HOME PROBLEMS

VOGUE FOR FEMININE SOFTNESS A BOON TO THE HOME DRESSMAKER
PATTERNS 2194 AND 2353

There never was a season when fashion seemed to make "all things possible" to the home dressmaker as does this one! Even the tailored sports frock (once considered the Sacred Right of "professionals") has abandoned some of its detail for softness, so it's easy for even the beginner to make pattern 2194 with its simple yoke-sleeve topping a shirred bodice. Turn about is fair play, so this time the afternoon frock, pattern 2353, seemingly all softness and flattery in its puffed sleeves and high skirt panel ending in a slash, borrows a tailoring trick and gives a clean-cut finish to the neck with a neat round yoke and buttons. Sports fabric for pattern 2194; and a soft sheer for afternoon model.

Pattern 2194 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric. Price 15c. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with each pattern.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Anne Adams pattern, THIRTY CENTS (30c) for both. Write name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

ANNE ADAMS SUMMER PATTERN BOOK SHOULD BE IN EVERY HOME! Its forty fascinating pages are full of Fashion Facts every woman wants to know! Everyone's problem is solved... the Bride with Trouseau Troubles... the Matron with Weighty Problems... the much "dated" Deb... Tiny Tots at play... Vacation Planners! ### AIDS FOR LIGHTER HOUSEWORK

"House-cleaning time" is a phrase that used to be dreaded by the feminine part of the family. It meant tired bodies and frazzled nerves for mother and all her helpers. However, with modern inventions and improved cleaning methods, it need not be the "heart and back breaking" job of a few years ago. While there is still plenty of work to do, yet improved soaps and other cleaning products make the work much lighter. The average woman should not be without knowledge as to the helpfulness of the best cleaning products. With this in mind we have prepared for you a short sketch of such aids now available, and you should make the most of them.

Until comparatively recent times it was expected that every woman's back would become bent from stooping over washtubs and her hands rough and red from strong home-made soap. This was especially true of the rural woman; while today there are far too many bent backs, yet we have come to feel that every woman is entitled to nice hands, a straight back and some leisure for worthwhile things in life. Honest toil has been and continues to be the backbone of all decent society, but drudgery should be discarded.

One of the great factors in improving modern living conditions is the improved methods of soap manufacturing.

After years of laboratory tests and practical experience, soap manufacturers have given the general public soaps that act on dirt with almost magic speed yet do no harm to color or fabric. Truly, as women, we should be grateful for all this. Study your own soap problems, find out the best, then select one that will save you work and money.

There are so many labor-saving devices that require but a small outlay of money and a little time. How distressing it is to me to go on a farm and see water piped to the barn for the livestock and then see the wife or mother carrying water to the house for drinking and washing purposes. Plumbing is so simple today that most any man who is not dumb can install a complete water system in his home for a small outlay of money. Most dealers are willing to explain the details you do not understand about installing such a system. The back and the breaking it saves any wife will pay handsome dividends to any husband. Put water in the kitchen and wash room, at least.

A well arranged laundry room is the first step in a successful wash day and the first step in general house-cleaning. A room amply large to accommodate sufficient equipment is important. A washing machine is indispensable, labor-saving and time-saving. An ironing board adjusted to the right height is of utmost importance; it takes the backaches out of ironing day. Don't forget to arrange ironing board by a good light. Also a table on casters, which can be moved easily, is a convenience that can be had cheaply and can be used for sorting clothes on their way to the tub, for sprinkling clothes when they are dry, for folding, ironed clothes or acting as a drier when necessary.

Sorting clothes carefully will hasten the washing. Dish towels, slightly soiled hand and bath towels, along with dresser scarfs and less soiled clothes come first, whether you boil your clothes or use a washing machine. Then comes the clothes which are more soiled, then the overalls and colored clothing. Wash each selection of clothing in turn and the washing will be quicker and much more satisfactory.

In selecting a washing machine consider five points: (1) Is the machine well constructed; (2) Is it large enough to care for your needs; (3) Is the action too harsh for your type of washing; (4) Does it have every possible safety feature; (5) Is it convenient as to height, easy to move, fill and empty? Careful consideration of these points will mean a great deal of satisfaction.

