

Soviet Ships Deter Course; U.S. Blockade Still Untested

WASHINGTON (P) — Some Soviet bloc ships steaming toward an historic high sea showdown with a massive U.S. fleet blockading Cuba "appear to have altered course," the Defense Department said Wednesday.

A spokesman said "other vessels are proceeding toward Cuba." He added that "no intercept has yet been necessary," backing up an earlier Defense Department news conference statement that no Soviet ships had been stopped.

The terse comments only partially dispelled the mystery shrouding the whereabouts and intentions of a reported 25 Soviet vessels believed bound for Cuba with more offensive missiles and bombers that the United States has proclaimed it will turn back, with force if necessary.

The Miami Daily News reported it had learned reliably that the Cuba-bound vessels had turned back. But Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of Defense, told the news conference he could not "either confirm or deny" that the ships had turned back.

He refused to say whether there had been any contacts with the Communist ships.

Still missing was any firm evidence of whether the Soviet Union might now or later head some or all the ships into a full test of the American quarantine on offensive arms shipments into Prime Minister Fidel Castro's encircled island ordered by President Kennedy in a nationwide address Monday night.

Kennedy said both medium and intermediate range Soviet missiles threatening the entire hemisphere are already in Cuba, plus long range bombers. The quarantine went into effect at 10 a.m. EDT Wednesday.

An air of slightly easing tension seemed to be seeping into the U.S.-Soviet crisis, fed both by the reports the Red bloc ships had altered course or turned back and by a statement by Soviet Premier Khrushchev that he supports a summit meeting to discuss the issues.

Moscow radio broadcast the text of a Khrushchev message to British philosopher Bertrand Russell in which the premier said a "meeting at the highest level would be useful to discuss all questions that have arisen and to eliminate the threat of nuclear war."

He was quoted as saying "we will do everything in our power" to prevent war from breaking out.

But he warned: "We fully realize that if war should break out that it would be a nuclear war from the very first hours. This is very clear to us. But evidently it is not clear to the government of the United States of America."

The White House declined comment and said it had received no new notes from Khrushchev. The last was a letter from him Tuesday denouncing the blockade.

On other fronts the United States continued to prepare for whatever moves will be necessary to meet the challenge of the new Soviet threat to the hemisphere.

The Strategic Air Command disclosed at its Omaha, Neb., headquarters that all leaves have been canceled, personnel on leave recalled, and permanent changes of station and of temporary duty assignments halted.

The State Department arranged a series of five regional meetings to brief all members of Congress on the Cuban crisis.

They will be conducted Thursday and Friday in New York City, Chicago, Atlanta, Fort Worth and San Francisco.

The Defense Department also released what it called undeniable intelligence information showing at least 30 missiles and more than 20 Russian built bombers in Cuba.

Sylvester said there are eight to 10 missile bases located near these cities, each having about four rocket launchers.

Guanajay near the border of Havana and Pinar Del Rio Province in northwest Cuba; Remedios in Las Villas Province, central Cuba; San Cristobal in Pinar Del Rio Province, western Cuba, and Sagua La Grande, in Las Villas Province; north central Cuba.

Amon Burton Wins Appointment As Tech Court Chief Justice

Amon Burton, senior from Rockwall, has been selected as chief justice of the Tech Supreme Court.

The selection of five Supreme Court members was also announced by Charley Aycock, Student Council president.

Techsans appointed to the positions are Joyce Woody of Crane, home economics; Carolyn Kirby of College Station, arts and sciences; Bill McCulloch of Lamesa, engineering; Jody Bezner of Hereford, agriculture; and Larry Hoyle of Matador, business administration.

Each student is a representative of one of the five schools. All are seniors.

The students who compose the Supreme Court are appointed from the Student Assn., the executive officers of the Student Assn. and the Student Council.

Techsans Face Tuition Raise

By CAROLENE ENGLISH, Toreador Staff Writer

Texas Tech students may have to pay 50 per cent more in tuition in the fall of 1963.

Recommendations from the Texas Commission of Higher Education for a tuition increase at all state-supported schools from $50 to $100 will go to the state legislature in January for consideration.

Suggested budgets for Texas schools will also be submitted to solons by two other state finance groups—the executive budget office and the legislative budget board.

