

'Decision Stands...' — NIXON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's press secretary and campaign manager said Friday Nixon does not intend to dispute John F. Kennedy's election to the presidency.

Their declarations, to a news conference, ran contrary to earlier word from an aide to the Republican National Committee that Nixon and GOP chairman Thruston B. Morton had jointly approved a decision that could lead to a possible vote recounts in 11 states.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said:

"The vice president ran the race and accepts the decision of the voters. The decision made on Tuesday stands."

Play, Concert Open Fine Arts Festival

By JEANNIE BOOKOUT
Foreador Staff Writer

The third annual Texas Tech Fine Arts Festival begins Sunday, giving Techsans a range of cultural activities, from book reviews and foreign movies to a jazz concert.

The festival, which runs through Saturday, Nov. 19, opens at 4 p.m. Sunday with the Tech Choir, Symphony Orchestra and Tech Singers presenting a concert featuring the Bruckner "Te Deum" and Schumann's First Symphony.

The stage production by Tech speech department of "Ondine" highlights the week's events. This three-act fantasy tells the legend of a nymph and a knight who fall in love and are tragically separated because they belong to different worlds. Forty costumes have been designed for the production, which is set in medieval Germany.

Tickets for "Ondine" are on sale now at the Speech Bldg. from 8 a.m. to curtain time at 8:15 p.m. throughout the week. Admission is free to Tech students upon presentation of ID cards and $1 for other persons.

In connection with the play, Dr. C. B. Qualia, professor of foreign languages, will discuss the life and works of the French playwright, Giraudoux, author of "Ondine." This discussion begins at 4 p.m. Monday in the Tech Union ballroom.

The Tech Union and campus Fine Arts departments are also sponsoring foreign movies. At 6:30 p.m. Monday the award-winning film of the classic "Romeo and Juliet" will be run in the ballroom. This movie was made in Italy. At 6:30 p.m. Tuesday evening, "The Captain from Koenig" will be shown in the ballroom. This movie is a satire about German militarism with the sound track in German. English subtitles will be given.

"Art in the Western World" is a brief film tracing art's progress from the 13th century. Showtime is 7 p.m. Wednesday and 5 p.m. Thursday in the ballroom.

Included in the forensic events are poetry, lectures, and speeches. At 3 p.m. Tuesday the speech department will present a commemoration of the Civil War Centennial with "Poetry Readings on a Civil War Theme" in the Union workroom.

Dr. Clarence Kincaid, associate professor of applied arts, will lecture on the individual's creativity at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the ballroom. Lubbock Community Ambassador Mack Robertson speaks to students in the Union workroom at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Douglas Nichols from the University of Colorado will discuss "A Poet at Work." Nichols, who wrote "The Narrative of Johnny Appleseed," is a contemporary poet. He speaks at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Aggie Auditorium.

The Tech Opera Theatre, Modern Dance Group and Symphony Orchestra will join forces for "An Evening of Opera and Dance" at 8:15 p.m. Thursday and Friday in the Speech Auditorium.

The Union snack bar area will be the scene for a jazz concert by the Tech Stage Band at 4 p.m. Friday.

A SCENE FROM "ONDINE," WHICH OPENS A WEEK'S RUN MONDAY

Pep Rally Hikes Tech Spirit

By DONNA FREEMAN
Foreador Staff Writer

"One of the best organized," "by far the most unusual," "top skit of the year," "great 'beat-um' spirit exhibited" were some of the descriptions of the pep rally Friday night at the Saddle Tramp Circle.

Getting the rally into full swing, the Tech Band played "McCarthy's Fanfare," which has never been used in a Tech pep rally before.

Following the "Touchdown Song" and two yells, "Alabama Jubilee," a new yell composed by several band members and the cheerleaders, was introduced.

Polk Robison, head basketball coach, spurred the spirit more by expressing his pride in Tech's various teams and the Tech Band.

"Tolley's Yell," a cornet jazz yell written by Richard Tolley, brass instructor, preceded the majorette's strut to "Varsity Drag." A skit, "Little Miss Victory," was a musical takeoff on the folk story of Red Riding Hood.

In the skit, "sleek Little Miss Victory" set out to grandmother's house on a Saturday afternoon. Along the way she was halted by Wyoming Cowboy Pete and his flashy speedster. Instead of taking her to grandmother's as promised, he tried to pry away her "basket of goodies"—a Tech victory.

