This information will be of great value to the managers of teams next season.

Editor and Wife Attend West Texas Press Meeting

Your editor and wife attended the annual meeting of the West Texas Press Association, held at the Town House Hotel in San Angelo, the past Friday and Saturday.

Usually press association meetings are concerned more with problems in the industry and take most of the convention time discussing them. However, this year all Friday afternoon was consumed by four top-ranking speakers telling what is happening to small towns and ways and means to help bring them back to normal.

Registration was in the Cotillion Room of the Town House, beginning at 8:00 a. m. Friday. General assembly session was called to order by the president, Ed Wishcamper of the Abilene Reporter-News and the invocation was given by Rev. Fred Hammer, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church of San Angelo. Dean Cheneweth, editor of the San Angelo Standard-Times, the host newspaper, extended a welcome to the members of the association and a welcome to San Angelo was extended by Marshall Jones, president of the San Angelo Board of City Development. Response to the welcomes were given by James N. Allison, Jr., of the Midland Reporter-Telegram.

Miss Katherine Ruth Massey of Tulsa, was presented the first annual Journalism Scholarship Award by Past President E. B. Harris, Jr., of the Graham Leader.

"Can We and Should We Concentrate on Making More Money?" was discussed by Curtis J. Sterling of the Brownfield News-Herald and "Your Texas Press Association" was discussed by David C. Leavell, president of the Texas Press Association of Galveston. "County Precinct Redistricting" was discussed by Pruitt Latimer, Representative of the 84th District, and at 12:15 the West Texas Utilities Company was hosts to a luncheon for the entire association.

"The Small Town, Let's Save It" was discussed by Helen C. Rars, president of the First State Bank of Clifton and "The Hugo Story" was given by Jack Stampfer, publisher of The Hugo (Oklahoma) Daily News. "Industrial Foundations" were discussed by W. A. Pounds, president of the Tyler, Texas, Bank and Trust Company. Paul D. Marable of Abilene, director of industrial development for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, told newsmen "What The Newspaper Can Do To Encourage Industry."

All the talks were ably delivered and some wise information from those in the know was passed on to men and women who are interested in the life of the small towns of West Texas.

In the late evening the group took a tour of the new San Angelo Standard-Times building and that evening the Standard-Times was host to a hospitality hour and buffet supper.

On Saturday morning the group heard a "Report From Washington" by Congressman O. C. Fisher and an outstanding address by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd. All awards for the association were also presented on Saturday morning and the business session of the meeting was held in the afternoon.

Shirley Simmons Awarded Scholarship Loan By Texas UDC

She is a sophomore student at Howard Payne College and plans to continue her education there.

City Council Sets Tax Rate; Begins Purchase On Highway Right-of-Way

Action of the City Council at their last regular session, saw the local City Tax Rate set at the same figure it was last year and authorization for the Mayor to proceed to purchase the right-of-way for the new highway leading south from Santa Anna to the McCullough County line.

In another action, the City Council asked the State Highway Department to take over the operation and maintenance of the city's three traffic lights.

During the past several months numerous controversies have arisen concerning the lights and after considerable discussion it was decided to ask the State Highway Department to take them over, to operate or dispose of, as they see fit. Thus far, the city has received no reply from the State Department.

The tax rate was set the same as it was last year, at $1.25 per $100 valuation, based on the valuation as the Board of Equalization completed their work recently. There is only a small difference in the city valuations between last year and this. Last year the valuation was $1,361,405 and this year the valuation is $1,367,069.

Taxes this year will amount to $17,988.63 and last year taxes were $17,290.06. The largest drop this year was in personal property taxes with some real estate dropping. The slow down in the oil business has accounted for most of the drop. The City Hall reports that to date, a total of 94 1/2% of the city taxes have been collected for the year 1955.

Mayor Jones said the city authorized him to begin purchasing the right-of-way for the new Rockwood-Santa Anna highway that is to follow approximately the same route as it does at present, the only exception being a much wider right-of-way. The land is being purchased at the rate of $2000 per acre, with only about 2 acres being actually involved in the purchase. Jones said he wanted to get this completed as soon as possible, as the Highway Department is holding up their plans, pending the outcome of this purchase.

