Eighteenth Century Primer Is Owned By Evans; ABC's Featured

By RUTH BURNENCE It is a far call from college algebra and organic chemistry to the ABC days, but we have still to see the time when they are no longer taught. In New England, back in the 18th century, boys and a few girls learned their ABC's and good behavior in the same breath, from a primer bound with boards one-eighth inch thick, and covered with thin paper.

Parliamentary Law Class Is Organized; Godeke Is Teacher

A class in parliamentary law was organized and held its first meeting Monday night in room 104 of the Home Economics building. The class is open to anyone in parliamentary procedure, and is especially recommended to officers of student organizations. Meetings are to be held the fourth Monday of each month from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

FISH CAPS

There is a noticeable lack of freshman caps being worn on the campus. Upperclassmen should take some steps to remedy this. During the first week of school, all the Fish took a pride in wearing their official insignia, but since the new has worn off, they no longer care to carry out the custom.

This custom started when Tech first began. Heretofore, the first year students have worn their caps until after the Thanksgiving game. This year must be no exception.

Upperclassmen, it is your duty to see that every freshman on the campus wears his cap at all times, to town, to social functions, to school, and anywhere else that he might go.

THANK YOU MR. COLE

The Toreador takes this opportunity to thank Mr. Conner Cole in behalf of the student body for his response to an editorial which appeared in this paper last week.

LA VENTANA PICTURES

Students, there is a photograph salesman in town selling tickets for pictures under the pretext that they are for the annual. This is false. Students who want their pictures in La Ventana should go to the studio specified by the annual staff and have them made. No tickets are needed.

These pictures cost one dollar which is payable at the time the picture is made. For further information, see some member of La Ventana staff.

Alumni News

Manch Hall, '31, an Economics and Business Ad major, is now on the sales force of Lubbock Auto Company. Hall seems to be a permanent fixture as he has been with his employes for several years, having worked his way through high school and Tech with them. Since graduation he and Miss Mary Allen, also an ex-student were married.

Among graduate students in Tech working on their Masters degree is Ann Hammons, who received her B. A. in 1929. Miss Hammons has been teaching school the past two years, near Lubbock.

Several alumni members have received two or more degrees from the institution. Hugh Hancock one of that number is employed by the Interstate Commerce Commission with headquarters at Washington D. C. Hancock took a B. A. degree in Physics in 1928 and a B. S. degree in the Engineering school in 1930.

Lois Harkey, '29, is now Mrs. Garnet Reeves of Lubbock. Reeves is secretary of the local Retail Merchants Association and also connected with the Chamber of Commerce.

Marlin (Shorty), Hayhurst, '28, is still head coach at Brownfield High School. Shorty has been exceptionally successful, considering the material with which he has to work. He and Ameral Payne, another Matador of past seasons, who is coach at Levelland temple in red hot contests several times throughout the year. The better half of the Payne family is Ruby Kennedy also a Tech graduate.

M. E. Heard of the textile engineering department is another Tech alumnus who was graduated by the institution and then it found that it was going to have a hard time getting rid of him so he was given a job and put to work. In his off hours Heard ambles over one of the local golf courses. One of his latest moves in that direction was to promote a faculty golf tournament.

Tech's ex-students seem to be good politicians. Jim Cloud whom everyone knew in past years and who was an active member of the pre-law club was successful in persuading the voters of Dickens county that he was their best bet for county judge in the recent Democratic primary. It is not known whether it's still just plain

Tech Chess Club Is Re-Organized

The first meeting of the Texas Tech Chess club will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Dr. A. L. Strout of 2908, Twenty Second street.

The meeting will be devoted to starting a tournament for the fall term. A very active contest is expected with several players due to make it interesting. Sponsors of the club are Dr. Strout and Dr. W. R. Underwood. William Luce is president of the club.

Students and faculty members interested in the game are invited to attend. The club was organized two years ago and has sponsored two tournaments.

Jim or whether it is "JUDGE CLOUD"

Alvin Allison gave his opponent in the run-off primary the scare and race of his life for the Democratic nomination for county judge of Hockley county.

