Verdict Of Guilty Returned By Austin Jury In Gene Dubberly Kidnaping Case Monday Night

Prexy's Paragraphs

BY BRADFORD KNAPP

The game with the School of Mines at El Paso came out all right. It was a peculiar and interesting game. In my judgment a lot of credit is due our team for sterling, stonewall defense at critical times. Our offensive work did not show up very well, particularly due, it seems to me, to fumbling. A number of times excellent gains terminated in fumbles and the wind was a terrible handicap. Of course, it was again the School of Mines in the first and last quarters, but in the second and third it was against us. When a team cannot kick out of danger, it puts them with their back to the wall. Even when we did carry the ball out of danger, we fumbled and lost it. The score does not show the true situation. In spite of the fact that the School of Mines has an excellent team, I believe we ought to have defeated them by three or four touchdowns instead of two.

It was interesting to go to a sister State school and find that the local people through the relief work financed by the Government had contributed $100,000 to the building of a stadium and a beautiful field house for basketball games. We had some trees trimmed on the campus of Texas Tech out of public relief funds.

Two recent trips have convinced me that educational institutions ought to put on trips to teach students to know their own State. Driving East from El Paso on Highway No. 30 Sunday morning, I was struck with the beauty of that section of the State. The vividness of the color of the mountains in sunlight and shadow made a picture worthy of the artist's canvas.

The late President Calvin Coolidge some time before his death wrote the following paragraph on the needs of this country: "I can conceive of no adequate remedy for the evils which beset society, except through the influence of religion. There is no form of education which will not fail. There is no form of government which will not fail. There is no form of reward which will not fail. We do not need more national development; we need more spiritual development. We do not need more knowledge; we need more religion. We do not need more of the things that are seen; we need more of the things that are unseen."

Any comment from me would be superfluous, I am sure, and yet I have never been able to see why the spiritual and moral development cannot take place along with and accompanying the intellectual and material development. Have we only one-track minds, which must drop moral and spiritual development while we think of material things? The real challenge lies in the development of a broader, more capable, intellectual capacity which can take in all of these various lines of development and place them in their true relationship and in the order of their greatest importance.

As I read the daily papers, I am struck with a tremendous number of accidents occurring on our highways and streets. I may be wrong, but it seems to me that recently the number of these accidents has multiplied rapidly. What connection may there be between the introduction of 32 beer, supposedly non-intoxicating, or possibly the accompanying greater ease of securing stronger drink, due to the impending repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, and this growth in accidents resulting in injury and death to many of our fellow citizens? I have long been of the opinion that before the Eighteenth Amendment is repealed or before any territory becomes wet, there ought to be very stringent laws regarding the operation of automobiles on the highway. The man or woman who uses liquor to the extent of impairing his or her judgment, consideration for others, and obedience to safe traffic rules, or proper, safe and instant reaction to danger in the traffic which we have now, ought to be severely punished. About the only reasonable way to do it is to make the right to drive an automobile on a public highway a privilege, and not a right, by requiring a driver's license, revocable

Greetings Exes! Tech Alumni Prexy Writes Welcome

Editor's Note—The following letter has just been received from J. E. Speer, president of the Texas Tech Alumni Association. Mr. Speer wishes to make this year's Home-Coming the greatest in the history of the college.

Greetings, Texas Tech Alumni and Exes—

November eleventh has been designated as Home-Coming Day for 1933. Plans are being perfected for a big day, so begin to make arrangements to be there. The Matadors are playing the Simmons University team and their records to date give promise of a fast, hard game.

Let us make this Home-Coming the greatest we have had, let us make it a symbol to our Alma Mater and her student body that it is well for man to respect his own avocation, but it is important that he not die on third. An investment in knowledge pays the best interest when it is imbued with loyalty and service, moored by lofty affections. The horizon widens as we climb and we can now most truly appreciate the meaning of education, the worth of friendship, the honor of work, and the value of appreciation. Let us join in paying homage to those who deserve it, to the institution which is the foundation of our success.

J. E. Speer, President, Texas Tech Alumni Association.

Heads Alumni

J. E. Speer, president of the Alumni Association for the year 1933-34, extends his heartiest greetings to the homecomers when they gather on Tech's campus next week.

Exhibitors Give Judges Funds

Aggie Team Continues Practice For National Meets; Are To Begin Northern Trip Middle Of This Month

Additional funds to help send Aggie stock judges to national meets in Kansas City and Chicago late this month have been donated by two downstate livestockmen, according to W. L. Stangel, of the annual husbandry department.

These men are W. J. Largent, premier exhibitor of Hereford cattle of Merkel, Texas, and C. W. Berry, of the Singleton Farms, Midlothian, Texas. The donations were made while Stangel worked at the Dallas State Fair as a judge in the shorthorn and milking shorthorn division of the stock exhibit.

Emphasis was placed by the Tech professor on the fact that "downstate stockmen have shown more appreciation for the judging work than many local men in the industry."

Meanwhile, practices judging to select the Tech judging team has continued during the past week, with nine seniors competing. Six will be chosen to compose the team. The group will leave here November 15 to enter the American Royal contest in Kansas City on November 18 and the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago on December 2. The team, which will be gone about three weeks, will be in charge of Ray C. Mowery, associate professor of animal husbandry.

Blackshirts Hold Meeting Tonight

There will be a meeting tonight for the Blackshirts, recently organized Tech pep organization, in Room 220 of the Administration Building at 7:00 o'clock.

The pep rally for the Haskell Indians football game, which will be played on Tech Field Saturday night, will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 in the gymnasium.

There are at present, according to P. J. Minter, about sixty members in the Blackshirts. A larger membership is desired, however, and all those interested are invited to come to the meeting tonight in the Ad Building.

Bill Stubbs and P. J. Minter, Texas Tech leaders are temporary officers of the organization. Permanent organization will be undertaken later.

Knapp Speaks To Seniors In Class Meeting

Four Committees Appointed By Godeke; Condray And President Of College To Sponsor For The Year

Dr. Bradford Knapp was the principal speaker at the first meeting of the 1934 senior class held in room 210 of the administration building, Wednesday evening.

Dr. Knapp gave the class some suggestions about memorials which might be left and told about some Senior gifts left by classes in other colleges.

Ben Condray, head of the Business Administration department, and President Knapp were elected to be class sponsors for the year. Willie Snyder and Florence Barrett were elected representatives to the AWS cabinet.

Four committees were appointed by Henry Godeke, president of the class. They are: The Memorial committee with William Luce as chairman. The members are Odis Holly, Parker Taulman, Maurice Havis, and Eugenia Smith. Members of the invitation committee are Jesse Young, chairman, Don Maddox, Ward Garrison, and Eloise Lancaster.

Members of the Program committee are Mary Leitch, chairman, T. L. Leach, and Maxine Clark. The Social committee is composed of the following members: Jimmie Lauderdale, chairman; Melba Watson, and Jesse Rogers, committee men.

The seniors will meet on the fourth Thursday of every month. Godeke urges all members to attend the meetings.

