

Part Of Red Cross Donations To Be Solicited Today

La Ventana Pictures To Be In Mail By Next Week

Class Sections & Color Work Now Being Printed

Williams, Cotton Seek Editorship Of Tech Yearbook

Beginning Class In Chinese Shows Rapid Progress

Dysart Returns From Convention In Central Texas

Frosh Celebrate Annual Holiday At McKenzie Park

Sport Dance Tonight In Gym, Queen To Be Crowned By Glenn Ivy

Contest Writers Must Be Speakers To Receive Award

Last Supper Now Exhibited Here

Renner Will Attend Dairy Conference Wednesday

College Calendar

Private Rowland Is Convicted Of Being AWOL; Gets Three Months Sentence

DFD Officers Are Named For Spring

President Jones Provides For Stand For Tech Band

Clark Schooley, Journalism Prof, Resigns Position

Campus Clubs To Finance Show Again This Year

Tech Blood Bank Is Considered; Plans Are Still Indefinite

Varsity Shows Plans and Possibility of Having a Blood Bank on the Tech Campus

Everett Dale, J. R. Callahan, and Kenneth Robbins have been extended an invitation to attend the dance.

Chaperoning the dance during the evening will be Dean and Mrs. J. G. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Young, Dr. Larson, Mr. Castleberry, and Miss Blatner.

Jenkins Joined Band In 1940; Will Be Recognized Sunday

TECHSAN LLOYD JENKINS will be featured on the program of the Matador band in its first of the spring series of concerts which will begin Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the gymnasium.

Jenkins came to Tech in 1940 and joined the band in the second semester of that college year. He is an industrial engineering major.

When Lloyd joined the band he immediately became the first chair solo cornet player which he has kept ever since his entrance.

Jenkins began playing the cornet 11 years ago and since that time has done much work with bands over the state of Texas. In 1932 he entered Sam Houston Junior High School in Amarillo, and in the school term 1933-34 he held the first cornet position in that band.

In 1936 the band went to the Texas Centennial where Lloyd played a solo. This was not in any competition, but he did enter competition that year in the State Solo Contests at Amarillo.

Lloyd took first place in that contest; however he did not try to take national honors because at that time the national contest was being held at one city. That partic-

Two applicants are seeking the editorship of the 1944 La Ventana, records of the Student Publications Committee show. They are Eleanor Cotton, associate editor of the 1943 annual, and Roy Williams, Tech athlete.

The applications have been filed with Prof. Clark H. Schooley, chairman of the committee, and will be received until noon on Saturday, March 27. Since Prof. Schooley is leaving Tech early next week, future applications should be placed in the hands of Prof. R. I. Lockard of the Engineering division, a member of the committee and acting chairman.

No application filed after the deadline will be considered.

The committee is expected to name the new editor at its regular meeting, Tuesday, April 6, in the Press building. The appointment is necessary to fill a vacancy caused by election of no candidate in the campus election of February 25. No candidate was listed on the ballots when the lone applicant was found ineligible a few days before voting.

The editor will be responsible for policies and all work connected with publication of the yearbook next year, taking active charge in the fall and conferring with the committee relative to contracts in May. The editor will plan the annual, prepare all copy, and guide all work except selling of ads, collection of funds and other business matters.

Clark H. Schooley, assistant professor in the journalism department resigned his position here Wednesday to take a place as head of the department of journalism at Hardin-Simmons university. His resignation will become effective Monday, March 15.

Schooley will assume duties at the Abilene university next Thursday, March 18. In the new position, he will succeed his brother, Herschel Schooley, who leaves for the navy Monday where he has received assignment as an officer in the public relations division.

He has been with the Tech journalism school since the opening of the fall semester in September. Previously, he lived in Bement, Ill., where he is publisher of a newspaper.

At Tech, he served as chairman of the student publications committee, and, for the committee, was faculty sponsor of the Treador.

"It is with deep regret that I leave Tech," Schooley said. "Associations here have been very pleasant. But it is an opportunity that I couldn't pass up."

Material for the Home Economics issue of the Tech Magazine has gone to press, and will be out this month. It is the yearly Home Economics issue.

L. D. Simpson, former student in the agricultural division wrote an item on conservation farming for the "Tuscaloosa News," Tuscaloosa, Georgia, February 24.

Charles Senning, president of the Matador band, with he is the co-musical director with Charles Wiley, director of the Matador band.

Senning filled the vacancy of Robert Dorrough, who has left school. Casting for the show will be Sunday, March 21. Tryouts for the musical or dancing positions of the show will meet in the band room. Those seeking the dramatic roles will tryout in room 220 of the Administration building.

Vester Lee Smith, student representative to the College Chapel committee, explained a proposed plan of this committee to build a chapel on the campus, and asked the aid of the Student council.

The council tabled this motion until a future date, pending information concerning the cost and other problems involved.

Charles Wiley presented a proposed plan for a space on the campus to be used for band concerts and marching. The proposed site is near the Textile building. This plan includes the building of a platform from which to present concerts. Funds for this project are proposed to come from the student activity fee. The council referred this proposal to the Student committee investigating the Student Allotment fund.

Request of the Home Economics division presented at the preceding council meeting that they be allowed to have a publication circulated to advertise their division, the funds for which will come from the student activity fee, was still undecided pending further investigation of the committee appointed for that purpose.

Just like English, Chinese has punctuation marks," Dr. Ling, Research Fellow in Child Development, reminds students in her basic Chinese class.

The class is made up of a cross-section of people including a physician, three lieutenants, wives of two of them, a sergeant, and five college students. They are learning a fundamental speaking and writing vocabulary that will give them a basic knowledge of the language. Actually, they learn 206 characters, however, combinations of these increase their vocabulary.

Students find the characters odd at first because they often look like the objects they denote. Dr. Ling encourages them in attaching words to any familiar object. For example, the word for wheat looks much like a growing wheat stalk. Put this character with one meaning parcel or package and you have the word "parcel."

"Chicken" in Chinese looks much like chicken coming toward you. The word cream is made up of two characters meaning milk and skin or fur. Since cream can be thought of as a skin on milk, its deviation is easily traced.

