"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

Cemetery Working Tuesday, April 21

At the called meeting Tuesday afternoon for a mass meeting at the City Hall to discuss the cleaning up and working of the cemetery, the attendance was disappointing, but enough were there to hold a brief, interesting meeting.

Mrs. J. R. Gipson presided, and after exchanging ideas and hearing several suggestions, the body voted unanimously to announce a public working at the cemetery Tuesday, April 21st, at 10 o'clock. Those interested to meet, bring such tools as are necessary, bring your lunch, and just before noon a sacred service will be held.

The speaker has not been announced, but one will be there with a short message which we are sure will be worth hearing.

May we urge every person interested in the cemetery to talk this working, whether you have relatives buried there or not. Come, bring someone with you and spend the day.

At the close of the meeting this writer would like to see an organization perfected whereby the work can be carried on in the future, either by subscription or quarterly meetings and work days, or some other way that will serve to keep our cemetery in a more respectable condition.

It is deplorable to see a cemetery neglected in such a manner as the one here at Santa Anna. It is embarrassing to publish such statements, but we cannot think of any other language suitable to use.

Farmers In Better Financial Shape Says County Agent

Coleman, April 13.—Evidence that farmers are in better financial condition than at any time in the past few years is seen by County Agent C. V. Robinson.

The county agent points out that the Federal government's emergency feed and seed loan office here expected to make at least 200 loans in this county this year. However, because of better financial conditions, he believes—only about 60 loans have been made in the county thus far this year.

Ward Evans is in charge of the government's local loan office and applications for the emergency loans can be made on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays in the new county building, formerly the New Moore Hotel, at Pecan and Colorado streets.

Notice W. O. W.

Saturday night of this week, April 18th, is regular meeting night for the W. O. W. and all members are urged to attend.

The newly organized Drill Team will meet Friday night and all who wish to become members of the team are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Emzy Brown, and Mrs. Ola Niell left Tuesday morning for Mineral Wells where they will attend the Baptist Sunday School Convention this week.

Baptists To Have Special Service

Rev. H. S. Bernabey To Preach At Evening Service Sunday

It is something unusual for an Italian to become a Baptist minister, to say nothing of making that decision in New York. But that is the experience of Rev. Bernabey, who will fill the pulpit at the evening services Sunday April 19 at the Baptist church. Rev. Bernabey was converted under the preaching of Dr. John Roach Stratton and soon became a flaming evangelist. He will arrive Saturday afternoon with a sound truck and preach on the street at around 2:30 and then go to Coleman and other points for morning and afternoon services, returning to Santa Anna Sunday evening.

"BIG FROST IN SANTA ANNA"

Thirty-three years with the Waples Platter Grocery company, Jack Frost, pulling the scales down to 246 pounds, was an early morning visitor at this office Monday.

Jack says a good slogan for this Centennial Year would be "What Texas Makes, Makes Texas." The Waples Platter Grocery company, organized in Red River county in 1872 has served the people of this state for 64 years of the 100 since Texas won her independence from the Republic of Old Mexico.

Thanks, Jack, for the nice collection of canned goods, and for your information, this writer has been using your products for fully one-half the time they have been on the market.

Improvements Form Greatest Value In New Farm Program

College Station, April 14.—Not how much money can be gotten out of the new agricultural program, but how much will it help improve sound farming is the fundamental question to be asked, according to A. L. Smith, who has charge for the Extension Service of putting into action plans made under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act.

He suggests that every farmer map out his fields as he would like to farm them—to make the farm cropping plan that he knows would hold and build up the land; and which he has not used because of lack of money. "When that is done let each farmer investigate the new AAA soil conservation program to see how it fits. In most cases farmers will be surprised at how closely the new program fits their own plans," he adds.

To farmers who apply for them, after completing the program of appraising and soil building practices, grants of money will be made later in the year because soil conservation and sustained farm buying power are of vital importance to the Nation. For this reason the Government teams up with the farmer to help finance the job of making American farms secure, Smith points out.

Farmers whose farm plans for 1936 conform to the flexible soil conserving program may be paid at the rate of 5 cents per pound for the normal lint cotton yield on land shifted from this soil depleting crop to some crop or use that protects and restores the soil. Not more than 35 percent of the base acreage of cotton may be shifted to form the basis of a payment, and that only if the total in the county does not exceed 25 percent.

Lions Club Endorse Amateur Contest

At the regular weekly luncheon of the Lions Club Tuesday the Club gave its endorsement of the Amateur contest being fostered by a move started in Coleman recently. The elimination meet will be held in the Auditorium of the Coleman high school next Sunday afternoon, April 19, beginning at 2 o'clock. A special effort is being made to enlist talent from every community in the county to enroll in the contest, the winners to be announced in a meeting to be held in Coleman Monday, May 11th.

According to our understanding, one amateur of good talent will be selected to attend the Fort Worth Pioneer Centennial celebration in Fort Worth during the month of July with all expenses paid.

Here is a good opportunity for someone to win a nice trip, and have a lot of fun when preparing.

The club was delighted to have Mrs. Chas. Evans, teacher of arithmetic in the Seventh grade, accompanied by Vernon Oakes, who made the highest in the county at the league meet recently held at Coleman. O. L. Cheaney, Jr. was a member of the team, but was prevented from attending the luncheon because of mumps.

Miss Eulalia Grady was present with her spelling team, little Bobbie Joe Cheaney and little Miss Beryl Taylor, who tied for first place in the spelling match at the county meet for the fourth and fifth grades.

Rev. W. E. Fisher gave a very interesting report of his recent trip to Springfield, Mo., where he conducted a series of revival services, and told of a number of interesting events on his trip, incidental to the large Centennial hat he wore. Texas and Santa Anna got some good advertising by reason of the big hat.

Selection Coleman County Beauties Is Purpose Of Revue

Coleman, April 13.—Excellent progress is being made in the campaign to select Coleman County's most beautiful girl, a girl who will rule as queen of the beauty revue and pageant to be presented here May 11, R. I. Bowen, Jr., chairman of the committee, declared today.

