Members Honored At Phi U Banquet

A breakfast honoring the five new initiates of the Omega chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national Home Economics Fraternity, was given at the Hilton Hotel on Sunday, March 30. The girls are: Naomi Duff, Barbara Conkling, Pauline Loky, Mary Ruth McClellan, and Betty Jane Ewen. Maxine Harp, president, was toastmistress for the program which was planned around the theme "Announcing the Discovery of Five New Stars." A Report of the "Discovery" was the introduction of each of the initiates to the group. "A Bright One Speaks" was a response given by Barbara Conkling. Mrs. Paul Mills, an alumna, suggested "Wider Horizons," and fields open to Home Economics majors. "Scattered Stardust," an introduction of the alumnae present and news from those who were unable to attend, was given by Miss Mabel D. Erwin.

Election Run-Off Slated For Tuesday

Five campus officers and ten representatives received majority votes in Tuesday's balloting, but a run-off must be held Tuesday, April 15, to fill the remaining five officers and ten representative positions. Troy Davidson, president of the student body, said Wednesday. Results of the run-off will be announced at the Varsity Show on Thursday night, he said.

Breakfast Begins Rodeo Activities

All-Western Days will begin at 6 o'clock this morning with a chuck-wagon breakfast, which will be served ranch style behind the college cafeteria. A string band will be on hand to furnish music for the street dancing immediately following the breakfast, says Roy Boone, Rodeo manager.

Engineering Show Plans Completed

Departments of Civil and Industrial Engineering have completed plans for exhibits in the Engineering Show, April 18-19, according to Tom Hassell, publicity director.

PROCLAMATION

W. M. Whyburn, President of Texas Tech, has officially proclaimed April 11 and 12, 1947 as the Second Annual All-Western Days on the campus. The following is his proclamation.

WHEREAS, It has been and shall be the policy of this institution to recognize, preserve, and do honor to the pioneering spirit and dogged determination of the people who pushed the frontiers westward; and

WHEREAS, This institution is dedicated to that spirit of democracy and free enterprise which motivated the courageous settlers of the early days of Texas; and

WHEREAS, This institution is determined to perpetuate those qualities of hospitality, good fellowship, and cooperation which characterize the West, without which our forefathers could not have survived and prospered; and

WHEREAS, For years past the Block and Bridle Club has sponsored an annual rodeo on the campus of this institution;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, W. M. WHYBURN, President of Texas Technological College, declare Friday and Saturday, April 11 and 12, 1947 to be Second Annual All-Western Days on the campus and urge each and every student and friend of the College who can possibly do so, to enter into the spirit of these two days, and proclaim the Annual Rodeo of the Block and Bridle Club to be the official celebration of All-Western Days.

Engineering Show Plans Completed

Tom Flanagan, senior civil engineer from Sweetwater, is department superintendent for the show. Civil Engineering exhibits will consist of tests made on engineering materials, such as road building materials, soils, construction materials, structural steels and concrete, optical surveying instruments, such as transits, levels, plane tables, alidades and accessory equipment; models of highway intersections, deck plate girder railroad bridge, concrete arch suspension and concrete slab bridge; a cross section of rolled earth fill dam; and a demonstration of the polarized light method of analyzing stresses in materials.

Frank Neal, senior from Los Angeles, is show superintendent for the department of Industrial Engineering Exhibits in this department will include a three-dimensional scale model of a cement plant layout made by senior students as part of a plant design problem. This exhibit shows the use of layout procedure, equipment specifications, material flow and machine loading. Master gauge blocks, known as Johanson blocks, used to obtain dimensions accurate to within a few millionths of an inch, will be displayed. Movies illustrating many of the kinds of work done by industrial engineers will be shown at intervals throughout the show.

Compulsory Fees May Be Approved

Tech, as well as all state schools, has been extended the authority to compel all students to pay an activity fee and a medical fee, college officials have been notified. The bill allowing this, Senate Bill No. 225, was recently passed by the state legislature. Previously all activity fees and medical fees at state schools were paid by students voluntarily and no student could be forced to pay the fee.