Dramatic Tournay Will Be Held For Colleges At Tech

Plans for the Texas Intercollegiate Dramatic Tournament, for which Tech will be host, are being formulated. Invitations have been sent out to the senior colleges and universities of Texas.

For the state tournament, a tea dance at the Hilton Hotel is being planned by the local dramatic organization. Sock and Buskin's annual picnic and dance are scheduled for April 20 and May 20 respectively.

Programs for every meeting of the Sock and Buskin club have been planned. They are included in the year book along with a list of the officers and a roll of the members. Wayland College has been invited to present a play at the club meeting.

Home Ec And Aggie Schools Will Form Club For Dances

A club to conduct dances at regular intervals for the Aggie and Home Economics schools will be organized for the fall. The club members at their meeting Tuesday night.

Appointed to confer with Home Economics representatives were J. P. Smith, T. L. Leach, and Jack McGowan, of the agricultural school. Home Economics committee members will be named this week.

Annual Pictures La Ventana Editor Gives Warning

According to Bruce Zorns, editor of the 1933-34 La Ventana, all students that wait till after the first of January to take their pictures for the new yearbook, will suffer an additional fee of twenty-five cents.

All Freshmen are required to have their pictures at Brown's studio before the 15th day of November. Upperclassmen who do not have their pictures taken as yet should keep in mind the additional fee.

Tech Publicity Gets Requests

Registrar's Office Flooded With Inquiries About Picture Showing Knapp Presenting Suit Made By Tech Students

An avalanche of requests for catalogs and information about Texas Technological college have been pouring into the registrar's office following the recent nationwide publicity given the institution in regard to the presentation of suits to President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Vice-president John N. Garner. The picture of President Bradford Knapp and Vice-president Garner made at Uvalde and showing the nation's second executive in the act of putting on the Tech-made suit, has been published all over the United States and Canada.

Requests are coming from the New England states, from New York City, Chicago, and from a number of other sections. Several have written from Canada asking about the school, according to W. P. Clement, registrar.

Inquiries from many sections of the country have been received in regard to the suits. The department of the college. Demand for the cloth being made by students has exceeded the output. A number of prominent Texas citizens have bought material for suits and overcoats.

Texas Tech Scores Among Highest

The highest score ever made by Tech in any one game was the third game of the 1923 season. It was 120-0, with Wayland College supplying the opposition. An even 60 points was made in each half.

The second highest score was made by the wonder team of last year when Tech defeated Trinity University 79-0. Other high scoring games happened in 1930 when the Abilene Christian Wildcats were defeated 58-6. In 1927 the Panhandle Oklahoma A. & M. College team fell to the tune of 62-0. The same season saw Tech lose its game by the widest margin in history either before or since when the Texas Aggies put out their wonder team. They defeated Tech 47-6. The Aggies swept through Southwest competition for the crown in about the same fashion, winding up the season by scoring 4 touchdowns on their arch rivals Texas University, after having beaten Southern Methodist at their own game of passing.

Athletic Council Still Offers Season Ticket At Student Rate

The Athletic Council continues its offer of last year that Alumni members in good standing may purchase season tickets for themselves and family at the student rate of $5.00 plus the 50 cent tax. These books carry with them the privilege of reserving a seat in the grandstand for the remainder of the season.

It is true that only three more games remain of the home schedule, (Simmons, Baylor, and Kansas Aggies), but tickets for these games alone will total $4.50. But the holder of the ticket will also have access to a dozen or more basketball games, several track meets, and a number of boxing and wrestling matches to be given later in the year. You can save yourself around $9.00, and at the same time aid the Alumni Association and Athletic Department to carry on their respective programs.

Railroads Feature Holiday Rates For Homecoming Exes

Returning Ex-students and the general public will find that reduced railroad fares can be had for Homecoming over all lines of the Santa Fe and the Fort Worth and Denver Railway companies. Tickets can be purchased at any point in Texas to Lubbock (round trip) for 60 per cent of a one-way fare. Tickets will go on sale November 9, 10, and 11. Return must be started not later than the following Wednesday, November 15; thus giving visitors the privilege of remaining five days.

Annual Trek To Tech Will Start Next Week As Invitations Are Sent To Graduates, Exes

Moore Welcomes Student Body Head Grooms Old Timers

Welcome! As president of the present student body I wish to extend a hearty welcome to all graduates and former students of Texas Tech. May each of you return November 11 to attend the homecoming football game and lend your support to the Matadors. The biggest bonfire ever is being planned, a special train probably will be run from Simmons, and every thing necessary for a successful homecoming day is materializing.

It is unnecessary for me to say, "Make yourselves at home," for this is your home. Let me ask that you browse around the buildings, greet your old friends and make new, date your friend's best girl—November 11 is your day, Welcome!

Sincerely yours, Ray Moore, Student Prexy.

Alumni Checks Old Grads For Location Here

Secretary Of Association Asks That All Graduates Send Addresses To Lubbock; Number Are Lost Now

Approximately 1200 people have received degrees from Texas Tech. The Alumni Secretary and the Administrative officials have done their best to keep track of all these people but such has been an impossible task. The addresses of 45 people are unknown. They are placed on what is called the lost list.

Neglect in notifying the Alumni Association Secretary when moving to a new location is the chief cause of this. A large number of friends in sending in the address of "lost ones" keeps the number down considerably. If anyone knows the address of the following people they will do the College a great favor if they will send the address to the Alumni Secretary, Lubbock Texas, in care of Texas Tech. The lost list contains the following names:

- Earl Anderson, Wm. Harold Ammons, M. H. Baze, Gus Dallas, Elmer Deavenport, Mrs. Elmer Day, Emmett Eston Day, Mrs. Florence Dodson, Tom Lee Easley, Mrs. Ad. Eddins, Mrs. Marvin Evans Freeman, Mary Gladys Gilbert, Marian Oberha Hamilton, Raymond E. Hamilton, Robert H. Hastings, Guy H. Hayes, Louis Elmer Huff, Chas. B. Jackson, Ernestine Kimbrough, Cecil C. Logan, Mrs. Alvis Logan, Aubrey McAuley, Ione McClellan, J. Wilful Mallard, Mrs. Marlan Bradford Morrison, Nell Taylor Farmley, Mrs. Geo. D. Payne, Helena J. Peters, Carolyn E. Powell, Ova Mae Robbins, Mrs. G. H. Rossen, Harold Holmes Rumpf, Catherine Tinney Russ, John R. Searls, Julia Raye Simmons, Ruth Smith, James Arthur Summerhill, Alexander Taylor, Clemmie Jane Vaughn, Prentiss Shelton Viles, Loretta Wallace, Kenneth Chas. Ward, Paola Warren, Lois Wynn Williamson, and Ivo Wilson.

Hitler Government Praised By Holmes

A summer in Europe served to convince Dean Henry Holmes of the Harvard University graduate school that the Hitler government in Germany is not so bad after all.

On his return Dean Holmes said that he now believed Hitler was "something Germany needed, and may turn out well."

"I formed my opinion," he said, "from what I heard in France, and from the antagonistic attitude of the French, which I did not like, and also from talking with people on the voyage home."