Don't forget to have a sturdy clothes basket, durable and safe clothes lines, plenty of clothes pins; and, best of all, keep them in good condition.

A useful hint for sprinkling is a tin device that fits into the neck of a bottle. However, a whisk broom will serve very nicely sprinkling the clothes more evenly than you can with your hands.

The selection of soap is of vital importance. Select one that is quick-acting, easy on hands and yet one that will not destroy fabric or color. Choose your soap with great care.

Space is limited, so next month we will discuss more practical hints on house-cleaning, which should be thoroughly done before we shut our houses up for the winter. On this page we hope to carry some good suggestions as to how you can make that work easier. We are indebted to and hereby acknowledge with thanks useful information on house-cleaning contained in booklets sent us on the following subjects:

"The Modern Home Laundry" and "House-cleaning Hints," published by The Home Economics Department, Proctor & Gamble.

"Cleanliness Through the Ages," published by Old Dutch Cleanser.

Watch for next month's Magazine Section in this newspaper. You will be surprised at the many useful interesting things we have planned for you.

WHAT TO DO IF SNAKE BITTEN

There is no mistaking the bite of a poisonous snake, as within ten minutes from the time of being bitten there is considerable pain and swelling around the bitten area. The first thing to do when bitten is to keep one's head, to move as little as possible and to send for help if there is any at hand.

The main objective in the first-aid treatment of snake bite is to localize the poison and keep it from spreading through the system. Therefore, the first thing to do is to tie something—a rubber ligature is best—around the arm or leg about 6 inches above the bite, that is, between the bite and the heart. Second, it is wise to make several cuts through the fang punctures to the depth of about one-half an inch and to suck the wound (if your mouth is free from cuts and sores) or use a rubber suction bulb, which may be bought at any drug store. One should wash the wound with a mild solution of potassium permanganate and water, as there is always danger of infection. The ligature should be released at intervals of ten minutes to prevent mortification of the tissues and the washing and sucking should continue for several hours.

When going into the country where are tangled underbrush, swamps or rocky hillsides, it is wise to wear some sort of leg protection, that is, high boots or leggings.

An effective anti-venom has been produced for the neutralization of snake venom. If this is available it should be injected as soon as possible after the bite.

Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees: Mat. 16:6.

LINES, WRINKLES
COARSENESS
BLACKHEADS
SAGGING TISSUES

Your skin has two parts—
In the epidermis are tiny blood vessels, nerves, fat and muscle tissues, oil glands...
When these grow sluggish, expect skin faults.

Miss Maribelle Rodger—"Pond's keeps my skin free from blemishes."

If You Could look Under Your Skin!

There's where LINES, WRINKLES, BLEMISHES first develop...
—Skin Authorities say

ONCE THE TEENS are past, your underskin begins to lose its vigor. Its circulation slows. Oil glands decrease their supply. Fibres lose their snap. Then blackheads, lines, blemishes, wrinkles appear.

But you can ward off these faults with one cream that goes right in, stirs your underskin to vigorous action—Pond's Cold Cream. Its specially processed oils sink deep. As you pat it on, your circulation is quickened. Failing oil glands are stimulated.

Every night cleanse your skin with this deep-reaching and germ-free cream. The day's dust and grime will float out of the pores. Repeat this during the day. Make-up will go on like a charm.

Begin to use Pond's Cold Cream at once. See your skin grow finer—softer—clearer. Little lines soften. Blackheads, blemishes disappear.

HOW BEES MAKE HONEY

The sweet sought by bees in flowers is not honey; it is similar to sweetened water and is called nectar. Honey is the nectar of flowers, evaporated and modified by the bees. Actual weighings have shown that it takes 20,000 bees to bring to the hive one pound of nectar, which will make about a quarter of a pound of honey. So it would require the full time of 80,000 bees to bring in enough nectar to make a pound of honey and 80,000 more bees must turn themselves into ventilators, by buzzing their wings inside the hive, to produce the air current to evaporate the water from the nectar.

SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 6, 1935

NUMBER 96

"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

Public Schools to Open Next Week

Next Monday, September 9th marks the beginning of a very important season in Santa Anna and Coleman county.

