

RAIDERS, HOGS CLASH TO END GRID YEAR

READY FOR ACTION TODAY—ALL 195 LBS. OF HIM
... Larry Mullins, 6 ft 3 in. Raider tackle, will help lead the Raiders into battle today.

By BILLY PATTON
Toreador Staff Writer

The Fort Worth stock market closed Friday with no test on the price of hogs, but there will definitely be a test in the Southwest Conference quotations today.

The Arkansas Razorbacks face the test at Lubbock this afternoon when they tangle with Texas Tech's Red Raiders, the last bridge for the Hogs to cross on the Cotton Bowl Road.

A win this afternoon would put Arkansas in as the champ, even though Rice could tie the Porkers by winning their two remaining games with TCU and Baylor. Arkansas, however, would get the Cotton Bowl nod by virtue of their win over Rice in regular season play.

Today's game ends regular season schedules for both Tech and Arkansas.

A Raider upset would give the Rice Owls new life and the chance to take an undisputed title by knocking off TCU and Baylor.

Both Arkansas and Tech throw brilliant offenses, versatile backs and the two highest-ranked linebackers in the Conference into the fray, offering an offensive duel as well as man-to-man feuds to the fans.

The big contest is expected to develop between Arkansas' Wayne Harris and Tech's E. J. Holub, both top-flight candidates for All-Conference center as well as All-American berths. Harris has also been earning votes as a guard for his linbacking abilities and because he seldom plays on offense.

In their respective backfields, the two teams feature the two most versatile backs in the Conference in Arkansas' Lance Alworth and Tech's Bake Turner. Each is a fine runner, punter, punt returner and pass receiver.

Alworth was troubled with an injury in mid-season, but has come back to take over fourth

Plaques for outstanding spirit were awarded to Carpenter Hall and Phi Mu at the pep rally Friday night. The two organizations were chosen from seven groups. Featured at the rally were speeches by three senior football players, Tommy Pace, Bobby Cline, and Pug Mohon.

place in league rushing and to capture the lead in punt returns with a highly respectable 17-yard per runback average.

Turner ranks fourth in the Conference in punt returns and in punting.

A crowd of over 20,000 is expected to witness the ringing down of the curtain on college football in Lubbock for the 1960 season.

When the curtain goes down, it will mark the end of college football careers for 17 Raiders, six of whom are listed as starters. They are end Don Waygood, center E. J. Holub, guard Jere Don Mohon, tackle Tommy Pace, quarterback Glen Amerson and halfback Dan Gurley.

Others completing their college eligibility are end Jim Brock, tackle Bobby Cline, halfback Gerald Hodges, tackle Robert Meyer, tackle Dale Robinson, end Mike Seay, guard Dick Stafford, end Jackie Wiles, guard E. Strickland and guard Fred Weaver.

Sparking the Raider attack will be a sophomore, however, with fullback Coolidge Hunt seeking to increase his lead in league rushing statistics. Hunt is now 119 yards ahead of Baylor's Ronnie Bull and Texas A&M's Sam Byer, but both the Bears and the Aggies will see action next weekend when Tech is idle.

At quarterback for the Razorbacks will be another player ranked highly in statistics, George McKinney is the conference's second highest total ground gainer.

Recordwise, Arkansas holds a monopoly on victories in the three-game series between the two clubs.

Arkansas' first win over the Raiders came in 1957 at Little Rock when the Razorbacks outpointed the Raiders 47-26. A year later Arkansas came to Lubbock and carried away a 14-8 victory, then crushed the Raiders 27-8 in Little Rock last season.

Don Sparks, Tech's head trainer, says all the Raiders will probably be able to play, but some will likely be held out of full-time action. Dick Polson, starting halfback until an injury sidelined him for most of the Wyoming game, will be the Raiders' biggest loss, but he may see some action.

Defensive ace Charles Harrison is another doubtful for the Raider roster.

Weather reports indicate a beautiful day for football, except, in the words of the weatherman, "not quite cool enough for hog-killing." Clear skies and warm temperatures are the forecast.

BSO Leaders Query Goodwin

By CAROLYN JENKINS
Toreador News Editor

Questions concerning student housing seemed predominant in the minds of campus leaders Thursday when Dr. R. C. Goodwin, Texas Tech president, gave on-the-spot answers to members of the Board of Student Organizations.

