Allsup's Convenience Stores Prepare for Muscular Dystrophy Campaign

Allsup's Convenience Stores will again join the fight for the Muscular Dystrophy Association in 1984. Through Labor Day, Allsup's will display collection canisters for 'Jerry's Kids' in all 271 stores in New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma.

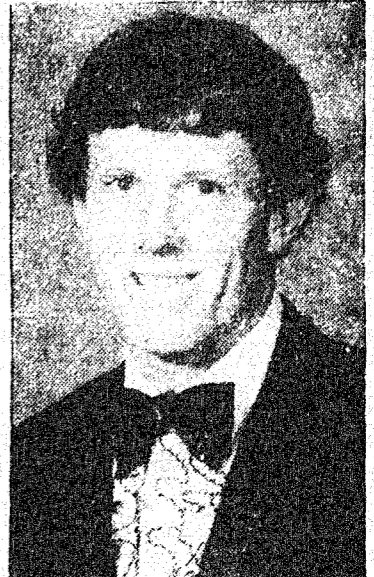

According to Jack Crow, Director of Public Relations, 'The Muscular Dystrophy Association is seeking causes and cures for forty (40) crippling neuromuscular related disorders. They depend almost entirely on contributions from private contributions and corporations, and the proceeds from the Labor Day Telethon, so the canister collections play a very important part of the fundraising activities. We, at Allsup's, are proud to be a part of such a worthwhile endeavor.'

In addition to the canisters, Allsup's 'Door Bell Brigade' will be marching again this year! All area youngsters who would like to help MDA and 'Jerry's Kids', are encouraged to pick up the Brigade packets at your local Allsup's store on Saturday and Sunday, August 25th and 26th. After collecting door-to-door and returning the collections to the store, each youngster will receive a free fountain drink of their choice.

From Jack Crow, 'We're looking forward to working with area youngsters in the campaign against Muscular Dystrophy. Thanks to all our friends and customers for your generosity, because your nickels and dimes add up to millions of dollars for research and treatment. So, look for the MDA coin collection canisters and give to 'Jerry's Kids'. Your pocket change can be the key to the cure.

Hoopster has fun at school

By BILL HART

Sports Editor

STEPHENVILLE — This has been a fun week for Steve Howard of Zephyr at the Texas High School Coaches Association school, and Saturday, will be the best day of all. That's when the basketball all-star game will be played in Wisdom Gym, starting at 3 p.m.

"I have had a lot of fun this week getting to know new guys, but I especially like playing basketball and I'm looking forward to playing the game," he said after a workout this week.

"I've also learned a lot, especially driving to the basket. I had played outside most of the time until this year when I went inside because I was the tallest player (5-11) we had. I knew how to drive, but I have learned some new ways this week."

Some of the East players are not strangers to Howard, who played against Michael Short and Paul Smith of Lohn, Jym Lewis of Richland Springs, Bobby Burnett of May and Jason Partin of Priddy.

"We haven't talked about those games, they're in the past," he said when asked if there had been any needling about the outcomes.

Howard is undecided about college. He has talked to Angelo State about football, and he went to state in tennis three years, but basketball is his main love.

"No one has really offered me anything in basketball and that's the sport I want to play," he said. "I've been told there may be some college coaches here for the game looking at us."

Howard averaged 33.3 points a game this year, with a single game high of 48. He also averaged 11.7 assists and 7.5 rebounds, helping Zephyr make it to the playoffs where it lost in the first round.

A three-time all-district pick, Howard was all-regional in 1983.

The East has plenty of scoring power. Michael Short of Lohn, a second team all-state selection, averaged 29.9 points a game and scored a whopping 70 in the 107-47 rout of Rochelle this past year. The all-time record is 81.

Partin averaged 33 points a game, scoring 49 once.

Other area players for the East, coached by George Posey of Abbott, are Smith, 6-5 Rodney Davis of Talpa, Partin and Burnett, who is going to South Plains College in Levelland to run track.

