

More Than 80 Frosh Seek Council Positions

Freshman Council election is scheduled for tomorrow.

All freshmen living in dorms will vote at noon in their respective dorms. Fee slips must be presented to qualify for voting.

One person from each dorm will be elected.

Lubbock freshmen will vote in the east foyer of first floor in the Ad Building between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Friday or the Tech Union at noon.

Freshmen only are allowed to vote.

EXPENSE ACCOUNTS must be turned in by 1 p.m. today by all candidates regardless of money already spent or candidates will be disqualified.

Expense accounts may be turned in to the student council office. More than 80 candidates have filed petitions.

Candidates from Men's Dorm No. 8 are Don Loving, Dennis McCarty, Charles Tigner; from Men's Dorm No. 6, Serge Chernay and Charles Goodbread.

OTHERS FROM Bledsoe Hall are Mike Armstrong, Tod Callett, John Clayton Walling, Bob Rippey and Ronnie Thorn; from Sneed Hall, Dal Alexander and Mike Davis; from West Hall, Tim Ritter; and from Gordon Hall, David Groves and Allen Nichols.

Girls competing in Knapp Hall are Lynn Churchill, Glenda Akin, Elaine Bowron, Eilan Chedey, Pat Crouch, Nancy Eastwood, Jane Ann Henry, Eva Jo Miller and Annette Morris.

Others are Judy Pettitt, Lynn Ragsdale, Mary Sue Schwartz, Dorranna Scott, Geraldine Sizemore and Mary Ann Weaver.

Students from Drane Hall are Sally Bowen, Nancy Carmichael, Nancy Ezell, Suzanne Halbrook, Melinda Harrison, and Kathleen Kelley.

Others are Marlee Kochis, Jeanell Lambert, Amy Lloyd, Betty Sue Meinecke, Gail Pfluger, Jody Ruh, Julia Steed, Marjan Stone, and Kay Woody.

Others are Wayne Isom, Donna Sue Keith, Donna Mathus, Bob O'Neil, Myrl Raines, Don Sledge, Rita Speights, James Tabor, Johnny Webb, Donald Weldon, Carol Wheeler, Jane Williams and Joanna Winn.

DON SPENCER, senior, and Gail Petersen, junior, sort out the petitions for Freshman Council. Eleven dorm representatives and eight off-campus representatives will be elected Friday. Additional members will be chosen in the all-campus elections Oct. 8.

AT 7 P.M. FRIDAY

First Pep Rally Set

Texas Tech spirit will be up in the air Friday when the first official pep rally is held at 7 p.m. at the newly finished Saddle Tramp Circle.

The rally will give Tech voices and spirits a workout for the game between Tech and West Texas State the following night.

A roaring fire will be built in the circle's pit for its first use as a pep rally meeting place.

The rally will begin at 7 p.m. with a yell supported by the Tech band. Next will come the introduction of cheerleaders, Student Council officers and the band director, Prof. D. O. Wiley. Stan Powers, ex-cheerleader and chairman of the committee sponsoring the rally, will make the introductions.

Then, Joe Naylor, head cheerleader, will introduce football coach Dee Weaver, who, in turn, will introduce the football players.

After a session of yells and band numbers, Dr. Lewis Jones, Dean of Men, will speak. He will be introduced by Powers.

After two more yells the Matador Song will be sung.

"We would like for the dormities to attend in groups," said Powers.

Cheerleader Naylor stated that he hopes all students will learn the Matador Song and school yells before attending the rally.

The Saddle Tramp Circle is located next to the new Men's Gym, just north of the East Engineering Building.

NBC to Televis Tech-Missouri Tilt

by JENNICE MARKS

Word was received earlier this week from Lindsay Nelson of the National Broadcasting Company sports department that the Dec. 20 basketball game between Texas Tech and the University of Missouri will be nationally televised as part of the Game of the Week series.

The game with the Big Eight conference member will be played here in the Coliseum at 2 p.m. on the day that classes are dismissed for the Christmas holidays.

POLK ROBINSON, Tech basketball coach, stated that this game would be a "tremendous advertisement for Tech as a whole. It will put Tech before the nation and we will gain much recognition."

Concerning the half-time program, Coach Robinson said, "We want the best. Right now the program is still in the discussion stage." He is going to work with the Student Council to plan a program that will "show student life at its best on the Texas Tech campus."

THE BEGINNING of the effort to get the game televised started about a month ago when Bill Holmes, publicity director for the Tech athletic department, was in Chicago attending the All-Star baseball game. He talked to Lindsay Nelson and found there was an opening on that date.

