Tech Students Begin Holidays Tomorrow Eve

Christmas Trees, Carol
Singing, Parties Add
Spirit To Campus

TOMORROW at 5 o'clock Tech campus will take on that deserted look noticeable only during holidays. Dormitories will be practically uninhabited, with only six girls and fifteen boys remaining in them during the holidays. Faculty members, as well as students, are going out of town.

Yuletide festivities began Sunday afternoon when the Forum and "Y" organizations sponsored a carol singing in the lounge of the women's dormitory. Dining halls and lounges of both dormitories are decorated for Christmas and both have trees in front lighted with blue lights.

Carols Sung In Halls
The Tech tradition of carols sung in the halls is being continued this year. The chorus leads in the singing and students who care to are asked to join in.

Christmas dinners are being served this week in the home economics tea room by girls in the foods classes with home economics faculty members as guests.

Most of the campus clubs and organizations are sponsoring dances and Christmas parties before the holidays. Some of the clubs have given parties to which members brought toys and clothing to be given to poor families. School activities will be climaxed with the Engineers' seventh annual dance to be held at the Auditorium tonight.

Dramatic Club Presents Play

Sock And Buskin Group Acts "The Goal" At Meeting

With Lloyd Marr playing the leading role, "The Goal," a one-act play by Henry Arthur Jones, was presented at Sock and Buskin dramatic club, Tuesday night.

Marr played the role of Sir Stephen Fanarise, a retired engineer, who is about to die. Others in the play, which was directed by Martha Knight Davis, were: Famarise's son, Daniel, Fred Barron; Sir Syden Crane, the doctor, John Marr; Adams, the butler, Jimmie Gammill; Peggie Lovel, a young girl, Crystelle Scudder, and Nurse Clendon, LaVada Base.

Plans were discussed for a trip to Amarillo, by bus, January 5, to see "Green Pastures," by Marc Connelly, presented by the original company.

Bus fare will be two dollars, and seats to the play may be bought for 55c, $1.10, $1.65 or $2.25. Any students wishing to go may see Miss Ruth Pirtle in the speech office to make reservations.

The club voted to donate funds for two charity baskets to be delivered by a committee to needy families. Charles Maedgen is chairman of the committee.

Wiley Leads Tech Band In Concert

Texas Tech Matador band, of 100 members, under the direction of Prof. D. O. Wiley, gave its first concert of the school year last night at the high school auditorium.

The following ten numbers were played: The Guiding Star march (Steibertz); Orpheus overture (Offenbach); Carneval Russe (Clard); flute solo played by David Humphreys; Il Bacio waltz (Arditi); Rose Marie selection (Friml); Marche Militaire (Schubert); Clair De Lune (Debussy); Cornet Solo, played by Alfred Riley; Southern Rhapsody (Hosmer); and Christmas songs.

Botany Club Organized; Marr Is Elected Head

A Botany club sponsored by Dr. R. A. Studhalter, Dr. E. L. Reed, and Prof. J. Q. Sealey was organized Tuesday.

Officers, elected at the first meeting are: president, John Marr; vice-president, Helen Jennings; and secretary-treasurer, Maxine Langford.

The First Noel

He was born in a manger, yet His bearing was that of a royal prince—His heart that of a great martyr—His soul that of a God.

Geology Head Will Speak At National Science Meeting

Dr. Leroy T. Patton, head of the geology department, is to speak on "Some Observations of the So-Called Lakes of Llano Estacado of Texas" at a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Pittsburgh, Pa., December 27-January 2.

Dr. Patton will speak at a special session of the geologists and geographers at this meeting where many scientists are to assemble. The local geologists received a personal letter from the president of the division of geologists and geographers.

At a meeting last Thursday evening of Sigma Xi, an honorary scientific fraternity, Dr. Patton was elected to represent the club at this meeting in Pittsburgh. This fraternity will also meet there.

Burlington Zephyr Discussed By Kelly

The "Burlington Zephyr" was the subject of a group discussion led by Dyche Kelly at a meeting of the A. S. M. E. Tuesday night. Kelly explained the outstanding features of the "Zephyr" and reviewed some of its performances during recent trial runs.

Professor J. C. Hardgrave, sponsor of the club, pointed out the opportunities awaiting mechanical engineers in the designing and manufacture of light-weight trains.

Junior EE's Honor Seniors At Smoker

Junior electrical engineers were hosts to seniors of their department at a smoker Monday night at the Gorieta. Dean O. V. Adams, and professors C. V. Bullen and W. F. Helwig were principal speakers.

All seniors gave short talks. Seniors present were: Marion Royalty, Earl Mayo, T. A. Ford, Fred Fairly, Lavell Abbott, Thomas Young, Leroy Manire, Willard Kelton, M. P. Minter. Juniors present were: Sam H. Jones, Forrest Campbell, John A. Bell, Fred Litton, L. M. Boren, Mark Townsend, John L. King, Raymond Coffman, J. H. Pundt, Hollis Griffin, Jack Page, Chaney Watson, C. E. Mitchell.

"Y" Cabinet Members Are Entertained Wednesday

Mrs. Robert Withers, sponsor of the "Y" organizations, entertained cabinet members of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. with a Christmas party Wednesday night in her home.

Guests were Elizabeth Conner, president of the Y. W. C. A., Doris Townsend, Ruth Douglas, Inez Hensley, Elizabeth Montfort, May Tom Howell, Christian Anderson, Nancy Faver, Melvin Schumpert, president of the Y. M. C. A., Gus Crawford, George Townsend, Herbert Rule, John Hinchey and John Emmett.

Initiation Held For Pledges Of Athletic Group

Women Begin Basketball
Color Tournament;
Four Teams Play

PLEDGES to the Women's Athletic association were initiated at the girls' gymnasium Wednesday evening.

Pledges for the current year were: Aline Allen, Allene Bowers, Margaret Benn, Christine Bundy, Lorene Beasley, Mildred Chappell, Ellisor Crenshaw, Pauline Coe, Rosella Dixon, Bernice Doyle, Elizabeth Edwards, Pearl Fuller, Dorothy Fette, Nena Frazier, Jo Flanagan, Leora Handley, Ruth Hess, Geraldine Haskins, Lucille Kittrell, Nell Hughes, Victoria Lankart, Nina Martin, Madeline Morrison, Ruth McWhirter, Aline Nunnally, Dorothy Nabors.

Virginia Noell, Helen Porter, Lois Pauls, Anna E. Pool, Evelyn Ferry, Lavera Roach, Leona Riddell, Emma Dean Bingham, Roberta Rayburn, Lorena Owens, Carolyn Whitworth, Verla Blasingame, Mary Ruth Nall, Kathleen Willman, Lellessie Hays, Lorraine Taylor, Brookly Spurlock, Francis Burns, Adelaide Self.

Agnes Abernathy, Marie Barton, Mary Ruth Carter, Louise Edwards, Irene Harris, Louise Pfarr, Gertie Roe, Othella Daniel, Ardell Johnson, Gladys Noah, Betty Street, Margaret Street, Sylvia Smith, Opal Watson, Edna Walters, Ruth Marie Payne, Mary Lou Williams, Jane Woodruff, Charlene Davis, Marie Zimmerman and Thelma Mouser.

