Passion Play In Brownwood

The great European Passion Play will be presented on the stage of the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall in Brownwood for two performances, Thursday and Friday of this week. The curtain will be at 8:00 each evening.

The Brownwood Kiwanis Club is to be greatly complimented for this great civic achievement in bringing this famed group of players to the city, so that the people of this section may have the opportunity of witnessing this great drama of the New Testament.

This company came to the United States in 1928 to open the great Krug Memorial in St. Joseph, Mo., expecting to return to their native land of Germany after that first week of dedication. But due to the fact of the tremendous success of the initial performance, and the company played to over 110,000 people the first week, they received calls from throughout the United States and Canada to bring this famed play to their respective cities. The company after some deliberation agreed, and went on tour, never dreaming to what extent this tour would run. They have played the past six years without any period of idleness.

The first years the company toured the version was given in German, but those who could not understand the German could not draw a true conception and understanding of the play as it was being presented. The company during this tour played in Brownwood and many of the larger cities of this state. In 1931 the company was asked to translate the version into the English so that the American public might better understand the play as it was being presented. This was done, and this week the play is to return to this section with the English version. The people of this section are most fortunate to have this opportunity to witness the play as this group of artists are soon to leave for a tour of foreign countries, never to return to the United States.

Tickets are on sale in Santa Anna at the Corner Drug Store, and those in Santa Anna desiring seats in advance may call at the store.

U. S. Leads In Cotton Production

College Station, June 20—Already 58,000 applications for tax exemption under the Bankhead Act are in; Young county's quota of certificates are issued and Fort Bend's are on the way, proving that some Texas cotton farmers are going to be ready for the 1935 ginning season. The Cotton Allotment Board is equipped to take care of applications as rapidly as they arrive, the only danger being a last minute jam if any considerable number of farmers are not on the job signing their applications during the next ten days.

A few slow farmers can hold up an entire county by not signing immediately.

Cotton production at home and abroad having the center of the stage from now until cold weather, the following statement from C. A. Cobb, director of AAA's Cotton Division will be of interest:

"Half of the cotton produced in the world last season was produced in the United States, despite the fact that acreage was reduced and average yields were below normal in this country," Cobb says.

India was second in production, China third, Russia fourth, Egypt fifth, and Brazil sixth. Russia exports practically no cotton and China does not produce enough for domestic consumption. India produced less than one-third as much cotton last season as the United States, and Brazil produced less than one-tenth as much cotton as was produced in the United States.

"The trend of cotton production in India has been upward for the past 35 years," says Cobb. "India may continue to increase cotton production some, but India has a big population to feed. India is using 85 to 90 percent of her farm land for crops and millions of people in the poorer areas are not getting enough food.

"Cotton production has also been increasing in Egypt but because the amount of land is limited, Egypt's problem is similar to the problem of India. Russia's cotton acreage increased rapidly up to 1930 but since then has shown little change. Cotton production in Brazil has been increasing for many years and the Brazilian Government has encouraged farmers to grow cotton by putting legal restrictions on the planting of coffee."

Many are awaiting impatiently the return of prosperity as we have known it the past twenty-five years. Better times will come of course but the prosperity of the next cycle will be built on a different basis than that of the past fifty years. During the past fifty years the contributing factors have been a great era of railroad building with its consequent demand for steel and iron, the development of a large foreign market, a large immigration, the opening of new territory for settlement, the expansion of the oil industry and other industries, the coming of the automobile and the internal combustion engine and the war. There is no more territory to throw open to settlement, immigration has been reduced to a limited quota, the oil industry has reached a point of saturation, the construction of new railroads has practically ceased and the automobile industry has reached a point where the demand can be definitely forecast. The foreign market has been greatly reduced from the fact that other nations are becoming more nearly self contained and self sustaining. During the next fifty years if a high tide of prosperity comes it will in all probability be brought about by some new invention or development or discovery of science that will create new human needs and wants that industry must supply. Otherwise the country will settle down into a more even production of goods and services such as may be found in any of the older nations.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Woodson and Mrs. C. V. Bays and son, Clyde, Jr., of San Angelo spent Father's Day in the home of the ladies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Vinson.

Hardin-Simmons Dean Named Pres. of School of Mines

AUSTIN, June 20 (UP)—D. M. Wiggins, dean at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, will be president of Texas College of Mines at El Paso, Leo Haynes, secretary to the University of Texas board of regents announced today.