Also in the suggestions by the Commission is a $4,000 per year raise in salary for Pres. R. C. Goodwin, bringing his pay to $20,000 annually.

The increase in the president's salary at Tech and a similar one at the University of Houston will make the executive pay for the University of Texas, Houston, A&M and Tech equal, Pres. Goodwin said.

Recommendations for the increases came from the Commission at a meeting in Austin Tuesday. The group previously had postponed approval of a staff recommendation at a meeting Oct. 8 in the state capital.

The Commission requested Tuesday that an additional million dollars be added to the $158 million budget figures asked by the staff for operation of Texas' state-supported colleges for the 1964-1965 biennium, according to the Associated Press.

The colleges originally wanted a total of $178.8 million in the coming two school year periods.

Figures designating specific allotments for individual colleges have not yet been received at Tech, Goodwin reports.

An operating budget of $17.4 million was requested by Tech officials, but the Commission's staff earlier cut the figure $3.2 million.

Added to the recommendations was a $132,600 allowance for Tech's educational television station, KTXU-TV. The University of Houston, which will officially become state-supported in September 1963, when the new budget goes into effect, received a similar recommendation from the group.

Presently the station is supported by funds received from those people taking the video courses and from private gifts, the president said. He added that to approve the grants, the legislature will have to amend a law prohibiting state support for open television broadcasting.

Closed circuit broadcasting programs are eligible to receive state financial help, he explained.

Air conditioning allowances for state school buildings were also included in the final plan of the Commission. Though it is not known how much would be granted Tech for that purpose, President Goodwin reports that air conditioning would be installed in parts of the Ad Bldg. and the old library if funds are sufficient.

Another $1.4 million has been recommended by the Commission for the operation of organized research in the 20 state schools.

2,547 Vote Wednesday; Choose HC Queen, Court

The "leading lady" of homecoming festivities — the 1962 Homecoming Queen — and her four attendants, were named by the student body in an all-campus election Wednesday.

Finalists are Christi Brown, Carolyn Buxton, Carolyn Horschler, Cindy Parker and Pamela White. The identity of the queen is being kept secret until the coronation Friday night.

Ballots were cast by 2,547 Techsans to name the top five from a slate of 10 candidates. Only 18 ballots had to be voided, according to Dean of Men Lew Jones, who tabulated the votes.

The winning candidates will be crowned at 8:30 p.m. Friday in the Science Quadrangle by Gen. David M. Shoup, Commandant of the Marine Corps and a member of the President's Chief of Staff.

Coronation of the queen will follow the annual Homecoming Bonfire beginning at 7:45 p.m. Friday at the Saddle Tramp Circle. Tech Symphony Orchestra will provide music for the ceremonies and members of the Sabre Flight will form a honor guard for the queen, her four attendants and their escorts as they are presented to the crowd.

Bob Nash, KFYO radio announcer and a Tech graduate, will be master of ceremonies.

The queen will reign over all homecoming activities which include a 10 a.m. parade Saturday morning, receptions for ex-students, the Tech-SMU football game Saturday afternoon and the Saturday night Homecoming dance.

She will ride in a special parade float, accompanied by her four runners-up, and be presented at the halftime activities at the game.

The Freshman Spirit Convocation and Dance in the Coronation Room of the Tech Union Wednesday night kicked off the homecoming week activities. The Spirit Lantern was lit and will be kept burning to ignite the bonfire Friday night.

Classes will be dismissed at 8:55 a.m. Saturday to give students and faculty a chance to see the parade which is scheduled to begin in downtown Lubbock and move down Broadway to the Tech campus.

Floats in the parade will be judged to determine winners in the several divisions.

Applications Still Open For Coeds In Charm Clinic

Eighteen Texas Tech coeds have registered at the home economics school for the Charm Clinic to be offered Oct. 30 through Nov. 15.

Registration for the clinic will continue through Friday. Although registration hours have been set by the department, the dean's office will be open at all times to prospective entrants.

The times set up for today are 10 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 2 p.m. Friday registration hours are 8 to 9 a.m. and 3 to 4 p.m.

Registration blanks may be obtained from posters placed in all campus buildings. The blanks should be turned into home economics club mailbox or the dean's office.