Secretary Of Alumni Urges Early Registration For Luncheon And Tickets To Football Game Here On November 11

Starting the Homecoming activities at noon November 11, the Texas Tech Alumni Association will hold its annual luncheon in the dining room of Hotel Lubbock. All visiting Alumnae, ex-Students, and their friends are to be special guests for the festive event. Members of the Board of Directors of the college, the President of the college and the

- HOME-COMERS PROGRAM November 11
- 1. Registration at Hotel Lubbock, 10:00 a. m.
- 2. Ex-Students and families Luncheon at Hotel Lubbock dining room, 12:00.
- 3. Football Game between the Simmons University Cowboys and the Matadors of Texas Tech.
- 4. All-College Dance for everyone at the Tech Gym beginning at 8:00 p. m.

Deans are to speak before what is predicted to be the largest group of Homecomers in the history of Texas Tech.

Among the special guests to the luncheon will be the coaching staff of the Texas Tech Matadors and possibly the members of the 1933 football team. Chairman Stangel of the Athletic Council and members of the Matador Club, a local organization will also be present.

At 3:00 p. m. the activities will shift from downtown to Texas Tech field where the Cowboys of Simmons University will try to duplicate the defeat of the Matadors in their last year's crucial tilt. The local team came out on the small end of 13-13 after beating ten of some of the strongest football competition in the nation. A record crowd is expected to fill the field bleachers and the grandstand to their capacity for this game. All Alumnae that wish to reserve grandstand tickets to the game may do so by writing in to the secretary of the Alumni Association. Reservations may be secured at any time prior to the game.

Bon Fire It is hoped that on Friday night that the annual bon-fire will be set off to start the week-end festivities off in the highest of spirits. Last year this traditional fest was marred by the fact that the mammoth pile of wood and trash that had been gathered for the night pep meeting before the Baylor game was set off before scheduled time by accident. If the proper authorities will permit this and the pep leaders of the college will have one of the largest bonfires ever to be set off on the college campus.

The Alumnae-All-College dance will be held at the Gym beginning at the regular hour of 8 o'clock. Ned Bradley's Varsity Band will be on hand to provide some of that good old Texas Tech spirit. Members of the Simmons team will be special guests of the Alumnae Association. According to J. W. Jackson, who is jointly in charge of the dance, a limited number of stags will be admitted. Prices will be $1.00 for gentlemen unaccompanied and 75 cents for couples.

Get Reservations

President J. E. Speer of the Alumni Association requests that reservations for the luncheon be sent in to the secretary's office as soon as possible. Plates will be sixty cents each. Reservations can be made the morning of the luncheon when the visitors register.

O'Neill Heads Geography Group In Recent Election

A society for students interested in geography has been formed for Tech students with the purpose of studying geography and related topics. All students who are interested are invited to attend the next meeting to be held Monday night at 8:00 o'clock.

At the first meeting held recently, the following officers were elected: T. Roderick O'Neill, president; Hubert Allensworth, Vice president; William Luce, Secretary-Treasurer. The faculty sponsor for the year 1933-34 will be Dr. Raymond Sidwell. All meetings will be held in the basement of the Chemistry building.

TO ALUMNI VOTERS

Editor's note—The following editorial is a contribution of an alumnus of Texas Tech, and was written primarily to stir to action those alumni that have Texas Tech at heart.

Next year the voters of the State of Texas will elect a new Governor, a Lieutenant-Governor, 15 Senators, and 150 Representatives. Will you have a part in electing those men? Among the candidates will be found the names of several Tech graduates.

Presumably one of the most important things that you learned at Tech was the value of good citizenship and an abiding faith in the principles of Democracy. It was radiated on you from every side. Texas Tech did its part for you. Now its your turn. The men who fill those positions next year will hold the future of Texas Tech in their hands. Even though you are not interested in Texas Tech you should be among those electors who choose our governmental officials for the next two years.

But the law requires that one of the qualifications for voting is paying the poll tax. It costs only $1.75. If you were among those who did not get to vote on the Constitutional Amendments last summer learn a lesson from experience for several others just as important will be presented to the people next year in addition to the officers that are to be elected.

The fight for the preservation of an intact Texas Technological College has only begun. Last year's battle in the Legislature was only the opening skirmish. It will be a battle to the finish this time. Texas Tech will need your help. The State of Texas needs college trained men and women as voters. So pay your poll taxes. There is a tax collector at 257 county seats in Texas who will take your money and issue you a receipt now. Will you be ready to cast your ballot?

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

Almost every college or university in America supports a paper or publication of some kind. People often wonder sometimes how a college paper is financed. Only in a very few cases do the publishers depend solely on the subscription of the student body and alumni.

The principal means for financing any kind of paper, whether it be a college weekly or a metropolitan daily, is the advertising that is placed on its pages. It is not only profitable to publishers of the paper, but is equally as profitable to the merchants who place confidence enough in the college paper to buy advertising space.

The business men of Lubbock realize that nearly two million dollars a year is spent by the faculty, the students, and those connected with Texas Technological college. In order to draw the attention of these people in their direction, they advertise with the college paper and yearbook, which helps to bear the brunt of the financial end in publishing each edition.

It is a business proposition. The merchants profit by the school being here, and the students maintain their publications through their advertising. The Toreador offers the nearest medium in reaching the student body that can be secured by the merchants. The business man who wants your trade is willing to pay the price in advertising to get your trade.

Why not trade your dollars for Toreador advertised commodities? Our advertisers appreciate your response in giving them your business.

MOVIES

By Fred Kerr

"Gabriel Over The White House," is the one picture of the screen that every one in the United States should see. Like a thundering army the characters, the drama and the spectacular scenes of this picture march across the screen to give the people an insight to those dramatic forces that are back of a great government.

How would you feel if the president were to be made a dictator? Would you be able to stand by him or would your soul rise in revolt? You will find the answer to these questions in "Gabriel Over The White House," for it is truly the picture which will make this year famous.

Thrilling in its action, superb in its romance, authentic in its drama and with a cast of notables, such as: Walter Huston, Karen Morley, Franchot Tone and Dickey Moore, it is indeed a picture which the Texan theatre is proud to present to the Lubbock theatre-goers. It is showing for the last time today.

"It's The Bull!" "The Kid From Spain," Eddie Cantor's latest starring vehicle for Samuel Goldwyn, comes to the Lindsey theatre on Sunday and presents the Pop-eyed comedian in what he believes to be his best offering to the cause of amusement. Thrown into the bull-fighting racket through some very unusual happenings, he carries away the honors of the bloody arena.

Playing with Cantor is that musical-gypsy girl, Lydia Robert, the lone wolf of the motion picture industry. Her musical training was received from a gypsy troop, so the fire and rhythm of her dancing is natural. Goldwyn has in this picture assembled the largest group of beautiful girls ever known to take part in any picture. It is said that the costumes of these girls are so beautiful and so fine in material that they had to be sewed on the girls.

I would suggest that you see this picture. It may not be good, but it is a sure bet that it will be fun.