Wiggins was chosen by regents yesterday.

HARDIN-SIMMONS BAND TO MAKE MOVIE SHORT

ABILENE, June 17—Announcement that the Cowboy Band, of Hardin-Simmons University, would make a movie short for Vitaphone Corporation was made at a barbecue tendered officials and representatives of Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., on the campus recently. G. B. Sanderfer, business manager of the band, was host.

The movie moguls were en route to Los Angeles for their annual convention, where Marion Davies is official hostess at Burbank studio. Vitaphone is a subsidiary of Warner Bros.

Abilene was one of five Texas points visited by the party, and the local entertainment was in true West Texas style, a chuck-wagon barbecue.

SANTA ANNA POST OFFICE RAISED TO SECOND CLASS

The local post office has been elevated from third class to second class according to information released last week from Washington. The raising of the classifications of a large number of post offices throughout the United States reflects a generally improved business condition.

Postmaster Woodward's salary was raised by the promotion. The postmaster's salary is rated each year by classes according to the amount of business done by each office.

Lula Verner Class to Park

Members of the Lula Verner Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church enjoyed a picnic at the Texas Rangers Memorial Park Tuesday evening. The picnic lunch was spread at the band stand, and the class members and their families especially enjoyed the feast.

The thirty-five present included one out-of-town guest, Mrs. S. D. Harper, Jr., of Eldorado.

If one gets to thinking that there are no more opportunities, that everything that can be done has been done, and that the country has reached a finished state, it is well to check up on the possibilities of some of the things that might be done. Assuming that no new inventions or discoveries are made during the next twenty-five years to open up new fields, here are a few of the developments that might take place in the things we already have. A complete cross country system of highways might be built on a much larger scale than is now being attempted. Trucks may be equipped with diesel engines, that will pull a load of freight across a state for a few cents. Air planes may carry perishable vegetables, fruits and meats to market centers in a few hours, and, by rising to the high cold air, make the trip without icing the cargo. There is television yet to come. Electricity is still in its infancy and the next twenty-five years may see it used to heat homes at less cost than the most economical present day method. It is well to remember in this connection that a single invention or scientific discovery may open up countless new opportunities, and form the basis of a great industry as did the invention of the automobile. A new discovery may completely change the world in which we live. It may bring new opportunities and a new scheme of living.

George M. Johnson, D. L. Pieratt, Rev. Hal C. Wingo and A. G. Weaver joined J. J. Gregg in Austin Tuesday and Wednesday in the interest of securing funds for a Centennial Memorial here. Results of the committee hearing will not be made known for several weeks.

P. T. A. Planning School Orchestra

The Ward and High School Parent Teacher Associations met in a joint session Tuesday, June 11, in the high school auditorium. The meeting was called to discuss plans for a school orchestra. A Mr. Thornhill of Dallas is willing to devote three days of each week to directing and instructing an orchestra and to assist with the choral club for $50 per month. Half of this sum has been pledged by other organizations and the two P. T. A.'s pledged $15 per month. Mr. Thornhill will give class and private instruction free. The only cost will be the instrument. Each member of the orchestra will be required to furnish his own instrument. There is no age limit. Children from ward and high school are eligible, both boys and girls. Definite arrangements will be completed in the near future.

Y. W. A. PRESENTS PLAY

Members of the Young Women's Auxiliary sponsored the presentation of the play, "The Heroine of Ava" at the First Baptist Church Sunday evening. Miss Mattie Ella McCreary and Miss Lillie Hosch directed the play, which portrayed the beginning of Foreign Missions for American Baptists.

Characters were portrayed by Ora Alice Newman, Rheba Boardman, Ernestine Thames, Vesta Evans, Frances Gregg, Rosalie Niell, Dosh T. McCreary, Jesse Brown, and Louis Newman.

Lawyer Evangelist in Revival

The Rev. Martin P. McCoy and wife, evangelists of the Church of the Nazarene, are to begin a series of meetings at Cleveland and Brooksmith, beginning June 30, and continuing to July 30, according to Rev. L. P. Jennings, pastor of the Churches in the two communities. The first fifteen days the evangelists will be at Cleveland and the remainder of the time at Brooksmith.

The pastor states that everyone is invited to attend the services. The Cleveland Church is seven miles south of Santa Anna.

