Profs To Be Victims At '52 Senior Frolic

the Treador

Vol. XXVII Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Friday March 28, 1952 No. 17

Four New Petitioners Bring Total Political Hopefuls to 75

Four Techsians entered last minute petitions Tuesday to bring the number of aspirants for campus offices to 75. Student body elections will be held April 8.

New candidates are Hayes Tucker, head cheerleader; Max Preston, business administration representative; Pete Morris, representative; and Jimmy Small, agriculture representative.

Candidate Meeting

Students turning in petitions will meet at 5 p.m. Friday in the SC office to draw for positions on the ballot.

A political rally will be held next Friday in the Recreation hall in order for students entered in the election to present campaign speeches. Candidates for president, vice-president, business manager and secretary and their campaign managers will be allowed six minutes in which to speak.

Aspiring men and women cheerleaders will lead yells so that Techsians may judge the abilities of the candidates.

Polling Places

Students will vote in their respective divisions as they have in the past. Polls in the Ad building rotunda, Agriculture building, Home Economics building and West Engineering building will be open from 8 to 12 a.m., and from 1 to 5 p.m. April 8.

A run-off election, if necessary, will be held on April 16.

Campaign Pictures Due Wednesday for Treador

Candidates for student body offices who wish their pictures in the election issue of the Treador must have a copy of the picture in the Treador office, J105, on or before Wednesday.

Pictures should be 3 1/4" X 4 1/4" glossy prints. The pictures will be used in connection with nominees' platforms.

Herrington, Haws Win AWS Posts

Nancy Herrington, Lubbock junior, defeated Nancy Furrh, Haskell junior, for the position of secretary of the Association of Women Students in a run-off election Tuesday.

Patsy Haws, Ropesville freshman, won over Mary Ann Gidney, Plainview freshman, for the post of reporter.

Mary Jo Craig, Plainview junior, and Pat Townsen, Fort Worth junior, were previously elected president and vice-president, respectively, of the organization in an election held last Thursday, March 20. Neither were opposed.

Sophs to Select '52 Sweater Girl

Sophomores will have a fling at college society Friday when they entertain with their Joan College dance at 8 p.m. in the Recreation hall Green Room. Jack Hon and his Techsians will provide the music for the sport hop.

Accepted apparel is sweaters and skirts for girls and slacks and sports shirts for boys.

"Miss Joan College," sweater girl of 1952, will be chosen from girls attending the dance.

Intermission entertainment is planned during the evening. Admission is $1.00 stag or drag.

Varsity Show Rehearsals Underway; Cast Announced

The 1952 edition of Texas Tech's annual Varsity Show should be an outstanding entertainment achievement, according to Shirley Sears, director.

The main parts in the show will consist of Dick Shockley as narrator, Connie Hopping as Aurelia Borealis, Hardy Clemons as Mummy Shockley, Don Harris, Don Thompson, Gilbert Strygley and James Franklin have speaking parts.

Chilean Pianist Claudio Arrau To Appear on Artist Course Program

Claudio Arrau, Chilean-born concert pianist, will be heard at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Lubbock High School auditorium in the fifth Artists Course program of the season.

Arrau has been acclaimed the "greatest of the great pianists" by both American and European critics. He has given performances of all the keyboard works of Bach in a series of 12 concerts.

He has also established his fame by a cycle of performances of all the 32 Beethoven sonatas and all the piano works of Mozart, Schubert and Weber.

Musical Heritage

His musical heritage came from his mother, who played the piano non-professionally; no other member of his family was musically inclined. At the age of four he was able to play Beethoven sonata from the printed page.

He taught himself to read music until the Chilean government, overcome by his apparent genius, sent him to Germany to study with one of the last students of Franz Liszt.

Since that time he has made several world tours which have established him as one of the greatest concert pianists of all time. He is one of the rare major artists to be given simultaneous billing by both Columbia and RCA Victor records.

His concerts are managed by Columbia Artists Management, Incorporated.

This is an activity book program.

The Administration building will take on the spirit of high holiday from 7 to 11 Saturday night when it becomes the location of the annual Senior carnival.

Of the 23 organizations offering amusement, Delta Sigma Pi's dunking board, which will be placed outside the south entrance of the Ad building rotunda, is predicted to draw a large crowd. Seven faculty members have agreed to alternate with students as victims for dunking in a horse tank, provided the customers have good aims.