Those fun loving love-birds are coming back to the Lindsey theatre on Friday and Saturday. This time in a picture that is different from the usual run of Summerville and Pitts productions. In "Love, Honor And Oh, Baby," Slim has no drawing voice, nor is he shy or bashful. Instead he is the young, quick spoken lawyer in a breach of promise suit. Should be a lot of fun.

Norman Foster and Sally Eilers have the leading roles in "Walls of Gold," which starts a three day run at the Palace theatre Sunday.

While the wicked flee when no man pursueth, they make much better time if some one is after them.—Dr. Parkhurst.

Education Dpt. Gets New Prof In Dr. Barnett

Dr. Albert Barnett Comes To Campus From WSTC To Take Over Education Duties For This Year

Dr. Albert Barnett, professor of education, who has recently joined the faculty of Texas Tech was born and reared in Smith county, Tennessee. His father was a schoolmaster during the years following the Civil War, but later became a farmer and stock raiser. Dr. Barnett reports that much of his early training was given by his father, who was never too busy with farming to have school in the evenings for his children to supplement the short term of the one-teacher school.

Dr. Barnett's teaching career began at the age of fifteen as student assistant in a rural school. He never finished a secondary school, he just quit and entered Peabody College at the age of eighteen and passed the entrance examinations, where he later received the B. A., M. A., and Ph. D. degrees. He was president of the Associated Student Body, was initiated into the local chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, and for four quarters held a fellowship granted by the General Education Board. Before finishing his college work, he was principal of rural and village schools in his home county.

Many Positions Held
His collegiate teaching has been connected with the following positions: Student Assistant in Agriculture, Peabody; Professor of Agriculture, Tennessee Polytechnic Institute; Associate Professor of Agricultural Education, Clemson Agricultural College; Itinerant Teacher-Trainer in Agricultural Education, University of Tennessee; Assistant Professor and Head of Department of Agricultural Education, University of Arizona; and Professor of Rural Education in West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon.

Education Deputy In Local Area Is Stationed At Tech

G. D. Hollbrook of Austin, deputy state superintendent of education, has opened an office in the Administration building of Texas Technological college. He is in charge of district number two, which is comprised of 15 counties. The following counties are in this district: Bailey, Borden, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hookley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry, and Yoakum.

Colleges Exempt From NIRA Codes

After a conference with a committee of educators headed by President Lloyd H. Marvin of George Washington University, Hugh Johnson, national recovery chief, issued a ruling that schools, colleges, universities, churches, hospitals and charitable institutions were to be exempt from the provisions of the National Recovery Act.

A letter going out to educational institutions affected from Dr. Marvin's committee, says in part: "This ruling means that non-profit-making institutions under private control have the same status as have state and municipal institutions with regard to the NIRA. They are exempt from the provisions of codes.

"This does not mean that they should not voluntarily meet as far as possible the specifications of the President's agreement and cooperate with the President in every way to hasten national recovery."

The committee of educators was appointed by Charles R. Mann as director of the American Council of Education.

Dr. C. H. Thurber, dean of Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y., has accepted the presidency of the University of Redlands, Calif.

Texas. The last position Dr. Barnett held for eight years. In 1930 he was granted a leave of absence in order that he might accept an invitation to occupy the chair of Agricultural Education at Peabody during the absence of Dr. K. C. Davis. Dr. Davis was head of the department at the time Dr. Barnett finished his work at Peabody.

An Educator
He has also had considerable experience in the field of Educational Administration. For some time, he was connected with the Arizona State Department of Education as State Supervisor of Agricultural Education; has been Dean of Men in the West Texas State Teachers College, and has been head of the Teacher Placement Bureau of that Institution. He has been an active and valuable member of the Board of Education at Canyon for a number of years, serving as vice-president and also as president.

Home Economics Girls Get Practice As Well As Credit For School Work

Possibly the busiest girls on the Tech campus are the five who live at the home management house that is operated by the home economics school. With those young women it is a part of their school work to cook, clean house, give parties and entertain guests.

Where other girls can neglect these duties in behalf of school work or social activities, it can never be done in this group. These students get two semester hours credit for managing a home.

All vocational and foods majors in the school are required to reside in the home at least nine weeks of one semester during their junior or senior year. The girls living there now are Wilda and Wilma Spikes, Florence Barrett, Mary Leidigh and LaZette Kunkel.

Student Decorations
The home which is a practice house for the different classes in the home economics school has been decorated almost altogether by students. Furniture coverings, draperies, arrangements of rooms and selection of accessories are all products of school projects.

Miss Mayme Twyford, associate professor of foods, lives at the house and directs the girls in carrying out the duties of making a home a place to live.

"Our purpose," she explains, "is to create the ability to practically apply the principles of household management; to instill an appreciation of the home as a social institution, and teach skill in the performance of household tasks."

Among the advantages of such training is the opportunity to become a charming hostess. The girls do all kinds of entertaining and are at it almost constantly. There is some sort of party every week—buffet supper, teas, or luncheons, and the preparations are all made by the girls. They are at home to the general public from 4 to 8 o'clock every afternoon except Saturdays and Sundays.

Work On Budget
All operations at the house are according to a financial schedule worked out by the young women in their council meeting once each week. "We live strictly within our budget, too," Miss Twyford suggested. An accounting system is used and an exact record is kept of all expenses. Living ordinarily at the house is based upon a moderate income but one week during the term the girls have to live on a very limited income basis, yet eating balanced meals as usual.

All tasks, except most of the laundry, are performed by the girls. A laundress is hired for all household washings except table linens which are done by the students. Duties are dispatched to each one according to a schedule, the result being—as Miss Twyford adequately expressed it—"an attitude of co-operation and ability."

There is room for six students at the house and that many have signed up for next term. Redecora-

Alpha Betas In Weekly Meeting

Geologists See Two Reel Picture In Engineering Auditorium; Lock Greets Home-comers

The Alpha Beta chapter of the Sigma Gamma Epsilon held their regular business meeting Tuesday

GREETINGS ALUMNI

Greetings to the alumni of Alpha Beta chapter. We welcome you with the right hand of fellowship upon your arrival to the campus. May your return bring back the memories of your happy days and the friendships during your college days at Texas Tech. Remembering that your friends and brothers always welcome you.

John H. Lock, President.

of the college to the needs of the region and the students it serves. You have helped in this.

May we help you today in your visit and in your contacts. We wish to help you not exclusively in appreciation of your work or out of a sense of our responsibility to you, but also because we wish to go forward in our service to you. We desire further that the ties between each one of you and the College be permanent and alive in order that we may continue to be of mutual help and mutual service.

A. H. Leidigh, dean, division of agriculture.

It is a pleasure to have the opportunity again to welcome to the campus the alumni of Texas Technological college. It is my hope that with each succeeding year the alumni may look with more and more pride upon the college and that the college may in turn look to them for leadership and support.

