8 Scholarships To Be Awarded Tech Students

Engineers, Aggies, Spanish Scholars Will Be Eligible For Foundation Funds

A textile engineering, five agricultural and two Spanish scholarships have been announced for Tech students. The textile engineering award is offered by Dean O. V. Adams, of engineering, to the high-ranking sophomore, Borden Company Foundation, Inc. has presented dairy awards amounting to $1,500 to the division of agriculture. Sigma Delta Pi, national honorary Spanish fraternity, is sponsoring one scholarship for a member of the sorority and the other Spanish award is offered by Middlebury college to any undergraduate student of Spanish.

Dean Adams is giving a $200 award next year to the sophomore student with the highest standing in textile engineering during the entire freshman year. It is entitled the Elsie M. Adams Memorial Scholarship in Textile Engineering. Details will be sent to the college catalog committee by Prof. L. E. Parsons, head of the department of textile engineering and chairman of the textile engineering scholarship committee.

All senior students of agriculture who have had two or more dairy subjects are eligible for the Borden Agricultural Scholarship award. The student having the highest average grade of all eligible students will receive the award, which will be paid to the recipient preferably during the fall. One award of $300 will be made each year for five years. In the event that the award in any one year is not made because of small registration of seniors, it will be deferred to a later year and only one may be made each year.

Members of Sigma Delta Pi who wish to attend a summer school in any Spanish-speaking country may win a fraternal scholarship of $100 to help defray expenses by writing in Spanish an essay in appreciation of the country he intends to visit. The Middlebury award also for $100 and requires entrants to write an essay in Spanish on the value of the study of the language, the national award entries must be in by May 1 and the other application must be in by April 7. For further information, students should contact Dr. T. Earle Hamilton, Spanish instructor.

Whyburn Speaks To TSCW Group On Mathematics

Speaking at a special meeting for faculty, graduates and upper-classes of Texas State College for Women Thursday afternoon, President W. M. Whyburn stressed the importance of mathematics on all the sciences and showed how it can be applied to our daily lives.

"Mathematics is both the queen of the sciences and their handmaiden," he said, adding that "certainly no human or animal queen has been more deserving of her throne or has ruled with as complete disregard for such emotions as prejudice, desire, love and hate."

"The subject matter of mathematics begins with the most elementary notions of counting and spreads over an almost unlimited range," Dr. Whyburn said, "including the material of arithmetic, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, calculus and beyond. . . . But apart from these, the field has, in my opinion, much to offer to the student or research worker in any scholarly effort."

He pointed out that by using the mathematic principle of defining the terms of any problem, especially when several people are involved, it will help them get on common ground and understand what each one is talking about.

"The principle is contained in the answers occur at the end of the book." The true mathematician starts with the problem and reasons unemotionally to the solution. This practice will help to eliminate prejudiced reasoning which works to justify a pre-conceived idea, Dr. Whyburn explained.

"The best method of attack on any problem, whether it arises from the workday tasks of our daily lives, through our contacts with our fellow-men, or from investigations in scholarly fields, . . . starts with the problem — never with a solution," he said.

He concluded saying, "It is my hope that I have been able to show in a small way that, quite apart from its difficult subject-matter and applications the queen of the sciences has much to offer to students and investigators in other fields."

Patricia Travers, Violinist

Artists Bill To Feature Travers

17-Year Old Violinist Presents Concert Monday

Patricia Travers, 17-year-old American violinist, will be presented at Lubbock High school auditorium Monday evening at 8 o'clock, under auspices of the Tech Artists Course, according to R. A. Mills, chairman.

Already a veteran of the concert stage, Miss Travers has been soloist with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony, the National Symphony orchestra of Washington, D. C., the symphonies of Philadelphia, Chicago, Minneapolis, Cleveland, St. Louis and Detroit. Key cities in which she has played in recital include Chicago, Minneapolis, Boston and Cleveland. Her radio debut was at the same time her formal concert introduction.

She was presented on the Ford Hour with the Detroit Symphony orchestra. Besides her concert activities, Miss Travers has made one moving picture, "There's Magic in Music," for Paramount.

