

Eleven Finalists Eye Queen's Throne

Preliminary voting Wednesday revealed 11 Tech coeds as finalists for 1960 Homecoming queen.

Announced late Friday by the Student Council, final candidates are Carolyn Calvert, Janice Cobb, Pepper Connelley, Ann Fursman, Judy Jenson, Janis Jones, Beth O'Quinn, Beverly Quintanilla, Shirley Stephens, Joyce Tallman and Karen Wright.

Queen and four attendants will be elected in an all-campus vote Wednesday. Four ballot boxes will be set up in locations to be announced later. Final count will be tabulated by the Council of Deans.

Sponsored by Panhellenic and Phi Gamma Delta, Miss Calvert is a La Ventana Beauty. Miss Cobb, a Gamma Phi Beta, is sponsored by the Baptist Student Union. A Pi Beta Phi, Miss Connelley is sponsored by the Aggie Club.

Kappa Alpha Theta's entry, Miss Fursman, is vice president of her sorority and AWS president. Miss Jones was entered by Kappa Gamma. She is secretary of the Student Assn. and was a 1959 Homecoming queen finalist.

Miss Jenson is a member of Angel Flight and is sponsored by the marching group. A cheerleader and Alpha Chi Omega, Miss O'Quinn is Pi Kappa Alpha's candidate.

Men's 8 entered Miss Quintanilla, a Zeta Tau Alpha and 1960 Miss Mademoiselle. A finalist in the 1959 queen's contest, Miss Stephens is a cheerleader and a class favorite. Her sponsors are Bledsoe Hall, Pi Beta Phi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Sigma Kappa entered Miss Tallman, choreographer of the last Varsity Show. Miss Wright is sponsored by Zeta Tau Alpha. She is a ROTC sweetheart.

The 10 finalists were increased to 11 when the Homecoming Committee discovered one candidate's name misspelled on the ballot.

Red Men Host Bears In SWC Grid Tussle

by BILLY PATTON
Toreador Sports Editor

Texas Tech challenges mighty Baylor University tonight in the first Southwest Conference football duel ever to be played in the city of Lubbock.

The Raiders go into the game as underdogs in the face of Baylor's undefeated standing for the season, as the Bears take aim on their first Conference championship since 1924. Tech is virtually out of the running for the crown with two conference losses and a tie on the record book.

Some 35,000 fans are expected to file into newly enlarged Jones Stadium, new home of the Raiders, to witness the contest and the halftime dedication of the stadium to Southwest Conference competition. President Emeritus and Mrs. Clifford B. Jones will head the ceremony, aided by the seven SWC faculty chairmen who voted on Tech's admission to the Conference in 1956.

The weatherman promises clear skies and light winds, with temperatures in the mid-60's for the contest, lending almost ideal conditions for both teams' similar offenses.

The Bears are lightning fast in the backfield and can field a "sprint relay team" with Ronnie Bull, Tommy Minter and Ronnie Goodwin across the top of the T-formation.

Tech counters with a ball-carrying section featuring the top two rushers in the Conference, Coolidge Hunt and Dickie Polson. Polson is also the top scorer, and the man in the quarterback slot, Glen Amerson, is second in the league in passing.

"I think our boys are ready," said Coach DeWitt Weaver of his Raiders after a light workout Friday. "They're not afraid of Baylor, and we should play them a good football game."

Baylor Coach John Bridgers brought his Bears to Lubbock by plane Friday afternoon and gave them the day off from any workout.

"We didn't work on Friday before the Colorado game," said Bridgers, "and we just don't want to do anything different now."

Baylor crushed Colorado 26-0 in the season opener.

"We're looking forward to a tough ball game," Bridgers continued. "One of these days, Tech is going to jell. We just hope it's not as soon as tonight."

Both teams have placed men on the injured list this week, but neither has been severely hit by the injury bug. Tech will be without the services of end Dennis Grimes, who pulled a thigh muscle this week and may be out for some time.