With a flash of red cape, the Red Raider appeared to rescue "Little Miss Victory." She, of course, rewarded him with her "basket" and the victory.

"Little Miss Victory" was played by Margo Hardin, grandmother by Helen Renschel, Wyoming Cowboy Pete by Eddy Cheatham and the Red Raider by Mike Struve. The Tech Band presented the skit.

The skit was highlighted by strains of theme music keyed to the narration. It was presented in pantomime, narrated by Jeff Ingham.

On Saturday an Elementary Art Education Conference will be conducted by the applied arts department on campus.

Besides music, speeches and movies there will be various exhibits during the Fine Arts Festival. "Rembrandt Etchings and Drawings" will be in the Union lounge area along with "Abstract Painting."

In the anniversary room an exhibit entitled "Applied Arts Showing" will be presented. A few displays of this sort will be shown in the lounge area.

Students and staff members of the architecture and allied arts department will present their work in the anniversary room and the ballroom lobby.

CHANNING CLUB

Channing Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in Room A of the Tech Union.

James C. Cross of the Biology Dept. will speak on "The Dead Sea Scrolls." All interested persons are invited to attend.

LA VENTANA

La Ventana magazine editors will meet at 5 p.m. Monday in Journalism 211. Dedication of the annual will be discussed.

Goodwin Answers Questions At BSO

Dr. R. C. Goodwin, president of Texas Tech, will answer questions concerning campus organizations and their problems at the regular meeting of the Board of Student Organizations at noon Thursday in the Workshop Room of the Tech Union.

Delegates are asked to bring prepared questions concerning problems of campus organizations, topics of current interest or any that they might have about campus organizations, according to Richard Toll, president of B.S.O.

Marcia Vick, Homecoming secretary, will present an evaluation of Homecoming. The B.S.O. workshop set for Dec. 10 and the retreat scheduled for March 3-5 also will be discussed.

Greeks Clash In Soap Fight

"For the first time in your life, be really clean" could be the slogan for the day when Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority and Sigma Chi fraternity clash in their second annual soap fight at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Mackenzie Park.

Sigma Chi will stand on one hill facing the Zetas on another hill. Between the two hills is a ravine. The object is to get past the opposing club's foamy reception and plant a flag on the opponent's ground. The ZTA's won the last soap fight.

Just to prove that it's all in fun, Sigma Chi will treat the sorority to a barbecue dinner at their lodge at 6:30 p.m. Sunday. A mixer will follow.

This year the event will be televised.

State Club Selects Techsan President

Carolyn Vines, Tech junior from Albany, was elected state president of Texas Home Economics College Clubs for 1960-61 at an annual workshop meeting in Austin.

Miss Vines, a home economics major, is the president of the Tech Home Economics Club. She also is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, professional home economics organization, and Junior Council, honorary service club.

She is president of Gamma Phi Beta.

Gamma Phi Beta Takes Lead In Early Speech Competition

Gamma Phi Beta took the lead with 106 points in the first round of the speech intramurals Wednesday night in the Aggie Auditorium.

Phi Gamma Delta placed second in the meet with 98 points, followed by Delta Delta Delta with 83 points.

Other groups entered and the order in which they placed are Pi Beta Phi, 74; Kappa Sigma, 72; Kappa Kappa Gamma, 53; Phi Mu, 25; Pre Law Society, 22; and Alpha Tau Omega, 11.

A total of 198 persons participated in the meet. Two points were taken from the final score of each organization for each person entered who failed to compete.

Judges for Wednesday's competition were M. P. Larson, Sylvia Mariner, Helen Lindell, Anna Jo Pendleton, Dr. B. A. Landes, George Young, and Dr. Alan Strout.

The next speech meet will be Dec. 14.

French Movie Set For Tuesday Show

An award-winning French movie, "Claudine a L'ecole," will be shown in three performances Tuesday in Rm. 11 of the Library. The movie, by Colette, will have English sub-titles. Performances are at 3 p.m., 5 p.m., and 7 p.m.

"Oh, Really?"

Shelley Berman Show Stages Lubbock Appearance Tuesday

By MARJIE SANDERS
Toreador Staff Writer

Sitting on a tall stool, smoking a cigarette, and interjecting an occasional "oh really?" during an imaginary phone conversation, Shelley Berman, one of the most popular comics in the country, will entertain with his show "All Sides of Shelley Berman" in the Lubbock Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Berman, who has enjoyed a fast rise in the entertainment business, has appeared on television, in night clubs and theatres; his records are top sellers.

