Mountain Echoes

By Barbara Kingsbery

Dallas Morning News staff writer Mike Kingston quoted a Big Lake journalist recently concerning why people like — or perhaps dislike — small towns. The following things rather well describe Santa Anna, don't they?

A little town is where you don't have to guess who your enemies are. Your friends will tell you.

A little town is the only place on earth where people past middle age are called by their first names when they saunter down the street.

A little town is where everybody knows who is not speaking to whom this week and why.

A little town is where everybody knows everyone else's car by sight — and also where and when it goes.

A little town is where few people can get away with lying about the year they were born. Too many other people remember when.

A little town is where people with various ailments can air them properly for sympathetic ears.

A little town is where, when you get the wrong telephone number, you can talk for 15 minutes anyhow, if you want to.

A little town is where people care; where the ratio of good to bad is something like 100 to 1. That's nice to remember.

A little town is where it is hard for anybody to walk to work for exercise because it takes too long to stop and explain to people in cars who stop, honk and offer a ride.

A little town is where ladies can take things home on approval to try them on with a good girdle and take them back if the style or color is wrong.

A little town is somewhat like a big family — ornery distant cousins, renegade uncles and all.

Beginning this week we will publish the Santa Anna school lunchroom menu each week. Parents and school children will be glad to know in advance what will be served in the school cafeteria on each day of the week. Look for the listing elsewhere in this issue.

We have had rain in our community for the past two weekends, and optimistically predict more moisture within a few days — mainly Saturday. The "odds" are good that we'll have rain on the day of the Telephone Cooperative annual meeting — or at least it has happened many times.

Budget Hearing Set By Board Next Tuesday

The Santa Anna School District Board of Trustees will have their monthly meeting on Tuesday, September 8, at the High School office. The public hearing on the 1970-71 school budget will also be held at the meeting, which begins at 7:30 p.m.

The new budget was planned at a called meeting of the board held on August 25, and is ready for presentation to the public and official approval.

All school patrons are invited to meet with the Board for the budget hearing and meeting.

Telephone Cooperative Annual Meet Saturday

The annual membership meeting of the Coleman County Telephone Cooperative will be held Saturday night, September 5, at the Santa Anna football stadium. In case of rain the meeting will be held in the High School auditorium.

Registration will begin at 7:30 p.m. and entertainment will be by Rene Monette and Cindy Hughes, members of the Heritage Singers group from Howard Payne College.

Mounties Slate Grid Scrimmage At Evant Friday

The Santa Anna Mountainer football team had their first outside scrimmage last Friday night, hosting the Wylie High School team for the practice session. The large Class A Wylie team outplayed the local boys, bringing the ball to scoring position one time.

The Mountainers will travel to Evant this Friday for a 6:30 p.m. practice session.

The first football game of the season will be a home game with the Balrd Bears on Friday night, September 11.

Local football fans are reminded that season reserved seat tickets are now on sale at the high school office. Ticket holders from last year have through September 7 to purchase the same seats held last year, then on September 8 the tickets will go on sale for the general public.

The reserved seat ticket for the five games is $1.25. Tickets bought individually will be 50 cents for each game.

General admission for the football games will be paid at the gate.

Local Fire Dept. Aids Near Novice

The Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department was called Friday to assist the Coleman department at a large grass fire near Novice. The fire, apparently started by a passing train, burned an area about four miles long and one mile wide, and estimated at about 2,000 acres. The major part of the fire was on the Mary Dunman Ranch. Also of great help in putting out the fire were ranchers and farmers with livestock sprayers.

Another call was received by the VFD on Saturday but by the time the truck got to the Jamison Ranch at Fisk the fire had been extinguished by rainfall.

Local firemen are pleased that the recent rains will help curtail range and pasture fires for awhile.

Holiday Monday For Labor Day

Most businesses in Santa Anna will be closed on Monday, September 7, in observance of Labor Day. The holiday is one of those observed locally by the Chamber of Commerce.

The local post office will also be closed on that day and Monday will be a school holiday in Santa Anna.

Holiday Traffic Safety Urged By DPS Head

Texas Department of Public Safety director Wilson E. (Pat) Speir said today indications are that 49 persons will be killed in Texas traffic crashes during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday week end from 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 4 to midnight Monday, Sept. 7.

The estimate is based on numerous indicators and past experience on similar holiday periods, Colonel Speir said, adding that he hopes it will prove to be too high.

The Public Safety director said numerous activities will be undertaken to hold down holiday tragedies on the streets and highways, "but, inevitably, the drivers themselves hold the solution in their hands."

"That is why we constantly and repeatedly appeal to drivers to remain continually on the alert for situations that can spell disaster and make driving a full-time job while they are behind the wheel."

"Department of Public Safety officers will be out in full force during the holiday period, as will local police officers within the cities, for the purpose of enforcing the safety laws which were designed to save lives and property," he said.

"Operation Motorcade," a statewide cooperative effort on the part of all police agencies and the public media will be in effect during the 78-hour period to serve as a reminder of the added hazards of holiday road travel.

During this operation, all traffic fatalities will be tabulated as they occur and periodic announcements of the death toll will be made for this purpose, he explained.

Speir said an analysis of the fatal accidents that occurred during the last similar period, the 78-hour Fourth of July holiday week end revealed the following contributing factors:

General carelessness, excessive speed for conditions, failure to yield or stop when required, drivers drinking, pedestrians drinking. "Our study indicated that without a doubt, most of these fatal accidents could have been avoided," he said.

Soaking Rains Fall In Area

Rain fell in the Santa Anna area again this past weekend, bringing as much as three inches in some communities. The official report for Santa Anna included .15 of one inch on Sunday, August 30, and .45 on Monday. The two-day rainfall made a total of 1.20 inches for the month of August and a total for 1970 of 15.25 inches.

Larger amounts of rain were recorded north of Santa Anna with William Brown measuring 2.90 inches during the two-day period at his home in the Buffalo community.

In Our Opinion

By W. T. HAYS

THE SUPREME COURT set the stage Monday for a broad, definitive ruling on the steps schools must take in order to comply with desegregation laws.