Baylor has one man doubtful in Robert Starr, 198-lb. fullback, who slipped a disc in his back late this week. Neither Starr nor Grimes were scheduled to start tonight.

The Bears and the Raiders have met 18 times since the series began in 1929, and Baylor holds a decided edge in the past record with 13 victories. Tech has won four and one game ended in a tie.

Runoff Fills Five Places

Two class offices and three AWS representative positions were filled in Friday's runoff election.

Elected to sophomore class secretary was Claudia Austin, who won over Mary Thomson, Mose Lindsey was named freshman vice president over Gary Milburn.

Named Student Council representatives from Business Administration were Pat Coplin and Bill Skeeters.

Wednesday's election also filled 10 Freshman Council at-large positions to bring the membership on the Council to the required 30. Elected were Susan Scott, Margo Williams, Ann Brown, Sandra Adams, Sally Bartlett, Jo Buschow, Christie Brown, Ann Douglas, Jan Barton and Sandra Broxton.

GROWTH POTENTIAL
CONVAIR FORT WORTH

A basic fact in engineering thinking at Convair/Fort Worth is growth potential. It is responsible for design decisions, for the concept of the engineering organization, and for the enthusiasm and initiative of individual engineering effort. For the new engineering employee, growth potential at Convair/Fort Worth means an opportunity to team with men whose engineering knowledge ranks among the nation's highest. It means a technical challenge and a keen sense of achievement in his work. And it means opportunity for advancement . . . as evidenced by the fact that 95% of all supervisory personnel in the Engineering Department at Convair/Fort Worth achieved their positions by advancement within the organization. If growth potential ranks high in your selection of an engineering position with a sound future, you're invited to investigate.

HOW TO PARK ON CAMPUS

Parking on campus ain't easy. In fact, friends, there are times when it's downright impossible. And more often than not, —improbable!

Certain basic requirements have to be met before one may attempt this "battle of the buggies," however. FIRST: you must have a car (as we noted last week—and for this time, at any rate, we'll exclude motor-bikes, motorcycles, roller skates and Nomoto-cars)! SECOND: you must be a student-faculty member or visitor of Tech (and for the moment we'll ignore the last-mentioned group.) THIRD: students must have a certain amount of cash... ranging upwards to $30, depending upon your parking tastes. LASTLY, with this loot, you must purchase a small piece of imprinted cellulose known as a parking sticker which in turn, must be affixed to the windshield of the afore-mentioned car (the mark-up on this item is terrific)! Thusly armed, you are now ready to attempt an assault on the parking areas of the campus.

Most note, however, that certain statistics which have been made available to me (thanks to the tireless efforts of two young ladies—Margie Stark and Billie Brown—who had no idea as to what mischievous use I would make of said facts)—anyway, these figures tend to dissuade one from making any effort to park, let alone fulfill all the requirements. To wit:

There are available on our be-greened campus—for everyone, regardless of name, rank or station—4,678 parking spaces. In addition, there are 333 RESERVED spots for those of the higher income bracket... or, a total of 5,021 potential availabilities. Of this vast number, there are about 207 (both Faculty and Student) RESERVED stickers spoke and paid for; 1,100 Faculty stickers issued and un-paid for (and at their salaries they deserve a break); and 4,130 student stickers legally affixed, PLUS (I think it was plus), there are 238 Freshmen Off-Campus "battle" permits for the "Clovis Road Lot" for those in training for the Walkathon. (No I guess it wasn't plus; they're included in the 4,130!) Hence, we have 4,678 "economy" spaces and 5,197 permits issued for them. Which means, 429 of you will have to buy hydraulic sky hooks, or—not park (this assumes everyone parks at once, of course). Some 133 of you might get a loan for the RESERVED area—that number of spaces are EMPTY every day. But, since not all of the stickered cars are on campus every day and there could hardly be too many visitors, it is supposed to work out that somewhere, somewhere, there's a legal place for YOU... even if you're late to class.

