Lone Bandit Robs West Bank

$1200 In Cash Grabbed By Lone Robber

Description Of Bandit Similar To That Of Raymond Hamilton

WACO, (AP)—Lone robber held up State National Bank of West Saturday and escaped with between $1,000 and $1,200.

The robber entered the bank alone and ordered seven persons at a pistol point into the vault. He grabbed currency, and fled in an automobile on the old Waco road.

Witnesses said a man and a woman were with the robber in the fleeing automobile.

It was reported at Mexia later that the robber held up a man, stole his automobile and kidnaped his wife. Description of the robber is similar to Raymond Hamilton.

D E SPERADO AGAIN FOILS THE LAW

ST. PAUL, (AP)—John Dillinger, with a sub-machine gun in his hands, and a big green sedan awaiting him, shot his way out of a police trap Saturday, and once more foiled the law.

Finger prints left behind as he fled with a woman believed wounded, and a man believed to be John Hamilton, member of his old gang, definitely established police said, that one of the trio was the widely-hunted desperado, who broke out of jail at Crown Point, Indiana, last month.

Longview Fire To Be Probed

Three Persons, Die; Fourth Not Expected To Live

LONGVIEW, (AP)—At least three persons lost their lives and 19 were injured as they were caught in a flaming trap when the Longview hotel burned to the ground early Friday. The hotel once was one of the finest in east Texas and the loss was estimated at $250,000.

The dead: Don F. Safford, 45, Dallas; Sam Craig, 32, Dallas; unidentified person, sex unknown, possibly T. D. Jones of Shreveport, who was listed as missing.

Mrs. J. E. Peck, of Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Bob Cosby were in serious condition and Mrs. Peck was not expected to live.

The death of a fourth person, Herman E. Yates, was attributed to a heart attack, induced by fright.

Hardly had the embers cooled when hastily recruited workers began searching the wreckage with picks and shovels, searching for other victims and B. N. Taylor, city manager, ordered a thorough investigation of the fire's cause. Alton Mackey, fire chief, described the building as having been unsafe.

District Judge W. C. Hurst said he would ask the Gregg county grand jury to investigate the fire also, basing its inquiry on the question of whether the hotel was provided with adequate fire escape facilities.

Final Payroll Made For CWA

Slightly more than $2,700 paid 310 men Saturday while final to the long-lucrative line of CWA pay rolls here.

Thursday CWA officials explored over the entire nation and had the double effect of cutting off $10 men and closing every case on the Howard county relief rolls.

County Relief Administrator R. R. McNew explained that destitute persons would be cared for on a direct relief basis. All persons in dire need may reapply for aid and be placed on rolls again if a thorough investigation lead officials to believe facts warrant.

Discontinuance of CWA marked the end of any and all work projects in the county. Only such work as needed for relief cases will be furnished in the future, McNew said.

Geo. R. Hearst Brief Visitor In Big Spring

George Randolph Hearst, eldest son of William Randolph Hearst, one of America's foremost publishers, and owner of twenty-eight newspapers operating in the United States, was in Big Spring Saturday approximately one hour.

He was enroute to Miami, Florida, for a few days' pleasure trip. He was accompanied by his pilot, Ray Crawford, of Los Angeles, Bill Hoeltle, formerly an American Airways pilot between El Paso and Los Angeles, and Fred Brown, mechanic. They were traveling in Mr. Hearst's private plane, a Stinson tri-motored, a beautiful brown-colored 10-place plane.

The party arrived here at 7:15 at Big Spring airport, where the ship was serviced by American Airways. Tanks were replenished with 200 gallons of 87-octane gasoline. Mr. Hearst reported his departure from El Paso was delayed two hours because of inability to get this high-grade gasoline.

Mr. Hearst, who is an aviator of no mean ability, having been flying for some five years, reported the trip made from El Paso in two hours and ten minutes. They were favored with a tail wind. The trip from Midland to Big Spring was made in 13 minutes, he said.

Mr. Hearst has charge of radio and mechanical departments of the Hearst newspapers.

After spending Saturday night in Fort Worth, the guest of his friend, Amos G. Carter, Mr. Hearst will leave Sunday morning by a special plane for Miami, Florida. The plane is to be piloted by Col. Roscoe Turner, a friend of Mr. Hearst. He expects to return to Los Angeles in about a week.

Young Hearst reported his father, William Randolph Hearst, who is now in his 71st year, as being in splendid health.

Explanation Is Asked Of Turkey For Holding Ship

ISTANBUL, Turkey, (AP)—Danger of international complications between Turkey and Greece was seen Saturday over detention of Samuel Insull, Sr., American fugitive, under arrest here.

The Greek government made a demand to know what justification Turkey has for holding a Greek ship on which Insull was fleeing.

Threat of the difficulties came at a time when the two nations have been particularly friendly.

They recently signed the Balkan Pact and a Turkish aviation mission recently visited Greece in honor of Greek Independence Day.

Nevertheless, the strong feeling evident here Saturday that the Turkish action in holding Insull's ship was unwarranted and was the subject of criticism.

The Turkish government ordered Insull's arrest and asked him to appear before a Turkish court which will decide whether he is extraditable to the United States.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Establishment of a national board of adjustment for handling railroad wage disputes was recommended Saturday by Joseph Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, in a letter to Chairman Rayburn of the House Interstate Commerce Committee.

Eastman Advises Adjustment Body In Railroad Row

The proposal was made after an unsuccessful effort to adjust the pending controversy between railway employes and managers over wages.

Eastman said Friday night a decision probably would await the return to Washington of President Roosevelt.

Eastman's proposed board would have power to enforce its rulings in courts, a power which the present board of mediation established under the railway act does not have.

Settlement of the present wage dispute is unlikely before the president can return from a fishing trip and attempt to reach an agreement.

One Killed In Gun Duel At Amarillo

AMARILLO, (AP)—W. S. Cline was not killed by a grand jury here Saturday. He remained in a local hospital in a serious condition.

AMARILLO, (AP)—Gerald Knapp of Dixon, Ill., was killed, and William S. Klein, Omaha, Neb., was shot through the abdomen in what officers said was a gun duel at the Amarillo hotel late Friday.

The shooting occurred in Klein's room on the eighth floor of the hotel. There were no eye witnesses. Hotel attendants said the men were alone in the room.

Knapp, who came to Amarillo on his honeymoon, had lived at the hotel about four weeks.

The trouble arose over a cattle deal, officers said.

Hung Jury In Boatler Trial At Colorado

BOATLER, (Special to Herald)—Case of N. E. Boatler, former school teacher, charged with statutory rape, resulted in no trial Saturday when Judge A. S. Mauzey of the 22nd district court dismissed the jury.