Help also came from C. W. Ratliff, of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, whose brother-in-law is in charge of NBC sports. Joe Bryant of Lubbock TV station KCBQ who has served on a national NBC committee also aided in the drive.

The result of this work came Monday when Nelson called DeWitt Weaver, Tech athletic department head, to schedule televising the game.

Robinson also said that "As far as we know, this is the only game in this southwestern area that will be televised."

Tech Hosts Journalists

Some 150 high school journalists are expected to attend the annual Texas Tech Journalism Day sponsored Friday by the Tech journalism department and the West Texas High School Press Assn.

Invitations have been sent to high school journalists throughout West Texas and Eastern New Mexico

"THE EVENT HAS been completely restyled this year into what promises to be a very high point for area high school journalism students," said W. E. Garts, head of Tech journalism department.

Gordon Downum, West Texas High School Press Association president, said outstanding speakers, a constructive panel, an awards banquet and guided tours have been scheduled for the one-day clinic.

JOURNALISM DAY will be a follow-up to a week-long yearbook and newspaper clinic held in August on the Tech Campus.

Delegates have been invited to attend the Texas Tech-West Texas State football game at 8 p.m. after the Journalism Day banquet.

Spots Open In 'Tramps'

Applications for membership in the Saddle Tramps are now being taken. Qualified to apply for membership in this organization are male students who have acquired 30 semester hours.

THE SADDLE TRAMPS, which were organized to promote school spirit, can be seen at all football and basketball games and helping with campus events such as the bicycle race. The members of this group are also responsible for the Saddle Tramp Circle on the campus.

Anyone interested in becoming a Saddle Tramp should write a letter of application to James Goggan, 335 Sneed, or Bob Dyer, 227 Dorm 8. The members will be chosen on the basis of these letters at the second Saddle Tramp meeting.

THE APPLICANTS who are chosen for membership will then be notified.

The deadline for letters of application will be Sept. 29.

New Latin American Program Aids Students

A new instructional program in Latin American Area Studies, approved by the Texas Commission on Higher Education, is now in effect at Texas Tech.

This program is an interdepartmental major giving students a liberal education in interrelated fields.

It provides a basic training for work in export-import houses, manufacturing concerns, shipping companies and airway systems. It also helps open opportunities in government, journalism, teaching and translating or interpreting.

DR. JOHN C. DOWLING, professor and head of the department of foreign languages, is chairman of the interdepartmental committee on Latin American Area Studies. Student advisor is Raymond D. Mack, assistant professor of government.

Students may obtain a bachelor of arts degree in Latin American Studies through this program.

Tech has been laying the foundation for this program since 1953, Dowling said. Four years ago, Latin American Studies at Tech were offered as an optional grouping to be taken in addition to a departmental major.

At that time a major could not be created because the courses were not offered with sufficient frequency to assure students they could fit the courses into a degree program, Dowling added.

"WE HAVE LABORED long and hard for this program and are quite gratified that the Commission on Higher Education approved it," Mack said.

"Our program has been built upon existing courses taught by highly qualified specialists, in the Latin American field," Dowling reported.

Requirements for a major are 30 semester hours including courses in government, economics, history, sociology, and language. A minor may be chosen from an allied field.

Ten upperclassmen are expected to be majoring in Latin American Area Studies this year. Within five years, 30 to 40 are expected to be in the program, Dowling said.

TECH students may combine specialization in Latin American Area Studies with anthropology, economics, government, history, sociology, or Spanish.

Members of the Latin American Area Studies staff are Dowling, Mack, Dr. Julian Rivers, assistant professor of sociology; Dr. Harley D. Oberhelman, assistant professor of Spanish American literature; D. Eunice J. Gates, professor of Spanish American literature; Dr. David Vigness, associate professor of history and Thomas F. Wiesen, economics professor.

Mack and Dowling are both charter members of the Rocky Mountain Council for Latin American Studies. Mack is Council president and Dowling is a member of the board of directors.

Insurance ID's Ready

Students who have completed insurance cards and have paid for the insurance may pick up their insurance identification cards in the Student Council office.

The cards bear the name of the student and that of the insurance, showing dates during which the student is insured.

ANY STUDENT wishing to file claims for damages covered by the insurance may pick up claim forms in the Student Council office.

Students still wanting to take out insurance may do so by picking up an insurance card in the Student Council office and mailing it with a check to the Student Insurance Fund, Box 4177, Tech Station.

Dancers Beware!

Attention all Techsians! Be on the alert for people who like to square dance.

All square dancers are wanted by the Tech Union in connection with the first square dance this year.