Already nearly a score of nominations have been made in various communities over the county and there are at least a half dozen tentative nominations for the city of Coleman.

The people of Santa Anna are particularly enthusiastic over the plans, states Mr. Bowen, and have pledged their cooperation in the beauty contest as well as in the revue and pageant.

Nominations already made include: Santa Anna, Mary Strand Dellinger, Lula Jo Harvey, Helena Turner, Evelyn Kirkpatrick and Edith Verne Stephens; Silver Valley, Frances Smith; Valera, Wanda Maedgen and Lillian Farrot; Junction, Earline Woodward; Goldsboro, Billy Harris; Rae, Mrs. Paul Gilliam, and Burckett, Betty Wooten, Jeanette James, Zella Strickland, Jo Ella Henderson, Willie Mae Harrell, and Leota Moore.

Places for making nominations have been named in many of the communities of the county and the other communities will be reached as early as possible, Mr. Bowen explained.

Seniors Spend Day At Howard Payne

A long looked forward to day came last Saturday when the seniors spent the day on the Howard Payne College campus at Brownwood. It was Howard Payne Field Day for seniors of the state. Nineteen Santa Anna high seniors participated in the events. This was the largest group there and so took a prize, but the prize of a Howard Payne annual went to Early High for having a representation of 100 percent.

An interesting program in the college auditorium, barbecue luncheon at noon in Howard Payne Hall, visits to college exhibits early in the afternoon, and a football game between Howard Payne students later in the afternoon made up the program for the day.

The Field Day program was sponsored by the Baptist W. M. U. of District 16. Mrs. C. G. Sivells of Brownwood, president, presided at the morning program.

President Thomas H. Taylor was principal speaker on the program. Welcome to the visiting seniors was given by Mrs. Sivells and David Morris, president of the student body. Response was made by James Robnett, senior of Brady High School.

One special point of interest included the Boenke Museum, opened to the public for the first time Saturday.

Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Howard Payne were Misses Fra Hill, George Frances Barlett, Elva Lou Smith, Mary Tom Jones, Carrie Dillingham, Lucille Vaughn, Ozella Vaughn, ZeWilla Box, Mary Lee Combs, Beulah Tisdell, Allene Leady, Ruth Leady, Annie Nickens, Mrs. J. T. Oakes, Jr., Messrs. Kirby Barton, Hollas Watson, and Vernon Rowe.

LARGE EGG

Jess Griffith, living on the Griffith home place northeast of town, called at this office Monday morning and exhibited an egg weighing 5½ ounces, and measuring 7¼ inches around the short way. The egg was the product of a black Minorca hen in Mrs. Griffith's flock. It was the largest hen egg this editor ever saw.

GLORYOSKY

Did you ever see such a fine rain, and it coming just at the time when we thought we had to have it?

At noon Thursday, as we close our forms for this week, it has been raining almost continuously for thirteen hours, not so hard, just raining, and we imagine about 1½ inches of moisture has fallen.

It came very timely for the drought was getting a bit serious.

Easter Egg Hunt Well Attended

One of the largest Easter events ever held in Santa Anna was the Easter Egg Hunt fostered by the local Lions Club out at the Golf Course last Sunday afternoon.

We have no accurate way of knowing just how many children took part in the hunt, but it was a swell event and greatly enjoyed by a large number. About 100 prizes were given by the business people of Santa Anna, and a great scramble was made for prize eggs.

Several hundred people were present, and practically all the children in these parts who were not confined to their homes with the mumps, were present and enjoyed the fun.

The several committees performed their duties well and the event went over in a big way.

Polk-Rozell

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Polk, 1150 Grape street, announce the marriage of their only daughter, Marion, to W. W. Rozell of El Paso. The marriage of the couple was solemnized at 8:45 o'clock on the evening of April 8 in the parsonage of the First Christian church of El Paso, Rev. Dr. Hyde, church pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Rozell was graduated from Abilene high school and has done three years work in Abilene Christian College. She is a teacher of the primary grade in the Socorro school at Ysleta. Mr. Rozell, who was graduated from both the Oklahoma City high school and the University of Oklahoma, at Norman, is connected with the Hilton drug store in El Paso. (Abilene-Morning News).

Mr. and Mrs. Polk and family were formerly residents of Santa Anna, and their friends here are always interested in any news about them.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Blue and children spent Wednesday night in Goldthwaite with Mrs. Blue's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Allen. Mrs. Allen celebrated her birthday Wednesday.

Mrs. Sue Middlebrook of Abilene spent Sunday in the Mountain City with friends and relatives.

Burgess and Miss Annie Louise Watkins of Texas Tech at Lubbock spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Watkins.

Easter Wedding

Mr. D. T. Stacy and Miss Bertha Sandidge, the latter of Fort Worth, were united in marriage at the home of Mr. Stacy's mother, Mrs. M. J. Stacy, Easter Sunday, April 12th. Rev. A. L. Oder, former pastor of the First Christian Church, officiated.

The bride is a registered nurse, formerly with the All Saints Hospital in Fort Worth. She is musically inclined, being a composer, and is also an Astrologist. Easter Sunday was also Mrs. Stacy's birthday.

Mrs. C. A. Dooze of Ballinger, sister to Mr. Stacy, attended the wedding.

The newly married couple plan to make their home in Santa Anna.

PREACHER AND WIFE IN CAR WRECK

Last Sunday morning Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Oder were enroute to Trickham, where the minister preaches once a month, driving along in their new Plymouth, and skidded into a concrete curb over a crossing, which turned the car upside down and caused it to land in a hole of water, badly damaging the car and painfully bruising them both.

Rev. Oder was not hurt as much as Mrs. Oder, whose injuries were more severe, due to a compact head and neck injury, her head hitting the front windshield.

Neither was hurt so badly that they could not get out of the car and summon help, but soreness developed later that rendered Mrs. Oder in a more painful and serious condition.

Rev. and Mrs. Oder have been making monthly trips to Trickham for at least ten years, and they look forward to their monthly appointment and preaching engagement with much hope and anticipation, having many good friends in the Trickham community.