Dr. Ling feels that her class has made definite progress. She gave them an examination recently about which she remarked, "Some can write as many as 80 per cent, while others know only about 30 per cent." She says they "coin" many words and phrases in their first attempts to write. However, this is natural since it is much harder to write than to understand. Comprehension comes first, then the ability to pronounce and write comes, she says. If her class will learn the roots of the words well in their basic course advanced study will not be too difficult.

Dr. Ling originally had no intention of teaching Chinese, she said. However, the officer who was head of the induction station here in Lubbock was very interested in studying the language and persuaded her to start teaching it last spring.

She feels that this will definitely be helpful to boys and girls who might be in China during the war or after the war. A basic knowledge of the language would be quite an asset.

She plans to start another basic class later in the spring. She divides her course into introductory and basic, each six weeks in length. This is to accommodate students and army personnel who are never sure how long they will be here.

L. D. Simpson, former student in the agricultural division wrote an item on conservation farming for the "Tuscaloosa News," Tuscaloosa, Georgia, February 24.

Charles Senning, president of the Matador band, with he is the co-musical director with Charles Wiley, director of the Matador band.

Senning filled the vacancy of Robert Dorrough, who has left school. Casting for the show will be Sunday, March 21. Tryouts for the musical or dancing positions of the show will meet in the band room. Those seeking the dramatic roles will tryout in room 220 of the Administration building.

Vester Lee Smith, student representative to the College Chapel committee, explained a proposed plan of this committee to build a chapel on the campus, and asked the aid of the Student council.

The council tabled this motion until a future date, pending information concerning the cost and other problems involved.

Charles Wiley presented a proposed plan for a space on the campus to be used for band concerts and marching. The proposed site is near the Textile building. This plan includes the building of a platform from which to present concerts. Funds for this project are proposed to come from the student activity fee. The council referred this proposal to the Student committee investigating the Student Allotment fund.

Request of the Home Economics division presented at the preceding council meeting that they be allowed to have a publication circulated to advertise their division, the funds for which will come from the student activity fee, was still undecided pending further investigation of the committee appointed for that purpose.

Just like English, Chinese has punctuation marks," Dr. Ling, Research Fellow in Child Development, reminds students in her basic Chinese class.

The class is made up of a cross-section of people including a physician, three lieutenants, wives of two of them, a sergeant, and five college students. They are learning a fundamental speaking and writing vocabulary that will give them a basic knowledge of the language. Actually, they learn 206 characters, however, combinations of these increase their vocabulary.

Students find the characters odd at first because they often look like the objects they denote. Dr. Ling encourages them in attaching words to any familiar object. For example, the word for wheat looks much like a growing wheat stalk. Put this character with one meaning parcel or package and you have the word "parcel."

"Chicken" in Chinese looks much like chicken coming toward you. The word cream is made up of two characters meaning milk and skin or fur. Since cream can be thought of as a skin on milk, its deviation is easily traced.

Dr. Ling feels that her class has made definite progress. She gave them an examination recently about which she remarked, "Some can write as many as 80 per cent, while others know only about 30 per cent." She says they "coin" many words and phrases in their first attempts to write. However, this is natural since it is much harder to write than to understand. Comprehension comes first, then the ability to pronounce and write comes, she says. If her class will learn the roots of the words well in their basic course advanced study will not be too difficult.

Dr. Ling originally had no intention of teaching Chinese, she said. However, the officer who was head of the induction station here in Lubbock was very interested in studying the language and persuaded her to start teaching it last spring.

She feels that this will definitely be helpful to boys and girls who might be in China during the war or after the war. A basic knowledge of the language would be quite an asset.

She plans to start another basic class later in the spring. She divides her course into introductory and basic, each six weeks in length. This is to accommodate students and army personnel who are never sure how long they will be here.

L. D. Simpson, former student in the agricultural division wrote an item on conservation farming for the "Tuscaloosa News," Tuscaloosa, Georgia, February 24.

Charles Senning, president of the Matador band, with he is the co-musical director with Charles Wiley, director of the Matador band.

Senning filled the vacancy of Robert Dorrough, who has left school. Casting for the show will be Sunday, March 21. Tryouts for the musical or dancing positions of the show will meet in the band room. Those seeking the dramatic roles will tryout in room 220 of the Administration building.

Vester Lee Smith, student representative to the College Chapel committee, explained a proposed plan of this committee to build a chapel on the campus, and asked the aid of the Student council.

The council tabled this motion until a future date, pending information concerning the cost and other problems involved.

Charles Wiley presented a proposed plan for a space on the campus to be used for band concerts and marching. The proposed site is near the Textile building. This plan includes the building of a platform from which to present concerts. Funds for this project are proposed to come from the student activity fee. The council referred this proposal to the Student committee investigating the Student Allotment fund.

Request of the Home Economics division presented at the preceding council meeting that they be allowed to have a publication circulated to advertise their division, the funds for which will come from the student activity fee, was still undecided pending further investigation of the committee appointed for that purpose.

Just like English, Chinese has punctuation marks," Dr. Ling, Research Fellow in Child Development, reminds students in her basic Chinese class.

The class is made up of a cross-section of people including a physician, three lieutenants, wives of two of them, a sergeant, and five college students. They are learning a fundamental speaking and writing vocabulary that will give them a basic knowledge of the language. Actually, they learn 206 characters, however, combinations of these increase their vocabulary.

Students find the characters odd at first because they often look like the objects they denote. Dr. Ling encourages them in attaching words to any familiar object. For example, the word for wheat looks much like a growing wheat stalk. Put this character with one meaning parcel or package and you have the word "parcel."

"Chicken" in Chinese looks much like chicken coming toward you. The word cream is made up of two characters meaning milk and skin or fur. Since cream can be thought of as a skin on milk, its deviation is easily traced.

Dr. Ling feels that her class has made definite progress. She gave them an examination recently about which she remarked, "Some can write as many as 80 per cent, while others know only about 30 per cent." She says they "coin" many words and phrases in their first attempts to write. However, this is natural since it is much harder to write than to understand. Comprehension comes first, then the ability to pronounce and write comes, she says. If her class will learn the roots of the words well in their basic course advanced study will not be too difficult.

Dr. Ling originally had no intention of teaching Chinese, she said. However, the officer who was head of the induction station here in Lubbock was very interested in studying the language and persuaded her to start teaching it last spring.