To be Dunked

Dr. Reginald Rushing, head of the accounting department; Dr. F. L. Mize, head of the management department; Fred Norwood and Bill Whittington of the accounting department; Dr. R. L. Rouse and Douglas Moore of the economics department, and Fred Miller of the finance department are making this sacrifice as faculty members of Delta Sigma Pi.

Fifty gifts have been donated by local merchants to be raffled off by the class.

Tickets for the raffle may be purchased in the east rotunda of the Ad building Saturday night and the drawing will be held at the closing of the carnival.

Money raised from the carnival will be used for the purchase of the senior gift.

Club Booths

A complete list of the clubs, their offerings and location is as follows:

- Adolph: Games of surprise; Second floor, west landing.
- Alpha Phi Omega: Hot dog stand, center rotunda.
- Alpha Psi Omega, Sock and Buskin: One-act play, 217.
- Alpha Zeta: Nickel arcade, second floor east stairway.
- Arnold Air Society: Games of surprise, 317.
- Centaur: 7-11 games, second floor, east landing.

Action on Nationals Slated After Easter

Definite action on national sororities will be taken by women's social clubs after the Easter holidays, Jo Ann Applebay, president of the Women's Inter-Club council, announced.

Local groups feel they need more information on sororities before the question is brought to a vote, Miss Applebay continued.

This move resulted from club women's reaction to reports given by WICC members on the national organizations at Texas Western college in El Paso.

Visit TWC

Ten women and WICC sponsor Miss Jean Ewing, assistant dean of women, visited TWC campus Sunday through Wednesday interviewing faculty personnel, fraternity members and non-fraternity persons on the campus to gain objective information about the school's national social sororities.

Club representatives who formed the Tech delegation were Rhett McMaster and Miss Applebay, DFD; Harriet Moltz and Darlyne Blount; Ko Shari; Nancy Arnold and Mary Lou Jones, Las Vivirachas; Jerry Freeman and Sandra Sadler, Las Chaparritas, and Grace Garrison and Pat Johnson, Sans Souci.

Vote Will Be Taken

When the subject has been discussed thoroughly, a vote will be taken by the clubs to determine local feeling about the national organizations.

If sufficient desire for sororities is shown, WICC will approach the college administration for permission to petition for affiliation with the national groups.

Five Companies Set Job Confabs For Prospective 1952 Graduates

Five companies will have representatives on the campus next week to interview May and August graduates in various divisions, announced Mrs. Jean Jenkins, director of the placement service.

Business Administration students will be interviewed Wednesday for clerical and accounting positions with the Stanolind Oil and Gas company of Fort Worth.

The Sun Oil company of Dallas will have a representative to talk to civil engineering graduates Tuesday. Positions are open for junior civil engineers in Texas and Mississippi.

Graduates of accounting will be interviewed by O. W. Gaul of the Shell Pipeline company Friday. This company will consider applications from women.

Civil, electrical, mechanical and petroleum engineering students and petroleum geology graduates will have an opportunity to talk to a representative of the Petty Geophysical Engineering company Friday. There are a number of parties operating for this company in West Texas.

Chemical, civil and mechanical engineering students will be interviewed by two men for the Freeport Sulphur company Friday.

Students who are interested in any of these job opportunities are requested to schedule appointments by noon Wednesday in the placement office.

'College Town Hall' Slated April 7 by Delta Sigma Pi

Students interested in discussions of free enterprise and socialism should attend the Delta Sigma Pi "College Town Hall" from 9 to 11 a.m. April 7 in Aggie auditorium.

Five Texas businessmen will present a panel discussion and question and answer session, sponsored by the Beta Upsilon chapter of the professional business administration fraternity.

Texas Manufacturing association has held eight such programs in colleges designed to bring a closer relationship between education and business. Students may ask any questions they wish the panel to answer.

BA classes may be dismissed for the program, Dean Heather announced.

Pat Edwards Chosen Prexy For Journalism Fraternity

Pat Edwards, senior journalism student from Fort Worth, was elected president of Theta Sigma Phi in a meeting Tuesday, said Pat Johnson, outgoing president.

Other officers for the honorary fraternity for women in journalism are Joy Penrod, vice-president; Shirley Johnson, secretary, and Dorothy Thompson, treasurer.

Religious Council Urges Honor Code

A Christian honor code sponsored by the Student Religious council was presented to seven student groups this week.

