Police Dept. Very Busy Weekend

A two car collision Friday afternoon at the junction of US 84 and US 67 resulted in minor injuries to six people. Chief of Police Russ Ellis said that an '80 Datsun, turning off 84 onto 67 struck the left side of a '75 Plymouth, eastbound on 84, driven by 36 year old George Osburn, Jr. of 1108 Wallis, Santa Anna. The Datsun was driven by 49 year old Mabel Jarrett of Lubbock, Texas. Both vehicles were termed a total loss according to Mr. Ellis. Also in the Osburn vehicle were Mrs. Linda Osburn, 36, daughters Michelle, 9, and Rhonda, 13, and Tresia Gunter, 37, of 306 Bannister, Santa Anna. Mr. Osburn, his daughters, and Mrs. Jarrett were transported to Overall-Morris Memorial Hospital in Coleman by Henderson Ambulance, where they were treated. Mr. Ellis said that Mrs. Jarrett was cited for failure to yield right of way to the Osburn vehicle.

78 year old Jimmy Watson of 406 Avenue B was transported to Overall-Morris Memorial Hospital in Coleman by Chief Ellis late Friday afternoon complaining of severe pain in the stomach and head. Mr. Watson was admitted to the hospital.

Mr. Ellis said that the Department of Human Resources contacted City Hall and requested help in taking Mr. Watson to the hospital.

Dale Bradley, owner of Bradley Lumber Company, reported to Chief Ellis, Friday afternoon that some building materials were missing from the lumber yard lot. Mr. Ellis said that someone apparently climbed over a chain link fence next to the alley and took several bundles of cedar shingles and insulation. The amount of loss has not been determined, nor is it known exactly when the theft occurred. The investigation is continuing, according to Mr. Ellis.

An apparent oil spill at the intersection of FM 1176 and US 84-67 late Monday afternoon, August 6th, caused a severe traffic hazard until it was covered by the State Highway Department. Chief Ellis said that apparently the spill was from a crude oil tanker. He said the trail of oil from the intersection traveled west into town on Wallis to near the corner of First St. where another large pool of oil was found by the curb. Mr. Ellis said he notified the Highway Department and they responded with a truck to cover the mess. Mr. Ellis said that apparently at least one motorcycle with two people on it, fell at the intersection on FM 1176, covering the two with the oil, but that no report was made to his office by the victims. He said that several other vehicles had trouble passing the intersection.

Mr. Ellis assisted Coleman County Deputy Mike Bowers corral three horses loose on US 84 about one mile west of town on Monday, August 6th. Also later that evening Mr. Ellis enlisted the aid of his son, Rodney, to help him corral two horses loose in the 500 block of Avenue A.

Chief Ellis and Deputy Bowers responded to a family disturbance call early Monday morning, August 13th, on Jefferson St. Mr. Ellis said that no arrests were made and that the participants were referred to the county attorney if they wished to file charges against each other.

An attempted auto burglary was reported to Chief Ellis late Saturday night. Mr. Ellis said that the residents of a house in the 1100 block of N. Santa Fe Ave. told him that they were alerted by a noise and chased three men from near their car. They said the men fled on foot. A patrol of the area did not reveal anything, according to Mr. Ellis.

Santa Anna Students Attend Band Camp

The camp was a learning experience that will be helpful for this coming year.

City Council Meeting Largest Attendance Remembered

The Santa Anna City Council had thirty one citizens present for its monthly meeting held last Thursday evening. One councilman was unable to attend.

As usual the meeting was called to order, the minutes were read and approved.

A citizen had previously requested to be put on the agenda to discuss street repair. Discussion on this matter was brief as repairs had already been made.

The next item of discussion revolved around a petition, signed by sixty six citizens, to continue using Mike Bowers of the County Sheriff's Department as a part-time employee of the city.

The biggest concerns of the citizens regarding this issue seemed to be the relationship between the city and county jailing procedures; and, the financial ability of the city to hire a full-time officer.

It was immediately noted that the city of Santa Anna is under 'general law' with ordinances. Based on population, other cities are 'home-ruled' or 'chartered'.

