College President, Six Faculty Members, Jones Listed In "Who's Who"

Names Of Cunningham, McKay, Holden, West, Gordon In Book

Names of the college president, six faculty members and one director of the college appear in the 1936-37 edition of Who's Who in America. The publication was placed in the library recently. Becoming president of the college in 1932, Bradford Knapp was formerly dean of the College of Agriculture at the University of Arkansas, director of Arkansas State Experiment Station, president of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, and head of Auburn Polytechnic institute. He is the author of "Safe Farming," "How the Whole County Demonstrated," and several contributions to magazines.

Writes Books
A. B. Cunningham, professor of English since 1929, has gained recognition for the publication of several books including "The Manse at Barren Rocks," "Singing Mountains," "Old Black Bass," "Animal Tales of the Rockies," and "The Chronicle of Old Town." Dr. James M. Gordon has been dean of men and the arts and sciences division since the founding of the college in 1925.

Holden Listed
W. C. Holden, acting head of the department of history and anthropology, directed research in the Texas Panhandle, New Mexico, and Mexico in 1933, and in 1934 made an expedition into Sonora, Mexico, to study the Yaqui Indians. He is the author of "Alkali Trails," "Rolle Burns," "The Spur Ranch," and "Studies of the Yaqui Indians."

History professor at Tech since 1928, S. S. McKay is the author of "Making the Texas Constitution of 1876" and "Debates in the Texas Convention of 1875."

Leroy T. Patton, geology department head since 1925, has written several books and papers on geological subjects.

West Is Author
Miss Elizabeth West, selected librarian in 1918-25. She is the first woman ever commissioned as head of a department in Texas state government, serving as state librarian in 1918-25. She is the author of "SIX FACULTY, page 4"

Museum Work Takes Form

Ground Floor Excavation On Campus Structure Finished Yesterday

Workers started placing forms in the excavation dug for the first floor of the museum building this morning. This part of the structure being built directly west of the boys' dormitory is expected to be completed this week. W. G. McMillan, general contractor, stated yesterday. He plans to have the first floor ready by December first. Ground was officially broken last week. President Bradford Knapp and Spencer A. Wells, vice-chairman of the college board of directors shoveled dirt as pictures were snapped by cameramen. Dr. W. C. Holden, acting head of the history department and curator of the museum and P. A. Kleinschmidt, head of the college architectural department who drew the plans for the ground breaking ceremony.

Others present for the occasion included Hubert L. Allen, president of the West Texas Museum association; Judge R. C. Hopping, chairman of the building committee; A. B. Davis, chairman of the association; Joseph R. Griggs and Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, members of the building committee; Miss Della Wilkinson, chairman of the Lubbock county Centennial committee; and J. A. Fortenberry, city commissioner.

The structure when completed is to cost about $200,000. Two other floors will be built when additional funds are available. The present unit of construction is costing $25,000.

Wind thru the Sallyport
Here's SALLY AGAIN, and she just found two new RED HEADS, MILTON COFFEY and NAT TANDY. It was okay for NAT to go RED, but for a big strong "KILLER" it seems very sassy.

Y Organizations Start Drive For Funds This Year

The financial drive for the college Y association was opened this week by President Conner Russell of the organization, and treasurer Lloyd Miller. Two groups consisting of Lora Lee Weddle, Klipstein Fry, and George Dupree, visited local business firms seeking assistance. The association hopes to raise $1,200 this year from contributions by faculty members, alumni, and local business establishments with the aid of student dues to support an expanded program of student services, Conner said.

Thompson Names Committee List

Four students in the arts and sciences division, one engineer and one home economics student were appointed this week as members of the artist course committee by Claude Thompson, president of the student body. These students, four juniors and two seniors, will cooperate with the six faculty members in selecting program numbers during the spring semester, and opening session next year. The students appointed from the arts and sciences division were George Carrithers Brady, Hugh McCullough, Waco; Jeanette Jones, Clarksville; and Maxine Fry, Floydada. Jack Quinlan, engineer from Lubbock and Lois Spraggins, home economics enrollee from Sherman, complete the list.