They set October 12 for arguments involving three southern school districts that will, it is hoped, settle many questions that have been raised by past edicts.

Included will be whether students must be bussed away from their home district in order to achieve a balance of the races; whether schools in a district must be balanced racially; and whether states can withhold public funds to achieve integration.

The biggest cases are from North Carolina, Alabama, and Georgia, but getting closer to home there are several cases in Texas which will be affected by their rulings.

Austin is now under pressure from the Justice Department trying to enforce a ruling by the Health, Education and Welfare Department on school bussing. So far the Austin schools are not bussing in order to gain a balance of the races, however, the HEW has forced the closing of Anderson High School, an excellent school in a predominantly Negro and Mexican-American area, and in doing so has aroused the wrath of all races. There were some white children in the school, but it was largely made up of minority groups. However, the district lines that have been set up would have to have been completely distorted in order to bring about a balance, and the Austin schools have had freedom of choice for several years. They were the first to comply with civil rights statutes and had integrated schools as early as the late 50's. The Austin Board has always been cooperative in trying to comply with the law, but outrageous demands from HEW have drawn them to the end of their rope.

Many similar incidents are happening over Texas. San Angelo has its problems with HEW and many others.

What it all boils down to is that HEW has interpreted the law the way they want it and if necessary have bent the statutes to comply with their way of thinking in sending out their directives.

What they hope to accomplish by bussing kids from their home district to another just so there will be a certain number of each race is beyond us. If the Supreme Court upholds that order, there will be a lot more demonstrations than we have now, because neither of the races want it done. The minorities are happy when they have good schools, whether they are predominant in it or not. Most of them don't care whether there is a white child in the school or not.

The pathetic part is that a child will be taken from a school in his own neighborhood, where he could walk to school, and have to travel long distances by bus in order to satisfy some crank in Washington. And crank is a lenient word to describe them.

A lot of our trouble stems from the fact that a lot of "know-it-all" over-educated nuts have been drawn into federal service and are now operating a bunch of useless bureaus that we could well do without and object to paying the bill for their operation.

Sometimes when some of these young demonstrators say we need to tear it down and start over from scratch, we are inclined to go along with them.

However, when the people wake up to such as is going on, and make it known at the polls that they do not want it, something will be done—but not before.

SENATORS McGOVERN AND FULBRIGHT had to have their say on Television Monday night, as they demanded equal time with President Nixon to voice their views of the Administration's policies.

We are just thankful that we are able to get two stations, so we could twist the knob when we got full of their hog-wash.

It was Will Rogers who, when he discussed the possibility of censoring radio, said "I haven't much patience with anyone who is too lazy to turn the dial."

STATE Capital NEWS
By VERN SANFORD

Top-flight business and industrial executives are getting an invitation to study the administration of state agencies and tell them how to do a better job, hopefully for less money.

House Committee on Efficiency and Economy urged Speaker Gus Mutscher to take the initiative in setting up an outside committee of experts.

Proposal actually originated with a Chicago consultant's preliminary review of 12 selected agencies. Consultant called for seven study teams of experts to do in-depth surveys. Chairman, Rep. Russell Cummings of Houston, said nearly everyone advocates "economy in the abstract," but "seldom is a studied, rational set of specifics advanced as a plan for saving tax dollars."

Committee is under no illusions that additional state spending will not be required as the state grows.

"The citizens are entitled to know that every tax dollar is being spent with maximum attention to efficiency and economy," said Cummings. "I feel that most of state government is being operated efficiently, but I am also convinced that additional savings can be pinpointed by experts from private enterprise organizations, studying operations within their own expertise."

JUNIOR COLLEGE SHIFT ADVISED — A far-reaching recommendation to discontinue financing junior colleges through local property taxes and turn the job over to the state has been offered by the Texas Research League.

During the next biennium, if this proposal were adopted, local taxpayers would be relieved of $72.9 million. State taxes of that amount would have to be provided. An alternative League recommendation is for the state to pay the operating costs and costs of future construction, but to leave existing bonded indebtedness as the obligation of local property taxpayers. This would reduce the local-to-state tax transfer to $56 million, instead of $72.9 million.

League recommends a $200 million bond issue for 1971 and a $200 million issue for 1975 to pay for construction at all state colleges. Community colleges, League claimed, should be operated through locally-elected regional boards which might supervise several campuses.

League Director James W. McGrew said appropriations for community colleges, which will enroll two out of three freshmen and sophomores in state schools by the end of this decade, should be handled through the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

LABOR DAY TOLL WEIGHED — Forty-nine persons will be killed in Texas crashes during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday weekend (September 4-7), Texas Department of Public Safety forecasts.

DPS will undertake activities to hold down holiday tragedies on streets and highways, but noted that drivers themselves have the only real solution.

Most fatal accidents, DPS Director Wilson E. (Pat) Speir states, are due to general carelessness, excessive speed for conditions, failure to yield or stop, drinking drivers or drinking pedestrians. Most of these accidents, records show, involved only one vehicle.

Drivers were urged to be alert for developing dangerous situations and to be sure their vehicles are well maintained.

MARCH RECALLED — Mexican-American group leaders announced they plan to issue a Labor Day proclamation "of vast political consequences," on the fourth anniversary of the 1966 minimum wage march.

Ceremonies (dedication of a monument to marchers and issuing the proclamation) will be held in New Braunfels where former Gov. John Connally confronted the 1966 group in a meeting which had long-lasting political repercussions.

Three to five thousand will participate in the September 7 events, a spokesman said. He declined to reveal if the proclamation will be an endorsement of candidates.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Preston Smith has named Joe K. Butler of Houston to the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Smith also announced these appointments:

- Texas Turnpike Authority — J. Frank Holt III of Dallas.

- Nimitz Memorial Naval Museum Commission — W. B. Wetsel Jr. of Sweetwater.

- Governor's Advisory Council of Aging — Dr. Charles Ballard Dryden Jr. of Wichita Falls.

- Southwest Campaign Coordinator — former Congressman JoJo Kilgore of Austin.