J. S. Cathey of Big Spring and Frank Cathey of Odessa were business visitors here Monday. The Catheyes formerly lived here and in the Shield community.

Floyd Lackey of Stephenville visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lackey, Thursday of last week.

Mrs. E. H. Wylie returned home Sunday from a three weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. White at Wabash.

Methodist Revival Begins Sunday

The revival at Santa Anna Methodist Church begins Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. Rev. W. S. Fisher, son of the local pastor, and pastor of the Burckett Methodist Church, will do the preaching for the revival meeting. For a young man he has had wide experience in preaching and evangelistic work. He has held successful revivals in Fort Worth, Azel, Ennis, Corsicana, San Antonio, and other places. He has held several meetings at different churches in the city of San Antonio where he graduated from Main Avenue High School. His college and seminary work was done at S. M. U. His wife, who comes to assist him in the meeting is a graduate of Brackenridge High School, San Antonio, and also a graduate of S. M. U. Rev. and Mrs. Fisher were both experienced church workers before their marriage.

Large crowds are anticipated, and the pastor, Rev. William E. Fisher and his people are praying and planning for a great revival. Simple gospel preaching, congregational singing, and young people's meetings will be special features of the revival.

Christians of all creeds and no creeds are invited to come and bring their unsaved friends. All converts in the meeting will be given an opportunity to join the church of their choice.

The pastor says: "You will not have to dress up to attend these meetings. The poorest of the poor will be made to feel perfectly at home in the house of God. I am expecting every Methodist of town and the surrounding country to faithfully attend the services and the presence of all others will be appreciated."

REV. W. S. FISHER

Mr. Jimmie Gill returned to his home on the Gill Ranch at Whon Monday after delivering a truck load of registered Polled Hereford heifers to the Fuller Ranch in Nacogdoches County. Mr. Fuller came to the ranch and personally selected the stock.

ON TEXAS FARMS

Man is a land animal. The food he eats, the clothing he wears—the most basic necessities of his life—come from the land. In a simple society, most families make direct use of the land in securing these necessities.

In a more complex society, which has developed specialized tools and specialized occupations, only part of the people are needed to draw from the land the products required by everyone. A large number of people no longer have direct relation to the land.

At the same time, the specialized machinery and intensive methods that have had to be developed to enable part of the people to produce food and fiber for all the people have greatly increased the possibility for good or ill in the use of the land.

Everyone, whether engaged directly in agriculture or not, is closely affected by what happens to the land under the conditions that must be met in a modern society.

When land is used in such a way that its productivity becomes greatly diminished in relation to population, people as a whole have lower supplies of food at higher prices.

When productivity suffers through misuse of land, the people engaged in agriculture are forced to a lower standard of living.

But the relationship works the other way, too. When agriculture fails to return farmers a fair income, farmers may not be in a position to treat their land well.

Unquestionably it would pay a farmer over the years to make investments in soil conservation. On many farms, certain measures can be taken with little or no added cost with an immediate increase in net returns.

JEFFERSON: L. V. Bowen of Marion county started selling milk from four grade cows five years ago. Through the depression he managed to make a living, improve his herd, and add 20 cows, some of which are pure blood, according to John H.

Erickson, county agricultural agent.

By the use of high quality bulls, Bowen has improved his herd so that many of the young cows produce from 15 to 20 percent more milk than their mothers and average higher in butter fat. An abundance of roughage is produced on the farm, and in addition a pit silo is filled for winter use.

While Bowen is a tenant farmer, he has greatly improved the pastures and meadows on the farm and cuts and puts up several thousand bales of hay each season.

FAIRFIELD: "I am feeding 150 goats, 20 head of cattle and 30 hogs on the silage that I put in my trench silo last fall, and they are doing far better on it than on any other roughage I have ever fed," says Jim Sessions of Freestone county, according to J. W. Richards, Jr., county agricultural agent.

Sessions dug the silo last fall and stored a 12 acre crop of begari in it. He states that the total cost of this feed did not exceed $1 per ton. This included the cost of growing the feed, building the silo, and storing the feed.

MOUNT VERNON: Nine dollars worth of Korean lespepeza sowed broadcast over a 10 acre bermuda grass meadow in 1935 increased the profits in hay by $45 on the farm of W. J. Morris, Franklin county farmer, according to W. N. Williamson, county agricultural agent. The ground was prepared by cutting in one direction with a disc. After sowing lespepeza the disc was run the other way.

An excellent stand was obtained and the meadow yielded 300 bales of hay. Morris prices this mixed hay at 15 cents a bale more than ordinary bermuda hay. He is preparing to plant 15 acres this year.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

According to tradition, a major war scare always has a strong effect on business in a great industrial country, such as the U. S. But Europe's recent difficulties — which certainly brought the world closer to a big war than it has been since the spring of 1914 — had surprisingly mild repercussions here. There was a brief hysteria in the stock market a few weeks ago when France and Germany were nearest to combat, but it was of small significance. American industry, as Business Week has pointed out, is focusing its attention on the American market, is paying relatively little attention to foreign lands.

For more than two months, bad weather has dampened recovery—even though business in the first part of 1936 was a great deal better than in the equivalent months of any of the depression years since 1933. Now that spring is on the horizon, the outlook for improvement in the near future is held to be bright. The late floods will naturally be a blow to business hopes in some sections, but it is impossible as yet to determine how widely their baneful influence will be felt.

At any rate, nothing seems able to stop recovery. A brief survey of business conditions, taken from the most authoritative reports, follows:

RAILROADS: January net income was 64 per cent over January, 1935, was the best for that month since 1930. Increased railroad business for the balance of the year seems certain, with steel production rising, and the motor manufacturers busy as bird dogs. Railroad executives, however, are of the opinion that more traffic is not the entire solution to the "railroad problem"—that change in the Federal regulatory policy toward all common carriers is necessary if railroad net is to reach a respectable figure.

