CONGRATULATIONS

The entire city, almost to every citizen, extends congratulations this week to George D. Rhone on the opening of the new grain elevator here. And the congratulations should be extended to Santa Anna and trade territory for boosting this new firm which will undoubtedly bring a great amount of trade to Santa Anna that other towns have been taking away from us.

Remember Dad Next Sunday

After many years of waiting, someone decided that with Mother's day being so widely celebrated in this country, something should be done to remember Father on his day, which this year falls on Sunday, June 20.

Consumer's Interests

In most of the economic struggles of the last century—both those between producers and processors and those between employers and workers, little attention has been paid to the interests of consumers. Consumers, without any organization to speak of, have paid meekly the prices asked for industrial products as long as their money held out.

Aid For Tenant Farmers

Any proposal toward solving the age-old farm tenancy problem should receive consideration as Congress works toward a hoped-for solution. The United States Chamber of Commerce has come out for private financing of farm tenancy aid.

Aid For Tenant Farmers
Beyond the point of a direct grant or aid to the tenant farmer, all governmental assistance must be experimental in a precarious line of production. One hopes for betterment of the tenant farmer's condition, and yet realizes any such measures must be moved to sound business judgment.

Uncle Jim Says

"Poor soil washing down on good bottom land has ruined many Texas fields."

Terracing, contouring, strip cropping, or reverting sloping lands to pastures has long been advocated by specialists of the Texas Extension Service as a means of controlling erosion. Best results are obtained, of course, when the land is still fertile and before erosion has leveled its toll.

In many cases, however, it pays to protect land that is so badly eroded that it will not grow profitable crops. The use of legumes may "bring the land back," but aside from this, protection of fertile lowlands of

I AM NOW READY

To Receive Your Grain At My

NEW ELEVATOR

Santa Anna, Texas

Adjoining Railroad Track West Of Depot

I selected Santa Anna for the location of my elevator because I believe the grain farmers of that territory are entitled to a year round market and that they will appreciate such, and show their appreciation by their patronage.

Nothing has been spared for the convenience of the grain farmer in building the elevator. Everything is modern and new throughout. And it is so constructed that it can be enlarged at any time the increase in volume will justify.

We will give you the very best of service and pay market prices for your grain at all times.

WE ARE THANKFUL TO YOU COLEMAN COUNTIANS FOR YOUR BUSINESS IN THE PAST AND WANT TO SERVE YOU IN THE DAYS TO COME.

CONGRATULATIONS—

GEORGE D. RHONE BUILDS NEW ELEVATOR AT SANTA ANNA

This week the new grain elevator for Coleman County, constructed by George D. Rhone, cotton and grain dealer, opened in Santa Anna, and is a welcome addition to the business firms of this city.

The structure cost $9,000 and has a capacity of 12,000 bushels.

Trucks with grain are already moving to the new elevator, which has been equipped with extra length scales for the benefit of customers. The scales are 34 feet long and weigh 15 tons at a time.

The building is a frame structure covered with sheet iron and is 24 feet square at the base and has a height of 50 feet. The elevator is capable of handling a car of grain every hour.

An office will be built next week adjoining the elevator.

Four men will be employed during the rush season, and one, a Santa Anna man who has already been secured for a position, will be manager in the absence of Mr. Rhone.

Upon the Opening of His

GRAIN ELEVATOR

SANTA ANNA

Mr. Rhone, in making his decision to locate his elevator here, has shown faith in the future of Santa Anna and the grain farmers of our trade area. He has spared nothing in the construction of a modern up-to-date elevator that will enable him to give our grain farmers unexcelled elevator service and prove a great asset to them.

We want to extend an invitation to the grain farmers and others of our rural area, as well, to take advantage of the marketing facilities offered by Santa Anna. You will find a market which will pay top prices.

IDEAS FOR YOUR PARTIES

Think it over and see what ideas you can "scare up" to give a blossom-y and gala touch to your parties.

Bouquet Cup Cakes

Make cup cakes with the recipe given below (a delicious and different batter with bananas stirred right in!).

Banana Cup Cakes

2 cups sifted flour 1-2 teaspoon baking powder 3-4 teaspoon soda 1-2 teaspoon salt 1-4 cup sour milk or buttermilk 1 cup mashed bananas (2 to 3 bananas)

1-2 cup shortening 1 1-2 cups sugar 2 eggs, well beaten 1 teaspoon vanilla extract 1 cup heavy cream, whipped and sweetened 3 bananas, sliced

Sift together the flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Add milk to mashed banana. Rub the shortening to a creamy consistency with the back of a spoon.