Berman's style is unique and difficult to describe, but he has a way of making the audience part of his experiences as he shares them in a down-to-earth-if-it-doesn't-embarrass-me-if-it-shouldn't-embarrass-you approach.

Sometimes termed a "sick" comedian, Berman's great ambition was to be an actor, but after experiencing the usual tough breaks, he went back to odd jobs that ranged from a dance instructor to a camp counselor.

An old classmate of his persuaded him not to give up the idea of show business entirely, and from there he received a new lease on show business life. Soon after, the breaks came.

The Cumberland Three, an upcoming folk singing group from Southern California University, will also be a featured part of the show. Dave Guard, of the Kingston Trio, calls them "the best folk singing group to come along in years."

Tickets are still available in all prices and are on sale daily in the lobby of the auditorium from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Prices are $4.50, $4, $3.50, $3 and $2.50. Special student rates are $2.

Honorary Compiles Listing of Tutors

The Mortar Board tutor list in its preliminary stages and will be compiled sometime after Thanksgiving, according to Donna Christopher, Mortar Board member.

Letters asking for the names of qualified tutors have been sent to the heads of all the departments on campus. Departments should turn in these names to Mortar Board by Friday, Nov. 18.

Upon completion these lists will be distributed to the residence halls and to the campus organizations. They will be printed in time to help those students seeking tutoring for the finals and for courses in the spring semester.

Any student who wishes to tutor and thinks himself qualified, should contact Donna Christopher in Weeks 118 as soon as possible.

Students Familiar With Science Book

(ACP)—Ohio State University's LANTERN polled students on their knowledge of the classics and found that the one book almost all were familiar with was Charles Darwin's "The Origin of Species."

Other survey results showed that almost all knowledge the average student has about the classics stems from being confronted with them in the classroom—in college.

Disputes On Clothes Provide Interest For 1960 Campaign

(ACP)—In the KINGSMAN, slow-boat-anywhere, insult has Brooklyn College of New York City, associate editor Judie Nick writes:

... Historians may well record the 1960 presidential race as the time Jacqueline Bouvier said, "I do not spend $30,000 a year on my clothes. I couldn't spend that much unless I wore sable underwear. I probably spend less than Mrs. Nixon."

... To which Pat replied, "I buy my clothes off the rack."

If this is not enough to make any self-respecting voter grit his teeth and rush for the nearest

The gray-flannel-suiters, whose effects in the campaign are all too obvious, inaugurated a "Pat Week." That was exactly the panacea needed for a campaign which was in its death throes since it began.

All this "first Ladyism" then can be viewed as leading to either of two possibilities—one will be a great hastening of the day of the first woman president—the other, a constitutional amendment that all aspirants to the presidential post must be bachelors.

Solid opportunities with solid state devices

A big part of Western Electric's job is to manufacture the miniature "new arts" products that are changing the science of communications. It's a job which offers you a challenging career—a chance to plan new methods of mass producing ever-improving kinds of transistors, ferrite devices, diodes, special purpose electron tubes, etc.

You'll be with a company that is expanding rapidly in this field. At present our Allentown and Laureldale, Pa., plants are devoted exclusively to making electron devices, and a big new plant is under construction in Kansas City. The needs of the Bell Telephone System for these products are increasing daily and will multiply enormously with the introduction of Electronic Central Office switching now nearing trial operation.

These devices are changing the scene at all our manufacturing plants as they go into the startling new communications products developed by our associates at Bell Telephone Laboratories. From microwave transmission equipment to submarine cable amplifiers, our products call for creative production engineering, installation planning, and merchandising methods. Our job for the Bell System and the U.S. government has grown to the point where we are now one of the nation's "Top 11" in industrial sales. And your chance to play an important part in our future growth is solid!

Opportunities exist for electrical, mechanical, industrial, civil and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majors. For more information, get your copy of Consider a Career at Western Electric from your Placement Officer. Or write College Relations, Room 6106, Western Electric Company, 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y. Be sure to arrange for a Western Electric interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.

From The Editor...

I am writing this editor's note in regard to the letter received from Roy Bell, who was concerned about the practice of saving large blocks of seats in Jones Stadium. I agree with Roy: this is a bad practice and should not be allowed to continue. The Toreador does not know who the persons are or whom they represent; this is not important. The stadium was built for all Tech fans and the student section is designed to accommodate ALL Tech students.