Twenty hours of deliberation failed to change the stand of jurors which is reported to have stood 8-4.

Judge Mauzey set bond of $5,000 for Boatler after the trial. It was predicted he would post the figure within a few days.

After a heated fight between District Attorney George Mahon for the state and Clyde E. Thomas and Martell McDonald for the defense, the case went to the jury 10:30 p. m. Friday.

Boatler was arrested in Midland after an alleged affair with a pupil and was brought to Big Spring for safe keeping. He was taken to Colorado recently to be arraigned before the court.

News Behind The News THE NATIONAL Whirligig

Written by a group of the best informed newspapermen of Washington and New York. Opinions expressed are those of the writers and should not be interpreted as reflecting the editorial policy of this newspaper.

WASHINGTON By George Durso

Peace—Terms of the automobile settlement have taken the Wagner bill pretty close to the solar plexus just when the New York Senator had visions of giving his National Labor Board a real black jack to wield on industry.

Senator Wagner, who is also chairman of the Labor Board, has been seeking by new legislation to put so many red corporations into his pet agency that it would be able to pull a David on any industrial Goliath. Outlawing of company unions was to be the big feature.

Then along came the President with his dictated agreement that A. F. of L. unions and company unions should receive an equal blessing from the auto magnates and also from the government—provided the company units are formed without coercion.

Proponents of the Wagner bill had hoped for active administration support. In fact the President himself hinted darkly about what he would have to say on the subject after he got to Florida—but this was while the automobile industry was set to blow.

It was significant that General Hugh Johnson failed to show up before the Senate Labor committee the day after peace was restored in the gas-buggy factories. Johnson was to have been the last witness before those definitely known to be opposed to the Wagner bill were given open sesame to the witness stand. He was to have given the Senate the low-down on how the administration felt toward company unions.

Instead the General was so worn out by his efforts to negotiate the automobile settlement that he didn't even notify the Committee in advance he wouldn't be present.

Reasons—One of the best reasons Mr. Roosevelt had for forcing an agreement between the automotive employers and their workers was the confidential report he received from the Labor department predicting conditions in the industry for March.

This month's auto figures, when finally compiled and checked, will show the plants running pretty close to that much-desired 1928 level.

Employment gained 21.3 per cent in February to hit 83.3 of the 1928 figures. Pay rolls jumped 41.1 to 75.5 per cent of normalcy—the largest increase in wage payments in the 11 years the Department has been collecting such data.

All past experience shows that when February is good, March is better. Labor Department statistics (CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

Parker Named To Enforce 'Hot Oil' Laws In E. Texas

AUSTIN, (AP)—R. D. Parker, chief of oil and gas division of the Texas Railroad Commission, Saturday was named administrative chief and will have absolute charge of the East Texas oil field in an effort to stamp out "hot oil."

Other changes designed to stop the flow of illegally produced oil was endorsed by the commission. Parker will have the right to hire and fire employes used in the enforcement campaign.

Local Banks Send Wires Asking Air Mail Restoration

Telegrams urging restoration of air service here were sent Saturday to postal authorities by the two Big Spring banks and the Chamber of Commerce.

The wires cited loss of the service had not only inconvenienced this section but had made communication by mail less satisfactory.

Such questions as tonnage hauled by train and truck, which service was more satisfactory, which the cheaper, which agency got the majority of business from that particular concern. The questionnaire also called for suggestions how service of either agency could be improved.

Kahn's Funeral Monday

NEW YORK, (AP)—Private funeral services will be held Monday at 3 p. m. for Otto H. Kahn, international banker and art patron, who died Friday in his offices at Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Quicker action toward returning the air mail to private companies appeared likely Saturday after the twelfth army fatality Friday night near Dewitt, Iowa. Lieut. Thomas Wood, San Antonio, was killed when a blinding rain and a seriously low ceiling sent him hurtling to his death on a farm.

His body was crushed between the motor and twenty-three pouches of mail he carried.

Meanwhile private aviation companies whose contracts were cancelled, Saturday studied strict requirements for re-bidding on contracts.

The postoffice department has ruled that no holder of a cancelled contract may re-bid. This action necessitates a re-organization of companies. Decision whether they will reorganize or continue without benefit of air mail revenues is being studied by companies.

Hard Riding Buck Jones Is Back In Another Thriller

Here's good news! Buck Jones, the hardest-hitting, hardest-riding star of all, will be back in town Friday and Saturday with his newest thrill-getting picture, "Unknown Valley," just released by Columbia, at the Queen Theatre.

And, boy, what a thriller this one is! You remember Buck in "Hello, Trouble" and "The California Trail" don't you? Well, "Unknown Valley" is even better than those, if you can imagine that!

This time Buck is on the search for his father, a prospector, and the trail takes him to the Skeleton Mountains which are accessible only by crossing a desert which usually takes its death toll. He finds himself prisoner of a strange group who have cut themselves off from the rest of the world and who resent intrusion because of their unlimited gold supply.

His father is there also. Both are placed in a giant cave which can only be reached by means of a windlass and basket. How Buck and his father escape from the seventy-foot confining walls, and reach the outside world, will give you something to talk about for days. And there are some swell fights in the picture, too!

Lambert Hillier, who directed all of Buck Jones' recent outdoor dramas, made "Unknown Valley" and wrote the screen play as well. It is from a story by Donald W. Lee. Cecilia Parker is the girl. Frank McGlynn, Gaylord Pendleton, Ward Bond, Charles Thurston and Wade Boteler appear in the cast.

A Woman Came Between Them

Rudy Vallee, erstwhile romantic figure of the air, and Alice Faye, beautiful actress, have the leads in screen presentation of George White's "Scandals." Alice loves Rudy but he is more concerned over a national broadcast than over love. Then a woman came between them—and well, that's the story.

Cast Studded With Talent Of All Kinds

Rudy Vallee Combines Radio Gifts With His-ironic Talents

At the Ritz Theatre today, and Monday, Fox Film will have the distinction of presenting the first and only motion picture edition of the famous George White's "Scandals." The entire production was conceived and staged by George White himself. The film is reported to be as elaborate and as spectacular as any of White's previous successes on the Broadway stage. With the advantages offered by recent developments in talking pictures, White was able to produce a film that he says he could not possibly contemplate duplicating on the stage.