Truett Smith, who had already served as county clerk for two terms ran for county attorney, having no opponent is proof of his popularity with his constituents.

At the recent Democratic state convention held at Lubbock Harry Montgomery covered the convention for the Amarillo News and Globe. Montgomery will be remembered as the first editor of the Toreador and husband of the former Pauline Triplett, a member of Tech's second graduating class.

Seed Testing Laboratory Has Charge Of Label Sales

The seed testing laboratory is now in charge of the sale of labels," states G. L. Beene, who is in charge of the South Plains only seed testing laboratory under the supervision of the State Seed Testing department. The Collier Printing company, Lubbock, was in charge of the sale of labels.

Beene takes official samples of all shipments that come through the laboratory, testing the purity of germination of all seeds.

When Roy Curfman is running at guard the quarterback always yells "depot" when the guards pull out of the line to run interference. The reason for this is as follows: The other day while running at guard Curfman pulled out of the line when the guards were not supposed to. As a result he had a collision with the fullback coming through the line. Curfman got a bad cut over his eye and the doctor took three stitches in it. Since then the quarterback yells "depot" so Curfman will know to pull out.

Capa Y Espada Club Is To Meet Tonight In Room 310

Capa Y Espada, Spanish club, will meet for the first time tonight in room 310 at 7:30 o'clock. Regular meetings will be held at this time on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

Qualifications for membership are either two years of high school Spanish or one year of college Spanish. "Spain" will be the topic for discussion this year.

Capa y Espada officers are: Margaret Lindsey, president; Alice Muse Rogers, vice-president; J. Gordon, secretary; Lucille McCrummen, reporter; Lois Freeman, chairman of the program committee. Mrs. W. B. Gates and Miss Frances Whately are sponsors.

Common Meeting Night For All Clubs

Wednesday night was made regular meeting night of all campus social organizations Monday evening at an assembly of their officers and sponsors called by Dr. Bradford Knapp at 7 o'clock in the engineering building. From now on the clubs are requested to meet on this night from 7 to 8 o'clock.

A council of seven with Basil Hill as chairman is to decide upon the night for departmental club meetings. So far as it is possible these societies will also be expected to meet on the same night.

Dr. Knapp suggested these changes so that students may better organize their schedules and give more time to the preparation of class work.

Carnes has a new name. The other day while at practice Coach Smith called him Chief. Carnes said, "Don't call me chief, call me Judge because I sit on the bench so much." Ely Harris wanted to know why that should entitle him to the name of Judge.

Wilson Gilmore said that the Fish on the football team were the most disrespectful bunch of slimes he had ever seen. They do not have a bit of respect for an upper classman. This was right after the game between the Varsity B and the freshman.

Just before the above mentioned game Sid Sam Jones from Abilene saw Cy Lemasters with some shoe polish. He at once asked Cy for some, as he wanted to shine his shoes before the game.

Bo Williams is the cow hunter of the team. When Bo goes down on his short leg he can look under the brush and when he goes up on the long one he can look over the bushes. As result he finds them all.

Las Vivarachas Club Wins Prize

The Las Vivarachas social club won the prize offered by A. W. S. to the organization selling the most name tags on Friday and Saturday of last week. The Las Leales were second.

There were more than 400 tags sold and according to Melba Tatom Maxey, president of the council the contest was a big success.

"More names were learned," stated Mrs. Massey Tuesday, "and we feel that the purpose of the days was carried out to an advantage."

J. E. Couch, 1930 agronomy graduate, is now in the Big Bend country on his father's farm. The recent flood of the Pecos river has inundated his father's irrigated farm.

Ogden King, 1929 agriculture economics graduate, is working for the state department of agriculture at San Francisco. King also has had graduate work at Cornell university and the University of California.

R. K. Allen, animal husbandry graduate of 1932, is in charge of the dairy herd at the State Tubercular Sanitarium at Carlsbad, Texas.

Dowell, the nice looking black headed boy and shiek of the squad also has a new name. He is now Jumping Joe Savoldi.

Demp Cannon is the platinum blonde. There has been much discussion about whether he will become a red head or not.