Crackdown on Killers!

100 Cities Have Shown Way to Cut Traffic Deaths Through Stepped-Up Enforcement, Get-Tough Drives

The days of winking at drivers who wink at the law are coming to an end. The era of coddling traffic lawbreakers soon will be over, it is hoped.

All over the nation many city, county and state police departments are cracking down on flagrant law violators in a determined effort to bring relief in our present national traffic emergency.

Every day, more and more public officials are recognizing that habitual traffic offenders are potential killers and that drastic steps must be taken to protect pedestrians and the careful and law abiding drivers from these "homicidal highway maniacs."

Last year alone traffic law violations are involved in the deaths of 33,700 of the nation's 38,000 highway victims.

"Fortunately, many of the steps necessary for correction are readily available," said Franklin M. Kreml, who for 20 years has been director of the traffic division of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

"We know the term 'accident' is a misnomer," Kreml stated, "and we know that collisions are caused occurrences."

"Since some violation of the traffic laws can be identified as the cause in such an overwhelming number of collisions, it follows that this basic root of evil must be attacked vigorously and be reduced or eliminated if we are to cut our traffic death toll."

"More than 100 cities throughout the country have demonstrated dramatically and conclusively that the best way to save lives in traffic is to deter lawbreakers through stepped up and impartial enforcement programs."

Although law enforcement is essential to the life-saving effort, it is only one of two basic ingredients, said Kreml, now on leave from his IACP post to head the Transportation Center, Evanston, Ill.

"The other important ingredient is support and acceptance by the public of good enforcement to the point where any driver who gets a ticket fully realizes that the policeman who is writing the summons is exercising the kind of supervision that some day could save the life of the offender's family," Kreml said.

In each of the cities that have included stepped up law enforcement as part of the official traffic program, the results have been the same—lives have been saved and the accident rate has dropped.

The law enforcement approach is spreading to more cities and to county and state levels. The spread to state levels is significant because more than half of all traffic fatalities occur on roads under the jurisdiction of state and county police departments.

A recent survey shows that governors of 33 states either have launched get-tough drives or are considering such action.

About two years ago Gov. Langlie of Washington inaugurated an enforcement drive called the "governor's traffic war." The accident rate in Washington dropped immately, and it's been estimated that the drive has saved about 175 lives.

Other states have experienced similar success through get-tough drives on violators.

Over one three-day holiday, Illinois traffic killed 47 persons. After Gov. Stratton learned state police had issued only 170 traffic tickets during that three-day period, he stepped up law enforcement over the next three-day holiday by calling out units of the national guard to aid the state highway patrol.

The number of arrests climbed to 1,414, but the Illinois death count dropped to 13.

In one recent month in Vermont, accidents decreased 20 per cent as arrests increased 100 per cent. A drive in 1955 helped Idaho reduce traffic fatalities about 23 per cent. Gov. Simms of New Mexico credited the state's improved record last year to a "strenuous crackdown on moving traffic violations."

On Memorial Day, Gov. Ribicoff of Connecticut called out 100 national guardsmen and put them in 42 jeeps and three helicopters to help with traffic duty. The governor also decreed suspension of licenses for convicted speeders. The enforcement effort was so successful that not a single accident of any type occurred on either of the state's two main traffic arteries.

Cities and states that have stepped up traffic enforcement have proved that get-tough drives on lawbreakers will work and will produce dramatic life-saving results.

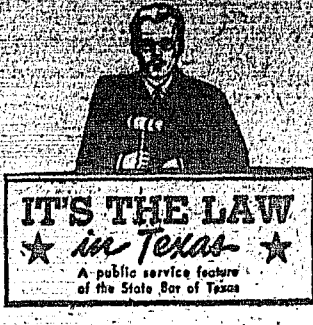

Tramp ships differ from the vessels of regular steamship lines in that tramps may follow any ocean route in their search for cargo, while steamship lines operate on an advertised route but may utilize from one to four major trunk routes in scheduling their sailings.

A 113-year old farmer in Turkey advertised for a wife "who must be more than 25 years old." He offered to deed her all his property.