The course will be conducted in six lessons at a cost of $10.

Engagements...

Miss Madelynn Hammond is engaged to Tommy Mackin. Miss Hammond is a home economics major from El Paso. Mackin is a physics major from San Angelo.

Miss Sandra Case is wearing the ring of Frank Barker. The sophomore students plan a June wedding in Dallas. Miss Case is an elementary education major from Dallas and Barker is a PE major from Adrian.

Miss Travine Langford is engaged to Kirk Whiteside. Miss Langford is a senior home economics major from Baytown. Whiteside is a senior biology major from Rankin.

As I see it . . .

by johnnie lu raborn

There is something in the air at Tech. Without the present crisis, I would call it Homecoming fever. There would be a world of anxious people that, I'm sure, wish that it were only that. Let's call it a mixture of GI blues and anticipation.

It is hard for a student body of 11,000 young people to carry on their normal courses of life with this ominous threat hanging over their heads. From the look of the schedule for this week and weekend, they are certainly trying.

Almost every club, sorority, or honorary is having some type of function. Right now there is a mad race to get floats or dorm decorations finished. Hundreds of dollars have been spent on getting something ready to represent each organization. This is good, I think. Busy work can always help to ease tensions in a difficult situation. We can watch and wait and work in the hope that the crisis will pass and we can enjoy the fruits of the labor that has been going on this week.

AS I SEE IT

Tech has many pretty girls and I can't see why some of our organizations have not noticed the fact and entered more coeds in the Maid of Cotton contest. A new rule has made it possible for large scale participation in the area and national contest. Last year, Ethel Glascock, a Lubbock girl, placed second to Penny Percy, a University of Texas coed. Why don't we bring the honor to Tech this year?

by Miller

From time to time, FOOTNOTES deviates from its regular format of amusement-listings and devotes its regular space to comments on the times. Today is one of those occasions.

The fast - breaking Cuban crisis is causing consternation in many quarters, including Tech. Students pack around television sets and sit in silence, following the excellent news coverage provided by the press. And attitudes range from muted excitement to stark terror.

Nuclear war — the concept is terrifying, but it has to be faced. If it comes, it will touch us all. Tech boys will swell the ranks of the military, doubtlessly many girls will become nurses and the thoughts and actions of all will be constantly involved with the war effort. There is the possibility that none of us will live — Texas has many strategic military installations which may become targets for nuclear missiles.

Somehow, it seems tragic. Or perhaps it is ironic that man, who has pulled himself up from the slime of primitive swamps, should blow himself into oblivion just as he is ready to explore other worlds. It seems tragic that the youth of today should be constantly aware that they might not live to see tomorrow. Some of us are vaguely Ignored When You Talk?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique of everyday conversation which can pay you real dividends in both social and business advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, self confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by what they say and how they say it. Whether in business, at social functions, or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can make a good impression every time you talk.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in everyday conversation, the publishers have printed full details of their interesting self-training method in a new book, "Adventures in Conversation," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. angry — but our anger has no focal point. It is hard to be angry at the past events which cause present day happenings. And all of us wonder — what will happen? What should we do?

Well, what can we do? Is it possible for us to live from day to day uncertain that tomorrow will come? Won't life be reduced to a mere terrified existence? How can we plan for the future, if we aren't sure that the future will come? And is it worth it to stay in college, if our knowledge will never be put to use?

These are questions to which each individual must find his own answer. No one can help us—we must decide for ourselves. We are lucky, however, that we have reached the age where we can decide for ourselves. It could be worse—we are young adults instead of children. At least we've lived a little.

The months ahead will decide our fate. But whatever happens, we've had the past. Let's hope that we can have the future as well.

Morrow Plays Here

This year's Homecoming Dance will feature Buddy Morrow and his "Night Train" orchestra at 8 p.m. Oct. 27 in the Municipal Coliseum.

This is the second visit of the Morrow orchestra to the Lubbock area. Their first was in the fall of 1959, when they played for the Homecoming Dance.

The success of the Morrow orchestra is largely due to Buddy Morrow, its leader. Born in New Haven, Conn., he began playing trombone with dance groups at the age of thirteen. At fifteen, he became the youngest member of the Yale Collegians, a band composed of students at the college.