Group to Georgetown

Members of the local Epworth League of the Methodist Church sent four representatives to the State League Assembly in session in Georgetown this week. Rex Golston, Jr. gave a paper on "The Effects of Alcohol on the Human Body."

Others from here who attended the meet are Misses LaRue Curry and Era Hill, and Winston Hall.

The extent to which an industry affects other lines may be gained from the fact that the Ford Motor Company will use during the next year 1,500,000 gallons of soy bean oil in the manufacture of Ford cars. Soy beans furnish the oil from which the paint is made, the insulation of the wires, distributing case, horn button, light switch handle, and window trim. 500,000 gallons of soy bean oil are used in making glycerine for the shock absorbers. It will require 61,000 acres to produce the beans required by this one industry alone.

The taxing bodies of the country, having carried the property tax so far that delinquencies began to mount to large proportions have come to the realization that there is a limit to the taxes that property can pay and are now turning to the sales tax. Our guess is that the sales tax will meet with a like fate. It will be started at a low levy and gradually increased until it becomes as much a burden as the property tax has become. No way has yet been discovered to reduce taxes though many have promised to do so.

James Phillips of Houston is visiting relatives and friends here.

Fellowship Club Has First Meeting

Dr. T. Richard Sealy was elected President of the Methodist Fellowship Club at the initial meeting last Friday evening at the Methodist Church. The Club is sponsored by the Methodist Church, but membership is open to members of any or no Church. The purpose of the Club is to promote fellowship, and the motto is "Fun, Food, Fellowship." Meetings will be held the first Friday night in each month.

Friday night's program included vocal trios by Misses Evelyn Kirkpatrick, Rheba Boardman, and Mary Strand Dellinger, with Miss Mary Southern Garrett as accompanist, and a "My Home Town" Contest in which W. H. Thate, M. A. Edwards, A. H. Schreiber, E. V. Day, O. A. Etheredge, Rex Golston, and Rev. Homer Vanderpool participated.

Other officers include O. A. Etheredge and Dr. L. O. Garrett, active vice-presidents; W. DuBols, Secretary; Loyd Burris, Treasurer; and Rev. Vanderpool, Chairman, and Roger Hunter and E. R. Purdy, Program Committee; M. A. Edwards, W. H. Thate, A. H. Schreiber and Emmett V. Day, Executive Committee.

Visiting speakers and a variety of programs are being planned for the Club. Rev. Vanderpool presided Friday evening. About 45 men were present.

LUNCHEON AND SHOWER

The Aid Society of the Christian Church and a few relatives of Mrs. G. W. Faulkner entertained with a buffet luncheon in her honor at the home of Mrs. J. R. Gipson last Thursday. The same group gave a shower in the afternoon for Mrs. Tom Simpson, a recent bride. It was a most enjoyable day for all who attended. Besides the hostesses and the two honorees the following were present:

Mesdames E. H. Wylie, A. L. Haley, L. O. Garrett, S. W. Childers, Ed Baxter, Stafford Baxter, Sam Everett, Lovell Richardson, A. L. Oder, Will Parker, Ben Parker, Vernon Parker, Roberts, E. W. Marshall, and Miss Josie Baxter.

EVENING PARTY

Boyd Rainbolt, Bob Wheeler, and James Everett entertained a few friends with an evening party Saturday at the home of Boyd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Rainbolt, Sr. The group played card games and enjoyed various contests and other games.

Ice cream and cake were served to the pleased guests.

Miss Gene Adams is visiting in Dallas.

Clifford Simmons Interred Wednesday

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church here Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock for Clifford Simmons, 27, who suffocated early Monday morning when he was working inside a fuel storage tank in the basement of a Lubbock laundry. He is believed to have overcome by fumes before he fell into two feet of oil at the bottom of the tank. Forty minutes later firemen recovered the body with grappling hooks.

Emmett Clifford Simmons was born February 5, 1908, five miles northeast of Santa Anna, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Simmons. He attended school here until he went to Ennis to live with his half brother, J. H. Duke of Ennis. He attended high school in Ennis for two years and was a star football player. He was also graduated from the Ennis high school, and attended Texas Tech at Lubbock. He received degrees in architectural engineering in 1934. While in Tech he was an all-around athlete and received many awards in track and boxing besides lettering in football.

Services were held from the First Baptist Church in Lubbock at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning and the body arrived here Tuesday afternoon. An Ennis Funeral Director had charge of all arrangements, and was assisted here by Hosh Brothers. Rev. M. L. Womack, Presbyterian Minister, conducted the services. Simmons joined the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Ennis in 1926.