The black-browed albatross can barely take off or land in still air, but once aloft the bird can soar indefinitely, barely flapping its wings. Thus the fierce winds of the Falkland Islands serve the seafowl admirably.

Coal, first discovered by Europeans in South Africa in 1699, is now more important than diamonds, production in 1953 totaling 30,500,000 tons.

Only ten per cent of 549 business executives were rated as excellent at dictation tests conducted by producers of dictation equipment.

GENERAL ROBERT AND YOU

—Whether it's the nomination of a presidential candidate at one of the national political conventions, or the monthly meeting of your neighborhood PTA, a set of procedural rules compiled 80 years ago by an almost-forgotten Army General usually has much to do with the way the business is conducted.

You have probably heard of "Robert's Rules of Order" which was published in 1876. General Henry M. Robert ordered only 4,000 of his original edition, but since that time almost 1,500,000 copies have been printed. The rules have been modernized from time to time, but the revisions have been slight.

Actually, the rules for conducting a meeting go back to the early days of the English Parliament, although General Robert based his upon the rules and practices of the U. S. Congress.

Robert's Rules come close to being "law of the land." They are given added legal status by the fact that the charter, constitution, or by-laws of almost every organization you can name—your wife's literary society, your labor union, or the corporation you work for (large or small)—ordinarily state somewhere that all meetings will be "conducted in accordance with Robert's Rules of Order." Special rules may be made by any organization contrary to Robert, but if such provisions are not in the by-laws his little book—where incorporated in such by-laws—remains the "bible" to be followed strictly.

All this means, in effect, that if a serious question arises over the legality of action taken by an organization, a court might have to consider General Robert's rules with the same care as it does the law to determine whether the action in question was proper.

If you take an active part in church, school, civic or fraternal organizations, some knowledge of Robert's Rules is important. At your lodge meeting, for example, things go much smoother if both the chairman and the members on the floor follow Robert and stick to the business at hand. That way you'll get home before the wee, small hours, and still have time for some relaxation after the business session.

There are many simple guides to Robert that will help, and unless you are chairman of a large or important meeting it probably isn't necessary to know all the details in the whole book.

Now we move to adjourn until next week—a motion which General Robert says take precedence over everything else. (This column based on Texas Law is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mr. and Mrs. James F. and Linda and Wayne Wilson returned to their home in Abilene Monday after a weekend visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Weisten.

Cloture, in legislative parlance, means the ending of debate by majority vote.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom White, Eugene, Elaine and Pat returned home early Sunday night. They had left here Friday morning for Big Sandy, where they attended the wedding of Glenn Brigman and Jane McDonald, in the First Christian Church, there that night. Glenn's parents and sister came for the wedding from South Carolina. His sister's little girl was a flower girl. Glenn will be a student at TCU again and his wife will attend as a freshman. The Whites took in the Louisiana Hay Ride on Saturday night.

Doris Lee Campbell of Floydada, visited here with her grandmother at the weekend. Gary Carthel of Austin, also visited here at the home of Mrs. A. E. Campbell.

Turned Out To Be a Good Break

We had a water main break last Thursday. Happened early in the morning—about two a.m.—and the first thing most of us knew about it was when we tried to turn on the faucets and nothing came out but a hissing noise.

Nobody was inconvenienced much though. Repair crew went right to work—and things were fixed up in jig time.

Incidentally, the water company got a flood of payments on overdue bills that day. Lots of "forgetful" folks must have figured they were being warned!

From where I sit, sometimes our obligations slip our minds. Like the responsibility we all have to our communities... to see that our neighbors enjoy the right to decide for themselves how to work, how to vote, whether or not to enjoy a bottle of beer. Any time we "forget" we owe this right to others, we take a chance on stopping the flow of tolerance that makes this country such a grand place for us to live in.

DOWN THE DRAIN . . .

"Down the drain" often sadly describes the money that disappears so completely between one payday and another. Best time to put a quick STOP to this "disappearing act" is at the START. Before you do anything else with the money in your pay envelope, make a deposit in your savings account here. The dollars you save in the beginning can't go "down the drain in the end."