Most of the public schools in Coleman county will open for the season next Monday, and several of them will continue for a period of nine months.

Santa Anna schools are starting off in fine shape for a good school year. All teachers have been paid in full for their past services, and the school board has been fortunate in selecting a fine faculty to guide the destinies and propound knowledge into the students the ensuing term.

Teachers are looking forward to a good school year, and the success of the term will depend largely upon the cooperation of the patrons and students with the faculty of teachers.

Teaching school is an important profession. A successful school teacher is one of the most valuable citizens any community possesses.

To make a success in teaching requires the best there is in a person, and nothing short of the best will succeed. There are many lines of work and service more lucrative from a monetary standpoint, but few of them are as important from a standpoint of moulding opinion and the building of citizenship. Morals and clean living standards are very important factors in school work. Patriotism, loyalty, and good citizenship are essential and the more they are blended with the other phases of educational work the better citizenship we may expect in future years.

From a standpoint of scholarship and experience, Santa Anna's teaching faculty measures up to a higher standard of qualifications than does the average school in our size town and school classification. The work done in the Santa Anna schools speaks for itself, and the reflection from students who received their early training in Santa Anna reveals a splendid citizenship. A fine citizenship, a splendid faculty, coupled with proper co-operation, means better schools from year to year. Let's look forward to this year as being one of the best to go down in history.

WATCH THE CURVES

Last week we announced that the story, "Watch the Curves" by Richard Hoffman would appear serially in these columns, beginning this week. But Thursday morning when the story arrived in plate form, a mistake had been made and the wrong story sent us. We shall endeavor to have the error corrected, and begin the story next week.

Mrs. A. B. Irlon of Gladewater recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Will Davis. She will be remembered here as Miss Georgia Davis.

Legislature Is Called to Meet September 16

Governor James V. Allred issued a call to the members of the Legislature to assemble in Austin Monday, September 16th to consider the repeal of the manufacture and sale of whiskey, following the repeal of the Dean Act in the election of Constitutional Amendments Saturday, August 24th.

Other subjects will also be submitted during the special session, more than likely, a proposition of considering the raising of funds to provide for old age pensions, which was also adopted by Constitutional Amendment submitted to the state for approval August 24th.

The repeal amendment vested in the Legislature broad powers, in that the amendment repealing the prohibition laws also provided that open saloons were barred in Texas.

Just how the Legislature will set up rules and regulations for the legal manufacture and distribution of the liquor without the open saloon is a problem yet to be solved. However it can be done, and in the future there will be considerable demand for the tightening up and more rigid restriction of enforcement of the laws pertaining to the sale of whiskey in dry territory.

RIORDAN-WILLIAMS

Friends will be glad to learn of the marriage Friday evening of Miss Juanita Riordan and Lieutenant Robert H. Williams. The ceremony was read at the Baptist Parsonage with the Baptist Pastor, Rev. Hal C. Wingo, reading the impressive rites.

The bride, the only daughter of Mrs. Alma McNutt, wore a brown crepe suit with accessories of brown. She is a graduate of the Santa Anna High School, being a member of the Class of 1934. She attended John Tarleton Agricultural College last year and the past summer. Mr. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Williams of Dennison, and is a graduate of the Dennison schools and a former student of John Tarleton and of the San Marcos State Teachers College. He was a member of the Tarleton Band the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams left Sunday morning for Los Angeles, where Mr. Williams has employment with the State Highway Patrol.

SCHOOL BOARD MET TUESDAY EVENING

Members of the School Board met Tuesday evening and elected Mrs. D. L. Pieratt to teach for Mrs. Charles Evans for the first month of school. Mrs. Evans, who has taught Arithmetic in the Ward School for several years, received major emergency surgery at the Sealy Hospital Sunday, and will be unable to teach for an indefinite length of time.

Dove Season to Open Sept. 21

Many sportsmen, who have been accustomed to going out September 1st and killing cooling doves, have been sorely disappointed this week because of the closed dove season in this state.