She feels that this will definitely be helpful to boys and girls who might be in China during the war or after the war. A basic knowledge of the language would be quite an asset.

She plans to start another basic class later in the spring. She divides her course into introductory and basic, each six weeks in length. This is to accommodate students and army personnel who are never sure how long they will be here.

L. D. Simpson, former student in the agricultural division wrote an item on conservation farming for the "Tuscaloosa News," Tuscaloosa, Georgia, February 24.

Charles Senning, president of the Matador band, with he is the co-musical director with Charles Wiley, director of the Matador band.

Senning filled the vacancy of Robert Dorrough, who has left school. Casting for the show will be Sunday, March 21. Tryouts for the musical or dancing positions of the show will meet in the band room. Those seeking the dramatic roles will tryout in room 220 of the Administration building.

Vester Lee Smith, student representative to the College Chapel committee, explained a proposed plan of this committee to build a chapel on the campus, and asked the aid of the Student council.

The council tabled this motion until a future date, pending information concerning the cost and other problems involved.

Charles Wiley presented a proposed plan for a space on the campus to be used for band concerts and marching. The proposed site is near the Textile building. This plan includes the building of a platform from which to present concerts. Funds for this project are proposed to come from the student activity fee. The council referred this proposal to the Student committee investigating the Student Allotment fund.

Request of the Home Economics division presented at the preceding council meeting that they be allowed to have a publication circulated to advertise their division, the funds for which will come from the student activity fee, was still undecided pending further investigation of the committee appointed for that purpose.

Just like English, Chinese has punctuation marks," Dr. Ling, Research Fellow in Child Development, reminds students in her basic Chinese class.

The class is made up of a cross-section of people including a physician, three lieutenants, wives of two of them, a sergeant, and five college students. They are learning a fundamental speaking and writing vocabulary that will give them a basic knowledge of the language. Actually, they learn 206 characters, however, combinations of these increase their vocabulary.

Students find the characters odd at first because they often look like the objects they denote. Dr. Ling encourages them in attaching words to any familiar object. For example, the word for wheat looks much like a growing wheat stalk. Put this character with one meaning parcel or package and you have the word "parcel."

"Chicken" in Chinese looks much like chicken coming toward you. The word cream is made up of two characters meaning milk and skin or fur. Since cream can be thought of as a skin on milk, its deviation is easily traced.

Dr. Ling feels that her class has made definite progress. She gave them an examination recently about which she remarked, "Some can write as many as 80 per cent, while others know only about 30 per cent." She says they "coin" many words and phrases in their first attempts to write. However, this is natural since it is much harder to write than to understand. Comprehension comes first, then the ability to pronounce and write comes, she says. If her class will learn the roots of the words well in their basic course advanced study will not be too difficult.

Dr. Ling originally had no intention of teaching Chinese, she said. However, the officer who was head of the induction station here in Lubbock was very interested in studying the language and persuaded her to start teaching it last spring.

She feels that this will definitely be helpful to boys and girls who might be in China during the war or after the war. A basic knowledge of the language would be quite an asset.

She plans to start another basic class later in the spring. She divides her course into introductory and basic, each six weeks in length. This is to accommodate students and army personnel who are never sure how long they will be here.

L. D. Simpson, former student in the agricultural division wrote an item on conservation farming for the "Tuscaloosa News," Tuscaloosa, Georgia, February 24.

Charles Senning, president of the Matador band, with he is the co-musical director with Charles Wiley, director of the Matador band.

Senning filled the vacancy of Robert Dorrough, who has left school. Casting for the show will be Sunday, March 21. Tryouts for the musical or dancing positions of the show will meet in the band room. Those seeking the dramatic roles will tryout in room 220 of the Administration building.

Vester Lee Smith, student representative to the College Chapel committee, explained a proposed plan of this committee to build a chapel on the campus, and asked the aid of the Student council.

The council tabled this motion until a future date, pending information concerning the cost and other problems involved.

Charles Wiley presented a proposed plan for a space on the campus to be used for band concerts and marching. The proposed site is near the Textile building. This plan includes the building of a platform from which to present concerts. Funds for this project are proposed to come from the student activity fee. The council referred this proposal to the Student committee investigating the Student Allotment fund.

Request of the Home Economics division presented at the preceding council meeting that they be allowed to have a publication circulated to advertise their division, the funds for which will come from the student activity fee, was still undecided pending further investigation of the committee appointed for that purpose.

Just like English, Chinese has punctuation marks," Dr. Ling, Research Fellow in Child Development, reminds students in her basic Chinese class.

The class is made up of a cross-section of people including a physician, three lieutenants, wives of two of them, a sergeant, and five college students. They are learning a fundamental speaking and writing vocabulary that will give them a basic knowledge of the language. Actually, they learn 206 characters, however, combinations of these increase their vocabulary.

Students find the characters odd at first because they often look like the objects they denote. Dr. Ling encourages them in attaching words to any familiar object. For example, the word for wheat looks much like a growing wheat stalk. Put this character with one meaning parcel or package and you have the word "parcel."

"Chicken" in Chinese looks much like chicken coming toward you. The word cream is made up of two characters meaning milk and skin or fur. Since cream can be thought of as a skin on milk, its deviation is easily traced.

Dr. Ling feels that her class has made definite progress. She gave them an examination recently about which she remarked, "Some can write as many as 80 per cent, while others know only about 30 per cent." She says they "coin" many words and phrases in their first attempts to write. However, this is natural since it is much harder to write than to understand. Comprehension comes first, then the ability to pronounce and write comes, she says. If her class will learn the roots of the words well in their basic course advanced study will not be too difficult.

Dr. Ling originally had no intention of teaching Chinese, she said. However, the officer who was head of the induction station here in Lubbock was very interested in studying the language and persuaded her to start teaching it last spring.

She feels that this will definitely be helpful to boys and girls who might be in China during the war or after the war. A basic knowledge of the language would be quite an asset.

She plans to start another basic class later in the spring. She divides her course into introductory and basic, each six weeks in length. This is to accommodate students and army personnel who are never sure how long they will be here.

L. D. Simpson, former student in the agricultural division wrote an item on conservation farming for the "Tuscaloosa News," Tuscaloosa, Georgia, February 24.

Charles Senning, president of the Matador band, with he is the co-musical director with Charles Wiley, director of the Matador band.

