

Food Poison Victims Recovering Thursday

Cause of the food poisoning suffered by 75 residents of Sneed hall Sunday and Monday has not been officially determined, according to city health officials and Dr. James G. Morris, college physician. The first case of illness came Sunday morning with 50 reported by night-fall, an additional 25 were added to the list by Monday night, Morris said.

"We are not sure of the cause of the poisoning, but it is possible that it was a result of cream puffs which were served Saturday night," Morris stated. He expressed the belief that the illness was of staphylococcal rather than bacillary origin. "Only 10 of those ill are in serious condition, and nurses will be kept at Sneed hall until this situation has been remedied," he added.

Mrs. Mildred Tunnell, assistant dietitian at Sneed hall, said that the puffs were delivered early Saturday morning and put on refrigeration immediately. She gave the menu for Saturday night as: roast veal, mashed potatoes, green lima beans, fruit salad, cream puffs and iced tea.

Manager of the bakery who delivered the puffs said "several bakers ate some of the cream puffs and one carried a few home to his children with no ill effects noted."

Bakery Not At Fault

The bakery concerned was given a clean bill when city food inspectors E. H. Timian and Sam McMillan found "nothing of a contaminating character at the bakery."

Miss Mozelle Craddock, director of the dormitory systems, said that "in 13 years of buying from the bakery, we have never had any mishaps; since some of the boys ate three or four of the puffs, perhaps they were only over-stuffed," Miss Craddock said city officials had inspected the dormitory kitchens.

By Thursday morning most of those ill had recovered with only Earl Monteth, freshman engineering student from Wichita Falls, hospitalized. His condition was reported as satisfactory at West Texas hospital.

TWVA Names Glynn Addington As Sweetheart From 13 Nominees

Glynn Addington, freshman commercial art major from Borger, was chosen sweetheart of Tech War Veterans association, in an election Tuesday.

Miss Addington, one of 13 girls nominated by Tech Veterans at their second meeting held in the Aggie auditorium, was selected their sweetheart after her boggiewoogie piano performance. Daughter of C. G. Addington of Borger, she was chosen last year to be Miss Borger by the businessmen of that town.

President W. M. Whyburn headed the program with a speech complimenting the leaders and men of TWVA for their cooperation and distinguished efforts on the campus.

Joe King, vice-commander, presided as master of ceremonies. Loy Catherine Barnett, secretary of the Student council, was in charge of the sweetheart election and Burl Hubbard presented several musical selections.

Smith Challenges Charges Thrown Against Court Suit

Stat Rep. Preston E. Smith of Lubbock answered charges Thursday which had been made by Joe Greenhill, an assistant attorney general, concerning the suits brought against the college building amendment. Workman Unhurt In 'Fatal' Fall; Remains Serene

A 40-foot plunge down a narrow elevator shaft brought an ambulance to a screaming halt in front of the Library building Tuesday. Attendants rushed into the building to pick up the supposedly broken body of C. H. Watson, electrician employed at Texas Tech, and found him walking calmly from the basement.

Watson had been installing a light fixture on the third floor of the Library over the book lift when wiring made enough contact to start the lift down, a co-worker said. This pushed Watson head first into the shaft where he banged from side to side until his knees caught on a small cable near the bottom breaking the force of his fall. He walked to the ambulance and was taken to West Texas hospital for x-rays.

One hour after the accident Watson was back at Tech—to pick up his tools and change jobs.

Student Workers Needed To Help Complete Stadium By Thanksgiving

A call for Texas Tech men students to help complete the new stadium was issued this week.

Any student who has a half day at a time in which he will work was urged by Morley Jennings, athletic director, to get in touch with Whitey Payne, stadium superintendent. Payne's office is just north of the new stadium.

"Many men who have been working on the stadium, doing common labor, have left to pull cotton,"

Jennings said, "Tech students will be employed to replace these men in large numbers if the students have half-day periods. Each student will be paid the same amount the men who left the job were paid."

Present plans call for the stadium to be completed and ready for use by Thanksgiving. Jennings said student assistance on the job will aid materially in reaching the goal.