The Federal law ordered the season closed until October 1st but by special arrangements, thru the pleadings of members of the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, the opening date was modified and set for September 21st. The season will close January 6th, but is subject to zones. The north and south zones vary in their opening and closing dates, but this writer is not posted just at the moment to give the exact dates for the present zone, however we are inclined to believe that Coleman county is located in the north zone, and the season will be later than the season in south Texas.

INTEREST-GROWING IN COMMUNITY FAIR

Apparently Santa Anna is going to have splendid cooperation from people living in the trade territory, and even from other places in our first attempt to hold a community fair.

A community fair is more than a picnic gathering where people go to meet their friends and former neighbors who now live in other parts of the county. It has a really educational value that cannot be expressed in small phrases.

Inquiries are coming in from all parts of the country to know what the outlined program is to be. People are not so much interested in the small cash prizes as they are in exhibiting their livestock, poultry and agricultural products. The prizes will necessarily be small, as there will be no entrance fees or gate receipts, but from a standpoint of benefits to be derived from the exhibits, the value of a fair is great.

It conveys an inspiration to people to meet and see what others are doing. Fine mules, horses, cows, hogs, sheep, goats, and poultry, turkeys, and the many products of agriculture are interesting and inspiring. People just naturally like to see good stuff, and when we have a community fair, all the better stuff in the community is assembled for your pleasure and amusement.

At this time none of the several committees have reported, and we cannot make a complete announcement, but the rules, regulations, and program of procedure, including entertainment, if any will be provided, will be announced as soon as the committees make their arrangements, and arrange for the publication of same.

We are looking forward to this first attempt to hold a fair to be a success, and we certainly appreciate the encouragement coming from the people living in the rural districts.

MRS. MOLLIE BARKER

Funeral services were held from the Clinton Lowe residence Monday afternoon for Mrs. Mollie Barker, 61, step-mother of Mrs. Lowe. Mrs. Barker passed away at the home of her son, Nixon Barker in Temple late Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Barker had not lived here in many years. She came here with her husband thirty years ago and lived here and in Coleman for several years. After his death she moved to Dallas and had lived in Temple only a few months when she passed away.

Rev. M. L. Womack conducted the funeral services, with interment in the local cemetery.

Mrs. Barker is survived by three children, Paul Barker of Galveston and Nixon and Ruby Lee Barker of Temple.

Out of town relatives here for the funeral included Paul Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Nixon Barker, Miss Ruby Lee Barker, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lowe and children of Haskell. Mrs. R. C. Lowe is also a step-daughter of Mrs. Barker.

Miss Ivis Morgan and her mother of Brownwood visited friends in the Liberty community last Friday. Miss Morgan is a former teacher in the Liberty Schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Curry Mills and Mrs. W. L. Mills spent Wednesday in the Ralph Mills home in Brownwood.

Pioneer Indian Fighter Living in S. C. to Visit Here

College Place, S. C. August 26, 1935.

Mr. J. J. Gregg, Santa Anna, Texas.

Dear Mr. Gregg: I am mailing to you this day a copy of the State with a mention of myself and my intention of going to Amarillo, Texas to attend the Confederate Veterans Reunion. Please make mention in the News by publishing all or any part of the article. I am planning to spend the fall in Texas and will not fail to call on you.

With best wishes I am as ever Yours truly, J. W. COTTRELL

Pioneer Indian Fighter, Now Living in Columbia, Recalls Historic Days

(Columbia, S. C. State) J. W. Cottrell, who lives in College Place, is an interesting character. Eighty-three years of age, he has seen days of frontier-expansion and fighting between the states.

Mr. Cottrell has been here since 1917 and is now in monumental work. He is going to Amarillo, Texas, to the national Confederate reunion in September. Mr. Cottrell is well known in Texas, where he served with the Rangers under Capt. Bill McDonald.

He was carried to the Comanche country when very young from his native state of Alabama. Texas was "wild and woolly" and Mr. Cottrell saw much fighting in molding the frontier. His father, J. A. Cottrell, was captain of a militia company in Alabama during the war and after the War Between the States moved to Texas and settled in a colony there, inhabited mostly by people from Alabama, Georgia, and South Carolina.