In answer to inquiries with reference to my own Division, there have come some fine expressions from Harvard, Yale, Johns Hopkins, University of Chicago, University of Pennsylvania, University of Virginia, University of Florida, University of Louisiana, University of Wisconsin, University of Colorado, University of Missouri (Medical School), Emory University (Medical School), University of Texas, University of Minnesota, Radcliffe College, University of Oklahoma, and Western Reserve University. In several cases the Deans of the Graduate Schools have added a personal message with reference to the young men and young women who enrolled with them. In more ways than one does the reputation of an educational institution rest with its alumni.

These "greetings" must not be made too lengthy. But I must take this opportunity to say that in my opinion Tech is ready to enter fields of enlarged usefulness. Eight initial years time in the life of an institution is not long. It seems to me, however, that we have builded well in these years. And have not foundations been laid upon which a real structure may be built? Every alumnus, every student, every faculty member, the President, the Board of Directors — all must do their

Stangel Purchases Aggie Lamb Flock

Scheduled for delivery this month, a flock of 125 feeder wether lambs have been purchased by W. L. Stangel, animal husbandry department head.

These lambs, selected from a flock of Rambouillet sheep on the W. G. Murray ranch, near Enochs, Texas, will be used by Tech Aggie students in two courses, Principles of Feeding, and Sheep Production. The courses involve a study of lamb feeding practices and lamb production.

The flock will be further used in an experimental feeding of plains products. This program, carried on for the past four years by the animal husbandry department, has met with exceptional success, according to Stangel.

Stangel purchased the lambs last week when he was accompanied on a week-end trip to the Murray ranch by Billie Murray, a Tech student.

MADDOX DESIGNS

Don Maddox, senior textile student, is working on a design for the band uniforms, which are to be woven by the students of the textile department out of red and black wool, and the remaining tests on the material.

Textile students will be paid for working on the material for these suits, which will probably be ready for the band after Christmas.

if the person is neither physically able to drive a car or mentally sound in every way; or, if he is reckless and indifferent to the rights of others when driving a car; or, if in any measure whatever he is impaired in judgment by the use of liquor of any kind.

While I am on this subject, I am led to say that students will get a great deal more consideration on the part of drivers of automobiles going back and forth to town by maintaining a uniform attitude of courtesy toward those who take them, and an equal courtesy toward those who, for some reason, best known to themselves, either have not the time or disposition to pick them up. A case of extreme discourtesy toward certain members of the faculty of this institution has been reported to me recently. These members of the faculty have reported the matter to me and have asked that no punishment be administered at this time. I am sure that we shall get very much further with kindness, courtesy, and consideration than with the opposite kind of conduct. The vast majority of students are kindly and courteous, always thanking the drivers for the accommodation. If we could make this the universal rule instead of the 98 or 99 per cent rule, more students would be carried by automobile drivers.

Emma Jean Martin, 1931 graduate, is teaching school at Brackettville.

Looking Back In The Files

ALUMNI MEMBERS RETURN

ALUMNI members who attended the district convention of their society at Oklahoma University last week-end returned this week. Those making the trip were Preston Conner, W. A. Cox, S. A. Cousins, Arthur Waghorne, and Morgan Bule.

BUY ACTRESS' OUTFIT

After wardrobe experts and costume designers had debated weeks over the most appropriate clothes for Joan Crawford to wear in her latest starring picture, "Rain," which comes to the Lyric theatre at the midnight Preview Saturday and continues through Tuesday, the United Artists studio bought her a $17.50 outfit in a Los Angeles department store.

It was not a question of finances, but of realism, that prompted the film corporation to pass up the facilities of its own large wardrobe department and shop for an inexpensive, flashy bunch of finery for the usually fastidiously-dressed star.

Miss Crawford plays Sadie Thompson, social outcast with her own set of ideals, who engages in an emotional conflict with a fanatical reformer and a love affair with a Marine, on the tropical island of

Better Food In America Is Cause Of Better Physiques

Because they have been better fed than many other peoples, Americans in the last few decades actually have developed a better physique as a nation, in the opinion of Prof. Agnes Fay Morgan of the University of California.

It now remains, she says, to see if nutriment may not have some bearing on the solution of other problems, such as the prevention and cure of malignant growths, such as cancer; the control of susceptibility to infectious diseases, and the prevention of the circulatory and metabolic diseases which are now the chief causes of death of middle-aged and elderly persons.

Haskell Indians And Matadors Battle Saturday Night

Haskell Institute Of Lawrence, Kansas Will Battle Charges Of Pete Cawthon Saturday Evening

Under The Double "T"

BY LOMER NELSON
Toreador Sports Editor

Tech's Matadors will probably play football this week-end to the weird, rhythmical beat of the tom-tom. The news comes from Lawrence, Kansas, the home of the Haskell Indians who will swoop down on Tech field Saturday night, enlisting their spurs-tangling yell, genuine Indian war bonnets and tomahawks but real Redskins nevertheless. Indians and Matadors were introduced properly a couple of years ago in Dallas and the Tech men haven't forgotten. Neither have the Indians. Indians don't forget.

Gus Welch, a team mate of the renowned Jim Thorpe at Carlisle when "Pop" Warner was turning out great teams there, is serving his first year at the helm of Haskell Institute. Welch, a Chippewa Indian, succeeds "Lone Star" Dietz who resigned to coach the professional Boston Redskins.

The Matadors will do battle with no less than 17 war-like tribes from 17 different Indian nations which is quite a feat for one night. Tribes represented on the Haskell roster include Chippewa, Ottawa, Pottawatomie, Choctaw, Euchee, Seneca, Delaware, Shawnee, Creek, Flathead, Nez Perce, Cheyenne, Sioux, Kiowa, Pommo, Cherokee, and Yakims.

INDIAN NAMES

It can never be said that the bronzed Indians of Haskell do not have colorful names. Take a look at these: Crazy Eagle, Eagle Hawk, Two Strikes (the must play baseball), Swift Bird, Tall Trees, Hunting Dog, Sky Fox, Little Snake, Hawkface, Dark Hunting Cloud, His Enemy, (watch him Matadors), Lion Hearted, Brave Heart, Black Cloud, Yellow Hawk, Iron Moccasin, Bull Neck, Jumping Panther, Striped Neck, Buffalo Hill, Young Water, Rabbit, Deerfoot, Mad Horse, Whipping Horse, Catfish, and Fall Leaf.

According to a report from Kansas, "Jug" Miles, a Creek tackle from Pawhuska, Okla., who weighed 350 pounds when he entered Haskell several years ago, has reduced to a mere 225 now. "Chief" Jones, who was once on the Lubbock High Westerner squad, is now a guard with the Indians. Ted Winger and Joe Barlow, fullback and tackle of the Matadors, former Haskell stars, will probably see service against their old team mates Saturday night.

BREAK JINX

Tech broke the Mucker jinx at El Paso Saturday but not in any too impressive manner according to the boys themselves. They hadn't recovered from the fumbling malady which has beset them more or less all season. Here's predicting that fumbles will be few against Haskell because Coach Cawthon has impressed the seriousness of the crime on about eight Techsters. They held the Miners within the five yard line for seven downs which

Indians Coached By Former Carlisle Star Under Warner To Bring Tribe To Lubbock For First Time

Colorful and rambling, the Haskell Indians of Lawrence, Kansas will invade Tech field Sat. night charging their war-whoops and charge into the Matadors in what will be the last nocturnal skirmish on the Tech schedule.