Members of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, First Christian, Episcopal, Catholic and Church of Christ student organizations were given cards containing a pledge to be absolutely honest, not only in the classroom, but in every phase of college life.

Signing the cards was a voluntary matter, left up to each individual who received one. The purpose of the cards is to bring to student attention the importance of a Christian being honest at all times.

The cards were given in connection with Christian Citizenship Week, which was proclaimed this week by the Student Religious council.

North Texas State Engineering Show Set for April 18, 19

Coach DeWitt Weaver, athletic director, announces the addition of North Texas State college's Eagles to the Tech grid slate.

The Eagles, powers in the Gulf Coast conference, will meet Tech at Denton on Nov. 8. This brings Texas Tech's 1952 football schedule to 11 games.

The two teams, champions in their respective conferences, will be meeting for the first time. The game probably will be North Texas State's homecoming game.

Coach Weaver said that the Eagles had an outstanding team last year and he expects a tough game with the Gulf Coast Champions.

Completion of the 11-game schedule gives Tech five road games and six at home. The Raiders will journey to Houston to play Rice; to Stockton, Calif., to play College of Pacific; to Abilene to meet Hardin-Simmons; to Tucson to face the University of Arizona, and to Denver to tackle the Eagles.

Games with West Texas State College, Texas Western, University of Houston, Baylor, Tulsa and North Carolina State will be played in Jones Stadium.

The 20th annual Tech Engineering show will be held April 18 and 19, according to James Porter, general manager.

Exhibits will be shown the two days from 2 to 10 p.m. Several new exhibits have been planned by the various engineering departments for the show.

Plan Exhibits

In charge of exhibits for the different departments are Joe Mike Brees, textiles engineering; John Shoemaker, civil engineering; Dick Robinson, chemical engineering; Charles Pendergraft, electrical engineering; Ted Brooks, industrial engineering; Bob Warren, military sciences; Fred Stanley, mechanical engineering; Robert Morris, geology; Duane Fincher, architecture; Doug Barnes, petroleum engineering, and Ralph Fullwood, physics.

Other general officers of the new show are Joe Hastings, assistant manager; Mary Byars Turner, secretary; Walter Matthews, auditor; Melvin Brock, lights chairman; Russell McCaleb, traffic chairman; Brien Webster, publicity chairman, and Delwin Stults, advertising manager.

"Inflation is akin to the game of musical chairs; the people with fixed incomes are the ones left standing," an economics professor told an audience at Stanford recently.

Engineering Groups to Elect Officers; Present Papers

Officers for next year will be elected at a meeting of American Institute of Electrical Engineers and Institute of Radio Engineers at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Engineering auditorium.

Chairman-elect will attend the A.I.E.E. district meeting in St. Louis April 18 and 19, Tom Stenis said.

Also representing Tech's student branch of A.I.E.E. and I.R.E. at the district meeting will be the student who submits the best essay about some phase of electrical engineering on which he has been working. This student will compete with representatives from other schools for national honors.

First prize will be $25 and a certificate of merit from A.I.E.E., Stenis added. Students wishing to enter this contest must present their essays before a meeting of A.I.E.E. and I.R.E. Selection of a winner will be based on the essay and an oral presentation of it which the student must make when submitting the manuscript.

New Recordings By Quintet Will Feature Four Songs

Orders for recent recordings made by the Four Roses and a Fifth are now being taken by Dub Kuykendall, engineering senior.

Two recordings will be available possibly before the end of the semester. One will include "The Philadelphia Lawyer" and "Princess Papoohi." The second record is "Got Many More Years to Go" and "I'm Going Back."

Price per record depends upon total number demanded, with a maximum price of $1.50 per record.

A 9 1/2" x 12" drawing of the group is also available for 50 cents.

Carolyn Harper Hoggins is librarian at Plainview Junior High school.

H E Club To Hear Reports From Committees Tuesday

Reports from committees for the home economics open house, to be held April 18 and 19, will highlight a regular meeting of the HE club Tuesday in HE105, said Carol Jean Sandlin, reporter.

Following the reports, the club will hold a treasure hunt and refreshments will be served.