All varieties of dancers are being pursued for participation in beginning and intermediate square dancing.

In the event of capture, report with prisoners to the Rec. Hall at 7 p.m. There you will be rewarded with two and a half hours of informal record dancing.

A Carpenter Without His Hammer—

Nothing has ever replaced the professor in the classroom, and nothing has ever replaced the main tool of teaching and learning—the book. You may forget, but your books won't. At 4:00 a.m. before your exams, your professors are getting their much needed rest. But your books are working with you—that is—if you have your own books.

Parties Scheduled In Girls' Dormitories

As a part of fall activities, all women's dormitories are having all-dorm parties.

At these parties the dean of women and the assistant deans of women, the dorm officers and legislators will be introduced and refreshments served.

Horn Hall will have its party tonight at 10. Weeks and Doak Halls had parties Wednesday night. Drane and Knapp Halls were earlier in the week.

Drane Hall is also planning a candle-light installation service for new officers Wednesday at 10 p.m. The 1957-58 officers will install the new executives.

New officers are Shirley Stephens, president; Carolyn Jenkins, vice president; Marilyn Gardner, secretary; Frances Taylor, treasurer and intramurals chairman; Donna Sue Christopher, AWS representative; Kay Kring, chaplain; Judy Chase, foods chairman; and Kyle Thornton, publicity chairman.

Pikes Schedule

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity will start their fall activities with a football dance following the first home game of the season Saturday night.

Following the Texas Tech-West Texas State football battle the Pikes will entertain dates and guests at their lodge.

Music for dancing will be furnished by a hi-fi and refreshments will be served.

Town Girls Form Group

The Town Girls Club met Wednesday noon in the Tech Union and elected Julianne Loomis president.

The rest of the officer slate will be filled at the next meeting. The club meets at Wednesday noon luncheons every week. All girls living off campus are eligible for club membership.

The sign-up list will be at the union newsstand this week.

Grave Concern

Here we go again, heading into another fun-filled weekend. I haven't heard, but I imagine there are a number of parties planned for after game activities.

I'll be looking into this matter a little more closely as the weekend draws nearer. Of course all I will do is look, because, you see, I am GDI (Good — Independent), and independents go home and go to bed after ball games.

On the other hand, if it were requested of me to attend a function of this nature, I might be forced to do so just to learn what goes on. I'll be viewing the situation with grave concern.

More about new men's dorms— Before, I hadn't been getting to bed early enough to notice this fact, but the other night I was lying in the rack and all at once began hearing soft voices coming from the adjoining room, and this gave me the first clue that the walls aren't "too" thick.

The conversation I heard went as follows: "Last year when I was a freshman I had just begun to play poker and I was playing with these guys and I was a little ahead."

"This one hand, I started drawing my cards, and I drew the first flush I had ever had, and then we started betting. Everybody dropped out but me and this other guy, and he would bump me and I would bump him, and this went on for a long time, and I, no it was him, who finally called."

"I proudly laid out my flush and he smiled. Ohhh — that !!~!!", he laid out a straight flush, and I lost my _____ (money). I haven't played much poker since then."

The other boys in the room gave a good chuckle, and the shuffle of cards was audible as they began their first game of the season.

What I have been trying to get around to saying is that the acoustics in the new dorms are very good, which has a very bad effect on the quiet students.

The impression I get is that the peg boards above the beds simply replaced the walls in that particular section. One doesn't need a radio, he can hear a dozen others.

The pep rally Friday night ought to be a thing out of this world. There should be thousands of students at the Saddle Tramp Circle when the event starts, and they should cause so much commotion that the students who failed to show up will come on over.

Change, rather than any one particular season, is what fascinates most of us.

From every viewpoint, the world is full of opportunities, especially in a country where free enterprise prevails.

To plead that one does not own and can't drive an automobile would be to confess that one is un-American.

The outlook looks sinister on the morning after when the husband is apprised of actions the memory of which eludes him.

If you get around to saying what you really think, you're likely to regret it for weeks.

It seems to me too much of my life has been wasted while waiting for my wife or somebody's wife to finish her drink.

Hot Checks Lead To Heap'o Trouble

Techsans Beware fill fill fill

As most students who use a checking account know, the places on campus where one can cash a check are the College Book Store, Room Reservations (for room and board only), Tech Union and the Business Manager's Office (for fees only).

When a check is returned, it goes to the Room Reservations office and is routed back to the agent in one of the four places mentioned above, who cashed the check.

The place which cashed the check either calls or writes the student who has a check returned. This is the first notice to the student.

