STACYS TO HAVE REUNION SATURDAY

The Stacys will have a family reunion Saturday, May 31, in the Legion Hall at Bangs. People are expected from far distances. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stacey of Santa Anna plan to attend.

Attend church regularly.

The harvest of the largest small grain crop produced in this area since 1949 or before, got underway this week with a number of combines beginning to operate in a few places. By the end of this week or the first of next week, grain crops all over the area will be ready for harvest and our farm and ranch people will be working day and night in order to save the much needed crop.

Numerous reports state that crops will make from 50 to 75 bushels per acre and some say more. Wheat is also expected to make exceptionally good yields although it is a little later crop than oats.

Moisture content of the grain is still too high in most instances. Some farmers are cutting and shocking their grain this year in an effort to get it out of the fields and on higher ground while weather permits.

Most people who know small grains are of the opinion that if the weather will hold good for three or four weeks, the grain crop will be harvested and that it will be one of the best matured crops ever produced in this area.

Grandson Of G. B. Smith's Receives Top Scholarship

The winners also must have been active in many phases of school work and shown leadership qualities. Smith's activities include Boy Scouts, president National Honor Society, musical organizations and church work.

COLEMAN COUNTY STORY

Indian Raids At Camp Colorado Described

Compiled by Alfred E. Menn
Austin, Texas

(Editor's note: For the next several weeks The Santa Anna News will publish stories concerning the history of Coleman County. The material used has been compiled by Alfred E. Menn of Austin from various sources, all of which are supposedly authentic records. This material has been typed by Mrs. C. D. Bruce and checked by several old timers of this area before being published. Some of the stories used will not be exactly as some believe the history of this area to be, but nevertheless, all will be as authentic as possible and we are sure all will be very interesting. These articles will be published each week until after the Centennial observance in July and possibly longer.)

Trouble With The Indians

An old letter, written from historic Camp Colorado, Coleman County, in 1873 by "Henry". The Indians' visits are as regular as the changes in the moon. Last moon, or month, they killed the wife and child of our neighbor, and carried off another of his children. The present moon, has also a bloody page, and, to save the reader further suspense, I will proceed with the particulars of those last events.

For causes unknown to me, our "minute company" has not been very successful. They have always been prompt and willing, yet they did not meet with the same success under the new leadership as under the old.

The reported raids of Indians into Coleman County heretofore this year led to new and more rigid measures by our citizens, and it was proposed that a body of men go out and meet them coming in. A party of men from Brownwood, and another from Comanche, were to meet our citizens here on the 21st and proceed westward.

appearance, they returned, thinking the Indians would not visit us this moon, and resumed the labors they had left off to hunt Indians.

Upwards of ninety-five horses were seen and counted on this scout, many of them fine saddlehorses. It was supposed that these horses, while being driven out by Indians, were crippled and left, and after recovering, they joined the bunch of mustang ponies.

Attempts were made to round up these bunches of horses, but failed. They succeeded in riding close enough to see that some were branded, and one or two were recognized as belonging to some of our neighbors, and known to have been driven off last year. These horses become accustomed to this wild life, and now, while in such fine condition, are even more difficult to capture than the genuine mustang.

All was quite and seemed secure after the return of the scouts until Tuesday, when a party of cow-hunters met a band of Indians a few miles from here. The boys gave them battle at once. They were outnumbered by the Indians, and after two men were injured severely, and their horses killed under them, they retired for reinforcements and fresh horses.

The call reached Camp Colorado late Tuesday evening, and before dark, 12 men under the leadership of Col. Sam Gholson and K. Elkins were chasing after the Indians. It may be well to state here that Gholson and Elkins are old residents on the frontier, are extensive stock owners and have suffered severely from Indian thefts. They had often pursued Indians, and in this long experience, have only once failed to recover the horses or killed an Indian.

On Tuesday night, we traveled some 25 miles to a point west of Robinson Peak, where we lay down to sleep and let our horses graze. Before daybreak we were again moving and hunting for the trail. Going in this manner for some 10 or 15 miles, we came on a party of men under old Capt. De Mullins, who was also an old resident of Coleman County and a heavy loser by Indian thefts. From him we learned the Indians had killed a yearling colt and two foxes on his ranch on Hord's Creek. When discovered by his men, the Indians were eating their supper and grazing their horses.