Faculty members on the committee are Chairman R. A. Mills, professor of English; Donald Murphy, assistant professor of English; Julien Paul Bliz, head of the music department; Miss Vivian Johnson, assistant professor of home economics; Miss Ruth Pirle, head of the speech department; and O. A. St. Clair, head professor of engineering drawing.

Shelton Outlines Plans For Clinic

E. G. Shelton, associate professor of architectural engineering, is the architect for the Plains hospital and clinic now under construction on Nineteenth Street, near the southwest corner of the campus. The structure, costing $38,000, is being built by Drs. F. B. Malone, Olan Key, and S. C. Arnett. The building is to be of modern fireproof construction, made of steel, brick and tile, and its Spanish Renaissance style will blend with buildings on the campus. It is to be equipped with complete air conditioning for summer and winter. W. G. McMillan is general contractor.

Fair Officials Designate Friday As 'College Day'; Students To Get Ducts

Tickets to the twenty-third annual Panhandle-South Plains fair of the college beginning Thursday afternoon and continuing through Friday. The distribution will be made from the booth just west of the post office in the Administration building. W. T. Gaston, business manager, said in announcing that tickets were available. "We have a duct for every student enrolled in the college," Gaston said. "A ticket gives the holder free admission to the fair grounds Friday which has been designated as 'College Day' by fair officials."

Future Farmers Elect Drinkard As President

The Tech chapter of the Future Farmers of America, meeting for the first time Monday, elected officers for this semester. They selected Cloyce Drinkard, Snyder, president; George Tate, Plainview, vice-president; R. C. Mitchell, Lockney, secretary; Hood Wills, Fluvanna, treasurer; Winburn McAllister, Weatherford reporter; Leidon Hudson, Wellington, watchdog; Howard Weatherby, parliamentarian; Escar Parker, Roby, historian; and Ray L. Chappelle, advisor. McAllister, Tate, and Parker were appointed as members of the executive committee. They are in charge of decorating the float for La Remuda parade. Kathryn Weaver of Lubbock, member of Sans Souci club, has pledged Phi Delta Theta sorority at Texas university.

Cheer Leader Calls Meeting At Gymnasium

Lamb Arranges Special Program For Rally Friday Night

TO prepare for another gigantic demonstration like that marking the football game with the Texas Christian university Frogs last Saturday night, Arch Lamb has called a pep rally at the gymnasium Friday. Trumpets will sound assembly of the boys' dormitory at 7 o'clock. A special program has been prepared for the rally. Besides yell practice, headed by the Saddle Tramps, honorary cheering unit under the direction of Lamb and his assistants Five Bowler, and Bud Thompson, several boxing bouts and other entertainment has been scheduled. Lamb said new yells had been prepared to use during the game with Oklahoma City university Saturday night. He pointed out that it was necessary for students to be there to learn them.

Coffey To Box
Milton, "Killer" Coffey, Tech boxing coach, and Herman "Judge" Thornton headline the mitsingling portion of the program. Several first year students are to stage a battle royal. Five will probably go inside the ropes at same time. Lamb estimated. Other candidates for Tech's team are to be matched, Coffey told Lamb.

Of course, Director D. O. Wiley will assemble the Matador band in the gymnasium to furnish music for the occasion. The 125-piece organization is working on new numbers including several marches to introduce at the rally Friday evening.

Society Hears Adams Speak

Engineering Dean Points Out Results of Survey During Discussion

Dean O. V. Adams pointed out the advantages of high scholastic averages and campus achievements and their monetary value to 175 students attending the first meeting of the Engineering society Monday night. Elmo Knudson, president, had charge of the meeting.

The speaker, quoting from figures compiled by Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, showed the relative earnings of employees over a thirty-year period. About 45 per cent of those who were in the upper third of their graduating classes in college were in the highest salary range, Adams pointed out. At the end of thirty years those in the upper ten per cent were averaging almost double the salary of those in the lower third.

