Club Members Give Voice On Saar Question

Debate Group And IRC
Plebiscite Favors
German Rule

AFTER a debate on the Saar question, members of the International Relations club and the Debate club voted in a plebiscite for unification with Germany.

The pro-French members resorted to intimidation to get votes, but were ruled out of order by Jimmy Gammill, president of the I. R. C., who was in charge.

Bill Street, junior Pre-Law student, gave a brief history of Saar territory. "From a historical point of view the Saar Basin is fundamentally Germanic," Street said.

Powder-Keg Of Europe
"Today the Saar is one of the powder-kegs of Europe but after the plebiscite of January 13 the peace of the continent may be more secure," continued Street. He pointed out the fact that the French and German troops are concentrating on the borders of the Saar "to see that the voters are not unduly influenced by outsiders."

Buster Moxley and Paul Eubank spoke in favor of unification with Germany while George Long and James Howell supported the negative contention.

Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, sponsor of the Debate club, gave a critical analysis of the debate at the end of the discussion. Team work will begin immediately after the Christmas holidays, according to Fred Barron, president of the club.

Men Consider Dorm By-Laws

Heard Discusses Laundry
Problem; Schumpert
Names Committee

A constitution for the men's dormitory was discussed at a meeting of the students of the dormitory Monday night, with President Melvin Schumpert presiding. The new constitution will be voted upon at the next gathering when several changes will be considered.

Charles Cosgrove of Ciebunne was elected parliamentary under the resignation of Sam Underwood. A financial report was made on the proceeds received from the dances which have been held in the dormitory.

M. E. Heard, textile professor, spoke briefly on the laundry situation in the dormitory, urging boys to cooperate more fully with college officials.

Schumpert appointed the following on a permanent social committee: Preston Connerly, chairman, Sam Spacek, Don Miller and Wilson Grimes.

Tech Club Report Wins Third Place

Third place was awarded to the Tech chapter of the Block and Bride club on their annual report given at a meeting of the National Block and Bride club in Chicago. The gathering was held in the Sherman hotel, Tuesday, December 4.

Favorable reports were received on the Tech report as it was the first of its kind to be presented. Pictures illustrating events which took place during the 1934-35 season were exhibited.

Professor W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department, was elected vice-president of the National Block and Bride club at the meeting.

Blitz Will Be Guest Artist In Amarillo

The Amarillo Philharmonic orchestra will repeat its performance of a few weeks ago Saturday evening in Amarillo when Julien Paul Blitz of the Tech music department will again be guest artist.

Edouard, twelve year old son of Mr. Blitz, will play the three movements of Popora's Concerto for the cello with full orchestral accompaniment as the only addition to the program.

The orchestra is directed by Christian Thaulow. Mrs. Blitz will be at the piano for her husband's solo numbers.

ACCEPTS POSITION

G. W. Durham, senior arts and sciences student, has withdrawn from school to accept a position as business and advertising manager of the Colorado Times, at Colorado, Texas.

Durham has been desk editor of the Colorado Times for the past year. The Colorado Times is edited by H. Y. Price, a 1930 graduate of Tech.

Corruption Discovered In Pre-Law Mock Trial

Toreador Staff
Meets Monday

Toreador staff members will meet Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the basement of the engineering building to outline future plans for the paper. This will be the last staff meeting of 1934.

All students enrolled in the school of journalism are urged to be present so assignments and beats can be issued to those who wish to do laboratory work on the paper. A number of new beats are open.

Tech Band To Give Concert

Harry Blocker Is Elected
Head Of Musical
Organization

Texas Tech Matador band of 90 members will give its first concert of the school year next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium, D. O. Wiley, director, announces. The concert is free to the public.

Ten numbers are listed on the program as follows:
The Guiding Star march (Stelbertz); Orpheus overture (Offenbach); Carneval Russe (Clard); Flute solo played by David Humphreys; II. Baclo waltz (Ardit); Rose Marie selection (Friml); March Militaire (Schubert); Clair De Lune (Debussy); Cornet solo played by Alfred Riley; Southern Rhapsody (Hosmer); and Christmas songs.

Harry Blocker, sophomore engineer, was elected president of the Matador band Tuesday night at a business meeting. Other officers are: Alfred Riley, junior arts and sciences student, vice-president; Sam Teague, sophomore arts and sciences, secretary; and H. A. Watson, freshman arts and sciences, business manager.

After the meeting the band practiced for their concert.

Seniors Award Ring Contracts

College Bookstore Given
Contract After Hot
Discussion

The contract for the senior rings for the '35 class was awarded to the book store, representing the Elliot Engraving company, by a majority vote of the senior class at a called meeting last Thursday night with President Jimmy Gammill presiding.

Earnest Griffith, chairman of the ring committee, submitted the bids of three competing companies for the senior ring contract for this year. After a heated discussion, in which several alumni voiced opinions on the awarding of the contract, and after all parliamentary rules were broken, the discussion was brought to a vote. The book store will remain the agent for the senior class for another year. The probability of senior prom was discussed and it was decided to consider it the first of next semester.

Textile Club Plans Christmas Party

Phi Psi, textile fraternity, met Tuesday night to plan for its annual Christmas party.

Denzil Probasco is chairman of the program committee for the party. Other members of the committee are J. E. Parsons and Ralph Douglas.

The entertainment will be a dinner at the Hilton hotel with a program following. Seven active members of Phi Psi are in school. Twenty-three members attended the general meeting of textile students last Tuesday night sponsored by the fraternity. Professor Carl D. Brandt, head of the textile department, Denzil Probasco and Elliot Knox spoke at the gathering.

English Scientists Ask Information Of Patton

The department of scientific and industrial research of the English government has written Dr. L. T. Patton of the department of geology requesting information regarding the volcanic ash deposits near Tahoka. Dr. Patton made a study of these deposits several years ago for the owner of the ranch on which they are located, and a copy of his report has been forwarded to the department requesting the information.

Nelson And His Shyster Lawyers Are Shaky As Coup Fails

EVIDENCE that the defense lawyers had bribed three members of the jury necessitated the empaneling of a new jury and the subsequent postponement of the Pre-Law trial until Monday night, December 17, in room 392 of the Ad building.

Justice "Huey" Long denounced the corrupt tactics used by the defense and stated that he "would not tolerate such goings-on in the sanctity of his court."

Defense attorneys defended themselves by proclaiming the postponement was due to the conflict with the Lion's club crippled children's program.

Sells Jewelry
Editor Nelson and at least two members of his defense have become pale around the gills, nervous and shaky. Local sources reveal that Nelson has already begun to sell his jewelry, either to pay the damages asked or to purchase a ticket to the Orient.

The attorneys for the plaintiff announce the arrival of an important witness from another state who promises to reveal startling truths about Nelson's private life.

Dorothy Frank Clements, plaintiff, has begun to show her face in public again. Her faith that justice will be done to the vindictive Nelson has somewhat restored her composure.