South Texas regional consultant's job for the Texas Industrial Commission went to Patrick A. Williams of Houston.

Former Gov. Allan Shivers accepted the honorary chairmanship of a drive to raise $300,000 in funds to assist Texas Warm Spring Foundation Center and Hospital at Gonzales.

AIRPORT FUNDS ALLOTTED — Texas Aeronautics Commission allocated $238,000 for airport construction where no federal aid is available.

Three thousand went to repair minor Hurricane Celia damage at Aransas Pass Airport and to install lighting.

These allocations were approved for new airports: $27,500 each for Bastrop, Dell City, Jayton-Kent County and Throckmorton County; $24,000 for Follett and $20,000 to Winnsboro.

For completion of facilities, Commission earmarked $7,500 for Vega, $15,000 for Commerce, $14,000 for Rock Springs, $15,000 for San Augustine, $7,500 for Miami, $18,000 for Pleasanton and $4,000 for Nocona.

TAXES EXAMINED — A new committee study notes that Texas state and local taxes have increased 15 times — from $207 million in 1932 to $3.1 billion in 1969.

Property, sales, severance and business taxation make up 93 per cent of the total state and local tax revenue, reports the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy. Yet the other seven per cent amounts to more than $200 million a year (motor vehicle registration fees, inheritance taxes and drivers' licenses).

CITY REPRIMANDED — City of San Antonio drew a sharp reprimand from the Texas Water Quality Board for dumping 12 million gallons of raw sewage into the San Antonio River on August 3 (in anticipation of a heavy rain).

Board sent the matter to the attorney general to determine if a penalty suit should be filed and handed down an order threatening an injunction if the violation ever happens again. Dissatisfied with the city's lack of an emergency corrective plan, Board directed its own staff to come up with something to give San Antonians in certain areas relief from overcrowded sewage facilities pending passage of a bond issue for vast new lines.

FUNDS APPROVED — Governor approved a $243,751 Office of Economic Opportunity contract with the Taft Independent School District for an incentive remedial education experiment.

Three-year program is designed to determine the effectiveness of new teaching methods and technology in producing reading and math level gains among disadvantaged children. Four hundred and fifty will be enrolled in special classes of 75 each.

SHORT SNORTS

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held that a school district may enter into contract with private concerns or the government for the operation and supervision of vocational classes and their programs.

State Banking Commission has received an application for Wilcrest State Bank in Stafford.

Texas Aeronautics Commission granted Amistad Airlines a flight certificate for service between Brazoria County Airport at Lake Jackson and Houston.

The following is a story published in the August 13, 1937, issue of the NEWS: PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF 50 YEARS AGO DESCRIBED (by Miss Louella Chambers) Fifty years ago (1887) Mr. Ed Martin was teaching here in the long wooden building.

I think we had a term of about four months. This would not do so an election was held to form an independent school district and the tax started at 35 cents on the $100 evaluation. It carried in Rockwood over the week end.

Mrs. Mary Kemp of Coleman visited her mother, Mrs. Ella Polk, Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Weldon Haynes and little daughter, Elizabeth, visited on Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Ruby Dean.

The birthday party, honoring guests with birthdays during the month of August, was held at the Inn Thursday, August 27. Those honored were Joe Blevins, Mrs. McCarrell, Drury Estes, Mrs. Tena Steward and Mrs. Dora Vanderford.

Guest speaker was Mrs. C. D. Bruce author of the new book, "They Came In Peace." She related stories of early Coleman County history. Refreshments were served after the program.

ried and such rejoicing we never heard. We would walk up and down the street and say, "We are going to have a school," and for one time people were glad to be taxed. Messrs. L. V. Stockard, Henry Brown and John Herndon were elected trustees. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Viets were the first teachers in the new district.

The foreign languages that were taught were German and Latin. They had a class in bookkeeping. Once a month the Viets would have a "rhetical." The music for the occasion was vocal and was furnished by Annie Hubert, Emma and Louella Chambers, the Brooks boys, Dr. Hayes, Sam Phillips, and Frank Hubert and we all worked hard to help our school.

Dr. Mathews and Miss Emma Chambers were married in this old building as were Mr. Will Day and Miss Annie Beakley, Mr. J. D. Simpson and Miss Lula Turner in the new north room. Miss Lula attended school Friday and married Sunday morning.

At this time we had three teachers. Later we built the first two-story building—two rooms upstairs and two rooms down. Prof. J. E. Hickman and Mrs. E. K. Thomson taught in this building. Miss Stella Lewis was one of the best primary teachers. You never heard her pupils say, "I seen" or "I taken."

Our dramatic club gave a play to buy an unabridged dictionary for the school. In 1898 my music class gave a recital and got $8.00 worth of books selected by the teachers. As the years rolled by we added new teachers and buildings.

Citizens of Santa Anna are asked to cooperate with the city commission in mosquito eradication, according to the Mayor, E. D. McDonald, M. D. The drive is to stamp out danger of infantile paralysis, caused by the disease-carrying insects.

The Lions Club voted Tuesday to ask the city commissioners to place a traffic light on the intersection of Wallis, or main street, and Depot street. Traffic, particularly during school sessions, is often congested on that corner and is often dangerous for both drivers and pedestrians.

Jewell Hill, prominent local business man, has made arrangements for establishing a men's clothing store here to be located on the east half of the building now occupied by Gehrett Dry Goods Store.

Mr. Hill has a great deal of experience in merchandising business and in selection of clothing. He has worked for some time in the store of his brother, D. R. Hill, and also in Goldthwaite.

County Agent News Column

Last week while selecting club lambs at Johnny Jamison's, I enjoyed a barbecued goat lunch with Johnny and his wife. They had a special sauce to go over it and it was really good. Johnny had some good Rambouillet sheep and is working hard to improve them every year. Several 4-H-ers will be feeding his lambs for the County Show this year.

There have been articles in the local area newspapers concerning the Brown Recluse Spider. Mrs. Murle Strach brought some suspects in, which I sent to our area entomologist. These spiders were confirmed as the Brown Recluse Spider. This means that the spider is in our area.