Under 'general law' petitions can legally only be filed for two reasons.

1. 50 registered voters may petition the incorporation of two cities.

2. A percentage of registered voters may petition to call for an election in order to vote the city wet.

These petitions must be signed by registered voters who live within the city limits.

Other petitions are not illegal; but, their only purpose is to inform councilmen of the opinion of signed citizens.

No motions were approved throughout the meeting.

It was announced that Alan Jones will be a temporary superintendent for the city until the first of the year.

Neighbors

We have just finished moving to an old house near the Baptist Seminary in Ft. Worth. Our house was ready when we got back from vacation.

One of the first things I was impressed with was the neighbors. The night we came in the Parrish's, Newton's, Mrs. Webb and the Sexton's made us feel right at home. It's a nice feeling for strangers in a new community to be welcomed by those who already live there!

I ran across a saying written by Francis Quarles that says so much about being neighbors.

If you neglect love to your neighbor, then in vain do you profess your love to God; for by love to God, the love your neighbors is begotten, and by the love to your neighbor is your love to God nourished.

What does being a good neighbor mean? In the story of the Good Samaritan found in Luke 10, we find that nearness does not make neighborliness. The Priest and the Levite walked as close to the hurt man as the Samaritan, but only the Samaritan stopped to help. Why?

The Priest was a busy man, he was in too big of a hurry. He knew the law, but did not have time to be a neighbor.

The Levite was a religious person. He knew the formal, organized religion, but he did not show what he knew. He was straight in his doctrine, but lousy in his feelings!

The Samaritan people were a mixture of Jews and Gentiles. They were hated by the full-blooded Jewish people. It was amazing that the one hated by the hurt Jewish man would stop and help. The very man from whom no needy Jew could expect the least relief, was the one who gave it.

A neighbor is one without distinction of race or religion who has need of us. It is not the place, but love that makes a neighborhood.

The question is not so much, 'Who is my neighbor?' Rather, it is 'Am I neighborly?'

In each instance of our Ft. Worth neighbors, I noticed a smile on their faces when greeting us.

Gladys Melrose Gearhart wrote a beautiful, old poem called 'Smile and Smile.'

I gave a smile to one I met,
She passed it to another;
He started running home to give
It to his baby brother.

The baby smiled at its own dad,
He passed it to his neighbor;
Next it slipped into a pit
Where men were hard at labor.

So, on and on, from heart to heart,
That smile kept ever spreading;
A light of life and cheerfulness
It kept on ever shedding.

And when at night, as I sat down,
All tired and warm from duty,
That smile came winging back to me,
I marveled at its beauty!

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor,
As we know, there is a separation of Church and State. One should not interfere with the other. But, that doesn't mean that Christians should stay out of politics. We have stayed out too long and look at the shape the world is in today. We, as Christians, can and should make a difference. There should be no political party for a 'Born Again Child of God.' We should listen to each politician, learn and understand what they are for and against, find out what their platform is and vote accordingly. What difference does it make what party he belongs to? If he is wrong and we vote for him anyway, then not only do we get another politician that won't do us any good, we are part-takers in whatever he does that is wrong.

For those adults who have adopted children, those children who have been adopted and other family members who have been involved with the adoption situation, I dedicate my column to you this week.

My grandmother passed away Tuesday of this week. She was my adoptive grandmother. It made no difference to her that I was such, I was still her granddaughter. It seems at times that I was even more special to her because I was chosen by my father and not the product of whatever.

I am not saying that all grandparents wouldn't do that anyway; but, there was a special feeling in knowing that I was chosen by this family.

I look at that situation with other families and with all the various reasons that they have for adopting, they are all special.

The first time I saw my grandmother I got the measles. There were five cousins who lived next door to her. They have been used to having all of her attention.

I am sure it must have been hard to understand why I was getting what was their attention.

I wish they could have known at that time how I was not trying to take this from them only share it with them. I desperately needed to know that I belonged, that I was special.

I think we all reach a point in our lives when we need that feeling of belonging. Even without the legality of adoption, haven't you ever adopted your own other mother or father or sister or brother.