Defense attorney Brock and "Shyster" Eubanks were taken from a west-bound freight train late yesterday by sheriff "Get-em-Red" Crawford. Crawford revealed that the two lawyers sordidly admitted the hopelessness of their case against the claims of the plaintiff.

Tech Chorus Gives Church Program

Thirty members of Tech chorus under the direction of Professor Julien Paul Blitz, head of the music department, presented two numbers, "Elgin's Chorus" by Wagner and "The Spacious Firmament" by Hadyn, Sunday night at 8 o'clock at the College Avenue Baptist church.

Surpluses have been provided for the chorus members to wear during concerts. They will not make any more appearances until after the Christmas holidays.

State Seed Board To Import Grains

Because of the extended drought in this section it is probable that sudan and sorghum seeds will have to be imported to this country for spring planting. This point was brought out in a meeting of the State Seed and Plant Board meeting here last Saturday.

The Board met with the Peddler Grain Sorghum Growers association to discuss surplus seed on hand and minimum prices. Mr. R. B. Miller of Austin, chairman of the board, attended.

Chemistry Club Elects Schneider As Sponsor

Chemical engineers met Friday night to organize. Dr. Valerie Schneider, associate professor of chemistry, was chosen sponsor. John S. Ball, temporary chairman, appointed Eugene Watkins chairman of a nominating committee and Howard Hurnence head of a committee to draw up a constitution.

The second meeting will be tomorrow night at 7:30 in C101.

Students Prepare For Yuletide Spirit As Trees Are Placed In Dormitories

CO-EDS and collegians haven't hung up stockings at Christmas for a long time, but still like Christmas trees. On the campus five trees have been decorated and hung with lights this year, and several students staying at the dormitories have placed colored lights in their windows.

The red, green and blue lights of the tree in front of the home management house may be seen from College avenue giving the whole campus a holiday atmosphere.

Trees At Dorms
Two evergreens with blue lights flanked both sides of the entrance to the women's dormitory Monday night, and by Tuesday night the men had put up two trees before their dormitory and strung them with lights.

Someone at the men's dormitory even has a Christmas tree in his room. Every night the lights of this

Women's Social Club Officers Vote Petition

Resolution Asks Council
To Declare Limit
For Rushing

PRESIDENTS of the women's social clubs met Sunday afternoon and drew up a petition, representing the inter-club council, asking the administrative council to limit the rush season for social clubs to the first two weeks following the opening week of school.

This would include two weeks and three week-ends, making the rush season last 18 days, to take effect in the fall semester of 1935. After this, all the rushes would be pledged during the fall semester and initiated when grades came out.

Each club would be allowed two calendar entertainments. No official rushing would start until this date, thus allowing church and school activities the first week of school.

The club council approved the petition to be sent to the administrative council, who are to pass on it before it becomes a final program for the social clubs.

All members of the council discussed a Christmas project for the social clubs and agreed, upon the suggestion of Mary Geniece Hardberger, to give the gifts from their club Christmas trees to Sander's Sunday school, which is sponsored by all of the churches in Lubbock.

The Council also decided to make an index of all members of every social club, alumni, and pledges to be placed in Miss Elizabeth West's office for reference by the clubs. Only members of the Inter-Club council will have access to this list.

Gordon To Talk On Scholarship

Alpha Chi Meets Today
To Discuss Aspects
Of High Honors

"Some Aspects of Practical Scholarship" will be discussed by Dean J. M. Gordon, dean of the liberal arts school, before the regular meeting of Alpha Chi, Tech national honorary society, this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Dean Gordon will discuss the value of scholarship to a college student, from the standpoint of obtaining a job after graduation: is it worthwhile? will it pay economically?

Alpha Chi recently initiated 12 seniors and 27 juniors into the society, while ten old members who are still in school were re-instated. All students now registered in school who have been members of the society at some other institution are eligible to join.

Alpha Chi is the only national scholarship society which recognizes scholarship in Tech. It is composed of the upper ten per cent of the junior and senior classes, whose ranking is determined by all the grades made in college. Unless the student has previously been a member of the society, he is not eligible to join if he has not been in Tech the preceding scholastic year.

New Office Desks Added For Typists

Twenty-five new office typewriter desks have been installed in the typing room.

The typewriters can be folded into the desks, leaving the surface entirely clear. This permits them to be used as tables for accounting students, as well as for typewriting purposes. This arrangement practically doubles the available space, and accounting students no longer have to move all typewriters before beginning work.

Russian Songs Feature Artist Course Number

Margarita Slaviansky, World Famous Director,
Conducts Dance Chorus Founded By Father

MME. Margarita Slaviansky, director of the famous 76-year-old Russian Chorus begun in Russia by her father, Dmitry Slaviansky, appeared here Monday in the last artist course number of the semester.

The chorus sang principally Russian folk songs, but with a few numbers in English to vary the program. Mme. Slaviansky's favorite of all American songs, "Going Home" was included. The one that received the most applause was a novelty called "Massachusetts."

Miss Mara, daughter of Mme. Slaviansky, is accompanist and soloist with the group.

Do Gypsy Dances
In addition to chorus and solo numbers, several members of the company did Russian and gypsy dances that the audience enjoyed. The gay, energetic and colorful dancing, together with the rhythmic clapping of the rest of the chorus gave an impression of Russian peasant life.

When asked whether her father really wrote the "Song of the Volga Boatmen" Mme. Slaviansky said: "No, my father did not write it. The Song of the Volga Boatmen is an old Russian folk song. My father, while traveling among the small towns and villages, only wrote it down and arranged the music for the chorus." She said that it took ten years for her father to convince the Russian people that Russian music was as good as that of Italy and France, the only music accepted by the upper classes of Russia at that time.

Beautiful Costumes
Someone commented on the beauty of the costumes. "They are beautiful," Mme. Slaviansky said. (Continued on page 6)

Committee Submits Nominees For Queen Of Tech Soldiers

Permanent Officers For Each Battery Are Announced

Names of five nominees for queen of the cadet corps have been submitted by the following committee: Jim Vowell, Carl Turner, Hoot Gibson, J. L. Stinson, J. A. Hammack and D. M. Ferebee.

J. L. Stinson will speak to the Cadet Officers club tonight on "Present Strength of Nations." Place of meeting has been changed from the Armory to room 220 in the ad building.

Davis Lectures
Col. C. A. Davis, head of the military department, lectured on General Sherman last Thursday night. Roy Kay will discuss "Treaties That Have Been Broken" next Thursday night.