There are several facts you should know about this spider:

1. Its bite is more poisonous than a black widow.
2. The spider is from 3-10" to 1-2" in length. Color varies from orange yellow to dark brown. It has three pairs of eyes arranged in a semi-circle on the forepart of the head and a guitar shaped marking immediately behind the eyes with a distinct short median groove forming the neck of the guitar.

3. These spiders seek out quiet, undisturbed areas for nests, closets, etc. Frequent cleaning helps control them. Sprays or dusts outside the home with linrane chlordane, dieldrin, or dichlorvos (DDVP). Inside the house use a 2% to 5% lindane; 5% dieldrin, or 2% chlordane household spray inside the house.

We will have some informational bulletins in our office next week if you want one.

Results of the Small Grain Variety Test held on the Hurschel Dunn farm near Coleman are complete and available from the Coleman County Extension office, according to CAA, Roger Blackmon. Nineteen varieties of wheat, oats, and barley were tested.

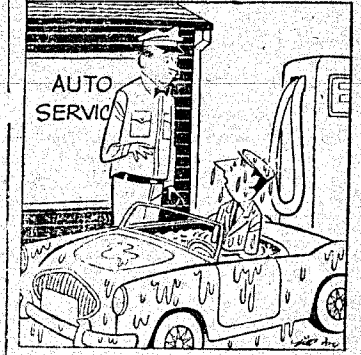

The difference between the high yielding oat, Nora, and the low yielding Bronco, was 70 bushels per acre, a difference of $43.00. The high yielding wheat, Caprock, produced 32.4 bushels per acre compared to 17.3 bushels per acre for Kaw, a difference of $18.12 per acre.

Complete results on all the varieties including test weight per bushel and growth characteristics by the demonstrator, Hurschel Dunn, are available.

N. Y. VISITORS RETURN

Miss Blackwell Honored With Bridal Shower

Miss Diana Blackwell, bride-elect of Ted Ford, was honored with a shower on Tuesday night, August 25, at the downtown community center. Ladies of the Assembly of God Church were hostesses for the party.

Mrs. Harold Cupps greeted guests as they arrived. In the receiving line were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Howard Blackwell of Brownwood, and the mother and grandmothers of the groom-to-be, Mrs. James Ford, Mrs. Myrtle Wagner, and Mrs. Marion Ford, and Mrs. Wait, grandmother of the bride.

Misses Regina Cupps and Dora Guerrero served cake squares and punch, assisted by Brenda Blackwell, sister of the bride. The tea table was laid with a white lace cloth over pink, and centered with an arrangement of queen's wreath and dusty miller. All appointments were of crystal.

Gifts were displayed by Mes. Walter Newman and Bessie Parrish. Mrs. Mike Cupps registered guests in the white bride's book.

Miss Blackwell and Mr. Ford were married on Saturday, August 29.

STOCKARD'S GUESTS

Mrs. Katie McMillan of Balinger visited on Sunday with her friend, Mrs. Roy Stockard. Other visitors during the day were the Stockard's son, Leroy, and his daughter Doris of Abilene.

S.A. Church Women Hold Quarterly Meeting Monday

Santa Anna Church Women met Monday afternoon, August 31, for the quarterly meeting of the organization. The ladies of the Presbyterian Church served as hostesses.

Mrs. Roy Horne, president, led a brief business meeting. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, president; Mrs. Norman Walters, vice-president; and Mrs. Norman Wylie, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Thomas Wristen, Mrs. Sally Snook, and Mrs. Oscar Boenicks were appointed to the committee to choose a Christmas project for the group.

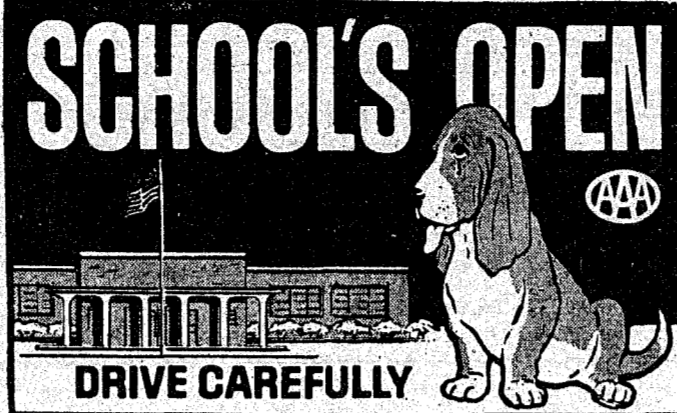

Mrs. Norman Walters gave a devotion, "Praises to God," using Psalm 96.

The interdenominational choir, directed by Mrs. Jack Allen, presented a message in song, including a number of old time favorites. Special parts were sung by Mrs. David Mercer, Mrs. Bob Lee, Mrs. Terry McIver, Nancy Baugh and Gail Robinett. Mrs. J. W. McClellan was pianist.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to the women present.

The next meeting of the organization will be held on November 30 at the Christian Church. All women in the community are urged to attend.

C. D. Bruce returned home early this week from Fort Worth where he spent several days in Harris Hospital. He is getting along well at his home.

Kids are now back in school and that occasion, says the American Automobile Association, Texas Division, is an important cue to motorists. They, too, are probably ready for a do-it-yourself refresher course that might be labeled "child-centered defensive driving."

The AAA points out that each summer it's easy for motorists to be lulled into relative laxness in this area as children vanish from school zones and school buses leave the traffic lanes.

Now, drivers must again be on guard for thousands of youngsters on their way to and from the nation's classrooms, especially those tots who are on their own for the first time.

Above all, drivers should keep in mind that many children know next to nothing about pedestrian safety rules. And even those who do hard-ly will remember them when in pursuit of a rolling ball or a runaway pet.

The AAA advises motorists to make note of four additional factors:

1. When in a school zone, watch for reduced speed limit signs that are installed in many communities when the summer months end.
2. Remember the law about stopping when you see a halted school bus, and, at the same time, keep in mind that this rule may condition children to dart in front of a public bus.
3. Be on the lookout for youngsters riding bicycles that may appear suddenly from a blind spot near your car.
4. If you're a parent, help your child by mapping out his safest walking route to school. If he takes a school bus, let him walk to the stop—traffic hazards near schools.