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

Matadors Whip Kangaroos 64-0 With Varied Attack; Teamwork Features Work Of Tech Squad

Shock Troops Score Early In First Quarter; Mullenix Is Austin Defensive Star; Long Runs Result In Touchdowns

Flashing a varied and powerful attack, Texas Tech had little trouble defeating Austin College Saturday night on Matador field 64-0. The game was featured by almost perfect blocking and hard tackling by the Matadors and the fine defensive work of Patereaux of Austin College, who was in practically every play. The punting of Vandegriff in the first half was also a feature. Vandegriff got off several punts that were good for fifty yards and got them off in a hurry as he was being rushed by the Tech forwards. The entire Austin college team did their best to make a game of it but were completely outclassed in every department by the Matadors.

The game started with Texas Tech ending in the "shock troops" who scored a touchdown before the game was three minutes old. Mullenix kicked off for Austin College to Beachcamp who received on his own ten yard line and behind perfect blocking by his teammates brought the ball to midfield. On a series of running plays, the shock troops scored by scoring three more touchdowns. The quarter was followed in rapid succession with Moffett doing most of the running. As the quarter ended Tech was threatening again. An entire new team started the second quarter for Tech and this team kept up the good work by scoring three more touchdowns. The quarter was featured by several nice runs by Letty Soils and a sixty-nine yard by Gwyn Dowell for a touchdown.

The shock troops started the third quarter but were relieved by a new team shortly after the game was resumed. This team scored only two touchdowns in this quarter.

With Carl McAdams calling the signals, they functioned like a bunch of veterans and opened up with some lateral passes to score their touchdowns.

The fourth team started the last quarter and featuring Carnes at the quarterback position scored two touchdowns. In this quarter Carnes demonstrated to the crowd that he is a fair drop-kicker. In this quarter Austin College made a nice stand on their own five yard line and Tech had to restore to a pass for the touchdown.

Lineups: Austin College—Connelly lc., Mullenix, lt.; Shupert, lg.; Richardson, c.; Miller, rg.; Messick, rt.; Elliot, re.; Shelton, qb.; McConnell, lb.; Cez, rh.; Vandegriff, fb.; Wilson, ft.; Turner, lg.; Anthony, c.; Priddy, rg.; Young, rt.; Luper, lc.; Beachcamp, qb.; Moffett, lb.; McKeever, rh.; Nichols, lb.

Under The Double "T"

By BOB TRACY

Toreador Sports Editor

Football is a rough game but some of the wisemen who sit back and are prone to criticize, seem to think that the rules governing Ping Pong should be applied to the grand old game. Pete Boverie, former Tech student now at the Texas Medical school, has clipped an article, written by Wilburn Van Fleet from the Galveston Daily News, and sent it to the Toreador. In part, it reads as follows:

"The Tech boys have a reputation for playing rough football. Last year, they played Baylor at Waco, and the talk about the rough stuff the Matadors pulled went on for weeks." Pete Cawthon can hardly expect to gain admittance to the Southwest Conference for Tech if his teams keep the reputation that is rapidly accruing to them. The Aggies claim that at least two of the men injured in their game with Tech was the result of "kneeing." Well, what do you think about that?

It is a noble piece of windmilling by a ham news writer who is trying to break down Tech's chances at a Southwest Conference berth. Coach Cawthon says this, "Yes, I teach my boys to play rough. Not for the sake of injuring opponents and using it as a means to win but for their own protection. In the game at Amarillo, Ted Spencer Aggie fullback, deliberately ran into 'Spedy' Moffett, the smallest man on our squad. Had he kept his head up and played like he was awake, he would not have lost seven of his best teeth. If they don't want to get into a kicking, getting hurt, let them play tennis."

The writer sincerely hopes that another news item of this kind does not come any further west than Galveston and it is located on the Gulf of Mexico.

Did you know that John L. Sullivan the Boston strong boy, taught Parke H. Davis of Princeton, the use of hands in football? The method taught was none other than a good old fashioned slugfest in which the great Princeton star lost a tooth. He offered to pay the old batter game for the lesson but instead, John L. gave him five dollars to have the ivory replaced. This was in the days when butlers were the rage and beer was five cents a glass.