20 minutes or until cup cake is done. Cool. Makes 8 large cup cakes.

Almond-Flavored Frosting 2 egg whites 1 1-2 cups sugar 5 tbsps. water 1 1-2 tbsps. white karo 1-4 teasp. almond extract

Coloring Combine in top of double boiler, egg whites, sugar, karo and water. Beat with rotary beater to mix, place over rapidly boiling water. Cook 7 minutes, beating constantly until frosting stands in peaks.

"Groom's Cake"

You can have the groom's cake for the wedding ready to bake in three minutes if you use that Dixie fruit cake mix based on an old Southern recipe—all the goodness and flavor of a homemade fruit cake but none of the trouble!

Reception Sherbet

1 cup sugar 1 cup boiling water 1-2 pkg. lemon gelatin 3 egg whites 2 cups canned Florida grapefruit juice

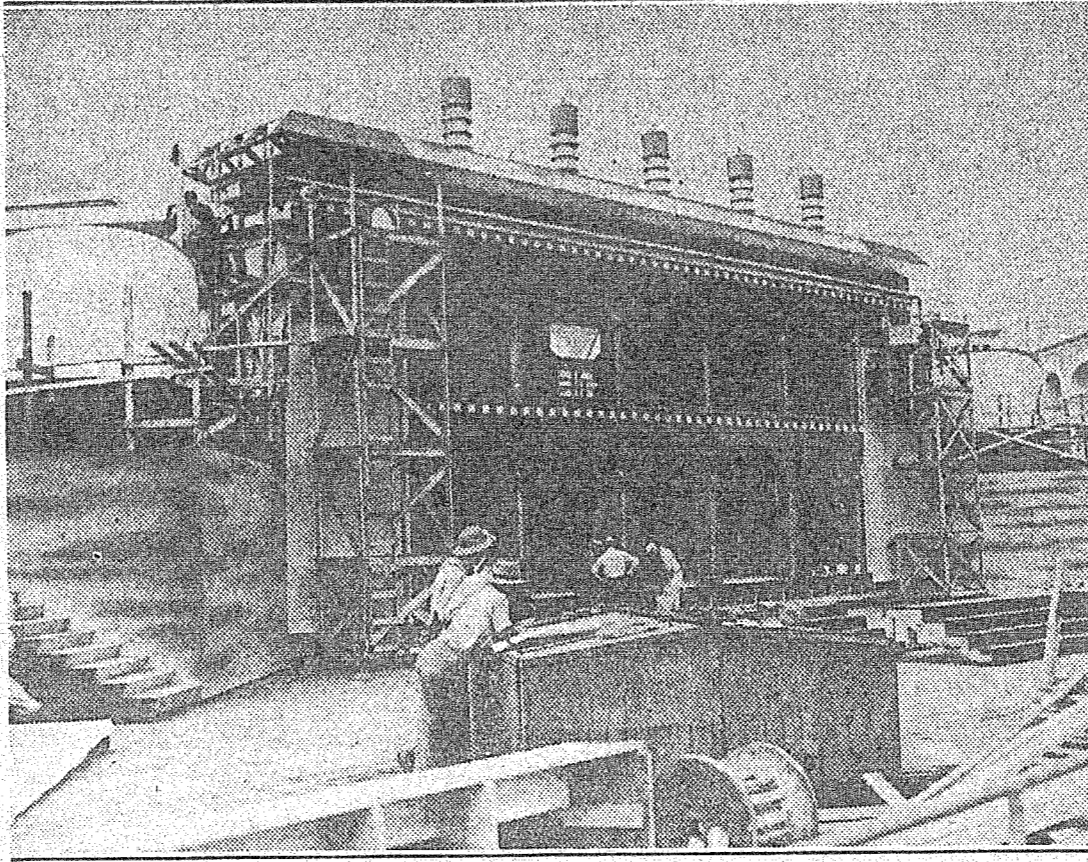

Juice of 1-2 lemon Pinch of salt Boil 1-2 cup of the sugar and boiling water together for 10 minutes; pour over gelatin to dissolve; add fruit juice and lemon juice. Place mixture in freezing tray and freeze to a mush.

Salted Almonds

Blanch almonds by pouring boiling water over the nuts and letting stand 5 minutes, or until skins are wrinkled. Drain and rub between thumb and forefinger until nut slips from skin.