Co-chairman of committees are Pat Finley and Marvel Gibner, hostess committee; Zendiola King and Henri Vaughn, registration; Myrre McDonald and Sarah Mickey, guides; Elizabeth Schovajsa and Lena Schmidt, program; Mary Lou Viertel and Mona Rae Powell, posters; Nancy Arnold and Carol Jean Sandlin, publicity; Ellen Masengill and Mollie Jordan, invitations.

Dell Brown and Pat Dosser, applied arts; Janet Saunders and Jan Edwards, child development; Alice Qualia and Jolene Moore, clothing and textiles; Marion Gibson and La Nelle Enochs, foods and nutrition; Barbara Hext and Jackie Vanable, home management; Chalons Matthews and Juanita Davis, home economics education, and Jane Foster and Patti Pipkin, managers.

Dr. Henry Snyderman Will Speak About Influence of Social Forces

Dr. Henry Snyderman of Plainview will speak on "The Influence of Social Forces on Human Behaviour" at 8 p.m. Friday in the First Christian church.

He will be presented by the Lubbock County Society for Mental Health.

Dr. Snyderman received his medical training at the Washington University Medical school in St. Louis. He has had special training in neuropsychiatry at the University of California, Columbia university and the Illinois Neurological institute.

The public is invited.

Winston, junior agriculture major. Her daughter, Mrs. Cal Steveson of Plains, is the Former Glenna Winston, 1950 graduate and cheerleader.

The annual Theta Sigma Phi award to the outstanding girl journalist of the year will be made during that time. Sue Holmes, 1951 graduate and editor of the Toreador, was last year's selection.

Guests will include all active members and alumni of the fraternity, all women journalism majors, faculty members, sponsor and women members of Quill and Scroll, Mr. Charles A. Guy, editor and publisher of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, and his wife, Mr. Parker Prouty, business manager of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, and his wife, Miss Margaret Turner, woman's page editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, President and Mrs. D. M. Wiggins, Dean Marjorie Neely, and presidents of various women's organizations on the campus.

Family Heirlooms Shown in Museum

A collection of post Revolutionary items owned by Miss Ellen Dewey of Tujunga, Calif., is on display as the Treasure of the Month in the natural history gallery of the Museum.

The items, which have been handed down through members of one family for more than 150 years, will pass to Miss Dewey's nephew, John Dewey, senior from Lubbock.

The display includes a black China silk shawl which is 150 years old; a lace scarf and collar, made in 1829 by an 18-year-old girl; a sampler made in 1824; linens made more than a 100 years ago by Nancy Tuttle Jones, who raised the flax, wove and spun the linen in her home and monogrammed sterling silver spoons.

First Tech Student Recital Will Be Held In Auditorium of New Music Building

The first student recital in the auditorium of the new Music building will be held Sunday at 4 p.m. All students and faculty members are invited.

Taking part in the program will be voice and piano students and a brass choir.

Vocal numbers on the program will be Seben Crudele, (Caldara), sung by Mary Lou Miller, soprano; O bocca dolorosa, (Sibella), sung by Don Nelson, baritone; The Smiling Hours, (Handel), Rosemary Sprague, contralto, and Il lacerato spirito, (Verdi), Tim Magness, bass.

Also Deh Vieni non Tardar, (Mozart), Nancy Davis, soprano; La Pavone, (Bruneau), and Everything That I Can Spy, (Bone-Fenton), Gloria Snell, soprano; Big Lady Moon, (Taylor), Pernicia Sharp, soprano, and The Auld Fishery, (Scotch folk song), Rodger Dodds, baritone.

Piano numbers are Gavotte, (Giornovich), Mary Beth Smith; Andante Molto from Sonata in E minor, (Chopin), La Veta Steinert; Waltz in D-flat, (Chopin), William Rogan, and Prelude in D minor, Op. 28, No. 24, (Chopin), Patricia Lindsey.

Music Listening Hour Set For Sunday In Museum

The Music Listening Hour will be conducted by Mrs. Elois Elliott, coordinator of music for the Lubbock Public schools, at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Museum auditorium.

Mrs. Elliott will play recordings of music which will be presented at the Claudio Arrau Artist course concert Tuesday night. She will discuss the style and types of his music.

The Music Listening Hour, which is usually held on Friday evenings before local concerts has been changed to Sunday because it will be a more convenient time during the remaining spring season, said Mrs. Jane Moore, assistant preparator.

Other items are a photograph of Henry Austin, a daguerreotype of Miss Jones, a Manual of the Congregational Church of Christ used in 1858 and a child's chair made by hand with pegs and used by all generations of the family since post Revolutionary times.