Senning filled the vacancy of Robert Dorrough, who has left school. Casting for the show will be Sunday, March 21. Tryouts for the musical or dancing positions of the show will meet in the band room. Those seeking the dramatic roles will tryout in room 220 of the Administration building.

Vester Lee Smith, student representative to the College Chapel committee, explained a proposed plan of this committee to build a chapel on the campus, and asked the aid of the Student council.

The council tabled this motion until a future date, pending information concerning the cost and other problems involved.

Charles Wiley presented a proposed plan for a space on the campus to be used for band concerts and marching. The proposed site is near the Textile building. This plan includes the building of a platform from which to present concerts. Funds for this project are proposed to come from the student activity fee. The council referred this proposal to the Student committee investigating the Student Allotment fund.

Request of the Home Economics division presented at the preceding council meeting that they be allowed to have a publication circulated to advertise their division, the funds for which will come from the student activity fee, was still undecided pending further investigation of the committee appointed for that purpose.

Just like English, Chinese has punctuation marks," Dr. Ling, Research Fellow in Child Development, reminds students in her basic Chinese class.

The class is made up of a cross-section of people including a physician, three lieutenants, wives of two of them, a sergeant, and five college students. They are learning a fundamental speaking and writing vocabulary that will give them a basic knowledge of the language. Actually, they learn 206 characters, however, combinations of these increase their vocabulary.

Students find the characters odd at first because they often look like the objects they denote. Dr. Ling encourages them in attaching words to any familiar object. For example, the word for wheat looks much like a growing wheat stalk. Put this character with one meaning parcel or package and you have the word "parcel."

"Chicken" in Chinese looks much like chicken coming toward you. The word cream is made up of two characters meaning milk and skin or fur. Since cream can be thought of as a skin on milk, its deviation is easily traced.

Dr. Ling feels that her class has made definite progress. She gave them an examination recently about which she remarked, "Some can write as many as 80 per cent, while others know only about 30 per cent." She says they "coin" many words and phrases in their first attempts to write. However, this is natural since it is much harder to write than to understand. Comprehension comes first, then the ability to pronounce and write comes, she says. If her class will learn the roots of the words well in their basic course advanced study will not be too difficult.

Dr. Ling originally had no intention of teaching Chinese, she said. However, the officer who was head of the induction station here in Lubbock was very interested in studying the language and persuaded her to start teaching it last spring.

She feels that this will definitely be helpful to boys and girls who might be in China during the war or after the war. A basic knowledge of the language would be quite an asset.

She plans to start another basic class later in the spring. She divides her course into introductory and basic, each six weeks in length. This is to accommodate students and army personnel who are never sure how long they will be here.

L. D. Simpson, former student in the agricultural division wrote an item on conservation farming for the "Tuscaloosa News," Tuscaloosa, Georgia, February 24.

Charles Senning, president of the Matador band, with he is the co-musical director with Charles Wiley, director of the Matador band.

Senning filled the vacancy of Robert Dorrough, who has left school. Casting for the show will be Sunday, March 21. Tryouts for the musical or dancing positions of the show will meet in the band room. Those seeking the dramatic roles will tryout in room 220 of the Administration building.

Vester Lee Smith, student representative to the College Chapel committee, explained a proposed plan of this committee to build a chapel on the campus, and asked the aid of the Student council.

The council tabled this motion until a future date, pending information concerning the cost and other problems involved.

Charles Wiley presented a proposed plan for a space on the campus to be used for band concerts and marching. The proposed site is near the Textile building. This plan includes the building of a platform from which to present concerts. Funds for this project are proposed to come from the student activity fee. The council referred this proposal to the Student committee investigating the Student Allotment fund.

Request of the Home Economics division presented at the preceding council meeting that they be allowed to have a publication circulated to advertise their division, the funds for which will come from the student activity fee, was still undecided pending further investigation of the committee appointed for that purpose.

Just like English, Chinese has punctuation marks," Dr. Ling, Research Fellow in Child Development, reminds students in her basic Chinese class.

The class is made up of a cross-section of people including a physician, three lieutenants, wives of two of them, a sergeant, and five college students. They are learning a fundamental speaking and writing vocabulary that will give them a basic knowledge of the language. Actually, they learn 206 characters, however, combinations of these increase their vocabulary.

Students find the characters odd at first because they often look like the objects they denote. Dr. Ling encourages them in attaching words to any familiar object. For example, the word for wheat looks much like a growing wheat stalk. Put this character with one meaning parcel or package and you have the word "parcel."

"Chicken" in Chinese looks much like chicken coming toward you. The word cream is made up of two characters meaning milk and skin or fur. Since cream can be thought of as a skin on milk, its deviation is easily traced.

Dr. Ling feels that her class has made definite progress. She gave them an examination recently about which she remarked, "Some can write as many as 80 per cent, while others know only about 30 per cent." She says they "coin" many words and phrases in their first attempts to write. However, this is natural since it is much harder to write than to understand. Comprehension comes first, then the ability to pronounce and write comes, she says. If her class will learn the roots of the words well in their basic course advanced study will not be too difficult.

Dr. Ling originally had no intention of teaching Chinese, she said. However, the officer who was head of the induction station here in Lubbock was very interested in studying the language and persuaded her to start teaching it last spring.

She feels that this will definitely be helpful to boys and girls who might be in China during the war or after the war. A basic knowledge of the language would be quite an asset.

She plans to start another basic class later in the spring. She divides her course into introductory and basic, each six weeks in length. This is to accommodate students and army personnel who are never sure how long they will be here.

L. D. Simpson, former student in the agricultural division wrote an item on conservation farming for the "Tuscaloosa News," Tuscaloosa, Georgia, February 24.

Charles Senning, president of the Matador band, with he is the co-musical director with Charles Wiley, director of the Matador band.

Senning filled the vacancy of Robert Dorrough, who has left school. Casting for the show will be Sunday, March 21. Tryouts for the musical or dancing positions of the show will meet in the band room. Those seeking the dramatic roles will tryout in room 220 of the Administration building.

Vester Lee Smith, student representative to the College Chapel committee, explained a proposed plan of this committee to build a chapel on the campus, and asked the aid of the Student council.