Before the measure becomes effective at Tech the Tech board of directors must approve it. The law provides that this fee not total more than $15 per semester and include recreational activities, health and hospital service, artists and lecture courses, student publications, and other approved student activities. The present medical fee is $5.00. If this compulsory fee is approved by the board, the college will be able to furnish such health and hospital service. Tech will not be able, however, to furnish hospitalization. College officials said that most colleges, except state schools, have been collecting fees of this type for some time. Through a special act of the legislature the University of Texas was granted the authority some time ago to levy and collect such a fee, and medical facilities have been greatly improved.

Veterans attending college under the G. I. Bill of Rights will have this fee taken care of by the government, since the government assumes all compulsory expenses.

Block And Bridle Sets Pace, Rodeo Is Now Annual Affair

Tech's sixth all-college rodeo, which is under the supervision of the Block and Bridle Club, is actually the ninth Tech rodeo that has been presented in the sixteen and one-half years that has elapsed since the first college rodeo made history.

Compulsory Fees May Be Approved

Tech, as well as all state schools, has been extended the authority to compel all students to pay an activity fee and a medical fee, college officials have been notified. The bill allowing this, Senate Bill No. 225, was recently passed by the state legislature. ## Goodwin

R. C. Goodwin, dean of Arts and Sciences, was Tech's official representative at the annual meeting of the Texas Association of Colleges April 1-3 at the Baker Hotel in Dallas.

High School Meet Will Be At Texas Tech

Approximately 800 contestants from various high schools in Region One are expected to take part in the Intercollegiate League meet to be held here April 19, according to Dr. Ernest Wallace, director general of Region One. Tech faculty members have been named directors of the various contests, Wallace said.

Bartlett Selected Outstanding Man

J. C. Bartlett, sophomore Commerce major from Mineral Wells, was selected outstanding man of five states. It is Lubbock county's third largest community. Most of Lakewood's businesses are operated by Tech students.

Block And Bridle Sets Pace, Rodeo Is Now Annual Affair

The initial idea was carried on through the fall of 1931, and in 1933 the rodeo manager was Curtis Williams. Between the 1932 and 1933 shows a campus organization known as the Block and Bridle Club, consisting chiefly of junior and senior students taking courses in livestock husbandry, was organized. So in the fall of 1933 this group of boys took over the sponsorship of the college rodeo from the larger club known then, and now, as the Aggie Club.

One hundred ninety-two faculty members will teach during the summer terms, Doctor Wallace states. During the first term, the annual band school will be held, and geology field courses will be offered both terms. A six-week Spanish class in Mexico will be held during the second term for the first time since the war.

Courses offered are as follows: Accounting and finance, agricultural economics, agricultural education, animal husbandry, applied arts, architecture and allied arts, biology, chemistry, child development, civil engineering, clothing and textiles, dairy manufacturing, economics and management, education and psychology, government, history, home economics education, home management, industrial engineering, journalism, mathematics, mechanical engineering, music and band, philosophy and sociology, electrical engineering, English, foods and nutrition, foreign language, general business, geology, physical education, physics, plant industry, and speech.

AN OPEN LETTER TO DEAN R. C. GOODWIN,

Dear Dean Goodwin,

This letter is not intended to antagonize nor intimidate you, and if it does, it has fallen short of its purpose. It is meant to openly discuss a college problem, as old as any college itself.

We have learned that it is your policy to discourage many types of student extra-curricula activities, as long as any of those activities partly interfere with the studies of a student, or make a student miss one or more classes.

People come to college to study, and through that studying learn something that will be profitable to them in life. If they don't, they should. But, they learn other things, too. They learn to lead, represent, and work for their community, which later will be their community.

Recently, Dean Goodwin, you told us that a student had to make a choice—either to go to class and spend his time with the pursuit of studies, or not to go to class at all and spend his time participating in non-studious student activities. You told us that that same choice had to be made after leaving college.

But, how many businessmen of any community have given their time, which probably would have been profitable for them, in order to bolster their town by working with the Lions, the Rotary, or innumerable "extra-curricula" activities for a businessman. On that same basis, how many students, give some of their time—take a B in a course rather than an A, in order that they might help the college by carrying on with such worthwhile traditions as the Rodeo, the Varsity Show, the Engineering Show, La Ventana and other activities that go to make what a student thinks of, when he thinks of Texas Tech.