And Etude in G minor, (Moskowski), Patsy Griffin; Hungarian Rhapsody No. 6, (Liszt), Janny Lynn Rucker, and Concerto in D minor, (Mozart), Ned Hardin.

The brass choir will play Sonata (Banken Singenlieder) and Contrapunctus I, (Bach). The choir is composed of Charles Davenport, trumpet; Robert Reitz, trombone; Wyatt Burkhalter, baritone; Donald Andress, trumpet; Jack Hon, trumpet; Bill Cy Cook, trombone; Charles Wilson, baritone, and Donald Miller, French horn.

HOW AM I TO KNOW? . . .

"How am I to know which candidates are best qualified, if I do not know them personally?" That's the question which will be on the lips of many Techsians this spring as the general student election nears.

The most important factor for voters to consider will be the campaign platforms issued by the candidates. The Toreador will publish platforms of all candidates in the April 4 issue, along with pictures of each hopeful.

Students should be able to get a clear picture of how a candidate will stand from these election platforms. We urge all candidates to give considerable thought to drawing up their platforms. They should be clear, concise and definite, keeping out generalities.

Another vital part of pre-election activities will be the political rally to be staged April 4 in the Recreation hall, when each candidate for office will get a chance to speak to the voters. Each candidate and his campaign manager will be given time to air his views.

Despite the fact that two major offices have only one candidate, Techsians should be vitally interested in the election and accept the responsibility of selecting qualified persons for office. By qualified persons, we do not mean those who are most popular on the campus. Voters must be willing to carefully check campaign platforms and past records of all candidates and cast their vote for one whom they consider best fits the bill.

Forget Mid-Semester Quizzes . . .

Twenty-three campus organizations have combined efforts to give Techsians a full evening's entertainment Saturday night at the annual Senior Carnival.

Profits from the carnival booths will help the seniors pay for their class gift to the college. On hand for the gala occasion will be calendar girls, barkers and a host of other "circus people."

Tech's annual Senior Carnival has been traditional on the campus since the days of the Charleston. The bronze building markers and the lamp posts around the circle have been gifts of past senior classes. No decision has been made yet concerning what this year's gift will be, but if enough profits are made from the carnival, the class may be able to donate a public address system for the Student Union building.

If you want to forget mid-semester exams and get into a circus atmosphere, attend the carnival Saturday night and give the senior class a helping hand.

Sweater Girls to Go on Parade At Soph Joan College Dance

By RALPH SHELTON
Toreador Staff Writer

Herewith we present a rundown of the events of the coming weekend that promises to be of interest to the night-owl element on the campus. Fraternities which disregard the evening chicken curfew may look forward to nights of dancing, the theatre and similar pastimes.

"Miss Joan College" of 1952 will be chosen and crowned at the annual sophomore dance tomorrow night—with the judges basing their decisions on how well candidates measure up to the Great American Sweater Girl ideal.

If tape measure statistics are the standard for judgment (and for sweater girls, what else?), we offer the following trite old line to the contestants:

"It's worse to lie than to steal"—Confucius. (Our relations with China are so fouled already that one more insult won't matter. If the Yellow Peril gets nasty about it, we'll threaten them with police action.)

In answer to the implication that some of the "Joan College" nominees might adopt something similar to ballot-box stuffing techniques in winning the sweater title, a female staff member countered with: "The good Lord helps those who help themselves."

In other words, if the mountain won't come to Mohammed (what a name for a girl, but maybe she's a foreign student), the ingenuity of the garment industry must take a hand.

Tech made little notice of the recent Mardi Gras season, but the Senior class will stage its own carnival Saturday night in the Administration building. At latest count, twenty-three clubs are slated to have booths in the show. Past carnivals have proved that anything can happen and most anything can be found, from Esquire girls to roulette wheels, when the seniors go all out to raise money for their gift.

Theatrical attractions for the weekend centered around the Spanish drama to be presented tonight and tomorrow night by Capa y Espada and Sigma Delta Pi. Patrons who don't speak the language are advised to laugh when the faculty members in the audience laugh, since the play is listed as a comedy.

Title of the comedy is "El Chaleco 'Blance," which, when translated, loses all its mysterious, foreign appeal.