National Youth Administration boys in Lubbock county have assisted C. C. Jobson, county agent, in running terrace lines on 19,990 acres of farm land, A. V. Bullock, NYA district supervisor, reported.

C., June 10.—Agricultural cooperators from every section of the country will take stock this month of their $1,800,000,000 yearly business in group marketing and purchasing during the thirteenth annual meeting of the American Institute of Cooperation at Iowa State College, Ames, June 21 to 25.

More than 3,000 are expected to attend the sessions—devoted to an appraisal of the social, governmental and economic trends affecting farmers' business organizations; to the solution of current problems; and to the adjustment of cooperative services to meet present conditions.

"The Institute is incorporated as a non-profit educational enterprise," explained Charles W. Holman, secretary. "Each year it meets as the guest of a leading college or university. Its 'scholars' include cooperative executives, federal and state public officials, leaders of general farm organizations, and employees and students in the cooperative movement.

"The group which it serves includes 10,000 farmer-owned and farmer-controlled business organizations which last year handled commodities for 3,660,000 members and patrons. The degree to which each individual association of sound principles has been dependent, in a large measure, on its adaption of sound principles to ever-changing environment of business and social conditions. It is the purpose of the Institute to aid in keeping up-to-date on these trends."

Included on the program will be 100 speakers and discussion leaders. Eighteen general sessions and 34 commodity and group conferences will be crowded into the week's schedule. The general sessions will consider subjects of interest to all cooperatives and will cover, among other topics, the social and economic foundations of cooperation; the human factor in cooperation; the aims and objectives of cooperatives; the place of cooperation in agricultural economy; and the relationship of rural and urban cooperation.

Commodity and group conferences will include those on country life; the cooperative purchasing of farm supplies; mutual insurance; cooperative farm management; production credit; and marketing groups for dairy products, grain, livestock, poultry and eggs, and wool. Among the nationally known figures on the program will be C. C. Teague, president of the California Fruit Growers Exchange; John D. Miller, president of the National Cooperative Council; W. I. Myers, governor of the Farm Credit Administration; E. G. Nourse, director of the Institute of Economics; P. O. Wilson, manager of the National Livestock Marketing Association; N. P. Hull, president of the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation; S. D. Sanders, cooperative bank commissioner; Quentin Reynolds, manager, Eastern States Farmers Exchange; Murray D. Lincoln, secretary, Ohio Farm Bureau Federation; and John Brandt, president, Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc.

From assembling to distribution, the job of the cooperative in poultry and egg marketing will be brought into the focus of practical procedure in a series of three special conferences during the thirteenth annual session of the American Institute of Cooperation at Iowa State College, June 21 to 25.

Leading off in the discussion will be S. D. Sanders, cooperative bank commissioner of the Farm Credit Administration, who recently resigned his long-time post as manager of the Washington Cooperative Egg and Poultry Producers Association and F. A. Gouger, director of produce marketing for the Illinois Agricultural Association, will consider the type of organization best adapted to commercial and general farm flock areas.

Systems of assembly of poultry and eggs, and the situation on eastern markets with special reference to problems and opportunities in distribution, will be given a major portion of the two other programs. Benjamin Brown, president of the Producers Distributing Agency, will speak on the latter. Assembling systems will be discussed by S. J. Robertson, sales manager of the Iowa Poultry Producers' Marketing Association; M. Sorenson, manager of the Pelican Rapids (Minnesota) Farmers Cooperative Creamery; L. C. Beall, director of the Washington Egg and Poultry Association; and Cleveland Gilchrist, manager of the New Hampshire Egg Auction.

Others on the poultry and egg programs include Alvin H. Oederkirk, poultry marketing specialist of Iowa State College;

A. J. Secor, secretary-treasurer of the Iowa Poultry Producers Marketing Association; and Hobart Creighton, Warsaw (Indiana) breeder.

Wettable Sulphur Dip for Goat Lice Com Gaining Favor With West Texas Ranchmen

Farm Incomes Increase Over 1936 Figures

Austin, Texas, June 17.—The computed farm cash income for Texas during April, excluding government benefit payments, totaled $27,475,000, as against a comparable figure of $17,648,000 during April last year, an increase of more than 53 per cent, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. The districts in which sheep, wool, and cattle constitute the major sources of income made relatively the most favorable showing.

"Barring abnormal weather conditions during the remainder of the current crop season, indications point to further improvement in Texas farm cash income during coming months," Dr. Buechel said. "Because of the high degree of specialization which prevails in the various natural regions of the State, however, these distinctive regions will not share equally in such gains as are expected to occur. Regions in which live stock and live stock products constitute the most important sources of income are expected on the whole to continue the favorable showing of recent months. The specialized wheat areas of the State will benefit both from larger production and higher prices than have prevailed for several years."

