Tech Heads For 'T-Party'

At 7:30 Friday Night

Stadium Pep Rally Kicks-Off Weekend

Although the Tech-Texas football game is set for Saturday night in Austin, Tech's Jones Stadium will vibrate with cheer Friday night.

High-spirited Techsans, complete with cow-bells and air horns, will gather at the stadium to cheer the Red Raiders to victory over the Longhorns at a pep rally set for 7:30 p.m.

The new setting for the rally will lend the atmosphere of a real football game. While students sing out with yells and songs, the football team will be working out in full-game uniform on the field below.

Later, at the rally, team members will be introduced and Woody Wood will speak to Tech students and faculty. Delta Gamma sorority is scheduled to put on a skit for fans at the event.

Pep rally attendants will enter the southwest gate of the stadium and sit in the regular student section. Members of the traffic security department will direct students in the parking of cars behind the stadium.

A large crowd is expected to be present at the event, according to Jim Isham, head cheerleader. The rally marks the inauguration of the Raiders in their first Southwest Conference game of the season and will be the sendoff for the school trip to Austin.

Coach J T King declared that the pep rally given last week was the best he had seen at Tech. He also expressed appreciation from the Raiders and himself for the spirit and enthusiasm at the rally.

Students who plan to make the school trip to Austin this weekend but have not purchased tickets must do so today.

Tickets will be available at the Saddle Tramps' booth in the lobby of Tech Union until 5 p.m., or at the Student Council office, Rm. 161 in the Ad Bldg., from 1 to 7 p.m.

Students cannot board busses without tickets, Wayne Underwood, Student Assn. vice president, emphasized. Receipts for payment of the $14 trip fee must be exchanged for tickets between 1 and 7 p.m. today in the Council office.

This $14 fee includes the price of the bus and game tickets only. Tickets for lunch at Brownwood Saturday cost $1 extra.

To be admitted to the Tech-Texas game Saturday night, Tech students must show their game tickets as well as their ID cards. Distribution of ID cards in the Library ended Wednesday, but will continue this week at Herald Photo, 1405 College Ave.

Almost 12 busses had been committed late Wednesday, according to Underwood. They will leave from the front of Tech Union at 6:30 a.m., Saturday, stop at Brownwood for lunch and arrive in the 'capital city' shortly after 4 p.m.

Busses will be escorted through Austin by highway patrolmen and city policemen. Tech cheerleaders will lead a pep rally in front of Stephen F. Austin Hotel upon arrival there. Following the rally, students are invited to attend a reception in the hotel—hosted by the Austin chapter of Tech's Ex-Students Assn.—or they may roam Austin at will.

At 6:30 p.m. busses will be in front of the Texas Capitol Bldg.—about four blocks from the hotel—to pick up students who need transportation to the football game at Texas' Memorial Stadium.

Highlight of the trip will be the clash between the Red Raiders and the Texas Longhorns at 7:30 p.m.—the first Southwest Conference game of the season for both teams. About 70 Saddle Tramps and dates will sit together in a special section of the stadium.

Following the game, students are invited to the "Kickoff Dance" in the Texas Union, as guests of the University's service organizations. Admission will be free for all Tech and Texas students, and they will dance from 10 to 12 to the music of the Royal Troubadors, a combo specializing in rock 'n roll, swing and jazz.

The dance will be in the main ballroom of the building. Any overflow can be accommodated in the Chuckwagon—the Union snackbar—where the hungry may purchase a snack if so desired.

Immediately following the dance those who need transportation downtown may board busses in front of the Union. Loading for the return trip to Lubbock will take place in front of the Stephen F. Austin Hotel and busses will depart at 1 a.m. Sunday. Techsans should be back on the Tech campus by 9:30 Sunday morning.

There will be a faculty member on each bus. The school trip is an annual event sponsored by the Student Assn. and Underwood is trip chairman this year.

The Push Stomp, Turn, Yell— And This Is A Dance?

By CLAY NUNALLY
Toreador Staff Writer

To be accepted by his peers, it is almost essential that the new college male learn the typical college dance, the "Push."

For those who are not familiar with the Push, it consists of a few hard stomps, a couple of quick turns and a series of short yells.

First, boys, clasp hands with your partner. Now squeeze her hands until all circulation is cut off and her eyes are beginning to glaze with pain. When this affect has been achieved and your dominance established, begin the dance. (Naturally, unless you wish to be thought a reactionary, wait until the music begins.)