The West, coached by Joe Bond of Carbon, has a lot more beef and height.

Area players are Rocky Moore of Lueders-Avoca, Kent Hertz of Ben-jamin and Tommy Brown of Woodson.

There are 15 players on each squad. The starters will play the first seven minutes, with reserves playing in seven and six-minute shifts in the remainder of the first half. In the second half, the coaches may play the athletes as long as they wish but everyone must get into the game.

James Harrison will fill this previously unfilled position. James, his wife, Gloria and their six-year-old son, Patrick, moved to the Cleveland Community near Trickham earlier this year from Ft. Worth. James formerly worked in public relations for various companies before their move to central Texas.

When not involved in work-related project, James enjoys hunting and racing cars. His goal with the Santa Anna News is to work toward building a better advertising forum for the community. He stated that he is looking forward to meeting all the area business people and helping them with their advertising needs. Another person who deserves mention in our paper is Jamie Moore who assists with the production of the paper. Jamie is a resident of Bangs and has been most of her life. We appreciate the efforts of these two and all others who assist in preparation of our newspaper.

30 years ago in The News

The following excerpts were taken from the 30th Edition of the Santa Anna News published on Friday, July 23, 1954.

Funeral services were held last Friday for Milton Ray (Jack) Woodard, 27. A World War II veteran, Mr. Woodard received severe injuries when shot down from a plane which burned near the men who fell.

The building committee, appointed by the Santa Anna Quarterback Club, to see to the building of a lighted baseball field, reports the field about completed. It has already been used to play several games.

Three teachers in the local school system have resigned since the last term of school was completed. The teacher who has moved on include Mrs. I. Williamson, Mrs. J. Frank Turner and Carl Gilkerson. The vacancies are expected to be filled shortly.

The County School Board annexed the Mukewater School District to the Santa Anna Independent School District at their last regular meeting. The Mukewater District has been dormant for the past two years and by law the district must be annexed to a district where regular classes are being held.

Letter to the editor

Our family lost a twelve year old friend this weekend. If he had done physical harm to anyone it was not done with malice, but with the natural force of survival.

He came home bleeding, which hurt the children and parents. There was no help for him, just a short time to say thank you for letting us love you.

To the one who shot him, you saved him from a normal peaceful death that age brings. You gave him a time of extreme pain and hurt.

Here's hoping that you are not caught on someone's property that doesn't like the way you act or talk or has something against you from the past.

LINDA'S LINES... ...LOWER LEFT

If your day had been disastrous, would you still be able to write a column that would be worth reading.

There must be something to be learned from Black Cloud Days. Black Cloud Days are the kind of days where if something can go wrong, it does.

As things have happened to me today, I began to think that my lesson was that I should have stayed in bed with the cover over my head to shelter me from the Black Cloud. But now that I hope that most of it is over, is there more to be learned? I think so!

First, if there is any way possible, have a backup alarm system to wake you in the morning should your regular alarm decide not to work.

Second, keep a spare set of keys for your house somewhere outside your house or have an alternate plan of entry into your home, if you lock your keys inside on a stormy day.

Thirdly, if you have one of THOSE cars, have a well trained and patient mechanic, for one of THOSE kind of cars requires patience even from the skilled mechanic.

Last but not least, remember that the Black Cloud could have been bigger, more threatening and certainly more disastrous. Thank you S and R Truck and Auto Repair for being patient with the car that keeps the Santa Anna News moving.

One inch of rain over one acre of surface would weigh more than 113 tons.

Have you ever thought of how small things and small words affect our lives?

Notice some small things in history. If it had not rained the night before Waterloo, Napoleon might have won the battle.

Columbus was about to turn his ships back to Europe when a sailor in the crow's nest saw seaweed floating near the ship.

A lamp swinging in a Cathedral gave the idea of a pendulum. From that idea we have clocks.

Notice some everyday things. The mountain outside of Santa Anna is a gigantic mass of little things. The office buildings in cities are composed of many small things such as bricks, nails, glass, pipes, etc...