STEEL: A remarkable change in policy, hailed as a forward step by practically all outside observers, has taken place in this industry. Since the turn of the century, steel prices have theoretically been fixed on a firm unit basis—a large buyer paid the same price per ton as a small buyer. Actually, there has always been price-cutting on the part of the final result that, a few months ago, it was forecast that the steel price structure was about due for a collapse. Now major producers in the industry, led by Republic Steel, have publicly posted prices allowing quantity discounts, are frank to say that the big buyer will get a better deal than the small buyer. It is figured that this will eliminate "cut-throat competition" inside the industry.

CONSTRUCTION: Revival in home-building seems to be at hand at last, with reports of stimulated construction in the face of bad weather, coming from all sections of the country. Heavy construction is holding up well, though government contracts still predominate.

TEXTILES: Business Week says textile manufacturers spent $79,000,000 for new machinery and parts last year, as a start in a campaign to increase efficiency, reduce operating costs. This figure will be substantially exceeded in 1936.

AUTOMOBILES: 85,000 cars came off Detroit assembly lines in the first week of March and schedules were due to rise thereafter. Motors have been the bellwether of the recovery movement.

RETAIL TRADE: Retail business is naturally hit hardest by severe weather. Even so, January and February department store sales held up surprisingly well, and marked heavy gain over last year. Future reports will doubtless show big advances.

The foregoing give a good idea of current conditions. Stock market activity has reflected better business, with a long list of issues making and holding encouraging rises—some stocks have even come within shouting distance of the stratospheric 1929 level. The bond market generally has been inactive, with U. S. governments and grade A industrials selling at almost prohibitive figures. This would indicate that investors are not impressed by the ever-current rumors of inflation, inasmuch as first-class bonds always go into a nose dive when currency expansion appears.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT DEATH RATE INCREASES

Austin, Texas, April 2.—Deaths from automobile accidents in Texas increased fifteen per cent last year, while the national rate showed a drop of one per cent, according to information in the State Bureau of Vital Statistics. In 1931 the deaths from automobiles totaled 1,148; while in 1935 they had jumped to 1,323 — an increase of 58.7 per cent.

To date, statistics apparently have had little effect upon the motoring public. The evident desire to get there in a hurry, overcomes judgment and prompts the use of power under prohibited conditions, with the consequent and inevitable sacrifice of human life. Somehow motorists must be made to realize that a high-powered machine rolling along even at legal speed upon the highways is far from a plaything. A clear conception on the part of the driver that the other fellow is likely to disregard the rules of the road also must be generated. An egotism which prompts one to imagine that he owns the highway, that he is not held down to warning signs and highway regulations, that pedestrians are pests, and causes the operation of a car as though the driver is the only one on the road, — such egotism is frequently fatal. But unfortunately, in many instances, the innocent and law-abiding motorist pays the supreme penalty for this type of folly.

When to this appalling loss of life, we add the million others who in the same period have been hurt more or less seriously because of the motor car, the problem assumes vital importance not only to the safety first people, but to the medical profession whose members are fundamentally interested in the conservation of human life. Let us all cooperate.

SEALED WITH A CUFF BUTTON

When an official seal was wanted, to be affixed to President Houston's first message to the Texas Congress in 1836, a cuff-button filled the bill.

It was on the day of the inauguration of Sam Houston to the office of President of the Republic of Texas. As he prepared to sign his message someone whispered over his shoulder that no arrangements had been made for an official seal. Only slight hesitation ensued, then Houston ripped his cuff link from his sleeve and with it made an imprint in the hot wax at the bottom of the document, to which he added:

"Signed and affixed with my private seal, there being no great seal of office yet provided." —Texas Centennial Review.

The horse and buggy just naturally had to pass out. It was slow—seldom ever ran over anybody or into anything.

BETTER GET MARRIED

Statistics recently compiled by Dr. William F. Ogburn of the University of Chicago are to be accepted as accurate, those who desire to retain wealth, sanity, and even life itself, should get married if they are not already that way.

It has often been asserted that married men live longer, but a cynic once declared that this was not literally true, as "it only seemed longer." However, Dr. Ogburn's researches seem to bear out the idea that married life is really conducive to longevity.

APRIL AND ANNIVERSARIES

Upon first thought, or a look at the calendar, one does not place the month of April in the class of being full of anniversaries. It is not a red letter month as far as the calendar is concerned.

59,000 ROOMS TO BE AVAILABLE FOR TOURISTS VISITING CENTENNIAL

DALLAS, Texas, April 14.—Fifty thousand rooms will be available for tourists visiting Dallas to attend the Texas Centennial Exposition which opens June 6. This announcement was made today by Frank M. Smith, director of the Exposition's housing bureau.

DALLAS, Texas, April 14.—The life of the bee, made familiar by Maurice Maeterlinck's classic, will be visible to visitors to the Texas Centennial Exposition this summer from birth to death.

Lambing Season Best in Years in Coleman County

Coleman, March 30.—Ranchmen in Coleman county are smiling from ear to ear as they are experiencing the best lambing season in years, according to County Agent C. V. Robinson.

HIS ONE OVERSIGHT

Lineville, (Ala.) Tribune This is the story of a prudent man, as told by a Kansas newspaper. He brushed his teeth twice a day, wore rubbers in wet weather, did his daily dozen, slept with his windows open, was careful with his diet, had a medical examination twice a year, never smoked, drank or indulged in any kind of excesses.

Texas Beauty Presents "Blue Bonnet Blue"

A new high note in fashion was struck last week when the Texas Centennial Celebrations presented beautiful "Blue Bonnet Blue" in a style show at the Waldorf Astoria hotel in New York City.

Every American schoolboy, of course, is familiar with the story of April 19, 1775, and knows how Paul Revere rode along the historic highway and warned the patriots that the British were coming at daybreak under General Gage to destroy the supplies which were concealed near Concord bridge.

It was at Lexington, on the public square, in the early morning that the first blood of the Revolution was shed, and there the redcoats scattered the handful of minute men. The story at Concord was different, however. There the British met the first resistance of the war and were soon in retreat, a retreat which had become a rout before the soldiers got back to Boston.