BSO attempts to have the college president available at such meetings several times a year to answer any questions from representatives pertaining to the college.

Besides student housing, questions ranged from on-campus float building to foreign student scholarships.

Asked by Dan Webster of the possibility of the development of a School of Law or Medicine at Tech, Goodwin replied that there had been discussion of a medical school here. "It is not beyond the realm of possibility," he said.

If there is ever to be a medical school at Tech, however, it will probably be branch of the University of Texas medical school, he pointed out. Possibilities of a law school are more remote, the president said.

Goodwin commented that there has been suggestion of the establishment of a seventh school at Tech such as a School of Science, but there has been no discussion of the suggestion.

Housing questions covered every angle from a new athletic dormitory to married student's apartments.

On interfraternity housing, Goodwin stated that nothing official has been done, but that fraternity and sorority houses might be welcomed in the future to take care of the students.

Planning for an additional dormitory is being limited now to an athletic dorm, Goodwin said.

Reeves Brown, Sneed Hall president, asked about the possibility of changing one of the men's halls to a women's dormitory.

"If the present trend continues, we will have to have additional space for women," Goodwin said. There has been no definite decision as to which one will be changed, he added.

Mary Jo McClain, Junior Council president, posed the question on married student housing. Goodwin said the apartment type dormitories have been considered but construction by the college does not seem necessary. From investigation it was decided that the town should be able to take care of Tech's married students.

Goodwin pointed out that this type housing could be provided by private industry.

Dean James G. Allen, in a concomitant statement, said that many married college students had not wanted college housing.

Bud Henderson posed the problem of Tech's not offering doctoral degrees. Goodwin said he realized the need but that a Ph.D in geology was the only one under investigation at the present time. It must be approved by the Texas Commission on Higher Education.

Presented with the rumor that a new psychology building would take away some agriculture facilities, Goodwin replied that it would not.

Freshman Class President Wayne Davis asked Dr. Goodwin what the present library will be used for upon completion of the new one. As yet, it is undetermined, Goodwin said. "We still have two years to decide."

Goodwin emphasized to the students the need for more funds in order to continue with campus building. The contract for the new library exceeded by $250,000 the money allocated for it.

"There are many things we could and would do if we had the funds," Goodwin stated.

Zeroing in on the future

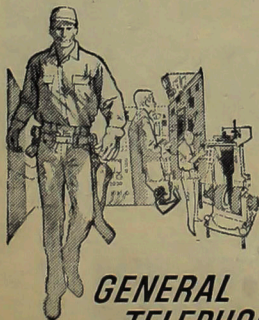

At Gen Tel, our aim is to develop the supercommunications system that will be needed to meet the demands of tomorrow. And we're constantly shooting new ideas at this target.

In our 24 research laboratories, more than 3500 scientists and engineers have their sights set on entirely new concepts in order to achieve these results.

Example: a task force of General Telephone & Electronics scientists, working in the unexplored areas of electroluminescence and photoconductivity, have developed an operating model of a switching device with no moving parts, that may revolutionize telephone communications. It is a thin wafer only 3 inches square that may someday connect and disconnect up to 10,000 telephone lines.

Meanwhile, this new discovery holds promise of having numerous applications in other fields, including switching and read-out devices for electronic computers.

Research is but one of the many areas in which General Telephone & Electronics is thinking and working ahead—not only to meet today's communications needs, but tomorrow's as well.

L-V Pageant Nears

Tech's most beautiful girls will compete for the Miss Mademoiselle title and an honored place in the 1961 La Ventana beauty pageant Dec. 16. Entry blanks are being mailed to all campus organizations for the third annual affair. Individual entries may pick up blanks at the Journalism 101. An entry does not have to be sponsored by an organization. A 1-point average, $1 fee and completion of the entry blank are the only requirements.

The theme for this year's pageant is an underseas presentation with Joe Riordon, master of ceremonies, as Mr. Neptune. Riordon is public relations representative from Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. The stage will feature a sea-shell entrance.

Preliminaries will be at the Tech Union ballroom at 2 p.m. Dec. 15 with a rehearsal at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 14. Preliminaries will be closed to the public.

A 2½-hour show is on tab for the finals beginning at 8 p.m.

The pageant is produced by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity. Miss Playmate will also be presented in conjunction with the program.