Miss Travers lives in Clifton N. J., her birthplace, in a house that dates back to colonial days. She is the first professional musician in her family, having begun her study of violin at the age of 4. For three years she studied with Jacques Gordon of the Gordon String Quartet, and then with Hans Lett of the Juillard Graduate School of Music in New York city.

Although she is barred from many outdoor sports because of possible injury to her hands, Miss Travers likes to ride a bicycle, play badminton and swim. The artist hangs her own clothes, and also makes a hobby of doing water-colors of the opera costumes of Lily Pons, whom she admires very much. Liking to sew, she dresses her two antique dolls which were inherited from her grandmother in small replicas of her own concert gowns. Miss Travers is the owner of two precious concert instruments, a Joseph Guarnerius del Gesu, dated 1733, and the famous "Tom Taylor" Stradivarius, dated 1732. The latter was by the same great master who created the violin used by the immortal Paganini.

General admission and reserve seat tickets are now on sale at B. E. Adair Music Co., 1012 Main. Students who do not have season Artists Course tickets will be admitted for $1.25 plus tax. Tickets for the general public are priced $1.50 plus federal tax.

"Press reports on Miss Travers were so favorable when she played with the Houston symphony two years ago that Columbia Concerts refused to use them," Mills commented in viewing the prospects of the program. "We are anticipating as great a performance as ever received any violinist in Lubbock."

An area Interscholastic League meet will be held on Tech campus Friday and Saturday, April 13 and 14, according to R. E. Garlin, director general. Registration will be held in the lobby of the Administration building from 8 to 10 o'clock Friday morning, April 13.

All literary contests, the centers of which will be the Administration and Aggie buildings, will be concluded the first day in order to eliminate unnecessary travel. The gymnasium will be the center for athletic events which are scheduled for the second day.

"All classes will be dismissed in the Administration building between 10 and 12 o'clock Friday morning," Garlin says. Otherwise, only those classes will be dismissed where the rooms and instructors are needed to conduct the contests.

Officials of the meet include: Garlin, director general of the meet; Dr. J. W. Davis, director of debate; Dr. L. B. Cooper, director of declamation; Prof. R. A. Mills, director of ready writing; Miss Bonnie K. Dyarr, director of extemporaneous speech; Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, director of one-act play; Mrs. Edith Lucile Robison, director of shorthand; Mrs. Ethel K. Terrell, director of typewriting; Dr. Donald L. Webb, director of number sense; Dr. R. S. Underwood, director of slide rule contest; Coach Dell Morgan, director of athletics; Mrs. Johnnie G. Langford, director of volleyball and Polk Robison, director of tennis.

High schools competing in the Interscholastic League meet from District 6 are Amherst, Anton, Bovina, Bula, Farwell, Lazbuddy, Oklahoma (Farwell), Pettit, Spade, Spring Lake, Sudan Junior high and Witham. Those entering from District 7 include Cooper, Dickens, Friendship, Idalou, Lubbock Junior high, New Deal, Roosevelt and Shalwater. Upon payment of the 25-cent entry fee, each contestant will receive an official badge according to Garlin. No participant can enter the contest without a badge. Certificates of award will be presented to first and second winners. These awards are replacing the customary medals which have been eliminated by war restrictions.

French Thespians To Present Play

The French club spring play will be Moliere's Le Medecin Malgre Lui, a three-act comedy, which will be presented Tuesday, April 10 at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. Locale for presentation is tentative.

Rehearsals are now under way with the following cast: Frank Murray of Lubbock plays the title role of Sganarelle, the woodcutter-physician-in-spite-of-himself. Martine, his wife, is Nancy Everline of Amarillo. Other characters are M. Robert, played by Laura Lou Johnston of Pecos; Valere, played by Ila Mirth Creighton of Lovington, N. Mex.; Lucas, by Maizie Carter of Colorado City; and Perrin, by Olive Green of Knox City. Prompter is Marjorie Schneider of Lubbock.

Action of the play hinges upon the "muteness" feigned by a wealthy man's daughter in order to escape her father's choice of husband, and upon eventual "cure" by the woodcutter who is tricked and beaten into posing as a physician.