MIKE GOODWIN BORN THURSDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Lee Goodwin of Early are the parents of a baby boy, born Friday, August 28, in Brownwood Community Hospital. The baby weighed eight pounds, four and one-half ounces and has been named Michael Bartlee. The Goodwins are parents of two other sons, Jeffery, aged 5, and Mark, 3.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goodwin and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wallace, all of Santa Anna. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hibbitts, also of Santa Anna, and a great-great-grandfather is Mr. J. R. Hibbitts of Lubbock.

increase when children are dropped off and picked up by family cars. "Children," says AAA, "are our most-precious pedestrians—let's protect them!"

80th Anniversary Celebration Set By Local Group

The 80th anniversary celebration at the First Baptist Church is planned for Sunday, September 27. The special observance will include activities for former pastors and members of the church.

Everyone in the community is invited to attend the celebration. A complete schedule of activities will be announced later.

Former Teacher To Be Honored At TSC Banquet

Miss Dollie Marie Glover, professor emerita at Tarleton State College, Stephenville, is to be honored as a distinguished faculty member at the annual Tarleton State College Ex-Students banquet on the TSC campus on October 24. Miss Glover, a native of Brownwood, is a former teacher in the Santa Anna public schools.

A graduate of Brownwood High School and Howard Payne College, Miss Glover taught English and Latin in Santa Anna about 1920. She received her master of arts degree from Texas University in 1925 and taught English at Kidd-Key College at Sherman before joining the Tarleton faculty in 1926. Miss Glover retired from the TSC faculty in 1960.

Home Shopper's Course Starts

Thirty homemakers in Coleman County were launched today on a new venture—a correspondence course in food buying, called "You—The Food Shopper." This announcement was made by Mrs. Bessie T. Parker, County Home Demonstration agent for Coleman County, who is conducting the course.

The course is designed to provide "at-home" lessons for interested homemakers. The content of the course is planned to help homemakers get more for their food money and in turn help them in feeding their families. There are six lessons, each of which has an assignment to be done at home and returned to the County Home Demonstration Agent.

According to Mrs. Parker, "The Cooperative Extension Service's Home Economics Program in Coleman County is continually seeking new ways to reach homemakers with timely, usable and needed information. We hope that the correspondence course technique may help us in reaching those whom we might not reach any other way."

Local LVN Grads Honored Sunday

A special dedication service at the Northside Baptist Church last Sunday morning honored two church members who are recent graduates of LVN school. The two, Mrs. Vernon Parnell and Ms. James Keeney, graduated from the Brownwood Community Hospital school and the Coleman hospital school, respectively.

Both women wore their uniforms and caps and were seated at the front of the church. They were introduced by the pastor, Vernon Parnell, and they were joined at the altar by Rev. G. C. Henry of Goldthwaite, who led the dedication prayer.

After the service, the two were greeted by members of the congregation and presented a gift from the church and friends present.

AUDUBON'S BIRDS AND FLOWERS

We have all seen the famous American bird pictures painted by John J. Audubon organizer of the famous Audubon Society. This famous painter had mastered the technique of painting the intricate feathers and features of birds, but he acquired the services of other artists to paint in the floral and plant backgrounds for his pictures.

Flower, he thought are special, and need special artists to capture their delicate beauty.

We feel flowers are special, too. That is why we fill our orders with special care. You can be confident that when you order flowers from us, they will be just what you want, carefully prepared.

James Eubank Hurt Saturday In Accident

James Eubank was hospitalized in Coleman several days this week for injuries he received Saturday in a pickup accident south of Coleman. Eubank was traveling north on the Shields farm road toward Coleman and swerved his 1970 Ford pickup sharply to the left to avoid a collision with a freight train. The vehicle veered across the tracks and overturned into an embankment, completely demolishing the pickup. The railroad crossing has no warning signal. Mr. Eubank suffered cuts and bruises and several broken ribs in the accident.

Retiring Soon? Call SS Office

Are you getting ready to retire? If so, Don Austin, social security field representative who visits Coleman, has some tips to save you time and trouble! A telephone call to the social security office is a good first step. The office can answer your question and tell you how to apply and when to do it. In some cases they can call you back and complete the application by phone and mail it out to you for signature. Otherwise they'll tell you when and where to meet him.

Have your social security card or a record of your social security number, some proof of your age, and your last year's income tax return if self-employed or withholding statement if an employee. If your wife also applies, she will need evidence of her age and her social security number if she has one.

The best evidence of age is a birth or baptismal certificate made at or near the time of your birth. However, if neither exists, other documents may be used. Generally, the older the document the better.

If you have children under 18—or between 18 and 22 who are fulltime students—have their birth certificates and records of their social security numbers, if any, available.

It's generally a good idea to apply about 3 months before you retire. Don't delay because you don't have any of the required documents or information. The people in the social security office will be glad to help you get the necessary information.

If you are housebound and unable to come to the office, arrangements can be made for taking your application by mail, or, if necessary, someone can come to your home. Just let the social security office know.

REA Coop Bills By New System

Members of the Coleman County Electric Cooperative have begun using a new system of meter reading, according to Charles Newton, Coop manager. Monthly bills are now received at the first of each month and are to be returned at once with payment and meter reading. Meter reading cards and payment have formerly been at different dates. The billing process is now done through new data processing cards at the Cooperative office.

The warm summer months are a wonderful time of the year. There are barbecues, pool parties and lots of outdoor activities. It also is a time to remember the salt. Keep in mind that you lose salt by perspiring. Add a little extra to your food as salt loss can be quite serious. If your activities are strenuous, salt tablets also may be needed.

For picnics you will find the miniature blue and white plastic containers of salt very convenient. There are matching pepper shakers, too. When you are having corn on the cob, try the special, very-fine-grain salt for popcorn, which is in an appropriate yellow pack. age. It is great on other foods as well.