A basketball color tournament began Friday. Four teams played. The tournament is being run off in the form of a round robin. Every team plays each of the other teams twice.

New plans for games to be played during the holidays were made at a regular meeting Tuesday.

Cadets To Select Queen Of Corps

Judith English, Marie Zimmerman, Mary Frances Stiles, Gerda Mae O'Neal and Pauline Anderson were selected as candidates for queen of the cadet corps were present when the corps paraded Friday. Pictures were taken of the entire regiment and of the officers with the candidates. These pictures are for the annual.

February 23, at the annual military ball, the girl selected as queen will be crowned, and the other candidates will be her attendants.

Cadet officers are to have a smoker tonight at the Lubbock hotel. Walter Zerwer and Elwood Patty are in charge of the program. President Frank McPherson will preside.

Edwin Sweet Entertains Dairy Club With Music

Monday night members of the Dairy Manufacturing club were entertained by Edwin Sweet who sang and played the guitar.

A program committee was selected consisting of Claude Brown, Guy Bratcher and Curtis Scharnberg.

Editor 'Babyface' Nelson Found Guilty In Sensational Pre-Law Libel Suit; 'Rowsie' Pender Shot Down By Deputy

"Chicago Kid" Nissley Testifies For Defense After Eating Sauerkraut; Thompson Tied and Gagged

By BOB TRACY
A barking six gun in the hands of a Texas Tech supreme court deputy snuffed out the life of H. C. "Rowsie" Pender here Monday night, throwing the tribunal of the South Plains into a state of pandemonious hilarity.

The courtroom tragedy came during the trial of Lomer "Babyface" Nelson, editor-in-chief of the Toreador, who allegedly defamed the name of Miss Dorothy Frank Clements, popular Tech co-ed, and was declared guilty by a bribed jury.

Girls Present Yule Program

Chorus And Quartet Sing
Three Numbers On Dorm Feature

A Christmas service and carol singing were features of a Christmas party given by the Home Economics club Tuesday night in the home economics tearoom. About 100 home economics students attended.

Julien Paul Blitz, head of the music department, played piano selections and Miss Virginia McLean, director of religious education at the Presbyterian church, talked on "Christmas Traditions and the Christmas Spirit of Today."

Carol singing was part of a Christmas service held around a lighted tree in the corridor of the home economics building. Refreshments were served.

Guests and club members brought toys and clothing for the box which is being filled by the club to be taken to some poor family for Christmas. Every year the club selects a poor family, plans an adequate diet for it and furnishes enough food for one week. Besides the food, the club sends toys and gifts. The box will be in the corridor of the home economics building until Friday.

New Course Will Be Begun At Colorado

J. F. McDonald, director of extension, will go to Colorado to organize an extension course in curriculum construction. The class, composed of teachers of Colorado, will begin soon after the holidays. Dr. D. D. Jackson, associate professor of education, will teach the class.

In a letter from L. O. Cummings, county superintendent-elect of Collingsworth county, it was stated that an extension course in curriculum construction has been organized at Wellington. The class will be taught by Dr. D. D. Jackson.

Two extension classes have been organized at Lamesa. One is a course in curriculum construction; the other a course in the study of the short story. Dr. George Smallwood, professor of English, will teach the class studying the short story. Both classes will begin work the first week in January.

Convocation To Be At 11 Today

Honoring the Tech Livestock
Judging Team, which recently won first place at the International Exposition in Chicago, and all football players, the last convocation of the year will be this morning at 11 o'clock in the gym.

A bronze bull trophy, known as the Spur Trophy, which is given to the winning team of the International meet, will be unveiled. The trophy will remain in Tech's possession until the next contest.

Varsity and freshman football lettermen will be announced by coaches, Pete Cawthon, "Dutchy" Smith and Virgil Ballard.

All classes and labs will be excused from 11 to 12 o'clock to attend the assembly.

Gordon Speaks On Scholarship

Honorary Society Hears
Dean of Men Discuss
Value Of Grades

Advocating participation in outside activities in preference to scholarship alone, J. M. Gordon, dean of the liberal arts school, lectured on the "Practical Aspects of Scholarship" at the regular meeting of Alpha Chi, Texas Tech honorary society, last Thursday afternoon.

Dean Gordon discussed the value of scholarship in obtaining reliable positions, and cited several instances in which the jobs depended upon a high scholastic record, good character, and high moral standards. The dean also emphasized the fact that high scholarship, or a reputation of high standing has a great deal of influence on college professors.

Two new members were initiated to the national society by a special initiating committee, making a total of 13 newly elected seniors, and 28 juniors. They are Dollie Clements, senior, Lubbock; and Al Ray Cooper, junior, Ralls.

Alpha Chi will hold its annual convention of all the scholarship societies, and council members, and national council executives in Austin, February 22, according to a notice received by the local chapter from the regional secretary. The meeting was changed by the regional council members from Arkadelphia, Arkansas, Ouchita college, to Texas university at Austin.

Miss Ray Stillwell Gets Appointment

Miss Ray Stillwell, reference librarian of Texas Tech, has been appointed junior library assistant in the Securities and Exchange Commission library, Washington, D. C. Miss Stillwell is a B. A. graduate of the University of California in Los Angeles, and did one year of graduate work to receive her certificate in library work. She attended Columbia university the summer of 1933-34.

Home Ec Faculty Honored With Tea

A Christmas tea was given by girls staying at the home management house Monday from 5 to 6 o'clock. The home economics faculty and girls who lived at the house the first nine weeks were guests.

Guests included Mrs. Edna Buser, Misses Mozelle Craddock, Mabel Erwin, Elizabeth Hawley, Carrie Hodges, Vivian Johnson, Josephine Looney, Jonnie McCrery, Harriet Tilden, Margaret W. Weeks, of the home economics faculty, and Misses Catherine Loughridge, May Tom Howell, Velma Brown, Frances Weimhold and Lillian Peek, state supervisor of home economics.

Hostesses were Misses Jewel Brown, Ursula Parris, Neweta Cleveland, Gertrude Simson, Beata Faye Donnell, and Mayme Wyford, faculty supervisor of the home management house.

Gets Appointment
Carl McAdams, architectural engineering graduate of '32, has been appointed to superintendent of a $40,000 school building to be constructed by a local architect. The school building is at Whittharral, Texas.

Miss Lillian Peek, state supervisor of home economics, visited the campus Saturday and Monday.

Engineers Give Eighth Annual Dance Tonight

Novelty Numbers, Horns,
Will Feature Ball
At Auditorium

ENGINEERS will open the holiday season tonight when they sponsor their eighth annual ball at the auditorium downtown from 9 to 12 o'clock. Ned Bradley's orchestra will play and will furnish novelty numbers during the evening.

Christmas Theme
Engineering colors of blue and yellow, and the Christmas theme will be used in decorations. Horns, bells, comic hats, balloons, and other novelties will furnish part of the entertainment and add to the Christmas spirit of the dance. Couples will be given their choice of souvenirs as they arrive.