(Editor's Note: since Associate Editor Pat Johnson did not return from a WICC trip in time to write a column, this staff writer's remarks are substituted for the usual "Pat's Patter".)

"Let's take in a movie first. We wouldn't want them to think we hadn't been to another party first!"

El Cuspidor Edition Is Slated for Tuesday

By JOHN NORCROSS
Toreador Editor

Come April 1 the Toreador staff will go wild on its annual El Cuspidor edition. Nonsense will be the order of the day as El Cuspidor goes to press.

El Cuspidor news hounds are already sniffing around the campus garbage cans for pert material. Of course, the famous El Cuspidor edition will have to be taken with a grain or two of salt. It will all be in fun.

Looking at our calendar again, we notice that in 57 days, graduating seniors will be handed their sheep skins. From now on out, things will go in a whirl. Lot's see, there's the Senior Carnival

Saturday, then the political rally next week, elections, farewell banquets, yearbook signing . . . which leaves us exactly no time for studying.

Most of us will be glad to get away from the old grind -- but we'll miss it too. We'll be the exes of the 1960's who'll say, "Yes sir, those were the happiest years we ever spent." Then we'll tell our kids about our college days: we won't tell them about losing a football game -- no we're going to tell them how the team defeated TCU the year they won the Southwest Conference title. We won't think to tell them those dateless Saturday nights -- all we'll remember is the big presentation ball.

Then we'll yawn and dream about those wonderful college days. Well, we seniors have 57 more of them left, and most of us, as we said before, aren't shedding any tears.

With The Colors

Walter Phillips, Jr., 1950 Tech graduate, is undergoing basic training in the marines at OCS at Quantico, Va.

Maj. Wallace E. Hawkins, holder of a bachelor of arts degree at Tech, is now on duty with the Provost Marshall Section, Headquarters Second Army.

Maj. Hawkins went to Second Army from the European command where he served as an instructor in Intelligence and Military Police School. Other assignments have included four years with the 4th Air Force and duty as Assistant Post Provost Marshal at Heidelberg Military Post, Heidelberg, Germany.

Lieut. William Solomon, 1951 Tech graduate, is expecting a transfer from Savannah, Ga., to Denver, Colo., to attend radar and photo interpreter school.

About The Campuses

At the University of Colorado a freshman admitted he robbed a cab driver, stole the cab, got chased by the cops, wrecked the cab, got shot in the leg by the cops, was finally arrested. Detectives said the freshman told them he "cracked up" while studying.

Students in an economics class at Arizona State college noticed their prof halted by a coed. The class, composed entirely of male students, waited while the prof took a note from the attractive visitor and delivered it to one of the members of the class.

Returning to the rostrum, he began, "As I was saying . . ." He looked blankly at the class.

"Women shouldn't come into classrooms," he muttered. "Now what was I saying?"

Seventy-eight percent of the courses taken in the University of Texas last year were passed, according to the Daily Texan. The School of Law had the highest failing percentage while the School of Pharmacy passed the most students. Applied mathematics is the most failed course with a passing average of 23.5 percent.

David Hester, business administration graduate of 1950, is now serving with the US army in Japan. He was home on furlough last month after being stationed in Korea. Hester is with the finance department.

tion have been considerably dampened. With candidates for president and vice-president of the Student association running unopposed, one can't expect much enthusiasm on the part of the students.

However, the other races should be lively. Seventy-two candidates are in the running for the various offices. We are anxious to see the platforms of the candidates which will be published in The Toreador, along with their pictures in the April 4 edition.

Co-eds Give Views on Movies; Actress Bette Davis Is Popular

By BETTY STANLEY
Toreador Staff Writer

The academy awards have just been passed out to deserving actors and actresses in Hollywood, but Tech co-eds have a few Oscars to pass out, too; They have their own ideas about the best pictures of the year, the most deserving actors and actresses; and they have their own ideas about what's wrong with American movies.

In a recent poll taken by a Toreador reporter some interesting opinions of movies, actors and actresses were uncovered. The co-eds on the campus were asked some specific questions and gave, incidentally, some very specific answers.

By Hook or Crook

It seems that by hook or crook most of these young ladies manage to go to the movies on an average of once or twice a week. One girl remarked when asked how many times a week she saw a movie, "As often as I can get a date!"