Special Train Planned To Rice Game

THE TOREADOR

Volume XXII X7142 Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, Friday, October 24, 1947 TEXAS TECHNOLOGICAL COLLEGE Number 5

Trip Approved By Tech Officials

Train Leaves 7:30 P. M. Friday; No Cuts Excused

A special train will make the trip to Houston for the Tech-Rice football game next Saturday, Nov. 1, according to Bill Nugent, president of the Student council. Although class cuts will not be excused, the trip has been approved by the Student council, the Student Welfare committee, the Council of Academic deans, and by President W. M. Whyburn.

Nugent stated that the Houston trip was selected as student trip of the year because sufficient tickets were unavailable for the Tech-New Mexico university game; there was not time enough to arrange a trip to Denver; and because a Tech student trip has never been made to Houston.

The special will leave Lubbock at 7:30 p. m. Friday, Oct. 31, and arrive in Houston at 9 a. m. Saturday. On the return trip, the train will leave Houston at 12:30 a. m. Sunday and arrive back in Lubbock at 2 a. m., Monday. There will be no dining car on the train, but a concession, operated by members of Kappa Kappa Psi, band fraternity, will sell soft drinks, coffee and sandwiches in the baggage car.

Tickets will be on sale Thursday and Friday, Oct. 30 and 31, in the lobby of the Administration building. Round-trip fares will be: first class, $34.21; coach, $24.73. Pullman fares will be from $3 to $6 extra, depending on the type desired. Lists will be placed in prominent places around the campus for interested students to sign, in order to get an estimate of the number who will make the trip, Nugent said.

The entire Matador band will make the trip, and parade in a half-time ceremony, according to Prof. D. O. Wiley, director of the band. Mrs. Johnny Langford, dean of women, will be faculty sponsor for the trip.

Mahon To Address Convocation

U. S. Foreign Policy Theme Of Speech Thursday In Gym

Congressman George H. Mahon will address Tech faculty and students at this year's first general convocation 10-11 a. m. Thursday, Oct. 30, in the gym. All classes will be dismissed, Dean James G. Allen said. Tech band will play at the convocation.

"America's Stake in European Politics" will be Mahon's subject. U. S. foreign policy in Europe with special emphasis on Russo-American relations as he sees them will be included in Congressman Mahon's discussion, Dean Allen said.

A Democratic party leader in the House of Representatives, Mahon recently returned from abroad where he had studied foreign problems as a member of the Herter committee to investigate American aid to Europe. He spent six weeks in England, Greece, Italy and Trieste.

Mahon will return to Washington immediately to attend a Herter committee meeting Nov. 5. The committee will formulate its official report for presentation to a joint House-Senate committee.

Beard Or Beauty?

We apologize.

The name of Joe Meador, junior arts and sciences student from Matador, was inadvertently omitted from last week's list of nominees for La Ventana beauties. Editors have been killed for less.

Although it is a well-established Tech tradition that beauties are selected from females of the species, no such stipulation is made in the Student association constitution. It is not for the campus newspaper to pass on such fine legal delineations.

After all, Meador was nominated. His name should be added to the list.

Judges, please note.

JUDY POLLARD, 1947 BAND QUEEN—The first queen of Matador band is pictured after being crowned by Pres. William M. Whyburn at halftime of the Tech-Baylor football game Saturday. During Miss Pollard's coronation, Tech band, in the formation of a large heart, played Vic Williams' arrangement of "Sophisticated Lady." Vacancy Remains In Student Council After Two Elected

Bill Reid, Clarendon; and Hubert Bezner, Lindsay, were elected to the Student council Monday to represent the agriculture and engineering divisions respectively.

One remaining vacancy, in the arts and sciences division, will be filled in a special election Tuesday, Loy Catherine Barnett, chairman of the Elections committee, stated. Betty Copeland, Lubbock, and Pat Lively, Pampa, have filed petitions for the vacancy and have been certified as eligible.

Six council members will take the oath of office Monday night. Jerry Sides, Odessa; Bill Reid, Clarendon; and Hubert Bezner, Lindsay, will be sworn in from arts and sciences, agriculture and engineering divisions respectively.

Ted White, Brownfield; Lyndell Sharp, Lubbock; and Joe Hefner, Lubbock, will take the oath as representatives from the business administration division.