The service at Lubbock was attended by his principal, members of the faculty of Texas Tech, and many of the boys with whom he played football.

Besides his parents and Mr. Duke, Simmons is survived by a brother, Elmer Simmons of Santa Anna, and three sisters, Mrs. Alfred Cullins of Santa Anna, Mrs. Ernest Wright of Zephyr, and Mrs. Raymond Duncan of Talpa, and many other relatives.

Among the relatives and friends from out of town who were here for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Chaillette, J. C. Bair, Eugene Bair, of San Angelo, Carl Owens, Miss Mary Elsie Beasley and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Maggart of Ennis, and Mrs. Ola Goforth and Miss Flora Goforth of Lubbock.

Pall bearers were Dick Baugh, Clarence Durham, Roscoe Hosh, J. C. Bair, Carl Owens, and Ray Maggart.

Mrs. L. R. Brightman and daughter of Comanche were Santa Anna visitors Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Scarborough returned home Sunday from a several days visit with relatives in Augusta.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS, JR.

Austin, June 17.—No political tempest, but only a gentle zephyr blew across the Panhandle-plains region, when the young Democrats held their annual convention and the New Deal came in for some controversial discussion, in connection with the NRA decision and other things. The meeting was highly publicized in advance. Gov. Allred took the center of the stage with a heated defense of state's rights. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, and by marriage of Fort Worth, defended the New Deal and the president with all the boyish loyalty of a devoted youngster who thinks he is helping his dad.

There was really no issue between the governor and the youth. Gov. Allred, as a good lawyer and a capable politician, believes in the Constitution. Elliott Roosevelt, as a loyal American citizen and the son of a great president, does likewise. The only divergence anywhere from this view, except from a handful of irresponsible radicals who are without influence, has been in the supreme court's interpretation of the revered document. The nine fragile old gentlemen, who with their predecessors have been satisfying the American people pretty regularly for 150 years with the character of their work, will doubtless continue to be intrus-ed with the job. A very mysterious business has been the conduct of the investigation of the East Texas oil fields by the special house committee, headed by Rep. Augustin Celeya, of Brownsville, the past week. The committee assembled at Longview, held many conferences behind closed doors with prospective witnesses, held a few mysterious executive sessions, and daily issued long statements to the newspapers. The gist of all these statements was that "a very serious situation apparently exists and the committee cannot do very much about it with only the $1,000 fund granted by the legislature for this investigation." Broad hints have been cast adrift that a much larger appropriation should be granted the probers. There have also been suggestions that the committee might utilize privately donated funds to extend its activities. Nobody knows exactly who might be interested enough in keeping alive a house committee probe to put up money for it. No member of this committee, with the possible exception of Sidney Latham of Longview, has evidenced in Austin signs of an expert knowledge of the oil business. Chances are when the $1,000 is gone, no more will be heard of the oil investigation.

Cullen F. Thomas, president of the now defunct Texas Centennial commission, did some political linsing on his own behalf, according to confidential reports here, on his recent trip to Washington, in support of the federal appropriation for the Centennial. Now it is reported that Thomas, the "forgotten man" when the new commission of control was appointed, has succeeded in lining up influence in the national capital which make him a very likely candidate for the job of Federal Centennial commissioner, at $12,000 a year. Thomas is said to have the support of his brother-in-law, Senator Morris Sheppard, for the post. Attorney General Bill McGraw anxious to put some actual cash in the state treasury under the newly-enacted hot oil seizure law, moved a bit too hastily in approving acceptance of a bid of 40 cents a barrel for the first seizure at Waco. He drew fire from Col. E. O. Thompson of the railroad commission, and others interested in maintaining $1 a barrel for East Texas crude. McGraw has announced process will be slower in future, and all bidders will be given an ample opportunity to get in their offers before a sale is made. The constitutionality of the new state seizure law will be tested soon before a three-judge federal court in Tyler, three test cases having been filed by oil operators who object to such drastic measures to suppress movement of illegal oil.

Private advices here indicate that war chest fillers of both wet and dry factions in the forth coming August submission, are finding their task much more difficult than they anticipated. The dries raised $2500 in a burst of enthusiasm at their Dallas organization meeting, and promised early starting of the campaign. They have raised very little additional since, it is reported here. Wet fund-raisers, too, are having their difficulties. The folks seem to have pronounced opinions, some for, some against, repeal of the constitutional amendment. They're willing to vote their convictions—but they've been slow to see why they should pay professional crusaders on either side for the privilege. Outside aid, on which wets were counting, has been slow to come thru, with distillers selling all the liquor they can manufacture in territory already open to them. It has slowed up the Texas campaign considerably.