When White left for Hollywood, he took with him his staff of songwriters, dance directors and technicians. He also transported his gorgeous galaxy of original "Scandals" girls. The staff had been associated with White in his previous successes, and it was from them he anticipated the success that the film is said to be. The song writers, Jack Yellen, Irving Caesar, and Ray Henderson, all hit composers, have created ten melodic songs for this production. The dazzling dances in the eight revue numbers were directed by George Hale, past master at creating ultra-modern routines. Besides the song hits and revues, the film is enriched with fifteen comedy blockouts that give promise of being the high points of the production.

Terrific Suffering And Narrow Escapes Lie Back Of Filming Of New Cinema Classic 'Eskimo'

"Joe Sauer, Rob Roberts, Roy Clark rescued and brought safe to ship, also skin boat and lost party."

"Three men missing sixth day. Sending planes out to search."

"Men found held up in deserted cabin, cold, hungry but okay."

These are just samples of the terse wireless that reached the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production offices almost daily from the schooner "Nanuk," bearing the polar expedition under Col. W. S. Van Dyke which traveled 15,000 miles to film "Eskimo," epic of the frozen North to be shown Friday and Saturday at the Ritz theater.

More Production Reports

They're not narratives of what happened up there in Latitude 66. They were sent as and intended as mere production reports—the most prosaic of business.

But behind them lies a tale of thrills, of hardships, of narrow escape, and sometimes terrific suffering, unlike anything in the annals of the screen.

The first wire, for instance: A letter from Peter Freuchen, author of the story, veteran of the ice lands, and guide for the present expedition, tells what really happened.

The troupe was out on floating ice cakes, camera and sound apparatus lashed to one of the big alpsy bergs. Eskimo skin boats played in and out with men and apparatus.

Fur Racketeers Land In Police Line-Up Finally

Coming to the Ritz Theatre Thursday is "The Line-Up," a Columbia production depicting in fascinating detail the inner workings of a powerful group of fur racketeers who eventually land in the police line-up from which the motion picture derives its title.

Coupled with this dramatic expose is the romantic love story of the young detective and the girl he is forced to subject to the humiliation and disgrace of the line-up. He arranges for her temporary release, plants her as a stow-away, solves the series of fur robberies that have baffled his colleagues for months, and wins a lieutenantcy and a wife!

William Gargan is cast as the embryo detective. Formerly on Broadway, he came to Hollywood last year to repeat the part of the prize fighter butler in the screen version of "Animal Kingdom." He has been featured in several pictures since, but his role in "The Line-Up" is said to be the most colorful of his brief but significant screen career.

Marion Nixon is co-featured as the attractive checkroom attendant accused of theft who falls in love with Gargan. Born in Superior, Wisconsin, Miss Nixon came to Hollywood several years ago on a vaudeville tour and remained to achieve prominence on the screen. She began as an extra, was graduated to western leading ladies, and finally became a star in her own right.

John Miljan is cast, as usual, as the villain, but his role of the suave proprietor of a "hot" fur shop is unlike any part he has yet played. Noel Francis, alluring blonde actress, is featured as his assistant, while Harold Huber, another recruit from the New York stage, is the gangster accomplice. Others in the cast are Greta Meyer, Paul Hurst, Francis McDonald, Frank Reicher and John Blaffer.

Howard Higgin directed "The Line-Up" from an original story and screen play by George Wagner.

Caught in Blizzard

Three other members of the crew got lost. They took refuge in an old cabin in a blizzard. Six days later cold and hungry, they were rescued when a plane called for the purpose "spotted" them. Freuchen wrote about it all in the most matter of fact way. It was all in the day's work up there in the Arctic.

On one small island they found the white inhabitants in dire straits—a clergyman and two teachers—because the supply ship couldn't get through. They relieved them with their own stores. There was an element of comedy in the trip. They were carrying several cases of California oranges, and the Eskimos, who have never seen anything like that, went fairly wild over them.

Mike Phillips, a sailor, fell overboard in Kotzebue Sound and was almost frozen stiff. Van Dyke had a hair-breadth escape from a bull walrus. Caliber birds were scattered by "zooming" over them with a plane that served the expedition. These actual occurrences are only a few examples of the many thrills to be seen in the picture.

The glare of suspicion lighted the path to love!

The cast with which White has surrounded himself is large, and is studded with an array of screen white explorers how to drink the fresh warm blood. Freuchen of course was used to it. But, he writes, Joseph Sauer, that Hollywood boy more accustomed to sea and cake could not do it until finally hunger and cold made him desperate, and then he found as I told him that it was perfectly good provender.

Dumb Or Dumber?

Gracie Allen, who appears in Six of a Kind, causes doubt to arise whether she is dumb or dumber or even the dumbest of the lot. But Gracie, ah, that woman is so dumb she's smart. She is shown taking time out here to snap the other five members of the cast.

Honeymoon Is Converted Into Comedy

Ruggles Innocently Mixed In Swindle, Gets Bogus Stock

Charles Ruggles, Mary Boland, W. C. Fields, Allison Skipworth and George Burns and Gracie Allen, Paramount's leading comedians, are responsible for the funniest picture of the season, "Six of a Kind," the comedy which will be at the Ritz Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday.

This hilarious concoction was directed by Leo McCarey, the man who directed "Kid from Spain" and the Marx Brothers' latest picture, "Duck Soup." The screen play was written by Walter De Leon and Harry Ruskin.

Ridiculous Adventures

The picture is an adaptation of an original story by Douglas MacLean, former silent screen comedian, now a producer at the Paramount studios, and Keene Thompson. It concerns the ridiculous adventures which overtake two simple souls who start out on their second honeymoon.

After twenty years of happily married life, Ruggles and Mary Boland start on their second honeymoon. To defray expenses, she advertises, unknown to Ruggles, for another couple to drive with them, and Burns and Allen with a large flea-bound answer the ad.

Innocent Bystander

As an employee of a bank, Ruggles innocently gets mixed up in a bank swindle, and, as if that wasn't enough trouble, he has the valueless stock of a defunct gold mine thrown in his lap.

Then, with George Burns and Gracie Allen throwing laughs in his way all along, and with W. C. Fields and Allison Skipworth waiting at the end of their journey, his second honeymoon turns into a complicated mixture of laughs and troubles.

Mighty Hunter

Mala, mighty hunter, wins the respect of his tribe by his brave deeds and ability to provide for his wife and children. He hears of a white captain of a "floating house" and goes to investigate. The captain gets the wife drunken and seduces her. Mala resents but lets the matter go when told the white man can do no wrong. Then his wife is shot down and Mala takes a course that makes "Eskimo" a strange show to say the least.

THE RISEN CHRIST

O Risen Christ, this glorious Easter brings
The memory of that sacred day
When the angel said "He is not here"
And the stones were rolled away.