All these rooms will be available at moderate cost. The Dallas Hotel Association, including all local hotels and the Dallas Restaurant Association, have signed a pledge to the effect that there will be no increases in room rent or of food prices in Dallas during the progress of the $25,000,000 World's Fair.

An elaborate system of room registration has been started by Director Smith whose staff will occupy two floors of a downtown office building. Lodging will be found there for all visitors of the type and price which they desire.

THIRD ANNUAL CURRICULUM CONFERENCE DATES SET

Austin, Texas, March 31.—The third annual State curriculum revision conference, for administrators, supervisors and curriculum workers of Texas, will be held at The University of Texas June 11, 12 and 13, it has been announced by Dr. Fred C. Ayer, professor of educational administration at the University and curriculum consultant for Texas.

Curriculum advisors who will lead the conference include Prof. Raleigh Schorling, director of the experimental high school at the University of Michigan; A. H. Edgerton, professor of guidance at the University of Wisconsin; J. Paul Leonard, professor of education, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., whom Dr. Ayer termed the best educational consultant in the United States; Dr. J. Murray Lee, director of research for the Burbank city schools, California; J. C. Parker, curriculum director of the Fort Worth public schools; and Dr. Ayer.

A glass hive, every part of its interior visible, will house a swarm of bees. A hollow glass tube, four inches in diameter and twelve feet in height, will provide them with an exit from the hive to the outdoors.

The average cruising radius of a working bee is three miles, so the denizens of the Exposition hive will be able to fly over the fence of the fair and gather their nectar from private flower gardens if they ever get tired of the myriads of blooms within the grounds. Apriarians assure Exposition officials that city bees will return to the hive, even as they do to those on arms. Apparently the bee is as self-confident as he is industrious, and never suffers from stage fright or annoyance, no matter how many people observe him in his most intimate activities.

J. A. Moore, director of agricultural exhibits, says that during the six months' run of the World's Fair the bee colony will produce any number of queen bees as well as workers and drones. Visitors thus will be able to see the bees elect their queens without ballots, and change their food where the election is made to ambrosia, as far more fitting royalty.

SETTLEMENT HELMS ESTATE REQUIRES MANY DOCUMENTS

Coleman, March 30.—Some 45 signatures and 24 acknowledgments were necessary in settling the estate of the late J. T. Helms, records in County Clerk L. Emel Walker's office reveal. The late Mr. Helms began the purchase of 1,111 acres of land in Coleman and Brown counties back in 1878, all of the land having been purchased in the A. White survey No. 161, located in the Coleman-Brown county line.

In the division recently made 10 children of the late Mr. Helms each were given a share of the land while 13 children of one of the deceased children were given their late father's share of the estate.

The property was divided into equal lots and each of the heirs drew for his part. Two of the children, Mrs. Julia Knight and Mrs. Sallie Briscoe, now reside on part of the land. About 400 acres of the land is located in Coleman county, the remainder in Brown.

BLUEBONNET SEEDS GO TO FOREIGN SCHOOLS

Dallas, April 1.—Students in Bayles School, Dallas County, are advertising the Texas Centennial Celebrations throughout the western Hemisphere.

Correspondence carried on by the students with children of Spain and Germany is bearing a universal invitation to visit Dallas and Texas during the Centennial Year. In the first letters that went abroad, the young Texans included packages of bluebonnet seeds, and replies to these letters state that the seeds have been sown in school gardens.

Future correspondence with these children will carry illustrated folders on Texas and the anniversary celebrations. Bayles School, founded in 1858, is considered the oldest school in Dallas County. Facts pertinent to its history are being incorporated into the Centennial invitations being sent abroad. —Texas Centennial Review.

A few years ago, says The Lion Truth of Santa Ana, California, at the time Perry Schrock was given his first assignment as a minister, he was told by part of his new congregation to preach the old-fashioned gospel. He was also told by another part of the congregation to be broad-minded; so his first sermon started this way: "Unless you repent, in a measure, and are saved, so to speak, you are, I am sorry to say, in danger of hell-fire and damnation to certain extent." —The Editor's Digest.

More Americans have visited Manchukuo since that country required passports than citizens of any other nation.

Even though there is a larger crop of twins than in former years, ranchmen report they are having excellent luck in saving them as well as the ewes. Barring possible unfavorable weather conditions ranchmen in this county should have one of the best sheep years in the history of the county.

To this union were born eleven children, five of whom survive.

Senior B. Y. P. U.'s Reorganizing

Tuesday night the remaining members of the Senior B. Y. P. U. met at the home of Miss Lillie Hosch for a general business and program planning meeting. Last week the regular union was torn apart by the formation of a Senior Prep Union. This took all the high school students out of the regular union. All the young people who are members of the Baptist Church, and other young people of the town, are invited to visit the union next Sunday evening at 7:00. Interesting programs are being given. The reception room was beautifully decorated with white Japanese Iris, geraniums, snapdragons, and a profusion of field flowers.

A crystal bowl of yellow bridal wreath roses and white snapdragons on a reflector centered the tea table. Tall yellow candles in crystal holders formed a background for the flowers. A pot of Easter lilies decorated the buffet.

The entertainment for the afternoon consisted of several piano solos by Mrs. Teddy McCaughn.

The dainty refreshment plates consisted of daisy shaped sandwiches, sand tarts, ice box cookies, yellow mints, and salted peanuts.

The favors were white cards with gold wedding bells, tied to little yellow chickens by a white ribbon, symbolizing the Easter motif. "Glenda and John, June, 1936," was inscribed on the card with gold ink.

Mrs. G. M. Bettis, Mrs. Seth M. Ford, and Misses Nell Graves and Mary Emison were house guests during the week end.

TRY THIS ON YOUR PICCOLO The country editor says that "all men in Fort Smith are liars." Granting that what he says is true, he is a man in Fort Smith, which makes him a liar, which makes any statement he makes a lie, which makes his statement that "all men in Fort Smith are liars" a lie which means that all men in Fort Smith are not liars.