Considerable pressure is being brought to bear on the state highway department to widen and repave the 145-mile stretch of road between San Antonio and Laredo. Traffic on this thoroughfare has increased several hundred per cent during the past few years, as the National highway from the border to Mexico City has pushed its way to the Mexican capital. When the road is finally opened this summer all the way thru to Mexico City, it probably will develop quickly into one of the heaviest carriers of both tourist and commercial traffic in the south. Improvement of the road to the border, say those interested in nurturing this tourist volume, is imperative soon.

From the standpoint of erosion control the value of strip cropping cannot be over-estimated. The heavy rains in various sections of the State have helped to verify a number of statements previously made in this column in regard to strip cropping alone, also strip cropping in connection with terracing. Following the heavy rains, a large amount of silt has been caught where the wash off passed through a band of thick growing feed or grain crops. On areas where terracing and strip cropping are being used in combination less erosion has taken place than where terracing alone was used.

These observations were made in the Federal Erosion Project at Temple, Texas. A Reconnaissance Erosion Survey of Texas gives the type of erosion and the number of acres affected.

Total area (exclusive of large cities and waters)
Acres	Percent
189,326,465	100
Areas with practically no erosion
19,724,668	11.6
Areas with little or no erosion
38,597,844	22.8
Total area affected by sheet erosion (1/4 to 3/4 top soil lost)
78,175,311	46.2
Over 3/4 top soil lost and some sub-soil
14,255,102	8.4
Total area affected by wind erosion
21,405,024	12.6
Moderate wind erosion
13,327,063	7.9
Severe wind erosion
6,814,825	4.0
Destroyed by wind erosion
1,283,736	0.7
Total area affected by gulleying
78,027,402	46.1

Occasional gullies 45,341,417 29.8
 Severe gulleying 31,592,262 18.7
 Destroyed by gullies 1,039,703 0.6

This does not mean that only one class of erosion took place on soil that is listed under the headings sheet erosion, wind erosion, and gulley erosion. The type of erosion the soil was listed under was readily seen but not in a single instance was other classes of erosion absent. For instance, some soil was listed under wind erosion that was gullied and sheet erosion was also present and vice versa.

How does Texas compare with other states in the union in regard to soil erosion? (The cultivated acres of the other states were taken and added and the per cent was found). The per cent will be given.

Areas with little or no erosion. U. S. 30.3 — Texas 22.8.
 Total areas affected by sheet erosion. U. S. 44.9 — Texas 54.6.
 Total areas affected by wind erosion. U. S. 16.9 — Texas 12.6.
 Total areas affected by gulleying. U. S. 43.6 — Texas 46.1.

ON TEXAS FARMS

"My mother and I sold eggs to pay for my bedroom improvements which cost $7.30," reports a young bedroom demonstrator from Rusk county.

Examination of the improvement achieved with that expenditure indicates that this young person has learned early that ability, initiative and industry are effective supplements to cash.

The list includes a new mattress, home-made from home-grown cotton; mattress and spring covers made from washed and bleached sugar and fertilizer sacks; book shelves made from scrap lumber; the floor refinished with "crank case oil" and waxed; new shades; new curtains; and old furniture refinished.

Six hundred and eighty-two 4-H club girls in 80 counties are entered in an improved bedroom contest, and 11,365 4-H club girls are cooperating with them and improving their bedrooms in definite agreed-upon ways. In this work they learn not only to make the most of what they have, but the principles involved in making a comfortable and healthful bedroom. From a young bedroom demonstrator in Johnson county we get this—"It is important to have circulation of air in the bedroom," and to accomplish this she has put stops on the top sashes of the windows so that they may be lowered from the top as well as from the bottom.

Clothes closets also have the approval of these 4-H club girls. From Collingsworth county this comes—"Daddy says I am as proud of my closet as he was of his first pair of long trousers"—and that story describes how "Daddy" made the closet for his young daughter out of shiplap covered with paste board boxes and papered with cream colored building paper. The top part was separated off as a storage place for quilts. Shelves for linens and hats, a soiled clothes bin and a rod for clothes hangers completed the job.