And through our tears we see the nail-pierced hands
Of Him—and the wounded bleeding side.
As He freely gave His life for us
And on the Cross was crucified.

But, oh the power that brought Him forth
Triumphant over death and the grave,
And now He comes with forgiving heart
Lost Humanity to save.

O Risen Christ, in gratitude we humbly kneel
And raise our voices in praise to Thee,
And may we ever keep before our eyes
The Cross, and Christ of Calvary.

The above poem is composed by Pearl Moore Stevens of Wichita Falls and is included in her new volume, "Shadows of Dawn" just issued by the Southwest Press of Dallas.

THE RISEN CHRIST

O Risen Christ, this glorious Easter brings
The memory of that sacred day
When the angel said "He is not here"
And the stones were rolled away.

And through our tears we see the nail-pierced hands
Of Him—and the wounded bleeding side.
As He freely gave His life for us
And on the Cross was crucified.

But, oh the power that brought Him forth
Triumphant over death and the grave,
And now He comes with forgiving heart
Lost Humanity to save.

O Risen Christ, in gratitude we humbly kneel
And raise our voices in praise to Thee,
And may we ever keep before our eyes
The Cross, and Christ of Calvary.

The above poem is composed by Pearl Moore Stevens of Wichita Falls and is included in her new volume, "Shadows of Dawn" just issued by the Southwest Press of Dallas.

MISS MARYON HUTTO WED TO MR. BARBER OF ATHENS AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Ceremony At Noon Followed By Reception At Home Of Mrs. Obie Bristow; Easter Colors Used

The Wedding of Miss Maryon Hutto and William Thomas Barber, Jr., was solemnized Saturday at high noon at the First Presbyterian Church, in a rarely beautiful Easter setting.

The officiating minister was the Rev. John C. Thorns, pastor of the Sterling City Presbyterian Church, formerly pastor at Coahoma, home of the bride. The impressive ring ceremony was used.

The Easter motif was carried out in a woodland scene. Tall palms of woodland ferns stood before the altar railing forming a setting for the bridal ceremony.

The Easter colors of white and purple were carried out in potted Easter lilies and hydrangeas. Boston ferns lent green notes to the setting and gave the effect of forest depths. Bows of purple tulle indicated seats reserved for members of the families and intimate friends.

At the pipe organ Miss Elsie Jeannette Barnett played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as a professional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional. Before the ceremony Mrs. Robert M. Parks sang "O Promise Me."

The groom was accompanied to the altar by the best man, Mr. L. M. Brooks of Brownwood. The ushers were Messrs. Glen D. Guilkey and Jay Johnson; the matron of honor, Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow,

Recent Bride

Mrs. William Thomas Barber

cousin of the bride; and the maid of honor, Miss Dee Davidson of Mineral Wells.

The bride came in on the arm of her father, Mr. Louis Hutto.

Mrs. Barber was becomingly attired in a traveling suit of beige in the smart new oatmeal shade and wore brown accessories, a brown hat and brown slippers. Her corsage was of white freesias and pink rosebuds with white and silver ties.

Miss Davidson wore a suit of navy blue silk frilled at the neck with yellow, and a hat of yellow to match. Mrs. Bristow was charming in a suit of yellow with brown accessories. Both wore corsages of pastel-colored sweetpeas, cineraria, and freesias with green ties.

Immediately after the ceremony, members of the wedding party motored to the home of Mrs. Bristow for a short reception before bidding the bride and groom goodbye.

There they found the dining table centered with a lovely three-tiered wedding cake iced in white and decorated with rosebuds, hearts and the name of the bride and groom and the word, congratulations, in pink icing.

A lovely bouquet of calla lilies was tied by orchid streamers to a miniature car in which sat a small bride and groom ready for a honeymoon. Freezias decorated the wedding car. Pink tapers from double candlesticks burned on both sides of the cake. The table was covered with handsome lace cloth, a gift to the bride from her pupils at the Midway school.

From a huge punch bowl on the buffet, pink punch was served to the guests with slices of the wedding cake, amid good wishes for the young couple.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Barber left by motor for a wedding trip in San Antonio and Houston after which they will go to Mineola, where Mr. Barber is now located to make their home.

The bride is the daughter of Louis Hutto of the Hutto ranch between Big Spring and Coahoma. She was born and reared in Howard county, making her home in Coahoma and Big Spring at different times and attending high school in Big Spring where she was graduated. She attended college at Texas Presbyterian college at Milford and at Texas Technological college at Lubbock, where she met her husband. For the past several years she has taught school at Midway.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Barber of Athens, Mr.

VOTING A PATRIOTIC DUTY

A few months ago this paper had occasion to congratulate the electorate on having expressed so marked an interest in affairs of state to the extent of having broken all records for poll tax registrations and acquisition of exemption certificates.

At that time a warning was sounded. It was explained that democracy is the most desirable form of government when the electorate is thinking and voting right.

Tuesday the first occasion to exercise the right franchise arises when three city commissioners will be chosen.

It is the patriotic duty of every person within the city limits who holds a poll tax or exemption certificate to vote in that election.

Responsibility to your governmental units does not end with your qualifying as a voter. You must vote wisely to discharge that responsibility to any appreciable degree.

Tuesday and in any of the other elections of this year there will be two issues of major importance. Voters should not be confused by any subterfuge or rantings of demagogues.

In national and perhaps state elections other important issues enter in, but democracy can make no great mistake in voting for honesty and efficiency.

City, school trustees, and county elections should be decided solely on these qualifications. Especially in this area there is no excuse for any petty politics.

When you go to the ballot box, Tuesday, go with an open mind. Think straight, expell your prejudices.

It makes no difference which of the six men you vote for so long as you are honestly voting for the three you believe will best promote honesty and efficiency.

When you go to the ballot box, Saturday to cast your vote for trustees vote for those you believe are best qualified.

When time comes for you to run through a long list of county, state and district candidates, come out satisfied that you have voted your bigger self.

Every qualified voter has the right to cast his ballot as he sees fit. In these times when light is beginning to break in the east, it is most important that voter sees straight.

THINGS ONE REMEMBERS

BY R. M. Hofer... According to the most authentic reports, the German and Russian press are bound and gagged by dictatorship and the people are fed only such opinions as the ruling powers desire.

Such a breach of liberty would be intolerable in the United States. In all history, hard-won freedom of the individual has been safeguarded by a free press and free speech.

Even an innocent gesture toward trespass upon such freedom, must be resisted.