But, if all men in Fort Smith are not liars then the statement "he made is a lie which means that all men in Fort Smith could be liars, which brings us right back where we started—the man either IS lying or he is NOT lying. He is NOT lying; therefore he IS lying. —Lions Club Bulletin, Fort Smith, Ark.

Walks should lead as directly as possible from one point to another for convenience and beauty thinks Mrs. L. E. Abernathy, yard demonstrator of the Rockwood Club. By using native rock beautiful flagstone walks can be had for only the work required to gather and lay the stones. Such walks are more suitable and desirable for farm homes than cement walks.

Roses have become favorites in the county and Mrs. Vernon Sprutell, yard demonstrator of the Gouldsclub club, now has a rose garden containing 22 2-year old roses. The varieties included are red and pink Radiance, K. A. Victoria, (white) Francis Scott Key (red), Columbia, Luxembourg, (yellow) and Lady Huntington (yellow) all of which are suitable for this country.

Privacy is most desirable when the yard is to be used as an out door living room. Mrs. Melvin Snider, yard demonstrator of the Brown Ranch Club, has planted tall native and nursery shrubs just inside the fence on three sides of her fence to give privacy and cut out undesirable views. Redbud, Sumac, Pomegranate, Grape Myrtle, Lilac, California and Amur River privet are being used in these screen plantings to give color and variety the year round.

Stonewall, Texas, April 14— Vocational agriculture students in Area IV made a total labor income of $100,533.38 from their home projects for the year 1931-35, according to a recent summarized report by Roy B. Miffler, professor of vocational agriculture at John Tarleton College and area supervisor.

The report was compiled from the records of 53 vocational agriculture departments. It does not include records of the eleven new departments that have been installed this year.

The records show that 2,857 different projects were completed, involving 320,498 hours of labor in addition to the regular time spent in class. In addition, there was a cash outlay of $112,635.99 and a return of $199,104.07, showing a net profit of $86,468.08. Included in the cash outlay was $14,065.30 for student self labor, which would make a total income of $100,533.38, or a total of more than 70 cents for each hour that the student devoted to his project, as an average for the area.

The list includes 48 different kinds of projects, ranging all the way through livestock, poultry, field crops, orchards, and living-at-home enterprises. New Texas Almanac

The book of 100,000 facts—the 1936 edition of the Texas Almanac—is just of the press. It is the largest volume in the history of this publication—a total of 512 pages, on better grade of paper and more profusely illustrated. The 1936 book, although designated as the "Centennial Edition" and compiled in tribute to the grand celebration in Texas this year, misses only twenty-one years of reaching its own centennial year, having first been issued in 1857 by the Galveston News, the parent organization of The Dallas News, its present publishers.

While much new material of historical nature is included in the new issue, none of the chapters that has made The Texas Almanac the standard reference book of Texas in the past has been omitted. The names of several thousand individuals appear in its pages.

Features of the current issue include an extensive description of the Texas Centennial, including celebrations at Dallas and other points in the State, an outline of the history of Texas from its beginning to the present, an illustrated chapter on the wild flowers of Texas, lists of the different kinds of trees and wild animals found in Texas, extensive lists of historic old towns and origins of names of Texas towns, a text of the State Constitution with all its amendments and brief account of amendments since adoption of the Constitution, and the new farm census figures of 1935. There is much of interest for the coming political campaign, including the current poll tax payments by counties. All figures on state, county and city bonded debt are brought up to date. There are several chapters devoted to points of interest for the Centennial tourist in Texas, and a new map made in four colors especially for this edition of the Texas Almanac, entitled "Texas for Tourists," is folded between the leaves of each volume.

There are more than 100,000 facts about the history, natural resources, crops, livestock, industries, commerce, transportation, finance, government, politics, educational system, cultural institutions and other phases of Texas economic, political and social development.

The Texas Almanac, always in demand by business and professional men and women and students in the Lone Star State, will be more in demand this year than ever before. Texas history is more glamorous and richly appealing on the State's 100th birthday. Thousands of out-of-State visitors and newcomers will find this birthday edition particularly acceptable. No individual or organization is so thoroughly equipped to present in book form a compendium of Texas data. Facts and figures come from all parts of the State to find, in well edited form, their niche in this widely demanded handbook on Texas—its past, present and future.

Mrs. T. M. Jackson of Colorado, Texas, is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wood in the Mountain City. Misses Ora Alice Newman and Armenta Ragsdale of Mary Hardin-Baylor at Belton spent the weekend in the homes of their parents. They were accompanied by Misses Marie Burdette and Ouisa Molen, also students in the college.

Robert Hunter and Russell Hale of the State University at Austin spent the Easter holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hale.

HOW TO SAVE ON DOCTOR BILLS The one safe way to save on Doctor bills is to visit your Doctor—or call him in—at the first indication that all is not as it should be. Often timely counsel may save a long and costly illness. It's poor economy to try to do your own prescribing.

PHILLIPS DRUG CO. And when your Doctor gives you a prescription, be sure to bring it to his Drug Store. Our registered pharmacists will fill it exactly as he directs. Our stocks are large and complete; our prices are always fair.

LET'S MAKE SANTA ANNA GROW!

The following merchants and business interests of Santa Anna want you to join us in making Santa Anna one of the most outstanding business and trading centers in Central Texas. MONEY SPENT IN YOUR HOME TOWN helps to develop greater industries, pay wages, pay taxes, support churches and schools, and create business volume upon which communities prosper. These Santa Anna merchants offer standard goods and courteous services at reasonable prices. Besides, they offer to share the profits with their customers on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month, our designated Trades Days for 1936. Every dollar spent away from Santa Anna for Dry Goods, Bread, Meats, Groceries, Drugs, Gasoline, Tires, Tubes, Furniture, Hardware, Notions, and suchlike decreases the opportunities of Santa Anna merchants and other industries to grow and better serve you; causes the depreciation of stocks and industries in your home town and community; also lowers your property values and lessens your opportunities. The following Santa Anna merchants and other business people entreat you to join us in promoting a bigger and better community.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Time: 15 years hence. Place: Santa Anna. Occasion: Homecoming of the Junior and Senior Classes of 1936.