As a general rule the man who argues loudest about his "constitutional rights" never read the constitution.

The use of wettable sulphur dip to control goat lice is gaining favor with West Texas ranchmen, county agricultural agents in that section report.

In Cooke county, W. B. Davis dipped 648 head of mixed goats in wettable sulphur. This was a continuation of last fall demonstration, when he dipped his flock twice. The hair on shearing time was much brighter and no lice were found.

Ranchmen of Irion county are turning to the use of wettable sulphur as the result of a demonstration last fall when the goats on the Rutledge ranch were dipped in this material. The goats were dipped in August of 1936 and are still free of lice. A gain of one-half pound of hair per head was noted at the last shearing.

Two Edwards county ranchmen, Fred J. Wittenburg and Merlin Davis, dipped 639 and 1,356 head respectively, in wettable sulphur during the latter part of May. Both flocks were heavily infested with lice, and will be dipped again after a 10 day interval.

A round vat of 1,000 gallon capacity, one of the first constructed in Texas, was used to dip 1,002 goats with wettable sulphur on the Adams Wilson, Jr. ranch in Kerr county. Materials for the vat, floor, and fence cost $43.90. The goats were dipped at the rate of 250 an hour.

During May, seven flocks of goats totaling 7,364 head were dipped in wettable sulphur in Brown county. Ranchmen who used this material during the past year report that their goats produced a heavier fleece, were in better condition, and that the mohair had an added luster.

Delinquent contributions to the Unemployment Compensation fund bear interest at the rate of one per centum per month. Already the Commission has collected over $2,000 in interest on past due contributions.

BIRTHDAY OF PWA IN TEXAS IS CELEBRATED ON JUNE 16

Began in This State in 1933; Has Helped Build $450,000,000 Worth of Building

June 16 was the birthday of the PWA projects in Texas. In 1933 there were many heads that wagged and voices raised at that was called the entrance of the government into "private construction" business. However people soon learned that the government was merely helping to finance projects with loans and grants. Soon applications for projects of every description poured in to State headquarters at Fort Worth. All in all, the people of Texas wanted to do $450,000,000 worth of building in their state. At the present time the Lone Star State has constructed more projects under the PWA than any other state in the Union.

Of the 254 counties in Texas, only 43 of the more sparsely populated ones have not received direct allotments for projects, but since many of the larger projects such as Red Bluff Dam and the Lower Colorado River involved physical work in adjoining counties, hardly any Texas county has not seen the benefits of PWA monies. Five hundred and fifty-one projects received Federal money.

PWA's 1933 program in Texas brought a total of 971 applications. Applications again poured in when the 1935 program plans were announced.

Under both programs school buildings have been by far the most popular, requests for 328 educational projects calling for construction of over 800 buildings being made in 1933 and 449 projects representing over 900 buildings in 1935. The list of projects includes school buildings, auditoriums, gymnasiums, stadiums, waterworks, sewers, water and sewer, gas projects, college buildings, hospitals, courthouses and jails, roads, paving, bridges, irrigation, water control, State highway department buildings, power projects, rehabilitation.

At the program's peak, some 30,000 workers were directly employed on project sites in the State. These 30,000 men caused the employment of 75,000 more in mines, quarries, forests, and factories, creating the things with which to work. None of the above figures represent the "white collar" class. Benefits among clerical and professional occupations are tremendous because with a total of 2,000 contracts awarded, workmen's compensation, property damage and public liability insurance had to be written. The legal profession has had a great deal of work dealing with the PWA projects. Engineers and architects have received some of the greatest benefits from the program.

"Without fear of contradiction, PWA claims to have leavened with revitalizing energy the entire economic structure of Texas," the Director, Julian Montgomery said.

Hardly a community anywhere in the Nation's greatest state could say on June 16: "PWA has done nothing for us."

The purpose of the Unemployment Compensation Act is to provide the wage-earner, who is thrown out of a job through no fault of his own, with a portion of his former wage for a time ordinarily sufficient to enable him to find other employment.

What profiteth it a man if he gets through the winter without a cold and then has malaria all summer.

Every person who works for wages, commissions, or at piece-work, must have a social security account number for federal and state record-keeping purposes. Workers in covered employments who have not applied for account numbers may be creating difficulties in determining the proper amount of unemployment benefits to which they will be entitled.