According to Jimmie Wilson, business manager of athletics at Tech, the ONLY seats that are supposed to be roped off or reserved in the student section are those for the Saddle Tramps and the Tech Band. The only exception to this comes when visiting groups from other schools attend the games and desire to sit in a group. According to Wilson, the athletic department does not approve of the seat saving practice.

For Next Year

Needed: Entertainment

A year and a half has elapsed since the students of Texas Tech have enjoyed a Varsity Show — formerly a long-standing tradition at Tech. And apparently, after the Varsity Show Board earlier this fall scrapped all plans for a show this year, it will be one more year at least before another Varsity Show or a comparable event to replace it will be staged.

The Varsity Show itself suffered in the past from financial and production difficulties. Since the last production in the spring of 1959, it has suffered from a lack of concrete direction. The Varsity Show Board, set up in the fall of 1959 and composed of more than a dozen organizations interested in the show, has accomplished little. The fate of any Varsity Show at all is now hanging in the air.

Yet there is no question, in our opinion, that Texas Tech deserves a MAJOR ENTERTAINMENT PRODUCTION such as those produced at many colleges across the country. There is also little doubt in our minds that if the proper groups on this campus — and we would stress particularly the speech and music departments — were to move solidly behind a concrete, well-organized plan for such a production, then a highly-successful show could be achieved. We also believe that the students of Texas Tech as well as many Lubbock people would provide the box office support to make it a success.

There are many problems involved. Are the resources of Texas Tech — in talent, finances, space for rehearsals, student leadership and otherwise — strong enough to support this type of show? Can such a production be organized not only for one year but for future years?

These are questions, among others, that persons connected with the Varsity Show are facing. Without doubt sober consideration must be given to them before any action is taken.

To us, the only answer is that without a major entertainment production Texas Tech is lacking something that should, in our opinion, be a very fine part of college life. We say also that if everyone concerned with the effort decides that such a show CAN BE PRODUCED, if a concrete, well-drawn plan for a successful show is prepared and if the full resources of Texas Tech's 9,000-plus student body are drawn on to provide the support such effort richly deserves, TEXAS TECH CAN AND WILL HAVE SUCH AN ENTERTAINMENT EVENT.

Indications are that a small group of students has begun investigating possibilities for a show of some type for the 1961-62 year. Such efforts deserve strong encouragement.

We believe the plans for a production at least by the 1961-62 year should be formulated now and the groundwork laid. Also, we strongly believe that if efforts are to be made for this event, then they should be for a unique entertainment production on a permanent basis which would do the highest credit to one of the Southwest's largest and fastest-growing university communities.

The Toreador, official student newspaper of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, is regularly published each Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday morning during the two long terms, excepting holidays, by students of the College as an expression of campus news and student opinion only.
The Toreador is financed by a student services fee, advertising, and subscriptions. Letters to the editor and columns represent the views of their writers and not necessarily those of the Toreador. Letters must be signed. The views of the Toreador are in no way to be construed as necessarily those of the administration.
Entered as second class matter at the Post Office in Lubbock, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1919.

Recently during all the happiness and happenings of the Homecoming weekend, I had some thoughts about the fun and festivities involved. Since then, I've been thinking about other kinds of fun and celebrations we enjoy in this country: Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, birthdays, picnics . . . and so on; the list is endless. On a recent Sunday, while watching "The Twentieth Century," concerning the revolt in Hungary, I was conscious of a huge spectre overshadowing all such joys . . . joys we know, relish, take part in . . . joys we take for granted!

You see, while all these thoughts of wonderful times flashed through my mind, I saw people whose getting together was cemented by a desire for freedom, written in bullets and blood. I kept asking myself, "What if all our festivities weren't here? What if there were no 'next year'? What if all the joys we take for granted were simply taken away?" And I heard the much over-worked words of Moscow's maniac echoing again: "We'll bury you!"

All of these things brought to mind a couple of incidents which have happened to me in the past few months. They didn't happen in Europe, nor in South America, nor in Africa — they happened right here! Here! in good old "Operation Alert"-minded Lubbock! Because of these incidents, I am more than apprehensive about the validity of the prophecy above.

Last summer, while looking for a bicycle for myself, I found many which I would have liked to own, but they were too super-deluxe for the pocket book. I wanted one that was simple, inexpensive and built well enough to last longer than the built-in obsolescence period. I found the right price-range, okay, but I was completely amazed and appalled to find — in bold letters, on the name plate — "Made in Czechoslovakia."