The movies they see vary from "rootin', tootin' shoot-em-ups" to the mushy romantic films they usually see with their special girl friends. It seems most of the fellows don't go for this "Casbah" type of romance. Light drama seems to be the preferred type of film and Bette Davis ranked high on the list of popular actresses.

"She seems to human, down-to-earth and sincere," was the comment of one Davis fan. Another liked the fire and spirit she puts into her roles. "She just seems to live the life of the Character she's portraying."

Movie Rates High

The movie "All About Eve" was frequently mentioned as one of the best ever. Many of the students felt that this film reached an all time high in realism.

What's wrong with American films? The co-eds were not at a loss for opinions. Most of the criticism centered around one theme. The plots were too repetitious. One young lady observed, "You just see the same thing over and over and over." Another remarked, "I think the plots, the characters and the dialogue are altogether too vulgar. Where it used to be implied, it's now right out in the open!"

Not Dark Enough

Of course, there were a few jokers in the group. One little co-ed said, "What's wrong with the movies today? They just aren't dark enough that's all!" Another answer ran like this: "I'll tell you what my boy friend said, 'He says they're just too expensive to be very good.'"

Most of the students polled planned to see "Quo Vadis" this week. Even though they think the price is a little steep, they can't worry very much about the beau's pocketbook. As one of them said, "If he wants to spend his money, I can sure enjoy it, can't I?"

The committee that presents the Hollywood Oscars could probably learn a thing or two from Texas Tech co-eds. Their whole opinion was expressed pretty well by one of the members of that fair sex when she said, "After all, that's about all there is to do in Lubbock. Movies are wonderful; I can sit through most any kind . . . as long as there's someone interesting besides me."

Dr. Jones Gives Address

"The Swing of History's Pendulum" was the title of an address delivered Tuesday night by Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech vice-president, before a meeting of the Men's Fellowship of Westminster Presbyterian church. In the talk he traced the shifting emphasis in political and moral thinking from the masses to the individual.

Cast of Spanish Production Slates Second Performance

"El Chaleco Blando," a one-act play in Spanish by Ramos Corrión, was presented Thursday night in Ad217. The production will be staged again Friday night, said A.

Attorney General To Attend Rodeo

Price Daniel, Texas attorney general, will be guest of honor for the third annual Texas Tech National Intercollegiate Rodeo to be staged in Jones stadium May 1 to 3, said Forrest Burnham, chairman of the publicity committee.

The attorney general has accepted an invitation to ride in the rodeo parade May 1. He will crown the rodeo queen at the initial performance that night.

Daniel will be honored guest at the annual rodeo breakfast, also to be held May 1. Approximately 14 college teams are expected to be entered in the rodeo. States likely to be represented are Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Wyoming, Kansas, Colorado and Washington.

George Stichka of Seneca, Neb., will be producer of the 1952 rodeo. The queen will be selected by popular vote, with campus organizations sponsoring candidates.

Sigma Delta Pi Schedules Initiation Tuesday Evening

Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish honor society, will initiate 12 new members in an initiation ceremony at 5 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. B. Gates, 3202 22nd street.

New members to be initiated are Rossie Baker, Joan Bolinger, Margaret Brown, Bette Deal, Sammy Dunn, Bill Escobar Jr., Martha Hobgood, Fred McMurphy, Jo Overton, Burdette Prothero and Joanne Schovajsa.

Active members of the society and instructors of the Spanish staff will attend.

B. Strehli, director.

Members of the cast for the play, sponsored by Capa y Espada, are Connie Cunningham, Lubbock; Bette Thomas, Raymondville; William Escobar, Benjamin; Fred McMurphy, Midland; Gordon Hensley, Levelland; Burdette Prothero, Plainview, and Walton Parker, Donna.

Assistant directors are Mrs. R. W. Tucker and Mrs. W. B. Gates.

Symphony Concert Attended by 500; Tech Student Gives Performance

Approximately 500 persons attended the second night concert of the Lubbock Symphony Tuesday in the second night concert of the Lubbock Symphony Tuesday in the Senior High School auditorium.

Lewis Ward, winner of last spring's South Plains Music Teachers Association contest and Tech music student from Lubbock was featured on the program.

Ward played Saint-Saens' Allegro Appassionato, opus 70, accompanied by the orchestra. Following intermission Julius Hegyi, prominent violinist, performed Tchaikovsky's Violin Concerto in D major. At the close of the concert, the orchestra presented American in Paris (Gershwin) as an encore.

both of the foreign languages staff.