Meetings for the discussion of business opportunities were planned recently by juniors and seniors majoring in clothing and textiles. Miss Mabel Erwin, head professor of clothing and textiles, entertained the students in her home.

Sophomores and freshmen will also participate in the meetings, according to Miss Erwin. The clothing and textile faculty, consisting of Miss Theodora Corey, Meesdames Lilla Kirchen and Edna Buster and Dean Margaret W. Weeks were present.

Lt. Richard Chamberlain

Seven Last Words To Be Broadcast Tuesday Evening

Lt. Richard Chamberlain of LAAF is to be baritone soloist in the Easter oratorio, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," which will be broadcast over KFYO from Lubbock High school auditorium Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Soprano soloists will be Charlene Jordan, junior arts and sciences student, Beth Floyd and Joyce Waterson, both senior arts and sciences students, all of Lubbock.

The college chorus, under the direction of Dr. Julian Paul Blitz and accompanied by Mrs. Blitz at the piano, will be assisted by four clarinets, two trombones, and a saxophone from the Tech band. These will fill in harmony, taking the place of male voices which have formerly been used in the oratorio. During rehearsals this combination has been very effective, states Dr. Blitz.

Sopranos take the narrator's message and substitute for tenor in the duet between baritone and tenor. Lieutenant Chamberlain will sing the words spoken by Christ. Composer of the cantata, Theodore Dubois, a French musical composer born at Rosney Aug. 24, 1837, studied at Conservatoire under Andre Brasseur. He won the Grand Prix de Rome in 1861 with his cantata "Alois." In 1867 he produced the "Seven Last Words of the Virgin Mary" at the church of Ste. Clotilde in Paris.

Dubois was an extremely prolific composer and wrote in a variety of forms. His sacred works include four masses, a requiem, a large number of motets and pieces for the organ. He died in Paris June 11, 1924.

This eleventh annual presentation of the oratorio at Tech is to be dedicated to Pres. and Mrs. William M. Whyburn. The three who have assisted in the presentation every year are Dean J. M. Gordon, Dr. and Mrs. Blitz.

Officers of the chorus, which is composed of more than 275 women students of every division, are: Joyce Watson, president; Nancy Stiles, vice president; Beth Floyd, secretary; Carolyn Reynolds, treasurer. Expenses for the presentation will be met by members of the chorus.

A committee was appointed to determine the possibilities of having an Aggie banquet this year. Judo acts were demonstrated by Wynn Baker, an ex-marine, who also showed ways a man can protect himself during battle. Dean A. H. Leidigh of the division of agriculture sent a letter from the Borden Milk company concerning the Borden Agricultural Scholarship award.

Seven Sidewalks To Be On Circle

Student Council Contributes $450 For Shrubbery And Trees

The Student council has voted to contribute $450 from the beautification fund to pay for the shrubbery which will be planted in the circle and triangles next week, according to George B. Long, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

A plan has been drawn whereby seven new sidewalks will be laid across the circle, says Long. They will extend in the following directions: from the men's dormitories to the Chemistry building; from the Engineering building to the center of circle; from the Library to the Home Economics building; from the Administration building to the center of the circle and from the Museum to the center of the circle. Each of these sidewalks will meet in the circle and shrubbery will be planted wherever two sidewalks meet, says Long.

Miss Blattner Announces Cast For Spring Play

Mary Nees will take the part of Elizabeth Cherry in the spring play, "Ring Around Elizabeth," which will be given Thursday evening, April 19, at the Lubbock High school auditorium. Other members of Elizabeth Cherry's "boisterous" family include: Bob Nash, as Ralph Cherry, her husband; Jodie Wofford, as Laurette Styles, Elizabeth's mother; Bobby Hayes, as Herbert Cherry, Elizabeth's father-in-law; Mary Maloney, as Jennifer, her older daughter; and Willella Nelson, as Mercedes, her younger daughter.