Matador Band Enters Parade

Musical Unit At College Participates In Fair Activities Tuesday

The Matador band added sparkling color to the mammoth parade which moved down Broadway at 1:45 yesterday afternoon and ended before the grandstand at the fair grounds. Last night the band occupied the new bandstand to take part in the Texas Centennial pageant at the twenty-third annual South Plains Panhandle Fair. D. O. Wiley, band director has divided the band into sections A and B this year. Personnel of the band follows: A horn flute, David Humphreys; E flat clarinet, Donald Gibson; alto clarinet, Duane Fuqua; bass clarinet, La Verne Willis and J. C. Douglas; bassoon, Wallace Hawkins; Eb clarinet, Jack Helms, Perry Bowser, Ed Reed, Homer Henrice, Bill Cox, James Nevin, H. A. Watson, Felix Walker, Albert Lair, Edwin Hall, Bill Lyle, Bertram Kessel, Lee Edwyn Hale, Regan Howell, Billie Baskin, Carl Jones, Billie Phillips, Paul Coe, Ewing Long, Verner Couch, R. R. Martin, and Edward Tonn.

Others Listed

Pep Rally At College To Be Broadcast Over WFAA

Directorate Of College Appropriates Money To Build Meat Laboratory

Board Of Directors, Meeting In President's Office, Okay $3,500 For Construction; Also Approve List Of New Appointments To Faculty This Semester

During their annual fall session Saturday afternoon in President Bradford Knapp's office, the college board of directors appropriated $3,500 for construction of a meat laboratory, $800 for an apary for the agricultural division. Appointments to the faculty since the directorate last adjourned were okayed also.

The new building will be constructed near the dairy barns, President Knapp stated. Eight stands are to be included in the be house.

Okay Expense Payment
With the laboratory, Dean A. H. Leidigh and members of the aggie division faculty are better equipped to teach the fundamentals of storing and preserving meats, the college head said. "Bee culture can also be better presented to the aggie enrollees with the addition of new stands," he pointed out. Before expenses can be paid representatives of the college traveling outside the state, the board must give its consent to the Administration, Knapp said. The directors granted permission for W. T. Gaston, business manager, to pay expenses of athletic teams and Dr. W. A. Jackson who will attend the meeting of Border conference officials in Tucson this spring.

Chappelle Promoted
The rank of Ray L. Chappelle, associate professor of agricultural education, was raised to full professorship by the board. Chappelle received his M. A. degree from Tech this summer. Attending the meeting besides Knapp and Gaston were: Chairman Clifford B. Jones, Spur; Vice-Chairman Spencer A. Wells, Lubbock; Dennis Zimmerman, treasurer, Tulsa; Mrs. Emma G. Meharg, Plainview; Mrs. W. R. Potter, Bowie; and Mrs. John A. Haley, Midland.

Show Head Extends Time For Queen Nominations

McAlister Lists Added La Remuda Features; Polo Teams Named

Extension of the deadline for La Remuda queen nominations until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock was announced last yesterday by Winburn McAlister, manager of the annual aggie show scheduled for October 10. The election, supervised by the show head, will be held Friday. Boxes are to be placed in the main buildings. These open at 8 o'clock in the morning with balloons to continue until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Announces New Features
McAlister announced further definite arrangements for the show. The grand entry, following the downtown parade made up of the floats entered by campus organizations, is to be led by the queen behind her in order comes President Bradford Knapp; W. T. Gaston, college business manager; Ray C. Mowrey, acting head of the animal husbandry department; and members of the queen's court and their escorts. Defeated candidates for queen will be in the lobby.

Lineups For the donkey polo game have been selected by McAlister: Ray Stiff, Talbot Ledbetter, Jack Quinlan and George Carrithers form one team with Jim Lindsey, Wilmot Eaton, Mack Scoggin and Claude Thompson making up the opposition. The "Little Intervention" another feature, is a livestock show, McAlister explained. The exhibits will be placed between the main entrance and the west stands.