This family is camping do luxe at Thirty-Sixth Division State Park on Lake Brownwood with tent, power boat, camp chairs and even a refrigerator for the fish they will catch.

Thirty-Sixth Division State Park on Lake Brownwood is a vacation spot for people of all sorts of preference. Whether it is an artificially cooled stone cabin or a place to pitch a tent or park a trailer the park visitor has access to a shoreline of nearly 100 miles, and fishing where some of the biggest catches can be taken.

Large groups can use a screened dining hall where 80 people can be served simultaneously at long tables. For others there is a well appointed dining room at park headquarters serving meals and a la carte. An adjoining counter cafe opens early for the fishermen who are anxious to lose no time getting out on the lake.

Fishermen's needs of all sorts are looked after at 36th Division State Park. There is a comfortable fishermen's barracks. Boat docks are anchored inside a dike-protected lagoon, safe from waves that frequently blow across the large lake. There is storage for private boats and a rental boat service. A good supply of groceries, confections, cold drinks and other equipment is available both for fishermen and other park visitors.

Thirty-Sixth Division State Park is on a park road that runs off State Highway 279 about 17 miles northwest of Brownwood. The park's 588 acres have three and a half miles of frontage on Lake Brownwood. The cabin area overlooks the lake from a bluff sixty feet above the normal water level.

Second Sunday Singing Has Good Attendance

The monthly Second Sunday Singing at the North Side Baptist Church last Sunday afternoon was quite well attended and there was lots of fine singing.

Some were present who had not attended before. We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand of Cross Plains back with us.

Pianists were Mrs. Payne Henderson, Mrs. Sam Rutherford, Clara Jean Stewardson and Mrs. Kitchen of Brownwood.

The next singing will be at the First Christian Church on Sunday, September 9. With vacations over, the attendance should be better.

Mrs. J. D. Atwell and Jeffery of Wheeler, are here for a visit with her parents; Mr. and Mrs. A. Hefner and Jeanne.

HELPING COTTON HOLD ITS OWN

Only thirty years ago, cotton was king of our farmer's domain. It was the nation's No. 1 cash crop.

Today, cotton has been exiled to the third niche in national farm economy, below meat and dairy income. And unless much work is done on cotton's behalf, the famous mainstay of plantation days is in for an even tougher ride on the world's market.

One major threat to cotton's No. 1 spot on the domestic fiber market is the marked acceptance of new synthetics which are gradually eating their way into all areas of the fabric trade. Last year alone, synthetics took three percent of the market from cotton, bringing rayon, acetate and nylon up to 27.8 percent of the total. Cotton's take was 65.7 percent of the market — still No. 1, but 10 percent below its standing a decade ago.

At the June meeting of the American Cotton Congress in Lubbock, a top economist for the National Cotton Council said competition is beating out cotton on three counts: research, promotion and price.

Total cotton research money spent last year by all public and private agencies was $14 million dollars. Synthetic fiber producers are spending at least $60 million a year for research alone.

Similarly, cotton producers, through the National Cotton Council, spent only a half-million for promotion in 1955 compared with $12 million given to promote synthetics. Since most synthetics are much cheaper to produce, many are underselling cotton. This would indicate that cotton's problem is largely financial, since there is no question as to quality and usefulness. Some say cotton producers, the farmers themselves, should insure cotton's future to the tune of $1 to $1.50 on each bale produced, spending the total on research and promotion.

Everyone concerned agrees that money spent now could mean a market saved some time in the future.

Much work has already been done in the right direction, and there's little doubt the cotton industry will respond in a big way to maintain its role at the top of the fiber market.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Petree and daughters, Kay and Jane, were weekend visitors with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Wylie.

Golden Esso Extra
GASOLINE

has the HIGHEST OCTANE RATING in Texas... highest by far!

Humble research provides the first gasoline specially made for cars with very high compression engines and cars that tend to ping or knock on "premium" gasoline.

This gasoline, Golden Esso Extra, has the highest octane rating in town—highest by far.

But octane rating is only one performance quality. In Golden Esso Extra this improvement paces other quality improvements that will assure you:

Quickest starting and warm-up; maximum power; fastest acceleration; increased protection against vapor-lock; minimum engine deposits; and best gasoline mileage.