One of the more pleasant family activities is to make your own ice cream. All you need is the freezer tub, the ingredients, ice—and salt. Complete directions can be found on the bright red, white and blue bag of ice cream and cooling rock salt. You can speed cooling of beverages and watermelons with rock salt, too, by sprinkling it liberally over the ice.

To help you plan successful summertime parties, I will be happy to send you a free leaflet, "Party Planning Principles," if you will just clip this article and the name of your newspaper and send them to me marked "Party Time."

As It Looks From Here

OMAR BURLESON, M. C.
17th District Texas

Washington — As Americans, we have justifiable reasons to be thankful and proud. Traveling and visiting again in Texas during the Congressional recess, it seems strikingly evident that we in this part of the country have particular cause for confidence.

Perhaps too long we have magnified our problems and taken too seriously the obstacles that hinder us.

Unemployment is considered beyond tolerable limits when it reaches 3½ to 4 percent of our total population. The figure nationally is now approaching 5 percent. In our area of Texas, though some are certainly underemployed, the figure is not near that level.

Economically, the wide diversity of our resources in small manufacturing, oil, ranching, farming, and service related businesses, gives stability to our communities. The growth is not spectacular, nor does it reach our hopes, but comparatively we are less affected by day to day fluctuations in interest rates, consumer demands and employment than the more highly industrialized and specialized areas which do not enjoy such a dependable base.

Our lakes, farms, ranches, and "open spaces" provide places for our people to enjoy life without the distractions of crowding, noise, and pollution. Here at home, we can take time to think and make calm decisions concerning our own lives and actions we choose to help others.

Our churches are well attended and reflect the stable faith and moral integrity of our people. By comparison, in some places in our country, lack of interest has resulted in financial disaster for heretofore strong religious groups.

The great battles of the future will not be solved on the battlefield in halls of government, or workshops of commerce. The decisions that really count for lasting good are those of the spirit: how to be happy, how to adjust to change, — how to get along with our fellowman. The advantages we see about us here in the 17th Congressional District provide the climate for producing clear thinking, solid citizens with moral integrity—who seek proper values to solve the problems of our time.

Our several colleges and university provide a wholesome climate for our young people coming from good public schools. Here they receive sound academic training that further equips them for challenges that are all about us.

These, our young people, are our greatest blessing. To continue opportunity for their development is the greatest contribution we can make to insure the future of our great land. In a world of turmoil, doubt, and fear—there is reason for encouragement and basis for genuine hope.

Compared to any other section of this Nation, our assets here at home, both materially and in the character of people, are indeed great.

Trickham News Notes

By Mrs. Oscar Boenicke
 Rev. Pat McClatchy will preach four nights starting next Sunday night, September 6, through Wednesday night in a union meeting here at Trickham. Everyone come to hear him. He will need the prayers of the Christian people.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Banister of Burnet visited the Bond Featherstons and the Oscar Boenicke Friday afternoon on their way home.

Visitors with Minnie Wilson and Gray Sunday afternoon were Billy Roy and Mildred Laughlin and Lee of Brownwood, and his father, Roy Laughlin, and the Oscar Boenicke.

Later in the evening Rev. Curtis Keith, the First Christian Church minister of Brownwood, visited us a little while.

Mrs. Bill Heibrier and Don of Fort Worth visited a few days this last week with her parents, the Walter Stacys.

I failed to put in all of Florence Stearns' news last week as I ran out of time to get my news in the mail.

Florence and her daughter and grandson, Frances Fleming and son Leslie Ray, visited in Abilene on Tuesday with the R. C. Stearns family. Also Charlie Ray Fleming of Alice came on the weekend to take his wife and son home. They had spent a week here visiting her mother and other relatives.

This last Tuesday, Mrs. Robert Stearns visited during the morning a while with Mrs. Myrtle Wagner of Santa Anna. That afternoon Mrs. Doris Stearns of Brownwood visited Florence. On Friday Florence visited Mrs. Jo Grant and Mrs.

Sam Rutherford and spent the night with them and helped them move to Coleman Saturday.

Robert Earl and Alice Lancaster and two friends of Silsbee came back Thursday from their trip and stayed until Monday morning with his mother, Mamie Lancaster. Also, Virgil and Veta Lancaster of Bangs and Lucile and John Carter of Brownwood spent the day Sunday with them.

The Quilting Club met last Tuesday at the community center with 12 women present and one visitor, Doris Stearns. We finished quilting a quilt for Edna Laughlin but did not get Russle James' quilt finished.

Visitors with the Wiley McClatchys Wednesday were Rev. and Mrs. Ben McBryde of Bangs and Russle James. Mr. and Mrs. Oil Martin and Amie McCormick visited Thursday evening, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rice visited them Saturday night a while.

Pat, Jr., McShan spent the weekend with his grandmother, Russle James, and Sunday Pat and Roberta McShan and Cindy, visited them. Russle went home with them that evening and spent the night. They all attended a nice program at the First Baptist Church in Brownwood Sunday night.

Carl Harris was moved in an ambulance to their daughters in Bangs last Friday evening and is improving some now. He gets to sit up some. It will be three weeks this Wednesday since he had his heart attack.

His sister, Mrs. Antone Boenicke, is in the Brownwood Hospital now. She took real sick in the night Saturday night. Don't know just

Drugs and Our Youth

by Bill Weeks
 Recently in the Abilene Reporter-News was an article about 17 year-old Linda Mayfield. She had used marijuana and had broken the habit and joined a team of anti-drug crusaders. Parts of her story are worth noting. She was asked if she had any adverse effects from using drugs. She answered: "I had a little loss of memory. My will to do anything was broken down. I had a tendency to be forgetful and had a loss of memory." She gave the following advice: "Talk to your kid openly and freely and listen to him. Always have your mind open and do not shut him out. Make him feel free to come to you without fear of the consequences. If you don't know the answers, tell him so. Then help him try and find the answers."

Those last three sentences in her advice, to me, hold the real key to the proper parent-child relationship and the answer to the communication gap.