Permanent officers for each battery of the cadet corps have been announced as follows: Battery A, Jim Vowell, captain, J. M. Hammack and Mark Orr, lieutenants; Battery B, Woodrow Howell, captain, Edward Suddath, Arthur Zerwer and Hammack, lieutenants; Battery C, Roger Orr, captain, Edwin Butler and John Emmett, lieutenants; Battery D, Carl Turner, captain, Roscoe Clark and Gibson, lieutenants; Battery E, John Marr, captain, D. M. Ferebee, R. S. Kay and J. M. Maner, lieutenants; Battery F, Lem Boren, captain, J. L. Stinson, Bob Stahler and Leo Reynolds, lieutenants.

Three Divisions Of Annual Completed

According to Editor Howard Reed, 80 pages of La Ventana, Tech yearbook, are finished.

The view, faculty and football sections are completed, while the subdivision set-ups are nearing completion.

Six hundred and fifty pictures for student class section have been made. December 15 is the deadline for first semester students. Second term students will be given an opportunity to put their pictures in the annual.

La Ventana staff will meet Monday night at 7:00.

Aspects Of Astronomy Discussed By Speaker

Dr. R. S. Underwood, professor of mathematics, addressed the Tech branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers Tuesday night on the four aspects of astronomy with emphasis on an understanding of what astronomy really is. Seventeen members and two faculty members were present.

A short business session followed the lecture.

TO HOLD TOURNAMENT

W. A. A. will hold an intramural basketball tournament for women students Friday. Girls who have been practicing this sport are eligible and will draw for places on the team at 4 o'clock. Two games will be played and everyone is urged to attend.

TO ATTEND MEETING

C. E. Qualls, head of the foreign language department, and Mrs. W. E. Gates, assistant professor in the department, will attend a meeting of the American Association of Spanish Teachers at the University of Texas, Austin, December 27 and 28.

ENGINEER'S BALL

The Engineer's ball will be December 20 at the Auditorium. Ned Bradley's orchestra will furnish the music. Engineer's colors, blue and gold will be used in decorating for the Christmas dance.

One-Third Of Students Pay Own Expenses

Nine Hundred Tech Men
And Women Work To Earn Money

TEXAS Technological college has 829 regularly employed students who are earning part or all of their expenses.

Approximately 38 per cent of the student body are working students. Of this number, 687 are men, 242 are women. The Federal Emergency Relief administration affords employment for 216 students.

The average monthly salary for men is $29.36, and for women, $24.10. The hourly earnings of the two, respectively, are 29 cents and 24 cents. Men average working 3.8 hours per day and women average 4 hours, based on 26 working days per month.

Many Employed
The college, not including the FERA employees, employs 179 men students and 55 women students, a total of 234 workers.

There are 95 men students employed as store clerks. Fifty-nine are employed as waiters.

The 687 men are employed in 136 different fields, and the 242 women in 29 fields. Ninety-five men students are employed as store clerks; 59 serve as waiters.

From working as artists, dishwashers, historians, and companions to children, men students are financing themselves through Tech by framing windows, radio announcing, carrying the mail, weaving, washing windows and butchering. Housework employs 76 women students and 26 are working as waitresses. Others are caring for children, acting as companions for older people, decorating windows, operating telephone switchboards, and doing stenographic work.

Prout Speaks To Engineers

General Electric Official
Shows Use Of Power
In Oil Industry

"Electrical apparatus has minimized engine space and saved the petroleum industry money," said G. R. Prout, chief petroleum engineer of the General Electric company, Dallas branch, in his speech to Tech engineering students Tuesday night in the engineering auditorium. The lecture was illustrated by lantern slides.

Mr. Prout discussed "Application of Electrical Apparatus to the Petroleum Industry." He emphasized three divisions of the petroleum industry: drilling of the well, which was formerly done by steam driven motor, now replaced by electrical powered motors; the pumping of the product and the final pipe lining of material.

"In all these aspects of the industry the electrical device has made for better output and increased production," Prout brought out.

Prout was accompanied by two other Dallas representatives of General Electric company: E. G. Mufford, of the office; W. E. Folline, switch board engineer, who demonstrated an oil action circuit breaker, one of the latest developments in electrical appliances.

P. E. Braat of Tulsa represented the Sterling Engine company. About 75 students and most of the engineering faculty attended.

Studhalter Talks Of Yaqui Indians

Dr. R. A. Studhalter addressed the Engineering society at its regular meeting Monday night. He discussed customs of the Yaqui. Plans for the annual engineering dance were made. Truman Green is chairman of the dance committee.

Impromptu speeches on stream lining were made by Paul Hall, J. A. Johnson and Leon Ince. At all future meetings three-minute impromptu speeches on various phases of engineering work will be made.

An emblem for sewing on jackets was displayed and a price quoted. The emblem is in the form of an engineer's seal and will be on sale in the engineering building after the Christmas holidays.

Las Peccas Club Sponsors Informal Dance At Dorm

Las Peccas, a club of freshman girls, will sponsor an informal dance Saturday, December 15, from 8:30 to 12 o'clock in the girl's dormitory. The dance, for freshmen only, will honor members of the Picador football team.

Bids will be sent out today. Duane Fuquas orchestra will furnish the music.

Contracts For College Rings

AT the senior class meeting last week, a problem presented itself concerning the contract for the college rings which may become acute if the situation is allowed to dangle as it is apparently doing now. Since the first senior class rings were ordered, three different contracts have been given for the design of the ring. For the last four years, the college book store has been the agent for the senior class, representing the Elliot company, which was each year voted upon by the class.

At the discussion last week on the contract for the senior ring, it was finally awarded to the book store for the ensuing year; however, there was a great deal of misunderstanding concerning the design of the ring prior to the meeting, hard feelings were formed, and innocent ears were needlessly burned because of a situation that could be corrected. Even alumni students were present who voiced their opinions on the existing situation. A senior meeting of the type that was held to discuss the ring contracts is not complimentary to the class or to the intelligence of the student body when friendships are jolted and enemies are made, all because of a few words expressed in a heated discussion.

One remedy would be to have a general convocation of seniors and permit the class to award a contract for the next four years to a reputable company for the same design of rings. The various companies could submit competitive bids on prices for all styles of rings, based on the assurance of a four year contract.

The seniors could have the advantage of the lowest price possible, and at the same time, know that the ring contracts could not cause any antagonism, either among themselves or the alumni, for at least four years to come.

Cooperate

SEVERAL complaints have been made lately about stories of club meetings and other events not getting in the Toreador. We make every effort to publish all copy pertaining to campus affairs, but when a story is not reported to us it is impossible to run an account of it.

Reporters are not clairvoyant; they do not gaze into a crystal ball and see the campus at will; they are not assisted by thought transference. After all, reporters are only human. They cannot be every place when something happens.

As was stated in an earlier issue of the Toreador, we are not interested in any movement or organization in any way except from the standpoint of news value.

The responsibility of raising the paper to the highest journalistic levels not only rests with us but with the entire student body and faculty as well. Our policy is "being of service to the student body and to the school as a whole."

When you know or hear of a news item, by all means phone or mail it to the Toreador, located in the basement of the engineering building. We need your cooperation.