BRONSON: R. C. Anderson, a 4-H club boy from Sabine county, took six acres of cotton, five acres of corn, two acres of peas, and one-half acres of tomatoes for his club demonstrations. By June 4, he had sold $134.40 worth of tomatoes from the one-half acre. He broke his tomato ground early in the fall, leaving the land in a good state of cultivation. The tomato plants were kept in a hotbed during the cold weather, later transferred to the coldframe. R. C. set his plants out in the field early, fertilized and cultivated them carefully... result, success. His other crops are all in good condition.

PORT LAVACA: Perry L. Haskin, Jr., 4-H club boy from Calhoun county, reports that he has produced 5,000 pounds of Irish potatoes on one-half acre of land. His net profit is $85.65 and he has a second crop of grain sorghums, growing for his helper calf. Perry says that he will plant one acre next year.

CORSICANA: W. C. Pierce, a feed crop demonstrator of Navarro county, reports that stock beets have been a life-saver to his stock hogs during the winter of 1934-35.

As a result of drouth, his corn and other feed crops were almost an entire failure and had it not been for a crop of stock beets that were planted early in the spring of 1934 and harvested in November, he would have had to go out of the hog business. Mr. Pierce produces enough hogs each year to supply meat and lard for himself and three families who reside on his two farms. He advised that since the first of March his brood sows and pigs have been kept on pasture and stock beets supplemented with a little cotton seed meal and bran feed in slop once daily.

CROCKETT: "Our cotton is under water, but I have enough green vegetables canned to last us a year," Mrs. Everett Morgan, a 4-H pantry demonstrator for the Austonia home demonstration club told the Houston county home demonstration agent, Orene McClellan.

Mrs. Morgan has in her pantry 60 cans of English peas, 60 cans of greens, 50 jars of jam and 20 glasses of jelly which she has canned this year. She is canning green beans and corn this week.

MEDICINE MOUNDS: Mrs. J. H. Berry of Medicine Mounds in Hardeman county has a tub built from a 55 gallon oil barrel.

The barrel was cut into half lengthwise and the edges turned back. A wooden frame holds the tub steady. A rubber hose connected with the opening already in the barrel serves for drainage. A coat of white enamel finished the tub and it was installed on a small screened porch covered with canvas and curtained for privacy. A wash table with the usual equipment finished the bathroom.

RICHMOND: Although she did not gather much out of her fall garden, Adele Wehring, member of the Cottonwood girl's home demonstration club of Fort Bend county, was not discouraged. She went ahead and planted a spring garden from which she reports that she has gathered 158 pounds of fresh vegetables so far. Adele had a surplus of beets so she canned 13 quarts while they were small and three pints of early beans. The value of her garden work to date is $7.50.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

SUMMER MEALS

The same old essentials go unchallenged. On a little less meat perhaps, and for the overweight child a little less bread and butter, bacon and potato. All children can do very well without candies, pastries, and especially, soda pop or so-called "tonic." By the way don't let that name "tonic" mislead you. It's far from being anything of the sort. Instead, try a cool drink of pure cold water or cool milk. There's real refreshment. Pass up your old beliefs about summer diets. Most of them were only superstitions without a grain of scientific backing. The needs of the body don't change so very much with the seasons. Heat isn't necessary as it is in the winter, therefore the suggestions to reduce sugars and starches. But the energy and health requirements don't change.

The same quart of milk is needed, although good ice cream may account for a part. Green vegetables, fresh fruit, tomatoes, a little meat or fish, some egg, some bread and butter, and there you are, winter or summer. (Planning a Scout trip is exciting, important; Dr. Ireland will give some advice about it in his next article.)

TRANSIENTS SHOULD STAY AT HOME

Austin, June 20.—Transients, particularly those originating within the state, have been urged to settle down and stay off the road by Adam R. Johnson, state relief administrator.

Federal officials have appealed to railroads and to autoists to refuse free transportation to transients, and several legislatures recently have passed anti-hitchhiking laws.

"Unless they have a job waiting for them somewhere," Texans contemplating hitchhiking trips ought to stay at home," Johnson declared. "Other states and other counties have their own unemployed to provide for and transients will find conditions no better at distant points.

"Transients themselves are exposed to injury and disease in some of the overnight stops along the road. People who offer free transportation are some times assaulted before they reach their destinations. "For these reasons, we urge tourists to refuse free transportation to hitchhikers. In like manner, we advise against hand-outs and the small cash donations to persons making house-to-house canvasses."

