Mountain Echoes

The weekend snowfall gave Central Texans an opportunity to try their skill at all sorts of snow sports. The good snow cover brought out all sorts of sledding 'vehicles' in town.

Groups of youngsters enjoyed sledding on inflated auto tubes pulled behind vehicles (probably very dangerous, but surely lots of fun) and some were more innovative and used sheets of tin, boards, boxes and even dishpans to slide down any likely embankment.

The heavy snowfall was followed by clear, cold weather that made the outdoor activities pleasant.

A would-be burglar in Cross Plains had problems last week: Had he succeeded in entering the downtown Higginbotham store he would probably have been termed the 'Santa Claus' burglar.

The 26-year-old Cross Plains man attempted to enter the store through a chimney and became wedged into the opening when he lost his footing.

Store employees heard the man's cries for help when they entered the store the next morning and summoned law officers and other help who pulled the man from his precarious position.

After a check-up with a local doctor for loss of circulation, the man was placed in the Callahan County Jail at Baird.

Santa Anna Lions Club members were disappointed that so few people responded to the request for suggestions for community improvement projects. The club members are to present the suggestions at the next meeting, Tuesday, January 31, and they hope to have additional suggestions by that time.

Anyone with any interest in Santa Anna is asked to contact any Lions Club member before that date with suggestions for activities or projects that will benefit the community.

Fire Destroys Garage At Local Home

A fire which is thought to have started from an electrical short, destroyed the garage at the Alfred McCrary home Sunday night. The McCrarys live at Bowie and South Lee Street.

The alarm was turned in by G. A. Morgan who lives across Lee Street from the McCrary home.

The Santa Anna VFD answered the call at 10:30 p.m. and kept the fire under control so that it did not reach the house or other near-by homes. The garage, which is mainly used for storage, is considered to be a total loss along with items inside the structure.

The McCrary vehicles were parked near the garage but were moved out of danger when the fire was discovered.

Firemen had to return to the scene early Monday morning when the flames ignited again at the frame structure.

Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

The following is a clipping sent to me from a dear friend in North Carolina. Appearing in the daily paper there. Probably some have read the article, but thought I would pass it on to you. Especially since I am a school bus driver, and does it hit close to home.

REQUIEM FOR A SCHOOL BUS DRIVER

First Stop: It's 7:30 a.m. 'Driver, you are late.' 'Yes Ma'am. What time do you have?' 'I don't have a watch, but I have been standing here a long time.'

Second Stop: 'Driver, can you wait for my brother? Mom says you are early.'

Third Stop: 'Driver, why can't you pick up my child on the other side of the street?'

'Well, for one thing I would be going in the wrong direction.'

Fourth Stop: 'Driver, why are those kids standing up?'

'They won't stay seated.'

'Yell at them. That's your job.'

'Yes Ma'am.'

Fifth Stop: 'Hey You! What's the idea of yelling at my kid?'

'Well, sir, he had a little girl by the throat. She was turning blue.'

'She deserved it, she called my son a creep.'

Sixth Stop: 'Driver, can't you come a half hour later? I have to make breakfast for my husband.'

'No ma'am, then I would be late.'

'Can't you change your schedule?'

'Bye, Ma'am.'

Between Sixth and Seventh Stop: 'Driver, Mary threw up all over my coat.'

Into School: 'How many kids you got?'

'Seventy.'

'I got a call from the president of the PTA and she said you run a stop sign on Fourth Street.'

'I don't go near Fourth Street.'

'She took your bus number, look.'

'Sir, you have got five numbers written down and my bus only has three.'

'Oh.'

Driver endures two more trips noon and late P. M. Finished, parks bus.

'Hello, dispatcher.'

'Got a call you were speeding on Tenth Street and almost hit a dog.'

'I was not speeding.'

'Got your bus number, look.'

'Hooray for the dog, he got the bus number right.'

'Boss wants to see you.'

'Okay.'

'Hello, boss.'

'You're fired. You didn't pass your annual physical. Something about high blood pressure and nerves.....'

Predator Control Permits To Be Sought Soon

By Roger Blackmon
Coleman County Extension Agent

It appears at this time that we will have some aerial predator control work done in this County by members of the Rodent and Predatory Animal Control Service. The exact time they will be here is not known at this time, but it will most likely be in Early February.

We need to have permits signed enabling them to hunt aerially on as many places as possible. Many of you signed consent agreements last year. The form has been changed, however, due to legal technicalities and new forms are required.

These forms may be picked up at the First Coleman National Bank, Coleman Bank, Santa Anna National Bank, ASCS office, County Agent's office, Gouldbusk Store and Leaday Post Office or with either of the County trappers, John Morris of Whon or Ben Waiker of Burkett. You can fill the form out and leave it where you picked it up and they will be collected in about a week.

We need to get as many of these completed as quickly as possible, hopefully this week. To do a good job of controlling predators, we need to get as many places signed up as possible.

We will appreciate everyone's cooperation on this project.