The ball will be semi-formal, as it has been in the past. A shower of balloons will descend on the dancers in the middle of the dance as one of the novelties. Printed on each balloon will be "Engineers' Ball, '34, Texas Tech."

Highlight of Year
This dance is the main social activity of the year for the Engineering society and will be one of the most elaborate dances to be given. It will be the last dance of the year, and a large number of Tech students are expected to attend.

Truman Green, senior engineer and president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, is chairman of the dance committee. He urges all engineers who can come to the auditorium today to help with the decorating and floor preparation.

Tech Chemists Name Officers

Chemical Students Adopt
Constitution; Name
Prof Sponsor

Howard Hurrence was elected president of the Chemical Engineering society at its second meeting Friday night. Other officers chosen were William Griffith, vice-president; John Lowery, treasurer; and Billie Allison, secretary.

A constitution submitted by a committee was adopted, and Dr. Valerie Schneider, associate professor of chemistry, was chosen sponsor. The meeting date was set for the first Monday of every month at 7:30 in room C101.

H. Clifton Crawford was selected to represent the society at the executive council of the engineering society.

The Chemical Engineering society was organized December 14. All chemical engineers enrolled in Tech may join.

Blue Mexican Glass Will Be Sold By Home Ec's

A new shipment of blue Mexican glass has been received for the home economics club annual Christmas sale, which started two weeks ago and will continue until classes close for the holidays.

The club still has some pieces of California pottery and Indian jewelry for sale. Jelly and marmalade made by the foods department were put on sale Tuesday.

Prices for articles range from 20 cents to two dollars.

Christmas Carol Singing Begun In Third Floor Hall

Santa Claus, reindeer, decorated trees, stockings hung by the chimney with care, all are traditions of Christmas. So too is the singing of carols on the third floor hall of the Ad building the last week before the holidays.

Following the Tech tradition, carols are being sung between classes, beginning last Tuesday and lasting through tomorrow. A piano has been moved into the hall and is used in accompanying the singing. "The First Noel," "Away in a Manger," "Joy to the World," and other familiar pieces are included every year in Tech's best known traditional services.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

Dear Santa Claus:
PLEASE send me a ticket to Mexico City so I can go down and court my Mexican boy friend, Captain Miguel Cauchio, and show him I am not a woman with no "Toom much" feeling for a man.
Frances Mayrugh.

Santa Claus:
Send me two new muscles for my arms so that I can hold "Bear" Curfman. Also, send Wanda King a long distance ticket to Timbuctoo.
Lorene Childers.

My dearest Santa Claus:
Send me two new knitting needles, as I have worn out the pair I have knitting foot warmers for Christine Bundy for a Christmas gift.
Kathleen Jennings.

Dear Santa Claus:
Please send us some more coeds to court. We have made love to every Tech coed and need some new ones to add to our collection. The Ladies Men Clay Thompson and Jim Lindsey.

Darling Santa Claus:
Please send me 20 dozen pictures of myself to give all of my many boy friends who want one, as I do not have near enough pictures to satisfy the large demand for them.
Dorothy Neuhardt.

Dear Santa Claus:
Please let us have school for 12 months so that we can postpone our mock trials for an entire year rather than for such a short period as nine months. And if you will send us a pamphlet or treatise telling us the difference between a mother-in-law and an attorney-at-law we will be satisfied until next year.
Pre-Law Club.

Dear Santa:
Kindly send me a bushel of fine

Arkansas apples. I can use more if you have them to spare. And don't forget my desk this time.
Ralphie Martig.

Dear Santa Claus:
Please come up 'n see me and bring me a new book of jokes on Mae West—I have told all I know about three times.
Lionie Langston.

Dear Santie:
Plees bring I a knew english book. My old one is worn out.
Bobbie Brittain.

Dear Santy:
Please bring us some cute pledges with which to make the Las Chaps second best. We have lost our old standby Mary Lee and now the boys do not pay any attention to us.
Sookies.

Dear Sandy Claws:
Will you please see if you can not raise our club average and

The True Christmas Spirit

CHRISTMAS is an old celebration. A celebration that is almost as worn as Father Time himself. Through ancient history, medieval history, and then modern history, the Christmas spirit has been told year in and year out by trees, bright lights, and song to thousands of hungry souls who were waiting with warmth and love in their hearts for a burning message. That Christmas spirit is here again with an intangible, gripping force which is pervading the acts and meditations of the Christian world.

The old idea of the true Christmas spirit was wholly symbolized in the caricature of Santa Claus. Christmas was believed to be the time of giving gifts to friends, relatives and sweethearts, in exchange for gifts equally as good. Children and youths were taught to believe in a Santa Claus who came out of the frozen North with his sled and reindeer to fill the stockings of every boy and girl who had been good and obedient during the year.

Later, the Christmas trend changed again. The Santa Claus spirit became emphasized less and less by our forefathers among children in the teens, and a spirit of giving one unto another, sister to sister, brother to brother, friend to friend, prevailed instead. The glamorous tradition of Santa Claus with his reindeer and his chimney slide at mid-night became a disillusioned myth to the youth of the lands.

Today, there seems to be another Christmas spirit beginning—a spirit which should be the ultimate aim of Christmas. More and more, people are thinking of Christmas day with reverence and meditation, in commemoration of the King who was born in a manger in the little town of Bethlehem; but was destined to be the Savior of the world.

So again, it's—Merry Christmas—and a Happy New Year.

Attend The Artist Course

TECH artist courses have been the brunt of disparaging remarks, criticisms, and even jokes of the student body for the last several years. It is unfortunate that a cultural department sponsored by the college for the welfare of the students themselves should arouse such an antagonistic attitude of an enlightened student body challenging its worthiness and popularity year after year.

However, this belittling sentiment did not develop accidentally. Through several years, the artist course seemed to satisfy less and less the ideas and standards of the students. They were not what the students wanted. They were designed to appeal to emotions that could not be found in a collegiate group, and justly, the students came to regard them with decreasing approval. The artist course has been a white elephant to the college and the student body for the last two years.

According to the quality of the three artist courses of this semester, it appears that the department is trying to win back its lost prestige in one stroke of the pen. The programs have been exceptional, and what is more important, interesting to a college student. They have stimulated the imagination and broadened the outlook of every one who has heard them. They are finding a responsive note in the student body.

Ruth Bryan Owen, United States Minister to Denmark, lectured for the first number on the program. Her magnetic personality and charming disposition stirred the emotions of every one. Don Blanding, vagabond traveler, writer and writer, gave the students vicarious adventures with a humorous, delicately risqué, and emotional lecture on the Hawaiian islands. The Russian chorus directed by the world famous Mme. Slaviansky, gave an artistic performance of dancing and song.

It is regrettable that such a small per cent of the student body were benefited by these numbers. The artist course committee should be commended for this new deal for the student body. The Toreador is solidly behind the artist course in any program which stimulates the imagination, the thinking, and broadens the viewpoint of the students.