And now it is proposed that the government should manufacture furniture for post offices in order to employ unemployed coal miners from West Virginia.

The next logical step would be for the government to operate coal mines to employ the furniture workers who lost their jobs because of government.

Cooperatives are essential to recovery and to prevent government regulation of farms.

A BILL FOR $485... Suppose a Federal tax collector came to your home and presented a bill for $485.00, telling you to pay it promptly or your property investments, savings or anything else you possessed, would be attached to satisfy it?

You would feel outraged. But as the head of a family, you will pay a bill like that whether you know it or not. The amount represents the average family's share of Federal expenditures for 1933, which totaled $14,500,000,000.

Some of it you pay directly, through Federal income, gasoline and similar taxes. The bulk of it, so far as most families are concerned, is paid indirectly. It's part of the cost of shoes, clothing, furniture, food, theatre tickets, automobiles—every necessity and luxury. After you have paid this you are not through with your tax bill.

State, county and city governments are left all hungry for more money; all taking a constantly rising percentage of your income.

Businesses pay a substantially larger proportion of income in taxes than do individuals. An excessive

UNUSUAL FACTS REVEALED

MARION NIXON IS THE SMALLEST FULL GROWN LEADING LADY IN PICTURES SHE IS JUST FIVE FEET TALL AND WEIGHS NINETY-EIGHT POUNDS.

ONE IMPORTANT ACTRESS WHO NEVER APPEARS IN A PICTURE IS THE "STAND-IN". SHE STANDS IN THE STARS PLACE WHILE THE CAMERA MAN FOCUSES AND THE DIRECTOR PLANS THE LIGHTING. IT IS FATIGUING WORK.

NOEL FRANCIS IS A DESCENDANT OF JOHN QUINCY ADAMS AND A D.A.R.—BUT SHE ATTRIBUTES HER START AS AN ACTRESS TO HER SHAPELY LEGS!

THE OTHER DAY IN THE HOUSE REPRESENTATIVES A CONGRESSMAN WAS EXPLAINING WHY HE FAVORED THE BANKHEAD BILL, WHICH WOULD MAKE IT A CRIMINAL OFFENSE TO PRODUCE MORE THAN THE ALLOTTED AMOUNT OF COTTON.

THE HARVEST HAND IS GONE. THE COTTON PICKER IS GOING. COWS ARE MILKED BY MACHINERY. PRINTING IS A DYING TRADE. TELEPHONES ARE SELF-OPERATIVE. ACCOUNTS ARE KEPT BY MACHINERY. THE MACHINERY IS SELF-CREATED. IT DIGS ITS OWN MATERIALS OUT OF THE GROUND, TRANSPORTS THEM TO THE MANUFACTURING PLANT, MANUFACTURES ITSELF AND OPERATES ITSELF. EVERY DAY IN EVERY WAY, ON THE FARM, IN THE FACTORY, IN THE MINE, THE NEED FOR HUMAN LABOR BECOMES LESS AND LESS.

IT IS NOT DIFFICULT, I THINK, TO SHOW THAT THERE IS SOMETHING FUNDAMENTALLY WRONG WITH IT. IF LABOR-SAVING MACHINERY PRODUCES UNEMPLOYMENT AND THE AMOUNT OF LABOR-SAVING MACHINERY PRODUCES UNEMPLOYMENT WAS IN THE UNITED STATES, IT TAKES MANY OF THOSE TWENTY-SEVEN MEN TO PRODUCE THE TRACTOR AND KEEP IT RUNNING.

THE IDEA THAT LABOR-SAVING MACHINERY MAKES A NATION POORER IS A MOST CURIOUS BUT PERSISTENT ILLUSION. IN THE UNSETTLED PARTS OF AFRICA, ACCORDING TO MR. H. FOSTER BAIN, A MAN CARRIES ON HIS BACK ABOUT 60 POUNDS OF FOOD AND EATS TWO POUNDS A DAY. THAT MEANS THAT HE CAN GO FORWARD FIFTEEN DAYS AND HAVE ENOUGH FOOD TO GET BACK ALIVE. NOW YOU CAN SAY, IF YOU LIKE, THAT THIS MEANS WORK FOR EVERYBODY. BUT IT REALLY MEANS POVERTY AND THE RISK OF STARVATION FOR EVERYBODY.

IN 1924 A MAN WENT DEEP INTO AFRICA TO STUDY THE COPPER DEPOSITS OF THE BELGIAN CONGO. IT REQUIRED FIVE THOUSAND MEN ON HIS LINE OF SUPPLY TO TAKE CARE OF HIM, AND EVEN THEN HE HAD TO HURRY TO AVOID A FOOD SHORTAGE. THAT IS WHAT THE LACK OF LABOR-SAVING MACHINERY MEANS. THE MERE TASK OF CARRYING ENOUGH FOOD FOR HIM AND FOR THE MEN WHO WERE CARRYING THE FOOD REQUIRED A SMALL ARMY. THAT IS ONE WAY TO MAKE EMPLOYMENT. BUT IT IS NOT THE WAY TO RAISE THE STANDARD OF LIFE, AND YET THAT IS PRECISELY WHAT WILL BE ACCOMPLISHED IF THOSE WHO ARE HAUNTED BY THE SPECTER OF OVERPRODUCTION ARE ALLOWED TO TRANSLATE THEIR DELUSION INTO PUBLIC POLICY.

TODAY and TOMORROW

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The Fear of Plenty

The other day in the House of Representatives a Congressman was explaining why he favored the Bankhead bill, which would make it a criminal offense to produce more than the allotted amount of cotton. He had returned recently, he said, to a farm in central Kansas where he worked as a boy, and there he saw three men using machinery to harvest a crop that once would have required 30 men.

It is not difficult, I think, to show that there is something fundamentally wrong with it. If labor-saving machinery produces unemployment and the amount of labor-saving machinery produced unemployment was in the United States, it takes many of those twenty-seven men to produce the tractor and keep it running.

The idea that labor-saving machinery makes a nation poorer is a most curious but persistent illusion. In the unsettled parts of Africa, according to Mr. H. Foster Bain, a man carries on his back about 60 pounds of food and eats two pounds a day.

That is the answer to the Congressman's argument. The three men on the farm who use machinery were not the only ones working to harvest that crop. Behind them, but out of sight, were the miners who dug the ore and the coal, the men who made the steel and manufactured the machines, the men who produced the fuel to run them, who transported and serviced them.

Nowadays there is no excuse for building poorly. Methods and materials have been improved—and depression has actually forwarded progress in this field, due to the need to make sales appeal stronger than ever.