Now the footwork is hard to master, but once overpowered it is sheer poetry. First, stomp twice as hard as you can. (For the first three or four dances it is best to be out of time with the music completely. This proves to the others that you are not a smart aleck.) Also, while stomping, scream "Yea, Yea, Yea" and roll your head till it rests at a right angle with your neck. This proves you have a feeling for the music.

Now, after the first two stomps come two more quick stomps. As you do this push the girl away from you in a graceful manner. Perhaps, though, your particular girl has been a troublemaker and refuses to go back. Then it is quite in order to rap sharply upon her forehead with your fist while shouting, "Back! Back I say!"

However, to be fair most girls have acumen enough to go back the two steps without much more than an occasional thump of your thumb.

Now for the tricky part—signaling for a turn.

When you think a turn would be agreeable to the others, then it is your duty to make the proper signal. There are two clever ways to do this:

1. Begin twisting her little finger until the first joint snaps. Of course, it may take a little time to master this, but soon you will be able to keep the noise down to a resonant thud.

2. Adroitly lash out with your left leg and plant a kick on her right shin. To the more sophisticated this might seem barbaric, but after her eyes have rolled back into their sockets, she will, be assured, turn.

So much for cultural adaptation. Remember to enjoy yourselves and to be pleasant and lovable. Just one more word of advice; before attempting the Push take out some insurance.

what comes after the wheel?
ford motor company's educated guess

Frankly, there is no practical substitute for the wheel today. But at Ford Motor Company, our scientists and engineers refuse to give "no" for an answer. They are tackling, among others, the problem of wheelless vehicles for tomorrow.

Is "tomorrow" really far off? Not according to the men at Ford. Already they've developed the Levacar as one possibility. It replaces the wheel with levapads, perforated discs which emit powerful air jets to support the vehicle. Air suspension—if you will—of an advanced degree. Imagine traveling swiftly, safely at up to 500 mph, riding on a tissue-thin film of air. Guided unerringly by a system of rails. Propelled by powerful turboprops. This is the Levacar.

Meanwhile we've still got the wheel. And the job of building better cars for today. So we hope you won't mind riding on wheels just a little longer while we concentrate on both tasks.

Campus After Five

By JEANNIE BOOKOUT
Toreador Society Editor

Making its first run is Campus After Five, a column intended to let you know what's taking place at Tech socially.

And in case you'd like to know this title does not refer to night classes, late labs or studying in the library.

Turning from columns to campusology the big event on for the weekend is, of course, the school trip to Austin. Hundreds of Techs have made plans to be on the Texas University bound busses which leave Tech at 6:30 a.m. Saturday.

Many others are anticipating a trip down by automobile to take in the football game, the downtown pep rally and the dance following the game.

Preceding the big trip to Austin is a pep rally at Jones Stadium at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Newly initiated members of Sigma Chi were honored at a banquet Sunday night at the Parkway Manor following initiation ceremonies Sunday morning.

The new initiates are Dayton Adam, Phil Berryman, Wayne Bratcher, Lew Bullion, Ken Easterwood, Bill Edwards, Bill Fouts, Hal Gieb, Gene Hamm, Jimmy Harrell, Jim Hoppe, Jim Lee, Herman May, Bobby Muller, Jimmy Owen, Art Partain, Ken Patterson, David Prewitt, Fred Prochaska, Perry Province, Bill Stanton and Don Stringer.

Presented with one white rose and eleven red roses was Sandra Renfro who has been selected as the White Rose Princess of Sigma Nu. The September Princess is a junior and member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Sigma Nu also presented Jim Meyer with the Best Pledge Award for the spring semester of '61.

For those who like to dance it's the Hideaway Hop scheduled for 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the snack bar area of the Tech Union. Music will be furnished by the jukebox.

Alpha Chi Omega pledges were initiated Saturday at the First Christian Church and were later treated to a banquet at Lester's Hickory Inn.

Girls initiated are Ellen Ford, Diane Graham, Linda Graham, Maureen Gilmore, Linda Maublouses, Sally Spear, Charmey Stensen and Carolyn Sutton.

BSO Plans Fall Work

A banquet, a workshop and distribution of information pertinent to member organizations are among activities planned by the BSO for the near future.

The annual BSO-sponsored President's Banquet will begin at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 4 in the Tech Union Ballroom. J. C. Chambers, a past president of the student body and one of the originators of the BSO, will be the speaker.

There will be a workshop Nov. 18 with the tentative theme of "Public Relations on Campus and with the Community."

BSO members are trying to stress the importance of the mail boxes located in the west foyer of the Ad. Bldg. There is a mailbox for each organization where all mail sent through the campus mail for that organization is delivered.