Indians and Matadors have met once in the past, in a mud battle at Dallas two years ago, with the Redskins emerging victorious, 8-0.

Getting revenge over the Texas Matadors last week, the Mats are determined to duplicate the feat Saturday. Coaches Cawthon and Smith are coaching their charges through rigorous drills in an effort to atone for the poor showing they have made in the last two games. Frequent fumbling in the Louisiana Foly and Texas Miners encounters cost Tech several probable touchdowns. Special precautions are being taken to remedy this matter.

Coach Pete Cawthon has urged all students who are not in class when the Haskell Indians arrive to go down to the railroad station and escort the Braves to their hotel. Time of the train's arrival will be announced.

Aside from the usual bruises and sore muscles following a hard game, the Scarlets are in fine fettle and are anxiously awaiting the kick-off Saturday night.

With the exception of Notre Dame, the Indians are the most widely traveled club in the nation, playing in all sections of the country. Haskell has an unusually stiff schedule this year, playing the top-notchers from coast to coast. The Indians opened the season for Notre Dame last year.

Seven Veterans
Coach Gus Welch has seven returning veterans who figured in the 8-0 decision at Dallas in 1931. Pierce, 187 pound end; "Jug" Miles, 240 elephantine tackle, and Pence, 189 pound guard, make the left side of the Tribe forward wall well Alexander, 159 pound center, is the lightest man in the line. McDonald, 189; Captain N. Holmes, 195, and Dushane, 165, round out a veteran line.

The Indian backfield is light, speedy, and elusive and features deception, exciting plays as only Indians can. Robert Holmes, a 130 pound halfback Ottawa, is reputed to eclipse little Rabbit Weller in gridiron prowess, who received All-American mention while rambling for Haskell a few years ago. Oliver Dufins, 178, Chippewa back from Mackinaw City, Mich., also does his share of ball lunging. Hinman, quarter, and Hayes, 178 pound fullback, complete the offensive quartet.

A line that will average 192 pounds and a backfield averaging 169 pounds will represent the Indians of Haskell Saturday when they see action against the Matadors.

is not at all bad. "Stud" Turner, battling guard, received much praise from Miner players for his fine performance. The Saxons failed to pick up much yardage over Turner.

CAN'T TALK NOW

Here's an interesting incident in connection with the game: The Muckers had the Mats backed up to their own 20-yard line and Coach Cawthon told Lefty Solls to go in. Lefty trotted on the field but was called back by Coacher who tapped Solls' mouth as a gentle reminder not to talk. The jack-rabbit half couldn't have uttered a sound if he had wished to. Pete wasn't taking any

Tech's Record Matadors Win 40 Games, Lose 28

A resume of the past shows that in the first eight years of Tech's history (and that's all of it) the Matadors have scored a total of 1144 points. The opposition has registered 644. Tech at the close of last season was an even 500 points to the good, but how do the games in the won and lost column stand over this same period? The record shows 40 games won, 28 lost and 8 tied. It all happened this way:

Year	Won	Lost	Tied
1925	6	1	2
1926	5	1	3
1927	5	4	0
1928	4	4	1
1929	1	7	2

Matadors Break Miner Jinx To Defeat Border City Team 12-0 For Tech's Fourth Straight Win

Martin Recovers Fumble In First Minute Of Game For Counter; Tech Scores As Clark Crosses Goal

Breaking a jinx which has hovered over them in every previous game with the Miners, the Matadors finally defeated the Ore Diggers, 12 to 0, at El Paso last Saturday. Tech scored during the first minute of play when Harris received the opening kick-off and punted back to the Miners' three-yard line where the El Paso team recovered. On the first play the Miners fumbled and Malcolm Martin, Matador end, fell on the ball over the goal line for a touchdown.

Adrian Clark, quarterback, accounted for the other Tech score in the second quarter when he crossed the goal line from the seven-yard line. The third and fourth quarters were scoreless, and most of the playing was between the two 40-yard markers. Neither team showed much of an offense. The game was marred by frequent fumbles by both teams and a strong wind that dealt them misery.

McElroy Knocked Out
Harris, early in the game, slashed off tackle for 14 yards to the Miners' 18 yard line, but the play was called back and Tech was penalized 15 yards for holding. Later, Dowell made the most spectacular dash of the game when he ran 45 yards for a touchdown, but again the play was called back and Tech was penalized 15 yards for clipping. McElroy was knocked out during the game and was carried off the field. In the line for Tech, Gaines Davis and "Stud" Turner played good games at guard.

In the third period, the Miners with the wind to their tails caused the Mats considerable trouble. In the fourth quarter, the El Pasoans kept the ball deep in the Bullfighters' territory. Clark's punting staved off the Miner attack from scoring and the Tech line held for several times within the shadows of the goal posts.

Tech made only four first downs against six for the Miners. In yards made from scrimmage Tech was far behind the best record, 179 to 74. Each team made seven fumbles, but Tech recovered only one of theirs against four for the Miners.

New Contract With Arizona

Matadors To Play Wildcats On Thanksgiving Day For Next Three Seasons; Tech Goes To Tucson Next Year

Texas Tech Matadors and the University of Arizona Wildcats will meet on the gridiron again in 1934, also in 1935, and again in 1936. A three year contract will be prepared and signed within the near future, according to a statement by Coach Pete Cawthon early this week. Thanksgiving Day games for Tech and Arizona for the next three seasons are assured, as this day has been adopted for future contests.

The Matadors will go to Tucson in 1934, and the Wildcats will come to Lubbock in 1935. The site of the third game will be determined later.

Meet Arizona Officials
A. L. Sionaker, business manager, and Tex Oliver, coach at the University of Arizona, were in El Paso Saturday to see the Tech-Miner game and the tentative contract was decided upon at that time.

chances of getting a 15-yard penalty.

It seems that the Matadors meet a celebrity everytime they take to the road. Before it was Babe Ruth, Saturday night several of the varsity shook the huge paw of Jack Harrison Dempsey, the tallening king of fistiana, in a popular cafe in Juarez.

Texas Tech Scores Among Highest

A rare opportunity awaits homecoming day fans who will see the leading team of the nation in action.

Texas Tech topped the nation last season in total scoring. In 12 games the Matadors amassed 382 points for an average of 31.8 points per game. A glance over last season's high scoring machines reveals the following result:
Texas Tech 382 Points
T. C. U. 283 Points
Auburn 275 Points
Colgate 264 Points
West Point 261 Points

Tech Picadors Crush Sooner Farmers, 20-6

Panhandle Aggies Count First On Opening Kick-Off; Fighting Frosh Exhibit Much Pep And Power

BY LAWRENCE MESSERSMITH
Toreador Sports Staff
Flashing a strong running attack, the Tech frosh ambushed the Panhandle A. & M. Sooners Saturday night and emerged victors by the count of 20 to 6 before an approximate crowd of one thousand at Tech field. After allowing the Aggies a touchdown on the opening kick-off, the Picadors settled down and out-played the senior college team the rest of the game in every department.