Red Raider Gridiron Team To See Action During 43 Football As Usual Unless Changes

Morganmen Slated To Begin Spring Training On April 5

TEXAS TECH is planning at this time to continue football for the next year. A squad of about 27 players will report April 5 for spring practice which will last a month as prescribed by conference rules.

The stadium will not be used by the Army after 4:30 in the afternoons, thus the squad will probably practice from 4:30 until 6:30 every evening. To date the only team that has been dropped from Tech's schedule are the Canyon Buffaloes. That school will discontinue all varsity athletics for the duration. The hole made by Canyon in Tech's schedule will be filled with some service team as will be the one coming October 2.

Last year at this time Tech fans were looking forward to one of Tech's best years on the gridiron. Naturally when Tech came to the end of their season with four wins, five defeats and one tie the fans were a little disappointed.

This year due to transportation difficulties the usual game with Creighton will not be played but a game with Tulsa University will be substituted. Again this year Tech will play a number of the Southwest Conference teams.

This spring offers no better gleam of hope in the fans' minds as Tech's roster is filled with a large number of reserves in the armed services. To date the Tech squad has not lost too many important players to that source, but a good many of them keep their suitcases packed and are ready to go at a moment's notice. Most of Dell Morgan's squad feel that they will be called before the season gets underway. At present the squad consists of last year's varsity team, eight men from the freshman squad, and six new men who have just enrolled in the college this semester.

The holdovers include: J. R. Callahan, Harold Crossen, Ralph Geddie, Jimmy Jay, Roy Williams, "Buck" Gillenwater, L. A. Storrs, Clyde Hall, Garland Head, James Reed, Dick Standefer, Walter Schlinkman and Billy Hale.

From the frosh squad: Roland Nabors, all-state center at Lubbock; William Banks, promising end from Vernon; Marvin Zoller, lineman from Van; Buster Melton, halfback from Merkel; Gus Gallagher, ex-Breckenridge line star; Joe Rushing, speedy quarterback from Floydada; Ralph Earhart, halfback from Lefors, and J. D. Milner, ex-Lubbock lineman.

The newcomers are: J. E. Braxton and Russell Birdwell, transfers from Mississippi Junior colleges; Gerald Crossen, end from Dallas; Dick Tadlock, end from Amarillo; Doug McCurry, Lubbock halfback; and Deverelle Lewis, all-district halfback from Brownfield.

The 1943 schedule includes: Saturday, September 25, Oklahoma A&M at Oklahoma City; Saturday, October 2, Open for home game; Saturday, October 9, Tulsa University at Tulsa

Saturday, October 16, Baylor U. Here

Saturday, October 30, New Mexico U. Here

Saturday, October 30, Rice Institute at Houston

Saturday, November 6, TCU at Ft. Worth

Saturday, November 13, Open

Saturday, November 20, Arizona University at Lubbock

Saturday, November 27, Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene

Saturday, December 4, Texas A. & M. at San Antonio

Jimmy Collins Died Last Week

Jimmy Collins, 73, one of the best loved and most colorful characters in the history of baseball, was buried at his home in Buffalo, N. Y., last Tuesday.

His death came at the same time a movement was being started to place his name in the Coopers-town baseball of fame. He was nominated for the honor in 1935 but was edged out by a small majority.

Collins managed the 1903 Boston Red Sox, first team to win a world series. He created the bunt defense and was the first man to play off third base. He was noted during his career for his courage.

In 1898, with the Boston Braves, he clouted out 15 homers to lead the national loop. He played 19 years in professional baseball, 13 of them in the major leagues. He had a lifetime batting average of .296 and a fielding average of .929.

The Centaurs now hold the Men's Inter-Club Council Scholarship plaque. They were presented with the plaque at a smoker of the men's clubs last semester. They won the plaque with a grade point average of 1.63 in the spring of '42 and were presented with the honor of the following semester which is the custom.

It was previously announced that the Socius won the plaque in the spring of '42, but a recheck showed the Centaurs as the winners. The Socius were possessors of the plaque in the spring of '42 having made the highest average in the fall of '41.

The winner of the plaque for the fall semester of '42 will be announced at a men's smoker in the near future and will be presented with the plaque.

STARS IN SERVICE

STRIKE OUT THE AXIS!

INVEST 10% OF YOUR INCOME IN WAR BONDS

WSS 718 A

U. S. Treasury Dept.

Texas Christian Begins Practice For 1943 Season

Thirty-six Horned Frogs reported to Coach Dutch Meyer, of Texas Christian University, this week and spring football at TCU.

The sudden cold snap that hit Texas during the early part of the week held the team indoors Tuesday, but peped the men up for coming drills. All are anxious to don football togs again.

Harold Bierman and Jack Williams dropped from school before training opened. Three other boys who are expected to miss spring practice are Van Hall, Donald Chandler, and Punk Smith.

Hall and Chandler are now moving about on crutches due to broken bones, while Smith is held back with an injured shoulder.

The present squad is divided into fourteen backs, fourteen linemen, two centers and six ends. Lettermen Don Ezell and John Bond have shifted into the backfield.

Tech fans who witnessed the upset the Raiders handed the Frogs last fall will remember these two very well. Ezell was one of the Christians' outstanding players on that day.

Co-captain Bob McCollum may be used by Meyer to call signals from the fullback post.

David Bloxum and Pat Wright, freshmen backs, have been shifted to end.

Paul Admire has been transferred from end to guard position. Several other changes have been made in the line. Midyear student Keith Curry, a back, has been shifted into the forward wall.

Derrill Palmer, former All-American center of the Frog Eleven, will aid Coach Hub McQuillan with the linemen. Meyer has charge of the backs, as well as being head coach

Longhorn Golfers Begin Workouts

Coach Harvey Penick of the University of Texas has issued the call for golfers for spring. With golf qualifying rounds that started yesterday and will continue Monday, the Coach is on the lookout for prospective Longhorn linksmen.

The qualifying rounds are being played for the purpose of determining the men who will fill the six key positions on the golf squad. Competition in the matches are keen with eight golfers starting.

Billy Russell, Southwest Conference champion, Bill Roden, Claude Wild, Jr., Tyrrell Garth, Jimmy Moore, Herb Neyand, Herb Reid and football letterman Zuehl Conroy round out the list of competing golfers who are participating in the two-day qualifying rounds.