Small words affect our lives, too.

If can be very small, but so powerful. The words win and lose will have a great impact on the players and the countries in the Olympics.

There are some words that have been called God's big little words. Life, our most precious possession.

The word love, we all need more of that today. The word hope, it keeps us going in the rough spots of life. The word joy, reminds us of the celebrations in living. The word peace, is most people's dream.

As you think about the power and importance of little things and little words this week, remember this poem:

Never be afraid of big words. Most big words name little things like microscopical, mosquito and pediculosis.

Most small words name big things like sky, land, air, sun, man, wife, love, life and God.

Try to use small words. It is hard to do, but they say what you mean. If you don't know what you mean, use big words. They will confuse little people!

Freeman and Pillow Wed

Wedding vows uniting Susan Lynette Freeman of Hale Center, Texas and Gregory Lane Pillow of Santa Anna were solemnized Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church in Hale Center. Ted Latham, pastor, presided over the recitation of vows. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Freeman and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pillow, all of Hale Center.

The bride was presented in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white taffeta with an overlay of white silk. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a princess neckline and lavishly trimmed with lace and seed pearls. Lace flower motifs with seed pearls edged the hemline and the puffed sleeves. Her gown flowed from a fitted waistline into a train. She chose a Juliet cap embellished with lace and seed pearls, which secured a silk fingertip veil. The bride carried a bouquet of white agapantha, roses and carnations. Attached to the arrangement were rings belonging to the great-grandmother and grandmother of the groom.

Upon entering the church, the large double doors were decorated with heart-shaped grapevine wreaths. They were covered with baby's breath and tiny white satin bows. The wreaths were made and decorated by Mrs. Nicki Logan and her daughter Alicia, as a surprise for the couple and their families.

The decorations for the church was a large brass arch flanked by tall brass stands with bouquets of white gladiolas, agapantha and carnations. Spiral candelabras of brass and heart-shaped candelabras with votive cups decorated with emerald foliage and large urns of gladiolas completed the decorations for the altar. Aisles were highlighted with candelabras and bouquets of agapantha and carnations.

Ida May Powers of Plainview was organist. Selected vocal music was provided by Tami Hindman, also of Plainview.

Matron of honor was Elaine Barrett of Colton Center, Texas, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Shelly Owens and Suzanne Uptergrove. Attendants wore Magena floor-length gowns of silk. Each was fashioned with a princess neckline and puffed sleeves designed similar to the bride's wedding gown. The attendants carried a cascade bouquet of mixed summer flowers and wore a gold sand-dollar necklace given to them by the bride. White summer hats adorned with silk net and daisies completed their attire. Serving as flower girl was Amanda Barrett of Colton Center, niece of the bride.

The groom's father was best man. Attending the groom were Ray Keener of Seminole, Texas, Chad Clanton of Austin and formerly of Santa Anna. Ushers were Bryan Pillow, Darryl Barrett, Michael Harrell and Hardy Dent. Aaron Clark served as ring bearer.

The reception followed in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white floor-length cloth. The large tiered wedding cake was topped with baby's breath and a 'Precious Moments' bride and groom. Crystal appointments and a compote filled with magnolias completed the table decorations.

Covering the groom's table was a white lace cloth. Centering the table was an arrangement of magnolias. Silver appointments completed the decorations. Providing a backdrop for the bride and groom's table were white latticework screens decorated with heart-shaped grapevine wreaths adorned with white satin ribbon and magnolia boughs.

A 'coffee only' table was covered with ecru lace. Copper and brown pottery appointments were used. Featured at the table was a miniature pick-up decorated with door panels reading 'Santa Anna Seed' and miniature tin cans trailing from the bumper. 'Just Married' was written on the windows and hood.

Register tables were covered with white floor-length cloths. Gardenias floating in crystal bowls were the decorations.