It is a very special closeness that I would not have traded for anything.

TAYLOR FAMILY REUNION

The Taylor reunion, descendants of James and Samantha Taylor, was held this past weekend for the 30th year in Coleman City Park.

Eight of the children of James and Samantha were present when the reunion was started in 1954. Clarendia Menges is the only surviving child of this couple.

The reunion has always been well attended with relatives coming from through out the United States. Those attending this year included: the Lynn Taylor family, the Oscar Taylor family, the Frank Taylor family, the Elwayne Taylor family, the Loyd Taylor family, the Ernest Taylor family, the Elroy Dietzel family, the Joe Bertoni family, the Lee Bertoni family, all of Santa Anna. Others attending included: Wilburn Taylor of California, the Dewey Dixon family, the Fay Herrington family, the Lynn Burnett family of Coleman, the Vonn Halliburton family, the Charles Seymore family, Daphna Bain, the Johnny Seymore family, the Cleo Brooks family, the Charles Taylor family, the Roy Matthews family, the Daniel Kilgore family, the Russ Schraeder family, Tresia Gunter and family, the Eddie Barnett family, Pat and Reba Nock, the Arville Burnett family, Jack Powers of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCarty of San Antonio, Iva Taylor, the Terry Loyd family, Paul and Brenda Crossno of Lake Brownwood, and Red Thomas of Millsap.

KING FAMILY REUNION

Thirty descendants of the late Arthur L. and Lily King of Rockwood met August 3rd, 4th and 5th at Lake Stryker near Henderson, Texas for their annual reunion. Their children attending were Hearthal and Cummins Arnold of Moore, Oklahoma, Marjorie and Brian Harden of Houston, Travis and Opal Ann King of McKinney, and Jean and Gerald Sitterlee also of Houston.

Grandchildren in attendance included Barbara and Sherman Bird of Houston, Carol and Ted Kellison of Oklahoma City, Arthur Vinson and Becky King of Libertyville, Illinois, Mark and Elaine King of Dallas, Susan and Brock Merritt of Dimmitt and Jill and Randy Jennings of Houston.

The group included ten great grandchildren; Shannon Irvin, Laurie Bird, Rebecca Ann and Jessica King, Rhett and Brittany King, Brian and Derek Merritt, and Sid and John Jennings.

For the past several years, Vince King has made a geneology study of the family ancestors which include the King, Brussenhan, Stewardson, and Moore families. At an evening program, using a slide presentation, he traced the King and Brussenhan families back through several generations.

Earliest family records of the King family show William King, Sr. coming to Texas from northern Alabama in 1839 to acquire a 640 acre land grant in Freestone County.

He was accompanied by his son, William Jr. who claimed land in Brazos County. James C. King, one of nine children of William Jr., moved to Rockwood from Falls County in 1904 with his wife, Louella Brussenhan King and four children, Arthur, Mamie, Willie and Clyde. Two other children, Annie and Georgia, were later to be born.

The Brussenhan family records go back to Kerry County, Ireland. They immigrated to Mississippi in the 1850's and later settled in Falls County, Texas in the 1870's. Several members of the Brussenhan family then moved to Rockwood and Coleman Counties in the 1890's.

Artie Jean Sitterlee will be chairman of next year's reunion.

7 Year Old Organ Donor

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm announced the House of Representatives paid tribute to a 7-year-old organ donor Wednesday, August 8, and in doing so, took another step towards raising national awareness of the organ donor system.