Other parts in the play will be acted by Anita Hale, as Vida, the cook; Louise Ince, as Irene Oliver, Elizabeth's girlhood friend; Bess Griggs, as Harriet Gilpin, the banker's wife; James Simpson, as Andy Elayne, the playboy; Eddie Arayan, as the policeman; and Winston Redwine, as Dr. Hollister. Kiddy Cole will assist Miss Blattner in direction.

Sophs To Present Queen At Annual Dance Tonight

Hodge Podge, annual sophomore dance, will be held tonight from 8:30 until 11:30 in the gym. It will be a barn dance and Hodge Podge queen will be presented. Bailey Ireland and his orchestra will furnish the music.

Sophomores voted for queen yesterday by secret ballot, which were counted by the Student Council. Candidates for queen were Loretta Hodge, Nan Bradbury, Earline Reid and Estelle DeBusk. Tickets will be sold at the door for $1.20 couple or stag. They have been sold during the week by members of the sophomore class at the booth in the Administration building. Barton Williamson is in charge of the ticket committee.

The gym is to be decorated like a barn by members of the class Jim Wanner heads the decorations committee. In order to insure the financial success of the function sophomores signed a document stating that each signer would donate a stipulated sum in case of failure. This was done at a meeting Tuesday.

All Tech students are invited to attend the dance, but there will be no non-Tech stags. A Tech student may bring a date who does not go to school here.

"The entire faculty is invited, and it is hoped that they will all be able to attend," says Arthur Shahan, president of the class. "Mid-semester reports will be ready tomorrow morning, according to Registrar W. P. Clement. One copy will be sent to the parent, and the student may call for his copy at the registrar's office. A report is sent out on every student as either passing in all subjects at mid-semester, unsatisfactory or failing. This report is merely informative and does not become a part of the permanent record of the student."

Theta Sigs, Press Club Tour Avalanche Offices

Members of Press club and Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary society for women in journalism, will tour the Avalanche Journal plant Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Meeting in front of the Administration building shortly before 5 o'clock, students will go in a bus to the newspaper office.

Kappa Kappa Psi Holds Initiation For Five

Kappa Kappa Psi, national band fraternity, held the first, second and third degrees of initiation Tuesday and Wednesday night for the following pledges: Rawley Salyers, Cecil Langley, Don Lewery, Edwin Cozby, and Jack Chambers.

The center of the circle will be cement as soon as the material is available, Long says. A plaza will be made here with benches placed on it, he adds.

Plans are underway to replant the entire circle in grass as soon as the water system is laid and the circle can be lowered, states Long. This will be done sometime this spring, he promises.

Other ideas and plans are being worked out, but it will be some time yet before they can be put into effect.

It's Up To You

NOW that this term is a little more than half over and mid-semester reports are being sent to your parents, have you stopped to take inventory? Did you do as well as expected or are you wondering why you were reported unsatisfactory or failing in one or more subjects?

If you would stop to think just how you have spent your time for the past few days, perhaps this would give you a clue. The average student attends at least two movies a week, and an average of three hours a day are spent drinking cokes and talking to friends, which totals about 27 hours a week, for recreation. At least 6 hours a week are spent in extra-curricular activities such as club meetings, 42 hours are spent sleeping, 14 eating, 4 for miscellaneous things such as washing and ironing, and only about 45 are spent in class and study. This leaves 30 hours per week for unscheduled activities such as dates, parties, etc.

We are not advocating that you give up all forms of amusement, for every student needs to take time off for relaxation, but if you would budget your time, you would probably find that you have more actual leisure as well as more study hours. The excuse that you are failing because you just don't have time to get all of your assignments does not ring true. Don't you think that 57 hours a week are sufficient for entertainment?

Perhaps you will find that you have to devote too many hours to extra-curricular activities. If you have joined too many campus clubs, you will not be able to devote much time to any of them. Would it not be better to belong to only a few so you can take an active part in each? If you find it advisable to drop your membership in some club, then it will be necessary to consider the advantages each has to offer. Don't belong to a club just because your best friends do, but retain membership in the ones which interest you most. In most cases it will be more advantageous to belong to the departmental club of your own major field than that of some other division or department.

