a smile on and pounds off.

Dairy Policy Passes House

A two-tier dairy policy bill which passed the U.S. House Agriculture Committee Tuesday may mean the difference between survival and bankruptcy for the state's dairy farmers, according to the Texas Farmers Union.

Members of the committee responded to the financial crisis experienced by dairy farmers because of the sharply lower milk prices under provisions of the 1990 farm bill," said the Texas Farmers Union President, Joe Rankin. "The committee bill represents a vastly improved policy." "It's not perfect, but it's a lot better than the present program."

Under the Agriculture Committee's bill, farmers would receive a support price of $12.60 per hundredweight on a base level of production. Current wholesale milk prices are hovering at roughly $10.00 per hundredweight. Dairy producers would be penalized for output above that base level with a much lower support price. The "tier" system is designed to discourage overproduction and thus stimulate market prices.

The 250,000 member National Farmers Union lobbied for such a program, although the group's leaders wanted the support price to be set a dollar higher to reflect the average cost of producing a hundredweight of milk.

NFU President Leland Swenson says the administration "must become aware" of the economic crisis facing dairy

Fewer Traffic

Deaths Recorded

Over Holidays

Fewer persons were killed in traffic accidents in Texas during the July 4th holiday period than at any time since at least 1970, according to preliminary figures released by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"While we regret that we had seven fatalities in Texas during the 30-hour July 4th holiday period, we were pleased to see that we fell short of our estimate that 12 persons would die on Texas' streets and highways during the holiday," said DPS Assistant Director Lt. Col. James Wilson.

The previous lowest July 4th traffic death count was in 1973, when 9 persons died during the 30-hour holiday period. Four others died of injuries, pushing the final total to 13 deaths that year.

"Of the seven deaths reported this July 4th," Wilson said, "three were in motorcycle accidents, two in auto-pedestrian accidents and two in vehicle accidents. In both the vehicle accidents, the victim had not been wearing a safety belt. The count might have been even lower if they had been buckled up."

All available Highway Patrol Troopers were on the roadways during the holiday period, which Wilson said may have discouraged drunken driving and speeding, the two leading causes of traffic deaths.

"Texas motorists also deserve our thanks for helping make it a safer July 4th," Wilson said.

Healthier Eggs For Healthier People

Researchers at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station hope to give new meaning to the term "good egg" by developing one that will reduce harmful dietary fats.

Such an egg might be slightly lower in cholesterol and also contain omega-3 fatty acids, a polyunsaturated or "good" fat that actually helps decrease the effects of "bad" dietary fats, said Dr. Pam Hargis, an Experiment Station scientist.

Omega-3 fatty acids are found from marine sources, primarily fish, and have received widespread publicity as reducing risks of coronary disease. Fish oils included in the diets of chickens can produce eggs with higher levels of omega-3 fatty acids, Hargis said.

The predominant fats in the American diet are omega-6 fatty acids, which are also polyunsaturated and from both plant and animal sources, and saturated fats from meat and dairy products.

Omega-6 fatty acids are not as harmful as saturated fats are, but their consumption relative to omega-3 consumption should still be lower, Hargis said.

Nutritionists currently recommend at least three weekly servings of food containing omega-3 fatty acids as a way of improving dietary fat ratios.

However, the effect of good eggs as an alternative to fish will still depend on reasonable diets in which the consumption of saturated fats is limited, she said. In addition, eggs with too-high levels of omega-3 fatty acids can have "off" or undesirable flavors, she said.

Demand for eggs has declined drastically over the past decade, with much of the drop resulting from well-meaning efforts to cut cholesterol consumption by the public, Hargis said.

Hargis, also an associate professor of poultry science at Texas A&M University, said some consumers deem eggs an inconvenient food, which also contributes to declining consumption.

But dietary research has shown that eggs aren't as bad as once thought, particularly with overall healthy diets, Hargis said.

That's because improved scientific techniques have shown there are only about 213 milligrams of cholesterol in an average large-grade egg, compared to the 275 it was once thought, Hargis said.

But it's also because research by her team and others shows that most people's bodies adjust to varying levels of cholesterol and other fats.

The Texas A&M team gave 20 male volunteers either regular or omega-3-enriched eggs for a period of 12 weeks. Researchers then found similar blood-cholesterol levels among most participants.

The regular-egg group took approximately three weeks to adjust to the effect of eating more eggs, she said, but their blood-cholesterol levels came back down to their original values after initially rising.

"Most normal healthy individuals have the ability to metabolically regulate levels of fatty acids in their blood in response to diet," Hargis said.

An average of one in 20 individuals will be what is termed "cholesterol non-responders," she said. Those people are unable to regulate cholesterol levels in their blood, largely because of their genetic make-up.