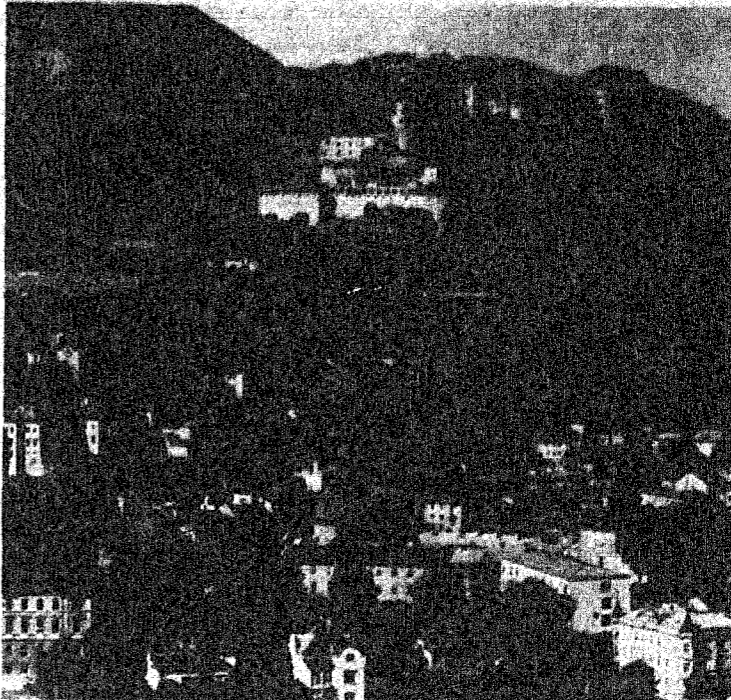

The Stamford Democrat said H. J. Res. 420 was an effort to recognize and honor Chad Knutson of Wrenshall, Minn. The resolution came about after Stenholm learned of Chad's 'generosity and sense of responsibility' in the months prior to the accident which claimed his life. The bill was co-sponsored by 227 of Stenholm's colleagues in the House.

'Chad became interested in the possibility of donating his organs when he learned of a young girl who had received a liver transplant,' Stenholm said. 'When he heard of the need for organs he told his mother, 'When I died, I'd like to be able to do that.'

'Tragically,' Stenholm said, 'several months later, Chad, his 4-year-old brother Trent, and their 16-year-old neighbor, Carol Jo Zack, were killed when the alterrain vehicle in which they were riding collided with a train less than a quarter-mile from their homes.'

Chad's mother recalled her son's statement from several months earlier and donated Chad's heart, kidneys and corneas for use in five life and sight-savings operations.

Stenholm said he became aware of Chad's story when he was leading the search for a liver for a young Clyde resident. 'I became personal-

VACATION ENDS

By Mrs. Hunter

We have now reached Switzerland on our marvelous tour.

Switzerland, in the heart of Europe, is very small, only 200 miles west to east and 300 miles north to south. It has forty rivers and more than forty-five lakes. The Alps are grouped around Gotthard Massif and are the most impressive here.

North of the Alps the landscape changes, we find small fields and industry, architectural changes in homes. We then go up again to the ridges of the Jura. The Alps are higher in Switzerland than in Austria.

On our excursion, we see Switzerland as we dreamed it would be with snow covered mountains, rolling hills, fertile valleys and cows. Going to Brienz, the woodcarving center of Switzerland, Interlaken and Grindelwald in the Bernese Oberland, where we have a wonderful view of the Jungfrau, Eiger and Monch mountains.

We drive to Bern, capital of Switzerland and return to Zurich for the night.

The next day we drove via the motorway to Geneva, where we see the UN Palace, the World Council of Churches Cathedral, Red Cross Headquarters, the Quais Mont Blanc and the Flower Clock. We drive along the vineyards of Lake Geneva to Lausanne and return again to Zurich.

Lucerne was one of the most beautifully situated cities in Switzerland, with many old buildings, the famous Kappell Bridge with its ceiling paintings and the Lion's Monument.

While waiting for our plane, which was five hours late, to return to the USA we visit more exciting places.

We see the famous Einsiedeln Benedictine Abbey, more than a thousand years old. There is a procession of the Rosary Feast that takes place annually on the first Sunday in October. In winter Eisesiedeln and its surroundings become a skier's paradise.

Our plane stopped at Bangor, ME, USA to refuel and through customs. The church bus met us in San Antonio and took us to Fredericksburg and then to home.

ly involved in the organ donor system and the problems facing that system when I was contacted by the family of 10-month old Ashley Bailey,' he said. 'The child was suffering from biliary artesia and needed a liver transplant to survive.'