THEN and NOW

THEN. The world's top watch producer until 1840 was England. Then Switzerland, with its highly-skilled craftsmen, took over the leadership and holds it today. Until 1875 all watches, including Swiss watches, were wound with a separate key. Then the stem winding watch was introduced. The sweep second hand appeared a few years later.

THE NUMBER ONE GIFT for that important man might be a two-in-one digital watch.

NOW. One of the top gifts today is a new kind of watch that's the most advanced in precision and accuracy. It has a double display: one gives the time of day with date, hours, minutes, and seconds; and the second is a stopwatch up to 12 hours and down to a hundredth of a second. Both indications on this handsome LCD/LCD Chronosplit from Heuer can appear simultaneously.

Calamity Jane, the Western folk hero, was married a dozen times.

HELPFUL TIPS
FOR YOUR DISHWASHER

- A dishwasher will usually hold a whole day's dishes. It takes as much hot water and energy to wash one dish as it does a full load. Stack your dishes out of sight in your dishwasher and wait until you have a full load to turn it on.
- Use only detergents manufactured specifically for dishwashers. A wetting agent helps prevent water spots on glasses and silverware.
- Clean the filter screen often. A clogged filter can reduce the efficiency of your dishwasher.
- Use the no-heat dry option to automatically turn off the electric heat normally supplied in the drying cycle.

MRS. JOHN BELL
The Former Kay Kingsbery

Miss Kingsbery, Mr. Bell Wed In College Station

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday, January 7, at Bethel Baptist Church near College Station by Kay Ellen Kingsbery and John Bell. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kingsbery of Crystal City and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bell of Lindale. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bruce and the late Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kingsbery of Santa Anna.

Rev. Mark Riley, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with a large arrangement of gladioli and carnations in shades of pink, and potted palms flanked the altar area. Mrs. Dave Weaver of College Station was pianist for the ceremony. Vocalists were Rev. Riley and Miss Bernis Davis who sang "Jesus, To Be Used of You."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long dress of silk crepe fashioned with Empire waistline, portrait neckline and A-line skirt. Venice lace banded the panels of the skirt, high waistline and full long sleeves that fastened with fabric buttons at the wide cuffs. Matching lace edged her veil of bridal illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade of pink and white roses and English ivy.

Mrs. Neal Ely of Ramstein Air Force Base, Germany served as her sister's matron of honor. She wore an azalea pink crushed velvet skirt and matching chiffon long-sleeved blouse. She carried a colonial bouquet of carnations, roses and spider mums in shades of pink and white.

Leroy Bell served his son as best man. Ushers were Bob Kingsbery of Arlington and Bruce Kingsbery of Crystal City, brothers of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was hosted by the bride's parents at the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church in College Station.

Miss Emily Steusse of Uvalde was at the register in the foyer of the hall. The bride's table was laid with a floor-length cloth of white with a lace overlay. Pink tapers in silver candelabra flanked the three-tiered wedding cake. The bouquets of the bride and her attendant decorated the table.

Mrs. Bruce Leewright of Houston, sister of the groom, and Carol Kingsbery of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, served cake. Mrs. Bob Kingsbery of Arlington and Joan Wilson of Carrizo Springs served punch.

The groom's table held a cake decorated with the Texas A&M University emblem and the silver coffee service. Serving were Mrs. Dan Bird of Quanah and Mrs. David Johnson of Houston, cousins of the bride, and Rita Simpson of College Station, the bride's college roommate. LeAnna Leewright of Houston, niece of the groom, distributed rice bags.

Following a wedding trip to Dallas the couple is at home at College Station where they are senior students at Texas A&M University and slated for May graduation. The bride is a graduate of Carrizo Springs High School and the groom is a graduate of Tyler High School.

Richard Gibson, an English portrait painter, was reported to be 3 feet 10 inches tall.

FACTS & FIGURES

Most gold jewelry since ancient times has been alloyed, or combined with other metals, because 24 karat (24K) gold—pure gold—is generally considered too soft for practical use in jewelry.

Most American gold jewelry is marked 14K, which means it's made of 14 parts gold combined with 10 parts of another metal.

The karat mark (such as 14K or 18K) not only tells the buyer what proportion of the item is actually gold—it says that it has gold's special qualities: non-tarnishing, non-corroding and virtually indestructible. Buyers should look for the karat stamp—because only karat gold jewelry is real gold.

Eighteen karat gold, regarded by some as best for jewelry, is 75 percent pure gold, or 18 parts gold and 6 parts other metals for hardening. Ten karats, 41.6 percent gold, is the lowest karatage that can be sold as gold in the U.S., by rule of the Federal Trade Commission. Below 10K, many experts agree, the metal loses the special characteristics of gold.

Senior Citizens' Conference Set In San Antonio

'Maturity Speaks; Let's Listen' is the theme of the 1978 Governor's Conference on Aging, which is expected to draw some 8,000 older Texans to the San Antonio Convention Center February 20.

'This is a conference FOR the elderly, not about them,' says Governor Dolph Briscoe in announcing the event as a forum 'for the elderly to be heard.'