Our force finally consisted of 28 men. This was deemed sufficient to follow the Indians a long way. Our commissary department, however, was almost empty.

Capt. Mullins' outfit was so close behind the Indians that they did not deem it necessary to take provisions. Gholson and Elkins also were confident of soon overtaking the Indians, and started with very little.

At this place, we made a meal for all of what there was, took about 2 hours nap while our horses grazed. On starting it was found that one horse was unfit to travel any further, so the "pack" was dispensed with. We rode until nearly night, when the trail was discovered. After a short counsel as to the distance we were behind the Indians and the propriety of going further, it was decided to continue the pursuit with the hope that if we captured the packhorses we could get something to eat. The scout moved along the trail until after sunset.

The Indians were moving along slowly; many of their horses were crippled and jaded. When they heard the rustle of our approach, the horses eyed us calmly for a minute, then made several desperate attempts to keep us from roping them.

On Thursday, we killed a bear and a buffalo for our dinner. We then turned our faces homeward, depending on such game as could be killed to subsist. On Saturday, a buffalo, a fine buck, prairie dog and turkey were brought in for dinner.

Many of the horses recaptured are known to belong to citizens even over in Lampasas and San Saba Counties, while the others belong to families in this section of the County.

Watch for another interesting account of Coleman County history next week.

Power Mowers Are Dangerous; Rules To Follow To Operate

"Power mowers are a real boon to father's back, but if they are improperly handled they can be more of a hazard than a help."

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, made the above statement recently as he warned Texans to take extra common sense precautions in handling power mowers and edgers.

"Such power tools have not been in use long enough," he said, "for us to have any accurate accident data, but we do know that thousands of persons are injured, and several hundred killed, each year as a result of unsafe handling of power lawn mowers and tools."

Musick offered the following twelve suggestions as an aid to reducing hazards to a minimum when working with power lawn equipment:

1. Never permit pre-teenage children to operate any kind of power mower, edger or clipper.
2. Know how to throw mower out of gear quickly.
3. Know how to stop engine or motor immediately.
4. Allow for gas expansion when filling tank and be sure engine is turned off and cool before refueling.
5. Use approved fuels and store them in safe containers.
6. Clear yard of debris before mowing; i. e., sticks, bones, rocks, etc.
7. When starting mower, maintain your balance and have solid footing.
8. Do not allow pets, children or other bystanders near mower during operation. This will prevent their injury by objects thrown from the mower blades.
9. If using an electric mower, be sure motor is grounded and wiring is in perfect condition. NEVER mow when grass is wet.

10. Maintain firm control of mower. Mow hills sideways — not up and down.

11. Disconnect spark plug, or electric plug, before working on mower's parts or while oiling. Always keep hands away from blades or other moving parts if possible.

12. Be AFRAID of all power mowers and other tools — you are not as apt to become careless.

SWITCHES AUTOMATICALLY FROM HEATING TO COOLING
The Heat Pump is completely automatic. During changeable weather, even if it is within the hour, the Heat Pump will switch from heating to cooling or back again if the outside temperature so requires.
You do not need to change the temperature dial, you just set the thermostat for the temperature you desire and forget it. The Heat Pump is the ONLY completely automatic Air Conditioner.

Planning On Building?

Install the All Electric HEAT PUMP
COMPLETE YEAR-ROUND AIR CONDITIONING IN ONE UNIT

The All-Electric Heat Pump provides complete automatic "comfort conditioning" for your home the year around, using only air and electricity. The same unit that cools your home also heats it. It also removes excess humidity and filters out dust and pollen. Because only air and electricity are used, the Heat Pump provides maximum cleanliness and complete safety.

Here's How It Works
The Heat Pump operation uses the basic principle that heating and cooling is, a matter of moving heat from one place to another.
In winter the Heat Pump extracts heat units from outside air (even if it is freezing) and pumps warm air into your house. In summer the heat pump reverses itself automatically and operates like any refrigerated air conditioner — it takes the heat out of the house and pumps it outside.
Call or come to see us and our air conditioning engineers will explain the Heat Pump more thoroughly to you.