Lamar Jackson, junior arts and sciences student from Lubbock, has been appointed assistant cheer leader, according to Bill Nugent, president of the Student council. Jackson replaces Winston Churchill, who did not have the required 1.00 grade average.

Pageant Princess Represents Tech At Sun Carnival

Students To Select Girl; Petitions Due Monday

By BOB WATSON, Toreador Staff Writer

Texas Tech has been asked to send a princess as a representative to the Sun carnival at El Paso, during the New Year's holiday, according to Bill Nugent, president of the Student council. The princess will represent Tech in the Sun queen's royal court, and be entertained at the Coronation ball, the Carnival parade and the Sun Bowl football game.

In a letter to President Whyburn this week, Don T. White, president of the Sun carnival, said: "Your princess will be housed at Sun carnival expense in one of the leading hotels. She will be expected to attend the official functions of the Sun Carnival, where escorts will be provided."

"Each princess is expected to furnish her own wardrobe, transportation and from El Paso, all incidental expenses, and her meals when they are not furnished in connection with some official event. Hotel accommodation for the father and mother of your princess will be reserved upon sufficient notice, but at the parents' expense. Your princess, of course, should be attractive and should possess sufficient maturity, poise, good breeding and personal charm to enable her to graciously represent your school."

Girls who wish to represent Tech should file a petition, signed by 50 students, in the Student council office, J-203, by 5 p. m. on Monday, Nugent said. A letter from the girl's parents, stating that they approve and that they will assume the expenses should accompany the petition. An 8x10 glossy photograph should also be presented at this time. An all-college election will be held on Nov. 11 to select Tech representative, Nugent stated.

Nutrition Council To Meet At Tech

"Nutrition Education in the School" is the theme for the Texas State Nutrition council, which meets at Tech tomorrow. This is the first meeting in West Texas of the council, which includes representatives of Texas colleges, universities and other educational agencies. Miss Jennie Wilmot, associate professor of home economics at the University of Texas and chairman of the council, will preside.

President William M. Whyburn will give the welcome address. "Current World Problems and What They Mean to Us" will be discussed by J. C. Leukhardt of the United States Department of Agriculture and Mrs. Willie Belle Bogard, state school lunch supervisor, will speak on "Making the Most of the School Lunch Program."

Beauty Selections Scheduled Sunday

Fifty beauties of 201 nominated last week will be selected at 2 p. m. Sunday in J-206, Bob Watson, editor of La Ventana, said. Candidates will dress in street clothes.

Section 506 of the Constitution provides that any person elected or appointed to represent Texas Technological college in any capacity must have a 1.00 grade average. Averages of the beauties will be checked after the first elimination.

Judges will be: Floyd Read, president of Senior class; Joe Arrington, Andrew Willingham and Lamar Jackson, cheer leaders; Milton Butler and Bill Phillips, Silver Key DEADLINES ANNOUNCED

Deadline for La Ventana pictures has been set according to Bob Watson, editor. Freshman and Sophomore pictures must be made by November 1. Juniors must be made by November 7, and Senior picture deadline is November 15. Pictures are being made by Koen's Studio, 2322 Broadway.

Pre-Law Library Donations Made

Tom E. Duggan, jr., president of the Lubbock Bar association, has donated "Selected Essays on Constitutional Law," a set of four books to the Pre-Law Library, according to Dr. J. William Davis, head of the government department.

Dr. Davis states that these books are not only useful, but very valuable to the students.

This set of books, as well as a complete set of "United States Reports" which contains the official records of all Supreme Court cases; an up-to-date set of "Corpus Juris Secundum," a summary of American law and a set of "Constitution and Statutes of Texas" is contained in the Pre-Law Library.

All government students are invited to come and do research work or study in the Pre-Law library in Ad-300, said Dr. Davis.

All-Day Programs In Recreation Hall Begin This Week

Official Opening Nov. 9; Variety Show Tonight Climaxes Howdy Week

By ALICE MEADING, Toreador Staff Writer

The Recreation hall is beginning to live up to its name, as several special features are being scheduled for student entertainment, in addition to its being open daily from 10 a. m. to 9:45 p. m.