I have just completed reading "How to Lose Friends and Win Enemies"; consequently, here is my bold suggestion for the parking problem (one I might note, that is not new and is in "park-tice" on many campuses throughout the nation): Let us reserve all—I say, ALL—spaces at the "economy" rate per annum; sort of a "For-every-car-a-hole" type thing. Bar Freshmen vehicles from the "club", if necessary (and it would be); for that matter Sophomores! That would SURELY cure the problem.

If, however, a "reserved" campus is not feasible; if new, and nearer, lots are not permitted to be built; if a parking building on the Ad Building lot can't be built; and if the present system of selling more "pegs" than you've got "holes" for must continue—then... "How To Park on Campus???"

For Texas Tech

A Great Day In History

This is the day that Lubbock has awaited since May 12, 1956.

On that day, Texas Tech received a favorable vote from the Southwest Conference, admitting the Raiders to competition in one of the finest, most highly competitive athletic conferences in the nation.

In keeping with the high quality of football to be played in years to come, Texas Tech and the city of Lubbock now boast a quality stadium to house such nationally recognized athletics.

The story of how the stadium came into being is old and oft-told, but nobody can put into words the value of such an addition to such a growing institution.

Today the coming of major league football to Lubbock will be marked with a re-dedication ceremony at halftime of the Baylor game, when President Emeritus and Mrs. Clifford B. Jones join with the seven Southwest Conference faculty chairmen who voted on Tech's admission to the Conference in dedicating the newly enlarged plant to Conference play.

Although the original Jones Stadium was dedicated in 1947, it is altogether fitting that the face-lifting job and the opening of a new era should be commemorated with a sincere ceremony.

The praise has already poured in congratulating Tech on the new stadium, and on the new birth of football and other athletics, and for the praise Tech and Lubbock are grateful, but we owe the world something more, even, than what we shall give it in the way of more and better competition.

We owe the world the hospitality and the friendly rivalry that is the child of the Conference, the attitude of competitive brotherhood that was born along with our great athletic league.

The way to furnish that rivalry is to show our friends that we have an unflinching desire to win, a competitive drive that makes our school — and thereby our conference — a respected power among the nation's greats.

Statement Needed

Castro And The Candidates

An important aspect of the current presidential campaign should be a clear cut statement by both of the candidates as to what their policy would be concerning Fidel Castro and his bearded, intemperate band of bad boys.

As yet, neither Nixon nor Kennedy has seen fit to give us anything really concrete on the situation. Kennedy claims, of course, that the present administration is handling Cuban-American relations badly and that he could do better.

Nixon sticks to the current policy, which is a sort of stand pat, uncompromising, patience, which all good Republicans are noted for. Both agree that whatever is done, the United States must not act unilaterally, but in conjunction with and sanctioned by the Organization of American States.

Let us descend for a moment from this lofty level of presidential politics and examine the Cuban situation from a plebian point of view. What would YOU, the voter, do about Castro?

After all something must be done because the Pearl of the Antilles, which is 90 miles from our backdoor, is rapidly coming under various forms of Communistic influence.

Immediately you say, "Blow Castro to Hell."

Possibly a very good idea, BUT — what then?

Let's assume that Castro gets his just deserts. Into whose hands will the power then fall? Either into the hands of a more radical faction of the revolutionary party, or into total anarchy with the man having the most guns becoming the victor.

Neither of these eventualities would leave us in any better position than the one in which we find ourselves at the moment.

As of yet, there is no concrete proof that Castro is actually in the Communist party. True, he has picked up many of the basic ideals of Communism and Socialism to lead his island country out of its ancient and somewhat unjust economic system.

This is nothing new as many of the Latin-American Republics and other countries of newly acquired independence have used socialistic methods to cure social ills.

The trouble with Castro is that he strikes most civilized people as being a loud-mouthed showoff who retains his power by keeping his subjects stirred against a scapegoat—the goat being the United States that has long been in control of Cuba's economics.