Attend the next artist course, and determine for yourself the worthiness of it.

REVIEWING

WHAT should college do for a student? is a broad question. Many a speech has been made on the subject, many an article written. Serious publications have recently printed a good many essays which profess to show that American education is a farce; or to show that American colleges, in a difficult position, do at least as well with their problems as American governmental and financial institutions.

Only a lengthy book could completely cover the field of American college education. But when the matter is narrowed down to the individual question any freshman could give you an answer. "I came to college to prepare for a profession or business," would be the reply from many. Other answers might be "I came to make valuable contacts," or "I came to have a good time," or "Well, that's where you go after you get out of high school, isn't it?"

THERE is another answer that might be given by some students. Students who work long hours, studying in time snatched between work, classes and sleep, might have another answer to the above "Why?" It would be a vaguer inspiration than that behind any of the more usual answers, an idea harder to express—an idea that, perhaps, it would be a bit embarrassing to express, because of its personal revelation.

Perhaps this elusive urge might be uttered: "I came to college to overcome a limitation. I want to learn something about making a living later. I want to learn all I can about farming—or engineering, or bookkeeping, or teaching. But that is not all. I want to learn, at the same time, as much as I can about the refinements of living—the things that make life more than just a job. Why do some wealthy men pay huge sums for good pictures, or to support a library or symphony orchestra? Do they do it just to get their names in the papers, or is there really more to it than that?"

MANY college students suddenly find themselves with little encouragement, developing an interest in art, literature or music. They would like to see the Louvre, or hear the Metropolitan opera, or visit the great libraries of the world. This is such a harmless aspiration, it no doubt seems bitter at times to realize that many of us are destined to be deprived of what we desire. How can we reach Paris, when at present we perhaps can't afford music lessons?

But, if you have thwarted artistic leanings, you have one great art that is never out of reach. You don't have to see a 1623 folio to appreciate Shakespeare; you don't have to visit Florence to understand Dante. If you like literature, you can hardly be held back. A book is cheaper than an opera ticket, and even if you can't buy what you want, you can get to a library or borrow from someone. And college gives you an opportunity to read and understand good literature.

NOWADAYS we learn our business or our profession in college classes. Our financial successes are made by college men in increasing numbers. But with all advantages, the world is hard. Able and deserving men sometimes fail. Your partner may betray you, a depression may wipe out a business that was fifty years in the building. There is no such thing as a man out of college without business problems. But, in the face of disappointment and even disaster, you have something left if you know more about life than just profit and loss. If you can learn, before you leave college, why Thomas Hardy is a worth while writer and Zane Grey is not, you have won something that no one can possibly take away from you.

STUDENT FORUM

EX-TOREADOR EDITOR WRITES

To the Editor:

Texas Tech did something which made its alumni and ex-students proud when it made and presented suits to President Roosevelt, John Garner and George Mahon. But it needs to go one step farther. It needs to present J. Doyle Settle with a suit made from cotton grown on Tech's lands and woven by Tech students.

Doyle Settle is already making a good impression at Austin and when he takes office in January as the representative of the 11th district it is plain that he will lead the fight for greater appropriations and recognition for Texas Tech. Tech came out on top in the fight at the last session of the legislature. If Doyle Settle is given the proper help, it'll come out even better this session.

Why not make him a suit? When he stands fighting tooth and nail next session for Tech recognition, what would be better proof that Tech really has something to offer than for him to be wearing a suit made entirely by Tech students with Tech machinery with materials grown on Tech's lands.

Texas Tech should show its appreciation of its first representative by giving Settle a Tech-woven suit. MARSHALL FORMEY, JR.—32.

BOOST TECH

To the Editor:

We are going home for the Christmas holidays this week-end, many of us for our first time since we entered college. The people back home will be observing our conduct and behavior while we are home for this week's visit; trying to see whether or not college is improving us. Don't you think that it is your duty to yourself and to your college to show the folks in your home town what Texas Tech can do for a student? Don't go home and tell the town gossip that Tech is a wild school and everyone here is either wild or going wild. Tell them the truth about the college and the student body. It won't hurt to tell the truth, because in my mind Texas Tech is the grandest senior college west of the Mississippi, including other schools more than fifty years older than Tech. What do the students have to be ashamed of? Nothing at all—what do the students have to be proud of?

Tell the folks back home of the increased enrollment since last year. Let them know that Tech has the best Livestock Judging Team in the world. Tell them about the Matadors who make such a record for themselves and the college this year. Do not forget to let the folks at home know about the new dormitories that were constructed this year. Let them in on the fact that Tech is growing and has the best possibilities of any school in the South.

Tech has a future and if developed and encouraged in the correct fashion will be the greatest institution in the state of Texas. The best way that Tech can grow is by the entire student body boosting Tech and letting the world know that Tech is no longer in its infancy, but growing all the time. If you see your representative to the legislature, tell him that our buildings are getting crowded and that new and larger buildings are needed to accommodate the increased number of students.

Tech is your college, boost it, and watch your college grow! AN EARNEST FISH

Prexy's Paragraphs
BY BRADFORD KNAPP
ALTOGETHER the most serious problem we have at Tech at the present time is the problem of the time devoted to the various organizations on the campus and to social relaxation. For many years past there has been a tendency for institutions to set their requirements for scholarship and to relax all rules requiring students to put in any particular hour in preparation. Personally, I do not believe it is possible for students to carry 18 hours of work and acquit themselves creditably without a pretty consistent program of study practically every night of the week. If the average student in this institution can carry 18 hours without studying from three to four hours every night, with the possible exception of Saturday night, then it is clear to me that the teachers are not assigning sufficient work to the student. Apparently, a certain proportion of the students of this institution think they can go to the moving picture show two or three nights a week, attend all the social functions offered by various organizations, and still do creditable work in college. I do not wish to be understood to say that students should not take part in some social relaxation. I think there is great good to be obtained by membership in at least one or two of the professional organizations on the campus, but I do mean to say that students can over-do this side of college life.

ONE-MINUTE INTERVIEWS

Question: Should college students keep diaries?

Sue Ellen Evans (Fish): "I don't have to write down everything worth remembering."

George Long (Senior): "Bad girls should not keep diaries, because they furnish incriminating evidence."

Margaret Bell: "Diaries are for girls who are romantically in love with nobody."

Elizabeth Holland: "I refuse to be quoted."

Dorothy Walker (Fish): "Tery are like men, you can get along with them or without them."

Sylvia Smith (Fish): "A diary is a book of suppressed desires."

Edward Elliot (Senior): "Girls that keep diaries are braggers."

Coach Cawthon: "I have never had any experience with my boys keeping diaries."

Charles Cox (Senior): "Girls that keep diaries are silly and should spend their time reading cook-books."

Wednesday and Thursday nights during the school session are definitely reserved as study periods. You will find the further statement that Friday and Saturday nights should be used for students in general, but dates and engagements may be taken for such nights. I cannot believe that there is any way for a student to get an education except by religiously attending every class and laboratory period assigned to him or her, and by persistent and continued regular study outside of class and laboratory periods.

In wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, I can only say that Christmas time has been one of the most precious memories I have had all through my life. It is a time when the family draws together. I think the family is the greatest institution there is in all our civilization. Nothing can replace the influence of home and mother and father.

Here is AUNT SALLY PORT'S annual letter to Santa Claus, written in behalf of her little NIECES and NEPHEWS who have been good little boys and girls.

Will you please bring to my little niece, LOUISE WEBER, a large APARTMENT.

To sweet, little lovable BARNEY GRAFA, please bring a radio for his automobile, because he cannot talk to a date.

Santa, please bring PAULINE YEAGER, our favorite niece, by the way, a new boy friend, who will wrap around her finger better than Aubrey Edwards would.

To EARL PENNEY, please bring another BLONDE-HEAD heart throbb. CRYSTELLE SCUDDER wants DONNAVAN STAFFORD, in her Christmas stocking.

The SOOKYS would like to have more scandal on the LAS CHAPS. SANTA, MIKE FOWLER is in dire need of a new Whippet (a Bohemian Cadillac) to loan to his friends.

And ADDIE BROWN BENTON might do better if Santa would bring her a BOY FRIEND who would be TRUEER.

JESSE ROGERS, DUFF says, wants an ENGAGEMENT RING for Xmas.

Your friend, Aunt Sally Port.

Something we would like to know: Does HOP HALSEY know that the STUDENT PREXY of a couple of years ago still writes to a CERTAIN BLONDE or not?

Why did ELMER FORTNER's guest for the week-end register under an ASSUMED NAME? And does ELMER know he shouldn't do that.

Supper Given For Faculty

Affair Honors All Faculty Members Who Were Here In 1925

Miniature pennants bearing the words "Tech 1925-34" were plate favors at a supper served in the parlors of the First Methodist church last Friday evening for all faculty members and employees of the college who were here when the school opened in 1925.

Dr. W. A. Jackson of the government department, acted as chairman and informal talks were made. Miss Flora McGee read a humorous poem that the late R. H. Harrison of the English department wrote and Miss Ruth Pirtle read a story about the faculty written by Miss McGee.

The supper was served in buffet style with roast pig as the main course.

Special guests were Dr. and Mrs. Bradford Knapp, Mrs. Paul W. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, and Miss Ruth Horn. Judge and Mrs. W. H. Bledsoe sent greetings.

Those faculty members and their wives and college employees attending were Dean and Mrs. J. M. Gordon, Dean and Mrs. A. H. Leidigh, Dr. and Mrs. Jackson, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Studhalter, Dr. and Mrs. LeRoy T. Patton, Dr. and Mrs. E. F. George, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Evans, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Qualla, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Gates, Mrs. Mary W. Patronesses and their husbands attending were Messrs. and Mesdames J. B. Jackson, W. O. Daniels, C. E. Dean.

Incidentally Ateneo has a crack military department that has earned this college the designation of West Point of the Philippines.

DFD Members Are Honorees

Club Patronesses Give Annual Dinner Dance Saturday Evening

D. F. D. club patronesses entertained members and special guests of the club at a dinner dance Saturday evening in the ballroom of the Hilton hotel.

The Christmas motif was employed in the decorations, which featured a large Christmas tree and candelabra placed at the head of the table. Candles and smaller trees centering the length of the table were surrounded with holly and mistletoe, extending from the large tree.

Neil Bradley's orchestra played during the dinner and for dancing.

Trees Marked Places

KoShari Social Club Has Open House

Honoring Active, Alumnae Members

Patronesses of the KoShari club were hostesses at an open house honoring active and alumnae members, Saturday evening in the home of Mrs. E. L. Robertson 1902 Broadway. About 300 guests called between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Guests were received by Mrs. Robertson, who introduced them to the receiving line. Sponsors, patronesses officers and club officers in the receiving line were Meses. Robert J. Allen, W. A. Jackson, H. F. Godeke, W. C. Holden, Misses Dorothy Rylander, Agnes E. Truc, Pauline Phillips, Lorene Childers, Elizabeth Dryden, Frances Mayhugh, Mary Frances Senter, and Katherine Johnston.

A Christmas scene was used as the centerpiece on the lace-covered table. Red tapers in crystal holders lighted the table.

Mrs. Paul W. Horn and Mrs. Mary Doak presided at the silver coffee and tea services. They were assisted in pouring by the new patronesses.

Fruit cake and Christmas candies were served, and folders bearing the names of the club members, sponsors, and patronesses were given as favors.

Ten new patronesses were present. They were Mesdames O. V. Adams, G. W. Woodbury, Frank Wynn, A. B. Zorahl, O. A. St. Clair, Clark M. Mullican, J. L. Nisbett, Julien Paul Blitz and R. C. Harvey, and Mrs. H. M. Crain.

Twenty-Seven Matadors And Manager To Receive Letters

Fourteen Seniors; Five Juniors And Eight Sophomores Given Numerals For '34 Grid Season

Lubbock High School Westerners and Masonic Home Matadors Are Special Guests At Annual Matador Club Banquet Last Night

P. W. CAWTHON, director of athletics and head football coach, announced last night at the annual Matador Club banquet in the ballroom of the Hilton Hotel that 27 varsity football players with their manager would receive letters and 31 freshmen gridiron get numerals for their work during the 1934 season. The awards have been approved by the Athletic Council and will be presented at the first run night of next year.

By JIM LINDSEY
Toreador Sports Editor

Approximately 200 persons attended the banquet. The Masonic Home grid team, enroute to Amarillo for the semi-final Interscholastic league game with the Sandies, and the Lubbock High Westerners were special guests.

Entertainment was furnished by the Lions club with Coaches Cawthon and Smith as the principal speakers. Eight Tech varsity players were given awards for outstanding play during the season.

The varsity letters, awarded to 14 seniors, five juniors, eight sophomores and one manager consist of: Truett Owen, Laurence Priddy, Gwynn Dowell, Capt. Malcolm Martin, B. Gilmore, Martin Harris, Adrian Clark, G. B. Morris, Woodrow Wilson, Leonard Curfman, Elmer Fortner, D. M. McElroy, Joe Barlow, Ed McKeever, and Trenton Davis, manager, all of whom are seniors.

Positions on the all-star aggregation have been rightly bestowed on two Matadors. Filling a halfback post is "Mule" Dowell, one of the greatest backs in Tech gridiron history. The 178 pound Balder gained consistently against Arizona university, the strongest conference team outside of Tech, as well as other opponents of the Scarlet machine.

In Larry Priddy, the mythical crew possesses a great defensive center. During the last campaign, the blond-headed griddler was a steady, reliable, exceedingly efficient in defensive play and blessed with the ability of diagnosing the opponent's play. We had the privilege of sitting on the bench with the Mats during the North Dakota game. On our right was Priddy. Nine times out of ten, the Tech pivot could name the ball carrier and the direction in which he was to travel.