INTERNATIONALLY KNOWN TEAM OF EVANGELISTS TO SPEAK IN SAN ANGELO

The Fogarty Brothers, well known evangelists of the Churches of Christ, will be the featured speakers at a 22-day "Big Tent Revival" meeting to be held in San Angelo starting Saturday, June 7.

The group is headed by Jack Fogarty, a former Army Chaplain, who has addressed audiences all over America and in seven foreign countries.

Rounding out the team is young Bob Fogarty, son of Jack Fogarty, who will conduct a special youth forum to be held in conjunction with the San Angelo series.

A San Angelo spokesman said that audiences of 5,000 nightly are expected to fill a big tent located on Highway 87 (South) near Good-fellow Air Force Base. Directional signs, placed about the City of San Angelo, will lead visitors to the site.

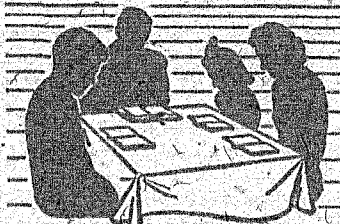

The general public is invited to attend the lectures which get underway every night at 8:00 p. m. In addition to the mass meeting held in the evenings, special classes will be held throughout the 22-day period beginning at 9:30 in the morning.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Acts 6:1-8.

Those that have turned the world upside down are come hither also. (Acts 17:6.)

Sometimes we see "Do Not Disturb" signs on doors to rooms in hotels or hospitals. These signs seem to hang also on the doors of some churches and minds.

We have come a long way since Pentecost, but some of our distance may have been in the wrong direction. Our own comfort, our consciences, our conduct have been dictated more often by respectability than disturbed by the implications of the gospel. Because we have been soothed by the gospel, our response to it does not disturb others — nor transform the world to which we have been conformed.

The early Christians gave themselves up to the power of the Holy Spirit. As a result, they had a disturbing effect on others, who wondered and were amazed. Early Christians had the reputation of turning the world upside down. Because the Holy Spirit prompted them to good works, their jail sentences became titles of honor.

PRAYER

Our Father, when our lives are filled with self, the seeds of unhappiness are sown in us. Empty us of self that we may be filled with the Holy Spirit. Produce in us such fruit as love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control. In Christ's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D., Commissioner of Health.

The advent of penicillin and other so-called "wonder drugs" has revolutionized modern medical practices. These new drugs—called "antibiotics"—have caught the public's fancy, and have given physicians powerful weapons in their conquest against disease.

But into this symphony of praise has crept a sour note. Cases of incorrect dosage and self-prescription are becoming common, raising the danger of serious reactions.

It is a waste of time to run for a shot of penicillin for an oncoming cold. The drug is ineffective against viral diseases, including common colds, flu, measles and mumps. Taking penicillin in lozenges or other forms for scratchy throats, for upset stomachs, or a variety of mild illnesses which would quickly run their course anyway, is unwise unless prescribed by a physician.

A common pattern of self-prescription goes like this: The doctor prescribes an antibiotic for a sick patient. Some of the pills are left over after the patient gets well. Several weeks later, the patient again feels bad and on his own initiative takes the left over pills.

There are at least five good reasons why drugs should not be taken without prescription.

1. Improperly used, they may prevent or retard action of the body's natural immunity. This sometimes happens because drugs work on germs while the natural defense mechanism remains inactive.

2. Germs vary in strength and ability to cause disease. Stronger ones may become resistant to drugs, just as some insects have become resistant to DDT. They multiply and produce new generations also capable of resisting antibiotics. Recent outbreaks of infection in hospitals are proof of this.

3. Some diseases call for massive doses of drugs for prolonged periods. Taking small quantities on your own initiative might mean germs you are trying to kill may actually flourish.

4. Some people are allergic to drugs. One person in 25 is allergic to penicillin, and one in ten may develop allergic reactions after repeated doses.

5. Self-administration of antibiotics can often mask a really serious illness by obscuring symptoms, thus making an accurate diagnosis difficult or impossible.