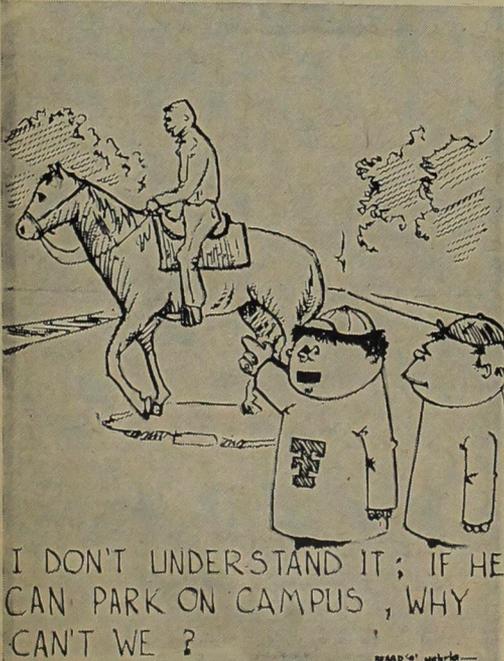

But, if Castro is not a Communist and only using the Soviets to get what he can out of them, then we must re-evaluate our policy toward the revolutionary government and see that it does not become another Soviet satellite in the near future.

The magic question then becomes "Is Castro in league with the International Communists or is he merely using them?" If he is in league with them then the United States must exert every effort to see that the revolutionary government falls.

If Fidel is not with them and is really interested in seeing that the islanders get their long awaited social and economic justice, then we must make every effort to come to some understanding with the Cubans instead of alienating them from our camp.

The future administration must decide what Castro's motives are and then act quickly and accordingly.

Spirited Rally Calls For Raider Victory

by MIKE BONE
Toreador Staff Writer

King noise reigned supreme over last night's spirited pep rally preluding tonight's game with the Baylor Bears from Waco. If student spirit is any indication of team spirit, the Bears, who are riding the crest of Southwest Conference standings, will truly have a fight on their hands.

Bells rang, horns blew and voices yelled as students showed their approval of the theme, "Skin the Bears."

The rally began with a speech by Dr. James Gammil, assistant professor of the education dept., who warned the freshmen to "man your bells" as he forecast an upset victory for the Red Raiders.

Like many coaches, DeWitt Weaver would not predict the outcome of the game. Coach Weaver, standing before the victory fire, said, "I think all of West Texas will be proud of the showing our boys make tomorrow night." He added that "Baylor is the best team we have ever faced in the history of the school."

The Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge class presented a skit to the tune of "Wreck of the Sloop John B." As the matador from Tech wrecked the Bears one by one, the crowd yelled their satisfaction.

Suzanne Harris, a former Texas Christian University student from Mineral Wells, said, "This spirit tonight outdoes any I saw last year at TCU. It's a tremendous feeling."

One student spoke for many when she said, "Romp 'em, stomp 'em, kill 'em and beat 'em!"

ID's or Else!

All Tech students must have ID cards for admission to tonight's Tech-Baylor football game, warns Jimmie Wilson, business manager of athletics.

No one will be admitted without the cards, which may be picked up at Herald Photo, 1405 College.

Delegates Discuss Speech Tourney

Plans for the Tech Intramural Speech Tournament will be discussed Wednesday, Oct. 19 in the Speech Bldg., Rm. 2, at 4 p.m.

Tech Student Is Hospitalized

George Heard, Tech senior, was injured in an accident 7:07 a.m. Friday when the car in which he was riding struck a high-line pole at 19th and Ave. X.

Heard and Donald Renfro, owner of the car, were taken to Methodist Hospital where Heard was hospitalized with deep facial cuts. His condition was reported to be good, but painful.

Renfro, freshman agriculture student from Hereford, was released after emergency treatment.

Shower Helps Student Create New Record

Singing in the showers may pay off in big dividends for sophomore Dow Patterson.