Easy

Here are some easy things: It is easy (1) to give way to impulses, and make no effort to control yourself; (2) to be mentally lazy and have no habits of study; (3) to eat what you please instead of what you should; (4) to lie and to sidestep; (5) to go in debt and say, "Charge it"; (6) to acquire a bad habit; (7) to pity yourself and blame other people; (8) to be vain and egotistical; (9) to talk too much; (10) to go with the crowd instead of following your own conscience. It is, in a word, easy to go down hill and hard to go up. But everything worthwhile is up hill. —Everyday Wisdom.

It is possible to engage the services of people who are too good for their work.—Sir Russell Scott.

Far down the path which America is now treading . . . in the shadow of the future but all too clearly visible to the historian, stands, biding his time, the sinister figure of the man on horseback, the dictator.—James Truslow Adams.

People will do anything nowadays to save a few minutes, though what they mean to do with these few minutes is quite another question.—Cyril Norwood.

REVIEWING

THE gray-haired, heart-sick Mr. Samuel Insull was recently acquitted by a very sympathetic jury of farmers, salesmen and small merchants, of a petty crime charged against him, of merely swindling thousands of trusting people of their savings. Regardless of the fact that he deliberately lied in his stock advertisements, so that he could sell shares in a corporation which during its existence had never made a dollar's profit, we rejoiced when we heard of his release. Those news-reels showing his loving family waiting for his return caused us to feel a sadness not experienced for many years. Just consider how sad his wife would have felt if he had been given the jail sentence that he so thoroughly deserved. But, perhaps Lady Justice has a soul that is not completely hardened, it might yet be sensitive enough to feel saddened at such an act in a court supposedly guided by her hand. The favorable public sentiment which arose in his behalf showed clearly the extent to which we forgiving Americans idealize wealth and power.

If the enthusiasm and energy of President Roosevelt can spur 16 more of our state legislatures to ratify the child-labor amendment, to make it a part of our constitution, it will be one of the greatest achievements of this administration. Twenty states have already approved the measure. The only hope for any effective treatment of this condition is federal control, not by state legislation, (apologies to Thomas Jefferson). National child-labor laws prevailed from 1916 to 1920 when they were declared unconstitutional, the Supreme court saying that it was the right of the states to handle the problem. The individual states have done almost nothing in this respect, each state fearing that if they remove child labor from industry, thereby raising the cost of labor, that a neighboring state, continuing to use children, will be able to sell its products cheaper. In 1932 16 states introduced measures of this nature but fear of external competition caused the defeat of the bills.

THE N. R. A. has done its part in doing away with the child-labor problem but the codes expire in 1935 and the present attitude of labor and capital indicates that they may not be renewed. An amendment to the constitution will make the matter a permanent piece of legislation.

In 1932 there were three million children from the ages of seven to twelve years of age kept out of school because of employment; over two million boys and girls of this age were gainfully employed. Perhaps some of our Townsend fiends would like to pay these youngsters a pension so that unemployed men could take their jobs.

Each state of the union now has a different set of laws regarding child-labor, none of them is rigid. The majority of states have minimum age limits as low as 14 years, in several states the limit does not apply to some occupations. Only eight states have minimum wage laws. Five states do not have any legal provision against hiring of children in dangerous occupations. When an investigation was made in 1932 cases were found where children worked 80 hours per week; some girls were being paid $3 per week. In Massachusetts it was found that the rate of pay for girls employed in the clothing factories of Fall River was as low as ten cents per hour, and in one case five cents.

SOME criticisms made of the child-labor law: It is of a socialistic nature, it is an attempt to nationalize the home, that is, make the child responsible to the government rather than to the parents. Is it socialistic to try to put the child back into the home, to give him an education, to make him a responsible member of society? Some of the critics say that it would encourage idleness; they say that if the law had always been in effect we would not have had such men as Abe Lincoln or Al Smith. Several men have argued that it is similar to the 18th amendment and would be equally as hard to enforce. Study the two amendments and see if you can find anything in common between the two.

The two arguments that are used more by the opponents than any other are that the law should decide the matter among themselves, and that the problem should be left to the parents and not to the government. It is hopeless to think that the first of these two methods could ever prove effective; they have tried for years to come to an agreement and they have, as yet, done nothing. The second argument is foolish. Why not dissolve our federal government and place everything in the hands of the parents?

Let us hope that the members of several more state legislatures will think of some other group besides the industries and vote in favor of the child-labor amendment, to help make the world safe for someone besides the capitalists.

STUDENT FORUM

MUSIC PROF TAKES PAPER TO TASK

To the Editor: Unfortunately I am bald-headed. Otherwise I would have had the great satisfaction of tearing my hair out over the errors in your paragraph "Blitz Plays Cello Solos," an account crammed full of mistakes. I sent you a program of the Music Teachers convention. It was only necessary to copy this program to have everything correctly stated. I did not play the Allegro from the Concerto by Portora. The musician in question is Mr. Popora and it was played by my youngster.

Entirely omitted was the appearance of Miss Washburn and Miss Martin, two Tech students, who, with myself at the cello, played a trio from Beethoven seldom heard.

I had the pleasure of sending you a very interesting issue of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, but have been unable to find any notice of it in your issue. Please, Mr. Nelson, do not place these remarks as complaints. I am not complaining at all. I am merely trying to help you in the hopes that someday the Toreador may become of value to the music department. Up to the present time it is a monument of musical misinterpretation.

Yours in a very good humor,
J. P. BLITZ

Editor's Note: Dear Mr. Blitz, we regret that you do not have a bushy head of hair. The Toreador is very unfortunate in not having a reporter gifted in musical interpretation. The paper does not cater to any one department but tries to serve them all alike. We are sorry that the articles to which you refer failed to reach our desk.

Under our present form of education, I am led to the conclusion that, as individuals, Americans are great, but collectively we are a failure.—Dr. William J. Mayo.

A prisoner in a Houston jail ate several razor blades and some electric light bulbs. What a sharp appetite for a light meal.

Huey Long's New Orleans vice investigation turned out more or less vice versa.

To murder a nagging wife is not really murder was the decision reached by a British judge and jury. Well, that is something for British women to fuss about.

CAMPUS ALBUM

RECALLING THE PAST

The Texas Tech Matadors ended the 1927 football season in a blaze of glory by defeating the West Texas State Teachers college, Buffalo 15-7. A resume of the season's playing gives the following:
Tech, 7; Schreiner, 0.
Tech, 0; Texas university, 12.
Tech, 13; St. Edwards, 0.
Tech, 3; McMurry, 0.
Tech, 5; T. C. U., 28.
Tech, 0; Daniel Baker, 0.
Tech, 0; A. C. C., 7.
Tech, 0; Simmons, 19.
Tech, 18; Canyon, 7.
Total, Tech, 47; Opposition, 79.