After a wedding trip to Ruidosa, New Mexico, the couple will reside in Santa Anna where the groom is employed as manager of Santa Anna Seed Company. Both are graduates of Hale Center High School.

Courtesies extended the bride and groom included a miscellaneous shower given in the home of Mrs. Dora Burnett. A lingerie shower given by Miss Shelly Owens. A spice and rice shower hosted by Pam Clark and Kathy Tiner in the home of Mrs. Clark. A bridal luncheon hosted by Linda Smith in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Smith. A 'P' shower hosted by Kalyn Laney in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Laney. The bridesmaids luncheon at the Plainview Club was hosted by Mrs. Marie Witten and Mrs. Jean McCarter. A bachelorette party given at the Hale Center Country Club given by the bride's sister, Mrs. Barrett. A bachelor party for the groom was hosted by the groom's father and brother. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the Hale Center Country Club.

Reunions

Oakes

The descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Oakes Sr. met for their annual reunion on Saturday and Sunday, July 21st and 22nd in the fellowship hall of the Presbyterian Church with 45 present.

Jasper McClellan, a grandson, filled the pulpit in the absence of the pastor, Jim Gooch, for the Sunday morning worship service. Special music was rendered by grandchildren, Stanley Oakes on the Viola, Tom Oakes on the piano and Sharon Oakes the vocalist, all children of J. T. Oakes Jr.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McClellan, Novelle Boylston, Veve, Carolyn and Cathy Cockerell, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pierce, Paula Nations, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brisbin, Dwight and James Brisbin, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper McClellan, Jene and Julia McClellan, JoAnna Speciale, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Simmons, Era Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wojtek, Tobert Lenton, Justin Oakes, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Oakes Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Oakes, Chris, Cammy and Ashley Oakes, Sharon Oakes, Stanley Oakes, Evelyn Oakes James, Dr. and Mrs. Charlie Konze, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Weisner and Jill, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Oakes, Fred Oakes and Louise McCaughan and Sally Stewardson.

Newman

The Newman family met for their annual family reunion at Cedar Lodge on Lake Buchanan on July 6, 7 and 8th. This event originated in 1929 when the families of brothers Joe, Jim and Tom Newman gathered at what was known as Richardson Crossing on Home Creek. The three day event was held there each year until the mid 1940's when conditions related to World War II caused the group not to meet for a year or possibly two. The following two years the families met for one day celebrations at the Coleman City Park and Coggin Park in Brownwood. Attendance was slim at these reunions so the group decided to once again reunite for three days at Lake Buchanan. They met there annually until 1970 when the site was changed to Lake Buchanan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McDaniel, Jr. of Bay City, Texas were responsible for arrangements this year. The entertainment included water skiing, swimming, horse shoe pitching, washer throwing, volleyball, '42' group singing and old fashioned visitation. Family members usually enjoy fishing from the boat dock but this was prohibited by the drought this year. At this time Lake Buchanan is some 20 feet low on water leaving the boat dock suspended about 10 feet above dry land.

At the business meeting on Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dewey of Grand Prairie, Texas were elected to serve as officers in charge of arrangements of the 1985 gathering.

Registering for this year were 115 family members and their guests. Local people attending were Vernell Young, Glynn McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Newman and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Newman all of Santa Anna and Clinton McClure of Coleman.

Miss Melissa Buse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buse of Santa Anna has come home one of the winners in the Miss Texas American Co-Ed Pageant that was held July 6, 7 and 8th at the Westin Oaks Hotel in Houston, Texas.

There were three women and four men on the panel of judges ranging from a state director to an actor. She, along with approximately 130 other girls from around the state were competing for the 1984 state title and many other awards. Melissa was the winner of the swimsuit competition and the award Miss Co-Ed Photogenic. The photogenic award was selected by the pageant photographer, Bob Morris of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. We feel this was a great honor because Mr.

Morris has been photographing pageants all over the states for 40 years. She also received Outstanding Program Participation award. Many other awards were given. Talent Award was received by Karen Yeary of Clyde, First Runner-up was received by Christie Choat of Eden which speaks well of our area of girls.