I will not bore you with the tirade I made against the salesman, who actually seemed to boast about the product. To say I was incensed at anyone who would purchase goods from a "Comrade" of the system which is out to destroy our way of living — and us . . . well, I flipped! And I didn't buy his crummy bike!

Recently, I was doing some early Christmas shopping, looking for a B-B gun for my eldest, and it happened again! This time at a different store! The salesman, deftly, hefted a small rifle and began his pitch with, "Now, this little gem is made in Czechoslovakia, and . . ." I'm sure he had more to say, but I bluntly told him I had better places to spend my money than to give it to the Commies. I left, abruptly!

Some folks, more up-to-date on the rules of international trade than I, are sure to say I'm making a mountain out of a bike and a B-B gun! Well, maybe so; but, by Jan Masaryek — who no doubt lies restless in his grave — I don't dig so-called humans who are out to bury me. And I'll be fertilizing a six foot plot before I'll give 'em a cent to help 'em do it!

These are the only two instances I know of, but it stands to reason that there are other so-called "good" American — yes, Lubbock — firms who are, no matter how indirectly, helping us (and themselves!) into the mass grave Lenin planned for us. Capitalism is only good to the Commies if it helps them to conquer the world. Brother, that's exactly how they're using it!

As I said before, I'm FOR the fun and festivities. My birthday anniversary came along not long ago and I'd like to know that there'll be at least as many more to celebrate! I think firms that buy and sell products made in ANY Commie country are misinformed, deceived and are "aiding and abetting" the most heinous of crimes!

Maybe it's just me, but I think it's time to WAKE UP! NOW! If the Marxian maniacs are going to bury me, let 'em use their own money — not mine!

Half-Time Features High School Bands

Half-time activities this afternoon at the Tech-Wyoming game feature 17 high school bands performing with the Tech band in the annual Band Day ceremony.

Prof. D. O. Wiley and Harry LeMaire, former Tech band directors, will be honored as guest conductors. LeMaire will lead the assembled bandmen in "Hosts of Freedom March." Wiley will direct "Symbol of Honor," while the bands spell out Tech.

The Tech band will march in a pre-game show which will be the center part of last week's performance. The pre-game activities will be recorded on color sound film for reference.

In closing half-time, the expected 1,183 bandmen and the 186-member Tech marching band will cover the field with a double-T while the Matador alma mater and the Red Raider fight song are played. Majorettes from the high schools will be featured in the last number.

High school bands will be honored at a reception in the music building following the game.

Bands participating in the program will be Plains, Childress, Sudan, Crosbyton, Hale Center, Lockney, Whiteface, Levelland, Kress, Andrews, Springlake, Littlefield, Farwell, Idalou, New Deal, Floydada and Tom S. Lubbock.

Monday through Wednesday pictures will be made for students who missed regular picture appointments. These will be taken at either Koen's Studio, 2222 Broadway or 1311 College.

Deadline for making sorority and fraternity picture appointments is Tuesday at either studio.

Page contracts should be made in Journalism 211 between 1 and 5 p.m. before Tuesday.

Attention: Sorority and Fraternity Members

Will you regard this as a personal letter from me and a message of information. Have you found it difficult to order your official sorority and fraternity jewelry? This should be no more.

A direct order can be sent by us for one or a dozen of all sorority and fraternity badges, keys, rings, drops, guards, and many other sorority and fraternity jewelry. Badges made from the official dies with pearls or jewels of any distinction may be ordered.

In the past sororities and fraternities have felt obligated to buy from a designated jeweler. Now a court decision has allowed fraternities and sororities to buy their official jewelry through other outlets so long as it is equal in quality and official in design to meet organizational standards.

If you've been hesitant about your ordering, let us help and plan with you. Many items of fraternity and sorority jewelry are kept in stock at our store.

Sincerely,

THOMAS JEWELRY

Harbinger Requests Student Material

A Dec. 1 deadline for contributions to this year's "Harbinger" has been set according to Ann Dyess, publicity chairman for the Sigma Tau Delta publication.

The "Harbinger" is an annual publication of the honorary English fraternity, using student material. Contributions may be submitted in the categories of poetry, short stories, essays, one-act plays and freshman exposition.

Material should be typewritten or written in ink on one side of the page only. No word limit has been set. Contributions may be mailed to the English department or may be taken to the English office C&O 125.