In the game last Saturday night, Tech showed that the Matadors have the punch to score. True enough, the team was not given the opposition that they have been used to in the past, but a team that can score three touchdowns in a quarter and roll up sixty points in a game evidently has some drive and power.

Did you know that Dr. S. S. (Sunshine) McKay is an old time baseball player from way back yonder? Dr. McKay has a reputation as a dopest also. He predicted that the Tech-SMU contest would be 13 to 7 in favor of the Matadors. Well, anyway, he was right for six points.

Girls' Basketball Games Are Held In Gym; Events Scheduled

Thirty girls attended the first basketball game of the year at the gym Thursday afternoon. Coach Earnest Nelson introduced the new "two court system" in which only eight girls are required to play. During the hour all of them take part. The following is a schedule of Girls athletics:

Archery, Monday 4 o'clock, gym; Bowling, Friday 4 o'clock, downtown; Skating, Friday 4 o'clock, downtown; Wednesday, 7:30 College Ave. and Broadway; Tennis, Friday 4 o'clock; Basket ball Tues. and Thursdays, 5 o'clock, gym.

Local Theater Is To Show Thrillers

There is one question which Frank Buck, noted collector and leader of the "Bring 'Em Back Alive" expedition, has had to answer so many times that he can always tell when it is coming.

The question is: Will animals attack a human being without provocation? Mr. Buck has boiled his answer down to one word: Yes.

In the twenty years of bringing jungle animals back alive which qualified Mr. Buck to lead the expedition which filmed the beasts in their native habitat, for RKO-Radio release, he has learned several cardinal points about animals. One is that it is foolish to generalize about animals. It is just as foolish to say that all elephants are kind as it is to say that all Scotsmen are thrifty. Some elephants—"rogues," they are called—cannot be equalled for savagery. As a class, elephants are tractable, but to say that they are all playful, friendly beasts is ridiculous, according to Mr. Buck.

By the same token it cannot be said that every tiger is a man-eater. As a matter of fact, man-eaters, tigers are pretexts: either they have been made insane by some accident, or at some time in their history their food supply was cut off and they seized a feeding infant. Once a tiger has tasted human flesh, he never again is highly pleased with anything else. All this is not to say anyway, he was right for six points. About Mateo "Moon", Martin, former Lubbock High player and end on Pete's outfit this fall. This boy showed a clean pair of heels to the Mustangs on that end around play. Martin is only a sophomore. In another season, he should develop into one of the most powerful ends that Cawthon has ever had.

It is now about time that we do some football guessing. How about the boys that hang around the drug stores and eating places near the campus sending us a few guesses on how the big teams look to them. To start things off right now, a few members of the staff are trying to guess what teams will be in the first division of the Southwest conference this year. How about Elmer, Texas, and S.M.U. in the order named? Send in your guesses men, it's free for all.

The writer learned, indirectly that Arizona scouted the Tech-S.M.U. game. They got a load of one of the best football teams in the Southwest. It is our opinion that Cawthon's team will look entirely different with a new bunch of plays when the scouts see them the next time. Did you know that Dr. S. S. (Sunshine) McKay is an old time baseball player from way back yonder? Dr. McKay has a reputation as a dopest also. He predicted that the Tech-SMU contest would be 13 to 7 in favor of the Matadors. Well, anyway, he was right for six points.

Matador Stars Out Of Arizona Tilt Tomorrow

Border Conference Rules To Be Enforced In Scrap; To Meet Las Vegas Normal On Saturday

When the University of Arizona Wildcats step out on Matador field tomorrow night, Coaches Cawthon and Smith are expecting to see the Scarlet and Black go down to defeat.

Smarter from their first defeat by Loyola of Los Angeles, the Wildcats came back to defeat the strong New Mexico Aggies 12-7 in this game, which was scouted at Tucson, the Arizona team looked better than Texas A. and M. with "Frency" Domingue in the backfield. The score was kept lower because Arizona fumbled on the four yard line.