Increasing use of wonder drugs have shown up their limitations. A most appropriate rule of thumb to follow in the use of any drug is never to take them without a physician's recommendation.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman C. FISHER

THE PROS AND CONS of statehood for Alaska were debated at some length in the House last week. Proponents painted a picture of milk and honey for that land of the midnight sun, with a surging economy, irresistible opportunities, and immense wealth.

Opponents who feel statehood for Alaska would be a bit premature at this time, were a little more realistic and factual about the situation in that territory. Uncontroverted facts revealed that: (1) Permanent citizen population is less than 90,000, including 35,000 natives. (2) A total of only 23,000 votes were cast in Alaska's last general election. (3) The present government there has been running in the red, borrowing from Uncle Sam, and a state government would cost twice as much to operate. (4) The economy there is weak and basically artificial, as evidenced by the fact that more than two-thirds of all income in Alaska is derived from federal spending. (5) Salmon fishing and mining, Alaska's mainstays, once lush are now straggling along. The Salmon catch today is less than half of what it was 20 years ago. And in the past 50 years gold mining has dropped from $22 million per year to only $7 million. Agriculture is very weak. (6) The admission of Alaska at this time means, almost automatically, also the admission of Hawaii. And then would come Puerto Rico where agitation for statehood is already mounting. Guam and the Virgin Islands are reported to be watching what happens to Alaska with the idea of demanding admission if Alaska is admitted.

So, admission of a new territory to statehood is not a trifling matter. If Hawaii is admitted it is considered by observers that Harry Bridges and Jack Hall, whose subservient union controls the economy and probably also the politics of Hawaii, would be very instrumental in the choosing of two U. S. Senators and two members to the House of Representatives.

In fact, Jack Hall (who was convicted as a Communist in 1933 for conspiring to overthrow the U. S. Government by force and violence, but now free by Supreme Court action) recently said in Honolulu: "If Hawaii becomes a state, we can send some good men to Washington from here, to strengthen liberal forces in the National Congress."

Yes, there is a considerable amount of home work and house cleaning that needs to be done in both Hawaii and Alaska before they are properly qualified to become States in the American Union.

Central Colorado Soil Conservation District News

The need for a "catch" crop due to the late season for planting regular crops is causing many growers to consider guar.

Guar offers a farmer a triple purpose crop—a deep root soil improving crop, a cash return from sale of guar beans and a high protein supplement for the farm feed. (Guar beans contain about 27% protein.) Guar is a nitrogen fixing plant with a tap root that penetrates several feet through plow pans. If water stands in terrace channels for days after a rain, guar is a good method to use in getting that water into the ground. This water can be stored in the ground if the soil is in condition to take it in before it evaporates. A deep clay or clay loam soil will store about 2 inches of moisture per foot of depth. Guar greatly increases the rate of moisture penetration.

According to John Stewart, Field Representative of General Mills, guar will bring $4 a hundred pounds delivered at Kennedy, Texas. The cost of planting seed will be about 50 cents per acre. With present moisture conditions, Stewart estimates that yields should average 800 pounds per acre in this area. This compares with 2000 of milo per acre. Guar is not new to this area. Many successful growers have reported that guar has made them more money than grain sorghum. Guar will mature in 120 days. Considering the present sub-soil moisture, Stewart says that guar planted in moist soil in the next 45 days will mature a crop of beans without any more rain.

Guar thrives in hot weather. It can be planted anytime until June 30. Guar requires no special planting or harvesting equipment. Plant 8 pounds of seed in regular width rows on moist soil using same seed plates and planting method for milo.

There will still be time to plant guar after small grain harvest. This will provide another cash crop on the same land and at the same time provide needed soil improvement.

There are two adopted varieties of guar—Texsel, single upright stalk type; and Groehler, vasa branching type. The Groehler has a few advantages over the Texsel variety. It produces more seed, provides more cover for the soil and is more resistant to lodging. Being a legume, it is important to inoculate the seed at planting time with "Ir-banna Special Guar Inoculate" or Nitrogen Formula "E". Seed and inoculates can be obtained at your local seed leaders.

To maintain soil fertility and increase crop yields, guar should be grown in rotation with normal cash crops. It may be strip-cropped with cotton or grain sorghum. It is adapted to a wide range of soils.