The following article was taken from a Sunday School magazine, "Looking Ahead":

what is wrong with her. Janie Haynes visited the Fred Haynes Friday night, Mattie and Jim Linebery of Bangs visited them Sunday.

Mary Hornell and Patricia Dalton of Fort Worth visited Wednesday and Thursday with Gayla Hornell, Lori and Allen, and the Grady McIvers. Terry and Orabeth McIver had dinner with them Sunday, also Sherrie McIver visited them.

We are happy that Rankin McIver did not get hurt bad from the train and car wreck last Tuesday in Santa Anna. His car was a wreck.

Visitors with the Bond Featherstons and the Delbert Rices over the weekend were their children and grandchildren, Lynn and Ann Rice and Melissa of Irving, and Wendell and Sherrie Rice of Santa Anna.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnie McIver and two children of Garland, visited his parents, the Bernice McIvers, Sunday. Ben McIver of Big Spring visited them Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

There is deference in the rainfall in our community. As much as an inch or more reported. We only got one half inch in two showers but it is good and has gotten cooler. That helps, too.

"Before last week, all I knew about narcotics was what I had heard. One night I tried to tell my parents about Kelly, who I'd heard had smoked two joints the other night. I also told them about Bill's older brother who had given the younger kids some grass . . . to celebrate Bill's 13th birthday."

Their reaction was not what I had expected. My mom just laughed and said someone was trying to kid me. She told me that people out here in suburbia are decent and could not be smoking grass (only she called it dope). Dad agreed.

That was last week. Then they called a student-parents meeting at my junior high school on Thursday night. It seems police and federal agents had found 46 kids, in a school of 920, who were using or selling narcotics. The auditorium was filled with parents and students. A panel of people—including a policeman, a doctor, a mother, and the school principal—had volunteered to discuss the problem.

That was some meeting! Here are some of the comments:

Parent: Exactly what are narcotics?

Doctor: Any type of drug that produces insensibility, like a pain killer. These are derived from opium, cocaine, marijuana, and synthetic products.

Student: Does pot (marijuana) affect you in any way other than just making you feel good?

Doctor: Yes. It causes blood-shot eyes and dilates the pupils. It slows down body reflexes. It can relax a person so he feels less inhibited, which may encourage him to act in a manner he usually considers morally wrong.

Student: Is there a big difference in the taste of regular cigarettes and marijuana?

Policeman: Yes. Marijuana is very hot. It smells like a rope burning, and the taste is sweet. Sometimes it makes people sick.

Student: Do many users go on to hard narcotics? I mean habit-forming ones?

Doctor: As high as 40 percent do.

Parent: What are narcotics commonly called? I wouldn't know if I heard them.

Doctor: Grass, pot, Mary Jane and reefer are a few.

Policeman: Locoweed, tea, horse, and hashish are some other names for marijuana. Usually it is called grass.

Student: Is it harmful to smoke one joint (cigarette) of grass?

Doctor: Yes. To the extent that a person may like it and continue to use it.

Parent: Has there really been an increase in the use of narcotics in schools?

Principal: We believe it has multiplied ten times in the past four years.

Parent: Why would a young person want to get involved with such dangerous things as this?

Doctor: He may want to keep up with the crowd, or he may want to try it out of curiosity. He may also be using it to show he is rebelling.

Student: If I know some guy or girl who might be selling narcotics, what should I do?

Policeman: Tell some adult you trust. Your minister, a school counselor, your principal, or the police. Many of the kids don't tell their parents, but they should.

Father: My boy tried to tell us about the things he had heard but I thought it was just wild gossip. If the young people try to talk to us, we should make it a point to listen!

Student: I've heard that I couldn't taste it if someone slipped some LSD in my coke. Is that true?

Doctor: Yes. It is tasteless, colorless, and odorless. You should be careful whom you drink cokes with.

Student: I've heard that everything become just beautiful. You can see gorgeous colors and things, and feel like you are light and floating. Is this right?

Doctor: Sometimes this is true; other times it is not. Some people have visions and delusions of monsters and a feeling of endlessly falling over the edge of a high cliff. One 15-year-old boy in our town kept screaming that motorcycles with grasping hands were trying to run him down. They refer to this sort of thing as "having a bad trip."

Parent: Is it possible to tell if someone had been "on a trip"?

Doctor: Usually. The effect generally wears off in 8 to 12 hours. If it was a bad trip, it may take weeks, and some people have had to undergo psychiatric treatment for months. Any parents should be able to recognize if their child is using LSD.

Parent: Is there any group which has the fewest users?

Principal: Yes. Young people who are leaders in their church and the boys at school who go out for athletics. I don't know of any athlete who has been involved this year.

Doctor: The use of narcotics can slow down the maturing process.

Parent: What can we as parents do to prevent this from happening?

Policeman: You can listen to your young people and help them find answers to their problems. You can know where they are, what they are doing, and with whom.

Parent: Why is this problem today worse than ever before? I thought colleges were the only schools having any real trouble. Why do our junior high school people have to become involved?

Principal: Pressures are greater today, and teenagers have more money. They can buy an escape. So some young people try using drugs. Parent: Is that the only reason they use more drugs now? To escape?

Student: Some kids say it makes you see more clearly. The world is in a mess. Why shouldn't we use something that might help us to find more creative answers?

Doctor: People who use any drug can become dependent on it. Contrary to what you have said drugs make you lose your ability to be constructive and creative rather than develop it. When you are dependent on drugs you are a total loss to humanity and to yourself.

Student: Well, if you were in our place, and felt yourself on the verge of getting involved, how would you get away from it?

Principal: Your church can be very helpful. A strong belief in a Power greater than our own is the best way to face any problem such as this.

Policeman: I agree. Ask someone for help. Grown-ups will respond if they know you are honestly trying to find answers to your problems. But, the actual answer is up to you."

Indian Artifacts of Local Woman On Display at Hemis-Fair Location

The warrior was proud of his finery. Too proud to chance soiling it in the battle to come, or letting it fall into the hands of the enemy.

He sashed his possessions away in a small cave, a few miles north of the present city of Mason, intending to pick them up afterwards.