The easy-going architect major recently made a record on the Winston label entitled "I Went Out of My Mind". This rock and roll number was first conceived while Patterson was vocalizing in the Gordon Hall showers.

ON THE FLIP side is a song called "Gena" written by Patterson in high school. The rhythm of "Gena" is a combination of rock and roll and calypso beats," Patterson says.

Johnny Womble, Abilene freshman, accompanies Patterson on drums for the new releases.

Patterson, who is composer, singer and guitar player on both records, started his climb up the musical ladder at Abilene High School. It was there that he played shows with Sandra Dee and the Crewcuts.

Many students remember the blond musician's musical talents when he sang and played with the "Roadrunners" last year at Tech. Although the combo is not together now, it may be started again in the future.

"I HOPE IT gains enough popularity so a big label will buy the contract. This way it will be distributed on a much larger scale," says Patterson about the new release.

The record is being played on the South Plains and on one station in Dallas. The potential hits are on sale at local record shops.

Only time will tell whether or not "I Went Out of My Mind" and "Gena" will be sung in showers everywhere.

Picadors Invade Arkansas Tonight

Freshman football season opens tonight for the Texas Tech Picadors, who journey to Little Rock for a contest with the freshmen of the University of Arkansas.

Tech's first-year men feature a bevy of names familiar to high school sports fans in West Texas as stellar performers last year.

IN FACT, seven members of the Texas High School North All-Star team bolster the Picador lineup, including the outstanding north lineman, end David Parks of Abilene.

One of the all-star performers, Bev Herndon, Sweetwater guard, is on the injury list and may not see much action. Other Picadors suffering injuries are Wayne Scott, split back; Gordon Beamguard, fullback; and Delbert Schaefer, quarterback.

STARTING for the Picadors at the quarterback spot will be Doug Cannon of Levelland, 5-11, 185 lbs., another of the recruits from the all-star aggregation.

The Picadors will be seeking to better a 1-1 record against the Arkansas Shoats, and will be looking for a repeat of last year's 26-6 victory in Jones Stadium.

Arkansas has already racked up one victory this year, a crushing 33-7 defeat of Texarkana Junior College.

THE PICADOR OFFENSE is almost a carbon copy of the Red Raider varsity attack, with Cannon directing a multiple offense. Stock in the freshman passing attack went up this week with the return of end Don Burch of Levelland, one of Cannon's favorite receivers in high school. Burch has been out with an injury.

The fish athletes will be fighting a sort of jinx in Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium. The last three Tech teams to play there have been defeated by a cumulative total over the three games of 107-34. Red Raider varsity squads have lost by 47-26 in 1957 and by 27-8 in 1959. Tech's freshmen were trounced 33-0 there in 1958.

PROBABLE STARTERS for Tech will be David Parks of Abilene and Jim Porter of Dallas, ends; Dennis Watkins of McCamey and Jimmy Webster of Wichita Falls, tackles; Dave Brummell of Albuquerque and Bill Shaha of Dumas, guards; Ronnie Wasson of Lubbock, center; Cannon, quarterback; Charles Lipsey of Cisco and Dickie Turner of Wichita Falls, halfbacks; and either Dick Rogers of Breckenridge or H. L. Daniels of Marshall, fullback.

Tech frosh will also meet Air Force Academy here Oct. 29. North Texas at Denton Nov. 4 and West Texas State at Plainview Nov. 10.

Basketballers Start New Year Monday

Texas Tech's Red Raiders begin official basketball workouts Monday with three returning lettermen heading a 13-man squad.

Leading the way will be Del Ray Mounts who led the Raiders in the scoring department as well as leading the Southwest Conference in league game scoring as a sophomore last season.

Other lettermen going for another numeral are juniors Mac Percival, 6-3, and Roger Hennig, 6-4.

A BRIGHT SPOT on the program is the return of Harold Hudgens, 6-9 center, who has re-established his academic eligibility after a semester's absence. Other squadmen returning are Don Perkins and Dwayne Key.