The pageant is being operated on the same basic plan used in the selection of Miss America with 50 girls appearing in the semi-finals. Bathing suits and evening gowns will be worn in the semi-finals. The field will be narrowed to 10 beauties in the finals as they will be judged on poise, beauty and grace.

The finalist will be crowned Miss Mademoiselle and will have a full-page color picture on the Mademoiselle section of the La Ventana.

Six Techsans Attend Meeting Of Animal Production Society

Results of all the research being done recently in the field of animal husbandry will be reviewed. Tech's representatives are Dr.

Ralph M. Durham, professor of animal husbandry; John H. Baumgardner, associate professor of animal husbandry; and four students: Jimmy Neill, Robert Albin, Henry Elliott and Dallas Powell.

On route they will stop in Ames, Iowa, to see the work of the animal husbandry department on the Iowa State University campus.

Jam Session

Band 'Sounds Off'

By MARJIE SANDERS
Toreador Staff Writer

From the soft, cool sounds of "Night and Day," sung by Paris freshman Clyde Bateman, to a throbbing Latin beat arrangement of "Peanut Vender," the Tech Stage Band, directed by Dean Killion, outdid themselves with a tremendous show of talent at 4 p.m. Friday in the Tech Union.

A feature of the Fine Arts Festival, the jam session was heard by a packed house. Fingers kept time with the music, feet tapped and heads bobbed as the audience responded to the band's treatment of such selections as "Virginia Creeper," "Quiet Place," "Cinnamon Kisses," "Summertime," "Fast Company," "Dream," and other favorites.

"Peanut Vender," the last number, had a polished sound equal to any professional band's rendition. Trumpets screamed, maracas shook and the audience was sold. The band's final number was "Soft Pad," a Count Basic-type sound. When it was over, the applause said everything the band needed to hear. They were great.

MISSOURI WANTS WIN

Teams End Season

Mighty Missouri looks for a national championship this week as a host of teams wind up the 1960 season.

But eying the already-nervous Tigers, who meet Kansas, are the nation's next five ranking teams as picked in the weekly Associated Press poll. All have illusions of wearing the crown that last year belonged to Syracuse.

Two of them, Minnesota (No. 4) and Duke (No. 6), are involved in conference title struggles. There are three other such battles on Saturday's card.

Missouri (9-0) already has an Orange Bowl bid locked up and can concentrate on its perfect season against the Jayhawks, who have lost to Iowa and Syracuse, and tied Oklahoma, in nine games. Even if Kansas should win, and Jayhawks are 7-point underdogs, an NCAA ban on post-season play nullifies its bowl hopes.

If Missouri wins, it is reasonably certain of maintaining its top-ranking but must sweat out next week's games, where only Mississippi (No. 3) and Duke pose a threat. The rest of the aspirants finish Saturday.

Iowa, second-ranked and with at least a share of the Big Ten title sewn up, plays Notre Dame (1-7) while Minnesota tries to get a tie for the Big Ten crown against Wisconsin.

QUICK - KICKS!

... and slow curves

by Billy Patton

An aggregation of athletes comprising probably the finest football team in the Southwest Conference dropped out of the sky onto Lubbock Municipal Airport yesterday afternoon, the first stop on the way to Jones Stadium for this afternoon's football game.

Arkansas is betting its chances on a Southwest Conference tilt that it can beat Texas Tech's Red Raiders in the final game of the season and any kind of odds you can think of say there is no reason they can't do it.

Except for one. The Southwest Conference has gone completely nuts in almost every year since its birth, and season records have frequently meant nothing. On that chance the Raiders base their hope plus the fact that they know they can play fine football when the "jell", as they have a couple of times this year.

And have you noticed the scores of those three games? Two of them runaways... both of them in Little Rock. In Lubbock in 1957 Arkansas had to be satisfied with a 14-8 squeaker, which is one of a couple of dozen incidents cited when saying "Tech gets tough at home!"

All of which adds up to my reason for staying with the Raiders all the way.

I'd like to close the season on a personal note to the Raiders, but everybody is welcome to listen. There could be no better bunch of athletes anywhere, nobody more friendly, nobody more cooperative... you guys are the greatest.

Just one more bit of cooperation I ask as the season closes. I'd like for the trip back to the Ozarks to be a mighty, mighty long one for our friends, the Razorbacks.

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.