In 1877 he was with a band of buffalo hunters. Later he worked in the dangerous Panhandle region as a cowboy, driving cattle across the plains. During the War Between the States he served as a guide for the Fifteenth Alabama cavalry at the age of 14. For this work he is recognized in Alabama now as a Confederate veteran. During the war he was arrested and kept in prison by Union soldiers.

After working as a cowboy he then became a Ranger serving as a peace officer during the time when Sam Bass, John Wesley Hardin and the Dalton Gang made Texas red with bloodshed. He has seven bullet marks in his body as a memento of his peace activities in Texas.

Mr. Cottrell was instrumental in breaking up the Wall-Brookers-Roberts end in San Augustine county and assisted in breaking up the incipient Garza revolution. He also saw service in Old Mexico and drifted to the Panama canal.

He was captured by Villa soon after the punitive expedition of Pershing and kept in a Chihuahua jail for four and one-half months as a suspect.

Mr. Cottrell says that he has always loved Confederate veterans due to the fact that he had a son, J. M. Cottrell, who died in 1902, and spent his life in hospital work for the veterans. His son's death was due to germs contracted while treating the Confederate veterans. He is buried in Austin, Texas, and appreciative veterans have placed a marker above his grave in honor of his devoted service to them.

Mr. Cottrell is active for his age and his keen grey eyes will look you straight in the face. His deep-lined face denotes the vigorous and courageous life he has lived.

This pioneer Indian fighter, ranger, deputy marshal, scout, fighter, is now willing to settle down to a "quiet life."

Southern Vets Rally and Capture Amarillo

Amarillo, Sept. 2 (AP)—Paisied but stout-hearted old Southern veterans of the Civil War rallied their feeble forces and "captured" every heart in this city today.

From everywhere in the old South they began arriving for the start of their forty-fifth annual roundup tomorrow—perhaps the last for many, if not all of them.

Quartered in hotels, private homes and "Camp Pierce" named for Gen. "Rice A. Pierce" of Union City, Tenn., commander-

High School Athletic Project

Upon receipt of assurance by the PWA that the high school athletic improvement project which has been under consideration by the Board of Education for some time might be financed by Revenue Bonds rather than Obligation Bonds, application for a loan and grant of $6,000 was hurriedly completed and mailed to PWA, Fort Worth, Monday.

Mr. C. G. Curtis, Austin Architect, and Tom Sealy, Attorney, of Santa Anna were selected to see after their respective phases of the project. Supt. Scarborough spent Thursday and Friday of last week in Austin working with them in completing the application.

The project contemplates the following improvements:

1. Lighting of field.
2. Fencing of field with steel fence.
3. Grading, piping and sodding of field.
4. Erection of approximately 1,000 bleachers.

If approved by the government the project would mean that only about $3,300 would have to be repaid from income from the field, and this could be handled with about $400 per year for 10 years.

Francis Carroll, alumnus of SAHS of 1926, is draftsman for Mr. Curtis. Tom Sealy, alumnus of SAHS of class 1925, is the attorney. With these two alumni interested in the project nothing will be left undone in attempting to get it through.

TAYLOR-SPENCE

Miss Elgie Taylor and Mr. Murrell Spence were quietly married in the parlor of Elder Grubbs home in Brownwood Saturday evening at eight o'clock. Elder Grubbs officiated, using the impressive ring ceremony.

They were accompanied to Brownwood by Mr. Weldon Spence, brother of the bridegroom, and Miss Stella Rice, and were met there by Misses Beunah and Iva Kendrick and Messrs. Alex McBroome and Larry Garmon, who accompanied them to the Grubbs home.

After the ceremony the group enjoyed a real feast and motorboat riding.

The bride wore a lovely suit of white rough crepe with all accessories of white.

Mrs. Spence is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Taylor of the Plainview community.

Mr. Spence is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spence of Trickham.

The couple will be at home in Trickham.

THE NEWS JOINS THE MANY FRIENDS OF THE YOUNG PEOPLE IN WISHING THEM A LONG, HAPPY, AND USEFUL LIFE.

RANGES, FEED CROPS, HELPED BY RAINS

Rains falling throughout the most of the state over the weekend and the first of this week, greatly helped the ranges and fall feed crops, and put out moisture for sowing small grain for winter grazing and harvest next spring.