Arizona Formidable Gus Farwick, former center at West Point, who is coaching his first year at Arizona, has collected a formidable aggregation that promises to give Tech plenty of worry. With Clark and Davies called in alternating quarters, Farwick has worked out a combination which always gives their opponents trouble. Clark and Davies are both in the one hundred and fifty pound class. It is a problem to judge which is the better. According to "Dutchy" Smith, both of these boys are about the same caliber as "Shorty" France, famous Tech letterman last year. Other men on the Wildcat squad are Sample, Murdoch, Carlson, Anglin, Mannen, Greer and O'Dowd. O'Dowd is captain and punter.

The eligibility rules agreed upon between the schools will take McKeever, Cannon, Clark, W. Wilson, Luper, and Anthony out of the game. This, along with a division of the team made for the New Mexico Normal game to be played on Saturday, will handicap the Matadors greatly. Coaches Cawthon and Smith have predicted that Tech will have a hard time winning the game. They have asked for the student body to turn out one hundred per cent and pull for the team harder than they have ever done before.

Clarence Bobo, Tech senior, is employed by the Lubbock Laundry company for the fall term.

A TOAST TO TEXAS TECH

To the giant "T" so stately,
To the smaller "T" below,
To the black and to the scarlet
With their Spanish, mystic glow,
To the sacred shrine of friendship,
To the campus where we meet,
To the dear old College Spirit,
Which we never can forget,
To the many ties that bind us,
To the Matadors, so true,
To the shining light of knowledge,
Texas Tech, we toast to you.

Arizona Polo Team Reports

Forty Horsemen Try For Squad At First Practice; Varsity Practice To Begin This Week With Four Lettermen

TUSCON Ariz., Oct. — Forty ambitious young horsemen, determined upon keeping for Arizona the high place in polo established by her whirlwind team of last year, reported for the first polo practice of the year this week at the University.

Under the leadership of Coach A. W. Holderness, new military commandant at the University, it is believed that a strong squad will be developed. The team will not rate as many goals as the team of last year, but it will be a formidable opponent to any coast team and practically unbeatable in western collegiate circles.

William Rogers, Jr., son of the famous comedian and columnist, with three years fast competition to his credit, bolstered the chances of the Varsity when he reported for first practice. He is a transfer from Stanford University and is registered as a sophomore.

Among the veterans coming for practice were four lettermen from last year and two veterans of the championship team. Harry Wilson, Jr., lamed back on the squad for the last two years was not present. He is temporarily out of school studying for the coming West Point examinations. Capt. Lewis Brown III, veteran player, will probably ride at number 3 this year while Vic Smith, another veteran, will have his old position at number 2. Nielson Brown, captain of the freshman team last year, is expected to play back. Rogers is trying for number 1 position while William D. Clark and Richard Foester will be utility members of the squad.

CUSTOM LAST

Here's a shoe with the swagger of the custom last — sharp toe sweeping back in a stream line, neatly tucked up under the arch, and firmly supporting the instep like a thoroughbred. The foot has a shorter, smarter appearance in this shoe. The high military heel comfortably lifts the rear lines of the shoe up to the drop of the trouser cuff, an essential requirement for metropolitan wear.

Matador Band Elects Officers

Musicians Reorganize As Student Governed Body, Godeke Appoints Committee To Aid, Officers Are Elected

Monday morning at 7 o'clock the Matador band held a complete reorganizing meeting. The band is now a student organized, and student governed body. Mr. Harry Le Maire is the director but will act in that capacity only at band rehearsals and concerts. All pep meetings will be charge of the Assistant Director, Hank Godeke. Football games and trips will be in charge of the assistant director and the drum major.

During the meeting the following officers were elected: Hank Godeke, president and assistant director; Fred Fairly, vice-president and business manager; Dale VanNoy, secretary; Roger Knapp, treasurer and reporter; Newel Hughes, librarian; and Lynn Gray Gordon, assistant librarian.

Godeke appointed an executive committee to consist of all the regular officers of the band and Mancill Hall, a graduate member of the band, which will assist him in any problems he feels that he can not handle alone. He also appointed a "lead man" in each section of the band to call and be responsible for sectional rehearsals at least once a week.

The Denver trip was discussed but the details were left up to the vice-president and the treasurer to work out. Plans for new music, the games, trips, etc., were discussed in brief.