The researchers did find, however, that blood triglyceride levels in the omega-3 group initially dropped by an average of 19 percent, then returned to normal levels. Triglycerides are fats that flow through the blood after meals, and high levels in the blood after fasting may pose a coronary risk to people with a family history of fatty acid disorders.

Omega-3 fatty acids also inhibit the process of thrombosis, in which lipids (such as cholesterol) attach to tiny injuries in blood vessels, form a plaque and possibly occlude or block the vessel. Blood-vessel injuries occur naturally but are also caused by stresses like high blood pressure and smoking, Hargis said.

Probably the most important effect of omega-3 fatty acids is this anti-thrombolytic effect, Hargis said.

In any event, the good effects of enriched eggs are "very much dependent on other foods in the diet," Hargis said.

Crime Bill Edges Toward Being Passed

Legislation aimed at reversing the crime wave that is sweeping America is nearing passage in the U.S. Senate, says U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm of Texas.

"Government must wield the sword of justice to guarantee what has been called 'the first civil right' of every American, the right to be free from fear," said Gramm.

The crime bill already contains several provisions authorized by Gramm, including these:

--A 10 year mandatory prison sentence for adults convicted of selling drugs to children.

--A mandatory life sentence for drug traffickers convicted for a third time.

In debate on the Senate floor, Gramm explained that his first amendment to the crime bill said simply that "if you are an adult and you sell drugs to a minor and you are arrested, indicted and convicted, that you are going to serve every day of 10 years in prison without parole no matter who your daddy is or how society has done you wrong."

The second Gramm provision, he said, is designed to permanently eliminate career criminals from society.

"I call this amendment the three-time loser rule," Gramm said during the Senate debate. "We have crime without punishment in America. As a result, we have a lot of crime in America."

Both Gramm proposals were adopted by the Senate on voice votes and are now part of the pending crime bill.

Humid Heat Can Be Deadly

An early heat wave, combined with high humidity, could lead to the deadly threat of heat-related illness for many Texans. Health officials warn that heat stress, or hyperthermia, contributed to 1,700 deaths in the U.S. during the humid summer of 1980. The victims of heat stress are usually the elderly, the very young, the poor, or people weakened by illnesses such as heart disease or alcoholism.

Dr. Jim Cheek, of the Texas Department of Health's Bureau of Disease Control and Epidemiology, said, "The first few days of a heat wave with high humidity are particularly dangerous." He explained that generally four to seven days are needed for people to acclimate to elevated temperatures. Dr. Cheek noted that most cases of serious heat-related illness occur early in the summer. Heat-related illness includes a broad spectrum ranging from simple heat cramps to life-threatening heat stroke. Although many persons with heat stroke have some form of debilitating disease, healthy young persons may develop heat stroke following strenuous physical exertion. The warning signs of impending heat stroke may be few, and loss of consciousness may be the first sign. Heat stroke is a medical emergency and care should be sought immediately.

Dr. Cheek stated the "people can prevent heat-related illness by drinking more fluids, preferably water, before exposure." In addition, he noted, "Particularly susceptible people such as the elderly and the very young should wear light, loose-fitting clothing, take frequent baths, avoid strenuous activity, and remain in a cool place." Local weather forecasts can be a guide to the danger of heat-related illness. The "heat stress index," obtained from the National Weather Service reflects how hot the air feels to humans. A heat stress reading of 105 is considered very dangerous, yet can occur while temperatures are in the mid 80's.

News From State Comptroller John Sharp

"A jump in new housing permits and improved retail sales are contributing to the growing Texas economy," State Comptroller John Sharp said, releasing the latest version of the Lone Star 5.

"For only the second time since June 1987, more than 5,000 housing permits were issued in Texas in a month's time. This points to an improving real estate market and more jobs in the construction industry," Sharp said.

Housing permits are included in the Index of Leading Texas Economic Indicators, which also includes oil prices, new business incorporations, unemployment claims and stock prices. Along with Texas employment, industrial production, retail sales and the Consumer Price Index, the Comptroller's Office compiles the Lone Star 5 monthly to track movement of the Texas economy. Other components of the Index of Leading Texas Economic Indicators-- which tracks the state's economic future--also posted gains over the past year. "The length of the manufacturing workweek, retail sales and the price of oil all have improved," Sharp said.

After all its components were compiled, the Index of Leading Texas Economic Indicators rose .4 percent above its level a year ago.