We believe that these activities are as much of Tech as a Shakespeare course, or Engineering Drawing course, without minimizing these or any other courses. And we believe that the students who work for these activities should be rewarded with an understanding from college officials, and not criticized because they have worked for the student's benefit rather than for themselves.

You are not alone in your convictions that educational institutions should provide education—period. There are others in this college, and every other college.

The people who have vigorously worked for a better Tech by keeping Tech's traditional activities as good as ever, and seeing that people know that Texas Tech is on the map—these people receive our great big "hurrah" from this department, and a single confidence vote.

Respectfully yours,
VIRGIL MIERS.

Backstage With Varsity Show

Trainer Praises 'Unseen' Workers

The success of a show does not depend on the people seen on stage, but is due to the hard work done by people who are never seen, and very seldom receive credit for their work, says Jamie Trainer, general director of the Varsity Show. The Tech Varsity Show, "Law West of College Avenue," is no exception, added Trainer.

"There are many people who have spent many hours building the 1947 production, that will never be seen on stage. I would like to take every person behind the scenes to witness the jobs being done by these people; since this is impossible I would like the public to know the people who are doing the unglorified jobs in this year's show."

A show must start with a script, stated Trainer, and Mary King and Sarah McDonald conceived the idea of a show titled, "Law West of College Avenue."

The directors of a show, plan, build and polish the production, says Trainer. Directors for this year's show are: Dramatic directors—Mary Francis Brashears and Jo Ann Crabtree; Music Director—Jesse Day; Choreographer—Marion Sprague; Dance Directors—Marilyn Anderson and Jimmy Carter; Art Director—Hoyle Moss assisted by Joe Terry Jackson and Bob Nash; Stage Manager—Jackie Cordill; Lighting technicians—Jack Cooper, Roy Grimes and Gene Shaffer; Sound technician—Claude Burrows; make-up director—Catherine Langster; Prompter—Ruby Joyce Redus; Costume Designer—Betty McWhorter; Bottle Hart and Jacqueline Small; Music arranger—Johnny Ross of Austin, Texas; Program Chairman—Bob Watson assisted by Joe Meador; Publicity Manager—Virgil Miers assisted by Joe Meador and Bea Green; Business Manager—Barton Willingham; Chairman of ticket sales—Barton Willingham, assisted by Bruce Pipkin and Marshall Mason; Faculty Sponsors—Joe Burson and John Harding; Student Council committee—Marshall Mason, Hoyle Moss, and Jamie Trainer. Other people deserving a great deal of credit are the song writers, Carolyn Cole, Panze Butler, Burl Hubbard, Sue Son, Jackie Cordill, Terry Sanders, Jesse Day, and Johnny Ross; and the orchestra which is composed of students from the Texas Tech band, stated Trainer.

"I would also like to thank the Aggies, and Engineers for the use of their auditoriums; the physical education department for the use of the gym; the Journalism department for the use of the base; the Textile engineers for dyeing materials; the home economic department for use of labs in making costumes; the music department for copying music, KSEL for radio publicity; and the downtown merchants for helping with props and publicity."

Egyptian Student Wants Agriculture Extension Courses

Henry G. Orfall, French school graduate in Alexandria, Egypt, has written Mr. Millikin, Head of the Extension Division, to apply for courses in Agriculture in general, specializing in Agricultural Industries and Horticulture. The work that he has done is the same as the work of a Junior in an American college.

"In a letter to Millikin, he states, 'The name of your college as having an Extension Division for study by correspondence on Agriculture, was given me by the American Consulate, Alexandria. The latter courses on Agriculture in Egypt are not what they should be and the lack of Agriculture schools in my part of the world is great. I would appreciate it very much if you could help in getting me started on the above courses.'" department for copying music, KSEL for radio publicity; and the downtown merchants for helping with props and publicity."

Theta Sigma Phi Conducts Initiation For Six Girls

Alpha Upsilon Chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism fraternity for women, Lubbock, Texas, held initiation and pledge services, April 1, at the home of Bea Green, president.