Upon graduation from high school, he went to New York to try his luck as a musician and won a scholarship to the Julliard School of Music. Evenings he supported himself by working with small bands. When the strain became too great, he dropped out of school, but continued to study piano and composition.

One night while sitting in on a jam session with some friends, he was heard by jazz great Bunny Berrigan, who later recommended him to Artie Shaw. He played with the Shaw orchestra, then joined Eddy Duchin and Paul Whiteman.

The next step for the young musician was with Tommy Dorsey's orchestra. After touring with the Dorsey group, he joined the Columbia Broadcasting System as a staff musician.

His career was interrupted by a hitch in the Navy, after which he joined Jimmy Dorsey's band as a featured trombonist. In 1950, RCA Victor signed him to form an orchestra under his own name, and he began experimenting with style and instrumentation. After a somewhat disheartening tour across the country, he discovered an exciting rhythm and blues number, which he recorded.

The song was "Night Train" and it became a national sensation, selling over a million copies. By December, 1952, the Buddy Morrow orchestra had established itself as one of the big musical attractions on the road. "Night Train" was followed by a string of hit records that included, "One Mint Julep," "I Don't Know" and "Hey, Mrs. Jones."

The versatility of the Buddy Morrow orchestra is well known in the music world. Their repertoire includes everything from early Dixieland to progressive jazz.

Sunday Set For Giving Sabin Oral

Type II of the Sabin Oral Vaccine will be offered to Tech students by the Tech infirmary from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Type I was offered Tech students for the first time on Sept. 23 as a make-up. The infirmary did not administer the original round of the Type I because Tech was not in session at the time of the first round.

According to Dr. F. P. Kallina, head of Tech's Health Service Unit, there were "no adverse reactions from the more than 2500 students who took the make-up of the Type I vaccine."

Emphasizing once again the fact that Type I of the Sabin Oral Vaccine has shown no unfavorable effects, Dr. Kallina said, "Out of the 90,000 who took the vaccine in Lubbock, to my knowledge there were no comments made about adverse reactions."

The infirmary will not offer any make-ups for Type II vaccine. Those who are unable to take the vaccine Sunday should go to a public school to take it.

Type III of the vaccine will be given Dec. 9.

Look, look.
See that half-smiling face?
See those eyes water with great pride.
Notice that newly tailored suit and starched white shirt.
That could not be a Tech student.
He must be a foreigner.
Yes, yes he is.
He is a graduate of Tech.
He is a Tech Ex; he is here for Homecoming; he has come home.
See, see that woman with the new tweed dress wearing the big yellow mum?
Notice the undecided look on her face.

There were not so many buildings on campus 15 years ago.
She cannot find the Ad Bldg.
That could not be a Tech student; she is a Tech Ex.
She is here for Homecoming; she has come home.
Oh, look now! Look at that man laughing with such glee.
See how he doubles over with hilarity, and see how he stamps his feet with great emotion, and see how he slaps his knee with uncommon gaiety.

He is watching some students twist chicken wire into a Homecoming float.
He is looking at their funny bleeding hands, and their funny faces full of disgust, and listening to their funny way of talking while they work.

That could not be a Tech student; he is a Tech Ex.

He is here for Homecoming; he has come home.

Look, see that group of people standing around Memorial Circle wearing raccoon coats.

Why are they standing around Memorial Circle wearing raccoon coats?

It is sunshining brightly, and the temperature is 86 degrees.

They are also waving black and red pennants and shouting "Sis, boom, bah," and wearing funny little hats with long green feathers, and passing some sort of canteen from one person to the other.

There must be something wrong with them; they cannot be well.

We must be very nice to them; we must make them feel that we don't suspect anything is wrong with them; we will make them welcome.

They could not be Tech students.

They are Tech Exes, and someone said more of them are coming.

They are here for Homecoming; they have come home.

Welcome, Tech Exes, welcome!

British Mom Needs Baby Beer Drinker

DARLINGTON, England (AP) — A grocer has been fined for selling a mother milk for a baby after hours—but if he had sold her an alcoholic drink he would not have violated the law.

Said the grocer's lawyer Alan Vickers: "It's a pity the baby wasn't a beer drinker. That would have kept everyone happy."

