The Toreador Hopes That You Enjoy Thanksgiving Turkey And Football

FROM a day of remembering the sacrifices of the past with thanks for the plenty of the present, our Pilgrim father's Thanksgiving day has become the national holiday for turkey and football.

Whether you go home and have the traditional gobbler in the family dining room and then watch the home-town team play their rivals, or stay at Tech and have turkey at the dormitory, then see Tech play Detroit, the idea of celebrating the holiday will be the same. People who have never been to college will follow the same formula. It is the nationally accepted manner of observing one of our most popular holidays.

Turkey and football have replaced other forms of the Thanksgiving celebration. The day is one that is loved by Americans because it is wholly American. There is no reason why rituals should be gone through. Nothing could demonstrate thanks more literally than having as good a time as possible—and there are two bonafide American ways of doing it—eating turkey and seeing a football game.

The Toreador knows that most of you plan to eat turkey and that the large percent will spend the afternoon at a football game. And regardless of where you eat or how much, or which team you see play, The Toreador hopes you enjoy every minute between now and eight o'clock Monday morning.

Freedom A License

AN editorial on drinking is hard to write. It might have the tendency to intrude on someone's right—his right to make a jackass of himself if he wants to.

All students have this right. They have the right to be just as disgusting as they please, to slobber all over their vests, and to endanger their health. No one would deprive a man—or even a woman—of that right.

But students do not have the right to make football games uncomfortable for spectators. They have no right to make the streets dangerous for other persons. They have no right to encourage the use of the Stadium as a bar for outsiders who are ashamed to drink at home where their respectable friends and associates might see them.

If people want any freedom in this life they must learn not to abuse whatever freedom they have been allowed. The University puts students on their own to act like intelligent human beings on occasions. A football game is one of those times. If students want to retain the privilege of taking care of themselves at football games, the best way they can do so is to show that they can take care of themselves and act intelligently even if some of them are not.—The Daily Texan.

Students Lose A Friend

THERE is always that individual who helps an educational institution but his worthy contribution is overshadowed by the high position held by the official under whom he works. Such was the case of C. B. Shorter, recently resigned assistant to President Bradford Knapp.

This individual, now employed by the Texas Good Roads association at Houston, knew the student pulse. He learned their attitude through association with certain enrollees of the college. He was inquisitive and interested enough to ask the student viewpoint on questions. He visualized the student aspect of any question and was broadminded enough to see his side of the controversy. Then, in conferences and his association with the institution head, he attempted to show Dr. Knapp wherein the student interest lay.

Although he was never praised for his work because of the position which he held, Tech students lost a friend with the resignation of C. B. Shorter.

The only worthwhile achievements of man are those which are socially useful.—Dr. Alfred Adler.

Any fool can carry on, but only the wise man knows how to shorten his sail.—Joseph Conrad.

The world is large when weary leagues two loving hearts divide but the world is small when your enemy is loose on the other side.—John O'Reilly.

Today's Thought

The chains of habit are too small to be felt until they are too strong to be broken.

Somewhat Literary

Let Us Be Thankful

WHEN the game is done Thanksgiving, Be it won or lost or tied, I'll close the room where I've been living, And lock my books inside.

I'm going back to see my folks, And show them college ways, And tell my friends some college jokes— Hurray for holidays!

I'll see my dog and the little red hen, And drive my papa's car, And tell my home-town girl again She's still my lucky star.

Let me stay in bed till noon, And bring that turkey on! And ice the cake—I'll lick the spoon, And then stay up till dawn.

A vote of thanks to the powers that be, From every girl and boy, For having the grace to set us free For extra days of joy.

I'll probably have a bleary face In classes on next Monday— But on with the dance—I'll stand the pace From now till midnight Sunday! —Francis C. Cook

For Safety's Sake

Motor vehicle accidents in 1934 caused 35,000 deaths, 105,000 permanent disabilities, and 1,150,000 temporary disabilities. The total economic loss to the nation from these deaths and injuries, together with the property damage loss, amounted to $1,580,000,000. The national death rate per 100,000 population was 28.1 and the rate per 10,000,000 gallons of gasoline consumption was 23.2.

The statistics presented here were compiled in a report published by the National Safety Council, Inc.—The Daily Texan.

ONE-MINUTE INTERVIEWS

Question: What are you thankful for this Thanksgiving?

Stippie Rice: I'm thankful that Homecoming isn't every week-end. Evelyn Perry: I'm thankful that Christmas and prosperity are just around the corner.

Mildred Chappell: I'm thankful that Abner is still waiting at home on the farm for me.

Maxine Dorn: I'm thankful that I have an Angel for a roommate. Dorothy Walker: I'm thankful that we have an annual with an editor.

Bruce Zorns: I'm thankful for a whole lot of things. Mary Elizabeth Stanford: I'm thankful for men.

Hermosa Shadle: I'm thankful for the women's dormitory. Leila Mae Zorns: I'm thankful that one more year of my life is gone.

Martha Vernon Smith: I'm thankful for the holidays. Nat Tandy: I'm thankful for blind dates.