Sponsors Dance
Howard Weatherby has consented to perform his rope spinning act. He traveled with rodeos this summer. After La Remuda presentation, the club will sponsor an all-college dance in the gymnasium. Ned Bradley and his orchestra is to furnish music.

Miss Kleppe Joins Home Ec Faculty

Miss Ellen Kleppe of Lake Mill, Iowa, met classes Monday as a new member of the faculty in the division of home economics. Miss Kleppe is in charge of new sections formed from crowded classes in foods and nutrition, and in home management. Dean Margaret Weeks stated. The new instructor received her B. A. degree from St. Olaf college in Minnesota and her M. S. from Iowa State college. Miss Kleppe taught in the University of Cincinnati before coming to Tech.

McAlister, Tate Assist With Agricultural Labs

Two senior agricultural students have been appointed assistants in the animal husbandry department, states Ray C. Mowrey, acting head professor of the department. George M. Tate, senior student from Lockney, has charge of two lab sections of Poultry Husbandry 131. Winburn McAllister, senior from Weatherford, supervises two sections in Animal Husbandry 121.

Y Associations Gather At Canyon This Week

The cabinet members of the local Y association are planning a joint meeting with officers of the Y at Canyon this weekend to discuss mutual problems arising in services to students. The organizations plan to stay overnight at Ceta canyon near Arriello.

Committee Named
Students selected on the committee by Knapp are: Chairman Jim Lindsey, editor of The Toreador; Claude Thompson, student body president; and Arch Lamb, head yell leader. Faculty members assisting these students as members of the same body: Dr. W. A. Jackson, chairman of the athletic council and head professor of government; Julien Paul Bliz, head of the music department; and Dr. O. Wiley, Matador band director. Lindsey stated that no definite selection of numbers to be put on the air was made at the meeting Monday but several were discussed. President Bradford Knapp will deliver a three minute discussion in opening the program. The brief talk concerns the history of the school and the Homecoming celebration on Saturday.

Club Chooses New Officers

The Tech band may be listed for four march numbers, Lindsey said. Coaches and captains of the Centenary and Tech grid teams are being considered for interviews. With the Saddle Tramps, honorary cheering unit as a nucleus, Lamb will lead the student body in several yells. The college chorus, directed by Bliz, was mentioned Monday for one musical presentation. The sponsors of the program are giving $100 for the broadcast, Lindsey explained. This sum will be given to the band.

Journalists Name Dixon As Press Association President This Year

Burgess Dixon, junior journalism major from Big Spring, won over Wayne Sellers, junior arts and sciences student from Rising Star, for presidency of the Press association this year in an election Monday night at a meeting in the Administration building. Burnice Walker, retiring president, withdrew his name for reelection. Paul White, Hamlin, third year journalism major and managing editor of The Toreador, defeated Carl Hyatt, arts and sciences sophomore, in the race for vice-president. Robert L. Roemer, senior from Silsbee, asked that his name be withdrawn from the nominations.

Fry Takes Office

Maxine Fry, junior from Floydada, will serve as secretary-treasurer, having defeated Emma Nelle Thatcher, sophomore arts and sciences enrollee from Plainview, for the post. Eleanor Jungman, senior journalism major from Munday, was elected reporter and Fred Griffin, graduate student and assistant in the publicity department is parliamentarian again this year. Both were chosen by acclamation. Jim Lindsey, Toreador editor, and Walker made brief talks about the possibility of securing a journalism department. A committee composed of Sellers, Walker, and Lindsey was appointed by the newly elected president to work with him in planning a program for the year.

Alumni, Ex-Students Association Needs To Back Leaders This Year

At most universities and colleges throughout the nation the Alumni and Ex-Students association exerts a deciding influence on many issues appearing at their alma mater.

Although Tech is very young when compared to schools in America, the Alumni and Ex-Students association should be a much stronger.