In 1927 the Tech Senior Livestock Judging team did not fare as well as the 1934 team. In the International Livestock exposition at Chicago they placed eighth. Bernellus Carmichael tied for first place in horse judging.

Texas Technological college was admitted to the Association of Colleges and Secondary schools, bringing merited recognition to the school.

What do you think of the primitive idea of punching holes through the lobes of the ears in order to wear ear rings?

Laura Lee Davis—"It is o. k. if you are the primitive type."

Leonard "Bar" Curman—"The ear rings should harmonize in size and contour with the girls."

Marjorie Scott—"All girls would like to have holes punched in their ears but they are softies and fear the pain."

Charlotta Ratliff—"Cheapening; danger of infection; but appropriate for gypies."

Julia Slough—"I recommend holes through the ears if they fit the personality of the person."

CAMPUS ECHOES

By JIM LINDSEY

A study of student failures at the University of Georgia has revealed that those who failed in their courses, in comparison with the remainder of the student body, have more absences from class work, spend less hours in study, have more disorderly conduct and that their parents have less education and a large number of broken homes.

Despite the fact that beer is available on the University of Illinois (Champaign) campus, soft drinks are sold in quantities nine times as great as the amount of beer consumed by the student body.

The University of Montana has one classroom that covers approximately 1,600 acres—it's the forestry school's laboratory in Platte canyon.

"Hitler pays money to young people in Germany; Huey Long pays money to young people in Louisiana; Hitler admits that he expects something in return," states the Kentucky university student publication.

From the New Mexico Lobo we find that through P. W. A. loans, the greatest building project of the university will start soon. A new administration building is to be constructed at a cost of $200,000.

College Forum Has Reception

Christmas Motif Is Used In Decorations For Annual Affair

The Forum entertained with an annual Christmas reception Saturday evening in the home of President and Mrs. Bradford Knapp from 7 until 9 o'clock. Invitations were sent to women students and faculty members of the college.

Decorations were in the Christmas motif.

Guests were met at the door by Miss Sylvia Wilson, charter member of the Forum, and were presented to the receiving line made up of Dr. and Mrs. Knapp and the Forum officers, Misses Ruth Douglas, president, Inez Hensley, secretary, Elizabeth Conner, membership chairman, and Lorene Childers, business manager.

Alumnae members of the organization were included in the house party. They were Mesdames Jimmy Wilson, Melba Mae Maxey, Clarence Whitesides, and Miss Sarah Michie. Active members in the house party were Misses Agnes Abernathy, Jean Ayers, Emily Davis, Sue Michie, Pauline Yeager, Lois Pitts, Katherine Laidigh, Elizabeth Montfort, Hermona Shadle, Nancy Ruth Leaverton, and Mrs. Laurence Priddy.

Alternating in presiding at the tea table were Mesdames Roscoe Wilson, W. T. Gaston, Paul W. Horn, Mary W. Doak, A. H. Laidigh, O. V. Adams, James M. Gordon, and Miss Margaret W. Weeks.

Plate favors were cards bearing the names of the Forum members.

Former Tech Students Wed

Mary Lee Bardwell And Joe Bryant United In Marriage

Two popular Tech ex-students were married during the past weekend. Both weddings were local affairs. Word has also been received of the marriage of a former Tech professor.

Miss Mary Lee Bardwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Bardwell, 2205 Broadway, and Joe Houston Bryant, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Houston Bryant of Texline, were married in the home of the bride's parents, Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant left immediately after the ceremony to visit the groom's parents, but will be at home here temporarily. Mrs. Bryant is a former student of Ward-Belmont college in Nashville, Tennessee and is a graduate of Tech where she was a member of Sans Souci club. Mr. Bryant, a former student at the University of Kansas, is a local radio announcer.

Announcement Made

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Virginia Johnson to Robert L. Higginbotham of Amarillo has been made by Mr. and Mrs. J. Veltun Spikes of Amarillo. Mrs. Spikes is a sister of Miss Johnson.

The ceremony was read Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harold Griffith, 2112 Thirteenth street.

Will Live In Lubbock

Mr. and Mrs. Higginbotham will make their home in Amarillo where Mr. Higginbotham is employed by the Texaco company. Mrs. Higginbotham attended Tech in 1929 and was a member of Las Chaparritas club.

Miss Dorothy McFarland and G. W. McIntosh, both of Santa Ana, California were married November 5 according to an announcement made here. The couple is residing in a beach home at Newport Beach, California.

Mrs. McIntosh is a former professor of home economics at Tech and has been teaching in the Santa Ana schools since 1935. Mr. McIntosh, a retired capitalist, formerly was at the head of trapping and trading posts in Canada.

Coming Marriage Of Melba Watson Announced At Tea

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Melba Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Watson, 3003 Nineteenth street, to Ray Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moore of Hamilton, was made at a tea given Monday afternoon in the F. R. Friend residence, 2005 Broadway, by Misses Lois Watson, sister of the honoree, Lois Pitts and Wanda Butler.

Guests were met at the door by Miss Butler and presented to the receiving line consisting of Mrs. H. A. Watson, Miss Watson, Miss Pitts, Miss Lois Watson and Mrs. J. H. Siles.

Mrs. Floyd Beal presided at the tea table. A centerpiece of pink roses was on the tea table and green candles were also used. Announcements were parchment scrolls. Miss Frances Snyder and Mrs. Bob Crawford assisted in the dining room.

Miss Watson is a senior arts and sciences student and active member of Sans Souci club. Mr. Moore is publicity assistant in the information office.

McCall Speaks At Press Club Dinner

Bob McCall of the Avalanche Journal staff was the speaker at the Press club dinner given Sunday evening at the Gloria. Forrest Weimhold, president of the organization, was toastmaster.

Those attending were Misses Doris Mullins, Ruth and Marian Hurrance, Sylvia Smith, Emma-Jean Douglas, Geraldine Turner, Jamie McNeill, Julia Slough, Lorene Childers, Elizabeth Dryden, Laura Lee Davis, Josephine Powell, Evelyn Babb, Messrs. Weldon Whitefield, Harvey Bond, James Etheridge, Lomer Nelson, Wilnot Eaton, Jack Thomas, Julius Chandler, James Powell, Wayne Sellers, James Lindsey, G. W. This is the first of a series of affairs planned by the club.

ern Musical company of New Orleans. Knapp also signed a contract for another song, not yet named, for which he wrote the music. No definite time has been set for the first rendition of this number, but it will be an exciting moment for Knapp and his friends when "Roses" has its premiere.

According to Dr. Knapp the song was composed this summer while Roger was spending the vacation with his parents.

Your eyes were made for LIGHT LIKE THIS

You use them most in LIGHT LIKE THIS

WHEN you read on a shaded porch on a sunny day you are reading by the light that is ideal for your eyes. You feel no sense of stress or strain. Why? Because you are reading with nature's equivalent of a 1,000-watt lamp—many, many times as bright as the lamp used in the average home.