But in naming the all-Border league machine, Commissioner Larson and his colleagues overlooked several Matadors that could make the conference team "with the greatest of ease" in actual conflict. With the exception of Robinson, Arizona captain, who occupies a mythical terminal, Captain "Moon" Martin stands alone when Border loop-ringers are considered. No better guard than "Josh" Owen can be found in the circuit ranks. Perhaps the conference fathers present the fact that Tech only played one circuit combat as an ally, but let them take a glance at the schedule of the Matadors. It was made up of much stronger machines than those of the Border league.

Speaking of all-things and all-that teams, the dept. has received an all-time Tech eleven from a resident of Lubbock since the founding of the institution. Although we disagree on a position or two, we present the eleven for your consideration; Ends, "Moon" Martin and Matt Hitchcock; tackles, Knowles and Baker; guards, Truett Owen and Toby Greer; center, Durham; quarterback, "Speed" Moffett; halfs, Ransome Walker and Dowell; fullback, Harold Crites.

We rifled the mail sacks and intercepted some letters addressed to Santa Claus from members of the coaching staff. Here they are:

Dear Santa Claus:
I don't want much this Christmas. Please send me fifty huskies tipping the scales at 215 pounds around which to build up the 1936 forward wall. And St. Nicholas, you might include several ten second men to scamper through the holes opened by these huskies. Give me a big-time schedule for next year and an undefeated season. I guess that's all. Thanks, Santa.
Yours in need,
Peter Willis Cawthon

Dear Santa:
For my Christmas gift send me some lozenges of all-American call-

Land Positions On Mythical Eleven

Above are Gwynn "Mule" Dowell and Laurence "Larry" Priddy who were awarded positions on the official all-Border state conference football team selected by Commissioner Larson and his assistants.

Dowell And Priddy Are On All-Conference Team

Arizona And New Mexico Place Three Gridders On First Eleven

Tucson, December 19.—The University of Arizona and the University of New Mexico each placed three men on the official all-Border Conference football team, which was announced here today by Dr. Emil Larson, commissioner, as the result of a poll of all coaches in the conference.

Arizona's all-conference players are Capt. "Bud" Robinson, end; Earl Nolan, tackle; and Ted Bland, quarterback. New Mexico placed Walker, guard; Bowyer, end; and Paiz, halfback.

Two each were placed by Texas Tech and the New Mexico Aggies. The former is represented by Priddy, center, and Dowell, halfback; the latter, Bresenham, tackle, and Hanson, guard. Tempe placed one man, Baxter, fullback, while Flagstaff was not represented.

On the second team, Arizona placed four; New Mexico university, Flagstaff, and the New Mexico Aggies, two each; Tempe and Texas Tech, one each. On account of a tie vote, three halfbacks were named for the second team. Honorable mention was given to all men who received two or more votes, resulting as follows: four for Arizona, two for New Mexico university, Tempe, and Texas Tech, one for New Mexico Aggies, none for Flagstaff.

Second Team Selections
End: Sexton, Tempe.
Tackle: Bendixen, Flagstaff.
Guard: Beeler, Arizona.
Center: Lionberger, Arizona.
Quarterback: Pratt, New Mexico Aggies.
Halfback: Dennard, New Mexico university.
Fullback: Hays, New Mexico university.
Honorable mention: Guards: Jones, N. M. U.; Duwe, Ariz.; Centers: Boyle, Tempe; Cochran, Arizona. Backs: Apodaca, N. M. Aggies; Fowler, Ariz.; Lusher, Tempe; Donelli, N. M. U.; McKeever, Texas Tech; Curfman, Texas Tech; and Knox, Arizona.

MASONS DRILL HERE
Rusty Russell's Masonic Home eleven work out on Matador Field this afternoon. The Masons meet the Amarillo Sandies on Butler field Saturday in the semi-finals of the Interscholastic football chase.

College deans and fraternity leaders joined last week at the annual convention of the College Fraternity Secretaries association in New York to defend the fraternity system as a valuable force in college life.

Tech Loopers Start Season With Bulldogs

Southwestern Teachers Meet Matadors Here Christmas Week

Indication that Virgil Ballard's first year Tech basketball team will possess power to face a tough Border conference schedule looms as the Matadors bring their third week of training to a close.

The Scarlet basketballers blast the lid from the 1935 cage chase against the Teachers from Weatherford, Okla., on the local rectangle Friday and Saturday of next week. Coach Rankin Williams leads his bulldogs into the Hub City Sunday for five days of workouts with the locals, climaxing the visit with a two-game series. Enroute the Oklahomans engage Southwestern circuit quintets.

Two types of court artists make up the visiting squad. According to word from Williams, the Southwestern mentor has a rangy group composing one five and another team of smaller stature and more speed.

With the old-timers setting the pace, Coach Ballard states that he has a hustling club. Leroy Crews, who has been playing a forward position in practice, has been absent from training with an injured foot. However, the former Wilson high cager will be ready for the Teachers. Co-Captain Gilmore is holding down a forward position but may be shifted to guard if needed in that capacity. Co-Captain Priddy seems to have taken up where he left off last season with his fighting spirit. Carrot-topped Wester looks like a coach's dream for the center post.

The season schedule:
December
28-29 — Southwestern Teachers (here).
January
2-3 — House of David (here).
8-9 — Tempe (here).
14-15 — Flagstaff (here).
21-22 — Canyon (here).
28-29 — Hardin-Simmons (here).
February
13-14 — New Mexico Aggies (Las Cruces).
15-16 — New Mexico U. (Albuquerque).
18-19 — New Mexico Aggies (Las Vegas).
25-26 — Canyon (here).
March
1-2 — Arizona U. (here).

League Officials Refuse to Adopt Three-Game Rule

Dr. W. A. Jackson, faculty representative from Texas Tech and vice-president of the Border Intercollegiate Athletic conference, and Russell T. "Dutchy" Smith, line coach returned to Lubbock Tuesday after attending the annual meeting of the conference in Tempe Sunday and Monday.

The circuit closed by voting against the proposed three-game football minimum directly aimed at Tech. Long distances and traveling expense problems were reasons given for refusal to adopt the rule.

Albuquerque, N. M. was selected as the site for the conference spring track and field meet to be held the second Saturday in May.

No Action Taken
As Hardin-Simmons did not comply with the loop ruling that an application for membership must be sent in 30 days prior to the gathering, no action was taken on the application of the Baptist institution, Texas Mines' application for membership will be considered in the spring meeting.

When we see good in people they see good in us.

Owen Reduces Picador Squad

Former High School Stars Are Found In Record Freshmen Turnout

Coach "Josh" Owen pared his Picador basketball squad to 30 members after starting the season training with 71 candidates as the Fish took up their second week of practice.

Though seriously handicapped by lack of necessary accommodations and inconvenient practice hours that prevent a number from reporting for workouts, the freshmen are fast rounding into shape for the approaching campaign.

The squad is composed of experienced basketballers with high school competition behind them. From this number, Owen expects to mold a winning team.
Brown, elongated center from Kerrville; Patterson, Dalhart; Wiginton, a tall forward from Stratford; Byrd, guard from Ardmore, Okla.; Henderson, guard from Linden and Hale and Barnett, former Westerner standouts form a nucleus for the Picador quintet.