Approximately there are only two hundred members of the Alumni and Ex-Students association.

While here this week-end, Holmes Webb of Abilene indicated that he plans to really put his shoulders to the grind and make an influencing factor out of the association.

Alumni and ex-students should back Mr. Webb one hundred per cent in placing the association where it belongs.

STEER A STRAIGHT COURSE AND SAVE CREDITS

After reading an editorial in the Texas Christian university student publication, The Skiff, we find a suggestion in its editorial columns that is worth passing on to students at Texas Tech.

Every day in the registrar's office can be seen evidence of students' lack of foresight in making out their schedules.

Freshmen can hardly make a mistake in choosing their subjects for the simple reason that they have little or no choice.

The throwing together of a schedule for the time being, with no thought of the future, often continues through the junior year.

Friendship Between Student, Prof Alters College Life

INTIMACY in the sense of knowing the person, and being able to speak with him without hesitancy, opens the way for a free interchange of ideas and thoughts.

Whether it is only rumor or real facts we've always deemed what we've heard called the "Oxford way" as ideal.

THE instructor should encourage student's friendship. The student should feel at ease with his instructor.

And since the student can't be expected to sacrifice his habits and customs to the customs and habits of the instructor,

History gives us the story of Alexander the Great and Aristotle, his teacher.

We are trying to improve a point the ancients reached centuries ago.—Sunflower.

ANOTHER SLOGAN SUGGESTION JUST BE YOURSELF AT COLLEGE

SOPHISTICATES, happy - go - luckies, smarties, and shrinking violets can be found at a glance among the freshmen.

The aspects of college may be a little bewildering to the newcomer, so, may we, the upperclassmen, tell you what experience has taught us.

A sure way to win first place in the hearts of your classmates and secure the confidence of your professors is to act naturally.

You have chosen college life to better yourself, so be fair by gaining something every day toward your goal that will be an asset to the real you.

Student Pulse

SAYS MATADOR SONG SHOULD BE REVISED

Since the recent change in the name of Tech's football team from Matadors to Red Raiders, I think we should change the Matador fight song.

Another objection to the Matador song is that the time is so slow that it is more like a funeral march.

Not only should it cheer and encourage the football team, but each student of Tech. All students should be given courage when it is heard and should greet the song with shouts of welcome.

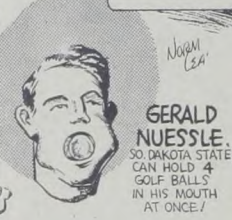

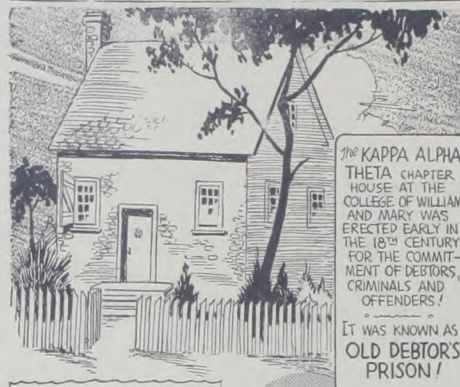

Perhaps Mr. Blitz, as head of the music department, or Mr. Wiley, director of the band, would like to write a song that all the students would enjoy singing at the beginning of each football game.

Let's have a snappy song that everyone would like to sing.

selves into such a mess and many blame the school authorities when they are not at fault.

In any case, the student will get more out of college, will have fewer worries and will be a great deal more certain of graduation if he gives a little thought to his courses at the beginning of each year.

Campus Echoes

Love is a funny thing, but "call love" is funnier, we read in the Junior Collegian.

A former University of California coed was so heartbroken when she was refused permission to visit the family coed, tethered in a vacant lot in West Berkeley, that she went into the kitchen and turned on the gas. She will recover.

Hope: "What do you do about stupid students?" The question was put to the deans in 81 men's colleges in various parts of the United States. The majority promptly replied, "Graduate 'em."