Is a house fire-resistant? Is it rigid in construction? Will maintenance cost be low? Has it the modern conveniences that wise buyers demand? These and similar questions, answered in the affirmative, point the way to better homes for America.

One of the most serious aspects of the automobile accident problem is a constant increase in the number of fatalities per accident.

The reason for this is obvious: Excessive speed. It is an incontrovertible maxim that the chance of an accident producing a fatality becomes greater as the speed of cars involved increases.

A recent exhaustive survey produced the fact that excessive speed was responsible for 33 per cent of all automobile deaths. And that term, "excessive speed," needs a definition. There are times when fifteen miles an hour is dangerous and there are times fifty miles an hour is overcautious.

Any speed is unsafe if the driver is unable to stop his car in the assured clear distance ahead. Road and weather vary the safety factor.

Study your car and your own capabilities. Discover how soon you can stop at varying speeds. This is indispensable in becoming a safe motorist.

We all regard arson fires as social crimes—but every fire which is preventable, is an economic crime. That is worth remembering when every resource, every effort should be bent toward using to the full all our national assets in bringing recovery.

In an effort to speed recovery, there can be no greater service to the nation at large than to stimulate private construction—both by creating a wider demand for homes, and by making financing easier.

A start has been made, through the Home Loan Banks, toward loosening credit for residential building. Building and loan groups, as the leaders of a number of them have said, should follow. The home-builder himself can help by building a higher-quality structure, both for reasons of economy and comfort, and because the better the home, the more worthy it is of a loan.

Nowadays there is no excuse for building poorly. Methods and materials have been improved—and depression has actually forwarded progress in this field, due to the need to make sales appeal stronger than ever.

Is a house fire-resistant? Is it rigid in construction? Will maintenance cost be low? Has it the modern conveniences that wise buyers demand? These and similar questions, answered in the affirmative, point the way to better homes for America.

Rev. Thorns To Speak On "Sons Of The Resurrection"

At Easter Sunday Service

On Easter morning, Rev. John C. Thorns will speak on "Sons of the Resurrection", and at the evening service, his subject will be "A Gracious Invitation".

One Friday evening in his talk on "Substitutes for Jesus", Rev. Mr. Thorns dramatically presented Jesus' trials at the bar of three different courts, in each of which he was declared innocent. "And yet, after being tried, Jesus was condemned and publicly crucified. All condemned Barabbas, yet he was released instead of Jesus. 'Who shall I release unto you—Jesus or Barabbas' and the people said: 'We choose Barabbas.' They substituted Barabbas for Jesus.

"There are many Barabbas of today. What is your Barabbas? What but it takes many more than the three. When the Congressman exclaimed that "the machine is self-created" he showed what his illusion is. The machine is not self-created. A tractor which displaces twenty-seven men on a Kansas farm does not displace twenty-seven men in the United States. It takes many of those twenty-seven men to produce the tractor and keep it running.

A pleasure that will tear down the body and mind and spirit is not for the follower of Jesus. Christian pleasure will build up, not destroy.

"When you choose Barabbas you crucify the Christ. Every time you choose that Barabbas that separates you from Him, you are saying with the rabble, 'Crucify Him!'

In crucifying Him, you have crucified your hopes. Take Jesus Christ as your Savior. Turn away from your Barabbas. God helps you to choose Christ as your personal Savior. Turn away from your Barabbas and accept Jesus."

Go To Church Today

Whether or Not You Attend Church Regularly You Should Be Present In The Church of Your Choice Today

"Seek First the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness." Had these words been observed and studied by the world at large, there would have been no depression, no heart-breaking remorse over things past, no slump in our prosperity and happiness. Let us all unite to instill in the hearts of man and humanity the principles that will bring about a proper distribution of the bounty with which God has endowed the earth. Let us all seek to evenly distribute the happiness and the needs which every person born on this earth so justly deserves. Let us make a habit of attending church regularly and distribute and carry with us the word of God, of christianity, and of well-being and the natural happiness that comes with the carrying out of His word.

Let us all resolve now . . . to go to church today. It makes no difference which is the church of our choice . . . every church in the city welcomes each of us to its doors. Each minister will do his utmost to convey to us the words of the living God and of His message that will carry us throughout this life and the life everlasting.

Quoting Roger W. Babson, the world's greatest statistician, "People should understand that before prosperity can return there must be a renewed interest in the spiritual life of both individuals and nations. We must realize that the world has only been prosperous when the people have been actuated by a religious faith to use their resources for advancement and service." Let us all renew our faith and knowledge of security that is obtained only in our churches. Let us attend today . . . and make a habit of attending each and every Sunday of the year.

Judith Lane

by JEANNE BOWMAN

CHAPTER 11 INSTRUCTIONS

Judith turned to Tom Bevins, he widened in her grey eyes. He wasn't joking. She had never seen him as serious.

"Big Tom," she asked, "are you planning another trip to Washington, or abroad?"

"No, Judy, he answered quietly, "a longer trip than either. This morning after I had learned what Lampere was contemplating; what he had tried to do, something snapped inside. The doctor called it a stroke. I know better. He gives me no hope. I may die at any moment. Is it going to be too much for me to ask you to carry on?"

Judith had been trained in a stern school. Because of this she accepted Tom Bevins' statement that he might die at any moment, with no more emotion than a grave smile.

"I understand what you mean, now, Big Tom, I'll be proud to carry on for you. If it will make you any happier I'll relieve you of every detail right now. Not that I believe your doctor, because," she said brightening, "I think he was just trying to frighten you into taking a rest."

"He did suggest a rest," Tom Bevins admitted. "He said if I had the sense of a jack rabbit, I'd board the Naiaid, cruise around and live to be a hundred. And then he said in fairness to Mrs. Bevins, Ma'teel and my firm, I should arrange my estate so my sudden passing would not make them suffer more than I."

"Why don't you take his advice? If you trust me as much as you say, you do, I could come here—"

"It's not that I don't trust you, Judy, but I don't intend shifting any burdens while I can carry my load. There's going to be a big battle over the Rio Diablo and if I have to die, I'll die fighting that battle. Oh, and Judy, nothing about this agreement of ours, to Norman."

"I was just going to ask you if you didn't want me to delay my flight."

"No, indeed, hurry it along."

"I don't understand, you ask me to tell him—"

Judith, Norman is junior member of Dale, Lampere and Morrison. He is working with two brilliant, successful men, men whom his father admired tremendously. We can't expect Norman to accept our condemnation of Lampere. He's the kind who must find out for himself. You'll have to be patient with him, Judy he's slow, but he's sure—now to work."