Transients already on the road were advised to go to their homes or to the nearest transient division camp. These camps are located near the division depots in all the larger cities of the state.

For a More Abundant Life

"WE HAVE IT" . . . for homes, for farms, for towns and cities, for industries.

ELECTRIC POWER!

West Texas is abundantly supplied with power resources. The West Texas Utilities Company's 2,600 miles of transmission lines are linked with modern, strategically located generating stations, bringing power to you wherever it is needed.

"Let's Have Cheap Power!" We Have That, Too.

Power is a commodity which grows cheaper the more it is used. The power from this company's lines, available every hour in the day or night for a variety of uses, can be purchased cheaper than it can be manufactured by the individual city, or the individual industry, farm or homes.

"Let's Have Abundant Power, for a More Abundant Life." We Have That in West Texas, Too.

You may recall, many years ago, when some neighbor was able to boast of his electric lights through cords hanging from the ceiling. Light was expensive then, only the well-to-do could buy this service. Today, everybody uses electric service, for the electric dollar buys now an abundant amount, about three times as much electric service as it did before the World War. Electric service is delivered to you now so cheap that its daily cost can be counted in pennies.

The area served by the West Texas Utilities Company has ample power facilities to meet the demands of this growing and progressive "Land of Opportunity," West Texas.

Texas Farmers Forge Ahead On Adjustment Programs

COLLEGE STATION, June 20—Farmers of Texas are carrying on adjustment programs regardless of all wild rumors that the recent Supreme Court decision endangers AAA and more than 70,000 new contract signers have shown up this year in the various commodities, according to George E. Adams, assistant state agent of the Texas Extension Service.

Adams reported that he traveled through 26 counties last week including the lower Rio Grande Valley and in all of them the farmers are going ahead with the programs.

Confirming them in their confidence, Secretary Wallace issued the following statement a few days ago. "In cooperation with the leaders of Congress, amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act are being perfected which are intended to bring the Act's provisions as to marketing and licenses into line with the Schechter case decision and also to safeguard the farmers' voluntary adjustment program on basic commodities.

"These voluntary adjustment programs were not in the path of the Schechter case decision, and in no event could there be any question of the Government's ability to fulfill its contract with the farmers.

"Nevertheless, we have taken advantage of the decision to seek perfection in the law which will make certain the Government's authority to continue processing tax rates in accordance with the amended provisions of the Act."

Very often the little things that do not seem at the time to amount to anything are the things that make for success or failure of the business. Few businesses fail because of a single big loss but rather because of many or repeated small losses. Few businesses succeed because of a single large profit but rather because of many small profitable transactions.

No permanent system of prosperity is ever going to build up in this country on an uneconomical foundation. The wisest policy for every nation is to determine first what is a sound policy and then build upon that. Any policy that works for the enrichment of a part of the people of a nation to the impoverishment of the rest of the people is not sound and will not endure for long. The pay day will inevitably come.

The sideroads are always more interesting than the highways with their traffic and congestion and noise and confusion. It is a treat when out for a pleasure drive to turn off the highway into a side road. The overhanging trees and closely bordering fields furnished a panorama of scenery and pictures that are a refreshing change. They make of a drive, instead of a marathon, a journey of exploration into undiscovered country.

Moses Austin was a Spanish subject before he ever had his "dream" of colonizing Texas. He swore allegiance to the flag of Spain when he removed from Virginia to Missouri to go into the lead mine business. What later became the Louisiana Purchase was at that time under Spanish control due to a treaty existing between Spain and France. Spain later ceded the territory back to France and the latter nation sold it to the United States.

That many hospital beds are occupied by people whom worry has placed there has been asserted by a staff member of Columbia University School of Medicine.

The psychiatrist says many people would be released from hospitals sooner if their mental worries were taken into consideration during the convalescence period. Most of these worries are over financial difficulties.

One chronic invalid under observation who stopped worrying after receiving a legacy of several thousand dollars, looked many years younger after worry ceased. A spasmodic tenseness went out of the muscles and permitted her facial lines to smooth out.

We do not know which is the worst, the fellow who tries to please no one or the fellow who tries to please every one. Of the two we believe the fellow who makes no conscious effort to please anyone but is his natural self is the most interesting. At any rate he is sincere. He is not afraid to do something different. Much of our progress has come from those who had the courage to do something different.