Volleyball Goes Into Semifinals

Sigma Chi gained a semi-final berth with a victory over Pi Kappa Alpha in intramural volleyball Thursday. Sigma Chi won by 17-10, 0-5, and 12-10 scores.

Sneed Hall did likewise by whipping Phi Delta Theta 13-11 and 15-10. Sigma Chi and Sneed Hall will meet Monday in the semifinals.

In other Thursday action Phi Gamma Delta defeated Phi Delta Theta's B team 13-11 in two games and Carpenter Hall turned back Gordon Hall 12-10, 3-15, and 12-9.

Phi Gamma Delta will vie with Carpenter Hall in another semi-finals contest Monday.

The winners in the semi-final will meet Tuesday at 7 p.m. for the all-college championship.

According to Edsel Buchanan, director of intramurals, entries have picked up in basketball, swimming, and bowling.

"Things have been running real good," Buchanan said.

Thompson Hall Honors Congressman Mahon At Banquet Thursday

Congressman George H. Mahon, representative from this area, the 19th District, and his wife were guests of Thompson Hall at dinner, complete with honor guard, Thursday night.

The honor guard was provided by uniformed Air Force ROTC cadets from Thompson Hall. The cadets escorted the Mahons from the parking lot to the cafeteria and were placed at intervals in the cafeteria and along the route.

Other guests of the Hall were Dr. R. C. Goodwin, president of Texas Tech; Dr. and Mrs. William Pearce, head of the history department; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Pennington, vice president and controller of Tech; Dean and Mrs. James G. Allen, dean of student life; Dean Lewis Jones, dean of men; Robert Hilliard, assistant dean of men; and Dr. and Mrs. J. William Davis, head of the government department.

Ernest Morrison, supervisor of Thompson Hall, and his wife were hosts.

Tech Team Will Judge In Chicago

Still feeling its recent honors in Kansas City, the Texas Tech livestock judging team will compete in the International Livestock Show in Chicago on Saturday, November 26.

Tech's team will be vying with approximately forty other college teams from agricultural colleges in all parts of the country. It will judge cattle, hogs and sheep in twelve classes and must give eight reasons for their choices.

Leaving today, the team will be gone ten days. On route they will do practice judging at Iowa State University, Kansas State University, Oklahoma University and various other farms along the way.

This same livestock judging team placed fourth in the American Royal at Kansas City three weeks ago. In 1954 another Tech team brought home the bronze bull, the best trophy, for winning the entire contest. Last year the team was high in sheep judging. Stanley Anderson has been coach of the livestock judging team since 1949.

Bledsoe, Gordon Halls Install AM-FM Systems For Music

Bledsoe and Gordon, men's residence halls, recently replaced their out-dated public address systems with new AM-FM systems.

Both halls voted at the first of the year to purchase the equipment with funds from the dorm association dues as a step in improving the halls. The dorm officers felt the system would improve the atmosphere during meals and provide a better public address set-up.

The systems are similar, both having three 12-inch speakers in the dining hall, one in the lobby and an AM-FM tuner. In addition to the other equipment, Gordon Hall has a 20-watt amplifier. Cost to Bledsoe was $100 and to Gordon $135.

Bill Waddle, Bledsoe supervisor, and John MacNeill, Gordon supervisor, have received favorable reactions from the men. MacNeill said the PA system has been improved 100 per cent. "All the men are enjoying it and it makes a relaxing atmosphere," commented Waddle. One dissenting opinion was noted in Gordon.

Be perspicacious!

Not this: a student who studies drowsily no matter how much sleep he gets.

This! Perspicacious... sharp! NoDoz keeps you awake and alert—safely!

If you find studying sometimes soporific (and who doesn't?) the word to remember is NoDoz. NoDoz alerts you with a safe and accurate amount of caffeine—the same refreshing stimulant in coffee and tea. Yet non-habit-forming NoDoz is faster, handier, more reliable.

So to keep perspicacious during study and exams—and while driving, too—always keep NoDoz in proximity.

The safe stay awake tablet—available everywhere. Another fine product of Grove Laboratories.

how'd you catch on so quick? Catch on to the fact that Coca-Cola is the hep drink on campus, I mean. Always drink it, you say? Well—how about dropping over to the dorm and downing a sparkling Coke or two with the boys. The man who's for Coke is the man for us.