The grocer, Joseph Hatfield, admitted selling a customer two pints of milk after 8 p.m., the latest time allowed for milk sale by grocers. Hatfield also has a license to sell alcoholic beverages until 10:30 p.m.

He was fined one pound—$2.80.

Tech Considers Building Bids On Structures

Bids for construction of Tech's new speech and psychology buildings were submitted Tuesday, and bids on construction of Tech's Beef Cattle Center in Kilgore opened Wednesday.

Low bid on the Psychology Bldg. only was $269,680 from Claude Martin and Sons, Lubbock. V&N Construction Co., Lubbock submitted the low bid of $474,863 on the Speech Bldg.

Low bid on the beef cattle center was $516,300 from Western Builders of Amarillo.

The Tech Board of Directors is scheduled to let construction contracts on the two buildings at a meeting in Lubbock Friday afternoon. However, Tech officials reported the bids apparently exceed funds marked for the projects. Consequently, final action on the bids may be delayed.

HC Tilts Provide Oddities

Besides providing inspired football, Texas Tech's homecomings have also furnished fans some of the oddest plays.

Ten years ago a University of Houston team then ranked in the top ten was leading Texas Tech 14-0 in the third period when quarterback Jerry Johnson sent a pass downfield in the direction of end Dean White.

A Cougar intercepted near the goal and, as he got to the 20, heard someone asking him to toss a lateral. Obliging, he flipped the ball back to the player requesting the ball, the sly but grateful Tech end, White, who scampered 17 yards into the end zone with the Raiders' only touchdown.

A year earlier, in 1951, against Arizona occurred some freakishness appreciated mainly by the officials. Quarterback Junior Arterburn twisted and darted 49 yards for a touchdown in the Raiders' 41-0 victory. Arterburn's fakery was so polished that it drew the Arizona coach onto the field protesting that Texas Tech had sent illegal receivers downfield on a pass play!

More than Arterburn's chicanery and the crown of the coach was responsible for the Wildcat coach's befuddlement. His attention had been partly diverted by a couple of collisions behind the line of scrimmage that left two of his players and a Raider unconscious on the turf.

Bufs' Logan Leads Nation's Scoring Chase

Jerry Logan, the versatile West Texas State back, leads the nation's major college football scorers for the fourth straight week, but end John Simmons of Tulsa has taken over first place among the pass receivers.

Logan has accumulated 86 points on 10 touchdowns and 26 conversions.

Simmons, a 6-3, 200-pound junior playing his first major college season after a junior college stint, has bagged 41 passes, a record, in five games. He hauled down 11 against Louisville last weekend to oust Vern Burke of Oregon State, the season-long pace-setter, from first. Burke has 37 catches.

The statistics were released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

TICKET OFFICE OPEN

Texas Tech's ticket office is remaining open until 6 p.m. this week for the benefit of fans wishing to see the Southern Methodist game here Saturday afternoon.

A crowd of about 30,000 is expected. Both reserved and general admission tickets are available to the homecoming clash.

Last Monday we shuffled through our mailbox and found a postcard from "A Picador Backer." TOREADOR policy for the past several years has been not to publish any letters directed to the staff unless such letters are signed. However, we will let this "Picador Backer" have his say. Jim,

I really appreciate the fine write up you had on the Fish-Hardin-Simmons game. I'm sure I speak for the many Picadors that played in the mud and rain. I'm sure that if more of this "stuff" appears in the 'TOREADOR' the paper will go onto greater heights and be second to none.

"A Picador Backer"

For those who didn't see the Friday TOREADOR after that Picador-Hardin-Simmons game, not one word about the Frosh's 33-8 win over the Buttons could be found.

The TOREADOR is an organization independent of the Tech Press which prints the student newspaper. With the change to a daily publication, the Tech Press and the publications committee revised several deadlines concerning copy, especially late copy.

Under the new policies set by the contract, only a limited number of copy inches can be turned in later than 8 p.m. Even in these special cases, absolutely NO copy can be submitted to the Press after 10:30 p.m. for publication the following day without late charges.

Now, the Picador-Hardin-Simmons game was finished approximately 10 p.m. Under normal circumstances, we would have time to complete the Picador story and send it to the Tech Press before 10:30 p.m.