Fear is held for cotton, due to the advent of leaf worms and boll worms. Considerable damage is feared in many sections, however, precaution is being used.

Parker Crye and son of Coleman were Santa Anna visitors Wednesday.

in-chief of the U. C. V.—the white-haired, gray-clad soldiers began discussing whether they will meet with the Grand Army of the Republic in a joint reunion.

The Southerners have been invited to meet with the Union forces at Gettysburg, Pa., in 1938—the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. Meeting one day prior to the national reunion, members of the Texas Division, U. C. V., answered the fifty-first annual camp roll call. Gen. A. L. Steele of Houston, State Commander, and Gen. W. F. Miles of Dallas, commander of the trans-Mississippi Department, U. C. V., addressed the Texans.

Col. Walter L. Hopkins of Richmond, Va., national commander of the Sons of Confederate Veterans spoke at the forty-third annual convention of the Texas Division, S. C. V. John O. Wilson of Dallas, state commander, presided.

Mayor Pleads for Better Loyalty and Co-operation

The Santa Anna News would like to stress the importance of the message from Dr. McDonald, acting in his official capacity as Mayor of Santa Anna, in his appeal to the citizenship of Santa Anna at the mass meeting last Friday night.

You were told of the dire need of exerting your every effort to make it possible for Santa Anna to employ the services of a competent engineer to help work out the several projects pending, to be properly presented to the Works Progress Administration, to insure furnishing employment to the number of employables, here during the next two years.

Just merely holding back will not stop the spending of the large sums of money due from the Federal government thru the Works Progress Administration, for the money is going to be spent and people are going to be offered employment. It is just a matter of losing the projects and letting the money be spent in other communities.

Santa Anna can furnish several projects, and should, by all means have them presented immediately. Just a few more days and the time limit expires, and those who come in on the second call do not stand equal show with those who get busy and come in on the first round.

Here is our endorsement, and we believe that most every family in Santa Anna can do something toward liquidation of delinquent taxes, which will mean so much to the future of the town and add much to the improved living conditions here. Unless we do get some projects submitted and approved, our employables will be ordered to some other community where projects are approved, and we lose both the projects and the money spent from our channels of trade.

The Mayor was generous in stating that all who would like to do so could arrange to pay your taxes in small weekly or monthly installments, and the City would waive interest and penalty. On the other hand, the taxes must be paid sooner or later, and this promise is not made to those who make no effort and wait for legal procedure.

Time is a very important factor, according to reports coming from the district office in Brownwood, headed by Major Karl E. Wallace. Claims must be presented by September 12, and further plans must follow immediately.

There is $2,225,000 allotted to district 14, and if Santa Anna does not share in the proceeds it will be her own fault.

Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Grantham of Big Spring visited friends and relatives here Tuesday and Wednesday.

Trade-Troopers to Liberty Thursday

The Santa Anna Trade Troopers went to Liberty last Thursday night, and gave the Community Fair Program. About thirty made the trip. Ladies of the Liberty Community sold ice cream.

With Loyd Burris as Master of Ceremonies, Emmett Day gave the information about prizes to be offered for the out-standing exhibits. Miss Ernestine Thames gave a reading, and Misses Evelyn Kirkpatrick, Reba Boardman and Mary Strand Dellinger rendered a trio. They were accompanied by Miss Mary Southern Garrett. Miss Alene Harper rendered a piano solo.

Monday evening forty-two troopers went to Rockwood, but the full program was not given because of the small crowd. Rain late Monday afternoon prevented the crowd expected from gathering. The scheduled trip to Shield Tuesday evening and the one to Trickham Thursday evening were postponed.

The Troopers plan to go to Cleveland Monday night.

FISHERMEN RETURN WITH THE GOODS

Lots of people go fishing and some of them bring back the evidence. It was true last weekend with Dr. Lovelady, Geo. M. Johnson and W. H. Ragsdale, who spent a little time over the border in the Republic of Old Mexico.

We don't know how the fish were caught or what they weighed, but there were lots of 'em, and we certainly know how delicious they were, for the trio treated the Lions Club to a fish fry for luncheon Tuesday.