The thriving city of Santa Anna is swarming with traffic. Members of the Junior and Senior Classes of 1936 are gathered from all parts of the world for this reunion.

These happy ex-students are telling each other about their present occupations and where they live, etc. Let's listen in and see what we can find out.

We find that Chester McCreary, whose pranks used to worry the teachers, has charge of a church in New York, where he is a much-loved preacher. His wife, Carrie, is a great help to him in his work.

Emma John Blake, who loved lessons and studied with zest, is a nice old maid school teacher in a Girls' School out west. Her brother, Dan, is a dean of the college.

Marilyn Baxter, who was a gay leader in most of our fun, is a famous member of Congress. Raymond Jackson is a well-liked doctor in Santa Anna. Rosalie Niell, Doris Rollins, Sarah Williams, Georgia Frances Barlett, Alene Hardy, and Irene Stiles are competent nurses in his hospital. We might add that Rosalie is the superintendent of nurses.

Vesta Evans is happily married and living in Bangs, Texas, which has grown to be quite a large town. Eva Dean Bledsoe and Irene Baugh are noted for their prize pumpkins. Their bitterest rivals for this honor are Milton Johnson and Quinton Hudler.

As for Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Oakes and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pittard—well, they took fate into their own hands and we have nothing to prophecy for them.

H. W. Kingsbery and Raymond Holland are partners in law in Chicago. We hear they win all their cases. Margaret Jones, a wealthy widow, has for her advisor the great lawyer, P. B. Lightfoot.

Carson Horner is a popular radio singer. His announcer is Alton Diserens. Sam Forehand is the fat man in the Kirby Barton-Hollas Watson Circus. In the same circus, Gladys Porter and Veoma Newman perform on the trapeze.

That reminds us of the song, "The Daring Young Man on the Flying Trapeze," which was so popular in our High School Days. Elva Lou Smith has composed a new song, "The Flying Young Man on the Daring Trapeze," which has made her famous. All her songs go to the Voss Music Store in St. Louis.

Ruby Lee Price, Doris Spencer, and Mary Lee Combs are renowned as the famous Spanish trio. Miss Lula Jo Harvey resigned her position as a teacher in SAHS to be their accompanist. Ruth Conley now fills Miss Harvey's place as Spanish and English teacher in SAHS.

H. B. Dockery and W. C. Burden are real estate agents in Florida. Mary Tom Jones and Allene Leady are their secretaries.

Woodrow Newman and Rodney Dean are the world's doubles tennis champions. Jim Jones is a collector of antiques. Bright-colored Model-T's seem to delight him more than any other antiques.

Dorothy Atkins and Dorothy Patton are makers of the "Dorothy" frocks which are becoming so popular. They have a prosperous business establishment in New Orleans.

Edward Dillingham and Vernon are the heads of the salmon industry in the state of Washington. Era Hill is happily married to a "tall" man.

Tommy Johnson has his hands full printing "Quiet, Please!" signs for Mr. Lock and Mr. Scarborough to put up in the halls of the new high school building in Santa Anna.

Mary Dellinger and Marie Lovelace have an exclusive "Charm" school for girls in Baltimore, Maryland. Anita Kirkpatrick is married to an English lord. They send their only daughter to this school.

Marjorie Pope could have had a Hollywood career, but she chose to be a Home Economics teacher. She is now living in San Antonio. Ben Parker is famous for his invention of a noiseless vacuum cleaner.

Alvin Newman trains fleas for circuses. Jewell Taylor is a foreign missionary. E. W. Polk was the first person to fly across the Atlantic Ocean up-side-down.

Jack Price is the best football coach since Knute Rockne. His brother, Max, is still an eligible bachelor. Todd Oakes is an absent-minded professor in a large university.

Stuart Williams is a noted baseball player. His manager is Walker Tatum. Bill Mitchell has run for governor in the last two elections and is running again this year. We think he will be successful this time, the third time charms you know!

Bill Early sells "Combs" and brushes. Harold Howard and James Arant raise prize polo ponies. Martha Bell Harvey and Margaret Powell work in a 5 & 10c store. Dolphus Ashmore is their big boss.

Fleeta Perry and ZeWilla Box write poetry. Mary Lee Ford, Annie Nickens and Beulah Tisdell have just returned from Paris, France where they have been studying art.

Hazel Gilbert and Jane Burden are teachers over in China, where they train the soul and the mind. Sealy Ferguson and Julian Kelley have just returned from a trip around the world.

Lucille and Ozeila Vaughn have charge of an orphan's home. Cleo Head is the first woman ambassador to any foreign nation. Ruth Leady is an Orchestra leader.

Glenn Copeland is a plumber, a good one, too! Marjorie Stacy is a beauty specialist. Louise Thompson is a political speaker. Geraldine Spence is a seamstress.

Frank McGonagill is a famous designer. Carlene Ashmore and Dalphine Richardson work for him. As for Anelle Shield we can't say what she will be doing 15 years hence!

Peculiarities In The Third Period Study Hall Did you know that in the third period study hall: No one wears glasses? There are more girls than boys? There are more brunettes than blondes? There is more red worn than any other color? P. B. Lightfoot is the only left-handed boy? Allene Hardy, Glenda Beth Williamson, Buna Heallon, and Roy Earl Tucker are the only persons who have naturally curly hair? There is only one post graduate? We have three official librarians? There are five red-heads? There are more juniors than from and other class? There are only two freshmen? —Button

SAHS SENIORS "Something accomplished, something done." Was a slogan used long ago, and it still applies to our seniors. Because they realize it is so. Seniors have accomplished much in the past. Building a durable, practical foundation. They will accomplish much in the future. To better their education. Some Seniors' futures appear brightly to them, And others appear rather dim; But whether the future be dark or bright, Our senior class WILL win! —Elva Lou Smith

SAHS JOHN TARLETON REPRESENTATIVE Talks To Senior Class Miss Herndon of John Tarleton Agricultural College talked to the seniors last Wednesday evening. She discussed the John Tarleton New Deal and gave some information about the cost of attending the college. Several of the students from here intend to enter John Tarleton the fall term. —Lalze Fairle

SAHS RUMORS Several students didn't come to school April Fool day. The students of SAHS don't mind having the mumps. Ara Belle Ragsdale receives notes from the boys occasionally. The freshman girls have turned to little birds. Windows are made to let air in, not for birds to look out of.