'Her parents had been unable to locate one and contacted me. During the next six months,' Stenholm said, 'my staff and I contacted all of the major organ transplant centers, organizations and arranged for telegrams to be sent to every hospital in the country. I also contacted President Reagan and he mentioned Ashley in his weekly radio show.'

It was during that time Stenholm noticed the story about Chad. 'It hit home,' he said. 'Here was a seven-year-old boy who showed a sense of understanding and caring that many of us as adults would do well to emulate. Out of the tragedy of his death, he managed to share life and health with five people he never knew.'

Brady farmers sent grain storage money

(AUSTIN)--Checks totaling $95,056.81 have been mailed to 39 Brady-area grain farmers in the final settlement of a Texas Department of Agriculture lawsuit against a bankrupt grain elevator. TDA Grain Warehouse Administrator Darrell Ketchum says the suit was filed in early 1983 after TDA inspectors discovered a massive shortage of grain.

The Brady-area farmers earlier shared the cash proceeds from the sale of the remaining grain on a pro rata basis. Ketchum says, "This final pro rata settlement comes from the $82,000 bond required for the warehouse, plus the interest earned on both the bond and monies left undistributed at the time of the sale."

The Farmers-Ranchers Cooperative Association of Brady declared bankruptcy after TDA inspectors discovered more than 19,000 bushels of wheat and nearly 450,000 pounds of grain sorghum missing.

First Day

The first day of school can bring 'opening day jitters' for even the most well-adjusted child, according to a psychiatrist at Baylor College of Medicine.

Martin Drell, MD, a Baylor child psychiatrist, says parents need to prepare children for the first day in the classroom by explaining what school is like and how the child should behave.

'School isn't something to be sprung on the child at the last minute,' Drell said. 'Parents shouldn't say the child is going to the swimming pool and then end up at the school. It's important not to mislead the child.'

Drell says parents should avoid overselling school to their youngsters, and should be realistic when describing how time will be spent during the school day.

'Some parents go overboard and make school sound slightly better than Disneyland,' he said. 'Under those circumstances, the big buildup backfires. The child goes to school and expects free time playing on the slide, but part of school is being able to sit down and get to business.'

Parents can reduce children's normal fears by having them visit the school and meet the teacher before classes begin. Pointing out familiar faces of neighborhood children who will be classmates may also make the child less apprehensive.

Most children adjust to the new environment within a few days. Others may continue to have problems or may have a delayed reaction in which they develop problems getting along with other children or the teacher. Troubled children may reveal their problems in play, with the 'mean' teacher or the classroom 'bullies' as villains.

Parents should let children know that school rules are different from those at home. For example, playtime, naptime and bathroom visits will be coordinated by the teacher.

'The parent needs to let the child know that the teacher will be in control when the parent isn't around,' Drell said. 'This relieves the child and lets the teacher do the job.'

Part of the ritual of going to school includes getting new supplies like pencils, a colorful lunch box, and even a backpack. The importance of having 'in' things like velcro shoes or a T-shirt with a popular cartoon or movie character splashed across the front shouldn't be underestimated.

'One of the innate urges of children is to be like everyone else,' Drell said. 'They don't want to be different, and parents should let the child fit in with the crowd, at least at this age.'