THE outstanding picture this week is "Flirtation Walk" coming to the Palace for a Christmas Eve preview and also Christmas day and Wednesday. The popular team of Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler and the entire West Point cadet corps is presented. Warner Baxter, old favorite of thousands of fans is presented in "Hell in the Heavens" at the Palace Sunday and Monday.

Quite deserving of mention is "Servant's Entrance," with Janet Gaynor and Lew Ayres which is brought back to Lubbock for a showing at the Texan. This delightful pair were the big show in "State Fair" and "Servant's Entrance" should appeal to everyone from father and mother down to little brother.

THIS AND THAT

THE list of the ten leading stars for 1934 has been released. The selection was based on reports received from the managers of theaters and the public. The stars numbered among the ten are: 1. Will Rogers; 2. Clark Gable; 3. Janet Gaynor; 4. Wallace Berry; 5. Mae West; 6. Joan Crawford; 7. Bing Crosby; 8. Shirley Temple; 9. Marie Dressler; 10. Norma Shearer. It will be noted that Marie Dressler was listed even though she died this year and did not produce a single picture during the year.

Will Rogers is to be seen as a judge in his next picture, "County Chairman." And this is another film where the inseparable Evelyn Venable and Kent Taylor will again be seen as sweethearts. This couple also played the sweethearts in Roger's "David Harum."

Doctor Suggests Math Problem To Help Lose Sanity

Chicago, Dec. 19.—(IP)—The largest known prime number has been discovered by Dr. Samuel I. Krieger, who is the originator of a number of formulas for rapid calculation.

A prime number is one that is divisible only by one and by itself. The number described by Dr. Krieger as being the largest prime number is: 231,584,378,632,390,847,141,970,017,375,815,706,539,969,331,281,128,078,915,168,015,826,259,279,871.

Dr. Krieger said he spent seventeen hours, using his own short-cut methods, in multiplying out the number, and another six hours establishing the fact that it is a prime number.

In case you don't care to count 'em, the number of digits in the above number is 78.

If you want to see a real nice number and haven't anything better to do, sit down and multiply this prime number by itself. Then divide by five and throw yourself out the window.

Robbers Chart Hold-Ups Similar To Football Plays

Chicago, Dec. 19.—(IP)—Taking a tip from college football coaches, leaders of a youthful gang of bank robbers arrested here last week were found to have charted their prospective holdups like football plays, showing the position of every man taking part in the robbery and likewise the probable position of every bank employee.

Thirty-two young men were arrested in the police raid which uncovered the gang. It was learned that the gang had a club, which had purchased a machine gun which individual members could rent by the night for robbery purposes. Each member chipped in $20 for the purchase of the gun.

An expedition from Harvard university has discovered in Texas what is believed to be the world's oldest fossil egg. It is estimated to be 225,000,000 years old. The egg represents the most primitive type to be laid on dry land. It is a dinosaur egg.

Psychologist Says International Police System Needed For Peace; Blames Pacifists For War Danger

Durham, N. C.—Dec. 19.—(IP)—Armed force, in the form of an international police system, is necessary to the establishment of world peace, according to Dr. William McDougall, psychologist of international repute and head of the department of psychology at Duke university.

He lays the responsibility for the danger of another world conflict on the pacifists, "the peace-at-any-price men."

Force Is Justified

"These well-intentioned persons," he said "assume that this question is not a question but has already been finally answered. They think that the use of force should not be resorted to in international affairs under any circumstance.

"The use of force in international affairs is highly justified. It is most necessary at the present time. There have been in the past proposals, of a more or less vague, idealistic sort, for world government, and generally that notion of world government has carried with it the notion of a government exercising power and force.

"There is no recognized principle laid down by the Christian religion or anywhere else which shows that the use of force is never right. The use of force, I maintain, is right when it is used to prevent wrong. Such would be its proper use in international affairs—the indispensable instrument of international justice.

Nations Are Arming

"European nations are arming and they will continue to arm until they have some kind of a reasonable guarantee of protection against aggression. So long as the threat of aggression hangs over them the only way to induce them to disarm is to provide them with that kind of protection. The use of international police power is the one way in which that can be done.

"It is the pacifists who are largely responsible for the fact that we are meeting difficulty in taking this great international step. By their arguments you would forbid use of force in civil affairs. You would have to do away with police power entirely, and that would produce a condition of a terrible kind in very short order. You cannot conduct the affairs of men at the present time without force—not necessarily the application of physical force, but the possibility of it."

Editor Criticizes Student Writers

Student writers lack skill in the smaller elements of form, declares Sylvia Chatfield Bates, well known novelist and editor, in the current issue of the Literary Workshop, national organ for student expression.

She elaborates this thesis: "They (young writers) can probably tell you much about movements in writing, this 'ism' and that. But they do not know the fundamentals of good writing in the English language. The pity is that they think they are above knowing."

Miss Bates believes "there is too much bad writing among the younger writers, even the good ones." And those who are coming along have too much the attitude of, "He gets away with it, so it is all right."

President Hopkins of Dartmouth, at the request of the student government, has ordered a thorough study of the fraternity system at Dartmouth, with a view to making it more effective.

When an English instructor at a mid-western school asked his students if they could use the word "diadem" in a sentence, one eager student came forth with this one: "An man who plays football will diadem sight quicker than one who doesn't."

Tech Members Go To Austin

Mrs. W. B. Gates, Strehli, Qualia Will Attend National Meeting

Three faculty members will attend the annual meeting of the American Association of Spanish Teachers in Austin, December 27-28, and two will appear on the program.

Mrs. W. B. Gates, professor of Spanish, and Dr. C. B. Qualia, head of the department of foreign languages, and Alfred B. Strehli, assistant professor of foreign languages, are the representatives from Tech. Mrs. Gates will give a paper on "Gonzalez's Use of Proverbs" and Doctor Qualia, "The Campaign Against the Comedia in the Press of Spain, 1761-1800."

Other main speakers on the program include H. Y. Benedict, president of the University of Texas; Professor Alfred Coester, Stanford University, California; Professor Sturgis Leavitt, North Carolina; Wilfred A. Beardsley of Coeher college, and Professor C. Glascock, University of Texas.

Ohio U. Discusses Military Training

Columbus, O.—Dec. 19.—(IP)—The ruling of the United States Supreme Court upholding the right of land grant colleges to compel the male students to take military training has succeeded in crystallizing sentiment for and against compulsory training at Ohio State university.

The United Front Committee, representing twelve campus anti-military organizations, has announced its intention to continue its fight against compulsory drill. Because of the Supreme Court decision, the committee will stop demanding the abolishment of the R. O. T. C. and will petition the board of trustees to make military training optional, as is allowed under the Morrill Act, which declares only that land grant colleges "must offer" military training.

Under optional drill those who did not enroll for military science would be placed in physical education classes.

Dr. Underwood Is Author Of Book

"Jaunts Into Space" book on astronomy written by Dr. R. S. Underwood, professor of mathematics, is to be released within the next few weeks.