WHEN you read indoors, the light is about 1/100 as bright as the light on the porch. Your eyes must adjust themselves to the difference. You can help them make this adjustment by having adequate light throughout your home. This, science tells us, will assist in preventing nervous muscular tension, defective vision, and a tendency toward headache, dizziness, vertigo. We will be glad to consult with you on the proper lighting of your home.

Roger Knapp Is Author Of New Song, "Roses"

Students attending Texas Tech last summer were often arrested by the strains of music floating over the campus from the President's home. The strains of an entirely new song too—and before long that song will come floating over the air through the largest broadcasting stations of the United States.

The song is "Roses" and the composer, Roger Knapp, son of Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of this college. Knapp is a graduate of Texas Tech in 1933 with a major in biology, and is now a sophomore medical student of Tulane university. From a recent edition of the student newspaper, The Tulane Hulla-balloo, the following article is taken:

"Music plus medicine! Not bad. Composes Lyrics

"Tulane can boast of many talented students, but probably none can out-do Roger Knapp, medical student who composes music and lyrics and, who is the, signs contracts to sell his tunes."

"It may not be long now until the song, "Roses," written by the sophomore medic, comes floating over the air. Knapp just recently signed a contract with the South-

Mats Prepare For Invasion Of Teachers; Fish Begin Drills

Tech Plays Oklahomans During Christmas Week

By JIM LINDSEY
Toreador Sports Editor

New Mentor Builds Team For Year Around Four Numeral Winners

With four lettermen as a nucleus around which to build a team, Coach Virgil Ballard is sending his Texas Tech basketball team through nightly workouts at the gym in preparation for their initial engagements with the Southwestern Teachers of Weatherford, Okla., during Christmas week. Coach Rankin Williams' Bulldogs will play the red-panted cagers two or three contests during their visit here.

In Larry Priddy and Will Gilmore, co-captains, the new Tech mentor has a pair of offensiveaces that can mix it with the best of loopers. "Red" Wester, squadman from the championship team tutored by Dell Morgan last season, will prove a valuable asset in the capacity of tipoff man. Leroy Crews, who registered 102 points as a member of the varsity last year, should be a valuable asset when sinking goals is the problem.

A group of newcomers from the fish ranks and by the transfer route are making a strong bid for positions on the Scarlet quintet. Newcomers to the varsity include: Judge Garrett who showed the surrounding communities a thing or two as a member of the freshman five last year, J. W. West, Bob Hale, "Tiny" Thornton, transfer from Tyler Junior college, Jim Neill, former Brownfield star, Hugh Snodgrass, fish stand-out, and Frank Bridges, Jr., from St. M. C. Members of last year's squad are Varnell Hale, Lent Weaver, Vinson Stanphill and Marshall Cook.

Play Davittes

After meeting the Bulldogs, the locals take on a colorful group of wandering court artists in the form of the bewhiskered House of David. The boys from Benton Harbor, Mich., put in their appearance on the local rectangle on the nights of January 2-3.

The Mats push the lid off of the Border conference chase against the Tempe Teachers here the following week. Then come the strong Arizona State Teachers.

After tangling with the Muckers and Hardin-Simmons Cowboys on the local floor, the Raiders go west to defend their conference crown. Members of the loop will furnish the opposition for the jaunt.

Mat Candidates Start Workouts

Candidates for Texas Tech's wrestling and boxing teams are working out daily in the gym at their official workouts do not begin until January.

Pugilists training are: Jimmy Ortiz, 145 pound scrapper from New Mexico; Smith, 165 pounder from Texas university; Morris Alford, 135 pounds; James McDuff, 145 pounds; Robert Mason, 146 pounds; Leroy Mohely, 155 pounds and R. C. Mitchell, who tips the scales at 175 pounds. With the exception of Ortiz and Smith, these men pushed the leather for Tech last year.

Grady Box, Winston Watkins and Alton Hankins are getting in trim for wrestling. Box gained recognition last season but Hankins is a new addition. Watkins has won several matches for the Matador grapplers.

SMITH SPEAKS

Russell T. "Dutchy" Smith, line coach of the Matadors, was the principal speaker at a banquet honoring high school football players at Olton Tuesday night.

Smith has been slightly un-sportsmanlike, but even this is excusable of our Bonded friend.

We recall that Parris covered the Central High-Amarillo game in Amarillo and behold! upon his return home was unable to FIND HIS NOTES.

They Lead Tech's Basketeers

When the Matadors open the 1935 season against the Southwestern Teachers Christmas week, Laurence Priddy and Wilson Gilmore, pictured above, start their last year on the Scarlet team as co-captains. Both played outstanding basketball last campaign, Gilmore making 102 points and Priddy 89 markers as the Tech cagers captured the Border conference championship.

Frosh Cagers Open Training For Campaign

Record Number Reports To Coach Owen For First Practice

The largest turnout of fish basketball candidates in the history of the school greeted Coach "Juicy" Owen Monday afternoon in the gymnasium.

Fifty-one Picador prospects reported at the initial meeting of the season. Plans for the ensuing campaign were discussed. Daily workouts began Tuesday and all practice sessions will be from 5:45 to 7:30.

Succeeding last year's freshman team that was defeated only once, the 1935 quintet will have to play an excellent brand of ball to maintain the record.

Many outstanding high school players are numbered among the long list of candidates, and according to the frosh mentor, a winning team is expected from the material.

pa Harvesters, 13-7.

Bo Williams, graduate business manager of Tech athletics, states that students wishing to see the game for 50 cents must present their activity books at the principal's office in the high school Thursday. Student tickets at the field will cost 75 cents.

Pre-Meds Even Count In Intramural Playoff By Taking Second Contest

Larry Priddy's College Inn cagers forced the Pre-Meds into an extra period before Vinson Stanphill's future doctors eked out a one point victory, 34-33, in the second game of the playoff series to determine the intramural championship of the college. The Pre-Med won the count for the series at one all as the College Inn loopers took the opening contest, 26-22.

Border Conference Officials Meet For Discussion Of Rules

Jackson And Smith Leave For Gathering Of Loop Officials In Tempe

Dr. W. A. Jackson, member of the athletic council and head of the governmental department, and Line Coach Smith will leave Friday at noon for Tempe, Arizona, to attend the meeting of representatives and coaches of schools in the Border conference. The meeting convenes at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

"As far as I know there are no changes to be made in the conference rulings," Dr. Jackson stated yesterday. "According to the rules of the league, officials are notified of any changes to be considered thirty days in advance of the meeting. I have received no notice of any changes." Dr. Jackson said, however, that the Texas School of Mines application for entrance into the loop was still pending.

Seeks Entrance

"I have heard unofficially that Hardin-Simmons is sending a representative to the Tempe meeting," Dr. Jackson said, "but I have received no notice to the effect that the Baptist institution is seeking entrance into the loop."