Cowpeas may also be planted as a summer soil improving crop and a cash crop. Adapted varieties are Chinese Reds, Whip-poorwill, Brabham and black-eyed. Production is usually 10 to 30 bushels.

Guar and cowpeas may also be planted on Acreage Reserve Land or under the summer le-

PLANNING FOR HIGH QUALITY COTTON

The Texas cotton farmer's opportunity this year will be in a high quality crop—not necessarily in quantity. Agriculture Commissioner John White said this week.

While there is a present surplus of cotton, the supply is mostly in the lower grades that sell for less. This cotton results in heavy mill waste and added cleaning costs. But the best demand—and biggest opportunity for profits—is for the higher grades.

Seven important steps are recommended to help the grower improve the quality of his cotton. As to the first two points, planting is already well under way over most of Texas but the other suggestions can still be put into effect.

These seven steps are:

1. Plant cotton on the best suited land. The ideal field is inherently fertile, free of soil borne disease, warms up early, is well drained and yet not droughty.

2. Use best seed available of a recommended variety. Good seed may be somewhat short this year but all of it should be treated with a good fungicide.

3. Fertilize to fit needs. Use your fertilizer at the rates time and manner recommended by Texas experiment stations in your area. Both excessive and under use of some fertilizers can have a bad effect on the grade of harvested cotton.

4. Manage the crop for quality. Control weeds, insects and diseases. Discontinue irrigation early enough for the crop to mature before frost. Late irrigation can delay maturity and seriously reduce grade.

5. Pick promptly and carefully whether by hand or machine; avoid mixing good cotton and bad, wet and dry lots.

6. Deliver cotton to the gin as dry and clean as possible. The ginner, too, has a responsibility to keep his equipment in order, to use proper drying and take time to do a good job.

7. Sell on merit. Have cotton classed before selling; then sell on the basis of its grade and staple. This is the grower's means of assuring himself of the benefit of producing better cotton.

There's plenty to see in Texas, wherever you may roam on a holiday jaunt or on a vacation trip. Clockwise from the lower left hand corner, some of the impressive sights to see in Texas are: The Big Bend, some of the most striking scenery in the state; Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas at 8,751 feet; the Palo Duro Canyon, camping grounds for Indian tribes in frontier days; East Texas oil fields, biggest of them all; the 570-foot San Jacinto Monument, commemorating decisive battle of Texas history; Gulf Coast Beaches, some of the finest in the world; the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty," and in the center of the state, Texas Longhorn Cavern, biggest cave in the state and third largest in the world, one of Texas' most spectacular natural wonders. Sightseeing is fun in Texas.

Mrs. Stephenson Hostess To 20th Century Club Meeting

Because of some illness among members and the very busy times, attendance was not quite so good, when the 20th Century Club met in regular session Friday, with Mrs. Clifford Stephenson. A very worthwhile and enjoyable meeting was held.

The coming Centennial and Santa Anna's day of observance, on Saturday, July 5th, was the subject for discussion and planning. Mrs. Roy Stockard and Mrs. Charles Bengé are on a special committee, but all are working. On display were several garments that will be worn at that time. Windows down town are being selected for exhibits.

Refreshments were generous and much enjoyed. Chicken salad sandwiches, potato chips, pie, coffee and cold drinks.

Mrs. Charles Ing's and Mrs. Sam Rutherford's birthdays were observed with gifts. The Club Mother, Mrs. W. A. Standley, was reported to be some better after being quite ill.

Those attending were: Mrs. Stephenson, her daughter, Mrs. Charles Scarborough and Carol Ann, Mrs. W. E. Vanderford, Mrs. Sam Rutherford, Mrs. Charles Bengé, Mrs. Roy Stockard, Mrs. Doug Moore, Mrs. J. F. Goen and Mrs. A. L. Oder.

Mrs. C. L. Daniel of Lubbock, and her daughter, Mrs. Durwood McCoy and her daughter, Louann of Abilene, spent Sunday with Mrs. Daniel's sister, Mrs. C. J. Deer and Mr. Deer. They returned to Abilene Sunday night.