Lynne Baine: I'm not thankful at this time. Christine Harris: Thank God for little things.

Lois (Skeeter) Spragins: I'm thankful for a roommate that can comb my hair. Howard McNeese: I'm thankful that the dean was not any worse than I expected.

Wynona Burnett: I'm thankful for my radio. Marjorie Elder: I'm thankful for mother and John.

Approximately 35,000 fans are expected to see the SMU-TCU title game in the Horned Frog stadium. Texas A&M has coined a song that is dedicated to Jack Chevigny, head mentor at Texas. It suggests that "Chev" will be turned out after the Ags beat the Longhorns.

Michigan State To Play Raiders, Cawthon Says

Blackwell Matches Game On Centennial Card At Dallas Next Fall

DETROIT sends Coach Gus Dorais and his ambitious Titans to the local field tomorrow afternoon in the second inter-sectional classic of the year to be played on Matador Field. The Titans will probably have the best team the local fans have seen this year—other than Arizona. Coach Dorais teaches a wide open Notre Dame system which fast running plays and many passes usually take place. However, current reports that have been coming to this department from the Detroit press staff say that Coach Dorais has been moaning over the sudden failure of the Titan passes to click. But Dorais has been in the passing game 25 years, and he can always be depended upon to have some kind of a surprise package in the form of passes.

There is an old story connected with Dorais' passing game. Back in the early days of big time football, he and the late Knute Rockne starred on the same Rambler team. Dorais was a backfield man and Rockne played end. They developed a passing combination that has never been forgotten on the Irish campus.

Dorais and Rockne were great friends in their college days, and during the summer they would work in resorts in the great lake regions as life guards. In their spare time Dorais and Rockne would continually pass the ball around. They became so accurate, Dorais doing the throwing and Rockne receiving, that they developed a passing combination of their own that played havoc with the Ramblers opponents. The famous "Dorais to Rockne" combination is a tradition on the Notre Dame campus.

Dorais doesn't have the passing attack that he has had during the last three seasons. Doug Knott, the Titan's pass- (See DOUBLE T, page 4)

MICHIGAN STATE, one of the nation's present top notch teams, will probably play the Red Raiders next fall at Dallas as a part of the Texas Centennial athletic program, Coach Pete Cawthon announced yesterday. Previously announced that George Washington would be signed for the Centennial date, October 3, Coach Cawthon wasn't in favor of the George Washington game after Rice defeated the Colonels by a top heavy score.

A telegram from Michigan State officials to Dr. R. N. Blackwell,

Dallas, manager of the athletic program for the Texas Centennial, stated that the Spartans would rather play Texas Tech at the Centennial October 3 in preference to Oklahoma university as an inter-sectional game. Final arrangements are still pending, but Tech will probably play Michigan State as their Centennial opponent.

Dr. Blackwell has been in constant contact with Michigan State for sometime. The game would be a feature of the West Texas celebration at the Centennial.

Coach Cawthon also announced that final arrangements for a two year home and home contract with Texas university would be given out soon.

Arizona Takes Border Crown

Led By Bland, Wildcats Trim New Mexico U. For League Title

College Club Beats Keys; Centaurs Tie Leaders In Grid War

If scoring is to be made, play the Social clubs because they can't register. The Wranglers, loop leaders, were held to scoreless tie by the Centaurs, who incidentally, were playing their first game. The College Club eleven threw the Silver Keys for a loss by nosing them out 2 to 0.

The Wranglers held the edge over the Centaurs in first downs, but they could never get within scoring distance. Blondy Ryan led the Centaur club in their touchdown attempts, but his team could never get further than the Wranglers' 30 yard line.

In the Silver Key-College Club game, the victors kept the defensive most of the game and gained their yardage on Silver Key mistakes. They capped the game early in the second half when Sam Hergert was tossed for a safety by a charging linesman, Fish Sullins. The Silver Keys led in first downs.

Arizona university is champion of the Border conference for 1935. With Ted Bland leading the way, the Blue Brigade squelched New Mexico university 34 to 0 Saturday for the undisputed possession of the title. The Wildcats of Texas Oliver were complete masters of the situation. At no time did the Lobos as much as threaten while Bland, Jackson and Wynn raced to victory.

Wildcats Receive Bid
After their victory the Wildcats have been invited to play in the Sun Bowl game slated at El Paso January 1. The Wildcats hold victories over Texas Tech, Oklahoma City university, New Mexico Aggies, New Mexico, Tempe and Whittier. Centenary and Loyola of the West have posed the Blue Brigade out by close scores.

Hardin-Simmons university who has been beaten by Tech and SMU, is the probable opponent of the Wildcats.

Coach Huffman Sends Basketball Invitations

Nineteen men have been sent invitations to report for official varsity basketball practice Monday night in the gym. Coach Earl Huffman, head cage mentor, said yesterday.

Two lettermen, Curly Wilkinson, and Hugh Snodgrass, Lubbock, are the only two numeral winners returning to this winter's squad. Squadmen returning are, Robert Hale and Maurice Cowan, Lubbock; Jim Neill, Brownfield; J. W. West, Memphis; Demp Cannon, Slaton; and Judge Garrett, Bellevue, N. M.