Five English faculty members will form a panel to select first and second place winners in each category. Winners will be recognized at the annual Sigma Tau Delta spring banquet and will receive a certificate.

A copy of the "Harbinger" will be sent to national Sigma Tau Delta headquarters where selections may be taken from it for reprint in the national publication, "The Rectangle."

Club Scarlet Features Skits, Men In Tonight's Production

Texas Tech's most handsome man will be chosen tonight at the Rec Hall, which will be turned into Club Scarlet, a mock night club, for the festivities. The club will be open from 8-11:30 p.m.

The program is sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, national professional fraternity for women in journalism.

Seven finalists, chosen from the 12 entries in the handsome man contest, are Tex Cowart, sponsored by Freshman Council; Ben Faulkner, Sigma Chi; John Grist, Phi Mu; John Stokes, Delta Gamma; Jim Stowe, Drane Hall; Jim Williams, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Tom Link, Pi Beta Phi.

Those present will choose the winner by a popular ballot. Also on the agenda for the night is the presentation of nine skits. These revues will be judged on originality and showmanship by a panel composed of Mrs. W. E. Garets; Mrs. Alan Strout, English instructor; and Dean Killion, Tech Band director.

Listed in order of appearance, the following skits will be presented: "Officer Krumpke," Zeta Tau Alpha; "Are They or Aren't They," Phi Mu; "Wild Bill Hickup," Pi Beta Phi; "Lullaby of Birdland," Kappa Alpha Theta; "Oo-La-La," Sigma Kappa; "Folk Music, USA," Phi Delta Theta; "The Wind Is Gone," Gamma Phi Beta; "In a Little Gypsy Tea Room," Alpha Phi; and "A First Date," Delta Tau Delta.

The most handsome man will receive a trophy and the organization with the winning skit will be presented with a plaque. The plaque presentation will be by Phi Mu, last year's skit winner.

Finalists in Club Scarlet's handsome man contest may pick up a complimentary ticket in the Rec Hall between 2 and 5 p.m. today. Those entries eliminated may have their photos back by calling at Journalism 201 next week.

Profs Return From Meeting Of Research

Three members of the Texas Tech chemistry department have returned from the fourth annual Symposium on chemical research sponsored by the Welch foundation.

Dr. Arthur L. Draper, Dr. Henry J. Shine, and Dr. Joe A. Adamcik attended the Houston meeting dealing with "Molecular Structure and Organic Reactions."

About 1,000 chemists from all parts of the world attended the conference where papers were delivered by outstanding men in their field from Scotland, Switzerland, England, Germany and the United States.

Guest speaker for the conference banquet was W. O. Baker, vice-president in charge of research for Bell Telephone Co.

Raiders Challenge 'Pokes

by BILLY PATTON
Toreador Sports Editor

Texas Tech's Red Raiders and the Wyoming Cowboys clash this afternoon in Lubbock's Jones Stadium before the eyes of some 17 high school bands, guests of Tech on Band Day.

The intersectional battle will feature a contest of strength between Wyoming's nationally ranked defense and Tech's varied multiple offense attack, headed by the Southwest Conference's leading rusher, fullback Coolidge Hunt. WYOMING GOES into today's game smarting from their first loss in the Skyline Conference in two years, a 17-13 defeat at the hands of Utah State last weekend, while the Raiders are fired by an upset victory last week over Tulane, 35-21.

Physically, the forward walls of both teams are in the unusual position of being outweighed by the Cowboy backfield. Led by 208-pound Mark Smolinski, the Wyoming backs average 196.5 pounds, just a fraction more than the Red Raider forward wall and four pounds more than the Wyoming line.

THE RAIDER backfield spots the Cowboy ball-carriers some 14 pounds, since the Raiders' starting backs average 182 pounds.

Red Phillips, Tech coaching aide, scouted the Cowboys and warned the Raiders about the gigantic backfield.

"DON'T GET the idea these big backs can't move," Phillips cautioned. "That big fullback Smolinski leads the pass receivers. Imagine a fellow bigger than all but two of our starting linemen catching that many passes."

The Wyoming team arrived in Lubbock Friday afternoon and went through light loosening-up drills in Jones Stadium.

INDICATIONS are that both teams will have some regulars hampered by injuries. Wyoming will be minus starting center Dick Williams and number two tackle

Jerry Maxwell, injured in the Utah State affray.