Coach Penick believes he has the best players in the conference and says that "they should win it easily."

Golfers are now preparing themselves for the conference meet which will be held in Houston May 12-14. The meet, originally scheduled to be held at College Station, home of the Texas Aggies, has been changed to Houston to afford more space for the competitors.

Texas Longhorns Begin Drill For National Court Tourney

Gilstrap's Team But Three Games Away From Title

National Collegiate Champ To Be Decided In Kansas City Meet

Billy Gilstrap's Longhorns are only three games away from the National Collegiate Basketball championship.

Intense practice started Monday for the squad as they prepare for play in the Western division of the NCAA tournament which begins in Kansas City, March 26.

Workouts for the week will be short and snappy, with the hard work scheduled for next week, just before the team leaves the campus for the Kansas City basketball boards. Getting up a little sweat in the abbreviated practice drills, the team will concentrate mostly on shooting baskets this of the Ft. Worth eleven. The spring grind will last thirty days. These will be consecutive in accordance with conference rules.

next week while they recuperate from the last stretch drive for the championship tie with Rice in the Southwest Conference.

Now that the pressure is all off, Coach Gilstrap promises to "shoot the works." This post-season schedule can potentially add to the basketball glory of the team, but the Southwest Conference situation is taken care of, which is of the most interest to local fans and other Texas schools.

About a week before this tourney is scheduled to take place, the Rice Owls, co-champion of the Southwest Conference, go to Madison Square Garden to participate in the New York invitational tournament.

Competition for the Western division of the NCAA is shaping up, with Wyoming and Texas ready to go. Of the other two teams to take part in the tourney, one will be either Southern California or the University of Washington. The participant will be determined after a game this week.

Kansas may be unable to take part in the tourney since the squad lost nine men recently to the arm services. If Kansas does not go, runner-up Oklahoma may take part, depending on whether or not they defeat Oklahoma A&M this week-end. To round out the three-team possibility, the Oklahoma Aggies may go if they defeat the Sooners.

With four teams in the Western division, Texas must win only two games to become Western champion.

Texas participated in a National Collegiate tourney only once before, in 1939, when Coach Jack Gray took his Southwest Conference champions out to San Francisco, where they were defeated by Oregon in the first round.

If the Longhorns should win at Kansas City, they will go to New York to battle the Eastern champion. Teams that are considered really strong contenders for the Eastern title are Dartmouth, Fardham, Illinois, and George Washington University. With cage experts, Dartmouth rates somewhat as favorite.

Canyon Athletes Forget Sports; Have Campus Jobs

Athletes and students at West Texas State have drawn the curtains on inter-collegiate athletics and turned their attention to school work and campus jobs. Since they have dropped inter-collegiate athletics for the duration, a ban has been placed on spring training in every sport.

Members of the athletic teams will take campus jobs. Some of them will be put to work re-decorating the interior of Buffalo Courts and finishing the two rooms on the lower floor of the recreation hall.

Bryant's Taxi
Dial 5711 Dial
All New Cars
RENT-A-CAR
DRIVE IT YOURSELF
1110 Ave. J
Sub-Station—College Ave. Drug

College Cafe
SPECIAL STEAKS AND DINNERS
1105 College Dial 2-9073

Lunch time refreshment
DRINK Coca-Cola 5¢
TRADE-MARK

BETTY JANE HESS

Betty Jane Hess, one of New York's best known models, will shortly leave for Hollywood to appear in "Cover Girls of 1942," Columbia's new picture. Betty Jane, shown above with flowers telegraphed from Ireland by her soldier-sweetheart, was chosen as the cover girl for Cosmopolitan Magazine and is now discussing contracts with the picture moguls.

Dr. A. H. Rogers
DENTIST

2318 Broadway
Lubbock, Texas

$$ Money to Loan $$
On Watches, Diamonds, Jewelry, Typewriters, or anything of value

Gem Loan & Jewelry Co.
1208 Broadway

Haircuts 40c
We Appreciate Your Business
Haynie Barber Shop
1311 College Ave.

DIAL
7474

Rent A Car—Drive It Yourself

ALL OVER THE WORLD
America's 900,000 aviation workers combine their skill and experience to satisfy today's demand for vital war necessities. Thanks to our airplane makers, ground crews and pilots like Capt. Haakon Gulbrandsen (shown here), of Pan American Airways, needed supplies are flown to our fighting men all over the world.

ALL OVER THE WORLD
Chesterfields Satisfy with their
MILDER BETTER TASTE

Action shots, news pictures and on-the-spot reports show that cigarettes are mighty important to the men in the Service.

That's why billions of MILDER, BETTER-TASTING Chesterfields are being shipped by train and truck and ship and plane to every corner of the globe.

Their right combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos gives smokers everything that makes smoking more pleasure.

THE CIGARETTE THAT GIVES SMOKERS WHAT THEY WANT

BACK UP THE MAN IN UNIFORM
BUY WAR BONDS
WRITE LETTERS

Copyright 1943, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Pacific Green • Campus Blue • Beige

Beige

Spring's in Swing!

with "Chum Sets"

of 100% virgin wool. Dyed to mix or match in the colors as listed on the border.

Cardigan 6.95
Slip-over 5.95
Skirt 7.95

Hemphill-Wells Co.

Melon Red • Beige • Pacific Green

Private

(continued from Page 1)

The trial judge advocate misplaced one of his witnesses and in the middle of the trial had to ask for a recess in order to get his offense back in order.

A bartender was secured who nearly broke up the trial by saying that the accused refused to pay his bill and then threw a beer bottle at him. In fact the audience kept the President of the Court rapping his table for silence.

The prosecution called Captain Alters to the stand.

Q. Give your name, rank and organization.

A. Captain Alters, 145 Coast Artillery, Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Q. Do you recognize the accused?

A. Yes, he is in my company.

Q. Has he been present at all times when required during the past year?

A. Yes, but late.

Q. Was he a good soldier?

A. No! He was antagonistic, and was not cooperative. He had no serious offenses, but was continually called down for bad conduct.

Q. Why did you refuse him a pass, when he asked to leave the grounds?

A. Because he hadn't shaved in two weeks and he hadn't been on time to formation in as long a time.

Q. The defense asked one question of the Captain, then retired, but objected to the prosecution's line of questioning on the grounds that the man's previous conduct had nothing to do with the case.