The part of your college life which will be of most value to you in the future is presented in the classroom; it is up to you to accept and use this knowledge. Mid-semester reports are signposts along the way to tell you whether you are really getting all you are supposed to out of your classes. The rest is up to you. —B. D. R.

Easter Approaches

THE passing of March 21, day of equal darkness and light, brings awareness that Easter is just around the corner. The early Christian fathers borrowed for this holiday the name of the old celebration of spring, the festival of the goddess of the East, Ostera. Ostera was the bringer of spring who came to earth on this day carrying in her arms gifts of flowers, birds and sunshine. On this particular festival of 1945, however, Ostera is giving not only the spring, but for Tech students she is bestowing the first holiday season at this time of the year in three years.

Of course, this year Easter will be a day of dual celebration, for it falls on April 1, a day of universal pranks and jokes. The origin of "All Fools Day" has often been disputed but it is thought to be closely connected with the celebration of the vernal equinox which falls on March 25, the old New Year's Day.

So much festivity in one short period is placing most collegians in ecstasy. But one can be certain of one thing—that Techsians, after such a long period of attending school with few holidays, know how to appreciate the coming vacation and will certainly not have to search for something to do with their time. A small number—a very few—are making plans to catch up on back school work in order to bring up unsatisfactory grades; some are planning short trips; and others are simply anticipating five whole days of nothing but eating and sleeping in preparation for the last stretch of the current school year.

Techsians feel that Ostera's gift of holidays is the nicest wind-fall of the spring. They would like an opportunity to thank her and college officials who made it possible.

Did You Know?

TECHSANS, are you aware of the many scholarships, loan funds, prizes, awards and fellowships that are offered to you through both local and non-local means? Tech should be proud of the outside interest these donors have shown and continue to show in the college. It is through these outside interests that Tech is made known to others and placed on the map as one of the best colleges in the state.

Upon glancing through the catalogue, most students merely pass by the section entitled "Awards." Most of us are not even interested enough to see what each scholarship, prize or award consists of. We do not even know enough to discuss them with someone else, and if we should meet the person who makes the award possible, we would not know it.

There are seven scholarships and awards offered. Some of these are local and some are not. There are 17 prizes and awards that are offered annually by various campus organizations and non-campus organizations.

There are two fellowships provided for besides the limited number available from time to time in certain departments.

Tech has a number of funds from which loans may be made to worthy students to assist them in paying the expenses of a college education. There are six local loan funds made by business men in the vicinity of the college, while there are 13 loan funds not administered by the college.

Students of Tech should be proud of such outside interest and although we cannot know all the donors personally, we can at least know about the various scholarships, etc., that are offered through their interest.—L. H.

English Journal Publishes Two Tech Students' Poems

Two English students have had poems published in the winter issue of The Rectangle, national journal of Sigma Tau Delta, national English Fraternity. Reta Norman, Plainview senior, wrote "Poem," and Marjorie Holmes, mid-semester graduate, is the writer of "A Moment's Halt."

A church? It is an old woman, asking bread. A lonely conqueror, cursed with hunger still, In humility or dread its homage paid. A church knows all the secrets of the night. Yet faces day, and with a child-like faith Stands in the dawn awake and unafraid.

Questioning, it lifts its spire; Assured, its roots reach deep. Clinging to earth, it knows How small the facets of eternity.

A MOMENT'S HALT

At Parting You came from out the north Like the Viking you resemble. You came and brought disturbance To my steadily beating heart. Your eyes of blue looking into mine— Your golden hair shining in the sun— Your smile—a little bitter at the edges— And your voice, curiously lazy and mocking. Yet so vital and tender— All these are etched deeply in my heart and mind. Why?—Why should eleven times together Be such precious treasures? I ask myself this question A hundred times a day And find no answer— Only the echoes of your words, Only the memory of you. I dare to hope for another day When you'll come again as you did before And end for once and all the frantic searching. Why were they so precious— Those eleven times together?