Tonight, beginning at 7:30, a variety program of Tech talent will be held as a climax to "Howdy Week." Saturday, Oct. 25, there will be the regularly scheduled dance with music furnished by Ted Crager and his band. At intermission there will be a floor show consisting of Tech talent. The snack bar and soda fountain will be open for this affair.

Plans are now being made for a Halloween masquerade party on Oct. 31 and a Sadie Hawkins dance around the middle of Nov. According to Francis Bearden, director of the Rec. hall, traditional Halloween games will be played at the masquerade party and prizes will be given away at the Sadie Hawkins dance for the most typically dressed comic strip character.

The juke box has arrived and is available any time for dancing.

Official opening of the Recreation hall will be held Sunday, November 9, with a reception in honor of the Texas Tech football squad.

The reception, scheduled from 2 to 4 p. m., will be sponsored by A.W.S. and the Recreation hall committee.

Chicopee Director Confers With College Officials

Dr. Carlyle Harmon, director of research of the Chicopee manufacturing co., conferred with college officials this week on cotton research problems and outlined plans for next year's program.

Cotton from all parts of the country are tested in a research lab maintained by the company on the campus.

A staff of 12 is employed in the lab under the direction of George Pfeiffenberger, supervisor.

Students Favor Swing Music; Split On Majorette Question

By ANITA OLIVER, Toreador Staff Writer

One hundred per cent of Techsians interviewed this week are in favor of the Matador band's playing some swing music. Of the fourteen interviewed, 65 percent were in favor of two girl twirlers to head the band, 21 per cent were neutral, and only 14 per cent were against them.

Hubert Burgess, drum major for the Matador band, expresses his opinion thus: "Swing music? Well—so long as you have someone to equal Vic Williams to arrange the music. Ordinary publications for bands stink! (Incidentally, the Toreador is running a little poll this week to determine what swing numbers the students prefer.)"

Joe Fortin, sophomore P.E. major from Detroit, Michigan, and former outfielder for the Pampa Oilers baseball team, after a long whistle said, "Twirlers? O boy! Yeah! We need the local color to boost our morale, and they just do wonders to the drab scenery."

One of the band members, Nelson Morris, Lubbock, accounting major said, "Swing music is fine, but a band should be military in form, and twirlers distract from this."

Fred Libby, chemical engineering major from Lubbock, favors twirlers if they will take an interest in the work and learn to twirl well. A little contrary to this is the statement made by Ed Jones, junior industrial engineer from Lubbock: "If they have coke bottle figures, who cares if they know how to twirl or not?"

"Fug" Hanman, junior pre-medical student from Plainview said, "Personally, I prefer all girl twirlers—no boys, please. A boy is fine for drum major, but I like girls to do all the prancing there is to be done."

Another member of the band, Roy "Strawber" Bassett, freshman from Amarillo, said, "We need to have twirlers with short skirts. With the new styles we have now, how else are we going to know if our girls have good looking legs or not?"

Mayrene and Earlene Kecton, twin freshmen from Lubbock, seem to disagree on the idea. While Mayrene opposes them because they seem to distract from the true purpose of a band—her sister, Earlene is for them wholeheartedly. Mayrene doesn't think we should have swing music and twirlers "just because everybody else does."

Bogan Sneed, junior from Lubbock, and Joe Hefner, senior from Lubbock, are "Fer 'em." Hefner added, "Swing music and girl twirlers will give Tech that added spark they have lacked for many years, and will also advertise our school away from home."

And probably the best answer of the day came from Bob Nix, junior from Lubbock: "Girl twirlers? Gimme six of 'em and twice on Sunday!"

Ballot For Band Numbers

Matador Band and The Toreador are jointly conducting a poll to select the five top popular musical numbers which Techsians would like to hear at the last two home football games this season.

Every Techsian can vote. Ballots must be signed and must be delivered to The Toreador by 5 p. m. Tuesday in order to be counted. They may be mailed through the campus service or deposited in The Toreador box in the first floor hall of the Press building.

Tabulations will be made by The Toreador staff and band representatives. The five favorite numbers will be arranged for Matador Band.