The BSO is planning a meeting of the social chairmen of all student organizations to familiarize them with the procedure of planning functions. A calendar of events for the coming month designed to prevent conflicts between the activities of various groups will be distributed at each BSO meeting.

Texas Colleges, Universities Increase Enrollment Figures

In a record setting enrollment school with an increase of about 700 students. Tech's increase of 1,031 lead the SWC schools in Texas. Only Rice, which maintains standard enrollment, Baylor and Southern Methodist failed to gain at least 100 students.

As educators and population experts had predicted, enrollment in almost all Texas universities and colleges has increased, breaking old records and setting new ones. Among those setting records were Tech, reaching the 10,000 mark; the University of Texas, by-passing the 20,000 level; and the University of Houston, retaining its title of Texas' second largest

THE TEXAS TECHNOLOGICAL COLLEGE

... Coliseum Lot

The announcement concerning parking on the Auditorium-Coliseum lot has caused quite a stir on campus the past few days.

Students and other interested persons are wondering why they are not permitted to park on the Coliseum lot. Crowded parking conditions already exist on the campus, and everyone knows that this ruling will make campus parking even tougher.

However, for the record, it should be pointed out that this no-parking rule regarding the Auditorium-Coliseum lot has been in effect since Aug. 20, 1953. It's not a new rule pulled out of a hat to make parking matters worse. We do not intend to say that we approve of this ruling—but it does exist.

The Toreador has secured a copy of the operating agreement between the City of Lubbock and Texas Tech regarding the use of Auditorium-Coliseum facilities. In the interest of bringing facts we are publishing official excerpts from this agreement. The agreement is in our files and is open to all interested parties.

"WHEREAS, under the authority of H.B. No. 478, the Texas Legislature authorized the Board of Directors of Texas Technological College to convey a tract of land on the College Campus to the City of Lubbock for Auditorium-Coliseum purposes for the use of the City of Lubbock, a Municipal Corporation of Lubbock County, Texas, and Texas Technological College:

"AND WHEREAS, the best interest of both the said College and City will be served by entering into a written agreement regarding said use, the parties have agreed as follows:

"(5) The City agrees to maintain the parking area and 6th Street at its own expense and will police the parking of vehicles attending Auditorium - Coliseum events not sponsored by the College.

"(6) It is further agreed that the parking area may be used by the college for ROTC drills when no event is scheduled in the Auditorium-Coliseum which would conflict with the use of the parking area.

"(7) The parking area shall not be used for off-street parking by either the College, the City, or the general public at any time, and the City agrees to enforce this provision.

"(8) It is agreed that where two or more events are scheduled in either the Stadium, Auditorium or Coliseum, there shall be no priority assigned in the parking area and that such parking shall be on a first come first served basis.

"(9) It is understood that the parking area may be used for parking for any College-sponsored event when not in conflict with Auditorium - Coliseum activities."

Now, what can be done? Perhaps some kind of new agreement can be worked out with the city. We don't know.

The Toreador feels that something should be done to improve parking conditions for the students at Tech. This has been a thorn in our side too long. No stone should be left unturned.

Toreador Mail Call...

Editor,
This is a suggestion—not a gripe—on how to make parking more convenient to residents of Sneed and the twin dorm (Gordon-Bledsoe). I have on several occasions noticed many vacancies in the West Hall portion of the North Dorm parking lot. Of course, I have never failed to find parking somewhere, usually in front of the Men's Gym, but this is no doubt a nice little hop to dear ol' Sneed on a cold night. I believe it would help some to allow only the needed parking spaces for West Hall. This could be called a "conservation and utility of an available resource."

Sincerely,
Five Sneed Residents

Dear Editor,
I clipped your editorial complimenting those who worked in registration from the paper this year as I clipped the article last year. This I thought was excellent. This office cannot take credit for a registration. We are delighted that you have given us this recognition at this early hour. Let me assure you that we have worked all year looking forward to this registration, and the fine cooperation of the students concerned is the thing that has made it so enjoyable. We desire to improve the registration procedures, and this can only be done by your help. We welcome suggestions and are anxious to serve the faculty and students in the best manner possible.

Sincerely,
Floyd Boze

Ralph's Ramblings

In the absence of Carlyle Smith's News and Views column today, I will attempt to pass along a few items that might be of interest. Smith's column will soon reappear, so his faithful following can rest easy.