Red Cross Aids 100,000 Families In Flood-Stricken Eastern Area

THE appalling floods that swept over eastern states during the middle of March caused the American Red Cross to take under its care more than 100,000 families in thirteen states. Pennsylvania was hardest hit, and in the cities of Pittsburgh and Johnstown the Red Cross either fed, sheltered or clothed 117,000 persons. The suffering was intense, because added to deluges of flood water, came rain, snow and intense cold.

Many cities and towns were cut off for 48 hours or more from communication with the outside world. In Pennsylvania and in Connecticut, the Red Cross used airplanes to rush medical supplies into afflicted towns, and to drop food supplies from the skies over other places. Trucks with water, medicine, food, clothing were rushed into many towns. Amateur radio operators told the outside world over short wave sets what the true conditions were.

Within a few days the Red Cross had more than 200 relief workers and 200 Red Cross nurses in all of the communities in the thirteen states which had suffered from flood waters.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Chairman, notified President Roosevelt, who is President of the Red Cross, that a relief fund of at least $3,000,000 would be needed. President Roosevelt addressed a proclamation to the nation asking for liberal contributions. When double the number of families came under care of the Red Cross than had been anticipated, Admiral Grayson urged that this three million dollar fund be exceeded by Chapters. Many responded by doubling and tripling their gifts.

Citizens were urged to contribute to their local Red Cross Chapters. After the flood emergency passed, the Red Cross prepared to restore needy families to their homes and anticipated that their workers would not conclude the relief job for several months.

CAN YOU IMAGINE P. B. Lightfoot wearing a wrist watch? Margaret Jones talking to herself? Fieda Perry acting silly? Annie Nickens laughing? Mr. Prescott teaching Algebra? J. T. Oakes blushing? Georgia Frances Barlett playing hooky? —Bunnie Alvin Newman going with a girl? Anita Kirkpatrick looking solemn and not cracking a wise one? Seeing Mary Lee Combs without Bill Early? Annie Nickens and Mary Lee Ford not giggling? Santa Anna not getting first place in county meet? —Suprises bring in SAHS! English. I student not saying "We're having a test today in literature." —Sadie the Snooper

WE WONDER With whom Marjorie Pope went to the banquet? Where Mr. Scarborough got all the jokes he told at the banquet? What little bird has been telling that Morean went with P. B. and Anelle with Tommie. How many students have the swell disease, mumps. Why Miss Randolph won't take P. E. class four on a hike. Why Miss Harvey takes up for the Freshmen. What grade will have the highest average after exams. —Sadie the Snooper

NOW AND THEN Someone else takes the mumps. You'll hear with whom so and so went to the banquet. What teacher won't get cross? Everyone likes a little fun. The Scribblers club has a rally. You'll hear a member of the Scribblers club say "How many articles do I lack?" or "When are we going to go out to the lake?" F. F. A. boys go on field trips. —Sadie the Snooper

SAHS (Weary) Bill Mitchell: I wish I had a machine that would do all my school work for me when I press the button. Tired H. L. Lackey: How about a machine to press the button? Miss Harvey: Use 'vicious' in a sentence. Wyndell Rowe: Best vicious for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Miss Harvey: Don't you know the King's English? Wyndell: Sure, and so is the queen.

SAHS First Class Scout: Did you read about the scout who swallowed his teapoon? Bartlett Lamb: No, what happened to him? First Class Scout: Oh, he can't stir.

SAHS Lenora and J. T. were dawdling over a late breakfast after a night at an ultra smart party. J. T.: Was it you I kissed in the conservatory last night? Lenora: About what time?

SAHS Fortune Teller: Madame, I see great happiness in store for you. In the near future you will marry a man who is young, handsome and wealthy. He will take you to foreign lands and you will visit royal courts. Lenora: Quick! Tell me how I can get rid of my present husband.

SAHS Grandmother Jones: (to her grand-daughter) Dear, there are two words I never want to hear you use. I wish you would promise me. One is "swell" and the other is "lousy." Will you promise never to use them? Margaret Jones: Sure, what are the words?

SAHS "Boys," said Mr. Lock, "I want you to remember that the three leading principles of the Declaration of Independence are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. And to help you remember, I am going to give each of you three buttons. One represents life, the second represents liberty, and the third one represents the pursuit of happiness." The next day Mr. Lock examined the class. Todd Oakes had only two buttons. He said to Mr. Lock: "Here is life and here is liberty. But Ma sewed the pursuit of happiness on my Sunday pants."

SAHS June hated to go to school. She would never go unless bribed with some delicacy. One morning the bribe took the form of an apple. As June walked down the street, reluctantly toward school, she carried the apple in her hand and stepped a little too near a horse standing at the curb. Before June knew what was going on, the horse had the apple between his teeth. "All right," said June, "you've got the apple, now you can go to school." And off she went in the other direction.

SAHS Howard Pittard: I have already admitted that I was wrong. What more do you want me to do? Lela Ruth: Just own up that I was right.

SAHS Era Hill: Who is that fellow with the long hair? Annie Nickens: He is a fellow from Yale. Era: Oh, I've often heard of those Yale locks.

SAHS Lenora and J. T. were dawdling over a late breakfast after a night at an ultra smart party. J. T.: Was it you I kissed in the conservatory last night? Lenora: About what time?

Why Gulf is the Gas for April

"APRIL SHOWERS bring May flowers." And warmer weather, too. That means a brand-new gasoline is shipped to Gulf stations—a gas especially made for April driving. For unless gasoline is changed to meet Spring's higher temperatures it can't give the highest mileage. Get That Good Gulf—it's "Kept in Step with the Calendar" so that all of it goes to work, none of it goes to waste.