Concerning the story appearing in the local paper under the date-line of Albuquerque, Dr. Jackson said that the paragraphs were not official as far as he knew.

Coach Smith will attend the meeting of Border conference coaches to discuss the 1935 schedule and membership of the league. Reports from Tempe indicate that a ruling aimed directly at Texas Tech may be passed to play a minimum of three inter-conference games in order to retain membership when the conference officials and coaches meet December 16.

More than 25 representatives, including officials and coaches from Tempe, University of Arizona, Arizona State at Flagstaff, New Mexico university, New Mexico Agricultural college and Texas Tech are expected to be present for the annual winter session.

Dr. E. L. Larson, commissioner of the Border conference from the University of Arizona, will preside at the Tempe gathering.

The University of Michigan and the University of California will meet in an inter-sectional track meet next spring. This will be the first time the latter has gone outside its own league for track contests.

Notre Dame university gridiron teams won 105 games, lost 12, and tied 5 while Knute Rockne was their coach.

Alabama, winding up its regular season with a 34-0 rout of Vanderbilt, leads the undefeated list of grid elevens with 287 points.

District Winners Play On Tech Field

For the second straight year, Matador field will be the site of a quarter-final contest in the Texas Interscholastic football race.

Amarillo and Big Spring meet on Matador field Saturday to decide the supremacy of districts 1 and 3. Last year San Angelo and Pampa clashed on Tech gridiron in a quarter-final skirmish, in the school-boy chase.

Officials from both schools met in Lubbock Sunday night and decided to stage the game here. The Amarillo Sandstorm preserved the undefeated Butler field tradition by repulsing a stubborn Ranger Bulldog, 19-14. Big Spring took El Paso in to camp, 19-7. Blair Cherry's griders are slight favorites but face a stiff struggle against the winners of District 3.

The Golden Sandstorm took District 1 honors by beating the Pam-

Prince Ben Ali, mind reader, is to appear for a week at the Lindsey beginning Sunday.

TEXAN
Now showing, "He Was Her Man" with James Cagney and Joan Blondell. Friday and Saturday, "Deadwood Pass," with Tom Tyler. Sunday and Monday, "Chain-Ed," with Clark Gable and Joan Crawford. Tuesday and Wednesday, "Heat Lightning" with Alene MacMahon and Ann Dvorak.

AN OBSERVER'S OPINION
Probably the most interesting screen attraction to college students this week is "Gentlemen Are Born," with Franchot Tone, Jean Muir, Margaret Lindsay, Ann Dvorak, Ross Alexander, Nick Funn. The picture deals with the question that confronts all college students on their graduation, "will their diploma be their meal ticket?" Franchot Tone does a brilliant bit of acting in the picture and Margaret Lindsay delightfully portrays her role. The picture should be seen by all college students who are concerned with this question.

George Raft, of "Bolero" fame is the headliner in "Limehouse Blues," Friday and Saturday attraction at the Palace. Jean Parker and Anna May Wong support him.

Gene Raymond and Sylvia Sidney have the principal roles in "Behold My Wife" which opens for a three-day run at the Palace Sunday.

Appealing to the mystic-minded is the appearance of Prince Ben Ali, self-styled world famous mind reader and astrologer, and chief hoodoo and voodooer of Doctor Brinkley's XEB of Mexico. Prince Ben Ali (Bendoe) is to appear at the Lindsey for one whole week and what should be consoling to movie-fans is that a regular feature will be shown each night as an antidote for the Prince.

TRIVIAL TRIFLES
Clark Gable is married and has two step-children. He once worked in Oklahoma oil fields at $12 per day but quit this job to work for a stock company. . . . George Arliss receives $85,000 a year for two pictures while he is working in the United States. . . . Walt Disney received over a million dollars for the "Three Little Pigs". . . . Maurice Chevalier brought 30 overcoats back from Paris. . . . Betty Furness, star of "The Band Plays On," carries a small compass in her purse. . . . George Raft collects handkerchiefs and has over two hundred in his collection. . . .

Circulation Of Library Grows

The total number of books used from the Tech library during October, 1934, is 19,137, the highest circulation yet reached. During the first year, 1925-26, the number of books used were 12,550, or 1,587 less than were used in October alone this year. Comparing the October circulation of 1926 and 1934, this year's circulation is 33.64 percent times as great as the former.

In October 1929, the circulation reached 10,529, a little more than half that of this October.

These figures indicate that the 2405 Tech students averaged using 7.93 books each in October 1934. In 1926 the 914 students averaged 36 books each in October.

Girls Are Taxed To 'Cuss' At University Of Kansas
Lawrence, Kans., December 12.—(IP)—Reform is stalking through the campus of the University of Kansas, or at least that part of it on which sits Corbin hall, women's dormitory.

It now costs the girl's money to cuss.

Deciding their language was getting pretty strong, the co-eds posted a schedule of "cuss rates" over the house telephone. In the first five days the cussing payoff box netted $167 in fines.

Two American doctors last week had topped the lists and carried off the highest awards open to medical students at Glasgow university. They were Drs. Robert C. Ellis and Emmanuel M. Rappaport, both of New York.

Comes To Lindsey

Prince Ben Ali, mind reader and astrologer, will make a week's personal appearance at the Lindsey theater beginning Sunday.

Yale Excavators Uncover The Temple Of Mithras

New Haven, December 12.—(IP)—Excavators for Yale university have uncovered in Dura, Euphrates, a temple dedicated to the god who probably would have become the object of the worship of the modern western world if Christianity had not been able to survive—Mithras, the most important deity of the Roman army.

In the third century, A. D. Mithras was a close rival of Christ as an object of the worship of the Roman world. Renan once asserted that if by accident Christianity had been overthrown, the religion of the modern world would be that of Mithras.

The temple to Mithras was found in an excellent state of preservation, the Yale excavators reported.

Lehigh university scientists have made tests which show that sound travels ten times as fast through ice as through the air.

Geologists Reveal Fossil Tracks On Main Street Curb

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 12 (IP)—For years motorists have been parking their cars next to a curb on the main street of this town without knowing that the sandstone block against which they were parked bore the imprints of a prehistoric animal a good 225,000,000 years old.

After 50 years, this was discovered last week by geologists at the University of Nebraska here, who announced that the piece of stone bore more than twenty impressions of what they said must have been an animal like a great salamander, looking like a huge lizard.

In announcing the discovery, Prof. E. F. Schramm, head of the geological department, said: "This specimen of Colorado sandstone, bearing the fossil tracks, came from neither the very upper part of the Paleozoic from a division known as the Permian, or the basal part of the Mesozoic, and is at least 225,000,000 years old if we use the most recent method of computing the age of rocks."

The sandstone came from Laramie County, Colo. Most of the imprints in the rocks are very clear, showing the four toes of the ancient animal.