The following became members: Lotta Bess Baldwin, senior, Lamesa, Texas; Lou Burns, junior, Houston, Texas; Bobbie Childers, junior, Tulsa, Texas; Winifred Larabee, senior, Lubbock, Texas; and Vera Maas, junior, Vernon, Texas. Each new member was presented a nosegay of violets by the chapter.

Pledge service for the spring semester followed the initiation. Margene Fry, Lubbock, junior; Joyce Hendrick, Clovis, New Mexico, senior; Mary King, Graham, junior were pledged to Alpha Upsilon chapter.

Wells Wins Saber Honors At Fencing Tournament

Led by Keith Wells, five Tech fencers invaded Dallas last weekend in the Dallas Open Fencing Tournament and came home with honors. This tournament was on an individual basis. Wells won the saber championship. In doing so he defeated Italian Duke Clem D'al-Bergo from Galveston, who has been fighting since his eighth birthday and has studied in some of the finest fencing academies of the world.

Against other opposition that had such training and much experience Jack Drain fought to the semi-finals in the saber, and Jimmy Kilpatrick and Tom Gardner went to the semi-finals in the foil division. John Harvey also fought some matches. The Tech fencers fought about 70 fights during the tournament.

The Know

By TWO WHO DO

By TWO WHO DO

Stayed out of El Cuspidor. Didn't want to ruin our reputation. Heh, heh.

One More Vote: Posters, posters, posters, and still more posters. Troy Davidson was conducting a one man waste paper drive trying to keep the illegal ones off the voting booths Tuesday. Bobby Lewis tripped on the smooth gym floor and fell flat on his well-at the political rally which also fell a little flat. Terry Sanders stopped the show with his speech to make Mary King La Vent ed. Tech never before saw such campaigning—stickers, chewing gum, drug store cowboys, loud speakers, paint, music, match folders, everything except Bob Watson's air plane which was to fly around the flagpole dropping pamphlets but never appeared. Were some of the other candidates watching for it with a shot gun huh?

Easter Egg Parade: Baby Thomas as did all the Ko Sharis had a wonderful time in Santa Fe. The Kappa Sigs from the U of New Mexico were there to entertain them. Bruce Pipkin and Maxey and James Pinson just happened to be there last weekend, too. Every one saw stars at DFD presentation. There were millions of party silver ones. Ask Steve Payne how many. Marilyn Snider was at the dance. Last year's La Ventana editor, she's an airline hostess and is flying to Mexico City. Spring Fever Again: Betty Renner is engaged to a Teasipper. Jamie Trainer and Bob Coffee spend a lot of time together. Dorothy Dods and Paul Turpin are engaged.

Who-o-aaahh: Students shined their boots and caught up on their sleep for the big weekend. Jay Denton was a weary looking character after one of the booster trips, glazed eyes and he was muttering, something about playing "You Are My Sunshine" all day long. Jim Humphreys is going to ride a Brahma steer tomorrow and he's looking for someone to hold his teeth. If we will, can we share the prize, Jim?

The What-Is-This-World-Coming- To Dept.: Burl Hubbard was playing his accordion with Hop Halsey's Drug Store Cowboys in the bookstore Tuesday afternoon. Now we can truthfully say that we've seen everything.

F.F.A. INITIATION
M. B. Harrison, associate professor, Agricultural Economics Department will be initiated as an honorary member of the Tech Chapter of F.F.A., Monday night, April 14, Henry Stence, president of the chapter announced.

Forty-Six Students In College Rodeo Events

All Western Days at Tech will be highlighted by the two all college rodeo performances which will be held at 8 p. m. Friday and 2 p. m. Saturday at the arena 1 mile south of Lubbock High School on the corner of 42nd Street and Avenue U, according to Roy Boone, Rodeo manager.

Forty-six Tech students have filed forms as entries in the performances for 6 contests, which are bareback bronc riding, bell calf roping, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, ribbon roping, and bull riding.

Three West Texas cattlemen of Seymour will judge the events. They are: L. D. Boone, L. R. Burns and Bob Haley.

After the Grand entry, in which the 18 women sponsors, cowboys and cowgirls will ride, the following events will take place:

Bareback bronc riding, bell calf roping, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, sponsors contest, ribbon roping and bull riding.