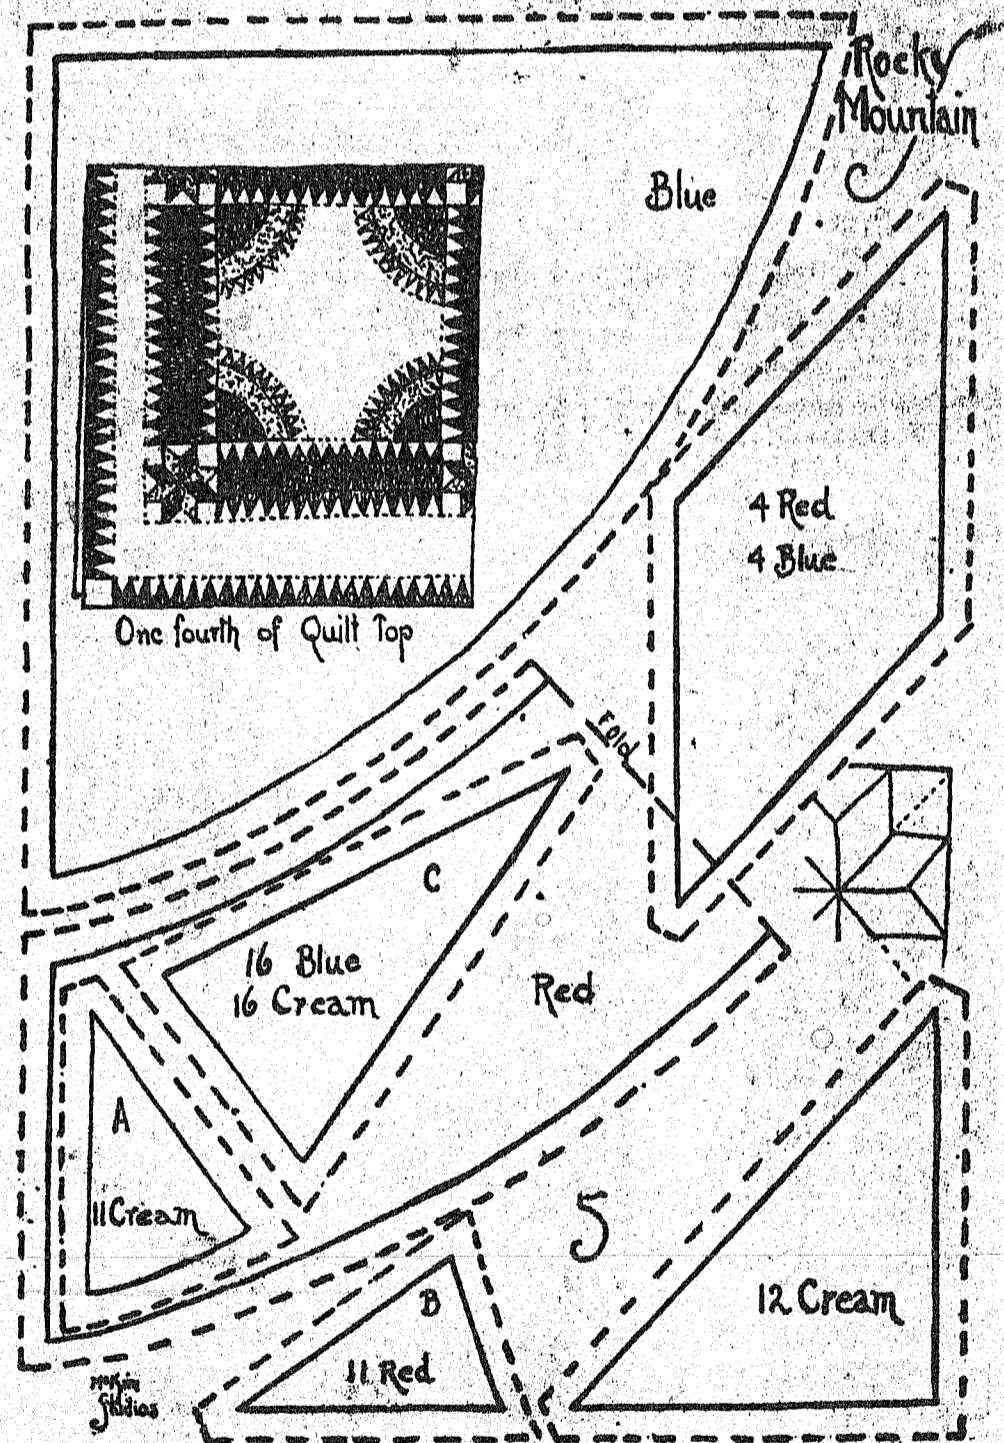

The most important thing is to get children used to playing and sharing with other children, Drell said, and to realize that there will be plenty of time to emphasize individuality after the child becomes adjusted to the classroom and the peer group.