In addition to addresses by Governor and Mrs. Briscoe, the program for the one-day conference will include presentations, panels and discussions led by senior citizens, group seminars and workshops, entertainment by older citizens from across Texas, and exhibits by associations, state agencies and model projects for the elderly, and commercial businesses.

The program will provide numerous opportunities for the elderly to speak out on issues that concern them and to ask questions of state agency representatives and others who provide services to the elderly, according to Vernon McDaniel, executive director of the Governor's Committee on Aging.

Some sessions will be in Spanish. Interpreters for the deaf will be provided.

There is no registration fee, and persons wishing to attend may register by contacting their Area Agency on Aging for registration forms. Registration deadline is Monday, January 30.

Religious Rights Defended By Adventists, Others

Legal changes affecting religious rights have taken a turn for the worse in the past year, states Elder Melvin Justin of the local Seventh-day Adventist Church. A special offering will be taken in their church next Saturday morning to assist in promoting religious liberty for all churches.

'Last year Adventists, Jews and other Sabbatharians were pleased with the Supreme Court decision in the case of Paul Cummins, a Worldwide Church of God Sabbatarian who was ordered retired by his employer, who had fired him for refusing to work Friday nights or Saturdays.

'But the high court refused to decide the case definitely; it split 4-4 and upheld the lower court verdict for Cummins. Then last June Larry Hardison, another Worldwide member, lost his similar case against Trans World Airlines. This time the court voted 7-2 in favor of the airline and against the Sabbatarian that an employer need not grant a worker his Sabbath off for religious reasons.

'The decision held that an employer must make an accommodation for religious reasons if it is not an undue hardship, but found that TWA had made all the accommodations possible.'

Justin adds that other religious issues facing Americans include the right to choose not to join labor unions, the right to teach one's children in the home past the mandatory age (usually six years) and Sunday 'Blue Laws' in various parts of the nation.

School News

By Terri Knapp

Smith and Bruce Pape.

The recent snow was big news at SAHS this week. Because of the snow which was experienced here last Friday, afternoon classes were dismissed. Of course we all know the weather was too bad for students to stay in school, but not quite bad enough for students to stay at home.

Yes, students certainly took advantage of the snow. Many could be found participating in heated snowball fights, while others took time out to build a snowman or two.

The Junior Class has discussed ideas for the up-coming Junior-Senior banquet, although no official meeting of the class has taken place as of yet. A committee has been appointed by the class to obtain further information on the subject and bring information before the class at a later date. Those on the committee are Mike Ballard, Jennifer Rutherford, Jo

The Annual Staff is now taking orders for the 1977-78 yearbook. The cost is $9 this year.

The annual staff has spent much time and energy preparing the new yearbook, and have also made a few changes in the layout. There will be many special effects, such as screening.

The annuals will run approximately 170 pages, of which twenty pages will be devoted entirely to sports.

The Fort Worth stock show is slated for February 1 this year. Those planning to participate in the stock show are Dick Smith, Phil Johnson and Russell Williams. All three students have entries in the swine division.

We are at the close of another six weeks period. Students received report cards last Thursday which always proves to be a trying time. However, if we choose to look on the bright side of the matter, this means there is only approximately 16 weeks left in this school year. With this thought in mind, perhaps we can wade through the remainder of the year!

West Tex Cof C

The workshop slated in the local area will be held at Stephenville on the campus of Tarleton State University February 8.

AUSTIN--Texas farmers made a first of the year visit to Austin to discuss their plight with state officials and they went home confident that they had the support of Texas office-holders in their fight for a fair chance to earn their livelihood from the land.

Governor Briscoe and I at a Senate hearing released a joint announcement of our intent to stick up for the folks on the farm.

That message which will be sent to Washington says:

"A crisis situation has developed in American agriculture and we call on the national administration and the Congress to provide without delay immediate attention to this very severe problem.

"Our agriculture producers in Texas and throughout the nation are caught in a vicious cost-price squeeze that requires immediate attention. Our people cannot wait any longer for action.

"Existing federally-implemented agricultural legislation is not providing for the needs of all segments of the American agricultural industry.

"We believe the farmer has a right to an equitable profit for his labor and investment.

"We therefore lend our support in securing 100 per cent of parity in the market place for American agricultural products."

"American farmers should be praised and allowed a fair profit on the food and fiber they produce instead of being penalized for being efficient.

"Nations look first to food and fiber for their people. They are necessities which can buy peace or without which can cause wars. Non-producing nations wither and die.

"A possible long-term solution could involve expansion of foreign markets, thereby increasing demand, providing realistic prices and retaining America's place as a world leader."

THE GOOD WORD from the Bible

Human nature being what it is, most of us go through life with a "What's in it for me?" attitude. The disciples were very human.

Although they readily accepted the call and followed Jesus, the disciples carried doubts with them. Were they serving a prophet or was this truly the Son of God? Once convinced that Jesus was truly the long-awaited Messiah, it was a natural thing that those who had given up much to serve would start to wonder what their eventual rewards would be.

Who would be the greatest in heaven? The mere act of dwelling upon such a subject shows that the disciples had not fully observed or yet comprehended the living Christ.