In the bell calf roping contest six roping calves are turned into the arena simultaneously. One calf will have a bell around his neck. Five ropers will start together. The man who catches one of the un-belled calves, ties him down, re-mounts and catches the calf with the bell around his neck wins the contest.

The ribbon roping is also an interesting event. Several steers are turned loose in the arena and each team, consisting of two men on one horse, must rope the steer and tie a ribbon on his tail. Their time ends when the steer is turned loose with a ribbon on his tail.

All of the stock used in these rodeos belongs to Mr. Holland Edwards of Lubbock.

Jim Brown and Bill Reid are the clowns for the rodeo.

The events and contestants entered are:

Bareback Bronc Riding: Joe Stickney, Bob Mendenhall, Jack Buchanan, Edd Hughs, Grady Payne, John Mather, Glenn Parrott, Bob Magee, Howard Harrington, Glenn Phillips, Robert Coffey, Bill Hooks, Fraser Boone, James Gimmell, James Wallace, J. E. Reeves, Wesley Martin, Don Morrison and Willis Price.

Saddle Bronc Riding: Jim Brown, James Wallace, Bob Mendenhall, J. E. Reeves, Edd Hughs, Jim Herring, Bill Fly, Bates Witt and Rich Miller.

Calf Roping: Leon Jones, Frank Miller, Guy Cowden, H. G. Bedford.

TRACK ACTIVITIES

West Texas State has temporarily suspended track activities during spring football practice, according to information received by Athletic director Morley Jennings. As a result of the announcement, the dual meet scheduled here for April 17 and a scheduled triangular meet set for April 26 at Canyon have been cancelled.

Arrangements for a meet to be held here April 26 are in progress, Jennings said.

Texas Mines, Hardin-Simmons, and possibly New Mexico will be invited to participate.

Basketball Crown Goes To Centaurs

The Tech social clubs wound up the 1947 intramural basketball season March 31, with the Centaurs winning the championship in an easy 32-13 win over the Wranglers.

The Wranglers, previously undefeated and winners over the Centaurs earlier in the season, appeared disorganized throughout the game and never once threatened to overtake the revenge-bent, smooth-working Centaur combination.

Combining an effective fast break with smooth ball handling, the victory bound Centaurs moved out in front early in the contest and never gave the hapless Wranglers a chance to even up the one sided score.

Stark took scoring honors for the Centaurs with 8 points and Chuck Miller rang up 6 to lead the Wranglers.

Gamble High Scorer

J. L. Gamble, lanky Wrangler center copped scoring honors for the season with a total of 63 points with Griffin, Centaur center trailing close behind with 55. Stark, also a Centaur took third place with 48.

Following are the season standings:

TEAM	W	L	TP	OP
Centaurs	6	1	218	154
Wranglers	6	1	185	172

Huffman, Nichols Accept NMU Positions

Robison Becomes Basketball Coach For Tech Raiders

NICHOLS

HUFFMAN

ROBISON

The University of New Mexico twice reached on to the Tech campus last week to select its coaches, Earl Huffman, Raider backfield and basketball coach, was chosen head football mentor for the Lobos and Walker Nichols, line coach and track tutor, was chosen line coach at the New Mexico school in Albuquerque. Both men have assumed their duties there.

Polk Robison, Professor of Physical Education, will succeed Huffman as basketball mentor of the Raiders. Robison, coach of ends and chief scout last season, served as basketball coach and sole assistant to Head Coach Dell Morgan from 1942 to 1946. He spent his athletic eligibility at Tech and served as coach at Burk Burnett High for seven years.

Successors to positions vacated by Huffman and Nichols have not been named, but the Athletic Council is informally considering several men and it expects to start selections within a few days. Maxey McKnight, senior student from Littlefield, will accompany the Tech squad to New Mexico this week end. McKnight has been assisting Nichols with the track team this spring.

The loss of the coaches once again depletes the Tech staff which had been at full strength for only seven months since 1942. Morley Jennings, Athletic Director, Billy Brown, assistant coach and trainer, Morgan and Robison remain on the staff.