Up from the freshman squad are a pair of high-scoring sophomores, Tom Clark and Tom Paty, plus their teammates Bobby Gindorf, Gary Kerrick, Milton Mickey and Gilbert Varnell.

A TRANSFER from Frank Phillips Junior College, Johnny Lemmons, will also be on the roster.

"We'll have a very interesting season," says Coach Polk Robinson, "with sophomores and juniors on the Raider club. This year's team has the potential of doing better than last season's fighting team."

The 1959-60 Raiders upset all predictions by finishing in a tie for fourth place in the Conference.

THE BATTLE that team put on," said Robinson, "was the thing that kept Tech in the upper bracket of the Southwest Conference for the third straight year."

The Raider schedule is again lined with top intersectional games, including Hamline University, the NEIA semi-finalist who compiled a 22-3 won-lost record last year.

A BIG EIGHT opponent, Kansas, brings back the same team that won their conference last year. Other top-flight competitors are LSU and Vanderbilt, to be met during the course of the season.

One highlight of the season will be Tech's double-header scheduled for Dec. 29 and 30, when Texas A&M joins the Raiders as co-host to the Air Force Academy and Eastern Kentucky. On the first night, Tech meets the Falcons and A&M goes against Eastern Kentucky, then the two SWC teams swap opponents in the finale.

A&M and Tech do not meet until later in the season.

New Stadium Parking Plan Outlined

Dr. Pearce Conducts Self-Study

New Plan Starts Tonight At Baylor Contest...

Tech's faculty is conducting a survey of colleges and universities in the southern part of the country to determine where Texas Tech stands educationally and what role it will play in state development.

The two-year program, directed by Dr. W. M. Pearce, academic vice president, will include studies of faculty, student personnel, research, special activities, library, organization, financial resources and educational program. Pearce introduced his program at a called faculty meeting Thursday, Oct. 13.

Pearce emphasized that the faculty will conduct the survey with the counsel of the Southern Association for Colleges and Secondary Schools. The institution hopes to eliminate unnecessary courses and duplication that has come from the college's rapid growth.

Assisting Pearce will be Dr. Robert L. Rouse, economics dept. head. A steering committee will be appointed shortly to supervise the study and submit a report. Sub-committees will be appointed by the steering committee to handle the different phases of the study in individual schools and departments.

A frank recognition of the weaknesses and problems with recommendations for solutions must be given since the study is a critical analysis of Tech.

A parking plan was mapped out recently by various police agencies, college officials and Tech athletic dept. representatives for traffic at tonight's game with Baylor, with the plan to be used probably as a master scheme for parking at future games.

About 50 police officers and 25 firemen will be on hand to direct parking for the game tonight.

Barricades will be erected today at the south end of Engineer's Pavilion, at the Eighth St. entrance, at the Coliseum street south of the main Coliseum parking lot, at the north end of the street west of the stadium and on the streets behind the Textile Engineering Bldg. and east of the Men's Gym.

The barricades are being erected for three reasons: to provide access to streets immediately around the stadium in case of fire, to make possible turning the streets surrounding the stadium into one way exits after the game and to make pedestrian traffic easier.

Officials hope that most students will park in the regular dormitory parking lots rather than trying to park in the lots immediately around the stadium.

Off-campus traffic will enter on Boston, 15th St., Broadway, and 8th St. from the south and southeast. Cars using these entrances will be asked to park in regular campus parking lots.

Traffic entering from the 4th St. freeway, north College Ave. and 4th St. will enter directly into the lot west of the stadium from 4th St. or from the access road from behind the Coliseum.

Participating in the coordination of traffic to and from the stadium are Lubbock police, Tech Security-Traffic Patrol, Texas Highway Patrol, Lubbock fire dept., City of Lubbock engineering dept., Tech athletic dept., public transportation agencies and Tech's ground and maintenance dept.