II Later I got a letter back today With "Missing" written on it, And as I gazed—too stunned to feel or see, I tried to probe the meaning of that word. Does it mean that you are dead? Or are you safe in some unknown place. From whence one day you'll come again? Oh God! I wish I knew! And if you live, are you pale and sick With suffering, in some stinking prison camp— You, who of all things should be free? Are you lying in the farmhouse of What's the reason for that bright and shining look on ERNESTINE GIBSON'S face these days? Could it be that handsome guy who is her special heart interest? Seems he arrived on the campus this week-end after having been overseas a couple of years.

RUTH FISHER, DOTTIE EMANUEL, HELEN HODGES and BILLIE WOOD were doing all the good with those four cute lieutenants in the bright red convertible. What's the latest, girls? Has Casa Linda organized a lonely heart's club or were those bombardiers just browsing around?

Have you guys been wondering why cute BETTE CUNYUS is "out of this world" to you? Well, here's the inside dope. A sergeant named JIMMY is her one and only and calls her once or twice every week from Ardmore, Okla. She plans to spend the Easter holidays visiting him there. Sounds all right, doesn't it?

The Count knows lots of cute coeds who wish SETH MURPHEY would sit up and take notice.

ED HUGHES was in his seventh heaven Saturday night at the Tech Roundup. He and JANE BURTON seem to be "going steady."

Just in case some of you may not know the tall, dark and handsome ensign who's been driving that maroon convertible around Tech campus lately, it's former Techsian JEFF DAVIS, now home on leave. JEFF is to be stationed in North Carolina the next 20 weeks.

"BUD" DAVIS must not have been in a dancing mood Saturday night. What's the matter, BUD? Weren't you "in the pink?"

The Count has been hearing reports all week that twins GLORIA and BARBARA RAMSEY were among the loveliest lovelies at the Ko Shari presentation Saturday night.

BOB GUIRETTE was giving French lessons to a cute coed over in the Co-op Monday afternoon. Are you going into the business, BOB? Bet you could get lots of pupils. This one was having a hard time keeping her mind on the instructions and off the instructor.

Pretty LELAFAYE HICKS and SGT. JIMMY BEARDEN, former Techsian, became Mr. and Mrs. last Wednesday afternoon. JIMMY has recently returned from England, where he was a gunner on a B-24. Best hopes for happiness from the Count.

MARTHA WILSON enjoyed the sunshine in front of the dorm Tuesday morning, and also that attractive lieutenant.

LULA SCOTT spent the weekend in Hereford visiting her naval pilot who is home on leave. Did you settle anything, LULA? The Count wonders if IVAN TUCKER'S newest flame charges time and a half for overtime after her kissing booth closes.

CATHARINE KNIGHT looks sleepy all the time lately. Count wonders if that ensign friend of hers who's home this week has been keeping her out too late every night.

CATHERINE BARNETT and ZACKIE REYNOLDS evidently have the taffy. They are certainly seen around together lots, if that cuts any ice. It sounds as though LUCILLE MELTON, ARLINE BIRDWELL and MARGARET HIATT had a lot of fun after the Tech Roundup. Won't you tell us more about it, girls?

TRACKING DOWN TROUBLE

This laboratory, ready to move anywhere on short notice, runs down "crimes" against good telephone service. Finding these threats is one of the many jobs of the Bell Telephone Laboratories' scientists.

The "criminals" are such things as threads of lint, traces of acids, or sulphur compounds in the air—any of which might damage telephone equipment.

In their interesting war work Bell Laboratories' scientists have been on a new kind of hunt. They have tracked down different materials for those now hard to get, found others that would serve in special conditions, and have detected in captured equipment the kinds of material the enemy uses.

These are some examples among many of the ways Bell System research is helping to serve America at war.

Spring Training For Red Raiders To Open April 4

Coach Dell Morgan Expecting Return Of 27 Lettermen

Red Raider gridiron squad reports for spring training April 4. Coach Dell Morgan expects 27 lettermen to return, headed by the Dumas Dynamiter, Walt Schlinkman.