The prosecution called first sergeant Acton to the stand.

Q. Has the accused been present at all times?

A. Yes, all except for the last two months.

Q. Is the accused a good soldier?

The defense objected again that this was irrelevant to the case. The objection was overruled.

A. No.

Q. Is the accused always dressed properly when attending formation?

A. No! Private Rowland takes a very sloppy attitude and is always late to any formation.

Q. Did the Captain issue any orders concerning the accused?

A. Yes, he said that the accused was to receive no passes until he became a better soldier.

Q. Was this an oral order?

A. Yes, that is customary.

Q. What was the accused's attitude about being refused a pass?

A. He was indignant and said he was being treated wrong.

DEFENSE

Q. Did he see you to obtain a pass?

A. Yes!

Q. Was it granted?

A. No!

PROSECUTION

Q. Did the accused say anything while leaving the room?

A. I heard him muttering that he was going to quit the army and get a job.

The prosecution called an M. P. to the stand, Ted Shaikewitz.

Q. Were you on duty in Raleigh on or about the night of Feb. 21, 1943?

A. Yes.

Q. Describe the action that took place that night at Pop's cafe.

A. There was a disturbance; we were summoned to the spot and the prisoner was turned over to us by civilian police.

Q. What was their charge against the accused?

A. Intoxication.

Q. Did he make any remark on being caught?

A. He said when we got to the guard house: "If I hadn't been drunk the army never would have caught me."

DEFENSE

Q. Is Raleigh a wet town?

A. Yes.

The prosecution submitted to the court an exhibition "A" the morning reports which showed that Private Rowland had been absent for more than 30 days. In testimony the Captain stated that it was customary to carry a man for 30 days before dropping him for desertion. The morning reports were accepted by the defense.

The prosecution called Mr. J. L. Guantt to the stand.

Q. Give your name, address and occupation to the court.

A. J. L. Gauntt, 1215 Wood St., Raleigh, N. C. and personnel director of the We Stretchum Rubber Company.

Q. What are your duties?

A. Interview applicants for our company.

Q. Have you ever seen the accused before?

A. Yes, he was in my office on the 29th of December.

Q. What was he doing?

A. Applying for a job.

Q. Was the accused in uniform?

A. No.

Q. Was the accused intoxicated while in your office?

A. It is no habit of mine to go around smelling people's breath; however, he had full command of his senses.

PROSECUTION

Q. Do you drink.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you lose all senses after one drink?

A. The defense objected on the grounds of irrelevant material, and the court upheld the objec-

New Members Of Las Vivarachas Honored Last Eve

Hilton Hotel Dance Presents 20 Girls To Guests, Members

LAS VIVARACHAS last night honored twenty new members at their presentation dance in the ballroom of the Hilton hotel. The girls were presented from a revolving stage framed by white drapes. In the center of the stage was a partition on each side of which was a huge mirror and dressing table decorated in white and topped with glistening perfume bottles. As the stage revolved each presentee was revealed sitting before the mirror. She descended white covered stairs to meet her escort.

Jack York played for the annual affair.

Presentees and their escorts were:

Colleen Allen Johnny Collier
Sara Anderson Thurman Pinkerton
Erma Baugh Hugh English
Jerry Blundell Paul Nail
Betty Louise Colbert Billy Boston
Sarah Davidson Reverdie Ater
Rachel Ireland John Joe Kirchoff
Alice Johnson Pete Bentley
Marcelle Lambert Brad Gilbert
Audrey Melton George Richards
Lucille Melton Bill Copenhagen
Mary Jeanne Miller Tom Moore
Earlaine Moore Jack Terrell
Josephine Meyers Norman Williams
Mary McKenney Homer Echols
Maxine Poe Dean Redus
Corinne Scroggins El Kline
Sara Scroggins Norvell Jefferies
Jean Sherwood Kenneth Halbert
Jo Hal Wofford Tommy Connelly

Members and their dates were:

Winifred Woods Bill Garrison
La Verne Allen Bill Thurman
Ebel Burns Hall Robertson
Jo Nell Cox Welson Christian
Annah Katherine Davenport Rogers Lindsey
Jenn Etta Dodge Houston Schweitzer
Helen Duff Raymond Pillar
Dorothy DuLaney Bowen DuLaney
Annis Durham Robert Cotton Allen
Dorothy Lou Emmitt Willis Carson
Betty McCoy Bert Coffield
Mary Jo Ryan Jerry Nash
Bertie Jo Shell Robert Wier

Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. James G. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. S. S. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Clark H. Schooley, Mrs. Eleanor M. Chitwood, Dr. and Mrs. Earnest Wallace and Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Eaves. Patronesses and alumnae of Las Vivarachas were guests at the presentation.

Buie Visits Campus During Week-End; Is Now Captain

Ex-Tech student John Buie, from Corsicana, visited the campus over the week-end. He is now a Captain in the Army Air Corps.

While in Tech Buie studied mechanical engineering and was in the ROTC unit. In his sophomore year, John left school to join the Air Forces in 1940.

Since leaving Tech, John has served at Pearl Harbor, participated in the raids on Midway, the Solomons and New Guinea. He pilots a B-27 and has received the distinguished Flying Cross.

New officers for Gargoyle for this semester were elected recently. They are: president, Hugh English; vice president, Bob Perryman; secretary-treasurer, Junius Young; and reporter, Pat Baker.

Lt. Herndon was stopped cold just as he was about to get off on an interesting tangent.

The prosecution called its last witness to the stand, J. A. Hall, bartender.

Q. Have you ever seen the accused?

Yes.

Q. Was he in the uniform of the United States Army?

A. Yes.

Q. What were the circumstances?

A. He had been in the cafe about two hours. I asked him for payment of some drinks. He replied, "hell, no" then threw a beer bottle at me. That's the reason that I remember him.

Tech Rifles Win Firing Match In Staff Contest

The Texas Tech rifle squad was victorious in its first shoulder-to-shoulder match fired this week against the military department staff. The score was 634 to 1591.

The staff offered the excuse that it had been several years since some of them had fired a shot, whereas the squad has been practicing every day for months. The staff did fairly well however, when it came out only 43 points behind the students.