General Lee Is Listed On Records As A Prisoner

Chicago, December 12.—(IP)—The startling fact that General Robert E. Lee, leader of the Confederate armies and now one of the best loved of men in American history, is still on the records of the federal government as a paroled prisoner has led the Veterans of Foreign Wars to start a movement to have the next Congress grant full amnesty to the late general.

General Lee died in 1870, already recognized in north and south alike as a great figure in American history, but still an enemy of his country officially. At the time of his death he was president of Washington and Lee university at Lexington, Va.

A generation of "jaded old youngsters," devoid of a sense of values, is the harvest America may expect to reap from her public schools unless the philosophy of education now governing them is quickly and radically altered, according to Dr. William Ernest Hocking of Harvard university.

Irish Did Not Live In Ice Age, Say Archaeologists

Cambridge, Mass., December 12.—(IP)—Harvard university has received word that its archaeologists at work in Ireland have found proof that, contrary to previous scientific belief, the ancestry of the Irish cannot be traced back to the Ice age.

The expedition has discovered proof that Ireland was uninhabitable during the Ice age, the report says, although there is plenty of evidence that about 6,000 years ago Ireland was inhabited by Stone-age men, wielding hatchets and stone clubs.

University of Michigan Expedition Digs Up Ancient Coins In Palestine

Ann Arbor, Mich., December 12.—(IP)—One of the most important details involved in the digging up of coins in Palestine by the University of Michigan's expedition there is the cleaning and preserving of the treasures in such a manner as to maintain their value.

Following the greatest portion of the digging, which took place at Seleucia on the Tigris, a city founded by the successors of Alexander the Great, coins which dated back as far as the Fourth Century B. C. were given scientific treatment. Seleucia was, at the time of the stamping of the coins, the largest city in the world and the most important center of civilization during the periods of the Seleucian, Parthian and Sassanian Empires.

Here, as well as at Cepphoris, Palestine, coins dating from the Third Century B. C. to the Third Century, A. D. were uncovered. They were of gold, silver, copper and bronze and, as they had become oxidized, chemical cleaning was necessary before they could be read.

The gold coins that were found came out of the ground as shiny as though they were new. The silver, bronze and copper coins, however, needed the cleaning work.

The university expedition has found about 30,000 coins, and of these about 10,000 have been cleaned. The expedition is about ready to publish an account of some 2,600 of the finds. About 33 per cent of the coins have been readable, while another 30 per cent were very badly worn.

MANNING SMITH, '35—Student of Journalism. Newspaper work calls for the active type of person with plenty of natural, vibrant energy, as Manning Smith, journalism student, well knows. He says: "You've got to be a hustler in the newspaper game! There's lots of 'leg work' and head work, too—and both use up plenty of energy. When I'm feeling kind of 'low' generally, I smoke a Camel, and the right words come to me more easily. I can think faster. When I smoke steadily during long sessions at my typewriter, Camels never jangle my nerves."

BUSINESS GIRL. Eve Miller, New York department-store executive, says: "I smoke Camels because I appreciate mildness and delicacy of flavor. And Camels give me a 'lift' when my energy is low—and never upset my nerves."

FAMED FOOTBALL REFEREE. Tom Thorp says: "The 'lift' you get from a Camel is valuable to anybody whose job requires fast action. And I know I can smoke Camels as much as I like, and they will never make me nervous."

Christmas Celebration In Mexico And Spain Told At Capa Y Espada

"Christmas as it is celebrated in Mexico and in Spain" was the topic of the program given at the regular meeting of Capa Y Espada, Tech foreign language club, Tuesday night.

Allie Eason, Fernando Ortiz, and Margaret Wetzel sang Spanish songs and the entire club joined in on "Noche de Paz," which corresponds to the American song of Silent Night.

Mrs. W. B. Gates, associate professor of Spanish, and one of the sponsors of the club, discussed the Festival of Nations, which is being sponsored by the foreign language department in the gym January 19.

Dean A. H. Leidigh and C. Laker, of the aggie school, spoke at a father and son banquet Friday night in Lorenzo.

Religious traditions concerning the celebration of the birth of Christ. Such customs refused to die when Christmas replaced certain pagan celebrations, and the Church finally was obliged to accept them.

The decking of churches, houses and stores with evergreens at Christmas, for instance, had its origin in a period long preceding Christianity. This practice seems to have been derived from a custom common to the Saturnalia, the festival of Saturn celebrated by the Romans with feasts and games of every kind.

The ancient Druids and other Celtic nations hung up green branches to please the woodland sprites. The traditions surrounding the mistletoe and the Yule log also have pagan origins.

Russian Songs

(Continued from page 1) "But they are old. It is impossible to have them copied correctly. They were made by the cloistered nuns years ago in Russia, so you see that we could not have more made."

Regarding the youngest member of the group Mme. Slaviansky said that he is the son of an acquaintance of hers. "His parents are not musical. He has only been with us 14 months, and already he is good," she said.

"The only member of my father's chorus is Ivan Eutenko. All the others have died. Eutenko has been in the chorus 49 years. He came to my father when he was a boy of twenty. Some day there will not be any of my father's chorus left," added the singer.

Nine Others Mme. Slaviansky, her daughter, Mlle. Mara, and nine versatile actors, portraying nine different types of voices, interpreted comic and classical operas in their native tongues and in English, also.

The chorus, which has visited practically every country on the globe, is touring the United States. It came to Lubbock from a series of recent appearances in China and Japan. It has appeared in 15 concerts in Carnegie hall, New York City, before kings, queens, emperors, sultans and nobility throughout the entire world.

Prexy's Paragraphs BY BRADFORD KNAPP

WE have been trying to plan for a convocation to honor the stock judging team, but many of those interested in it seem to want to wait until the trophy itself can be on hand. This may delay the convocation until next week. If so, we hope to make it a great event and put more into it than was originally planned.

Some students have been rather deeply disappointed at the mid-semester reports. There are two ways to take a mid-semester report which is not as good as you expected it to be. One way is to take it as meaning that you should put in a lot of hard work to improve your situation, and the other, and the most unfortunate way, is to take it as discouragement. I do not think that any teacher would want to discourage a student. Certainly no student should take a mid-semester report as meaning he or she is going to fail necessarily.

The student may be behind in the work; the student may not have had sufficient opportunity to convince the teacher of his or her progress in the course. Consistent effort between the time of the mid-semester report and the end of the semester, and specially good preparation for the final examination, will result in many cases in changing an unsatisfactory grade to a passing grade, or even better. I remember cautioning students at the beginning of the semester to keep up with their work. It is much easier if you have done that, but extra effort can be put in to the task of catching up. If your report is unsatisfactory for any reason, there are certain steps you ought to take very definitely. One is to cut down on your social engagements; another is to cut out the moving pictures. It is worth the sacrifices to come through with a good grade.