These are my two suggestions for popular numbers to be played by Matador Band at the last two home football games this season:

Raiders Invade Denver

Pioneers Rated As Even Match For Morganmen

BY ORLIN BREWER
 Toreador Sports Writer

Tech Red Raiders will get a pre-game sample of the rare air of which Denver is noted, as they view the mile-high city from a chartered DC-4 this afternoon. Dell Morgan, head Tech mentor, plans to arrive in time for a workout before sending his men against a Denver eleven that features much the same team Tech defeated 21-6 last season.

Injuries incurred in the Baylor game may lower Raider chances of lengthening their win column. On the doubtful list for Saturday's game is Turfy Nabors, one of the nation's top defensive linemen, with an injured shoulder. George Zoller, starting right tackle, and Billy Joe Russell, reserve tackle, each received a twisted knee. Starting right end, Ralph Geddie, has a sprained ankle and Costin Bufkin, halfback, torn shoulder ligaments.

The Pioneers, defeated last week 13-7 by Utah, were plagued by bad breaks according to Tip Mooney, Tech coach who scouted the game. He credited them with outplaying the men from Utah. All this in mind, Coach Morgan considers the Pioneers an even match for the Raiders and is expecting a rugged game.

In this Denver Homecoming game, the Raiders will again face fast, versatile Bob Hazelhurst, senior back, who is doing his last of six seasons with the Denver squad. The punting of quarterback Don Rezzar offers a serious threat, also. Against Utah, Don punted eight times. The shortest went for 45 yards, the longest for 75.

If Nabors makes the game, he'll find himself duelling a durable opponent in the opposite center slot. Joe Caribari, who fills this spot for the Pioneers, has played 235 of a possible 240 minutes in Denver's last four games. Denver matches Charlie Reynolds, Odessa sophomore, with a speed merchant of its own. Spence Peckenpaugh, 185-pound junior, does this honor, while Jim Browning, sophomore end, serves as a target for the Hazelhurst-Rezzar passes.

The squad plane, chartered from Braniff Airways, leaves the Municipal airport about 12:45 p. m. today, and will return about 9:30 p. m. Saturday, according to the athletic office.

Basketball Season Opens; Forty-Five Men Try Out

The regular Tech basketball season opened officially Tuesday night with 45 aspirants on hand at Tech gym for tryouts. Most of the hopefuls had to be satisfied with field and backboard shots at one end of the court, while Coach Polk Robison devoted his time to sharpening the game of past Raider basketballers at the other.

A TEXAS TECH SENIOR IN ACTION---

FLOYD LAWHORN—Senior guard from Temple comes in to aid Center Bobby Williams (on ground) in stopping hard-running Baylor Back Jerry Mangum (41). Lawhorn, playing his last year as a line-backing left guard, was superb as he blocked an attempted Bear conversion in the second quarter and halted numerous offensive thrusts by the Baylor backs. The 22-year-old guard was named to the United Press Little All-American team in 1945, received honorable mention All-American in 1946 and this year is rated as one of the top guards in the nation. Lawhorn, a 6-foot, 1-inch, 212-pound lineman, graduated from Temple High school in 1943 and lettered at Tech in 1944-45-46. He shifts to a line-backing position on defense and has done an excellent job checking holes in the Tech line. (Staff Photo by Joe France).

Tech Still High In Border Rating; H-SU, Tempe Tops

By JAN BLACKWELL
 Toreador Sports Writer

Denver's off and on Pioneers fell before undefeated and untied Utah university 13-7 last Saturday. The speedy Pioneers are hosts to Texas Techs Red Raiders this weekend as they attempt to avenge a defeat handed them last year by the Techsians.

Denver's season record: won one (Oklahoma A&M 26-14); lost two (Kansas 9-0, Utah 13-7); tied one (Colorado A&M, 13-13). Past Tech-Denver record: Tech won 1, lost 0. Tech scored 21, Denver 6.

Rice and SMU squared off last week in a Southwest conference tilt. The teams were considered to be evenly matched but a fiery sophomore from SMU, Doak Walker, meant the difference as the Mustangs from Dallas whipped the Owls 14-0.

Rice's season record: won one (Tulane 33-0); lost two (LSU 21-14, SMU 14-0); tied one (USC 7-7). Past Tech-Rice record: Tech won 1, lost 4. Tech scored 26, Rice 93.