Golden Esso Extra is the world's finest automotive gasoline. Its performance rates it "premium over premium." If your car has a very high compression engine, if it tends to knock or ping on "premium" gasoline, use Golden Esso Extra.

You will save the extra cost through performance, operating economy, and added gasoline mileage. Dispensed from the golden pump under the Humble sign.

Pay only for the gasoline quality your car requires

PREMIUM OVER PREMIUM

Golden Esso Extra is first of three great Humble gasolines. It costs more to make, and those whose cars require its quality will profit by paying more for it. Others will not.

PREMIUM

Famous Esso Extra Gasoline is No. 1 in Texas, first in sales among "premium" gasolines because it's first in quality. Esso Extra gives peak performance to most cars with high compression engines. This famous gasoline will continue to be the quality leader in its field.

REGULAR

Humble Motor Fuel is for cars that perform well on regular gasoline. It sets the pace for performance and mileage among the "regulars." It is the only regular gasoline in Texas that contains a patented solvent oil to keep engines clean.

Political Announcements

The Santa Anna News is authorized to announce the candidacy of the following persons for elective offices, subject to action of the Democratic Primaries in July and August, 1956:

FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE
77th DISTRICT
E. J. (Ebb) GRINDSTAFF
A. J. BISHOP, Jr.
(Re-election)

Crozier Sides Yarborough

Harry Benge Crozier, long time political reporter, will be a worker for Ralph Yarborough for governor from now until the second primary August 25, he announced Monday.

Crozier was identified with Coke Stephenson throughout the latter's political tenure. He was for 11 years a member and chairman of the Texas Employment Commission.

Crozier's first identification with state politics was as publicity man for Tom Connally and for Al Smith in Texas in the year when Connally was first elected to the Senate and Smith was defeated by Herbert Hoover for the presidency.

"There are just two reasons why I want to take a part in this campaign," Crozier stated. "One is that I can't stomach the business of throwing aside, as a child does a toy he has tired of, the senatorial succession that Charles A. Culberson and Tom Connally each maintained so worthily for 24 years. Such a course smacks rather of conceit, vanity and office gluttony than statesmanship and a place in the fight for state sovereignty."

"My other reason is that I resent as every well informed Texan and every person who knows Judge Yarborough must, the persistent propaganda campaign that has been waged for four years to depict Yarborough as a dangerous radical and one who would stoop to shady politics. I have yet to hear any responsible person question Judge Yarborough's character, ability or fairness."

Central Colorado Soil Conservation District News

Drought resistant blue panic grass with its vigorous root system is furnishing grazing at a profit to growers in the Central Colorado Soil Conservation District.

John Skelton harvested seed from his blue panic grass field south of the KSTA Radio Station with a yield of about 50 lbs. per acre. Since the harvest, the 28-acre field has been stocked with 15 to 20 cows. The cows have been in the field six weeks. With late summer rain, Skelton expects to get another seed crop.

Hurschel Dunn reports that he harvested 700 pounds of seed from 15 acres of blue panic grass. Dunn has had 12 head of cows on this same 15 acre field for three months. He stated that he expects the field to furnish grazing the remainder of the season.

Tom West of Talpa has an 80 acre field of blue panic grass that furnished grazing for 700 sheep and 22 cows for 40 days. West has deferred all of his rangeland during the summer growing season.

"My stock shld up one to two hours earlier since they have been grazing blue panic than when they were grazing sudan grass. My milk production has increased 20%", says W. O. Brehm of Shields. The increased milk production is accredited to the high protein content of blue panic which according to tests is about twice that of other grasses. Brehm's grass was planted in the spring and has had only one rain on it. The grass is two to four feet high. He plans to plant additional acres next spring.

B. B. Nunley plans to do some fall seeding of blue panic. Although there is little experience with fall plantings, good stands have been reported in the fall from early plantings that did not receive adequate moisture for germination. There are several hundred acres of spring planted blue panic throughout the district that has had no adequate moisture to come up. Joe B. Smith, northwest of Coleman, has 60 acres that has not had enough moisture to germinate on. He hopes to get it up and well rooted before winter.