Morgan is relying on the old timer, Schlinkman, to spearhead his offense. The fullback will have the support of such linemen as Spider Dillon, Don Dudley, James Gimmel, Bobby Hayes, Seth Murphy, and Jiggs Jackson. His backfield will be covered by Arthur Shahan, Gene Hardey and Cecil Norris. Dillon, and from Chillicothe, begins his third season with the Matadors when he dons a uniform for spring training. Dudley is another third year end. He hails from Wichita Falls. Littlefield's six-foot James Gimmel begins his second season in Tech stadium as a tackle. Burk Burnett's Hayes stars as a Raider guard and Quataque's Murphy as an end. As Jackson begins his second year as an end, Monument, N. Mex., looks back on its home town boy's freshman record with pride. Other linemen are Otis Turner, center from Wink, Clyde Black, Ben Franklin, tackle, John McDermott, tackle from Tucuman, N. Mex., Ed Orr, Vernon center, Russell Birdwell, guard from Bossier City, La., and Mountain Billy Joe Snodgrass, Brownfield's betty tackle.

Shahan is a regular starter in the halfback position. He was a Graham High school star in 1941 and '42. Quarterback Gene Hardey is an outstanding player with six years of high school and college training behind him. He is from Hogotown, Kans. Cecil Norris, the chubby Beaumont lad, looms in Tech's backfield. Costin Bufkin, Hobbs, N. Mex., star right halfback, is rated as one of the most valuable players on the team. Other backfield players are T. M. Cox, quarterback from Muleshoe, William Davis, quarterback from Franklin, and Glenn Lewis, halfback from Quitaque. Reeves Moran and Truett Barnard are expected to report.

Former Raider Killed In Action

Pfc. Wilford "Wick" Mason, ex-Techman from Plainview who attended Tech the fall semester of 1942, died Feb. 19 on Iwo Jima of wounds received fighting Japs. He played on Tech's Red Raider team, and was rated as one of the greatest halfback prospects in the history of Tech. His twin brother, Pfc. Milford "Mick" Mason, was also a football star of the '42 season.

The thundering cleats of Wick and Mick made grid history for the Plainview Bulldogs three years. Wick was a unanimous choice as All-District 1-AA fullback. He played on the West all-star team in Wichita Falls' annual Oil Bowl classic in '42 before enrolling at Tech.

Wick entered the Marines Feb. 12, 1943, and was a member of the Fifth Marine division. He was in service two years before being killed in bitter fighting on Iwo Jima.

STARS IN SERVICE

Six Members Of Basketball Squad Receive Awards

Letter awards for six members of the Tech Red Raider basketball squad were announced last week by Morley Jennings, athletic director. Of the six men given letters for the past season, four of them were from outside the state, with three from New Mexico and one from Kansas. The lettermen were Don Grove, Monument, N. M.; Jay Kerr, Odessa, Costin Bufkin, Hobbs, N. M.; Ernest Hawkins, Lamesa; Gene Hardey, Hugoton, Kans., and Jiggs Jackson, Monument, N. M. Seven other members of the basketball squad were awarded Freshman numerals. They were: J. A. Barnett, Roswell, N. M.; Truett Barnard, Ropesville, Delbert Cooper, Lubbock, Billy Edkins, Sudan; Billy Kelley, Idalou; Malcolm Mitchell, San Angelo; and Seth Murphy, Levelland.

The Red Raiders started the season slowly, but finished strong. At the start of the season, Coach Folk Robison was fighting a losing battle with bad breaks, and many men were lost just as they developed into regular starters. But near the end of the season, Robison found a combination that was clicking, and the team finished the year by winning six of the last seven games on schedule. The only loss in the closing finish was to West Texas State Teachers of Canyon, a game played without the services of two key men, Grove and Hardey, who were taking pre-induction physicals.

Dye Class Begins Block Printing

The senior dye class has begun block printing, according to Prof. L. E. Parsons, head of the textile engineering department. The students cut blocks from linoleum and use them to make designs on table cloths. Some screen prints are being made and the class is using the printing machine which Prof. L. E. Parsons, associate professor in the textile engineering department, and A. F. Klous, mechanic in the textile engineering department, converted from an old machine, according to Parsons.

Rumors have been flying around recently that the Ko Shari will make their annual trip to New Mexico. We are wondering how such things get started.