The Raiders next home opponent, Arizona universities' Wildcats, overcame a determined Texas Mines rally and finally edged out a 14-13 victory over the Orediggers.

Arizona's season record: won three (Wyoming 27-7, Montana 40-7 and Texas Mines 14-13); lost one (HSU 35-7). Past Tech-Arizona record: Tech won 8, lost 1, tied 1. Tech scored 164, Arizona 27.

Hardin-Simmons' Cowboys ran roughshod over their second Border conference foe within two weeks last Saturday as they defeated the Lobos of New Mexico 33-7. A lukewarm passing attack appeared to be the only offensive weapon that the Hilltoppers could muster as the Border conference champions exhibited power in all departments.

New Mexico's season record: won two (Kansas State 20-18, N. M. Aggies 20-0); lost two (Tempe 25-12, HSU 33-7). Past Tech-New Mexico record: Tech won 9, lost 1, tied 1. Tech scored 249, New Mexico 60. Hardin-Simmons' season record:

Techsians Forecast Denver-Tech Score

By BILL CARPENTER
 Toreador Sports Writer

Opinions of faculty and students are varied concerning the Denver-Texas Tech football game. To the question, "How do you think the Tech and Denver football game will come out?" these answers were given:

Johnny Trout, business administration sophomore: "I think Tech will win by a touchdown. It will be a tough game to win because it is Denver's Homecoming."

John Lumsden, agricultural senior: "Tech will win about 13 to 7."

Joe Cook, engineering sophomore: "I think 12-0, favor of Denver, but I hope not."

Anita Oliver, arts and sciences junior: "Since it's Homecoming, Denver's morale will be high, as well as that of the student body. They will win by a touchdown or so."

To the faculty, who are a bit more optimistic, the score of the game will go in Tech's favor more than the students seem to think. To the same question they replied:

Pres. W. M. Whyburn: "Our team will win by one touchdown. The boys are due to win."

Dr. S. S. McKay: "If we play at Denver as well as we played against Tulsa, we will chalk up another victory."

Dean J. G. Allen: "I would say 14-6 in favor of Tech."

Prof. Clark Schooley: "We are going to beat them by 13 points. I'm an optimistic soul."

Back The Red And Black

Slacking Techsians will have the opportunity to rally the spirit of the Denver-bound Raiders at Municipal airport today. The Pep rally begins at 12:30 p. m.

Meeting the Pioneers before a homecoming crowd in the higher altitude of Colorado, the Fighting Red Raiders deserve more student backing than upperclassmen have been showing. Students lacking transportation be at the College Ave-Broadway, campus entrance at 12:20 p. m. All students with cars are requested to meet them there.

The rally will be near the Raider plane at Municipal airport four miles out on the Plainview highway. The Raiders will be airborne shortly before 1 p. m., with or without your support.

Bears Stomp Tech 32-6

Here is a Monday morning quarterback tale of why Ralph Earhart missed his first of seven attempts for point after touchdown this year. Coach Dell Morgan sent Glenn Lewis into the game after the teams were lined up with these instructions, "Go in and tell Freddie there are 12 men on the field." Lewis raced out, followed instructions only to receive this reply from the quarterback, "Yeah, I know there are 12 men out here. Get the hell off." Following this interruption Earhart missed his first conversion which in our opinion is a reasonable alibi.

Charlie Reynolds is leading the Red Raiders in ground gained so far this fall and Bill White has the best average per try.

The leading Tech backs include Reynolds with 131 yards for 29 times, or 4.5 yards per try. White has picked up 70 yards in 12 times for almost six yards a try; Ralph Earhart in 14 tries has netted 68 yards, five yards average; Leete Jackson, 18 tries for 71 yards and a three yard average; Calvin Stevenson, 18 tries, 63 net yards, five yards average; J. W. Thompson, 27 carries, 63 net yards, three yard average.

Freddie Brown has completed 25 of 62 passes for 334 yards or a 40 per cent completion average. Pass receivers are led by Bill Kelley (sidelined with an injury since the first half of the Tulsa game). He has caught four for 42 yards, including two touchdown passes. Glenn Lewis has caught three for 46 yards. Charlie Reynolds has made 57 yards with three catches and Zac Henderson made 74 on the one pass he caught against Baylor.