We, as Melissa parents, want to take this opportunity to thank our home county for supporting Melissa. This was a wonderful experience for her.

THE STATES PATCHWORK QUILT PARADE

If for lack of space we are unable to run a quilt pattern every week stay tuned for the following week.

Quilt

The quilt block described is one of 48 that form a States Patchwork Quilt. (This was before Hawaii and Alaska became states.) The pattern was originally printed in a 1934 Ft. Worth Star Telegram. With increased interest in this activity in our area, one block of the quilt pattern will be found in the paper weekly.

QUILT FOR ARIZONA
The Cactus Basket

The diamond shape patch was a favorite with early quilt designers and from it they developed many scheme desired. stars, lilies and purely geometric patterns. This 'Cactus Basket' was really copied from a very old quilt of dyed homespun, although with its diamonds and triangles it would easily pass for a smart modernistic design of today.

Colors in the original were red for the two center diamonds with a green one either side, brown basket triangles with darker brown base triangles, background unbleached. Rose, gold, orchid or light green might be used for the center diamonds, depending on the color scheme desired.

The blocks finish 10 inches square or 14 inches on the diagonal. Placed diagonally as suggested in the small sketch, a center 5 pieced blocks wide by 6 long, alternated with plain cream or white blocks, would finish about 70x84 inches. Border strips in three colors or a pieced border of diamond would bring this to any desired size.

Allow five yards of white or unbleached, 3/4 yards each of three colors with 1/4 yard of the black; borders will be in addition to this.

Scholarships For Almost Everyone

What do cheerleaders, Protestants, Catholics, divorcees, paperboys, veterans, and people named Anderson all have in common? They're a small part of the hundreds of categories eligible for thousands of dollars in little known college scholarships.

What's more, a few of these scholarships are based on financial need. So says John Mock, executive director of the Scholarship Research Institute of Texas in Austin and author of the best selling book, "Facing The College Cash Crunch." According to Mock, many of these scholarships aren't even based on academic ability. They are usually based on nothing more than the applicants biographical profile—how closely he or she matches the personality criteria laid down by the organization offering the award.

That means that if you are of Green decent, you're eligible for a Daughters of Penelope scholarship; if you are the son of a Korean War veteran, you're eligible for thousands of American Legion scholarships; if you're divorced or separated from your spouse, you may be eligible for a "displaced homemaker" scholarship.

Few students realize this. In fact until 1980 there was no single place a student could turn to obtain this information. Now there is.

The Scholarship Research Institute of Texas, an affiliate of the Scholarship Research Institute of America in Washington, D.C., represents an astonishing array of little-known scholarships designed for average and even less-than-average students. The Institute not only represents the more uncommon scholarships, but millions of dollars in corporate and foundation scholarships.

Many of these scholarships are made available to Texas students by Texas businesses, foundations and other such state sources. In fact, the total list is so vast that the latest figures show in excess of $3 billion dollars in financial aid sources, the largest such data base in the country.

The surprising thing is that in excess of $100 million in scholarship funds go begging each year despite the soaring costs of a college education.

Popular misconceptions about eligibility for funds keep many youngsters from middle-class homes from applying for aid, although there are many private scholarships and grants for which need is not even a consideration.

Apathy and ignorance on the part of prospective students and their parents contribute to the underutilization of the millions of dollars available each year for financial aid.

"This is not surprising, because the funds are available in a bewildering crazy-quilt puzzle that defeats many people," says Mock.

"It would be a Herculean feat for any student, parent or school counselor to determine which scholarships a particular student is nominally qualified for. And we're excited in that we have helped thousands of students find money they never knew was available to them...and this includes high school students planning on college, current college students and graduate students."

The Scholarship Research Institute of Texas searches out these scholarships and low-interest loans for students. To utilize the service, all a student need do is to fill out a special profile which requires information such as college major, religious affiliation, club memberships, career goals, etc.