This chancier took on such a quantity we have not been fish hungry since, in fact it was the last meal for us that day, and the morning following we partook of a very light breakfast.

POMONA GRANGE MEET AT DUBLIN

The Pomona District Grange Meet was held in Dublin Wednesday afternoon and evening, with Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Ford, and Jesse Goen in attendance from here. J. M. Binion of Brownwood was elected Master of the Pomona John Tarleton District. Mr. Binion is a former teacher of Vocational Agriculture here.

Following the afternoon business session, the entire crowd spread a picnic lunch, and the group returned to the session rooms where the Edna Hill Grange presented a perfect drill of the Fourth Degree.

The Santa Anna Grange is a part of the John Tarleton District.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Scarborough were in Austin on business last week.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS, JR.

Austin, Sept. 2.—Speculation as to the range of legislative subjects to be submitted by Gov. Allred, which will determine the length and the number of special sessions, filled the atmosphere in Austin as the solons prepared to answer the Sept. 16 call for an extraordinary session. Financing a state old-age pension program, authorized by the voters in the special election by an overwhelming majority, may reopen the entire subject of state revenue. This would be an opening for the governor to resubmit all or part of his extensive tax program, most of which fell by the wayside in the regular session. Such highly controversial subjects as chain-store taxes, sales tax, state income tax, liquor taxes and others doubtless will be offered and debated at length, if the governor's message opens the way.

The governor has clearly indicated he considers liquor regulation under repeal the paramount subject. He has advised against hasty action. The legislature is probably as closely divided upon the liquor question as were the people, who registered less than 10 per cent majority of votes cast, in favor of repeal. Bitter controversy is forecast by the lengthy battle that was necessary for the legislators even to get the matter before the voters as a constitutional amendment. Opinion ranges all the way from state monopoly, from the bone dry bloc, down to minimum restrictions, and free flow of hard liquor by the extreme liberals. It will take many hours of committee sessions, hotel room caucuses and floor debate to enact finally a state law to license the sale of liquor and enable dry communities to protect themselves by local option.

Sensational charges that certain major oil companies are preparing to demoralize the market for crude oil, break the $1 crude price that has held steadily in Texas for many months, and fill their empty storage tanks during the ensuing chaos, made by Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, marked the week's developments in oil. Thompson asserted the move was planned as a "punishment to Texas" for the successful fight the state, thru its officials, has made on federal control, advocated by some major companies. First step, Thompson said, was a cut in gasoline prices, which would then be carried back to the crude market as justification for a slash there. The commission last week denied the plea of certain major companies that the proration basis be changed to an acreage factor, instead of the well-established well-potential basis that has been in use for two years.

Thompson charged then the movement was a "share-the-wealth program with reverse English" that would take the property of small independents and give it to the large companies. Testimony at the hearing showed that 200 millions of property values in East Texas would be confiscated, that the permanent school fund would lose $300,000 a year in royalties and the state many thousands in taxes, if the proration formula were changed. The commission renewed its proration order on the potential basis, which Thompson charges, is another reason why some of the disappointed majors seek to demoralize Texas' billion-dollar oil business. It is broadly hinted in Austin the commission may meet such an attack by ordering a complete shut-down of all fields in Texas for a period, to take bottom-hole pressures, as it has done in east Texas on other occasions.

Behind every man who has achieved greatness in history, there is usually the shadow of a good woman. Close friends of United States Sen. Tom Connally, 2000 of whom gathered at Marlin to pay their last respects to Mrs. Connally, say this is true to an unusual extent in the case of the distinguished junior senator from Texas. Possessed of a remarkably keen mind, and a sure instinct for the right, which he hurled easily the hazards of politics, Mrs. Connally was not only the constant companion, but the influential adviser of the senator. From every corner of the state friends came to the family home at Marlin last week, to extend their condolences to Sen. Connally and his young son, Ben, and to express their conviction that all of Texas, as well as her own family, had suffered a great loss in her death.

Many men live on "borrowed time as the saying goes, but to Fred Glassie, Tarrant county farmer, goes the distinction of having lived for six years on borrowed blood. Every six weeks he has to undergo a blood transfusion, due to aplastic anemia, a rare disease about which doctors know little. Relatives have furnished the blood, his wife having contributed hers three times. Between times, Glassie goes about his work normally, and feels no ill effects, except for a few days prior to each transfusion, when he becomes weak and tires easily.