Between May 1990 and May 1991, Texas added 79,000 jobs for a 1.1 percent increase. "While most of this growth occurred in the latter half of 1990, it is still welcome news when compared to a 1.3 percent loss of 1.45 million jobs nationwide during the same period. Nationwide, May was the first month since last June that the nation added jobs, and if that trend continues, Texas will certainly feel the positive side effects," Sharp said.

The Texas Industrial Production Index, which measures changes in economic output in mining, manufacturing and utilities, rose .1 percent from April 1990 to April 1991. The U.S. Industrial Production Index, after falling for six straight months, increased in both April and May, but remains 3.2 percent below a year ago.

Texas retail sales, which measure consumer spending, rose faster than the rate of inflation, rising 7.4 percent from the fourth quarter of 1989 to the fourth quarter of 1990. Over the same period, U.S. retail sales were up 3.3 percent.

Texas' April Consumer Price Index rose 4.9 percent over the previous 12 months to almost exactly match the level of inflation nationwide.

As he thinketh in his heart, so is he.

Texas Homestead Laws Prohibit Home Equity Loans

Texas State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchinson addresses various issues related to personal finance and state government. However, these views are not intended to replace the advice of reputable financial advisers or other professional counselors.

We have received several inquiries from people who are interested in learning about the benefits of a home equity loan. Many of these people have heard from out-of-state friends and family who have taken advantage of taking out a loan by using their home equity as collateral.

Texas is one of the few states in the nation that does not allow home equity loans. Our homestead laws state that you can only borrow against your home to purchase the homestead, to refinance an existing loan, to make home improvements or to pay ad valorem taxes. New York and California are among those states where home equity loans are permitted.

In states where home equity loans are allowed, they are used as borrowing tools which permit individuals to borrow against the equity they have built up in their home. That means, for example, that someone living in New York, who has built up $50,000 in equity in their $100,000 home can borrow against that $50,000. The advantage of these loans is that the interest is tax deductible and the money can be used for any purpose, such as paying college tuition, starting a business or buying that new car.

Some people in Texas have suggested we change our homestead laws to allow home equity loans in our state. Those who favor keeping the current homestead law intact, however, argue that these laws are designed and have effectively protected Texans from losing what may be their most important asset, their homes. I would expect this issue to receive considerable debate and attention in the coming years.

Kiwanis News

By R.A. Bradley

Twelve Kiwanians, two guest and Sweetheart Marsha Wilson showed up for breakfast at the Dairy Queen Friday morning. Marsha showed up, it was late but she did show. When Marsha gets up this early, we have to check her out to see if she is properly dressed. This morning she had all her buttons buttoned and buttoned in the right button hole. She also had on two earrings and just one in each ear. Marsha you looked real good. Speaking of earrings, Larry Parker said "He didn't wear his earring this morning because he didn't know which ear to wear it in." Larry if you show up with an earring, we will help you out and put the earring in your nose.

When President Glen Morris had to leave early to go back to work. (Glen most of us do not have to work 24 hours to put in a 10 hour day). Larry, Earring, Parker called the meeting to order. Bryan Morris led the club in the pledge to the flag. Jim Lutz gave the invocation.

Bryan, who has had the friendship coin, stated since Randy Lewis could get into more trouble than anyone he knew. Bryan gave the friendship coin to Randy. Randy you cannot keep the coin to find a friend in Hawaii. It was rumored that Randy stayed up all night so he could arrange the table at the Kiwanis meeting. Randy you did a good job.

Our guest this morning were Randy Kelley and his daughter, Erin. Erin was our program Friday morning.

Erin is one of our Varsity Cheerleaders. Erin is a Senior (finally she said) and told about the Cheerleading Camp they went to at Hardin-Simmons last week. They had a good camp and Erin's fellow cheerleaders nominated her to try out for the All Star Cheerleader. Erin was chosen to go with a group of young ladies and be a part of a program and march in a parade in London, England in December. She will leave December 26th and come back January 2nd.

Erin's trip will cost her $3,000. Erin is looking for sponsor's and clubs that might help her represent Muleshoe in London. There will be lots of activities going on to help Erin. So if you would like to help please contact Erin and she will really appreciate it.

Erin, we should send you a sympathy card for having to put up with Courtney Graves for a week. I have to put up with her everyday. Erin, Congratulations and have a good trip to London.

Marsha, to put the records straight, You look good every Friday morning.

FOR EVERY PROBLEM, THERE IS A SOLUTION

Such a predicament! Stuck in mud a foot deep! What to do? Just sit in despair? Wring your hands? Of course not! There is a solution. Obviously, this is a simple predicament. But what about the enormity of some of life's problems? There is an answer. There is help. God is "a very present help in time of trouble," the scriptures say. Try Him—try Jesus. Feel His presence and let Him speak to you in church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