DEMONSTRATORS STORIES

Mrs. C. G. Pitts, member of the Rae-Echio Home Demonstration Club, has discovered that sub-irrigation for her garden was a worthwhile effort on her part. Her garden is 20 ft. by 70 ft. in size and in it she laid some 210 ft. of tile. Mrs. Pitts bought inferior building tile for 1 cent per foot, making the tile cost her $2.10. She used water pumped by the windmill from the creek near by to irrigate her garden. This garden has been furnishing Mrs. Pitts and her family with fresh vegetables since the first of April and they have had a continuous supply since that time. Spinach, sweet corn, several varieties of tomatoes, lima beans, peppers, string beans, beets, onions, carrots, radishes, yellow and white squash, and salisfy, a new vegetable, are among the things planted in the garden. Sub-irrigation is very practical for this county, Mrs. Pitts thinks and has proven her argument by the success of her garden.

"The floor of a room either makes or mars its appearance," says Mrs. R. L. Todd, bedroom demonstrator of the Santa Anna Home Demonstration Club. As the floor was in such bad condition in her bedroom Mrs. Todd decided it would not be practical to oil or paint it. She had some old linoleum that was no longer usable. This linoleum was cut into strips to fit around the rug and tacked down to the floor top side down. Mrs. Todd then painted this linoleum a deep rich brown to go with the colors in her rug. The result was both pleasing and satisfying as it gave the room a neat attractive appearance that Mrs. Todd was trying to achieve.

OLD WISDOM FOR TODAY'S USES

Ben Franklin said not a few things which seem particularly applicable to conditions of today; for example: "Tricks and treachery are the practice of fools that have not wit enough to be honest." And let us remember that Franklin was a successful business man who rose through his own efforts from poverty to affluence and, therefore, was a practical philosopher who spoke from experience. Real cooperation in business excludes both tricks and treachery and is most certainly the practice of those who are truly successful today—Southwestern Ambassador.

Nearly all of the mineral wealth now enjoyed by the United States of America came into the country directly due to the Texas revolution, as most of it lies within the states carved from the Mexican acquisition following America's War with Mexico over the annexation of Texas.

Henry B. Birthday Celebration
Almost everyone from this community spent Sunday in Edmondson Park helping Grandpa Henderson celebrate his 79th birthday anniversary. About 150 people from Coleman, Camp Colorado, Echo, Leedy, New Central, Mavo, Cleveland, Liberty, Trickham, Junction, Longview, and Watts Creek communities in Coleman County, and Monahans, Albany, and possibly other places were present for the occasion.

C. F. Parker returned thanks over the long tables piled high with good things to eat at the noon hour. There was ice tea by the tubful, and the beautifully decorated birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Payne Henderson and Mrs. Dede Henderson was cut and passed to the crowd by Grandpa himself.

The afternoon was spent in singing, and the melody rose high above the rustle of the wind in the pecan trees, and the roar of the Jim Ned, which was on a rampage.

Grandpa Henderson thoroughly enjoyed the day, as did all others. Everyone wished him many happy returns of the day as they departed, and pledged themselves thus: "We'll see you again next year, Grandpa!"

Easy terms through Universal Credit Co.—the Authorized Ford Finance Plan.

• No car price is high or low—until you examine the car itself. The Ford has the only V-8 engine in any car under $2300. New Ford brakes have more gripping surface for car weight than any car under $1095. Any model in this Ford V-8 includes many dollars worth of "extras" at no extra cost. Every Ford model, regardless of price, gives you the same wheelbase—the same 125 1/2-inch springbase. And with all that—this Ford costs less to run than any Ford car ever built. Go see it at your Ford Dealer's. Drive it—today!

Presbyterian Church

It is with the warmest welcome that we invite you to attend our services. You will like it, and your presence will be helpful to all.

The pastor is anxious that every member of the church be present next Sunday. Will you heed this call?

Make your church first, invite your friend to come with you. Bring your company. Come in a happy mood. Come to worship. Take a part in the service.

M. L. Womack, Minister.

We lay claim to a reasonable amount of ingenuity but we frankly admit of our inability to eat the wing of a fried chicken with a knife and fork and get any pleasure from it.

"Your name and fame will be enrolled amongst the greatest chieftains," Andrew Jackson wrote his former lieutenant, Sam Houston, following his victory at San Jacinto.