Huffman came to Tech in 1935 after coaching at White Deer and Lubbock High schools. He joined the army in 1942 and coached two service elevens before returning here. He was head of the Kessler Field athletics in 1944 and first assistant coach of the Fort Worth Skyriders in 1945.

Nichols, the "watch charm guard" of the 1933-36 Raiders, was the captain of the team his final year. He joined the Lubbock High coaching staff in 1938 and was line coach there for three years. The Westerners went to the state high school finals his first year there and won the state crown the next season.

Nichols came to Tech in 1941 as freshman football coach and track mentor, and was advanced to varsity line coach in 1943—a year when the Raiders were co-champions of the Border conference. He joined the navy in mid-1942 and served as gunnery officer before returning to Tech in January of 1946.

Members of the Athletic Council and coaching staff expressed regret at the loss of Nichols and Huffman, and agreed that the two would have complete Tech support except for one day—next November 22 when the Raiders meet the Lobos in a Border conference tilt in Albuquerque.

FENCERS

Tech Fencers engage Texas A. & M. and the Galveston Fencing Club in Dallas tomorrow. Tech and Galveston are tied for the lead in the league. Coach George Beakley said he is taking ten men besides himself. They are Keith Walls, Jack Drain, John Harvey, Harry Gunn, Jimmy Kilpatrick, Tom Gardner, Mark Smith, Jack Carnell, Sammy Self, and Bill Stevens.

Twelve Texas Tech Basketball Stars Have Been Given Double-T Letters

Twelve Texas Tech basketball players have been awarded Double-T letters for the 1946-47 campaign. It was announced this week. Recommendations of Earl Huffman, cage coach who has moved to New Mexico university, have been approved by the Athletic Council.

Letters will go to: Ardis Barton, Springlake; Williams Banks, Vernon; Wayne Bowles, Lubbock; Winston Churchill, Sterling City; Eugene Gibson, Lakeview; Don Grove, Monument, N. M.; Gene Hardey, Stockton, Calif.; Ernest Hawkins, Lamesa; Garland Head, Clovis, N. M.; James Hill, Amarillo; Roland Nabors, Lubbock; and Roy Williams, Abernathy.

Head, Hardey and Williams have completed their basketball competition for Tech as seniors. Gibson and Hill are freshmen and the remainder sophomores. All played in a majority of games during the past season.

Head was all-Border conference guard for the third year, the first man in conference history to get this honor three times. He was on the honor team of 1942-43 and repeated in the 1945-46 and 1946-47 seasons, following Army service.

Golfers Placed Second In Tournament Saturday

The Tech golfers beat New Mexico A&M by 16 strokes and lost by seven strokes to Texas Mines in El Paso last Saturday. The team total was 325 for Texas Mines, 332 for Tech, and 348 for New Mexico A&M. Individually E. H. McKinney had an 81, Jerry Stoltz 81, Jack Walker 84, and Joe Horne 86.

This Saturday the team will engage New Mexico University in a dual match in Albuquerque. Two weeks later the Conference championship will be played over the same course.

This week's team will include Stoltz, Horne, Walker and either McKinney or Bill Baxter.

Training Resumed By Football Squad

The Tech football squad resumed spring training April 7, after a brief lay off due to Easter vacation with stiff workouts topped off by an hours scrimmage each afternoon.

The accent seems to be on passing as Coach Morgan has been experimenting with various combinations in an effort to smooth out their timing and organize his material in an effective passing offense.

Coach Robison has been putting his line charges through extensive blocking drills to bolster their already formidable defensive strength.

Practice will continue through this week and next week and will probably wind up with an intrasquad scrimmage under the lights on Friday, April 18.

IVEY IS BACK

The Tech tennis squad was strengthened this week by the return of Glenn Ivey, present Lubbock city champion to the team. Ivey will probably accompany the team to Albuquerque this weekend, according to Coach Polk Robison.

C. A. White, president of the Texas Association of Public Accountants, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Tech Accounting Society, April 1.

White pointed out the fact that the profession of public accounting is the most restricted one in the public field today. "While 95 per cent of the persons trained for the legal field pass their bar examination and are admitted to legal practice, only around ten percent of persons with the educational and experience requirements of public accounting become qualified public accountants," he stated.