Bit of humor: And then there was the journalism student who thought it was

Red Raiders Join Leading Teams Of Nation; Topple TCU

Glancin' Around The Matador Arena

Sportdom Swells Chest Rice Was Wrong, Too Crack By Prell

By JIM LINDSEY
Toreador Editor

SPORTDOM on the South Plains expands its chest this week to show the Southwestern conference followers that in this section there's a football team that can mix gridiron tactics with the best of 'em anywhere in collegiate circles. True, Texas Christian university does not have the aggregation that represented the Fort Worth institution in the Sugar Bowl last year but if you take the predictions made by the foremost scribes in the nation, you may be assured that the Horned Toads will be high in the national rating. And in the end, with a victory over TCU, no authority can doubt the supremacy of the Red Raiders when the conferences of the entire country are under consideration.

We have Grantland Rice's word that the Christians will again climb the football ladder to within four notches of the top rung. The dean of American sport scribes has seen all the major college teams go through gamut of practice sessions, so he should know the ropes about the ranking. Sure, we admit, he said TCU would bump off the Raiders but that came about because the sharp eye of this veteran writer had not seen the Matadors perform. Naturally, his choice would fall to TCU, the team boasting Sammy Baugh and a top ranking.

About scribes, we turn our thoughts to the one from the sidewalk of Chicago, Ed Prell of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Most of us are acquainted with his crack about "the team from across the tracks" meeting the aristocracy of football. But after viewing the Raiders Saturday night as they tore the aristocracy almost to threads with their dazzling running attack, we feel confident that Mr. Prell wishes his Frogs had hopped around awhile on the other side of the tracks.

Another Fort Worth writer saw fit to make alibis for the Frogs even before the Christians arrived on the tablelands of Texas. Late to reach the desk of this department is last Friday's copy of The Skiff, student publication at TCU. Paul Ridings, sports editor of the weekly paper who was in the press box to see the Matadors smear the Froggies, tells his three readers that the Froggies are a crippled lot—yes, in the upper deck of the head for his story.

Now notice the lead to the paragraphs found under the caption: "Texas Tech's Matadors will be ATTEMPTING to dedicate their stadium with a victory when they meet the CRIPPLED Horned Frog eleven in Lubbock." Judging by the expression on Ridings' beaming countenance as he saw the Mats plaster Baugh and company, he regretted this lead. Although he's already familiar with the encounter, may we impress Ridings with the fact that, in humbling the touted Toads, the ceremony was a howling success. All we could ask for would have been more entertainment in the way of opposition on the greensward.

We're not picking bones today. Just letting the world know, especially the scribes who erred in their words about those warriors wearing Scarlet and Black togs, that there's a clicking football eleven at Texas Tech. And as 12,000 shivering fans will be glad to tell you, that machine, to use a worn-out phrase in sports chatter, is hitting on all cylinders, like a well-oiled piece of mechanism.

Second Half Drive By Matadors Spells Win; Neill Takes Ball Over

Tech Withstands Final Period Aerial Spree Featuring Baugh

A 70-YARD drive for a touchdown shortly after the second half got underway spelled victory over Texas Christian university's touted Frogs Saturday night and a new place in the nation's football sun for Tech's Red Raiders. Victory bells, a gift of last year's senior class, in the east tower of the Administration building tolled out a story of the 7-0 triumph until Sunday morning.

Following the kickoff that started the last half, the Matadors took the ball and drove straight to pay dirt with Jim Neill swinging wide around right end to step across the last white line. Chester Hensel, transfer tackle, playing his second game dressed in black and scarlet, went in to send the ball squarely through the uprights for the extra point.

Mats Stop Baugh From then on, the Matadors showed over 12,000 shivering fans who gathered in the new stadium that Texas Tech was complete master of the situation. With the exception of a passing spree in the closing stanza, Sammy Baugh, TCU's triple-threat All-American quarterback, looked just like any ordinary back. Red streaks charged the ex-Sweetwater flash until he was forced to kick almost straight into the air to keep his boots from being blocked. Captain Demp Cannon showed him up with his generalship, and Neill made Baugh look sick by his running and kicking as a scrapping band of Raiders outshone Dutch Meyer's Sugar Bowl champs in every department of play.