Enter Angie halfback, took Jim Neill's kick-off on his 11 yard line and handed the ball to Scott who ran the entire distance to the goal line without being stopped. The play took the fish by surprise, and behind good interference Scott crossed the pay strip several yards ahead of the nearest pursuing Picador.

Neill Rips Line
The fish kicked off again and this time they rushed down the field and smothered the Aggie ball before he could gain much territory. From then on it was all the frosh's game. For while it was the hopes of the Goodwill team. The big Picador back ripped the line and circled the ends for comfortable gains each time he carried the ball. Just as he had hit his stride, he was tackled and another player fell on him and dislocated his shoulder blade.

Graves Blocks Points
With their ace out of the game, the fish played all the harder. Every man on the team gave a good account of himself. Graves, tubby guard, blocked two punts and dealt the Aggies misery throughout the game. Wigington, center, blocked one punt which was recovered by Katrola for a touchdown. Both of these men played a stellar game. Spear, Nowlin, Browning, and Hale showed up well in blocking and hard tackling. In the backfield every man showed plenty of hustle and drive. Hair, Winters, Davis, and Duval, together with Neill, carried the ball for 297 yards against 92 for the Aggies. The Picadors made 19 first downs against 3 for the A. & M. team.

Winters Tallies
Winters carried the ball over for a touchdown in the first quarter to tie the score and Duval's conversion gave the fish a lead that they never relinquished. Wigington's blocked punt, which Katrola fell on over the goal line, accounted for the second frosh score, and Duval again converted. Hair added the other six points by going over from the seven yard line after the fish had made a sustained drive up the field.

The Aggies were held deep in their own territory all of the third quarter. In the fourth period, with Hair and Davis running loose and Winters and Duval plowing the line, the Aggies were in the Tech yearling's

Arts And Sciences Take Contest 29-6

Playing a tight defensive game, the Arts and Science intra-mural basketball five defeated a team composed of Pre-Meds and Pre-Laws to the tune of 29 to 6. C. Butler was high point man of the night with nine points. Evans led the Pre's with three points. The team work of the A. & S. team showed up to advantage against the Pre's territory only twice and then not for long. The hard tackling and blocking of the Picador line was one of the highlights of the game and on several plays the frosh secondary defense broke through to smother the Aggie backs for losses.

More than 225 Kansas State college men entered in the annual intramural horsehoe singles tournament.

Round-Robin Scheduled Between Teams Of Three Leagues; Silver Basketballs To Be Given Winners

Intra-mural basketball was inaugurated Monday night when the Arts and Science team played the Pre-Med-Pre-Law five. Tuesday night the Los Comarados club played the Wrangler team. Wednesday night the band took on the Rockne Hall quintet, and the Aggies played the Engineers.

There are three leagues on the intra-mural schedule this year. The Independent league includes Lovell Hall, Rockne Hall, the Toreador, and the band. The school league is composed of teams from the Aggie, Engineering, and Arts and Science schools, and a team made up of Pre-Meds and Pre-Laws. The social club league consists of the Wranglers, College Club, Silver Keys, Los Comarados, and Centaur.

Round-Robin Schedule
Each team will play a round-robin schedule with the other teams in their league, and the winners of the three leagues will meet in a play off to determine the college championship. Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, last week proved to the world that a college president can think just a little faster than a holdup man; clever as the underworld is given credit for being.

Dr. Frank was alone in a hotel room in Milwaukee, when a robber forced his way in, gun pointed at the educator. "Back up against the wall and hand me the keys to your bag," said the thug. Dr. Frank backed up, but he backed up against the bathroom door. Suddenly he swung himself inside the bathroom, slammed the door and locked it, and ran to the window calling for help. The robber escaped, but Dr. Frank retained the keys to his bag.

Ralph Graham, captain of the Kansas State college football team, goes into the Nebraska game tied for the scoring leadership of the country with Harry Craft, Mississippi college. Each has scored seven touchdowns for a total of 42 points.

Miss Thella Parker, a home economics graduate of 1931, has recently accepted a May Reitzel-Hopkins fellowship in child development at the University of Texas, according to word received recently by Dean Margaret W. Scarlets Will Renew Feud In Nov. 11 Battle

Simmons-Matador Clash To Feature Homecoming Festivities; Cowboys Have Edge On Locals

Delighting in upsetting the proverbial dope bucket, Tech's traditional rivals, the Simmons university Cowboys, will feature the homecoming program here November 11 when they vie with the Matadors for the eighth time to determine the grid supremacy of West Texas.

Seven times the Ranchers and the Mats have come to grips on the gridiron and the Scarlet and Black have emerged victors only twice. The Wranglers have appropriated four wins and one of the encounters ended in a deadlock. During the all-time rivalry of the two teams, the Funchers have rolled up 79 points, Tech 34.

Heated Rivalry
The torrid rivalry of the two clubs dates back to 1923, Tech's second year of existence, when the Matadors conquered the Baptists for the first time. Tech's greatest triumph over Simmons came in 1931 when only 12 men played the game for the Scarlet. That year the Cowboys, with a veteran team and with only one defeat, were overwhelming favorites but Tech's 12 "iron men" (Crites was injured and Nichols took his place at full) won the game, 6-0, after battling the Cowboys off their feet on a muddy field.

Last year, in the season's greatest upset, Tech loomed the Scarlet and Black to Simmons, 13-12, when the Ranchers took advantage of a series of telling fumbles and Tech threw away several opportunities to even the score or win the game. Leading the nation in total scoring and conquerors of S. M. U., Baylor, and Notre Dame "B", the Matadors were doped to vanquish the Cowhands by a huge margin, but the men from Abilene proved that dope is a poor criterion by which to determine the outcome of football games.

Mats Are Favored
By comparative scores, the Bull-fighters, will be ruling favorites again this year when the two teams clash on Tech field, Armistice Day but comparative scores mean nothing when the two rival institutions match football wits.

Followers of the Cowhands pin their hopes on a host of veterans to again stop the Matadors. In Carl Pee, the Ranchers have one of the best all-around backs in this section of the country. G. L. Ruests, a high class punter who has been booting the oval from town to town this season, is another kingpin of the Cowboy offense.

Jake Bentley and J. B. Neely, veteran guards, add punch and power to the Simmons defense. Scatter Winters and Carl Sprimberry are the outstanding linemen performing with the Simmonsites.

Fine Arts Program Be Given By AWS

The second fine arts program sponsored by A. W. S. will be November 9 from 7:30 until 9 o'clock at Seaman Hall.

The play, "Unchanged Within", written by John Marr, Tech student, will be the feature of the program. A short musical program interpreting the play will be given from 7:30 to 8 o'clock and again from 8:30 until 9.

Idell Bacon is chairman of the music committee and Marjorie St. John is dramatic chairman. Member of the faculty, their wives, and all Tech students are invited.