Admission to the play will be free, but guests must have tickets which will be given by Spanish students. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Student members of the production staff are Walton Parker, stage manager; Mary R. Curlee, Eleanor Lincoln and Don Thompson, make-up, and Bobbie Jean Mobley, Peggy Ann Wilson and Janita Casas, program and tickets.

Raider Golfers to Face BC Competition On 3-day Tour of New Mexico, Arizona

Texas Tech golfers face Border conference competition in a dual meet for the first time this week while they are on a road trip in Arizona and New Mexico.

Although the BC golf championship is decided by a tourney which will be held May 8, 9 and 10 at Tempe, this trip will give Techsans a chance to see how Raider linksmen stack up against the other BC teams.

Tech's only encounter with another BC team this year was at the Southwestern Recreation tourney where Hardin-Simmons placed tenth and Tech seventh.

Tech met New Mexico university at Albuquerque Thursday and is expected to tee-off against a group at Arizona State at Tempe Friday. One group from Tempe is playing on the west coast this week, but it is hoped that there may be members of the team in Tempe to compete with Tech. The Raiders will meet the University of Arizona at Tucson on Saturday.

Tech has lost to Texas Wesleyan, Southern Methodist, Oklahoma and Tulsa so far this season.

Members of the squad who made the trip are G. W. Warden of Leveland, Paul McCulley of Fort Worth, Joe Stoltz of Hobbs, N. M., Jerry Thornton of Fort Worth and Coach Wade Walker.

'Mural Schedule

This week will be a busy one in the intramural softball scene.

Gordon clashes with Sneed and Doak meets Bledsoe in the Dorm league, Tuesday.

In the aggie league, P. I. will go against FFA and Block and Bridle will play D. M. Wednesday.

Independents will rest until Thursday when the Architects meet the Squirrel Shooters, Wesley Wildcats tangle with DSF and BSU plays the Unknowns.

SHARP LADS. These three Raiders take an unblemished record to the NCAA Fencing meet in New Haven, Conn., where they will try for the national title. The meet is to be held Friday and Saturday.

Tech Swordsmen To Vie in NCAA

Hoping for a national championship a three-man Tech fencing team left for New Haven, Conn., Tuesday where they will enter the NCAA tournament at Yale university Friday and Saturday.

Making the trip are Roddy Hobson, participant-coach from Mineral Wells; Don Olson, Houston, and Robert Keesecker, Dayton, Ohio. Accompanying the team are Mrs. Keesecker, and Sammy Self of Lubbock.

The Raiders will fight teams from all over the nation and the defending champions from Columbia university. Last year's squad Red Raiders tied for 19th place with Ohio State university but none of the present fencers were on the team.

The unbeaten Tech team holds the North Texas divisional team championship in the Amateur Fencer's League of America.

James Odom.
 Broad jump—Don Covey and Odom.

High hurdles—Jim Farrell and Dean White.

100-yard dash—Jerry Fairly, Earl Hutcherson, Bill Killough or Covey.

The deadline for reserving caps and gowns for May graduation is April 5. Every senior who is planning to graduate this spring should order his cap and gown at the Tech Bookstore by that date.

This is also the deadline for faculty members to reserve caps and gowns for the graduation services.

Wranglers Lead MICC Hoop Loop

Keys, Wranglers and Cams won in basketball games played last Thursday night as the MICC league neared its finish.

The Keys took an exciting overtime victory from the College Club 32 to 29. Earl Dietering led the Keys with 19 points while Sanders was high for the College Club with 9.

The powerful Wranglers, who are leading the league, walloped the Adelphi 38 to 9. Eddie Hart took scoring honors for the Wranglers with 12 points.

In the final game, Los Cams defeated Socii 34 to 18. Hub Cadenehead meshed 13 for the Cams while Dan Ritter led the Socii with 9.

Only four games are left on the MICC schedule with three of them tonight:

- 7 p.m. College Clubs vs. Socii.
- 8 p.m. Adelphi vs. Los Cams.
- 9 p.m. Wranglers vs. Centaurs.

Cadet Program Lectures To Be Presented in April

Tech students interested in the Aviation Cadet and Flying Training programs will have a chance to learn more about them by attending two evening lectures to be held in April, according to Maj. H. M. Baumgardner, assistant professor of air science.

The exact dates of the lectures will be announced soon.