The big news around the campus now is, of course, the school trip to Austin. Evidently quite a few of the students plan to journey down with the Raiders and show Austin and the Longhorns they're behind the team.

Of course there will be quite a bit of "merry-making" included on the weekend schedule. Austin's "night life" will be thoroughly examined by Techsians galore. Wish we could beat the Longhorns. I don't imagine the city would ever recover!

—RWC—

The South Plains Fair is now underway, and it's a nice place to visit if you can spare the study time. The fair seems to be improving each year. Probably won't ever replace the State Fair, but it's a nice addition to our area.

—RWC—

The World Series begins Oct. 4 in New York. Not much danger in predicting the outcome of this one. The Yanks in five. The Reds will find the Yankees too smart, too good and just dang hard to beat. Remember, the poor Reds don't even have one player who has ever been in the Big Show.

—RWC—

It's a small thing, but I guess you have noticed that the local movie houses have gone up to 15-cents on a bag of popcorn. Just another way to make money for them and add a burden on popcorn lovers.

They've always charged too much for admission here. We've heard plenty of griping about this over the years. About the only way to beat them at their game would be for the students to save their money and watch TV until the prices come down. I can assure you they like and need student business, especially since TV has created a great deal of havoc within their play-house.

They'll probably continue to up the prices and we'll probably continue to go. Anyway, it's a thought.

—RWC—

I understand the Lubbock Theater Centre's production of "Oklahoma" is one of the best yet. I'm not too well up on stage productions, but it would seem that Lubbock's group is making strides forward. It's good to hear.

Road To Success

"Ten ways to get through college without even trying."

1. Bring the professor newspaper clippings dealing with his subject. If you can't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.
2. Look alert. Take notes eagerly. If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievably and shake it.
3. Nod frequently and murmur "How true." To you, this seems exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective.
4. Sit in front, near him. (Applies only if you intend to stay awake).
5. Laugh at his jokes. You can tell, if he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has told a joke.
6. Ask for outside reading. You don't have to read it. Just ask for it.
7. If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the hour. It creates unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing.
8. Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course. If you do math in psychology class and psychology in math class, match the books in size and color.
9. Ask questions you think he can answer. Constantly avoid announcing that you have found the answer to a question he couldn't answer, and in your younger brother's second reader at that.
10. Call attention to his writing. If you know he's written a book or article, ask in class if he wrote it.

Organizations Choose Homecoming Theme

"Techsans in Fantasyland" is the theme of the 1961 Homecoming Parade. It was chosen Tuesday at a meeting of all organizations entering floats in the parade this year.

All floats will depict some aspect of this theme, and organizations must submit a description of their entry to John Ward, float chairman, by Nov. 1.

Any organizations not represented at the meeting may obtain a copy of the revised rules and regulations in the office of the Ex-Students' Assn., in Ad Bldg., Rm. 102.

Fair Officials Offer Techsans Free Admission To Attractions

Tech students will have an opportunity to win teddy bears, deavour candy apples, walk many miles and see many sights Friday during Student Day at the Panhandle South Plains Fair at Fair Park.

Techsans will be admitted to the fair by showing their ID activity cards. The gates open at 9 a.m. and close about 10 p.m.

The Fair offers such attractions as midway excitement, antique auto shows and the featured 1961 Ice Capades. The last show of the Ice Capades will be at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

For those interested in animals and agriculture, there are exhibits of prize grains and modern farming equipment as well as livestock showings and the I.Q. Zoo, featuring trained animals from Little Rock, Ark.

Women's exhibits include textile and culinary booths and flower and art shows.

Students will be admitted free of charge all day and through the night. The last day of the Fair is Saturday. The Chamber of Commerce expects record-breaking crowds over the weekend.

Personnel Office Evaluates Jobs

In two weeks, the new Classified Personnel Office will begin gathering information for use in its job evaluation plan.

Tech's continuous growth demanded the addition of a new office for coordinating personnel function on campus. Last April, President R. C. Goodwin laid the groundwork for the establishment of an office of this type. The classified Personnel Office became effective Sept. 1 under the direction of Frederic Wehmeyer.

A committee of members of the college staff is to be appointed to evaluate jobs concerned. Point values will be assigned to each of the factors: skills and abilities required, responsibilities, working conditions and physical and mental effort required. The total point value of a job will determine its position in relation to other campus jobs. The job will be placed in a salary grade according to its total point value.

Frank A. Ives, University of Colorado, will serve as consultant for this first project.

NO PARKING

Tickets were issued yesterday in accordance with Tech's new policy on parking in the Auditorium-Coliseum parking lot. An operating agreement between the college and the city prohibits the use of the parking lot for off-street parking by students and the general public.