Other A. W. S. entertainments before Christmas are to be an all girls fun night sponsored by the W. A. A. on December 1 in the gymnasium. The second all girls dance will be given from 7:30 until 10 o'clock in the gymnasium on the night of December 13. Girls who have paid their A. W. S. fees are admitted free. The third fine arts program for the semester will be given at Seaman hall December 14.

The Bull Pen

BY "LITTLE MESSER"
Football games that are played away from home by the Kansas State team will be brought to Manhattan fans and students by means of a tel-o-grid, which records perfectly the exciting drama of line-plunges, long runs, and other action pictures of the games. The plays will be given to the audience over a loud speaker, and the scores will be announced just as soon as they are received.—KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN.

TEXAS TECH, a member of the border conference in name only will probably have by far the best football squad of its short history... The Tech fresh have a man on the squad by the name of Good-enough. He should get along with a handle like that.—New Mexico Round-Up.

Wallace McCreary is the youngest member of the A. S. T. C. coaching staff, but he is undoubtedly the owner of the best pair of lungs in the state. Wallace, is the five-months-old son of Coach and Mrs. Aaron McCreary.—ASTC PINE.

It seems unfortunate that Tech is in such an out-of-the-way place as far as the rest of the conference is concerned, but what burns me up is the fact that they will be rated at the top of the conference although they played only one game... I'll grant that Tech has a fine football team and they are one of the best in the Southwest, but they play more Texas conference schools than schools from their own conference. Perhaps the best thing for the Texans to do would be to voluntarily relinquish their claim for the mythical championship.—ASTC PINE.

The Collegian, the Flagstaff Pine, and Dan Crumley of the Coconino Sun have steadfastly refused to admit Texas Tech to equal standing in the conference until finances permit more Leop members to schedule games with the Engineers. In our eyes, the Matadors remain the "black sheep" of the conference. Tech's one victory, over the Wild-cats, gives them a perfect record. Every other member of the loop is playing at least three conference games. No official champion is in the border conference, therefore the Collegian's choice of a conference champion is as legitimate as the selection of the sports editors of the Arizona Republic, the Phoenix Evening Gazette and the Tucson Daily Star. Perhaps more so. We have a more intimate interest.—Tempe COLLEGIAN.

Flagstaff can still boast the best conference record with two wins and no losses. Tempe and the Texas Tech Matadors each have won one for a perfect record. However to be leading the conference at mid-season does not count very much. It is the final standing that we are looking forward to.—Flagstaff PINE.

"Arizona battles U. S. C." Wild-cat fans may see such a football contest next fall if G. A. (Tex) Oliver, local football mentor, and A. L. Slinker, graduate manager of athletics, are successful in tentative negotiations with the Trojans.—Arizona WILDCAT.

Golfers Finish Tourney Plans

Entry List Is Partly Complete; Coach Langston Will Name Prelim Team; Plans Spring Campaign

With ten linksmen already entered, plans and prize list for Texas Tech's annual fall golf tourney are almost complete.

Qualifying play which will be held over Meadowbrook golf course, will start next Monday. Match play begins the following week.

Heading the list of entrants is Jack Wilson, champion of last season. Other veterans already entered against him are Penny Farmer, Al R. Cooper, Herschel Crawford, and Doyce Clark.

New Material
Freshmen and new golf team material on the entry list are Joan D. Munn, Paul Conaway, and C. F. Cosgrove. Others are expected to enter this week.

Inviting all golf team candidates to see him for tourney entrance blanks, Lonnie Langston, golf coach, also expressed appreciation for the assistance of W. G. McMillen, local sportsman. McMillen, owner of the Meadowbrook course, is sponsoring the tournament and will act as unofficial golf coach. Langston said.

"There will be several flights in this tourney," Langston said, "and we are eager for all student golfers to enter. There will be competition in the class of all."

Practice Matches
To prepare for the spring golf campaign, a preliminary team of four men will be selected. This group will hold weekly practice matches with teams from the Country club and Meadowbrook club, Langston plans. A formidable schedule of some ten inter-school matches, five at home and five away, is being prepared for next spring.

BYPU Attends Social Affair

Church Departments Are At Party First Baptist Young People's Division

A most outstanding church function of the year was the social sponsored Friday evening by members of the First Baptist church BYPU with members of the young people's department in all city churches as guests. There were about 125 attending this party in the young people's auditorium of the church. Every church in the city was represented.

Entertainment took form of an "International Track Meet" which was a parody on all sports that take place on a track field. Guests were divided into three groups, one representing France, with Louis Cromwell as captain; the second, Spain with Delbert Jones leading, and the third Hawaii, with Chancy Watson as captain. France won the meet.

A RAMBLING WRECK FROM TEXAS TECH

By RUBBERNECK

For the benefit of those who may glance at this column of rambling reading matter, I want to set forth a few serious statements. After reading, take nothing serious.

First: This is not a new column. It used to go under another heading. Second: Absolutely and positively, we are not trying to steal any of Mike's propaganda. Third: We don't accept claps, not even good ones. Nor do we accept them from "Ice Pick Young." Fourth: Before somebody jumps us about something printed herein, we are writing at you with no malice aforethought, but in the interest of genuine good humor on your part. Can you take it?

Now that these preliminaries are over, why not start a real fight and keep it a real fight for our football team? They need our support a little more strongly, so let's give it to them when those Indians hit the old town Saturday. One of them may be another "Little Rabbit" Weller.

It comes but once in a year. Strange cars appear around the campus. Old faces turn up with a happy smile that they are fortunate enough to be a visitor on the campus. Greetings sound loud and cordial. The football team fights harder. Club houses are torn up. Three days in one bed. Everyone wants to forget school, if that is at all possible. Homecoming week is every bit of this and more. Tech has a grand bunch of Exes, and we will be glad to see them. Some of them still owe us for the last time they came, but still we are glad to have them.

Herman Waldman must have been a success. Yet, there is very little talk of the dance on the campus. Could it be that the college is becoming sophisticated, or is it that dance bands appear as a matter of fact? Maybe Heine is not a big shot.

Personal opinion: The girl with the sunniest smile on the campus is Sue Michis. The weather we're having now should be remembered when the sandstorms start next spring. That will be our only consolation. Crap games and poker wagers are a lot of fun, even if the Toreador does pan gambling.

From the boys' clubs to the girls' clubs: Like Mae West, "We can be had, even at midnight."

Say! That ole moon is plenty swell these nights. I wonder if that guy over at Auburn Alabama had his candy-headed blonde out the other night. Anyway, the moon has a mighty range, and we get Garber on the radio here too. The only hitch is, that he comes in over the ether at the wrong time for us cow-wranglers out here on the South Plains.

Don't let this take on an editorial meaning, but have any of you studies ever stopped to think what bright people you would be, if you had spent half as much time studying as you do in walking back and forth to the bookstore for some of Fox's coffee and dunk bread. Connor should send over a taxi.

The College Inn girls have organized for the year. The first thing they did was to pass around a petition. It read: "More heat and better food."

University of Oklahoma authorities have banned the drinking and possession of 3.2 beer in fraternities and boarding houses, but will allow students to drink it in shops where it is legally sold.