Dick Polson, starting halfback for Tech, will be out with a leg injury suffered in the Tulane contest last weekend.

THE LAST TIME the two teams met was in the Sun Bowl at El Paso in 1956, when the Cowboys dropped the Raiders 21-14 on a touchdown with less than four minutes to play. Prior to the Sun Bowl tilt, only one previous game went into the record books, a 39-0 victory by Tech in 1938 when the Raiders were headed for the Cotton Bowl.

The last time Wyoming played a Southwest Conference school was in 1949, when the Baylor Bears defended their Waco fortress with a 32-7 victory, but the Pokes got revenge the following year when Baylor journeyed to Laramie and took a 7-0 lashing at the dedication of Memorial Stadium, home of the Cowboys.

BOTH TEAMS feature widely varied offenses, Wyoming bringing the only single-wing attack to be seen in Jones Stadium this year, although they may stick closer to slot-, wing-, and straight-T formations.

Raider fans will see practically the same attack Tech has launched in the past eight games, with widely split backs and ends.

DEFENSIVELY, Wyoming is just as varied as on offense, if not more so, with numerous defensive combinations at their beck and call. Apparently they all work well, because the Cowboys have allowed an average of only 149.3 yards rushing and passing in their eight games so far this year.

Individually, the feature of the Raider attack is Coolidge Hunt, with 429 yards on 102 carries to his credit for the top SWC rushing spot. However, Glen Amerson leads the team in total offense with 469 yards, 373 of which have come on his 28 pass completions out of 63 passes thrown. Amerson has connected with five touchdown tosses.

JERRY HILL, 200-pound halfback, leads Wyoming in rushing with 501 yards on 110 carries for a respectable 4.7 average. Again the quarterback steps in for honors in total offense, with Chuck Lamson leading the pack on 409 yards rushing and 185 passing.

A turnout of some 15,000 to 20,000 is expected for the battle, in which Tech will be shooting for an improvement over its 3-4-1 record, while Wyoming gambles a 6-2 mark.

Plenty of tickets are still available, and kickoff time is 2 p.m.

QUICK - KICKS!

... and slow curves

by Billy Patton

Hope you enjoyed the brief respite in Thursday's issue when Ralph Carpenter took over the sports reins in my absence, but I hope you didn't enjoy it too much. I still like my job.

Ralph used to be a sports writer, you probably remember, and still does a fine job of it. In fact, he's the reason there is no comprehensive sports almanac or record book in this office. Ralph just remembers it all, so there has never been any real need.

—QK—

Every now and then, we compliment Ralph's accomplishments in the sports field. I used to be a television writer myself, and have you ever heard Ralph Carpenter utter one favorable word about electronic journalism? Neither have I, but I happen to know the Carpenters purchased a new TV set not too long ago. The defense rests.

—QK—

I have to disagree with my boss, though, on a statement in his column while I was away. Introducing players and coaches on television before a game ADDS to the telecast from my point of view, and as for whether the players should not be fooling around in front of a camera just before the kickoff, that's for the coach to decide. All he has to do is say no. He may have to say it pretty firmly, but he can do it.

—QK—

My prediction record crashed and burned last week amidst the hopes and dreams of several football teams that found themselves in the same predicament. With an eye to the future and a heart full of hope, let's try again.

Texas Meets Frogs Today

With a possible mathematical shot at the Southwest Conference football title awaiting the winner, Texas Christian and Texas clash here Saturday afternoon.

Horned Frog officials expect their best crowd of the season — around 42,000 — for the 2 o'clock kickoff. Only end zone tickets were expected to remain Saturday morning.

Coach Abe Martin and his host Horned Frogs will be a slight underdog when the two teams take to the TCU-Amon Carter carpet for the kickoff. The Frogs, who started the 1960 season slowly, have bounced back into gridiron prominence on that 7-7 tie with touted Pittsburgh and the 14-6 upset of Baylor in the last two outings. After two weeks rest, the Purples are near top form for the Longhorn invasion.

Two Teams Leave CBL

NEW YORK (P) New York and Houston have formally resigned from the Continental Baseball League. These cities were awarded franchises in the National League last month and will start playing in 1962.

A Continental League spokesman said the withdrawal of the New York and Houston clubs was effective Thursday following a meeting at which representatives of all eight teams were present. The remaining six members of the Continental group are Minneapolis-St. Paul, Toronto, Buffalo, Denver, Atlanta and Dallas - Fort Worth.