About the last quarter stand. A nephew of the head TCU coach, L. D. Meyer took the right end slot near the middle of the concluding period. Cannon took in Baugh's kickoff boot on his 20-yard line and carried it to the 30 before being brought down. Baze picked up two after a pass from Neill to Cannon. (See RAIDERS, page 4)

Sports Notice

All students interested in fencing are asked to meet in the gymnasium tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. Cy LaMaster Intramural director. The New Mexico State Teachers college upset the University of New Mexico eleven, 6-0, in a driving rain at Albuquerque last week.

Walthal Leads Fish In Victory

Picador Back Returns Punt For Marker In Game With ACC

Led by Dexter Walthal, Coach Berl Huffman's Texas Tech Picadors spread fair warning to all teams on their schedule Saturday afternoon by thumping the Abilene Christian college "B" team, 15-0. A small matinee crowd gathered to watch the first efforts of the Fish on soggy Matador field. Showers fell during most of the game.

Walthal brought the fans to their feet in the last quarter. He received Bennett's kick on the Tech 44-yard line and did some neat side-stepping to carry the ball over the goal line. Boswell Scores Gene Boswell, all-around athlete from Lamesa High school, scored first for the junior Red Raiders. He plowed through in the second stanza. Rushed by the charging Fish forward wall, the Kittens fumbled on their 6-yard stripe. After Dixie White, all-district tackle from Lubbock High recovered at that place, Boswell carried the ball across in two plays.

In the second period, the visitors again found their backs to the wall. Bennett stepped back to kick, the slippery ball glanced off the side of his foot and went out of bounds behind the line of scrimmage for a safety. Lineups Given The Frosh tallied 9 first downs during their initial skirmish of this year's schedule. No first downs were chalked up by the Christians.

The starting lineups: Tech: Webb and Tate, ends; Stietle and Davis, tackles; D. White and Wilkins, guards; Hale, center; Lindsey, quarter; Walthal and Bridges, halfbacks; and Boswell, fullback. ACC: Thornton and Lambert, ends; Farmer and Storey, tackles; Nottingham and McCaule, guards; Orr, center; Bennett, quarter; McCaule and Helvey, halfbacks; and Evans, fullback. Baylor Bears won over Hardin-Simmons university last weekend by the score of 13-0.

Barrier At End

After receiving a position on the Associated Press "Little All-American" team last year because of outstanding play, Herschel "Red" Ramsey continues to be a barrier at end for Tech's opposition this season. He fought off an attack of "flu" to turn in a star performance Saturday night and aid the Matadors in making grid history by whipping TCU.

Director Of Intramural Program Outlines Plan For Basketball Tourney

Cyrus LaMaster this week outlined plans for the intramural basketball competition. The new head of the men's physical training department stated that credit would be given students participating in the cage tournament. "We are especially anxious to have a large number of entries in intramural basketball competition this year," LaMaster said. "Any class, organization or individual may enter a team but a leader must be selected to see that every man on his 12-player roster is present for workouts and games," he further explained.

McMurry college turned back the Texas Wesleyan Rams at Abilene Saturday. The tally was 7-2.

Goldbugs From Sooner State Institution Appear Next On Tech Schedule

Eleven That Tied Locals Last Season Comes To Lubbock Saturday

In high spirits as their place in the nation's gridiron circles skyrocketed to new heights with a 7-0 victory over the touted Texas Christian Horned Frogs Saturday night, the Red Raiders took up training Monday afternoon as if nothing so gratifying had ever happened. Next Saturday night Coaches Toby Greene and Orville Tuttle bring their squad of 30 Oklahoma City university Goldbugs here to tangle with the Matadors. Last year the Goldbugs spilled the dope bucket in the final game of the season for the Techsters. Their charges ballyhood to beat the Oklahomans by at least two touchdowns, Cawthon and Smith saw them pushed to register a 7-7 tie. Swing Into Drills During the first of the week the Raider mentors have brought this to the attention of the Tech griders and the reaction has been an intensive and earnest preparation to redeem last season's setback. Minus of injuries except for light bruises, the Matadors swung into full practice drills with the idea of trampling the Goldbugs.