The rifle squad has sent in its score to the Eighth Service Command, and members were not proud of the score that they had to send in. The results of the competition will not be known for some time after the squads have sent in their scores. Tech sent in the unimpressive score of 840 for five men. It was accumulated as follows:

Williams 49 46 44 35 174
Fisher 48 44 39 35 166
Skinner 48 44 40 39 174
Neel 45 47 42 22 150
Coffee 48 46 44 38 176

Totals 238 224 209 169 840

Tannahill fired extra and his score was not counted along with the other scores.

P is firing prone, S is sitting, K is kneeling, St is standing, and TP is the total points for each man.

Knudson Receives Naval Promotion

Lieutenant Elmo M. Knudson, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Knudson has been promoted from lieutenant (junior grade) to full lieutenant, as of March 1, the Navy announced today.

Lieutenant Knudson, a native of Clifton, was engaged in engineering work at the Panama Canal and in South America prior to entering upon active duty with the Naval Reserve April 15, 1942.

He attended public schools in Clifton and is a graduate of Texas Tech.

He is at present on duty in the Sixth Naval District of which Charleston, S. C., is headquarters.

Dr. Moore To Be Lecturer At Women's Forum Sunday

Dr. Bernice Moore, consulting sociologist, connected with the Hogg Foundation, will speak to Forum from two to three Sunday afternoon in Annex G of the Home Economics building. Her subject will be "Emotional Climate of our Times."

Dr. Moore is here from the University of Texas delivering a series of lectures.

All women students may attend Forum.

Herd And Cross Represent Tech At Science Academy

Dean M. Earl Herd and Professor Hollie Cross of Philadelphia Textile school have been selected by President Clifford B. Jones to represent Texas Tech at the 47th annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science to be held in Philadelphia, April 9 and 10.

Sock And Buskin Try-Outs Will Be Held Tuesday

Sock and Buskin try-outs for those signed up to become members are to be held Tuesday night at the regular meeting. Eleven students have applied for membership and before becoming members must present speeches before a judging committee.

For the first time this semester prospective members are presenting their speeches before the whole club instead of the judging committee only.

Scarrit College for Christian Workers at Nashville, Tenn., is now granting a limited number of fellowships to young women with personality, character and religious interest essential to the service. Those interested should apply prior to April 15 to President J. L. Cunningham, Scarrit College for Christian Workers.

Coed's Corner—

Aussie Girls Wear More Makeup Than Americans

—By Kara Hunsucker

BENEATH the roar of shell-fire and the clank of warfare in the Tunisian skies, amid the rumble of tanks and constant thundering from hand grenades and rifles, lies an American soldier, wounded and unable to carry on his valiant fight. Then, almost as suddenly as it began, the firing ceases, and a momentary peace reigns over the North African countryside. The Nazi horde is retreating, but behind it leaves fallen Americans on the battlefield.

Immediately the mobile first-aid units of the American Red Cross arrive. The wounded soldier, perhaps a former Tech student, is carefully laid on a stretcher. The minor wounds are dressed and he is then conveyed to a field hospital where he regains his strength with the help of blood plasma donated by a loyal American on the home-front. Yes, the Tunisian battlefield runs red with the life-blood of American youth; that blood must be replaced.

The American Red Cross is asking the people of the United States to help with its all-important war fund drive. It is asking that each student at Texas Tech donate at least 50 cents. During the first two days of the drive on this campus, some students responded, but only $478 was raised, less than half of the Tech quota. Today is the last day that an active campaign is being waged on the campus.

In addition to maintaining "blood banks" and providing surgical dressings for wounded soldiers, the Red Cross performs a multitude of other duties. It helps service men to obtain emergency leaves from army camps, gives them an American home abroad in the form of recreation centers, cares for wounded civilians in bombed areas, sends mercy ships to the starving people of Greece, helps families at home to obtain the address of their sons and husbands, and strengthens the home-front by conducting nutrition classes, home nursing and first aid courses.

Is fifty cents too much to ask of each student for an organization whose symbol, the red cross, is a symbol of hope and relief for thousands? Is fifty cents too large a sacrifice?

Are the hot irons ready? "Yes, master, red hot!" "Is the oil boiling?" "Yes, master, searing!"

"Is the victim tied securely in the massive chair?" "Yes, master, she cannot move!" "Has the shroud been placed over her little figure?" "O. K., then . . . give her the $3 permanent."

"The muchly publicized Aussie girls wear a good deal more makeup than Americans," says Lieut. Don Miller, former Techman, who's home on leave from action "down under." In addition, he stated, the Australian girls are "more friendly" than the gals back home and will whistle at American soldiers from across the street.

Cotton Seed Value Will Be Compared To Peanut Meal

An experiment to compare the value of cotton seed and peanut meal as feed for cattle will enter its second phase Sunday when stocker calves will be placed in fattening pens. Under the supervision of the animal husbandry department, four lots of stocker calves will be divided into two pens for fattening.

Of the four lots of calves, one pen was wintered on 21 acres of unharvested milo. After the animals are placed in fattening pens, they will remain there from 90 to 100 days. Each pen will have access to different types of feed.

A meeting of the county agents in this district will be held at the college farm Wednesday afternoon, March 17. At this conference results of the research feeding by the Tech animal husbandry department will be discussed.

LOST!

Bright Red Wool Scarf
Reward
Contact Anna Jo Pendleton
Tech College

DO YOU DIG IT?

Submitted by David P. Billings, University of California

"DON'T BE A DUCK, CLUCK—LET'S COUNTER-ATTACK THE PILL-BOX AND BARK DOWN A COUPLA HOT WOOFERS WITH PEPSI-COLA"

SEND US YOUR SLANG AND GET $10 IF WE USE IT
Address: College Dept., Pepsi-Cola Co., Long Island City, N. Y.

Pepsi-Cola Company, Long Island City, N.Y. Bottled locally by Franchised Bottlers.

GREETING CARDS For All Occasions

Varsity BOOKSTORE

COCANOUGH'S CAFETERIA

SENIORS!

Order Your Class Ring Now!

We're Still Able To Guarantee Delivery. How Long We Don't Know We Urge You Not to Delay

Prices Start at $14.25—Subject to Federal Tax

Texas Tech College BOOKSTORE

"On the Campus"

It's Deliciously Different

At

CLOVERLAKE

1210 Ave. Q 1309 College