If, as this column urged earlier, you have acquired an FM receiver, be sure to have it tuned to 91.9 megacycles at 2 p.m. Sunday for the KTXT 1961-62 debut. New albums containing the tops in pops and the best in classical will be featured. Dave Lindeman, Mike Ludeman, Bill Pearce and Mike Butcher will announce this year. Marilyn Kaplinger returns as program director and KTXT-FM will be good listening.

Lubbock Symphony has announced a sparkling slate of performers for the season. Oct. 23 brings mezzo-soprano Blanche Thebom to the spotlight. Violinist Michael Rabin appears Nov. 20. Famed duo-pianists Whitmore and Lowe are to play on Feb.

26 and the annual "pops" concert on April 30. William A. Harrod conducts in the Municipal Auditorium.

If you, like the writer, thrill to the vibrant lows, the shattering highs, and the melodic mid-ranges of the pipe organ, another musical must is a concert by Tech's Dr. Judson Maynard, assistant professor of music. Dr. Maynard's first Lubbock appearance will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Second Baptist Church, 3002 54th Street.

Movies to see... starting today at the Lindsey is "Romanoff and Juliet" starring the incomparable Peter Ustinov; showing for the last time today at the Arnett Benson is "A Raisin in the Sun" with Sidney Poitier, of "Porgy and Bess" acclaim; and for the first times tomorrow at the same theater "La Dolce Vita." This is a film that merits its rave reviews and is not to be missed (if you're over 16)... a movie you'll long remember.

Lubbock Theater Center is now casting "The Visit" which is set for a Nov. 16 opening.

Museum Twilight Music Hour resumes on Oct. 15 with a completely new series of concerts for its 11th year. The first is "A Festival of Renaissance Music" and "Music from the Grand Baroque" follows Nov. 12. "Music for Piano, Winds and Strings" is planned for Feb. 11, and "Music of 19th Century Romantics" for March 11.

"Sounds and Images of 20th Century Music" April 8; and "Currents of Contemporary Music," May 13. More about these fine programs later.

Arkansas Shares Cellar

Tech Stats Start Low

After the first full run of conference intersectional football, Texas Tech and Arkansas occupy the basement in team statistics. Ironically, both team statistics leaders of the 1960 inaugurals were on the short end this season. Tech and Arkansas could accumulate only 217 yards between them in a disastrous doubleheader at Jackson, Miss. The Raiders amassed only 77 yards rushing and 32 passing for a meager 109 total offense, a far cry from the 300 or more accumulated in the season opener with West Texas State a year ago.

The name Texas Tech appears only once in the list of team statistics and twice in the individual statistics column. Bake Turner emerged seventh in punts after the first game with Mississippi State. Turner punted eight times for 228 yards and a 36.0 average. The Raiders barely edged Arkansas for the lowest total offense. The Pigs managed 112 yards while Tech had 109. Arkansas also nosed out Tech for the cellar in total defense. The Raiders yielded 361 yards while Arkansas let 'Ole Miss through for 375. The Bruins slammed Wake Forest, 31-0, and Texas took the sunshine out of California, 28-3.

Student Wins $10

Bob Allen, junior accounting major, is this week's winner in the football contest co-sponsored by Brown's Varsity and the Toreador.

Allen won the $10 first place prize gift certificate at Brown's for correctly predicting all the games except the 7-7 tie between Texas A&M and Houston.

TOP MAN FOR TECH—The arm of Johnny Lovelace, 212 lb quarterback from Farwell, will play a bag part in Texas Tech's game against Texas University Saturday.

Maris Gets No. 60; Reds Grab Pennant

Tuesday night baseball aroused more than casual interest in the slugger, hit No. 60 Tuesday night in Yankee Stadium to become the only man in major league history to hit as many home runs in one season as Babe Ruth.

Maris' 60th homer came on a 2-2 pitch by right-hander Jack Fisher and ricocheted out of the third tier of Yankee Stadium's right field stands back onto the field.

The same night Cincinnati clinched its first National League pennant since 1940 by beating the Chicago Cubs, 6-3. The Yankees and the Reds will open the World Series Wednesday in New York.

Golf Candidates Will Meet Today

Any student wishing to play on either the freshman or varsity golf teams for Texas Tech next spring is asked to apply this week at Meadowbrook Golf Course.

Jay McClure, Texas Tech golf coach and host pro at Meadowbrook, will meet with prospective members both today and Friday.