Sophomore candidates include: Cotton Wiginton, Stratford; Bill Kelly, Pampa; Robert Case, Petersburg; James Brown, Kerrville; Fred Byrd, Ardmore, Okla.; John Henderson, Linden; and Rayburn Hale, Lubbock.

Junior college aspirants are: Pete Burke, Davidson, Okla.; a transfer from Cameron Aggies; Paul Morris, Olney; a Schreiner Institute transfer; Howard Shook, Tupelo, Mississippi.

SMU and TCU have the nation's eyes focused on them Saturday. The game looms to be the greatest classic ever played in Southwest history.

"Camels never get on your Nerves"
STEADY SMOKERS SAY
WILLIE HOPPE, champion of champions, and most famous personality of the billiard world! Mr. Hoppe has learned that a mild cigarette affords more pleasure... and that mildness is essential to one who prizes healthy nerves. He says: "Championship billiards call for healthy nerves. It was a happy day for me when I turned to Camels. I found I could smoke all I wish and never have 'edgy' nerves. I have smoked Camels for a long time, and I want to compliment Camels on their mildness. It must take more expensive tobaccos to give that special Camel flavor I like so much—always cool and good." You, too, will find a new delight once you turn to Camels. They never get on your nerves... never tire your taste.

ing ace, graduated last spring after an outstanding career at Detroit. Andy Farkas, a sophomore, however, has been capably filling Knott's shoes, until three or four weeks ago. But the Detroiters haven't been able to make any connections since the first Villanova game.

The guessing game again after battling only 400 last week:

The nations classic: SMU may have Bobby Wilson, but they don't have Sam Daugh who is the greatest passer since Benny Friedman. It will be a score fast with TCU and Baugh coming out ahead 20 to 14.

Texas 14, Texas A&M 6.

Tech 13, Detroit 13 . . . or even closer, perhaps by a frog's hair . . . the Michigan suit doesn't blow in over the North Plains like it does in Detroit . . . ?

Amarillo 27, Pampa 0.

Baylor 7, Rice 20 . . . but the Bears are no easy pickings . . . ?

We've been asked not less than four dozen times, "What was the matter with the Picadors?"

That's what the Picadors want to know, this department, and even H&S themselves . . . ? For all we know they might have been playing Notre Dame that day . . . at least freshman teams don't sit around three quarters and watch the other fellow score, and then suddenly come to life and score two touches without even letting the disappointed opponents get their breath . . . H&S won, bless their souls, so what of it . . . Even Knox college is winning this year . . . ?

Baze, Winters Tally For Matadors; McArthur Scores For Frosh

ST. Mary's was a breeze for Tech's Red Raiders Saturday, but Hardin-Simmons' slimes weren't so easy for the local Picadors Friday when they lost their first game of the season.

Coach Pete Cawthon's Raiders tabulated nearly three dozen first downs to punish the Rattlers 27 to 0, while the Picadors hit the dust, 13 to 7, at Abilene.

Baze, Winters Star

Winford Baze and George Winters ploughed through St. Mary's for two touchdowns each to lead the Raiders offensive drive at San Antonio.

The Raiders had little trouble in marching through the sophomore Rattlers. However, an end, Buchanan, gave the Matadors trouble throughout the game. At no time did the St. Mary's team advance the ball past the Raiders 40 yard line.

Picadors Have Trouble

After the first half in which they were in command, the Picadors were in hot water during the last two periods. McArthur scored the frosh counter with a 20 yard gallop off tackle late in the second stanza.

In the last quarter the Hardin-Simmons Tenderfeet featuring Reid, who did the tossing, saturated the Picador defense with passes. Reid ran back a punt 45 yards for the first Cowboy score. A few minutes later he passed to Joe Peer for the second and deciding score.

attacked as well as the passing game is Andy Farkas, a soph, who has capably filled Doug Knott's shoes as a passer, and is something for the opposing team to try to stop.

Titan Forwards Strong

In the line, the Titans excel with balance, speed and plenty of drive that has made them hard to conquer this year. Only Villanova and Duquesne have been successful against the Titan forwards. Villanova beat them in the last few seconds of play with a long touch-down pass while Duquesne had even more difficulty although managing to score twice to the Titans' advantage. Detroit beat Villanova 19 to 7 in the first game of their annual two game series.

Although they have two defeats and one tie held against them, the Titans are the best team that has ever invaded the local lot. (According to Coach Pete Cawthon.) They use three different types of formations including the usual Notre Dame system and a spread. The record of other teams, who have either fallen before the Titans or have nosed the Detroit eleven out, indicates the actual strength of the Turkey Day invaders.

Shock Troops Start

The local instructors haven't announced their tentative lineup, but the shock troops will probably open the game. Coach Dorais also uses the shock troop system and he'll likely send them against Coach Peter Willis' second stringers.

Detroit will be sporting new pants tomorrow. They used paraffin on their pants when they played Bucknell on a soggy field. At the half the student manager was drying the silken trousers out and they burned.