But—circumstances were not normal. William Shirer spoke at the Municipal Coliseum that Thursday night and constituted another "late" story. Shirer's story unfortunately dominated the number of copy inches allowed after 8 p.m., leaving the Picadors with exactly zero inches for a write-up.

The sports staff does not decide which story rates the late "permission," although we naturally were unhappy that Shirer nosed out the Picadors that Friday.

This is our reason, "Picador Backer," not our excuse for no Picador story Friday. We would be very happy if you would make a better arrangement with the Tech Press for late stories. And just remember that you may see more of the same "stuff" in the TOREADOR when basketball season arrives, ghastly though it sounds.

Freshmen Go After Second Win Tonight

Texas Tech's freshman footballers go after their second win of the season by playing West Texas State B team in Canyon at 7:30 p.m. today.

Coach Berl Huffman's Picadors last week downed the Hardin-Simmons B team 33-8 after dropping their opener to Arkansas' freshmen 14-6.

Leading rusher so far is halfback Harold Hudson of Springlake, who has netted 116 yards on 10 carries. Quarterback Dan Scarborough of Quanah, has carried 19 times for 97 yards and completed 3 of 8 passes for 31 yards, to rank first in total offense.

Top passer has been quarterback Ben Elledge of Brownwood, with 5 completions of 8 throws, good for 70 yards.

Three freshmen pace the Picadors in pass receiving. With two catches each are Mike Sutherland of Ysleta (29 yards), Hudson (27 yards), and Phil Brown of Abilene (27 yards).

Top punter is Bobby Carbone of Albuquerque, N.M., with three for an average of 34.3.

Texas Tech's starting lineup tentatively is: ends Rocky Hill, 180, Albany, and Allen Stumbo, 195, Carlsbad, N.M.; tackles Roy Brown, 226, Carlsbad, and John Porter, 210, Lamesa; guards David Graves, 185, Plano, and Ray Garrett, 195, Odessa; center Eddie Miller, 200, Jacksboro; quarterback Scarborough, 185, or Elledge, 195; halves Billy Wiese, 165, Austin, and Hudson, 180; fullback Carbone, 215.

Texas Tech next plays Rice freshmen in Lubbock Nov. 3, and concludes its season against North Texas State at Denton Nov. 16.

Terry Hit Enriches Bombers

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Terry's glittering 1-0 conquest of the San Francisco Giants in the seventh and deciding game of the 1962 World Series put an additional $2,591.25 into the pockets of the regular members of the victorious New York Yankees.

This was disclosed Wednesday in the breakdown of Series shares announced by Charles Segar, secretary of baseball. Ford Frick, baseball commissioner, who usually makes these announcements, is in Japan where the Detroit Tigers are on an exhibition tour.

Segar said that a full winning share for the Yankees amounted to $9,882.74 while a full share for the losing Giants came to a record $7,291.49. The Yankees voted 34 full shares and the Giants 29.

The Yanks' winning share is the third highest in Series history. The record is $11,231.18, picked up by Los Angeles Dodgers' players after defeating the Chicago White Sox in 1959. Next is the $11,147.90 received by the New York Giants in 1954 following their four-game sweep of Cleveland.

The players' pool totaled $863,281.71 with the Yanks receiving $362,578.32 and the Giants $241,718.88. The runners-up, the Minnesota Twins and Los Angeles Dodgers, get $64,746.32 while the third-place clubs, the Los Angeles Angels and Cincinnati Reds receive $43,164.08.

Tiger Gets 'Top Boxer'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dick Tiger of Nigeria, the newly-crowned World Boxing Association middleweight champion, was nominated Wednesday as "the Fighter of the Year."

Who did the nominating?

Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, the man who lost the title in 15 bloody, bruising rounds Tuesday night at Candlestick Park.

Fullmer's gesture was relayed by his manager, Marv Jenson, at a noon news conference. Gene could not attend. He and his wife were deep in a personal sadness.

The dethroned champion's father-in-law, Leroy Holt, 59, died early Wednesday in Franklin Hospital. Holt suffered a heart attack at the fight.

Tiger, the second Nigerian to win a world title, was not present either. Jersey Jones of New York, his American representative, explained that Tiger was literally swamped by transoceanic calls and messages of congratulations.