If the student does not report to claim the hot check, he is then given a final notice. The period between each notice is about one week. If he still doesn't show up, then the report of the hot check is turned over to the Dean of Men's Office.

Then, if everything is checked to make sure the student received his notices and made no effort to make them good, he will be dropped from the rolls of the college.

This year another regulation has been added regarding hot checks, and the present regulations will still be in effect.

The new regulation provides that on the issuance of a second hot check on campus, the student will be asked to come by the Dean of Men's Office. Here, the student's ID card will be marked with the words "No Checks" by the Dean of Men, and he will sign the card.

When this is done, the student will not be allowed to cash any checks at the designated places on campus until the next semester when he receives a new ID card.

This is strictly for on campus purposes, and if other business firms outside the campus want to cash a student's check who has his ID marked, it is of no concern of the College.

When dealing with matters concerning hot checks, the College will only act when the student is clearly at fault. Watch your checks, don't give them reason to act.

Techsans Talk Back

EDITOR:

Having worked with, and as a member of, the ill fated Traffic Committee last year, I would like to say that for the first time I have been a student at Texas Tech I have not resented having to pay the parking fee that supports the Security Patrol.

I think that the "new approach" to law enforcement now being made by the security officers is great. The emphasis on education, no firearms and the idea that the student can have a paved lot on which to park is long overdue.

Thank goodness that some action is finally being taken to help rather than to confuse, the situation. It is a pity that the lots were not paved before school started this fall and perhaps this is poor management, but how can one criticize the long awaited arrival of non-sink-in parking lots?

Of course, $5 is a lot of money to a college student, but I think that those who must pay the fee should be darn thankful that they live in a land where they can afford to have the car that causes the fee to be paid.

However, even though ours is a rich country, there is no excuse for wasting what we have. I have heard a rumor that the paved parking lot behind the Journalism building is going to be torn up and that flowers are to be planted in its place. This, of course, seems too ridiculous to believe but, Mr. Editor, will you check on it just for kicks?

DON LEDWIG
Tech Student
EDITOR'S NOTE

According to Elo J. Urbanovsky, campus planner, the parking lot immediately west of the Journalism Building will not be void for campus parking until construction on the new classroom building is begun. He could not quote an exact date for the start of construction.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"I TAKE IT YOU'LL BE LEAVING FOR VACATION DIRECTLY AFTER CLASS?"

★ "A Little Bit" ★

Walking across the campus the other day, in a fog (mental), I almost ran into the statue of Will Rogers and his ever faithful companion, Soapsuds.

I PAUSED FOR a moment, after the near-miss, and thought about the different beliefs and legends that have grown up around this statue over the years, since Amon G. Carter built it in honor of his very close friend, Will Rogers.

A freshman, almost immediately after moving into a dorm, will come into contact with a practice that has grown up since the statue was built.

HE WILL BE approached by an upperclassman, who will try to sell him a share in the statue. This offer is almost always accompanied by an attempt to collect a property deposit from the freshman.

A word of warning to any freshman who is approached by an upperclassman with such an offer: don't buy anything or pay any deposit unless it is signed by a college official or stamped "Approved by the Student Council." CERTAIN LEGENDS have arisen concerning the Will Rogers statue that give it the power of movement and perception.

One such legend has it that, when a certain type of coed passes close to the statue, the Will Rogers portion will dismount and stand in silent tribute beside the Soapsuds portion.

There may not be much truth in this legend, but it is colorful and humorous.

THE STATUE HAS withstood very well the weather and other abuses thrown at it. The years of weathering have left few marks.

An abuse that left more marks was a coating of pink paint, supposedly left by a group of irate students, and a subsequent wire-brushing, to remove the paint. A group of student council members and other students spent several hours getting Will and Soapsuds shipshape and shining after that episode.

OVER THE YEARS, students from other schools have altered the statue, but most of the alterations were of a temporary nature, and designed to be comical.

Dear Fellow Student:
As you already know, the parking fee for this year has increased from $3.50 per semester to $5 per semester. The fee will pay $3 per semester parking permit.

It is usually our nature to resent any increase in price service rendered, regardless whether it is a parking fee, the tax, or gasoline tax. To obtain the most from every dollar spent, and this was the attitude that reigned over the time of Directors at the time that parking fees were increased.

In order to evaluate the problem of allocating funds to introduce you to the process faced by the Board member the subject of parking in a growing Texas Tech.

The college had spent July 10, 1958, $119,523 on lots. There have been major changes since this time. The above figure was quoted in the total need.

This money was made available through the Building Amendment income, which forecast at approximately $100,000, a figure $4,000,000 over the total need.