Eleven lettermen are among the gridsters from the Sooner State. The rest of the squad includes the cream of last year's freshman crop and several junior college transfers. OCU Lacks Weight OCU's 1936 team will not be as beefy as previous squads, but is composed of smaller men possessing more speed. The Goldbugs tip the beam around the 200 pound mark. However, six of the varsity men are in the 190-pound class. As their goal, the OCU mentors are seeking to develop a fast breaking and deceptive team to pit against the Raiders Saturday night. Standouts this week in workouts included Jack Sweet, charging fullback who returned to the Goldbugs this month after a season's layoff. During the summer, Sweet lost 55

Ex-Students, Unable To See TCU Game, Buy Play-By-Play Account

Not content with just hearing the result of the Texas Christian university and Texas Tech game, two former students leased a private Western Union wire Saturday night to get a play by play account of the West Texas classic. Fred Grimes Jr. and Thomas Hickey of Hillsboro informed accommodating friends who phoned late Saturday night to tell them the score that they'd received such an account by telegraph wire. Showing confidence in the Raiders, both shouted together over the phone "that we told the people of Hillsboro how it'd be." Hickey received his degree in 1930. In 1928 he lettered on the Fish grid team, beating out Jack Buckler, who was later All-American at Army, for quarterback. The next year he was head yell leader.

Talley Stars In Line

In the line John "Trapper" Talley, a tackle, is fast developing into a defensive star. Against Oklahoma A. and M. college last week, Talley was hardly moved from his position by the Aggies. Greene and Tuttle have indicated in workouts this week that nine lettermen will be in the starting lineup against Texas Tech. Running in the top string this week have been George Moss and Shiri Woolworth at ends, Clarke Hoing and Talley at tackles, Dee Coley and Claudus Beavers at guards, Hugh Johnson at center, Bob Ibaugh and Smith Crymes at halfbacks, New Nem-berry at quarter and Sweet at full. Hoing and Lobaugh have not lettered with the Goldbugs.

Matadors Beat TCU Froggies

Red Raiders Smother Sam Baugh, Touted Back For Christians

non placed the oar on the 49. Neill plowed through the center of the line for nine yards, to the Frog 40. A pass failed but the galloping lad from Brownfield sprinted 18 yards on the succeeding play. He made it a first down after Winters went 9 yards. Neill took it over in two downs. He gained four on the first formation and travelled wide around the right terminal for the only touch and fame and victory for the Matadors!

Stadium Dedicated

Although some Raiders stood out, it was a bunch of scrapping Techsters working together that turned back the invasion of the Froggies. Ramsey and West continued their good work at the ends. Enough cannot be said about Neill who kicked, ran and passed through the Fort Worth team. Winters did a good job backing up the line. Cannon's generalship has already been praised. In other words, to make a story of success on the greensward brief, the best team won.

Before the game President Bradford Knapp presided over the stadium dedication ceremonies, accepted the new home of Tech's athletic representatives from the contractors and introduced Clifford B. Jones of Spur, chairman of the Board of Directors, who made a response. Congressman George Mahon of Colorado, State Senator G. H. Nelson and Representative Doyle Settle, both of Lubbock, delivered short talks.

See "Red Raider"

Tech's band took up the Matador fight song and the newly organized cheering unit, the Saddle Tramps, led a fine demonstration of cheering throughout the game. Between halves, Head Yell Leader Arch Lamb presented the unit in Double T formation and "the masked Red Raider" on horseback.