Judith, looking back, thought of that night as a fantastic dream. From time to time she would straighten from her task, walk to the water cooler and pause at the window to look out on the darkened city. Each time the lights in the windows of other buildings were fewer, alternate street lights were burned off, display signs darkened.

At one o'clock, remembering she had had no dinner and feeling sure Bevins had completely forgotten food, she telephoned the Rice Building.

Standing beside the window waiting for the messenger, she saw a late moon leering drunkenly over the Texas building, and thought of other moons she had seen on engineering trips with her father, the white shaft of frozen light over the snow crusted Wasatch range, the slow ambulating sphere with its silhouette of black firs, working up from the Cascades.

Piping hot oyster stew revived the spirits of Big Tom, and he interspersed the rest of their work with anecdotes of early expeditions he had made.

And then, gradually, the buildings outside their window became black blocks piled up by a careful hand against a grey curtain.

Shortly after the first sunlight slanted across Tom Bevins' desk, he announced himself as satisfied, telephoned someone at the Rice, then sat back to await the messenger he had called.

"I'm sending these deeds down to Rio Mar by air. This young fellow I telephoned can be trusted; he has his own ship too. This pile, Judith, goes into a safety box, here. Drop in the bank sometime tomorrow, give them your signature and get your keys."

Judith nodded wearily, then went to the door to admit a tall young Texan in the nondescript attire of a commercial airman.

"Judith, Miss Lane, this is Slim Sanford."

At the name Judith looked up and smiled—"You're Cia's brother."

"And you're small Jude. I came all the way from China to meet you and found you down in the Devil river country. Now that you're here I have to go down there . . . never mind, I'll catch up with you some day."

"I hope you do," she returned sincerely. She did hope so, if he were half as fascinating as his sister thought him, he would make an ideal guest for her home."

Norman's . . . she'd almost forgotten Norman during the previous hours of work.

She found herself recalling what Cia had told her of him, as he talked with her chief. Breath-taking adventures mostly. Cia was always expecting a wire telling her he had spent a week on an arctic ice floe while Cia haunted the telegraph room awaiting word, and there was another time when he had come down inside some Chinese province to be captured by a doughty young war lord, who had later released him.

"Slim" Sanford looked up at her and smiled. No wonder the war lord had been lenient, thought Judith at his flash of white teeth and nice blue eyes, intensely blue.

She thought of him again when she reached her apartment, found her food closet bare (she'd had no time to shop since reaching town), the refrigerator turned off. As far as anything edible was concerned, it was a desert island, and then the telephone rang.

"Judy . . . good morning, Norman speaking, say dear, I've got things all fixed up with the architect. Can you have lunch with me, then go to his office?"

Architect, thought Judith? Oh yes, there had been talk of a house on a hill, oaks behind it, terraced lawn.

"Judy . . . what's wrong?"

"Forgive me, Norman, I just got in from the office and I'm so tired I'm stupid, could you make that late this afternoon?"

"Make it tomorrow, you poor youngster, had your breakfast?"

"No, I'm good right to her. I'm sorry about the architect; it isn't that I'm not interested—" "Don't worry about that, dear, call me later."

Judith nodded at the mouthpiece, laughed at her sleepy stupidity, said goodbye and went to her bed. Too tired to sleep, she tossed and turned, though of Big Tom and his peculiar request, thought of Norman and his kindness.

There came a rap on the door, thickly buttered toast and a pot of and going to it she found Lige, with a try in his hand—"Mo'nin', Miss Lane, Ma's Norman he sent roun' some brekfuss Delphy fix up. An' Delphy she say you is to eat every bite."

Judith surveyed the tray, steaming cereal with plump dates poking their heads from the clotted cream, golden peaches, flaked with sugar.

There came a rap on the door, thickly buttered toast and a pot of chocolate. Delphy had boasted she'd "fatten that child."

Overwhelmed with Norman's thoughtfulness, Judy sat eating and thinking. Some men would have resented her lack of interest in her future home; resented her lack of responsiveness, but not Norman.

Had she the right to marry such a person while under bondage to Big Tom? Suppose he died right away . . . foolish thought, the doctor was probably trying to frighten him into taking a rest.

That trip with its intense heat had been trying on them all . . . she'd call Dr. Kelly and make sure, out of fairness to Norman. She reached for the telephone, called the number, talked to his office girl and then to him.

"Miss Lane? Oh, yes, Big Tom's secretary, I've just come from there Miss Lane, they called me to his office."

Judith listened to Tom Bevins' physician in alarm—"Did you say you were called to his office? Is he ill?" she cried.

"He's all right now, but why did you let him work all night? My goodness, Miss Lane, you should know better."

"Why did I . . . let him?" gasped Judith. "Doctor Kelly, do you think he'd mind me any quicker than he minded you?"

In a matter of weeks. Dramatics—The Executive had one grand scene set for writing a strike that is worth mentioning even though the manufacturers walked out just before the big dramatic moment.

This was last Saturday night. The two sides had been deadlocked for four days. Mr. Roosevelt, after a whole afternoon of pulling them closer together, left the White House to attend the silver jubilee dinner of the National Press Club.

At that stage of the game A. F. of L. leaders had accepted a government proposition but the employers were still balking on conference with General Johnson.

Reporters had been warned the President would have to leave the dinner at any minute to approve the final contract. As a matter of fact he had given his sides secret orders to bring the manufacturers to the Press Club.

He had visualized the additional drama of settling such an important matter in the newspaper man's club and making the announcement to several hundred of them. Too bad the employers held out for—and got—more concessions. Otherwise the color writers would have had a field day.

Lost—Both organized labor and the employers lost something as a result of their set-to. So did Mr. Roosevelt. After the final White House drama which brought about an arm-

Garland Woodward To Conduct Campaign For Brother In Panhandle

WALTER C. WOODWARD

AUSTIN — Announcement has just been made from the state campaign headquarters of Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, candidate for attorney general, that his campaign throughout the Plains and Panhandle of Texas consisting of approximately sixty-seven counties will be in charge of his brother, Garland Woodward of Big Spring, Texas. A district office will be opened in that section.

Notes—Oil Dictator Ickes is sore because Attorney General Cummings indicted California oil men for doing what Ickes told them to do "under the code". Congressmen voted last week to make Rex Tugwell Undersecretary of Agriculture and now want him fired because he's charged with plotting to liquidate "inefficient" industries Soviet style. A coalition has been formed in the Senate to warp the Roosevelt tariff bill all out of shape if they can't lick it.