The Board was then faced with the problem of allocating the available income so as to benefit the largest percentage of students as well as the physical plant of the school.

Techsans Talk Back

Dear Fellow Student:

As you already know, the parking fee for this year has been increased from $3.50 per semester to $5 per semester. The freshman will pay $3 per semester for a parking permit.

It is usually our nature to resent any increase in price for a service rendered, regardless of whether it is a parking fee, cigarette tax, or gasoline tax. We seek to obtain the most from every dollar spent, and this was the attitude that reigned over the Board of Directors at the time the parking fees were increased.

In order to evaluate the decision of the Board, I would like, briefly, to introduce you to the problems faced by the Board members on the subject of parking in an ever-growing Texas Tech.

The college had spent, up to July 10, 1958, $119,523 on parking lots. There have been many other changes since this time, when the above figure was quoted by the Board.

This money was made available through the Building Fund Amendment income, which was forecast at approximately $8,000,000, a figure $4,000,000 short of the total need.

The Board was then faced with the problem of allocating available income so as to benefit the largest percentage of students as well as the physical plant of the school.

The Board of Directors was faced with one of two alternatives concerning parking:

A. Spend the available income on parking lots, a program which would benefit only those students possessing cars.

B. Spend the available income on classrooms, laboratories, classroom and laboratory equipment, and other needed structures on the campus. This plan would, of course, benefit all students.

As students of a growing institution, we can readily see why Plan B was adopted by the Directors of Tech.

The income from parking fee permits will be used to complete construction on the now existing parking lots, and to provide funds for maintenance of the College Security Force.

As you can see while driving around the campus, many paved spaces have been made available during summer construction. This increase in paved parking spaces has been made available at a cost of $55 per space.

Maintenance cost will total approximately $2 per space per year. With these figures in mind, one can readily understand the problems faced by the Board of Directors when construction allocations are made.

If there should be further questions concerning our parking situation, feel free to call upon us at any time.

Tech Acts As Center For Language Study

Texas Tech is helping provide a better understanding and greater interest of languages used in Latin America and the United States by acting as headquarters for an organization which carries on this plan.

Called the "Oficina Nacional de Correspondencia Escolar," the organization has as its director Dr. Harley D. Oberhelman, assistant professor foreign languages at Tech.

ITS HEADQUARTERS were moved here from the University of Kansas when Oberhelman came from that institution to join the Tech faculty.

The American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese sponsor the organization that is also known as the National Bureau of Educational Correspondence, Oberhelman said.

"Names of Latin American correspondents are furnished to the American students of Spanish by the National Bureau," he explained.

"THE LATIN-AMERICAN students will answer in Spanish the letters they receive in English from high school students in the United States," he added.

"Letters from Spanish-speaking boys and girls make modern Spanish America and Spain come alive for language students here," he pointed out.

Rodeo Club Meets

The rodeo association will meet 7 p.m. Thursday at the Aggie Auditorium to fill several vacancies in the slate of officers.

Offices to be filled are vice president, secretary, marshal and reporter. Nominations will be made for the board of directors and two faculty sponsors.

Reports on last year's rodeo and the building of arenas for this year's rodeo will also be given.

ONCE MORE UNTO THE BREACH

Today begins my fifth year of writing this column, and what an eventful five years it has been! What things have these old eyes not seen! What great discoveries have rocked the world—the anti-proton, for instance, and the anti-neutron, and high-low split, and Brigitte Bardot!

In these five years it has also been discovered that American smokers like two kinds of cigarettes—filter and non-filter. The Philip Morris Company makes both kinds. I mention the Philip Morris Company because they pay me to mention the Philip Morris Company. They sponsor this column. I write it and then they give me money. Then I take the money and pay my grocer, my butcher, my gardener, and my four madrigal singers. In this way full employment is maintained and we avoid a repetition of the Panic of 1873 when bread riots killed over 98 million people in Muncie, Indiana, and millions of others were reduced to ghost-writing Ph. D. theses to keep body and soul together.

But enough of gloom. Let us get back to cheerful subjects, like the products of the Philip Morris Company. For those of you who wish filter cigarettes there is Marlboro, which now, more than ever, gives you a lot to like—a brand new improved filter and a wonderful flavor that comes breezing right through. For those of you who wish non-filter cigarettes, there is Philip Morris, a mild natural blend, flavorful, fresh, and thoroughly agreeable. For those of you who can't decide between filters or non-filters but have an affinity for packages, I should like to point out that both Marlboro and Philip Morris come in both the crushproof Flip-Top Box and the good old-fashioned Soft Pack, and you will surely want several of each for your collection.