THE ABILITY TO EARN

What is a man's most valuable economic asset? A man may be stripped of every material possession, yet still be well-to-do if he knows a trade or a profession by which he can earn a living. Earning ability is more precious than bonds or stocks or real estate. The best inheritance that a father can leave a son is the training and knowledge necessary to earn a living. The ability to do something that commands a price in any market and under any conditions is a form of indestructible wealth. To leave a competency to children is the dream of every father. To train children so that they can earn their own way in the world is kinder and wiser. Then, barring ill-health, they are self-sufficient.

FISCAL YEAR CLOSES IN TEXAS, DEFICIT IS $11,208,065.56

AUSTIN, Aug. 31. (UP)—Texas closed her fiscal year today with an $11,208,065.56 deficit in the general revenue and confederate pension funds. The general fund deficit, including a call for $702,168 in warrants, was $6,366,294, compared to $5,824,442 at a like period last year. State Treasurer Charley Lockhart said. The general fund deficit August 15 was $6,495,579. The new warrant call takes in numbers through, including those issued up to April 20, 1935. No new call was made for pension warrants. Deficit in that fund is $4,841,772.

Friends will regret to learn of the death of E. D. Campbell, father of Miss Mabel Campbell, who passed away Thursday, August 29th at his home near Coleman. He was well known in Santa Anna having moved to Coleman County when there was very few settlers here. Mr. Campbell had been in poor health for almost a year, but was confined to his bed only for about three weeks previous to his death. He was laid to rest in the Coleman cemetery Friday evening.

Friend: "Why have you given the general such a peculiar pose?" Sculptor: "You see, it was started as an equestrian statue, and then the committee found they couldn't afford the horse."

NEW HIGH SCHOOL MAKING GREAT PREPARATIONS

Coach Polly Wise of Mozelle High School has established a Football Camp at the Waldrip Bridge on the Colorado River.

Complete equipment from shoes to helmets has been purchased for 30 boys who will form the squad and a merry fight has developed for assignment of uniforms.

After two days in camp Coach Wise reported that every man was hustling. He is thrilled over possibilities for a team and says that lack of experience is counterbalanced to a certain extent by enthusiasm and general physical condition of the men.

A battle is guaranteed to every team in the conference, and the team that expects to win is due a surprise.

Boys in camp first day were R. L. Turner, J. Bryson, V. Wilson, O. B. Switzer, W. Pate, M. Whitfield, W. McKee, J. H. Roper, M. Moore, A. Vickers, R. Sparks, W. Kyle, M. C. Vickers, L. Strickland, W. NATURE MUST BE RECOGNIZED

"You cannot break all the laws of nature and God and expect to continue making a profit at farming," said E. B. Deeter, U. S. Soil Erosion expert, to a group of farmers from the South Coleman School district, while they were in Temple recently.

Mr. Deeter showed this group of farmers plots of land where all the water that fell and run off was caught. The dirt was settled, then dried out, and the amount per acre was estimated.

On one plot of cotton land there was eighty-five tons per acre washed off in six months. On another where strip cropping was practiced there was 2.6 tons per acre washed off in the same time.

Terracing, strip cropping, contour farming, and rotation of crops were recommended by Mr. Deeter as ways of keeping what was put here for man to use.

Farmers making the trip were Pearl Griffith, Dennis Winfrey, Barney Martin, Carl Lohm, W. L. Livingston, W. J. Lloyd, Sam Baker, Lester Callahan, G. H. Bowen, E. S. Cavanaugh, Gordon Monsey, Walter Boone, Raymond Terry, Joe Roper, Levi Moore, Tom Lyons, Gene Bell, Walter McKee, Jesse Friar, C. E. Ward, J. A. Moore, Owen Moore, Carl Copeland, C. B. Robinson, and C. B. Edwards.

The trip was made in one of the new Mozelle High School buses.

Farmers needing help with terracing, strip cropping, and contour farming should get in touch with their vocational agriculture teachers or county agent.