IN MEMORIAM—The news of the passing of Mrs. G. L. (Bud) Brown, on the evening of March 21, brought sorrow to the entire town and community. Mrs. Brown had made her home here for some forty years and a large number of friends, numbered by her acquaintance, grieve for her. Her kind and gentle nature won instantly to friendship those with whom she came in contact. She gave the purest and sweetest love and friendship to those near and dear to her. The going of this good and dearly beloved friend and neighbor, has left a vacancy that cannot be filled.

As a mother she was one of those whose heart is aflame with the joy of motherhood and its divine significance. We bless her memory. As a Christian she believed in the Golden Rule, and practiced it, as taught by her savior. Now that God has called her home to reward her for her long years of faithful and cheerful service let us rejoice that her reward is assured. She leaves us with our hearts filled with anguish, but our sorrow may be tempered with the expectant joy of meeting her above. All this is not dark, for joy, in the evening stillness a soft sweet voice on the air says, "Weep not for your Angel Mother; God needed her smiles up there." For He says that "such are the Kingdom of Heaven." And He shall call them all up there at the end. Let us gather new strength and new courage from the grasp of the all-torn hand. Let us forget the present in thinking of Heaven's great land. A love is planted in our hearts that, like the beautiful flowers blossoming in the evening sky, shall not die. I know that words cannot console your sorrow. Our griefs we alone can bear. I know, too, that the great faith that has been the food of your lives will sustain you now in this dark hour. That this same great faith shall raise your eyes to the Heaven from whence comes our hope and ask that your grief be soothed. God alone can help you with all your burdens to bear. May He give you peace and comfort even as I give my love and tenderest sympathy. MRS. M. V. IRVIN.

Griffin Has No Knowledge Of New Bankhead Measure

More than a score requests Saturday led County Agent O. P. Griffin to explain that he has no super-knowledge of the Bankhead bill and what it will provide if and when passed. Most of the requests for information, he said, came from those on farms ineligible for participation in the present cotton acreage reduction campaign or those having no cotton base. Griffin explained that the bill now contains a provision allowing for a 5 per cent increase for new land. Whether this would be allocated to states and prorated to counties or handled solely by counties, Griffin could not say.

Odessa Quits New League For Permian

Baseball men from several West Texas towns will convene in Midland today to complete organization of the U. S. Eighty league. The Odessa Oilers have decided to remain in the Permian Basin Baseball League again this year, instead of changing over to the new league along the Bankhead. The reversal of the earlier plan was made after a delegation of McCamey and Crane baseball officials met with the Odessa sportsmen. Delegation protests The delegation from Crane and McCamey protested the proposed withdrawal of the Oilers from the Permian league, and intimated that such a move would gain for Odessa the enmity of neighboring towns who were remaining in the old league. George Elliott, manager of the Odessa team, said that the Oilers had no intention of breaking up any league, but had hoped that a new loop could be formed, including the stronger teams from the Permian and the league along the Bankhead. "Spiky" Henninger will represent Big Spring at the Midland meeting. Henninger stated Saturday that organization of the new league would be completed today even if only four teams entered.

Caylor Paintings Now Hanging In Museum; Other Exhibits Arranged For Future Display

The West Texas Memorial Museum is making several plans for unusual forms of art entertainment, some of which have never appeared in Big Spring before.

A particularly novel tea is scheduled for the early future in the form of a grotto tea. An unusual painting will be exhibited in a grotto.

An outstanding feature planned for April 14th will be the exhibit of paintings of the Texas Artists colony at San Angelo. These paintings have been recently exhibited at the Elizabeth Ney Museum in Austin and are now on tour throughout Texas cities.

The place of this exhibit has not yet been announced, but the date will be April 14th and the paintings may remain over for the week end. It is being sponsored by the museum.

An exhibit dear to the hearts of West Texans is now already in progress at the museum in the showing of many of the paintings of the late H. W. Caylor. These are all truly typical West Texas scenes. One is a Texas sheriff of the old school; another is called "The Dry Water Hole." This picture graphically tells the story of the old prospector who dug for water at a water hole when he and his mount were almost famished.

He found it a dry hole; while he rested there his head buried in his arms a spring bubbled up underneath the feet of his horse.

A picture of old Billy Davenport, well known local character who was guide and scout for Mr. Caylor, is among the Caylor collection. W. T. Mann has a copy of a land grant from the Commonwealth of Virginia which he has lent to the museum for exhibition; it is now being framed. The old piece of paper, so old that the s's are printed in the old German script form, tells of the grant of 970 acres to Thomas Mann in Greenbrier county, Virginia on March 21, 1792 and is signed by Henry Lee, governor of the state at that time, grandfather of the famous southern general.

Such exhibits as these are being constantly brought to the museum by local citizens and provide it with an ever-changing set of loans and displays for the public. The museum is open every Saturday and on other announced days.

Local Radio Men Organize

To Joint Problems Of Radio Maintenance For Public Benefit

In cooperation with the National Radio Servicemen's association, the Big Spring Radio Servicemen's association has been formed. It is the purpose and aim of this organization to fix a standard price code, eliminate unfair and petty business practices, to set a higher standard of business ethics, create a greater fellowship among servicemen and to study the problems of radio maintenance jointly rather than individually, with the view of giving the public better and more reliable service.

This is a nation wide movement and is keeping with the N.R.A. Big Spring has been chosen as the hub of this district, which includes all towns within a radius of fifty miles. A district meeting will be held about the middle of April, a definite date having not yet been set.

The following is the code so far agreed upon by the association, becoming effective April 2.

All materials to be figured at list price, without exception.

Labor to be figured on basis of two dollars per hour, except in automotive radio work, where two dollars and fifty cents per hour will be charged.

Service calls will have a minimum allowable charge of one dollar. This charge includes testing and minor set adjustments. This charge applies in all cases except when it is necessary to make a second call shortly following the initial call to make adjustments due to error or mistakes on the part of the serviceman. Shop charges shall always be additional to service call charges and under shop rates.

Charge of one dollar will be made for initial inspection test of a radio is not repaired at that time. (This provision is to eliminate the practice of letting one serviceman find the trouble or the repairs necessary on a radio, and the customer then taking it to another to have it repaired.)

Service men found guilty of unfair business tactics, such as taking unfair advantage of a customer's ignorance of radio, slandering or belittling a fellow member of the association, intentionally violating the code, or in any way lowering the standards that this organization is striving for, shall have their membership discontinued, and all privileges thereof deprived.

Practically every serviceman in the city is a member of this organization, and they respectively request the cooperation of the radio public in this program, and so enable them to maintain higher standards of workmanship, and serve that public in a more efficient and reliable manner.