Morning Coffee Honors Mrs. Conley

Mrs. W. E. Vanderford entertained with a coffee Sunday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock, at her home on Avenue B, for Mrs. Eva Conley, here for the day from Temple. Mrs. Ola Niell came with Mrs. Conley and remained for a week's stay with her children.

For the coffee, the dining table had a big blooming pink hydrangea, as decoration, and the coffee table had a growing ivy vine.

The refreshments were wheeled into the living room on a tea cart. There was plenty of good coffee and two kinds of sweets, banana-nut cookies and iced doughnut gems, home baked, and all attractively served. Also, second helpings were available.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Vanderford, Mrs. Conley, Mrs. Charles Bengé, Mrs. Roy Stockard, Mrs. Sam Rutherford, Mrs. A. L. Oder, Mrs. Edd Jones and her daughter, Mrs. Nye Reed of Austin, Mrs. Arthur Talley and her granddaughter, Nell.

Mrs. Conley hopes and plans to be a citizen of Santa Anna again sometime.

Mrs. Charles Moseley was hostess in her home for the Chat and Stitch Club, when it met Friday, May 23. This will be the last meeting of the club until September.

Conversation and needle work furnished entertainment. All enjoyed seeing several dried and several fresh arrangements of greenery and flowers, at which Mrs. Moseley is a specialist in making.

Refreshments of a lime drink, open faced sandwiches, potato chips, nuts and a marshmallow pineapple dessert, topped with whipped cream and a cherry, were served.

All members were present except Mrs. Ted McCaughan of Abilene, whose daughter, Mrs. Bob Henderson, was in a Sweet-water hospital, following an appendectomy, and she was there caring for the home and children.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Boardman of Seminole, were visitors here during last week with the home folks, the W. H. Burdens and the C. L. Boardmans.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Mallow visited over the weekend with college friends in San Antonio.

Cities to See

Berkeley—Pride of the Bay Area

School View—Berkeley, Calif.

A city that is neither too large or too small; a center of great educational activity, entertainment and recreational activities; with a year-round temperate climate; and a pleasant air of Western hospitality for the newcomer and visitor alike—that's Berkeley, Calif.

This beautiful city of some 117,500 population is situated on the east shore of San Francisco Bay, directly opposite the Golden Gate. Founded in 1864, it was named for George Berkeley, Bishop of Cloyne, and author of the phrase, "Westward the Course of Empire Takes Its Way." Berkeley's altitude is from sea level to 1,300 feet and there are but two seasons, the dry or summer season from May through October, and the rainy or winter season from November through April.

Center of Education
Here at Berkeley is the "mother" campus of the eight institutions comprising the University of California, "the largest University in the world." The eight institutions (others: Davis, La Jolla, Los Angeles, Mount Hamilton, Riverside, San Francisco, and Santa Barbara) have full-time enrollment of more than 30,000 students, part-time enrollment of some 100,000 University extension students, and 12,000 faculty members and employees. Six faculty members are Nobel Prize winners.

All roads lead to the University

Memorial Stadium when the "Golden Bears" play inter-collegiate football, but throughout the year the 600-acre campus abounds in interesting features. Here is the Greek Theatre, a gift of William Randolph Hearst. Modeled after an ancient Athenian structure, it seats 6,200 and has been visited through the years by celebrities in the field of music and drama. Beyond the museum stands the Memorial Stadium and above the stadium, in Strawberry Canyon, the Botanical Gardens. Higher on the hill is the Big "C," the famous atom-smashing cyclotron.

Recreation
One of Berkeley's most popular recreation spots is Charles Lee Tilden Park, a 1,900-acre play area for the rapidly growing cities on the East Shore of San Francisco Bay. Lake and pool facilities are provided, as well as hiking and riding trails, golf course and other facilities.

Well remembered by servicemen and women who visited Berkeley during the 40's is the famous Hotel Clermont, known for its cuisine and entertainment.

Can YOU really see at night?

Some people cannot. They avoid driving at night because they feel unsafe and unsure. Their vision actually changes after dark.

Night vision can be improved in some cases where special lenses are required. If you are troubled with night blindness, consult a professional optometrist.

And if it can not be improved, he will advise you to:

- * Drive slower
- * Never take your eyes off the road
- * Watch the edge of the highway
- * Don't look at approaching headlights