Highlight of the statistics as far as we are concerned is the fine showing of some of the freshmen. Maybe three years from now it won't be necessary for a Tech coach to say the difference between Tech and top opponents such as Texas, Texas A&M and Baylor is the caliber of players at the schools.

New Basketball Scoreboard To Be Installed Next Week

The new basketball scoreboard, gift of last year's senior class, arrived in Lubbock Tuesday, according to Joe Holmes, owner of the Sports Center, which supplied the board. It was taken to the gym Wednesday and will be installed next week he said.

An official at the side of the court controls this electrically-operated scoring device which is to be installed on the south wall of the gym. It automatically times the game, signals quarters and length of time out periods.

Similar to the Lubbock High school scoring system this board is the "finest equipment produced in its field," Holmes said, and "is something the school can be very proud of."

AWS To Present Style Show, 'Get Acquainted' For All Coeds

By BETTY RAMSEY
Toreador Staff Writer

Men may praise and men may criticize styles, but no men will view the "new look" in girls' campus apparel which will be a feature of the AWS Big Sister-Little Sister party Wednesday.

Jackie Lewis, president of the Association of Women Students, says the party will be a "get acquainted" affair to enable freshmen and transfer girls to meet upper classmen, and every coed is invited. Refreshments, juke box music, and "just talking" will open the get-together at 8:30 p. m. in the new cafeteria behind the Recreation hall.

Everyone will adjourn at 9:00 o'clock to the Aggie auditorium for the style show. The party will end by 9:50 p. m. Freshmen girls will have 10 o'clock privileges for the show, according to Mrs. Johnny Langford, Dean of Women.

Clothes for dancing, sport, date, football games, and class will be featured, the models wearing their own clothes. Coeds will view styles for typical occasions on the campus, the decorating theme to be kept as a surprise until show night.

Here, Here, Here! Echoes In Eco 231

Roll was being called in Economics 231.

"Walters," droned Assoc. Prof. John Harding.

"Here," said two male voices simultaneously from opposite corners of the room. Knowing there was only one "Walters" in the class, the students laughed furiously.

"Mr. Walters," said Harding, "on the days that you arrange to have someone answer roll call for you, I would suggest that you remain away from class."
As the professor called the last few names on the list, a 10:08 a. m. scholar rushed into the room. "And what is your name?" inquired Harding.

The unsuspecting student answered promptly. "Walters," he said.

By HOPPY MAAS

About 80 members of the Lubbock chapter's 50-man chorus will present old time favorites. Smith Answers--- made his protest in a letter to Atty. Gen. Price Daniel.

"If Mr. Greenhill is right, then the Constitution is wrong," Smith's letter said. The suits brought in court allege that the amendment is unconstitutional because it was not presented in the form specified by the Constitution since it contained more than one provision and since it was not printed in full on the ballot. The suits also claim that the Aug. 23 special election was invalid because no elections were called in three counties, and because the amendment was not published in a newspaper of general circulation in six other counties, as provided by the Constitution.

"As a state representative of the people of Texas from the 119th district, I want you to tell me and the people of Texas whether or not you are still campaigning for the so-called college building amendment," Smith's letter to Daniel said. Daniel was an active supporter of the proposal prior to the August election.

To Greenhill's statement that "a judge in a county could veto a state-wide election by not calling the election if that is all it took to beat it," Smith asked if the attorney general and his assistants would say that the 97,318 votes against the amendment would have carried the election if no elections had been called in the 100 counties which favored the amendment.

Smith pointed out that the Constitution "clearly says that the amendment must be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the state, answering Greenhill's statement that 'a newspaper editor could refuse publication and disfranchise all voters in the state.'"

"We the people had thought that the constitution was our one safeguard," Smith wrote.

Smith pointed out that the group fighting the amendment in the court suit is not just a "West Texas group," as Greenhill had stated. A Dims citizen is a party to the suit and another Dallas citizen, an attorney and ex-student of Tech, is handling the suit, Smith said.

"We want to know where you and your assistants stand on this matter," Smith concluded his letter to Daniel.

Contact officer will be in the Veterans Training office each Friday to aid veterans with claims and insurance.