Thus begins a story which, after considerable research by some of Texas' finest history buffs, still is filled with unknown. The effects of the Comanche's cache are felt now all the way from San Antonio to Coleman.

The brave never returned. It is assumed he was among those who fell when a raiding party was beaten off in Mason with the loss of several warriors. The year was 1872.

The warrior left behind artifacts still considered as among the finest; good enough that later they were displayed at Texas Memorial Museum in Austin, and now are on loan to the Institute of Texas Cultures at San Antonio.

Whether through fate or Providence, the items did not remain long in the cave, where they most certainly would have been reduced by natural forces. A few days after the raid, a Mason settler found the cache—including a Prince Albert coat, a pair of moccasins, two armlets (or possibly modified leggings), and a pipe bag or medicine bag.

All were heavily beaded, some of them better examples of Indian beadwork known. The coat may well have been one of the spoils of war—taken from a settler who also lost his scalp—and the pipe bag has been identified as either Apache (again, spoils of war) or as a trade item.

These Indian artifacts—highly-prized beadwork and a rare "peace pipe" tomahawk—are on display at the Institute of Texas Cultures at San Antonio, loaned by Mrs. C. D. Bruce of Santa Anna. The beaded items include a Prince Albert coat, usually worn by Comanche medicine men; a pair of moccasins; armlets, or possibly modified leggings; and a pipe (or medicine) bag.

The finder kept the relics at his home for a few years, then placed them in a Mason bank for safe-keeping.

And here begins the historical detective work, carried out in Mason by Mrs. Margaret Bierschwale, prominent Mason County historian.

Name of the finder is not known, but somewhere in one of Mason's bank records, Mrs. Bierschwale believes, there may be listed the name of the depositor and the dates of storage, which spanned some 40 years.

One possibility, she noted, was that the Comanche items may have been stored with one William Cook, a Mason storekeeper who operated a small bank in the rear of his building.

In the century since, several banks have risen and vanished, their paraphernalia usually absorbed by a newer bank. The records could be almost anywhere. Mrs. Bierschwale, who helped the Institute of Texas Cultures dig facts for this story, may yet find those records.

The story now moves northward. After the finder's death, his son, who was a barber, inherited the Indian artifacts. He moved to Coleman and opened a barbershop there.

Here enters Mrs. C. D. Bruce, of Santa Anna, another Texas historian and collector. She was the daughter of Ranger and Mrs. John R. Banister. Mrs. Bruce writes:

"My mother was a collector of Indian artifacts and this barber knew of her fine deer horns and mounted heads, and wanted some for a display in his barber shop. He offered to trade her the beaded artifacts for the deer heads and horns, and the trade was made."

This was about 1930. Mrs. Banister kept the items in her home for a time but, on an expedition to the Pecos Shelter Caves, she agreed with the chief archaeologist of Texas University to allow the artifacts to be displayed at Texas Memorial Museum in Austin.

(Mrs. Banister, incidentally, had the distinction of being the first woman sheriff in the U. S. She was appointed to the Coleman County position in 1918, following the death of her husband, who had retired

Accent on Health

Before 1921, the person with diabetes didn't worry about leading a normal life. He worried about death. But then insulin was discovered and a daily shot helped keep the diabetic alive. Although the discovery of insulin was a major scientific discovery, the search continued for an orally active anti-diabetes drug. The first oral drugs have been developed. Now the diabetic is no longer a slave to the needle.

Diabetes is a condition in which the body is unable to use food properly, especially the carbohydrates in the body. Diabetics have difficulty turning these sugars and starches into energy. An individual's body normally produces a substance called insulin, which enables the body to burn up sugar for energy or store it for later use.

Diabetes is an inherited trait, as far as we know. The cause is not enough insulin or an interference with the action of insulin in the body. Diabetes is a disorder which may have existed from birth. In some cases, many years may pass before diabetes is detected. Any one of a number of factors can trigger this revelation—such as being overweight, having an infection, stress, or the aging body's lessened ability to handle carbohydrates.

Diabetes tends to run in families. About one out of 60 Americans has this disorder, or over four million people. Two million or more of these people are unaware that they have the disease. Twenty-two per cent of our population carry the genes for diabetes.

Anyone at any age can develop the disease. Approximately one out of every 2,500 children is diabetic. However, diabetes is essentially a disease of middle age; 4 out of 5 people with diabetes are 45 years old or over. Other groups particularly susceptible are women, especially those who have had large babies, the overweight, and relatives of other diabetics.

Some of the common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, frequent urination, excessive hunger, weight loss, failing eyesight, intense itching, pain or numbness in fingers and toes, weakness, tiredness, and drowsiness. Not all these symptoms are present in every diabetic. Some have only one or two symptoms. Others do not have any apparent symptoms and are called hidden diabetics.

from the Rangers and had taken the sheriff's job.)

Mrs. Bruce was to inherit the long-dead warrior's "plumage." But, in the meantime, she added to her mother's collection.

About 1910, the late Jack Shields found a rare tomahawk, with the handle rotted away, but the head in good condition, on the banks of the Colorado near the town of Whon. Mrs. Bruce writes:

"He put it into a display of pioneer things in Santa Anna, and I offered to buy it, but he said he would trade it for a kid goat for butchering, which I accepted."

"I thought it was one of the most beautiful items I had ever seen," she added.

The deal was closed in 1935, and Mrs. Bruce presented the tomahawk to her mother. A new handle had been added by a local high school boy.

Mrs. Bruce recently sought out old-time barbers in Coleman, but none could recall the name of the man who had brought the beaded items from Mason. Apparently, his name will be lost to history until someone digs up the records in mason, then compares family names with early-day barbers in Coleman.

With the Institute of Texas Cultures displaying Texas history to thousands of visitors, Mrs. Bruce was glad to contribute by lending her artifacts.

"I wanted the people of Texas to be able to see some of the things Indians used," she added.

The Institute is open six days a week (excluding Monday when it is closed). Hours are from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Tuesday through Fridays, and from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. Saturdays and Sundays.

Admission is free.