Speaking for myself, I smoke both Marlboro and Philip Morris in both packs. What I do is make kind of a fun thing out of it. In my bedroom I have four signs, one on each wall, which say in turn: "PHILIP MORRIS—SOFT PACK", "PHILIP MORRIS—FLIP-TOP", "MARLBORO—SOFT PACK" and "MARLBORO—FLIP-TOP". When I get up in the morning I put on a blindfold and then my faithful cat Rover spins me around six times and then, with many a laugh and cheer, I walk forward with my finger outstretched and the first sign I touch is the cigarette I smoke that day!

As you can imagine, this little game has been a great source of merriment to Rover and me, except for one untoward incident one morning. I was stumbling around in my blindfold and fell out the window right on top of a man named Fred R. Timken, a census taker, and broke all his lead pencils. He was cross as a bear, and though I offered him both Philip Morris and Marlboro in both the Flip-Top Box and Soft Pack, he refused to be mollified. In fact, he refused to put my name down in the census, so when you read population figures of the United States, will you please add one?

But I digress. We were speaking of Philip Morris and Marlboro who will bring you this column throughout the school year. In this space I will take up vital aspects of undergraduate life, like high-low split and Brigitte Bardot, and it is my fondest hope that the column will be half as much fun for you as it is for me.

The makers of Marlboro and Philip Morris welcome you to another year of fun and games from Old Max, and another year of good smoking from us. Filter or non-filter, pick what you please—and what you pick will please you.

Don't YOU Be left out of the greatest LA VENTANA ever.

26 Per Cent Rise

New Freshman Crop Boosts ROTC Numbers

Tech's Army ROTC unit has increased its total enrollment by 26 per cent this semester with more than a 100 per cent jump in freshman members, Col. James B. Carvey, ROTC unit commander, has announced.

The Army corps now has 417 cadet members as compared to 311 last fall while freshmen number 208 while only 100 were enrolled last year.

AS PART of the Army's expansion program at Tech, the corps will have its own band this year. Equipment for 16 bandsmen has been provided but a larger enrollment is expected.

The colonel also noted that varsity football players in ROTC will have a special drill period this year — at 1 p.m. each Thursday — two hours earlier than the usual drill session. This will permit them to get both Army drill fundamentals and gridiron practice into their schedules.

THIS YEAR 40 freshmen football players elected to take the Army ROTC route toward earning a commission, he said.

Tech Students Plan Development of Park

Development of some 3,300 acres in Dallas park area and environs will be planned by Texas Tech park management students.

The City of Dallas is underwriting the nine-month project, the most extensive ever undertaken by Tech's horticulture and park management department.

TWENTY FOUR SENIOR students will make a detailed study of the White Rock Lake Park and Dallas environs. They will present development plans to L. B. Houston, director of Dallas parks and recreation, May 27-30 in Dallas.

The study will include such individual problems as subdivisions, shopping-centers, office buildings and treatment of properties abutting freeways.

Also to be considered are industrial site planning, and development of major recreation areas, including aquatic facilities, wildlife areas and related problems. The study will comprise the entire work of two Tech courses in landscape design.

THE STUDENTS will present an over-all plan of development and a land-use study. This will be supplemented by detailed plans for specific areas.

The presentation will include working drawings and a series of scale models. Added to these will be sketches and drawings related to individual problems that develop during the study.

Work by students will be supplemented by visiting lecturers from park departments and city planning departments throughout the nation.

DIRECTING THE TECH project is Elo Urbanovsky, horticulture and park management department head, assisted by Asst. Prof. Robert H. Rucker.

The 24 students in the project have a composite total of 43 summers of internships in 18 park agencies in 11 cities. The entire class, accompanied by Urbanovsky and Rucker, is visiting the Dallas area this week (Sept. 22-27) to begin their planning.

Students participating in the project include:

Max Blessingame, Tafford Blessing, Don Bridges, Danny H. Davidson, Robert E. Key, Hershel Lindly, Eddie Marvin, James Caraway, Jim Delashaw, Keith Fortner.

Union Names Committees

Members are being chosen this week for the eleven Texas Tech Union committees. Students interested can sign application blanks in the Union lobby until Wednesday.

Larke A. Harrington, Union director, reports that about 175 applications have been taken. She expects applications this year to top last year's total of 300.

A MAJORITY of requests have been made for building decoration, dance decoration, hospitality, and western dance committees.

Other Union committees include Friday night dance, games and tournaments, movies and lectures, music and exhibits, special events, Tuesday night dance and world travelers.