Mr. and Mrs. Culpepper had a very nice visit from their daughter, Sharon Alvey and son-in-law, Ronald and their three children from Abilene. They spent the night before camping at Brownwood lake. Later they visited with Ronald's father Curtis Alvey in Coleman.

Mrs. Culpepper said that she received a call from James Saturday night. He said that all was well in Irving.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bruce were in Junction Friday and Saturday attending the annual sale of Angora Goat Raisers' Association of which Mr. Bruce is a member. Saturday Carol and Jimmy Ottmers had lunch with the Bruce's. Carol is the Bruce's granddaughter and Jimmy is a coach at Junction.

THE STATES PATCHWORK QUILT PARADE

If for lack of space we are unable to run a quilt pattern every week stay tuned for the following week.

QUILT

The quilt block described is one of 48 that form a States Patchwork Quilt. (This was before Hawaii and Alaska became states.) The pattern was originally printed in a 1934 Ft. Worth Star Telegram. With increased interest in this activity in our area, one block of the quilt pattern will be found in the paper weekly.

QUILT FOR COLORADO

The Rocky Mountain

You will need patience and ingenuity equal to that of the pioneers to scale this Rocky Mountain project. But the view, when it is all finished and on an old wooden bed, ah! You will proudly revel in such scenery! Colors in the quilt copied were in dark blue, dotted with white, a rather dull red and unbleached.

The four large squares are 22 inches each way, but they can not have their curved corners cut out until one 'fan' is pieced and placed. The cut segment underneath may then be used as a pattern. These fan corners piece by adding the red band marked 'fold' onto the large dark blue quarter circle, then adding the strip piece of triangles A and B, about 11 of each will be right.

The nine star blocks and 12 sections of pieced banding which set the four 22 inch blocks together will finish 8 inches wide. The side bands, pieced of dark and light triangles C will be 2 1/2 inches wide which means the dark strip between should be a 3 inch strip. The star pieces as suggested in the small sketch, alternating blue and red diamonds, to which are added always the one triangle of unbleached. That makes all straight sewing except the four center side triangles which have to seam in at the angle.

With 3 inch plain side borders and 6 inches each top and bottom, then the pieced strip of triangles C again, your quilt will finish about 79 x 85 inches.

Allow 3/4 yards of cream, 4/5 of dark blue and 2 of red.

CHILD SAFETY SEAT EDUCATION WEEK

The Texas Coalition for Child Passenger Safety will join other groups in providing information and education to the public during Texas Child Safety Seat Education Week, August 27 through September 1, according to Dr. Ben H. White, outgoing chairman of the statewide group.

The special observance was declared as a result of House Concurrent Resolution passed in June by the Legislature and signed by Governor Mark White. The resolution was introduced by Representative Chip Staniswalis of Amarillo.

In the same Legislative session mandatory usage of child safety seats was enacted and will become effective October 31, 1984.

'This special observance week is an excellent opportunity for citizens to become familiar with the new law and to find out about statewide and local efforts to help citizens comply,' said Dr. White.

The new law will require residents of Texas to transport children up to two years old in federally approved child safety seats and children from two up to four years old in the child safety seats or safety belts.

An offense is punishable by a fine of $25 to $50 and the Court shall dismiss the charge if the person shows proof of acquisition by purchase, loan, or rental within 10 days after the offense.

The law exempts violations involving a person operating a vehicle for hire and a person transporting a child in a vehicle in which all seating positions equipped with the child passenger safety seat systems or safety belts are occupied.

Although the new law becomes effective October 31, 1984, fines will not be assessed until January 1, 1985.

A key effort underway since March is the SAFE RIDERS program being carried out by the Texas Department of Health in cooperation with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. It is a statewide public awareness campaign on the benefits of using child safety seats correctly and consistently. In addition the program includes a more intensive demonstration project on public awareness and services in the Dallas-Ft. Worth area.

Information and literature about child safety seat usage can be obtained through the program's Spanish and English information line 1-800-252-8255, which operates from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.