The book, containing 20,000 words, is an expansion or elaboration of a series of articles published by the author in last year's Avance-Journal. It contains much description and illustration. Pen and ink sketches and the cover design were done by Everett Fairchild, 1933 editor of La Ventana. Other illustrations in the book are pictures from Yerkes Observatory and Mount Wilson Observatory.

Doctor Underwood said the price of the book, being published by the Christopher Publishing house of Boston, will not exceed $1.25.

Last July when the Philippines met to draft their constitution, 25 alumni of Ateneo De Manila, a Jesuit school, were on the committee. Quite a record for one college.

Expedition To Visit Last Haunts Of Rare Birds

Ithaca, N. Y.—Dec. 19.—(IP)—Armed with sound and motion picture camera, an expedition will set out from Cornell university in February to find the last haunts of rare birds in America and "bring back their voices alive."

The expedition will do its searching in Florida, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado and Wyoming.

Max Baer of California now is rightfully the "world heavyweight boxing champion." The title was made official last week when the International Boxing union recognized him as such.

Dr. Richard U. Light, Yale university's flying professor who is circling the globe by airplane, landed last week in the Philippines. He and his co-pilot, Robert Wilson, crossed the Atlantic by way of Greenland, toured European countries, and then headed east by way of India, Malaya, the Dutch East Indies, Java, Borneo and the Philippines.

A rare copy of Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations" has been presented to William and Mary college by a wealthy New Yorker.

Two student and faculty organizations have sprung up at Yale university this year, the purpose of which is to train young men to take an intelligent part in politics.

The Honor Beauty Student's

Mark Halsey Drug Co.

FROM R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY MAKERS OF CAMEL CIGARETTES AND PRINCE ALBERT SMOKING TOBACCO

A pound of Prince Albert in glass humidor, gaily packaged.

● Cigarettes for Christmas! No smoker ever has too many. But which cigarette? Remember that the brand you give reflects your own good taste... your sense of discrimination. That's why we suggest Camels. They are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos than any other popular brand. They are the choice of distinguished men and women in every field of the social and business worlds. And their finer tobaccos bring that welcome "lift" in energy—that warm good cheer—which is, after all—Christmas!

The special Christmas package with 4 boxes of Camel "flat fifties"—just the inexpensive gift you have been wanting.

CAMELS MADE FROM FINER, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS

● Is there a pipe smoker on your Christmas list? Then your problem is solved. He's made it easy. Give him long evenings of calm contentment. Give him the sheer joy of ripe, mellow tobacco—cool and mild and biteless. Give him Prince Albert... "The National Joy Smoke." What a man spends his own money for is what he really likes. And more men spend their money for Prince Albert than any other pipe tobacco.

Santa Claus

keep our boys straight till the first semester is over? We want so bad to start our club up again.
Yours truly,
S. K. Club.

Dear Santa Claus:
You know that I have been a good little girl for a few months. Will you please send me a four pound sweater, some woolen mittens, heavy hose, and a woolen skirt.
Yours as ever,
Liz Dryden.

Dear Santa Claus:
I am a little girl in Texas Tech, whom the boys all like very much. Will you please bring me a package of cheese, Mickey Mouse to court me and a new pair of real high heel shoes so that people won't think I am standing in a hole all the time.
I am always a good little girl, sometimes.
Yours truly,
Jane "Shorty" Tinsley.

Dear Santa:
Do you really stay up at the north pole all the time? If you do will you please bring me a new Airflow car, cause my girl's is just about worn out.
Also please bring my girl some complexion cream to take the freckles off her nose.
Yours lovingly,
Truett Owen.

Dear old Santa:
Will you please bring me a book on how to have two or three dates in one night. I have so many boys tell me that they think I am pretty and when one of them asks me for a date, I always have one for two weeks ahead of time.
Also, will you please bring me a little blue back speller so that I can learn to spell the elementary words in the English language.
Yours very truly,
Eva Mae O'Neal.

Dear Sandy Claus:
I wish that you would bring me a whole flock of boys to go with. I have one now that is so kind to me that he does not want to hurt my feelings by quitting me.
Yours appealingly,
Chris "Betty Boop" Bundy.

Dear Santa:
All the time I thought people were fooling me about you, but now I know who you are. Please send me a little red wagon, some candy with nuts in it and a book on how to be popular with the ladies.
Azzever yours,
Woodrow "Webfoot" Wilson.

Dear Santa:
Flash! I happened to know some scandal on you from last Xmas, so you better fork over with some dough. Mrs. Santa would be interested to know where you really were on the night of the 25th.

Yours for scandal,
Sallyport.

Dear Santa:
I would like very much for you to bring me some old bones to dig up and a few drunk Yaquis to show to my anthropology class.
You know me,
W. C. Holden.

Dear Santa Claus:
I want nothing but information. Please give me some literature which will teach me a few new wrestling holds and also give me a few other words to use as synonyms for "touchdown." Also tell me how to ride a jackass; as you know I've always been rather peculiar and would like to get on to myself.
Yours until I learn how to write a news story,
Frank (Fritz) Tolbert.

Dear Santa Claus:
Please give me two 8 o'clock, two 12 o'clock, and two 1 o'clock classes next semester, and I'll promise not to be sarcastic or hateful for one whole day. An Air Flow would make me the happiest professor in Tech.
Your reformed,
Donnie Murphy.

E. R. Steen, of Graham, 1934 Aggie graduate, will leave this morning to accept a position with the Soil Erosion service at Dalhart, Texas. He has been working for the service during the summer for Steen is enrolled in Tech, and has the last two years, and has been doing graduate work in the division of agriculture this fall.

Music Head Guest Artist In Amarillo

Julien Paul Blitz, head of the Texas Tech music department, was again guest of the Philharmonic Symphony orchestra at Amarillo last Saturday evening. Mr. Blitz gave his interpretation of Boellmann's Variations for Cello and Orchestra.

Edouard, young son of Mr. Blitz, was greeted with an ovation from the audience when he appeared to render Concerto for Cello and Orchestra by N. Porpora. Master Blitz, making his debut in philharmonic orchestration, is acclaimed the youngest recognized artist of the cello.

Bradley's Band Will Play Engagement In El Paso

Members of Ned Bradley's dance band will leave tomorrow for Roswell where they will play Friday night. Beginning Saturday, the band has a ten-day engagement in El Paso, through New Year's Eve. Engagements have been booked with fraternities and sororities of El Paso.

A public address system has been added to the band's equipment. Members of the band are Ned Bradley, Johnny Arant, Harold Humphries, K. Carter, Felix Walker, Colby Delaney, Frank Stone, Wilmot Eaton, Wright Ireland and Leon Keen.

Films Trace Production, Show Uses Of Gypsum

Films tracing the manufacture and usage of gypsum have been shown to classes of the engineering school this week. These films were brought to Tech through the efforts of O. A. St. Clair, instructor of engineering drawing, and were loaned by the U. S. Gypsum company.

This semester the engineering school has employed the use of films for practical demonstration to classes.