INTERVIEWS BY the Union Program Council will begin as soon as all applications have been turned in. After the interview the applicant will be placed,

Tech Makes Dining Change

Several changes have been made in the dining hall procedure this fall, according to Mrs. Shirley Schulz, director of Tech food service.

Conveyer belts have been added to all the old dorms. Students must stack their dishes and take them to the conveyer belt. Trash cans will be available for all napkins and other paper material. This new system means that students do not have to sit at consecutive tables.

Since the dining halls in boys dorms 7 and 8 are not completed, the boys are eating in the dining halls of other dorms. Boys from dorm 7 are eating in West Hall and dorms 5 and 6. Boys living in dorm 8 are eating in Doak Hall. The girls of Doak are boarding in Weeks Hall.

Tech Actors Perform During T.C.U. Trip

Tech students making the school trip to the TCU-Tech football game in Fort Worth will have occasion to see the Tech theatre group in action.

The group from Tech will present their performance Tuesday, Oct. 7 in the Higher Education Center on the State Fair Grounds. In conjunction with students and faculty members of 25 colleges and universities will present these programs as a tribute to Texas 101 colleges and universities.

The entertainment presentations will be conducted during the State Fair, October 4-19.

Programs will be presented in the Garden Center Museum of Health and Science, the Museum of Fine Arts, the Hall of State Plaza, the Magnolia stage and in many other commercial exhibits.

All productions inside the Higher Education Center will be on view outside through closed circuit television arranged by a Dallas electronics firm.

Four cameras mounted overhead in the theater will give viewers on the outside terrace and in the lobby and lounge a continuous view of performances.

Visitors will be able to see and hear the action from four different angles simultaneously, much in the manner of the director of a live television network production.

A fifth camera inside the theater will be used between performances to enable visitors to view themselves.

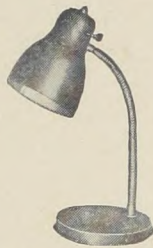

Theater groups are scheduled to appear from Baylor University, The University of Texas, North Texas State College, Navarro Junior College, Abilene Christian College, Austin College, Texas Christian University and Lon Morris College.

Musical and vocal groups will be present from most of the colleges to perform in the Higher Education Center.

Dance groups will represent Southern Methodist University and Texas Southmost College. Informative lectures will be given by representatives of East Texas State College. Public discussion groups will attend from The University of Texas and Wayland Baptist College.

Tech Drills Hard For WTSC Battle

Red Phillips, assistant football coach at Tech stated today, "Our boys will be ready Saturday night." Phillips said that after a meeting, called by the Tech captains Jerry Bell and Mack Pogue Tuesday, the Raiders seem ready to play football.

Regular drills are proceeding on a daily basis and work will taper off Friday. Jerry Bell and Milton Vaughn have been outstanding in this week's drills.

COACH DEWITT WEAVER hasn't derived much satisfaction from last week's opening results as far as Saturday night's contest is concerned. While Tech was upsetting Texas A&M 15-14, West Texas was absorbing a 28-12 loss to Virginia Polytechnical College.

"After all, we spent three weeks getting ready for A&M and have had only three days to prepare for West Texas, a team with an entirely different offense," Weaver pointed out. Also, we've seen West Texas teams look bad the week before meeting us and then play us off the field. And West Texas looked far from bad last week."

TECH'S OWN split-T offense —with Balingier's Jerry Bell at the throttle—is expected to move faster if left halfback Ronnie Rice of Letors is able to start. Tech's leading rusher last season, he played sparingly against A&M because of a virus and hasn't been too strong this week.

On defense, Tech's principal problem will be trying to halt the running power of Fullback Bob Rattliff of Canyon and the passing of Plainview's Bob Davis, Buffalo quarterback.

THOUGHTS of two smashing West Texas State victories in the past two meetings are goading the Red Raiders, whose over-all edge in the rivalry began in Tech's first year, 1925, is 16-6. West Texas trounced Tech 34-14 two years ago and 19-0 last season.

JERRY SELFDRIDGE
... Eyes the Buffaloes

Texas Tech's Red Raiders, to the surprise of an awful lot of people, made some deep impressions on football observers Saturday night. Their 15-14 comeback win will be remembered around the South Plains and elsewhere a long time.

However, we feel a win over the always tough West Texas State eleven would prove even more that the Raider eleven is to be reckoned with this season. The Buffaloes will bring into Jones Stadium a fairly seasoned crew. They have some 13 lads coming back to the fold this season. They feel, as all West Texas State elevens do, that a win over the Raiders constitutes a good year.