A scholarship committee then keys specific information in order to sort through the thousands of sources in finding those for which the applicant

NEWS & NOTES OLYMPIC

STAR TRACK

The 1984 Olympic athletes will run on what has been called the finest track this country has ever seen, and possibly one of the very best in the world.

Gone is the old cinder track of the 1932 Olympic Games on which America's Mildred ("Babe") Didrikson and Eddie Tolan set Olympic and world records as the stars of the Xth Olympiad. Gone too is the crushed brick track of the 1960's and the $165,000 synthetic track put down in 1972.

Representing different periods of Coliseum history and track development, the previous running surfaces in the 60-year-old stadium were all uncovered during Atlantic Richfield Company's recent $2 million renovation of the Coliseum floor.

One of the major improvements is the new track, which is expected to be in use well past the year 2,000. It was constructed by the Rekortan Sports Corp.

Designed strictly for competition, the track is a little harder than most in the United States which are built for multi-purpose use. The highly resilient single-layer surface is expected to help produce a number of new records at the Games. A hard track usually corresponds to fast times in the sprints.

The size and positioning of the track is believed to be just as important as its surface in determining the quality of Olympic performances. Perhaps the biggest improvement of the new Olympic track over other Coliseum tracks is wider turns. Easier and longer curves give all runners an equal chance regardless of their starting lanes.

ARCO also is spending an additional $3 million for Coliseum refurbishments, including a new sewer system, a new electric power system, dressing room and restroom renovation, a new hospital area, general repair work and numerous structural improvements to accommodate the handicapped.

The renovated Coliseum will bring renewed beauty and grace to the Games of the XXIII Olympiad—the first summer Games to be held in this country in more than a half a century.

One of the most malleable of metals, gold can be hammered into sheets so thin they are almost transparent.

is eligible to apply. The student is then sent a printed presentation which includes a listing of Scholarships, Grants, Special Awards and Low-Interest Loans for which they are eligible.

The data on each aid source includes dollar value, type of award being offered, students compatibility factor, and contact information. Also included is a Financial Aid Planning package which contains sample application format for obtaining best results and proven strategy information on financing a college education.

The fee for the complete program is $29.00. In fact, the Institute guarantees results or the fee is refunded.

For an eligibility packet, write to The Scholarship Research Institute of Texas, 225 Congress, Suite 102, Austin, Texas 78701.

Six Ways To Beat Summer Cooling Costs

The price consumers pay for electricity has risen steadily for the last ten years, and will continue to climb, experts say.

Americans can beat the heat this summer by taking steps now to cut down on energy consumption. Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation says.

Studies show that the price people pay for electricity has risen steadily over the past decade, and will continue to increase—quite sharply in many parts of the country. Here are some easy ways to help put a freeze on summer cooling costs:

1. Air conditioners: Clean or replace air conditioning filters at least once a month—when the filter is dirty, the fan has to run longer to move the same amount of air and this uses more electricity.

2. Appliances: Run dishwashers, laundry machines and other energy-consuming appliances in the early morning and late evening when power loads are lighter, as you may pay more for electricity when utilities have to operate at full demand. Avoid cooking and turning on lights during the middle of the day—both generate heat.

3. Insulation: Consider upgrading attic and wall insulation to levels recommended by your utility, advise the insulation experts at Owens-Corning. Insulation helps prevent summer heat from entering the home, keeping the inside cool and lessening the need for continuous air conditioning.

4. Caulking: Seal cracks around doors, windows and foundations. Caulking will help keep hot air out of the house, and cool, conditioned air inside.

5. Shading: Draw draperies, blinds and shades to keep out hot sun. On the outside of the windows, use awnings or other devices to shade exposed windows. In homes without air conditioners, close windows and draw blinds during the day, open windows at night.

6. Duct systems: Insulate heating and cooling ducts to significantly improve energy-saving performance of air handling units, and reduce heat loss or gain through duct walls.