If Tech plays with the same fiery determination here Saturday night as it did against the Aggies, I firmly feel that the Buffalo eleven will be sent home with defeat number 2 tacked on their season record.

To help the Raiders keep this new found spirit and determination is important. Weas students can play an important role. It's up to us to continue to back the Raiders to the hilt. School spirit is very important to a football team. They appreciate it, and it proves to others that Tech students back their athletic teams.

Tech Coaches said a big "welcome" this week to the freshmen footballers. These are the boys who will play an important role in the football fortunes of Tech come 1960. From the looks of these boys Tech did all right in this year's recruiting "wars".

SWC title-favorite TCU showed that its headknocking drag-out power runs three and four deep as the Froggies slapped Kansas around 42-0. West Texas Eleven Boasts Good Defense

By RALPH W. CARPENTER

The West Texas State Buffaloes, still smarting from last week's 28-12 loss to Virginia Tech's Gobblers, invade Jones Stadium Saturday night to do battle with Tech's Red Raiders.

Coach Clark Jarnigan, starting his first year at Buffalo land, inherited 13 returning lettermen. Among this group are such rugged footballers as halfback Don Blair and guard Jerry Epps.

THE BUFFS have made it rough on Tech for the past two years. They won in 1956, 34-14 and took the '57 contest by 19-0. The Raiders haven't whipped the Buffaloes since 1955.

The Canyon crew still runs the T and split T, a formation that has carried them a long way in recent football wars. However, losing All-Border Conference fullback Charlie Sanders, plus the three top left halfbacks — Ron Mills, Mark Clapp and Don Beck, was a big blow.

But on the other hand, the Buffs return Bob "Red Dog" Rattliff, 215-pound senior fullback who played right half last year and made All-Border Conference as a freshman, and quarterbacks Bobby Davis and Jack York, who alternated at that position last season.

MAIN LINE losses were tackles Harold Lamb and James Kauffman and center Clarence Whitenberg. However, those positions appear in good shape with such lads as Eddie Meyer, Ray Kauffman and others moving up. Second team All-Conference guard Jerry Epps is back also.

THE BUFFALO offense, which will be directed by Bobby Davis, hasn't jelled as yet. But the Buffs have some fine leather-luggers in Jim Hadaway and Charles Denny at halfback and, of course, Rattliff.

Raiders Meet Buffs' New Coach

For the second week in a row, Texas Tech's Red Raiders will be greeting a new coach when they meet West Texas State here Saturday night.

No introductions will be needed, however, since Clark Jarnigan was Frank Kimbrough's assistant at West Texas several years before the latter relinquished coaching for the athletic director's post this year.

Jim Meyers was making his Southwest Conference debut at Texas A&M last week.

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — The football season is off to a rocky start. We suggest she haul out and get the barnacles off her bottom.

In the meantime, here are our choices for another week:

Notre Dame 24, Indiana 14: The Irish have their best team in four years. Indiana rebuilding under Phil Dickens.

Army 21, South Carolina 7: Cadets' halfback speed too much for Duke's upsetters.

Alabama 14, Louisiana State 0: Bear Bryant gets off to good start at his alma mater.

Ohio State 28, Southern Methodist 14: Ground-gaining juggernaut overpowers slick air game.

Penn. 20, Penn State 8; Steve Sebo's gang getting better every year, Staters lost too many key men.

Tennessee 7, Auburn 0: Volunteers reverse last year's score in Auburn's backyard.

Navy 27, William and Mary 7: The Midshipmen lost a lot of their Cotton Bowl champs, but have plenty left.

Oklahoma 30, West Virginia 14: Coach Pappy Lewis will "sooner" he hadn't made the trip to Norman.

Illinois 15, UCLA 8: The Los Angeles boys fail to bound back from crushing setback by Pitt.

Michigan State 30, California 8: The Spartans again rate with nation's best despite graduation losses.

Rice 19, Stanford 14: Rice not as strong as a year ago but good enough to take the reeling Indians.

The others:

White Sox Clinch 2nd In American League

Chicago (AP) — The Chicago White Sox clinched second place in the American League for the second straight year Wednesday by defeating the Detroit Tigers 4-3 in 10 innings.

Jim Landis, in the game for defensive purposes and playing with eight stitches in his left elbow, opened the Sox 10th with a triple into the right field corner off Tom Morgan who had replaced Frank Lary in the ninth. Sherm Lollar then bounced a single to center through a drawn-in infield to score Landis.

Winning pitcher was Don Rudolph, rookie left hander. Starter Billy Pierce was within one out of his 17th victory in the ninth when Red Wilson looped a single to left center to score Billy Martin and send the game into overtime.
